What Next?" Is Question For United Nations Following Branding of China As An Aggressor

Third Atomic Blast Near Las Vegas Is Spectacular Affair

LAS VEGAS, Nevada — The third atomic test in a week lit up the dawn sky northwest here today. One witness described it as "like a flash gun" which photographers use.

Barrett Rail Station Burns

Fire early yesterday morning completely destroyed the Canadian National Railways station at Barrett in the Bulkley Valley.

The flames were first noticed at 2:35 a.m. by J. D. Denicola, section foreman who was living in the building. A bucket brigade was formed by sectionmen in an effort to put out the fire and help was asked from Walcott. But by the time men from the latter place got there the fire was out of control.

Mr. Denicola managed to save his effects from downstairs but lost everything upstairs.

The fire is believed to have started in the station cupola.

First Message Dated "United Nations, N. Y."

"United Nations, New York" became the official address of the world organization last month after most of U.N.'s international staff had moved from the temporary quarters at Lake Success to the new Headquarters building in Manhattan. Watching Mrs. Christine Rieder punch out the first teletype dispatch under the new dateline are (left to right): Wilder Foote, Director of U.N.'s Press and Publications Bureau; General Assembly President Nasrallah Entezam; Acting Secretary-General David Owen; Assistant Secretary-General Benjamin Cohen; and Thomas J. Hamilton of the New York Times, president of the United Nations Correspondents Association.

Gen. Foulkes No. 1 Brass

OTTAWA — Defence Minister Brook Claxton announced today that Lt. Gen. Charles Foulkes was being named top military official of the entire defence department as permanent chairman of the chief of staffs committee.

Foulkes will be succeeded as chief of the Army's general staff by Lt. Gen. Guy Simonds, at present head of the National Defence College.

Door Still Open For Peaceful Settlement

General Assembly Overwhelming in Vote on United States Resolution Today

LAKE SUCCESS (CP) — The United Nations General Assembly voted overwhelmingly today to brand Communist China as an aggressor in Korea. The vote was 44 to 7. Negative votes on the United States resolution were cast by five Soviet bloc countries and India and Burma.

Combination Rink Favored Interest Taken In Ice Arena Poll

Up to this morning, ice arena poll coupons returned to the office of The Daily News were almost unanimous in favor of a combination curling and skating rink. There is, however, a decided split in opinion as to whether there should be a full-sized hockey surface at a cost of $250,000 or a three-quarter-size sheet at a cost of $75,000.

Nine countries were listed as abstaining but one of them—Saudi Arabia—asked to be recorded as not participating.

The one big question now remains: "What is the next step?"

The door is still open for peaceful settlement with China through the "good offices" committee of the United Nations but, if further peace efforts fail, the United States is prepared to ask for a restrictive blockade and other measures against the Communists.

Indo-Chinese Guerillas Fire On American Ship

SAIGON, Indo-China (CP) — Communist-led Vietminh guerrillas threw mortar fire at a United States Navy vessel in the Saigon River today. Later, suicide Vietminh patrols hurled hand grenades at a group of United States sailors from the ship.

The attack on the sailors was in downtown Saigon.

No Americans were hurt but five French Marines who were with them suffered injuries in the terror raid which was, apparently, staged to protest the arrival of the United States ship here.

The ship is the United States escort carrier Windham Bay which arrived this morning to deliver planes and other war material to the French.

EISENHOWER—U.S. Must Aid Europe

WASHINGTON, D.C. — General Dwight Eisenhower said today that Western Europe has the "spirit to resist" any Russian aggression and declared that the United States must help build necessary defence forces.

Eisenhower addressed an informal joint meeting of Senate and the House.

The general repeatedly emphasized that the proposed building up of forces in Europe is aimed at keeping peace.

"The cost of peace is going to be high," Eisenhower said, "but the cost of total war is the destruction of our civilization" which would wither away if United States found herself in a position of isolation in the Communist world.

