CEASE FIRE NEGOTIATIONS ARE AT STANDSTILL

Whirlwind's Fire

Blaze Raging on Terrace—Worst Ever Known

Young whirlwind" yesterday fanned up a large fire which has been burning some days on Thornhill main, between Terrace and Lake, ninety-six miles from Prince Rupert. Today fire fighters had been engaged in the fight to hold the banks and bottom of the gorge and keep it head-on to the side of the rocky gorge outside without involving valuable timber stands.

The whirlwind hit the terrace fire without warning and flames over the fighting forest.

Forester Marc Gormley said this afternoon that fire started in circumstances, after days of dry warm weather, the worst ever recorded in the history of Prince Rupert for this district. From the Cascade mountains westward, including the islands, there is a general industrial closure of the area from 1 to 7 p.m. daily.

On Moresby Island, fire has been burning for some time. It is still smoldering in "It is not too bad but it is bad," said Gormley.

All fires have also broken near Southbank on the shore of Francois Lake, "spot" fire and another about ten acres.

Murdered By Youths

VANCOUVER —A coroner's jury decided Thursday that Albert John Backas, 52-year-old unemployed logger, died of injuries received "at the hands of a person or persons unknown" in an attack along Vancouver's skidroad.

Constable Robert Gibson testified that he saw Backas on the afternoon of July 5, lying on blood-soaked clothing at a rooming house.

Gibson said that Backas told him three youths had attacked him the previous night in front of the house.

"Backas said the youths asked for a cigarette," the officer said. "When he said he didn't have any, they jumped on him, knocked him down, then put the boots to him."

Marciano Heads Up

New Heavyweight Contender Bests Pink-Skinned Utahian, Rex Layne

NEW YORK (CP)—Rocky Marciano, slugging son of a Brockton, Mass., shoemaker, knocked out the highly-touted Rex Layne of Lewiston, Utah, in 35 seconds of the sixth round Thursday night for his 36th straight sensational professional win.

Layne weighed 193 pounds and Marciano, 185½.

A long right-hander to the chin with delayed action-effect chopped down the pink-skinned farm kid from Utah. He hesitated for about two seconds and then crumbled to the floor like an elephant collapsing from a rifle shot.

Heading toward the top heavyweight contenders, the 26-year-old Marciano drew a tremendous cheer from a big throng at Madison Square Garden with a truly terrific knockout win.

Diplomats Suspended

WASHINGTON, D.C. —The Department of State announced last night that it has suspended two high officials pending hearings on security charges.

The officials, both career diplomats, are:

John Paton Davies, jr., 43, member of State Secretary Dean Acheson's top-level policy planning staff and veteran of many years' service in China, whose hearing is set for July 23 before the department's loyalty security board.

Oliver Edmund Clubb, 50, director of the office of Chinese affairs, also a veteran of many years' service in China. His hearing is set for July 31.

The Department said in a statement that suspension action was mandatory under law and "does not indicate that a person is guilty of misconduct or is a security risk."

HUGE BONANZA

Australia is one of the greatest gold producers of the world.

Coast Liners in Near Collision

A head-on collision between two heavily loaded passenger liners was narrowly averted early this morning in a dense fog in Grenville Channel.

CPR steamer Princess Kathleen, northbound, and CNR steamer Prince Rupert, which left here southbound at midnight, churned the water with propellers going full astern as each hove mistily into sight, only several hundred feet apart.

Princess Kathleen's Capt. G. O. Hughes said he had been "scared alright."

"The fog was quite thick but we knew the Prince Rupert was ahead of us from our radar," "When we stopped—not very far apart—the Prince Rupert said her radar was not working. She hadn't seen us at all.

"It was a little too close for comfort."

The CPR cruise ship carried 300 passengers; the Prince Rupert also had a full load, more than 200 passengers.

Coming With Royal Party

LONDON —Princess Elizabeth will take Lt.-Gen. Sir Frederick Browning, her principal adviser, with her on her visit in October with the Duke of Edinburgh to Canada.

Sir Frederick is controller of Clarendon House, the residence of the royal couple.

Other members of the royal suite will be Major Martin Charteris, private secretary; Lt. Michael Parker, equerry-in-waiting, and Mrs. Andrew Elphinstone, lady-in-waiting.

Crash Kills Ten Trainees

LYNEHAM, England — A twin-engine Royal Air Force transport plane crashed today, killing all ten persons aboard.

The crash came soon after the take-off. The plane burst into flames and was completely destroyed.

The victims were all Air Force trainees.

United Nations and Reds Still Disagree on Issue of Newsmen at Talks

TOKYO (CP)—The situation in regard to the deadlocked cease-fire conference at Kaeson in Korea remains unchanged today. General Matthew Ridgway's headquarters said tonight that the Communist reply to the question of permitting Allied newspapermen in the Korean conference city had been received but there were no offers of settlement of the issue.

The Communist reply said that the United Nations group had refused without reason to attend the Kaeson meeting. It said that newspapermen from neither side should be allowed to enter the area until agreement had been reached on that point.

One United Nations spokesman felt that the issue was deeper than that of the admission of the newspapermen. The Communist, he felt, were trying to run the negotiations as if they were the victors and the United Nations the vanquished.

Great Britain has officially agreed with the stand taken by Gen. Ridgway that the newspapermen should be permitted to enter with the United Nations delegation.

Floods Are Paralyzing

Kansas City and Topeka Hard Hit by High Water

TOPEKA, Kansas —Spreading floods inflicted paralyzing blows today on two major Kansas cities and dealt additional misery to the eastern half of the state.

