Professor Gives Corrected Story On Clay Deposit

VANCOUVER (CP)—Dr. Ernst A. Hauser of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology takes exception to comments ascribed to him in connection with a northern British Columbia coast clay deposit for which curative properties are claimed.

Dr. Hauser, professor of colloid chemistry at MIT and visiting professor of colloid chemistry at Worcester Polytechnic Institute, says that statements made by him and by Dr. A. H. Young of Chilliwack in August 1950 were used in a Canadian Press story of August 4, 1951, as if they had been made currently. Further, Dr. Hauser says that some of the statements ascribed to him are wrong.

In an article last December in the publication Canadian Chemistry and Process Industries, Dr. Hauser supported the curative properties of the clay as reported by Dr. York and Dr. K. D. Pantou of Vancouver and offered a scientific explanation for them. He said a specific point of stating, however, that his findings at that time were based on research of comparatively short duration.

In February he reported in the same publication that the natural deposit is not of uniform composition and that some of the products which then were already on the market and were using this clay as a base were not comparable in their composition to the product he was referring to in his December article. At the same time, he pointed out that the product he was using and was referring to had gone through a purification process developed by him which, Dr. Hauser says, has not so far been put to use by the present owners of the deposit.

In the same August 4 story, The Canadian Press gave the impression that statements attributed to Dr. York were made at the time. Further, the CP story erroneously reported that Dr. York had used the clay successfully to treat mastitis in cattle in the Fraser Valley.

Dr. York advises that the report he gave more than a year ago concerned only his successful work in treating scur in pigs.

Changing Police Set-up; To Restore Inspectorate

Prince Rupert Authority Being Restored To Former Status

Preparations are, apparently, being made at the provincial government buildings here for a resumption of divisional police control under the Royal Canadian Mounted Police in a set-up similar to that which was formerly operated by the old British Columbia Police, being discontinued by the RCMP when they took over.

Since then divisional headquarters have been at Prince George with an inspector there having jurisdiction over all northern and northwestern British Columbia including the Prince Rupert area.

Now Prince Rupert is to be restored the subdivisional status with a sub-inspector located here.

Sub-inspector at Prince George will also be maintained. The change, it is expected, will involve the addition of several new administrative officers at Prince Rupert but who will be the new sub-inspector is not yet known.

At present the Prince Rupert district is under Staff Sergeant L. A. N. Potterton.

Manslaughter, Not Murder

NANAIMO (CP)—Martin Saxey, aged 35, was found guilty Wednesday night on a reduced charge of manslaughter in the February 6 rifle-slaying of Louis Oscar at Lyquout on the west coast of Vancouver Island.

Saxey had been originally convicted of murder and sentenced to be hanged but he was granted a new trial by the British Columbia Court of Appeal.

The jury was out only 47 minutes last night before it returned with its verdict of innocent of murder but guilty of manslaughter.

Defence witnesses had testified that Oscar had been the source of trouble for Saxey for twelve years.

Sentence will be pronounced today.

Kitimat Plane Crashes; All 23 On Board Perish

NANAIMO—In Canada's worst air disaster of the year, a Queen Charlotte Air Lines Canso flying boat, bound from Kitimat to Vancouver via Kemano and Kildala, crashed at 6:55 last night into Mount Benson near here. Twenty passengers and crew of three were killed.

The dead include Pilot Douglas Duncan McQueen, Co-Pilot Gurdin Singh-Johl and Mechanic Ray Williams. McQueen and Williams formerly operated out of Prince Rupert.

Only passenger so far identified is Eric Melanson, chief project engineer for Kitimat Construction at Kitimat.

Evidently engine failure was the cause of the crash.

The impact was accompanied by a shattering explosion. The mass of flames could be seen for miles around.

Rescue parties went out immediately and some of the bodies were brought into Nanaimo.

All on board were men, technicians and laborers at the Alcan project at Kitimat and Kemano.

Wintry Gale Hits District

All land-line communication to Prince Rupert was knocked out at 3:30 a.m. today, disrupting telephone, telegraph and broadcast services here. Lines had not been replaced by 1 p.m.

Canadian National Telegraphs said they believed a huge tree might have been blown down by a gale, causing a complete wire break near Kwinitsa, 40 miles east of Prince Rupert. No report from linemen busy at the scene had been received.

Stormy weather and snowfall may have uprooted trees, said the Digby Island weather office. Gales were predominant in all northern waters last night and snow fell heavily on the higher peaks of the Coast range.

Ever since yesterday a howling northeast gale has been striking its wintry blast down the Skeena valley, airmen and motorists between here and Terrace report.

Reds Warned By Ridgway

TOKYO—General Matthew B. Ridgway warned the Communists yesterday that they could expect another winter of hard fighting unless they stopped delaying and got along with armistice talks.

At present the Prince Rupert district is under Staff Sergeant L. A. N. Potterton.

Tension Mounts

Egypt on Emergency Basis
—Britain to Stand Firm

LONDON—Tension mounted in the Egyptian situation today as that nation went on an emergency footing. However, reports from Cairo said there was still jubilation and enthusiasm there over the determination of the Egyptian government, now backed by Parliament, to drive the British out of control in Suez and the Sudan.

Meantime, Foreign Secretary Herbert Morrison declared last night that, if Egypt did not protect British lives and property in the Suez zone, Britain would do it for her. British troops were in Suez legally and would remain there at least until a new security arrangement such as the Middle East Command was established.

Today it was estimated that there were possibly 45,000 British forces in Suez and 3500 paratroopers are being moved in from Cyprus.

Cairo claimed that the British had taken control of all key installations such as bridges and waterworks.

Oil Vote Postponed

No A-Bombs For Korea

WASHINGTON (AP)—The use of atomic weapons in Korea is reported to have been given serious consideration by U.S. military leaders but to have been laid aside for the present.

The question of using such weapons was one of the reasons for the recent hurried trip to Tokyo and the battlefront by Gen. Omar Bradley, a well-informed government source told a reporter.

Bradley recommended against use of A-bombs at this time because he regarded the prospects for a Korean truce as brighter, said this source, who declined to be quoted by name.

At a news conference last November, President Truman said there has always been active consideration of the A-bomb's use but that he did not want to see it used because it is a terrible weapon.

New Ketchikan Police Chief

KETCHIKAN — C. E. Hansen has arrived to become Ketchikan's new chief of police. He succeeds Walter Carter, who recently resigned. Captain Carl Sunderland has been acting chief during the interim.

Mr. Hansen was in World War II and has been in police work since leaving the service.

He started on the police department at Portland, Oregon, later was police sergeant at Oregon City and assistant chief at Corvallis. Then he went to Anchorage where he was detective sergeant for one year, returning to Oregon to become chief at Beaverton last year.

Hansen is married and the father of two children.

Real Western Welcome Given Princess and Duke at Calgary

CALGARY—A rousing western welcome, typical of Stampede enthusiasm, was given Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh as they reached Calgary this morning. Hon. George Prudham, minister of mines and technical surveys, and Mrs. Prudham escorted the royal couple into Alberta from Saskatchewan and introduced them at the station to Mayor and Mrs. D. H. McKay.

