23 Dead In Crash

ALBUQUERQUE, New Mexico (CP)—Twenty-three airmen died yesterday in a flaming crash of a B-36 bomber on the outskirts of Albuquerque. It was the fifth and worst crash of a B-36 machine, the largest American bomber.

The Air Force put its first B-36 into operation in August 1946.

Only two of the 25 men on board the plane survived. They were badly injured.

The six-engine bomber crashed and burned in a blinding sandstorm on Kirtland air force base. The wreckage was scattered over 1000 feet, barely two blocks from the municipal air terminal.

George Vincent of the public relations department of the Aluminum Co. of Canada, with headquarters in Vancouver, is paying a visit to the city.

Wheels of Mobilization Rehearsal Begin To Turn

VETERANS ARE NOT EXEMPT from 235,000 men being called by the British Army for a mobilization rehearsal this summer. With trained conscripts (compulsory military service has been in force in Britain since World War II) they will have to leave their jobs for three weeks and go back to army life. Pictured at a British Army depot are motor-cycles as far as the eye can see—all ready for action.

Harold Ryan Found Guilty of Murder; Sentenced to Hang

Harold Ryan, 31-year-old Port Simpson native fisherman, was convicted by a Supreme Court assize jury late Saturday on a charge of murdering his common-law wife, Lorraine Tait, 24, on a gasboat at Port Simpson late on the night of December 23. He was sentenced by Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane to be hanged July 24.

The killing came after a gasboat trip back to Port Simpson following a pre-Christmas shopping trip to Prince Rupert. Evidence was that Ryan and the woman and another companion consumed rye whiskey and wine on the voyage.

The crown alleged that Ryan beat the woman to death and threw her body into the water where it was found floating a few hours later. Ryan was arrested in his house at Port Simpson, being asleep when the police entered.

Ryan, giving evidence on his own behalf, claimed that he remembered none of the incidents on the night in question having "passed out" before the boat reached Port Simpson. The first intimation he had that the woman was dead was when he was told so in the jail at Prince Rupert by Indian Superintendent F. E. Anfield.

Guilty verdict with recommendation of mercy was returned at 7:15 p.m. by the 12-man jury after three hours and 15 minutes' deliberation, ending a four-day trial in which 29 witnesses were heard.

Ryan had "nothing to say" before Mr. Justice Macfarlane passed sentence. There was a gasp through the courtroom, followed by crying. The convicted man remained unemotional.

Defence Counsel T. W. Brown, KC, said he would "definitely appeal" the case.

Crown prosecutor was Gilbert Hogg of Victoria legislative counsel.

Nazi Party Stronger

HANOVER, Germany (CP)—A Nazi-like party, led by former supporters of Adolf Hitler, showed surprising strength Saturday in the West German state election.

Despite the showing by the militantly nationalistic neo-Nazi Socialist Reich party, however, the regular Socialist party held its customary lead position in the balloting for state parliament in lower Saxony in the British occupation zone.

The Fascist group was in fourth place.

Marshall at Senate Quiz

Says United States Is Buying Time in Korea

WASHINGTON, D.C. (CP)—Secretary of Defense Marshall was quoted today as saying the United States is "buying time" in Korea to prepare against a third world war.

A senator, who asked that he not be quoted by name, said Marshall made that statement in stoutly defending the administration's side in the Far Eastern policy dispute with General Douglas MacArthur.

He said there had been "no disagreement" between President Truman, himself and the joint chiefs of staff over conduct of the Korean war.

The senator further disclosed that Marshall said:

1—It was true, as General MacArthur testified, that the joint chiefs of staff drew up 12 proposals moves against Communist China in line with some of the recommendations of MacArthur but that as conditions changed later these proposals were not carried out.

2—He supported President Truman's action in dismissing MacArthur from all of his Pacific Commands.

3—That a theatre commander should not attempt to dictate overall global strategy or that outside his theatre.

Marshall argued that MacArthur differed widely with foreign and military policy of the administration that this raised a serious question as to his continuation as commander and his ability to carry out these policies.

Marshall was the administration's first witness in reply to MacArthur who had hammered away for three days last week.

QC Island Tragedies

QUEEN CHARLOTTE CITY—Mike Anderson, well known pioneer coast fisherman, residing in Queen Charlotte for many years and formerly of Prince Rupert, was found dead in his trolling boat named We 1 on the west coast of Queen Charlotte Islands Saturday.

An inquest will be held.

ANOTHER BODY

A gruesome find was made at noon Saturday by 8-year-old Sharon Hamlin. A decomposed body washed up on the shore within a few feet of the child's home is believed to have been that of Gonzague Louie Gendron, Dominion Fisheries employee, who has been missing since last March from a drifting boat.

Engine Crew Dies in Crash

VANCOUVER (CP)—An engine and 14 cars of an eastbound Canadian Pacific Railway freight train snaked off the tracks in the Fraser Canyon yesterday and three members of the crew died in the twisted cab.