Kansas City and Topeka were the newest areas to feel full force of the wild Kansas River. Scores of communities are inundated.

At least eleven have died in Missouri and Kansas floods.

Today the Kansas River poured over its levels into heavily industrialized Armoria district of Kansas City, Kansas. Most of the 15,000 residents have been evacuated but some were forced to flee at the last minute.

Fire added to the fury, the flood hampering fire departments in their work.

At Lawrence, Kansas, concern was expressed for the plight of a score of refugees marooned in school buildings.

Race Riots At Chicago

CICERO, Illinois —Bayonet-swinging National Guardsmen and police battled a mob of hundreds of rioters two hours after two hours of disorders in Cicero streets early today.

Eleven persons were injured in rioting which stemmed from a racial housing dispute. Fifty were arrested.

The disorders are a climax to three days of violent trouble at an apartment building, started when a negro family tried to move in.

No negroes live in Cicero, which is a suburb of Chicago.

Guatemala Has Riots

GUATEMALA —Three persons were killed and thirty wounded when government troops fired on anti-Communist demonstrators, climaxing two days of anti-Red disorders.

The shooting began when soldiers tried to scatter anti-Red marchers after an automobile had been overturned and burned in a central park.

Gas Prices Are Upped

New gasoline prices for motor vehicles are in effect today in most parts of the province and it's a hike of a little more than two cents a gallon in Prince Rupert.

Standard grade gasoline sells at 40.2 cents, compared to the old price of 38.5. Premium grades are 42.7 cents a gallon, compared to the previous 40.5 cents.

Vancouver prices are 37.8 cents and 40.2 cents after the price rise.

Mrs. Jack Mulrone returned last evening by plane from a month's holiday visiting relatives and friends in Vancouver and on Vancouver Island.

ROYAL COUPLE—Announcement that Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh will visit Canada this fall has created interest throughout the Dominion. This United Kingdom Information Office photo of the royal couple was taken as they watched the illumination of the Thames River during recent jubilee celebrations of the London County Council. ## Thrilling Hawaiian Trip Ends For Local Hi Girl

Still breathless and thrilled with their nine-day expense-free holiday on sunny Waikiki Beach in Honolulu, are Miss Edith Johnston and her mother, Mrs. Trevor Johnston, who returned to Prince Rupert yesterday.

Miss Johnston won the trip when she was selected to represent the girls of British Columbia in a country-wide contest sponsored by Canadian Pacific Air Lines. She topped a jointly conducted examination by CPA and the department of education here early in June.

"It was wonderful," sighed the 18-year-old Booth Memorial High School student today. "I want to go back again—that's sure."

First impression, by both the mother and daughter, as their luxury air liner circled to land at Honolulu, was "the natural beauty of everything."

"The water looked like a bed of opals," Mrs. Johnston said.

"The flowers were the most beautiful I've ever seen. They were everywhere—oh, and such colors," breathed Miss Johnston. And Waikiki Beach was "just grand."

"Went swimming every day. Every once in a while it would rain a little, then clear up again, and it would be hot."

HOTTER IN VANCOUVER

"Temperature was only in the 70's, but it felt much hotter than when we landed in Vancouver yesterday where it was over 90."

The holidaymakers were impressed with the friendliness of the people.

"Everyone thought we were grand people and treated us like that, too. The natives, especially, were very kind. One woman gave me a dozen small orchids when she knew we were leaving," Miss Johnston said.

The pair stayed at the Moana Hotel, on Waikiki Beach, but they were not exactly strangers in that south sea island. A sister-in-law of Mrs. Johnston, Mrs. Fred Adcock, has lived there several years and, with the Adcocks to show them around, they saw "a great many things we might have missed otherwise."

The Johnstons toured the island completely once, and made several tours of Honolulu, visiting the tombs of Hawaiian kings and queens, flower gardens, pineapple and banana groves, and watched the harvesting of sugar cane.

"I don't think I'll ever eat another pineapple," laughed Mrs. Johnston. "We ate them there fresh from the fields"

Reynolds In No-Hit Ball Game

Stole Spotlight While Reds Oust White Sox

NEW YORK —Allie Reynolds stole the spotlight in the American League pennant race Thursday as he pitched the New York Yankees to a 1 to 0 no-hit, no-run victory over the no-hit king Bobby Feller, and the Cleveland Indians.

Reynolds' feat overshadowed the movement of the torrid Boston Red Sox into first place in the standing. The Red Sox wrested the lead from Chicago. They beat the White Sox 3 to 2 and 5 to 4 in seven innings in a two-night double-header before 52,592 fans at Chicago.

The game felt two innings short of matching the Major League record for the longest night game. That mark was set by the Phils and Reds last year when the former won a 19-inning 8 to 7 decision September 15 in Philadelphia.

As I See It

Some Answers

ONE READER wants to know why the Allied authorities do not crack down on the new Nazis, who are coming up again in Germany.

I talked at some length about this with some very high-up British officers in Germany. They made it clear that Western policy is a joint affair—and, of course, everybody knows that the Americans have most of the say.

But the Allies are on the horns of a real dilemma:

If they crack down on the Nazis, make their party illegal and put their leaders back in jail, that might give the Nazis the very thing they want—that is, the sympathy of the German masses.

The most damning thing that Germans now say about the German government is that they are composed of "collaborators." Hence, to be known as a non-collaborator may be a great asset when the time comes for the occupying armies to get out of Germany.

REMER, THE GENERAL who is trying to become the second Hitler, is, in fact, in jail at this moment. The German government sent him there on a three-month term. This is like a tap on the wrist, and the Nazis must be roaring with laughter.

