Princess Patricias Suffer First Casualties

Death Stalks Highways

Seven Killed on Vancouver Is.

NANAIMO — An automobile slithered off the icy, snow-covered highway Sunday, carrying four persons to their deaths in Cameron Lake, Vancouver Island.

Earlier in the day three persons drowned when their car dropped off a wharf at the island community of Courtenay.

Driver of a car travelling behind the death vehicle saw it make a dizzy slide into the lake, entombing its occupants in deep water. The driver was unident-fied.

Occupants were believed bound for Nanaimo from Alberni district.

Dragging operations halted at dusk.

At Courtenay police said the car was travelling between 30 and 40 miles per hour when it ran off the wharf of Vancouver Island Barge Company.

Killed were Lorraine McCarty, 30, of Cumberland; Matthews Shackleton, 55, of Comox, and George Nelson, 35, of Cumberland. Their bodies were recovered.

Two similar accidents at Vancouver Island communities took four lives last December.

PHILANTHROPIST—Senator Norman McLeod Paterson of Ottawa is believed to be the anonymous layman who has pledged $1,000,000 to the Presbyterian Church in Canada. A grain merchant and ship owner, the Liberal senator is well known for his philanthropy. Senator Paterson would neither confirm nor deny the report, but quoted: "Let not thy left hand know what thy right hand doeth."

Hit by Car Badly Hurt

Olof H. Holm, 34, member of the crew of the lighthouse tender Alberni, sustained broken legs and other injuries, possibly internal, and suffered severely from shock when he was struck at 1:30 a.m. Sunday on Second Avenue near the Angus Apartments by a car driven by Walter D. Longwill. Police stated last night that Holm's condition was not good. The extent of his injuries, at that time, they said, had not been fully determined.

Holm was unconscious for some time after the accident. The injured man was immediately picked up and removed by ambulance to the Prince Rupert General Hospital.

According to police information, Longwill was driving west along Second Avenue and Holm was walking in the same direction on the right hand side of the street.

"He regained consciousness this morning but he is in critical condition with compound fractures of both legs, concussion, and laceration about the head," said the attending physician at noon today. "The patient is just holding his own." The physician added that X-ray had not been risked due to the critical condition of the patient who had not been moved.

Holm is single and comes from Gull Lake, Saskatchewan. He is a returned man and a member of the Canadian Legion. Police have his right shoe, marine cap, and some personal effects.

With Longwill in the car were five other young men.

Canadians Holding On To Their Gains

ON THE CENTRAL FRONT, KOREA (CP)—Canada's Princess Patricias, like other troops in this sector, sat tight since Sunday night after banging hard into the enemy's main defences south of the 38th parallel. The Canadians were visited in their mountain positions by General Ridgway of the United Nations Eighth Army.

Britain Giving Up Heligoland

BONN, Germany (CP)—Britain has agreed to give up the North Sea island of Heligoland as a bombing target by 1952, it was announced here today.

The Patricias suffered first casualties of the Korean campaign Friday. Casualties, "surprisingly light," were suffered when Canadians hit at firmly dug-in Chinese positions.

Major Bill Stutt, of Calgary and Edmonton, pulled his company off Hill 419 while a formation of commanders pondered how to crack the Chinese nut.

Stutt's withdrawal thickened up the battalion's perimeter, with the company commanded by Major Vince Lilley, of Hamilton and Edmonton, in the most forward position.

United States Air Force jets and Corsairs, together with US mortars and the battalion's own support weapons, pounded the objective.

Mortars dusted Hill 419 with phosphorous bombs, starting fires. The whole hill spouted smoke. As the Chinese left their dugouts, they drew Canadian fire.

Briton to be Naval Deputy

LONDON — Prime Minister Attlee announced today it has been agreed deputy supreme commander of the Atlantic Pact naval forces will be a Briton.

Accordingly, Attlee told the House of Commons he is "entirely satisfied" with the nomination of United States Admiral William Fechteler to be supreme commander for the area.

Attlee made the statement in response to a loud outcry in Commons and the press which greeted the word last week of Admiral Fechteler's forthcoming appointment.

The Prime Minister stated that the supreme command arrangement would be effective only in wartime.

To Drink or Not to Drink

To drink or not to drink that was the question for George Wing, 25, who appeared in magistrate's court Saturday.

However, when two smiling policemen of the city detachment of the RCMP came into the Hollywood Cafe Friday evening, Wing decided to drink.

"I couldn't let it go to waste," explained Wing after court.

"When I saw the policemen smiling, I thought they were going to pull out a bottle," Mr. Wing testified from the witness stand.

Wing's counsel, T. W. Brown, KC, encouraged him to "keep on telling the truth."

"Well," went on Mr. Wing, "the policemen came up to our table. We had all had something to eat. A friend had come in with a bottle. He sat down and poured us all a drink."

"Then a policeman took my drink and placed it in front of me. I drank it," said Mr. Wing.

Mr. Brown pointed out to Magistrate W. D. Vance that the accused, who had pleaded guilty to the charge of drinking alcohol in a restaurant, had not touched the liquor before the police arrived.

"He has never appeared in court before," pleaded Mr. Brown.

In view of circumstances, Const. E. D. Anderson, asked and received from Magistrate Vance dismissal of charges on J. Collins and Richard Sylvester, also at the restaurant table. But Wing had pleaded guilty.

Const. Anderson explained to the court that the police had thought Wing was someone else against whom past charges had been made.

Six months suspended sentence was given Wing by Magistrate Vance, with the warning not to slip up within that time or else the case will be held against him.

