Prince Rupert Korean war-casualty is expected in the near future but he was not very happy and 11 other Princess Patricia soldiers were in Vancouver by plane last Friday night.

Johnston was in action with the Princess Patricia's Light Infantry. He was taken from a Japanese plane and had a broken leg. Cpl. Johnston was injured as a result of the explosion, and his leg is still in a cast. He appears the ink to keep his son from the service.

Johnston was one of the 11 other Princess Patricia soldiers in the re-formed unit in Korea and went over to the mainland.

Johnston was waiting in Vancouver for his son. He had no instructions from his son, but he did have any Korean notes, and in Western civilization.

The men had homes in Vancouver for which they immediately. Most of the men were strangers. Cpl. Johnston has not heard from his son, but he is expected to arrive in Prince Rupert soon as he is released from the front.

FISH WORKERS—Voting on New Offer

Final result of wage negotiations for fish workers of United Fishermen and Allied Workers Union will be announced this week-end. Voting on the latest offer of the operators is concluding in some ten locals along the West Coast of B.C.

Latest offer by operators is as follows:

- 1. For female general fishworkers, starting at $1 an hour, advancing to $1.27.
- 2. Male general fishworkers, starting at $1.24 an hour, increasing to $1.51 and $1.61 for skilled graders and cutters.
- 3. Cold storage workers, starting at $1.36 an hour, increasing to $1.56.

The new offer represents an increase from 20 to 28 cents an hour. Offer also includes that working conditions remain the same for a two-year period but has a re-opener clause after one year. If accepted, provides for a monthly increase to net workers, reduction plant and cannery workers of $40 to $50.

Thomas Parkin, secretary of Prince Rupert local UFAWU said today that final results of the voting should be available "in a day or so."

Negotiations with operators were started in February and first offer, voted on in March, was turned down by a 95 per cent majority. Subsequent negotiations resulted in a deadlock, after which a conciliation board was sought.

Before the board sat, however, negotiations were resumed at request of the operators, which resulted in the final offer.

Canada Must be Saved From Small Men, Bruce Hutchison Tells UBC

VANCOUVER (CP)—A plea to preserve Canada "from ravenous prodigality and pillage" was made today by Bruce Hutchison, editor of the Victoria Daily Times.

The newspaperman delivered the convocation address at the University of British Columbia after receiving an honorary doctor of laws degree.

A total of 1,359 graduates are receiving degrees in the two-day convocation which began today.

An honorary doctor of laws degree was also conferred today on Dr. Isabel S. MacInnes, retired professor of languages at University of British Columbia.

Hutchison said that Canada must be preserved from "small and trembling men who dare not be Canadians, who forever lean on some other nation, who once leaned on Britain and now lean on the United States and must always learn on something."

Fire Kills Race Horses

MONTREAL (CP)—Fifteen race horses perished last night when fire gutted a stable at Blue Bonnets race track. Damage is estimated at more than $50,000.

W. K. Smith of Boston, one of the owners, and a Japanese-Canadian jockey, Hiromi Ukeyama, 19, of Vancouver, suffered minor burns.

United Nations Hold Back Mass Assaults

TOKYO (CP) — Waves of attacking Chinese Reds failed today to break through the main United Nations defence line. The Chinese smashed a hole in South Korean ranks and streamed through but Allied troops rushed up and plugged the gap by nightfall.

Tightening Up Term Buying

OTTAWA (CP) — The federal government moved Wednesday to plug loopholes in restrictions on instalment buying.

James Sinclair, Parliamentary assistant to Finance Minister Abbott, piloted through the House of Commons a bill aimed at preventing consumers from circumventing consumer-credit regulations.

The regulations were imposed last November and were tightened in March.

Sinclair said that some consumers were using charge accounts at department stores to evade regulations.

There also were cases where a plumbing firm, for instance, would install an electric water heater and give the purchaser unlimited time to pay.

That, said Sinclair, would be unfair to persons who purchased such equipment through regular channels.

Under new regulations these purchases must comply with credit restrictions applying to other goods.

B.C. Must Import Labor

VANCOUVER (CP)—Officials of the Unemployment Insurance Commission today urged British Columbia employers to import workers from Europe to meet a "critical shortage of labor" in the province.

"Within coming months, labor demands will increase far beyond our capacity to supply for already shortages are apparent," said William McKinstry, superintendent for the Pacific region of Unemployment Insurance Commission.

In the commission's monthly bulletin, McKinstry said: "Satisfactory arrangements can be made for a suitable supply of labor to be selected from other countries. The time is now."

At the same time, officials of the National Employment Service said that larger shortages were becoming evident in mining, logging, shipbuilding, trucking, construction and agriculture.

NES said that shortages are for both skilled and unskilled labor.

At Victoria Premier Byron Johnson said the idea of an immigration plan similar to Ontario's had not yet reached the stage of serious consideration.

Mrs. S. D. Johnston left for Vancouver by plane today to see her son, Cpl. Kenneth Johnston, recently returned from Korea.

Armand Boas, local sanitation, leaves tonight on the Prince Rupert for a similar appointment in Nelson.

Demoted but Skipper Wins

VANCOUVER (CP)—Capt. Sig Trelvik demoted himself to deckhand and made it pay off Wednesday.

A herring fisherman for years, Capt. Trelvik knew nothing about halibut but he learned the hard way, working on deck with numb fingers at the bait tanks.

Trelvik arrived back in port on his 62-foot diesel seiner Western Monarch with a catch of 80,000 pounds of halibut, biggest catch ever taken off the British Columbia coast by a single boat.

An old friend, Capt. Osteln Hansen, was at the helm of the seiner Western Monarch during the 11-day fishing trip. Capt. Hansen is a veteran halibut skipper.

Clean-Up Approved

Board of Health Pursues City Proposal—Sewers, Trailers, Incinerator, Etc.

Gratification at the interest the city council is showing in the desirability of a real clean-up in Prince Rupert was expressed yesterday at the quarterly meeting of the Prince Rupert and District Union Board of Health which pursued the matter further by asking the city to definitely set the earliest possible week as "Clean-up Week."

The Board of Health is asking the city to include its own property in the clean-up and to arrange for special disposal services on a designated day towards the end of the week so waste material may be removed after assembly.

