VANCOUVER.—An inquiry into the collision between the steamships Prince Rupert and Princess Kathleen, near Prince Rupert, ordered by Minister of Transport Lionel Chevrier, commenced today in Vancouver. The probe is to be conducted by Capt. J. C. Barber. The hearing is private. Findings will be transmitted to the Department of Transport.

Showdown At 'Frisco

Truman Challenges Russia Gromyko Starts Blocking

SAN FRANCISCO.—United States and Great Britain today faced immediate showdown with Russia over control of the Japanese treaty conference after President Truman challenged the Soviets to make good their talk by signing the treaty. The Kremlin's chief delegate, Andrei Gromyko, heard the President's challenge at the conference opening last night. "The treaty now before us offers more than talks of peace," Truman said. "It offers action for peace. This conference will show, therefore, who seeks to make peace and who seeks to prevent it, who wishes to put an end to the war and who wishes to continue it."

Under British and American plans the conference should end Saturday with the signing of the treaty by all but a few of the 52 delegations present.

Privately members of both delegations say Russia's tactics may be to force it to run over to next week.

Truman's speech pictured the treaty as affording Japan an opportunity "to win friendship and trust of other peoples over years to come." He reminded the Japanese, however, that "the United States has not forgotten Pearl Harbor or Bataan" and made it plain that softening of its memories will depend upon Japan's future conduct.

The President was applauded when he praised highly the part General MacArthur had played in bringing Japan to its new status during the occupation.

Russia today blocked immediate adoption of British-American rules for control of the Japanese Peace conference and protested Red China's absence from the meeting.

"The Chinese people have an indisputable right to take part in the settlement of peace with Japan," Andrei Gromyko, head of the Soviet delegation, told the conference.

He asked for immediate action, but State Secretary Dean Acheson, chairman, said the Soviet proposal was out of order. The ruling was sustained, with Poland and Czechoslovakia dissenting, and the conference then turned to discussion of rules of procedure.

Six Trains Weekly On Local Rail Line

Service To Be Doubled Between Jasper and Prince Rupert as From September 30

Passenger train service between Jasper and Prince Rupert will be increased from three to six days per week, effective September 30, and details of the new service will be published very shortly, according to a telegram received by the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce from J. R. McMillan, vice-president in charge of western lines at Winnipeg.

For some time, it has been known that an increase in the train service on this line had been under consideration, shortage of equipment having caused its deferment until this time. Greatly increased traffic along the line as a result of new industrial developments—namely the Columbia Cellulose Co. and the Aluminum Co. of Canada—as well as the continued expansion of timber industry generally, have been actuating factors.

Doubling of the passenger train service will bring employment of augmented train and service crews all along the line.

One of the factors of advantage will be the relieving of delays which are now being experienced in the unloading of increased mail and express along the line.

As far as can be learned there will be no change in the daily timing of the trains. It is understood the trains will arrive daily except Monday and leave daily except Sunday.

It is the first time in many years that the Prince Rupert line has had six days a week train service.

CLEVELAND.—Chicago White Sox pushed over two runs in the eleventh inning Tuesday night to defeat Cleveland 3-1 which dropped the Indians once again into second place in the feverish American League pennant race.

Seven or eight passengers, freight and mail were stranded at Sandspit overnight due to fog, Canadian Pacific Airlines officials said here today. Low-lying fog on the coastal areas of Queen Charlotte Islands the last few days has seriously hampered air communication.

Yesterday, fog-bound Sandspit—where change from land to sea plane on the Prince Rupert-Vancouver flight is made—prevented landing of CPA Canso amphibian to make connections with the Vancouver-based Dakotas.

Northbound passengers remained at the CPA staff house overnight but an attempt will be made to clear the airport today, said the CPA office. Meanwhile, fog at Port Hardy, fuelling station en route Vancouver, has delayed today's first flight north from Vancouver by 1½ hours. Passengers, freight and mail now at Sandspit from yesterday's flight will return on the first connecting Canso flight today, due about 4 p.m.

Juneau-Atlin Road Sought

Alaska Chamber of Commerce Has Resolution Before Convention

Support of the construction of the proposed Taku River Valley road from Juneau, Alaska, to Atlin, British Columbia, will be sought from the Associated Boards of Trade of Central British Columbia at the annual convention being held in Prince Rupert this week. A resolution has been submitted by the Juneau Chamber of Commerce.

