Princess Pats Fight Greatest Battle

Pursue Enemy Along Blood-Soaked Trails

WEST-CENTRAL FRONT, Korea (CP)—Canadian troops last night sat tight on Hill 532 after a two-day battle described by Lt.-Col. J. R. Stone, their commanding officer, as "one of the greatest in the annals of the Princess Patricias."

Engagement saw the battalion make two bayonet charges up a 60-degree slope covered with shoulder-high pine growth and cut by a lacework of enemy positions.

Patricias yesterday took two spurts leading up the hill, took them with bayonet charge and close-quarter fighting. Today's attack carried them onto the hill.

Chinese bodies counted on the ground numbered 43. More undoubtedly were carried away before the Chinese withdrew and, on the basis of normal ratio of killed to wounded, at least 250 enemy must have been wounded.

Trails up Hill 532 were drenched with blood and they led right on down the forward slopes into enemy territory beyond.

The bayonet charge was made by the company of Major Vince Lilley of Hamilton.

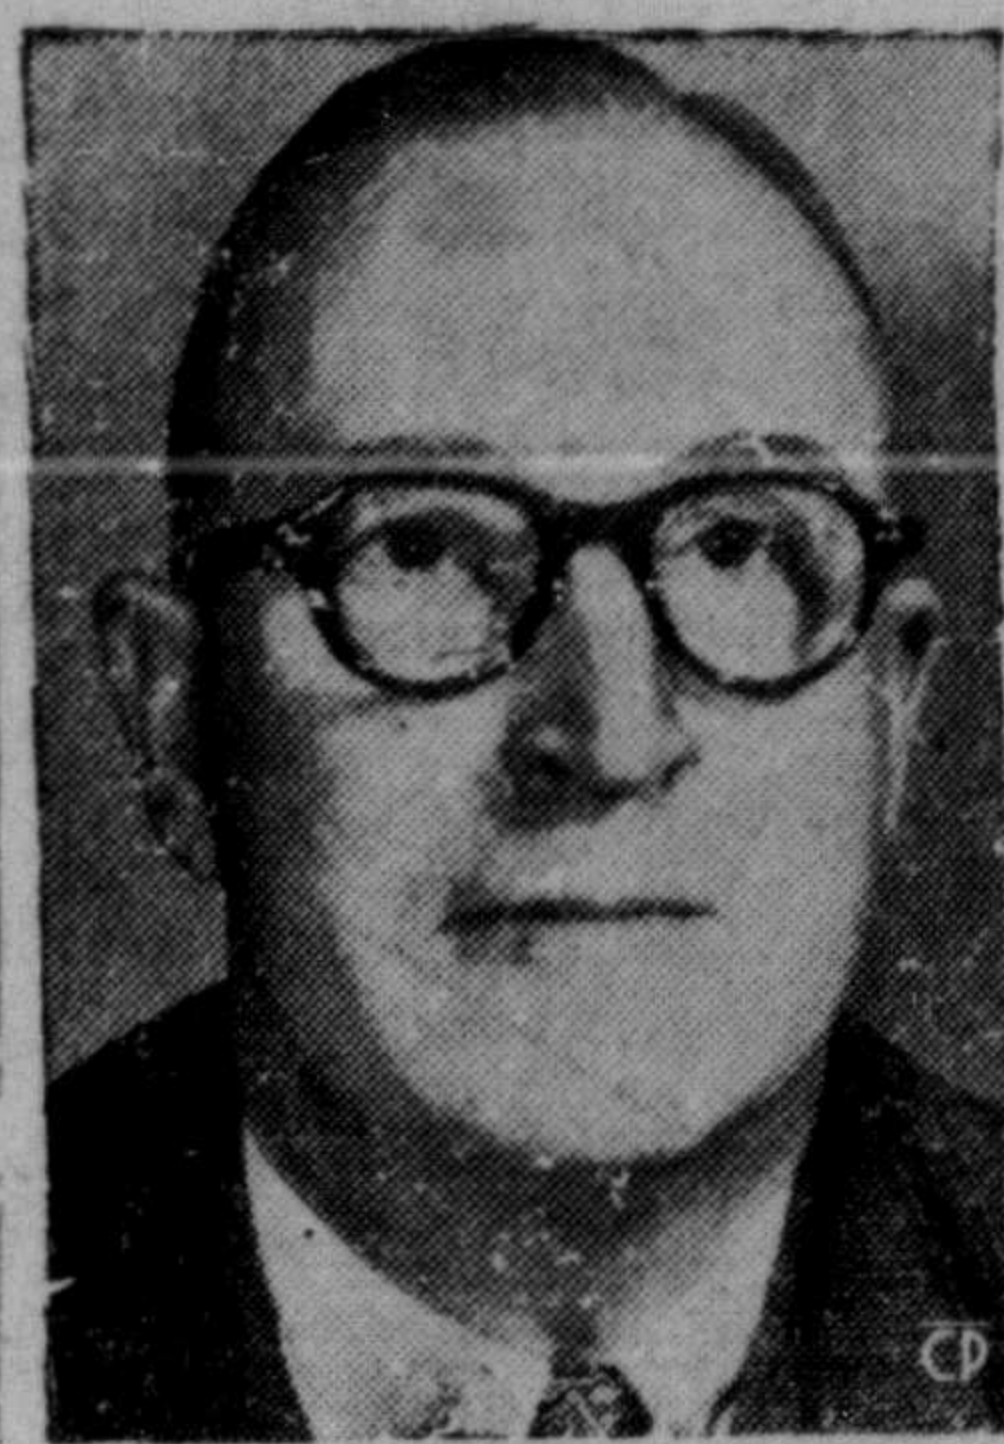

Unlike Wednesday, when the Chinese bitterly contested an assault by the company under Capt. Gordon Turnbull of Toronto, opposition was light.

Even so, the performance was impressive for its sheer courage. It came after Major Lilley's men had spent the night less than 100 feet from Chinese higher up the hill.

Bren Gunners Pte. Ron Ebert of Nanaimo and Pte. Ken Dobbs of Duncan couldn't even dig in. They found shelter behind large rocks, with the enemy opening up on them every time they moved.

ALLIES FORGE AHEAD
Allied troops ripped a gaping hole in Communist lines as they drove ahead as much as four miles today in their big new Korean offensive.

Thousands of Red casualties were added Friday to more than 17,000 killed or wounded in the

Paris Not So Hopeful

PARIS (CP)—The big-power foreign ministers' deputies went into their fifth session today amid reports of an important message received by the United States delegation from Washington.

Deputies, trying to find out whether the top-level Big Four conference can be held on international tension, were 20 minutes late starting.

The session opened in an atmosphere of pessimism brought about by words of Soviet Deputy Andrei Gromyko, who made it appear chances of hammering out an agreement on the agenda for the foreign ministers have lessened considerably.

Plane Base At Lakelse

Terrace Board of Trade Seeks It—Better Freight and Phone Service Sought

