WEATHER

Synopsis

There were cloudy skies in all regions of British Columbia this morning in the wake of the disturbance which moved eastward over the province in the past 24 hours. Light rain is falling on one or two points along the northern coast and scattered showers are reported in the mountainous areas of the interior. Afternoon temperatures will be a little lower than those of yesterday, especially in the southern interior. Some clearing is expected along the coast this afternoon but the improvement will be of short duration. Another Pacific storm moving into the Gulf of Alaska is expected to affect the northern coast.

Forecast

Powered by new compound turbine-reciprocating engines of 3250 horsepower each, the Super Constellations will fly non-stop between Montreal and London in 10½ hours TCA. has ordered five. (TCA PHOTO)

BULLETINS

FOREST CLOSURE LIFTED

VANCOUVER.—The order closing the woods of the lower mainland and Vancouver Island during the recent long spell of drought and forest fires is being lifted, effective at midnight tonight. Thousands of loggers headed back to the woods during the week-end. There are now 34 forest fires in the province but all are under control.

OTTAWA IS CONCERNED

OTTAWA.—The Department of External Affairs announced today that Canada had expressed grave concern to Peiping at (Communist) China's policy toward Canadians and had requested that measures be taken to bring about an improvement in the situation. Seven Canadians are known to be under arrest in China including some missionaries who had been subjected to harsh treatment.

GREEK ELECTIONS

ATHENS.—In the Greek national elections Sunday, Field Marshal Alexander Papagos, leader of the Greek Rally party, is virtually sure of an absolute majority in the Greek Parliament with 60 per cent of the nation's precincts reported. When 1603 of 3910 precincts were reported, the party had 36 per cent of the votes.

STILL LESS FOR BRITONS

LONDON.—British food rations are being cut further, cheese from two to one-and-one-half ounces, butter from four to three ounces, and bacon from four to three ounces. Milk has also gone on unofficial rationing.

STERLING SLIPPING

NEW YORK.—The British pound sterling has slipped to $2.51 as compared with the official rate of $2.80 and $2.70 before the Korean war started.

Controls Demanded

Labor Congress Opens at Halifax—Communists Barred

HALIFAX (CP)—President Percy Bengough of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, addressing the opening session of the annual convention, today renewed labor's demand for price controls. He said the skyrocketing cost of food and household commodities is the "immediate worst" of unwanted babies on our doorstep.

Bengough termed the federal government's credit controls a class of legislation which was restricting only the buying poor.

The convention today confirmed the disbarment of Alex Gordon of Vancouver as a convention delegate. Gordon, head of the British Columbia fishermen's union, is barred on the grounds of Communist leanings.

Also barred from the convention press table was the editor of the Canadian Tribune, Toronto Communist weekly.

King Living Normal Life

LONDON (CP)—Buckingham Palace spokesman said today that King George "is continuing to lead his normal life" despite press speculation that he is seriously ill.

The King made a trip by train from his Scottish castle at Balmoral to London Saturday for an X-ray examination. He then flew back to resume his grouse-hunting holiday.

Pictures of the tired, taut face of the King roused London newspaper speculation that something is seriously wrong.

"Is the King a sick man? If so, the nation should be told," one newspaper said on its front page.

Buckingham Palace pointed out that no bulletins as to the King's condition were being issued as would be done were he seriously ill.

The military Howitzer, a gun firing projectiles at high angles to overcome defences, has been in general use since the 16th century.

Still More Crashes in Alaska Air

FAIRBANKS (CP)—Two men died in the crash of an Air Force helicopter Saturday. They were enroute to the scene of a C47 transport plane crash in which three men perished and one survived Friday night.

The death raised to 94 the number of persons killed or vanished in Alaska since July 21 when a Canadian Pacific Air Lines Korcan air lift plane disappeared in the Gulf of Alaska off Kodiak Island with 38 aboard.

The helicopter was on its way to the C47 crash scene to remove bodies of victims.

