Effective Allied Offensive In West Korea

United Nations Strikes Out; Towns Taken

SEOUL (CP) — Allied forces struck out today in a sudden offensive on the eastern front. Tank-infantry teams, by nightfall, advanced 12 miles and captured three towns—Osan, Gangsang and Chon. Gen. Collins, United States chief of staff, said troop movements will begin to flow into Korea in two or three days. He added at a press conference during his fourth day in the Korean theatre that regular army divisions will be sent.

Regular Guard units will be sent into service. Replacements for American troops are already going to the front.

Canadians To Ease Up RCAF Requirements

OTTAWA—(CP) Government economists predict belt-tightening for Canada this year though the country is expected to produce a record $20,000,000,000 in goods and services.

Rapid expansion of production would normally lead to an increase in the standard of living. However, with Russian-backed Communist aggression, prospect of increased standards is dim, economists say.

"Red Witch" Given Life

AUGSBURG, Germany 1—Eusebius Koch was today sentenced to life imprisonment for causing murder of Buchenwald concentration camp prisoners.

The "Red Witch of Buchenwald"—44 years old—was convicted of crimes against Austrian and German prisoners of the Nazis.

The red-haired widow of the camp's wartime Nazi commander was not in court to hear the verdict.

Manager of B.C. Pulp and Paper

TORONTO—(CP) Leslie Cleminson was today appointed general manager of the British Columbia Pulp & Paper Co., with headquarters in Vancouver.

The appointment was announced today by D. W. Ambridge, president of the Abitibi Pulp & Paper Co., who is also president of B.C. Pulp & Paper.

Eighteen persons were rescued from a fiery death, ten by a heroic stewardess who perished herself after making several trips into the burning plane to rescue passengers.

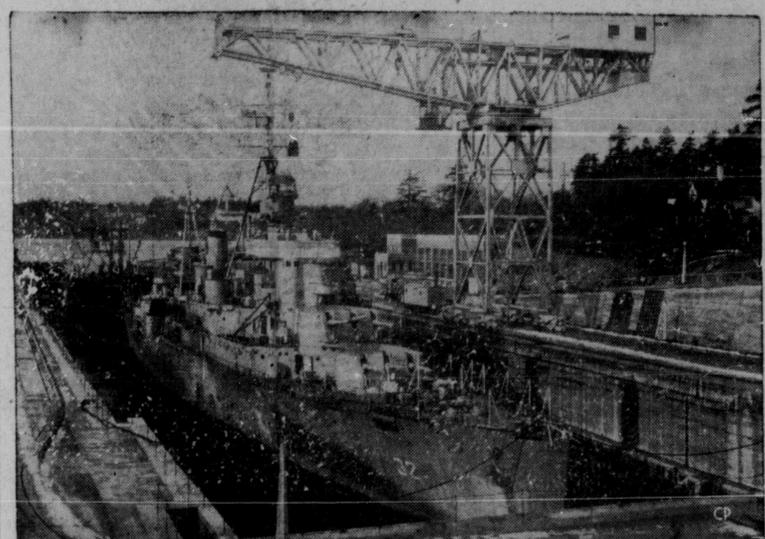

The DC-4 skidded on the ice-sheathed runway and smashed through a picket fence.

Gasoline sprayed over the 200-yard area.

Quiet Week-end For City Police

The week-end was a quiet one for the police. One man was arrested Saturday. He was charged with drunkenness. Otherwise no arrests were made, it was reported by police this morning.

Streets were extremely slippery but no major accidents in traffic were reported.

NAVY READIES BIG O—Now completing refit at the Esquimalt naval base, the cruiser Ontario will sail Feb. 19 for the Antipodes on a 15-week training cruise with units of the Australian Navy. The 9,000-ton ship is expected to call at Pearl Harbor enroute to Australia and may also visit New Zealand. It will be the first time a Canadian warship has visited Australia. She has a complement of 700 men under the command of Commodore H. F. Pullen. (CP PHOTO)

Logs By Rail To Pulp Mill

TERRACE—Since January 5 local trucks have been hauling logs from John Hagen's camp at Remo to the old army spur at Terrace. From there, the logs will be shipped by rail to the cellulose plant at Watson Island.

After Huge Take, Kitkatla Inlet Is Still Full of Fish

Fifty thousand tons of herring taken from the same half-mile-square hole at Kitkatla Inlet have made no noticeable difference in the number of fish there, according to reports from the fisheries office here.

First Cargo of Sulphur Is Delivered At Watson Island

The 4,375-ton Panamanian freighter Santa Ana, Capt. Jasson Nicolakis, first of the boats to bring sulphur to the new Columbia Cellulose mill at Watson Island, arrived in port yesterday afternoon from Los Angeles. She will be docked there for the best part of this week.

The Santa Ana is the first of six such ships to come to Watson Island within the next month.

Great War Chest—$471 Per Person

WASHINGTON, D.C. (CP)—President Truman today laid down a $71,594,000,000 spending budget for the United States government and declared that sound policy requires taxes be increased $16,456,000,000 to balance it.

"This is a budget for our national security in a period of grave danger," Truman told the new Congress which will have full say on the new taxes and is expected to give at least some of the President's plans a rough ride.

The huge expenditure which Truman proposes for the fiscal year starting July 1—more than half of which would go to the military—figures out to about $471 for every one of some 152,000,000 men, women and children in the United States.

If Truman has his way just about that same amount will be collected from the average citizen although some of it will, of course, be in the form of hidden taxes.

The budget proposes a $7,461,000,000 outlay for military and economic aid to friendly foreign countries, compared with $4,726,000,000 this year, and $1,277,000,000 to enlarge output of "atomic materials and weapons" which would soon be on mass production scale in this country.

BATH, Somerset, England—Police here were puzzled by housebreakers who entered two homes, flung jewels of considerable value on the floor and left without taking anything.

Developing Of Alaska

WASHINGTON, D.C. (CP)—President Truman said today that the 12 months beginning July 1 will see continued emphasis on development of natural resources in Alaska.

Major items for Alaska include $21,000,000 for roads, $20,000,000 for Alaska railroad, $10,000,000 for 31 public works projects and $5,761,400 for the Eklutna reclamation project.

Expenditures for military, public works, communication system and Indian service in Alaska were not itemized in the budget.

Freight Rates Case Deferred

OTTAWA—(CP)—The Board of Transport Commissioners today deferred until March 5 its general freight rate inquiry after eight provinces had objected to goin gauead with public hearings now.

