New Day for North

IF THE PEOPLE of Prince Rupert and district are not fully appreciative and comprehending of the great things that are going on around them these days and the impact thereof, the rest of the world certainly seems to be. Torchy Anderson, well-known Vancouver newspaperman, was here last week for the official opening of the Columbia Cellulose Co.'s plant and what he had to say in a special editorial article in the Vancouver Province after the trip is of impressive interest.

"There is a great breath of new life and hope sweeping central and northern British Columbia," writes Anderson. "At Watson Island, and where the grey waters of the Camano pour into Gardner Canal, men are spending millions that will lead to the investment of more millions. They are building industries that will give Canada more to sell the world. The North country is humming. A new industrial frontier is pushing northward along the Pacific."

"The North Coast is lifting its eyes past its doorstep. The developments at Kitimat and Prince Rupert have shot a current of life into the communities as far east as Prince George."

"All this is only an indication of what stirs the imagination and faith of the men of the North Coast. You might think that they are over-optimistic but when you listen to the grave considerations of capital and the cold, reasoned opinion of engineers, you can't but be convinced."

"Capital is laying down some very big bets on this North country. The days of dreams and hot air and promises are gone. These are the days of hard cash and steel and concrete and the vibration of mighty power."

Peace and Harmony

ON THE SURFACE at least and from the statement of President Harry Perry following sessions of the advisory council and the British Columbia executive in Vancouver, all would appear to be peace and harmony in the Liberal party in the province. We shall, of course, be hearing more about that anon although it would appear now that the Liberals, for the time being at least, are not going to do anything about upsetting the Coalition applecart.

Of course, more must have gone on behind the scenes of the Liberal gathering than was revealed to the public. But the two old parties, particularly the Liberals, have a way of getting themselves united after sometimes acrimonious cleavages and presenting a united front at the proper political time.

The prospect is all but certain that, by the time another provincial election comes around, Liberals and Conservatives will be going it alone again, unless there should be a grave national emergency which would be transcending political interests. It is to be expected, therefore, that continuation of the coalition notwithstanding, the Liberals, and the Conservatives too, will be doing a good deal of fence-mending, within and without the parties, in the meantime.

Scripture Passage for Today

"My house shall be called the house of prayer."
—St. Matt. 21:13

east zone is developed for a positive length of 285 feet and a probable length of 500 feet with exposed widths varying from eight to 30 feet with a calculated average of 15.9 feet. Indicated grade is 0.01 oz. gold and 1.0 oz. silver per ton with 2.27 per cent copper, 1.84 per cent lead, and 2.63 per cent zinc. In this 285-foot length, Mr. Cannon estimates a reserve of probable ore of 23,000 tons to a depth of 50 feet. Over the 1200 feet of exposed length of all presently indicated ore, the average is 1.50 ozs. silver per ton, 2.25 per cent copper, 2.00 per cent lead and 3.10 per cent zinc.

Three shoots are partially defined in the west zone with good mining widths and indicated grade considerably higher than in the east zone. Suggestion of persistence both to the north-west and the southeast of the "C" shoot has been obtained with very high assays in lead and zinc to the southeast.

PROFITABLE ORE

The gross value of the developed ore, with indication of 750 tons per vertical foot, Mr. Cannon places at $30.50 per ton taking silver at 70c per oz., copper at 24c per lb., lead at 17c per lb., and zinc at 17.5c per lb. After all provision for milling and smelting charges and losses in recovery, he arrives at a net value per ton at the mine of $20.20 per ton or $16.00 per ton after freight and treatment.

The report recommends further development by a detailed diamond-drilling program designed to test the full exposed length at 75-foot intervals, first to a depth of 100 feet and then to 300 feet. He suggests a concurrent detailed surface survey to allow for correlation of drill cores as well as prospecting hitherto unexplored sections.

In his summary, Mr. Cannon states:

"The accessibility of the property, the tenor of the ore, and the structural geological conditions all suggest the possibility of an ore deposit from which an excellent profit can be made at present-day prices."

NATION OF LIBERALS?

OTTAWA.—Watching Canada's House of Commons in session, I ask myself what is the difference between our political set-up in Canada and that of other countries?