Today another helicopter and pilot are reported missing in south central Alaska wilderness on its way to the scene of the wreckage of another helicopter crash last summer.

The civil aeronautics administration said that Pilot Jack Shields had been unreported since Saturday when he left Talkeetna for a point ten miles east of Clarence Lake on the Susitna River.

New Run Started

Government Wharf was a busy place this morning as a new schedule of British Columbia Coast Steamship Service (CPR) went into effect and two ships docked, one shortly after the other.

CPS Princess Norah came in first, at 9, and was followed by Princess Louise an hour later. But there was something different about the trips of both of these vessels.

Princess Norah, for the first time, commenced a stop at Kemano Bay and Kitimat, the future aluminum industry sites of B.C.

And Capt. C. S. Robson says "It's a pleasant port." A good dock has been completed at Kitimat. At Kemano, however, a temporary structure still is in use.

Weather was wet but otherwise calm. Twenty-eight passengers disembarked at Kemano and 60 tons of freight was unloaded. At Kitimat, seven passengers set ashore, including 28 tons of freight. Eight passengers left Kemano for Prince Rupert, and four came here from Kitimat. No freight was loaded.

Princess Louise Capt. R. Hicks, omits the Ocean Falls stop on her "straight through" run from Vancouver to Prince Rupert, then onward to Skagway. This schedule will be in effect until November 10, last sailing for Skagway from Vancouver until spring, company officials announced.

After November, Princess Louise is scheduled to relieve Princess Norah on the Vancouver-Kemano-Prince Rupert trips.

Other officers on the Princess Norah are E. C. Robson, chief officer; Edward Gerrard, second mate; J. D. Calan, third mate; J. D. Partington, purser; G. E. Gibbs, assistant purser; G. E. Day, chief steward; R. Halliday, second steward, and F. D. McKechnie, chief engineer.

Articles on Korea by Jack Carroll in News This Week

Special Correspondent Jack Carroll, following several months in Korea, recently wrote an article for the Toronto Telegram which caused a flurry of letters and wires to be sent to him by public figures and private citizens.

The Daily News will feature a series of seven exclusive articles on Carroll's experiences in Korea, including photographs yet unpublished in Canada.

The first of these well-written and eye-opening stories will appear in the Daily News soon.

Some of the articles already have been forwarded to The Daily News and carry such titles as "If You Meet a Foreigner, Kill Him!" "The Biggest Lie in the World"—"Tokyo Taxis" and "Dear John—"

Written from first-hand observation on the war-front, Carroll shows many angles of warfare in Korea not written about before.

Soviet Pilots And Rockets Are Used

U.S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS IN KOREA (CP)—Rockets of the type used by the Russians in World War II have landed behind the lines on the east-central front, it was officially reported today, and there are indications that Russians are flying jet planes in the Korean war.

Hurricane Collision

Bermuda is saved by unusual Quirk of Nature at sea

HAMILTON, Bermuda (CP)—Bermuda was hit lightly by the fringe of a tropical hurricane Sunday but was spared from damage by a strange diverting encounter by two hurricanes at sea.

The weather bureau said this was the first recorded instance of such a battle of the elements.

A unique duel dissipated the power of both hurricanes and saved Bermuda from a straight blow by a hurricane code-named "Easy."

"Easy" was headed for Bermuda when it tangled with the Hurricane "Fox."

"Easy" was bearing down on Bermuda with 160-mile an hour winds when it encountered the smaller "Fox." The brush turned "Easy" so that only its edges touched Bermuda.

Keeping Up Tight Race

New York Leading American League by Only Scant Percentage Margin

NEW YORK (CP)—New York Yankees increased their slender first-place margin over Cleveland Indians to four percentage points Sunday by knocking off Washington Senators in both ends of an American League doubleheader 7 to 5 and 2 to 0.

The Indians won 4 to 3 from St. Louis.

The Tribe has won two more games but has also lost two more.

The Yankees hold the edge in percentage points because Cleveland has played four more games.