But R. Yerman, charged with the ownership of the open bottle of spirits in the restaurant, was fined $50 and $4.50 costs.

Go-Ahead Order is Given To Open Road to Terrace

Instructions were issued this morning by L. M. Smith, district engineer for the provincial department of public works, to reopen the Prince Rupert-Terrace Highway. All available men and equipment will be put to work on the job.

"Weather has held so well, we think we can keep it open now until spring," said Mr. Smith, setting March 15 as the deadline.

The Skeena Highway opening will begin with snow plowing from Terrace, while a small plow will keep the road from Port Edward to here open, the engineer said.

Paris Busses Strike-Tied

PARIS — Parisians took to bicycles, motorcycles and foot by the thousands today as bus drivers and many subway operators began a 24-hour strike for more pay.

All busses were halted by midnight with single trains running on two cross-town subway lines. Seventeen other trains are running on shorter branches.

At least one independent subway driver's union refused to go along with the strike, ordered by both Communist and non-Communist unions.

It is hoped up to 50 per cent of the trains would run later in the day.

To help ease the situation, the government mobilized scores of army trucks driven by soldiers and run on the bus lines.

How They Do It

FLIN FLON, MANITOBA
Population 12,000

All recreational activities in this northern mining town are operated by the Community Club. It naturally receives heavy support from the Hudson Bay Mining and Smelting Co., which provides the most of money needed for all capital expenditures. It is this body that also supervises operation of the arena, figure skating rink, and two curling clubs.

The Community Club has an adult membership of over 2,000 at a yearly fee of $6. All resident adults, almost without exception are members of the club.

Each activity is a separate club within the main club, and must operate baseball, hobbies, music, camera work, basketball, tennis etc.

The main standard size ice arena seats about 2500 people. A figure skating sheet is adjacent. A 12-sheet curling rink operates in conjunction. A further 3-sheet curling rink operates in the suburbs.

Ten hours free school skating is provided weekly as well as 18 hours free school hockey. Free supervised high school curling is a weekly attraction. There is public skating two nights per week. The rink itself, principally due to curling, is open 24 hours daily for 7 days a week.

The membership fee for the curling club is $12 per year (plus community club membership). There are over 1000 active members in the club.

Scouts', Guides' Church Service

Church parade at St. Andrew's Cathedral on Sunday morning showed a smart turn-out of Scouts, Cubs, Guides and Brownies. They came out in large numbers under their various leaders. Commissioner Honora Silversides was in general command of the girls.

Scout Commissioner F. E. Angfield read the lesson and Canon Basil S. Procter, who is also leader of the Cathedral Club pack, preached a suitable sermon on "Activity."

The various troop and company flags were carried by Scout Murray Boas and Scout Frank Angfield. Guide Susan Kergin and Guide Elizabeth Jones, the last mentioned accompanied by their Patrol Leader Julie Procter.

"Thinking Day" for the Guides and Brownies was held in the Catholic Hall on Tuesday. The candlelight ceremony was an interesting and picturesque affair. There were over one hundred Guides and Brownies present. Patrol leaders of the Guides and the "Sixers" of the Brownies each lit a candle arranged in the "Trefoil" pattern of the Guides' badge, remembering as they did so the Guides and Brownies all over the world, who were engaged in a similar ceremony at the same time. This ceremony is always held on the birthday of Lord Baden Powell, the founder of the movement.

The Guides and Brownies engaged in various vigorous and delightful games under the leadership of Captain Elizabeth Holmes. There were many parents and visitors present and a very pleasant evening was spent by both the girls and guests.

Anita Favorite, Ponder, Scratched

ARCADIA, California — Calumet Stables Ponder, the top-weighted horse in next Saturday's $100,000 Santa Anita handicap, was scratched Sunday from the 1 1/4-mile classic. A sore leg kept him from starting in a San Antonio handicap a week ago.

Aluminum—Depends on Washington

MONTREAL — An official of Aluminum Co. of Canada stated Saturday that the company's project in British Columbia was "dependent on decisions to be made in Washington."

Nevertheless, work preliminary to power development on a large scale was proceeding this year.

Vancouver Tug Sinks

VANCOUVER — The $25,000 tugboat Ironbark sank in shallow waters Sunday after a gaping hole was torn in her starboard bow near Bowen Island, 14 miles west of here.

Two crew members reached shore safely after the 40-foot vessel started to sink. The tug is owned by Harbor Towing Company, Horseshoe Bay.

Floods, Slides, In Venezuela

CARACAS, Venezuela (CP) — At least 12 persons were killed Sunday by floods and landslides in Venezuela.

Flu, Dying

(CP) — A young man who wrote his name in an examination, died in hospital. He was Vernon Holmes.

More Food If Price is Paid

Britain Is Told Bluntly—Latest Challenge From Ireland

LONDON — For the second time within a week Britain has been told bluntly she can have abundant supplies of food to replenish her depleted larder by paying higher prices.

Latest challenge, sounded by James M. Dillon, agriculture minister for Ireland, came as many families in the United Kingdom endured a meatless week-end and faced prospects of still another cut in the matchbook-size of meat ration.

At present, individual ration provides for about the equivalent of 12 cents worth of meat in a week but shopkeepers at times have found it impossible to supply all their registered customers.

Hon. James Gardiner, Canada's agriculture minister, before his departure Saturday for home after four days conferring with British ministers, said Canada stood ready to supply Britain with more meat, cheese and eggs if an assured market was guaranteed and prices offered in line with those Canadian producers are getting from other sources.

