Minister of Finance Urges Personal Action

NOT ENTERING POLITICS
SAN FRANCISCO—General Douglas MacArthur, speaking here today, said he did not intend to enter politics or run for any office. He had been mentioned as a possible Republican presidential nominee.

PETAIN DYING
PARIS—Marshal Petain, 94, exiled former French army chief, is reported to be sinking. He is suffering from pneumonia.

MAY NAME ITALIAN
PARIS—General Eisenhower may appoint an Italian general to command south European Atlantic Pact armies.

HOUSING SCHEME
OTTAWA—Another housing scheme like War-time Housing of the war years is being considered to meet accommodation shortages in some Canadian cities.

PROROGATION TOMORROW
VICTORIA—Prorogation of the Legislature is expected by tomorrow. It has been one of the longest sessions on record.

OTTAWA (CP)—Finance Minister Douglas Abbott said last night that the government may, "if the emergency develops, extend controls even to the point of rationing basic commodities."

Submarine Heard From

But Little Hope of Any on Board Being Alive

LONDON — Although contact was made last night with the vessel submerged some 200 fathoms on the bottom of the English Channel southeast of the Isle of Wight and stuck there; little hope was held today that seventy-five men aboard the sunken submarine Affray would be brought out alive.

Passing of time reduces the chance of survival.

Communication by weak signals was established last night by special undersea equipment with another submarine. This indicated that some aboard might have been alive at that time.

MacArthur Welcomed

Hero's Reception Accorded Home-Coming General

SAN FRANCISCO — General Douglas MacArthur was given a hero's welcome here today.

Hundreds of thousands of cheering people lined the streets as a parade moved from the hotel where he had spent the night, to the Civic Centre where Governor Earl Warren and other dignitaries were present to extend an official welcome.

MacArthur, with his wife and son, landed at 8:29 p.m. from Hawaii. Thousands were at the airport. Whistles shrieked and bells pealed. Governor Warren led the reception party. Cheering crowds were on hand along the route from airport to St. Francis Hotel.

"I want to tell you how good it is to be home," the general said in a brief speech on landing. "For many long dreary years Mrs. MacArthur and I have looked forward to this moment."

The flight eastward to Washington is being continued today and tomorrow the general will address a joint session of Congress at 9:30 a.m. Pacific Standard time.

SOVIET ARMIES—Besides military occupation forces in Eastern Germany and the Soviet zone of Austria, 29 Russian divisions are reported deployed in the satellite states of Eastern Europe. These and local satellite divisions are shown in the map above.

WASHINGTON SENATOR MOVES ON KOREA

WASHINGTON, D.C. (CP) — Senator Harry Cain, Republican, Washington, yesterday introduced a resolution calling on Congress to declare war against Communist China and North Korea. He also offered another resolution calling for an orderly withdrawal of American forces from Korea.

Cain said his resolutions were offered as "two alternatives to the free world and to the United States of America." He added: "These resolutions... provide that we either prosecute the Korean war with all the might, determination and power at our command or that we withdraw our forces from a battlefield some 8000 miles away in order that these forces may live to fight, if required, some other day."

Dave Abel, fresh from spring training with the Vancouver Capilano baseball team at Penitence returned to the city on the Prince Rupert this morning.

"Look at that!" exclaimed J. W. (Johnny) Odowes as he pulled out the suit coat of his business partner.

Dave admits that he has lost some weight in the rugged training.

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian government is concerned over the wide fluctuations in American support for western rearmament. That concern is believed primarily to be what led Defence Minister Claxton to issue a call in New York for a joint effort by the democracies "to promote general understanding of their common aims."

His main target was the United States public and its tendency to blow hot and cold on western rearmament.

But his words also underlined a growing official interest here in publicizing abroad the works and aspirations of the Canadian democracy and a feeling that the western powers should do more of this jointly.

In this connection, Resources Minister Winters has announced that the National Film Board is launching a series of films called "The Freedom Program." He said this was a step towards "consolidating relations with other freedom-loving countries and assisting in our joint security."

Mr. Claxton, in placing a four-point program for extended Canadian-United States defence co-operation before a New York audience, made this his fourth point:

"The free democracies must take active measures together to promote general understanding of their common aims and appreciation of their joint efforts as the essential foundation for our work together over what may be a long hard pull... lasting a generation."

His reference to the "long hard pull" was seen here as reflecting concern over the tendency of Congress and the U.S. public to view western security in the light of the latest rash of headlines. It also was an attempt to help counter that tendency.

In telling Canada's side of the joint rearmament drive and in stressing the long-hard pull aspect, Mr. Claxton himself was aiding the cause he was urging. At the same time, his words point up two other facts:

1. There has been a growing tendency by the government to use its agencies, notably the CBC's international service and the film board, more and more to tell the world—including Russia—and the Canadian people of the aims and achievements of the Canadian democracy.

2. There have been informal talks here with other members of the North Atlantic Treaty organization about how the task of telling the aims of the free nations can better be done.

IN NEW POST—Harry R. Low of Ottawa and Winnipeg, war-time director of education for the RCAF and a former University of Manitoba professor, has been appointed head of the Defence Department's new bureau of current affairs. The new department will tell Canadian servicemen why they are serving and fighting. A native of Scotland, Mr. Low is a graduate of the University of Glasgow. (CP from National Defence)

Is Back From Ball Training

Dave Abel, fresh from spring training with the Vancouver Capilano baseball team at Penitence returned to the city on the Prince Rupert this morning.

"Look at that!" exclaimed J. W. (Johnny) Odowes as he pulled out the suit coat of his business partner.

Dave admits that he has lost some weight in the rugged training.

