

Watch Out For Phony Peace, Warns Rhee

Korean President Would Fight to Manchu Border

PUSAN, Korea (CP)—President Syngman Rhee yesterday warned the world against a "phony peace" in Korea, already cruelly ravaged by war.

Rhee said he meant the warning for "the United Nations, the United States and all free people—and Communists who are the enemies of free people."

Ass'd Boards Council Here

While accommodation of the delegates would be a problem, executive council of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce has agreed to co-operate with the council of the Associated Boards of Trade of British Columbia if it desires to hold a meeting here at the time of the convention of the Associated Boards of Trade of Central British Columbia which has been set for September 5, 6 and 7. Suggestion has been made by Reg. T. Rose, executive secretary of the Vancouver Board of Trade, that the B.C. council meeting be held here.

Council of the Associated Boards of Trade of British Columbia consists of representatives from the various district bodies in the province and there might be fifteen or twenty delegates with accompanying guests. Various sections of the province have their Associated Boards such as Central British Columbia.

Williams Lake has also offered to entertain the Associated Boards council.

The Korean president continued: "Give us arms, training and air cover from your planes and the Koreans will do the killing and the dying."

US Agreement Being Awaited

OTTAWA (CP) — The United States has not yet replied to the proposed revision of the Canadian-American treaty on halibut fishing off the Pacific Coast. Hon. R. W. Mayhew, minister of fisheries, told the House of Commons yesterday.

At the same time, Mr. Mayhew told Major General G. R. Pearkos V.C. (Progressive-Conservative, Nanaimo) that halibut fishing on the west coast has already been "split" or divided into two seasons as requested by Pacific Coast fishermen.

The minister said the region known as Area No. 2 has been divided with one section set aside for mid-season fishing with no catch quota limit for the period of eight days. This is a section in which departmental biologists say an additional catch could be obtained from a run apart from others in the Pacific Ocean.

Gen. Pearkos said that fishermen wanted a split season and an extension of the time limit for halibut catches.

And it would take 35,000 yards of fill to do the job.

International Yacht Race Calls Here Next Wednesday

Next Wednesday afternoon will see crack power cruisers of the Puget Sound area and elsewhere in the Pacific Northwest calling at Prince Rupert at the conclusion of the second stage of the 1951 renewal of the international cruiser race. Prince Rupert Rowing & Yacht Club has plans well in hand for a reception to ten or more yachts.

Warning of Air Attack

PORT STANLEY, Ont. (CP)—Health Minister Paul Martin disclosed last night that an elaborate blueprint is being developed to forewarn Canadians against enemy air attack.

The plan, Mr. Martin told a convention of the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities, involves a vast radar network, a ground observer corps and channelled into air defence centres where experts would sift the information and determine the strength and direction of attacking forces.

Trained civil defence liaison men, constantly on duty in these centres, will be charged, said Mr. Martin, with advising civil defence authorities in target areas lying in the path of predicted enemy approach.

Railways Are Hurt

Truck Competition Painful, Says President of CNR

CHARLOTTETOWN (CP) — Donald Gordon, president of the Canadian National Railways, said last night that the way truck operations are siphoning off railway net revenues by taking the most profitable business and experience "is a most painful one."

Net revenues are already small enough, Mr. Gordon said, in an address prepared for delivery before the Charlottetown Board of Trade.

The dilemma facing the railways is that somewhere something they must recover costs which cannot be directly allocated to any particular traffic, said Mr. Gordon.

If they attempt to do so with higher rates on basic commodities an important part of the traffic may be choked off. If they try to find a margin of return off merchandise traffic they create a more profitable field of opportunity for truck operations.

Marked Change In City Seen

Marked change in the city, particularly in the way of new buildings along Third Avenue east of Fulton Street, are noted by D. K. Kennedy, chairman of the assessment and equalization board of the Department of Education, who has been a visitor in the city during the past couple of days on official business.

"I would hardly recognize the street today," he told the Daily News.