Sunday was a crusher for the third-place Boston Red Sox who fell twice at the hands of the Philadelphia Athletics who won 11 to 4 and 3 to 2 to drop the Sox 5½ games off pace.

Are Killed At Dinner

SAN PAULO, Brazil (CP)—A Brazilian air liner rammed into a home at the edge of the city airport just after taking off Saturday night, killing sixteen persons.

Victims included six passengers four crew members, four persons dining in the house and two unidentified persons were found in the wreckage.

In addition, fifteen persons were hurt, trying to rescue victims.

Auto Crash Kills Nine

DRUMMONDVILLE, Que. (CP)—Nine persons were killed and another was severely injured Saturday night in one of Quebec's worst traffic mishaps.

Seven of the victims, traveling in an automobile that burst into flames after turning upside down, were burned to death.

Penticton Has Fire

PENTICTON (CP)—An inquiry is to be held into a $100,000 fire which Sunday destroyed the Hub Building in this Okanagan Valley city.

The building housed a restaurant, taxi office, confectionery store, bowling alleys and billiard parlor.

Goose-Stepping MLA

FROM press reports we learn that Sydney J. Smith, MLA, Kamloops, and chairman of the Hospital Committee appointed to pacify the protestors of the government's Hospital Insurance Act hurriedly forced through the Legislature last session, has publicly advocated the use of force to prevent the settlement by the government of Doukhobors in the Adams Lake district near Kamloops.

This is an amazing proposal for a member of the Legislature to make, or for anyone else for that matter. One of the powerful arguments used by members of Legislatures, Parliaments and individualistic organizations against the Communist groups is that they allegedly advocate the defiance of government and the law by force and violence which are seditious or treasonable.

If the use of force is the only step a swash-buckling MLA can advocate, then it is the start of militant goose-stepping so recently condemned in the name of democracy at the cost of millions of the dead.

Mr. Smith should remember the old adage that "he who draws the sword shall perish by the sword."

No doubt feeling runs high among the sturdy, prosperous and independent people of Kamloops against the admission of the naked Doukhobors to their beautiful countryside. But we cannot believe they will desire to be associated with a movement to defy the law by force.

The popular MLA who allowed his emotions to supercede his judgment (unless he was actually courting the gallery) should regain his poise and sense of responsibility and avoid further temptation to be marvellously ingenious in displaying all the symptoms of anger against a racial group to gain a temporary popularity with a few shrieking voters. What a pity men forget recent history of a notorious person who screamed his hatred of the Hebrews!

The question of settling the Doukhobors is a matter of government policy and then the law is effective. But members of the Legislature have the opportunity, far greater than ordinary citizens, of making their protests and views made clear and emphatic to the government and Legislature, by the democratic process of parliamentary procedure.

However, if Mr. Smith is on the march he will need a marching song. So we salute him as he passes by with a song and a smile.

"Clear the road to Adams Lake,
Sound the rousing drums,
The Doukhobors are coming,
Naked to the skin.
So clear the road for glory
And Smith's half hundred men
Who'll march to the top of Kamloops hill
(To see those Douks in the nude)
And then march down again."

The PM's Weak Speech

CANADA'S Prime Minister is a great man. But Mr. St. Laurent was certainly at his worst when he made his radio speech telling us that the government did not intend to do anything much about rising prices.

Work harder, save more, produce more, says the PM. These are wise words—but they are little more than empty platitudes unless the government itself does its part to make it possible to carry them out.

If more and more big unions feel compelled to strike for more and more pay, because the cost of living keeps going up faster than wages, how can anybody work harder and produce more?

Moreover—what is the point of saving money in the bank, or buying bonds to put in a box—if the money is saved when the dollar is worth a dollar, but paid back when the dollar is worth fifty or even twenty-five cents.

THE GOVERNMENT itself is guilty of many arrangements which artificially keep prices up. The latest example is the importation of many millions of pounds of butter, but which will be sold for ten cents per pound MORE than its total price, plus regular distribution charges.