TERRACE.—Acting on the advice of Hon. E. T. Kenney, the Terrace Board of Trade decided at Wednesday night's meeting to write to E. T. Applewhite, M.P., urging him to seek action on the immediate establishment of a mooring wharf and refueling facilities for planes at Lakelse Lake. It was also suggested that a possible site for the wharf could be in the vicinity of the Forestry station where there is a sheltered bay and deep water.

The advice that the board take the initiative in this matter was contained in a personal letter from Mr. Kenney to Alec Gillanders congratulating him on becoming this year's president of the board. The meeting was held in the Credit Union Hall and was presided over by Mr. Gillanders. Due to the very cold weather, there was not a very good attendance.

E. S. Sargent, speaking for the Terrace Retail Merchants' Association, asked the board to endorse a request to the Canadian National Railways that an adequate staff be available in the local freight office to handle business there until a freight shed can be built. The local merchants complain of a delay of three or four (sometimes more) days in the handling of freight after arrival here, and they are in accord in believing that a freight shed would eliminate this delay. Accordingly, the board endorsed the merchants' request.

TELEPHONE SERVICE
Months of dissatisfaction with local telephone service came to a head on Wednesday when, following a serious accident in a local garage, the doctor could not be called. An improvement is being sought by the board. It was decided to communicate with E. T. Applewhite to ascertain what progress he had made in respect to the establishing of a booster station in Terrace.

The members decided not to let the matter drop of having directional signs erected in the district but to keep pressing for them from the Department of Public Works, especially as it appears that other districts are getting such signs. The village commissioners are also to be asked to have street signs erected in the village.

A letter from Canada College, Toronto, concerning bursaries and scholarships will be turned over to E. S. Laird, high school principal.

McNeely Dubose, president of the Aluminum Company of Canada, wrote thanking the board for their invitation to visit Terrace and stated his intention of doing so at the first opportunity.

Several other matters of correspondence were disposed of. The next meeting will be the quarterly meeting.

YugoSlavia Charges Military Pressure

Seward Mayor Is Imprisoned

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (CP)—The mayor of Seward is in federal jail today, charged with taking money to take a trip—and then not taking the trip.