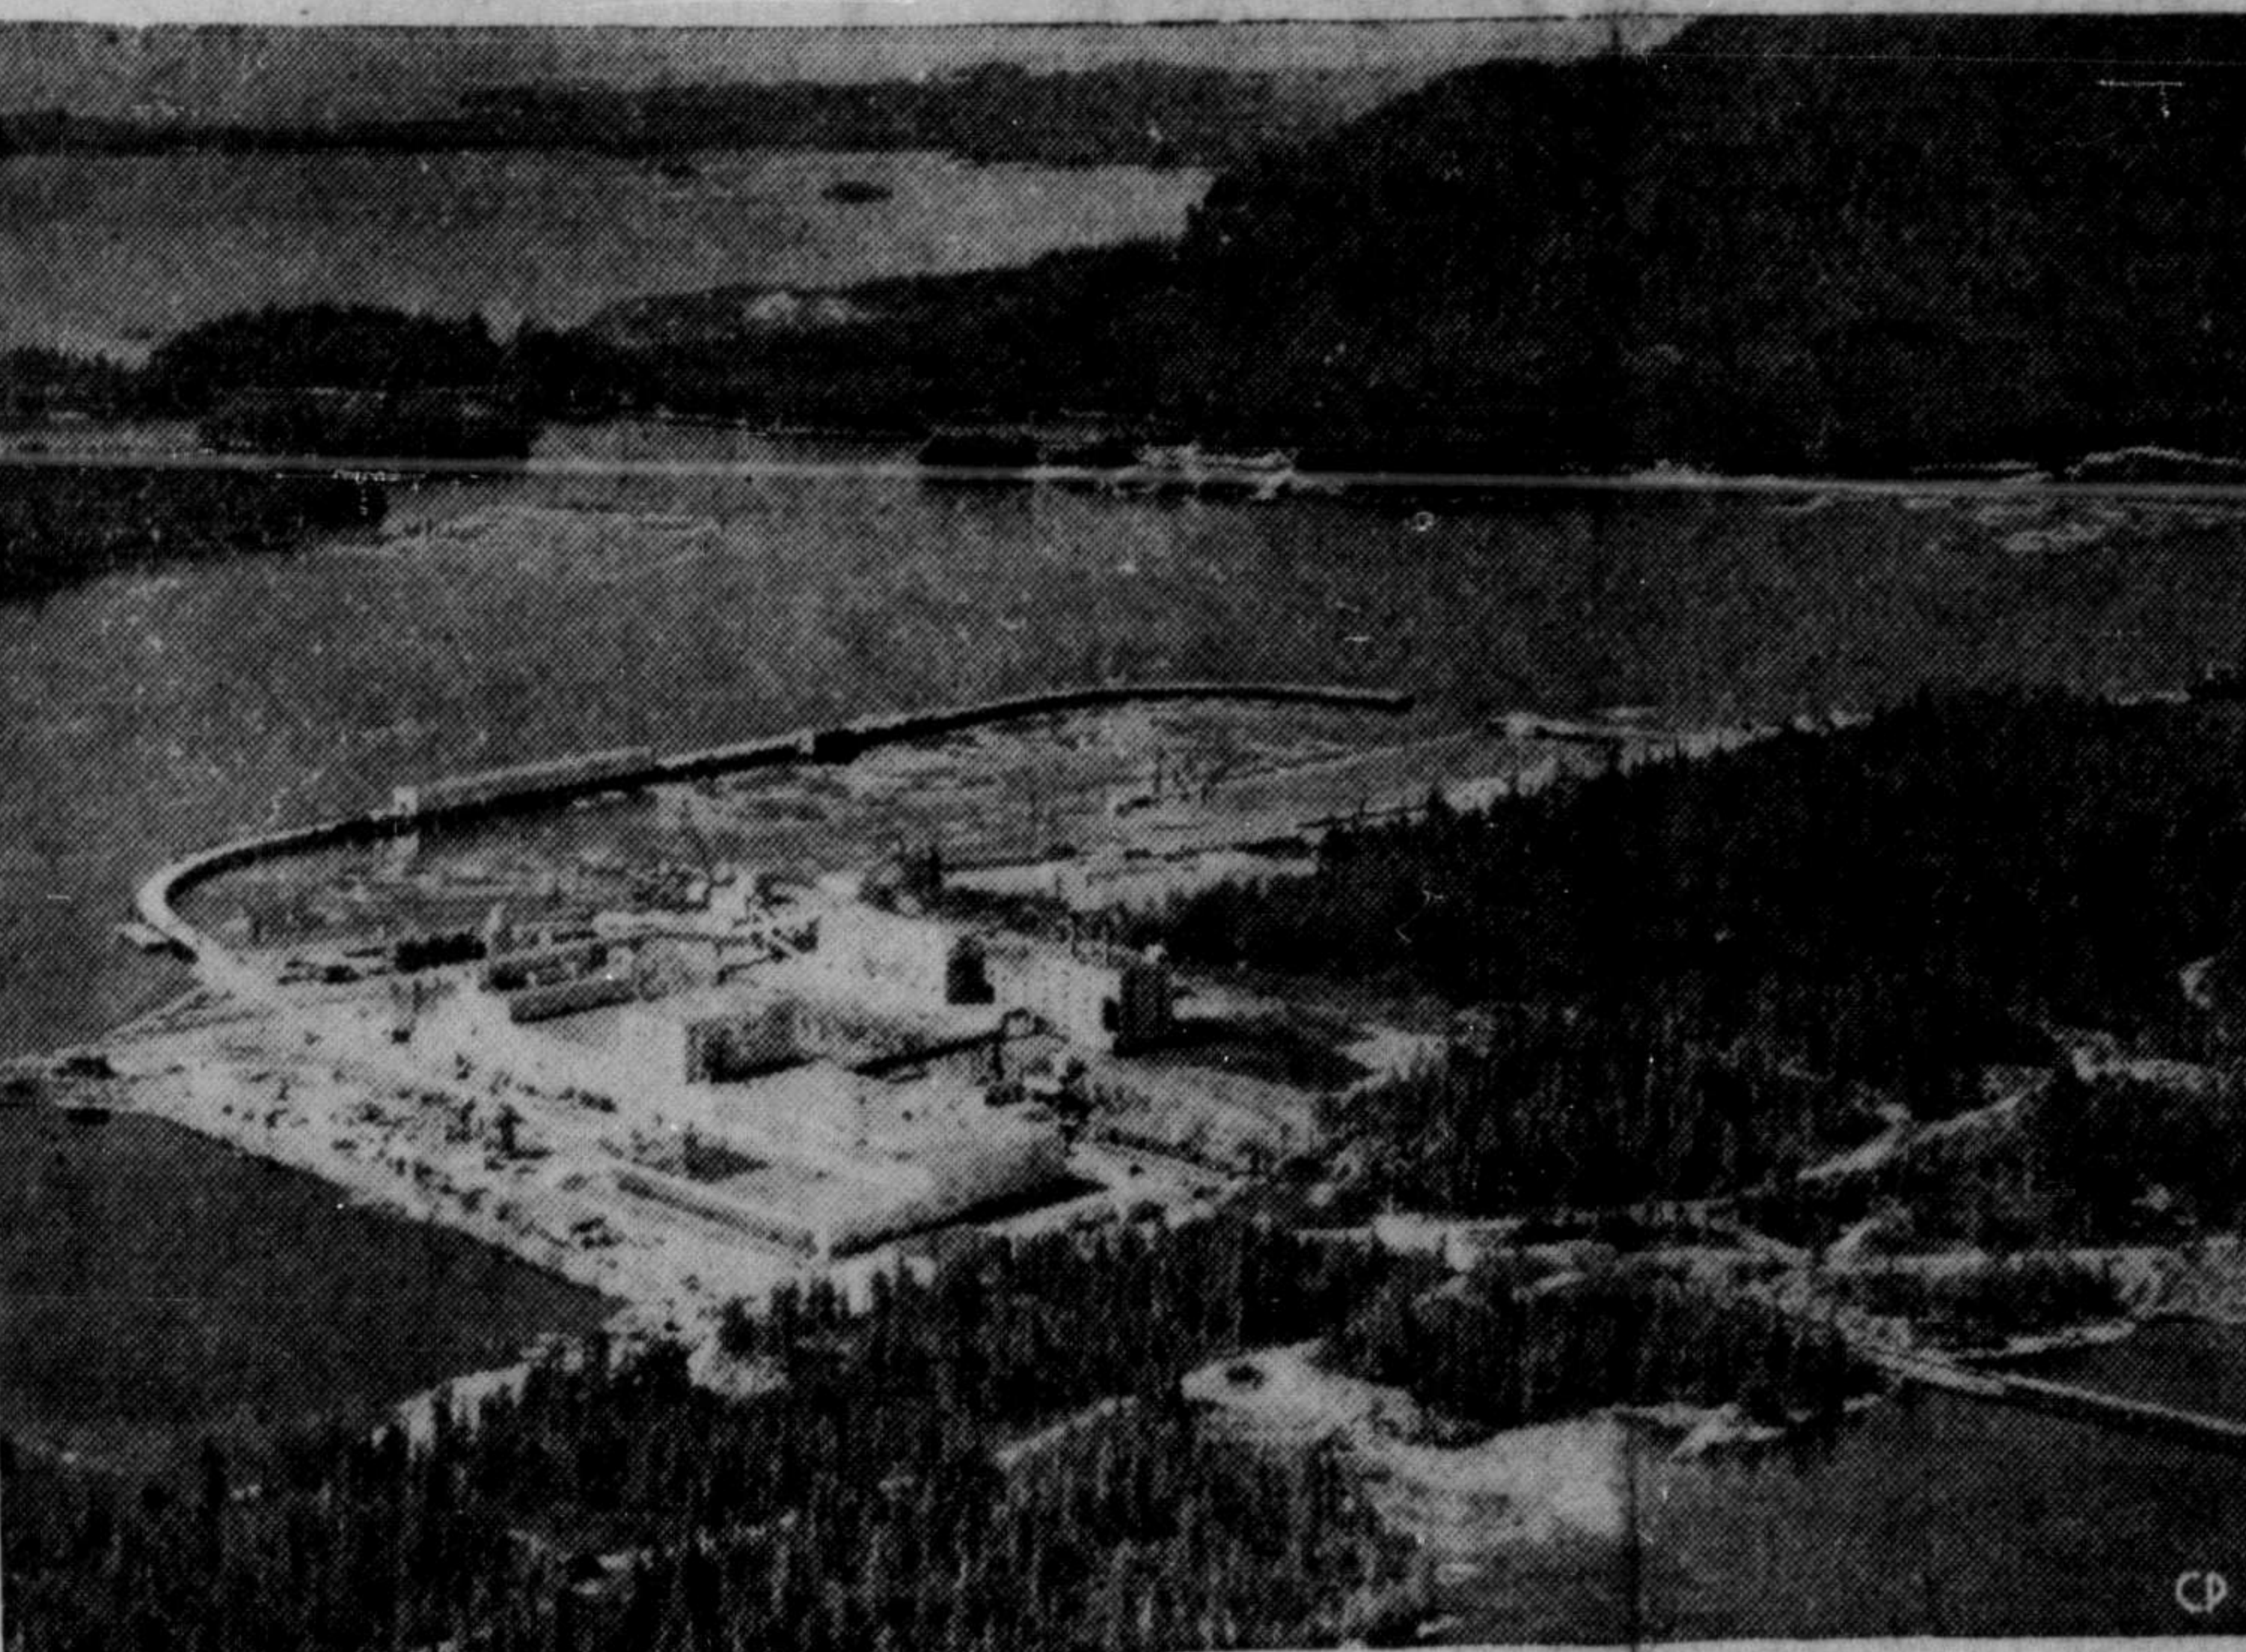

It is twenty years since Mr. Kennedy was last in Prince Rupert. In those days he was in the general contracting business and built canneries on the Queen Charlotte Islands. He was friendly with such pioneers as George Frizzell and George Tite.