CLOSE SHAVE—When the engine on a U.S. Air Force C-54 went wild over the muskeg of northern Alberta, it hurled its propeller into the side of the plane. The three six-foot blades gouged out a huge hole, put the hydraulic system out of commission and chewed up a cargo of food being flown to Alaska. Without instruments and only three engines running, Capt. P. M. Woods of Louisiana nursed the craft 100 miles back to Edmonton where he brought it down safely without brakes or landing flaps.

Our M.L.A. Speaks Out

HIS CONSTITUENTS will heartily applaud Prince Rupert's young M.L.A., Jack McRae, for his vigorous speech in the Legislature at the end of the week when he charged that the people of the north were being penalized for the benefit of the people of the south of the province.

Mr. McRae really went to bat in the matter of highways. It is to be hoped that full and immediate attention will be paid to his demand in regard to the road from the city to the industries of Port Edward. Two or three years ago assurances were given that this road would be hard-surfaced and be in good shape before the opening of the pulp mill. Instead of that, the road only a few days ago was all but impassable and its condition was causing general protest. That is the situation as the Columbia Cellulose plant is about to go into production. And there is also the important nearby fish-processing industry which does much business with Prince Rupert.

The M.L.A. for Prince Rupert also had something to say about hospital service, suggesting that this city was not getting the same value for its premium dollar as were some other communities in the province.

Now he has had his say in the House and has gone on record publicly, Mr. McRae will, undoubtedly, vigorously follow up the matters about which he complained. The people of his constituency will expect him to do so.

Are We All Dumb?

IT SEEMS a very strange thing that the people right here in Prince Rupert should seem satisfied that their port should remain so continually inactive, that the grain elevator keeps permanently empty and idle and that year after year so little should be done and little said about the opening up of this port as the Pacific coast outlet for the Peace River. And this is mentioning only a few things.

Why should elderly Page Rideout—all respect and power to him—and a Member of Parliament from another corner of the province be more audible apostles on such matters than we ourselves are? Where are the people of Prince Rupert themselves? Where are their own voices?

Surely we are not satisfied to let things go on this way and permit this great port to continue quiet and idle as far as world commerce is concerned, particularly now that trade with the Far East—China and India—is beginning to develop substantially again. Why should it be taken for granted that Vancouver is the only port through which these shipments to the East should be made?

Maybe Prince Rupert people, in their new prosperity, have lost their fighting spirit.

Plenty—In Moderation

ONCE AGAIN we are experiencing shortages of many kinds: of goods, of commodities, of services. For a while, early last year, the supply situation of most things became about equal to demand. But as the year went on, and the international situation became more acute, shortages which have plagued industry and consumers alike these past ten years were back again. In addition, defence plans began to have an effect.

Defence orders this year will be considerably higher than last year, but estimates indicate that even the full weight of the expanded government program will account for little more than five percent of the total national productivity. Even though many materials may become scarcer, relatively few real hardships are likely to result.

With Canada's total actual productive capacity about double what it was ten years ago, a strong national effort can be made without the need for any extreme dislocation in our present way of living.

The prime need is for self-discipline and moderation. If that is practised, there should be ample necessities—even comforts—to go round.

Scripture Passage for Today

"For God is not the author of confusion, but of peace, as is all the churches of the saints." 1 Cor. 14:33.

As I See It

CAIRO MOVIE

CAIRO, EGYPT. — In the English and French language papers published here most of the movies advertised are Hollywood, with a few British productions.

I was determined to see a real Arab movie, so walked to the Opera Cinema on Saturday afternoon.

A seat in the so-called balcony cost me 42 cents (that is 14 piastres, local money). All seats are reserved, and shows do not run continuously. That is, you buy your ticket for a movie just like for the live theatre, and get there at a certain time.

I WAS ASTONISHED at the theatre building. Offhand, I cannot think of one single movie house in Canada so well designed. The seating capacity is not so great as in our larger big city movie houses. But the layout seemed better to me.

The house was very much wider than is the custom with us. Also, the whole floor was on about the same level. First come the orchestra seats, then slightly raised are the loges, or boxes. Then behind the loges is the "balcony," only slightly higher than the rest.

It so happened that some of the top movie stars in this particular play turned up in person, and were immediately recognized and hero-worshipped by the youngsters in front of them.

THE MOVIE ITSELF was called "Ballet El Mahboub." The cast is very small, not more than about a dozen all told. The show is really carried by about three very fine male actors and about three gals who also know their stuff.

Of course, the dialogue was in Arabic, so I only got the general drift of the play. The Boy and Girl love story falls into some kind of complication and Boy falls under the spell of a very competent night club tummy-etc.-wrangling dancer.

This dancer is the mistress of a rich sugar-daddy, of very jealous disposition and who has a violent temper.

The comedians get into the lady dancer's home by mistake when they are supposed to be next door on serious business. When the sugar-daddy knocks, the lady dancer sees the two comedians and then the fun really begins.

Of course, it is what we in America would call "corn on the cob," and the plot is as old as the hills. But the audience loved it. And I must make clear that with the possible exception of a few close-up shots of the dance routine, there was nothing that one might not see in America any week of the year. In other words, the movie was not of the risqué variety.

IF THE AUDIENCE I saw was typical, then audiences here are much more demonstrative and responsive than we are at home. They roared with laughter at all the jokes. They clapped and cheered at all times. They sat on the edges of their seats in the exciting spots.

THEY MAKE THESE MOVIES on the outskirts of Cairo, and they seem to be doing an intelligent job.

But I noticed that with the Egyptian-made feature they showed a Warner Brothers short—the animal cartoon variety. It was in English, I noticed too, that the recorded music with which the show opened began with a medley which started with the Star Spangled Banner.