Nine to Two For Tories

LONDON (CP)—Heavy betting on Winston Churchill's Conservatives to win the election on October 25 today drove the odds still higher against the Labor government.

In the books of the country's biggest bettors, backers of Prime Minister Clement Attlee's Labor government must put up two pounds to win seven pounds.

Conservative supporters must bet nine pounds to win two.

A drive through city streets, lined with cheering crowds, followed. After a tour of the business section, there was a civic reception at the City Hall where presentation of a bouquet was made to the Princess.

There was snow on the ground and ten above temperature as the Royal Couple entered the Stampede area. The Princess was supplied with an electric blanket as she sat in the seat of honor in the grandstand.

The Duke wore a ten-gallon hat and evinced obvious keen interest in the bucking contests and other stampede events.

The days of the Old West were realistically enacted with befeathered Indians, chaps-dressed cowboys with all the rigging and even an ancient stage coach.

This afternoon, following a chuck wagon luncheon in true Calgary style at the Corral Building, a stampede exhibition was put on for the benefit of the royal visitors.

The Princess and the Duke leave tonight for their entry into British Columbia with Hon. R. W. Mayhew, minister of fisheries, meeting them for the tour of the western province. Tomorrow brief visits will be made at Revelstoke, Kamloops, Salmon Arm and Kamloops with arrival at Vancouver at 10 o'clock Saturday morning.

Oil Pipe Line To Coast Next

EDMONTON.—The next big development in Alberta's oil industry likely will be a pipeline to the Pacific coast, Premier E. C. Manning says.

The premier says transport and marketing problems are holding most of the province's oil wells below their production quotas.

New wells are coming into production at a rate of 80 a month to add to the flow of 180,000 barrels of oil a day from the more than 2500 wells already producing.

Since 1947, the provincial government has taken in more than $96,000,000 in oil revenue.

Mr. Manning says nowhere else in the world are three vital fuels—oil, natural gas and coal—found together in such quantities as exist in Alberta.

Chiang Kai-Shek Welcomes Winter, Ally in Build-Up

By SPENCER MOOSA

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP)—The October monsoon season provides aging but ever-hopeful Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek another winter of grace to prepare his estimated 500,000 men for an eventual return to the Chinese mainland.

Conversely, the winds that churn the 100-mile Formosa Strait into an angry storm-lashed sea rule out the chance of a Chinese Communist invasion of Formosa this year.

It is now 22 months since President Chiang and the remnants of China's Republican (Nationalist) government arrived on this island fortress December 10, 1949.

One thing can be said without dispute—his chances of returning to the mainland are better today than they were then.

Close friends of Chiang say he is supremely confident that he will eventually return to China and deliver his people from what he declares is Soviet servitude.

Despite his advancing age (he will be 65 October 31), Chiang has not slackened one whit the spartan life he leads. His average work day is about 16 hours.

The generalissimo eats good but simple food, neither drinks nor smokes, reads extensively, and is fond of walks in the country.

Chiang, a Methodist, allows complete freedom of religion in Formosa as he did on the mainland.

Madame Chiang, since she came to Formosa from the United States early last year, has been the generalissimo's constant companion.

People on close terms with the "Gissimo" and Madame Chiang say the relations between them have melted with the years and today are those of almost mutual devotion.

IN GOVERNMENT SERVICE

Chiang has two sons by previous marriages.

The elder is Lt.-Gen. Chiang Ching-kuo, head of the defence ministry's political warfare board, a man of retiring disposition who likes to keep in the background.

Some say he feels shy because he doesn't speak English. He speaks Russian fluently, however, having spent some time in the Soviet Union during his younger days.

Ching-kuo is married to a Russian, and through her the generalissimo has several half-Russian grandchildren.

The generalissimo's younger son is Maj.-Gen. Chiang Wei-kuo, a dashing young man who commands Nationalist China's armored corps.

Wei-kuo speaks English well. He is a good mixer and likes fun. His wife is Chinese.

Of the generalissimo's intiof different kinds to look at. Feeling ignorant, I said: "You have to be a geologist and a mineralogist, too, don't you?" "Still more, you have to be an optimist," added Mr. Innes.

"I was in Rupert when there were only two little shacks, in 1903 and '07," Mr. Innes said as he showed me a powerful lighter made from a vitamin B bottle and miner's flint.

"Gold is about 35 an ounce now," I told him of the time when I went down a gold mine in Kalgoorlie, West Australia, and, disappointed to see no gold lying about, demanded of the bank to see some gold before I left, and they showed me bars of gold weighing 700 ounces and worth £7000, gold then being £10 (Australian) an ounce.

Their dog, extraordinarily like a deer, was being put through his paces, counting up to five, two barks to come in, three to eat, and so on, when Mr. Hawe entered. He had recently killed 687 pounds of deer. Eight head four years ago fetched $425 and then we jewed him up. Now $2000 would be nearer the mark. A big moose has been killed near our place. It must have been the old landmark which has been about for 20 years. It took two of us to life his head and he had between 50 and 60 inches spread—a rifle wouldn't rest on his antlers."

A PIONEER LEAVES
Martin Starrett was packing in his cabin at Topley, preparatory to leaving for Hope. On the wall there was a wreath of stag-horn moss, which he was leaving behind on a grave. I had noticed this moss growing (so like that found in many places along the line.

"I don't suppose you know what this is?" he said, unwrapping what looked like a piece of dried meat. "I bought it from an Indian for 50 cents. It is part of the back muscle of a moose, sinew for sewing with. I am going to repair this with it," and he showed me his moose gun case, which had come unstitched.

We studied a miner's map together. "Pinchi means lake-creek. 'Bin chay' it is pronounced in Indian. And 'Ta' in Tachi means three." I would have liked to have stayed longer to hear more from Martin, who knows Indian ways so well, and to hear about the beaver farm which he plans to start near Hope, and the cross which was seen on the mountain there which caused an early missionary to name the place Hope, and I regretfully left him to his packing.

Coalition is Best in Britain

LONDON (AP)—Raymond Blackburn, the only Independent member of the House of Commons is not to be a candidate in Britain's October 25 general election.

"I do not wish to fight old friends," said Blackburn, who was elected as a Labor member in February, 1950, and resigned from the party in August of the same year.

In resigning, Blackburn called for a national government which he said should be headed by Winston Churchill, Conservative leader.

In a statement announcing his intention to remain on the sidelines in the forthcoming election, Blackburn said he still believes a national government is the best solution to Britain's difficulties. He said he will do all he can to hasten the return of a strong government headed by Churchill.

Blackburn represented the Northfield division of Birmingham.

mate associates today, one of the closest is his secretary-general, Dr. Wang Shih-chieh, a tiny, scholarly man long known as a liberal.

Another of his close advisers is General Chang Chun, stout, grave-eyed former premier, also known for his liberal outlook.

Chiang has two homes, one at the fringe of the city, the other about eight miles out. He has his offices at the presidential building in downtown Taipei. It used to be the administrative centre of the Japanese governor-general of Formosa.

The 1,500,000 refugees from China's mainland on this island are keenly interested in Chiang's destiny. His foresight to make Formosa the last-ditch island of the Nationalist cause, when some of his subordinates saw no road ahead except surrender, has attracted an increasing flock of followers.