Mr. Kennedy is sailing on the Princess Louise this afternoon on his return to Victoria. Before coming here he had been through the Cariboo and central interior country inspecting new school buildings as he did here.

With Mr. Kennedy was William Marr, superintendent of construction for the Department of Education, who left by plane yesterday on his return south.

Harvey Joins News Directors

Harry G. T. Perry, president and managing director of the Prince Rupert Daily News, Limited, announced today that James T. Harvey, prominent citizen and barrister of this city, has accepted an invitation to join the directorate of the company. The directors of the company are H. G. T. Perry, G. A. Hunter, J. T. Harvey and Florence A. Perry.

NEW INDUSTRY—Here is late picture of the $27,000,000 dissolving pulp plant at Prince Rupert which was officially opened yesterday. Owned by Columbia Cellulose Company, Ltd., the plant has an estimated output of 70,000 tons of pulp annually or sufficient raw material to produce 200,000,000 pounds of acetate yarn and plastic fibre. Flag Raising, Native Band, Flowers Embellish Inaugural Proceedings

To Able Seaman Tony Chursky, who served aboard H.M.C.S. Sioux in the Korean campaign and who is now attached to H.M.C.S. Chatham here, went the honor yesterday of raising the flag which marked the official opening of the Columbia Cellulose Co.'s new pulp mill at Watson Island. Sergeant L. A. N. Pötterton, in the scarlet tunic and full dress uniform of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, represented the Dominion government and Hon. E. T. Kenney, minister of lands and forests, represented the provincial government.

As the bright new flag, made especially of celanese, the cellulose pulp of which originated in the local plant, was raised to the topmast and unfurled to the breeze for the first time, the Aiyansh Harmonic Silver Band, under the conductorship of Bandmaster Ben Munro, played "God Save the King" and "O Canada."

A crowd of four hundred persons, including important visitors from all parts of Canada and the United States, as well as local guests witnessed the proceedings and then adjourned to the big warehouse where the inaugural speeches were made under the chairmanship of Dr. R. H. Ball, general manager of the cellulose division of the Celanese Corporation of America, the speakers being Mayor George Rudderham, Harold Blanche, New York, president of the Columbia Cellulose Co., Ltd.; Hon. E. T. Kenney, minister of lands and forests, and Paul Cooper, president of western division of the Canadian Pulp & Paper Association of Pacific Mills.

Among those who sent telegrams expressing regret at being unable to attend but extending congratulations and best wishes were Hon. Byron Johnson, Premier of British Columbia; E. T. Applewhite, MP, and R. W. Howard, president of the Canadian Pulp & Paper Association.

The warehouse had been attractively decorated with streamers and a floral background with the theme "C. C. C., June 12, 1951." Long buffet tables, bountifully laden with delicious fare, were beautifully adorned with gladioli in variegated hues, peonies and other early summer flowers.

TABLE GUESTS
Head table guests, besides the speakers, were Hon. Harry Bowman, minister of agriculture; Hon. Douglas Turnbull, minister of health and welfare; Hon. A. J. Hooke, minister of economic affairs for the province of Alberta; J. D. McRae M.L.A., Dr. C. D. Orchard, deputy minister of forests; John Hart, former minister of lands and forests; Paul Cooper, chairman of the British Columbia Division of the Canadian Pulp and Paper Association; George Schneider, and George Richards, vice-presidents of the Celanese Corporation of American; D. G. Stenstrom, Columbia Cellulose timber consultant; Ray Jones, mill manager; Rae Johnson, woods manager, and Charles Klotz, project engineer.

Following the luncheon, the many guests were taken on a staff-escorted tour of inspection through the complete mill.

Golden Boasts Stolen Church Bell

GOLDEN, B.C. (CP)—Newcomers might not know it, but when the bell of St. Paul's Anglican Church rings for Sunday services, it is tolling the story of a stolen church — and for that matter, a stolen bell.

Oldtimers like to tell the 50-year-old story of "Whistling Rufe" Klinton and his business partner, J. C. Pitts. It seems that when the Canadian Pacific Railway decided to move its divisional point from the town of Donald to Revelstoke, the Synod of New Westminster decided to give St. Peter's Church at Donald to the Revelstoke parish.

But when the moving crew arrived at Donald, it found the church was gone. The story goes that "Whistling Rufe" and Mr. Pitts, who owned stores in Donald and Windemere, decided to move from Donald to Windemere and since they were attached to their parish church, they instigated a plot to move it by flat car and boat to their new home town.

As Thomas King, a Golden resident since 1899, recalls the circumstances with a smile, the church—and the bell—got as far as Golden when the secretary of the River Company decided that since the bell was stolen, there would be no harm in stealing it again.

So somehow it left the boat and took its place in the belfry of St. Paul's Anglican Church at Golden. And it has been calling the people to worship ever since.

Leprosy Increases In Old Australia

SYDNEY, Australia (CP)—Leprosy is increasing alarmingly in Australia's northern territory, according to the Brisbane Courier-Mail.

Channel Island leprosy in Darwin Harbor is full, and difficulty is being experienced in accommodating new patients.

In 1947 there were 70 patients in Channel Island. Now there are more than 140. These are all being cared for by three Roman Catholic nuns.

Increase in lepers on the island is due partly to the fact that in the last 12 months the commonwealth health department has intensified the campaign to get lepers out of the bush for treatment.

This was noticeably successful when lepers began to learn of the efficacy of new sulphone drugs after a number of patients were discharged.

But doctors think the incidence of the disease has increased.

Waterfront Has Blaze

VANCOUVER (CP) — A $15,000 fire, which an employee said started from a carelessly thrown fire cracker, laid yesterday destroyed a boat rental establishment and for a time endangered the western end of the Vancouver waterfront.

Also destroyed in the fire at Coal Harbor boathouse were two cabin cruisers, a score of 12-foot inboard craft and all company records.

An employee, Chet Hamilton, said newspaper carrier boys on holiday were firing off fire crackers on the dock.

One fire cracker fell into a gasoline-laden inboard, touching off the blaze.

B.C. Boom and U.S.

WALL Street Journal, in a front page feature article, refers to the great industrial boom which British Columbia, particularly central and northern British Columbia, is experiencing and the impact it is having on the United States.

Says the Journal:

This westernmost province of Canada is beginning to bust its industrial britches.

The noisy rip eventually will resound clear across the United States. For U.S. manufacturers, it will herald more newspaper for newspapers, more pulp for books or cups, more aluminum for pots and pans. It promises a growing market for U.S. products.

Right now British Columbia's industrial might is, expanding itself to the tune of more than $300 million on new plants or the extension of older ones. Construction contracts let in the first three months of this year totaled $68 million, up a staggering 414% over the like period in 1950. While B.C. is only one of Canada's less than a dozen provinces, it is the Dominion's fastest growing with a 41% population jump in the past decade.

Uncle Sam is the province's biggest customer. Last year he took over 50% of all exports, or $227 million worth of goods, as compared with $113 million the year before. On the other side of the trade ledger, British Columbia is a preferred American customer. Last year B.C.'ers spent $141 million in the States, or 53% of all outside purchases.

EMPLOYERS SHY OF HELP

This industrial boom has caught employers shy of workers. "We're scraping the bottom of the employment barrel now," wails one industrialist.

Pipefitters and steamfitters in the Prince Rupert area, near the southern tip of Alaska, are promised $1.90 an hour for a 40-hour week, with a guarantee of a 48-hour week and double time. For good measure, part of the worker's board is paid for. Some companies have recruiters in eastern Canada.

Lumber, pulp and paper make up much of B.C.'s exports and nearly half the industrial expansion includes more pulp and paper.

The province is the last big section of the world where a vast pulp and paper development can be carried on, says a big producer.

