Kitimat And Skeena Hold Key To Defence Of Northwest Continent, Rail Man Asserts

Development of Area Of Prime Importance

Canadian National Railways Chief of Development Sees Vital Role Here

MONTREAL.—It took the recent large scale war in the Pacific to make inhabitants of North America conscious of the existence and potentialities of the continent's North Pacific region, M. W. Maxwell, chief of development, Canadian National Railways, said here today when he addressed the Electrical Club of Montreal at its noon luncheon.

Trace of Lost Plane

Yellow Objects and Long Boards are Spotted

LONDON (CP)—Rescue aircraft, searching the Atlantic for a United States Air Force transport plane, missing with 53 persons aboard, have sighted a "number of small yellow objects" some 600 miles southwest of Ireland, United States Air Force London headquarters said today.

The American Globemaster disappeared on Good Friday on a flight from the United States to Great Britain. The yellow objects and "some long boards" were spotted approximately 35 miles southeast of the position at which a charred duffel bag belonging to one of the passengers of the plane was picked up by a ship Saturday night. The bag had been the only trace so far of the missing transport. Surface ships have been ordered to the area but no further information has been received here.

Princess Pats in Action As Koreans Push North

TOKYO (CP) — Canada's Princess Patricia's Light Infantry went back into action today on the western sector in Korea after 14 days' rest. They made a 2000-yard advance from one hill to another in the sector northeast of Seoul—mountain climbing actually meaning about five miles of travel overland.

WEATHER

Synopsis
Coastal barometers were falling today as two moderate Pacific disturbances complicated the weather picture. Rain is falling on the north coast and along the western side of Vancouver Island and this is expected to spread to the lower mainland tonight. Showers will accompany the passage of these systems through the interior tomorrow. Today's temperatures will be considerably milder than yesterday's in the Kootenays but little change is expected elsewhere. Gales will develop on the north coast today and winds will freshen on the south coast this afternoon. Westerly winds and showers will follow tomorrow.

GALE WARNING
North coast region — Gale warning, rainy today, cloudy with showers tomorrow. Occasional sunny periods tomorrow afternoon. Little change in temperature. Winds — South (45) over open water and south (30) elsewhere, shifting to westerly (25) this evening. Lows tonight and highs tomorrow — at Port Hardy and Sandspit, 35 and 45; Prince Rupert 35 and 42.

Rain on the still frozen river made the going treacherous and slippery and the Canadians needed five hours to reach the mountain. The job was completed just before nightfall.

Meantime American artillery today poured heavy fire into massed Communist units on the rain-swept central Korean front. The aim appeared to be two-fold — to clear the way for advancing Allied infantry near the North Korean border and to stall any Red attempt at a counter-offensive.

On the east coast, South Korean troops advanced behind a rolling barrage of naval gunfire to a point six miles north of the 38th parallel. They occupied Yangyang.

South Korean forces have occupied one border village and four North Korean towns since their drive began Sunday. On the western front, Allied forces north of Seoul pushed to within seven miles of the 38th parallel. They had full control of the road leading northwest from Allied-held Uijongbu to Munsan.

United Nations commanders had an unprecedented conference on the field today.

Korea Tougher Than France

MICHORD AIR FIELD, Washington (CP)—Lieut. Alfred S. Wagstaff, one of the first Canadian Army casualties in the Korean war, has only 200 miles to go last night and he will be home.

FIRST CASUALTY — Lieut. Alfred S. Wagstaff of the New Westminster Regiment, is Canada's first disclosed casualty in the Korean war. He was wounded in both legs while in action with the Patricia's on the west-central front. He was wounded and captured at Dieppe in the Second World War. (CP PHOTO)

Wagstaff landed here yesterday after a 5000-mile flight from Tokyo and was taken to Madigan Military Hospital to rest for a couple of days before competing the homeward journey to New Westminster.

"Korea is tougher than France," Lieut. Wagstaff told newspaper reporters. "Don't discount the Chinese soldier. He's a good soldier."

Wagstaff was wounded a month ago when his platoon launched a hill attack to rout a Chinese machine-gun nest. He suffered leg injuries.

"The Chinese were in covered trenches. Their position and pill boxes were at least on a par with those of the Germans," he said.

Ask Govt. To Resign

VANCOUVER (CP) — Greater Vancouver Labor Council (GVC) has demanded that the coalition government resign from office because of its handling of the hospital insurance scheme.