Postponement was ordered after the eight provinces—all except Ontario and Quebec—had asked that the hearings be delayed until the report of the Royal Commission on transportation has been received by the government.

Chief aim of the Board's inquiry is to devise a plan of equalizing freight rates as between different regions of Canada.

The Canadian Pacific Railway had prepared suggestions for equalization to be presented today but they were withdrawn when the Board decided to delay hearings.

$100,000 Fire Alberta Mine

CARDIFF, Alberta (CP)—The $100,000 tippie was destroyed by fire Saturday night at the Sundance coal mine at Cardiff, 18 miles northwest of Edmonton.

The fifty men employed at the mine are temporarily out of work. The owners plan to move to an old tippie so that production can be resumed.

INTERIOR TOWN ENTHUSIASTIC—Terrace Progress Reviewed At Trade Bd. Annual Meet.

Home For Aged and Experimental Station 1950 Accomplishments—Applewhite Speaks of War Danger

TERRACE.—Problems, affecting the Terrace district and community and progress that had been made in their solving were reviewed and reports indicating the advancement that community and district had made in 1950 from the standpoint of industrial development, all leading up to an exceedingly cheerful outlook for the future, were highlights of a typically enthusiastic annual meeting of the Terrace and District Board of Trade which was held last Friday night at the new hotel at the east end of the town.

C. J. Norrington, who was an active president of the board during the past year, was in the chair, turning over before the close to Alex Gillanders, who was elected to the presidency during the meeting.

Speaker of the evening was E. T. Applewhite, M.P. for Skeena, who chose to deal with the international situation with brief reference before closing to some local matters on which he reiterated assurance of his full interest and attention. Other guests were W. J. Scott, president of the Associated Boards of Trade of Central British Columbia, who spoke appropriately, and G. A. Hunter, who brought the greetings of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce.

E. T. APPLEWHITE, M.P.
"The vital question of today," said Mr. Applewhite, "was how great was the risk of a major war." The situation was "frightfully dangerous." Maybe open war with Communist China might be the result, this leading to war with Soviet Russia. It was still necessary to find a

Smallpox In Britain

LONDON—(CP) British health authorities, wrestling with one of the worst flu epidemics on record, took urgent steps today against an even more dreaded menace—smallpox.

Twenty-eight cases are now reported in South England and the death toll from smallpox mounted to eight on Saturday.

A grocery clerk in Brighton caught the disease. The Health Ministry ordered the shop closed with orders that foodstuffs which had been exposed to any risk be destroyed. Ration books linked with the shop were also destroyed.

Still Await God's Message

KEREMEOS—(CP)—Determined remnants of "Children of Light" kept up their marathon vigil last night.

Thirteen members, who went into self-confinement nearly three weeks ago, are still awaiting an end of the world "message from God." They continue prayer and hymn-singing and give no indication of quitting.

Two unidentifiable persons came from the six-room cottage Saturday night.

The meeting started December 26 with a group of 35 including men, women and children.

Thomas Johnson, Fisherman, Dies

The funeral of a Prince Rupert fisherman, Thomas Johnson, 73, will be held tomorrow at Grenville Court. Officiating at the service will be Rev. E. Solland.

Mr. Johnson, who until entering hospital lived at 142 Third Ave. East, died last Thursday after a prolonged illness.

Besides working in city hotels, Mr. Johnson was a seaman on both the Atlantic and Pacific coasts.

Before living here for 38 years, he came to Canada from his native Denmark in 1892. He fished out of Halifax prior to moving to the west coast.

There are no next-of-kin in the city.

Water Evaporates And Fire Starts

Water evaporates. Such was the discovery of Acme Importers when a pair of towels left on the stove boiled dry Sunday morning.

The fire department was called out at 9:50 a.m. yesterday to the company office in the Exchange Block at the corner of Third Avenue and Sixth Street by the tenant upstairs. Smoke was reported coming up through the floor.

When firemen arrived on the scene, they found the door locked and no one around to open it. They had to force entrance. Inside the office they found the towels smoking in a pall which had boiled dry.

Byron Nelson Has Comeback

PEBBLE BEACH, CAL.—(CP) A Texas rancher, Byron Nelson, once "Mr. Big" of golf, thrilled more than 15,000 fans yesterday by winning the $10,000 Bing Crosby gold tournament with a 54-hole score of 209. He put together rounds of 71-77-71 to top a powerful field.

The victory meant $2000 to Nelson but the money was only incidental to the par-cracking ace who once spread-eagled the golfing world. He was the boss man once more if only for this tournament.

Stan Leonard of Vancouver was well down on the list with a total of 223 on rounds 76-70 and 77.

In the pro-amateur best-ball division, Leonard and Bill Mahinney of Vancouver scored 71-66-71 for 208, also well behind the leaders.

AWAIT GOD'S MESSAGE—Thirty-five persons clad in white, calling themselves "Children of Light" held a vigil in this grey ranch-house awaiting a "message from God." They went into seclusion in this fruit farm cottage at Keremeos, B.C., 150 miles east of Vancouver, Dec. 26. Mrs. Grace Carlson, grey-haired leader, said: "We hope to meet with God, but we don't know in what form." (CP PHOTO)

D.D.G.M. To Install I.O.O.F. Officers Berlin Pictured In 'The Big Lift'

Len Garner will be installed as noble grand of the local branch of district No. 25 Independent Order of Oddfellows this Sunday in the I.O.O.F. Hall. District Deputy Grand Master Harry King, will arrive on tonight's train from Terrace with John Barman, Syd Beecher, T. Bailey and J. R. Smith. Besides Mr. Garner, those installed by Mr. King will be Harry Quick, vice-grand; Joseph DeJorne, treasurer; Tex Ketcheson,

An insight into the Berlin of today is given in "The Big Lift," Twentieth Century-Fox's tribute to the Berlin Airlift, which comes to the Capitol Theatre Sunday midnight. Filmed on location in the German capital, director George Seaton was greatly impressed with the bleak drama that the city represented.

"The backdrop of this blasted city is the most dramatic scene against which any man could ever pose a story," he comments. "A city without trees, without facilities, without cleanliness and order, seems also to be a city without light or sunshine.

"Unbelievable living conditions—people huddled in holes under piles of old masonry; quartered like prairie dogs beneath the ground and the sullen demeanor such living produces: these things gave us the drama we desired."