War in Korea—UN Forces Move Ahead

TOKYO — Allied columns are continuing their drive across the front in North Korea.

On the eastern side gains of up to nine miles have been made. To the west gains are from one to two miles.

The Communists continue withdrawal without marked resistance.

Mrs. Thomas White arrived in the city on the Prince Rupert this morning. Mr. White is foreman of the construction of the new Canadian Fishing Company's Ocean Dock cannery.

Three machine tenders from Ocean Falls and Powell River arrived in the city on the Prince Rupert this morning. They will be pulp operators at Columbia Cellulose Company here.

W. N. Trench, former mayor of Kelowna, now in the dugout business at Ocean Falls, arrived in the city on the Prince Rupert this morning.

To Decide Champion

1951 Liver Prices Set

Who is the champion ten-pin bowler in Prince Rupert?

That question will be answered next Sunday in a handicap tournament sponsored by Prince Rupert Elks, Don Arney, committee chairman, announced last night.

"Substantial" cash prizes will be awarded.

Originally, the tourney was to have been an open contest, with high average bowlers only competing, but this plan has been dropped in favor of the handicap event which will give an average bowler equal chance against high pin-men.

The scratch figure is 170.

The contest will be for singles and doubles, and entry deadline has been set for Friday.

The open contest may still be run off at a later date, indicated Mr. Arney. Committee thought such an event might produce a spectacular battle and ultimate winner would, of course, be declared open champion.

Prices settlement of liver for 1951 and good prospects for the 1951 fishing season were announced at a general meeting of the Prince Rupert Fishermen's Co-operative Association here Sunday in the Sons of Norway Hall.

Principal prices are halibut liver: high pool of 75 cents per pound; low pool, 35 cents per pound.

Black cod liver, at 80c per pound; viscera, 20c.

"The usual good season for halibut is expected," said Kenneth Harding, manager of the Prince Rupert Fishermen's Co-op store here, who announced the liver prices today.

President Martin Eriksen was chairman of Sunday's meeting at which 75 members attended.

For the wives and husbands of the Co-op's fishing camp men, an informal luncheon and school of instruction was held Monday in the Civic Centre.

Will Korean War Spread?

INTIMATIONS of possible open intervention by Russia in Korea tighten an already taut situation. They test with new tension the intelligence and steadfastness of the Allied people.

Words of Speaker Sam Rayburn of the United States that "we stand in terrible danger of World War III" and intelligence reports that Russia has given the Chinese Reds 3000 planes for a spring offensive and that enemy activity is markedly increasing in North Korea deserve sober attention.

We need not assume definitely, however, that the Soviet will take an open part in Soviet hostilities. It is to be very much questioned whether to do so would be to her advantage—as yet at least. However, our thinking might well be in preparation for a new adventure in aggression.

Some might find it difficult to see how general hostilities could be averted if the Soviet should openly attack United Nations forces in Korea.

Conversely, extension of the war beyond Korea by the United Nations might be the spur that would bring Russia into the conflict.

On the other hand, it might not be necessary to assume that Russia is spoiling for war. Moscow may not be in a good position to start a general conflict. Certainly the Allies are under no inexorable compulsion to take such a desperate step.

First consideration should be given to dealing with actual attacks. If Russia attacks in Korea it should be met there. This might involve striking at Russian bases in the Far East, particularly if Russian submarines should raid out of Vladivostok. Already it is reported that the UN commanders have permission to apply the doctrine of "hot pursuit" in chasing enemy aircraft across the Yalu.

A situation might arise where it would be advisable to use atomic bombs, but it would be well not to leap to conclusions in this field. Certainly the assumption that a Russian attack in Korea should be answered by A-bombs in Europe should be resisted. The preventive war advocates declare: "We should hit the heart of this octopus, not its tentacles." But cutting off the tentacles of aggression has many advantages.

It helps to keep clear the direction from which aggression comes, thereby retaining a sounder moral position and the good opinion of mankind. In any prolonged world struggle allies can be vital. Until there shall be definite proof of Russian intervention it would be wise to remember that Moscow may have other reasons for sending forces into Manchuria. One would be to balance Chinese power there and retain control of rail lines and certain ports.

It is difficult to limit the scope of wars. But there are examples. No one who knows what war does will expand it lightly. Even should Russia take an active part in Korea, Allied policy might well be based on the simple rule that, other things being equal, a small war is better than a big one.

ANSWER TO ANCIENT

Editor, Daily News:
In regard to "Disgusted Ancient's" letter in the Daily News about the cost of living, I would like to suggest that he try and keep a family of four children on the equivalent of the cost of living fifteen years ago. I'd like to see him do it. According to his statement $1 can buy $1 worth of groceries.
Maximum and minimum—
Now compare these prices:

Hamburger 3 lbs.	25c	60c lb.
Pot Roast 2 lbs.	25c	74-76c lb.
Bacon and tin of
peas lb.	35c	about 95c
Butter lb.	35c-45c	80c
Maximum and minimum labor wages	45c per hr.	$1.15

Prince Rupert is highly overpopulated with people like "Disgusted." Trains leave here three times a week and planes leave every day. Maybe "Disgusted" could find a place where he can buy one dollar's worth of groceries for $1.

HOSPITAL AND COUNCIL

Editor, Daily News:
The report in your columns dated April 10 of the City Council's remarks about our request for a by-law to provide $50,000 has caused considerable concern among members of the Hospital Board. Our hospital is one of the very few in the Province which does not receive every year substantial grants from the City Council whose citizens they serve. It would seem that we are being embarrassed by our former financial independence—the direct result of efficient administration.