The accident occurred between Spuzzum and North Bend about 100 miles northeast of Vancouver.

Officials said the cause of the accident was veiled by a breakdown of telegraphic communications which resulted from the crash. The track was reported clear at the time of the accident.

Killed were Engineer R. J. Purdie, aged 55; Fireman Vernon G. Mobley, 25, and Trainman Henry H. Vickers, 32, all of Vancouver.

Brother of Fireman Mobley, Gordon Mobley, was riding the freight's second section which trailed the ill-fated train by about half an hour.

CPR trains were routed for a time over Canadian National tracks until the line was cleared.

Alcan and Alaska

EDITOR WILLIAM L. BAKER of Ketchikan Chronicle says news that the Aluminum Company of Canada will go ahead with its giant metal plant at Kitimat, around the bend up a canal from Prince Rupert, should not be taken in a spirit of gloom in Southeastern Alaska. The coming of a big industry like this one to the north country will have favorable repercussions clear up to Alaska, such as the following:

1. Defences will have to be strengthened, making it safer to live in Southeastern Alaska and probably increasing the chances of Ketchikan, Sitka and Skagway landing big new industries. Rupert's harbor defences and Annette's aerial defences should be built up.

2. Transportation facilities will be expanded. With 50,000 people moving to Kitimat and vicinity, the Canadian National Railways will build its western route south from Terrace to Kitimat and probably make Rupert a more important port.

3. If terminal rates are then granted to Kitimat, they also may be made available on pulp made at Prince Rupert or in Ketchikan, which would be a godsend to the First city for both inbound and outbound freight. The new pulp mill at Wacker would benefit and so would local consumers.

4. Steamer facilities from Vancouver would be improved and the new settler and tourist who is looking for a new place to live would come north in larger numbers than before. Alaska would get its share of them.

5. Chances for the Rupert-Haines car ferry would be much better, as would chances for paving the highway into Rupert. With that many new people coming into central B.C., its political-economic importance would be greatly increased and governmental agencies would have to step lively to fill the need for better roads, railroads and airways facilities.

6. Kitimat might join the Rupert high school team in playing Ketchikan in basketball, football and track events. Terrace, which is growing already as a logging centre for the new Rupert mill, might get into the prep competition, too.

Finally, of course, the realization that vast waterpower reserves are available in the north country should remove some of the jitters from government and private planners in the U.S.A. so that the Taiya River project at Skagway can eventually be put back into the practical classification.

These are but a few of the possibilities from the big new industry off the Canadian side. And of course it will be of prime interest to Alaskans and an additional attraction to northbound tourists, just to see a major industry in the construction and early operational stages.

Legally Right—Morally Wrong

IS IT legal?

How often is that question asked by individuals in considering their proposed actions rather than the more fundamental and basic question:

Is it morally right?

Too many people today seem to confuse "legality" with "morality." How much better would it be for everyone to go back to the tenets of the Christian faith when deciding on any proposed line of action.

A spotlight was turned on this question recently by U.S. Senator William Fulbright, who told the U.S. Senate his feelings about the current standards of U.S. morality.

"Too many people in our nation do not believe anything with conviction. They question the concepts of God or of man, indiscriminately. The values of life which were clear to the Pilgrims and the Founding Fathers have become dim and fuzzy in outline."

These are words which might be read and re-read. How many of us stop to think of the principles we learned from our parents and church when we were youngsters in considering how to deal with any problem or situation? Yet if we did so, would not the world be a better place in which to live?

LIGHTED WORLD

FLORENCE, ITALY—If you have a feeling for history, this is a good place to ask yourself about the greatest human riddle of all:

What is it that causes certain localities, certain peoples, to "light-up" at certain times? Why does the light go out again? Why was Florence the birthplace of so many geniuses, all at one stage in its history? Why did not the illumination come before and why did it not last after the time of burning brilliance?

I WILL HAVE TO leave that mountain-high question to others a lot wiser than I am. Meanwhile, it is enough to remark that the Italians of today visibly do not produce similar great men to those of the times of Michel Angelo and Galileo (any more than the British produce 1951 Shakespeares).

But the Italians ARE a remarkable and lovable people. They have a great power of persistence. Here in Florence, for instance, they show you a pre-Christian (so-called pagan) church which has been used as a centre of Christian worship ever since paganism was overcome by the Christian revolution. Yet the old pagan signs of the zodiac are still plainly there, in the stone of the floor.

THE ITALIAN ATTITUDE toward Mussolini and even the recent war also intrigues me. Two years ago, when my wife and I were in Milan, I recorded a generally cynical Italian comment on World War II:

"The best defeat we ever had." Now, a most remarkable purge has taken place in the minds of the whole Italian people.

They simply ignore the fact that there ever was a Fascist dictatorship—and that Mussolini took them into the war on Hitler's side. They show you the battle lines where the Allies slowly but surely overcame the Germans. But they never mention that till the very end of Hitler's war, some Italians, like Mussolini himself, and also Graziani, fought on beside the Germans.