ON THE WAY HOME to MY hotel after the show a street peddler sold me two new Malacca canes. I left my two old ones with him, and it was like parting with old friends, for I have carried them for 16 years, over half the world.

My old ones were all scarred with puppy tooth marks where I used to play with our black spaniel, Ruffy, when she was very young.

She'll turn a suspicious sniff on these sleek new ones—maybe smelling of snakes and all sorts of things, for all I know.

Wouldn't it be terrible if Ruffy didn't remember me?

GOOD DEED

KITCHENER, Ont. (CP)—Five members of the 11th Kitchener Rover crew of Boy Scouts did a particularly good deed when they painted the headquarters of the North Waterloo district of the Boy Scouts' Association. The senior scouts did the work on two Saturdays.

Report from Parliament

By Edward J. Applewhaite M.P.

I had noticed that when the Dominion government advertises tenders for works in our district, the plans, etc., are always available at the nearest post office to where the work is to be performed and at Ottawa, Victoria and Vancouver.

So I took the matter up with the Minister of Public Works pointing out that, while these plans should always be available where the work is to be done, Prince Rupert is the only city in the riding and that several of Skeena's largest contractors are located there, also that it takes time to get plans and specifications in from Vancouver, and that they should always be made available at Prince Rupert as well as at the scene of the job. Mr. Fournier, the Minister, has now advised me: "Instructions have been issued to the proper offices of the Department in future cases of calls for public tenders in the Skeena District to have plans and specifications available at the Post Office Building at Prince Rupert, B.C."

VISITOR FROM HOME — It was a great pleasure to me a few days ago to have W. J. Davies of Queen Charlotte City walk in to my office. Visitors from home are a rare occurrence for me, so it is somewhat of a gala occasion. While here, Bill interested himself in the proposed floats for Queen Charlotte and discussed them with Mr. Fournier, Minister of Public Works.

EVERYTHING UP—According to figures just made available, aggregate payrolls, average hourly earnings, and average weekly salaries and wages in Canadian manufacturing industries reached new peaks in December. Production of automobiles in December totalled 30,783 as against 30,222 in November and 25,921 in the same month of 1949.

DIVORCE BILL—The annual flow of divorce bills has started—in fact it's well under way—I estimate about forty of them are now on the Order Paper. Fortunately, they don't usually take up much time in the Commons, as all the heavy work involved is done in Senate Committees.

CHIVALRY—In a debate on a private member's bill the other day we had some excitement when our only lady member, Mrs. Fairclough, and the old war-horse, Jean Francois Pouliot, tangled horns. Although Mrs. Fairclough is a Conservative and Pouliot, like the majority of us, a Liberal, still the sympathies of the House, in that particular clash, was all with Mrs. Fairclough. Incidentally, she held her own, without needing any sympathy.

GEORGE MURRAY — Our friend, George Murray of Cariboo, got into the debate on the resolution asking for federal aid to education, and made an excellent speech. George opened his remarks by making it clear that he is opposed to the resolution (as I think most of us are). But he did favor Dominion assistance in such practical matters as prospecting, and, using his own district as an example, said that the old-timers knew where there was manganese for instance, and the Dominion might well assist in its re-discovery and development, as part of the defence effort.

Reflects and Reminisces

The same sort of nervousness experienced in the homes of Canada between 1939 and 1945 is being felt again. The Princess Pats have had their first casualties in Korea. From Ottawa will come messages "regretting to inform." Yes, there is war in the world in its full and complete sense, even if last July it was called police action.

Daylight saving remains a nuisance but the chances are there won't be so much of it. There are signs in Victoria that its application will be restricted to July and August. A proclamation is on the way and whatever the government will do to shorten it should be OK with everyone, anyway.

Prince Rupert has been having a lack of telephones for years. Service was started here very early in the city's history. Duff Pattullo had something to do with that. Well, if there are too few phones here today, Prince Rupert has abundant company. Taking the province as a whole, 23,000 British Columbians are still on the waiting list. Of course (or perhaps you've guessed it) continental defence preparations continue to cut into material required in the manufacture of the almost indispensable phone.

There will not be the slightest chance of having sweepstakes in Canada or even a more modest form of gambling. No one has ever lived in expectation anyway. But this, you see, is Ottawa's way of emphasizing that defence expenses will make your spare dollars even scarcer.

Most of us think of Hansard, official record of what is said in the Federal Parliament, as a document from which nothing is missed. However, the Progressive-Conservative leader, Mr. Drew, has made a motion concerning certain members, removing from the record, words they had uttered, but had no wish to have reported. That would not make 100 percent Hansard.

Princess Pats have only arrived on the Korean battle line, but already they are letting the home front know they have never needed socks worse. Nearly every pair is full of holes. Mothers, sisters, cousins and

Retired But Useful— Veteran Telegraph Operator Puts his Hobby into Service

PIONEER OF NORTH, "Bill" Wrathall functions effectively as radio co-ordinator. Picture shows himself and his studio.

By G. A. HUNTER

William W. Wrathall, pioneer business man, photographer and telegraph operator, is one of those fortunate individuals who is able to enjoy his retirement by the active exercise of a useful hobby. He still does his "trick" every day as a semi-professional "ham" radior from the basement retreat of his home at 336 Fifth Avenue West. There he holds forth as emergency co-ordinator of the American Radio Relay League for this area and seldom a day goes by that he has not done a useful job or a good turn for someone in the way of wireless communication. When normal communications fail, he is the stand-by who comes to the aid of the regular commercial services.

