Aluminum Pact Before House

House Hears of Deal—What Alcan Will Pay—Establish Townsite

VICTORIA (CP)—Agreement between the province of British Columbia and the Aluminum Co. of Canada for construction of a $550,000,000 aluminum plant at Kitimat was submitted to the British Columbia Legislature yesterday.

Under the agreement Alcan will pay an annual fee of some $100,000 for hydro-electric power.

Construction must start before June 1, 1953.

The current price of 18c a pound for aluminum, the company will pay 30c per horsepower each year.

The company will also pay 10c an acre for lands flooded by power reservoirs.

Some $25,000 will be spent on clearing of public roads and on low water levels.

The dam will be constructed on the Nechako River and will be about 120 miles long.

The agreement contains no reference to fisheries. (Assurance has already been given that the fishing industry will be protected.)

Minister of Lands E. T. Kenney also introduced a bill that authorizes the establishment of industrial townships near the plant. The bill would give government power to regulate such townships.

The company, however, agreed to pay land and school taxes. (Earlier it was indicated the company would be protected from excessive taxation.)

The bill would bear the cost of municipal taxes on company property and franchise, income and corporation taxes.

VICTORIA — It is not likely that the Canadian's special leave from Fort Lewis, at least two weeks.

They are now under the United States for 5,000 troops.

UN Still Advances

By Gen. MacArthur Warns Hard Fight Still Ahead

TOKYO (CP)—United States Marines swept through abandoned Hoengsong today and stabbed deeper into the heart of Red defences on the central Korean front.

Communist resistance stiffened all along the Allied line. On the east-central front, Korean Reds, wearing South Korean uniforms, knifed inside American positions and fought hand to hand.

Tank-led Marines of the First Division drove into Hoengsong unopposed at 2:40 p.m. after smashing Chinese Reds in a two-day battle.

They found the rubble highway hub littered with frozen bodies of earlier Allied casualties and scores of wrecked army trucks and jeeps. Hoengsong was virtually deserted. Only a few South Koreans remained—and those had escaped the Chinese.

Hoengsong, 50 air miles east of Seoul, is in the middle of the mountainous central front.

Meanwhile Australian and Canadian forces continued to close an arc around Yongdu.

General Douglas MacArthur warned today against over-optimism. He predicted that hard fighting was ahead.

MacArthur estimated that the Communists had 200,000 troops for a stand in the 38th parallel area.

Easter Recess Of Parliament

OTTAWA—Prime Minister L. S. St. Laurent announced yesterday that adjournment of Parliament for the Easter recess from March 21 to April 2 would be sought.

Clothing from IRO for Korean Refugees

One hundred tons of warm winter clothing, shown being loaded aboard U.S. Navy transport at Bremerhaven, Germany, are part of a $175,000 consignment for Korea from the International Refugee Organization, a United Nations Specialized Agency. They are earmarked for civilian refugees, now numbering more than two million.

Concessions By Soviet? Cranbrook MLA Sees Cruelty

LONDON — A British United Press dispatch from Moscow says Soviet Russia may "make a number of concessions" at the forthcoming preliminary Big Four conference in Paris "with a view to cutting down on rearming of western Europe."

Gas Routes To Pacific

OTTAWA (CP)—The Alberta Natural Gas Company has proposed two alternative routes for natural gas pipelines between Alberta and the Pacific coast, the board of transport commissioners announced yesterday.

The company previously submitted four alternative routes. Two now proposed are filed with the board orders that pipeline companies may not offer more than one all-Canadian line and the other going through United States.

The company's Canadian route would start in Alberta's Pincher Creek area, cross the Rockies by Crow's Nest pass and proceed to Vancouver over British Columbia territory. From the main line there would be a branch serving Cranbrook, and Kimberley. Two other branches would go into the U.S., near Waneta, B.C. and Aldergrove, B.C. Branches would serve Kimberley, Creston and Trail.

St. Laurent-Drew Clash

Controls Under Debate In Parliament

OTTAWA—Prime Minister L. S. St. Laurent and Opposition Leader George Drew clashed in Parliament yesterday over the government's bill seeking stand-by authority to exercise controls over prices, wages and rents.

Mr. Drew was critical of conferring on the government "wide open and undefined" powers including the removal even of the privilege of habeas corpus.

