Canadian Dollar Purchase Value Losing More Ground

OTTAWA (CP)—Purchasing value of the Canadian dollar appears to be dropping further and faster than its United States equivalent.

Based on cost-of-living trends in both countries, the Canadian dollar declined 6.4c and the American dollar only 3.8c.

Since the pre-war period of 1925-39 purchasing value, the Canadian dollar declined 47.1c and the American 46.1c.

Government statisticians estimated that, on the basis of latest cost of living trends, the purchasing value of the Canadian dollar would be 52.9c and the American 57.7c.

Cuts Down Flood And Expels Odor

EDMONTON (CP)—First major step in controlling the unruly rivers of the High Prairie district of the Peace River Valley, an 1800-foot dam has been completed on the Heart River.

It's a complicated project whereby the dam, four miles east of the eastern tip of Lake Winagami, has diverted the drainage of the West Prairie River and forced the Heart River's upstream flood through a natural creek and reservoir into a 1½-mile diversion canal, through Lake Winagami and into a two-mile outlet canal to a creek.

The water now flows four miles down the last creek and back into the Heart River.

One aspect of the work is that it has eliminated what one government official called "the corrupting turp" odor of Lake Winagami, long offensive to district dwellers. The project has raised the lake level by four feet and reduced its high salt content to the point where it is pleasant to drink.

And the fish that once shunned the lake now are following a clear path from Lesser Slave Lake to Winagami.

It has even increased the duck population in the area. Because of this the organization known as Duck Unlimited contributed $20,000 towards the Heart River project, total cost of which has not been announced.

The project presents possibilities for hydro-electric development. There is a 75-foot drop between the levels of the Heart River and Winagami Lake and the dam this last spring held back enough water to flood 250,000 acres to a depth of one foot.

Reg. Bailey, Water Resources Board engineer in charge of the project, now is studying flood control of the West Prairie River which each spring floods about 72 square miles of farmland near High Prairie. The Heart River project may offer a solution to the West Prairie River floods that have been a problem for many years.

The town of McLennan benefits greatly by the dam. A supply of fresh water may easily be piped to the town from the lake to overcome a persistent water shortage problem. And the town also is talking of building a new summer resort around the reservoir.

Edmonton Actress Wins London Favor

EDMONTON (CP)—Dianne Foster, Edmonton's gift to the theatre and radio world, has won further successes on the British stage. Her progress was recounted here by Prof. and Mrs. E. H. Gowan of Edmonton, who had lunch with Dianne and her husband during a holiday trip in England.

Dianne will play the role of Bianca in "Othello" with Orson Welles in the title role, and the young Australian, Peter Finch, playing Iago. She left the cast of "The Hollow" and began rehearsing Othello at the end of September.

The play is being presented by Sir Laurence Olivier at the St. James Theatre in London this autumn.

Mrs. Gowan herself a playwright and author, noted that almost 80 women had read the part of Bianca in try-outs before Orson Welles heard Dianne do it to a great wave of approval.

"I'm proud of Dianne," Mrs. Gowan concluded, "but I'm not a bit surprised."

Famous Bells To Stay Silent

LIVERPOOL (CP)—The announcement that Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh will travel to Canada by air instead of by sea means that the bells of Liverpool Cathedral will remain silent indefinitely.

The bells, high in the immense tower of the cathedral, are the heaviest peal of bells in Britain. The tenor bell alone weighs 82 hundredweight, about a ton heavier than the tenor at St. Paul's Cathedral, London.

To bear the weight of the Liverpool bells a special frame was built by architect Sir Giles Gilbert Scott, designer of the new House of Commons in London.

The bell frame of reinforced concrete, the belfry floor and construction work beneath it weigh more than 200 tons.

The bells were to have rung for the first time September 25, date of the royal couple's scheduled drive around the city before boarding ship for Canada. Elizabeth and Philip now are travelling by air.

Churchill Moots Coalition

LIVERPOOL (CP)—Winston Churchill last night guardedly promised to revive Britain's wartime coalition government in order to fight through world dangers and economic crises if his Conservatives win the national election October 25.

Greeted by a tumultuous ovation from thousands who threw flowers and raised his old V-for-victory sign, Churchill said in his first election speech:

"What is required is a government with power to carry on a tolerant, non-partisan, non-doctrinarian system of policy for a considerable time."

There has not been the least hint that Attlee's Labor party would react with favor to serving in a cabinet under Conservative leadership.