ANOTHER READER wants to know the population of India. The 1951 census figures (which are tentative) give it as 356,891,624.

Males ..... 183,384,807
Females ..... 173,506,817

The above figures do not include Pakistan, of course.

How big are the British armed forces, somebody else wants to know. A U.K. government news release dated May 23 gives the total for the three armed services as 809,000—which is an increase of 14 per cent in six months.

WHO EXACTLY is helping India to ward off her famine? Here are the official figures given out by the government of India (through Shri Munshi) on June 13:

Table with 2 columns: Country, Amount. U.S.A. 3,700,000 tons, China 517,000 tons, Argentina 513,000 tons, Burma 343,000 tons, Canada 296,000 tons, Australia 240,000 tons, Pakistan 218,000 tons.

Of the above totals, the Americans supplied two million tons under the special long-term loan. China offered one million tons—of which India bought about half the amount offered.

WHAT ARE food conditions in Britain now? They are very much better than they were two years ago. In fact, so far as we could find out, the British are short of only two items. They are fresh beef and fresh pork.

My wife and I had hams sent over at considerable expense, so that we would not be too big a burden on friends with whom we stayed briefly.

We found that we could have bought just as good hams at just about the same final cost right in British shops and without ration cards.

BRITAIN IS surely going to have a big laugh on Canada and the U.S.A. if we have to cut back our wage, price and profit controls to halt runaway inflation. For the British never did take off their key controls, and hence have everything held at a fairly low and stable level.

Whereas in Canada the present lack of controls hits hardest the small pensioners, retired people and all on fixed incomes, in Britain such people get by best of all.

Egg ration in Britain was five per person per week when we left.

Journey Home Boosts Morale Of War Brides

By KAY REX Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO —It's important that war brides get home once in a while. That's why the Canadian War Brides' Association was formed, says Mrs. L. A. Preston of Toronto, a member of the association executive. "Once they see home again, they are more satisfied to return to life in Canada."

Every time a British girl who married a Canadian in the Second World War heads home for a visit, she brings the CWBA a step nearer to its objective: Special rates for groups of war brides going home to see their relatives.

"We could guarantee to fill the planes and steamships," says Mrs. Preston.

Many of the women were young girls when they came here as brides. They didn't fully realize how far they were going from their own people.

The association is a branch of the Federation of Trans-Atlantic Brides' and Parents' Associations, formed three years ago in Britain. In Canada there are between 5,000 and 6,000 active members of a potential 50,000.

DOMINION-WIDE GROUPS

The groups are scattered across the country. In each, members co-operate on such money-raising projects as bazaars, dinners, dances. Profits are divided among the women, to go toward the funds needed for that return visit to the homeland.

"We're not a philanthropic organization," explained Mrs. Preston.

However, where necessary, the groups have helped individual members.

The CWBA group in Toronto area recently contributed toward the return fare of one of its members doomed to die of cancer. The British-born wife of a Canadian soldier lived at nearby Ajax. She wanted to go home to die.

Funds were raised to send her, her husband and three children to Britain. The young English

SIGNS OF RECOVERY A Canadian National—executive hints there is a likelihood of the grain elevator at Prince Rupert being restored to life, possibly this season. It's time. Other things, after a period of convalescence, have recovered—except, of course, the drydock.

There are still a few public speakers in the land who, from time to time tell their audiences that "the boys and girls of today will be the men and women of tomorrow." Strange, isn't it, we never thought of that before.

FLORAL NORTH Tourists find the museum on Second Avenue a centre of interest and next door to it is another source of attraction that delights all, and surprises some. This is the garden and spacious, well kept lawn at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Forbes. There are still numerous visitors who have heard so much about the muskeg, rain, gales and general roughness up north that once they arrive here it is with astonishment, as well as pleasure they discover how badly they have been mistaken.

It would have meant blowing up a mountain, something never attempted before. Just now much has Moscow cancelled (speaking of bombs and bombing) for fear of hurting the feelings of the United States?

Another CNR Booster

JOHN PULLEN, vice-president in charge of traffic, Canadian National Railways, has been caught with the enthusiasm and optimism which is so prevalent in regard to the now flourishing Jasper to Prince Rupert line of the Canadian National Railways and the terminal port of Prince Rupert with its new industrial development.

Mr. Pullen put himself abundantly on record in an interview with the Daily News during his visit here this week. Greatly impressed like all visitors to the area are, especially when they top off a tour through the booming central interior with a call at bulging Prince Rupert, he spoke of transPacific trade, resumption of grain shipping and a daily passenger train service as being early prospects.

Coming from Canadian National officials, some of whom we suspect have not been so very sympathetic with us in the past, this sort of enthusiasm is really something to be noted. It is in line, of course, with other admissions of our growing and potential importance such as have been voiced by M. W. Maxwell, chief of development of the railway, who has been making striking statements about the importance of this part of the country and who has a standing invitation to come out here and see us in Prince Rupert as soon as he can.

Now, if we can get some of the other officials concerned to be equally enthusiastic and helpful, we will be very happy.

We would also like to have the minister of transport and a few of the other government brass come and take a look-see and get a little northwestern stimulation. They might then help our friends in the railway do something about implementing our needs and dues in view of the new era that has come over this part of the country.

And, while we are on the subject, one of our good readers has asked us why we didn't ask Mr. Pullen about the prospects of getting the company's shipbuilding plant into action again. Mr. Pullen, of course, is only indirectly concerned with that but it is a good suggestion and we shall have to ask the next big official who comes about it.