Suddenly a conclusion seems to crystallize:

Canada is a country where the Liberals are so firmly in office because we are, in fact, a nation of liberals.

The Conservatives are only right wing liberals—and the CCF are basically left wing liberals. Hence no major party finds a broad enough fighting base from which to differ with the Liberal Party on real principle.

I AM NOT SUGGESTING that some Tories do not have some convictions which are different from those of most Liberals, and even less am I suggesting that the CCF members are not sincere in their brand of revolutionary Socialism.

But these things seem to me in Canadian life, to be but variations of the underlying liberalism which is the basis of our whole political life.

MAYBE THE TERM "Liberalism" is a poor word for what I am trying to say—especially as the word "liberal" has come to mean something slightly different in U.S.A. or even in Britain, from what it does in Canada.

For instance, when Americans say so-and-so is a "liberal," they mean that so-and-so is what we would more likely call a progressive, or maybe a leftist.

WHEN I SAY THAT Canadians are a nation of liberals I mean that they are very little inclined to worry about any economic theory or social doctrine. They not only follow few doctrines, but are anti-doctrinaire. They are more inclined to proceed on the basis of trial and error—dealing with each problem as it arises, particular ideology.

THIS TENDENCY TO THINK pretty much alike, or within right and left brackets not very far separated, is illustrated by the present attitudes towards Canada's foreign policy.

When I left Canada over five months ago one might have imagined that we were due for some fireworks about our contingents for Korea and Europe. The newspapers were carrying great ads calling for conscription—and Uncle to the south was dropping the hint that it was high time we were bestirring ourselves up here.

Now, returning to Canada, what I hear and do not hear around Ottawa suggests that the conscription issue is pretty well dead. I do not hear any political group, in either public or private discussion, seriously criticize the government's foreign policies.

COME TO THINK OF IT, the sentiments expressed above are not as much my own brain children as I thought they were when began to write this piece.

I remember now my lunchable conversation with the whip of the Congress party in India. He had met a delegation of Canadians at a Commonwealth parliamentary gathering in Australia or New Zealand. He wanted to know how John Diefenbaker could be a "Conservative" leader when he plainly showed that in all his attitudes he was more of a liberal than some of those who wore the Canadian Liberal Party ticket.

I tried to explain to him and other Indian MPs that our party labels in Canada are pretty deceptive—that there are Tory radicals.

A FRIEND IN ENGLAND asked me what I thought of their "Socialism" there. I told him I couldn't answer, for I could not find much of it.

Of course, I was being smart Alec or facetious. But it is a fact that there is very little more Socialism in Britain today than there was 40 years ago when I was a boy growing up under a true-blue Tory government in Ontario.

If you mean by Socialism a system where the principle means of production and distribution are owned and operated for the public on a basis of public service, there is very little "Socialism" in Britain. Our Ontario public power developments and our Canadian nationalized railroads came decades before Britain's.

The main difference now is that the British coal mines are nationalized.

Britain is, of course, a social welfare state.

Mac's Successor Visits Wounded

AN EXCHANGE of smiles is made between General Matthew B. Ridgway (right), who succeeded General MacArthur as United Nations' Commander in Korea, and Private Donald Forbes, of Dundee, Scotland. The general was visiting a hospital train when he stopped to speak to the boy who was wounded fighting with the 27th British Brigade against the Communists.

Reflects and Reminisces

The railway is about to share in expanding traffic along the Skeena. This is not premature. It's 37 years since wheels began to turn on a blue and beaming afternoon in early summer. An audience of pioneers, witnessing arrival of the first train, thought their troubles were over. They were dead wrong. In 1914, real trouble was only beginning. It isn't quite over yet.

With scant ceremony, away up somewhere in the Bulkley Valley, the final spike was driven home. It was something that could have been called all in the day's job. For the main motive was to see the Pacific. And so it came about that as some thousand waited on the wharf, they heard a faint, far-off whistle, evidently blown from somewhere beyond Section 2.

Fine, isn't it, to hear the railway will do a bit of stepping out this summer because of all that's going on? But quite a few are still here who remember the first train's reception and, gazing a long, long way back, can see it all over again.