British Election

TO HAVE a shaky government at home does not strengthen a nation's hand in time of international crisis so it is well that Britain should be settling its domestic political situation by means of the forthcoming general election October 25.

There is no question but that the United Kingdom faces a hard pull this winter. Although coal production per man shift is higher than it was during or before the war, there is every prospect that industries, homes and power plants will be short of fuel.

At the same time things have taken an adverse turn for Britain in international trade which is about 30 per cent of her living. An adverse trade balance has cost $300,000,000 of her gold reserves in a few months.

Whether the Conservatives can do much better than the present government has done in coping with the tides of international and economic affairs if they should be returned to power remains to be shown.

From all accounts it need not be expected that even the election of a Conservative government would mean repeal of extensive social legislation which has come to be characterized by the welfare state.

However, Mr. Attlee cannot be resigned entirely to defeat but must have some hopes that Labor might even strengthen its position. In any event, there is assurance that both contending parties are committed to rearmament of Britain.

Scandalous Situation

IT'S BEEN just by chance that Prince Albert has heard about Prince Rupert's silent and unused grain elevator. Someone saw something in a magazine and he passed the word along.

An elevator that never works has no business on any coast in a country that produces a good deal of the world's wheat.

And it's nothing short of scandalous that the house should remain monumentally empty when the crop is going to waste because there is no place to put it.

Prince Rupert cannot say Royalty has never been received here. The Duke of Connaught, Governor General of Canada, and son of Queen Victoria was received in the city during the fall of 1912.

Donald Gordon Sees Grain Loading at Churchill And New Railway Line Building

SHERRIDON, Man.—Pleased with the progress that has been made to date and visibly impressed by the engineering ingenuity that has been shown in the undertaking, Donald Gordon, chairman and president of Canadian National Railways, yesterday concluded a five-day inspection trip which included the CNR's 150-mile rail link now in first stages of construction between Sherridon and Lynn Lake.

A visit was also made to Churchill where he inspected the elevator and docks and saw the last two ships of the season being loaded with grain for Great Britain.

At Lynn Lake he went underground to see development work on the ore body of the nickel and copper mine whose existence was responsible for the decision to build the new line.

Accompanied by S. F. Dingle, vice-president, operation, J. R. McMillan, vice-president, western region; Major J. L. Charles, regional chief engineer, and B. L. D. Daly, a director of the Canadian National, Mr. Gordon's party flew in one of the mining company's aircraft, piloted by Ralph Shapland with mechanic Winston "Slim" Graham, into the Sherrit Gordon property at Lynn Lake Monday afternoon.

The president's visit to this point on the Hudson Bay division of the railway was taken as an indication of his deep personal interest in the project. Mr. Gordon said that he and his officers were keenly interested in all such development programs undertaken by the railway and that the only way they could be supervised intelligently was by personal inspection.

"You can learn only so much from studying maps, blue prints and engineer's reports," he said. "But it is not until you have been over the ground that you can get the real feel of a construction operation like this. This one is so big, so important, and so interesting that we are keeping a very close eye on it."

The party flew over the stretch where clearing and grading has already begun and followed the preliminary survey line through to Lynn Lake. From the air and on the ground they saw at first hand the rocky hills and ridges, the valleys laced with lakes and streams and the long stretches of muskeg that will have to be crossed before the line is completed some time late in 1953.

During the trip Major Charles pointed out the more than seventy stream crossings that will have to be bridged by timber bridges and three major steel bridges. More than 510 culverts will be required to carry the line across water courses.

IMPRESSED

Major Charles stated emphatically, however, that all of the engineering problems had been carefully surveyed and studied and appropriate solutions found in every case. "We are working to a deadline completion date late in 1953," he said, "and we have every confidence we can meet it."

At Lynn Lake, Mr. Gordon and his party were met by officials of Sherrit Gordon Mines Ltd., new engaged on development work at the new property, scheduled to bring it into production about the time the line is finished.

The president's party went underground with officials of the company to inspect the work that has already been done to prepare the ore body for mining operations. When the new property goes into production, it is expected to turn out 8,400 tons of nickel, 3,400 tons of copper, 100 tons of cobalt, 1,500 tons of copper sulphide and 70,000 tons of ammonium sulphate, and the annual report of Sherrit Gordon stated that annual sales would reach at least $14,000,000 annually.