Mr. St. Laurent replied that, in view of uncertain conditions, there was no knowledge what and when powers would be required. Therefore, authority could not be limited.

Hon. Stuart S. Garson, minister of justice, disclosed some details of the controls authority to impose which if and when necessary was sought. A board something like the Wartime Prices and Trade Board would be set up, he indicated.

LABOR CO-OPERATION

Mr. St. Laurent said that the government, when it decides price controls must become effective, will enlist the "sympathetic consideration" of all the Canadian public including the country's labor unions.

The Prime Minister was replying in Commons to members who asked whether the government had taken up an offer of major labor unions to join in a government-labor-stabilization management conference to develop wage stabilization policy as part of the price-control program.

Mr. St. Laurent said the government had not accepted the offer which, he believed, had been made in good faith by the unions. But it would enlist the support of labor and other Canadians when it thought the time was ripe for controls.

THE WEATHER

(Synopsis)

It was clear and cold over the greater part of British Columbia early this morning although there was considerable cloudiness over the Queen Charlottes and over the south eastern corner of the province soon after daybreak. Temperatures dropped to 20 below at Prince George overnight while freezing temperatures were reported in all regions. Snow flurries will persist throughout the day over the southern mountains of the interior but the rest of the province will remain sunny with the exception of the Queen Charlotte Islands. It will be cold again throughout the province tonight and the weather tomorrow will show little change.

(Forecast)

North coast region—Cloudy today and Saturday except sunny vicinity northern Vancouver Island today. Little change in temperature. Light winds. Lows tonight and highs tomorrow—at Port Hardy 28 and 42; Sandspit 32 and 40; Prince Rupert 30 and 40.

Northern B.C. — cloudy with snow flurries today and Saturday. Little change in temperature. Light winds. Lows tonight and highs tomorrow—at Telegraph Creek zero and 30.

Vancouver city, lower Fraser valley region—sunny today and Saturday. Cold overnight. Light winds. Lows tonight and highs tomorrow—at Vancouver airport 28 and 45; Abbotsford 25 and 45.

Sons of Freedom Are Surveying Graham Is.

Have Already Agreed to Relocation, It Is Reported

VANCOUVER (CP)—Queen Charlotte Islands may be the future home of 2500 radical Doukhobors. The members of the Sons of Freedom, blamed for many acts of terrorism in the Kootenays, today were reported to have agreed to a relocation plan favored by federal and provincial authorities.

Representatives of the Sons now are making a survey of Graham Island to see if the land is suitable for development.

Orthodox Doukhobors, 12,500 peaceful members of the religious sect, will remain in their Kootenay homes, 250 miles east of here. They own rich orchard lands and industrial developments.

Ice Arena Is Robbed

VANCOUVER (CP)—A few hours after last night's hockey game, two armed robbers invaded Kerrisdale arena here early today and escaped with between $3000 and $4000.

After binding the 60-year-old night watchman, the thieves hauled the safe from the arena office across the ice to the shower room. There they blew it open.

Hospital Premiums—

Payments Are Evaded?

So Charges Member Of Legislature

VICTORIA (CP)—Widespread evasion of hospital insurance premiums was charged in Legislature Wednesday by Randolph Harding (CCF—Kaslo-Slocan).

He disagreed with hospital insurance authorities on estimates that 90 per cent of eligible persons were paying premiums and he calculated loss of revenue to the scheme from non-payment may run as high as $2,000,000 a year.

Harding asked for an intensive collection system in the coming year with greater emphasis on payroll deductions.

In some mining districts, he contended, as high as 50 per cent of employees were not paying premiums.

He said the treasury should continue to subsidize the deficit.

Bevin Not Resigning

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister Attlee's office tonight issued an official denial of reports that Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin had decided to resign.

Bevin returned to work today after a lengthy illness.

Earlier reports, supposedly from reliable sources, had said Bevin had decided to resign because of ill-health.

Protection For Alcan

Agreement in Connection With Aluminum Development Presented to Legislature

VICTORIA (CP)—The Aluminum Co. of Canada, if it goes ahead with its big hydro development in British Columbia, is to be protected from excessive school taxation on its investment in dams and powerhouses, it was learned in government circles yesterday.