Meantime the city will be asked to adequately advertise the event. Satisfaction was expressed by the interest which had been already aroused by newspaper publicity.

Clean-up and sanitation conditions occupied a good deal of the time and discussion at yesterday's session.

In order to permit of cleaner week-ends in the city, the board decided to press further upon the city for the institution of a downtown garbage pickup on Saturday instead of Thursday. Dogs and children, it was said, caused considerable unsightly scattering of garbage, particularly around the restaurants, during the week-end.

Aldermen members of the board referred to the difficulty of getting garbage collectors to work on Saturday. Nevertheless, the possibility of setting up the Saturday collection will be further explored.

Ultimate garbage disposal was under discussion when Dr. Duncan Black, medical health officer, proposed that the incinerator at the city limits be put back into operation instead of the open dumping as at present.

When aldermen recalled that the operation of the incinerator had been ruled out some years ago owing to the cost ($20,000 a year) and that the incinerator had since deteriorated, the idea was put forward that waste oil from local oil plants and service stations might be hauled to the dump for firing purposes. This possibility will be further explored with the city council sanitation committee.

Meantime, the rat situation in the city was termed a continuing "disgrace" which was encouraged by the feeding piece for rodents at the dump.

SEWER CONNECTIONS

Sanitarian Armine Boas reported to the board that there were 36 houses in the city flanked by sewers but as yet not connected up with same. This matter was referred by the board to the civic board of works and superintendent of works who will investigate the practicability of hooking up. If connection is practicable, the owners of the property will be summarily ordered to so connect.

Menace of the possible developing of the practice of trailer parking on city property was referred to by the board, one instance in particular being mentioned. The need of a trailer camp in Prince Rupert was described as "most urgent" and that will be one of the matters the city will be asked to investigate when dealing with the trailer problem.

Hugh Hart, sanitarian from Terrace, who was present at the meeting, told a trailer camp having been established there. It had been equipped with running water but it had been impracticable as yet to eliminate the use of "privies."

Buried in the wreck are Fireman George Miller, aged 35, and brakeman John Chockla, 25, both of Fort William.

Engineer Charles Seal, 55, Port Arthur, received a scalded leg but his condition is not serious.

If Election Came

IF THERE were to be a general election in Britain tomorrow, what would be the outcome? There has been a very common assumption, especially among Labor party members who have deplored recent open cleavage of opinion, that the party was in grave danger of "letting the Conservatives in"; in short, that if there was an election a Conservative win would be made certain by the Labor disunity.

However, the assumption that the cleavage of opinion will prove deep enough to damage Labor's electoral prospects is not one to be accepted too readily. For while the Labor party is enjoying the luxury of some open socialist controversy, it is still one party; no one has been expelled, no one has resigned membership, and a vote in the country for Mr. Bevan or one of his followers is still a vote for the party that includes Mr. Gaitskell and is led by Mr. Attlee. So there ought to be no votes lost on the Left of the party.

What about the Right of it? The question there is not so much of the impression made on the faithful Labor voter who may be relieved that Mr. Bevan no longer enjoys a position of power in the cabinet but of what the man and woman who might or might not vote for Labor thinks about it all. And there is at least a chance that more of their votes would go to Labor than before the recent events.

The kind of estimate that that guess is based on is that the floating voter too is relieved that Mr. Bevan's variety of socialism is not now being exercised from within the cabinet and that, for the rest, Mr. Gaitskell's budget is honest, as fair as it can be in the difficult circumstances and certainly not very frightening to middle opinion.

All of this kind of estimating of political futures will perhaps be better done at the end of May when Parliament meets again after the Whitsuntide adjournment. Judgments made at Westminster just now suffer from being made in the presence of the chief contestants. But now the controversy will be diffused over the country and as far as the Labor party itself is concerned there is not likely to be any special occasion to bring it to a head until the party conference in October.

Preposterous and Dangerous

THE THEORY that men, retired early, somehow enrich the economy always was mathematically preposterous. Today, when our great need is goods for defence and the civilian consumer, when the shortage of goods compared to the money supply is the cause of inflation, this doctrine of compulsory retirement is not only preposterous but extremely dangerous.

Yet the very government in Ottawa which tells us all to work harder and longer insists on making its servants nonproductive, a load on the community, usually against their own desires, when many of them are still in their most useful and productive years.

The same folly is practiced by provincial and municipal governments and by many private concerns. How far must inflation go, how dangerous must the world situation become before this lunacy is abandoned?

Despite the figures which tell us that Canada is falling behind other nations in the struggle for increased production, there is no sign that any of these lessons is to be applied by any of our governments. At the moment when our prosperity and perhaps our national life must depend on our willingness to work harder and longer, Canada still seems bent on taking things easier. Our enemy does not make that mistake.—Victoria Times.

YUGOSLAV SIZE-UP

BELGRADE, YUGOSLAVIA.—In a few hours this first visit to this No-Man's-Land of the cold war will be over.

This is the time to begin to sizeup this strange land of 1951—and how its fate is linked up with our own.

As everybody knows, Yugoslavia is a land of some 16 million Slavs, who only recently became a single country. Nature, even more than politics, destined this to be a meeting place. Over the centuries and millennia great empires have met and struggled here.

It was the assassination of an Austria princeling in Sarajevo, Serbia, which touched off the World War of 1914. But for years before the actual war the handwriting was on the wall for all to see.

The ancient stranglehold of the Turkish conqueror was breaking. The fierce Slav nationalism was shaking the very foundations of the mild and now-humane-looking cosmopolitanism of the old Austro-Hungarian Empire. Russia—then as now the great riddle—was a tyranny at home but, as a sort of bulldozing old-order-crusher, the hope of most Slav liberators abroad.

THERE IS NO NEED NOR space here to review the stormy history of the Yugoslavia which emerged from World War I. The country, though all Slav, was split into about five main sections by fierce local patriotisms. There were several rival religions, even two alphabets.

There was little, if any, real democracy. When King Alexander dissolved the Yugoslav parliament, just before World War II, it was because a gun battle between Serb and Croat MPs had taken several lives—right on the floor of parliament!

THE GOVERNMENT OF Yugoslavia, like the government of Russia, was a Communist government.