It is "Bill" Wrathall who the most of radio listeners run into every now and then as they flick their dials and hear the familiar "VE7LK" signal.

Mr. Wrathall has "thousands of friends" all over the world with whom he keeps in regular and frequent contact. The walls of his studio are lined with the cards of hundreds of "ham" stations like his from near and far afield. The personal chatter which these people exchange is intriguing indeed to the observer who may call on "Bill" in his studio as he carries out his regular stands each day and keeps actively in the communication business.

He goes on the "network" twice daily at 12:30 noon and 7:30 p.m. and his domain as emergency co-ordinator for the American Radio Relay League extends to such remote points in Northern British Columbia as Telegraph Creek, Parsnip River and Takla Landing to the more accessible places such as Perow, Burns Lake, Smithers, Hazelton and Ketchikan. He co-operates closely with such local 100-watt colleagues as Frank Parlette, Fred McDonald, Dock Dochterman, Norman Kinslor, Bill Cummings and Sid Anderson.

"Some people may think we are a nuisance," Mr. Wrathall told the Daily News, "but we think we are doing a good and useful job."

Possibly the most effective demonstration of the usefulness of the emergency radio network maintained by these amateur radior, of which Mr. Wrathall is emergency co-ordinator, came during the 1949 flood season when for days everything in the way of commercial communications with such inter or points as Terrace, Smithers and Prince George was really "down" and "Bill" did a great and untiring job in the handling of vital commercial traffic. More than two hundred messages were handled and the service won the grateful acknowledgment of both Canadian National Railways and federal government.

Mr. Wrathall built his own 100-watt transmitter which carries 20, 40, 80, 19, 25 and 49 meters. He uses a Howard communications receiver with a mass of supplementary equipment such as only a confirmed radior would appreciate.

ALWAYS A TELEGRAPHER
Besides being a pioneer in the radio field here, Mr. Wrathall is a true and interesting northerner in other ways. Telegraphy has always been his first love although he has ventured into other fields.

Born in England, Mr. Wrathall came to Victoria when five years of age and started as a telegraph messenger there in 1900, becoming an operator for Canadian Pacific Telegraphs three years later. In 1905 he transferred to Vancouver and two years later answered the "call of the north" by accepting an appointment to the old Government Telegraphs at Hazelton in 1907.

It was in September of that year that Mr. Wrathall landed at Port Essington, metropolis of this part of the coast in those days, aboard the old coastal liner Princess May, then, the luxury ship of the "Inside Passage." He found that every one of the old sternwheeler vessels were wrecked and out of commission. The Northwest had struck a sandbar at Telegraph Point and broke in half. The Hazelton was ashore at Kitzegukla and the Mount Royal had capsized in Kitselas Canyon with loss of five lives.

Opportunity to continue the trip to his destination at Hazelton came when Harry Daniels, a fisherman-adventurer, invited Mr. Wrathall to join him in poling a canoe the distance of 150 miles up the rugged shores of the Skeena River to Hazelton. Leaving Port Essington September 15 what was to turn out to be a rather arduous and hazardous undertaking

New Wonder Electronic Ear Hides Deafness

CHICAGO, ILL. (Special)—A fabulous new electronic ear which miraculously conceals deafness was revealed by an eminent Chicago acoustical scientist.

In an exclusive interview with the Business Research Associates, he disclosed that "through the miracle of modern electronics it is now possible for millions of hard of hearing to recapture their loss without a button showing in either ear."

In a remarkable demonstration he showed how his tiny revolutionary electronic discovery has rendered old style hearing aids obsolete.

Pointing out that his invention gives new hope to those who have heretofore refused to wear a hearing aid with a conspicuous ear button or head-band, he said that "this electronic ear transmits even whispers with startling clarity."

To acquaint the hard of hearing readers of this paper with this new wonder discovery which hides deafness, full details will be sent in a plain wrapper without obligation to anyone who requests it. Address: Electronic Research Director, 500C Beltone Building, 1450 W. 19th St., Chicago 8, Ill. A penny postcard will do.

was finally completed 21 days later on October 6 when Mr. Wrathall reported for duty on his new job. So he spent the exciting and colorful days of railroad construction in that bustling interior frontier town.

In 1908 Mr. Wrathall returned to Victoria to get married. He was in Hazelton and Prince Rupert that their four sons and two daughters were born.

Meantime, Mr. Wrathall had developed a keen and proficient interest in photography and in 1912 he quit the Government Telegraphs to go into the photographic business professionally. Next year (1913) he moved to Prince Rupert and opened business here, continuing until 1920 when he returned to his old love—telegraphy—by joining the Government Telegraphs with which he remained until 1940 when Canadian National Telegraphs took over and with which he continued for five years until retirement.

Blackwood on Bridge

By Easley Blackwood

When the bidding is brisk and all four players are participating, my friend Mr. Muzzy is more likely than usual to become confused.

Mr. Dale, who is an expert on bridge humanics, is not keen on making sacrifice bids against a fine player like Mr. Champion—except when Mr. Champion has Mr. Muzzy for a partner. That, of course, is another matter. Against Mr. Muzzy the most remarkable things can happen.

The bidding:
1H 1S 2H 2S
4H 4S Pass
Dbl. Pass Redbl.

So, after Mr. Dale showed a fit in spades and a fighting spirit, Mr. Dale decided four hearts was a pretty sure thing for his opponents and he called four spades. He hoped he could hold the set to two tricks or 300 points. If you can't win on a hand, why not try to reduce your losses?