The resolution outlines steps that have already been taken with a view to having the portion of the road from Juneau to the international boundary constructed, a complete reconnaissance having been made this season by the United States Bureau of Public Roads.

Further the resolution sets out that the road connection is considered extremely important for the greater development of the mineral properties of the Taku section of British Columbia and to provide a highway link between Juneau and the Alaska Highway.

It is further submitted that the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Co. has already expanded its operations in the Tulequah field but officials of the company have stated that no large scale mineral developments can be made until there is more adequate transportation up the Taku River by means of a land transportation system.

Pointing out that a conference of United States, Alaska, Canadian, British Columbia and Consolidated representatives has been called for September 20 in Vancouver to discuss the matter, the resolution asks that serious consideration be given by provincial and Dominion governments of proposals for joint construction of the road.

ANCHORAGE.—Alaska's air tragedies climbed to ten in the space of six weeks when a twin-engine Cessna smashed down in suburban Rogers Park yesterday just after taking off for Seward, killing five people.

Pilot Norm Maitner fought valiantly to keep the plane from striking houses, bringing it down in flames in the back yard of an occupied home. Horribly burned, he was pulled from the wreckage alive but died enroute to hospital.

Also killed were four passengers of the Christianson Air Service craft. Witnesses said that one engine of the plane caught fire just after the take-off.

TEHRAN (CP)—Iran's Nationalist premier threatened today to throw British oil refinery technicians out of Iran unless the British resume Anglo-Iranian oil negotiations within 15 days.

The Iranian state gave Premier Mohammed Mossadegh a vote of confidence on this "get tough" policy and he will ask for a similar vote in the lower house tomorrow.

The ultimatum faced the British with the prospect of re-opening talks on proposals they already consider unacceptable or having their technicians who have remained at Abadan refinery tossed out of Iran.

In London, British government officials said Britain is ready at any time to resume oil talks with Iran if the Iranian government has "worthwhile" counter-proposals.

EDMONTON (CP)—The RCAF said Tuesday night it has found evidence that Johnny Bourassa, Peace River, Alberta, set out by foot for civilization after surviving a crash landing in his light plane on a lake shore in the Northwest Territories last May 18.

They said a note was left in the plane saying the pilot left Wholadala Lake, about 370 miles southeast of Yellowknife, N.W.T., five days after landing.

The RCAF said it was sending four aircraft into the area today to resume the search for Bourassa which was called off more than 2½ months ago when no clues to the bush pilot's fate were unearthed.

More than 50,000,000 tons of merchant shipping entered or left the port of London in 1950.

Leading Men In City to Discuss Vital Matters

Today—and for the next two days—Prince Rupert will be host to a substantial group of serious-minded and thinking people of British Columbia and Alaska. Registration began this afternoon for the annual convention of Central B.C. Associated Boards of Trade, including affiliated Chambers of Commerce of Southeastern Alaska.

And to this meeting in the interest of Central B.C. and Southeastern Alaska, the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce will present four resolutions which it considers of "prime importance."

Resolutions deal with a grain elevator; extension of the summer zone as laid down in the international load line convention; increased maintenance and hard-surfacing of the Prince George-Prince Rupert Highway; and construction of a landing field.

The Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce resolutions committee, headed this year by H. G. Perry, publisher of the Daily News here, presents the following resolutions:

1. Grain elevator—Abandonment of the government grain elevator here "is a national disgrace" having regard to capacity of the elevator, its modern and efficient construction, recurring scarcity of elevator space throughout Canada, crowding of grain ships at favored ports, and the economic advantage of using harbor and port facilities at Prince Rupert.

2. Load line regulations—Because Prince Rupert contains all facilities for shipping of grain and forest products; because shipping of these products "is being hampered" by load line regulations as laid down in international load line convention, and because weather conditions in Prince Rupert are similar to other Pacific coast ports, extension of summer zone from latitude 51 to 56 "is strongly requested."

3. Highway maintenance—Because of increased traffic along Highway 16 due to general increase in activity between Prince Rupert and Prince George through establishment of Columbia Cellulose Co. Ltd. and Aluminum Company of Canada project, increased maintenance, winter opening and hard-surfacing beginning at Prince Rupert will be recommended.

4. Landing field—Queen Charlotte Islands, combining land and sea service, although valuable, "is entirely inadequate to meet present and potential needs" importance of landing field at Tugwell Island, six miles from Prince Rupert, is to be recommended.

