

Welfare State Threat to People, SA Major Says

Welfare state may or may not be the answer to the threat of Communism but it "surely will place the work of voluntary organizations in jeopardy," said Major Poulton, Salvation Army head here, told a luncheon meeting yesterday.

Was Last Man Off George Walton

ANGELES, Washington—The captain of the freighter George Walton gave the order to abandon ship as the vessel was on fire. The ship was on fire for some 300 feet along the Washington coast when it reached port here yesterday. The captain and crew were killed aboard the ship. Others were missing and others who survived, including the mate Harold Davis, Mil-oregon, said Capt. Bentson was the last man off. Davis said one man—he never saw his name—was lost trying to save his lifeboat. Davis didn't seem to have much length to hang onto the ladder. "You're superstitious," he said. "We tried to leave the ship 13 men in the lifeboat, but we got away with only three."

Civic Centre Campaign

ONCE MORE the annual campaign for membership in the Prince Rupert Civic Centre is commencing and, as we have done year after year, we wholeheartedly support it again.

The worthwhileness of our Civic Centre has long since been established. We would ask even those who may be critical or hesitant in supporting the institution if they do not benefit some way or another many times a year from the Civic Centre being here. Does it not contribute in some way to develop amenities which each and all of us enjoy?

And if we benefit from and enjoy the Civic Centre, should we not willingly and without hesitation rise to its support by the simple act of good citizenship of being a member?

Looking at it even from the selfish standpoint, it can be pointed out that the possession of membership gives us the benefit of reduced rates on two important activities that come to mind at once—basketball and the Alaska Trail concerts.

In fact, it must be pretty difficult for any citizen to explain why he or she is not a Civic Centre member. Certainly no one who does not belong can lay much claim to public spiritedness. Such membership should be almost a "must" in personal budgeting.

Let us all be able to enter the Civic Centre and enjoy its privileges with a clear conscience.

Britain Faces Facts

POSITION so promptly by the new government of fresh austerity measures upon the long-suffering and patient people of Britain causes no surprise. The Chancellor of the Exchequer announced courageous and forthright action in Parliament yesterday to meet Britain's deteriorating fiscal situation. Obviously, Mr. Butler did not draw his punches in painting his picture. At least, things are no worse than he suggested. There has possibly been a tendency on the part of the recent Labor government to gloss over the realities although the former Chancellor, Mr. Gaitskill, was not slow in reminding the House that he had pointed out the gravity.

Now more production and less consumption is called for from the people. How they will respond remains to be seen. It may not be such a willing response as would be the case were there a real war crisis to inspire and coerce them. History has been that Britons always grumble but always take it. And, doubtless, they will do so again.