In the tourist guide books, there is mention of "glorious victories of the liberating armies," with absolutely no mention of the reason WHY Italy had to be liberated.

Yet I cannot blame Italians for this attitude. It is something like the Asiatic philosophy of "see no evil, hear no evil, speak no evil." About those things in their recent national past which they prefer to forget—they simply draw a veil of deliberate forgetfulness.

Yet I WAS GLAD TO FIND that the Italians do speak quite naturally of some good things that Mussolini did, and without any trace of self-consciousness. In Rome, for instance, Mussolini built a magnificent sports forum and organized plays, and since the war this has been officially renamed Italia Forum. But the people of Rome invariably refer to it by its old name—Mussolini Forum. His monument stands there, large as life. Nobody bothers about it, one way or another.

I doubt that I shall find any monuments to Hitler when we visit Germany, after going to Yugoslavia. I am sure the Allies would not allow them. Why, one might ask, is the difference in Allied attitude?

My guess is that the Allies know perfectly well that Fascism was a queer interlude in the history of Italy. They are far from sure that Germany would not go for another Hitler, but in spite of some rumored secret organization by Italian neo-Fascists, I have not met here in Italy anybody who believes that this country will ever go Fascist again.

They have "had it," they think, and we hope.

HERE IN FLORENCE, TOO, one is visibly reminded that Italy has not only given the whole modern world the illumination of the renaissance—but also many of the most fundamental contributions to human freedom and democratic government based on the Christian compassion.

The word Machiavelli has been bequeathed to mankind as the scientific handbook of the calculated evil which produced many harmful leaders, before it

VICTORIA REPORT

by J. K. Nesbitt

Two Venerable Newspapers in New Home—More Rooms for MLA's

VICTORIA.—This capital city hardly seems the same these days. Almost overnight, last week-end, The Colonist and The Times vanished from two prominent downtown corners in the heart of the business district.

The two papers have gone under one roof in the new Victoria Press Limited building a mile north of the business section, on Douglas Street, at Fountain Circle.

The two old newspaper buildings, a block away from each other, look hollow, empty forlorn, and Victoria can't quite get used to the desolation. No move in recent years—and there have been many in Victoria—have left quite the same void.

The Colonist and The Times are two of the most venerable newspapers in Canada. The Colonist is the senior. It was first published in a rickety, leaky waterfront shack on Wharf Street in 1858 by an eccentric character called Amor De Cosmos, who became the second premier of British Columbia.

The Times was first published in June of 1884. Mayor John Grant of Victoria put up most of the money.

Now, under one roof, the two newspapers will co-operate closely in an effort to reduce the soaring costs in the newspaper business.

MORE ROOM—MLA's are going to have more elbow room next session. Legislative corridors are being expanded so that MLA's will have more private office space to interview constituents and dictate highly confidential letters.

There's going to be extra room in the main Legislative Buildings soon as the new Douglas annex is ready in a few weeks.

Crossing the floor of the House last session of W. A. C. Bennett of South Okanagan produced Hitler and Mussolini.

But here they also produced their Savonarolas who literally gave their lives to make freedom and democracy possible. And here lived and worked Saint Francis, than whom there are few, if any, finer examples in all history.

350 Candidates Eire Election

DUBLIN—There are expected to be some 350 candidates for 147 seats in the Dail Eireann (Eire Parliament) which was dissolved last week with election called for May 30. In the last House Premier John Costello's coalition had an eleven-seat majority over Eamonn de Valera's Fianna Fail party.

Travel is Hit By Conditions

VANCOUVER.—World conditions have affected the usual heavy volume of early bookings for Alaska summer cruises. During the past three years Canadian National ships were almost fully booked by the end of February. But this year little more than half of available space on this summer's sailings between Vancouver and Skagway had been spoken for by the same period. With the demand now increasing, passenger officials of the line are optimistic that all sailings will have near capacity bookings when the tourist season commences.

Eight 10-day summer cruises between Vancouver, Prince Rupert and Skagway are scheduled for the palatial SS Prince George.

Before embarking on the regular schedule of Alaska cruises, the Prince George will be operated early in June, on a charter trip for the Oregon Journal, of Portland, third annual charter of the

THE EXPERTS Say...

STRAWBERRY FLUFF — This dessert is for Mother's Day—just as long as mother isn't the figure-watching type.

This recipe is weighed with calories. But it's good.

Ingredients: 20 marshmallows (six ounces); one cup hot milk; three-quarters cup crushed frozen strawberries; few grains salt; one cup whipping cream.

Add the marshmallows to the hot milk and stir until dissolved. Cool and add the three-quarters cup of well crushed strawberries. Chill and allow to partially set. Add a few grains of salt to the one cup whipping cream and whip until stiff. Fold the whipped cream into the chilled strawberry mixture. Pour into a refrigerator tray and freeze.

