Red Sox Up Again

Brooklyn Makes National League Lead Even Longer

NEW YORK (CP)—Clyde Volmer's three home runs boosted the Boston Red Sox to within two percentage points of the New York Yankees Thursday. Volmer's third homer, coming with two on in the sixth inning, gave Boston a 13-10 victory over the Yankees while the Yankees lost 9 to 4 to Cleveland.

The four first division clubs in the American League shift opponents tonight to continue their battle for the lead. Chicago White Sox come into the Yankee Stadium for the first of four games and Boston opens a three-game series at Fenway Park with Cleveland.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Don Newcombe's 14th win of the season lengthened Brooklyn's lead over the idle New York Giants to 9½ games on a 9 to 1 romp over Chicago Cubs. It was the ninth straight win over Chicago by big Newk and the Dodgers' sixth win in a row. Vern Bickford needed relief held from Bob Chipman with two out in the ninth to pitch Boston Braves into fifth place with a 6 to 2 edge over Cincinnati. The Reds dropped to sixth place, half a game behind the Braves.

New York and Pittsburgh were not scheduled.

Yesterday's big league scores:

- National
Boston 6, Cincinnati 2.
Brooklyn 9, Chicago 1.
Philadelphia 7, St. Louis 0.
- American
Chicago 10, Boston 13.
Cleveland 9, New York 4.
Detroit 6, Washington 3.
St. Louis 6, Philadelphia 4.

Funeral of Lewis Kemp—Thursday

Funeral was held yesterday for Lewis Kemp, 80, who died Monday in Prince Rupert General Hospital. He had been a resident here for 20 years. Rev. Dr. E. A. Wright officiated. Burial was at Fairview Cemetery with B.C. Undertakers in charge.

Defence Bill Enormous

U.S. to Spend $25 Billion Defending Allies

WASHINGTON, D.C. (CP)—Secretary of State Dean Acheson set before Congress Thursday a world-wide aid program which would cost $25,000,000,000 for defence of American allies in the next three years.

That is the price, Acheson said, to counter Russia's designs and bring about "an era of genuine relaxation of tension." Acheson said that Spain would get a share of the money—he did not say how much—but added "considerable time must elapse" before Spain could be admitted into the North Atlantic Treaty Alliance.

Communists Build up Strength as Talks on Peace is Proceeding

WASHINGTON, D.C. (CP)—An Army spokesman said today that Communists in Korea have used the time since the original peace proposals of June 23 to "build up troop strength and move supplies and weapons toward the battlefield."

To Fight Inflation

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada and United States made another attempt Thursday to reach common ground on means of controlling the impact of inflation of defence speed-ups.

Top officials of both countries conferred at a special meeting in Washington of the revitalized Canada-U.S. Joint Industrial Mobilization Committee.

Canada's top representative was Production Minister Howe. Charles Wilson, U.S. defence mobilization director, was chief U.S. representative.

The meeting reviewed rearmament programs in the two countries, their effect on prices and means of holding down climbing defence production costs.

It was another chapter in the critical issue of price inflation in the two countries brought to Mr. Howe's attention by Eric Johnston, U.S. economic stabilizer, in a meeting here about a month ago.

The U.S. has expressed concern, for example, over a recent six-cent-a-pound rise in the cost of Canadian nickel and a $10-a-ton increase in the price of Canadian newsprint. Canada is the world's main supplier of both these items.

However, Canada has pointed out to the U.S. that, though she virtually sets the world price on these two items, the United States sets the price on a host of other commodities.

In other words, if there is to be any strong rein on rising prices, the initiative has to be taken by the U.S. Mr. Johnston came away from the meeting expressing satisfaction with Canada's anti-inflationary policies.

He pointed out, however, that, though the U.S. has applied direct price controls on commodities, Canada has not.

Mr. Wilson chose the Industrial Mobilization Committee meeting as a means of reopening these problems and attempting to reach agreement with Canada on a joint anti-inflationary policy.