The government will be given power to make agreements on what taxation shall be. Without this clause company officials feel it might be at the mercy from year to year of local school boards who could levy high taxes on company plants and support the entire school system in this manner.

In the Legislature Hon. E. T. Kenney presented the agreement granting power privileges to the Aluminum Co. and providing of selling of crown lands for plant sites.

Pipe Line Approved

OTTAWA (CP)—The Senate, after opposition of some members, yesterday approved legislation for incorporation of a pipeline company which proposed to build a line from the oil fields of Alberta southward through United States territory to Vancouver.

Measure to incorporate the Border Pipeline Corporation was passed "on division"—without a recorded vote.

Dissenters were led by Senator John T. Haig, Progressive Conservative leader, who said the measure would revive in the House of Commons a long filibuster of the last session when many members held out for an all-Canadian route on any pipelines to the coast.

Construction of lower Fort Garry, Hudson's Bay Company fort near Winnipeg, started in 1831.

Liquor Situation

IN ATTACKING the present liquor situation, Andrew Whisker (Cln—Cowichan-Newcastle) told Legislature that people in his district "had no specific suggestions to offer." Perhaps we can help him.

We know that the present laws require a citizen, when he wants liquor, to buy it at a government liquor store, or at a private licensed club. When he wants to drink it he has to do that in private—under cover.

Private clubs are open only to a minority. They have little or no competition so there's only one price for a drink. Most private clubs make fortunes.

A government liquor store sells only in large quantities. For one drink, a whole bottle is bought. After that, whole bottles are often hurriedly consumed. Most government liquor stores make a fortune.

Taking advantage of people's weaknesses and ignorance is exploitation. There is no greater exploitation in Canada today than that which concerns its people and liquor.

No doubt the Attorney-General has enough experience to place before the House a sensible, proper solution, as Mr. Whisker pointed out, but let's be specific about it.

Place the sale of liquor on a competitive basis. Let people take a drink in public in congenial surroundings—if they want to drink. And when they take too much, let the public bear witness to their shame.

Closer At Home

PRINCE RUPERT is notorious for its excess in drinking throughout the length and breadth of the province. We probably spend more on liquor per capita than any other city in British Columbia, perhaps Canada. Surely, this is not a healthy sign, and as surely there must be an explanation for it.

In Prince Rupert there is perhaps too little opportunity for wholesome recreation. Is our city so drab and depressing that its people are driven to drink? Or is it that only in its beer parlors are found companionship, community spirit and congeniality?

And exploitation does not end with the liquor problem. Whenever a commodity is scarce, it goes to the highest bidder. If it remains scarce, all sense of value is lost—the bidding becomes a frenzy of hysteria and we have inflation. Real estate—housing—in Prince Rupert has reached this point. Efforts to keep the situation thus would leave one only with the impression there are those who favor this situation; are taking advantage of it; are exploiting their kindred beings not for their weaknesses, ignorance or desires, but for their dire needs.

Save Music Festival

PRINCE RUPERT has already had two very successful music and drama festivals and ambitious plans are being laid for another this year. However, there has been a disappointing response so far in the way of entries so the closing date for the entries has been deferred for two weeks.

After the good showing that has been made, it would be regrettable indeed if this splendid cultural event should be permitted to languish or lapse this year. There is plenty of group and individual talent both in city and district and it is fitting that it should be brought together in competition, particularly under such auspices as these festivals afford when expert adjudicators are on hand to criticize constructively and advise helpfully.

Within the next two weeks, it is to be hoped that music and drama groups and individual competitors will rally to this event and make it even more successful and interesting than its predecessors have been.

It does not speak too well for a community of this size if it is indifferent to an event such as this. Here is a challenge to musical organizations and those who have the cultural life of the city really at heart.

As I See It

ISLAM SAYS UNITE

KARACHI, Pakistan—Believe it or not, visiting newspapermen rate free haircuts today in this mushrooming Asian capital, for the WELCOME sign is out in all sincerity to the visitors to the World Moslem Conference.

Of course, the free haircut is primarily intended for the official big shots. But it was nice of the barbers to think of us working newsmen, too. For on the basis of need, there is no doubt who will benefit most by the free shearing operation.