War In Korea—Typhus Hits Communists

TOKYO — Allied forces, in hand-to-hand fighting, crunched ahead as much as three miles today in western Korea but a French-American combat team was trapped by superior Chinese forces in another sector of the war front.

There were increasing signs that the eight-day old United Nations limited offensive had slammed into the main Red defence line south of the Han River. There was a report today, however, that the Communists were being seriously affected by an epidemic of typhus which was sapping their resistance.

Plane Brings Injured Man

Suffering from a badly injured hand, Stanley Shaw was flown to the city from Kitimat for medical treatment yesterday afternoon. He came by QCA chartered plane piloted by Normar Jermy.

Shaw had apparently burned his hand on the motor of a charging plant and, on pulling it away, had got it caught in the fan of the plant. One finger and part of another were cut off and the rest of his hand badly cut. He was taken to Prince Rupert General Hospital for medical treatment.

Object To Japanese

Skeena River Natives Fear Inroads in Fisheries

Vigorous protest against the increase in Japanese fishermen in the Skeena River coastal areas was expressed at a meeting of the Native Brotherhood up the Skeena River recently. District Vice-President for Skeena, Harold Sinclair, presided.

Dangers of Indian fishermen being fished out of their jobs by Japanese had been encountered as well as cannery workers and carpenters, etc., being replaced by Japanese. Many men, who in former years at this time along with their families, had been employed at the canneries, were now at home.

Chief Fred Johnson, president of the Kitwanga branch, asked: "Are we going to let them deprive us of the livelihood of our children which we obtain from our own aboriginal fishing" (Continued on Page 4)

May Extend Tax Source

OTTAWA — The provinces may be allowed to impose an indirect sales tax of as much as three percent to help them finance new pensions programs for the aged, it was disclosed yesterday in the House of Commons.

Prime Minister L. S. St. Laurent tabled copies of the draft of constitutional amendments that would allow the federal government to inaugurate a contributory old age pensions program and permit provinces to enter the indirect sales tax field which is now exclusively federal.

The amendments have been sent to the provincial governments for consideration. Unanimous consent must be obtained before the proposed changes can be sought from United Kingdom Parliament.

On Losing 'Denny' Thain

DURING his eight years of tenure as city clerk, "Denny" Thain has become pretty much of an institution at Prince Rupert's City Hall. He assumed the office of city clerk soon after the city was restored to autonomous government following the years of commissionership. An acknowledged expert and authority on civic affairs, successive city councils have leaned heavily upon his knowledge and advice. While he may have had his critics as any one so exposed to the public must have, there will be general acknowledgement that he has done a good job. Loss of "Denny" Thain will, therefore, be a blow at the City Hall and the appointment of a competent and fitting successor will be a problem that will require some careful consideration.

After all the city clerk is the key person in civic affairs, the liaison man and co-ordinator between the public, the council and the departments. All-round good city clerks do not come at "a dime a dozen."

Mr. Thain will be extended appreciation for the able work he has done in Prince Rupert and best wishes in the new appointment which he is taking.

The Halibut Problem

TO A LOT of people all this talk we have been hearing about the halibut "split" season and the whys and wherefores may sound rather complicated. But really it is simple enough and certainly some sort of a satisfactory agreement should be reached to meet the desired end.

The principal aim is to so time the fishing season that certain halibut grounds may be fished that are not being touched now because under the existing arrangement there is one grand rush immediately after the opening of the season and the quota is exhausted and the fishing closed before these fish—established as a separate run—have reached the banks concerned.

Now a conference board at Seattle has come up with the suggestion that the object of lengthening the season might be more efficaciously effected by reverting to the former curtailment plan. Thereby trips would be staggered to lengthen out the season. One advantage of such a curtailment plan over the split season would be that there would be an orderly landing of fish during the summer without a gap between two periods when there would be no fish.

It would appear that a sensible basis has now been arrived at whereby the governments should be able to give the International Commission the authority to at last settle this long-standing problem from a biological standpoint. The matter is now up to the Canadian government, it is stated.