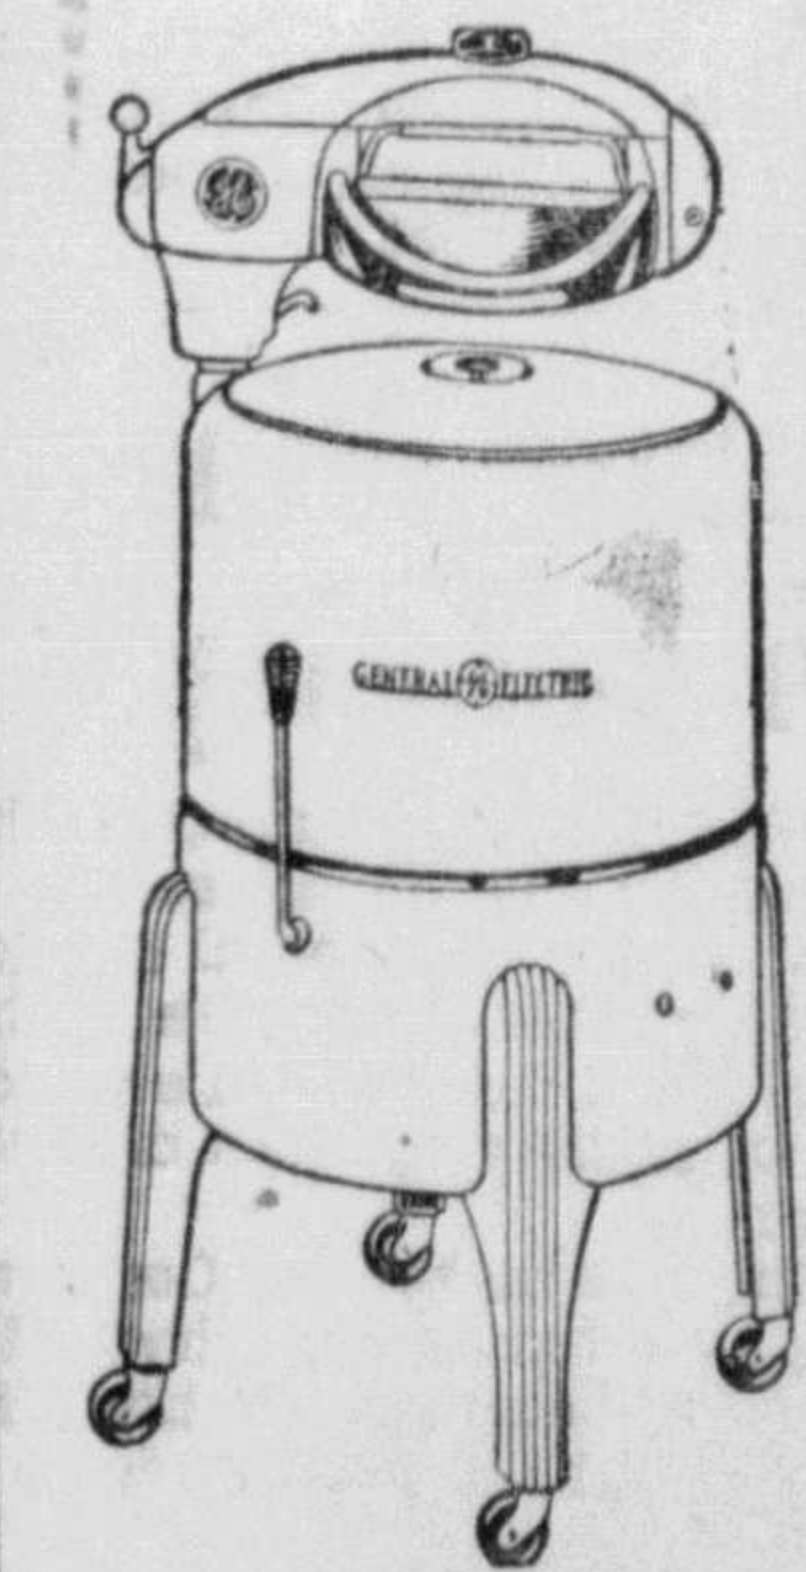

Scripture Passage for Today

"We see Jesus . . . for the suffering of death, crowned with glory and honour."—Heb. 2:9.

Dispute Delays Herring Fishing

VANCOUVER — British Columbia's herring fishing operations are far behind schedule because of a pay dispute. The 150-boat fleet is tied up here while a union and operators' negotiation committee seeks a settlement.

Workers' Union is seeking a straight 25 percent increase on last year's rate of $7.40 per ton as well as longer week-end rest periods and other benefits. The union has rejected the operators' offer to boost the price 50c per ton, adding a ten-cent welfare fund contribution. This would make a total return of $8 a ton. The fishery is now 12 days behind schedule and still no settlement is signed.

Clothing Mystery

PORT ARTHUR.—I have spent three wonderful days here at the lakehead catching up on the sleep I lost on the British election trip.

But I have been wide awake enough to make a few speeches on the British election—and also to find how silly were some of the stories published in some big city papers about "wild extravagance" in preparations for the trip of Princess Elizabeth.

The hotel I am in is the one where the royal couple stayed—and where somebody is supposed to have "picked up the cheque" for redecorating the entire building.

One floor of the hotel was redecorated, but I would say, not before it needed it. In fact, while this is one of Canada's finest, most comfortable hotels, the whole five floors could do with a paint-up clean-up job, like floor three got for the royal visit.

COMING back to Canada from Britain is a strange experience at this time of year. In Britain you half-freeze when you are inside the houses, for they just are not warmed to the degree to which we are accustomed.

But here, the colder it is, outside the hotter they keep the buildings inside. To those of us who have lived on the Pacific coast for some time, where we never got very cold weather (at least before the atom bomb knocked the world cockeyed) the winter mixture here is pretty hard to take.

I have come to the conclusion that you can deal with the cold outside better than you can deal with the heat inside. My windows are wide open. But still such a blast of heat is coming up from the nether regions that I might as well be in a steam-bath—except that this heat is so dry my self-washed shirts dry in the bathroom in an hour or two.

DO YOU want to write a real thriller? Then why not take as your title "The Germ Hits Back?"

