Lake Liquor Store is Looted of $2,300 and Stock

URNS LAKE (CP)—Thieves blasted the safe of a government liquor store here and escaped with cash and an unknown quantity of liquor on Monday.

Members of the Royal Mounted Police were in their quarters only when the safe was looted.

Backfires—

to Die in Blast

YORK (CP)—A furtive plot to burn a small firm and collect $20,000 was backfired today into a fire after two men died and a million dollars' worth of property was destroyed.

One of the three men who were a clothing store detective was a city detective. One of the alleged arsonists had trailed into a nine-story Manhattan business building. The structure was 55 stories high.

The explosion, which killed the two men, was planned as only a minor attack on windows for miles.

Fighting For Korean Peaks

Allies Regain Mountain
Positions Lost During Night

UNITED STATES EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS IN KOREA (CP)—Counter-attacking Allied infantrymen drove two battalions of Korean communists off a key peak in eastern Korea today and chased the fleeing Reds northward.

The Reds had attacked Allied troops in darkness earlier and forced the withdrawal from United Nations positions north of Inje, 25 miles inland from the Korean east coast.

The Allies smashed back at daybreak and drove the Reds from fortress-like positions on the peak. Allied troops, on a limited offensive, threw softening-up attacks at other Red strong points on the eastern front.

Police said that the engineer wanted to stay in West Germany along with 20 of the 107 passengers.

New Well Blows in

EDMONTON (CP)—A 200-foot high column of steaming black oil spewed on Edmonton district grain fields Monday from a wild well in Acheson field, twelve miles northwest of the city.

Royal Canadian Mounted Police cordoned off the area last night lest a cigarette or spark from an automobile ignite the flames and touch off a holocaust comparable to the fiery cauldron at Atlantic No. 3 well in the Leduc field three years ago.

Crews wearing gas masks worked at the touchy job of screwing a valve on the casing at the surface in an attempt to stop the flow from the well of California Standard's No. 11-11.

Rev. W. P. Bunt, superintendent of home missions of the United Church, is visiting Prince Rupert on official business and will pay visits to both Hazelton and Skidegate Mission while in this area. He arrived from Ocean Falls on the Princess Norah yesterday.

Mutual Aid Is Working

Britain Gives Two Destroyers
Outright to Canada

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada was given, outright by Britain on Monday, two British destroyers and took it as a sign that mutual aid under the Atlantic Pact works both ways.

It was announced in London that the two 1700-ton warships Crusader and Crescent—in Canadian hands on a loan basis since they were commissioned in 1945—were being given officially to the Canadian Navy. They cost about $4,000,000 each.

Defence Minister Claxton said the "transfer was warmly accepted as a further evidence of the way in which North Atlantic Treaty organization nations are working together."

Strafed Kaesong by Accident, Explained

TOKYO (CP)—The United Nations command admitted tonight that one of its planes had strafed neutral zone by mistake yesterday.

The Reds had charged that the plane had raked the site of the suspended armistice talks before dawn Monday.

Headquarters of the supreme Allied commander, General Matthew D. Ridgway, said Vice-Admiral C. Turner Joy, chief negotiator for the Allies in the truce talks, will send his Communist counterpart tomorrow morning the following message:

"The United Nations command regrets this violation of agreed neutrality which resulted from a pilot's error in navigation. Appropriate disciplinary action is being initiated."

The Allied reply notes that no casualties were inflicted and only light damage was caused.

This is the first time that the United Nations command has admitted any basis to Red charges of neutrality zone violation.

The strafing charge was the eleventh by the Reds.

The Allies have denied or ignored all previous charges.

Bloodstained towels and clothing were found in the apartment with the partially clothed body of the woman.

Double Conquest of Channel

San Diego Typist First Woman
To Swim it Both Ways

SANGATTE, France (CP)—Florence Chadwick swam across the English Channel from Britain to France in near record time today—the first woman to swim the English Channel both ways.

Miss Chadwick, 32-year-old San Diego typist, reached France after sixteen hours and 22 minutes in the water. She started the swim from St. Margaret's Bay near Dover, England, last night.