Be sure to remember that when properly cooked with moist heat the less tender cuts of meat are just as satisfying and nourishing as the more tender cuts and less expensive.

Rump or pot-roast or fresh brisket are the best buys when connecting a boiled dinner.

Lamb shanks braised and combined with vegetables make another variation of the boiled dinner. When buying lamb be sure the meat is moist but firm; the fat, creamy and slightly pink in color.

Pork also can serve as the main ingredient in the boiled dinner. Fresh, pickled or smoked hocks, picnic shoulders or cottage rolls are the best cuts. The flesh of fresh pork should be firm, fine-grained and light greyish pink in color. The fat should be clear and white.

FISH CONSUMPTION UP

As meat prices rise more families are turning to fish as a main dish. In its latest bulletin the Canadian Association of Consumers reports that every Canadian ate an average of 14 pounds of fish in 1950, an increase of 1½ pounds over the 1949 average.

While fish prices haven't climbed as much as meat prices in the last year, the association doesn't think that is the only reason Canadians are eating more fish.

"Improved methods of transportation and the better methods of handling the fish right from the boat to the consumer have made it possible for the fishing industry to offer a better quality of fish throughout most areas of the country," says the C.A.C.

COOKING TIPS

Home economists offer the following suggestions for fish cooking:

1. A piece of orange peel or a few cloves burned in another pan or on top of the stove during the cooking of fish will prevent odors.

2. Dishes which have been used in preparing fish should be washed in water to which vinegar has been added (two tablespoons to one pint of water) before washing in hot soapy water.

3. Fish odor may be removed from the hands by rubbing with salt, then rinsing in clean warm water.

Mrs. Fred Thornton returned to the city on the Camosun yesterday afternoon from a trip to Vancouver.

Regular Moose meeting, Tuesday, May 8, 8 p.m. (108c)

Mel Chapman and Larry Warner of Smithers arrived in the city by car on Saturday. They expect to spend the summer here.

Mrs. Clark McLean returned to the city on the Camosun yesterday afternoon from a trip to Vancouver. She was accompanied by Mr. McLean's mother, Mrs. G. McLean.

Be careful buying jewellery from peddlars or outside canvassers. Factories make up specials for that trade. It's hard to know qualities. Your local jeweller has standard grades and prices for well-known goods. He is always here to make adjustments and show good selections. —John Bulger, Jeweller. (108)

London Nurse Revisits City

Prince Rupert-born Gladys Hughes, a graduate of University Hospital School of Nursing in London, England, spent the week-end visiting her native city. She was the guest of Mrs. Frank Morris, an old friend of her parents.

Miss Hughes is the daughter of the late W. G. Hughes, who was killed some twenty years ago when he fell from a grain ship at the local elevator while engaged in his duties as a customs officer. Mrs. Hughes then left the city with her young son and daughter to live in London. There Miss Hughes trained for a nurse during the war.

Two years ago Miss Hughes returned to Canada and has since been nursing at Royal Jubilee Hospital in Victoria. Next month she will be leaving for Valdez, Alaska, to take a nursing position.

Asked the meaning of the word budget, one little boy replied soberly: "It's a family quarrel."

Boy Is Again Chess Champ

LONDON (C)—Malcolm Barker, 16-year-old Birmingham school-boy, has been crowned British boys' chess champion for the third consecutive year.

In a round-robin tournament against four opponents, he won three games and tied one, finishing half a point ahead of R. E. Borland, of Plymouth. The feat of winning the title three years running has been accomplished only twice before in the 26 years' history of the event.

Barker will represent England in the first world junior chess championship at Birmingham in June. Entries have already been received from Canada, Australia and Argentina and 15 other European countries are expected to be represented.

Music and Drama Festival Ends In Honor Performance

By JAY KULLANDER

Culminating a very successful three-day festival, many outstanding and representative items were presented Saturday evening at the Civic Centre in a delightful honor program. This was the fourth festival to be held in Prince Rupert—a feast of music and drama which is becoming an indispensable institution to the cultural life of this community.

J. S. Wilson acted as announcer for the evening's program. Miss Y. Larson's Grade II pupils from Borden Street School repeated their charming Action Song, "Magic Popcorn." Their singing was lovely and so well-trained were these little children that they performed their dance perfectly and with happy grace.

The Flutophone Band from Conrad Street School, trained and accompanied by J. Jenkins, gave a tuneful rendition of the "Marine's Hymn." This fine little band was always well together and in time. It was conducted by Mrs. V. Douglas.

Two young pupils of King Edward School repeated the pieces they had recited in the elocution classes.

Charming little Beverley Boulter held the audience entranced as she gave a most unique explanation of the origin of the umbrella in "The Elf and the Doormouse."

Derick Allan was very natural and entertaining as he related the sad story of "Montmorency's Mistake."

Dainty little Elizabeth Pierce danced her way into the hearts of the audience in her Dutch Dance. Mrs. Black accompanied for this number.