A secret indictment, returned by a grand jury February 28 and now made public, specifically charges Mayor Eugene N. Lanier with obtaining money under false pretences.

He was charged with accepting $200 to attend a Coast Guard hearing in Juneau, January 8, in connection with a shipment of explosives. Indictment said he did not attend the hearing.

Lanier was asked by Seward City Council January 15 to resign. He remained in federal jail unable to post $5,000 bond.

Win Quits Foreign Post

Succeeded by Herbert Morrison—To Stay in Cabinet
LONDON (CP)—Ailing Ernest Bevin, who rose from a dim-a-day dishwasher to be Britain's foreign secretary, turned 70 today and, as newspapers had predicted, resigned as British foreign secretary to be succeeded by Herbert Morrison. Official announcement was made tonight.

The Daily Herald, often spokesman for the Labor government, said Prime Minister Attlee informed the King yesterday Bevin is retiring from the top foreign ministry post. Most newspapers said an official announcement would be forthcoming today or tomorrow.

Relieved of administrative responsibilities, Bevin will remain a member of the cabinet in the post of Lord Privy Seal where his advice on foreign affairs particularly will be available.

Remains of Oliver Santurbane, popular Prince Rupert boy, who passed away this week in Vancouver, are being returned home this Sunday on the Camosun and the funeral will take place here next Monday. Returning with the body are the father, D. Santurbane, who flew south this week, and a brother, Capt. Ernest Santurbane, coming from Texas where he is serving with the United States Army.

"Lonely Hearts" Killers "Burned"
OSSINING, New York (CP)—"Lonely hearts" killers, Martha Beck, 31, and Raymond Fernandez, 46, died last night in Sing Sing prison's electric chair, calm and dignified, pleading undying love for each other.

The 200-pound murderer, her fat bulging under the chair's straps, was the last of four persons executed in the space of 24 minutes.

As I See It

by Elmore Philpott

VISITS FARM FOLKS

NEW DELHI, India.—

They say a foreigner can live a lifetime in India and hardly know the place, unless he gets out into the farm villages, where 95 per cent of the people live.

I had been warned about that well in advance, so determined to get a glimpse of Indian village life, even before I got interviews with the great statesmen, or other powerful city people.

Late last night a message came from a government man:

"Would Mr. Philpott like to accompany Mr. and Mrs. James Michener to a farm development at Bawana?" I checked on the identity of Mr. Michener and found that he was the author of "Tales of the South Pacific." This is the book which was made into the smash hit musical play which has been running on Broadway for years.

Bright and early I was at the Indian Ministry of Information. In fact I was there so early that only the night staff was on the job. (They start late and end late in offices here.) I was glad to huddle up to a nice coal fire while waiting for the appointed time of 9:45 a.m.

MR. JAMES MICHENER came alone, and the Indian government loaned us a guide, S. N. Safaya, of the Department of Agriculture.

It is a 24-mile drive to the Bawana villages. Once there, we met one of the Indians who is a dynamo of drive and energy. The head man of the scheme is Mr. B. Singh.

"Aha," I said, "you must be a Sikh." The chunky, medium-sized, 45-year-old, bald-headed twinkling-eyed man replied:

"No, I am a Rajput. All Sikhs are Bhehs, but all Bhehs are not Sikhs."

o o o

BEFORE WE WENT to look around, we got the statistical picture—all kept up to date with charts and graphs. The scheme includes ten villages, of a total population of 18,000 people. They control 17,000 acres of land, of which 12,000 is irrigated, and hence cultivated. They raise wheat, a product called "gram," which looks like an oversized pea; sugar cane, jowar (their name for sorghum) and corn or maize. Also some vegetables and orchard fruits.

THE SCHEME ITSELF is government-sponsored, but privately operated. The state owns no land. The basic principle is that the people will never be compelled to do anything—just encouraged to do better.

I know there is reality to this principle, too. For while we were there, one fellow came up and gave Mr. Singh a real blast. Why wouldn't he compel the people to help him clean up the untidy spot on which we stood? I learned that there is a real division of opinion on this question. Some of the people believe the government's man should take a stronger line. But the principle, to date, is what I would call the very bedrock of democracy.