Its main leaders were, and are, dyed in the wool Marxians. But Yugoslavia was the only Communist country, outside Russia, to have liberated itself with little outside help. AND HENCE HAD NO RUSSIAN ARMY OF OCCUPATION.

The key to the split between Yugoslavia and Russia was over a matter of principle so important that every intelligent person in the whole world should understand it.

For it is at the very heart of the question on which millions of lives—including Canadian lives—may depend. It is this:

Should the policies for Yugoslavia be made in Yugoslavia by Yugoslavs, or should Yugoslavia, also being a Communist country, be governed by what is called "democratic centralism"?

In the Communist jargon of these times, "democratic centralism" really means decisions on matters of world policy, secretly made in the Kremlin, and for reasons which are not even understood elsewhere, much less discussed in advance and really approved by the genuine democratic process.

TO UNDERSTAND WHAT really happened, and what it means for us, we have to consider the curious nature of the world Communist movement.

Since the successful Russian revolution, and the emergence of Russia as one of the three strongest world powers, Communist parties in other countries than Russia have more and more tended to become mere agencies of Russian foreign policy.

So long as the non-Russian Communist parties were relatively small, underground conspiratorial groups, the above fact was not very upsetting in

Re-opening Dorreen Mine

Will Be Producing By Summer From Newly Installed Mill

Veteran mining man of a quarter of a century or more standing in this area, Peter E. Peterson arrived in the city yesterday on the Prince Rupert from Vancouver and proceeded by evening train to Dorreen to re-open for active operation the Dorreen Mines Ltd. property on which a 50-ton mill has been installed and which will go into production this year.

Mr. Peterson was accompanied by key men for his operation—Albert Knox, who will be superintendent of construction; Thomas Giles, who will be mine superintendent; and Harold Tensing, mill metallurgist.

The property is expected to go into production in July and about thirty men will be employed in the operation.

Meanwhile further construction will be proceeded with including building of additional camp accommodation at the mill.

Last year construction of the mill was finished, water power installed and tram between mine and mill practically finished.

Formerly known as the Fiddler Creek mine, the Dorreen property is situated on Knauss Creek about five miles from Dorreen station. The elevation is about 2000 feet. Some 2500 feet from the mine is the mill site. The concentrates will be hauled the five miles to the station by truck over a road which is being gravelled this year.

Concentrate shipments will be made to Trail smelter.

Dorreen ore averages an ounce in gold besides five percent in lead, five percent zinc and one percent copper with total value of $79.05 at present metal prices.

Years ago Mr. Peterson was mill superintendent for the Granby Consolidated Mining, Smelting & Power Co. at Anyox. He discovered a selective flotation process which was adopted there. Mr. Peterson has also been prominently connected with other mining operations in Alice Arm and Portland Canal areas.

Long False Pretences Trail Ends Up in Local Court

Gurney Austin Garland, who posed as a missionary to obtain $50 worth of Bibles and the balance in cash from a worthless check for $89 at a Prince Rupert stationery store recently, was sentenced to six months' imprisonment by Magistrate W. D. Vance in city police court yesterday. He pleaded guilty to a charge of obtaining money and goods by false pretences. Restitution of one Bible was made. Garland was returned here from Smithers where he had been given two concurrent sentences of six months on similar charges. The local term was made consecutive to that at Smithers. Still another similar charge against Garland awaits hearing in County Court jurisdiction on a committal for trial from Smithers. Garland, who has a long record of such offences, is also alleged to have cashed three checks in Terrace by a similar technique but, as far as could be ascertained, prosecution in these had not been commenced up to today.

Renewal of Kiddies' Kamp

The Kinsmen Kiddies' Kamp, of which the main lodge was almost completely demolished by heavy laws on the roof last winter, will be put into operation again. But it will not be operated by the Kinsmen—only maintained club members decided at their regular dinner meeting last night.

The camp, situated on the shores of Lakelse Lake, will be available to group sponsoring outings for children.

Rev. L. J. Thorpe, Baptist Church, has offered aid in group labor to restore the buildings in return for use of the camp for three weeks each August.

Harry Sheardown, camp committee chairman, said only about $50 would be needed for hardware and about $300 for canvas "tent" roofs to put the camp back into shape. There was plenty of lumber on hand to do any extra building and much of structure could be salvaged, he said.

If added finances were needed, President Ed Garner felt the money could be raised by the May Day sports event or other functions. If, however, the club needed to borrow money for this purpose, members authorized such a move.

New Boats Reach Here

Newly Launched Vessels From Naas River

Two new gill-netter boats, which were launched on the upper Naas River at Canyon City on Tuesday and at once started on their journey to Sunnyside Cannery where they will be fitted with 110 horsepower engines. They arrived in Prince Rupert last night.

The boats were launched with suitable ceremony and when they had safely hit the water they were named by Mrs. Martha Azak as the "Vesta Mae" and the "Colleen A."

Following the launching the whole population of the village enjoyed a picnic lunch and honored the boat builders.

Boats have been built at Canyon City every winter for the past three years under the direction of Eli Gosnell.

These gill-netters have trim lines and have proven their seaworthiness in two years actual fishing from the Naas to the Gardner Canal.

The two boats built this year are for Percy Azak and Maurice Nyce.

A farmer visited his son's college. Watching students in a chemistry class, he was told they were looking for a universal solvent.

"What's that?" asked the curious farmer.

"A liquid that will dissolve anything."

"That's a good idea," agreed the farmer. "When you find it, what are you going to keep it in?"

SYNOD SESSION—
Kinley of Aiyansh Installed At Synod as Honorary Canon

Bishop Appeals for Family Religion and Sunday Observance

Rev. Samuel Kinley, who has been Anglican missionary at the Naas River village of Aiyansh since his ordination 19 years ago, was last night installed as an honorary canon of St. Andrew's Cathedral.

The installation took place at a special service in the Cathedral which was almost entirely conducted by native members of the Anglican Church in the diocese of Caledonia. White clergy and lay delegates from the various parishes of the diocese, who were present in Prince Rupert for the diocesan synod, were in the congregation.

Mr. Kinley was presented to Bishop J. B. Gibson for collation and institution by the other members of the Cathedral Chapter, Canon C. A. Hinchliffe, of Smithers, and Canon Basil S. Prockter, rector of the Cathedral who installed the new canon in his seat.