Mr. Gordon said that his visit to the property confirmed his original belief that the Lynn Lake development will not only be vital to the Canadian defence effort by providing a new source of strategic minerals required for defence supplies but that it would contribute also the future industrial development of north-western Manitoba.

"Construction of the Sherrit Gordon-Lynn Lake line represents a heavy capital investment," he said, "but everything I saw convinces me that the construction of the railway line is completely justified in light of the size and value of the mining operations already decided upon as well as those in prospect."

Financial Independence Can Be Built on Instalment Plan

Very Small Down-Payment Starts You In Fascinating Hobby—Collecting Bonds

"Despite the high cost of living that often makes saving seem impossible, a good many people have found a way to build a solid nest-egg for the future," according to Ernest Paulding, Prince Rupert manager for the Bank of Montreal.

In the course of a conversation yesterday on the subject of building financial independence, Mr. Paulding asserted that the first requisite to saving money was to "go into debt to yourself for a definite amount, no matter how small."

"The best way I know to go about this is to sign yourself up for a Canada Savings Bond—in whatever amount you feel you can squeeze out of your income over a year—of $50, $100, $500 or $1000 denomination.

"You can buy a bond on the instalment plan with a very small down-payment. For example, with as little as $2.50 down you can make the first payment on a $50 bond. On a $100 bond the down-payment is $5. The remaining instalments can be made on an easy, regular basis over the following 12 months."

A special feature of the 1951 issue is the high rate of interest, the B of M manager emphasized. Each bond bears 10 coupons at the rate of 3.5 per cent. The first coupon covers a period of 21 months (equal to 2 per cent per annum), due August 1, 1953. From that date, one coupon at 3.5 per cent is payable annually on August 1, until 1962. This replaces the old rate of 2.75 per cent and amounts to 3.21 per cent over the life of the bond.

Mr. Paulding said that thousands of B and M customers across Canada were building up a nest-egg of Canada Savings Bonds on the instalment plan and he extended an invitation to the residents of the Rupert district to take advantage of this plan at the Bank of Montreal.

"And," he added, "you can gamble when you buy a Savings Bond—you know sure thing."

Would Make Streets Safer Scottish Reunion

Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce asked its civic committee Monday night to get in touch with the city council to see if something cannot be done about a number of street traffic situations which were complained about in quick succession at Monday night's monthly meeting of the local chamber.

First of all, C. A. Berner suggested that there should be stop signs at Second Avenue and Second Street which he considered one of the most dangerous intersections in the city and at which there had already been a number of accidents.

W. F. Stone thought something should be done about marking off diagonal parking spaces—say 22-foot width—so better advantage could be taken of street parking space.

Mention was also made of the lack of respect by many motorists for the safety crossing spaces which had been marked off on Third Avenue intersections. There was some suggestion that these crossings might be too frequently placed. However, it was the consensus that too little consideration was being given to pedestrians and that the chamber should support Parent-Teachers' representations that these safety crossing lanes should be supported by city enactment.

E. D. Forward spoke of the representations that had been made by the Civic Centre authorities for a 15-mile speed limit on Second Avenue past the Civic Centre. Many motorists were today swinging around the McBride street corner and tearing up Second Avenue at 50 or 60 miles per hour. It was only by the grace of God that there were not serious accidents.

Spins Her Own Yarn—A Grizzly Tale—Moose Hunting

HOUSTON—Walked along the river bank and took some photos of the mountains, which looked glorious. Encountered some very pleasant people. Was invited to partake of some very excellent Indian relish which was in the making. Was asked by an old gentleman, "When are you going to return?" Meaning, of course, to the old country. So it is evident where I hail from. However, I was also told that day that I had the gift of the burney.

Met Mrs. E. Watson, who has been in Telkwa for four years, but had previously lived in Topley since 1920. She was knitting socks for a member of her family. The wool with which she was knitting had been expertly spun with her spinning wheel, and previously carded with her carding machine. She was using two balls of finely spun wool, and was knitting the heels double. She had not washed all the grease out. When I asked her where she was going to get more wool from, she said she didn't know as the man from whom she used to get it didn't raise any more.

Bought a pair of nylons, from a man in my shoe, which Mr. Watson kindly fixed for me. Was lent a Smith-Corona typewriter by Don Gould and an agent for them. He said that mine made him think the Japs were coming, and he felt like sleeping under the bed.