The people will only be brought along as fast as they are willing to come.

o o o

OBVIOUSLY THEY ARE COMING along in great style in improved production methods. Mr. Singh, incidentally, was trained by two Americans, loaned by the Tennessee Valley Authority to the United Provinces of India (and now he follows their general line). They follow four simple steps:

1. Better seed.
2. Better farm implements.
3. Better cultivation methods.
4. Better marketing methods.

BETTER SEED HAS ALREADY paid off in much higher yields, especially in wheat. I know their story must be true, too, for they got a "bum steer" in their

One example of economic development in South America is this hydroelectric project in the Rio de Janeiro area. Education Week Students Frank in Question Answers

Admit They Are Not Working Hard Enough at School

Candid answers to pertinent questions mark today's "Education Week" interview column in which students of Booth Memorial High School express their own views. The students are frank in admitting that they themselves are not taking full advantage of their opportunities through not applying themselves to their work. Several of them, it is noted, suggest that firmer direction might be helpful.

Here are the students' views:

Do you wish to take any courses which are not offered in this school? (Booth Memorial High.)

Student No. 1—Yes, a straight course in sewing. I think that there should be a school counselor from whom the students could get good advice about all their problems.

Student No. 2—There should be a ju-jitsu course offered in connection with physical education. I think it would benefit everyone in that it would help students to protect themselves.

Student No. 3—I think that the courses offered are fairly adequate for a school of this size.

Student No. 4—I intend to go to a university or technical school after graduation. The subjects I am taking now are all that are needed.

Student No. 5—Courses in writing articles, novels, stories and so forth would be helpful.

Student No. 6—I think there should be a combined commercial, university entrance, graduation course. For instance, the compulsory typing, shorthand, bookkeeping, science and mathematics type of course would better fit the majority or high school graduates who, upon graduation, become members of the work-a-day world.

Do you get enough out of the courses which you take?

Student No. 1—No, I don't think I get as much out of the courses that I take as I might. This is mainly because I don't work hard enough at them.

Student No. 2—No, being very honest about this question it seems that, if we as students were made to work an eight hour day—that is from 8 a.m. till 9 a.m.; in study 9 a.m. till 2:30 p.m. in school receiving classes and from 3:30 p.m. till 5 p.m. once more in study—we would be able to get as much out of the courses we take as we should. As vegetable seeds, and have shown a small loss in this field.

But they are very proud of the yields they get with a Punjab variety of wheat—called PB 591. They are getting about 1300 pounds of wheat to the acre—which, according to my figuring at 60 pounds to the bushel, as Albertans claim—means they are getting about 21 or 22 bushels per acre.

IT IS IN TOOLS AND IMPLEMENTS that they have most to learn. Only recently they have abandoned their ancient wooden plows for more modern, single steel blade affairs. Incidentally, they buy these plows for $2.50 (correct, two dollars and a half). But even this simple, first step toward better methods has worked wonders—although they plow only three or four inches deep.

Makes Appeal For Teachers

Home Most Important Factor In Education, Says Teacher

Prince Rupert has only three young people studying to become teachers and in the opinion of J. S. Wilson, principal of Borden Street School, that's not nearly enough.

There should be some encouragement at home to enter the profession, he said, appealing to Rotarians at their luncheon yesterday. There was a "big job to be done" and "only a few to do it." He asked parents to direct their children's thoughts toward the teaching profession, even, though material attractions there might not be so great as elsewhere.

Responsibility for success of students at school lay in a greater part with the parents, Mr. Wilson stressed.

"You have had the child for six years and by the time it reaches us it has acquired a strong attitude." Whether one of interest, indifference or inferiority—that was the product of the home and on that attitude lay the student's success.

"Training at home is often rough and ready," he said. "Punishment is not training. It's just a wallop on some part of the anatomy." He gave an example where one child, every time he was asked to stay after school, was punished at home. Such action he gravely deplored as "unfair."

Education today was not only learning the fundamental skills of reading, spelling, arithmetic, etc.

"Education is to develop citizens—to develop character." Today children were taught to think critically, with judgment. When they see newspaper headlines, not to take them for granted; they are taught to investigate the full intent of the report.

Today's students are taught to keep themselves clean—"to develop an appreciation of physical fitness." They are stimulated into democratic self-expression through knowledge of discipline in public meetings, such as is taught in Junior Red Cross activity.

"Some of these pupils," said Mr. Wilson, "can take charge of a meeting more efficiently than many adults."

Sportsmanship on the school playground carried through into adult life, and that "is a vital part" of a child's education. And pupils are encouraged to take interest in art and music—subjects connected only with "studies" in the past.

"And finally, we teachers try to foster a continuous desire for education, not only inside, but out of school as well.

"Teaching is a big job; it is an important one." Today young people shied away from that profession but, as present-day teachers were growing old and many retiring, the onus was on the parents to impress upon their children that "teaching is an all-important vocation."

In this manner, some seeds could take root.