About this time, Mr. Muzzy's mind was out in left field. But Mr. Champion doubled the four spade bid so violently that Mr. Muzzy came out of his reverie with a bang. He had a good hand. They weren't going to push him around. If anybody wanted trouble he'd give it to them, by cracker! "Redouble," he bawled. . . . Bedlam.

Before the players could even look for Mr. Judge, the demon kibitzer, he was right there delightedly flipping through the pages of his book of laws. Mr. Judge never plays but he loves to settle bridge disputes. He is jealous of his self-appointed position of official arbiter. One night another kibitzer offered to quote the law on an infraction of the rules. Mr. Judge eyed him coldly. "What do you mean," he said, "trying to horn in on OUR game?"

This is what Mr. Judge had to say about redoubling your own partner's double. Mr. Muzzy could make any proper call he chose. He could even pass. However, if he did pass, his opponents could cancel all previous doubles and redoubles.

Mr. Muzzy thought long and hard. His partner, Mr. Champion, had not elected to bid five hearts and he had great respect for Mr. Champion's judgment. So Mr. Muzzy elected to pass. Mr. Dale exercised his right to cancel the double and Mr. Champion was barred from any further bidding.

As you see Mr. Dale was right in his original estimate of the hand. East-West can make five hearts, whereas four spades by North-South is down only two tricks—one spade, one heart, one diamond and two clubs. But never had Mr. Dale dreamed that his sacrifice would cost him only a paltry 100 points.

New Forestry Cruiser Here

A new patrol vessel for the forestry department arrived in Prince Rupert at 3 p.m. today. She is the sleek, 65-foot launch "Salt Mist," a former private yacht. Her captain is Richard Farmer of Prince Rupert.

Returning aboard the "Salt Mist" is District Forester Marc Gormley after several weeks of forestry business in Vancouver and Victoria.

The "Salt Mist," diesel-powered and equipped to sleep a crew of nine, will replace the 66-foot patrol vessel Lillian D which will be based at Ocean Falls. The White Cloud, formerly at Ocean Falls, was burned last summer.

First patrol of the "Salt Mist" will probably be in the Stewart area, says the district forestry office, and this is expected shortly. Patrol area for the vessel is from Swanson Bay, south of here, to the northern limits of the B. C. coast.

Ordinary patrols require only the captain and a forest ranger; special surveys take the full complement.

Leaving Here For Victoria

Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Lock, who have been here for over a decade, leave Thursday to reside in Victoria.

Coming from Saanich to Prince Rupert as chief of the city fire department, in 1937, Mr. Lock said today: "Prince Rupert has been good to us. We will miss our friends, especially the men of the fire department."

Superannuated as fire chief in 1948, Mr. Lock has since worked in the flower business with his wife at the Prince Rupert Florist Shop on Third Avenue.

This business will be taken over by Mr. and Mrs. William Baxter on March 1. Mr. Baxter has been employed as head gardener at the Provincial Court House.

Mrs. Lock has been managing the store since 1942, when the business was bought. She was assistant manageress to a London florist before she came out to Canada.

They have a son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur McPhalen in Vancouver.

"It's time Mrs. Lock had a little home of her own and some place where she can continue her interest in flowers. I think we can manage 100 by 100 feet of ground—but not too big!" says Mr. Lock.

"I plan to do the flannels and go back to cricket," adds Mr. Lock, who was active with the game in Victoria and England.

He came from England to Canada in 1914, returning the same year to the First World War.

Mr. Lock was appointed chief of the Saanich Fire Dept. in Victoria in 1930 having joined the department there as a fireman in 1920.

As assistant civil defence commissioner for Prince Rupert during the last war, he attended a special class of chemical warfare at the University of Stanford near San Francisco in 1944.

Saturday evening an informal gathering of city firemen and their wives was at Fire Chief and Mrs. (Earl) Backer's home in

BASKETBALL—

Brownwoods Take First Of Play-offs in Close Contest with G. and A.

Gordon and Anderson just about pulled a tough one out of the fire Saturday night when they came within one point of their opponents, the hard-fighting Brownwoods, in the opener of the Senior Basketball League play-offs.

The shoemen held an eleven point lead at about 5 minutes to play. At thirty-five seconds to go G and A had possession of the ball and were only one point down, when Les Matthews let loose with a shot from centre floor. It was a wild effort that might of won them the game but the shot fell way short and Brownwoods took the throw in coming down the court to score just before the final bell rang and the first game of the semi-finals was over.

Brownwoods reserved their win. They went into the game with just five regulars. They fought hard all the way and grabbed an early lead which they held all the way. Their high-scoring ace Ray Spring was checked hard all evening, but he still came through with 16 points. Reg. Lavigne scored 13 and never worked harder. Gordon and Anderson was away off in their shooting until the final few minutes. They scored only 4 of 12 foul shots while their opponents were getting 9 for 16. Jim Flaten and Rupert Holkestad worked like Trojans to keep the team in the game and Les Matthews played his best game of the season, although he was away off in his shooting. Marshall came through with 13 points. His shooting was deadly, but too often he hesitated and lost his opportunity. He also fumbled the ball badly a few times which cost the team valuable shooting opportunities.

The fans had their money's worth and more. The last few minutes were as exciting as any in the Civic Centre gym to date and augurs well for tomorrow night's second game of the two of three series.