She became the first woman in history to swim the Channel from west to east and to swim it both ways. She swam it from east to west last year.

Florence's time today was just 51 minutes slower than the record set by Tom Blower, 37-year-old Briton last year.

WEATHER

Synopsis

Cool Pacific air covered all of British Columbia this morning and, with relatively clear skies in most regions, temperatures dropped sharply during the night. Several stations in the interior reported frost with Prince George and Crescent Valley in the Kootenays reporting a low of 29 degrees.

More unsettled weather also seems to be in store for British Columbia. A very weak system now crossing the Charlottes will cause some cloudiness in all regions during the day and a few showers on the north coast and in all northern interior. No precipitation is expected from this system over the south coast. Another more active storm now in the Gulf of Alaska is expected to reach the Charlottes tomorrow morning and to be nearing the south coast and central interior late on Wednesday. This system is expected to give extensive cloudiness and fairly general shower activity as it moves southward.

What of Alaska?

ALASKA was represented by only one delegate at the annual convention of the Associated Boards of Trade of Central British Columbia and the Affiliated Chambers of Commerce of South-eastern Alaska. A well-known and popular young lady—Miss Elizabeth Winn, Juneau newspaper-woman—came, bearing a number of resolutions on important matters of mutual concern between Alaska and central British Columbia, particularly the port of Prince Rupert, which she capably piloted through the convention.

So there could be no complaint about the quality of the representation which Alaska had at the convention. However, it was something much to be regretted that there should not have been more quantity and broader representation.

It is some years now since forward-looking members of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce, realizing the importance of Prince Rupert's strategic position as gateway to Alaska, commenced the goodwill movement in relation to the territory. We remember the response which we received from enthusiastic business men and community leaders, particularly of Ketchikan, our nearest neighbor, who brought lively energy and new ideas to Associated Boards' conventions of recent years. In 1947 we even had the Governor of Alaska here. And, in other years, there were strong delegations at Associated Boards conventions here and elsewhere. But where were they all this year?

In view of the new industrial development of southeastern Alaska—the pulp mill at Ketchikan, the plywood mill at Juneau, the newly reopened sawmill at Wrangell, the expanding fishing industry, the increasing tourist travel—the service that the port of Prince Rupert, the Canadian National Railways and the Skeena River highway have to offer, to say nothing of the market that could be created in Alaska for central interior agricultural products, would appear to be of more significance than ever today in relation to the territory.

It is particularly disappointing, therefore, that we should have seen so few of our Alaska friends at the convention.

There are, of course, powerful influences at work to keep trade and traffic with Alaska within the old channels and away from its natural course through this port. But the new arteries of transportation such as a ferry service between the Haines Highway and Prince Rupert as well as from other southeastern Alaska ports to Prince Rupert will in time help to release the territory from its shackles.

The Alaskan resolutions, most of which would have effect along such lines, were endorsed with enthusiasm by the convention.

Now, it would be well if we continued to do everything in our power to see that Alaskans themselves maintain their interest in this port and district now that prosperity is again coming their way after a season of dull days.

For it is as certain today as it ever was that the trade and economy of Prince Rupert and Alaska, particularly southeastern Alaska, must become more and more closely associated.

As I See It

by Eimore
Philpott

IT IS one of the strange facts of these queer times that the most important news is buried in a few lines on the financial pages of our papers.

One such item says that Hon. Douglas Abbott, Graham Towers, John J. Deutsch and Louis Rasminsky are flying to Washington to "try and find relief for Canada's hard pressed gold mining industry."

But—the B.U.P. report states quite frankly "prospects for success of their mission, however, appear dim." I would call that a masterpiece of understatement. For what Canada's top money men are asking is that the International Monetary Fund permit Canada to sell gold on the free market, for as much as it is really worth. But the International Monetary Fund is controlled by the U.S.A., and its basis is that gold can only be legally sold by member nations at the rate, fixed by the IMF governors, of $35 per ounce (U.S. funds).

That means, over the years, that the U.S. is accumulating most of the gold of the WESTERN world at a price far below its real value.