It seems like a strange way to help bring down the cost of living; and certainly a curious policy for the government to adopt, when the Prime Minister himself is on the radio telling the people to do everything humanly possible to resist price hold-ups? How can "the people" go about "resisting" price increases when the government itself applies the whole power of the law to jacking up prices even of such necessities as butter?

THE PRIME MINISTER was certainly on weak ground when he quoted from the British government's appeal to the workers to produce more. For surely the PM knows that our people know that Britain has a complete system of price control. There is a dire scarcity of many foods and other goods. But the prices of all the necessities are controlled.

The difference between the British set-up and our set-up is this: In Britain the old age pensioner or the superannuated person can live fairly well, because of the rigid price and rent controls. In Canada, this is next to impossible.

LET US concede, for the sake of argument, the Prime Minister's premise—that overall wage, profit and price controls are not wise.

Here are some of the things the government could do to help bring down the cost of living in Canada:

Take off all import duties on goods which cannot be supplied from within Canada.

Remove the "dumping duties" on the unsold British cars, which are piling up, by hundreds and hundreds, in Vancouver and other ports.

Make it legal to sell milk or any other necessity through stores or any other means that will cut the price to the consumer.

Apply the lessons of the revelations of the Price Spreads Commission, conducted by Hon. Harry Stevens in the early 1930s, which showed the gross waste and toll-gate extortion of many of the distribution systems. The Hon. Lester Pearson could help out in this, as he worked on this commission as the key civil servant.

Make it a crime for any corporation to increase the selling prices of its products by more than the exact cost of wage increases, if and when granted.

Gordon Root, public relations officer for Columbia Cellulose, returned to Vancouver by plane Saturday after spending the week in the city.

RHEUMATIC PAIN Can Be Costly!

"This winter I had to quit work because of rheumatic pain," writes Mr. T. G. Giesche, Wilton, Ont. "I became fearful of being laid up as on a previous occasion with rheumatic pain. My pain became increasingly severe and spread from hip to ankle. Out of bed, the leg felt cold as though in cold water, so I stayed in bed. A friend persuaded me to take T-R-C's and I'm glad I did. In a short while I was relieved of my pain and was soon on the job again."

Don't suffer from Rheumatic or Arthritic pain. Take Templeton's T-R-C's—Canada's LARGEST-SELLING proprietary medicine to bring quick relief from such pain. Only 65c, $1.35 at drugists. T-649

B.C. Chamber Of Commerce

A more effective voice for the Board of Trade and Chamber of Commerce movement is sought by a resolution which was passed at the convention here last week of the Associated Boards of Trade of Central British Columbia.

The resolution proposes that the existing council of Associated Boards of Trade of Central British Columbia should be reconstituted into a voluntary federation of Boards of Trade, Chamber of Commerce and the six Associated Boards of the province. The new organization would be called the British Columbia Chamber of Commerce.

The resolution further proposes that the regional representative in British Columbia of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce should be executive secretary of the provincial chamber.

Larry Ecroyd, regional representative of the Canadian Chamber, told the convention that the provincial council of Associated Boards had its first annual meeting during the past year with representatives of many Boards of Trade and Chamber of Commerce in attendance. This November it was hoped to have a meeting to consider the plan for an organization of extended membership such as proposed by the resolution. There were 35 Boards of Trade and Chamber of Commerce in the province now. For proposal was that the board of directors of the provincial body would be distributed throughout the province on a zonal basis similar to the constitution of the legislative assembly. There would be no control of the provincial group by the national body.

San Francisco (CP)—Andre Gromyko, chief of the Soviet delegation to the Japanese peace treaty deliberations here, had an uncomfortable half hour Friday before the treaty signing. He left the opera house for a while.

Walks Out But Returns

The delegates had prepared six pages of proposed changes and recommendations for inclusion in the treaty but these were rejected. There followed rather warm words between the United States Secretary, Mr. Acheson and Mr. Gromyko, at the end of which the latter, looking and feeling indignant, walked out, remaining absent for about twenty minutes.