I would like to point out that even now no request is being made for funds for operation but only to complete facilities to provide additional beds.

Mayor Rutherford is quoted as follows: "I don't like the way they do business. They start out on a big building program without consulting us then when they fall down they practically demand aid." I would remind him that there was and is a representative of city council on the Hospital Board. At the time the expansion program was started in 1948 the board, I am given to understand, felt it had sufficient funds—$50,000, accumulated without any help from City Council to complete the Nurses' Home. This was our most urgent requirement as we were unable to house sufficient nurses to care for the steadily increasing number of patients in hospital. An additional $30,000 was received from the provincial government and the new nurse's home was commenced. This has now been completed.

Unfortunately costs have risen so greatly that there does not remain sufficient funds in the hospital's treasury to equip the second and first floors (wings) and build the new steam plant and boiler house especially as the provincial government which is contributing substantially to the cost has insisted that the boilers be large enough for even further expansion of the hospital.

What then is our alternative? We can do nothing and lose the further $60,000 available from Provincial and Federal sources and carry on as we are now. With an antiquated heating plant, gravely overloaded, some unpleasant consequences could ensue. We are already badly pressed for beds. Operation other than emergencies, are being postponed, and non-urgent hospital patients are already occasionally deferred admission. With our steadily increasing population this problem can only get worse.

If the city council fails to submit to its citizens the necessary

OILY LAND RUMBLES

KARACHI, INDIA. — Held up for a whole week in Pakistan on my way to the Holy Land, I have had plenty of time to study what is happening in the Oily Lands, in between.

I can't say I have been biting my finger nails to get away from this place—for out at the airport, the thermometer ranges between 70 and 90, but with a lovely breeze blowing.

Besides, anybody like me, with a double set of false teeth, would be a d.f. to bite his finger nails and take a chance on breaking his teeth.

Also worries are comparative. All week I have sweated and stewed trying to get another plane reservation to make up for the one I lost when the BOAC was a day late, due to engine trouble. But now all that is fixed, we hope, we hope. And besides, my newspaperman's troubles are mild compared with those of the regular correspondents hereabouts.

For, with the great political crisis boiling up in Persia over the assassination of the Prime Minister and the nationalization of foreign-owned oil companies, the boys are receiving terse orders from the home office telling them to hot-foot into Persia.

But Persia (or Iran to give it the modern name) is not anxious to make newspaper copy for the journals of the West. All the representatives of big Western papers have been turned down flat when they went to ask for visas for entry to Persia.

READERS MAY RECALL what I wrote at the beginning of this trip: That I regarded the area between India and Gibraltar, inclusive, as the most critical area in the world today.

In my judgement the two great questions are

1. Will the Indian sub-continent hold as a solid basis for Western-style democracy—new weak and strange as that system is here? And

2. What is going to happen in between all across the Arab and Moslem belt?

I came to the conclusion that young as it is, democracy was likely to hold and grow in India and Pakistan at least for the next few years when the great wrestling match between the world's heavyweight blocs will be decided.

But I also got the clear impression in Egypt that there is a

VICTORIA REPORT

...by J. K. Nesbitt

Are Doctors Playing Part?—Bishop on Liquor Question—Government Exercises Authority

VICTORIA.—The special legislative committee which will tour the province investigating every phase of the British Columbia hospital insurance set-up may well look into the part the medical profession should be playing in hospital insurance.

There were several hints, from time to time, in the Legislature during the session that the doctors are not playing their full part.

Arthur Ash, Liberal-Coalition member for Saanich, was the most forthright. He said that a lot of doctors are "definitely sabotaging" hospital insurance.

Arthur Turner, CCF member for Vancouver East, said also the doctors are not doing everything they can to co-operate in making hospital insurance a success. He said that in many countries the medical profession has obstructed public health schemes.

But most surprising of all was Hon. A. D. Turnbull, minister of health and welfare, who said he's convinced the great majority of the medical profession is co-operating but that some doctors are not. He agreed with Mr. Turner that the special legislative committee should look into the part the doctors should play in the whole hospital insurance picture.

Dr. J. J. Gillis, Liberal-Coalition, Yale, the only representative in the House of the medical profession, said that the doctors are co-operating—but that there certainly is a shortage of hospital beds in Vancouver.

It seems the liquor question just will not die. No sooner had the Legislature washed its hands of it—waiting for a plebiscite two years from now—than a powerful churchman, Rt. Rev. Harold Sexton, Anglican Bishop of British Columbia, got up and said that hotels and restaurants should be allowed to serve beer and light wines with meals.

The Bishop, long an advocate for changes in B.C.'s liquor laws, said: "I do not think cocktail bars are the answer to the problem of furtive drinking. The cause of real temperance would be better served by permitting the citizens to enjoy in moderation a little alcoholic refreshment with their meals in hotel dining-rooms and public restaurants, as in England and elsewhere in the British Empire."

The margarine argument in the Legislature developed into another battle royal. The first day of argument it seemed that Mrs. Tilly Rolston would gain so much support for her amendment to the Oleomargarine Act—which, if passed, would have removed the color restrictions—that the government had to hastily call the caucus into session again to keep the boys in line.

The government takes the stand that there should be color restrictions, that margarine shouldn't look like butter. Otherwise the dairy industry will be ruined.

But, seeing that several back-bench MLA's were wanting to please their constituents by allowing colored margarine, the government had to whip them into shape again.

The new Psychiatric Nurses Act is a big step forward in the development of modern nursing in this province. It will give professional standing to mental case nurses, a standing equal to that of the registered nurse. The new act will provide an incentive to encourage young men and

Local Girl is Vancouver Bride

Mr. and Mrs. John William Webster have returned to the city from Vancouver where they attended the marriage of their daughter, Miss Isobel Murray Webster, to Hector Milne Fullerton.