Toronto Fire Hits Firemen

TORONTO (CP)—Smoke and fumes from a burning plastics warehouse in downtown Toronto knocked out fifty firemen who were fighting the fire that gutted basement and ground floor of the building early today. Two of the firemen are in serious condition. Damage is estimated at between $100,000 to $150,000. Loss was to upper floors of the four-story building.

Hoop Fix Testimony

PEORIA, Illinois (CP)—Threat against a player and his wife and a pay-off double-cross by the plot's ringleader were reported Thursday as five bribed-involvement Bradley basketball stars were asked to testify about their fix scandal before a New York grand jury.

The Peoria Journal printed a bannered story stating that a Bradley player and his wife were threatened with bodily harm if he attempted to back out of a fix arrangement which spanned the last two Bradley basketball seasons.

In the usual on-the-record statement, the spokesman also said that United Nations forces had foregone the chance to exploit the great tactical success at the time the Kaesong troop talks started. He said:

"Acting in good faith, the United Nations (after June 23) accepted the proposal to explore the possibility of peace and halted the advance. They (the Communists) were then hanging on the ropes."

Meantime United States Army headquarters in Korea said that Allied attempts to capture dominating hills on the eastern front had been blocked again today by stubborn Communist resistance.

The Eighth Army reported attacks by United Nations soldiers were blunted northeast of Yanggu and north of Inje.

The United Nations troops made similar attacks yesterday but fell back before intense mortar and artillery fire from Chinese positions.

WHERE WILL LINE GO?
The Allies told the Communists today where they want to draw the cease-fire line in Korea—and why.

Vice-Admiral C. Turner Joy, chief United Nations delegate, explained the Allied position in detail as the negotiators got down to the meat of the armistice talks in their 11th meeting at Kaesong.

Admiral Joy talked 52 minutes without interruption. He gave the Reds two marked military maps to picture his position.

Five Communist generals made no comment. Instead, they asked for and got an adjournment until 10 a.m. Saturday (5 p.m. today) when it is expected they will deliver their answer.

General understanding is that the United Nations is pressing for a demilitarized zone roughly along the present battleline. The Communists want it along the 38th parallel.

WEATHER

Synopsis

Skies are clear throughout southern British Columbia again today and in this region it will continue dry and warm tomorrow.

Variable cloudiness is expected in the central and northern interior today and tomorrow with scattered thunderstorms this afternoon.

Skies will remain cloudy along the north coast with showers expected tomorrow from a weather disturbance now moving into the Gulf of Alaska.

Forecast

North coast region — Cloudy with a few sunny intervals today. Cloudy tomorrow with showers in the northern section. Little change in temperature. Winds—northwest today, southerly (15) tomorrow. Lows tonight and highs tomorrow—Port Hardy 50 and 65, Sandspit and Prince Rupert 52 and 65.

SAVED AT SEA

IPSWICH, England (CP)—Five youths who escaped from the Borsal institution at Hollesley Bay, near here, were rescued from a small sailing dinghy drifting helplessly 14 miles off Clacton. The lads spent a night in the stolen boat.

Ship By Rail Here

WASHINGTON, D. C. —Contract for 1,500,000-cubic feet of Alaska pulp timber was signed today by the United States Forest Service and the Ketchikan Pulp and Paper Co.

It is the largest sale of timber ever made by the forest service.

A $40,000,000 pulp mill will be built at Wacker City on Ward's Cove near Ketchikan. It will employ about 800 persons and must be in operation by August 2, 1954, producing 300 tons daily, the output to be stepped up later to 525 tons.

There is timber sufficient to supply a mill of 500-ton capacity for fifty years in Tongass National Forest which covers an extensive area in Southeastern Alaska.

The plant will produce high grade rayon, cellophane and nitro-cellulose but no paper.

Railroad car ferries may be used to take the pulp to Prince Rupert, thence east by rail.

Recovering After Crash

Gordon M. Rhodes, 22-year-old son of Mrs. C. S. Viers of Prince Rupert, is doing well in the University Hospital at Edmonton after having sustained fractured arm, face lacerations and split lip in an airplane crash near the Alberta capital.