He then returned, apparently more composed, to resume his seat.

Reflects and Reminisces

Jack Cobb, who has lived in Prince Rupert since early years, has a hobby of keeping old copies of newspapers. These include local, as well as some printed in great cities such as New York and Chicago. They carry stories such as the earthquake and fire in San Francisco in April 1906; discovery of the North Pole by Commander Robert E. Peary, September, 1909; torpedoing of the Lusitania, May, 1915; end of the First Great War, November, 1918; President Wilson's speech and General Pershing's appointment. These stories appear in Chicago Daily Journal, Chicago Inter Ocean, and others.

Jack also took photos of the visit to Prince Rupert of Clarence Prest, the American flier, from Las Vegas, in New Mexico. He called his plane the Polar Bear, and was here during fair time in 1921.

Working conditions have improved so greatly that nearly everyone gets a vacation he can't afford.—Windsor Star.

PRAIRIE LIFE

There was an attempted bank robbery in Nutana, across the Saskatchewan River from Saskatoon, last Friday afternoon. Having lived in Nutana once, the news story was found of special interest. It was a place of small consequence more than 40 years ago. Certainly, it was no spot in which to stage a bank robbery—chiefly because there was no bank. And there were mighty few people, none with enough cash to tempt bandits. We remember Nutana—the bald prairie, few houses, trees along the river shores, and the bitter, mid-winter gales whistling around the bends.

EVERY LITTLE BIT HELPS

Some folks keep repeating that the amended old age pension bill, for which provision will be made at the special session of Parliament next month, isn't so much. We remember when, from 1930 on, anybody notified of the gift of ten smackers every week for the rest of his life would have been tickled pink.

The fellow who builds a house for himself or himself and family as the case may be, is not postponing the paint. More and more twellings are appearing way out eastward. Most of them look colorful, neat and trim. Many are graced with gardens. A large part of the townsites that only a few years back could be described as dull, unattractive, silent and unpeopled has the stir of traffic and laughter of playing children. Nothing extraordinary about it, yet this is the way expanding towns grow larger.

MAIN SQUEEZE

Burns Lake, someone predicts, is heading straight toward becoming the largest community between Jasper and Terrace. Sounds reasonable enough. Another 10 years, with all of the enormous work now planned and party commenced! What then? Today, time in Skeena is money. Only yesterday, it was nothing of the kind. Everyone had lots of it.

Ten years hence! It's impossible to say, for unlike the past, the entire set-up, looking ahead, cannot but be profoundly different. Compared with the villages of today—for that's what they are—there will be amazing contrasts. And that's as far as we care to go.

Report on Richmond

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Mitchell Honored by Parents of Job's Daughters

Members and friends of local Job's Daughters who were unable to make the recent pilgrimage to Richmond, Virginia, with the victorious local drill team, heard about that memorable expedition Friday night when Miss Luella MacDonald presented a report to the Bethel. She read an interesting day-to-day diary of the trip.

A feature of the evening's proceedings was the presentation to Mr. and Mrs. Alex Mitchell of a handsome nest of tables as a token of appreciation from the parents of the girls for their leadership and good care. A. D. Ritchie, with suitable remarks, made the presentation and both Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell replied.

Miss Diane Kennedy, the honored queen, presided and many parents gathered with the girls for the evening.

Celulose Gets Bright New Bus

One of the items of cargo unloaded today from the decks of the C.P.S. Princess Louise was a bus—a new model, 12-passenger, shiny, orange-colored bus.

But it will not service the general public of Prince Rupert. Ordered by Columbia Celulose Co. Ltd., the vehicle will be used to transport employees, landing here by plane, train or steamship to their place of work, Ray Johnson, woods manager, said.

"It will be used strictly as a private vehicle—but it's more comfortable than a truck and roomier than a car."