Evening Prayer was conducted by a quartette of native lay readers, Paul Mercer, of Aiyansh, conducted the office; Scripture lessons were read by Nathan Shaw of Kitkatla and Solomon Doolan of Kincolith; and prayers were read by Willie Stevens of Kincolith.

The sermon was preached by Peter Hill of Masset. Singing was led by members of the choir of St. Peter's Church, Aiyansh, under the leadership of assistant-choirmaster Hubert McMillan, who also sang the anthem, "Dear Lord and Father of Mankind."

Wallace Morgan of Kitwanga and Percy Burton of Kincolith received the offering. The Cathedral organist, Peter Lien, was at the organ, and the Bishop gave the Blessing.

Synod meetings began with service in the Cathedral in the morning. Morning Prayer was led by Rev. Kenneth Collison of Vanderhoof and Rev. John Hurlbert of Kitwanga. Bishop Gibson celebrated Holy Communion, assisted by Canon Hinchliffe and Canon Prockter and Rev. A. W. Atkinson of Burns Lake and Rev. A. L. Sargent of Dawson Creek. Archdeacon E. Hodson of Terrace preached.

Between 30 and 35 clergy and delegates attended the synod sessions. They came from Burns Lake, Fraser Lake, Aiyansh, Fort Fraser, Smithers, Terrace, Dawson Creek, Ocean Falls, New Masset, Old Masset, Kitwanga, Fort St. John, Kincolith, Kitkatla, as well as from the congregations of St. Andrew's and St. Peter's Churches in this city.

Rev. H. Godfrey B.C., rector of St. Peter's Church in Seal Cove, was elected clerical secretary of the synod, and R. F. Gladding was re-elected lay secretary.

BISHOPS' APPEAL
Chief business of the opening business session yesterday afternoon was the Bishop's Charge. Bishop Gibson made a strong appeal for a revival of family religion in the home. He said that the home was where all religious life should have its beginning. If children were taught to hold God in reverence in the home, everything taught in Church and Sunday School would fall on listening ears. To dismiss God from our homes would be to undermine the foundation of democracy.

The Bishop also spoke against the movement to introduce legalized commercial sports on Sundays, saying that the weekly day for worship and rest was an essential part of our inheritance. He reminded his hearers that the 18th-century French philosopher Voltaire, when asked how Christianity could be destroyed, had replied: "Destroy the Christian Sabbath."

Bishop Gibson congratulated the native brethren on the fact that Frank Calder, an Anglican and a graduate of the Anglican Theological College of B.C., had been elected to the Provincial Legislature. He also congratulated the native congregations of Kitkatla for the redecoration of their church and the installation of a set of electric chimes; and of Masset for installing a new foundation and repainting the outside of their church. He said that the congregation at Aiyansh was about to build a new church, and that a new place of worship at Fort St. James would be ready this summer. He congratulated the parish of Dawson Creek on its decision to become self-supporting, and paid tribute to the hard work of Canon Prockter which had resulted in the new rectory of St. Andrew's Cathedral being opened almost free of debt.

Among the reports presented during the afternoon was one on the financing of the memorial tablet to the late Bishop and Mrs. G. A. Rix, which was installed in the Cathedral last year. Canon Prockter reported that he and Mr. F. E. Anfield, the

Had Mr. Meek opened a trump on this hand, he would have done a lot better but, as usual, he chose the "safe" and conservative lead—in this case the king of clubs.

Mr. Abel won with the ace and looked the situation over. He did not make the mistake of leading trumps. If he had, he would have been down, unless the opposing diamonds were 3-3, with the queen on his right—a very unlikely set-up.

Dummy's trumps could serve a better purpose than merely to fall under his own ace-king-queen, thought Mr. Abel. Accordingly he led a small heart at the second trick. Mr. Chamption won with the nine and, committees, had spent $369.13 on the tablet. Thirteen parishes of the diocese had contributed $216.75; the rest had been paid from diocesan funds. He hoped congregations which had not done so would contribute. The Bishop commended the committee, which was thanked by the Synod.

Lunch was served to the delegates yesterday by ladies of St. Andrew's W.A. The Synod is continuing today.

knowing that the minor suits were bottled up, returned a spade, trying to upset Mr. Abel's plans.

Dummy's nine of spades won this trick, and Mr. Abel came back to his hand with the ace of diamonds and led another heart, trumping with dummy's deuce of spades. He then led the king of diamonds and another diamond, trumping with his ten of spades. The last losing heart was now trumped by the jack of spades on the board and the three top spades made a total of ten tricks.

It usually does not gain any tricks to ruff in the hand that is "long in trumps. In today's hand, for example, when Mr. Abel ruffed one of dummy's diamonds with his own ten of spades, he knew he wasn't gaining a trick. He did so only for the purpose of entering his hand quickly—without losing the lead.

It usually does gain tricks to trump in the hand that is short in trumps. When that hand has a void, a singleton or even a doubleton, always consider the possibility of trying to use the trumps there to ruff one or more losers. Often it is necessary to follow this line of play before you lead even one round of trumps.

When you need ruffing in dummy to make your contract, you simply have to risk leaving trumps outstanding in the opponents' hands.

The proud mama pointed to her toddling infant: "You know, he's been walking like that for over three months now."

"What's the trouble?" asked the bored visitor. "Can't you make him sit down?"

A preacher was explaining to his Sunday School class the reward of being good. Seeing one little girl who had on several occasions come in late to class, he asked: "Mary, what does your mother do for you when you've been good?"
"She lets me stay home from Sunday School."
Mrs. Whoozit: "Doctor, you would see my husband blows smoke rings from his nose and I'm terribly frightened."
Psychiatrist: "Well, that's bit unusual that he blows from his nose but not to be alarmed about. Many men blow smoke rings by the nose."
Mrs. Whoozit: "I know, but my husband smokes."