Labor Infractions Reported In City

The regular monthly meeting of the Trades & Labour Council was held Thursday evening in the Carpenters' Hall, Fraser St.

Among correspondence was a copy of a brief presented to the government by the four major labor groups in Canada asking for the imposition of price controls and the retention of rent controls. As further information on this matter was to be released in the near future it was agreed to delay action until the next meeting.

Infractions of the labor laws that were reported taking place in the city were ordered to be taken up with the labor department.

Report of unions showed very few unemployed considering it was the slack period of the year and the majority reported a healthy state of organization.

Election of officers resulted as follows:

- President—J. S. Black.
- Vice-president—Tom Andrechuk.
- Secy.—Treas.—E. A. Evans.
- Executive—Wm. Brett, Jack Mulrony, George Anderson.

There was a very good turnout of delegates from eleven affiliated unions.

London Coiffeur To Show Styles

By MURIEL NARRAWAY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP)—A London hairdresser will be guest of honor at the 1951 American Convention of Hairdressers.

The favor falls on London coiffeur, Raymond, the man who favors the shorter styles.

From the very first short-cut, Raymond has said: "Keep it short." This led to heated controversy between him and his closest rival—Steiner—who says: "Short hair is not feminine."

Over a long period, British newspaper columnists have followed with interest the fierce arguments between these two, on the latest and most feminine length.

Raymond, however, takes to New York styles that measure only two inches at the nape—"from where the last hair grows"—and from three to six inches from a central parting.

FOR TEEN-AGERS
One style, suitable to teenagers, is parted in the middle and swept smoothly back with soft ringlets added high on the crown well back from the face. These are tied by narrow "baby" bows of black velvet.

A smooth cap-shape with soft curl at the nape, has attached halo-roll twined by narrow black velvet ribbon studded with jet. The roll is finished by earphone curls on either side.

For women with long faces, the London line will be flat on top with a polished look," said Raymond. "It will be built up in front with jutting side-pieces for women with round, plump faces." Another variation is a fringed "Anna May Wong" look.

Raymond believes his theme suitable to every woman—young, old, tall, short, fat or thin. The adaptability lies in the number of pieces that may be added, false curls, emphasizing good points and softening bad ones.

Back in London. However, Steiner will be showing his "longer short," a style with brow curl, giving height, sides drawn smoothly back to a double curl-cluster low on the nape. For evening wear, a spindly wreath of tiny ivy leaves adds softness and charm.

To give less height on the brow, Steiner uses soft curls, cuffs swept smoothly back and the sides are brushed back in a deep wave that tucks under a figure-eight chignon of false hair on the nape.

Pets of the waterfront near Cow Bay for the past few months have been two otters, which have made the floats at the Prince Rupert Yacht and Rowing Club their headquarters. They have been cavorting around the floats and water between the Standard Oil Company wharf and the Cow Bay floats.

Fur dealing is slowing down now after a good run at the first of the year. Mink skins have passed their peak and are seeping. It has been a good season, though, with about $75,000 having been paid out by local buyers. Scotty Reid was in this week with 25 mink skins.

Thursday afternoon saw the first salmon trolled of the season in the harbor. He made the odd catch, too.

Effective Allied Offensive In West Korea

United Nations Strikes Out; Towns Taken

SEOUL (CP) — Allied forces struck out today in a sudden offensive on the western front. Tank-infantry teams, by nightfall, advanced 12 miles and captured three towns—Osan, Ansan and Chon.

The attack by the army, which had been in retreat since late December, came only a few days after Gen. J. Lawton Collins' Fifth Air Force with its 15th Army Air Division "will stay and fight" in Korea.

Collins, United States Army chief of staff, said troop movements will begin to flow into Korea in two or three days. He added at a press conference during his fourth visit to the Korean theatre that: "Regular army divisions will be replaced by American Air Corps units already going to Korea."

Warplanes lashed at Suwon today with blazing one-two-three B-26 bombers roared down on the airport city 20 miles south of Seoul, bombing strafing enemy troops and tanks. Then fighter-bombers came low, rocketing and manning the fleeing Reds.

The columns took part in a drive and got as close as Seoul.

Ease Up RCAF Requirements

OTTAWA — The Royal Canadian Air Force announced today that entrance requirements for men enlisting as ground crew "have been altered considerably" in an effort to solve one of the worst shortages facing the armed forces.

The new standards are virtually those which would apply in wartime.

The educational requirement is now fixed at Grade Eight for all ground crew recruits. Their age limits are being raised from 30 to 40 and aptitude and classification tests are being eased.

Shortage of groundcrew is possibly the most serious manpower obstacle confronting the Royal Canadian Air Force plan to triple its operational and training activities this year.

After Huge Take, Kitkatla Inlet Is Still Full of Fish

Fifty thousand tons of herring taken from the same half-mile-square hole at Kitkatla Inlet have made no noticeable difference in the number of fish there, according to reports from the fisheries office here.

Echo sounder pictures taken of the area after the 20,000 ton extension to the 30,000 ton quota had been caught showed fish from the surface to the bottom for a stretch of over half a mile.

J. A. Lanigan, Dominion Government biologist, who has spent the past week on the grounds, says he doubts if there were ever so many fish taken from any small area of any ocean in one day.

Capt. C. W. Earnshaw of the fisheries patrol vessel Howay backs up Mr. Lanigan's statement. They were referring to 6,500 tons taken from Gasboat Passage last Monday. In addition, an estimated 1,500 tons were taken from Barkley Sound in the central sub-division the same day.

"A phenomenal week of fishing was the way the Howay's first officer, Jack McEvoy, described it. He said he had spent many years on local waters without seeing anything like it. Wire-less Operator Joe Fenton was kept busy receiving reports.

Seiners were queued up waiting for their turn to go in for a set. There was room for about three boats in the passage at one time. Seventy packers, many of them towing scows, were lined up waiting to take the huge catch away. Sets averaged from 300 to 400 tons each.

Capt. Earnshaw and Mr. Lanigan were sent out with full authority to close down fishing at any moment if they saw stocks were becoming unduly depleted. They did not once have to invoke their authority. Fishing in the school at Gasboat Passage has been declared finished for the year. "It's better to call off fishing while there are still lots of herring," Capt. Earnshaw said, "than to take a chance on not having enough left for seeding."

Capt. Earnshaw is a great conservationist but, in spite of the extraordinary quantities of fish taken from the school at Kitkatla, neither he nor Mr. Lanigan saw any need for closing down fishing. However, neither thinks there should be any more taken from that school.