More Work Needed

JULIAN H. FERGUSON, manufacturer of Colingwood, Ontario, and federal member for Simcoe North, aroused a somnolent House recently by a two-fisted attack on attitudes that, he contended, were turning Canadians into a nation of leaners. He argued that neither building materials nor houses were to be had for the asking, that material shortages that were making the costs of home construction prohibitive did not spring from any scarcity of raw materials but from our unwillingness to work hard enough or long enough to produce them. We were raising prices on ourselves because we were reluctant to work.

"I believe in short hours," he said, "if there is not enough work to go around. If we can produce what we need in four hours a day, let us work just that long. But the fact is there are ten hours' work cut out for every man willing to do it for his regular pay, if we are to produce the goods we need. If we would knuckle down to this and forget the other nonsense, we'd get somewhere."

It looks as if Mr. Ferguson has something when he urges that all we have to do to bring benefit to everyone—abundant goods, lower prices, higher wages and shorter hours—is to get to work and produce. Work never killed anyone yet. It is boredom that does the damage. And boredom results when the accent is on doing too little rather than doing too much.

Belmont Hotel Changes Hands

Jack Hoskins, after operating the Belmont Hotel here for the past ten years, has sold out to A. Fox, representing a Vancouver syndicate, who has already taken over. Henry Montesano is acting as manager. It is being renamed Belrupert Hotel.

The new proprietorship is making plans to expand the property, now measuring 50 by 60 feet, to the full 50 by 100 feet size of the lots by extending with rooms at the back.

President of Prince Rupert for 42 years, Mr. Hoskins, before acquiring the Belmont property, then known as the Meecker Block, operated the York Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoskins are leaving next week for a holiday trip of three or four months to Honolulu and elsewhere after which they will return to Prince Rupert.

Selections were presented by Robert Field on the accordion, accompanied by Mrs. Field at the piano, and there was a solo by J. A. Teng, accompanied by Mrs. J. R. Carr at the piano.

Humorous skits, "Doc Smythe's Office" and "It Happens Every Day," were presented by Mrs. E. Heise, Mrs. M. Morrison, Mrs. B. Lein and Mrs. H. Hamilton.

Mrs. F. Ellison was master of ceremonies.

After refreshments, dancing to music by Mr. and Mrs. B. Tiela ended the event.

Mrs. H. Paulsen, assisted by Mrs. J. Blackburn, Mrs. Morrison, Mrs. E. Aural and Mrs. W. Thomson, formed the committee in charge of the affair.

Smart Woman Coming Over

By Margaret Ecker Francis

Written for the Canadian Press SYDNEY, Australia.—Nancy Wake, doughty Australian woman politician, would like to visit Canada to see friends she made in France during the Second World War.

Running as a Liberal in the recent Australian federal election, she was defeated in a Sydney constituency by fewer than 300 votes after waging a hard fight against Dr. H. V. Evatt, the popular Labor leader.

"My dear, dear friends," she calls several dozen men of the Canadian Army and RCAF whose lives she saved during the war.

New Zealand-born, Mrs. Wake was raised in Australia and went to Europe as a free lance journalist just before the war. She married a Frenchman, Henri Fiocca, and with him plunged into underground work when France fell. Fiocca was shot by the Nazis when captured, but his wife escaped and made her way to England for training in further underground work.

After she returned to France by parachute to organize the Trans-France escape route for captured Allied servicemen. More than 1,000 airmen, alone were brought to safety by Mrs. Wake.

"A large number, I don't know how many, were Canadians, and they were among my favorite people," said the casual, tomboyish woman with a humorous twinkle in her grey eyes.

"Their letters urge me to go to Canada and visit them, and I'm going to soon. I can never thank them for the great contribution they made to freeing my adopted country."

She had trained in underground work in England with Canadians, "some of the bravest, most resourceful operators we had."

DIEPPE BIG THRILL
One of her most thrilling experiences resulted from the arrival of men who escaped the Germans at Dieppe at her underground depot.

"They reached my depot in the south of France even before we knew the attack on Dieppe had taken place. You have no idea how it boosted our morale in those days to know that at last the liberation was beginning."

Mrs. Wake has another reason for the visit she will soon make to Canada.

"I want to talk to women in politics there," she said. "From meeting people like Mrs. Tillie Roiston of Vancouver, member of the British Columbia legislature, I realize that politically women have advanced further there than in Australia."

"Women here just don't realize that nothing will be done about the things they complain about unless they have government representation. They are lethargic. They feel men are far superior to them, so they sit back and let the men run everything. I want them to realize that they too could play a part."

Mrs. Wake is a strong defender of democracy, with all its implications.

"From my life in France, I can realize what a threat there is to the free world today. If more women realized this, they would be willing to try to do all in their power to defend our system. From what I hear, women in Canada realize this more than do Australian women."

Local Woman is Hurt on Train

Mrs. H. M. Daggett of this city, who left recently for a visit to her native province of New Brunswick, has reached her destination in the Maritimes although she sustained a painful injury to her back while travelling east by train. She was met at Winnipeg by a Canadian National Railway's physician who wished to put her in hospital. However, she continued her journey, remaining in bed, and at Montreal was x-rayed with the finding that she had wrenched her back, being treated accordingly. She reached her destination last Thursday and on Monday of this week was still in bed.

DIESEL FOR ORPHANS. Tony Farr, 7, and Frankie Logan, 6, bubble over with excitement as they are given a scale model of a double-unit diesel locomotive to share with the other children in St. Francis' Home for Orphan Boys, Detroit, by Donald Gordon, C.M.G., chairman and president of the Canadian National Railways. The head of the largest railway system in America, who still remembers his childhood difficulties as a Scottish immigrant boy in Canada, took time out from his many official duties to invite the boys to visit him in his private car to receive the gift for the orphanage.