BIG BEETS ARE GOOD BUT SMALL ONES ARE TASTIER

Beets Are Best for the Table and for Canning When as Large as Golf Balls

Beets give a heavy yield for the space they take in the home garden; and can be harvested all summer long and served in many delicious ways. The height of their quality is reached when they are as big as a golf ball; so several sowings at intervals are advisable to keep new crops coming to be harvested in their prime. If you have trouble growing beets it may be your soil needs lime. They are among the first vegetables to show bad effects from acid soil. It causes stunted growth, small roots, and too much red and yellow coloring in their leaves. If your beets showed these symptoms last summer, be sure to spread lime or limestone screenings over your garden this spring. Best seeds are large and soft; each "seed" in fact is a cluster of seeds and will grow several plants. Sow them one to the inch in a half inch drill, and firm the soil well over them, because the seeds are rough and air pockets easily form, preventing close contact with the soil. First thinning may be delayed until the roots have begun to thicken and the leaves are two inches or more wide. At this stage and as long as the leaves remain tender a dish of beet green cooked with the tiny beets will be a delight, as well as one of the most nourishing dishes of the season. Thin gradually all along the row, using the excess plants, until the individual plants are four to six inches apart, depending on the fertility of your garden. At this distance, the beets will grow all summer, in fertile soil and good varieties remain tender and sweet even when they reach several inches in diameter. For canning, the small beets are preferable. A row of beets can be sown especially, thinned out gradually and harvested in one day when they have reached the desired size and the canning crew is ready to operate.

Female Stage Roles Scarce

TORONTO (CP)—Barbara Davis, Newmarket, Ont., girl who has been living in England since 1944 when she went overseas with the Navy show, is back in Canada. She says the Festival of Britain is not providing easy jobs for aspiring young actresses. Barbara says established stars are preferred because their names are more likely to draw tourists. Girls' roles are scarce, too, because the emphasis is on plays, including many classics, that feature male actors. The supply of actresses also is greater than the demand as lack of work in the British movie industry prevents film people seeking jobs on the stage.

Barbara will star in the Central School of Dramatic Art in Royal Albert Hall, plans to spend the next few months acting with the Straw Hat Players, a summer theatre group that is headed by her producer brothers, Murray and Donald Davis. The group stages plays at Port Carling and Gravenhurst, Ont., in the heart of the province's Muskoka tourist district.

Barbara will star in the "Winslow Boy" and "Candida," two of the eight shows planned for the season.

She now speaks with a British accent, which, she explains, she didn't just pick up. She took lessons to acquire it after she was told it would be difficult with her dark coloring and un-English voice to get a decent part in Britain.

A college fraternity house recently sent its curtains to the cleaners. Shortly afterwards the young gentlemen received a note from the girls' dormitory across the street:

Dear Sirs—May we suggest that you procure curtains for your windows. We do not care for a course in anatomy.

The boys' immediate wrote back:

Dear Girls—The course is optional.

Little Girl Has Chance

EDMONTON (CP)—Lt.-Col. J. R. Stone said yesterday that his two-year-old daughter, Moira, now has a "fifty percent chance of survival" and partial vision in one eye.

The commander of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry said the eye will be treated by radiation. Moira's other eye was removed last Thursday because of cancer. The colonel, who flew home from Korea at the week-end, said the radiation treatment now planned likely will take 3 1/2 or four months if Moira lives. He said his possible return to Korea will not be discussed now.