Old Liquor Store Reopens

The dinner, which will feature an address by Hon. A. D. Turnbull, minister of health and welfare, arriving here today, will launch the campaign which is to net Prince Rupert's hospital $164,000.

The campaign will be directed towards the community, businesses and the industries of the district, Mr. Ham said, and hopes "they all will realize the importance of this campaign."

"We have a modern hospital building, but not enough equipment to make it adequate. "We are serving a large district with our hospital, yet it may be closed any time—should the heating plant fail. It is that serious."

APPLEWHITE CHAIRMAN
E. T. Applewhite, MP for Skeena, is general campaign chairman and is convinced as much as Mr. Ham that "unless something is done immediately, we are leaving ourselves open to a lot of trouble."

Mr. Applewhite explains that capital expenditure for hospitals cannot be undertaken by B.C.

Fog Holding Up Flights

Seven or eight passengers, freight and mail were stranded at Sandspit overnight due to fog, Canadian Pacific Airlines officials said here today. Low-lying fog on the coastal areas of Queen Charlotte Islands the last few days has seriously hampered air communication.

Heavy Damage As Cars Collide

Two automobiles collided at 6:25 p.m. yesterday at the corner of Second Avenue and Second Street, causing an estimated $1,700 damage. There were no injuries.

A 75 Taxi met with a panel delivery truck driven by John Fitzgerald, it was reported. Driver of the taxi was "a new fellow from Vancouver—we don't even know his name," according to Frank Stewart, of the Taxi office.

Police said they had no information for the press.

Salute To The Ass'd. Boards

PRINCE RUPERT is again honored as the meeting place for the Associated Boards of Trade of Central B.C. and the affiliated Chambers of South-east Alaska.

No organization will be more warmly welcomed by the people of Prince Rupert than this group of boards and trade and chambers of commerce which has probably become the most influential body concerned with economic development in the large area it serves.

It is a tribute to those older citizens of the various communities stretching from the Alberta boundary to the coast of British Columbia and more recently extended to our good neighbors in Alaska, that the organization they created has grown in numbers and in power to the end that today it is recognized by the presence of cabinet ministers and the powerful Board of Trade of Vancouver.

The resolutions that will be presented from the various chambers and boards will reflect in true measure the problems each community considers of most pressing importance.

With due consideration of each resolution by the group as a whole and properly drafted by the resolutions committee, the final composite resolutions will be those that no government can afford to ignore, unless it is seeking political suicide, which at times we fear that it would appear to be so.

We live in a dynamic age. Men and women who give freely of their talents and time to public service in their communities are tired of the procrastination of government on the problems of central and northern B.C.

Members of government "dressed in brief authority" should take heed of the resolutions to be passed by this convention of associated boards of trade, and remember the historic statement which can be applied to this convention, "Magna Carta is the law, let the King look out."

Sincere workers for their communities are no longer going to waste their energies on public service if their efforts are ignored, stalled and piously explained away and only a masterly inactivity shown by government.

The visitors and guests are welcomed as cordially by Prince Rupert as is the Association. Time has been allotted for sightseeing and entertainment by the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce whose members have worked indefatigably to make the convention both successful and enjoyable.

We salute the Associated Boards of Trade of Central B.C. and affiliated Chambers of Alaska and hope their endeavors will this time be fructified by positive results.

How Pay Pensions?

THERE IS one great danger in the new national pension scheme, which is due to be launched in Ottawa in about a month.

Somebody may try to "put over" the same flat rate taxation as we have in the iniquitous B.C. Hospital Insurance Scheme. That is, the poor may be compelled to pay exactly the same amount as the rich to finance the new plan.

The basis of any good and fair plan is that all people pay a PERCENTAGE of their income or their wealth. The basis of a bad scheme is one where the richest multi-millionaire in the country has to pay only the same amount as the poorest widow, in the way of social welfare taxation.

THERE ARE four ways which are proposed to raise the money which Canada will need to pay all old persons the new national pension:

1. By a 4% sales tax. This would be a terrible injustice to the ordinary people for the rich would escape their proper contribution.
2. By a 4% income tax, added to the present levy.
3. By a payroll deduction of a certain percentage. This is also a weak and inefficient way, as the cost of collecting is very high and also there is no way to include rural people and others who do not draw wages or salaries from companies.
4. By simply taking the money from the combined revenues of the country.