Civilization And Co-operation

WHEN we contemplate the noble relics of the great civilizations of the past, we are struck with no common wonder that so much should have been achieved before us. The temple at Angkor, the great pyramid of Egypt and the Gothic cathedrals still draw a never-ending procession of travellers from other parts of the world in a pilgrimage of worship to the beauty of co-operation and achievement. These magnificent structures—and thousands of other tangible mementoes of bygone ages—are useful and forever timely reminders that civilizations past and present are products of co-operating effort. Yet, despite the reminders, civilization has often been considered as the exclusive achievement of a single people, a single race or a single nation. This concept has been largely responsible for various forms of sectarianism and hostilities in our world today.

It is encouraging, however, to think that two primary factors which have contributed to such cultural hostilities are now resolved or almost so. The first is a relic of the time when civilizations were isolated by natural or artificial barriers: mountains, rivers, seas, and even walls. The second factor is mercantilism, that social and historical outlook that aimed at national self-sufficiency, and hence expected one to grow one's own food, use only one's own medicines, study only one's own history and literature and, finally, sing one's own dirge.

Now, more than ever, civilization obviously depends upon co-operation, and the principle of the division of labor has, of necessity, replaced the doctrines of self-sufficiency. At the same time, the physical conquest of world distances has narrowed our earth, making bridges of those obstacles once offered by mountains and seas. That our earth shrinks is a social reality, as the peoples of the world are drawn together by an irresistible need to live and achieve together.

In the face of all this, it still seems that the world is torn and divided, culturally as well as politically and economically—yet the whole course of history is moving, even today, in the direction of co-operation. This is not only because men will that it be so, but because co-operation is the only way of survival. This common compulsion may be resisted, but only for a time. History will have its way.

A decline in security prices in London, New York or Paris has repercussions in the far African or Asiatic plateau or forest, where the bowl of rice, the stock of medicines or the building plans for new schools will diminish in unison. Vice versa, soil erosion in Asia or Africa menaces hundreds of thousands of European factory workers who depend upon the regular arrival of raw materials from these regions. In what we call cultural affairs, the same inter-dependence exists.

The Food and Agricultural Organization, the World Health Organization and the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization—world organizations to help feed, heal and educate the millions—are perhaps the greatest evidence available today of a modern trend in world co-operation. As the work and spirit of these organizations continue, mankind will approach the physical, material and cultural co-operation which will give new reality to the old ideal—"a sound mind in a sound body."

Scripture Passage for Today

"The first man is of the earth, earthy; the second man is the Lord from heaven."—1 Cor. 15:47.

Marriage At Masset

Miss Mona Weir Bride of Jonathan Bell

MASSET — Masset Anglican Church was the setting of a very pretty double-ring wedding recently when Mona Caroline, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Weir of Masset, was united in marriage to Jonathan Christopher Bell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Bell, also of Masset.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was beautifully gowned in white satin with a long veil flowing from a halo headpiece. She wore elbow length gloves. Her ensemble was completed with a bouquet of pink roses and white carnations.

The matron of honor was the bride's aunt, Mrs. Romay Yeltatzie, who wore a lovely white dress, with a corsage of pink roses. The bridesmaids were Pearl Parnell, Kathleen Matthews, Myrtle Davidson, Ramona Young, Blanche Wilson, Joyce Brown and Janet Yeltatzie who wore lovely gowns of blue and pink with corsages of pink roses. Little Winnie Young, cousin of the bridegroom, was flower girl dressed in a pretty floor-length white angel skin dress. Clara Bell, brother of the bridegroom, was ring boy, dressed in a brown suit. He carried the ring on a small cushion covered with white satin.

Harry Young, sr., performed the duties of groomsmen.

The ushers were, Kenneth Brown, Horace Yeltatzie, Morris White, Charles Yeltatzie, Calvin Bell, and Adam Bell.

Rev. Montagu Young of Masset performed the wedding ceremony and Hector Marks presided at the organ. The church was beautifully decorated with pretty flowers and an archway.

Following the ceremony there was a banquet and wedding dance at the Masset Community Hall. There were about three hundred guests. The beautiful six layer wedding cake was topped by a miniature bride and groom under a wedding bell.

Mr. and Mrs. Bell were the recipients of many lovely and useful gifts which were displayed at the home of the bride's mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Bell will reside at Masset.

A cake raffle was won by Mrs. J. Hardin. President of the C.W.L., Mrs. J. Richards, was general convener, with Mrs. E. Telseth as cashier.

On the refreshment committee were Mrs. N. R. Young, Mrs. J. Bruce, Mrs. J. Rogerson and Mrs. G. P. Lyons.