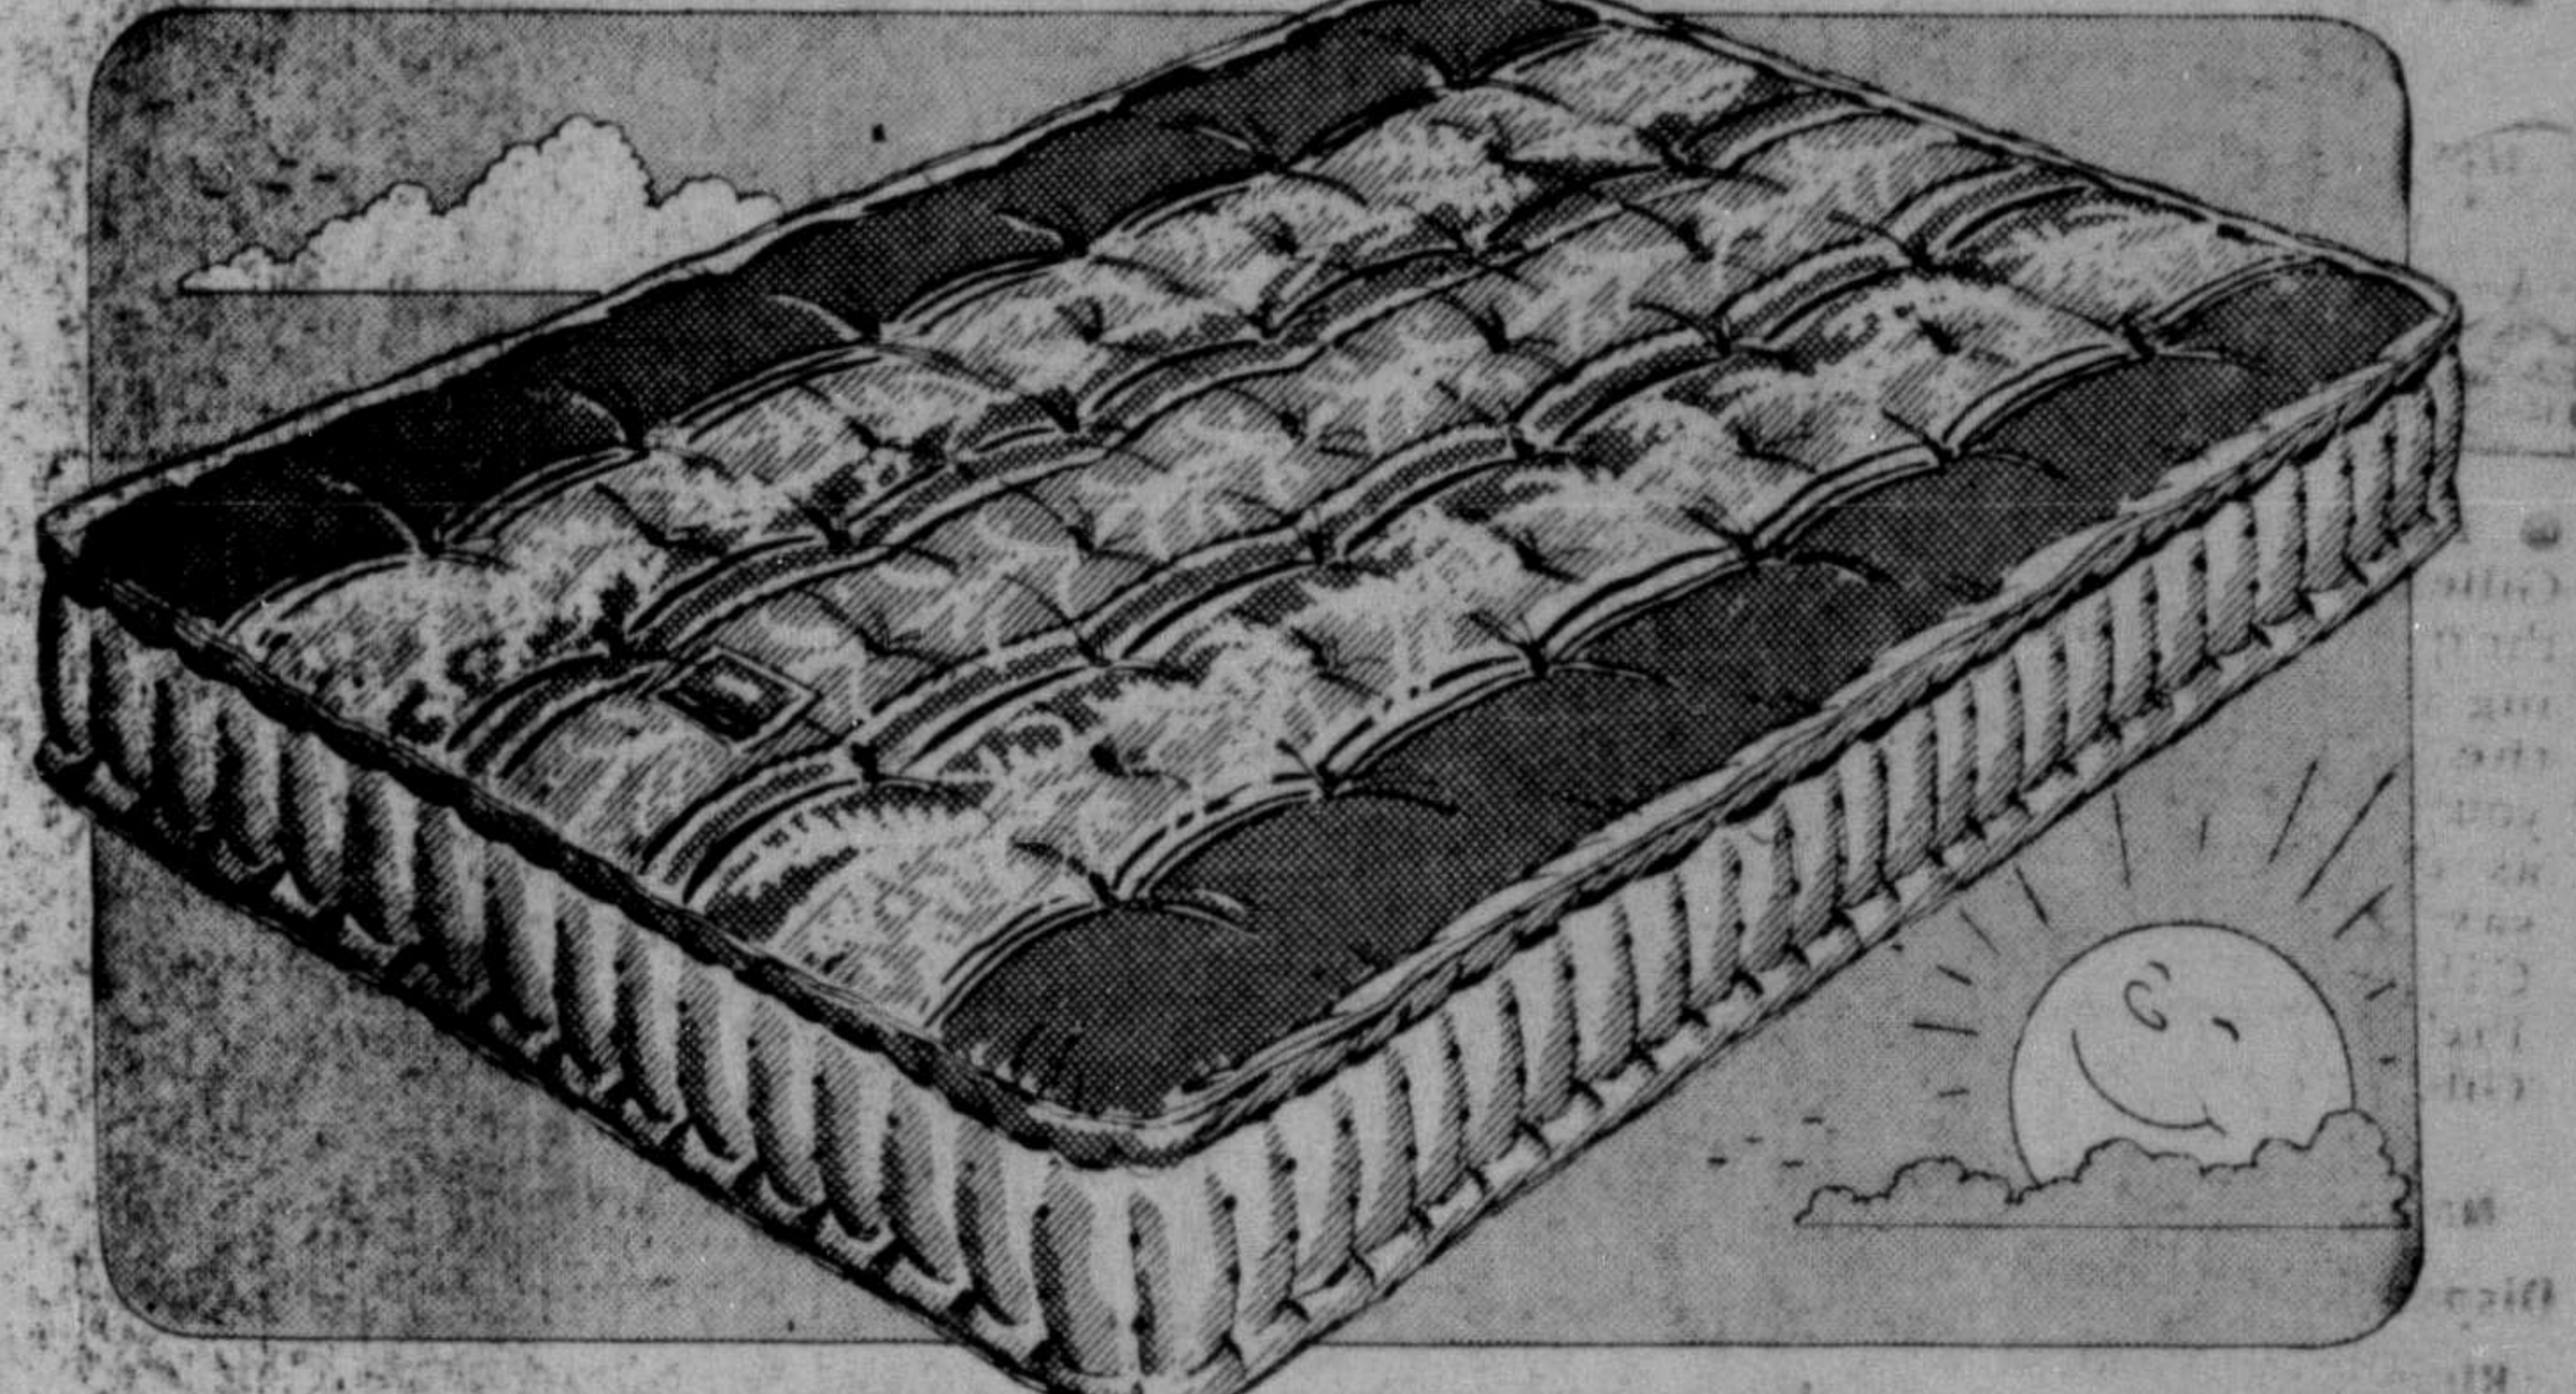

Izzy rushed up to his friend, very excitedly. "Oh, Able, I hear you are going to marry Reba," he said. "Don't do it. She's been out with every guy in Peoria."

"Well," queried Able, "is Peoria such a big city?"

Maybe it takes a psychiatrist to find it, but everyone has a streak of sanity in him somewhere.

First Game Ends Even

Legion and Motors Share Four Goals In Deadlock

In spite of the fact that both teams have difficulty in finding players, last evening's opening game of the season in the North Star Football League provided an interesting match with the Motors coming from behind twice to tie the score, the game ending two goals to two.

Dixon was the first goal called upon and he saved somewhat uncertainly from Alexander and from Eby. Lien stopped a Legion attack and the Smith was high with two attempts. The Motors' defence was being taxed severely but with Robinson and Lien both defending stubbornly the Legion forwards were held at bay. Then Krause saved from Leighton and again from Letourneau. Lien robbed Smith at a crucial point and Dixon brought off two fine saves. Price missed a great chance when McKay centred beautifully but half-time came with no goals.

From the kick-off Dave Murray made a clever run through the Motors' defence and his teammate Cowper scored a fine goal to put the Legion a goal up. After McKay hit the upright Boulter fastened on to the rebound and beat Krause to even the score. Motors did more attacking. The Legion went ahead again when Ralph Smith scored. Eby defended well and then Dixon brought off a great save from Smith and cleared. Cowper set up Bowman but the latter shot high. Krause saved splendidly from Price and Dixon from Bowman. Yelland saved a dangerous situation when McKay seemed through. Lien also stepped in to turn back a Legion attack. From Price's good cross Letourneau cut in fast to tie the score and with neither team able to break through again the game ended in a 2-2 draw.

Teams:
General Motors—Henry Dixon; Robinson, Lien; Jennings, Leighton, Letourneau, McKay, Price and Boulter.

STEWART—Visiting here over the end of last week, Frank Calder, M.L.A. for Atlin, went into the situation following the closing down of the government agency and the department of public works offices. The member also looked into the condition of the antiquated Superior School building with a view to the possibility of erecting a new and more up-to-date building. Mr. Calder will endeavor to have son, W. T. Straith, minister of education, come here to view the situation at first hand.