Neither companies nor union have applied for an additional extension of the quota at Gasboat Passage, but it is quite likely that, if herring are found in quantity anywhere else in the northern sub-district, there will be applications made. If they are made, fisheries department officials said today, they will "receive consideration." But there is no guarantee the extension will be allowed. To date, no application has been made.

Developing Of Alaska

WASHINGTON, D.C. — President Truman said today that the 12 months beginning July 1 will see continued emphasis on development of natural resources in Alaska.

Major items for Alaska include $21,000,000 for roads, $20,000,000 for Alaska railroad, $10,000,000 for 31 public works projects and $5,761,400 for the Eklutna reclamation project.

Expenditures for military, public works, communication system and Indian service in Alaska were not itemized in the budget.

Freight Rates Case Deferred

OTTAWA — The Board of Transport Commissioners today deferred until March 5 its general freight rate inquiry after eight provinces had objected to goin g ahead with public hearings now.

Postponement was ordered after the eight provinces—all except Ontario and Quebec—had asked that the hearings be delayed until the report of the Royal Commission on transportation has been received by the government.

Chief aim of the Board's inquiry is to devise a plan of equalizing freight rates as between different regions of Canada.

The Canadian Pacific Railway had prepared suggestions for equalization to be presented today but they were withdrawn when the Board decided to delay hearings.

$100,000 Fire Alberta Mine

CARDIFF, Alberta — The $100,000 tippie was destroyed by fire Saturday night at the Sundance coal mine at Cardiff, 18 miles northwest of Edmonton.

The fifty men employed at the mine are temporarily out of work. The owners plan to move to an old tippie so that production can be resumed.

Smallpox In Britain

LONDON — British health authorities, wrestling with one of the worst flu epidemics on record, took urgent steps today against an even more dreaded menace—smallpox.

Twenty-eight cases are now reported in South England and the death toll from smallpox mounted to eight on Saturday.

A grocery clerk in Brighton caught the disease. The Health Ministry ordered the shop closed with orders that foodstuffs which had been exposed to any risk be destroyed. Ration books linked with the shop were also destroyed.

Still Await God's Message

KEREMEOS — Determined remnants of "Children of Light" kept up their marathon vigil last night.

Thirteen members, who went into self-confinement nearly three weeks ago, are still awaiting an end of the world "message from God." They continue prayer and hymn-singing and give no indication of quitting.

Two unidentifiable persons came from the six-room cottage Saturday night.

The meeting started December 26 with a group of 35 including men, women and children.

Thomas Johnson, Fisherman, Dies

The funeral of a Prince Rupert fisherman, Thomas Johnson, 73, will be held tomorrow at Grenville Court, officiating at the service will be Rev. E. Soland.

Mr. Johnson, who until entering hospital lived at 142 Third Ave. East, died last Thursday after a prolonged illness.

Besides working in city hotels, Mr. Johnson was a seaman on both the Atlantic and Pacific coasts.

Before living here for 38 years, he came to Canada from his native Denmark in 1892. He fished out of Halifax prior to moving to the west coast.

There are no next-of-kin in the city.

Truman Presents Largest Budget Yet

WASHINGTON, D.C. (CP) — President Truman today laid down a $71,594,000,000 spending budget for the United States government and declared that sound policy requires taxes be increased $16,456,000,000 to balance it.

"This is a budget for our national security in a period of grave danger," Truman told the new Congress which will have full say on the new taxes and is expected to give at least some of the President's plans a rough ride.

The huge expenditure which Truman proposes for the fiscal year starting July 1—more than half of which would go to the military—figures out to about $471 for every one of some 152,000,000 men, women and children in the United States.

If Truman has his way just about that same amount will be collected from the average citizen although some of it will, of course, be in the form of hidden taxes.

The budget proposes a $7,461,000,000 outlay for military and economic aid to friendly foreign countries, compared with $4,726,000,000 this year, and $1,277,000,000 to enlarge output of "atomic materials and weapons" which would soon be on mass production scale in this country.

BATH, Somerset, England — Police here were puzzled by housebreakers who entered two homes, flung jewels of considerable value on the floor and left without taking anything.

Water Evaporates And Fire Starts

Water evaporates. Such was the discovery of Acme Importers when a pall of towels left on the stove boiled dry Sunday morning.

The fire department was called out at 9:30 a.m. yesterday to the company office in the Exchange Block at the corner of Third Avenue and Sixth Street by the tenant upstairs. Smoke was reported coming up through the floor.

When firemen arrived on the scene, they found the door locked and no one around to open it. They had to force entrance. Inside the office they found the towels smoking in a pall which had boiled dry.

Byron Nelson Has Comeback

PEBBLE BEACH, CAL. — A Texas rancher, Byron Nelson, once "Mr. Big" of golf, thrilled more than 15,000 fans yesterday by winning the $10,000 Bing Crosby gold tournament with a 54-hole score of 209. He put together rounds of 71-67-71 to top a powerful field.

The victory meant $2000 to Nelson but the money was only incidental to the par-cracking ace who once spread-eagled the golfing world. He was the boss man once more if only for this tournament.

Stan Leonard of Vancouver was well down on the list with a total of 223 on rounds 76-70 and 77.

In the pro-amateur best-ball division, Leonard and Bill Mahinney of Vancouver scored 71-66-71 for 208, also well behind the leaders.

Interior Town Enthusiastic—Terrace Progress Reviewed At Trade Bd. Annual Meet

Home For Aged and Experimental Station 1950 Accomplishments—Applewhaite Speaks of War Danger

TERRACE. — Problems affecting the Terrace district and community and progress that had been made in their solving were reviewed and reports indicating the advancement that community and district had made in 1950 from the standpoint of industrial development, all leading up to an exceedingly cheerful outlook for the future, were highlights of a typically enthusiastic annual meeting of the Terrace and District Board of Trade which was held last Friday night at the new hotel at the east end of the town.

C. J. Norrington, who was an active president of the board during the past year, was in the chair, turning over before the close to Alex Gillanders, who was elected to the presidency during the meeting.

Speaker of the evening was E. T. Applewhaite, M.P. for Skeena, who chose to deal with the international situation with brief reference before closing to some local matters on which he reiterated assurance of his full interest and attention. Other guests were W. J. Scott, president of the Associated Boards of Trade of Central British Columbia, who spoke appropriately, and G. A. Hunter, who brought the greetings of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce.