Bitter protest followed recent action of the government in increasing hospital premium rates and the Labor Council last night endorsed a resolution calling for the government's resignation.

Decision was taken to circulate a petition throughout the province for signatures of labor and non-labor citizens who support the recall action.

Flash!

AMERICANS FIRED ON BERLIN—East German Communist police opened fire today on American tourists in downtown Berlin. United States authorities demanded an immediate audience with the Russians for an explanation. The tourists were making a bus tour and were exactly on the border between the two zones. A window in one of the buses was hit but none of the occupants were struck.

AURIOL IN U.S. NEW YORK—President Vincent Auriol of France arrived today for the first visit ever made to the United States by the French chief executive. Later in the day he will go to Washington and, following a visit there, plans a trip to Canada.

City is Opposing Hike in Power Rates—Asks Hearing

Application for increase in power rates by Northern British Columbia Power Company will be opposed by Prince Rupert city council.

Recommendation of utilities committee that the application be investigated by the Public Utilities Commission and the hearing held publicly in Prince Rupert was endorsed last night at council's meeting.

Brown & Harvey, city solicitors, will be asked to make an immediate investigation of the proposed rates following which application to Victoria will be made for a public hearing.

Thrilling Landing

LONDON (CP)—Twenty-six passengers spent a tense ninety minutes circling over London airport tonight before their crippled plane landed safely.

The pilot radioed that his landing gear was stuck and he would try a belly landing. He circled to use up fuel and thus reduce the danger of a fire.

Finally, he poured a thermos of drinking water into the hydraulic landing mechanism and pumped up pressure by hand. It worked and the wheels came down.

City Demands Tightening Of Traffic Regulations

With many strong expressions from aldermen, city car drivers and police came under fire last night at the city council meeting.

"Flagrant examples of traffic violations are in evidence every day," said Ald. T. B. Black, with special reference to "double-parking."

He cited instances where trucks, buses and cars double-parked "all over our main thoroughfares" with not the "slightest concern to police passing by."

"The police are very lax in enforcing our traffic bylaws and checking upon traffic in general," said Ald. H. S. Whalen, "and this is developing into a great hazard."

Ald. Douglas Frizzell, chairman of police and licensing committee, said he had come to realize "this condition for some time."

"It's no use passing traffic bylaws if they're not going to be enforced."

Ald. Whalen also wanted to have something done about "jay-walking across our streets," and suggested the traffic committee should draw up a bylaw as soon as possible "prohibiting jay-walking."

City Clerk R. W. Long was instructed to write a letter to the police department demanding "a more rigid enforcement of traffic rules according to the Motor Vehicle Act and city traffic bylaws."

Winnipeg MP Is Resigning

WINNIPEG.—Ralph Maybank, veteran member of Parliament and parliamentary secretary to the minister of resources and development, announced to his constituents of Winnipeg South Centre yesterday that he had decided to resign. He will devote himself to his legal practice.

Mr. Maybank has been MP since 1935.

To Keep Open on Friday Evenings

A petition, presented by men's clothing dealers, to extend late opening of stores on Friday nights to June 1, was accepted by city council last night.

The bylaw, granting permission to men's stores to stay open the one night a week, was amended, but stores will now close at 8 p.m., instead of 9, as formerly.

With many strong expressions from aldermen, city car drivers and police came under fire last night at the city council meeting.

Elevator Pays City Tax Grant

Prince Rupert's "white elephant" grain elevator has finally paid off. The city has received notice that the federal government will pay a $12,746 grant to the city in lieu of taxes.

For several years Prince Rupert "has been fighting for this," said City Clerk R. W. Long.

Prince Rupert Going Government in Case of Housing in City

Prince Rupert will go "straight to the government" for satisfaction to its housing problem, city council declared last night while discussion of the "horrible situation" reached a boiling point at meeting.

Men's voices were raised in protest and indignation "brush-off" letter from Housing and Mortgage Commission, which intimated 45 new apartments—from conversion of the Army administration building—would satisfy this housing needs.

City council has tried end-to-end to get 150 new homes declared Mayor G. W. Graham. "This letter certainly doesn't answer our problem."

With a forceful declaration of Columbia Cellulose that the city show in acquiring housing for permanent employees, CHMC to the city's request for action stirred aldermen to speak.

"We are stuck in a bad bind. We have a huge industry and no place for the workers to live. We have spent a million dollars on improvements to the city and are spending another half million. We need a new population," said George Casey.