Faded flowers he had been fondling in warm hands for an hour were presented to one of the first executives off the train by the late Frank Hart, himself an old timer of Klondike and Vancouver. Aboard were railway chiefs, engineers and financiers, railroaders and guests.

"Seems odd," remarked one of the latter, looking around. "We ride to the coast on a train and can't find a railway station." He was right, at that. There was none for years.

With transcontinental trains, running a hotel in the western terminus seemed a logical enough expectation. The city council made the request, and the railroad listened. The next thing noticed was a blueprint of a chateau-style establishment. Excavating a site on Second Avenue followed forthwith. But that's as far as construction went. The excavation is still there. But no hotel.

Vancouver Is. Forest Fire

VICTORIA.—A crew of 100 loggers is fighting a forest fire which has destroyed 4,500,000 board feet of logs at the north-west tip of Vancouver Island. The fire was reported today to have spread over 1,140 acres.

Nobility Of Living

Decoration Day ought to mean more than merely planting a flag at the headstone in memory of the glorious dead of past wars. It ought to imply the dedication of lives afresh to the service of God and man, thus showing the people of today worthy of the devotion, sacrifice and love of those who died for their country.

"It is a noble thing to die for one's country," said Rev. Dr. E. A. Wright, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, in the Decoration Day address at Fairview Cemetery where members of Queen Mary Chapter, Imperial Order, Daughters of the Empire, of the Canadian Legion and Women's Auxiliary went to decorate the graves of service men. "But, it is a harder and more noble thing to live daily for our country. God grant that each one of us may live so that our every word and action will lead some one to a higher and nobler life."

"As they were good soldiers in their cause let us be good soldiers under the great captain, Jesus Christ, in behalf of righteousness and toward the defeat of all wrong."

Dr. Wright based his address on Hebrews XII-1: "Wherefore seeing we are also compassed about with so great a cloud of witnesses, let us lay aside every weight and the sin which doth so easily beset us and let us run with patience the race that is set before us." The scene was an ancient arena and the Biblical author had been enumerating many of the heroes who had left distinctive mark on the history of the Jewish race. "The heroes of the past ought to inspire us to fight manfully and nobly for the things which are right, holy and pure," Dr. Wright exhorted.

