Plans For Kitimat Area Approved

Confirming Announcement by Company Heads

VICTORIA (CP)—Nathanial V. Davis, president of Aluminum Limited, announced today plans for the largest aluminum development in Canadian history.

The plan will include the development in the Tweeddale Park area of British Columbia and construction of another major hydro-electric power site at Chute de la Saguenay River area of Quebec at an estimated cost of $60,000,000.

Davis estimated total capital expenditure in the program at $220,000,000 of which $160,000,000 will be the cost of the first stage in British Columbia.

The British Columbia scheme will require more than three years of construction. "It is currently expected to bring in production of first aluminum in 1954," Mr. Davis said.

KENNEY'S MESSAGE

Mr. Kenney, minister of forests, advised the House today that he had approved the following wire message from President R. E. Powell of Aluminum Company of Canada:

"I am pleased to inform you of our decision to proceed immediately with construction of the first stage development of the Kemano-Kitimat project.

The program outlined in the present house cavern sufficient for 800,000 horsepower and the contemplated installation of the equipment and facilities will provide for an annual capacity of 100,000 tons in the first year.

The cost of British Columbia stage and Caribbean stage approximately 160 million dollars of which 23 million dollars is for this year.

Alcoa Plant At Wenatchee

SEATTLE—Aluminum Co. of America today announced that it would build a $50,000,000 aluminum plant near Wenatchee in the Washington Okanogan.

Agreement has been signed for power between Puget Sound Power & Light Co. and Chelan county authorities.

Pay Hike Left Off

Federal Civil Servants Wire Member of Parliament

E. T. Applewhite, M.P. for the Skeena, was wired this morning by civil servants here requesting special intervention in the recent stoppage of the $15 a month allowance given to civil servants in Prince Rupert and the north for salaries under $3,000 per year.

This recent cut was noticed by the local civil servants when the under $3,000 wage group found that their cheques did not show the recent general raise of over 10 percent granted in an Act of Parliament.

The raise, to range from a 10 to 12½ percent increase, was retroactive to December 1, 1950.

Allies Abandoning North Korea Again

TOKYO (CP)—Allied troops today abandoned their last foothold north of the 38th parallel in eastern Korea. The Reds are now 20 miles or less from the South Korean capital of Seoul.

Anscomb Hails Alcan Advent

VICTORIA—Minister of Finance Anscomb today greeted the announcement of the Aluminum Company of Canada that it was definitely coming into British Columbia as the forerunner of a possible "industrial revolution" for British Columbia which might well make this the leading industrial province of Canada.

Hospital Insurance Vigorously Defended

British Columbia hospital insurance was vigorously defended by J. D. McRae, MLA, in a luncheon address before the Prince Rupert Gyro Club yesterday. He claimed that the plan had stabilized a chaotic hospitalization situation that had been gradually developing in the province until the plan had come into being January 1, 1949.

Outstanding benefits of the scheme, the provincial member declared, were the elimination of the possibility of disaster to family incomes which might arise from long and costly hospital treatment and the placing of community hospital finances on a sound footing.

It had been the honest and fair thing to increase hospital insurance premiums rather than absorb future estimated deficits in consolidated revenue fund which would have to find the money somewhere—and from where—at the expense of roads and highways? debt charges? public health and social services? grants to municipalities?

Mr. McRae traced the events leading up to the bringing into being of the hospital insurance plan. Since as early as 1928 requests had been coming in for some form of assistance in hospital financing. In 1948 the government was faced with a climax in the problem of subsidizing hospital operation. The average man was able to meet

War Depends Upon Russia

Truman in Tolerant Mood

WASHINGTON, D.C. (CP)—President Truman said today that it is up to Russia whether war with Korea spreads. He declared that United States policy is to seek to confine the war to Korea and avoid a Great War.

Mr. Truman said, too, that he was very well satisfied with Secretary of State Dean Acheson and said he was not considering replacing him with Paul Hoffman, former administrator of the Marshall Plan.

The President also said he will "not pull strings" on General MacArthur but will let him say what he pleases when he pleases and where he pleases. (By law the President could restrain MacArthur. The General is today in Chicago where he received a rousing welcome.)

Details of Agreement

A working agreement between the B.C. government and the Aluminum Company of Canada Limited calls for Alcan generating equipment of 400,000 horsepower by January 1, 1963, and 750,000 horsepower equipment installed by January 1, 1983. The final licence will be issued December 31, 1969. The document was signed between the provincial government and Alcan late last year and confirmed by the Legislature recently.

The power development will utilize Eutsuk and Taitsa Lake waters for an aluminum plant at Kitimat, about 80 miles south of Prince Rupert. Waters proposed for use have previously been unrecorded by the provincial government.

Alcan will in due course submit detailed plans and descriptions showing crown lands required for flooding or for other purposes in respect to the works.

The agreement calls for the government to sell to the Aluminum Company crown lands required for the works.

43 Perish In Crash

KEY WEST, Florida (CP)—The big Cuban air liner and small United States Navy plane, which collided with explosive force over Key West yesterday and spun into the sea, carried 43 persons to their deaths, it is announced.

Water splashed fifty feet into the air as the transport, with 34 passengers on board as well as five crew members, nose-dived into twenty feet of water.

The Navy plane went to pieces as it crashed into the ocean two miles west of the transport. It carried a four-man crew.

Hundreds of sun bathers saw the planes meet at 4,000 feet altitude.

Eye-witnesses at first believed the Navy plane had blown up while flying alongside the liner but it was later established that they collided.