Douglas Frizzell said for a year the city had tried to get a low-rental, Dominion-provincial government scheme started in Prince Rupert. He said that months ago he had been talking to CHMC and at that time "things were very promising."

"If we would have had a little more co-operation from the company, we might have been further ahead," said Ald. T. B. Black, pointing out that they (the company) had made no commitments on their housing need until "just recently."

Protest Justified

WHILE closing of the government agency at Stewart will further concentrate provincial administrative matters of the north country at Prince Rupert, we can sympathize with the people of Stewart in making their protest at the closing of the agency. Prince Rupert may stand to derive some small benefit from the fact that certain administrative and consultative business will henceforth have to be carried out from the local agency. At the same time, it may involve some inconvenience and loss of time and money for the people of Portland Canal district.

Closing the agency at Stewart, which has been located there since being moved from Anyox years ago, leaves Atlin constituency with only one government agency—at Atlin in the far north. This, of course, too far removed and indirect of access to prove of any use to such communities as Stewart and Anyox which may increase in importance as mining centres.

Few Bad Accidents

THIS line of the Canadian National Railways, which has had a fairly fortunate career as far as serious accidents are concerned, although there have been a few unfortunate incidents at pretty well spread out periods, might well have had a serious mishap but the eastbound passenger train Monday night was fortunate in having only two unoccupied cars struck by a rockslide. Had the engine or occupied passenger cars been hit, there might have been tragic consequences. It was an act of Providence that the damage and delay were so light.

Danger always lurks in more or less degree along the railway lines, particularly those through rugged country like this. The fact that there are so few accidents is a tribute to the vigilance and care of the men who guard and keep up the maintenance of way.

SOUTHERN LADY CITY

MADRAS, India— I FELL IN love with a beautiful lady today, and again it was at first sight. This time it was with a city—Madras.

When I landed at Delhi, I had a feeling of anti-climax. True, the place was colorful enough, and there is a vast treasure house of human interest in the bazaars, with their teeming millions.

But somehow or other it was not till I got to Madras that I felt that THIS was really the India of which I had dreamed since I was a boy.

I HAD BEEN WARNED TO BEWARE of Madras heat. A genial young newspaperman from Madras had told me in Delhi:

"In Madras, we have only three seasons: Hot, hotter and hottest."

Yet when we deplaned at about 2 p.m. there was a nice breeze blowing. They also have great rows of shade trees in this lively city and, of course, as fine a stretch of sea beach as there is anywhere on earth.

IN MY BRIEF STAY IN MADRAS I met many fine people. Cheeseman, a New Zealander who works for our Canadian Massed-Harris, and who says that what India needs most of all is training in simple mechanics.

Also J. A. Borron, an old-time British information officer, as hard-bitten a character as I have met in a long time—but unless I miss my guess, 100 percent honest, even when it hurts himself and others.

Borron disputes the main thesis, advanced by visiting agricultural experts from Western countries. Suppose India adopted American plowing techniques, and turned up 12 or 13 inches of soil, instead of scratching about half that depth. With the torrential rains and later scorching winds, the top soil would simply blow away. Already erosion is a major problem in India. With more deep plowing (and falling elaborate anti-erosion measures) India would face agricultural catastrophe.

As I myself have seen Saskatchewan top soil literally blowing away in farms—full, I would be the last to scoff at this rugged, down-to-earth old-timer in India.

I MET ALSO SEVERAL OF the key people on the fine newspaper, The Hindu, of Madras, including the distinguished editor, Kasturi Srinivasan. The press of India is of a very high calibre—on the whole, better than ours in America, especially in international coverage.

The Hindu boasts that it has only once run a heading bigger than one column. That was to report the news of the murder of Gandhi.

They print in an ultra-modern plant, like our best ones at home. They run ads on Page One, English style, including movie publicity in two extra colors.

We chatted a while about the world situation, then laughingly the editor told me: "If Canada really wants to improve relations with India, let her sell us more newsprint."

Next to food, newsprint is the scarcest commodity in India.

TWO OF THE ASSISTANT EDITORS chatted about Canadian politics. One wanted to know all about the CCF in Canada, and mentioned Mr. Coldwell by name. I was surprised at their knowledge.

All the reporters are university graduates—many have MA degrees. They get about 200 rupees per month—but though the rate is 4.45 rupees to the Canadian dollar—one rupee here buys about as much as a dollar does at home.