Dutch Migrants Happy in Canada

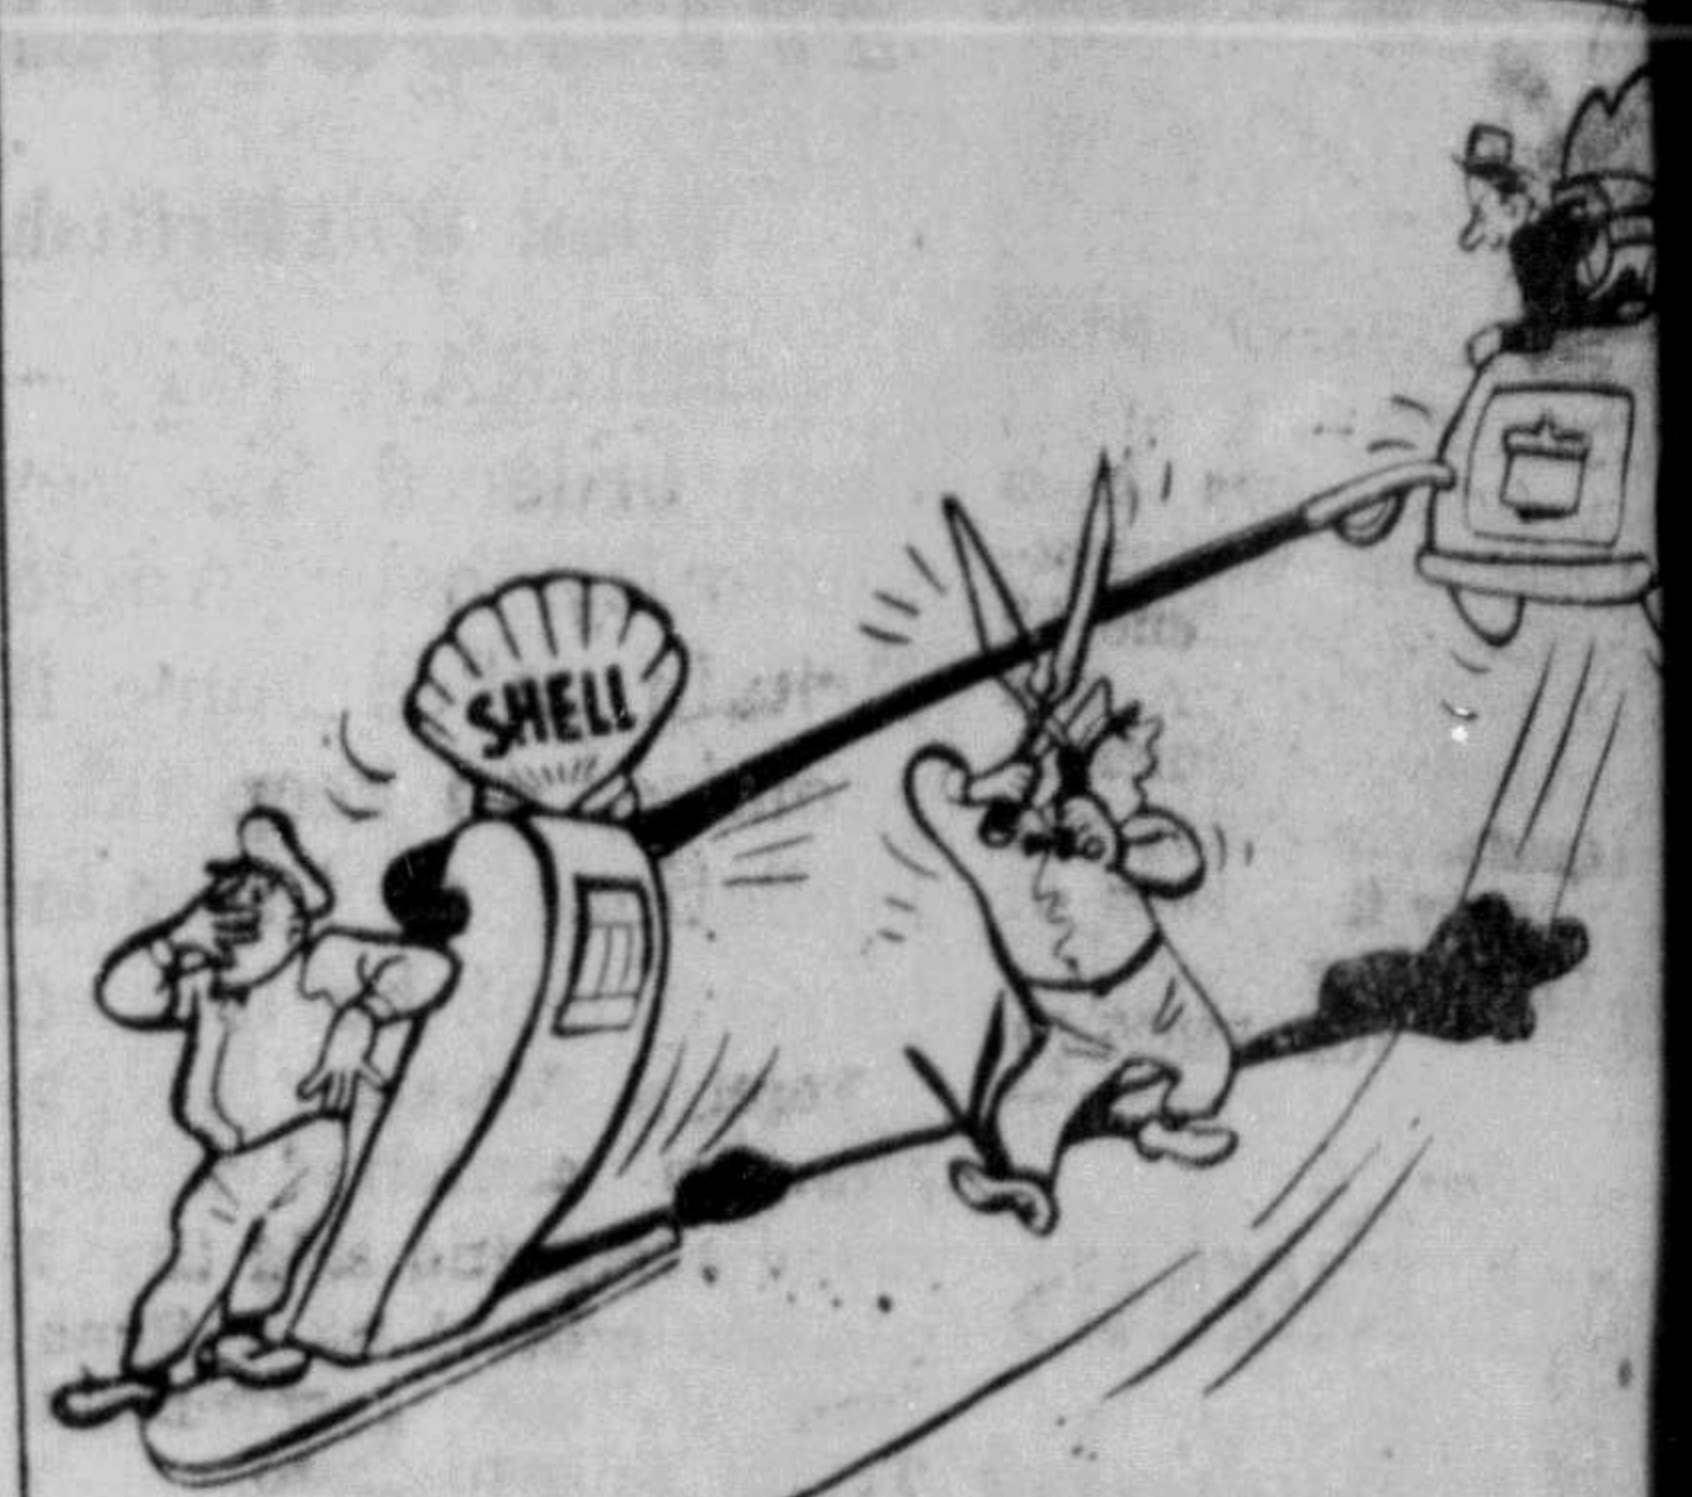

TORONTO.—A kind of religious truant officer is going back to Holland happy over his visit to Canada.

Rev. W. J. Schouten came here to find out two things: are the 55,000 Dutch immigrants happy in Canada? and are they still going to church? He is going home satisfied on both counts.

Asked concerning his findings, he smiled and said: "My people, now your people, are happy. They tell me they would never return to the country of their birth, despite the fact that they still love it."

As each of the new settlers landed in Canada he was handed a Dutch-English copy of the Bible, from the Reform Church of America.

New Freighters For This Coast

Another freighter of the China coaster type, like the Chilkoat and Yukon Princess, will be entering the coastal freighting service in July to be operated by the Frank Waterhouse Co.
along the British Columbia coast and to Alaska.

The new ship, called the Blue
Peter, is due on the coast shortly from the Atlantic and will promptly go into service.

Another smaller freight vessel, the Pacific Prince, now undergoing conversion at New Westminster, is also to go into the coastal freighting service.

News of these new vessels coming into service has been received by W. J. Scott, president of the Associated Boards of Trade of Central British Columbia, from W. A. Rundle, secretary of the transportation and customs bureau of the Vancouver Board of Trade, who co-operated recently with the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce when it complained of hold-ups in coastal freight service.

DELICIOUS STRAWBERRY JAM IN 15 MINUTES

from the time your fruit is prepared

Compare These Two Methods -

WITH CERTO

1. Mrs. A. makes jam the short-boil way with CERTO. She has 2 pounds of fruit prepared, ready to start at 9 o'clock.

2. The dotted line shows level of the prepared fruit in Mrs. A's saucepan.

3. Mrs. A. adds 3 pounds of sugar. A pound of jam made with CERTO contains no more sugar than a pound made the old, long-boil way.

4. Mrs. A. brings the mixture to a full rolling boil; boils hard ONE MINUTE only; removes from stove and adds 1/2 bottle (4 ozs.) CERTO. CERTO is the natural jelling substance in fruit in concentrated form.