Croydon Host To Canadians Dies

CROYDON, Surrey, England (AP)—Ben Revell, known to thousands of Canadian ex-servicemen as host of the George IV hotel here, has died in hospital aged 70.

During the Second World War Revell's hotel became the social headquarters of Canadian troops stationed at Croydon, Caterham and Warrington. After the war he received scores of letters from men in such cities as Montreal,

Ottawa, Winnipeg and Vancouver thanking him for his kindness and hospitality.

Keenly interested in greyhound racing and in the sport known as coursing, Revell once owned Swashbucker, a famous dog that won top events at London's White City and Wembley tracks. He introduced greyhound racing in Paris and for a time managed the first stadium there.

An expert pigeon breeder, he loaned some of his birds to the RCAF to carry messages. He bought gymnasium equipment and boxing gloves for a number of Canadian army boxers, including Tommy Falls of Toronto and Jean Lereve of Montreal.

Fred Scadden spoke briefly in assuming office.

Orme Stuart and Ed. Garner brought the greetings respectively of Gyro and Rotary Clubs.

The musical program, arranged by Charles Roberts, included quartette selections by Mr. and Mrs. Roberts, Mrs. Mathew Burn and Len Sykes and solos by Len Sykes. C. P. Balagno was piano accompanist.

Music for dancing was by Andy McNaughton.

C. C. Mitchell, D. C. Stevenson and A. S. Nickerson comprised the committee in charge.

LONDON (AP)—A woman had her shoes blown off when the pavement on which she was walking exploded. The blast was thought to have been caused by accumulated gas and occurred, appropriately enough, on Cannon Street.

LONDON (AP)—Lionel Stride, well-known investment-trust chairman in London's financial district, wants the government to remove restrictions on Britons investing in Canada.

He told the annual meeting of the Industrial and General Trust: "In view of the reduced opportunities of investing in this country, the virtual exclusion of new British capital from the United States and Canada is most regrettable, particularly with regard to Canada.

"Canada is supremely rich in natural resources. But we members of the British Commonwealth are prevented from assisting in Canada's development."

Stride said that in December, 1950 alone net sales of Canadian securities to countries other than Britain and the United States reached $5,400,000. He said European continental, particularly in France, Belgium, Germany and Italy, now are investing in Canada at an even greater rate, using Switzerland as the main channel.

BATTER UP

(By LARRY STANWOOD)

An unusual show of sportsmanship last night allowed a ball game to begin. Although things are getting pretty tough when the manager of a baseball team has to call balls and strikes in a game in which his own team is paying, there was no other way out unless the game was called.

The regular night umpire couldn't make it to the game—he was working. Volunteers there were none, when Alex Bill, Abel & Odowes' manager donned the body guard and mask to stand behind the catcher.

And Miner Simundson, Commercial's manager said: "Fine, Alex, and thanks a lot!" Even when Art Murray, who volunteered to relieve Bill from his embarrassing position in the third inning, took over the call, Miner didn't start any balls. And that's a strange thing, because that veteran "good-sense" ball player never takes anything lying down and is known across the northern division as the first to enjoy a good argument in baseball, that is.

Well, it may look pretty easy to stand behind the protection of a well-padded catcher and behind a mask and pad of his own, but calling balls and strikes is a pretty tough job. It takes more than a little courage to stand with one's face thrust over the catcher's head, watching that little white apple come pounding straight between the eyes.

And if it looks like a strike, it's got to be one, whether or not the batter, the pitcher or the catcher have different ideas. That's the reason for an umpire. To make a decision as fair as possible—and to stick with it. And it's only good sportsmanship to take such a decision like a gentleman. Everyone gets the benefit of the doubt once in a while.

A mild uproar in the baseball association was caused this week when they were notified a five percent amusement tax would be imposed on all gate receipts. At first it seems like a bit of a body blow to amateur sport, especially when admission price scarcely pays for running the sport. Often individuals have to dig into their own pockets to help along.

But it isn't the government's idea to tax the sport but those who pay to see it. The Amusement Tax Act calls for five percent of the gate in any type of exhibition, performance, contest, etc., where neither the performers or the promoters receive financial benefit. It calls for the tax to be added to the admission price. However, the association feels it may have to absorb the tax itself in order to retain the fans. But if a few cents should be added to the present low admission price, as before should come from the spectators for they are still getting a darn good show for next to nothing.

Dick Letourneau, who started off the season with a lot of unplaced throwing, is warming up now and yesterday pitched a game of ball with which he can well be satisfied. His team-mates were more than satisfied and Manager Alex Bill loved him. Even catcher Dave Abel, who wants to see the pitches coming the way he calls for them, had a lot of good words for young Dick, whose best pitch is his fast ball, and it burns the air over the plate in the clutches.

Letourneau came close to hurling a no-hitter last night and, of course, we're waiting to see such a game this season, regardless of who is pitching. They tell us, there was a day

Good Pitching Show by Letourneau for Clothiers

Routing Commercial's in a near shut-out game last night, Abel & Odowes came out on top with four runs to lead the City Baseball League by two games. Score was 5-1.

Powerhouse Letourneau pitched a hitless game until the sixth inning when the record was spoiled by Commercial's manager Miner Simundson with a single.

In their last time at bat in the seven-inning night game, Hotelmen's desperate try brought in one run off two hits by veterans Benny Windle and Rosedale. Windle scored the run on the only A & O error by McHardy.