All he has to do to back up this assertion is to point to a map showing British Columbia's great forests. This vast province a third larger than Texas, has woodlots that would cover the whole state of Arizona. Many of them are still undeveloped, with only 7% in private hands.

A record number of trees were felled last year with a total of 4,500 million board feet. The previous record was 4,300 million in 1948. This year is expected to set another new high.

About 400 miles up the coast, Columbia Cellulose Co., Ltd., a subsidiary of Celanese Corp. of America, opened its $27 million dissolving pulp mill this spring. This plant has an annual capacity of 70,000 tons of high alpha cellulose—sufficient raw material to produce more than 200 million pounds of acetate yarn and staple fiber. The mill's annual production will be equivalent to 15% of all the dissolving wood pulp consumed by the U.S. rayon industry last year. Barely opened, plans for expanding the plant are being made.

Aluminum Co. of Canada, Ltd., has decided to go ahead with a big aluminum plant and hydro-electric development in the same general area.

Alean will spend $160 million to melt alumina with power. The company plans to complete the plant by 1954 but can lengthen its schedule if there are indications it will not find outlets for the 80,000 to 100,000 metric tons the plant will produce annually.

Reflects and Reminisces

How did they live in Prince Rupert in 1909? We were about to say "search me," but suddenly thought better of it. The Skeena sourdoughs in 1909 were in danger of becoming cultured. Incorporation was due in 1910. This felt a bit odd at first.

PLENTY OF WATER

Prince Rupert had no water, or waterworks, but don't take this too literally. While no one was drinking Shawatians brand, not a soul ever thirsted. Water was never any distance away. With a pipeline handy, perhaps you'd pack a pailful home or help yourself from the musk.

LITTLE GREY HOME

In 1909, a shack could be made as comfortable as sin. There were lots of them. Should could be a shade short, it was good exercise to reach for the axe. Several arms full of wood, piled behind the stove looked fine. It didn't cost a bean either.

POLISH THE LAMP

In 1909, Prince Rupert had no modernized electric lighting system. Any number of homes used oil lamps. By and by it became old stuff to go buy a gallon, and spend an hour polishing a chimney.

MILES OF PLANKS

There were no streets or sidewalks. But, there were miles of plank walks where pioneers strode, horses were driven, and wheelbarrows pushed. Did you say anything about cars? Forget it, pard!

A clergyman deplored human weaknesses. Rupert hummed or whistled and went his way. No one seemed to worry. Election campaign meetings drew packed houses. Some were apt to sizzle. Others would be entertaining, but none were ever known to be guilty of dullness.

Most of Prince Rupert was down near where the yards are now, in 1909. There were shops and barbers, post office and hotels, newspaper office and banks, insurance offices, restaurants and meat markets and a prevailing good nature and understanding.

FROM THE HILLS

There was a neighborly spirit, and a tolerant, generous way of looking at things, in the main. The market sold game, in 1909. Many a family, where no one owned a gun, enjoyed deer meat, mountain goat and other choice quarry, the gift of a friend.

Future Growth Of Lethbridge

LETHBRIDGE, Alta. (CP)—One of the fastest-growing cities in Western Canada, Lethbridge has had an exhaustive report prepared in its past and present to help it cope with future growth.

Prepared by Gerald A. P. Carrothers of the University of Manitoba, the report comprises a 155-page booklet, 32 maps, and three groups of mounted photographs.

The report reveals that the population of Lethbridge has increased by 27 per cent in the last four years, compared with 21 per cent for Edmonton and 13 per cent for Calgary.

Mr. Carrothers predicted that by 1970, the minimum population of this southern prairie city would be 29,000, while the maximum to be expected would be 70,000 persons. Lethbridge's present population is about 26,000.

Nearly half of the city's homes or 41 per cent, have been built in the last 10 years. Another 27 per cent of Lethbridge dwellings are more than 40 years old.

Prepared to aid the town planning commission, the report reviews location and direction of growth, parking problems, recreational areas, conditions of buildings and natural resources.

Long Rest For King Ordered

LONDON, (CP)—A medical bulletin from Buckingham Palace last night said the King had been advised to take a prolonged convalescence. The King is recovering from a lung inflammation.

There has been speculation in some sections of the British press that bad health might force the King to retire from the throne, turning it over to Princess Elizabeth.

The latest development in connection with the King's health would appear to blast plans for an already long-deferred trip to Australia and New Zealand which was to have been made next year.

School Lunches Help Home Fare

TORONTO (CP)—The little lunches the youngsters eat at school are paving the way for better meals at home.

Here's how the Canadian Red Cross figured it today:

In a recent survey, nutritionally-balanced meals were served 300 school children. Their progress was compared with that of 300 children not served lunches.

At the end of two years, families of children being served lunches were buying better types of food. Other families bought less of these foods.

In dollars and cents it went: Families of children served lunches were paying $1.09 a person more a week for food than they had been paying at the start of the survey. The others were paying 74 cents more than at the start.

Children eating the lunches were one-tenth of an inch taller than children who were not served lunches. There was a seven-tenths-of-a-pound difference, too.

NORTHERN BRITISH COLUMBIA POWER COMPANY LIMITED

Winnipeg Tests New Bus Fuels

WINNIPEG (CP)—An experiment being carried out by the Winnipeg Electric Company may mark the end of gasoline-powered buses on public transportation routes here.

The company has been experimenting with diesel and propane-powered buses. Both types have shown more economy in operation than gasoline buses.

H. A. Couch, superintendent of equipment, said it was too early to come to any fixed conclusions and any changes would take considerable time.

He said, however, there was "absolutely no chance" these vehicles will displace the electric trolley bus in downtown areas.

More Girls Are Nursing

REGINA (CP)—More Canadian girls now are entering the nursing profession than ever before and there is no "actual shortage" of nurses, says Miss Gertrude Hall, general secretary of the Canadian Nurses' Association.

Miss Hall made the statement at the annual meeting of the Saskatchewan Nurses' Association in Regina.

She quoted figures to show that the nursing profession now is attracting as many high school graduates as can be expected.

"Our population is too limited to provide the vast numbers of nurses we could use in our expanding health services," she said. "As in many other fields, the demand is exceeding the supply."

The Winnipeg-born nurse stated that an all-time high of 14,811 are enrolled in the 174 nursing schools in Canada and "authorities feel that the limit has been reached."

In order to compensate for the large number of nurses that could be used, Miss Hall said it is necessary to make more efficient use of present personnel and suggested many of the routine nursing procedures could either be accomplished by machines, or else be simplified or eliminated entirely.

At present, the Canadian Nurses' Association is attempting to conduct an analysis to determine the proper functions of nurses and to ascertain the quantity and quality of nursing services required for proper health care.

A graduate of McGill University and the Winnipeg General and Grace Hospitals, Miss Hall is currently on a field tour of Canada.

S. Suga, old timer in the Japanese population of Prince Rupert in the early times, has been here for the past few days. He has been located in Smithers since leaving here, being in the building and construction line.

Major Lahiff, who moved south months ago, continues to live at New Westminster where his general health remains favorable. He writes there is great interest in the expanding activities up north. The opening of the Columbia Cellulose plant is drawing much attention, as well as the aluminum expansion. A friend in Australia would like to know the latest.

Powell River is Interested Here

Harold Foley, president of the Powell River Co.; Dr. G. F. Strong, prominent Vancouver cardiac specialist, and John Liersch, vice-president of the Powell River Co. in charge of forest operations, paid a visit to the Queen Charlotte Islands before joining the Columbia Cellulose Co. guest party aboard the steamer Prince George here this week.

Mr. Foley, who called at the office of the Daily News which is one of the customers for his paper, spoke of the interest which his company had had in Prince Rupert. In fact, he said, it was not long ago that Powell River had considered the possibility of establishing a pulp and paper mill here.

As it is Powell River gets a great deal of its timber from this district, having largest logging camps in Juskatla Inlet and Cumshewa Inlet.