As soon as he is able to travel, he will be returning to his home here to complete his recuperation before going back to his flying school.

Rhodes and his Fleet Canuck plane came to grief when a control cable broke and he went into a bank at altitude of 1800 feet, landing in a ploughed field 16 miles northwest of Edmonton. He was rescued by a farmer who saw the crash.

The student pilot graduated from Booth Memorial High School here two years ago and had been with the engineering department of Columbia Cellulose Co. until July 1 when he left for Edmonton to attend the flying school.

Auto Industry Labor Trouble

DETROIT (CP)—Labor unrest in the automotive industry grew Thursday as Ford Motor Co. was threatened with a country-wide shutdown.

A wildcat strike at the Chrysler Corporation went into its second day, making idle 22,500 Dodge workers.

At the Hudson plant 10,000 workers remained idle.

A Ford parts plant at Monroe, Michigan, was hit by a walkout of 1600 workers and forced to close. Ford said in a statement that continued loss of parts from the Monroe plant will force a shutdown of all Ford operations in the country.

Survey of Metlakatla

Checking up on a resurvey which is being made of the Metlakatla native village before it is enfranchised and incorporated under the provisions of the Village Act, C. H. Taggart, inspector general of surveys for the Department of Mines and Surveys has been here in Ottawa. He arrived Tuesday by train and left today on the Princess Norah to the Yukon. While here he was spending most of his time at Metlakatla. The survey at Metlakatla is being carried out by Fred Nash, B.C.L.S. for the new municipality. All lots and streets, water system, park area, school sites are being resurveyed as well as a new subdivision.

No changes to existing sites are being made and the main street will still be that which curves along in alignment with the shoreline. New streets are being added to the rear.

Names will also be applied to the streets but these have not yet been selected. "We'll have to think about that soon," said Indian Superintendent F. E. Anfield. "Most likely some of the respected pioneer figures in the life of the village will be commemorated such as 'Duncan', 'Hidley', 'Morrison'."

Hamburg, Once Graveyard Of Ships, Bright Again

HAMBURG (Reuters)—Six years ago the great German seaport of Hamburg was a graveyard of ships, with almost 3000 hulks lying half-submerged in the harbor. The city itself lay dead under acres of rubble and acres of bombed ruins.

More than 1,000,000 persons had fled panic-stricken during one night stretch of bombing. Allied bombing which killed or crippled more than 100,000.

Those who left the city did not return until long after the war ended, and Hamburg remained a semi-deserted, burned-out shell until after the hungry winter of 1946-47.

Today, all that is changed. German energy and American Marshall Aid have combined to produce a town centre which, but for a few gaps here and there, looks sparkling, fresh and prosperous.

Controls to Be Kept on

WASHINGTON, D.C. (CP) A joint conference committee of Senate and House of Representatives voted tentatively today to permit price rollbacks on non-farm commodities to levels which prevailed just before the war in Korea, provided certain cost increases are taken into account.

Decision came near the end of an all-night session of the committee which agreed to extend economic controls legislation until next June.

The extension covers wages, price, rent and other emergency curbs.

Boy Fired Apartment

SAN FRANCISCO (CP)—Chief Homicide Inspector Frank Ahern said Tuesday that a 17-year-old newsboy had admitted setting an apartment house fire which took the lives of eight persons here Sunday.

After several days of investigation, Fire Marshal Frank Kelly said the blaze had been set off by gasoline or some other solvent.

Judge Enjoys Coast Cruise

Plain Jack Wilson, free from the dignity and austerity of the Supreme Court bench, is around Prince Rupert these days greeting old friends. He is making a coastal trip as guest of Robert E. Walker, production manager of B.C. Packers, on the company boat Friendship, which arrived Wednesday night and will leave tomorrow on the return trip to Vancouver. This afternoon Sunnyside Cannery on Skeena River is being visited.