Showing none of his usual control and stuff on the ball, Pitcher Larry Warner gave up eight hits, three two-base hits and a triple by left fielder Ian McHardy. Doubles were hit by centrefielder Nick Pavlikis, in the first inning; rightfielder Dell in the second, and by first baseman Cliff Dahl in the fifth.

The Clothiers started their scoring in the first inning, drawing two. Top of the batting order, Tommy Pope, second baseman, singled and stole second. Pavlikis followed with his double, knocking in Pope's run. After McHardy grounded out, catcher Abel reached first through an error by shortstop Bruce Simundson, bringing home Pavlikis.

Abel was retired in a fast unassisted double—only one of the game—when newcomer Joe Davis on first base caught a sizzler by Dahl and ran out Abel leading far from the base.

Three runs by the leading team were scored in the third. Leading off with a single, Pavlikis was scored by a long triple drive into right field by McHardy. Abel again reached a base on an error, when rightfielder Rosedale dropped a high fly, but was thrown out at second on a grounder by Dahl, who was safe on a fielder's choice. McHardy scored on the play.

Giordano grounded out but Dell drove a liner out to left for two bases bringing home Dahl for the third score. A pop-up by Arney to second retired the side.

Blackwood on Bridge

By Easley Blackwood

Mrs. Keen's opening lead the deuce of hearts turned out to be the best lead she could have made. But it wasn't good enough. Mr. Champion let Mr. Abel win the first two tricks with the queen and jack of hearts, then won the third round of the suit himself, with the ace.

He led the deuce of diamonds and took it with dummy's king, eyeing Mr. Abel's jack carefully. Then he returned to his hand with the king of spades and laid down the nine of diamonds. When Mr. Keen followed with the six spot, the five was played from dummy and Mr. Abel won the trick with his queen.

"If you'd gone up with the ace of diamonds you'd have brought in the whole suit," Muzzy pointed out unnecessarily.

Mr. Champion replied only with a cold, unnerving stare, then returned to the business at hand. He won Mr. Abel's club lead with the ace. It was no accident that he had a diamond no-trump to reach dummy's set-up suit. Thus Mr. Champion ran home with two spades, and one heart, four diamonds and two clubs to make his game handily.

Mr. New, the avid kibitzer, was on hand as usual. "What about that diamond play?" he asked Mr. Masters. "Did Champion make an error when he failed to go up with the ace on the second round?"

"Far from it," replied Mr. Masters. "And incidentally it's about time you stopped asking questions like that. Think, my boy. You've got to get the play-

"Suppose Mrs. Keen had started with four diamonds to the queen. Then they play of the ace and king to the first two rounds would have held Champion to exactly two diamond tricks.