The party arrived here in a Graumann Goose seaplane, piloted by George Williamson and owned by Powell River Co. The big mill at Powell River, Mr. Foley said, is now producing 104 tons of newsprint daily at Powell River in addition to 150 tons of bleached sulphite pulp.

Fred Read, who is spending the summer in London, has sent cards to several friends in Prince Rupert.

● Salt Lake Ferry running every Sunday starting at 12 noon, weather permitting. (1f)

Miss Myrtle Sather arrived in the city on the Prince Rupert this morning, being home from her nurses' training studies at Royal Jubilee Hospital for a visit with her parents.

Flying Officer Eric Lee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lee of Stewart, is leaving Edmonton soon for Texas and will later be transferred to Canadian air staff in Washington D.C.

Bruce Love, who until recently was driving bus in Prince Rupert, motored to Terrace recently to look around with the intention of locating. If his plans work out he will take his family when school closes.

● The Board of School Trustees requests that parents enroll all beginners for the fall term at the nearest school on Thursday, June 14, beginning at 10 a.m. Children must be six years of age by November 30, 1951, to be eligible for enrolment. (138c)

Queen of North Contest Is Now Well Under Way

The race is on!
Who will be crowned Queen of the North will be decided when the three contestants turn in their final Exhibition ticket sales in to the committee July 4.

Representing three of the largest organizations in Prince Rupert, candidates for Queen are:

Elaine Steffens, 17, for the Sons of Norway.

Mae Newton, 18, for the Canadian Legion, B.S.L.

Margaret Gagnon, 18, for the Columbia Cellulose Ball Club, and supported by the Sulphite Workers' Union, the staff and management of Columbia Cellulose Co., Ltd.

Briefed as to their duties and conditions of the contest by T. Norton Youngs, exhibition chairman, candidates last night found that the winner of the contest will have to work, but there are compensations as well.

First prize, awarded by the exhibition committee to the Queen, is $150. Runner-up gets $100 and third prize is $50.

A costume will be designed and made for each contestant, the most elaborate one going to the Queen.

Queen will be the one who sells the most tickets to the Resources and Industrial Exhibition, which will run from June 29 to July 7. Each candidate may retain 15 per cent of the ticket selling price.

Mr. Youngs said he expected at least 8,000 tickets would be sold this year.

Crowning of the Queen will take place at 8 p.m., on Friday, July 6. It will be "quite a ceremonious affair," promised Mr. Youngs.

THE CANDIDATES

Miss Steffens, the SON-sponsored candidate, is a bookkeeper at McLean's Shipyards. She lives at 1305 Sixth Avenue East and was a Booth Memorial High School student last year. She is formerly from Manitoba.

Her hobby is music and she plays the violin. Her favorite sport is swimming.

Miss Steffens believes "it's going to be a hard battle" to win the contest.

Mae Newton, whom the Canadian Legion wants to see go to the top, is this year's commerce graduate of Booth Memorial High School.

Her home is at 1445 Piggott Place. It was her intention to leave on a holiday with friends for Pentiction this month but she delayed it when approached by the Legion to be their candidate.

James Nichols, her campaign manager, says: "We hope the other two contestants come close."

Miss Gagnon, sponsored by newest industry, hails from Peace River, Alberta. She has been in Prince Rupert two years and with Columbia Cellulose Co. for five months. She is typist-clerk in the personnel office.

Her hobby is collecting fishing-files. She loves swimming and figure-skating.

Cards Enjoyed by Moose Committee

The last of monthly meetings this year of the social service committee of the Women of the Moose was held at the home of Mrs. A. Hamilton. Prize winners in cards were Mrs. R. Giske and Mrs. P. Weiler. Others present were Mrs. C. Collins, O. Stegavig, Mrs. F. Grimble, Mrs. J. Carr and Mrs. R. B. Skinner.

Kitimat Calls Are Requested

In order that Prince Rupert business concerns may be able to expedite shipments to the Kitimat and Kemano Bay area, the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce is requesting coastal steamship companies, in setting up their new times including calls at those ports, to make southbound calls from Prince Rupert. It was felt that there might be a tendency to have the calls made northbound instead of southbound.

The executive council of the Chamber of Commerce is taking the matter up with the steamship companies.

Blackwood on Bridge

By Easley Blackwood

Mr. Muzzy, of all people, is a great one to grab the play at no trump away from his partner. He did it on this hand, got all the good breaks a player could hope for, and still muffed the play and went down one.

Mrs. Keen led the 19 of spades which was ducked in dummy and Mr. Meek won with the queen. He cashed the ace of spades and Mr. Muzzy got break number one when Mr. Meek had no more spades to lead.

The queen of hearts was led at the third trick and won in the closed hand with the king. Mr. Muzzy immediately went after the clubs. He led the deuce and won with dummy's ace. Then he led the king and played the trey from his own hand. Break number two. The opponents' clubs broke 2-2 and the entire suit was set.

Mr. Muzzy let out a yell of triumph which gradually subsided and ended in a deponent gurgle as he realized that the club suit was blocked. Yes, he had failed to take the simple precaution of playing his 10 or nine on the second lead of the suit. Now he could win those two cards but couldn't get back to dummy to cash the fifth club.

"Well, if there wasn't so much talk going on around here, a person could think," said Mr. Muzzy. He is a very fast man with an alibi. Actually the game had been quiet enough up to the point where the error was made.

ALL HOPE GONE
There was still a chance to make the contract if the king of diamonds was right. So at the sixth trick Mr. Muzzy led a small diamond from the board and put in his seven. But Mrs. Keen killed it with the king and all hope was gone.

As Mr. Masters explained to Mr. New, Mr. Muzzy should have dropped his nine of clubs under the lead of either the ace or king. Then if clubs broke 2-2, dummy could be entered by leading the trey to the eight spot on the fourth round.

If clubs broke 3-1, Mr. Muzzy could have led a small club to his ten spot, on the third round, conceding that trick to the enemy.

Again, he would still have the trey of clubs to reach the board, cash the fourth and fifth clubs and take the diamond finesse as a last resort.

Ready For Box Derby

Opening event of the Resources and Industrial Exhibition, June 29, will be the Soap Box Derby in which seven eager racers will vie for a free trip to the B.C. finals at Mission and a chance to go to Akron, Ohio, for the international championship races.

It will be a big day for each of the seven contestants, but the winner, already in the finals as "Mr. Prince Rupert," will carry the publicity of the city to some 20 other B.C. cities when he races his own hand-made car at Mission.

The derby in Prince Rupert is jointly sponsored by Frizzell's Motor Products Ltd. and the Daily News. The winning car, which will be flown to Vancouver with the winner, will carry the name "Daily News."

BUILDING CARS
The boys, now busily engaged in building their cars, are sponsored by city service clubs who provide the official racing wheels and axles for the cars. Those who will nose to the starting line on Second Avenue, at the intersection of Third Street, are Arthur Parent and Stan Parker, sponsored by the Gyro Club; Brian Robertson, Rotary; Richard Bury and Billy Watmough, Kinsmen; Maurice LeVacher, Holy Name Society, and Jack Rudolph, Canadian Legion.

The race will start at 7 p.m. and will be run in heats, or eliminations. Second Avenue will be closed by city department of works, from Third street to McBride, where the race will end.

Winner will be awarded a trophy by Frizzell's Motor Products Ltd., as well as winning the free trip to Mission.

A meeting of the Women's Coordinating Council was held at the Civic Centre with twenty members present. Arrangements were made for a tea to be held September 20 in the Sons of Norway Hall. Proceeds to be used towards the annual pioneers' dinner.

Actress Leaves Ghostly Castle

HALTWHISTLE, Northumberland, England, (CP)—Former musical-comedy star Violet Loraine, known during the First World War era as "the only girl in the world," is forstaking the ghost-haunted castle she took over as a bride in 1921.

The 630-year-old Blenkinsopp Castle and its forested acres will be auctioned shortly to meet mounting upkeep and heavy taxation.