THE LAST named way is in fact the most efficient and most economical. We raise the money for our army, navy air force and all our civil and national services by general taxation. It is no more difficult to raise the money for old age pensions in this way than it is to raise the money for children's allowances.

Incidentally, the cost of administering the children's allowance plan is a tiny fraction of administering the unemployment insurance plan. Part of the extra cost of the unemployment insurance plan is due to the costly bookkeeping and other "paper work" connected with the individual levies.

THE FAIREST, simplest system of direct levy, on the individual citizen, is by income tax. Everybody has to pay income tax, anyway, over most of a lifetime. Hence there will be little, if any, extra cost of adding a certain percentage to pay the cost of national old age pensions.

There would be an additional advantage in adopting this method now—as the Finance Minister is grossly over-taxing us right now. In fact, at the present rate of taxation, Canada can easily pay the entire cost of the old age pension scheme out of current revenue.

I SEE one definite advantage in making a definite personal levy, through the income tax, to pay for old age pensions.

It is not only a good thing for every person to know that he, or she, is laying aside a certain amount to provide for income in old age. But it is also a good thing to stop the government and the politicians from talking nonsense about how much the government is "spending" on pensions. The government has never spent a cent, either on children's allowances or old age pensions. All the money comes

SOMEWHAT WISER

The twenty mile plague spot that for a few weeks was a sort of vaccination point in Saskatchewan, exists no longer. ### LETTERBOX

WATER AND POWER

Editor, Daily News.

May I seek to acquaint your readers with a few more facts I gathered myself in connection with the water and power problem in the city of Prince Rupert?

A couple of weeks ago there appeared a news item in the Daily News informing the people of a break in the power company's transmission line about 35 miles from Prince Rupert and that the diesel plant at the dry dock took over the load and avoided a disruption of service.

But no mention was made of the fact that the Shawatlans plant was opened to full capacity in order to carry the load and that the reservoir which carries the city's water supply receded until there was but a foot of water. This in spite of full operation of the booster pump at the time.

The water was still receding up to the time the repair was completed, so you see the power service was maintained at the expense of city water supply.

What have you to say to that, Mr. Manager? The superintendent of our water system is the source of my information.

Now, regarding the B.C. Power Commission and its function in relation to public service. I gathered the following information at a conference between the city council and the Power Commission in 1949.

First, the commission operates on the principle of production for use, not for profit. Users of electricity receive the service at cost.

All money used in capital expenditure is borrowed on the open money market on the credit of the provincial government of B. C. and is repaid to the government through revenue produced by the commission's operation of utilities.

Another point stressed by the commission was that if the citizens wished to be served by the B.C. Power Commission, they should so inform the commission at as early date as possible to enable the commission to examine all present and future requirements of the city, including the hydro potentialities of the district.

Secondly, should the city council desire to purchase its electrical requirements in bulk at the city gate and look after the sale and distribution itself, it, News classified.

such an arrangements could be made with the commission.

Now, whether appraisal of Northern B.C. Power Company's assets is done directly by the Power Commission, or by the Utilities Commission at the instigation of the Power Commission, matters not. A fair and honest evaluation of all assets is all we should require.

But as our water and power requirements for the next 30 or 40 years comprise our pressing problem today, we must face facts and do something about it. I beseech all to become alert and do some thinking. If the power company insists on monopolizing the water in the penstocks of Woodworth Lake, then they should be prepared to pay the cost of pumping water from Shawatlans Lake to the city reservoir. Otherwise they should relinquish their operation at Woodworth Lake entirely.

Remember, the demand on our water supply is growing greater each year. The situation today is not as it was 25 years ago when the power company took over.

ALD. GEORGE B. CASEY.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Frizzell and son, Doug, in company with Mr. Frizzell's brother, Howard, of Chicago, returned to the city Sunday after a two-weeks holiday together at Jasper and Babine Lake.

Drill Team Is Toasted

Official Welcome Home at Dinner and Dance

Welcome home of the Job's Daughters drill team party from their triumphant trip to Richmond, Virginia, where they won triple international honors at Supreme Council sessions, bringing widespread publicity and credit to their home city, culminated last night when official congratulations were offered in a tangible way at a complimentary dinner and dance in the Civic Centre. The affair had been organized by the city and local organizations.