Linotype operators get about 90 to 100 rupees per month, plus cost-of-living bonus, which brings it up to about 140 rupees. They work seven hours a day, six days a week.

BUT MY BEST NEW FRIEND, discovered in Madras, was young M. S. Venkataramani, a staff reporter on The Hindu, who had learned from a friend in Delhi of my visit. "Ramani" is a young married man in his 20's who hopes to come to America next year on one of those newspaper fellowships.

It was he who told me more about India than I had learned in my previous stay in this country. Above all, he explained to me that it was the women of India, and not the men, who

LANDLORD AND TENANT

The Editor, Daily News:

The article in Monday's paper on the postponement of the Provincial and Federal housing project which was under consideration for Prince Rupert didn't exactly make things very hilarious for those unfortunate tenants who are paying between $75 and $125 a month for a house of any size, description or condition. Before the postponement there seemed to be a flicker of hope for us but now even that has disappeared. It just seems that every time we get our heads above water someone pushes it back under.

My husband and I are paying $75 a month for five rooms and bath furnished with the bare essentials and not a great deal of them. The walls are scarred with ugly black marks. Wall paper has been stained badly with the dampness. Mattresses are also stained with mishaps of the children of previous tenants. The oilcloth on the floor is cracked and worn. Our one piece of furniture in the front room never fails to bring apologies from myself whenever we have guests as the springs are badly broken and creak and groan at weight of an average person. The lighting is very poor and at the point of being dangerous as one of the switches blows blue smoke when the switch is pulled. (The landlord was shown it but did nothing.) The wind blows the clothes line down. We hear tapping on our window and find Papa landlord outside waiting to tell my husband to put it up. The cartage company uncrates the furniture, leaving the lumber on the lawn, so over again comes Papa to inform us that it may hurt the grass if it isn't picked up right away. Next, a limb of one of the lilac bushes became broken. It was made plain to us that it must not happen again. It seems at the least little thing there was one member of the family knocking at our door.

There is such a thing as getting used to it, but when they were the backbone against the Westernization of this land. "They have never adopted a single custom from the West." He explained to me the Hindu woman's greatest ambition was to be "sumangali," that is, happily wed to a living husband.

tried to derive us the company of friends, that was going a little too far. We did have people in to stay with us and that too was investigated to the extent of following our guests at night to see where they went to sleep. Even going as far as to look in the window of the tiny room where our guests were sleeping to try to find out whose mattress or bed they were sleeping on. It wasn't one of the adults either but the face of a fourteen year old girl, or thereabouts. The reason was, as the landlady later stated, that such things weren't allowed. She went from one tenant to another to try to find out if there had been money passed between our guests and ourselves. She must have thought she could raise our rent or take any extra we may have made on our guests. Well, Mama Landlady was in for her big surprise as no money passed between us.

These absurdities finally made us seek the kind counsel of a lawyer who set the score right and made us feel that there is still one power who can hold the landlords down: the law. A TENANT.

Would Go To India

By DOUGLAS HOW
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent is eager to make a trip to India and Pakistan, but feels that the world crisis is such that he can't leave Ottawa for any prolonged period at this time.

Authoritative quarters reported that Prime Minister's feeling and said Mr. St. Laurent holds the opinion that a trip to that sub-continent by a Canadian leader might do much to benefit the entire western world.

This feeling is based on the belief that the rulers and people of India and Pakistan view Canada as a friendly country without an international axe to grind other than the cause of peace.

Reports reaching here indicate Canada is admired in New Delhi and Karachi, the two capitals, as a country which tries as much as possible to mediate difficulties causing present world tension.

The prevailing opinion is that everything possible should be done to keep India and Pakistan on the side of the western world and that a visit by a Canadian Prime Minister might be an event of considerable importance.

Mr. St. Laurent was invited to visit the two countries during or after the Ottawa visits of Prime Ministers Nehru and Liaquat Ali Khan a year or so ago.

READY TO GO
He has been both willing and ready for some time to undertake the trip, but has been prevented from doing so by recurring world crises.

However, there are indications that he would make the trip by air if the international situation showed any really perceptible signs of improving.

This session of parliament is expected to make Canada's first really large contribution to the area of south and southeast Asia which includes India and Pakistan. It will be a $25,000,000 vote of aid as Canada's first-year share in the six-year Colombo plan for building up that area.