Thirty years ago actress Loraine was carried across the castle's threshold by a dashing young bridegroom, captain the Hon. Edward Jockey. They moved recently to a smaller residence on the estate.

"Violet" Loraine, now 65, gained fame in a starring role with Britain's celebrated comedian, George Robey, in "The Bing Boys" and other revues. She won her title by popularizing the song hit "If You Were The Only Girl In The World."

Jos. McDonald Stewart, Dies

STEWART—Another old timer in the person of Joseph Roderick MacDonald passed away at the Stewart General Hospital last Friday. Mr. MacDonald was sixty-seven years of age and was born in Maryvale, Antigonish County, Nova Scotia, January 31, 1884. He was a resident of this district for the past thirty-four years, working for Boyle Brothers, diamond drillers, for a few years after coming here and subsequently with the B.C. Department of Public Works up until 1950. His association with Boyle Brothers earned him the nickname of "Diamond Joe." Deceased was a quiet and retiring individual and was well liked by those with whom he came in contact. Funeral arrangements are in the hands of H. A. Stewart, Interment will take place in the Stewart Cemetery.

Stewart Moose Women Elect

STEWART—Portland Canal Chapter, Women of the Moose, held their election of officers last Thursday in the Moose Hall here. Officers elected were: Graduate regent, Mrs. H. Wilkinson; senior regent, Mrs. J. McKay; junior regent, Mrs. D. Geddes; chaplain, Mrs. W. Wakefield; treasurer, Mrs. J. McLeod; recorder, Mrs. W. R. Tooth; sentinel, Mrs. J. Bouzek; argus, Mrs. M. Bolovik; guide, Mrs. R. Berwise; assistant guide, Mrs. A. Lawrence; pianist, Mrs. H. A. Stewart.

News From FRANCOIS LAKE

A very mild form of measles has been going through the district.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis McClure and small son, Bruce David, motored up from Harrison Hot Springs to spend their holidays with Mrs. McClure's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Corliss.