The wedding took place in St. Paul's Anglican Church with Rev. P. R. Ellis performing the ceremony.

The bride's gown was of white satin with long sleeves and lace inserts in the bodice and at the hem of the graceful skirt which extended into a train. A pearl-trimmed halo of white satin held the full-length net veil and the bride carried a white prayer book crested with Better Times roses and white hyacinths.

The bridesmaid was Miss Noon Webster, sister of the bride, who had a pink organdie frock with lace bodice and peplum, carrying spring flowers on tone.

The flower girl, Shannon Riggs, niece of the bride, was in blue nylon with nosegay of Pinocchio roses.

Leonard A. Fullerton was groomsmen.

Billy Fullerton, the little ring-bearer, wore a Scottish costume in MacDonald plaid.

A reception followed the ceremony and the couple then left for a honeymoon trip to Seattle and Spokane.

Honored on Retirement

Presentation Made to Conductor Doug Fisher Who Has Completed Service

Having made his last run at the week-end prior to retirement, Douglas Fisher, veteran Canadian National Railways conductor, was honored by fellow railway employees who gathered in the office of the divisional superintendent Monday afternoon.

C. A. Berner, on their behalf, made presentation to Mr. Fisher of a purse of gold and to Mrs. Fisher a beautiful bouquet as well as a fine silver tea service and tray, fittingly inscribed. Mr. and Mrs. Fisher leave on Thursday night to take up future residence in Vancouver where a son is a lawyer and a daughter is a nurse.

Taken completely by surprise, Mr. and Mrs. Fisher expressed their heartfelt appreciation of the honor which had been paid them. The memory of happy friendships not only in Prince Rupert but all along the line would be always cherished. The beautiful gift of silver would have an honored position in their future home.

"Doug" Fisher was born April 30, 1891, and entered the railway service August 6, 1912, as a bridleman of the bridges and building department at Dauphin, Manitoba. He was transferred to the operating department as a trainman August 6, 1912. He enlisted in World War I in 1916 and served overseas until April 8, 1918.

After convalescence from war wounds, he had service as trainman and conductor on construction service on the Hudson Bay Railway, being on that line for many years. He transferred to Smithers division August 15, 1945, after varied experience on prairie territories.

In port yesterday was the freighter Teco, Capt. Ray Perry, unloading 360 cases of powder for Glacier Gulch mine at Smithers and 40 tons of general cargo at the Canadian National dock. Ten tons of salt for the Royal Fish Company and the same amount of plywood for Albert & McCaffery Ltd. were left here. The new Canadian Fishing Co. plant at Ocean Dock received 800 carton containers for summer operation. General cargo was left at Watson Island by the Teco, which docked here from Vancouver Monday night. She left with mining supplies for Alice Arm last night. One hundred tons of sacked concentrates will be loaded there before the freighter continues on to Butedale to load four cars of fish meal, and thence to Vancouver.

Listed for passage on the southbound Camosun, which left here at 2 p.m. yesterday, were M. J. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. L. Morrison, C. Dudoward, James McKay, Eddie Boulton, P. Isaac, H. ## Explorer Girls' Leader Honored

When the girls of First Presbyterian Church Explorer Group held their terminating supper for the season in the church hall, they made a surprise presentation to their leader, Mrs. W. H. Wilson-Murray, who leaves this week for a trip to Scotland.

On behalf of the girls, Janet Spark made the presentation of a beautiful wallet and a gift of hosiery. She referred to the high esteem in which Mrs. Wilson-Murray was held by all the girls and wished her a very enjoyable trip.

Another incident of the happy gathering was the presentation of Mrs. E. A. Wright, wife of the pastor, of yearly stars, badges and emblems to Catharine Finlayson, Janette Spark, Sonja Jensen, Grace Wood, Shirra Halliday, Gail Redpath, Verna Fossum, Lynne Erickson and Carol Elkins. Three hearty cheers were given for Mrs. Wright.

Blackwood on Bridge

By Easley Blackwood

My friend, old Mr. Dale, has been playing bridge so many years that there are few situations he hasn't encountered. In today's hand he made an unusual hold-up play to bring home his contract.

Mr. Abel opened the seven of clubs. Better players than he might have opened one of the major suits. After all, Mr. Dale had bid clubs—but Mr. Abel knows the old boy sometimes bids a three card club suit and this may have been one of the times.

As it happened the club lead was the best attack and Mr. Dale had to play his best to combat it. Mr. Masters' ace of clubs won the first trick and he returned the ten of that suit. It was here that Mr. Dale made the key play. He put in the four spot. Mr. Muzzy, who was kibitzing Mr. Dale, let out a groan. He shook his head and turned to the other kibitzers with an expression which clearly said: "The man must be out of his head."

In spite of this expert criticism, look what would have happened if Mr. Dale had played his jack of clubs at trick two. Mr. Abel would have played the trey, hoping his partner could get in once more and lead another club through Mr. Dale's queen-four.

As you see, Mr. Masters would have gained the lead with the king of diamonds and the defenders would have taken four clubs and one diamond to defeat the contract.

But as the hand was actually played, Mr. Masters was permitted to win the second trick with the ten of clubs. He followed with the six of clubs, and Mr. Dale's jack went to Mr. Abel's king. Mr. Dale won the fourth club lead and took the diamond finesse in perfect safety. The finesse lost—but Mr. Masters could make no effective return.