Down in San Francisco the American College of Surgeons is bemoaning the fact that the "wonder drugs" no longer give the final knockout to germs. In 1947 only 30 per cent of staphylococcus germs could survive a normal shot of penicillin. By 1949 no less than 59 per cent of the germs could survive. Now 61 per cent of germs live.

Tests show that the "wonder drugs" are more effective on germs in Korea than they are here.

Why? Because the new generations of germs in North America are the sons and grandsons and great-grandsons of the few germs that survived the original attacks of the "wonder drugs."

THE LATEST figures published at Ottawa show that the cost of living is now 190.4—which is an increase for September against 189.9 for August. The explanation is "a sharp climb in clothing prices."

BILL NEVER BOUGHT

If you've decided to refuse to pay $1.50 for a haircut, the rate recently announced in San Francisco, you can always remember Colonel Cody. Our old friend Buffalo Bill kept his hair resting on his shoulders and led a long, a prosperous and a stirring life.

The figure of John Bull, the sturdy, honest, unimaginative English farmer, has been used to typify the Englishman the world over. But the real John Bull, the composer-organist who lived in the reign of Queen Elizabeth, was a different type. Contemporary portraits, says BBC, show him to be dark, ovalfacéd, fine-drawn and lean. He was sensitive, imaginative and humorous, with nervous vitality. A haircut costs $1.50 in San Francisco, the rate having been jumped from $1.25. Can it be that barbering has now attained the dignity of a major industry? If so, the scale must be somewhere around $1.50 an hour. For a good barber should be able to trim you in that time, if not less. Trim is right!

War Aftermath Still Evident

Nurses Hear Dr. Fiddes

The regular monthly meeting of the Miller Bay Chapter of the E.C. Registered Nurses' Association was held on Wednesday evening. Following the business meeting a very interesting talk was given by Dr. G. W. Fiddes on the subject of "New Drugs and Their Uses."

Mr. Forseth showed movies of part of his trip through Sweden, Denmark and Germany, showing the still appalling conditions under which the people in Germany live. Although it is much improved since the war, the devastation caused by the war is still very much in evidence. He showed one picture of a heap of rubble under which is estimated that seven thousand people are buried.

Sent to Borstal Home for Year

William Donald, 18-year-old youth, will go to New Haven Borstal Home at Vancouver for one year. Donald had been given one year's suspended sentence May 30 for stealing. This week he was arrested for drunkenness, pleading guilty to the breach of reconnaissance.

The most serious results of war are the homeless children that are left to look after themselves. Mr. Forseth said, "The moral condition in Germany is the worst he has seen anywhere."

Mr. Forseth spoke dynamically about the ability of Jesus Christ to meet every need for body, soul and spirit. The Lord is still able to forgive sin, heal the sick and set men and women free from the bondage of Satan, as he did in the records of the Scripture.

Forming Dental Clinic in City

Formation of a dental clinic in Prince Rupert will be the purpose of a meeting November 14 called by Parent-Teacher Council here. Representatives of all city service clubs and organizations have been requested to attend.

The council calls condition of children's teeth in Prince Rupert "deplorable" and advises organizations that city dentists and Health Officer Dr. Duncan Black are co-operating fully in establishing a clinic.

Private George Evans, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Evans of this city, after a full tour of service in action with the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry in Korea, is now in Kure, Japan, and is transferring to the provost service. He expects to remain indefinitely in Japan.

Pte. Evans had been due for some leave to Canada at this time but, while in Japan for a medical check-up, he missed the home draft so does not know when he will be returning. In any case, he will not be going back to Korea for the time being.

Pte. Evans, writing to his parents, says he likes Japan. "It's mysteriously Oriental," he says, "but it is nice and friendly."

AS I SEE IT
 nancial Post for November 3 says, on page 3:
 "Dozens of Canadian clothing firms are clinging to the solvent side of the ledger by narrowing threads. Unless something happens, and quickly, there could be a few shutters going up along Canada's textile row."
 The greatest of all mysteries is how prices can stay up in Canada when stocks of unsold goods have reached an all-time high. The Bureau of Statistics reports, November 3, that inventories in August reflected a $56,000,000 increase from July and a total advance of $899,000,000 from August last year.
 Old-fashioned economists would say that one of these days the dam was due to burst, and prices would fall, with a big bang.