Mr. Calder also paid a brief visit to Premier while in the district.

Having flown here by Queen Charlotte Airlines, Mr. Calder returned to Prince Rupert on the Camosun on Tuesday.

STEWART NEWS

George Bunn has been busy with his small garden tractor, plowing and cultivating gardens for W. J. Crawford, Roy Sharp and Nick Gillof. Very little rain has fallen so far but, in spite of that, the gardens are showing steady progress. There is still quite a bit of snow back in the hills and it is anticipated that the season will be later than usual.

John Yelich, an employee of Nick Benkovich, was brought to town from the logging camp suffering from an injury to his foot.

The Stewart branch of the Canadian Legion are busy making preparations for the annual Empire Day dance which will be held this year in the Moose Hall on Wednesday, May 23.

Tribute to Sanitarian

Unit Board of Health Regrets Departure Of Armine Boas

Prince Rupert and District Unit Board of Health regretfully said goodbye at its quarterly meeting yesterday to Armine Boas, sanitarian here for the past four years. Mr. Boas leaves tonight for a new post at Nelson.

Ald. Douglas Frizzell, chairman of the board, voiced regret at Mr. Boas' departure. He had worked here under a lot of handicaps and he had been criticized but "we believe Mr. Boas carried out his work to the best of his ability and that he had done much in the best interests of the health of Prince Rupert."

A formal vote of acceptance with regret of Mr. Boas' resignation was made.

No successor has yet been named to Mr. Boas and Dr. Duncan Black, medical health officer, saw this as a serious situation in view of the urgency of continuous sanitary inspection service in Prince Rupert.

The board is taking the matter with the provincial Board of Health with a view to expediting the appointment of Mr. Boas' successor.

Mr. Boas has also resigned the extra position he held as city plumbing inspector.

Tonight's train, due from the East at 11:15 daylight time, is reported this afternoon to be on time.

"Anyone Can Do It" Dr. Morton

Only 10 per cent of the brain power is used in everyday life by the ordinary person but, by concentration and training, it is possible to develop the memory so as to perform such remarkable feats as he himself displays, Dr. Robert (Tex) Morton, noted Australian psychologist, who is visiting the city, told the Prince Rupert Gyro Club at luncheon yesterday. The blindfolded Dr. Morton then went to work to give an impressive display of his own faculties of memory.