E. T. APPLEWHAITE, M.P.
"The vital question of today," said Mr. Applewhaite, "was how great was the risk of a major war." The situation was "frightfully dangerous." Maybe open war with Communist China might be the result, this leading to war with Soviet Russia. It was still necessary to find a solution in Korea with the stabilization of a firm line there. With the Chinese Communists willing to risk a major war with the United Nations endeavored to seek a reconciliation, the world appeared to be on the edge of a volcano. There must be no giving away to despair, however. There was no good reason why United Nations efforts to localize the present conflict to Korea should not succeed. Yet, if such was not to be the case, the responsibility most assuredly must be fixed with Peiping and Moscow.

With the Soviet Union—preponderant in land forces and building up sea power, but weak in the air and atomic weapons—evidently willing to wage world war along aggressive lines, it became essential for the western world to build up armaments and defence. While this was being done, the danger of world war might be even more increased within the next few months.

While preserving economic and social strength and the democratic way of life, Mr. Applewhaite stressed the importance of the western world adopting policies that would appeal to the people of Asia and thus combat the lure of the Communist nation. (Continued on page 5)

There's Suffering

"THERE'S suffering in this country!" Sometimes one hears that statement during discussion of social, economic and political questions in Canada.

When one is inclined to think of suffering in Canada, it might be well to consider the case of people in really unfortunate lands—people in other parts of the world who are suffering from the lack of bare necessities of life. One could think of India and China where millions of people are actually starving. One could think that millions of people in Canada are well fed and enjoy a standard of living that would be a dream of paradise to the people of the eastern world—including Russia.

But it is not necessary to go so far away as that for a comparison. We had been thinking that the people of Britain were having it easier the last year or so, that food, for instance, was more plentiful.

Here is an answer that has come to hand for a food parcel that was sent to England for Christmas: "What a delightful surprise you have given us. We nearly wept over the kind gifts. I just sat down for about half-an-hour in an absolute trance of bewilderment, surprise, pleasure and almost incredulity at such kindness. . . . Like a lot of other people, we have been making-do, and going on making-do, thinking that things would get easier all the time, and for a period they did; but now it is really worse than it ever was. . . ."

All that rapture and gratitude over a few cans of meat, tea-bags, sugar, etc. Then somebody says "There's suffering in this country!" Maybe it would be better if Canadians got down on their knees and thanked God for the high standard of living they are enjoying instead of muttering about suffering.

The Vote—A Funny Thing

WHEREVER one stands on this peculiar globe, a vote is a funny thing.

Take Canada, for instance. If a man hasn't got a vote, he wants one. If he has got a vote he's very proud of it but a lot of the time he keeps it in mothballs. His unused vote is about as valuable as a ticket to last week's show.

In some countries, where there is no choice for whom one is to vote, the citizens are practically forced to vote. They turn out and vote 99 per cent. In others, where there is a choice—and with that choice responsibility—eligible voters are conspicuous by their fewness. If there is a 60 per cent vote, it is considered wonderful.

And because the gift of free speech generally walks hand in hand with the free and secret ballot, the absentees on voting day are almost always the most articulate about their government or lack of it. Yes, a vote is a funny thing.

About Time

OTTAWA announces inclusion of Prince Rupert in the scheme of port defences on a national scale. This city is the western terminus of the Canadian National Railways spreading over all Canada and part of the United States. Prince Rupert is the nearest point, by far, to Soviet Russia. The harbor ranks among the first few best harbors and has a maze of waterfront facilities including a dry dock and ship repairing and building. Prince Rupert is a naval and air service haven and is about to see opened a great cellulose industry, whose industry has a bearing on certain phases of munitions manufacture.

It's about time Ottawa included this centre of the northwest in future defence plans.

As I See It

By ELMORE PHILPOTT

NOT DOOM— BUT DAWN

BY THE TIME that my next column gets into print I expect to be winging my way toward India.

So this is a sort of good-bye piece to old readers and a "hello folks" to the new.

In one sense it is a warning. What you will be reading in this column, or hearing in the commentaries I have been asked to make over the CBC network, is the output of a congenial optimist.

I almost wrote "congenital idiot" for some might say that anybody that can still be an optimist with the world moving picture as is must be more than half cracked.

Anyway I nail my colors to the mast as one who believes that mankind is not on the threshold of doom, but very close to the dawn of a new, better age than humanity has known in modern times.

ANYBODY WHO FACES facts knows that the two mightiest blocs of nations which have ever existed are grinding against each other, with increasing weight. The cold war has become open war in east Asia—war no less real because it has not been formally "declared" by either side.

There is not a single instance in history, so far as I can find, where armament races, such as are now on hand, have led to anything else than war. If the past pattern of history were a safe guide to the future, then the present armament race between the U.S. and S.U. (Soviet Union) blocs would surely lead to all-out, total war not later than 1952.

But I submit that the past pattern of history is NOT an infallible guide. There is not a government on earth today which is sure of what its own citizens would do in the event of outright atomic war.

Governor Stassen for instance, is probably right in declaring that Russia could not launch an aggressive war, without inviting a new revolution within the Soviet itself—led by the Red army.

We saw the same mighty restraining force welling up in Britain and all western Europe when President Truman suggested that atomic war might follow the Chinese Communist intervention in Korea.

The real struggle in the world today seems to me between those who are trying to hold mankind apart and those who are trying to draw mankind together.

The facts of science, mechanics, industry and, above all, transportation and communication, are like a mighty tide, swelling toward One World. But there are 57 varieties of interests and institutions which are vainly trying to stand in the way—to dam back the flood.

The Iron Curtain is just the latest of these.

In the end, with or without war, the walls will fall, the curtains will crack, hands across the border will replace guns along the border.

NATIONS WILL remain nations, and we may have a lot more small ones and fewer big ones than we now have. Each country will run its local affairs in its own way, subject only to some basic Charter of Human Rights.

The main political change will be that world law will replace power politics (which is just another name for international gangsterism). Every country will be compelled to call its armies home, and keep them home forever. A world democratic parliament by an international police force, will keep international peace and forbid international aggression.

We are woefully far from that ideal now?

Sure.

But if you look back to 1914 you can see how far we have come.

RAY... Reflects and Reminisces

In two months of a stepped-up recruiting campaign, the Canadian Active Army has increased total net strength by thirteen men. This has been disclosed by National Defence headquarters. No confirmation of the fact was considered necessary.