Canada has offered to send wheat to India as part of the first year's aid.

relatives before joining Lieut. Brown at his permanent posting.

Lieut. Brown saw service with the Royal Canadian Navy throughout World War II and for seven weeks was a patient at Valparaiso, Chile, following an accident on the cruiser Prince Robert. He finished up the war as a petty officer and obtained his commission on joining HMCS Chatham.

Lieut. Brown will continue his association in the Brownwoods shoe store business which will be actively carried on by his partner, Robert Woods.

Social Assistance Increased

City Does Not Like Paying Extra

Social assistance will be increased $5 a month for an individual beginning April 1. But the city is accepting the terms of sharing the increase with the provincial government on a 75-25 percent basis "under protest," city council decided last night.

The increase will mean an extra annual expenditure of $3,400 for the city. Until now, the municipalities' share of social assistance has been 20 percent.

"I fully agree the assistance should be raised," said Ald. T. B. Black, "but I don't think it should be at the expense of the municipality."

He said this was just another instance where "the government is trying to chisel on the municipalities." This practice should be "strongly protested."

Ald. Douglas Frizzell said that a "resolution of protest" should be laid before the next meeting of the Union of B. C. Municipalities.

Meantime, the protest will be sent to the provincial government.

The increase will raise social assistance for single persons from $35 to $40 a month; married persons from $50 to $60 a couple, and to $9.50 for each dependent.

Girl Vets Not Anxious

But Plenty of Canadian Women Would Get In Uniform

By KAY REX

OTTAWA (CP)—Any number of girls are willing to jump into uniform at the word "go" from the defence department. But not many former service women are interested.

That's what the department has learned since it began filing away queries six months ago from potential women members of the Army, Air Force and Navy.

The Navy reports "as many as five a day" and the RCAF says it's getting "hundreds of letters." The Army considers the general reaction "encouraging."

But Canada's 48,000 women veterans of the Second World War aren't among the enthusiasts. A departmental spokesman predicts that any revival of the women's services probably will start with "an entirely new crop of girls."

Marriage, he judges, is possibly the main reason for lack of interest among former service women.

Age, too, may be a contributing factor. It's six years since the last members in the Canadian Women's Army Corps, the RCAF (women's division) and the Wrens received their discharges.

"Most queries are from girls in their teens and early twenties," the spokesman said.

Both the RCAF and Navy report the girls aren't seeking special jobs or commissions. They appear willing to take whatever is offered.

Stenographers, clerical workers and switchboard operators are among those looking for spots in the army. Cooks and waitresses also have inquired, but persons in these trades don't indicate that they want similar employment in the army.

Count on Miss Brash to put a hand in a spot where things have to break just right to avoid a set. She ignored Mrs. Keen's bid of two clubs and jumped all the way to four spades in today's deal. She had a good hand—but not that good.

Mrs. Keen took her king and ace of clubs on which Mr. Abel played the four and then the five, indicating no desire to have the suit continued. At the third trick Mrs. Keen shifted to the five of hearts.

Note that dummy has the same high cards in hearts as the closed hand has in the spade suit, namely ace, queen and ten. But Mr. Dale realized he had to play the suits differently. If he lost one spade trick then he could not afford to lose any tricks in hearts.

Holding only two hearts in his own hand, Mr. Dale knew there was no point in double finessing. In other words his best play to avoid any heart losers was to play the queen from dummy at the third trick, finessing against only one card, the king.

When the queen of hearts held, the only problem was to limit the spade losers to one. So Mr. Dale led the three of spades from the board and put in the ten from his hand when Mr. Abel played low to the trick. Mrs. Keen won with the jack and returned a small heart.

Mr. Dale won with dummy's ace and led the four of spades, finessing the queen when Mr. Abel again played low. When this won he laid down the ace of spades and claimed the rest of the tricks.

Whether to double finesse against the adversely held king and jack depends upon how many cards you have in the suit in question and how the suit is divided between your hand and dummy.

GIRL VETS

from single girls in the civil service. Many other potential applicants live in small towns scattered throughout Canada.

Several inquiries received by the RCAF are from women who think recruiting already has started. However, the girls must wait and see what happens.

Reorganization of the women's services is a hush-hush matter with the defence department. However, there have been casual hints by officials that the recruiting target of 115,000 by 1954 includes women.

Officially, Defence Minister Claxton has told the Commons that the matter of recruiting still is under consideration by the government.