MY VISIT in Cairo coincided with the meeting of the Arab League. So this gathering—which is much more comprehensive—is another concrete evidence that the whole Moslem world is astir. Moreover, the whole Mohammedan world is now astir under the beginnings of intelligent, gradually crystallizing leadership.

It is not a pointless, running-round-in-circles business. There is a deliberate attempt, at the various levels, to get the various Moslem countries to co-operate or, later, even to unite.

IF YOU LOOK at a map of the world, and color the Mohammedan countries in brown, you can get a good idea of the direction of one of the next big tides in human affairs.

For, while there is a lot of mere talk at these Arab and larger Moslem gatherings, there are certain common objectives very plainly emerging. Chief of these is the completion of the colonial liberation process.

At the moment France is the main target for the blasts of the arriving delegates.

According to Murad Klouna, editor of the Algerian paper, International Young Islam, four hundred thousand Moslem boys in that French-ruled country are without schools. Freedom of speech is unknown, he declares. Even freedom of religion has been curtailed, for the government (that is of France) has taken over the selection of the Mufti and Imam.

I CITE THE ABOVE because it is typical of the many blasts which are let loose as plane-load after plane-load of delegates arrive.

In this part of the world one does not hear so much about the question which looms so large in North America—whether or not there will be a war between blocs led by the United States on the one hand and Russia on the other.

But one does hear a great deal about the inequities of imperialism—and of the need finally to liquidate it, especially in Moslem countries.

IF YOU TALK, as I have, with top statesmen who help direct the foreign affairs programs of their countries, you also very quickly find that there is a deep concern at what is considered the too-truculent approach of the United States in one world struggle with Russia.

It is not that these Moslem leaders are in favor of that immoral and cowardly process which, since Munich, has become known as "appeasement."

In long and most candid talks with some of their key statesmen (which were the more candid because they were not to be reported verbatim), they have compared the proclamation of the Commonwealth Prime Ministers with the votes in the UN.

Why did the non-Asian members of the Commonwealth wilt and retreat from the positive-peace-making position agreed upon at London? They ask it without bitterness, but with sharp point. Why did only the Asian members stand firm on the ground unanimously accepted at London?

I VENTURED to suggest to one key figure that sometimes even countries like Canada, or even Britain, were not able to hold a preferred position in the face of pressure from the United States.

His eyes twinkled as he pointed to a big map of Pakistan. He showed me where the Soviet Union's borders adjoin this country's and also where Communist China's do.

"We have neighbors, too," he said.

I am not suggesting that the neighborly friendships are the same—for, obviously, they are not the same as between Canada and our best friend and next-door neighbor.

But if one keeps in mind that ray..

Reflects and Reminisces

ONE PROBLEM LESS

Mr. Attlee is a busy man but nothing is neglected. His Ministry says a loaf of bread is a loaf of bread, whether sliced or in one piece, despite a recent legal ruling that, when sliced, a loaf is merely a collection of pieces. In Canada, we have the butter question.

CAN'T FORGET IT!

There's always a "lost mine" somewhere in British Columbia. Alfred Gaspard, grizzled and wrinkled prospector, vowed he'd find this one, believed to be in the Pitt River region. Twenty others over the years have tried also, and now it's thought Gaspard has joined them. That is, they have all "gone for aye" away in the wilderness, their bodies weakened, but with hope still strong.

TWENTY A DAY!

"Bursts of fire are screeching over their heads and detonating a few hundred yards away from them in the woods. The men tramp twenty miles a day in full equipment and then sleep in soaking blankets." The newcomers to the fight trained in South Korea, carried 40 pound packs as well as ammunition when they went into action. The muddy ground made every move up the mountain slopes treacherous. There was a constant danger of mudslides carrying the men into the valley hundreds of feet below. Tramping in rain-soaked clothing over slippery passes the Canadians went into action shortly after the jump.

all these Asian countries, teeming with poor people, are slugging up against the frontiers of dynamic world Communism, one gets a number one with which to get understanding of the realities here.