C. S. Viers has purchased the residence of S. V. Cox on Seventh Avenue East and will be moving in at the end of the month.

Blackwood on Bridge

By Easley Blackwood

I have found that most bridge players are inclined to blame their poor results on bad cards, bad breaks or bad partners. It was a surprise, therefore, to receive the frank and refreshing letter shown below.

Dear Sir:

You have spent a lot of time telling players how to get along with your Mr. Muzzy for a partner. None of this material has done me any good. You see, I AM Muzzy.

What I want to know is, how does Mr. Muzzy manage when playing with players who outclass him?

"The Original Mr. Muzzy." Well, sir, I admire your candor. Modesty and honest self-criticism are certainly not among the most obvious virtues of bridge-players. I have sometimes thought of giving advice to Mr. Muzzy. But I didn't know there was a bridge player in the world who would think it applied to him. That shows how much I have to learn.

If you are trying to improve your game, practice is the best teacher. But if you are trying to win, or limit your losses, beginning right now, my advice would seem to be just the opposite. Don't play many hands yourself, especially the close ones. Try to arrange to have your partner play them.

The bidding:

Take today's hand, for example. I watched it played by the Mr. Muzzy I know. He could have made four spades but he didn't. West opened the queen of clubs, dummy's king was put up and East won with the ace. East returned a club and Mr. Muzzy ruffed. He now laid down the ace and queen of spades, dropping dummy's jack. This promoted West's queen and nine of spades to winners which, with the two minor suit aces, were enough to defeat the contract.

But Mr. Muzzy went wrong before he even started on the play of the hand. When Mr. Masters bid two hearts Muzzy should have raised to three hearts. He had another chance. Over partner's three no trump, he should have bid four hearts. There is nothing to the play of the hand at hearts. Mr. Masters would have finessed for the king of hearts and made five-odd easily. Of course, if Mr. Masters had been South, playing four spades, he would have made that, too.

Moose Committee Meeting-Social

The social service committee of the Women of the Moose met in regular session at Moose Temple Wednesday night. Following business, whist was played and the prize-winners were Mrs. William Bussey and Mrs. Percy Bond. Refreshments were served with Mrs. Harold Munro as hostess for the evening. Eight members were present.

Mrs. Gibson On Visit To Masset

Mrs. J. B. Gibson returned to the city on Wednesday's plane from Masset where she had been visiting two branches of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Church of England in Canada in her capacity as President of the Caledonia Diocesan Board. She had gone to the Queen Charlotte Islands by the Chilcotin Friday evening.

On Sunday corporate services of the Woman's Auxiliary were held at St. John's Church in the morning and at St. Paul's in the evening when the Rev. Montagu Young preached suitable sermons. On Monday and Tuesday evenings, she addressed the respective branches on the work of the organization. Mrs. Davidson, president of St. John's branch, presented her, on behalf of the members, with a silver spoon engraved in Haida designs, saying how pleased they were to welcome the "Mother of the Caledonia W.A."

Despite the intense cold Mrs. Gibson reports she had a pleasant visit, being comfortably lodged at the Linoner Hotel and kindly entertained by Mrs. Young, Mrs. Davidson, Mrs. Norman Green, Mrs. J. A. Findlay and Mrs. Harry Archibald.

Local Couple Quietly Wed

First United Church last Friday evening was the scene of the quiet marriage of Miss Angelina Greening and Harold Skog, both of this city. Rev. L. G. Sieber officiated.

Miss Hazel Greening was bridesmaid and Ole Skog was groomsmen.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Feasby, Seventh Avenue East, where about fifty friends of the young couple gathered to extend their felicitations.

After the opening of parcels containing numerous and beautiful gifts, dancing was enjoyed to the music of D. Kristmannson with his accordion.

At midnight delicious refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Miss Vennette Marshall, Miss Joan Adecock, Miss Caroline Wick, Miss Ruth Rudell and others.

NATIVE BASKETBALL— Kitkatla and Port Simpson in Finals

Kitkatla and Port Simpson moved into the championship finals of the annual native basketball tournament by virtue of their wins last night at the Civic Centre. Kitimat and Bella Bella won their consolation round games to gain play-off berths tonight for the consolation trophy. Port Essington, Metlakatla, Thunderbirds and Brotherhood were all knocked out of further tournament play.

Tonight is the big night of the series and two close contests are assured with Bella Bella and Kitimat slated for the opening game and Port Simpson and Kitkatla for the final. After the games the Native Basketball Association is having a dance in the Civic Centre auditorium.