CANADA is the most gullible goose in all the world, for Canada lays her golden eggs plumb in Uncle Sam's lap by means of this high-sounding International Monetary Fund.

Incidentally, the Social Crediters were the only political party in Canada who were wide awake enough at the time to warn the country of the dangers that might result from the Bretton Woods Agreement, out of which came this International Monetary Fund. No matter how far off the beam the S.C. party has gone, since it "struck it rich" and went arch-conservative with the upgushing oil, it was surely right then.

The IMF is a fool arrangement, so far as Canada is concerned, when it forces us to sell our gold at $35 per ounce when we could get $40 per ounce for it in New York on the free market—or over $50 for it if we sold it in Hong Kong or India.

NOBODY outside Russia knows how much gold is being produced in the Soviet Union—but it is known to be large. But the figures for the rest of the world are significant. In 1949 production was 30,900,000 ounces. South Africa was highest producer, with 11,705,000 ounces, and Canada next with 4,104,000. The U.S. produced 1,922,000 ounces.

In most of 1950 the U.S. was a heavy seller of accumulated gold—no less than $1,800,000,000 moved outward. But most of this was due to the flight from the U.S. dollar.

In other words the arch-capitalists of the U.S.A. were using part of their vast financial resources to buy up real properties—like oil wells in Canada and other countries. Moreover, the sudden, sharp inflow of gold to Britain and other sterling countries was a short-lived trend.

Uncle Sam still has more than two-thirds of all the gold in the world (outside Russia) buried in those caves in Kentucky.

Canada's gold is a mighty asset in these troubled times. But Canada should cut loose from the International Monetary Fund if that is the only way in which we can regain our own right to sell our own gold for what it is really worth.

How dumb can we get? Why should Canada make to Uncle Sam what amounts to a straight gift of $5 to $15 per ounce on every ounce of gold mined in this country?

J. C. Arseneau, after visiting here, left today on the Camosun to return to Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. James Goodacre have been visitors in the city since the week-end.

Thinks C.N.R. Hotel Needed

George Murray, M.P. for Cariboo, who is getting known as one of the most enthusiastic advocates of the port of Prince Rupert and who sees potentialities here that some of the regular residents may not perceive, told the Daily News that there should be a Canadian National Railways hotel here. He felt that the city should not be backward about asking for it.

"What other city is there in the country the size and importance of Rupert that has not a first class hotel?" asked Mr. Murray.

He felt that a real sumptuous hotel could be supported here. Many tourists would stop over here if they were offered good hotel facilities.

Due to a more regulated life, animals, observes a contemplative friend, seem to live longer in captivity than in their wild state. The same goes for married men as statistics prove.

HOPE ON!
While the summer of 1951 was divinely fair, it was not quite possible to convince everybody that this was the banana belt. But with a beautiful and roomy orange-colored bus now in use here, there should at least be some further encouragement.

SOME OTHER TIME
How many Canadians have seen their own Federal Parliament? We cannot say, but it ought to be a good guess that, out of the twelve or thirteen millions, there are not so many. We'll bet that hundreds of thousands have lived a lifetime within convenient reach of Ottawa and never been across the city limits. Everyone knows about the reluctance of Tom, Dick and Harry to get up and shout for Canada. But you would think they could have enough curiosity to spend a day in Ottawa. It's not that uninteresting.

LOAFING IN GALLERY
We were in Ottawa once, long before the wartime fire that destroyed the first parliamentary building—sent from a Montreal newspaper office, with instructions to return with a copy of Mr. Fielding's finance speech. This was a business and not a sight-seeing trip. But it was not unpleasant to sit in the press gallery, look down on the austere heads of the Dominion's lawmakers, and watch the correspondents making hurried notes.

As for Laurier's Minister of Finance, he was a calm methodical, grey-bearded man with a renown for the prudent handling of state funds. It was hard to say if he made a speech, or read a number of documents and prosy sounding statements, placing page after page, as he concluded, on his desk. At any rate, his colleagues appeared to find satisfaction in what they heard.