Some Ontario lumberjacks are said to be getting from $17 to $18 a day on piece work. They work so hard for two weeks that it is necessary for one week to do nothing except rest. A lumber operator comments that they are out for a big cut and a big stake. And like enough, a big headache.

Because he beat his wife over the head with a pork roast, Stephen Bodnar, living in a New York state town has been sentenced to six months in jail. Millions of ladies love a savory roast of pork but would rather not have it served that way.

When Sir George Eulas Foster was in Prince Rupert long ago he told a public meeting that Prince Rupert was under a curse. Ever since, when anyone felt like getting something off his chest, he would remind the community of Foster's remark. Of course the latter, who wore whiskers and eyeglasses was merely playing politics, yet for years and years his words had their effect.

As a matter of fact, though, no forty year old town on earth has been less under an evil wish, than Prince Rupert. Our troubles have always been comparatively light. This seaport has never been even remotely touched by the terror of armed forces or bombings. We have been free, through the two greatest of all wars, from invasion or even fear, from hunger or destitution.

The astuteness of Scotland Yard is again seen, this time in the mysterious Stone of Seone affair, missing from Westminster Abbey. Surgeons and doctors are asked to report any new hernia case. The stone weighs not less than 300 pounds and keeping it hidden could involve heavy lifting. Hence, possibility of ruptures. The touch of originality. Quick, Watson!

"This Is the U.N., Its Actual Voices"

To encourage teaching about the United Nations, the U.N. Department of Public Information has undertaken the recording of the history of the world organization through excerpts from speeches by delegates, Secretariat officials and heads of U.N. agencies. Here, U.N. Assistant Secretary-General Benjamin Cohen, of Chile (right) and Bryant Mumford (left), head of the United Nations Division of Special Services, present the first album of records providing the history of U.N.'s first five years to Kathri Lehtinen of Finland and Dr. Kenrie Marshall of the Office of Education of the United States.

May Operate Logging Camp

Peter Postuk and Memsby King visited Shames at the week-end to look over the logging camp which Charles Postuk and Neil McDonald have been operating with a view to taking it over.

Both Postuk and King graduated last year from University of British Columbia, the former as Bachelor of Arts and the latter as Bachelor of Commerce.

Postuk's aim is to proceed with medical studies at University of B.C. or University of Mexico.

King arrived in the city last week from Vancouver after having spent the summer at B.C. Packers' Imperial Cannery at Steveston. He is the son of Stephen King, former local business man who now lives at Salt Spring Island.

Ultimate idea of both Postuk and King is to live in central Latin America where they have already had adventures together.

Blackwood on Bridge

By Easley Blackwood

When does four no trump ask for aces? Usually when either partner has made a suit bid before the four no trump call. It does not ask for aces when both members of the partnership have bid only no trump, as in today's hand.

None vulnerable,
South dealer.

The bidding:
South West North East
1 NT Pass 4 NT Pass
5 H 6 NT AH pass

Mr. Champion is guilty of an inconsistency which I am sure you will recognize and apply to someone in your own bridge circle. He will roundly criticize his partner and call him the world's worst player. Yet when the next hand is dealt he will expect that same partner to bid as well as he does.

When Mr. Muzzy opened the South cards with one no trump, Mr. Champion looked at his own hand and what he saw pleased him very much. He had too much to bid only three no trump but not enough to go directly to slam.

Actually he bid four no trump and the message he wanted to convey was this: "Partner, I have a balanced hand, suited to no trump play. I am suggesting a slam at no trump. If your opening bid was a minimum, you had better pass. If it was a maximum, please go on."

But Mr. Muzzy was not familiar with the information given in the first paragraph of today's column. "Five hearts," he said, rather proud of his two aces. Mr. Champion knew things had gone wrong. He was afraid to bid five no trump because Mr. Muzzy would dutifully tell him how many kings he held and there was a possibility he might end up in a grand slam. He decided to try to end the agony with a bid of six no trump and sighed with relief when Mr. Muzzy passed it.

Mr. Abel led the trey of hearts which was won on the board with the jack. Mr. Muzzy now laid down the king of diamonds and continued with the deuce of diamonds, won by the ace in the closed hand. East won the third round of diamonds with the jack and led a spade, enabling Mr. Abel to cash the ace and queen for down two.

Mr. Muzzy could have held the set to one trick by safety-playing the diamond suit. After winning the king he should have led a small diamond from dummy and put in the eight from his hand if East did not play an honor. He would lose his diamond trick to West, thus preventing a lead through the king of spades.

Some experts who have only reluctantly taken up the Blackwood Convention claim that on the following bidding the four no trump does not ask for aces:

South	North
1 S	2 NT
4 NT

They are wrong. Some day soon I will tell you why it is better for the four no trump to ask for aces even in this sequence.

BASKETBALL—

Co-ops Beat Shoemen To Boost Sr. Margin

Hi-Gold Tests Gordon and Anderson—
Close Intermediate Affair

Co-op took an early lead over Brownwoods Saturday night when Syd Scherk started pumping them to the tune of 12 points in the first quarter to give Co-op a big 19 to 9 edge in the period. From then on it was Co-op all the way as they went on to win 56 to 41. It was a case of Co-op getting the edge every first quarter which they wrapped up by a 10 to 2 score. In the second quarter Merchants came back strong to outscore

Only in the third quarter did Brownwoods have the upper hand in the play, as they outscored the winners 15 to 9. The losers were without Hartwig, and they miss him in a big way. They brought Danny Bill up from the intermediate ranks and he saw service in the final period. Ray Spring was hot on his foul shooting getting 9 of 14 free throws and he fattened his season scoring total with 10 more points on field shots.

Mel Thompson went to town in the third period to score four field baskets, but couldn't hit the hoop in the other three periods. Carlsen had a bad evening, going out on personals and not getting a piece of the basket all evening.

For the winners Syd Scherk made 22 points before leaving the game on personals in the final period. Brother Don was also shooting them in, getting 7 on foul shots and one field basket for a total of 9. Don Macdonald did his new uniform proud, getting 7 points to match Mickey Webster's score for the game. The Co-ops looked very smart in their new outfits and refused to be beaten by the new uniform jimx, as they increased their lead in the Senior Division.