Conversation in the evening turned to bear hunting, and a tale was told of a grizzly who threw ties to a man who feigned death and buried him, but who lived to tell the tale. A fellow traveller had travelled on the same ship on the Australian run, and conversation turned to mosquitoes, flies and white ants, and that one could buy a pound of steak, a dozen eggs and a pound of butter for the equivalent of a dollar.

Had a night-cap with Mr. and Mrs. Bussinger, and the McAdams. Was shown by Mr. Vaughan, a Prince Rupert Board of Trade Certificate, No. 91, issued January 31, 1913, to Charles A. Vaughan, Esq., of which he seemed very proud.

Elmer Dyck and Gerald Bates of Telkwa packed away from 25 to 30 hundred pounds of meat from two bull moose killed together, 12 miles southeast of

Apply to Abandon One-Time Popular Ontario Railroad

BROCKVILLE Ont.—A railroad that brought thousands of United States and Canadian dollars in to the Rideau Lakes country for more than half a century may soon cease to exist.

The Canadian National Railways has applied to the Board of Transport Commissioners to abandon the line, connecting this city with Westport, 40 miles west of here.

Modern roads and faster means of travel have caused a loss of some $70,000 annually to the CNR.

At one time, thousands of passengers weekly rode the train during vacation months. Last year, the company received only $169 in passenger revenue.

The locomotive, hauling several freight cars and a shabby wooden coach, makes the round trip to Westport each Thursday. Four other days of the week it goes to Napanee by way of Forfar which is about 10 miles from Westport.

END OF DREAM

The men who built the line intended it to connect Brockville with Sault Ste. Marie to transport timber to the U.S. border. But funds ran out when the line reached Westport and that was the end of the road and the dream.

The line was sold under foreclosure in 1903 and a new charter granted. But the second company defaulted its bond interest in 1911 and the line was sold to the Canadian Northern, subsequently absorbed by the CNR.

Conductor C. A. Moore remembers the days when the train made four trips a day loaded with fishermen and vacationists.

Recently, on what may have been the last summer's excursion the line will ever run, a group of Brockville beauties—dressed in

Destroyer Rescues Helicopter Crew

TOKYO—Rescue of a helicopter, in distress while on a rescue mission, was a highlight of a recent patrol by the Canadian destroyer Slouss off the west coast of Korea.

An aircraft from a British carrier had been forced down on tide-flats off the enemy shore. The crew was picked up by a helicopter attached to the carrier, but the 'copter ran out of fuel on route to its mother ship and landed on a small island.

The Slouss, dispatched to the scene when it became evident the helicopter was in trouble, was in time to see it landing. The destroyer anchored off the island and sent ashore her landing party under command of Lt. Comdr. L. D. MacWilliams of the ship's doctor. Surgeon Lt. Comdr. J. D. MacWilliams of the ship's doctor. Surgeon Lt. Comdr. J. D. MacWilliams of the ship's doctor. Surgeon Lt. Comdr. J. D. Natural Gas Making Power

VICTORIA—Use of natural gas in its two diesel electric generating units at Dawson Creek has resulted in a fuel saving of 56 per cent, it was revealed in the monthly operations report of the British Columbia Power Commission.

Since the commencement of use of gas for the engines last December, fuel cost per kilowatt hour generated decreased from 1419 cents to 62 cents.

Being of the dual-fuel type, the 865-horsepower Cooper-Bessmer engines formerly used diesel oil, thus a ready comparison was available.

Students Protest Closing of School

SALMON ARM.—Suspension of the public schools here caused a demonstration by school students who, to the number of 300, stormed the schools and snake-paraded through the streets yesterday. They carried banners and placards on which appeared the words "We Want School."

INDIAN CROPS—Food crops occupy four-fifths of the cultivated land in the Republic of India, the average family having less than five acres.

MR. DONALD MACLEAN ...

What do you figure to do with your Bonds?
I'm going to keep them for my old age. It's a long way off yet, but if I keep on buying Bonds I'll really have something to fall back on when I'm too old to work.

Haven't you any idea of buying a car or a house or something like that with the money from your Bonds?
No, not for me... just for my old age, that's all. They're kind of extra insurance.

Why did you buy your Canada Savings Bond, Mr. MacLean?
My Bond? Man, I've bought Bonds every year. I buy them to save money. It's an easy way to build up a little something.

Did you buy them through your bank?
No, I didn't. I bought them through the Company. That is they took the money for the payments off my pay until they were all paid for. That's the easy way, to my thinking, to set something aside, without missing it much.