KETCHIKAN VIOLINISTS

The two promising young violinists from Ketchikan were heard in solo performances. Six-year-old Danny Michaelson handled his instrument like a veteran concert artist and Robert Dawson gave a sensitive performance which was warmly received. These boys are pupils of Mr. Scott of Ketchikan and were accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Freeman.

An enjoyable piano duet was performed by Anita Rogerson and Eloise Lahti.

The lovely soprano voices of Louise Mah and Inez Amadio were again pleasantly received. Miss Mah sang as her solo "Song of the Great Wall" in Chinese. Miss Amadio sang the delightful Italian aria "Il Segreto Per Essere Felici."

The charming Ladies' Trio composed of Mrs. R. G. Large, Miss Y. Larsen and Mrs. V. Roberts presented the tender lullaby "O Hush Thee My Baby." The blending of their well-matched voices was truly delightful.

Several very fine choirs were heard during the course of the evening.

A Grade V class from Borden Street School conducted by Mr. J. S. Wilson sang "Where the Bee Sucks." They achieved a very dainty mood and their words were beautiful.

A Grade VI class from King Edward School conducted by J. G. Scoe sang "The Cuckoo Song." Their light dainty tone suitably expressed the beauty of spring.

An All-Boys' Choir from the Annunciation School conducted by Father O. P. Mohan gave an effective rendering of "Jim the Carter Lad" with descant. This was an excellent number and the enthusiasm of the young singers was reflected in their faces.

The All-Girls' Choir from Booth Memorial High School conducted by Mr. F. Huber portrayed beautiful musical imagery as they sang "Come to the Fair."

St. Andrew's Church Junior Choir conducted by Peter Lien sang the beautiful anthem "O Rest in the Lord." Their lovely youthful voices portrayed reverence and devotion.

The Rotary Mixed Voice Choir, conducted by C. P. Balagno, sang the Spiritual "Can't Yo Hear Me Moanin' Lord?" This well-balanced choir achieves rich, vigorous tone. The basses keep well in tune and support the choir admirably. The sopranos have a ringing tone.

Two plays were performed Saturday evening.

UNIQUE COMEDY

The unique comedy "When Shakespeare's Ladies Meet," played by members of the Business and Professional Women's Club and directed and coached by Miss E. Holmes and Mrs. N. E. Arnold, took many liberties with Master Shakespeare's lines when unexpectedly modern idioms were inserted into the flowery speech of Medieval England.

When Portia, Katharina, Ophelia, Desdemona, and Cleopatra met to give the starry-eyed Juliet "the low-down on men" they each one ended by herself receiving advice. The players moved easily on the stage, kept well in character, and got the most out of their witty lines. The cast included Miss Honora Silversides, Mrs. Catherine Laurie, Mrs. Boulton, Miss Elizabeth Clement, Miss Elizabeth Holmes, and Mrs. Christine Worsley.

The able young players from Booth Memorial High School gave a repeat performance of "The Monkey's Paw." They handled

Mr. Muzzy dealt this hand and promptly reached for his abacus. He and his partner were still trying to beat the experts by using their new count bidding method.

Mr. Muzzy set seven beads on the top wire of the abacus for the ace and king of clubs, then two more beads for the singleton diamond. The queen of hearts brought the total count to 11, so Mr. Muzzy pulled over one bead on the second wire (each of these counts 10), and left one on the top wire. Four more for the king-jack of spades made five beads on the top wire and one on the second. Total count 15. "One club," from Mr. Muzzy.

When Mr. New bid one heart, Mr. Muzzy had to refigure his hand. Mr. Champion groaned. "Here we go again," he said, placing his head on the table and pretending to go to sleep. "Maybe that's an ADVANCED abacus you've got there," he added. "Haven't they got one for beginners?"

VALUE INCREASED

Slowly Mr. Muzzy figured that this difficult play most successfully and convincingly portrayed the tragedy and horror of the granting of the ill-advised wish. The cast included Elizabeth Martin, Stanley Kaardal, Russell Morrison, Harold Weber and Fred Christensen. This play was directed by Miss E. Ball.

The Aiyansh Silver Harmonic Band, under the expert direction of Benjamin Munro, played two well-received selections. They were the "Corcoran Cadets March" by John P. Sousa and the "Hungarian Comedy Overture."

There were many items on the evening's program and very many participants but so skillfully was it handled that each item was presented without a pause. And the warmth with which each number was received attested to the enjoyment of the audience.

PRESIDENT HONORED

At the close of the concert, Mrs. Earl Becker, President of the Music and Drama Festival Association, was called to the stage to receive a bouquet of beautiful flowers as a token of appreciation for her excellent leadership and direction throughout this very successful festival. The presentation was made by Rudolph Olson on behalf of the members of the executive and the Association.

Replying to this tribute, Mrs. Becker thanked the executive and members of the Association for their co-operation and the great amount of work they have done.

The Association is representative of many groups and organizations in the city.