As I See It

By ELMORE PHILPOTT

INTERVIEW WITH LORD STANSGATE

LONDON.—Almost as soon as I got to Britain I learned that the press cable services had failed to adequately report to North America the strength, width and depth of the "no war with China" movement here.

For instance, many people told me of the two remarkable public meetings held in Kingsway Hall. By no stretch of the imagination could these be smeared as "Communist front" affairs. The large hall was filled, on November 27, and hundreds were turned away on January 8, when noted speakers from all non-Communist parties teamed up to demand containment of the Korean war to Korea.

I asked newspaper friends for their ideas as to the best person to see about the who's who and what's what of this movement. Their answer was, "See Lord Stansgate—he was the chairman."

I'm not ordinarily keen on interviewing peers, myself. But when I looked up the record and found that Viscount Stansgate is just a new name for the old-time Liberal—later Labor—MP, I decided to ask for an interview, which was readily granted.

LORD AND LADY Stansgate live at 40 Millbank, which is just a few stone-throw from Parliament. Their London home overlooks the Thames and is an unpretentious yellow brick, two-storey affair—one of a long, solid row of such.

A cheerful maid opened the door and, before I had time to take off my coat, a friendly old gentleman called cheerily down the stairs. Seeing that I am physically a bit of an old creak, he diplomatically suggested that I might prefer not to climb the stairs. But experience has taught me that the English rarely heat more than one room in the house, so I plumped for upstairs.

There was a bright coal fire glowing in the fireplace and His Lordship served coffee while we chatted in the plainly but comfortably furnished room. On the mantel were two Arabic-looking ornaments, featuring camels. There was a fine Chinese screen in one corner.

I studied Lord Stansgate as he excused himself to read a cable from the Sudan. He is shortish, and around 70 years of age, I believe, but looks younger. With his close-cropped hair, baby-pink face, he looks like a rather jolly edition of a clean-shaven Santa Claus—hill you get a good look at his fight-

Jim Mitchell Man of Year

James R. Mitchell, prominent British Columbia school teacher, son of Mrs. John R. Mitchell, Atlin Avenue, Westview, and one time member of the Daily News staff, has been voted West Vancouver's "Man of the Year" in a poll conducted by the West Vancouver Times newspaper.

For many years, Mr. Mitchell has been identified with the West Vancouver High School and 750 pupils there gave him mass support in the poll. There were nine other nominees for the honor.

Mr. Mitchell has taken a leading part in many community activities at West Vancouver and for twenty years has been master of ceremonies of the May Day celebration there.

His eyes are exactly the same shade of light brown that you see if you look closely at a lion's mane. When I saw them I figured he must really have earned that long list of decorations that he won as an airman in World War One.

BEFORE I HAD a chance to ask the old boy anything, he played an old trick, to which they say Lloyd George was partial—that is, to interview the interviewer.

When he found out that I have lived for many years on the Pacific coast, he began to quiz me about the extent of the Russian penetration there—back a couple of hundred years ago. I was able to tell him that the Russians had, in fact, established themselves far south of where Vancouver now stands—had, in fact, held a firm foothold near what is now San Francisco.

But I soon brought the conversation around to the recent meetings and to the now-famous debate in the Oxford Union, where no less than three of the Wedgwood-Benns took part—Lord Stansgate and his son David upholding the resolution that British policy should cease being so subservient to that of the U.S.A. and another son (now a Labor MP) arguing on the other side that Attlee had already done a fair job of re-establishing British independence from U.S. over-domination.

The vote, incidentally, was about 300 to 295—that is, was split almost exactly even as to whether or not Britain was or was not too subservient.

(This is the first of two articles covering Elmore Philpott's interview with Lord Stansgate.)

LETTERBOX

VOTE 'YES' FOR ARENA

Editor, Daily News:
 May I express thanks to you for your help in surveying public opinion in this community about the need of additional recreational facilities for ourselves and our children in the form of an artificial ice arena.