Highlight of the proceedings came during the dance when Acting Mayor Harold Whalen presented Mr. and Mrs. Alex Mitchell, mentors of Job's Daughters and leaders of the drill team, with a pair of hand-dishes and each member of the drill team with an attractive silver cup as permanent memento of the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell briefly and with obvious appreciation acknowledged the presentations. While he was the drill master, Mr. Mitchell gave full credit to the members of the team for their victory. It was the fine teamwork that had counted. Prince Rupert's name had become known far and wide as a result of the team's tour and victory.

THE DINNER
E. T. Applewhite, MP, was principal speaker at the dinner, making the address of welcome and congratulation on behalf of the community. Acting Mayor Harold Whalen also spoke briefly, reading a letter he had received from the mayor of Richmond. Edward Mussellam was toastmaster and Grace was said by Rev. Dr. E. A. Wright, pastor of First Presbyterian Church. Mr. and Mrs. Alex Mitchell also spoke briefly and Miss Diane Kennedy, Queen of the local Bethel and Miss Margaret Giske, drill team majorette, were heard from.

Committee in charge of the evening's functions consisted of Eddie Mussellam, George Dawes, George Murray, Arthur Murray, Harold Whalen and William Long.

Hugo Kraupner left today for a trip to Vancouver on business. He will be away for ten days or two weeks.

Blackwood on Bridge

By Easley Blackwood

Mr. Muzzy almost ruined his side's record in this rubber by putting in an unwarranted four-no-trump bid. But Mr. Champion's involved thinking on the defense saved the day for Mr. Dale.

The opening lead was the seven of spades and after contract even if Mr. Dale did dummy's singleton queen was played Mr. Champion went into a long and agonizing huddle. His problem, of course, was whether to go up with the king or play a small card.

He knew Mr. Dale had the ace of spades, if Mr. Masters had held that card he would have led it. Now if Mr. Dale also had the jack of spades, it would be suicide to go up with the king.

Mr. Dale would win with the ace, then lead the jack and discard dummy's only diamond loser. The hand could then be cross-ruffed for 11 tricks.

Finally Mr. Champion decided to play low to the first trick, figuring this play would give him a good chance to beat the contract even if Mr. Dale did have the jack of spades. In other words the queen of spades would win on the board. And then how would Mr. Dale enter his hand to lead the ace of spades and get rid of dummy's diamond?

Obviously he couldn't get there in spades. On a heart lead Mr. Champion would win and fire a diamond. Mr. Masters could be counted on for the ace of diamonds.

The only danger, then, seemed to be that Mr. Dale had the queen of clubs or a singleton club. Good reasoning, all right—and a very tough guess. Mr. Champion just guessed it wrong.

Mr. Dale could hardly believe his good fortune when the queen of spades won. Quickly he cashed the ace of clubs, ruffed a club, and then sluffed dummy's jack of diamonds on the ace of spades. From here on a cross-ruff of clubs and diamonds held Mr. Champion to his two trump tricks.

If Mr. Muzzy had held the East cards, this contract would surely have been defeated. Mr. Muzzy would have played the king of spades at trick one automatically. ("Cover an honor with an honor, I always say.")

Can you doubt it is the people as much as the cards that determine your wins and losses at the bridge table?

Both Born In Rupert

Miss Evelyn Colleen Barrie
Bride of Ralph Wick

A wedding of widespread interest took place at the Church of Annunciation at 11 o'clock Saturday morning when Evelyn Colleen Barrie, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles (Bud) Barrie, and Ralph Warner Wick, younger son of Mrs. Ruth Wick and the late Ole Wick, exchanged their marriage vows before a flower-banked altar with Rev. Father O. P. Mohan OMI officiating.

The bride was a picture of loveliness as she walked up the aisle on the arm of her father, preceded by her cousin, Mrs. Ted Frystay, as matron of honor and younger sister, Wilma Joyce Barrie, and another cousin, Sharon Bury, as flower girls.

The bride's dress was of heavy satin bodice and long skirt, in princess style and long sleeves. With it was worn a fingered veil falling from a beaded crown. She carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses. Jewelry was a gold pendant and earring set, gift of the groom.

Matron of honor appeared very charming in turquoise satin dress with short veil to match, as did the little flower girls in yellow and blue nylon dresses with headress of small white wreaths. All carried colonial bouquets.

The groom's brother, John Wick, was groomsman.