Food rations overseas are being further trimmed. There are certain kinds of food consumers like a bit better than something else. How about bacon at breakfast? Nothing to equal it! It's that way you feel sometimes anyhow. And cheese? Why of course. A craving comes lots of times... both are rationed good and plenty.

Labor Day's Trout Derby was largely a failure but, perhaps, that's jumping at conclusions. All know it's taken for granted that mountain-girl Lake Khattada is where all the hefty ones come from. That's been the rule ever since there was a Prince Rupert. But possibly there was a misunderstanding somewhere about competition the first Monday. It seems agreed that fishing flopped but there are more experts with rod and line that fish—as well as haunts in the hills where you feel that alluring "tug."

To the Electors of Prince Rupert

Having been requested by a large number of Ratepayers of this City to allow my name to go before the Electors' office of Mayor at the forthcoming Election, Thursday, September 13th, I have consented to do so.

In doing so I fully realize the responsibilities of the office, and, if elected, will press upon the Council for a progressive and sane administration of Civic affairs.

In the matter of providing the City with Electric Energy for the next 25 years, the City should explore every avenue available before submitting to the Taxpayers any contract, nature, as we have seen requirements unprovided for by Northern B.C. Power Corporation during their present term with the City. And in view of the Hydro development the Alcan operation adjacent to this City we should with caution before any future contract is consummated electric energy for this City.

Our domestic water system must be given first consideration by the Council. With the present use of water by the B. C. Power Corporation, there should be some improvement regarding Woodworth Lake water, so that the City is relieved of booster pumping costs, and an assurance of a flow of water to our reservoir. The question of an extension of water should also receive serious attention. It is suggested that the old Grand Trunk water system on Cliff Street be surveyed and a report made to Council as to renewing the Dam, length of pipe required to connect mains, and amount of water storage to be obtained.

A survey of assessments on City and Industrial should be carried out so that Taxation on land and buildings would be made equitable.

A plan for the complete drainage system of our City should be drawn up without delay.

An investigation by Council as to why street improvements were not carried out this season and if steps should be taken to reorganize the department, so that better service can be given the ratepayers of the City.

I stand for an immediate commencement of the Problem of this City, and will do all in my power through the City Council to see that this project is carried out.

If elected I will do all in my power to secure a given administration that will reflect in accordance with growth and the wishes of the Taxpayers for progress and development.

Warning Of Polio

This is Danger Season, Says Medical Health Officer

Summer and autumn seasons are the most dangerous for poliomyelitis, says Dr. Duncan Black, city health officer, and he cautions that extra care should be taken by parents at this time when epidemics may occur.

"Prince Rupert is extremely fortunate that no cases of polio have been contracted here," but "common sense" health precautions should be followed.

1. Avoid crowds and new contacts on trains, buses and boats, if possible.
2. Avoid over-fatigue. Too active play, late hours, worry, irregular living schedules may invite a serious form of the disease.

3. Avoid chilling. Take off wet clothes at once. Sudden chilling, like a plunge into cold water on a hot day, is dangerous.

4. Postpone nose and throat operations during a polio outbreak.

5. Keep clean. Wash hands regularly and keep food covered from flies, and other insects. Parents also should be alert to early signs of illness or changes in normal state of health.

"Symptoms, such as headache, nausea, upset stomach, muscle soreness or stiffness and unexplained fever is a sign to call the doctor."

With reference to avoiding crowds, Dr. Black says only a small proportion of people who have polio become paralyzed, and many cases are never recognized.

"It has been estimated that about seven of every 100 persons are cases or carriers during late summer and fall," the city health officer points out, "and all these seven may spread the disease."

Circulation of News Mounting

Climaxing a spectacular gain in circulation which back in 1939 was only 1800, the Daily News a few days ago had a press run of over 4000.

The circulation has been gaining steadily of late in keeping with the increased population and, within six months, has jumped by over 300.

Publication costs have soared rapidly in the past ten years, newsprint leading the way with an 80 percent increase. Ink and other supplies also show big advances, and there have been sharp increases in labor costs. A recent 100 percent jump in mailing charges has added to the overhead, and like other businesses The News is faced with even higher production costs unless the inflationary spiral is checked.