Boards Hear Museum Appeal

A call for all possible donations or loans of exhibits from Northern and Central B.C. for the Prince Rupert Museum was made by Geoff Hill, president of Junior Chamber of Commerce, at the annual convention of the Associated Boards here.

Mr. Hill said that he was speaking as a member of the museum board, and because "this is the only museum in the North, we would like to see all collections of native lore in one place."

He thought that in many places throughout Central B.C. collections might exist that were gathering dust.

"These we could use here in our museum with great benefit as this is the only chance for tourists to see them."

Salmon Dishes

With those crisp, fall days just around the corner, here is a wonderfully tasty dish for that hungry family of yours. The salmon-mushroom casserole recipe in our column today is one of the most appetizing we have yet discovered... just the sort of thing you've been looking for, to serve as a quick, nourishing lunch.

Canned salmon, as you well know, can be combined with so many staple foods, giving you a tremendous variety of main dishes, hot or cold. These budget-stretching ideas are a boon to the modern housewife. This recipe provides an excellent, nourishing meal for 8 persons.

Recipe for Salmon-Mushroom Casserole
1 tsp. butter
4 cups (2 lbs.) canned salmon
1/2 tsp. salt
Dash pepper
2 medium onions, sliced in rings
1 can condensed cream of mushroom soup

Melt butter in baking dish. Flake salmon, spread half of it in baking dish, sprinkle with salt and pepper, and scatter half of onion rings over top; add remaining salmon and onion rings. Dilute mushroom soup with half a can of water and pour over all. Bake in moderately hot oven (400°F) 20 minutes. Serves 8. Salmon-mushroom casserole is delicious served with baked potatoes and buttered spinach. Sliced tomatoes with French dressing followed by your favorite pie, make this a most tempting meal.

Special Program At Full Gospel

An unusual church program was conducted here last Monday when the Full Gospel Tabernacle sponsored a Christ Ambassador Youth Rally which brought several car-loads of young people from Terrace and natives from surrounding districts.

Two services were held at Full Gospel Tabernacle, one in the afternoon and one in the evening.

A. Boymook, a young man who is actively engaged in building new churches in the North, spoke in the afternoon, calling for the "necessity of putting on the whole armour of God."

Rev. A. Shindal, Terrace pastor spoke at the evening service on "The Three Deliverances." Both services were in charge of the Young People's Group. Supper in the evening was served to some 80 persons.

New Racket In Fishing Boats

VANCOUVER — What is regarded as a "new racket" is being investigated. It deals chiefly with the fisheries. It is charged that money is being obtained through fictitious fishing craft. Morris Nelson, New Westminster fisherman, pleaded guilty to procuring $475 by false pretences. Prosecutor Gordon Scott declared the accused secured the funds through a mortgage from a real estate firm by presenting a fictitious fishing boat licence. "There have been three men at this," said Scott "but I don't think Nelson is the leader. He told the court that they operate by getting a phony licence and other documentary evidence that they own a fishing vessel when, as a matter of fact, there is no such thing."

Blackwood on Bridge

By Easley Blackwood

Another reason for refusing a finesse is the necessity of setting up a side suit while you still have control of the trump situation.

Mr. Champion and Mr. Abel bid their heads off to reach a game at spades on this hand. But even so it should have been made. Mrs. Keen won the first trick with the king of diamonds. She followed with the jack of diamonds, Mr. Dale played the ace and Mr. Abel ruffed.

Without much thought he led a spade to dummy's king and then a small spade back, finessing the jack. Mrs. Keen won with the queen and laid down another diamond.

Mr. Abel ruffed again. It was only now that he realized what those diamond ruffs were doing to his trump suit. He had one trump left. There was one trump still outstanding. And the ace of hearts hadn't been knocked out yet.

Mr. Abel led a small heart hoping that Mr. Dale held the ace and would have no more diamonds to lead. Dummy's queen held this trick and another heart was played, Mr.

Abel's king losing to Mrs. Keen's ace.