EXHIBITION
The Gordon and Anderson vs. Hi-Gold game was the best to watch as the students from the Intermediate Division gave their senior opponents a real run. Gordon and Anderson came out on top 43 to 37 but before High School threw a scare into them in the third period when they went ahead 33 to 32. For the losers Kristmanson, at forward, was good on the rebounds and Ratchford played a top-notch game a guard. Gordon and Anderson seemed worried that they might lose and were missing a lot of shots. When the game was over the G. and A. coach, "Doc" Montgomery, had praise for the students, declaring that "their floor play was excellent." Next month the students will play Brownwoods in another exhibition and the following month will take on the league-leading Co-ops.

INTERMEDIATE
Hi-Green edged out Merchants in the Intermediate League by a close 30 to 28 score. The students took an early lead in the 14 to 8, and again outscored in the third frame, to come within one point of the winners. In the final period Merchants scored the first basket and took over the lead, but it wasn't for long as the students took it right back and held on to win the tussle. Gery Ford went like a house-afire for the winners as he scored 13 and Christoff with 10, Wesen with 6, and Parnell with 3 more were top scorers to the losers.

JUNIOR
High Juniors broke a top-place tie for the league leadership when their 28 to 17 victory moved Rupert Hotel down to second spot. It was a grimly fought game all the way, fast, a bit too rough, but good basketball. Scores were low in the first half, which High School took 7 to 4. In the second half High School speeded it up to get 21 points, and in the final quarter the losers also came to life to Harry King, D.D.G.M., returned on Tuesday from Smithers where he officiated as installing officer for the Oddfellows' Lodge. On Saturday he left for Prince Rupert where he officiated at the installation of the Prince Rupert Oddfellows on Sunday evening, returning here tonight.

Dr. K. McPherson is expected home this week from Vancouver where he has been on business.

Mrs. H. Sites was a business visitor to Prince Rupert last week, spending Wednesday in town.

Mrs. E. T. Applewhite came in to Terrace on Thursday morning's train to meet Mr. Applewhite who arrived on Thursday's train from the east to be guest speaker at Friday night's banquet of the Board of Trade. They returned to Prince Rupert on Saturday's train.

Charles Adam, local theatre operator, is due home in Terrace this week after a trip to his native Scotland.

Postmaster Sam Kirkaldy is a patient in the Red Cross outpost hospital, having been admitted last Monday.

Funeral Of Terrace Man

TERRACE — St. Matthew's Anglican Church was filled on Friday afternoon with the many friends and acquaintances of Andrew Erickson who passed away in his sleep on Tuesday morning. Funeral services were conducted by Archdeacon Hodson who spoke on "Life After Death." The hymns "Abide With Me" and "Nearer My God to Thee" were sung with Mrs. C. J. Norrington playing the organ. A profusion of lovely flowers banked the casket.

SHIPS AND WATERFRONT

Top Boats in Herring—Camosun Has Capacity Load of Freight

Top boats in the herring fishing fleet for the season just finished were the Western G.P.I., Capt. Charlie Clarke, Nelson Bros.; Pacific Sunrise, Capt. Johnnie Dale, Canadian Fishing Company; the Limited, Capt. Joe Kristianson, B. C. Packers. The Maple Leaf C, Capt. Mel Stauffer, which made the record catch for the Pacific Coast before the Christmas lay-off was right there among them, too.

Capt. Einer Jensen of the Penner Isle, while fishing in Gasboat Passage, reported his ship was sinking. He said he had hit a rock. Another captain wise-cracked: "You shouldn't let a little thing like a rock stop you, Einer." Capt. Jensen came right back with: "I know, but it was a very hard rock."

Arriving in port at 4:30 yesterday afternoon, Union steamer Camosun, Capt. William McCombe, in addition to passengers, had a capacity load of 199 tons of freight for this port. Discharging kept here until 1 a.m. when she sailed in continuation of her voyage to Alice Arm and Stewart whence she is due back here tomorrow morning southbound.

Union steamer Chilcotin, Capt. Harry McLean, returned to port at 2:30 yesterday afternoon from south Queen Charlotte Island ports and sailed at 8 p.m. for Vancouver and waypoints.

Chief Steward Norman Davidson is back on duty as chief steward of the steamer Camosun. He had been away on a vacation trip as far south as Los Angeles where he visited with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Joy, formerly of Prince Rupert.

D. Zarelli arrived in the city on the Chilcotin on Friday from Vancouver. Pioneer local hotel man, Mr. Zarelli is here on business.

Terrace Progress

tions in the east. In the effort to raise the standards and hopes of the people of Asia, Canada must aid.

Turning to the atomic bomb, Mr. Applewhite saw danger in its use of losing the goodwill of the people of Asia and allies in Europe. Yet, against mass intervention by China or Russia, it might be the ultimate effective weapon—but only through the full approval of the United Nations and the approval of at least the three great western nations.

Mr. Applewhite also warned against possible Soviet intention of diverting attention to a small portion and tying up too much United Nations strength in a relatively small sphere such as Korea and the ultimate danger of leaving the most important and dangerous field of western Europe unduly exposed. "Our heaviest responsibility," he declared, "is still to support the Atlantic community in Europe."

Concluding, Mr. Applewhite declared that, in two world wars, Canada had suffered little other than casualty lists. Canadians should compare what they had been asked to go without or any sacrifices which they might have to make with the privations and hardships of the nations of Europe and Asia. It was for the western nations to stand together in resisting armed aggression an addo it until it hurts in endeavoring to raise the standards of the people of the rest of the world, particularly those of Asia.

W. J. SCOTT, president of the Associated Boards of Trade of Central British Columbia, felt that the Terrace and District Board of Trade was doing a bang-up job. It was not necessary for him to essay any pep talk to such a body. He stressed the importance of enrolling new members and advocated attention to national affairs. He referred briefly to the privileges of the democratic way of life and spoke of security as a reward rather than an escape.

PRESIDENTIAL REPORT
In his report as retiring president, C. J. Norrington described the opening of the Home for the Aged and the establishment of an illustration station as completed projects in the Terrace district during his year of office.

Uncompleted projects in various stages of development were: The removal of the rock bluff at the western approach to the Terrace bridge and the paving of the highway through town. Improvement of the logging roads and in particular the Kalum Lake Road. Erection of a federal building. Establishment of radio booster stations in the district. Efforts to have the B.C. Power Commission recognize the rapid growth of the district and to provide adequate power to take care of this rapid expansion. Erection of traffic and safety

GOVERNMENT AID
Speaking of government assistance, Dudley Little felt the district had seen a lot of development on the part of the provincial government but he felt there might be more federal government attention. Such matters of illustration station, federal building, radio, airport maintenance.