REMINISCENCES
 ern oil shares. Shares in lots of other things could be a whole lot worse.
 A list of early newcomers to Skeena, printed in The News, Thursday, aroused wide interest here as well as along the river. It represented a registration of pioneers who came to the district, up to 1912—who they were and how. Some dates went back to 1901. They came on foot. They voyaged by boat and canoe and steamer. They followed the long and lonely trails, for there was no railway and there was many a region not fully explored. Could a newspaper of today know what they could have told about, what an incomparable gist of true stories it could print!

Andrei Vishinsky says that after hearing President Truman's address on the peace question, he laughed so long he could not sleep for much of the night. Up to this morning, nothing had been heard from Premier Stalin. Possibly he is unable to stop.

Curlers Ready to Work on Building

Arranged for Equipment, Challenge Trophies
First "work bee" on the former RCAF mess hall at Seal Cove to convert it into a curling rink will start this week-end, Prince Rupert Curling Club members decided at its meeting last night. Arrangements for purchase of the building from D. G. Frizzell also completed, subject to ratification at the next general meeting.

Arrangements call for a total of $10,000 with three yearly equal payments. Meanwhile, a constitution, drawn up last night, will be presented to each of the 130 members of the club, who will have opportunity to read and vote on the laws before the next meeting is called for in January.

The job to be done Saturday afternoon, Sunday and Monday will be to tear up the floor, which work will begin on Monday. The repair of the building will extend to 14 feet.

In other fields, the Curling Club has been equally successful. A $1000.00 pipe has been secured and is on its way from Vancouver. Twenty pairs of matched curling rocks have been ordered and are en route from Scotland. Two scoreboards have been ordered, one by Imperial Tobacco Co. Ltd. the other by the C.P.A.

The Grand Challenge cup has been offered by A. J. Dominato, Gordon and Mr. Frizzell. It offered other trophies, a Bulger will donate a club clock. The committee decided a bonspiel, consisting of all entries, would be held every March, first one next year. Membership, the meeting should be extended to 150, for it had discovered not all members would be active curlers. The three-sheet rink would have 150 active curlers.

The general meeting will be held in about 10 days to approve decisions of the executive and to elect a new slate of officers.

Peewee Hoop Team Opened

More Recruits Could Be Gained, Says Fred Calderone

There are any youngsters who are not playing basketball but would like to play, the community is there, announces Calderone, Civic Centre director.

The Peewee League is open to another team at least and to spare. Playing times are Monday morning and Thursday evening. Mr. Calderone will try to get another team tomorrow, saying there are enough youngsters between the ages of 10 and 14 available at the Centre in the morning.

Because of its fine climate and its location in Morocco has long been recognized as a health resort.

Bison Hunt In Alaska

JUNEAU—Alaska has its annual bison hunt as well as Canada. This fall, some of the non-breeding bulls were eliminated. The herd had flourished in the Big Delta region and fourteen of the 24 bulls were shot. The bulls were trouble makers. It was the second Alaska bison hunt and it took place in a wild and difficult country. Said one old Juneauite to a hunter: "Now all you have to do is take care of it and lug that 2,000 pounds of bison bull away from here if you have to use a derrick."

Woman Bothers Rocket Richard

Man of Many Moods Is Star of Canadiens

Sometime this season Maurice (The Rocket) Richard will slam in the three hundred and twenty-fourth goal of his NHL career and break Nels Nelson's all-time scoring record. In the current issue of Maclean's Magazine, Trent Frayne explains an apparent chink in his armor: he never plays his best hockey on the Toronto Leaf's home ice. This has sometimes been attributed to a well-dressed female fan of the Leafs who always sits in the front rows and is said to enrage him with her persistent heckling. At times Richard himself has blamed the heat in the Maple Leaf Gardens and the vastness of the place. But his boss thinks his failure to shine in the Queen City is because he's too tense trying to make good in a city for which he has little affection as a hockey town.

But the Hab's Number 9 is so good rival managers would like to buy him are said to have offered as much as a hundred and thirty-five thousand dollars—only to be told money couldn't buy him. "Might as well give up half the Forum as contemplate a trade involving Richard," says his boss Frank Selke. The Rocket is the highest-paid, best-loved and most-hated man in the League.

During the war some of his detractors said he only looked good because of the absence of opposition. But in the last two years opposition was back in droves and he was good enough to score eighty-five goals and now those same critics agree he's good. He has a few records to prove it, including the one total goals in a single season (fifty, in 1944-45), the playoff record of five goals in a single game, the record of twelve goals in nine playoff games, five goals and three assists in a single regular-season game, at the Forum, naturally.