ENJOYS COAST CRUISE
Mr. Justice J. O. (Jack) Wilson

Impressive feature of the trip up the coast for the judge was a crossing of Vancouver Island from Port Hardy to Coal Harbor on the West Coast for a day's trip on a whaling ship. The judge witnessed the chase and killing of one of the big mammals—and he did not like it very much. "They are such friendly and innocent big fellows. They never hurt anybody," he said. "And if they were a little smarter those whalers would never be able to get them."

Almost every means of water transportation has been experienced by the judge during the trip on which the cannery officials—Mr. Walker and Ross Nicholson—are making a general inspection of operations along the coast. They have been at Namu and up Rivers and Smith's Inlet including one short airplane jaunt.

"It's great to get away from business cares on a trip like this," His Lordship said appreciatively.

Mr. Justice J. O. Wilson is a well-known former northerner. He practised as a young lawyer at Prince George for several years and was for some time secretary of the Associated Boards of Trade of Central British Columbia. Before being elevated to the Supreme Court bench a few years ago, he was a County Court judge.

Today, the port of Hamburg has been restored to 60 per cent of its pre-war capacity. Last year it received 11,500 ocean-going ships, compared with 300 in 1945.

Industry's Record

THE wartime record of Canada's manufacturing industries is both familiar and impressive. With purpose, muscle, and a free-wheeling resourcefulness, Canadians built new plants, developed new processes, turned out new products and opened up new communities. Between 1939 and 1945, industry doubled its output.

With this performance, Canada came of age as an industrial nation.

But at the end of the fighting, a lot of people wondered what was going to happen to all those new war-born factories and to the men and women who worked in them. How difficult was "reconversion" going to be?

As things turned out, the period of readjustment was surprisingly brief and painless. Industry, instead of slowing down, kept right on expanding.

Since 1945, more than 1000 new manufacturing firms have come into operation in Canada. Industry has now entered a new and equally significant phase of development, the keynote of which is a more diversified economic activity.

The reasons for the postwar expansion are many. The high levels of employment and income that have prevailed in this country are an important factor. Advances in technology and the introduction of new skills during and since the war have helped. Development of natural resources and the need to conserve foreign exchange have also contributed to the unprecedented demand for manufactured goods.

In response to these needs, Canada's manufacturing industries have grown in size and become better integrated. And one of the most important aspects of this postwar development has been the establishment of new companies.

These companies have, of course, created new jobs—tens of thousands of them. But their overall impact on the Canadian economy goes much further.

They have produced goods which otherwise would not have been available to Canadians due to currency restrictions. They have also contributed a substantial saving in foreign exchange. Above all, they have served to round out the national economy by introducing products that were not made in Canada up to 1946—jet aircraft, diesel locomotives, roller bearings, new kinds of electronic equipment and so on—and by providing local markets for raw materials.

Canada needs to enlarge the domestic market for Canadian-made products. In the past, in our role as third-ranking world trader, we have been too content to sell raw materials (the bulk of our exports) and import finished goods.

The more we are able to process our own natural resources and the greater variety of domestic merchandise we can manufacture at home, the more stable and healthy our economy will be.

Those Holy Cows

A COUPLE of anonymous gentlemen have written to the Vancouver Sun with an easy and ready-made solution to the Indian food problem.

There are scores of millions of "holy cows" wandering about India, these gentry say. All that the hungry Hindus have to do is go out, kill the holy cows, cut them up and eat them.

Then, they say, there would be no problem of hunger or famine. If the Indians weren't so polite they might borrow from the Canadian slang and answer, Bull.

THE LAST official figures show that Canada, with a population of about 14 million people, keeps just over nine million cattle.

India, with a population of 357 million people, keeps 136,739,000 cattle and 40,732,000 buffaloes—that is, a total of about 179 million.

So you could say that there is 9/14 of a cow for every Canadian, and about 179/357 of a cow for every Indian.

Or if you like simpler figures, you could say that every Canadian depends for part of his food on three-quarters of a cow, while every Indian has a similar claim on half a cow.

I am using "cow" to include both sexes of cattle, and also to include buffaloes in India, for their milk is used along with cows' milk.

India, of course, needs many more and new fewer cattle than she has.