Education Week Interview

With a Prince Rupert Businessman, N. L. Jones

Q—Does modern education fit the student to earn a living?
A—Only to a very limited extent. To the average boy or girl who has to earn a living, it is of very little use.
Q—Can education help combat delinquency?
A—Yes, that is real education can help providing the instructors themselves are educated for that purpose. By the way what is a juvenile delinquent?
A—Are there adequate opportunities for adult education in Prince Rupert?
A—No.
Q—Do you think the graduate of today is as competent to take his place in the community as the graduate of twenty years ago?
A—Yes.
Q—Do we expect too much of our schools?
A—Yes, definitely. The school of today is expected to perform duties and responsibilities that rightly belong to the parents.

Trousers without cuffs may again become the rule, as it was in the second war, Washington warns. Indeed, there is a prospect of control becoming effective in the use of wool in civilian clothing. But cuffless pants is no hardship. They were handy as dust receptacles, however.

GETS NOWHERE!

There is no sense of sportsmanship in cursing the referee. Anyone should be aware of this but, evidently the majority do not. An Ottawa clergyman, feeling strongly on the subject, says it has been an illuminating experience for him to remove his clerical collar, and sit in at some sporting event. He discovered that too many fans appear to think that the purchase of a ticket gave the right to shout prize specimens of blasphemy and obscenity. One may feel an urge to kill the umpire and recommend it at the top of one's lungs. But let it stop there!

At the risk of being thought friendly to daylight saving, it's not unpleasant to behold as March takes over a sunny sky at 6:30 p.m.

VISITING EAST INDIES

Comes word of Sergeant Dillabhadur Gurung and Rifleman Birkhabadur Thapa, 1st Bn., King Edward's Own Gurka Rifles being awarded decorations for gallant conduct in the field. Communists in Korea needed no introduction to these wiry little fighting men from the land once known as British India.

SQUARE DANCING— Popular Form of Terpsichore Making Hit at Civic Centre

FORMING THE SQUARE at the Civic Centre square dance night, are beginning left, Mr. and Mrs. Don Ritchie, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Richards, Miss Gloria Sather, Don Leitch, Joan Anderson and Paul Doumont.

By LARRY STANWOOD

"Swing your partner . . . ! — "Allemande left . . . !" — such are the clear, crying orders to which hundreds respond with gusto twice a month at the Civic Centre.

The cries, accompanied by the whirling music of old-time fiddlers, are no more enthusiastic than the nimble feet and gyrating bodies of those who obey them.

Yes, it's Square Dance night. Since last October, when Canadian square-dancing was more or less initiated in Prince Rupert, several hundred couples have become proficient in reviving an almost lost art in Canadian dancing.

It all began when Roly Miles and Miss Gloria Sather, both of the Civic Centre staff, got their heads together last fall to figure out a form of recreation which would appeal to old and young alike.

When the dances first got under way—first Thursday and last Friday of each month—quite a bit of teaching had to be done. Even the teachers had to dig in their past to recall the fancy foot-work.

"The square-dancing I had done I'd mostly forgotten," said Roly.

The main auditorium was opened, and to recorded music in Civic Centre members formed squares. Older members to whom old-time dancing was a natural, caught on fast. Some were "right at home" on the square-dance floor. But to many of the younger set it was "strictly something new."

INTRICATE STEPS

But today they follow the intricate steps of "Strip the Willow," "The Haymaker," and "Queen for a Day" without much difficulty. The 10 or 12 squares at one time on the floor present a picturesque setting of whirling skirts and figures, moving in symmetry and rhythm.

"We think it's great fun. Real wholesome recreation," said Mr. and Mrs. Don Ritchie, 1077 First Avenue West. "We haven't missed a night here."

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Richards, 432 Fifth Avenue East, said they didn't think there had been much of any square dancing in the city before this.

"But now there are requests at other dances for Canadian squares,"

Age of dancers, said Miss Sather, range from 16 to over 60, the older group no less enthusiastic than youth.

There is confusion at times, of course, especially when learning a new dance. It takes only a wrong move from one or two in the square of four couples to throw it out of line—but "that's more fun," according to Joan Anderson, who has just started the dances.

Every night the "squares" are held a new routine is learned, said Roly. The last one was "Texas Star," one of the most difficult, requiring precision movement and almost split-second response to "the caller."

"It is hoped," said Roly, "that this group will be a prominent part of the spring Gym Display."