Terrace Mother Sees Her Twins

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mrs. Shirley Bilton, aged 21, saw her six weeks old twins Wednesday for the first time since they were born. She and her husband, Tom, came down from Terrace to take the children home from a Vancouver hospital.

A Royal Canadian Air Force plane flew to Terrace March 14 to evacuate the newborn twins because an influenza epidemic was raging in that town.

"This is the first time we've seen them since they were born," said Mrs. Bilton as she left the hospital with Tiny Judith in her arms. The father carried Jimmy.

Great Fight by Canadians

WEST - CENTRAL SECTOR IN KOREA (CP)—Canadian mountain warriors, who were not trapped yesterday as had been reported, instead won their spurs by holding their front and refusing to budge even though outflanked and encircled.

It was a knock-down, drag-out battle with wave upon wave of Chinese Communists who did everything but drive them from their positions in the west-central sector northeast of Seoul.

Cut off and encircled, the troops fought on and by late morning cleared the enemy from their rear, beat him off their flanks and held him on their front.

The Chinese employed all familiar battle procedures in attack—whistles, bugles, banzai chorus, massed assaults following one another in swift succession, but the Canadians held while others on their flanks were overwhelmed by sheer weight of numbers. They held on like rocks.

In massed hundreds the enemy assaulted their hill frontally then from the flanks, then from the rear, but the Canadians held.

Democracy in Vain

THE BANE of democracy is apathy. Having won the right to govern themselves, and having established a democratic form for the purpose, people are prone to rest on their oars and depend for good government on the constitutional form.

But a good constitution is not the only essential of good government; and the best constitution in the world can be perverted to an instrument of mis-government.

If the people are too apathetic to take an active interest in the problems of government, to have opinions of their own and to express them, to elect good candidates to represent them at the seat of government, they will find their government taking advice from those who offer it, probably from pressure groups organized to promote their own selfish interests at the expense of the public.

Democratic government in a country whose citizens refuse to function as democratic citizens is a contradiction in terms and no more real than a barmecide feast.

Reading

READING extends our experience, increases our interests; it adds to our knowledge and our pleasure, observes the Royal Bank of Canada monthly letter.

Reading makes a full man—a man not replete, but complete.

Being human, we can all find excuses for not reading as we know we should. Time is short, days are full, the mass of written material is enormous, and selection is difficult.

In one of his lectures on English literature given at Cambridge in the earlier part of this century, Sir Arthur Quiller-Couch recommended the reading of three books: The Bible, Shakespeare and Homer.

Now we may not have a copy of Homer at hand or even a volume of Shakespeare, but all of us can probably find a Bible on our bookshelves.

We cannot aspire to prose such as we find written there; but it will be something if we become fully aware that such writing exists. One who wishes to improve his own expressiveness will lose himself in the beauties of a great book just because it is a masterpiece, but at the same time he will absorb the goodness of it.

Read as widely as you can; read the classics, for they are doubly permanent. They remain significant and they also acquire new significance in succeeding ages. Read books by modern authors, don't overlook magazines and the daily newspaper, but be selective. Choose the best, and by that we mean the best for you. There are doubtless legitimate occasions for indulging in "escape" literature—the kind of book that uses up an evening after a hard day at the office. Next day you don't remember the plot of it, and not a phrase is worth repeating. As a steady diet that is too thin fare for an ambitious youth or a grown man.

Police say the nude figures—called "Peace" and surmounted by a dove—must be covered or the work moved inside from its location outside a private gallery. Roussil left it on mid-town Sherbrooke Street while en route to a gallery, and police took it "into custody." (CP PHOTO)

ray.. Reflects and Reminisces

What was called cider was sold in Prince Rupert around forty years ago. How much apple juice the refreshment contained, if any, will never be known. Not that it mattered, although it must be admitted that the cider, so called, was in demand. It was sold over the counter in low-browed looking caravansaries described as "joints." One recalls them today when from time to time suggestions are heard concerning British Columbia and liquor. It all has a familiar sound, and was just as much of a problem in 1909 as it is in 1951. Until legal sales became recognized, the cider traffic pursued its devious way. Thirsts were frequent and liable to occur at any hour. The business was cheerfully labored by old John Houston, who, sitting at a spacious table by an open office window, spared few.

Incorporation meant consuming one's drink with fitting dignity or otherwise, pleasant associations or finding a social satisfaction in seclusion.