There are a few points which I might help to clarify concerning the proposals submitted to the recent annual meeting of the Civic Centre. One is in regard to the site. We had in mind the acquisition and holding in trust of the land adjoining the new Legion as the logical spot for a future hockey arena which this city will some day undoubtedly demand. It is central in location and has solid rock bottom—a very important point according to engineers who were consulted.

However, it is obvious that one must develop a generation able to use such facilities and equally obvious that now is not the ideal time to construct structures involving large amounts of structural steel even if it is appropriate to think about site and future financing.

For present needs the modest structure recommended needs no heavy steel and would be part of the present Civic Centre Building. With the support of the curlers in town and their financial aid I am convinced that it can be built in time for operation next year, especially if we receive the help from the Civic Centre which I feel we are entitled to receive. If support is not forthcoming I expect that a small independent curling rink will be built and an important source of revenue for the rink lost.

Your ballot is realistic in its approach and I feel you should be congratulated on the inclusion of the question regarding financial support. We can't have this worthwhile addition to our community recreational facilities unless we are prepared to pay for it though the individual per capita responsibility would not tend to be large.

I hope that you will receive a veritable flood of favorable ballots preferably marked "yes" to all questions. Such a project will make our city a better place to live in and keep our young people more inclined to make this community their future home instead of drifting off to far away places. At the present time we have not too much to offer them. One mother recently said to me: "The only sport for boys in this town in winter is basketball and there's nothing for girls." I admit this may be oversteering the case but hockey, curling, figure and pleasure skating with roller skating in the summer would make Prince Rupert a healthier and happier place in which to live.

W. N. Arrowsmith is being held in the local lock-up on a false pretences charge. The charge arose from the issuance of a $10 check to Arthur Murray January 28. The case is due to come up for hearing next week.

No damage was caused by a fire in a rubbish heap in an alleyway next to the Fraser House last night. The fire department answered a call to the scene about 6:45 p.m. yesterday and was able to bring the blaze under control quickly.

Fiery, Itching Toes and Feet

Here is a clean, stainless antiseptic oil that will do more to help you get rid of your trouble than anything you've ever used. Its action is so powerfully penetrating that the itching is quickly stopped; and in a short time you are rid of that bothersome, fiery itching. The same is true of Barber's Itch, Salt Rheum, Eczema—other irritating, unsightly skin troubles. You can obtain Moore's Emerald Oil in the original bottle at any modern drug store. It is safe to use—and failure in any of the ailments noted above is rare indeed. (H)

GYRO CLUB PEPPED UP

Assumes Responsibility
For Ice Sheet Quiz Contest

A couple of pep talks and a quiz program featured yesterday's weekly luncheon of the Prince Rupert Gyro Club which got off to a snappy start under the chairmanship of Don Forward.

Dr. L. M. Greene, Prince Rupert's latest "pepper-upper" lectured the club for becoming infected with the "virus" of the community's lethargic attitude of being awed by prospects and overwhelmed by responsibilities" and talked the club into assuming responsibility for seeing that, on the occasion of the next cold spell, the projected ice sheet at Gyro Park, Sixth Avenue and McBride Street, is finally provided. It was a disgrace to the club that this had not already been done, Dr. Greene said. The job was given to the playground committee of which Orme Stuart is chairman.

William Cruickshank, chairman of the program committee, exhorted members to come to luncheon promptly so that adequate time would be allowed for speakers and such programs as might be arranged. Mr. Cruickshank put on a quiz contest to sharpen the wits of the members on historical and geographical facts as well as current events and the winner was Mark Gormely.

Guests were D. C. Stevenson of Prince Rupert and Dr. Gordon Baker of Vancouver.

NEW WESTMINSTER — Parsala Gulbis paints neckties for a living but she is rapidly becoming known for her portraits and murals.

The slight brunette, in her early 20s, arrived in Canada two years ago from her native Russian-dominated Latvia to find the freedom to give full expression to her artistic ambition.

Gradually she learned to speak English and took up tie-dyeing in a New Westminster factory to earn a living, always keeping in mind her goal of becoming a recognized artist.