Mercilessly Mrs. Keen pounded out a fourth diamond which Mr. Abel had to trump with his last spade, the ace. He led the jack of hearts and Mrs. Keen ruffed with her now good 10 of spades. Mr. Abel won the rest as dummy's remaining trump took care of the fifth lead of diamonds.

How different the result would have been if, after winning the second trick, Mr. Abel had cashed both his ace and king of spades and then gone to work on the hearts.

On winning the ace of hearts, Mrs. Keen could have cashed her queen of spades and led a diamond. But in this case Mr. Abel would have had a trump left to get in immediately and claim the balance of the tricks. It is a little difficult to see why Mr. Abel should have disdained the spade finesse. Analyzing the hand, we find that he could afford to lose a diamond, a heart and a spade—and still make his contract.

The point is that his second lead (where he finessed the jack) was in a sense a "wasted" lead. It left the enemy with one trump and enabled them to re-capture Mr. Abel's trump holding again by leading diamonds.

The better play was to cash the two spades, hoping the adverse spades were divided 3-2. Thus four of the five outstanding spades would be picked up WITHOUT LOSING THE LEAD. Playing in this manner Mr. Abel would have gained one "tempo"—all he needed to make his game.

BATTER UP

By LARRY STANWOOD

Guess it was too much to expect good weather for all the play-off games after the best summer here for baseball history. But the weatherman fouled up the final game Sunday afternoon with no uncertainty. Rain came in buckets just as Ray Sprague, lead-off batter for Gordon & Anderson, picked up dirt and headed for the box with the willow on his shoulder.

And everybody went home—at least, they left the ball park. The last of the five-game finals will be played on the "first good Sunday," says Commissioner Bill Gordon.

Neither did the old-timer attraction come off yesterday for, with the threatening clouds riding the ridge of Mount Hays, it was decided to give the play-offs first chance. But we noticed Brick Skinner warming up, as well as Bill Lambie, Doug Frizzell, Benny Windle and a few others. The game will still come off this year, "should it please the Almighty," as Commissioner Gordon put it.

All agreed, however, that the weatherman was indeed favorable throughout the season. Only two games were postponed on account of rain, the least in any season, and several extra games were played (with Ketchikan.)

Local Gifts Appreciated

Two letters from Prince Rupert men now serving in Korea have been received by Bill Murray, secretary of Canadian Legion here, with thanks for cartons of cigarettes.

Pte. George Evans, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Evans, writes he may be back on leave in the fall. He is a member of the first contingent to go overseas to Korea last October.

Canadian cigarettes and writing paper, he says in letters to the Canadian Legion and his parents, are in short supply for most of the boys "over here."

Another letter comes from Pte. W. H. Kinley, also of Prince Rupert. Dated July 4, he writes that "peace rumors" fill the air and "everyone is keeping his fingers crossed, hoping for the best."

The weather was hot, Pte. Kinley wrote, and the flies and mosquitoes "are terrible." All had a mild form of dysentery and a few cases of malaria fever, "otherwise spirits are high."

Bella Bella Area Reopens

Salmon purse seining and gillnetting has been opened in the Bella Bella area, Fisheries Department announced today. Formerly closed on account of drought, office says the situation in the streams "has been greatly alleviated" due to recent rains and the fish are now getting through. Butedale cannery in the central area is now closed for the season but Klemu and Namu are still in operation.

AMERICAN STANDARD UP

A sudden flurry in stock prices over the week-end sent American Standard up for a high bid in the streams "has been greatly alleviated" due to recent rains

Hunting Season Starts

Opening of New School

FORT ST. JAMES.—One of the finest school edifices in the central interior country will be opened at this village—the exact geographical centre of the province of British Columbia—on Wednesday of this week.

The new school has all the latest educational equipment and is of the most modern and attractive construction.

Built by the federal government, the school will be operated by the Oblate Fathers of the Roman Catholic Church under a new set-up whereby the natives themselves determine if they wish their schools denominationally operated.