Bridal music was played by Miss Mary Zogas.

Gift to the matron of honor was a rhinestone set and to the groomsman a gold wrist watch. Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the groom's mother for the immediate family.

In the evening a reception was held at the Legion Auditorium where 200 friends offered their best wishes and congratulations to the happy couple as they stood under a flower decked arch. The guests were received by Mrs. Barrie and Mrs. Wick, the former wearing a rust formal dress with black accessories and a corsage of yellow carnations and the latter, a black lace formal and a corsage of pink carnations.

A beautiful three-tier wedding cake centered the bride's table which was decorated with tapered candles, sweet peas and dahlias.

At midnight a delicious buffet lunch, arranged by Mrs. William Rothwell, was served by girl friends of the bride. The Misses Joyce Tattersall, Rena Ingram, Marion Sauton, Pat Smith and Madeline Youngman, who also served the wedding cake which was duly cut by the bridal couple.

Toast to the bride and groom was proposed by Bert Morgan and to the matron of honor by R. Bury with the groomsman responding.

Lovely and useful gifts were received by the popular young couple.

Telegrams from New York, Port Hope, New Westminster and Nelson were read.

Music was by Mike Colfassi.

The newly-married couple left Sunday night on the Coquitlam for a honeymoon in Vancouver, Victoria and the States.

For going away the bride wore a blue dress, rust topcoat and white accessories. Her bouquet was caught by Miss Pat Smith.

On their return the couple will take up temporary residence at 1108 Ambrose.

Both bride and groom were born and raised in Prince Rupert. The bride has been employed with Rance & Hardy and the groom has been fishing out of this port.

Frank White, uncle of the bride, came from Victoria for the occasion.

Prior to the wedding Mrs. Pat Frystay and Mrs. Helen Wright held a miscellaneous shower and Miss Marlon Shenton a kitchen shower for Miss Barrie.

Puppet Shows In Television

REGINA — Shirley Fraser is an attractive young Regina girl who thinks puppets will be a big thing in Canada some day.

Dolls on strings may sound like child's play to some people, but they are big business in the United States and may be in Canada if television becomes established here.

Miss Fraser made her first puppet when she was in public school. Two years ago she joined a marionette group in Regina to take up puppetry in earnest.

Since then she has learned that puppets can be important medically as well as provide entertainment.

At workshop meetings in Regina she learned how to put puppets together, from moulding the head to the final stringing process.

When she created her first doll "Gamin the Jester" she found it so fascinating that she kept on making puppets and now has 13 doll personalities.

Besides making dolls, Miss Fraser wrote a play for them which she hopes to produce this fall, designed costumes for them, and with her father's help built a complete miniature stage.

"So you see," she says, "you can experiment with all phases of theatre, including scenery and lighting as well as acting, in a capsule form."

POPULAR IN U.S.

Miss Fraser and her sister recently took a short course in puppetry at the University of Minnesota.

"It was a wonderful experience," she says. "Puppetry is more exploited in the U.S. than it is here, especially in television."

A new innovation in puppetry is the "Night Club Puppet," much larger than usual size with the operator as part of the act. One act had a puppet jive star coupled with the operator to form a dance team.

Miss Fraser said puppets are widely used in elementary schools and with the mentally ill.

"Sometimes a mentally ill person will expose the core of his trouble by unconsciously acting with the puppet," she said.

"In all cases it seems to relieve the unnatural tension."

Although Canadians aren't as marionette-conscious as Americans, Miss Fraser said she believes interest is spreading rapidly.

Miss Fraser said she feels that once television in Canada is established, the field for puppetry will be unlimited.