Her portraits and compositions, painted in her spare time, have been declared by experts to possess lifelike qualities, with natural beauty and richness of coloring.

She painted a large mural of an English hunting scene and has done a large-scale original composition depicting Christ's journey to Calvary.

She is planning to stage an exhibition of her work this year and is spending every spare minute completing new compositions for the show.

grounds? Are we going to let our children suffer hardship in years to come?" The reason he used the word "aboriginal" was, Mr. Johnson continued, because "native forefathers and ancestors were born along the shores of the Skeena and Naas Rivers as were brothers along the entire coast. Our chief occupation is fishing."

Harold Sinclair reminded the Kitwanga meeting of the vigorous protest against the return of Japanese to the coastal areas in 1950. The Skeena people had made the stand alone. They had said that, because of foreseen dangers, not only Indian fishermen and workers would suffer hardship but that it would affect all other original Canadians. At that time, Mr. Sinclair continued, the Skeena people were criticised for creating a discrimination against the Japanese.

"What about it today?" Mr. Sinclair asked. "Indians have now learned that some Skeena people have already been pushed out of their jobs, as have their families and people from other areas." That was attributable to the return of the Japanese, Mr. Sinclair said. He asked if that was not what was considered "pure discrimination."

CONSERVATION

On the other hand, Mr. Sinclair continued, the Department of Fisheries had spent large sums on salmon conservation. They had even gone so far as to blast the Moricetown Canyon to provide fish ways for salmon to reach the spawning grounds, because they felt the Moricetown Falls one of the biggest causes of depletion. Moricetown Indians protested against building the fishway, because it would result in a great loss and hardship to them by destroying their only dependable fishing grounds, where they had obtained their livelihood since the times of their ancestors, the speaker said.

"And now, with the general increase in fishing licenses—issued to Japanese—on the already overcrowded Skeena coastal area, Mr. Sinclair continued, "We are unable to see where any development or improvements in conservation by the fishery department could be reached.

The final decision of the Kitwanga meeting was that the Skeena River fishermen and workers would ask for further investigation into the problem. It was made clear that the Skeena people did not mean the move as a discriminatory measure, although they felt themselves discriminated against. Full measures of protection were being asked through the Native Brotherhood on behalf of the people and children.

Adoption Is Theme

An appealing story of modern family life is the theme of "Our Very Own" which is the feature offering which comes this Friday and Saturday to the screen of the Capital Theatre here. Ann Blyth, Farley Granger and Joan Evans have the stellar roles.

The striking domestic drama deals with the problem of the adopted child. The heroine, Ann Blyth, is the oldest of three girls in a happy and quiet family. She has no idea that she is adopted until she learns the fact in a startling way. Her dismayed reactions lead to emotional situations, some of which affect her "steady date" as played by Granger. The situation becomes complicated when the middle girl, Joan Evans, flirts with the boy friend.

Acclaimed as an unusually understanding and sympathetic treatment of the adoption subject, the picture has a strong supporting cast headed by Jane Wyatt, Ann Dvorak, Donald Cook, Gus Schilling, Natalie Wood and Phyllis Kirk.

Albert industry plays part in the im-the snowplows in operation in the region were made by the J. R. Leach and Son Ltd. factory here. In three years the Leach factory has sold more than 1000 plows in the province, both V-type and rotary.

The rotaries can be hitched to farm tractors and will slice through snow three to four feet deep. The V-type plows can be attached to the front of trucks and tractors.
Snow plow clubs now are common in the northern section of the province, although a few areas have yet to organize.
Municipalities vary as to methods of organization and financing. In many districts, whist drives, quilting bees and square dances are held throughout the winter to provide funds. Even the proceeds of summer picnics and parties go toward the winter plowing program.