Taking part in the inaugural ceremonies, among others, will be Bishop Anthony Jordan, vicar-apostolic of Prince Rupert; George Murray, MP for Cariboo, and William S. Arnell of Vancouver, Indian commissioner for British Columbia.

Mr. and Mrs. W. McLeod leave tonight on the Princess Norah for Kemano Bay. Mr. McLeod was former Queen Charlotte Airlines agent here.

A. J. MacLean is a passenger tonight on the Princess Norah leaving for Kemano Bay.

Moose and Deer Open

Although the moose hunting season has been open for a week, none of the Prince Rupert hunters have "brought anything back," but it's still early, says Game Warden Cpl. Ed. Martin.

"There were good reports of moose in the Bulkley Valley last winter, and, if that's any sign, there should be plenty this fall." Meanwhile, the deer season opened Saturday and that may be a different story.

In the western section (west of Remo), deer in numbers have been reported, according to the game office, and it's thought that coast deer population is on the upswing.

"It's been a very good summer for upland birds, too," says Cpl. Martin. "The dry weather has given them a good chance to breed in the coastal areas and berries have been plentiful."

Usual damp weather in coastal regions has always been a damaging factor to game bird population, the game warden explains, for it kills the young. Berry-feed, too, is less plentiful when it rains often in the summer.

Injured Logger Is Flown Here

A dramatic emergency flight into Prince Rupert from Kemano Bay was related to the hospital staff by a pilot of Central B.C. Airways following a week-end logging accident.

In Prince Rupert General Hospital is Steve Hawryluk, in "fair" condition, following serious injuries when a truck knocked him over at Kemano Friday evening.

Hawryluk was put on a small seaplane for flight to Prince Rupert. Darkness and rough weather all but baffled the pilot in attempts to fly safely out of the mountainous Gardner Canal area. Final try succeeded, and the light aircraft came low, following the Skeena River.

Another accident was reported at Kemano Saturday night but the same plane turned back when weather was found "too rough." The second man is reported not injured seriously and is coming by boat.

Hawryluk, whose home is in Vancouver is a Northern Construction Co. employee. His brother, Don, is a salesman in a clothing store here.

Nickel helps save lives too

Hundreds of everyday uses for Nickel have been developed by the Nickel industry through a planned program of research. Today a large share of Canada's Nickel production is being diverted from peacetime uses into channels for preparedness. So the Nickel mine facilities, greatly expanded over the past decade, are again being operated at peak capacity. There is actually more Nickel now being delivered by Canada to the free world than in any peacetime year.

CANADIAN NICKEL

"The Romance of Nickel" a 60-page book fully illustrated, will be sent free on request to anyone interested.

Today important parts of sterilizers and instruments in hospitals are being made of nickel alloys because these alloys provide strength, corrosion resistance, long wear, and a surface that is bright, non-porous and sanitary. For the same reasons, kitchen working surfaces are made of nickel alloys.

Laundry equipment in hospitals and commercial hotels is made of nickel alloys because these alloys are rust-proof and extremely durable.

FRANCOIS LAKE

The Landing was very quiet on Labor Day with almost everybody away at the stampee at Vanderhoof. It was a perfect day, very warm and still. There has been no frost yet and the grain is in the stock and in excellent condition. Hay is all through.

The J. Scott family have moved into the old Peterson house at the corner. The George Wilson family of Vancouver will shortly move into the ranch-house where the J. Scott family has been living.

Richard Neave thoroughly enjoyed his first birthday celebration and was host to the other children at the Landing. Their respective mothers and grandmothers were also invited and all had a good time.

With school starting again, there was a good deal of excitement among the school children, especially those starting school for the first time. There are quite a few beginners this year.

Hugh Neave will be driving the school bus from Burns Lake to Francois Lake until someone else can take over.

Orval Gorlay and Peter Neave spent a long week-end in Salmon Arm. They drove in Gorlay's car.

Fred Knowles is staying with the Bob Eaton family in Vanderhoof, having left by train on Saturday morning.