Members of this year's executive are:

An ardent Princetonian was defending his alma mater against the critical banterings of a group of friends. Challenged to cite examples of Princeton's superior virtues, he exclaimed: "Why, you can take any subject, anything at all, and prove my point. For instance," turning to his chief heckler, "punctuated this sentence: 'The voluptuous blonde clad only in a negligee strolled slowly past my door.'"

"That's simple," the rival witness blurted, "because after the period after 'door.'"

"There you are," the triumphant rejoinder. "I mean, at Princeton, make a dash after the 'ous' blonde!"

Justice Macfarlane directed the jury to bring back one of three verdicts—guilty of mur- der, manslaughter, or acquittal. He then explained the meaning of murder and manslaughter. Defence Counsel Brown asked that "acquittal" also be explain- ed to the jury.

FOUR DAY TRIAL

The verdict came on the fourth day, after long hours of testi- mony from 30 witnesses.

Saturday morning both counsel addressed the jury. Address of T. W. Brown, K.C., defending the case, called on the body of 12 men to "consider strongly" four mysteries which had not been solved.

What happened to money in Lorraine's purse? Ryan had sworn she must have had $30 left after he gave her $125 for Christ- mas shopping.

What significance had the lights on the boat which, accord- ing to two witnesses, "went on and off" after Lorraine's body was found and Ryan was in bed.

Where were men during the tragedy who were conspicuously absent while most of the village was down at the wharf?

How were the burns received by Lorraine Tait? Mr. Brown contended some of them would have come from hot-water bot- tles used in attempts to revive Miss Tait but there were burns on the body which must have come from somewhere else. Evi- dence given showed there was nothing on the Westerly which could have caused the burns. Mr. Brown told the jury.

CROWN'S SUMMATION

Gilbert Hogg, crown prosecu- tor, called testimony of Ryan that he had "blacked out" on the way to Port Simpson, a fantastic story.

He emphasized that Ruth Wes- ley and Ruby Dudoward, who said they saw Ryan on the drift- ing boat in the harbor and had heard screams and noise of scuffle on the boat, were the "most important witnesses in this case."

He said the crown contended that Ryan beat up Lorraine Tait on the Westerly between 9 and 10 p.m., December 23, 1950, then threw her overboard or left her in such a condition that she fell overboard.

All spectator seats were filled and many people were standing.

DEFENCE WITNESSES

Clara Mather, a cousin of the accused, was one of the last de- fence witnesses. She said she saw lights "going off and on" on the drifting boat after seeing the body of Lorraine on the beach, shortly before it was taken to the council house.

Lydia Webster, the accused's mother, testified through an in- terpreter, William Beynon.

She said Ryan had come home late. He was wet and his eyes "looked strange." He looked drunk, for he was reeling, and he went straight to his bed- room. He remained there until police came, she said. She said she had no idea of the times.

Mrs. Webster said Alfred Wes- ley had told her Ryan was back from Prince Rupert. It had been after the "children went to bed." It was a long time after that Ryan had come home.

She said she was in the kitchen with two other women when the police came. The material burn- ing in the stove, she said was Lorraine's housecoat.

BURNING CLOTHES

The housecoat had been hang- ing near the stove and it had moved, she said. She had been advised by the other two women to burn it for the spirit of Lor- raine had come to touch it and now it should be burned.

D. A. W. Large, called by the defence, said an injury to the head followed by the intake of alcohol could result in delirium and unintentional actions. It was well known to medicine, he said, that small amounts of alcohol would affect strongly some one with head injuries.

He said he had examined the accused and found a bump on his head the size of his small finger- nail, where Ryan told him he had been hurt last year when he struck his head on a bolt.

Dr. Large said it was within the realm of possibility that dizzy spells, claimed by the accused, could have been caused by his former head injuries.

Haig Heads Footballers

SEASON TO START MAY 14

Election of officers for the 1950 season took place at the annual meeting of the Prince Rupert Football Association yesterday afternoon and tentative plans were laid for commencing playing a regular schedule on Monday, May 14.

J. S. Wilson presided and briefly reviewed the accom- plishments of last year.

Thanks were extended to the sponsors of the teams, to the merchants who donated tro- phies to the referees and to Alex Haig and Jock Davidson who so often marked out the playing grounds.

Mr. Wilson declined re-nomi- nation as president. He did so with regret but stated that he had not the time to give to the work of the position though he would always do everything pos- sible to help.

In accepting Mr. Wilson's re- fusal to continue in office, Alex Haig stated that the members did so with great regret. There was probably no one person who had done so much for football in Prince Rupert as Mr. Wilson both in the days of the Junior Football League, of which or- ganization Mr. Wilson had been chairman for 13 years, as a player and as a senior execu- tive. It was unanimously agreed that Mr. Wilson be elected as honorary president. In accept- ing this position, Mr. Wilson said he felt honored by the kindly thoughts of the members.

The new slate of officers is:
Honorary president—J. S. Wilson.
President—Alex Haig.
Vice-president—Darrow Go- mez.
Treasurer—Jock Davidson.
Secretary—Ralph P. Smith.