The mainlanders know that if Chiang returns, they will too. All of them want to get back.

Clatter at Civic Centre

Junior boys' woodwork for the younger members got off with a bang and clatter at Civic Centre Tuesday afternoon. Several new patterns were made in the Halloween design. Witches and cats, pumpkins, etc., were prepared for the coming festivity and are ready for mounting and painting next week.

Several of the parents came to watch, for a very short time only, complaining of the noise of 24 saws to say nothing of the babble of excited voices.

A new work bench is under construction and will afford more room for working.

There is still room for a few more boys ages 6 to 9 years of age.

The wood is supplied through the courtesy of local construction firms free of charge.

The only cost is for broken blades in which case a nickel is required for a new one. Careful workers use very few blades and, as these are available at the class, there is very little delay in the activities.

Those attending the class Tuesday were Michael Bartlett, Bobby Gordon, Christopher Harvey, Bruce Johnston, David Bell, Billy Haugen, Ronnie Dolphin, Donny Scott, Ronnie Daniels, Arthur Tindal, Derek Halliwell, Robin Halliwell, Richard Bowman, Peter John Holland, Garry Calderoni, Neil Lindseth, Bobby McDonald, Ken Dockendorf and Jimmy Bremner, David Kergin, Danny Radford, Jimmy Tough, Silveston, Bruce Mitchell.

Children's Hallowe'en Panned by Kinsmen

Frolic and Shellout Tickets

Confis, fireworks, fun, games and prizes are the main plans of Prince Rupert Kinsmen in their Hallowe'en celebration. The highest number wins the prize of a bicycle. Here is how the plan works: Each student receives 100 tickets. A record will be kept of the number sold and the number redeemed on Hallowe'en night. The largest aggregate total wins the bike. Prizes will also be given to highest numbers sold and redeemed by students in each school. A watch is first prize; wallet, second, and pen and pencil set, third. Bonfires will be held at Conrad Street School, Gyro Park and Totem Park on Hallowe'en night, October 31, where fireworks, free hot dogs, apples, games, entertainment and costumes will be the order of the evening. Kinsmen will be in charge of the fires, and prizes will be given for best costumes, novelty and comedy acts. Funds for these activities are to be raised on Peanut Day, October 27, when Kinsmen will trade a bag of peanuts for any contribution.

Jaycees Talk Alaska Trail
A motion picture was offered last night at the Jaycee meeting by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, ending in a recommendation. The majority who spoke at the meeting, several of whom would never be a recommendation at present. People like that kind of thing should pay for it, on a scale as they do in the States, was their opinion. The Alaska Trail series is a good rate, while some more attention should be given to local talent should be billed along with expensive stars.

PILGRIMAGE
A group of a dozen members of the Prince Rupert Junior Chamber of Commerce will leave for Terra Nova on November 11 to participate in the Remembrance Day Pilgrimage. They will be joined there and later join the Jaycees in a district meeting.

The double-purpose meeting at the Jaycee meeting will call for presentation of the map project and roads project. Items expected to be on the agenda.

While Bonny Sprinkle, I. Whitmore and Roy were appointed by President Hill as a committee to investigate cost and practicality of a district relief map which would show industry and resources of the area.

The costume Hallowe'en party, perhaps the first one in Prince Rupert, will be held a Saturday by the Junior Chamber of Commerce. Every-thing comes must be "in costume."

Prizes will be given for best-dressed. These are the plans decided at the district meeting last night. Although a few members were of the opinion that the party of the event would interest and provide entertainment for all members.

Promoted To Major

Good Work of Staff Captain Poulton in Salvation Army Recognized

In recognition of his effective organizational and evangelical work among the native people of this district during his incumbency in the past two years as area commandant of the Salvation Army, Senior Staff Captain William Poulton has been promoted to rank of major. Announcement of the promotion has been received in a congratulatory letter from Commissioner William R. Dalzell of Toronto.

PROMOTED — Major W. C. Poulton, B.C. Salvation Army commandant.

Major Poulton received his promotion somewhat earlier than the regulation period of twenty years but the Commissioner writes: "I felt that the manner in which you are carrying responsibilities of your present appointment, as well as your record as an officer, justified my proposing to the General that your promotion be agreed to now and I am very happy that the General has approved the proposal."

Major Poulton, born at St. Catharines, Ontario, 45 years ago, was a baker for a time and then entered the work of the Army 18½ years ago at Georgetown, Ontario. Later he served at Lansing and Brampton, Ontario. Then he was overseas for six years with Salvation Army War Services. Returning to Canada, he spent three years in Toronto and three years ago came to Prince Rupert.

Little Theatre To Play Again

With a new executive and casting nearly completed, Prince Rupert Little Theatre is ready to start production of the season's first play, a three-act farce, "Ask Me No Questions." Director is Reg Edwards.

Leading the theatrical group this year is a newcomer to the city, Miss Jean McLeod, R.N., whose enthusiasm and past experience in Little Theatre work brought her the vote.

Others elected are: Mrs. Bernice Woodside, secretary.

Harold Thomas, treasurer, Mrs. Myra Chapple, vice-president.

Mrs. J. S. Black, honorary past president.

Rehearsal nights have been set at Monday and Friday nights and Sunday afternoon, at the Civic Centre auditorium. First Monday of the month is business meeting.

Following executive members were appointed as committee heads:

Mr. Thomas, staging; Kenneth Boulter, reading; Mrs. Miller, makeup; and Mrs. Thomas, properties. Gerry Woodside heads membership and publicity committee; Miss Marisa Windle, advertising.

Canadian Club Enjoys Films

An evening of films was enjoyed by the Women's Canadian Club Wednesday in the Common Lounge of the Civic Centre. Mrs. Davidson and projectionist Mrs. Evans showed films entitled "Majestic Norway," "The Five Towns" (the English Potteries), "Dawn Over Cyrenaica," and "Birds of Canada."

President Mrs. F. E. Anfield told of hearing from Mrs. G. R. S. Blackaby, Past-President, who is now living in Vancouver, and Mrs. T. J. Boulter voiced greetings from Mrs. G. Montgomery, past-treasurer, who is now living in Victoria.

HEINZ puts in the CREAM

You add ONLY water

RESULT: real Cream of Tomato Soup

SAVE 1/2 PINT OF MILK with every tin of HEINZ CREAM OF TOMATO SOUP

When you buy straight Tomato Soup and add an equal amount of milk to produce a soup that tastes something like Cream of Tomato Soup, you lose out on getting a rich creamy flavour and you also lose out on the cost—especially the way prices are today.

Why not buy Cream of Tomato Soup to start with, as made by Heinz. Then you can save on milk and get a better result by simply adding water. Instead of a milky tomato soup you will get the true creamy taste most people enjoy—for Heinz Cream of Tomato Soup is made with thick country cream.

Remember, too, that this soup is much more flavoured because only pedigree tomatoes are good enough for Heinz.

Try a comparison between ordinary tomato soup diluted with milk and Heinz Cream of Tomato Soup with only water added. When you have tasted the wonderful difference you will want to stock up with Heinz and eat happily ever after.