Here are the latest official figures which show food consumption in a few countries. They are ounces per person per day.

|         | Milk | Butter | Eggs | Meat |
|---------|------|--------|------|------|
| Canada  | 35   | 1.12   | 1.54 | 5.51 |
| U.S.A.  | 35   | 0.45   | 2.00 | 7.44 |
| Britain | 39   | 0.48   | 0.93 | 4.93 |
| India   | 5    | 0.18   | 0.11 | ???  |

The average Indian gets as much milk for a whole week as the average Canadian, American or Briton gets for just one day—and about the same percentage of butter (including ghee).

IT IS a fact that many Indians look upon any kind of killing of cattle as just as heinous a crime as we regard the killing of human beings (except with atom bombs, etc.).

The week I left India 30,000 textile workers were on strike in Ahmedabad, not for higher pay, but to force passage of a law prohibiting cow slaughter under any circumstances.

But don't let anybody run away with the idea that just because many Indians are non-eaters of some or all kinds of animal flesh that they can't support as large a population as they could if they were all beef-eaters.

Many of the world's best food experts say that you can feed five or six times as many human beings from the same land if they give up meat altogether, and live entirely on cereals, vegetables, nuts, eggs and milk.

I ASKED the manager of a model farm settlement what they did with the bull calves which they did not want to keep for breeding.

"Turn them loose," he said. "In the old days, before partition, some poor Muslim family would have taken the unbranded calf, killed it and eaten it. Now there are too few Muslims left in many parts to do this. The short range answer is obvious."

NO, THE INDIANS could not feed more people, in the long run, if they turned beef-eaters. But they certainly could produce more food if they used the cow manure on the land, rather than dried and burned it for fuel, as they mostly do now.

In fact some demonstration centres are proving that with a few such simple changes, such as that, production per acre could be doubled.

A classified will buy, sell or find it.

Handsome Yacht Hides Out Across Pr. Rupert Harbor

One of the finest yachts to visit Prince Rupert this year did not bother coming alongside a wharf or float on this side of the harbor but found an interesting, secluded nook just behind Wolf Island and remained there for a couple of days.

It was the Canadian-built 100-foot ketch-rigged motor-sailer Nautilus, out of San Francisco and with James Ottley, sea-beaten retired New York City investment counsel, and party of friends on board. On a leisurely cruise from California to Alaska, the Nautilus headed northward today to Ketchikan and will be back in a couple of weeks southbound.

"I've kept myself nearly broke yachting," confessed Ottley who crossed over to the city in Nautilus' motor tender yesterday to go through customs formalities and drop off his son, Granger, who is returning to the United States to report for duty as a second lieutenant with the United States Air Force after having just finished college.

It is Ottley's first trip to this area—indeed the first long, leisurely cruise he has made in many a year although his voyaging has taken him at various times to South America, the Caribbean Sea and Bermuda. That was in the New York days before he acquired Nautilus and moved to San Francisco.

A little over a year ago, Ottley left New York with the Nautilus, having in mind a world cruise, but the war with Korea intervened—his two sons were called up for service—so he came through the Panama Canal to San Francisco instead. Now the Nautilus flies the flag of the St. Francis Yacht Club of San Francisco.

FROM FRISCO

On this cruise, departure was made June 15 from San Francisco, sailing straight for Seattle. Then Victoria was visited for the international regatta at Cadboro Bay and two weeks ago the fishing and sightseeing cruise up the British Columbia coast commenced. Due back here August 14, the Nautilus will pick up a party of friends flying north to join the yacht here for the homebound trip.

Nautilus was built in 1939 during the depression in the maritime fisheries at Shelburne, Nova Scotia, for Drayton Cochran, a wealthy young New Yorker. She was requisitioned

Reflects and Reminisces

An Edmonton purse snatcher has been given a stiff enough jail term. If he ever thought he was stealing trash, he was certainly in error.

LET'S LIVE IN HOPE

A noted naturalist-artist, Charles E. Knight of Boston says it is probable mankind will not survive another 1,000,000 years. And so, about 950,000 years hence we shall have a world peace plan that really works.