Frayne tells the story of Richard and the scoring machine, Richard the hot-tempered man who picks a fight in the middle of a New York hotel lobby, and Richard the family man who grew despondent during a west coast tour because he was separated from his wife and three children.

Pupils' Progress Rated by Ability

TORONTO (CP)—A revolution is due here this month. No more will school report cards itemize students' standings in subjects. Starting Nov. 15, report cards will gauge pupils' class progress by the use of three letters—O for outstanding, S for satisfactory, and U for unsatisfactory. They will be used in all Toronto public schools up to Grade 8.

At the same time it will show by the same letters how a student is developing his personality, attitudes and sense of responsibility.

And, like the old style, report cards will retain the space for parents' comments.

The letters mean exactly what they say. One pupil who gets 65 per cent may be marked U because he can do much better.

Another pupil who gets 65 may be graded O because he's working above his ability level.

Toronto educators believe the new system will do a better job of reporting progress for both students and parents. Each card will have attached a note of explanation: "On this card your child is not compared with other children. This report shows his progress in relation to his ability."

One board of education official gave his reasons why cards without marks are an improvement:

1. Marks by themselves don't give an accurate picture of a pupil's progress, either to him or his parents.
2. Marks lead to constant comparisons apt to discourage pupils below class average and give a sense of complacency to those above class average.

3. The new system treats each pupil as an individual, instead of comparing him with everyone else.

Teachers will continue to mark examinations and tests and will note the results in their class files.

The new report cards were developed by a committee of principals and teachers and received the sanction of the city's top educators.

They regard the O-S-U type of marking as one of the biggest steps in an educational movement that has been going on in Toronto for several years.

BIG IMPROVEMENT
FLIN FLON, Man. (C)—The most ambitious project yet carried out in this northern mining town, a sewer and water system costing $1,600,000 was put in operation when Mayor Cyril Stevenson pressed the main pump switch. The town now has 48 miles of sewage lines.

Central Interior TRAVELS

... Evangeline Vann's Diary

English as she spoke. Am coming to realize more and more, two sides to every question. On phone, acquaintances of a few days: "Oh, it's you, could recognize your accent anywhere." Idea of my having accent new to me, always thought spoke King's English. Talking to Dane who had learned English in Canada. "I speak Canadian, but if I were in England long, I'd soon learn to speak English like you." Reminds me of Australian friend brought up in Sydney (Syd-nigh) as in "high," Aus-try-ia. She could not make herself understood in store in Vancouver and desperate clerk accompanied her to department manager, with: "Here's a woman who understands English, but doesn't speak it."

Changing scene at back of hotel. Last few months have seen most of trees removed. More signs of times, storm windows put up in hotel. Difficult time for planes, too icy for floats, too thin for skids. Just heard delightful spoonerism during Citizens' Forum of Air. "No savour in labing." Find myself, when mentally tired, out-rivalling Dr. Spooner. Once, when instructing class in painting, told them to observe "pellucate detail," of sweet pea.

Still intrigued with use of word, "pack." Discussing Royal Tour, talk got round to Phillip's dislike of wearing hat. "Yes, he always packs it," said acquaintance, who had previously talked of "packing" his young boy with him, on a trip. Frequently asked by school children why haven't put in diary about talking to H.S. students about "down under." Explained one doesn't tell stories about oneself, unless against oneself, so here goes. Stymied by same questioner who asked me origin of word "kangaroo" and "Australia," fully instructed by same questioner in correct answer, for use on future occasions.

Met more New Canadians — Walter Wiedman, Oswald Kienapfel, and Alois Fauland — who told me in Germany had to work one month for suit, two hours for twenty cigarettes, two weeks for pair pants, and one day for best girl's nylon.

Visited repeater station. Only bright spot in outmoded Dominion Government Telegraph and Telephone Service, built in 1899 to connect isolated communities at time of gold rush, and today incapable of meeting fully, demands, result rapid development in commerce. Repeater stations built during war by RCAF and CN from Vancouver to Prince Rupert, one hundred and fifty miles apart, at Lytton, 100-Mile House, Prince George, Burns Lake, Woodcock and Prince Rupert, and now being used for civilian purposes.

Got lift to Francois Lake with Mr. and Mrs. H. Taylor. Mr. Taylor has been supervising work at repeater station for four years. Wonderful day, squirrel fearlessly eating rose hips by side of road. Met Mr. and Mrs. Neave. Mrs. Neave must be one of busiest women in Canada. They have store, P.O., cabins, and Minsmere Cocker Kennels, and Mrs. Neave is correspondent for several papers. "The water in the lake is ninety-eight percent pure, you can fill car batteries with it." Son, Peter, took me out to see old ferry being cut up for transport to Shuswap Lake.