INTERMEDIATE
H-Gold had little difficulty in clinching the top place spot in the Intermediate League and a bye into the finals. They disposed of the second place Fashion Footwear team by 65 to 24 score. Fashion will now meet H. Green in U.C. best of three semi-finals for the Grotto Trophy with the first game tomorrow night. McChesney 19, Ratchford 15, and Henry Blackaby 14, led the Golds to a clean cut win, as the Golds played steady and effective basketball to lead 16-6 at the end of the first quarter, 34 to 16 at the half and 47 to 18 at the three-quarter mark. In the third quarter they swarmed all over the luckless Fashions to outscore them 13 to 2, and continued on to outscore them in the final half by 31 to 8. The game was marred when Haugen and Young roughed it up in the early stages and were banished. However, they left the game with a handshake and no harm was done.

GIRLS' GAMES
Girls exhibition game was High School all the way as they outscored People's 26 to 16. The High School is developing a fine team and, with more opportunity for practice in the school's own gym coming up next season, some first-class basketball should yet be seen in this department. Leona Webster paced the victors as she scored 8 points with Graham getting 6. For People's Christine Currie scored 7, as team showed flashes of their former abilities.

THOLEE?
The Junior game provided the most thrills of the evening as battled it out to a 37 all draw. Rupert Hotel and High School. Through an error on the part of score-keeper Fenness the teams went off the floor thinking that Rupert Hotel was in the lead 37-36 with the game over.

The High School scorekeeper protested the score to referee Calderone and, on examining the records, it was found that Fenness had neglected to credit one of the two of three technical foul shots converted by Christensen of the High Juniors. The referee declared the game a tie, and in his position as League Registrar ordered a replay for tomorrow night.

It was a bitter battle all the way. The High team had the top-place and a bye into the finals within their reach if they won the game. Rupert Hotel kept in the running for top-place if they won. The lead changed hands 13 times during the game, as feelings ran high and players gave of everything they had. Tempers flared quite often and technical fouls were dealt out to both teams as they questioned the decisions of the referee and umpire.

All in all it was a big evening with some first class ball evidently in store for coming play-off events.

Ski Heil—

(By Marnie Bulger)

Every skier atop Mount Hays Sunday agreed wholeheartedly that conditions were "just wonderful." The four feet of cushion-like snow, covered by a powdery layer which had filled in previous bath-tubs was just soft enough to make falling almost as much fun as skiing.

New skiers on the hill were Dorothy Reddie, Shirley Haugan and Bill Campbell who were impressed with the lay-out and beauty of the scenery.

Saturday evening a group gathered in the cabin of Diane Kennedy and Phyllis Tomlinson to honor returning skiers from the Smithers meet. A large cake was presented to which Cury (Harold) Eidsvik responded with a fitting speech.

Prince Rupert's competitors in the championship tourney who made but "a promising showing" this year, claim next year things "will be different." And they wish to say special thanks to Chris Dahlie of Smithers who took a day off from his work to show them around.

Chris, by the way, now 55 years of age, is a former Norwegian jumper and the father of Jorgen Dahlie, new champion

Competition for Whist Prizes

There was a three-way cut for second prize in whist at the Sons of Norway card party and dance at the Sons of Norway Hall Friday. Mrs. John Fredheim won first prize for ladies and Leroy Wilson for men. Mrs. O. Giske won ladies' second prize.

With a score of 136 each, Carl Mostad, Oscar Giske and R. Hamer cut for the cash prize. Mr. Hamer won.

In aid of the Boy Scout appeal the club realized over $12, through a raffle held the same evening. Winners in the raffle were R. Hunsdale, two cubs Kennedy and Phyllis Tomlinson to honor returning skiers from the Smithers meet. A large cake was presented to which Cury (Harold) Eidsvik responded with a fitting speech.

Nels Gundarson was master of ceremonies with Mike Colussi playing the accordion for the dance.

Under convener Mrs. C. Strand, Mr. and Mrs. Fredheim, Mrs. J. Pedersen, Mrs. O. Giske, B. Bakken, Nels Wasseng and John McNaughton were on the committee.

Meat Buyers Aided By Ship's Cooks

LONDON (CP) — Meat-starved Britons returning from continental trips have been forming long queues outside the galleys on the cross-channel steamships. They have been taking advantage of a new service provided by the shipping companies.

Before embarking the travellers have been buying large joints of meat, legs of lamb, enticing cuts of sirloin of beef—all easily obtainable in France.

Government restrictions, however, forbid the importation of raw meat to prevent disease being brought into the country. The steamship chefs have come to the rescue. They offered to roast or part-cook all joints brought aboard, without any charge.

Said a spokesman for the shipping companies: "This service started on its own. Passengers arriving with raw meat without knowing the restrictions looked so harassed that the chefs took pity on them."

THE EXPERTS Say...

By KAY REX
Canadian Press Staff Writer

The Versatile Bean—Bet the bean is about the most versatile food there is.

You can bake it a variety of ways, make it into a soup, even put it in sandwiches.

And—oh joy—it's inexpensive even these expensive days.

Home economists have prepared a booklet on white navy beans, otherwise known as the Ontario white pea bean.

This bean is produced in the five counties of Ontario represented by the Ontario Bean Growers Marketing Board. While a small quantity is produced in other provinces, Canada depends almost entirely on Ontario production to supply domestic requirements.

Pick over beans and wash thoroughly; soak overnight in cold water to cover (three cups water to one cup beans); cook beans slowly in salted water.

Baked Beans — Ingredients: Two cups white (navy) beans; one-quarter pound salt pork or smoked pork fat; three tablespoons brown sugar; three tablespoons molasses; 1½ teaspoons salt; one-half teaspoon mustard; one-quarter cup chopped onion; two tablespoons catsup; 2½ cups water.

Pressure saucepan method; soak beans overnight in enough water to cover. Drain and place in bottom of pressure saucepan with other ingredients. Cook at 15 pounds pressure for 50 minutes. Yield: about six cups.