A little verbal dueling took place in Parliament this year but the other kind has been unknown for generations. The last challenge heard of was when Henry Watterson, Kentucky editor, put it up to Senator Ben Tillman of South Carolina, who was not interested. This was in the nineties. Years later, Tourist Tillman, cruising north, paused in Prince Rupert and sat for a while in the CNR ticket office, resting and quietly observing people and affairs. He had only one eye. The same was true of Watterson.

Then there was the man who built an outdoor grill, in the back yard, and found it came to $12 less than he estimated. Thus he was able to make the first down payment on a steak. Edmonton Journal.

YET IT'S A DANGER

An iron drainage, spanning the concrete sidewalk on Sixth Street between Second and Third Avenues, gave an elderly tourist a severe fall Wednesday. Drainage was not flush with the concrete, consequently forming a slope, entrapping the toe of the tourist's shoe and pitching her forward. But for her escort's quick action in grasping her sleeve, the woman would have been hurled flat. Here is a continued menace that could mean a law suit.

A local resident, holidaying in New Westminster, was taken for a drive and noticed, in particular, three imposing buildings. Curious, he inquired what use they were put to, and was told they were a distillery, a penitentiary and mental hospital.

"Don't suppose it's strange," he commented at once. "I could not help thinking of cause and effect."

UP NORTH TODAY

If you have not been at Burns Lake for years, now is a grand time to go. And if you enjoy contrast, it's a "must." Until the Aluminum excitement broke, Burns Lake, it seems only yesterday, was a drowsy spot—calm and reflective, and where the occasional stranger would arouse curiosity, as to identity and business. But today! A recent visitor writes about "streets crowded with tanned and bearded men, cars and planes coming and going, any kind of accommodation snapped up, and a live camp getting more that way."

DIEFENBAKER PLEASED

Editor, Daily News:

I wish to thank you for having forwarded me the special 1951 edition of the Prince Rupert Daily News marking the opening of Columbia Cellulose. It is a most impressive edition and one that I have read with much interest and benefit and, if I may be permitted to do so, I wish to congratulate your staff, management for having turned out so magnificent an issue.

Again thanking you for having included me on your mailing list, I am,

Yours sincerely,
J. G. DIEFENBAKER, M.P.
Prince Albert.

SHOULD RESPECT CENOTAPH

Editor, Daily News:

May I have a few lines in your paper for the following comment: The Band concert held on the Court House lawn was enjoyed by many citizens. However I was very disgusted with the lack of respect, shown by so many people, for the cenotaph in using it for a seat. I would suggest that if this continues the concert be held elsewhere.

Band Concert Much Enjoyed
Hundreds Gather Round at Court House Grounds to Hear Acceptable Music
Visiting tourists joined with local citizens last evening to enjoy the first of a series of band concerts which are to be presented during the next couple of weeks by Prince Rupert City Band.
This concert was presented at the Court House grounds. Two hundred people or more gathered around, standing in the grounds or sitting in their cars, and it was a pleasant hour that was spent as the bandsmen harmonized with a program of standard band selections under the skilled baton of Bandmaster Peter Lien.
Later concerts may be held at the CNR Park or McClymont Park.
Last night's program:
March, "Sylvia" (Vlach).
Overture, "The Bandmaster" (White).
Waltz, "Zigeuner" (Coward-Yoder).
March, "Spirit of the Range" (Walters).
Waltz medley, "Show Boat Souvenirs" (Walters).
March, "Victorious Legions" (Rosenkrans).
March, "Port of Call" (Walters).
Waltz, "Vienna Dreams" (Siczynski-Yoder).
Overture, "Old Ireland" (Southwell).
Minuet from "Berenice" (Handel).
March, "Colonel Miner's" (Rosenkrans).

CITY BASEBALL—

Gordon and Anderson In Second Straight Win

Cellar Dwellers Looking Up—Beat
League Leaders

They did it again. The baseball team which most fans had relegated to the cellar for the season blew into a new position again last night as Gordon & Anderson took their second 3-2 win from Commercial in as many games.