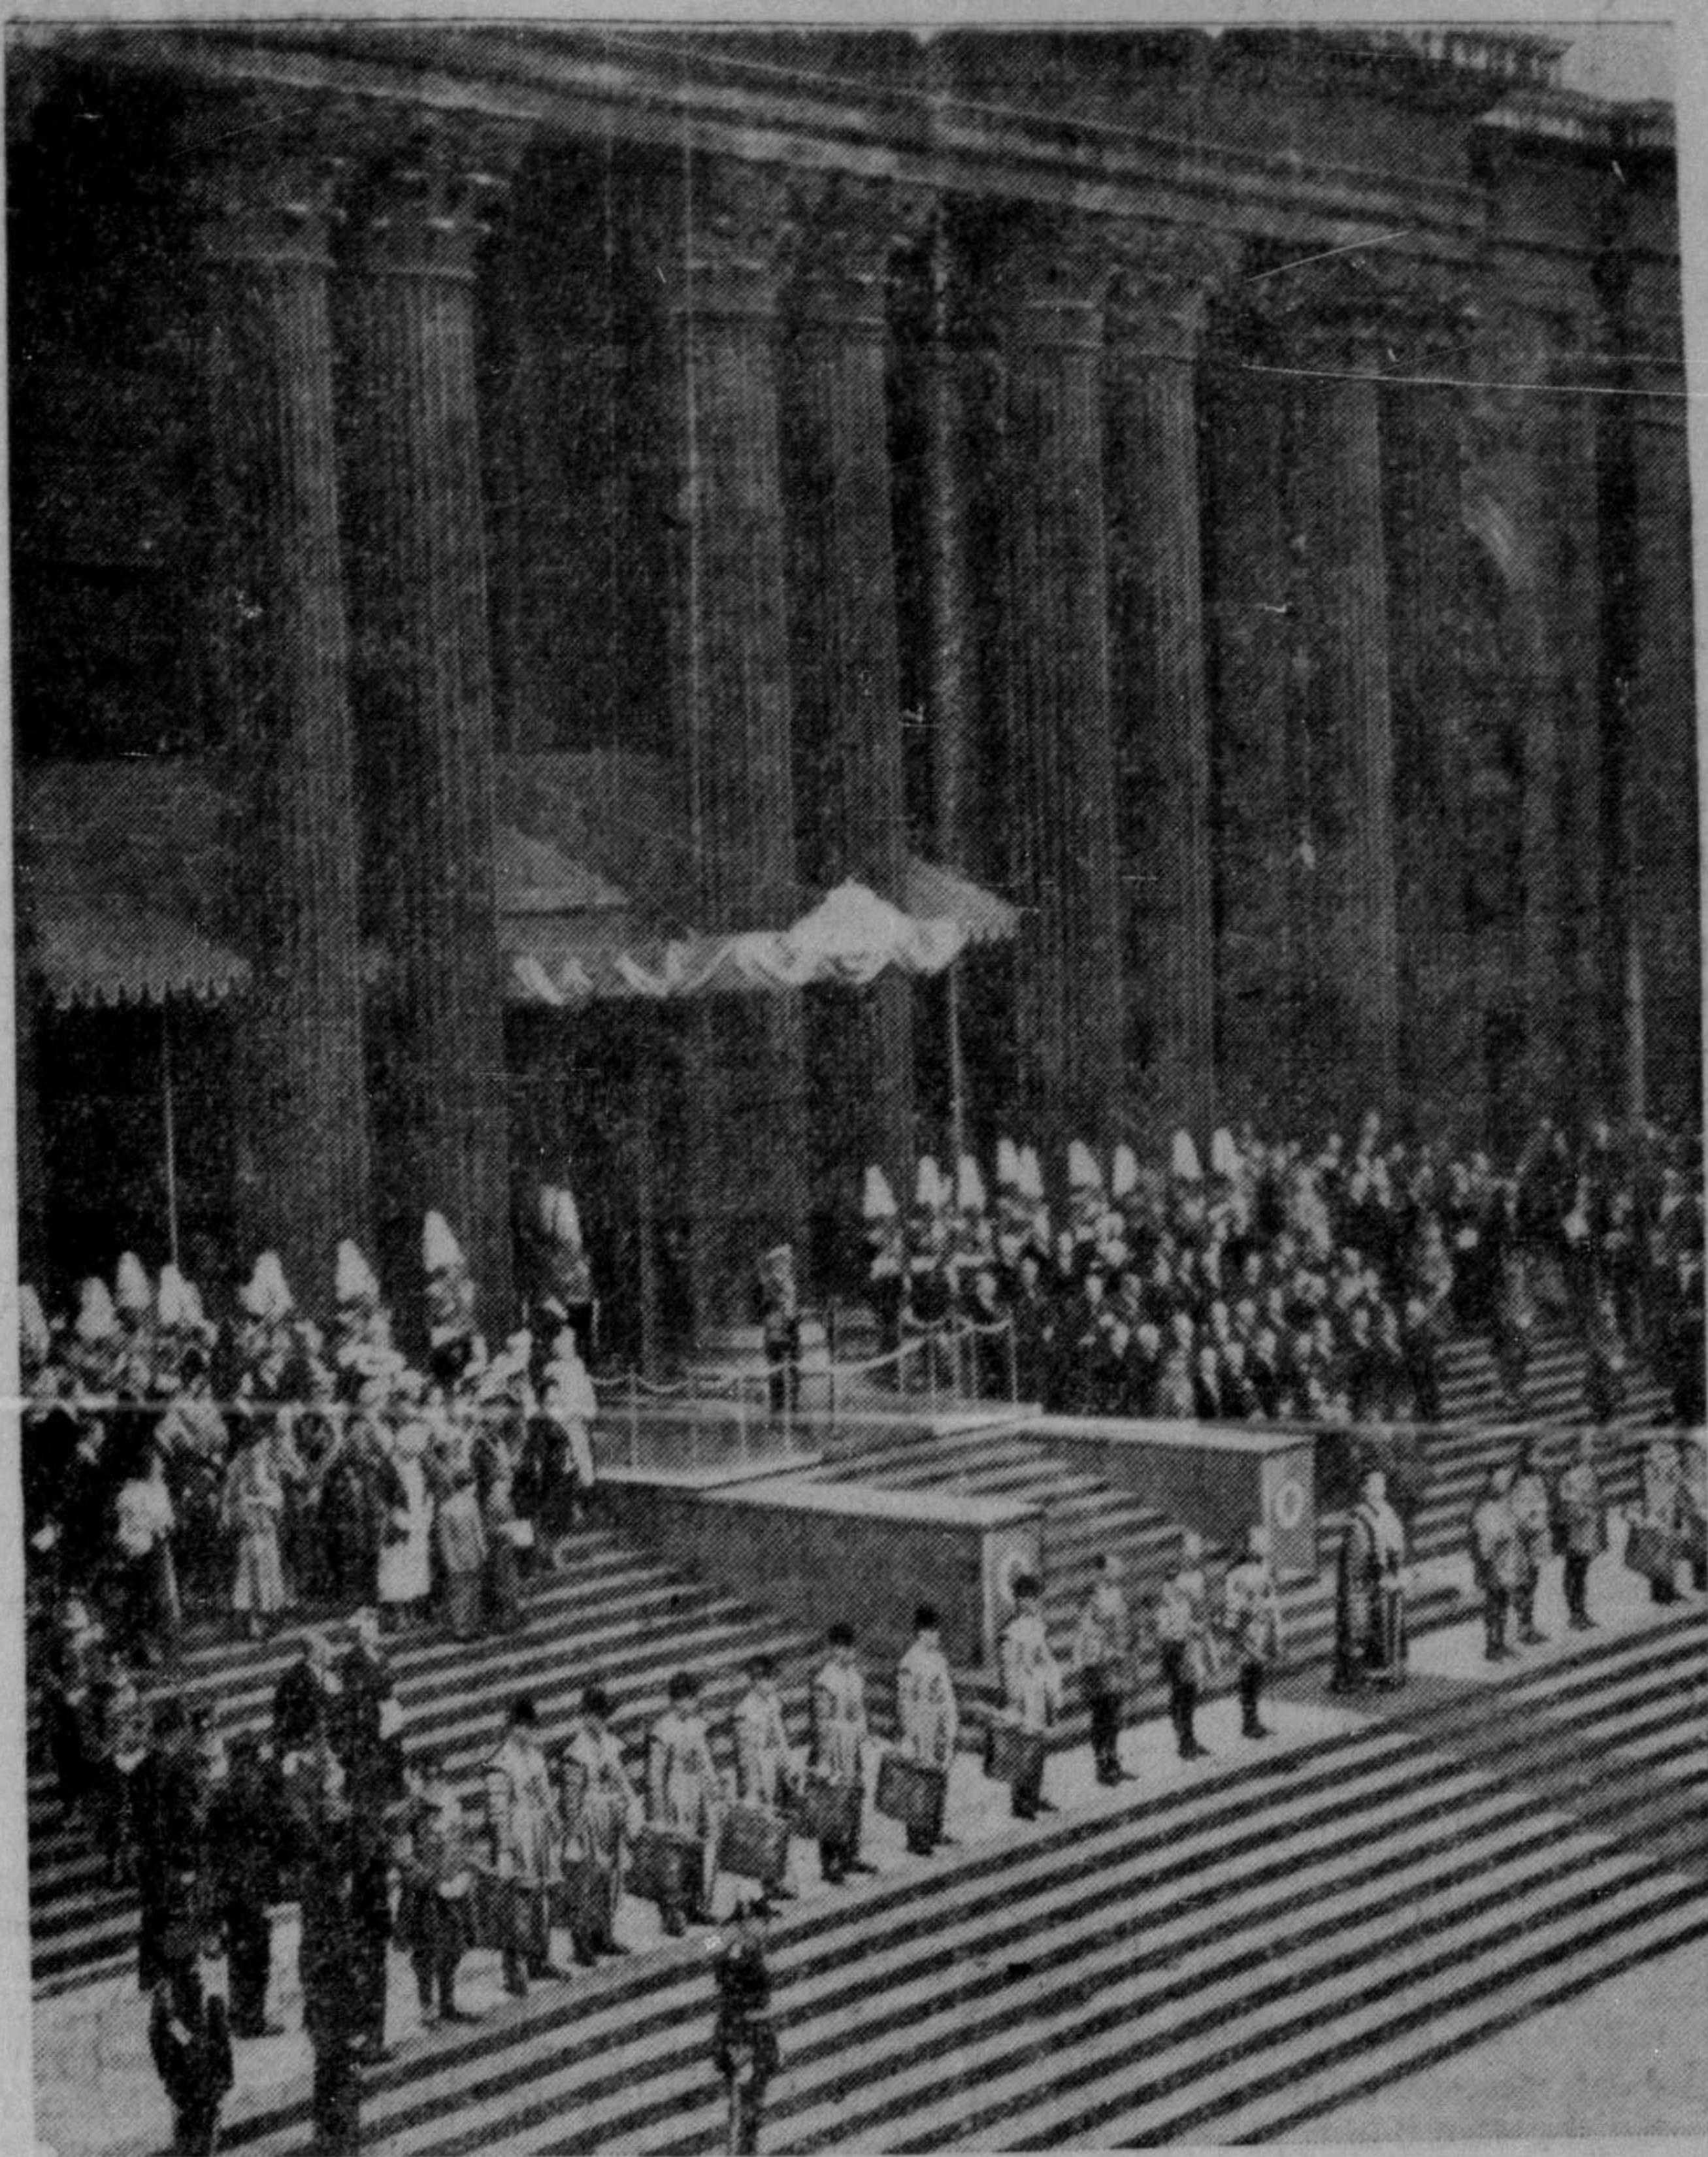

The Riding Club met at the Snyder Ranch to re-organize for this year. Mrs. Van Zanten was elected president and Hugh Neave was re-elected secretary. On the first ride eight members met at the Snyder Ranch and rode to Bald Hill.

The Wistaria baseball team drove round the head of the lake on Sunday and played the Francois Lake team here. Francois Lake was victorious, and players and spectators all enjoyed the game immensely.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Jeffrey are spending a few days with his brothers, James and Robert. It is twelve years since they were here last. Mrs. Jeffrey taught school here for many years before her marriage. They live at Port Alice on Vancouver Island.

Mrs. Hubert Ward of Prince Rupert has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Harold Neave, and family for a week. She came by car with her son-in-law and daughter from Denver, Colorado.

Clarence Snyder was the winner of the fishing rod and reel raffia by the Francois Lake Athletic Club.

FESTIVAL OF BRITAIN OPENED—From the steps of St. Paul's Cathedral, His Majesty the King, in a broadcast to the world, declared the Festival of Britain open and dedicated it as a "symbol of Britain's abiding courage and vitality." His Majesty the King, accompanied by Her Majesty the Queen, Her Royal Highness Princess Elizabeth, Her Royal Highness Princess Margaret and His Royal Highness the Duke of Edinburgh, drove in state to the service of dedication in the cathedral along beflagged streets of cheering Londoners and visitors from many parts of the world. This picture shows His Majesty the King making his speech from the dais on the steps of St. Paul's. Members of the Royal Family are seen on the right of the dais and members of the Government on the left. The Lord Mayor of London is in the first row, centre, between the State trumpeters of the Household Cavalry.

Bachelors at Home Cook Sale

STEWART—The Women's Auxiliary of the Stewart General Hospital, under the presidency of Mrs. J. Bouzek, held a very successful sale of home cooking in the Legion Club-rooms on Saturday. The bachelors of the community were very much in evidence.

Fine Needlework In Historic Show

LONDON—Britain's greatest needlework show is the display of contemporary and historical work opened by Queen Mary at St. James Palace, a wealth of historical garb including centuries-old pieces.