Mr. MacLean, have you found it necessary to cash in your Bonds, say for some family emergency?
I have not. I have every one of them, and I bought them every time they came around. I think they are really worth having, that's why I buy them.

Injured in Fall at Riverside Mine—Replacing Sidewalks—Logging Operations at Bear River

Falling off the roof of one of the buildings at Riverside mine, Hyder, Alaska, Jim Langdon, who is in charge of the property, sustained injuries which necessitated him being flown to Prince Rupert for medical attention. The X-ray equipment here is out of order and an accurate diagnosis of the injuries was not possible locally.

The recent McFadden discovery on the Marmot River is being operated by a new company entitled Marmot Lead and Zinc Mines Limited. During the past week work on the truck road has been pushed along steadily under the direction of owner McFadden. A contract for 500 feet of tunnel has been let to Nick Benkovich. The heads of the new company are enthusiastic about the future of the property.

At the regular meeting of the village commissioners, Chairman Ernest Love reported that, replacing obsolete wooden sidewalks, hard surfacing had been put on the east side of Columbia Street from Sixth to Ninth Streets, along Sixth on the north side west of Columbia for half a block, along the south side of Seventh for half a block, along the north side of Ninth Street from Columbia to Brightwell, and on the east side of Brightwell from Eighth to Ninth. Work had to be discontinued on account of weather conditions but it is the intention of the commissioners to continue the work or replacement next year.

Phil Crouch has been visiting here for the past week renewing old acquaintances.

Logging operations for the Columbia Cellulose Company has been underway on the Bear River valley and, it is reported, will be prosecuted vigorously during the winter. Early spring

Smithers Road Tragedy Shock

SMITHERS—Teen-age friends were shocked by the untimely death of Tommy Hoskins in a car accident.

Scores of cars viewed the mass of wreckage that was once a shining new car. Onlookers flocked to the scene of the tragedy.

It was evident that Tommy tried to bring the car back on the highway and, in doing so, caused it to buckle and somersault. He had been given the car for about 15 minutes and gathered two of his friends and went for a short drive. Coasting down the long stretch on the hill, the car went off a soft shoulder of the road which is very treacherous on both sides.

TELKWA TALKS...

Mr. and Mrs. T. Christiansen and daughter paid a brief visit with the Paulson family before returning to Prince George.

The Royal Bank of Canada has erected their sign on their new sub-branch premises and installed office furniture and fixtures. They hope to open for business within the next week or ten days.

School attendance is still on the increase and now over the limit. The fifth class room is now ready and awaiting another teacher when available.

The Telkwa hall committee had a meeting to discuss the installation of a furnace in the hall. An appropriation of funds is to be sanctioned and work will start as soon as possible.

Mrs. Kay Thornton left by car to board the plane at Prince George for Vancouver where she will receive medical treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Les Campbell and family are moving to Smithers where Mr. Campbell will be employed by the City Transfer.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Lindstrom of Langara, Queen Charlotte Islands, accompanied by his father, C. Lindstrom of Remo, are travelling through on a vacation. While in the vicinity of Doughty, about 25 miles south of Telkwa, they should see a fairly large crew at work on this operation which will be of much benefit to the district.

Barbecue Grounds Being Improved

TELKWA—The Telkwa Barbecue Association held an emergency meeting to formulate definite plans to purchase and install wire fencing with steel posts topped by two strands of barbed wire around the grounds and also taking in a spring that would be quite an asset to the grounds for watering of stock, etc. The cost would be in the neighborhood of approximately $600. This would go a long way in making the grounds, with other planned improvements, the most up-to-date and finest in the country. It would also eliminate any possibility of transgression on the part of some of the public. There is considerable loss of revenue through this procedure and the committee feels justified in taking steps to abolish. Regular meeting will be held later in the month.

TERRACE TOPICS

Mrs. Phillos Rossignol, the former Mrs. Nigel Sherwood, left by car on Tuesday for her home at Royston, Vancouver Island, after a week's visit here with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Vic Giraud. Accompanying her on the trip were Miss Mary Turner, x-ray technician of the Lourdes Hospital, Campbell River, and Miss Edna Dobbie, R.N., formerly of Copper City and Prince Rupert and now of Campbell River.

Mr. and Mrs. George McAdams returned home on Sunday, driving from the south where they have passed the past six months holidaying on Vancouver Island.

Enroute home they spent a few days at Telkwa.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Gorton visited in Terrace on their return home to Prince Rupert from the south where they have been on holiday.