And they did it with only four hits. It wasn't a pitcher's game at all for the winning pitcher, Larry Matthews, allowed 10 hits. It was a real spectators' game with plenty of fielding action.

Don Hawryluk, losing pitcher for Commercial, worked through all seven innings of the night game. Matthews was relieved for the last man at bat in the fifth, pitched the sixth, and shifted position again in the seventh with Don Scherk at third base.

Try as they would, Hotelmen couldn't get their runners to count. Three runners were put out at home plate, one, pitcher Hawryluk, by a spectacular throw from left fielder Andy Marshall, who winged into Catcher Caralie's mitt in time by a step.

Commercial left seven men aboard, Gordon & Anderson left on five, two on hits, two on walks, and one on the only error of Commercial, by catcher Benny Windle—a bad throw to first base.

With Gordon & Anderson the visiting team, Sunberg led off with a double and was batted in by Marshall.

For Commercial, in the bottom of the first, Bruce Simundson gained first on Sunberg's error and was brought home by the game's second double, hit by Miner Simundson.

In the top of the second, Hartwig, shortstop, got on by four balls. Dunbar singled and Matthews got on by a bad throw to first by Catcher Windle on the last strike.

With bases loaded, Sunberg drove in a long looping fly into left field. Linney got under it and made the out, but Sunberg still got his RBI as Hartwig scored on the throw.

Strongest hitter for his team, Manager Cornwell was next to bat, with two on bases. A hurried consultation on the mound showed Hotelmen would walk the centerfielder, Caralie, who has been hitting weak all season, grounded out to retire the side.

Third score for G & A came in the fifth on a single by Cornwell, only hit of the inning. He stole second on Caralie's first strike, and gained third on a pitch in the dirt. Caralie grounded out to the pitcher but Marshall, with a long fly to centre, chalked up another RBI as Cornwell scored on the throw from Miner Simundson, who caught Marshall's fly.

Fastest action in the game came in the base running by Hotelmen, especially in the play which ran down Bruce Simundson between third and second and Scherk at third, Bruce finally was run down.

In that same inning, however, Commercial got in their second run, brought home by Zaccarelli and batted in by McDonald. McDonald was out at the plate when he tried for home on B.

Simundson's single.

Commercial had only one hit-base. Bruce expected to throw to first on Miner Simundson's grounder, and started for third. Cornwell, from centrefield, seeing the play, dashed in to cover second and called for the ball.

In an exciting race with the ball between Hartwig and Cornwell less than 100 feet from the fifth, but they had three men on bases, two on balls and one on a hit batter when Matthews threw a slow ball to catch Windle on the hip. That spoiled a good play, too, for Miner Simundson had called for the perfect set-up.

Brother Bruce was walked to first, Miner's sacrifice advanced him to second. Gunn grounded out, and clean-up hitter Windle was to bring in Bruce, who had gained third on a steal.

Desaulnier, following Windle, also was walked, and Hawryluk, at bat in the clutch with a man on third, struck out to end the inning.

HOUSING SLUMP

ST. THOMAS, Ont. (P)—Only one new house-building permit was taken out here during July. Contractors said prospective householders were having difficulty raising the increased down payments required by federal credit regulations.

WOODSTOCK, N.B. (P)—Barbers and service-station operators protested so vigorously when town council repealed an early-closing by-law affecting their establishments that council reimposed the by-law the following week.

Marauding Bear Is Slain After Two-Month Campaign

BURNS LAKE.—A bear had been raiding the Sheldford sheep ranch, some 15 miles west of Wistaria, for the past two months, during which time he had killed 29 sheep.

When Cyril Sheldford returned at 10 p.m. he found the flock of sheep stampeded and bewildered. He went to drive them to the sheep corral and met the bear within a few feet of the flock.

He had no gun but carried a short club. The bear rushed toward him, standing up when within a few feet of Sheldford. He threw his club at the bear and ran for the small gate entering the corral.