"Farming" the Forests of our Canadian Northwest

One of the basic raw materials vital to defense mobilization and military preparedness is purified cellulose, obtained from spruce and hemlock high-grade wood pulp. It is also a key raw material used in the manufacture of modern chemical textile yarns and plastics.

In an effort to assure an expanded and continuous supply of cellulose, Columbia Cellulose Company, Limited, was organized to pioneer an advanced project of "forest farming" in the Prince Rupert area of British Columbia. Forest Management Licence No. 1 was granted to the Company by the Province of British Columbia. Under this licence, Columbia Cellulose and Provincial authorities have instituted a program of scientific logging and planned reforestation, with logging operations directed from Terrace.

The orderly cutting and re-seeding of timber as a slow-growing farm crop, provides full utilization of natural resources, at the same time maintaining their productive capacity. This is conservation at its highest level.

The location of the new pulp plant at Prince Rupert, close to the forest areas, enables it to convert the timber into pulp with maximum efficiency. This mill provides a new and substantial source of high quality cellulose which will help relieve the present worldwide scarcity of wood pulp.

Operations of the Prince Rupert plant will contribute directly to the projected chemical plant operations in Alberta of the newly organized Canadian Chemical Company, Limited, an affiliate of Columbia Cellulose Company, Limited. Acetic acid from this plant will be combined with wood pulp from the Prince Rupert plant to produce cellulose acetate, the primary material used in the manufacture of acetate textile yarns and plastics.

These developments will contribute to the industrial self-sufficiency of Canada, creating many new jobs and contributing to the economic growth of the communities.

The planning behind an enterprise of this scope requires not only foresight and sound business judgment, but confidence as well. It is this kind of long-term planning that is responsible for Canada's great and growing industrial strength.

bylaw, the consequences of such action will rest directly on their shoulders. And if Ald. Casey can suggest specific cases where we are either spending money too freely or using other than good business management we shall be very glad to correct them. At the recent annual meeting of the Hospital Society Ald. Casey would have been very welcome. The books were opened to the public and after a free discussion of hospital affairs the meeting unanimously passed a vote of thanks to the Board of Directors and the Administrator for the capable manner in which the affairs of the hospital had been handled. Further, the meeting unanimously endorsed the Board's request that the city council be asked to supply $50,000.

It seems to me that an outlay of $50,000 by the City to acquire for its citizens a new steam plant and 32 additional beds is very much of a bargain. I would remind the city council that the Hospital Board served without remuneration working long and hard attempting to manage the affairs of the hospital in what all will agree are very difficult days for hospitals. The attitude of the City Council does very little to encourage us to carry on.

PRACTICAL RESPECTS

Daily News:
With the drive for fund for the Cancer Society before us today, let us not forget something to which I've given thought in the past few months and perhaps others would like to do so too.

In the past two months we have had several large funerals in Prince Rupert. The esteem and respect in which these citizens were held was shown by the vast number of floral offerings.

It is two months since my return from the prairies, where I attended three funerals. At each one only a few flowers were given, mostly by the families concerned. However I was impressed by the method in which they paid tribute to the memory of the friend, neighbor and loved one.

Monies were contributed in amount each one felt able to give. They were put in envelopes with cards specifying where the donor wished the donation to go. These were given to the attendant at the door. Later they were given to a committee and sent on to the various organizations and in time each person received a receipt from the organization benefited.

At each funeral the Cancer Fund, Red Cross, Church funds, Cemetery funds, Children's Hospital, Youth organizations and so forth were benefitted. It seems a very worthy way of paying our respect and love. I am sure many of us would prefer that respect for us should be in the way of a helping hand to these many very worthy causes.

A few flowers are a comfort to the mourners. I think, but a wreath or a spray serves this purpose. They are lovely to see but they are left to die and the vision dies in the memory of the mourners. Personally speaking, I feel comforted that the offerings of friends and neighbors are benefitting many now and perhaps for a long time to come. A.M.P.

T. M. Christie is sailing tomorrow night on the Prince Rupert for a business trip to Vancouver.

great subterranean rumbling all across the Arab and Moslem belt. The nationalism that is now rumbling beneath the surface all the way from Persia to Moscow is a mighty natural force. It has greater explosive possibilities because there have been no open, permitted channels in which it could flow. There have been few, or none, of the democratic safety valves, for there is very little real democracy in the whole area.

Hence, the nationalism takes the form of student demonstrations, vast parades and secret conspiracies to assassinate persons responsible for unpopular policies or acts.

THIS KIND OF CRUDE DEMOCRACY-in-waiting has a natural target at which to "shoot" when in any country there is actual foreign control.

Hereabouts they tell you that the people of Persia and even the parliament of Persia had no way of knowing even how much oil was being produced and exported, under the treaty which gave the Anglo-Persian Oil Company its right.

Why should anybody expect Persian nationalism to react any differently than any other kind of nationalism? Are Persians different from Mexicans?

FRANCE MUST BE BOTH deaf and blind if she fails to hear and read the lessons of the mighty demand that is building all the way from Pakistan, Iran, across the Old Land and all North Africa, for self-government for her imperial holdings in Arab lands.

Here in this new capital—which is farthest away from Morocco—they had a parade the other day to demand the same kind of home-rule government in Morocco as they have here. They tell me there were no less than 80,000 people in that parade.

Old-time Europeans, long out here, are inclined to pooch-pooch this sort of thing. But I think they are as wrong as they were about India itself, before an enlightened British government and Parliament faced the facts of life—in time.

FRANCE'S CHOICE SEEMS to me the same as the British had in 1947 in India—to get out with good grace and on a basis of friendship, or to resist by force, and in the end to lose everything, including the friendship of the liberated people.