Thursday night's Hospital Auxiliary meeting, the first after a summer recess, was well attended with many new members being present. Mrs. Ivan Frank, president, was in the chair. A report of the Hospital Ball was given by the general convener, Mrs. W. C. Osborne, who felt that the effort had been worth while and the Auxiliary had benefitted considerably financially. Plans were made for the Thanksgiving Tea to be held in the Credit Union hall on Saturday, October 6 and working committee formed.

TELKWA—Telkwa Citizens' Association gave a luncheon on Thursday for the Hon. E. C. Carson. About 25 guests were present. In speaking, Mr. Carson intimated that the Village of Telkwa and stretch of road between Telkwa and Smithers would most likely be paved next year when more funds would be available.

One of the world's famous flat-topped mountains is Mr. Roraima, towering 9,100 feet in British Guiana.

HERE and NOW

By LARRY STANWOOD

ANOTHER RECORD has been established in Prince Rupert. A new item yesterday told us that so far we have never had as much sunshine in any year. That is a healthy indication.

Sunshine is a wonderful element. It contains health giving food value, and is especially appreciated here where "canned sunshine" ups our living costs considerably.

Sunshine also is an effective germ killer. It is a stimulant to growth. Great for summer sports. Wonderful for holiday time and an advertisement to tourists for any place. Oh, there is no end to the benefits of sunshine.

But there is another side to sunshine, a harsh, bitter, cruel side. When it turns against man—then begins the trouble. It can turn into a killer.

I SHALL NEVER forget my most practical lesson. I was motoring alone through some out-of-the-way territory in southwestern California, commercially known in that area as the "badlands." The yellow dusty road wound tortuously through the rolling grey hills. It was still early morning, but hot—the air stifling.

What I had feared for some time came true. The car's motor was heating and steam issued from the hood. I stopped to investigate and found the radiator dry, the engine block fairly glowing.

Lots of time, I told myself. Just camp by the roadside and someone will come along with a helping hand. But after two hours I had my doubts. I examined the road for tracks to determine the extent of traffic. What I found made me no happier. It was evident no other vehicle had been along for days. Probably none would come for again that long.

I had to have water, or I was marooned. The nearest point of civilization of which I knew was more than 30 miles away. I had a couple of cold drinks—about two mouthfuls—left in my thermos. Lips already parched, I swallowed this and took my lunch bucket in quest for water. Even if I had to carry it drop by drop, I vowed I would get some water into the radiator of the car. I set out cross-country, looking for a possible stream or water hole.

THE SUN WAS a white ball of fire smoldering in the pale blue sky, its incandescent rays stabbing at the rolling hills—and at me—with fingers of flame. The thin grass crinkled under my feet and was brown and lifeless; even the earth seemed to have turned brown from the heartless, blazing sun.

The air was close and stifling, sultry and terribly depressing. There was no wind, not even a movement of air to relieve the monotony of just plain heat.

I topped a knoll and looked around, studying intently the area for any sign of water. I saw it. Not more than a mile, I thought it would be to that clump of shrubby growth which followed the contour of a ravine. There must be a little stream there.

At first, I hurried, but soon I cut my pace in half. The hills were parched and every crack in the dry, hard earth cried for water as I did. Through the intense glare of sunshine, distant heatwaves I saw, shimmering and undulating over the hot earth.

I heard a hissing sound, then a rustle, and before me a small snake slithered over the dead

Rookie Hurler Cuffed Giants

NEW YORK (CP)—Brooklyn Dodger's and New York's miracle Giants are deadlocked in the National League post-season tie-play-off and are crashing head-on today with each manager shooting the works.

Stan Maglie of the Giants and Don Newcombe of the Dodgers are the opposing pitcher...

There are not enough happy faces. A smile is infectious and its reciprocal, but so also is a sour attitude.

We've already established a record for natural sunshine. How about some human sunshine? If we try hard, we can even smile our own trouble away.

Wake Island, about 1,900 miles from Hawaii in the Pacific Ocean, is only a little more than 1,000 miles in area.

About 83 percent of the island is in the Indian Ocean. It is the only island in the world that is not in a sugar cane.