"It's really beautiful to look at when square-dancing is done right." — "Swing your corner . . ."

— "First couple in the centre . . ."

Masset Girl Is Cathedral Bride

A colorful wedding took place at 3 p.m. yesterday at St. Andrew's Cathedral when the Rev. Canon Basil Procter pronounced nuptials between Mildred Violet Weir and Arthur Matthew Yeomans.

The bride is eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Weir of Masset. The groom resides at Port Edward.

Gowned in white satin, the bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a long pearl necklace and carried a bouquet of pink roses.

Two flower girls and train-bearers were Pansy Yeomans and Sandra Adams. Matron of honor was Mrs. Abel Brooks. Bride's attendants were Misses Vesta Woods, Thelma Yeomans and Margaret Adams, Mrs. Primrose Adams and Mrs. Pearl Parnell.

Groom was attended by his uncle, Robert G. Collision of Masset; Abel Brooks, his brother-in-law, and his visiting uncle Moses Parnell.

About 40 attended the wedding. The couple will reside at Port Edward.

ANNOUNCEMENT

We wish to advise that effective February 27th, we will be looking after the contracting of coal for Messrs. Albert & McCaffery, Limited.

The two companies will continue to operate independently of each other, the present arrangement having been made for the sole purpose of keeping our respective handling costs to a minimum.

We are, of course, remaining in the coal, wood and transfer business, and look for the new arrangement to enable us to give our customers even better service than we have in the past.

TO OUR CUSTOMERS:

We are pleased to announce that a working agreement has been made with Hyde Transfer, whereby they will handle the unloading, sacking and delivery of our coal.

This arrangement, made to offset rising costs of handling and overhead, will in no way affect the Hyde Transfer coal operation. They will continue their own coal, wood and transfer business as heretofore. As usual, all coal orders for Albert & McCaffery, Limited should be phoned to our office at 116, 117 or 58.

School Deal With Civic Centre—Cellulose Logs to Prince Rupert

The contract with the school board for the rental of the heated and unheated parts of the Civic Centre building for five days per week for the hours of 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. was discussed at Wednesday night's meeting of the Civic Centre board of directors. The contract was satisfactory and was accordingly ratified. Nick Schmeling was given authority to go ahead with the Saturday night dances for the young people, up to 21 years of age and to use his own discretion whether to run these dances for nothing or for a small sum to the dancers. The date of the annual meeting was left to the executive to decide. Ben Dodds presided at the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Alger left this week for the south where Milton will attend a business convention in Vancouver.

Mrs. P. Marie, sr., has returned from the south where she attended the funeral of her brother-in-law, Mr. R. Hartnell. Her nephew, Ronnie Hartnell, son of the deceased, did not return with her but will be staying in the south.

Pete Parmenter leaves on Saturday for Salmon, Idaho. Pete has received his call for the American army.

Mr. A. J. Dominato of Prince Rupert is in town in connection with the opening of his shoe store on Lakeside Avenue.

Train loads of logs leave Terrace daily for the Cellulose Company in Port Edward. The men who are hauling the logs, by contract, to the railway are on the road at a very early hour of the morning to get as many hauled as possible before the Spring break-up closes down the roads.

Robert Parker of Prince Rupert was a business visitor to Terrace early in the week.

Mrs. D. G. Little and Mrs. C. Michiel were hostesses at the high school to the parents of the students on Wednesday afternoon. The full high school staff, Mr. Laird, Mr. Scott and Miss Moreau were also present, and, following afternoon tea the visitors were shown around the school.

ANOTHER "STRAD?"
MOSEL BAY, South Africa (CP)—A school teacher in the Cape province town is excited. An old violin discovered in his attic bears a label: "Antonius Stradivarius 1721" and if it is a genuine "Strad" it will be worth a fortune.

TOUGH DIGGING—Members of the PPCLI, having just completed their training in the south Korean hills, hope that "digging in" under actual battle conditions won't be as tough as it was in training. They had to dynamite through solid rock at this point. Armed with picks and shovels, this group of Patricias apply finishing touches. (CP from National Defence)

Gardening....

PLANNING—To make his plans for the 1951 garden there is a wealth of information available in any Canadian seed catalogue, in government bulletins and in some of the many good gardening books available. Now while the ground is still frozen or cold is the time to plan.