The executive will be com- pleted with the addition of a representative of each team.

The parks board has been re- quested to put the grounds in shape.

Correspondence has been started with a view to arrang- ing a game with HMCS Ontario which is to visit Prince Rupert on June 20. Games with native teams will be continued and there is talk of football being put in active swing at Terrace. They have a fine grass pitch there.

An invitation is being extend- ed to any newcomers to town who are footballers to get in touch with team representatives so that positions will be found for them on some teams.

Baseball Annual Meeting Re-set

Annual meeting of the Prince Rupert Baseball Association, which was to have been held on Friday night, was postponed on account of many other activities that night and is now called for this Tuesday evening when plans will be made for the coming season's league play.

TERRACE TOPICS

Following his resignation as director of the Terrace Civic Centre, Nick Schmeling has left Terrace. George Haugland is temporarily in charge of the bowling alleys and canteen. President Darrall Collins was authorized to try and find a part time janitor for the building.

The Red Cross campaign for funds is officially closed in Terrace. The district is $400 short of its quota of $1800.

The acute shortage of water to residents on Eby Road has been remedied for some of them with the installation and testing of the newly laid water pipes as far as Loen corner and Walsh road. Wood & McClay are the contractors for the work.

George G. Vincent, representative of the Aluminum Company of Canada Ltd., is making a visit to this district.

The local canvassers for the Conquer Cancer Campaign drive who have not yet completed their canvassing are being asked to finish as soon as possible so that the drive can be closed here. The district has more than doubled its quota of $200.

Mrs. J. Schultz accompanied Mr. and Mrs. George McAdams on their trip south at the beginning of last week. Her son, Charley Agar, has been a patient in the Shaughnessy Military Hospital in Vancouver for over a month.

The gravel sidewalk on the south side of Lakeside Avenue has been completed and the school children are being urged to use it instead of walking on the road.

Mr. F. Tetreault and daughter Agnes left on Thursday morning's train for Winnipeg.

Parker Mills has returned to Terrace from the University of British Columbia. He was met on Wednesday at Prince Rupert by Dr. and Mrs. Stanley Mills.

Other students returning to Terrace from the University of British Columbia are Alan Dubeau, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Dubeau, and David Gillanders, son of Alec and Mrs. Gillanders.

Mrs. C. R. Newhouse returned to Terrace by bus on Friday from Prince Rupert where she attended the Music and Drama Festival. Accompanying her were her son Tommy and daughter, Marilyn, and Judy Spicer, participants in the Festival.

The monthly meeting of the Terrace Branch of the Canadian Red Cross in the nurses' lounge of the Outpost Hospital was called off due to the lack of a quorum.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Becker of Prince Rupert were visitors to Terrace last week-end, driving in by car from the coast.

Taxation Drove Him to Death?

SASKATOON (C)—The body of 67-year-old Kaspar Beck was found hanging in the garage at his Allan district home, thirty miles southeast of here.

The death of the father of seventeen children recalled his unsuccessful three-year battle with the income tax department over an income tax debt of $28,634.

Federal authorities seized 24 quarter sections of his land and sold it by public auction last October in an effort to liquidate the tax debt. Only $22,100 was realized from the sale of land valued at some $100,000. Some land sold for as little as $100 for a quarter section.

Prince Robert House Not Sold

VICTORIA.—Sale of Prince Robert House, formerly used as a sailors' hostel at Douglas and Courtney Streets, for an offered figure of $48,000 was turned down by the city council last week after the finance committee had recommended its acceptance.

The offer of $48,000 was made some time ago by the firm of Ker & Stephenson Ltd. on behalf of the Carliwood Trading Company, which represents the interests of Woodward's department stores.

It is understood that Woodward's planned to erect a department store on the central site, which is immediately opposite the single-storey building now in a state of completion and which the company will operate as a specialty shop.

It is expected that the matter of the disposal of Prince Robert House will be given further consideration by city council at a later date.

Highway Problems Anticipated

TERRACE.—Possibility of an overhead crossing for the Skeena bridge was discussed at Wednesday night's meeting of the Terrace and District Board of Trade as well as the removal of the rock bluffs east of town at the approach to the bridge. With developments taking place rapidly in the Kitimat area it was suggested that a constant flow of heavy traffic will be using the bridge and some such course will be needed to obviate traffic breakdowns. These matters will be brought to the attention of the Hon. E. C. Carson, minister of public works.

The department will also be asked to consider a resolution that "as the economy of the electoral district of Skeena east from Cedarvale is farming and mining and that west of Cedarvale is industrial and tied in with the industrial economy of Prince Rupert, the Terrace and District Board of Trade requests that serious consideration be given to the re-organization of the public works services and projects with the object of integrating the territory from Cedarvale west so as to meet the industrial situation of Prince Rupert, Terrace and Kitimat and that direct control of this industrial area be in the hands of the public works engineer in the City of Prince Rupert, Terrace to be in the hands of an experienced graduate engineer assistant to the Prince Rupert engineer and stationed at Terrace." A copy of this motion will be sent to the Hon. E. T. Kenney.