YOU KNOW IT'S GOOD BECAUSE IT'S HEINZ

Education Fingers Stretch Northward

The arm of the law is far-reaching, but running a close second are the outstretched fingers of education which in British Columbia leave little to chance and few stones unturned to bring knowledge to children, wherever they may be.

Take for instance the North coast region, of which Prince Rupert is the hub. The area stretches from Ocean Falls to Stewart and Alice Arm and wherever there are eight to 10 children, there is a schoolhouse.
Approximately 2100 children attend these schools.

In such a scattered area, one might expect to find mostly primitive-type schools, but such is not the case, says Schools Inspector G. W. Graham. The standard of schools is high.

In the Bella Coola Valley, for example, stands a four-room elementary high school which "compares favorably" with Prince Rupert's new King Edward school. Located at Hagensborg, 12 miles east of Bella Coola and practically in the centre of the valley, 100 students are taught in the Alexander McKenzie Gon-solidated from grades I to XII.

At Firvale, 27 miles up the valley, is a one-room school attended by the sons and daughters of valley farmers—pioneers mostly, who carved a niche for themselves out of woody wilderness.

"You need go only a few miles further east and you see the real wilderness, where the valley narrows to a gorge. After that it's God's country," says Mr.
Graham, who visits this easternmost part of his territory twice a year.

In Ocean Falls, a modern addition to the elementary high school will be officially opened by Education Minister W. T. Straith November 9, the day after opening of the new schools in Prince Rupert.

The modern addition which includes industrial arts and home economic rooms, a gymnasium and classrooms will make the Charleson school a place of which all the students will be proud.

Charleson, by the way, was renamed this year from Ocean Falls School, in honor of the late Alex Charleson who died recently following more than a decade of service as school board secretary.

Inspector Graham, who makes a point to visit each school in his district at least twice a year, finds only one major difficulty,
"but even that can be turned into fun."

TRANSPORTATION
DIFFICULTY
It's transportation. At many semi-isolated school centres, ships call once a week; at some, less than that. And so the inspector hitches rides on fish-boats, tugboats, hires cabs, takes planes, or a combination of all on a tour to visit schools.

Schools like those at Namu, Ella Bella and Bella Bella Airport may be out the way, but fishermen usually sail in and out of these ports quite regularly.

MINING CAMPS
But in the Portland Canal district—Alice Arm, Stewart or Premier—commercial means of communication call once a week
"and it's always a good visit when I get up there," Mr.
Graham says. "Five days of it,
using both plane and boat."

Alice Arm school is closed this year, however, for lack of attendance. At Stewart, a superior school teaching 50 children from grades I to XI. At Premier, eight miners' children are taught elementary grades, and at the newly opened school in Tulsequah, on the Taku River, 16 students take grades I to X.

And to prove the nobility of the teaching profession, Mr.
Graham points out that it has been little or no problem to obtain teachers for these backwoods schools. Including Prince Rupert, there are 85 teachers from Ocean Falls to Stewart, and "they are as fine and conscientious a lot I want to see."

"Teaching isn't only a job—it's a responsibility—maybe that's the answer."

Himself a teacher for 25 years in the Fraser Valley—18 years at Chilliwack High School—Mr.
Graham has a word for Prince Rupert students.

"Beyond a doubt, students graduating here have a greater chance for success right in their home area than many other urban centre students have.
Wherever there is industry, there is opportunity—and industry pays for most of our education."

New areas of industry are now under way, and this will mean more people, and children. Kitti-mat, Kemano Bay, South Bent-tick Arm—even Port Edward,
will be asking for schools soon,
and the fingers of education must stretch out to satisfy the demands of civilization.

The modern addition which in-

AGED FURNACES HEAT ROBBERS

The owner of an average heating system five or more years old is warned by National Warm Air Heating Association that the odds are 7 to 10 his winter heating bill is at least 10 percent more than necessary.

This is because 7 out of 10 older type systems of heating are in need of repairing and cleaning. Air leaks in and around furnace combustion chamber, soot in the chimney or furnace, warped burned bars, corroding smoke pipe all create loss of heat right in the furnace itself. Therefore using more fuel to keep the proper temperature.

Heating experts report that home owners are "robbing Peter to pay Paul" through use of improper firing methods and negligence in furnace maintenance.

The majority of costly repairs could have been avoided if owners had followed a regular program of having heating systems inspected each year, says the heating association. Minor repairs can add longer service to heating systems and insure health and safety of families.

Alaska Going Back to Church, Declares Ketchikan Pastor

The spiritual awakening and the return-to-the-church trend, which has been so noticeable in the United States of late, is also being experienced in Alaska, reports Rev. Wyburn Skidmore, pastor of First Methodist Church at Ketchikan, who returned north last night on the Prince George after a two-day visit to the city to study the impact of new industrial developments here on church activities.

While here Mr. Skidmore met with local ministers to get first hand information on the situation in this city in regard to the churches and religious life.

Mr. Skidmore says he is getting turn-outs of upwards of 150 at his church on a Sunday morning but confesses that they do not attend so well in the evening. A score or so of High School pupils who come regularly is a healthy sign.

The movement back to church is no terrific upsurge but it is a slowly-moving tide. Last year his church received 75 new members including some businessmen who had been out of church for years.

"The churches are playing an increasing part in Alaska life," Mr. Skidmore told the Daily News "but we have to work hard to foster and develop the activity and influence of the church."

The Alaskan pastor told of the methods used to attract people, particularly the young, to church. "We are trying to make the church interesting and entertaining with large choirs and vital preaching, geared to the times, rather than platitudinous lecturing."

When First Methodist Church at Ketchikan put on a fiftieth anniversary celebration recently one hundred persons took part in a pageant and the attendance numbered four hundred.

Week nights there are games such as pool and ping pong in the Parish Hall where a coke machine is operated.

At Sunday school the children get cocoa and doughnuts.

With 35 liquor outlets at Ketchikan, employing 140 persons, a political influence is wielded in the life of the community but, the visiting pastor said: "It's at least out in the open and one who wants to drink doesn't have to hide it." He does not defend the use of liquor but feels that the Alaskan system may be better than British Columbia's.

One thing Mr. Skidmore has noted in Ketchikan is the deplorable tendency of third and fourth year High School boys to start drinking—"and then the church loses them."

MACARTHUR BOOSTS TAFT?
MILWAUKEE—The Milwaukee Journal says in a copyright story that Gen. Douglas MacArthur has given the word that he favors Senator Robert A. Taft (R) of Ohio for president.

General MacArthur wants his supporters in Wisconsin to back Senator Taft in the 1952 spring presidential primary, the Journal says.

INDIANS AUCTION

many of them are preparing to sell some of the hoarded family jewels.

In the same way the Maharajahs and other princely rulers, despite the privy purses granted them by the government since their states were merged with the Indian Union, find themselves short of foreign currency.

The best way to finance a trip to Europe or America, they find, is to sell off a few of the family rubies or diamonds for dollars.

Many of the prices and landowners have jewels enough to keep their families in affluence for generations, for there has always been a tendency in India to invest money in solid treasure.