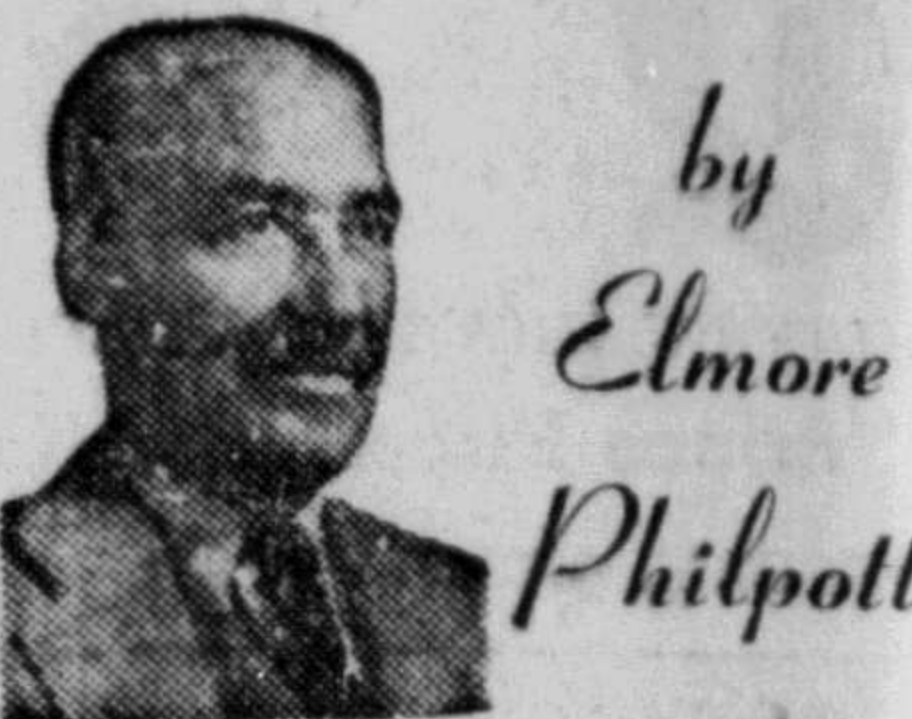

Once Prince Rupert attained consequence—one could say "Mr. Mayor" or "gentlemen of the Council"—whiskey and all its works began to experience a series of changes. And so did other cities. Prohibition for example, was introduced and people appeared to think so much of it that the Bone Dry idea spread all over the continent. But it only led to crime of deepest depth and the discovery that the more prohibition, the greater the expansion of evils apparently worse.

Today it appears there is serene era of beer parlors and liquor-vendor's stores in British Columbia. To swallow a couple of dozen glasses of beer in an evening is not rated an achievement. It is not even a demonstration and usually goes unnoticed. Stories come and stories go—usually tame. We can remember this one, which happened many a long year ago...

On a wet morning before dawn there came a fire call to the GT Pinn. The outbreak was soon under control but not before fire precautions had been taken. This included removal of the well stocked bar, at one end of the Inn building now utilized as an office, and where anything in the way of a comforter, from a Tom and Jerry or gin flizz was to be had for the asking. The drinks were all taken out and laid safely away in the rain in custody of Constable Bill Adams whose eyes were said to resemble an eagle's. Anyway, they did that morning. Everything was returned. There was no such thing as a missing drop.

Meanwhile, is there any chance of buying a glass of cider anywhere?

As I See It

by Elmore Philpott

ISRAEL'S WEAK SPOT

TEL AVIV, ISRAEL.—In this series I have so far reported what I thought was good, strong, encouraging in Israel. Now I must also mention some of her weaknesses.

Of the total population of about a million and a half, only about one-fifth is actually agricultural. That is, the number of people who live in cities and towns outnumber those who live and work on the soil by four to one.

This is a much higher ratio of city-to-country than exists even in highly industrialized America. Of course, it is a temporary condition. But, temporary or not temporary, it goes right to the root of the real problem of Israel today which is how to balance her national house-keeping budget.

ISRAEL'S IMPORTS are many times greater than her exports—judged by 1950 official statistics. There they are: Imports—12.6 millions (Israeli pounds). Exports—13.2 millions (Israeli pounds).

Much of the difference in the above is made up by imports of capital goods—that is, machinery, equipment and raw materials which are likely to help Israel to "close the gap" some time in the future. Yet the gap is there now.

Israel gets the money to make ends meet by gifts and loans from abroad. Most of the gifts come from Jews in various parts of the world. But this year Israel is also floating her own bond issues in the U.S.A. on a four-per-cent interest basis.

THERE IS ONE highly significant qualification of the above. Israel is, of course, not self-sufficient as to food. But she is selling enough food to pay for the food she must buy abroad.

In other words, top-sided as her trade figures look, she could always answer, from her own resources, the question, "how do we eat?"

BEFORE I SAW ISRAEL myself, I was frankly skeptical about the ability of that land to feed a large population. Now it looks to me as if there could be a very great expansion even of agricultural production, simply by multiplication of the methods which have already paid off. That is, if the Jews and other friends of Israel in other countries are willing to send in very substantial amounts each year, for many years, more and more people can be settled on the land.

But this land settlement is a very different thing from our own even in the earlier days of the free homestead grants in the West.

Here there is no good land just waiting to be plowed to grow cash crops. It all requires some capital investment—either for irrigation—drainage or what-not. Also, the community style of settlement has been found to be the most successful for this particular country and for this particular people.

I HAVE NOT attempted, in these articles, to give all details of the various types of community settlement. Some (also the most successful) are completely Communist. I hate to use that dread word, but the truth will out. That is, the individual person or family owns no property. You get what you need or want for your use—but not for re-sale. But it's the Communism applied by the followers of Jesus—not that of Karl Marx.

There are all sorts of gradations between this and outright private property and free enterprise. There are even some purely individualistic farms. But, by and large, Israel is a country which knows that its only hope to rebuild its soil and its forests is on a planned economy basis—and by group enterprise.

I DO NOT BELIEVE that Israel could fall now—even if all her outside friends deserted her. And my opinion, for what it is worth, is that her friend's won't desert her. For what is going on here in Israel is something very great and very big for all the Middle East and, indeed, all humanity.

Talks BCHIS To Veterans

Lively discussion and questions highlighted the Canadian Legion general meeting last night when Jack McRae, M.L.A., spoke on British Columbia Hospital Insurance.

"It was a very instructive address, with plenty of healthy questioning," said William Murray, secretary-manager of the Legion this morning.

In the open discussion that lasted for over an hour the Prince Rupert member outlined the costs and statistics of the hospital scheme.

Legion members expressed dissatisfaction over the recent co-insurance charges made by the BCHIS requiring the payment of part fees up to a certain time after hospital admittance.

Other business discussed was the Third Avenue foundation of the Legion building near the present Sheardown excavation. It was decided to re-support the Legion building.

Gardening....