Anyway, for what it is worth, mark down this warning: All these Arab and Moslem peoples are either going to be given complete equality or they are going to take it their own way.

And soon, brother, soon.

Having suffered another stroke Fred Olsen, who returned to the city recently from the Danish Old People's Home at Vancouver, was removed a few days ago from the Pioneer Home to Prince Rupert General Hospital. His condition is reported serious.

Christians Not Bound by 'Prison'

There are fetters in life other than prison walls and true Christians can forget their "prisons," as Paul had done when he wrote his epistles, and rise to lofty achievements despite the circumstances of life which might appear to bind them, said Capt. W. C. Poulton as he spoke to the morning congregation at First Presbyterian Church in the absence of the regular pastor, Rev. Dr. E. A. Wright.

Poulton paid tribute to the renewal of enthusiasm and achievement in First Presbyterian Church which had resulted from the new ministry of Dr. Wright. The morning's choral music included a solo "My Task" by Master John Lambie.

R. C. Purdie, provincial factory inspector, arrived in the city from Vancouver on the Prince Rupert this morning, being here on official duties.

Dave Abel returned home on the Prince Rupert today from Vancouver where he had try-outs with the Vancouver Capitanos baseball team. He decided, however, that he would rather return to Prince Rupert.

Badminton in Finals

Lively City Tourney Concluding

Finals in the city badminton tournament have been reached after keen preliminary round play.

Play got down to earnest in all events last night. In the men's doubles first flight Morgan and Pavlikis did it again when they took J. Georgeson and D. Radford 15-11, 9-15, 15-6.

The semi-finals in the ladies' doubles first flight was a battle royal when B. Hickey and B. Stordal went all the way to take P. Briggs and D. White 15-4, 18-15, 15-12, and P. Caldwell and M. Adlard beat D. Irving and B. MacDonald 17-16, 6-15, 15-12.

In the mixed doubles first flight it took the MacDonalds the full count to win from the Vierecks 10-15, 15-10, 15-8, and to take the Fowles 12-15, 15-12, 18-14.

In the second flight men's doubles E. Milgram and D. Leitch needed three games to take S. Vickers and B. Tough 15-6, 5-15, 15-4, and again to win from P. Charbonneau and C. Forman 15-3, 15-18, 15-11.

In the mixed doubles Father Mohan and Mrs. Turcotte really put up a battle only to lose to Mr. and Mrs. Tough 12-15, 18-17, 17-15.

H. Morgan and I. Kristjansson had to work to take T. Pope and R. Bentson 13-15, 15-11, 15-13.

J. Georgeson and P. Caldwell had to hustle to take S. Vickers and D. White 14-13, 15-12, 15-6.

The members of the Catholic Badminton Club have made a creditable showing and when it is taken into consideration that they were playing in a strange hall it is worthy of note that they fielded two teams in the semi-finals.

The tournament concludes tonight with the final draw as follows:

7:30 P.M.

Semi-finals, mixed doubles, second flight—N. Pavlikis and M. Adlard vs. D. Leitch and F. Partridge.

Semi-finals men's doubles, second flight—G. Viereck and D. Carr-Harris vs. T. Pope and T. Rempie.

Finals: Ladies' singles—B. J. Hickey vs. P. Briggs. Mixed doubles, third flight—F. Pope and R. Bentson vs. C. Forman and P. Tait.

MONTREAL.—Captain Ted Kennedy's goal in four minutes 47 seconds of overtime gave Toronto Maple Leafs a 2-to-1 victory and a two-games-to-one lead over Montreal Canadiens in the best-of-seven Stanley Cup playoffs last night. Tod Sloan was given the assist.

Fourth game in the series will be played in the Forum here tomorrow night.

All three final games so far have been overtime in what is shaping up for one of the keenest series in the history of the big puck league.

Kennedy took the pass from Sloan well inside the Montreal defensive zone and drilled a hard angle shot that whistled into the net past goalie Gerry McNeil.

A home crowd of 14,443 was caught unprepared because only a short time before Maurice Richard and Ken Mosdell almost counted for the Canadiens in a wide-open battle.

Richard sent Canadiens ahead in the first period on a rebound off Bert Oimstead's shot. Sid Smith tied it up for the Leafs in the second period, with a screened shot from near the boards on Max Bentley's pass.

HERO—Leader Kennedy, who scored overtime goal for Toronto.

Boston fans saw the Bruins win the Stanley Cup on home ice for the first time 12 years ago when they defeated Toronto Maple Leafs 3-1 to win a best of seven series by four games to one. Boston's only previous victory had been at New York in 1929. This year the Bruins were eliminated by Toronto in the semi-finals.

Winnipeg Monarchs climaxed one of the most spectacular Memorial Cup series in history 14 years ago by blanking Copper Cliff Redmen 7-0. Monarchs won 3-1 in the best of five series, and each of the first three games was decided by a single goal, Copper Cliff taking the first 4-3 in overtime, Winnipeg the next two by 6-5 and 2-1.

Gerard Cote of St. Hyacinthe, Que., then a sergeant in the Canadian army, won the famous Boston Marathon eight years ago today. Cote covered the 26 mile 385 yard course in two hours, 23 minutes and 25 4-5 seconds, trouncing a select field of 89 runners. He won it again the following year, 1944.

Thomas Speers, chief clerk in the Canadian National Railways divisional superintendent's office here, returned to the city on the Prince Rupert this morning from an official meeting in Vancouver. Mrs. Speers will be returning later.

Alex Davidson, first grand principal of Royal Arch Masons for British Columbia, arrived in the city on the Prince Rupert this morning from Vancouver. He will pay an official visit to Kalen Chapter here tonight.