Most Indians, of whatever class, as soon as they have a little money to spare, put it into gold or diamonds—either gold sovereigns, a gold bar to bury in the earth to provide a dowry later for a daughter's wedding, or gold and diamond jewelry to decorate their wives.

FROZEN WEALTH
This is still the practice, particularly among the middle classes and country people, and is partly responsible for the shortage of investment money in India.

But the economic stringencies of the times are beginning to bring out from the coffers of the landed and princely rich some of this "frozen wealth."

No one quite knows just what the jewel wealth of India may be. Many rulers made lists of their jewelry when their states were merged, but it is not certain that even these were complete.

One of the few to provide a complete and clear list of private property was the meticulous Nizam of Hyderabad, richest man in India, who had decided to sell most of his $28,000,000 jewel treasure to form a family trust.

The value and quantity of the jewels of Baroda, next most famous after those of Hyderabad, are less certainly known. They include the finest pearl necklace in the world, formed of seven strings, each pearl being of immense size, and a diamond necklace with two enormous diamonds known as "Star of the South" and "Shake Akbar."

The Jodhpur jewel house contains gems estimated at $8,400,000, including one of the oddest items of jewelry on record—a pair of scintillating diamond eye-brows, held in place by hooks over the ears.

Ulysses's Proposal

There is something to be said for the editorial proposal of Ulysses, University of British Columbia student publication, for an exchange of university students between the Soviet Republic and the Western World with a view to developing understanding and possible co-operation. In any case, the proposal is one that should be viewed dispassionately and not dismissed without some serious consideration.

The Soviet has complained that we in the western world have not a true picture of the situation behind the Iron Curtain. We have said that it has been difficult for impartial observers to get behind the Iron Curtain and, if they do get there, to be permitted to freely and fully see the scene as it actually is.

It is true enough that the primary cause of the unrest and wars and rumors of wars today is from the lack of trust—misunderstanding, if you would call it that—between the Soviet and the western world.

There is reason to believe that Russia is waging an unfair propaganda—a war of nerves—and obviously enough her representatives are not doing a good deal to co-operate so that mutual understanding and trust might be arrived at.

On the other hand, Soviet Russia claims, fairly and fairly, that the western world—particularly the United States—is likewise offending.

So the misunderstanding and the distrust goes on, as long as it continues, there will be wars and rumors of wars.

It is elementary that there must be understanding and goodwill before there is peace in the world. The only way of establishing and being assured of good faith is for either side to really know and understand what is going on in the other.

And the only way to do that is to mingle and get together. That is why there is really something to be said for the Ulysses proposal.

Fair and trusted observers such as exchange university students, might be able to really do something to relieve the tension that is creating such a spectacle in the world today with crisis following crisis and fires burning that might at any time develop into catastrophic international explosion.

Margarine Discrimination

Two of Canada's provinces margarine is banned altogether. In seven, margarine has a color bar. It may be tinted a pale, insipid ivory. If some of the other people had their way, even that would not be tolerated.

Despite the fact that jams, cheese and many other wholesome food products, including butter, are colored and it is perfectly legal to do so, the people protested that it would be unfair to color margarine.

Now a group of dairy farmers have brought their own butter substitute, a product made of milk and cream. (Butter is made entirely of milk.) And what do we find?

Right on the label it is admitted that this new butter is artificially colored and it is selling freely where the sale of margarine is forbidden. Canadian consumers are heartily tired of this excuse about restricting margarine. There is not the slightest excuse for any discrimination in color. The whole affair is shameful and ridiculous. There has been some strong talk, at Ottawa and here recently, about the high handed dairy legislators have acted in this margarine business. We are not so free of that sort of thing in Canada, either.—Financial Post.

Men of Wax

LONDON.—I got fed up with politics today, not because British politics are any duller than ours, but because I have had too much of them, all in a lump.

So I went to Madame Tussaud's famous waxworks instead to see if it looked as interesting as on my one and only other visit, which was way back in 1915.

Even there politics pursued me. For there is a full panel of members of the present Labor government with famous Conservatives, headed by Churchill, right alongside.

RANDY TURPIN is there now, too, standing as large as life but looking about half the size of Joe Louis who is next to him. Randy does not rate a number yet but his whole name is printed in full.

Canadians still in the famous showplace are Bonar Law, the only Canadian-born British Prime Minister; Colonel Cecil Merritt, VC, and Barbara Ann Scott.

There seems to me to be a wide variation in the lifelikeness of the figures. The group showing the living members of the Royal Family is superb. But the late King George V is shown as much more anemic looking than I remember him. That goes for Franklin Roosevelt, too. And I don't think anybody would recognize President Truman, much less General MacArthur. The latter is shown without his famous cap and without his hair brushed clear across his head to cover the bald spot.

THE QUESTION arises about these famous figures: At what age should they be shown?

If a man like George Bernard Shaw rated a place in Tussaud's while still alive, naturally they had to show him as much like he is as possible. Thus when Shaw was living at 90, they had to have a 90-year-old man. But once the famous man passed, would it not be better to show him to future generations in his prime rather than hoary with old age?

I NOTICED Pitt the Younger Robert Burns and Charles Wilberforce are all shown without any traces of the arthritis from which they all suffered.

Neville Chamberlain has no umbrella. Ramsay MacDonald lacks the look of gloom and doom that always seemed to hang about him. Nehru is shown several shades too dark in skin color. Molotov's head in wax misses the bullet shape which is its main feature. Old Joe Stalin is made to look taller than he appears in pictures standing beside Churchill. Franco is given a smile like an angel.

These are petty criticisms, registered only to show I really did look carefully and admiringly at the whole works. The figures of the present King and Queen are tops, that of Princess Elizabeth especially superb.

I HEAR that the BBC not long ago had stunt men stay the night in the famous chamber of horrors but that even they came out badly shaken. I don't wonder. There in one room you see the personification of so much that is evil and terrible in the human race.

But you come out of that chamber more cheerful than you go in, in one respect at least. When you see all the old torture instruments and see so many terrible proofs of man's inhumanity to man, you think to yourself in most respects the world has grown better, more humane.

But there in the chamber of horrors is also Hitler, the reminder that the most literate, most scientific, most Christianized country on earth was the pace-setter in totalizing the war system so that whole nations literally organized to stop at nothing to try to win their ends.

ANYWAY, it's a great show. If they took it on tour and showed it in every great city, they could rake in enough money in America alone to help close that "dollar gap" they talk about.

CALLED JUST ONCE

Doubtless a few more moose stories can be expected in Skeena this year. The last we recall occurred some time ago in New Hazelton. The game wandered close enough home to be shot by the lady of the house, firing from her bedroom. Not more than a single ball was needed. That moose provided a pretty fair story and first rate flavor along with fancy cooking.

A battery in Detroit fired a salute of 43 guns when the Princess and Prince spent a day in Windsor (Ontario) across the river. It is not for us to say just what will transpire when they find themselves below the folds of Old Glory itself, in another few weeks.

"About this time of the season in 1926," remarked John Currie, pioneer contractor, Tuesday, "five inches of snow fell in Prince Rupert. I remember it well. And for the rest of the winter, there was no snow whatever. Rain was not particularly heavy, nor was the cold severe."