Metlakatla 46
Kitkatla 65
Kitkatla started out fast to run up 11 points before Metlakatla was able to score a basket. Metlakatla was never able to overcome the early lead as Kitkatla outpointed them in each period except the final. Metlakatla came up well in the fourth period but their scoring spree was too late, as Kitkatla was too far in the lead. Kitkatla held a 26-point lead in the early part of the last quarter which the Metlakatlas whittled down to 19 before the game was over with Kitkatla on top, 65 to 46.

Port Simpson 70
Thunderbirds 45
Port Simpson won a place in the championship finals with a 70-45 victory over the Thunderbirds who gave them quite a scare in the first half as they scored basket for basket until Simpson finally overtook them at 15-13. From there on the Simpson team pulled steadily ahead to lead 31 to 21 at the end of the half and to outscore 39 to 24 in the final period.

Vern Dudoward of Thunderbirds turned in a fine performance as he scored 27 points for the losers.

High men for the winning team were Sankey with 17, Rice with 15 and McKay with 10. Tait scored 13 for the losers.

The game was a little rough and Referees Davidson and Gurvich called 12 fouls on the losers and 18 on the winner. Port Simpson will meet Kitkatla in the final game tonight.

Bella Bella 63
Port Essington 15
Bella Bella walked all over Port Essington to earn a place in the consolation finals by a 63 to 15 win. Peers for Bella Bella scored 35 points, 23 of them in the final half. Spalding was high for Essington as he scored nine on three fields shots and three free throws. Referees Davidson and Slatta had an easy time of it as the game was cleanly played with only five fouls called on the losers and six on the winners. Bella Bella is a greatly improved team over last year and should give Kitimat a real battle for the consolation trophy tonight.

Kitimat 43
Brotherhood 26
Kitimat came through with an easy win to gain their place in the consolation finals tonight, trimming the hastily-picked Brotherhood entry by a 43 to 26 margin.

Chris Wilson and J. Robinson again proved themselves to be the two strong men of the winning team and led in the scoring with Wilson getting 28 and Robinson 10.

For the losers, Cooper and Walker were the only players who could find the hoop as they scored 12 and eight, respectively. The clean play of both these teams is worthy of mention as Kitimat had only one foul called in the whole game, and the losers had six. It was an easy Innes of the winners played one of the best individual games of the tournament as he scored 14 on some very smart ball handling. Robinson, with 12, Tolmie, 11, and Vickers, 10, all played excellent ball. For the losers Leask was high with 10 but he didn't take advantage of his superior height to get in for the all-important rebounds.

Kitimat—Woods, T. Robinson, C. Wilson 28, Ross 4, Grant 6, R. Smith 6, Shaw 1, Woods 4, C. Smith 5, J. Robinson 10.
Brotherhood—Sankey 2, Knott, Price 2, Cooper 12, Jackson, Walker 8, Bolton 2, Green.
Port Essington—McLean, Wesley 2, Spalding 9, Brooks, Brown, Roberts, A. McLean, Miller 2, W. Spalding 2.

The way it looks now, the Kitimat-Bella Bella game tonight might prove to be one of the most interesting and exciting of the tournament.

Civic Centre Rifle Range

Rod and Gun Club
To Open This Week-end

A rifle range is to be opened by Prince Rupert's Rod and Gun Association in the basement of Civic Centre building this week-end.

This announcement was made by Secretary George Rorvik on Wednesday at the club's annual meeting. Use of the range would be open to all Civic Centre members.

Representing many hours of tedious labor, Mr. Rorvik said the 20-yard range for 22 calibre rifles was laid out to required specifications with approval of Don Forward, Civic Centre director. Most of the material was supplied by the Centre.

The range will accommodate three targets at one time and it is expected there will be two classifications of competition, one for hunting and sporting rifles, the other for target rifles. Ammunition will be obtainable from the club, and targets will be supplied free.

A committee is to be formed soon to administer the range.

Alaska Towns Hospitable

Coach Jack Evans speaks in high terms of the generous and spontaneous hospitality accorded at Petersburg and Wrangell to Bo-Me-Hi basketball team. Both Alaskan towns went all out to give the boys a good time. Particularly was this so at Wrangell—reciprocating for the welcome the Wolves had had here recently and which they much appreciated.

At Petersburg the Junior Chamber of Commerce staged a luncheon. At Wrangell there was a reception in the High School.

STUDENTS FRANK
subjects which I need to complete my education.
Student No. 9—No, because I work after school and if I studied five hours every night I would not get enough sleep.