Use New Methods In Reform School

GAINESVILLE, Texas (AP)—They've reformed the reform school for girls here.
Now the Texas State training schools for girls is more like a private school than a reform school. But there will be no mollycoddling.
Help a girl help herself; give her back her self-respect—that's what Mrs. Maxine Burlingham, the superintendent, and her assistants want to do.
"When I came here 18 months ago," said Mrs. Burlingham, "the girls wore blue denim uniforms. Those who were being disciplined had their heads shaved and wore shackles."
It's different now. Being disciplined means room detention. One mild sunny day the campus in the oak grove on a hill outside allow her to see no one," Mrs. Gainesville was as clean as an two days, maybe four days, but army camp on inspection day. that girl sends me a note saying 'Mrs. Burlingham, please come see me.' That's when you can talk to her."

An unco-operative attitude warrants disciplinary treatment. A committee of officials at the school decides when a girl has shown such an attitude. Room deteneion may run from a week to 3 month.
NORMAL CLOTHES
The 180 girls at the school live in three brick, two-storey cottages, with a nousemother and he assistant in charge of each cottage.
They don't march; they stroll normally. They wear clothes which their families have sent them. If they have no family, the school finds clothes any ordinary girl would wear. They wear lipstick and other makeup if their family sends it to them.
One mild sunny day the campus in the oak grove on a hill outside allow her to see no one," Mrs. Gainesville was as clean as an

The basketball team in their new bright blue uniforms were practicing in the gym. No supervision. The girls know if they don't behave they can't play on the team.
Classes were on in the school building. Formal instruction is given from the third grade through high school. The school also offers classes in business, in cosmetology, in vocational nursing, in cooking and sewing, in metal and leather arts and crafts, in floristry.
In the auditorium, the 21-member Glee Club was practicing. They sing on the radio station in Gainesville and are in such demand for civic groups there that the school has to limit their appearances.
The girls came together for lunch in the school cafeteria. They are allowed to talk just like any other bunch of girls, but "the girls shush themselves," Mrs. Burlingham explained. "If too noisy, they can't have their after-lunch cigarette."

B.C. Largest Hop Producer

VANCOUVER — British Columbia's Fraser Valley now produces enough hops to supply 55 percent of Canada's brewery needs. Clinton L. Jennings of New York, vice-president of Canadian Hop Growers Limited, said during a visit here.
He said that B.C. produces about 9,000 bales of hops yearly. Ontario produces several hundred bales a year. Remainder is imported from the United States.
The company operates a 447-acre field at Sumas, 60 miles southeast of Vancouver, said to be the third largest individual hop farm in the world. This farm has grown 3,000 bales in one year.

Picking has been partly mechanized. A machine, something like a cotton gin and operated by 18 men, is used. Mr. Jennings says this does the work of about 1,200 pickers.

Blackwood on Bridge

By Easley Blackwood

Have you ever been in this awkward situation at the bridge table? You hold a hand which, it appears to you, should be played at a no trump contract.

During the course of the auction you bid four no trump asking your partner how many aces he has. The answer is disappointing and indicates that two aces are held by the opponents. Now you want to play the hand at five no trump but if you make that bid it will be conventional and partner will show his kings at the six range.

What to do? Well, there is a simple device by means of which you can arrive at the desired spot with a bit of help from partner. Over his reply to the four no trump bid, you make a bid of five in an unbid suit. Partner then bids five no trump and that is where the hand is played.

Both sides vulnerable. North dealer. (Mr. Masters) S-82 H-9 D-K 9 3 C-A 9 7 5 4 3

Aluminum BC Negotiations

Progress towards a power and aluminum development in British Columbia was advanced over the New Year's week-end with the signing of an agreement between the Provincial Government and Alcan, says an official statement in the Aluminum Company of Canada magazine Alcan Ingot.

Since 1948, Alcan has been conducting engineering studies to determine whether potential hydro electric sites in the unsettled areas of northern British Columbia would permit the economic expansion of the Canadian Aluminum industry by a new installation on the Pacific Coast.

Surveys, estimated to cost approximately $1,000,000, are progressing in the coastal area of British Columbia.

FORMAL AGREEMENT

Meanwhile, negotiations which have been under way between the Government and Alcan have led to a formal agreement.