PLANTS GROW FASTER WHEN MOVED THIS SCIENTIFIC WAY

Latest Transplanting Methods Approved by Experimental Stations

When the danger of frost is over, garden plants which have been started under protection can be moved to the garden. By using methods which have been developed by research, amateurs willing to take care can start plants growing in their new homes with a minimum of shock, without wilting, and without losses.

In the diagram above, the best methods of procedure as recommended by research scientists are illustrated. Transplanting is horticulture surgery, and so every step in this technique has been carefully tested. To prepare for transplanting the plants should be fed with liquid plant food a week before the operation. The day before, a starter solution should be prepared, by hanging a cloth bag containing chemical plant food in a bucket of water and letting it soak overnight. Use 4 ounces of a 4-11-4 mixture or similar to each gallon of water.

Make a hole for the plant large and deep enough to hold its roots without crowding. Mix with soil at the bottom a teaspoonful of plant food, and cover this with soil. Set the plant in place, then pour into the hole, over the plant roots, 1/2 pint of starter solution. While the solution is in the hole, draw in the loose soil and firm it around the plant. The solution not only supplies nutrients but puddles the soil around the roots, making very close contact between soil and root and making it easy for the plant to take up water.

Roots of plants should not be pruned. In removing plants from pots, flats or seed beds, care should be taken to avoid breaking the root system. Replacement of the lost roots must take place before the plant can grow very much.

Tops of plants should not be pruned, as shown by research results. Pruning removes part of the "factory" which has to make the new plant material (carbohydrate) upon which growth depends. Pruning is likely to take off more foliage than necessary. Dead or partly dead tissue does no harm, though wholly dead leaves may be picked off.

Shading is good practice when plants are succulent, when soil and air are dry and when sun is hot. But good plants can usually be set successfully without shade, especially if water or starter solution is used or if good contact between soil and root is established otherwise.

Soy perennial flower seed in the spring, when cool, moist, weather will make germination easy. Seeding plants transplanted to a nursery row in June will make large clumps by fall, when they can be moved to the garden border.

Open Mission at Catholic Church

Father J. A. Carroll, O.M.I. will open a one-week Mission in Annunciation Church this coming Sunday. Two and a half years ago Father Carroll was transferred from Prince Rupert to Fort St. John.

On Sunday morning Father Carroll will preach at the three Masses (8, 9 and 10:30). The morning sermon is intended as an introduction to the Mission proper. The preacher will explain the purpose of the Mission. The congregation will also learn what they are expected to do in order to derive the maximum good from the Mission.

Sunday evening devotions will start at 7:30. "Salvation" is the title of Father Carroll's opening evening discourse. During the week the guest preacher will be heard daily, both morning and night. The morning Masses will be at 6:30, 8 and 9. Morning worshippers will have the benefit of an appropriate morning instruction. The principal sermon will be reserved for evening devotions. The nightly week-day devotions will be at 7:30 or the same hour as on Sunday.

The choir will be heard at the last Mass on Sunday and at all the evening devotions. The Senior Choir is under the direction of Charles P. Balagoo. Sister Mary Lawrence directs the Girls' choir.

People of all denominations are extended a warm invitation to attend as many of the devotions as they wish.

Work of Many Local Artists To be Seen at Civic Centre

There will be a large amount of local art this year at the arts and crafts display and many familiar scenes. Gordon Stenseth has done a view of the harbor; Margaret Martensen, a large oil painting of the Skeena Highway; Mrs. Doherty one of Dufferin Lake, and Mrs. George Hill, two at Shawatlans.

There will be among the winter scenes, one by Mrs. T. Priest looking from Westview up Tucks Inlet showing the mountains at their best. Mrs. L. M. Greene has one looking from her house toward Dundas Island which is snowy in the distance. Mrs. J. T. Harvey looked out her window and painted 20 children of Fourth Avenue East and a dog all playing in the snow.

There are several portraits. Margaret McLeod has several that she calls sketches. Mrs. Herb Young has a portrait of her mother; Mrs. Hill, one of her daughter, and Duncan DeKeremnaux has done a large portrait of an Indian on his fishing boat at Cow Bay.

In still life studies there is one of varied objects on blue velvet by Jimmie Baldwin, then flower studies of every variety, dahlias by Mrs. Mary Smith, gladioli, peonies, lilacs and roses by others but the biggest favorite is likely to be a watercolor of white narcissi in a glass bowl by Frances Partridge, one of her first pictures.

W. C. R. Jones goes farther afield with two Australian scenes, then one of a sugar bush camp in the East, a picture he did in 45 minutes because it was too cold to work longer.

During the last good weather Mrs. Harvey did several pictures of boats. There is one of the Parma, one of the Annabelle on the ways, and another of a portion of the Co-op floats to which several boats are tied.

SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA
The symphony concert has promised to repeat at the Sunday afternoon tea the attractive program they played so well the other night. They will continue with the program in the same order as played before.

Tea will be poured first by Mrs. R. G. Large and Mrs. Peter Lien, who will be replaced later by Mrs. Nora Arnold and Mrs. M. J. Dougherty. Serviteurs will be Miss Mary Sinclair, Miss Evie Rivett, Mrs. A. Boas; Mrs. Lindseth, Mrs. J. A. Rutherford, Miss Audrey Wrathall, Miss I. Rogers and Mrs. W. C. R. Jones.

Preparing the tea behind the scenes will be Mrs. J. Rogerson, Mrs. Herb Young, Mrs. Allan Armstrong, Mrs. Mary Smith, Frances Partridge, Margaret Martensen and Mrs. L. C. Griffiths and Mrs. George Hill.

Those assisting with the supply of refreshments will bring their contributions to the Civic Centre on Saturday.