The bear followed and climbed the fence and, as he was getting too close, Sheldford ran towards an injured ram which was lying in the corral and drew the bears attention. The bear stopped and killed the old ram. Sheldford went to the ranch-house for his gun.

When he returned it was growing dark and the bear was chasing the calves down in the big pasture. The bear took to the hills but returned on the third night. Metcalfe and another employee of the Aluminum project visited the ranch, one armed with a shot-gun and one with a 30-30 rifle.

They hunted until they suddenly came across the bear which charged them. They opened fire, Metcalfe putting three 30-30 shots into the charging animal, Sheldford pouring six shots from his 303 British. The bear went down but, when they closed up to investigate, he got up and tackled them. They poured lead into him till he did not move.

The bear was a peculiar roan in color, standing five feet high on all fours and weighing about 500 pounds, the claws being widely spread and over three inches in length.

The skull will be sent to Victoria for identification of species.

Report of Ambassador

Prince Rupert Rotarians
Hear From Envoy Phil Ray

Rotarians make friends all over the world and are welcome everywhere they go where other Rotary Clubs exist. Phil Ray, a Prince Rupert Rotarian, who recently returned from a two-month's tour of England, France and Spain, visited 13 Rotary Clubs overseas and told his home club at luncheon yesterday he was "warmly greeted everywhere I went."

In London there are 82 Rotary Clubs. Mr. Ray visited nine of them, most impressive of which was the London club. It has more than 300 members and was formed in 1911, six years after origin of Rotary in Chicago.

Last year, Mr. Ray said, more than 600 visiting Rotarians had registered there from 45 different countries.

President of the London club was a florist to the Royal Family, he said.

$1.90 LUNCH

Luncheon at England's chief Rotary Club cost $1.90, said Mr. Ray, and a typical menu included soup, fish, peas, potatoes, fruit salad, ice cream and coffee.

The Kensington club luncheon was held in a restaurant on the roof of which grew a garden of 1 1/2 acres, with soil two-and-a-half feet deep, complete with running streams.

On June 26, Mr. Ray visited the Poole Rotary Club, the "adopted child" of Prince Rupert Rotarians. There he was "heartily received" and was thanked for the gifts and correspondence from Prince Rupert Rotarians which are sent at Christmas.

Streets in Poole, said Mr. Ray, had unorthodox names, one of which he recalled as being named "Barber's Piles."

Work of the London Rotary Club was divided into four chief departments, and he said he had been impressed with their program, said Mr. Ray.

CLUB FUNCTIONS

1. The Rotary Home of Friendship had been erected for the purpose of entertaining visiting Rotarians in London. The Home was beautifully appointed, he said, and "friendship" was the main factor stressed therein.

2. A vocational service committee visits industries regularly, makes itself acquainted with the various industries, the factories, and production. This committee offers its help and advice in labor-relations problems and encourages discussions between employer-employee groups.

3. The community service committee is devoted to upbuilding of youth, in studies and recreation; to the aid of disabled war veterans for whom it finds employment and placement. Concerts for patients in hospital are provided by this committee, and it raises funds for gifts to the needy.

4. Members of the International service committee gave Mr. Ray first hand practical knowledge of its work, for he was in their custody while visiting the London Club. The committee looks after the welfare of visiting Rotarians. It arranges evening fire-side chats. It contacts foreign students in London to make them "feel at home."

President Fred Scadden complimented Mr. Ray on his account of his tour and called him "a good ambassador for Prince Rupert."

Pioneer of City Dies

One of Prince Rupert's old-time residents who moved to Vancouver 10 years ago but came back each summer to work passed away in Prince Rupert General Hospital yesterday.

He was Harry Smith, 65, a steam engineer, who came here in 1911. He died following a stroke early yesterday morning at North Pacific Cannery where he had worked each summer for more than 10 years.

He is survived by a daughter, in Seattle, who is flying to Prince Rupert to complete funeral arrangements. A nephew, James Smith, lives at Terrace.

Mr. Smith was employed for a time with Canadian National Railways here and he worked for Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co. Ltd.

Funeral arrangements are in charge of B.C. Undertakers.