5. Mrs. A. is able to pour and paraffin about 5 pounds (10 glasses) of jam from her 2 pounds of fruit. She gets sure results because she follows the CERTO recipe EXACTLY.

6. Mrs. A.'s 10 glasses of jam were made in just 15 minutes.

THE OLD WAY

1. Mrs. B. makes jam the old-fashioned long-boil way. She, too, is ready to start her jam making at 9 o'clock.

2. Mrs. B. starts off with the same amount of prepared fruit in her saucepan.

3. Mrs. B. uses the old "pound of sugar per pound of fruit" standard recipe. So she adds 2 pounds of sugar.

4. Mrs. B. boils the mixture about 30 minutes before the jam thickens to the desired consistency. This evaporates about 1/2 the weight of the fruit, darkens the color and carries off much of the natural fresh-fruit flavor in steam.

5. Mrs. B. pours and paraffins about 3 pounds (6 glasses) of jam from the same amount of fruit. Until it is finished she cannot tell for sure how well her jam will turn out.

6. Mrs. B. took 45 minutes to make her 6 glasses of jam.

Certo gave Mrs. A. sure results... much more jam... saved time, work and money.

Free Recipe Book

Under the label of every bottle of CERTO is a book of 78 tested recipes for jams and jellies. Different fruits need different handling, so CERTO gives you a separate recipe for each fruit. Be sure to follow the simple directions EXACTLY.

In yesterday's hand Mr. Masters showed Mr. New, the avid kibitzer, an unblocking play to create entries to the dummy. In today's deal he demonstrated another kind of unblocking play which involved "unnecessarily" overtaking an honor.

Mr. Champion opened the queen of spades. One look at the combined hands told Mr. Masters that if he couldn't make a living in the club suit he very probably couldn't make his contract.

He won the opening trick with the ace of spades on the board, preserving the king of spades as an entry to his own hand.

Now one way to play the club suit was to win tricks with

Clothiers Win Game

Gordon & Anderson Lose
In Last Inning

Strategy backfired last night when Pitcher Don Scherk couldn't follow through and lost the ball game. In the liveliest diamond tangle of the season, Abel & Odowes forced a last-inning victory over Gordon & Anderson with a score of 5-4. The clothiers are now tied with Commercial for league leadership.

Featuring some of the best hitting this year and at the same time, the worst kind of ballplaying, the losers couldn't keep A&O from scoring in the last of the seventh.

G&A were leading 4-3 with three runs in the first of the seventh batted in with a sudden burst of power. Playing defence, Manager Stan Cornwell, centre-field, yanked his catcher, Young, after two errors and filled the box himself, putting in Christensen for Young.

Pavlikis, A&O centre fielder, got on first by a hit, then stole second. Lindsay got on by a walk, then stole. Young threw far short of Sunberg, second baseman, who also fumbled the ball badly when he did touch it. The double error brought Pavlikis safe to third.

Cornwell, catching, signalled Scherk to walk Abel, a strong hitter when he connects. This act loaded the bases. The strategy was apparent. Boyo Gurvich would be batting next, first time in the game this season and first time to bat, having relieved Dell in right field the previous inning.

But Gurvich fooled them all. He swung at the first pitch, fouled it. Then took a ball. With a stance as if to knock the leather over the fence for a big home run, Gurvich made a surprise bunt which fell 20 feet short of the pitcher and lay there.

Scherk bounded from the mound and threw a wild one at Cornwell. Pavlikis came home.

GYMNAST SPECIALISTS of Vancouver Pro-Rec centres show their skill at the parallel bars, doing shoulder stands.

on a burning slide and tied the game.

But G&A couldn't hold the tie. A base on ball did it, giving away the game. Lindsay was thrown out coming home on a bunt by McHardy but this fielder's choice left the bases loaded again. Arney, batting first time of the game, was struck out. Letourneau came next and was walked, which forced in the winning run.

The game should have gone to G&A but Abel & Odowes showed the young men that hitting isn't everything in a ball game. Several times, the losers had men on bases which were thrown out stealing, or caught unawares, leading too far from bases. Errors by G&A fielders accounted for several winning runs as well.