Mr. Worden has the impression, he says, that for the first time perhaps Prince Rupert has a secure development, referring to Columbia Cellulose Company which should do much to provide a stable economy for a growing city.

"But I think you're overlooking one thing," he said. "Your totem poles are perhaps the best in the world, yet I would have missed them if I had not accidentally come across them."

The author of war, political and economic articles is taking back to his home near Seattle, Washington, a sample of dried cellophane by which "I was greatly intrigued."

Festival Recalls Fashion Changes

By MURIEL NARRAWAY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (C)—Britain's women of fashion are wondering which of today's styles will be remembered as typical of festival of Britain year.

Will it be pagoda flare given to figure-fitting evening dresses by Digby Morton or the bell-shaped suits with long revers and nipped waist popular with Stebel? Perhaps it may be the fan-shaped line given to afternoon dresses by Hardy Amies, or the asymmetric-line favored by Matelli.

Whatever the styles earmarked for posterity, it is doubtful whether they could compete in fame with the marked major changes in women's wear recorded at the time of the 1851 exhibition—first British Arts and Trades Fair and forerunner of this year's festival of Britain.

For instance, 1851 saw the launching of Mrs. Amelia Bloomer's campaign for trousers for women. Her "bloomers" were merely a voluminous, knee-covering forecast of today's short bloomer pants used for both play suits and beach wear, but they startled the fashion world of that day.

WAISTCOATS TOO

Although a far cry from the neat slacks of later years, bloomers heralded female encroachment on masculine fashions. Elegant Victorian women soon wore embroidered waistcoats, until then the exclusive property of the young male dandy.

Although the waistcoat is back in the forefront of fashion, an integral part of this year's suit designs, women no longer invade male fashion-preserves to such a marked extent. With a wartime experience of man-tailored suits, short skirts and squared shoulders, women today tend to concentrate on femininity.

The present shoulderline is soft, waist and peplum emphasized, skirt-line slender and accessories soft and charming with a delicate Victorian touch.

The present neat-waisted suits might be worn over the laced corsets of 1851. Tight lacing has gone for the moment and the exhibition introduced front-laced corsets with fewer whalebones.

Today's apron skirts with plain front and gathered back and the deep V necklines filled in with chemisette are both traceable to the fashions of 100 years ago.

The exhibition also marked a change in hairstyles. Side ringlets gave place to a severe swept-back coiffure with centre parting and lopped bandeaux over the ears. Today's women are just switching from the severity of the short-cut to soft curls and chignons.

Army Makes Conversions

Salvation Army conversions to the Christian faith and work with the Hazelton Indian school was conducted by Capt. W. C. Poulton in the Skeena Valley last week.

Returning at the week-end from his four-day trip, Capt. Poulton said that the Kitkatla Evangelistic work done recently by the native band and missionaries had made many converts at Hazelton and Glen Vowell.

Thomas Brown was appointed as a lay worker for the consolidations made by the Salvation Army captain at Glen Vowell.

Capt. Poulton said that the new Indian department school to be built at Hazelton will be started soon.

India Seeking Birth Control

BOMBAY (Reuters)—India is looking to birth control to help solve the problem of too many mouths to feed.

India's population is growing fast—in the cities alone it has doubled in the last 10 years—and the means of subsistence is dwindling perceptibly.

While the Indian government is striving toward increased food production and higher living standards, Indian economists and sociologists have launched a campaign to check the speedy increase in the nation's population.

But the average Indian woman, brought up in traditional conservatism, has yet to grasp the advantages of "planned parenthood." Measures taken to check rise in population have so far been meagre and the results not encouraging.

Birth-control clinics have been opened in several cities but only a few educated people make use of these facilities. The illiterate Indian masses have yet to be educated about birth control methods and initiated into their use. And there is much mental reservation among average Indians over the use of contraceptives.

Some circles feel it is irreligious to use contraceptives and advocate, instead, restraint if not total abstinence.

A leading Indian politician even went to the extent of claiming there was no need for artificial methods of checking population, when natural calamities such as cholera, smallpox and famine took a heavy toll of lives in the country periodically.

The All-India Women's Conference, which has repeatedly endorsed the need for checking the population, has not been able to convince the Indian housewife of the need for birth control methods.

The educated middle classes in India are becoming increasingly aware of the need for limiting the family, but the campaign has aroused little popular appeal.

Halibut Season Opening May 1

Only the pen signatures of the American and Canadian governments are holding up official disclosure that the fishing season will open May 1.

General acceptance is that the halibut opening is set for the first of next month and draggers are being converted for the summer's operation.

The Department of Fisheries here are awaiting final word from the International Fisheries Commission's headquarters at Seattle.

The International Fisheries Commission's representative in Prince Rupert will be Mrs. D. Fitch, with offices in the Bessner Block.

Terrace Paving To be Extended

TERRACE—Word has been received by the village commissioners that the Terrace secondary highway, Kalum Street, is included in the paving program of the Department of Public Works this summer. The paving will be done inside the boundaries of the municipality which will share in the cost of the work.

Lakelse Avenue is also to be graded, and work is to begin immediately on the making of a gravel sidewalk on Lakelse Avenue from Atwood Street to Appleby Street in order that the school children may have safe passage to and from school.

A petition from the residents of Greig Avenue, immediately east of Kalum Street, to have a gravel sidewalk made was granted and this will be carried out as speedily as possible.

The commissioners were disappointed to learn that a sewer could not be made on Greig Avenue to connect to the former army septic tank east of the Civic Centre because there is not enough grade to allow for it.