Dr. Morton then turned marksman with a .22 rifle, shooting out the flame of a candle, breaking pieces of chalk attached to the fingers of an assistant, cutting a flying string and halving an edgewise playing card. Highlight of the performance was when Alf Rivett allowed a cigarette to be shot out of his mouth.

President Don Forward was in the chair and Harold Ly-num of Terrace was a guest.

Negro Show Under Fire

Recent presentation in Prince Rupert of a Negro entertainment group was criticized by the Kinsmen at their meeting last night and advice to this effect will be wired to the district governor.

It all started with a letter from the Chemainus Kinsmen Club who complained that although it had booked the Harmony Kings for a presentation several weeks ago and had sold tickets for the event, the group "never showed up" and left the club "holding the bag."

As Chemainus understood the entertainers were to play in Prince Rupert, the club sought help to contact them. Prince Rupert club thought, if the district governor were advised, further such disappointments could be avoided by a blanket alarm.

Baffling Showman

Prince Rupert Also Wonders How Dr. "Tex" Morton Does It All

"Tex" Morton, a dual personality entertainer, first a yodelling cowboy and sharpshooter and then a debonaire exponent of the science of hypnotism and mesmerism, stood them in the aisles and rolled them in the rugs at the Civic Centre last night in as different and unique a show as has ever been offered a Prince Rupert audience.

A capacity audience waited until the very end of a program that occupied more than three hours. Even the most skeptical had to admit that it was one of the cleverest performances on record in this city.

Morton has a full bag of audience-baffling tricks to be sure, and they are good ones too. Nobody could complain at not getting their money's worth and it is pretty safe to suppose that the succeeding three nights will pack the big auditorium.

The versatile Australian psychologist is, indeed, a veritable "one-man show" with a combination of talents such as not often, if ever, has been previously seen here. From the moment that Gloria Sather, who had reposed peacefully in deep hypnotic slumber at Gordon & Anderson's store from 2 p.m., found herself awakened at 8 p.m. on the Civic Centre stage with the assistance of the gentle kiss on the brow by Geoff Hill, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, it was a repertoire which held

Old Times at Jr. Chamber

To Co-operate in Forthcoming "Clean-up and Paint-up" Campaign

Highlights of the monthly dinner and business meeting of the Prince Rupert Junior Chamber of Commerce last night in the Civic Centre included interesting and amusing talks by Phil Lyons and George Rorie on the formation and early struggles of the first Junior Chamber organized in this city. The Jaycees decided to go all out in their assistance to the city council and the senior board in the coming "Clean-up and Paint-up" campaign in Prince Rupert.

The next monthly meeting scheduled for the third Wednesday in June will see the election of the new executive for 1951-52.

The rapt interest of the big crowd.

Morton got his audience into the best of humor with his songs in the Australian yodelling manner, accompanied by his own guitar and sauve, if somewhat broad, line of patter and asides. He had tears in the eyes of the tender-hearted with his "Mother" number (some had memories of Hank Snow a year ago). The "Horse Called Rio Grande" brought to the audience a song by McPherson, the Australian counterpart of Robert W. Service. The "opera" selection "Baron Bill" was popular and rollicking "Ragtime Cowboy Joe" brought an end to that phase of the entertainment.

The entertainer then provoked gasps of admiration with his feats of marksmanship with a .22 rifle, shooting the chalk from the fingers of his assistant and a cigarette from his mouth. Jack Moffatt was brave enough to venture from the audience as a foil for the same stunt. Splitting the string and cutting the edge-wise playing card were further demonstrations of remarkable prowess.

Morton then turned to a demonstration of concentration. 25 common objects were named from the audience and written on a blackboard by Mrs. Dempsey after which the blindfolded and back-turned conjurer recited them straight down the list, back up and then at random from the numbers.

Association of ideas was depicted as 11 persons from the audience came to the stage, each placing an object in an envelope for presentation to the magician who, with little difficulty, returned each to their respective owner.

But it was the culminating demonstration of hypnotism and mesmerism which was the highlight of the evening. It was as baffling as it was funny. Thirty volunteers from the audience went to the stage for "subject" election. After about half the number had been weeded out for reasons of "unsuitability," Morton went to work on the others. At the count of three they went into various stages of hypnotic control, physically and mentally. As hypnotic slumber became deeper and deeper and the control more and more intense, the stunts became the more remarkable and the antics more funny. Some might have been skeptical but everyone was baffled. It was all obviously genuine too, for some of the subjects later admitted in interviews that they did not know what happened after they had submitted themselves to the hypnotic influence. Nor had anything been arranged. It was just relaxed co-operation.

Morton showed Prince Rupert why his unusual shows are meeting with enthusiastic receptions everywhere he goes and why return engagements are being sought.

Mrs. J. C. Gilker assisted with piano accompaniments in various sequences of the performance.

Kaiser's Cook Draws Tourists

KITCHENER, Ont. (CP) — A woman who once cooked for the Emperor of Germany is doing her part to lure American tourists to Canada.

Mrs. Augusta Thiem of Conestogo, six miles from here, is kept busy providing tourists and village residents with the kind of food that melts in your mouth.

She came from Rominten, Germany, 27 years ago, which was a village on the royal estate of the late Kaiser Wilhelm, last of the German monarchs. The whole village fused and flurried preparing dishes to tempt the imperial palate when the Kaiser went there for the shooting season, and Mrs. Thiem, then a young girl, was no exception.

Now she cooks for less distinguished guests, but the food she prepares still has the touch of magnificence. For her guests she whips up delicacies like Wiener Schnitzel, Hassenpfeffer or Sauerbraten. She makes her own sauerkraut and has a light and adept hand with strudels.

Mrs. Thiem likes to see people eat and enjoy their food. She puts a platter of fried chicken on the table and if you don't eat it all, she's hurt and insists on reloading your plate. A coffee urn is always on the table and guests are invited to take all they want.

The only trouble with the Thiem establishment is that Conestogo residents are trying to keep her talents a secret. With Mrs. Thiem, they explain, cooking is an art, not a mass-production proposition. Her guests want to keep it that way.