All exhibits, labelled with the owner's name, are to be brought in to the Centre on Saturday afternoon.

quired for all work in connection with the proposed power plant and plant sites. The sales will be made at prices specified in the Land Act. Stumpage or royalty will be exacted on timber which is damaged, destroyed or removed in connection with the construction or operation of the structures and facilities.

MINERAL RIGHTS

The government has agreed to maintain a reserve against staking under the Mineral and Placer Mining Act and the Petroleum and Natural Gas Act. During a period of completion of construction or of flooding Alcan will have priority in locating and recording claims to any mineral discovered in the development of the water power.

POWER RENTALS

Rentals for power generated will be an annual rental per horsepower year equal to one and two-thirds the average price per pound realized by the company on aluminum produced in B.C. and sold by Alcan during a previous year.

Annual rentals for the first year will not be less than 25 cents per horsepower year. Rentals for flooded lands will be at the rate of 10 cents per acre.

The B.C. government has the right to remove any timber on lands to be flooded, but at its own expense. Alcan will not be required to remove timber from flooded land or land to be flooded except in the following cases:

The company will clear and make usable to low water level all public road and trail ends, water trails between lakes and other areas as directed by the government.

Alcan also is responsible for re-establishment of wharves, landings, docks and other public approaches that now are in existence and in use.

TOWNSITES

Incorporation of townsites for the company will be made by the provincial government on request of the company. Areas owned by Alcan and which will include dams, tunnels, transmission lines, roads and all other portions of company property will also be incorporated into industrial townships.

Agreement provides that Alcan can sell power to others but within the Public Utilities Act.

TAXES

Rentals paid by Alcan on lands flooded, power generated and initial rentals will be in place of all taxes and other charges. The company, however, will be required to pay provincial land and provincial school taxes on the value of lands and improvements owned by Alcan which are not then within the boundaries of an organized municipality or industrial township.

The company also will pay taxes imposed by municipalities on company-owned property, as well as provincial land and school taxes on unimproved value of company-owned lands in a township. Alcan will provide required public services to provincial standards.

The two bodies agreed that the company will not be required to supply power to the government or anyone else except as provided.

Should sale, mortgage or lease of the power works or proposed plant come about, all will be subject to the present agreement between Alcan and the government.

CONSTRUCTION PLANS

The company also is required to furnish to the Department of Fisheries of the federal government, B.C. game commissioner and the water control commissioner copies of plans constructed. The plans may be commenced until approved and received from the commissioner.

to $3 in 1950, formerly the cost had been based on mere hospital care whereas under hospital insurance such costs as X-ray, drugs, etc., were taken care of. So, if hospital costs were fairly analyzed, it might be found that they had risen possibly only about 10 per cent. And anyone in business must realize that that was not an exorbitant increase. If there was believed to be waste in hospital operation, it was something the local boards could control.

Turning to the Prince Rupert General Hospital, Mr. McRae pointed out that there had been an increase in admissions from 2145 in 1948 to 3458 in 1950 with an increase in total operating costs from $153,000 to $275,969.

The speaker also defended the medical profession. There might have been individual cases of lack of co-operation but he declared his belief that "the doctors, as a whole, are co-operating."

One aim in connection with hospital insurance, he declared, was to give short and early periods of treatment and save lives rather than long periods of hospitalization under hopeless circumstances. "ECHIS in no way wishes to keep people out of hospital," he declared.

The American Hospital Association had recommended 4.5 hospital beds per thousand as an ideal level of hospital bed accommodation. British Columbia now had 5.6 beds and in two years would have 7.6.

But all this cost money and this year the bringing in of 500 new beds in British Columbia would involve an expenditure of $1,900,000.

Last year a deficit of $2,500,000 had been budgeted for in hospital insurance but the deficit actually amounted to $4,000,000. And further increases in costs must be anticipated during the coming year.

Mr. McRae assured his listeners that the increase in hospital insurance premiums and the imposition of co-insurance is not meant to provide the funds for past deficits, already taken care of out of consolidated revenue but to take care of future deficits.

Turning to provincial financing generally, Mr. McRae analyzed provincial expenditure of $118,000,000 as brought down in the budget including $36,500,000 in social service and public health, $17,000,000 education, $17,000,000 debt charges, $12,000,000 government services and administration of justice, $12,000,000 grants to municipalities and $21,000,000 public domain (public works, etc.) and $5,800,000 for hospital insurance.

Mr. McRae compared the benefits of ECHIS with other group insurance plans such as Blue Cross. The most disastrous situation a family in Prince Rupert could face in a year under ECHIS was $62 (premium plus co-insurance) whereas, without the plan, a family could be faced with thousands of dollars of hospital bills.

As for the complaint which might be heard that many people were not paying their hospital insurance premiums, Mr. McRae felt that the estimate of the government that 10 per cent might still not be paying was small. He was inclined to believe that the percentage of non-payers might be more like 20. Meantime, he outlined efforts that were being made by the government to bring everyone into the scheme including compulsory payroll deduction provision.

Mr. McRae defended the co-insurance provision, declaring that, if it had not been invoked, the premiums would have had to be further increased and he believed that co-insurance was already having a deterrent effect on any tendency to make of the hospital a "free hotel." For instance he had been informed that there were now 40 empty beds in formerly crowded Royal Jubilee Hospital in Victoria. Mr. McRae answered a number of questions, agreeing with one observation that Prince Rupert was being discriminated against today by having to pay the same premiums as the rest of the province whereas it was not deriving the full service while its costs were lower.