Further discussion took place on the expanding of the village boundaries, which, it is expected, will take in as far west as the block of Thomas Road and as far south as Gordon Road.

Present at the meeting were Chairman Haugland, Commissioners Kirkaldy, Osborne and Lambley and village clerk A. J. Harmon.

FRANCO News from LAKE

Narrow Escape on Breaking Ice— Roads Drying Nicely

H. Martens had a narrow escape and nearly lost his new pick-up when the ice gave way under him as he was crossing the lake early on Sunday morning. The box built onto the pick-up caught on the ice as the vehicle broke through and held it up. He piled his sacks of flour and groceries on the ice and walked to south-bank for help. Several men walked out to help and after about an hour's work the pick-up was dragged onto firm ice and driven off safely.

Wynona Hanke is home again after staying across the lake with her grandparents for several months. She is attending school here again.

At a meeting of the Athletic Club and the Baseball Club it was decided to amalgamate both clubs.

The roads have dried off quickly this year and they are quite good with only a few wet spots.

The lake ice still holds pedestrians but looks grey and soggy and the edges have thawed so that people have to walk on planks to get onto the ice.

Jean Gatacre is now a member of the staff of the Burns Lake Hospital.

Henry Williams Stewart, Passes

STEWART—Henry Marshall Williams, who passed away recently at the advanced age of eighty-nine years, was interred in the Stewart Cemetery on Sunday. Prior to interment, a service was conducted in the Canadian Legion Hall by Robert MacLeod who was a fellow employee of the Granby Company when it was in operation at Anyox. The hall was well filled. Mrs. H. Wilkinson led the choir with Mrs. Jean Stewart presiding at the piano. The service was an impressive one.

Funerals were held at Moore, Herb Anderson, Isaac Soderlov, Pontus Johnson, Tom Kirkpatrick and E. Peterson.

All arrangements were in the hands of Harry Stewart, local undertaker.

Unusual Western

With a background of Indian-white relationships for an unusual love story set in an outdoor panorama embellished with brilliant technicolor photography, "Broken Arrow," a saga of an important chapter in American lore, comes to the screen of the new Totem Theatre here this Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

James Stewart has the part of an adventurer with the courage to pioneer fair treatment of the Indians. Debra Paget is the Indian girl with whom he falls in love while Jeff Chandler has the role of a renowned Indian chief.

The picture is based on a popular novel, "Blood Brother," recording the personal history of an Apache warrior, whose name spelled terror for pioneering white men in Arizona in 1870 but whose unique friendship with the white adventurer eventually served as a basis for a reform of Indian-white iniquities.

The picture was actually filmed in desolate wastes of Arizona.

Terrace Hears Of Police Job

TERRACE—Constable Ted Brue, RCMP and Geoff Lambley were guest speakers at Friday night's meeting of the Terrace Parent-Teacher Association.

The former spoke on the policing of Terrace and district which goes half way to Hazelton and Prince Rupert and which covers an area of 7,500 square miles. Eighty percent of the population of the district lives within four or five miles of Terrace. There are three essentials in policing Terrace which is much the same as any other community:

1. Protection of human life.
2. Prevention of crime.
3. Apprehension of criminals.

WHERE DOES THE MONEY GO ?

At times most of us have looked at purse, wallet or bank-book, and wondered: "Where does the money go?"

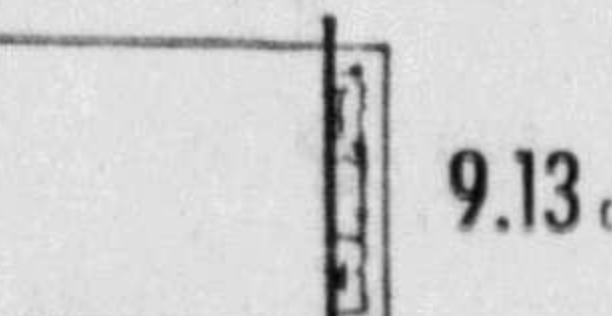

You may have wondered, too, where does our money go—the money we receive for gasoline, fuel oil, lubricants and other products we sell. Well, last year each dollar we received went this way:

CRUDE OIL and the other raw materials we bought took half of each dollar.

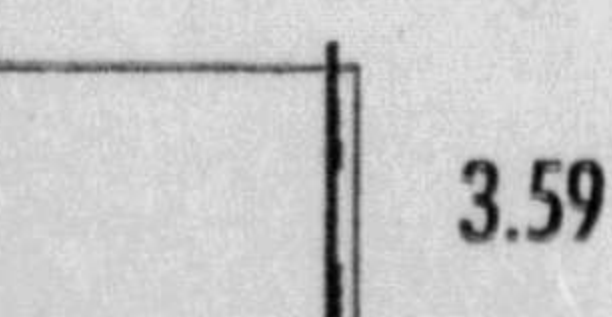

OPERATING AND ADMINISTRATIVE expenses took more than 25 cents. This was the cost of searching for and producing crude oil, and of manufacturing and marketing the hundreds of products we supplied for thousands of uses. Throughout the year high quality products were made available where and when you needed them.

TRANSPORTATION of products from our refineries to marketing points took the next big bite of the dollar. Products moved over wide areas to serve every community in Canada.

TAXES to provincial and federal governments took 7.64 cents. And this did not include gasoline tax, which—depending on where you live—took from 22 to 33 cents out of every dollar you spent for standard grade gasoline.

TO REPLACE worn out equipment and to make sure that we can supply your needs in the future took 3.59 cents.

DIVIDENDS paid to shareholders for use of plants and equipment amounted to 3.45 cents.