Mrs. Ruth Heenan arrived in the city this morning on the Prince Rupert from Vancouver, on her way back to Topley in the Bulkley Valley.

TRAILING the MELON

—with—
art MURRAY

Heretofore and without intent I had always thought of Pentiction as a place where lots and lots of fruit was raised and I am sure many in Pentiction have thought of this progressive village of ours as a place where we can raise lots and lots of fish.

After visiting the Civic Centre last night I have been forced into thinking that all that is important about either of these two cities is their respective basketball teams.

I didn't go down to Pentiction with our club last year hence I know little about what happened save that I joined with many others in the laments over our loss of the Senior B championship. When this championship was first lifted from Port Alberni most of us conceded that it was going to hang around here for a few moons and when Pentiction interrupted this dream something suddenly brought us to our senses. This just wasn't in the act.

This week-end these fruit peddlers from the scenic Okanagan centre will arrive here in defence of their year old championship and, unless they are packing something classier than an average Senior "B" club, they may go home as saddened as were our lads this time last year.

I have spoken to members of our losing squad of last season and it seems that the Pentiction outfit depends greatly on a boy by the name of Charles (Chuck) Raitt and that all we have to do is make things interesting for Mr. Raitt and we have them. This, it seems, was overlooked last year and the gentleman took advantage of our consideration to practically win the championship by himself.

It should be remembered that we did not send Coach Alex Bill with the boys last year and that from a team standpoint this year's club is at least ten to fifteen points better than the travelling squad that found Pentiction so hard to get along with.

Getting back to Mr. Raitt however. It seems he has this year been the most important cog in his team's successes and just a night or so ago scored 28 points to help his team defeat Vancouver Arctic club in the southern finals. He must be quite a lad all right and we'll just have to see what Joe Davis can do with him. When he runs into Joe I'm afraid he'll have to be that good to get anywhere.

This year's show is to be replete with chief learners, drill team et al and Don MacDonald, Co-op centre, who is not a member of the all-star team, has been given the job of arranging any and all extra curricular activities for the series. We will have pennants, cheering sections and mimeographed yells for everyone so if you want to feel young again grab your telephone before you finish reading this. Tickets are going to be hard to find by the week-end.

Station CKOK Pentiction is sending along Dave Roegle, sports announced for the series, and he will be heard over CFPB Saturday night when the second game of the series will be aired for the benefit of those in outlying districts having no other means of getting in on the show.

Norman Hooper, who formerly operated a local butter and egg dispensary, will be welcomed back as manager of the team.

Another member of the club that some here might remember is Bill Raptis who played in Prince Rupert with UBC Chiefs last year and in one game was credited with 28 points according to record.

Terrace P.T.A. Tea Success

TERRACE—In spite of inclement weather and treacherous roads, Saturday's tea and sale sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Association and held in the Oddfellows' hall, was very well patronized and was a success both financially and socially.

As general convener, Mrs. C. W. Michiel had gathered around her a willing band of helpers and donors with the result that the home-cooked stall was laden with a pleasing variety of cakes, cookies, etc., which brought good prices.

The school children had donated the candy which, in small Easter boxes, made a tempting display.

Fussy willows and colorful Brer Rabbits decorated the hall. The lace covered pourer's table was centred with pussy willows and green candles in crystal holders.

In a few words of greeting, Mrs. D. G. Little, president of the P-T-A, opened the sale.

Those responsible for the tea were Mrs. C. W. Michiel, Mrs. Brandis, Mrs. Reynolds, Mrs. Collier, Mrs. H. Pache, Mrs. Brickley, Mrs. W. Martin, Mrs. Melvin and Mrs. H. Baxter. Serving were the Grade VIII girls—Selma Farquhar, Dorothy Buschman, Diane Kofee, Diana Rolph, Irene Cote and high school girls Margaret Kennedy, Maureen Kennedy, Joan Gillanders.

Stewart Govt. Agency Closed

STEWART—The amalgamation of the Portlad Canal Mining District with the Skeena Mining Division and the consequent closing of Government Agency at Stewart has caused a great deal of concern in the minds of the residents here, particularly among the mining fraternity.

In an endeavour to get some action on the matter the Stewart Board of Trade called a public meeting on Wednesday and, after some discussion, a telegram was dispatched to Minister of Finance Ansonb vigorously protesting the action of the Government and requesting that it be reconsidered.