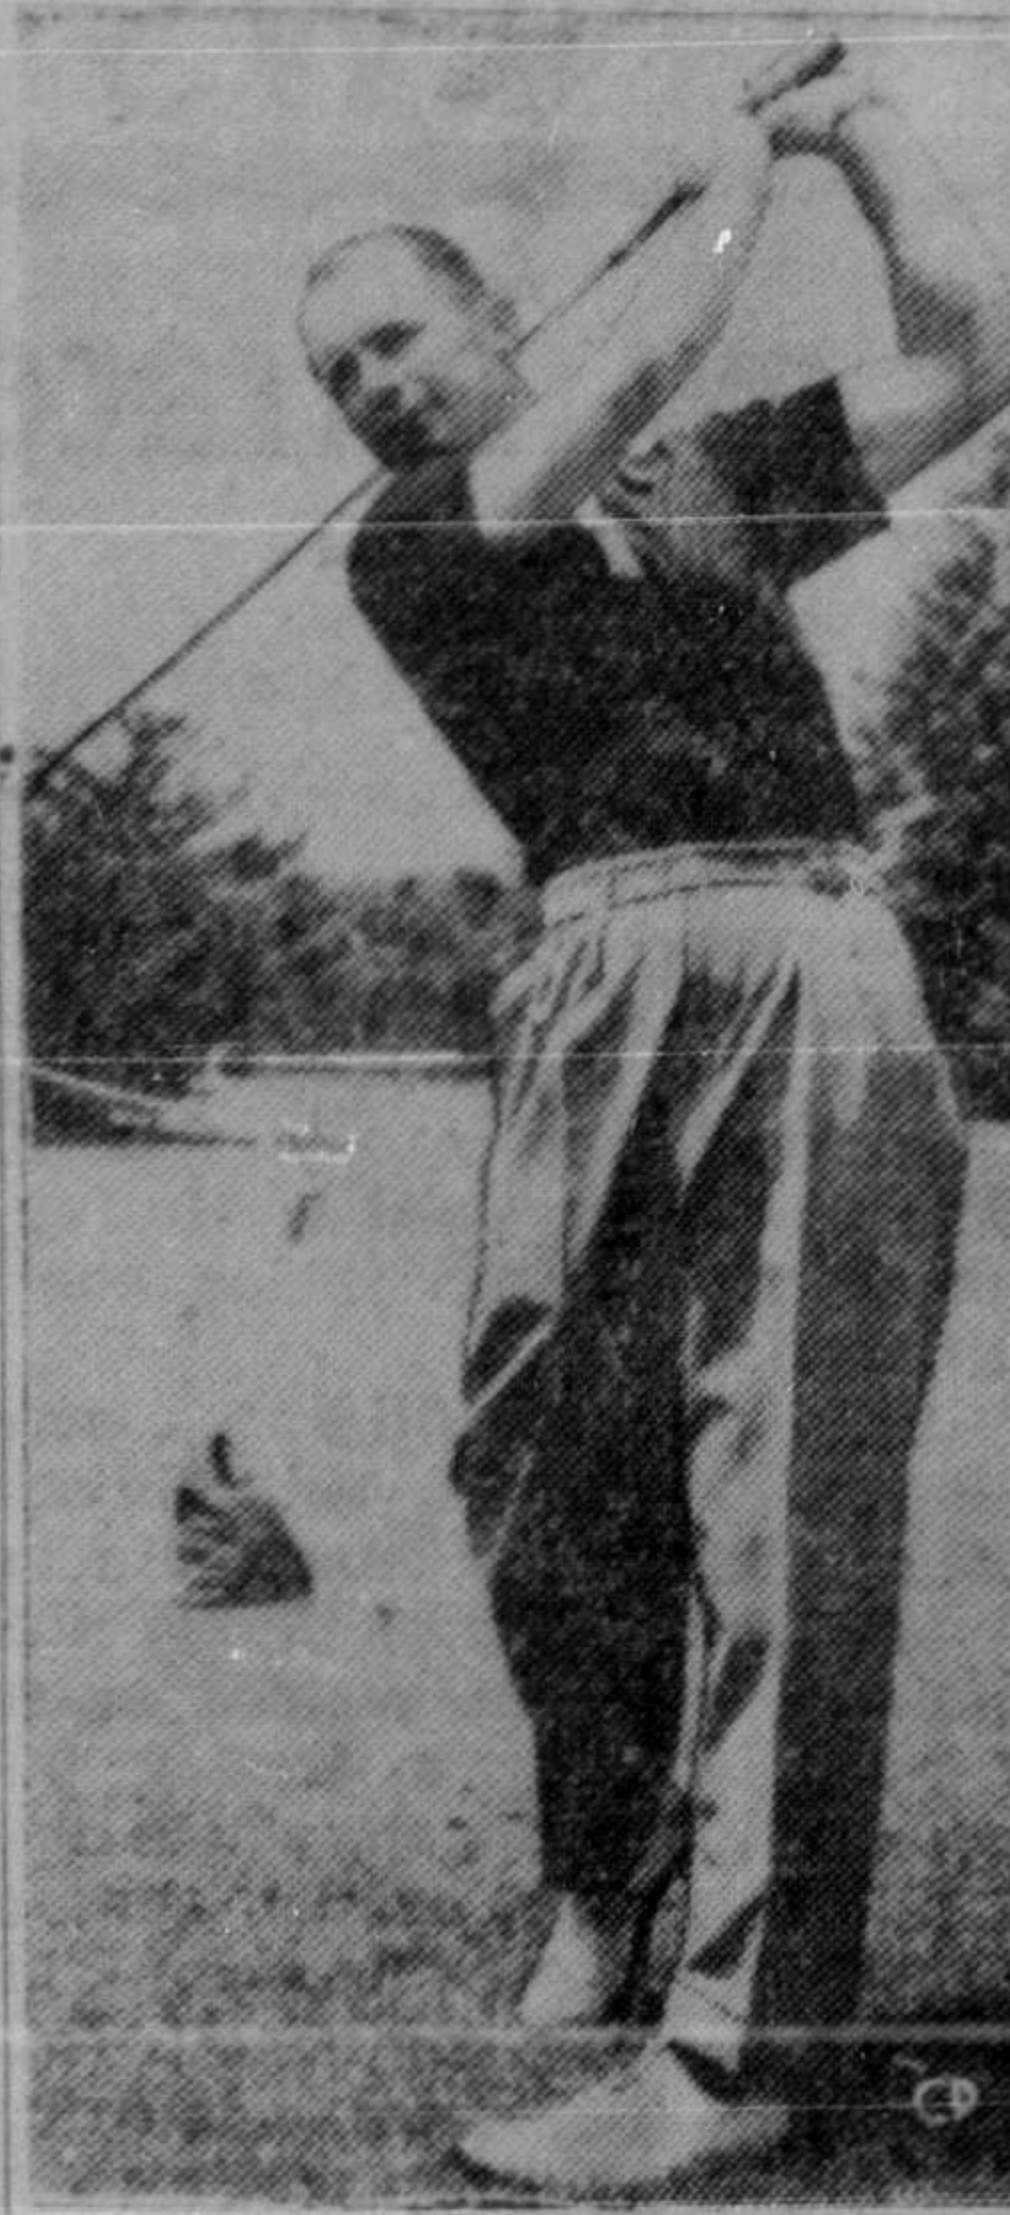

"In other words Mrs. Keen would have been able to win the third round—and there were no entries to dummy in any other suit, Champion was playing to make absolutely certain of his game, worth over 400 points. Why worry about an extra trick, worth a measly 30 points?"

The Brooklyn Birthday fiasco to the National League's 75th anniversary celebration will unfold July 21 at Ebbets Field, which has been since 1912 a Gibraltar-like cornerstone of the loop. The Dodgers are proud of the National League, but the league might well be honoring Brooklyn, too. Sometimes brilliant, sometimes zany, Brooklyn's baseball and Brooklyn's fans have ever been the most talked-of in the game. That's why Dodger teams hold season-attendance records for both Ebbets Field and the road. Today the Dodgers are easily the most popular best-drawing team in the league.

One of the bizarre characters who spiced the early Dodger tradition will be honored on Brooklyn Birthday Day. He is Wilbert Robinson, "Uncle Robbie" who managed the Dodgers for 17 years, from 1914 through 1931. Plaques honoring Uncle Robbie and John L. Smith, humanitarian kingpin in the "new" Ebbets Field regime who died in 1950, will be unveiled that day. Present at the ceremonies will be Robinson's relatives and Mrs. Mae Smith, widow of the Dodger owner, who still retains large holdings in the club. Prominent that day, also, will be Walter O'Brien, long-time friend of Mr. Smith and now president of the Dodgers, and Ford Frick, National League president.