Do you as the student of a public school feel that you take advantage of all the opportunities made available to you?
Student No. 1—No, because I don't indulge in sports.
Student No. 2—No, there are many opportunities which I do not take advantage of. For instance, the school orchestra offers the student an opportunity to develop musical inclinations if any. As I am not musical I cannot participate in these activities. As I work after school I haven't much time for school activities, such as serving on the Students' Council, which I would have liked to do very much.
Student No. 3—No, if I took advantage of all the opportunities made available to me I would be busy all the time with school work and activities. As it is now I haven't enough time to do all the things I would like to do.
Student No. 4—Yes, I do feel that I take advantage of the opportunities offered.
Student No. 5—Some of the activities which would be a helpful nature I don't bother about.
Student No. 6—There are so many opportunities that are made available for students that with our extra-curricular activities it is almost impossible to take advantage of them.

Do you feel that you are receiving good training to enable you to take your place in community life?
Student No. 1—Yes, as a member of a group such as a school you learn how to respect other people's views, to get along with other people and to arrange your thoughts in an orderly manner.
School, in addition to adding to your general knowledge, better enables you to enjoy life and to offer constructive opinions regarding adult activities including work.
Student No. 2—Yes, I do feel that I am getting good training in school. Certain organizations are formed within the student body, which give pupils a chance to experience certain responsibilities which will enable them to take their useful positions in the community.
Student No. 3—Most of the teachers treat the senior students as adults which helps to prepare the students for the cold, cruel world.
Student No. 4—Yes, while going to school you learn how to get along with people as well as to increase your general knowledge. Gives you a chance to think of the kind of work you

Student No. 5—I guess so but that part of the course isn't particularly stressed. I would like to know what positions in the working world I would be most proficient at, but the teachers do no much to guide us in our choice.
Student No. 6—As well as a Student No. 7—Yes, I have learned one of the most important things in life: to get along with other people.

Student No. 8—No, the univer-pares you for further study. If I do not continue my education in a university I will have to visiting around

We like to go visiting to see how other people produce textiles. A good many come to visit us, and we like this too. All main countries have textile industries, and people come from other countries in the western group to study our methods. The textile industry here in Canada is among the leaders in technical skill and effectiveness. And along with the U.S. it pays the highest wages for textile employment anywhere. In Canada the industry is the largest employer of manufacturing labor. Textiles also pay the largest manufacturing wage bill in this country. In these times, the size and technical ability of the industry are important features of Canada's strength.

Little Girl Suffers Face Burns—Hopes of Spring Dashed—Auto Crash in South

The two and one half year old daughter, Linda, of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Little was scalded on the face on Monday afternoon when she tried to lift a kettle of boiling water from the stove when her mother's back was turned. Her condition is not regarded as serious.

The sudden cold snap came as somewhat of a shock to the district which had confidently expected the spring break-up at the beginning of last week when the weather was so mild, sunny and warm. On Monday of last week the grader had flattened out the bank of snow in the centre of Kalum Street and it was melting rapidly. On Monday of this week the temperature went to 2 below zero following a gradual fall in temperatures and snow on Friday of last week. A strong wind blowing on Monday made the day seem colder and the streets are icy to walk on. Spring seems farther away than ever, especially as there appears to be no prospect of a change in the weather.

The membership of the local Parent-Teacher Association is now 62. The annual tea and sale will be held in the IOOF Hall on March 24.

Don Parmenter left for Prince Rupert on Saturday, driving Morris Wightman's car. Accompanying him were Dr. Black of Prince Rupert and Herman Engleke, also Pete Parmenter who left for Idaho, having had his call-up for the American Army.

Mrs. Letty Levesque is around again after a long period of illness during which time she spent two weeks in the Prince Rupert Hospital.

The surplus money collected for the Wong presentation is being placed to the credit of the baby, Benny Wong, either as a savings account or in bonds.

Fred Baker returned last week from the south where he has had medical and surgical treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Osborne are expected home this week from Vancouver, where Mr. Osborne has been hospitalized for several days. He is reported to be feeling much better in health.

Samuel is a patient in the local hospital suffering from double pneumonia.

Word has been received in Terrace of the collision of Wally Peterson's car with another near Gilliwat where the road was too narrow for two cars to pass. No one was hurt, but the car was very badly damaged.

William Donald and his sister, Mrs. A. Corlett, left on Tuesday's train for Prince Rupert where they took Thursday's steamer for Vancouver to visit relatives there and in Seattle. They expect to return home towards the end of the month.

Noticed by four high school students who were on the scene before the arrival of the fire engine, a serious chimney fire at the home of Mrs. E. Head on Monday, during the noon hour, caused very little damage.