If you were a bee, you could, as bees do, use your wings as a fan to cool the house. But while bees are busy ventilating, they can't be gathering honey. So hives with aluminum roofs (ten to fifteen degrees cooler) make bees more efficient. Some day aluminum houses may do the same for housewives.

Aluminum is an ideal insulator for hives — and homes. This is one of a dozen reasons why the demand for aluminum is growing so rapidly, and why we are building new plants and powerhouses to make more aluminum. Aluminum Company of Canada, Ltd. (Alcan).

Family "busy" room:

Here's charming proof that a living room can be homey without being dowdy... practical as well as pretty! It's done with books, fresh bright colors, close attention to family hobbies. But its big secret is that — from the floor up — it's completely free from work-worry. Look at that Gold Seal Congoleum rug! One wipe of a damp cloth and it's clean as a whistle. Yet its hooked-rug pattern has all the charm and color of a rug straight from Grandmother's house! And you should see how it stands up under household traffic. For that long-lasting wear-layer of heat-toughened paint and baked enamel is equal in thickness to 8 coats of best floor paint applied by hand. But remember — without this familiar Gold Seal it isn't Congoleum... the only enamel surface floor covering sold with the famous money-back guarantee. In fact, to make sure you get Gold Seal Congoleum Rugs... always look for the Gold Seal before you buy!

Science against pain

Science progresses: For 50 years we have used little white tablets — acetylsalicylic acid — for the relief of pain. Today this familiar pain-killer is available in a new form without the disadvantages of insolubility, acidity and bitter taste. It is called DISPRIN.

Why take DISPRIN?

Because DISPRIN is soluble and substantially neutral. When taken in water as recommended, it enters the stomach as a true solution and not as undissolved particles. It is therefore less liable to cause stomach discomfort.

DISPRIN is readily absorbed. Because it definitely dissolves (not merely disintegrates) it permits speedy absorption and gives quicker relief.

DISPRIN is palatable. Even children will take it readily.

DISPRIN is now available at your Druggist. Bottles of 26 tablets or Handy Pocket Folders of 8.

Blackwood on Bridge

By Easley Blackwood

Mr. Abel thought he had a pretty good chance to defeat this contract. He was right. In fact he probably would have defeated it if someone else had been the declarer, Mr. Muzzy, for example. Mr. Muzzy is crazy about finessing and that mania would have proved his undoing on this particular deal.

Mr. Masters, on the other hand defers a finesse as long as he can. He always looks for a better play—a play which offers a higher percentage of chance for success.

In today's hand he could count eight sure winners after the ace of clubs was knocked out. A finesse of the queen of hearts was the possibility of getting the ninth trick. That was at best a 50-50 shot.

Mr. Masters disdained the heart finesse. He found a play that was 100 percent certain of success. From 50 percent to 100 percent. I'm asking you, is that good?

If you can increase your chances that much on all of your tough plays, I am willing to go out on a limb and say that you will do all right. Even my friend Mr. Meek would be willing to make that statement.

Mr. Abel opened the queen of diamonds and Mr. Masters won with the king. He laid down a small club. Mr. Abel ducked and dummy's king won. A small club was led to the 10 spot and Mr.
Abel took the ace.

Now the jack of diamonds was won in the closed hand with the ace. Here Mr. Dale showed out.

shedding a heart. The ace of spades was cashed and Mr. Abel played the queen. Well, this was getting interesting.

When Mr. Masters led the nine of clubs to the dummy's jack, Mr. Dale showed out of that suit too. Thus it was clear that Mr. Abel had started with five diamonds and four clubs.

Instead of taking the heart finesse at this point, Mr. Masters led a spade back to his king—and Mr. Abel discarded a small heart. That gave the complete picture of Mr. Abel's hand.

Now Mr. Masters laid down his last club and then led his small diamond. Mr. Abel won and cashed two more diamond tricks.
But that was the end. His last two cards were the king and nine of hearts and he had to lead into Mr. Masters ace-queen.