The Village Commissioners and the Canadian Legion are backing the Board of Trade in their protest. W. R. Tooth is chairman of the Board of Trade and Ernest Love is chairman of the village commissioners and secretary of the Board of Trade.

William Orr is Mining Recorder

STEWART—Succeeding C. G. Tran, who is leaving shortly for Lillooet, W. Shields Orr has been appointed sub-mining recorder for the Skeena Mining Division. Mr. Orr brings many years of experience in the mining affairs of the Portlad Canal, having been associated with the Indian Mine, B. C. Silver Mine, and the United Empire Mine.

FRANCOIS LAKE News from LAKE

Lois Beaver is home for the Easter holidays from Prince George where she is attending school. She walked across on the ice on Saturday morning with her mother where they were met and taken home to Ootsa Lake. Anne Schreiber went home to Ootsa Lake in the mail car and going as far as Norala where Norman Schreiber met them with the mail from Ootsa Lake and she went home with him.

The lake ice is strong enough to carry trucks and cars but is very soggy and most of the cars get stuck part way across.

The snow is melting quickly on the roads which are nearly bare but there are still high banks at the side where the snowploughs pushed it. The countryside is still deep under the snow.

John Keefe Jr. has returned from Calgary where he spent two weeks' holiday. Part of the time was spent indoors as he went down with a severe case of flu but he was able to see several good hockey games. He saw Barbara Ann Scott skating there. He called on Captain and Mrs. McKinnon who have a beautiful home in Calgary. The Captain has been very ill but is recovering, and he was anxious to hear about the people he knows back here. He was Captain of the Francois Lake ferry for many years. Although Calgary suits his health he misses the water since leaving Vancouver.

Jack Loper and Ruffles Kelway came to the Landing on Sunday afternoon to take their new ponies back to Burns Lake. They purchased these ponies from Matt Nobles.

New Swiss Discovery F"99"

for Eczemas, Boils, Psoriasis, Leg Ulcers

THE DISCOVERY of one of the main causes of skin diseases will bring new health and happiness to thousands of people suffering from Eczemas, Boils, Leg Ulcers and Psoriasis. Science has established that the lack of unsaturated fatty acids in nutrition reduces the natural resistance of the body and leads to skin disease. As this precious substance—so essential to skin health—is often completely absent in modern food, the number of skin sufferers in all civilized countries has a tendency to increase every year.

Remarkable Discovery
A Swiss chemist, Dr. W. Schmitz, succeeded after 10 years of research work in extracting from pure vegetable oils an unsaturated fatty acid with a concentration of 99% and therefore named F"99". Thanks to this very high purity which was never attained up to now, F"99" is so readily absorbed into the blood stream, so that it has a decisive biological activity in the treatment of skin diseases. Its remarkable efficiency has astonished even Skin Specialists of international reputation.

Natural way to clear up skin troubles
F"99" is not a synthetic drug but a concentrate of natural nutritive substances. It is absolutely harmless and may be given even to infants without any hesitation. As its name suggests, the F"99" Two-Way Treatment acts internally (capsules or liquid) and externally (ointment). While F"99" Ointment treats the external symptoms, F"99" capsules give the body the power to suppress the cause to combat successfully Eczemas, Boils, Leg Ulcers and even Psoriasis. To many thousands of skin sufferers all over the world, F"99" Two-Way Treatment has already proved its tremendous value.

How to use F"99" Two-Way Treatment
Eczemas..... F"99" Capsules and Ointment
Boils (Furunculosis)..... F"99" Liquid and Ointment
Leg Ulcers..... F"99" Capsules and Ointment

Labor Paper Gives It Up

By J. C. GRAHAM
Canadian Press Correspondent

WELLINGTON, N.Z. (CP)—The only metropolitan newspaper in New Zealand supporting the Labor party, the Wellington Southern Cross, was forced by rising costs to suspend publication this month.

Published by a company sponsored by the Labor party itself, the newspaper had a life of a little over five years. It lost money each year of its existence and several appeals were necessary to the party's branches and trade unions to keep it going.

The chairman of its board of directors, J. Roberts, stated the suspension was necessitated by shortage of staff and lack of replacements, together with an abnormal increase in costs of material and production.

For more than 10 years from 1935, New Zealand had a Labor government without a single metropolitan newspaper giving editorial support to the government. The only daily newspaper in the country supporting the Labor party was the Grey River Argus, in the small town of Greymouth on the west coast of the South Island.