Also in on the party which will precede the game that day with the St. Louis Cardinals will be the Eckford Club, another back in Prince Rupert baseball history when the now greying Bill Lambie pitching in his prime, hurled a nine-inning no hit game with 18 strikeouts and no free bases.

A newcomer to this season's baseball, holding down the number one bag for Commercial's last night, is Joe Davis, well-known in all sport circles. And he fitted in that position just like the glove on his hand. Joe has been out fishing, but expects to be in more often now, much to the satisfaction and joy of Miner Simundson, Commercial's manager.

New Terrace Water Plan

Rights to Lake and Creek Sought—To Entertain Alcan Visitors

TERRACE — Water rights on the Cameron Lake and Deep Creek watershed are being sought by the Village of Terrace after study of a chart drawn up by Joe Felber who made a tour of the district involved at the express wish of the village commissioners.

Small pictures of the area were shown and it was Mr. Felber's suggestion that a dam could be built near Cameron Lake and pipeline laid to the present water pumps, bringing a greatly increased volume for the whole district. It was his opinion that a reservoir below the lake could be constructed at a low cost in this area and the water would be piped along Merkeley Road, almost due north of the present pumps and about four and one-half miles from town.

Wednesday's monthly meeting of the village commissioners was attended by Chairman Emil Haugland, N. G. Kirkaldy, W. S. F. Osborne and G. Lambly.

Advised by the Hon. E. T. Kenney that a party of Alumnium officials and their wives would be here by special train on July 29, the commissioners decided to have their committee meet with one from the Board of Trade and arrange a short program of entertainment including a tour of the district and a visit to Lakelse Lake.

The commissioners decided to pass on to the local real estate agents all letters of inquiry concerning lots and real estate, etc. Referred to the Public Utilities Commission were two applications to operate a light delivery service here—one from Charles Martin and another from W. F. Cook.

J. T. E. Hughes of Wells, B.C., was granted a permit to carry out alterations to and transfer a building on the south-east corner of Lakelse Avenue and Clinton Street.

Subject to permission of the fire marshal, A. Specht of Keremeos was granted a license to operate a sheet metal and plumbing business in the former warehouse behind J. H. Smith's store.

The deadline for this year's taxes was set at July 15.

Local Women at Terrace WA Meet

TERRACE—Mrs. J. S. Black and Mrs. Chater of Prince Rupert were guest speakers at Wednesday night's meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion. It was the regular monthly meeting and was presided over by Mrs. C. Hall who welcomed the guests.

Mrs. Brookbank of Victoria brought the greetings of the Victoria Auxiliary.
Mrs. Black gave a very interesting talk on Legion work and Mrs. Chater reported on the convention, showing a number of pictures of the affair.

A special lunch was prepared by Mrs. Sam Kirkaldy and Mrs. A. Sites, after which Mrs. Simpson was presented with a leather handbag as a parting gift from the members. In making the presentation, Mrs. Osterlund, secretary, spoke of the affection and esteem they all felt for Mrs. Simpson and how much she would be missed. They hoped she would be well and happy in her future home. Mrs. Simpson leaves shortly to reside with her niece, Mrs. Mike Lemon, of Prince Rupert.

Illness had been impossible to summon medical aid.

Questioned regarding the roads, Cecil Steele, MLA, expressed his opinion that the roads through all the towns should be black-topped immediately but in many cases between these two towns new location and preliminary work would have to be done first.

The 1952 meeting of the Association will be held at Burns Lake in July next.

Election of officers for the ensuing year resulted in Clarence P. Bussinger of Telkwa being returned as president by acclamation. Vice-presidents are J. H. Andres of Vanderhoof; James McMillan, Houston; Earl Decker, Francois Lake; L. Dickenson, Fort St. James; Mark M. Connelly, Fraser Lake; Charles Lascelle, Babine Lake.

Delegates appointed to attend the Liberal federal convention to be held in Prince Rupert were Walter Wilson, Mrs. Earl Decker, John Berg and Jack S. Brown. Many other members are expected to attend.

Omineca Liberal Session

Better Phone Service, Hospital Insurance and Schools Wanted

BURNS LAKE — Wednesday afternoon saw a big attendance from all over the Omineca District attending the annual convention at the Community Hall at Burns Lake of the Omineca District Liberal Association.

Liberal Organizer Frank Clark of Prince George opened the meeting, with Clarence P. Bussinger, President of the Association, in the chair, supported by Secretary J. H. Sewell of Vanderhoof.

The federal government came in for criticism in regard to the inadequacy of the telephone system, the long distance service between Omineca points and Vancouver being compared with the dog-team service of forty years ago.

A motion in regard to the transportation of undesirables drew considerable discussion but was tabled pending the report of a committee of investigation.

A request from the Canadian Legion for the endorsement of suggested improvements in the hospital insurance plan was approved, but definite information required before action may be taken.

Cecil Steele, member for Omineca, spoke on the activities of the Board of Hospital Enquiry of which he is a member, and stated that his confidence in the Coalition government was stronger than ever.

Many prominent natives were present, among them being Charles Lascelle, Chief Tom and Paddy Isaac. Lascelle addressed the meeting and, as sixth vice-president, was well received. He spoke for the children of Pendleton Bay, Burns Lake and Topley at which points there were over 150 native children with no school facilities whatever. He stressed that the need of an adequate telephone system to Pendleton Bay and Topley Landing demanded immediate attention as in many cases of accident or