An official company release said, "During the New Year week-

Decision Reserved In Assault Case

Judgment in the case of Clifford Dahl, charged with assaulting Eric Jackson, was reserved by Magistrate W. D. Vance this morning. Jackson charged that Dahl had attacked him while making a complaint in his office. Dahl told the court he had asked the man to leave the office several times and had finally used force to eject him. The altercation early Sunday morning, according to evidence, arose from Dahl's refusal to send a car to help Jackson get his car started.

T. Kenney, Minister of Lands and Forests. The next step by the British Columbia Government will be to place the agreement before the legislature at the approaching session."

New Fish Pact Winter's Second Up To Canada Cold Snap Over

Agreement on a new international halibut fisheries treaty now depends on the Canadian Government, according to George Anderson, Deep Sea Fishermen's Union delegate, who returned yesterday from the International Halibut Fishermen's Commission conference board session in Seattle.

Mr. Anderson said the United States government draft for a new treaty would give authority to the International Halibut Fisheries Commission to stagger fishing vessel sailings on the basis of a plan to be submitted by the Boat Owners' Association and the unions. The plan would allow a limited number of boats to leave port at one time in order to insure a constant and orderly flow of fish to the market, Mr. Anderson said. It would also extend the season a long while rather than have all the fish caught in a very few weeks.

Canada's suggested changes in the commission the right clause to open and close the season in Prnce Rupert's short-lived second cold snap of the season, which brought welcome snow to the skiing grounds and ice to the skating ponds, has faded off with the end of January and south-east winds have brought new gales to offshore waters and the threat of snow and rain to Prince Rupert. Light snow was falling this morning after the mildest night in over a week.

Following the winter's low temperature mark of 15.5 above Saturday morning, the thermometer has been gradually going up and last night it was barely freezing.

The American-Canadian conference boards, in joint session at Seattle, stated they did not want any change in the treaty unless Canada is willing to give the staggered sailing to

NEW 1951 Chevrolet

OFFERS ALL THE THINGS YOU WANT INCLUDING POWERGLIDE AUTOMATIC TRANSMISSION

FEATURES OF THE NEWEST OF ALL NEW CARS FOR 1951

- NEW! Longer, Lower, Wider Big-Car Look
Brilliant new styling... featuring entirely new grille, parking lights, fender moldings and rear-end design... imparting that longer, lower, wider big-car look which sets Chevrolet above and apart from all other motor cars in its field.
- NEW! Safety-Sight Instrument Panel
Safer, more convenient, more efficient... having an overhanging upper crown to eliminate reflections in windshield from instrument lights, and lower edge of panel recessed to provide a safe, convenient location for control knobs... with plain, easy-to-read instruments in two large clusters directly in front of driver.
- NEW! Even Lovelier Bodies by Fisher
With new and even more strikingly beautiful lines, contours and colors... with extra sturdy Fisher Insteel construction... Curved Windshield and Panoramic Visibility... the smartest, safest, most comfortable edition of Chevrolet's Famous Bodies by Fisher.
- NEW! More Powerful Jumbo-Drum Brakes
(with Dual-Life rivetless brake linings)
Largest brakes in Chevrolet history! Extra-safe, extra-smooth, extra-durable... with both brake shoes on each wheel self-energizing for forward and reverse operation of car... providing maximum stopping-power with up to 25% less driver effort.
- NEW! Improved Centre-Point Steering
(and Centre-Point Design)
Making steering even easier, at low speeds and while parking... just as Chevrolet's famous Unitized Knee-Action Gliding Ride is comfortable beyond comparison in its price range... additional reasons why more people buy Chevrolets than any other car.
- NEW! Modern-Mode Interiors
With upholstery and appointments of outstanding quality, in beautiful two-tone color harmonies... with an even more attractive steering wheel embodying a new full-circle horn ring (in DeLuxe models)... and with extra generous head, leg and elbow room for driver and all passengers.

MORE CANADIANS BUY CHEVROLETS THAN ANY OTHER CAR!