Oven method: If using a three-quart bean pot or baking-dish, double the above recipe. Soak beans overnight in water to cover. Drain. Cover with fresh water and simmer, covered for one-half hour. Drain. Place piece of salt pork in bottom of bean pot. Add beans and remaining salt pork. Mix brown sugar, molasses, salt, mustard, onion, catsup and water and add to beans.

Cover pot and bake in a slow oven (250 degrees Fahrenheit) from six to eight hours. Remove cover during last half hour of baking. Add boiling water as required during baking to keep beans covered with liquid. Yield: about 12 cups.

Ham and Bean Sandwich Spread—Ingredients: Two cups baked beans; one cup chopped cooked ham; one-half cup chopped celery; two tablespoons chili sauce; one teaspoon horseradish; three-quarters teaspoon salt.

Combine ingredients and blend together lightly. Yield: Three cups.

Cream of Bean Soup—Ingredients: One cup dried white (navy) beans; six cups boiling water; one teaspoon salt; one tablespoon fat; one-half cup chopped onion; one tablespoon flour; one quart (five cups) hot milk; one teaspoon salt; one-quarter teaspoon pepper.

Soak beans overnight in enough water to cover. Drain, add boiling water and one teaspoon salt. Simmer covered until tender (about two hours).

If a pressure saucepan is used cook the soaked beans in water to barely cover for 50 minutes at 15 pounds pressure. Fry onion in fat until clear, add flour and blend well. Add hot milk, cooking and stirring until slightly thickened. Add drained, cooked beans and season with remaining salt and pepper. Re-heat and serve hot. Yield: Six servings.

Fight Drama Showing Here

June Allyson and Dick Powell are co-starring with Ricardo Montalban in "Right Cross," a drama of the prize fight game which is featured on the screen of the Capitol Theatre here this Monday and Tuesday.

Powell is cast as a happy-go-lucky sports writer who carries a flaming torch for Miss Allyson, daughter of a one-time top promoter whose contract with Montalban, the middleweight champion, is the only remaining hope of regaining his lost prestige.

It is the fighter whom the girl loves but, when the champ, obsessed by a sense of social inferiority and a determination to provide himself with security, aligns himself with a rival promoter, she turns to the waiting arms of the writer. The conflict is resolved in a tension-packed fight climax in which the title is lost but the fighter regains his self-respect and the girl he loves.

Lionel Barrymore gives force and conviction to the role of the discarded promoter.

Atmosphere of the prize-fight world is said to have been accurately etched into the action of the film.

Roughest crossing of Queen Charlotte Sound in the vessel's experience was that which Union steamer Camosun, Capt. William McCombe, had, Saturday evening as she came north from Vancouver to Prince Rupert.

The vessel ran into a 40-mile northwesterly sweeping in from the open sea with heavy rollers and huge crests. The serving of dinner was deferred for one hour until the vessel passed out of the Sound. The same gale-lashed seas are reported to have carried off the verandah of one of the buildings at Pine Island lighthouse.

The Camosun arrived in port at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon from the south and sailed at 11 p.m. for Alice Arm and Stewart whence she will return here tomorrow morning southbound.

Stormy weather also delayed the Union steamer Chilcotin, Capt. Harry McLean, on her week-end voyage to the south Queen Charlotte Islands. She reached port at 6:30 last evening from the Islands and sailed at 8 p.m. on continuation of her voyage to Vancouver.

Six Months for Garage Theft

Six months imprisonment in Oakalla jail was the sentence given Malcolm McDonald, 22, by Magistrate W. D. Vance in city police court last week.

Although satisfied with the results of the rusty barrel and coils, Modica isn't resting on his laurels. He's mulling over a plan that would enable planes to carry more napalm.

Finn Couple Happy to In Canada—To Live Here

Three people lately to have fallen in love in British Columbia—Prince Rupert in particular—have come 7000 miles to seek for themselves the life of complete freedom.

That's how Mr. and Mrs. Henry Seppie, and Kai Christensen put it. They come from Copenhagen, Denmark, and arrived here a few days ago. They are nephews and niece Jack Christensen, Borden Street, resident here since 1907, and they say they have come "to stay."

Already Mr. Seppie has located employment, although of much a different nature than to which he is accustomed. He is a goldsmith but he feels there is little opportunity here of practising the old European trade of making intricate jewelry by hand from silver and gold.

"But this is not at all discouraging," says Seppie brightly. He speaks a fluent English. Right now he's a laborer and finds it invigorating, he says.

And how different is this country to Finland. He speaks gratefully when he compares the life in a country from which he fled to Denmark.

SUCH FREEDOM
"Here there is such freedom—one can feel it in the air," he told his aunt, Mrs. Christensen, upon arrival. In Finland, he said, the Communists have taken over all the farmland and industries, and the people live in fear. Even in Denmark, there are restrictions, the others said, one can do little without through a lot of "red tape."

The wife of Kai Christensen is to arrive here in September. She is a ballet dancer and contract at the Tivoli, the "ish 'Coney Island.' The festival at The Hague is land."

Frankly, said the Seppies, didn't think too much of ada when they first arrived began their train journey endless miles of prairie.

"It looked so bleak as a battlefield," But, at Borden, everything seemed different—so bright and new were thrilled to see, right the train, a huge bull was in Denmark, Christensen tised "mixology"—the mixing drinks, cocktails—was a head-waiter.

Although they feel the difference between the new and old country, the problem anticipated as most serious become comparatively minor was the language they but for several years had studied English, reading in it and seeing American British movies. So that three speak and write without difficulty.