VICTORIA REPORT

... by J. K. Nesbitt

Princess Victoria's Bell in Archives— Special Session of Legislature

VICTORIA—Grand old ss. Princess Victoria's 20-pound brass bell has found an honored resting place in Provincial Archives.

Capt. O. J. Williams, manager of the CPR's B.C. Coast Service, sent it over the other day to Provincial Archivist—librarian Willard E. Ireland, who is duly grateful and will give it a place of prominence for all the public to see.

With it comes three log books of the Princess Victoria, signed by Capt. T. O. Griffin and P. J. Hickey, who strode the vessel's bridge in her hey-day.

Princess Victoria, a three-stacker on the coast, came out from Britain in 1903 and for years was the queen of the coastal fleet, setting up many speed records and once, in a race, carrying passengers from Victoria to Seattle for 25 cents.

The special session to deal with the Federal Government's new old-age pension has been advanced from Nov. 6 to Oct. 22. MLA's will be coming to Victoria Oct. 15 to meet Princess Elizabeth and they'll stay over for the special session.

MLA's for the special session won't get a full sessionary indemnity of $3,000. They'll get what are called expenses—probably $20 a day, like the members of the special legislative committees on labor matters and hospital insurance. In addition, of course, they'll get their fares paid to and from Victoria—and they'll do all right on this, for travelling allowances are far more than actual fares.

Jimmy Audain went to Nanaimo the other day and was elected president of Vancouver Island Amateur Boxing Association.

Audain was particularly pleased this happened in Nanaimo, for his great-grandfather, Robert Dunsinuir, found coal there in the early days and so put Nanaimo on the map.

When he can spare time away from coaxing young fellows in using his fists like a gentleman, Audain bogs down in the Provincial Archives. He's working on a history of the Dunsinuirs—a good idea, for if ever western Canada had a glamorous family it was the Dunsinuirs—as glamorous in its way as the Vanderbilts of New York, the Arnolds of Chicago, the Floods of San Francisco.

It's a tremendous task that Audain has started. And to make his book readable he'll have to make it plenty gossipy. Godness knows, there's plenty of the unusual about the Dunsinuir clan—and it'll all have to go into the Audain book if it's to be a real best seller. Audain mustn't worry too much about what other members of the family will say.

In Nanaimo, the day he was elected president of the boxing association, Audain discovered—he insists it's a fact—that his Uncle Alexander was the first white baby born there—in 1853.

Audain is the son of the late Col. and Mrs. Guy Audain. She was Laura, the eldest daughter of the late Hon. and Mrs. James Dunsinuir. The Audain-Dunsmuir wedding was a swish affair at "Burlith" at the turn of the century before Dunsinuir went to Government House and built the showplace he called Hatley Park.

Sees Great Milk Area

McEride seen as greatest Farming belt of Fraser Valley

George Murray, M.P. for Cariboo, who was in the city last week, sees the central interior as a potential future supplier of milk and dairy products as far afield as Vancouver.

Indeed the Francois Lake country is a potential source of milk supply which could even become more steady than the much-heralded lower Fraser Valley which one year is stricken with floods and another with drought.

And, as far as that is concerned, added Mr. Murray, the greatest farming area in the Fraser Valley could well be the McBride district, east of Prince George and getting along towards the headwaters of the Fraser.

There would be, of course, have to be a revision of the freight rate structure for the central interior district, something that is bound to come with the impending opening up of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway to Prince George.

Peace Pact Is Lauded

SAN FRANCISCO (CP)—Canada's L. B. Pearson Friday endorsed the draft of the Japanese peace treaty as both "generous" and "realistic."

Addressing the 51-country treaty conference in San Francisco Opera House before the signing, Pearson dismissed Russian and Czechoslovak criticism of the treaty as propaganda "which convinces no one except those whose convictions are prefabricated."

The Canadian external affairs minister spoke for about five minutes. He expressed regret that China was not represented at the conference but said the Peiping government "must bear the blame for this absence." Red China had already committed aggression in Korea.

The Chinese Communist government must realize that, just as they cannot shoot their way into the United Nations, they cannot, by violence or threat, force their way into this peace conference.