After filming a play in Africa, Hollywood people are back home, with not even a favorable word about where they were and what they witnessed. No one is so blind as the individual who refuses to see. What do they know about the Dark Continent? A land to fear—and feel fascinated by.

A professor makes bold to observe that most everyone has his share of bad breaks. Even an occasional motorist in the Skeena valley!

Premier Atlee is down to make fifty speeches before election day. It is reported he will not speak in Scotland. Talking politics is a thirsty business—but it's not at all essential to be always on the banks of Loch Lomond to feel refreshed.

LET'S DO SOMETHING

Editor, Daily News: Here's hoping the city council will be able to do something instead of just talk about the deplorable situation of indiscriminate parking all over the city.

Three days have passed since Ald. Black very appropriately—if a little late—brought the matter up and some of the wrecks we still see unmoved.

In fact, passing along McBride Street last night, we saw a new one. This jallopy was even over the curb timber with one front wheel on the already narrow sidewalk. Possibly, of course, we just happened to be passing at the time and it was not to remain long. Others on McBride Street have been there for months. Surely someone is responsible.

It is not good enough to say that nothing can be done about it. If there is the will to do it, something could be done, no doubt.

Meantime, this parking situation is not only an eyesore but a danger to other cars and pedestrians alike. Let's not wait until somebody gets killed and a coroner's jury makes some recommendations.

How Good Can Coffee Taste?

TO find the answer—"cream" your coffee with Carnation Evaporated Milk. Even the best cup of coffee tastes better with Carnation—richer flavored, smoother, more appetizing. Yet Carnation costs only about half as much as light cream. Try it. Discover why millions of critical coffee drinkers prefer Carnation to cream in coffee.

WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT CARNATION

CARNATION is milk, made double-rich by evaporation. It is heavy enough to whip. And it is homogenized and heat-refined, so the last drop in the can is as creamy as the first.

USE IT LIKE CREAM in coffee or tea . . . on cereals, fruits and desserts . . . in recipes that call for cream.

FOR EVERY MILK PURPOSE mix half Carnation, half water, to get fine pasteurized, whole milk—but extra smooth and extra rich in vitamin D. Get Carnation next time you shop.

Timely RECIPES

GUMBO WITH RICE

6 cups hot cooked rice
1 slice ham, diced
1 large stewing hen
2 tablespoons ham fat
1 green pepper, chopped
1 small onion, minced
1 sprig thyme or parsley, minced
1 No. 2 can tomatoes
4 okra pods, sliced
2 quarts boiling water
Salt and pepper to taste
1 bay leaf

PREPARING THE FLUFFY WHITE RICE: To make 6 quarts of rice, put 2 cups of uncooked rice, 4 cups of cold water and 2 teaspoons salt in a large saucepan and cover with a tight-fitting lid. Bring to a vigorous boil. Then reduce the heat as low as possible and steam for 14 minutes or until all the water is absorbed, leaving the separate rice grains with their full nutritional value. This makes very firm rice grains. (If you prefer more tender rice grains, add 2/3 cup more water and increase the slow cooking time 4 or 5 minutes). Remove the lid, permit the rice to steam dry to the desired consistency and the grains will be separate and fluffy. Never stir rice; lift rice gently with a fork.

METHOD: Cut up the chicken and season with salt and pepper. Heat fat in soup kettle. Add chicken and ham, cover and let simmer for ten minutes. Then add onion, pepper and thyme, tomatoes and sliced okra pods. Now add the boiling water and let simmer for two hours. Serve in a tureen. Accompany with a bowl of hot rice. Or serve in soup bowls with a generous mound of hot rice.

CHEESE-BEANBURGERS ON BUNS

Combine the beans, onion, pickle and Worcestershire sauce. Add salt and pepper to taste. Split each bun and spread the top half with mayonnaise. Place a mound of the bean mixture on each bottom half of the buns and top with a slice of cheese. Place all halves under a moderate broiler until the cheese is melted and the top halves are lightly browned.

- 1 15-oz. can or 2 cups baked beans, drained and chopped
- 2 tablespoons minced onion
- 4 tablespoons chopped sour pickle
- 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- 1/2 cup salt and pepper
- 6 round buns
- 6 pre-packaged pasteurized process Canadian cheese slices

Gyros Go Fishing With Joe Scott

A thrilling two-and-a-half hour battle by Gyro Bob McLuskie of Vancouver for a fighting 43-pound spring salmon at Bine Channel in the Gardner Canal area highlighted a program of coastal moving pictures yesterday afternoon when Joe Scott entertained the Gyro Club with a colorful pictorial delineation of big-time angling exploits of himself and companions.

Nor was the program without many a delightful scenic sequence in waters ranging from the Fitzhugh Sound area on the south, northward through the inside passage, into rugged Gardner Canal and Douglas Channel and then across to the Queen Charlotte Islands.

President Don Forward presided over an interested audience of Gyros and one guest in the person of Frank Boreham of Vancouver.

Ben Parker, chairman of the committee in charge, pepped the Gyros up in readiness for the annual Apple Day this Saturday when the service club members and their helpers will take to the streets to sell luscious Macintosh Reds by the apple, the bag or for a cash fund for playground projects and obligations.

The Gyros are also busy on the telephone these days calling up everyone in the book for box lot orders.

BULWICH, England — The vicar of St. Peter's church here decided not to hold the annual bazaar this year. Instead he asked persons who usually attend to save the money they would have spent and give it to the church.

Gardening....

MONTH OF SPRING COLOR POSSIBLE FROM DAFFODILS

Daffodils, first major flowers to bloom in the spring, have been cultivated in gardens almost as long as tulips.

While limited in color range, they vary much in form and season of bloom. By using all available types, and selecting early, midseason and late varieties, daffodils can be kept blooming during two spring months.

Varities suitable for garden borders are classified as:
Large Trumpets, in which the trumpet is as large as the perianth (surrounding petals). Colors include yellow, white and bicolor, in which the trumpet is yellow and the perianth white, or the reverse.

Incomparabils, with medium length trumpets, of yellow, white, orange, red or flushed pink, combined with perianth of white or yellow.

Barri, with small trumpets or cups, with color range similar to Incomparabils.

Leeds, having white perianths and white or sulphur medium trumpets.

Poets, with white perianths and small red or orange cups. Jonquils which are not suited for a cold climate, except with heavy protection. They bear fragrant flowers in clusters.

There are also small flowering varieties suitable for rock gardens, and cluster-flowered varieties called "poetaz" which are attractive in flower arrangements. Double-flowered daffodils are more curious than beautiful, but many like them for flower arrangements.

Among all these types there are some varieties which blossom early, and others which are late, though most varieties blossom between the two extremes. To prolong the flowering season it pays to search out these early and late kinds and make sure that a few of both are included in your planting.

Early varieties include: Trumpet Aerolite, all yellow; Mrs. E. H. Krelage, all white; Beersheba, all white; Incomparabilis, Fortune, orange trumpet; Sir Watkin, yellow trumpet.

Late varieties include all the poets narcissi, the double Daphne and Alba Plena Odorata; the Barri Fireball, with orange cup, and the Incomparabilis Dick Weiband, with orange trumpet; and the all-yellow large trumpet variety Successor.