As approached Mrs. Jacob Henkel's house, noticed wild elephants at old man's beard stage. Found Mrs. Henkel, with daughter, Mrs. John Keefe, sitting in kitchen, which is original cabin built by husband Jacob Henkel. "The new ferry at Francois Lake is named after your husband, isn't it?" I asked. "Yes," it is, but must see Francois not Francis. There is a Francis Lake on the border of Yukon and B.C. My husband came in to Ootsa

Teachers' Meet At Prince George

PRINCE GEORGE (Special to Daily News)—Some 250 school teachers are here for a convention of the North Central District Teachers' Council being held Friday and Saturday. Among the features of the meeting is a talk by Harold L. Campbell, deputy superintendent of education for British Columbia on the secondary school curriculum.

Another speaker is George G. Vincent, public relations director for Aluminum Co. of Canada, on "Aluminum Comes to B.C." J. A. Sprague is giving an address on the subject of teachers' pensions.

Northern Priest, Veteran of Trail, Now Pilots Plane

SUDBURY, Ont. (CP)—After 16 years of plodding through Northern Ontario's vast inter-land on snowshoes in winter, braving swift waters by canoe in summer or hitching rides on trains, Rev. Gustave Lampron, parish priest at Foleyet, has taken to the air.

From his base at Foleyet, about 180 miles northwest of Sudbury, Father Lampron ranges out nearly 300 miles to visit his far-flung missions, administering to some 3,000 lumbermen, railway employees and trappers.

He obtained his private pilot's licence at Nickel Belt Airways here last winter. Recently he stopped off at Sudbury displaying a new four-seater plane equipped with both pontoons and skis for year-round travel.

The plane was a gift from sportsmen friends in Buffalo, N.Y. They started a campaign and in four months collected $12,000. Some of the funds were raised through the sales of a booklet, "From Snowshoes to Wings," outlining Father Lampron's stay in the north.

The trim red and silver plane will take him to his 32 missions—the farthest one at Minnipqua, 300 miles northwest of Foleyet on the CNR transcontinental line.

TAX CONCESSION The "flying priest" said he was permitted to bring the plane into Canada free of duty, through the efforts of L. J. Gauthier, Liberal member of parliament for Sudbury, and External Affairs Minister Pearson.

He did the wiring, carpentry, plumbing and finishing on his church, he said, so there shouldn't be too much trouble in erecting a hangar.

He decided to take flying lessons last winter and qualified for a pilot's licence after four months of instructions.

FRANCOIS LAKE

Evangeline Vann of the Prince Rupert News, was visiting at the Landing on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Donkin are staying with the Neave family at the Landing. Mrs. Donkin is Harold Neave's cousin. Mr. Donkin has been with the Mannix Company at Halkirk, Alta.

Parts of the old ferry are going past on trucks on their way out to Chase, near Kamloops. The men working on the dismantling of the old ferry are staying at the Keefe ranch.

The ferry schedule has been disrupted for more than a week as the Southbank wharf was being repaired. Work is to be done to the north bank wharf this week so it will be some time before the ferry will be on schedule again.

The snow has all gone here and it is mild again.

Mr. and Mrs. John Reed and family and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Moore and family have moved to the Landing.

Mr. and Mrs. I. Harder and daughter Anne are staying at the Landing for two weeks before moving to Burns Lake.

Cows can't use crutches

We've heard from Denmark that a cow over there had to have its leg amputated, but gets along quite nicely now on a new one made of aluminum.

Whether or not this artificial leg was made of Canadian aluminum, we wouldn't know. Perhaps it was, because we do produce one quarter of the world's supply. That's quite a big thing for Canada. It means jobs for Canadians, and money from abroad to pay for Canadian imports. Right now we are hard at work on extension projects in Quebec and British Columbia; for we intend to go on playing our part in helping Canada grow. Aluminum Company of Canada, Ltd. (Alcan).

Fred Gardner has returned from a trip to Edmonton.

There was a good attendance at church on Sunday morning as it was Harvest Thanksgiving service and the church was lovely with flowers and fruit and vegetables decorating the windows and altar. After the morning service Rev. Atkinson baptized Wynone Hanke, Dinane Hanke, Ralph Hanke and Dennis Lovesth.

There was a very successful dance in the hall on Friday evening for the funds for the children's party. The orchestra donated their music and all who were there had a good time.