Americans Head for Tweedsmuir Park Area
BURNS LAKE.—Well-known big game hunters arrived at Burns Lake Friday from Kansas and will hunt the Nadina, Morris River and Nanika ranges under the guidance of Jack Neilson, Barry Grainger and Pete Tourond.
The party is composed of Tom Van De Car of Hutchinson, Kansas, who is no stranger to the hunting grounds of the Lakes District ranges, and Henry R. Schenkel, John Trine and W. T. Frazier, all of Great Bend, Kansas.
Lloyd B. Walker and his entourage, mostly from Seattle, Wash., camped at Burns Lake overnight, as there was no hotel accommodation to be had, while on the way for their annual fall camera hunt. They will be under the guidance of Buster Harrison of Wistaria for the fifth consecutive year in the high ranges of Tweedsmuir Park.
Mr. Walker entertained the members of the Tweedsmuir Park Rod and Gun Club and their guests at the Anglican Hall which was crowded to capacity. Stills and movies in colored film of all wild life to be found in Tweedsmuir Park were shown. The most interesting picture was of the spotting of a grizzly bear, busily engaged in digging out a hoary marmot over half a mile away, the subsequent stalking of the bear and the final kill at a range of over 400 yards.
The grizzly is reputed to be the largest one on authentic record ever killed in America.
While showing the pictures, Mr. Walker entertained the guests with a running commentary which sparked with humor. President Henry Schmitt of the T.P.R. & G. Club closed the meeting with a congratulatory speech which was received with cheers which rocked the building and a hearty vote of thanks was passed.

Defence is your duty, too!

The most important job in Canada today is defence. And defence is not the responsibility of just a few. It is a duty which every young and able man in Canada must accept — if we want to make sure we stay free.

You as a free Canadian citizen must be prepared to meet any challenge to your freedom. The least you can do in these uncertain days is to serve part time as a Citizen-Soldier in the Canadian Army Reserve Force.

You devote one or two evenings a week to training in the arts and skills of the modern soldier. In addition there are the occasional week-end exercises and two weeks of summer camp.

The Reserve Force soldier receives the same uniforms and equipment as used in the Active Force. He is paid Active Force rates of pay for all training periods.

There are Reserve Force units in towns and cities across Canada. There is one in your district. Visit it right away. Find out how you can serve Canada in the Reserve Force.

Defence is every Canadian's duty. It is your duty, too!

Bargain Ads to Go If Newspapers to Survive

NEW YORK (CP)—Fortune magazine says the survival of daily newspapers in the United States depends on sharply higher rates for advertising.

That was the conclusion of a survey of the newspaper business described in the September issue.

Fortune noted that newsprint costs have shot up—and are likely to stay up—and said advertising still is selling at "pre-war bargain rates."

Cdr. Welland To Halifax

OTTAWA—Commander Robert P. Welland, of Victoria, who commanded HMCS Athabaskan during her nine-month tour of duty in the Korean theatre and was mentioned in despatches for his services there, is going to Stadacona in October to become Officer-in-Charge of the Junior Officers' Technical and Leadership Course. Commander Welland has been serving temporarily as Chief of Staff to the Flag Officer Pacific Coast. It will be remembered he brought Athabaskan to Prince Rupert on an emergency call on the way back from Korea to Victoria.

At Halifax, Welland will succeed Commander Ralph L. Hennessy, of Ottawa, who has been appointed to stand by the cruiser HMCS Quebec during her current refit and will become Executive Officer of the ship on her commissioning.

ISTACHATTA, Fla.—A four-foot black snake slowly wriggled down the aisle of the Baptist Church here during service. Rev. Fletcher Weston threw a hymn book at it but this did not stop the serpent. Women began raising their feet. One hurried out and came back with a substantial rock and handed it to the minister, who, killing the snake, resumed his sermon.

Other supporting reasons for landing field here as seen by the Chamber of Commerce are the natural and strategic advantages of such an airport here for defence; rapid air connection "is a vital necessity" for full development of the natural resources of the north, and that with present water landing facilities only, "there are no future expansion possibilities" in air communication.

New Freighter Due Next Week

Frank Waterhouse Line's freighter Cassiar, formerly the China coaster Blue Peter, which was brought out a few months ago from the Atlantic Coast, is due in Prince Rupert next week on her first voyage.

The Cassiar is one of two freighters which Waterhouse will use on a new freight and passenger service which will be operated weekly out of Vancouver to Namu, K'emtu, Butedale, Kitimat, Kemano, Butedale, Alice Island, Prince Rupert, Alice Island and Stewart.

First voyage will commence from Vancouver September 8 this Saturday.

Greatly increased freight traffic along the coast due to industrial development including Columbia Cellulose at Watson Island and Aluminum Co. of Canada at Kitimat and Kemano has necessitated the new service. It will relieve freight congestion which has existed for several months now.

The Cassiar has capacity for 1500 tons of cargo and the largest refrigerator capacity of any freighter on the British Columbia coast—almost 100 tons. She has heavy lift capacity of up to 27 tons.

The vessel has stateroom accommodation for four passengers.