Exact blue prints are not necessary but even a rough sketch is always helpful, and there will be fun and satisfaction in this, as well. It is astonishing what new information can be picked up each year, even by those who no longer consider themselves amateurs.

NEW VARIETIES—For one thing there are many new varieties and types. Plant breeding is a work that is never finished. The people who follow that profession are continually producing and searching for new and improved plants. They are giving us better colors in flowers, new hardiness in both flowers and vegetables, brand new types more suited to our special climate. In exploring this wide-open field, the beginner is advised to keep in mind local conditions and requirements. Flowers, vegetables and fruits that may give wonderful results in the Southern States or in England may be far too tender for any part of Canada. Some things that thrive elsewhere are not rugged enough for Prince Rupert.

But just because one couldn't grow say, melons or corn in one's locality ten years ago doesn't mean that one cannot grow these things today. On the market now are far harder varieties. Perhaps harder is not quite the word as no melon vine will stand any serious frost, and corn does not appreciate it either. What the plant breeders have done, however, is to give us corn, melons and a host of other types that mature days and sometimes weeks ahead of the old kinds. They also give us faster-growing types. These two factors mean that these new kinds can be grown farther north where the season is short.

SHORT CUTS—And there are other ways of beating nature or our short Canadian growing seasons. One can start seed in a hotbed or window box and have plants well-grown and ready for outside just about the time it would be safe to sow seed. This means transplanting, of course, but for a few early things almost any vegetable and flower can be transplanted. Then there are some other tricks like putting little paper caps or miniature greenhouses over hills of tender melons, squash, cucumbers and tomato plants and keeping them thus protected until danger of frost is over. In Great Britain they use panes of glass and in some places just a flower pot which protects at night and is removed during the day.

Shrine Band In Concert

Prince Rupert's own "military" band will be on stage tonight to show the results of a season's rehearsal. Under leadership of Peter Lien, the 26-member band will present such renowned selections as "Chimes of Normandy," the overture "Golden Scythia," by Schlegel.

Other local talent will be featured such as cornet duets by George Brown and Eric Trumbell, and Mike Colussi's accordion.

Originated as a band of the reserve army, 102nd AA Battery, during early part of the second world war, it has carried on "mainly as an outlet for local talent and to give the people music produced locally," Mr. Lien said.

Formerly closely affiliated with Prince Rupert's Shrine Club, the band has now "come into its own," and it is "actually looking for a new name," said the conductor.

Proceeds from the concert will be used to purchase new instruments and music, as many of the existing pieces are "all battered up."

Members of the band come from varied forms of employment, and some have played their instruments for a long time. A. G. Brain, for example, has played his trombone for more than 40 years.

"All of them are most enthusiastic about the concert, and have religiously attended the rehearsals," their conductor declared.

103 Elks Here- Forming Patrol

A special meeting of the Prince Rupert Elks lodge was held in the Sons of No-way hall on Wednesday evening when twelve applications for membership were dealt with by ballot and various standing and special committees were appointed. It was announced that the lodge membership now stood at 163 members.

It was also announced that for the remainder of the winter, at least, regular meetings of the lodge would be held every second and fourth Thursdays of each month.

An escort patrol team of 19 or more of a younger group of members is being formed to hold a dress rehearsal of this patrol while Grand Organizer P. A. Miquelon is still in the city.

Mr. Miquelon addressed Wednesday's meeting at length on the aims, ideals and objects of the Order of Elks and predicted that Prince Rupert Lodge No. 342 would continue to grow to become one of the best in British Columbia.

Value of annual coal production in Britain approximates $900,000,000.

LETTERBOX HOSPITAL SERVICE

Editor, Daily News:
A matter has come to my attention that the reading public should know about.

We are paying hospital insurance to provide adequate hospital care. This should entitle us to nutritional food, clean linen and beds and hospitalization for as long as it is needed to gain back strength and health.

Such is not the case in Prince Rupert's hospital. There is not enough linen to keep the beds changed every day I am told. Surely it should not be necessary to bring decent food from home but I have had to do this so that my daughter-in-law would have food she could eat.

How about it Mr. and Mrs. Public?

Thank you Mr. Editor for the space to give these facts.