Shortly after the war the Labor party started a campaign for its own daily paper. Funds were subscribed largely by party branches, trade unions and individual supporters. The paper was launched in Wellington, the capital, although not the largest city. Wellington already had a morning and an evening paper. The Southern Cross was launched as a morning paper and efforts were made to give it a national circulation among labor supporters.

However, transport in New Zealand is not sufficiently developed for any daily paper to attain a truly national circulation. The paper built a circulation approaching 40,000, but this was considerably below that of the two other Wellington dailies. Although Wellington returned a large Labor representation to Parliament, a big percentage of Labor supporters continued to patronize the earlier established newspapers.

VD Rising In States

NEW YORK (AP)—In spite of the new quick cures, venereal disease is rising again in the United States.

The reason is war preparations. Another is cuts in federal money for fighting syphilis and gonorrhea. Whether the rapid cures assist by increasing temptation is not clear.

The rise is a recent reversal of the downward trend since the second world war.

Quick cures have taken away the immunity to syphilis which many persons got under the old treatments. The immunity did not come from the medicine, but from the long time a person had the disease, a year or more while taking the cure.

CURED BUT BACK
Today syphilis is treated in eight days with penicillin. If the case is early, it usually is cured. But the patient is not immune to further infections of syphilis. As a result for the first time, clinics are receiving people who come in with reinfections.

Gonorrhea cures are so rapid that it is theoretically possible to acquire a new case every week. The repeaters actually do not wait long.

The American Social Hygiene Association is receiving reports from many state and city health authorities of a rise in both kinds of disease. Part of the rise shows up around military training camps—just as it has in all wars.

The greatest worry is about the reduction in staffs, due to cuts in federal money made by the bureau of the budget, for the sake of economy. The cuts total more than $4,000,000 since 1948, and if present plans carry through will be down another $1,000,000 by 1952.

On the records the United States has today twice as much syphilis as in 1919 and nearly three times more gonorrhea. But the statistics may be misleading because in 1919 many cases were not reported.

March 28, 1941

The fifty-sixth anniversary of the Rocky Mountain Rangers, under Lieut.-Col. J. E. Wood, was celebrated in Prince Rupert. After a parade through city streets, a special movie preview was seen at the Capitol Theatre, through the courtesy of D. G. Borland, the manager.

It was 92 in the sun and 66 in the shade at Ecstall River on the Lower Skeena recently according to Douglas Frizell who returned from there today.

Under Mrs. William Rothwell, the Women's Auxiliary of the Canadian Legion and the sewing club headed by Mesdames H. B. Eastman and W. H. Goodsell sent to Provincial command headquarters clothes for refugees of Britain. Mrs. Malcolm Lamb, Miss Edith Grundy, Mrs. J. Conner, Annette's Ladies' Wear and Mrs. Robert Strachan were names associated with this gift.

Cambridge defeated Oxford by five lengths at Putney, in the annual race.

Twenty lashes and ten years imprisonment was imposed at Vancouver on a bank robber, who helped make off with $42,000 from the Nanaimo Royal Bank. He appealed the sentence.

Jolly hours were spent at the war veterans' smoker under President Jos. Hutchinson of GWVA last night. Dancing by Jack Crocker and F. Fortune and a comic reading by Mayor Newton, were part of the entertainment planned by C. L. Youngman, Thos. McKenzie and Sgt. Jebson.

Compared with 1951's price of $1.40 it cost $2.00 to have a suit cleaned and pressed by the Canadian Steam Laundry on Sixth Avenue today.

Regimental orders issued by S. D. Johnston, major and adjutant, included a lecture by Lieut.-Col. McMordie and miniature range musketry practice. Lt. Alex G. Rix, and Sgt. H. A. Ponder were orderly details for the local North B.C. Regt. Bnt. parade.

Famed Thrill Novel Filmed

Thrilling technicolor version of the famed Rider Haggard novel, "King Solomon's Mines," comes to the screen of the Capitol Theatre for a four-night engagement starting today. It is hailed as one of the major moving picture events of the year.

The story is that of a party of intrepid adventurers who risk their lives in a dangerous trek across uncharted regions of darkest Africa in search of the fabulous mines of King Solomon. The insistence of a beautiful young woman to take part in the expedition complicates the dangers and provides the basis of an odd romance.

The filming actually took place in the depths of Africa and the cast suffered many vicissitudes