President Don Forward was in the chair. He congratulated Mr. McRae for his courage in taking the initiative in defending ECHIS and acknowledge the effective manner in which he was looking after the interests of his constituents in Victoria.

Lost Leg in CN Station

Variety of Articles Include Kitchen Sink
TORONTO. — Somewhere, walking around Canada, there is a man who lost his leg in the Canadian National Railways baggage room at Toronto's Union Station. At least, that's the only conclusion Charlie Hutchings, CNR lost article clerk, can come to for the artificial leg as one half of a baggage check led to it.

"How do I know it's a man's leg?" asked Hutchings. "Well, I can hardly imagine a woman being as forgetful as that. Besides," he added, "there was no ink stocking on the leg."

Artificial limbs are only one of the headaches Charlie Hutchings encounters as he sorts thousands of lost articles and unclaimed baggage before they are sold at public auction. False teeth, baby carriages, a bathtub from Poland, countless trunks and suitcases and even two Civil War swords are among the host of unclaimed baggage. "In this department, we've found everything but the kitchen sink," Hutchings said, "but just the other day, we even received that. It came from overseas and was probably left by some immigrants."

Books, too, are among articles travellers seem to forget aboard trains and their titles include anything from "True Confessions" to "Poget's Thesaurus of English Words and Phrases."

"This place could be a regular gold mine," said Hutchings as he glanced around at the thousands of forgotten articles. "Although regulations stipulate that the company must keep each article for a year after it is found, we never open the trunks or suitcases. They are sold just the way they stand and, for all I know, the buyer could be purchasing a suitcase of rag dolls or one filled with thousand dollar bills. It's strictly a surprise package."

As soon as the unclaimed items are catalogued and ready for the auction block during the first week in May, Charlie Hutchings will head for Miami and a well-earned rest—3000 miles away from lost articles and forgetful people.

many high cards he could have. Now if Mr. Muzzy had both the king and queen of diamonds the right play was to duck in dummy and let the ten in the closed hand win.

But what if Mr. Muzzy had bid on six diamonds to the king or queen. He often does. In that case Mr. Dale would have a doubleton honor and to play low from dummy would permit him to win and fire the suit back immediately, setting up the remaining diamonds in Mr. Muzzy's hand.

Mr. Champion was somewhat inclined toward this latter set-up. One reason was that when Mr. Muzzy has a long suit headed by the king-queen he is usually undecided whether to lead the fourth highest or the king whereas in this case he had led very promptly.

If Mr. Dale did have a doubleton diamond honor, the right play at trick one was the ace from dummy. That would leave Mr. Dale with a lone honor and when the club finesse was taken and lost (as expected) the diamond suit would be blocked.

Mr. Champion gave the situation a lot of thought. He rubbed his head, closed his eyes, crossed and uncrossed his legs, stared at the ceiling and lit a cigarette when he already had one going. He had a tough decision, all right. Anybody could go wrong on this particular combination of cards. Finally he put up dummy's ace of diamonds and took the club finesse at once. Mr. Muzzy won the king of clubs and laid down five good diamonds to defeat the contract two tricks. "As you were saying yesterday, Mr. Champion," said Mr. Muzzy, "it is more important to know when to employ the hold-up play than it is to know how to employ it."

The Golden Gallery... The dome of the Cathedral, is to be re-opened in time for the festival of Britain in May. It has been closed to the public since 1939.

Workmen have been occupied for months in repairing and renovating the winding staircase to the gallery, which at 281 feet above ground level, affords a striking panoramic view of central London. It is almost 100 feet higher than the Stone Gallery at the base of the dome.

With the re-opening, visitors will once again be able to enter all three of the cathedral's famous galleries. Two others, the Whispering and Stone Galleries, also closed in 1939, were re-opened in 1942.

Barbara Brent's BUYS AND WHYS

A WEEKLY INFORMATION SERVICE

MONTREAL, April 26th—Wishing won't make it so, as I've discovered time and time again. When you want a cake to turn out just right, it's wise to follow the recipe. And it's the same with the things you want out of life.

It Light And Luscious! One very sure way to make a Spring morning look rosy is to serve this breakfast treat to the family... QUAKER PUFFED WHEAT. And next morning—fluffy QUAKER PUFFED RICE.

Last Night we had BIRDS EYE French Style Green Beans for dinner and they are delicious! All the farm-fresh beans of these specially selected beans are captured in a "quick-frozen" so that you serve and eat them at the peak of their sweet, young tenderness.

Why They Just Started! And... look they've practically finished cleaning all those windows! It's easy to see my smart neighbours are using WINDEX SPRAY!

Whoops! What's The Hurry? Baby grows so fast during his first year, you can almost see him doing it—getting bigger and stronger every day!

One Of Your Most Important "Buys" is paint to save your home from wear 'n' tear—paint to save you money! Indoors, painting the part of your home that takes the worst beating are the floors. And that's why so many wise homeowners insist on the protection of Glidden FLORENAMEL.

These Days Of Sky-High Prices... it's a real pleasure to find something that gives you as much for your money as BLUE BONNET MARGARINE does!

Time To Begin a bright April day with a breakfast treat of "Cream of Wheat"! So smoo-th—so appetizing—and so "just right"!

Magician ever made a rabbit vanish faster than my Chocolate Icebox Cookies did at the youngsters' party yesterday!

Good News! Did you think it was impossible to keep a slice of tomato in your refrigerator for seven days—and have it come out garden fresh?

Flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift again. Sift shortening, sugar, egg, chocolate and vanilla, beating with spoon until blended; add nuts. Add flour gradually, mixing well after each addition. Divide dough in halves; shape in rolls 2 inches in diameter, rolling in waxed paper. Or pack dough into cookie molds. Chill or store in refrigerator until firm. Before slicing, let rolls stand at room temperature for an hour or until soft enough to dent when pressed with finger. Cut in slices, using sharp knife. Bake on ungreased baking sheet in moderate oven (350 deg. F.) about 10 minutes.

25 YEARS AGO

A new up-to-date cannery will be built at Masset Inlet by Watson & Kennedy, Vancouver contractors, for the Gossie-Miller Cannery Co. at Shannon Bay.

William Draney will be manager of the cannery, with Thomas Scott, foreman.

By a vote of five to three, the city council, last evening went on record in favor of having the policing of Prince Rupert done by the provincial police authorities.

With all blades stripped from her propeller in striking a submerged object in Masset Inlet, the Fisheries patrol boat Givenchy will be towed to Prince Rupert.

Col. J. H. McMullin, superintendent of Provincial Police, arrived from Victoria for the discussion of city policing with the council.

The Duke and Duchess of York, to whom a daughter was born this week in London, are celebrating their first born named Princess Elizabeth.

David F. Robb, grandfather of William Robb, of Prince Rupert, celebrated his 100th year birthday recently.

10 YEARS AGO

April 26, 1941 Ten ships of sixty-six involving $175,000,000 will be built here according to private advice reaching Victoria today. Minister of Munitions, C. D. Howe, said that he had been informed by T. R. MacMillan, president of Wartime Merchant Shipping Ltd., that a program for the building of ninety-six cargo ships was on its way to the minister.

A committee of Rev. J. H. Myrswang, Oscar Sather, John Storeth and Peter Lien will be in charge of the Norwegian Independence Day celebration. General William Steffens, commander-in-chief of Norwegian forces in Canada, informed Dr. Jens Munthe that he would visit the city May 15.

Use of Fish Is Boosted

Japanese Competition Referred to at Boston Meet

BOSTON — American and Canadian fish producers and distributors have been urged to join an international campaign to increase sea food consumption in the two countries.

Clarence Morrow of Lunenburg, N.S., has invited members of the American fishing industry to join with the Canadian industry in raising and spending $1,000,000 a year to develop bigger markets for seafoods in Canada and the United States.

A prominent spokesman for Canadian fishing interests and an official of National Sea Products, Ltd., in Halifax, Mr. Morrow spoke before the 6th annual convention of the National Fisheries Institute at the Hotel Statler. About 1,500 persons are attending the meeting.

EXPANSION OF MARKETS Declaring that there should be an expansion of markets rather than talk of limited imports and restrictions on Canadian-American trade, Mr. Morrow advocated a five-year campaign to "up" the small per capita fish consumption in North America, educating the public that fresh fish can now be easily obtained at points far inland as well as along the coasts.

Invited to present Canada's viewpoint on fish exports to the United States, a trade which has been roughly assailed at the convention, by representatives of the New England fishing industry, Mr. Morrow pointed out that Canada buys more than ten times as much goods from the United States as this country buys from it and that any limit on purchases from Canada will force that nation to further curtail its imports from the United States.

"Canadian purchases of American automobiles and other products," he pointed out, "go a long way toward providing full employment for the United States."

MEXICAN SHRIMP American imports of Mexican shrimp were assailed by Virgil Versaggi of Brownsville, Texas. He asserted that these imports, which hit the 40,000,000 pound mark in 1950, would stifle the American Gulf Coast shrimp industry if not drastically limited in the future.

William Herrington of the United States Fish and Wildlife Service forecast a big increase in the extent and production of Japanese fisheries. Formerly with the Fish and Wildlife Service in New England, Mr. Herrington spent several years in Japan as a fisheries adviser to the United States occupation authorities.

Because of great pressure to boost its food supply and provide work for thousands of unemployed fishermen, the Japanese are planning to extend their fishing operations and export more fish, especially tuna and skipjack, to the United States. Japan, Mr. Herrington added, now has a fleet of 1,000 vessels in the deep-sea fisheries alone, with shipyards capacity to increase this armada to any size when conditions permit. He pointed out that Japanese fishing vessels are government licensed to fish only one species, Tuna fishermen for instance, cannot bring in any other kind of fish.

Negro Show is Coming to City.

Harmony Kings, celebrated negro vocal troupe, in the course of a tour which will take them to Honolulu, will be in Prince Rupert for two concerts in the Civic Centre May 7. Their advance agent, O. L. Elliott, is due here within the next few days to confer with Civic Centre Director Don Forward on details of their show.

Whether there will be two evening shows or one evening show and a matinee for students will be decided following the arrival of Mr. Elliott.

The Harmony Kings are not merely a singing group but have many novelty numbers. They originally made their debut with Horace Held's Orchestra, and have become acclaimed among the most versatile group of entertainers in the United States.

No Charge at Unusual Hotel

GOOSE BAY, Labrador—Perhaps the most unusual hotel in the world is the one at Goose Bay, Labrador, which does not charge guests one penny for its $18-a-day type of service. Furthermore, its seven owners cheerfully operate at a 100 per cent loss.

Goose Bay is operated jointly by seven international airlines and is managed by Trans-Canada. Primarily, this inn is set up to provide accommodation for trans-Atlantic air passengers passing through Goose Bay, which alternates with Gander as an important cross-road of the world air lines.

Located but a few miles from the Hudson Bay post on Lake Melville, Goose Bay developed during the war as a strategic military base. Today this Labrador airport is familiar to thousands of travelers who fly to North Atlantic. From their planes take off for New York, Paris, Shannon, London, Reykjavik, Montreal, Amsterdam and Copenhagen.