A list of expenditures and projects for the Terrace district will be asked for and a suggestion made that the building of the Spring Creek bridge be let out on contract.

Further to the roads situation, the Board decided to notify the district engineer at Smithers that the highway signs have still not been erected although the department had advised, some time ago, that they had been sent to the district.

ELECTRICIAN NEEDED

Lloyd Vallee, chairman of the utilities committee, suggested that the inspector of electrical energy be advised that there is a shortage of electricians in Terrace, there being only one Class B man living here. He further requested that no house wiring should be allowed without the necessary permit and that only a qualified electrician or the owner of the property be allowed to do such wiring, such wiring to be inspected on the monthly visit of the inspector to town.

Duncan Kerr spoke of the inaugural flight of Central B.C. Airways which had been made earlier in the day. The plane had been met by members of the council of the Board of Trade and other citizens. It had been suggested earlier in the meeting that the board support the obtaining of the necessary equipment for the purpose of keeping the airport open all the year round and for the maintenance of this equipment at the airport.

The agricultural committee was asked to make inquiries concerning the removal of the attendant in charge of the Illustration Station.

A temporary housing committee was formed to look into the matter of the out-of-town finance company which wishes to come into the district and make available mortgages for the building of homes here.

The regular monthly meeting was held in the Credit Union hall and progressed to a late hour. President Alec. Gillanders and vice-president H. Philip were sworn into office by Stipendiary Magistrate Will Robinson.

House Backs Tax Boosts

OTTAWA (CP)—A resolution that included all of the commodity tax changes in the budget was adopted by standing vote in Parliament late last week.

Two of these were under heavy opposition fire—the new 15 per cent excise tax on stoves, washing machines and refrigerators and the increase in general sales tax from ten per cent to eight per cent.

Solon Low, Social Credit leader, warned that he and his group were prepared to remain in the capital until Christmas if necessary in their fight against the general sales tax increase.

Ross Thatcher (CCF-Moose Jaw) sponsored an attempt to kill the sales tax and excise tax provisions. He moved that provision for the hike in the sales tax be deleted.

The committee chairman, Rene Beaudoin, ruled the motion was out of order. It would upset the government's budgetary calculations.

Mr. Thatcher appealed and Mr. Beaudoin's ruling was upheld by a formal vote of 112 to 40.

First Halibut Landings—New Freighter in Port

Up to Saturday about 525,000 pounds of halibut had been landed at Prince Rupert since the opening of the 1951 fishing season on May 1, it is officially stated. Most of the fish was landed by packers from camps in the Squadaree area.

First session on the Fish Exchange was held Friday when prices opened at 13 cents to 18.5 cents, considerably lower than last year's phenomenally high average prices. B.C. Packers, Canadian Fishing Co. and Prince Rupert Fishermen's Co-operative Association received packed fish from the camps. Packers Ogden and Azurite were in to Co-op Friday with 9000 and 1000 pounds of halibut respectively, and 3000 pounds of spring salmon.

Friday's individual landings, all Canadian, were:
Relief, 18,000; Embla, 14,000, and Rupert 60, 2500. Bacon took the first catch and Atlin the second two.

Larry H., 12,000; Cape Spear, 12,000, and North Cap 13,000, to Co-op.

Passengers sailing south for Vancouver last night aboard the steamer Coquitlam included M. B. Sutherland, Miss M. Lindsay, Mr. and Mrs. McArthur, Mrs. C. F. Graham and son, Daniel Jasper, A. Pickering and George Tullis. Mark Gormely was a passenger for Butedale.

Capt. John Campbell brought Frank Waterhouse freighter Yukon Princess, north last week on her first trip after the maiden run last month. She was converted recently to West Coast service. Yukon Princess, formerly on an East Coast run, is owned by Canadian Pacific Steamships, but under charter to the operating company.

She discharged five trucks and one passenger car in Prince Rupert and a swivel crane for Canadian Fishing Company Ltd. At the drydock, the freighter unloaded nine tons of wire rope, chokers, and a 12-ton donkey with a 20-ton sled for Columbia Cellulose Company.

She proceeded to Skagway with 1400 tons of cargo, including a steel ferry power-barge for use on the Yukon River. The barge was loaded in sections on the deck, and lashed down with straps of iron spot-welded to the deck.

Other cargo for Skagway was made up of building materials, whisky, beer, 10 passenger cars, three trucks and one jeep.

The freighter will load 300 tons of concentrate ore for United Keno mines and 20 tons of silver-lead ore from Mayo.

At Stewart, southbound, 400 tons of bulk zinc concentrates will be loaded and 220 tons of lead ore from Silbak-Premier mines.

Four hundred tons of fish meal will be taken on board at Butedale.

The Yukon Princess will be on regular runs now with about two trips north a month.