Daffodils can be grown in locations which are shaded after the leaves of trees and shrubs develop, because by that time daffodil blooms have gone. The so-called pink varieties should never be in light shade, since the flush of pink which is seen faintly in their apricot trumpet fades away in the sunlight.

It is important to plant the bulbs early enough so they start growth and form roots before being frozen. Freezing will destroy dormant bulbs, and they will decay during the winter, but growing bulbs are rarely injured by cold, though they are destroyed by poor drainage.

A Red Ribbon Cook needs a red ribbon range... and that's exactly what a new FRIGIDAIRE ELECTRIC RANGE is! It's lovely to look at — with its Lifetime Porcelain finish and high back panel. And there's a built-in Lumaline lamp that lights the entire cooking area. This new range cooks like "magic"... with Radiant-Tube Cooking Units which are so much faster, yet use less current. But words can't describe its "wonder oven" that bakes and broils at the same time — gives me a two-temperature oven automatically controlled by the Cook-Master Clock Control. I hope you'll see the Frigidaire Electric Range soon, at your nearby Frigidaire dealer. Ask him about his generous trade-in offer and easy payment terms.

Just How does Dentocein, the new penicillin tooth powder, reduce tooth decay so effectively? That's a question you've probably wanted to ask, ever since you read that DENTOCEIN reduced decay 55% in a 2-year test among school children (which, incidentally, was 5 times the reduction reported for a leading university's ammoniated formula). Here's the answer: Penicillin stops the formation of enamel-eating acids more effectively than any other substance known. It is the only anti-decay ingredient that provides continued anti-decay action — up to 24 hours. That's why Dentocein gives such remarkable results with just morning and evening brushing. Tastes wonderful, too. Really cleans teeth. 75c for 3 months' supply. I suggest you try Dentocein, right away.

As Every Experienced Homemaker Knows — no matter how good food you buy or how expert you are at preparing it, meal-getting depends on good cooking utensils. That's why aluminum is a favourite in so many Canadian kitchens. You see, aluminum is friendly to food... it protects its purity, taste and flavour... assures its cleanliness and wholesomeness. What's more, aluminum distributes heat evenly and quickly... therefore economically. Light, durable and clean... aluminum cooking utensils are used in homes across Canada. All reasons why you can't go wrong when you use aluminum!

A Letter From A Reader says "I'm so glad I read about ZONITOL in your column. It's difficult to find out about a subject like this. I'd just like to say that ZONITOL is the most effective I've found. Husbands Are Often Slow getting started with their "home-owner" chores — but once they've begun — shutters get taken down — cellar gets cleaned — leaves get burned — work quick! And that often means sore muscles after a hard day's work! Well — don't just let your husband "grin in" bear with it! Chase "Peter Pan" away in a hurry with BEN-GAY (Baume Bengel) Just smoo-o-th it on where hubby hurts. Its soothing warmth gives wonderfully fast relief from the pain of sore muscles, chest colds, rheumatism or neuralgia! That's because BEN-GAY contains up to 2 1/2 times more of those two famous pain-relieving agents — methyl salicylate and menthol — than 5 other widely offered rub-ins. Contains skin-soothing lanolin, too! Better keep Ben-Gay handy! — just 75c a tube!

Borden Street Fills
Vacancies—Outstanding
Picture Display

Tuesday evening's regular meeting of the Borden Street School Parent-Teacher Association took place to fill vacancies on the executive. Mrs. J. Riddale was unanimously named as secretary; Miss L. Smith, program convener; Mrs. L. M. Greene, representative to the Dental Clinic committee and president Mrs. A. Logan to the Citizenship committee. The appointment of a Council representative was left to the executive.

The support of all members was sought for the Alaska Music Trail series of concerts.

"Young Canada Book Week" was also drawn to the attention of the parents. The financial statement presented by Mrs. P. Bond was satisfactory.

The resolution against daylight saving time was unanimously endorsed with notable contributions to the discussion being made by Rae Johnson and A. MacKay. Mrs. Logan, president, conducted the proceedings.

Mrs. Lincham was in charge of refreshments.

FINE PICTURES

Feature of the instructive and enjoyable gathering was the showing of two colored moving pictures of British Columbia. They were shown by Rae Johnson who had taken them. The area covered was mostly the timbered country to be cut by the Columbia Cellulose Corporation in their wood operations. The views were breath-taking in their vivid pictures of the natural beauty of the district. To many who were familiar with the area as seen from the ground, the air view was a revelation.

Mr. Johnson commented freely on the features of the scenes both from a scenic as well as from an industrial point of view. Altogether the reel was outstanding.

Central Interior TRAVELS

... Evangeline Vann's Diary

Still learning. Discovered too late had given taximan ten cents short. Was asked for "four bits," and thought a "bit" was ten cents. Wonder if nomenclature had anything to do with "pieces of eight."

Talked to children of Topley school. Still looking in vain for signs of truth in statement expressed vehemently by Canadian youth about Canadian children: "They chew you up, and then spit you out."

Was invited to join in farewell ceremony for R. H. Eaton, Vic Aro and Ed Dombroski, returning to Nanaimo Biological Fishery station after spending the summer on Babine Lake.

On way to W.I. monthly meeting watched hotel acquaintance grading and selecting timber. Members discussed problem of meal-times when railway workers, and schools on different times in summer. Statement made by one member: "Money's a minus quantity, very few people have any." found most provocative especially in these times.

Had a cup of tea with Mrs. Heenan. Surmised was with knitting expert, when saw pair of finished socks. Commented on similarity of wool to that of Mrs. Waton's homespun at Telkwa.

Found was same. "Do you know anything about horticulture?" was asked. Was able to identify canna lily in pot in flower. Very popular as spectacular bedding plant in Australia. Asking about prospecting these days, was told "One summer, for three months, we took soundings in the creek mouths from Topley Landing to the S.E. end of the lake, and sent samples to be analyzed. We would put up a fly, and stay a day or two in one place." As left to go, old friend Mrs. Westberg entered. Had last seen her on Pinkut Lake where cooking for Rupert boys in Forestry camp, and had partaken of "moreish" peanut butter cookies.

AS WINTER COMES
Moon riding high, and specks of sparkling frost on ground and crunchy grass under foot, as emerged from house of family lamenting lack of medical and dental facilities in district. Wish could do something about it. Knocked at door of handsome caravan parked near. Positively palatial inside. Owners reading and doing jig-saw. Wished remain anonymous, but having lovely holiday. Killed friendly fly with copy of Daily News. Good deed for day.

Rotary Choir Progressive

The bass section was noticeably stronger at the regular weekly practice of the Rotary Mixed Choir which took place at Booth Memorial High School on Tuesday evening with a good turnout of members. However, the tenor section needs more singers. The ladies' parts are more satisfactory from the point of view of numbers.

New music has been received and four of the new selections were under consideration at the practice. Future practices will be held in the Civic Centre on Tuesday evenings as before and would-be members are urged to join at once or otherwise they will be unable to keep up with those who have already been in attendance. The response of the regular members is most encouraging and already unusual interest is being taken in the selections.