Mr. Little felt that Terrace was in a vulnerable position and that it was important that at least one runway on the local airport should be kept open at all times, particularly in view of the impending new commercial service through the central interior for which a franchise had been granted to Central B.C. Airways. (At present there is three feet of snow on the runways.)

Mr. Applewhite promised attention for these matters. As for the radio booster stations, he felt they were in the bag. Removal of snow from the business streets of Terrace was something that should be attended to no matter how much it costs. George McAdams felt. He proposed that this be brought to the attention of the board of commissioners. Commissioner Dudley Little wondered if the people were prepared to pay the cost which would be involved.

Duncan Kerr described the telephone situation as "terrible"—both long distance and local. There should be two switchboards—long distance and local—and immediate representation should be made for better service. Will Robinson said that there were 200 long distance calls a day now and local calls were suffering through their handling. Mr. Little suggested that a superintendent's office be established in Terrace.

Allan Campbell spoke of desirability of making accommodation available in the Terrace Home for the Aged for old men of the north. Will Robinson agreed that pioneers of the north should be deserving of particular consideration in their declining years. A committee consisting of Duncan Kerr, Will Robinson and Mr. Campbell was appointed to go into the matter.

The New Canadian Five Cent Coin is a piece of Pure Nickel...

THE CANADIAN METAL

It was in the year 1751, that a Swedish scientist named Cronstedt obtained from a piece of ore a metal hitherto unknown to science. He named the newly-discovered metal "Nickel."

Since that time, nickel has become the metal of a thousand uses, in industry and in the home. Because 80% of the world's nickel comes from Canadian mines, nickel can truly be called the Canadian metal.

The new Canadian nickel, commemorating the discovery of nickel 200 years ago, is minted from pure Canadian nickel.

The new coins are being minted from material processed prior to nickel rationing.

Issued to commemorate the 200th anniversary of the discovery of nickel by Cronstedt

Italian Girl Is Film Hit

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A shy, slim 13-year-old girl from Italy—Anna Marie Alberghetti—has stepped right in opposite Bing Crosby in her American movie debut.

Not that she's going to take over as Crosby's leading lady. But her singing of "Cara Nome" from Verdi's "Rigoletto" is tabbed as a high spot of der Bingle's forthcoming film, "Here Comes the Groom."

Anna Marie is the little girl who, completely unheralded, came to New York and aroused the big town's bias music critics in her Carnegie Hall debut last April. "The voice of an angel," was the consensus.

The same opinion, it would seem, is shared at Paramount by those who heard her big scene in the picture. She plays the role of a blind war orphan brought to this country by Crosby, this time a foreign correspondent.

She sings the aria at a try-out arranged by Bing. No one knows she is blind until she stumbles against a table, going off-stage.

Even though the music had been recorded and dubbed in beforehand, cameramen and grips were observed blowing their noses heartily after the scene. Director Frank Capra calls it "one of my most effective scenes."

REMARKABLE VOICE

Quiet, self-contained Anna Marie seems to be taking success in stride. Just barely five feet and 95 pounds, the dark-eyed girl has been trained by her singing teacher-father, Daniele Alberghetti, since she was six years old. She can send her coloratura notes soaring 2 1/2 octaves to G over high C, but her practices and appearances are being strictly limited by her father to avoid strain.

Anna Maria, busy studying English, does much of the interpreting for her family. Her mother, who is her accompanist, and sister Carla, 11, and brother Paola, six, also are here. She was born in Pesaro, a town of 50,000 in northern Italy.

It was exciting to be in a picture with Crosby, she said adding: "I saw many of his cinemas in Italy." This, however, is not her first picture. Just before returning here, she sang in the film version of Gian-Carlo Menotti's "The Medium," recently complete in Italy. "A wonderful little girl," says Crosby.

A concert tour starting in January is the only definite item on Anna Maria's 1951 agenda, although an operatic career is being considered by her father.

"It would be wonderful, wouldn't it," he said, "if she becomes the youngest to sing at the Metropolitan, in the Rome opera, and La Scala, Milan."

Red MacLeod leaves tonight by train to attend a session of County Court at Smithers.

Norman Nelson of Nelson Bros. Fisheries left today for Masset by Q. C. A. plane.

J. A. Lanigan, biologist with the Dominion Fisheries Department, who has spent the past week in the Kitkatla district, left on today's plane for Vancouver on his return to the experimental station at Nanaimo.

Sailing south on the Camo via tomorrow to attend a meeting of the board of the Federation of Fishermen's Co-operatives at Vancouver January 19 are R. D. Roald, Martin Ericksen, Harry Hansen, Peter Husoy and Ivor Johansen. Accompanying them will be Mrs. Roald and Mrs. Ericksen.

TURN TO PLUMS

KENTVILLE, N. S. — Annapolis Valley fruit growers may soon see the Valley hitching its wagon to a revived and now profit-bearing plum industry. R. D. Bligh, senior horticulturist of the Federal Experimental Station, says the transition period for plum growers to rebuild their industry has arrived.

Trim Lines In New Dresses

NEW YORK — Slim, trim lines, sometimes breaking into fullness below a closely moulded hipline, and a feeling of elegance mark daytime clothes in the spring showings of the New York Dress Institute.

Among novel features are backs cut down in a shallow or deep "V" or in surplice effect. Tunics appear frequently, sometimes emphasized with contrasting piping, sometimes divided into softly gathered panels or stiffened and slightly belled-out over the hips. The long-coat costume—a full-length coat plus blouse and skirt—is a notable feature in the collection of Pauline Trigere. The three are designed to do the work of both suit and coat. The same designer makes much use of pleats and tucks in original ways. Pyramid tucks mould the hip area of skirts that flare into fullness below. A back panel of pleats is stitched down to about the knees, then released. Pleats of various widths form a tailored skirt. Gentle drapery at neck and armholes softens the slimmest dresses, and cowl necklines appear on many.

ENSEMBLES FEATURED

Every dress a costume is the principle on which Herbert Sondheim based his collection. Whether for daytime or evening, dresses were teamed with duster or jacket, sweater or stole. He also features versatile three-piece costumes combining beige silk shantung suiting in men's wear weight and black French linen. One, with diplomat's cummerbund of red silk linen, combines a slim linen sport, halter bodice and cover-up jacket of shantung. Emily Wilkins, whose clothes in junior sizes are aimed at