ON TOP OF FLAY—Coach Johnny Sawatzky of the RCN team at Shearwater base, Halifax, takes no chances on missing any of the inside play as he puts the squad through a practice. From his helicopter quarter-deck coach Sawatzky provides a new twist in Canadian football. (CP from National Defence)

Blackwood on Bridge

By Easley Blackwood

After Miss Brash jumped to five clubs on this hand, Mr. Abel dropped several of his cards on the floor. He is always a little nervous when playing with Miss Brash. Who isn't?

Glancing down Mr. Muzzy happened to see the king of clubs. Now he felt certain that nothing could prevent him from winning three club tricks. Wouldn't you feel the same way?

"Double," Mr. Muzzy yelled delightedly. This was followed by a redoubled snort from Mr. Champion.

"Oh, stop frowning, Champion," flared Mr. Muzzy. You frown at everything I do. If we don't beat this contract I'll eat the cards."

"Would you boys like to show each other your hands?" inquired Miss Brash, who thought the talking across the board had gone far enough.

"MISS BRASH WINS" Mr. Champion opened the jack of hearts dummy played low, Mr. Muzzy signalled with the six and Miss Brash won. Without hesitation she led a diamond to dummy's queen, returned a heart and ruffed it.

She entered the dummy with the ace of diamonds and ruffed another heart in her hand. Then she led to dummy's king of spades and ruffed the last heart from the board.

At this point Mr. Champion's frown had deepened but Mr. Muzzy looked as cocky as ever.

Miss Brash's next play was to cash the king of diamonds. She followed with the ace of spades—and suddenly Mr. Muzzy realized what was about to happen to him. He was down to four cards, all of them clubs. (Wouldn't the woman EVER lead trumps?)

The answer to that question was "no"—not on this hand. Instead Miss Brash led her last spade and Mr. Muzzy had no choice but to trump it. He could now take only one more trick.

Desperately he led his jack of clubs but Miss Brash let it run.

Premier Johnson announced the postponement of the opening of the special session which is called to deal with old age pensions.

The session is advanced from the previously announced date because of delay in the visit of Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh.

Moose Brass To Be Honored At Banquet

Recently-elected supreme governor of the Moose James R. Ballard will be honored tonight at a banquet by all members of the Moose here.

Mr. Ballard, accompanied by Mrs. Ballard and four others, arrived here today on the Prince George, enroute to the Alaska Moose Association convention in Ketchikan, October 4-7.

The new supreme governor is on the last leg of a two months' tour of the States following his election at Buffalo in August. As a feature attraction at tonight's dinner, Mr. Ballard will play transcriptions of dedication services of the House of God at Mooseheart, Illinois, last year.

The church, said Mr. Ballard today, is the only place in the world where the Protestant, the Catholic and the Jew can worship together.

"At a cost of $1,300,000, this church represents the dream of some of the hardest working clergymen in the country."

The governor is a practising attorney-at-law in Seattle, accompanying him, besides his wife, are W. G. Leckey, secretary of the Seattle Moose lodge and past supreme governor, and Mrs. Leckey; Dr. Arthur Moninger of Baltimore, supreme councilman, and Herman Fisher, travelling auditor of the supreme lodge.

Mr. Ballard's last visit here was in 1945, on his way to organize the Alaska Moose Association.

Valued Pianist Leaving City

Andy McNaughton, who has been Prince Rupert's musical standby for the eight-and-a-half years he has been in the city, is returning to Vancouver whence he came here. He leaves Friday morning by plane.

Outstanding pianist and one-man orchestra, Mr. McNaughton will be missed in dancing and social circles where he has been such a valued entertainer.

The Gyro Club, for whom Mr. McNaughton has been generous with his services over the years, made a suitable presentation to him at luncheon today. The presentation was made by W. F. Stone.

Apple Day Coming up

Prince Rupert Gyro Club will be having its annual Apple Day this month, probably on October 20.

Ben Parker, who made a success of it last year, over $500 being raised for playground fund of the club, will be in charge. He gave his instructions to Gyro members at today's luncheon.

The Gyros will again go through the telephone book and take orders for luscious Macintosh Reds by case lots.

Last Fishing Area Closes

Last of the remaining areas on this coast open to commercial net fishing closes Thursday, 6 p.m. Fisheries Department announced today. All seiners and gill-nets will withdraw before that time from Rose Spit, through the north of Graham Island to Hippa Island.

Meanwhile, the whole of Queen Charlotte Islands area still remains open to trrollers, where some springs and cohos still are being caught.

Stream conditions are changing for the better, however, as heavy rains early in the week gave many salmon the chance to head upstream to spawn.