The choir members are getting over the initial difficulties of adapting themselves to organized choral singing, and the blend and interpretation are both much improved.

THE EXPERTS Say...

By KAY REX
Canadian Press Staff Writer

FUN AT PARTIES. — Parties can be fun, if there's no headaches over the "quantity" problem. In other words, just how much coffee is needed for the church wienie roast? Or how much cocoa should be prepared for little Susie's birthday party? The answer is a "quantity" chart.

Cocoa to serve 100: One pound cocoa; five cups sugar; two teaspoons salt; two cups cold water; six quarts boiling water; 13 quarts hot milk. Mix cocoa, salt, sugar, add cold water and one quart boiling water. Cook 30 minutes, stirring frequently. Add remainder of hot milk and water.

Coffee to serve 100: One and three-quarter pounds coffee; two eggs; one teaspoon salt; five gallons boiling water. Beat eggs and add crushed shell and salt with one-half cup of cold water. Boil gently for 15 or 20 minutes and then remove bag of coffee and shells.

Tea to serve 100: One pound tea; five gallons boiling water. The tea loosely in a double thickness of cheesecloth. Cover tightly and set aside for five to eight minutes in a place where it won't boil. Remove the bag before serving.

SANDWICH HINT.—One large sandwich loaf (three pounds); cuts 60 to 70 slices. One small sandwich loaf cuts 20 slices. One large loaf requires half a pound of butter and three-quarters to one pound of spread filling.

One quart of either bulk or brick ice cream will serve 10 to 12 persons.

PIES ALWAYS HELP.—Pies make tasty desserts at any time. Here's a recipe for pumpkin pie filling calculated to bring all kinds of compliments from the head of the house.

Ingredients: One pint pumpkin; pint milk; two eggs beaten. Mix one teaspoon cinnamon; one-half teaspoon cloves; one teaspoon ginger; pinch salt; one cup sugar. Add dry ingredients to liquids and pour into uncooked pie shell. Bake.

Butterscotch pie also is attractive, particularly to anyone with a sweet tooth for desserts.

Ingredients: One tablespoon melted butter; two tablespoons flour; two egg yolks; one cup milk; one cup brown sugar. Mix butter and mix in flour. Add well beaten egg yolks, milk and sugar and boil in a double-boiler until it thickens. Bake shell and pour in cooked mixture. Make meringue of white of eggs.

HEALTH HINTS.—Did you know "varley meats" such as heart, liver, kidney, tongue, brains and sweetbreads are just as healthful as the better known cuts of meat? Health officials also say they provide all the proteins, minerals and vitamins of the more expensive meats. They also can be made into tasty dishes.

New Forestry Officer Here

A new official for the central British Columbia area is being stationed at Prince Rupert in connection with the provincial Forest Branch service. He is William Hepper, University of British Columbia graduate, who is coming this week-end from Victoria to assume the duties of parks and recreational officer. His work has to do with the supervision of provincial parks and recreation areas and his jurisdiction is in both the Prince George and Prince Rupert forestry districts with headquarters in Prince Rupert. Accompanying Mr. Hepper here is his wife and family.

Other recent new additions to the Forest Branch staff here are L. J. Asnton, clerk from Vancouver, and Frank Longair, radio operator. The latter is also accompanied by his wife and family.

90 Years Old; Feels Like 28

EDMONTON — Mrs. M. A. Jewell of Edmonton who recently celebrated her 90th birthday said she feels more like 28.

Born in Ottawa in 1861, Mrs. Jewell came to Alberta in 1913 to settle in the Edmonton district.

From childhood days on the farm she recalled the time when her father was called out to help against the Fenians on one of their raids from across the United States border.

Mrs. Jewell, still active and keen of mind, spends much time reading, knitting and sewing. Bothered by arthritis, she cannot get around as much as she would like.

Mrs. Jewell is the oldest in a family of nine and has a brother of 85 in Philadelphia.

Bright Ensembles Of Miss New York Fascinate Expert

By DOROTHY WADDINGTON
NEW YORK (Reuters). — New York women turn the streets of their city into a blaze of color which makes Paris look almost like an monochrome by comparison.

But for all her gay use of the rainbow, Miss New York does not achieve as much individuality as Miss Paris does against a background that is basically black. There is a lot to be said for both sides.

Certainly, arriving in New York after years in Paris, I was impressed by the American woman's extensive and varied use of color in her ensembles, and I felt almost drab in Paris black and white. This gay "Painter's Palette" look I find as American as the chic look in French.

The girls strolling down Fifth Avenue are one of the city's most striking attributes, and for beauty en masse, outliving anything that Paris has to offer. Their well-cut suits are highlighted with brilliant yellows, oranges or greens. Startling red and vivid green accessories accompany navy and black introducing a gay note to the busy streets.

These healthy girls have little need for make-up, and most seem sensible enough to leave their sun-kissed complexions with only a dash of powder and a touch of lipstick.

The Parisienne always maintains her chic. Heavy make-up is an essential part of her grooming. Even at 9 a.m. with her eternal fishnet market bag, a French woman is completely made up.

Her hair is always impeccable as everyone, from "Chateau Madames" to secretaries, pay a weekly visit to the "coiffeur." However they never obtain the glossy sheen and soft natural curl so current in this country.

FOP LONG SERVICE — The Parisian wears black, undoubtedly due to the fact that her clothes are planned for many years' service. New accessories will be added every season but they will consist of a white collar, gold pin or a new way of knotting a long rope of pearls.

The American college girl has available to her a group of clothes that a Parisienne could never find, even in her favorite specialty shop.

Miss America is offered tweed shirt built over a crinoline, adding femininity to tailored fabric. Practical corduroy is more exciting than ever when interpreted in prints and checks and used even for dance frocks.

The girl in this country gives a smart touch to her ensemble with a scarf knotted at the neckline, twin pins at the waist or on the shoulder. But I don't like the way ten of them will wear an identical veil in an identical way.

One of the best features of fashion here is the combination of French and American designing. Often, in Paris, I have ad-

LONDON — Complete nomination returns today for the British general election October 27 gave 47 Conservatives, 12 Liberal and six Laborite seats by acclamation.

SAN FRANCISCO — The Japanese freighter, Yonan Maru, was given up for lost today, following distress signals she was sinking and needed immediate assistance. Three searching ships found only part of a cargo of logs.

Highest prices of the season for halibut were recorded at Prince Rupert during the week. Canadian prices were 115 and three cents to the Vera Beatrice. American fish sold for 124 and four cents.

Skipper Bill Wrathall's party was the only hunting group from the Yacht Club successful last week-end, bagging two deer in Tucks Inlet. Many others were out but without success.

mired a little suit worn by a mannequin strutting through Dior's salon—while I wondered how I could wear it. Here, I find an interpretation which retains all the excitement of the original but can go anywhere.

American designers pick up a jutting path pocket, a sloping Lanvin or a Desses apron and create a completely new fashion that seems ideally suited to the 1951 way of living.

The best lesson which Americans can learn from the French woman is probably her truly individual way of dressing. Income bracket has nothing to do with her constant search to express her own personality and allure. A good part of her life is devoted to research on her wardrobe, and even if she can afford a Dior model she will modify it to suit her personal style.