However, the hitting for G&A was tops. They took 13 hits off winning pitcher Letourneau, who owed the game to the support by his field.

The burst of strength from Stan Cornwell's young team came in the top of the seventh and last inning. They were trailing 3-1. Spring got on by a base hit and an error by shortstop Giordano. Sunberg drove a fly ball into left field which was good for a base hit and an advance to second by Spring. Andy Marshall then came up with the biggest hit of the game—a three-bagger into right field which stormed in two runs.

Then Cornwell stepped up to the plate, very determined. With a sizzling line drive he hit the first pitch—a fast one fired by Letourneau—which whistled by the pitcher's ear into centre. Marshall came home.

Athletes to Tour District

Plans have been completed for a tour of the central interior district by a 14-man team of gymnast experts from Vancouver Pro-Rec which is coming north at the end of this month.

The tentative time table of the tour is as follows:
Prince Rupert June 30 to July 7.

Terrace, July 8.
Hazelton, July 9.
Smithers, July 10.
Burns Lake, July 11.
Vanderhoof, July 12.
Prince George, July 13 and 14.

The tour is being made in conjunction with the new appointment of Keith Maltman, formerly of Prince Rupert, as District Supervisor of Recreation for Northern British Columbia. This appointment has been made by the Department of Education who are interested in extending the Pro-Rec program to include this section of the Province.

Mr. Maltman will be travelling with the group in order to make first hand contacts in his new territory.

Pro-Rec Party To Be Featured at Exhibition Here

Feature attraction of the stage show to be presented at the Prince Rupert Exhibition June 29 to July 7, will be a 14-man team of gymnast specialists from the Pro-Rec centres of Vancouver.

Under the leadership of Sid Greenwood, men's chief instructor for Vancouver, the athletes will give a skilled and polished performance of tumbling, hand-balancing, pyramids, high vaulting and a feature act on the "trampoline."

Keith Maltman, attached to the Civic Centre summer staff last year, is travelling with the group. He was recently appointed district supervisor of recreation for Northern British Columbia.

Star of the group is Ken Doolan, 1951 Dominion gymnastic champion.

Other forms of entertainment will include a fight card featuring Prince Rupert's Golden Gloves contenders of this year: Andy Marshall, light-heavyweight; Billy "Mouse" Morrison, middleweight and B.C. Amateur champion in that class; and two lightweights, Chuck Place and "Chubby" Stacey.

Joe Ward, trainer and manager of the Prince Rupert Boxing Club, promises a good show when his fighters meet three men from Kitwanga and one from Terrace.

A novel attraction of the entertainment provided by the PRE will be a log-burling contest across Second Avenue from the Civic Centre where a huge ditch will be filled with water to provide a depth of four feet. T. Norton Youngs, chairman of the exhibition committee announced today.

News of the District

Teen-Agers Climb High

STEWART—Teen-agers, under the leadership of Principal A. Robinson and Constable C. P. Crouch, have been active during the week-ends.
A week ago a visit was paid to the Silverado mine which is situated on Mount Rainey rising 6500 feet directly from the waters of the Portland Canal. They reported that the view from the mine was magnificent. The weather was, fortunately, all that could be desired.
On another day they wended their way up to the Mobile mine on Glacier Creek. This mine is at 3500 feet elevation and is situated on a bench which is parklike in its appearance, with numerous small ponds and lush vegetation. A splendid view of Stewart is obtained from the south end of this bench.

New Engineer Visits Stewart

STEWART—D. Bennett, new resident mining engineer with headquarters at Prince Rupert, has been visiting the mines in this district during the past week. In addition to visiting the Silbak-Premier mine on Salmon River, he looked over the George Enterprise on the upper Bear River accompanied by Owen McFadden. They report the trail in fair shape with the exception of a few windfalls.

STEWART NEWS

There is considerable activity among the prospectors this summer, the expectation being that there will be a considerable call for strategic miners of which this area is plentifully supplied by nature.

The Riverside mine at Seven Mile, on the Alaskan side, has had a small crew busy, during the past week, getting the equipment in shape for the early resumption of operations.