When flights are delayed the hotel converted from an RCAF building and accommodating 17 persons, features good beds, comfortable lounge, recreation facilities and excellent hot meals. A 12-minute ride from the landing strip, it is staffed by a trained crew, which give professional service under the guidance of James Leitch, who has wide experience in hotel management in Europe and the West Indies.

Private plane passengers landing in Goose Bay also can use this hotel, but it costs them $18 a day, as opposed to the gratis hospitality extended commercial airlines passengers at this unusual inn under the Aurora "reals."

Listed to call on the Prince Rupert, Capt. William Eccles, this evening for Vancouver are Mrs. H. B. MacNaughton, Mr. and Mrs. P. Hemsworth and children, K. L. McKenzie, Miss Jeanne Faure, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Geddes and baby, A. R. Belanger, R. Maloney, W. Smith, A. Barge, H. Stark, Miss M. Miller, Mr. Alphonse, Mr. Planufe, Mrs. G. Varfeldt, A. G. Grant, Mrs. M. Wilkins and son, Dennis.

Little Theatre Play Enjoyed

"Our Hearts Were Young and Gay" Acceptable Entertainment

The Prince Rupert Little Theatre pulsed another evening of "entertainment out of their hat last night.

The three-act comedy, "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay" presented in the Civic Centre, drew hearty laughs from an appreciative audience.

Mainstays of the play were Marion Thomas as Emily Kimbrough, and Elizabeth Holmes as Cornelia Otis Skinner.

The audience was won by Mrs. Thomas, whose facial expressions brought out her character which was well sustained throughout.

In good contrast with Mrs. Thomas was the lead part of Miss Holmes, played with a fair sense of character. Her handling of a sick scene aboard the boat was especially convincing.

Smooth acting was noted in the scene between Miss Holmes and Don Leitch in Act Two. Mr. Leitch played one of two young medical students, Lee McEvoy.

Humorously portraying McEvoy as a love-sick swain, Mr. Leitch handled the difficult part of love-making. He had natural stage timing.

Despite the last part of Act Two's almost complete stage darkness, the audience were grinning broadly with satisfaction by intermission. Although attempt was made to direct light upon the stage through the ship's porthole, more could have been afforded. For nearly five minutes of lively acting, the audience was unable to see even the forms of the actresses, or enough of the stage to compel attention.

Such voices as the opening lines of Dr. Duncan Black's playing Otis Skinner were welcomed, although towards the end Mr. Black's voice might have sounded somewhat strained. While Mrs. Skinner, played by Sheila Chater, set key lines, such as the one which indicated the safety pocket at the beginning, by talking too softly.

Difficulty in understanding the English accents of the two "air-girls," Harriet St. John and Winifred Blough portrayed by Margaret Doiron and Diane Kennedy, respectively, lost their introduction to the audience. Although their subsequent zest for their parts were pleasing.

The heavy burden of acting two parts was carried by Ernest Milgram. He seemed to give better portrayal in his Monsieur de la Croix character, than the part of the Admiral, in which a certain pomposity might have helped.

In their second performance tonight, the cast of 17 should again please the audience as they take them for a holiday boat trip to Paris.

Make-up was well handled, being particularly suited to Monsieur de la Croix and Otis Skinner. Miss Skinner's bitten upper lip in the bed-bus scene carried reality but a little more color make-up might have helped when she had the measles.

The play, starting right on curtain time, was introduced by Don Forward, secretary of the Civic Centre.

Director of the play was R. G. Edwards.

Calgary Range Riders Coming

Prince Rupert is to have a return show from the popular Calgary Range Riders who played to capacity houses at the Civic Centre last October. This year the show will visit the city on Friday and Saturday, May 11 and 12 and have booked the Civic Centre for combined western shows and dances on each evening. They have also agreed to do a show at Miller Bay Hospital and to autograph their many records on sale at a local radio store.

The Range Riders are on a coast to coast tour of Canada and will feature such popular Western artists as Buddy Reynolds, guitar and vocals; Tony Stoltz, accordion, guitar and bass; Mel Risham, banjo, bass and square dance caller; Don Thompson, steel guitar artist; Norm Towne, guitar and bass; Curly Koceman, guitar; Freddie Lang, 1950-51 World Champion old-time fiddler; and Bill "Dix" Hilton, popular M.C. and guitar artist.

During the past few months the Range Riders have toured the Eastern provinces and have been heard recording the following discs: "Sorcee Bag," "Blue Okanagan," "I Want to Be Your Valentine," "Waltz of the Stream," "Blue Canadian Rockies," "Valley of the Saints," "Calgary Waltz," "Don't be Blue Linda Lou."

Plead Guilty To Car Thefts

Two local boys, whose arrest came during a midnight ride up the Skeena Highway Tuesday, were charged in city police court yesterday afternoon with theft of two automobiles. They pleaded guilty before Magistrate W. D. Vance and were remanded for sentence.

The arrest of the boys came after the removal of a taxi car, owned by Cliff Dahl and driven by James Moran, which disappeared Tuesday night from in front of Moran's home at 329 Second Avenue West.

Moran at 11 p.m. noticed the car was gone and immediately notified the police. Terrace police were advised and Constable Ted Brue intercepted the car about half-way between Prince Rupert and Terrace. Local police headed for the interior and picked up the car and the boys, bringing them back to the city.

Taxi sign on the roof of the car and the radio microphone had been torn off.

The boys also admitted having taken a half-ton pickup belonging to Northwest Construction Co., on April 4. This car had been found deserted about half-way up the Skeena Highway.

After receiving the plea of the boys, the magistrate commented on the seriousness of the offence and told them they could be sentenced up to 10 years.