Many royal robes are on view in the palace throne room in the exhibition organized by the Royal School of Needlework, which since 1872 has been encouraging high standards of craftsmanship.

Along with coronation robes there are the little lace dresses and robes in which Princess Elizabeth and Princess Margaret appeared at the coronation of King George VI and Queen Elizabeth in 1937, the robes worn by the Duchess of Northumberland, the suits of the pages in attendance and the mantles and full dress of the knights of various orders of chivalry.

Great interest is shown in the pieces which come from Britain's great houses. They include a military scarf said to have been presented by William the Conqueror to an ancestor of the Fitzwilliam family, a Marshal of the Norman army which defeated the English at Hastings in 1066. The 900-year-old scarf is of white silk gauze with interwoven stripes of colored silks, sewn with silver and silver-gilt thread with fringes at each end. The fragile piece is mounted on a piece of green silk used at the christening of each male member of the Fitzwilliam family.

CROMWELL AS CHILD
Another curious little glimpse into history is provided by a set of baby clothes said to have been worn by Oliver Cromwell. The tiny shirts and vests and the christening robe are similar to those made by any modern mother, but beautifully worked by hand. There is also a set of miniature lawn caps and tiny lawn mittens trimmed with bobbin lace.

Royal mementoes are numerous, from King Charles the Second's night-cap, close-fitting and exquisitely embroidered in colored silks and metal thread, to handkerchiefs carried by successive English queens—Charlotte, Adelaide, Victoria, Alexandra, Mary and the present Elizabeth.

Members of the royal family sent samples of their own work, including Queen Mary, the Duchess of Gloucester and the Countess of Athlone.

Terrace Raised $1400 Red Cross

TERRACE—The Terrace branch of the Canadian Red Cross met in the lounge of the Outpost Hospital on Friday evening last. There was a small turnout and, in the absence of the president, Mrs. Newhouse presided at the meeting.

The result of the March canvass was presented by the treasurer, E. Brooks, total of which amounted to over $1400.

Mrs. Ross Thomson gave her report of the Works Committee stating that two shipments had recently gone to headquarters. The works room will be closed for the summer months and will only be re-opened in the fall if a new convener comes forward as Mrs. Thomson's health will not permit her to carry on with the work.

Mrs. C. J. Norrington gave a report of the Disaster committee which had helped out three families in the district who had been burnt out in the past few months.

She also announced that she had received word from the south of the coming of the Blood Donor Clinic in August and was given authority to call a meeting in July to arrange for it. She stated that the three Terrace people who had been called on to donate blood to the man who had been badly injured in a blasting accident earlier in the week, had responded to the call immediately but had not been needed.

Present at the meeting were Father Racette, Mrs. Norrington, Mrs. Thomson, Mrs. Hamlin, Mrs. Newhouse, Mrs. Laird, Miss E. Headland and Mrs. E. Brooks.

"Headache?.. take a Disprin"

Why DISPRIN? Because DISPRIN is soluble and substantially neutral. When taken in water as recommended, it enters the stomach as a true solution and not as undissolved particles. It is therefore less liable to cause stomach discomfort.

DISPRIN is readily absorbed. Because it definitely dissolves (not merely disintegrates) DISPRIN permits speedy absorption and gives quicker relief. DISPRIN is palatable. Even children will take it readily.

DISPRIN SAFE SPEEDY PLEASANT
... FOR PAIN RELIEF

Science Progresses

For 50 years we have used little white tablets—acetylsalicylic acid—for relief of pain. Today this familiar pain-killer is available in a new form without the disadvantages of acidity, insolubility and bitter taste. It is called "DISPRIN" and is sold at druggists everywhere.

*DISPRIN is available in Bottles of 26 tablets or Handy Pocket Folders of 8.

Freight Rate Case Opened

OTTAWA ©—The Canadian Pacific Railway yesterday told the Board of Transport Commissioners that freight rate increases now sought by the railways will not meet its revenue "deficiency" over a full year. The statement was made at the opening of the case for the railways in the application of a further new rate increase of fifteen percent in addition to the five percent increase asked last winter and on which the board is still reserving judgment. Eight provinces—all except Ontario and Quebec—were on hand to fight the increases.

Aluminum Films Here

Two motion picture films are here, and several more are on their way, Sgt. L. A. N. Potterton, president of Prince Rupert Film Council, thinks will be "of great interest to the general public here."

The films deal with aluminum and will give history, background and action pictures on production of aluminum, finally culminating with a picture of the Kitimat project which is to be released during Exhibition Week as a feature attraction.

Films in now are titled "This is Aluminum" and "Nation Builders." The former is a story which pictorially answers, "What is aluminum and where did it come from?" The second film shows the Shipshaw, Quebec, power development and the storage dams of Lake Manouan.

Other films to come are: "Overture to Aluminum," a story of bauxite ore mining in British Guiana.

"Canada World Trader," showing the industrial growth of Canada and its place in world trade.

"Power Valley," a National Film Board picture, tells the story of harnessing power in the St. Maurice Valley—the Shawinigan Falls, in Quebec.

"Unfinished Rainbows," starring Alan Ladd and Charles Martin Hall, is a Hollywood-produced picture which gives the

Jasper Park Opens Season

JASPER PARK—With the unfurling of a large Union Jack under a bright morning sun Jasper Park Lodge, internationally known summer resort in the heart of the Canadian Rockies, opened for the 1951 season.

The weather was ideal and never in the more than a quarter of a century history in this "showplace of the Canadian Rockies" have the cabins and grounds looked so fine as they do now.

Just a few minutes after the morning sun peeked over the rugged and snow covered peaks of the Pyramid range of mountains, Peter Kilburn of Montreal, president of the Investment Dealers Association of Canada, here for the organization's 35th annual meeting, and Harold J. Gunning, manager of Jasper Park Lodge, assisted in raising the Union Jack, an act symbolizing the official opening of the 1951 season. As the flag fluttered at the top of the pole three wide-eyed deer trotted across the lawns near the base of the flagpole; a giant bear waddled across the gravelled path leading to the lodge and a beaver whipped the blue grey waters of Lac Beauvert. Jasper was open for another year.

Just a few hours after the flag raising ceremony special trains arrived from various parts of Canada bringing more than 200 members of the Investment Dealers' Association for the annual convention which will last until Thursday. Their numbers were augmented today when some 200 members of the western region of the Metropolitan Insurance Company arrives for the annual gathering.

"This looks like a big year for Jasper and the Canadian tourist industry," Manager Gunning said. He said reservations were slow in starting this year but have been coming in ever increasing numbers the last few weeks with the bulk coming from the eastern and western parts of the United States. "Not only are individual reservations very healthy but the convention business will be heavy this year," Mr. Gunning said in predicting a banner year for the tourist business in Jasper and Canada.

evolution of aluminum from its beginning. "Curiosity Shop" is a sequel to Unfinished Rainbows.

Civil Defence Is Organizing

In spite of lack of definite directives from the federal and provincial governments, the Prince Rupert local Civil Defence committee has been on the alert to make whatever preparations they could, with the limited information and guidance given them. Responding to a request from the Canadian Legion the City Council appointed a committee to prepare a brief for consideration of a general committee of representatives of various organizations and agencies. This committee, under the chairmanship of Alderman H. F. Glassey, prepared a comprehensive statement on the objectives and methods desirable.

Following the presentation of this brief to a larger committee, a communication was forwarded to Major-General Stien, provincial co-ordinator for Civil Defence for the province. Later General Stien met the local committee and outlined the scope of preparations desirable and suggested by headquarters.

Since then there has been a meeting of the local body with Mayor Rudderham presiding and City Clerk W. R. Long as secretary. The committee then named Mayor Rudderham as chairman and City Clerk W. R. Long as secretary of the local defence committee. Chairmen of various committees were named with power to draw up their own committees. The reports of these chairmen will be presented to a meeting of the committee this Friday evening. Until these committees have reported there is not much definite information to be given to the public. However it is pointed out that civil defence is the responsibility of each individual.