The Stewart branch of the Canadian Legion staged a successful party in their clubrooms on Saturday. The old army game of "House House" or "Bingo" was the high note of the evening.

The Stewart branch of the Canadian Legion has been busy during the past week grubbing and repairing the retaining wall at the back of the cenotaph situated at the entrance of the village, on the Stewart-Hyder road. J. Bouzek and Bob Cameron are doing the work. The work of maintenance has always been undertaken by the Legion branch and with the shrubs and flowers it makes a fitting and striking memorial.

A scratch soft-ball game was played on Sunday instead of the regularly scheduled game between Premier and Stewart. The score was 13 to 12 but no one knows whether it was Stewart or Premier who won.

Terrace Helps Bible Society

TERRACE—The sum of $191.47 was the total collected here last year for the British and Foreign Bible Society. The worthiness of this cause was ably presented by Rev. R. Tingley at a meeting in the Knox United Church last Thursday evening. Rev. P. M. Mallett presided and Mr. Tingley gave an inspiring address followed by three excellent films.
A short business meeting was also held and Mrs. C. W. Alger was elected president of the local society. Mrs. H. Amdam is secretary and Mrs. West treasurer. Also on the executive are Mrs. E. Brooks and George Peters.

TERRACE TOPICS

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Murie, Jr., was given the names Patricia Irene at a christening ceremony in Knox United Church on Friday evening last. Rev. P. M. Mallett officiated and godparents were George Haugland and Miss Irene Haugland, the baby's maternal uncle and aunt.

Eleven-year-old Joe Pruss was badly shaken late on Tuesday afternoon when he was struck by a car which was unable to stop as it drew up at J. H. Smith's store and crossed the sidewalk where the boy was standing with his bicycle. The police arrived on the scene to investigate.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Murie and two daughters, Audrey and Margaret Ann, left on Sunday driving south to make their new home. Mr. and Mrs. Murie were, until recently, owners of the Terrace Hotel.

C. L. M. Giggey has received word from the south that Mrs. Giggey and young son Michael will not be returning this week as expected. Michael has not recovered sufficiently from his surgical treatments to travel.

Herbert Spencer, Jr., is visiting in Terrace on holiday with his father, Herbert Spencer.

A check has been forwarded to headquarters in Vancouver for $445.25, the total of the collections of the local Conquer Cancer campaign.

The date of the Anglican Women's Auxiliary's picnic was set for June 29 at Lakelse Lake at C. M. L. Giggey's cabin, by the members who met on Thursday afternoon at the rectory where Mrs. Ross Thomson entertained. Mrs. West read her report of the recent Diocesan annual meeting at Prince Rupert and a short period of silent prayer was observed in memory of Mrs. J. Rennie, a member who had passed away since the last meeting. Two checks were to be sent to the victims of the two recent fires. This was the last meeting before the summer recess.

Joan Crawford Strange Woman

George Kelly's Pulitzer prize-winning play, "Harriet Craig," coming to the Totem Theatre today and tomorrow, is said to give Joan Crawford the greatest emotional role of career. With Wendell Corey as the co-star, the picture comes heralded as one of the season's outstanding dramas.

In "Harriet Craig," Miss Crawford is a strange and exciting woman, at war with everything and everyone who stands in her way. She vividly dramatizes the eternal female who believes the universe is ordered to fulfill her desires.

Corey is seen as Miss Crawford's long-indulgent husband, blinded to his wife's true nature by her dazzling beauty. When he does discover his wife's scheming mind and the startling lie she has lived, "Harriet Craig" moves towards inexorable climax.

Guard Ends Long Service

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask. (CP)—Equipped with one of the longest "records" in Western Canada, prison guard Robert Campbell Wilson has retired from his duties at the penitentiary here.
Mr. Wilson is retiring at 65 after 37 years' service that started at Edmonton in 1914 before the penitentiary was moved here in 1920.
"There's been a wonderful change in the system," says Mr. Wilson. "The prisoners haven't the dislike for the guards that they used to have. They have a real chance now."
But the veteran of five or six prison breaks is planning to say good-bye to that with trips planned to visit his four daughters and a son, all married.
