The Power Question

WITH the city council deciding to have a referendum on the question of whether Prince Rupert should turn to the British Columbia Power Commission to furnish it with power rather than continue with the Northern British Columbia Power Co., whose franchise expires in 1954, there will be plenty of contentious discussion between now and civic election day.

There is also to be a mayoralty contest this year, two candidates already being in sight, so there will be no dearth of interest in municipal affairs generally and that is as it should be. Certainly the prime requisite if good government and administration is to be obtained is that there should be an interested and watchful public. In recent years it must be said there has not been much display of enthusiastic interest which is an unfortunate state of affairs.

The question of the power franchise is a serious one and there are many angles to be considered. It is no matter for snap judgment but rather for careful consideration with study of the facts of the case and the reactions from any action that may be taken. There will be many factors to be weighed and considered.

The cases of the interested parties may be expected to be fully placed before the people who will thus be in a position to judge sensibly and dispassionately.

Good News

PRINCE GEORGE will share with its sister city, Prince Rupert, the satisfaction that must come with the news that the latter's long-idle grain elevator is going to be filled this autumn. It will mean a lot to Prince Rupert to have grain trains running into the city and cargo boats leaving for far-away countries. Railway payrolls will be higher, and every line of business will benefit in some manner by the movement of grain through Central B.C.

One welcome feature is that it will probably ensure plenty of box cars being available during the shipping period on this division. Prairie grain will move west, and the empty cars will be loaded with lumber for eastern markets—an ideal set-up from the standpoint of railway transportation officials.

News that the Prince Rupert elevator is to be reopened will not be welcomed by the Vancouver Harbor Board or officials of the CNR, who are suspected of using their influence to keep the deep-sea movement of grain on the west coast concentrated in Vancouver. However, they will take some satisfaction from the fact that departure from this greedy policy was dictated by the scarcity of grain storage space on the prairies and at Great Lakes elevators.

The Columbia Cellulose and Aluminum Co. of Canada operations on the west coast will mean that more ocean freighters will be calling at Prince Rupert and Kitimat. Now is the time to capitalize on this shift in emphasis from Vancouver as the only important B.C. seaport by advocating that seasonal use be made of the grain storage and shipping facilities at Prince Rupert.—Prince George Citizen.

Contrasting Campaigns

October 20.

EN ROUTE TO GLASGOW. — The contrast between the Attlee and Churchill campaigns is striking, a amusing and maybe symbolic.

The Conservative leader travels in style, a whole special train to himself. Yesterday he got on the train ahead of his police guard. He was beaming out of the window like a rather aged cherub when they came puffing up on the run.

Mr. Churchill has only made three real speeches in three weeks. Mr. Attlee, who drives with his wife for chauffeur, averages five speeches a day, mostly outdoors.

MR. CHURCHILL has made the strongest bid to date for the Liberal vote. He has made history by appearing on the platform of Lady Violet Bonham Carter, an official Liberal candidate.

This is the most demonstrative proof to date that the ex-Liberal vote is the key to victory and defeat in this election. Everybody knows that. But nobody, not even Mr. Churchill or Mr. Attlee, knows which way the Liberal vote will go—for the obvious reason is that it will go in all sorts of different directions according to the peculiarities of each locality.

THERE ARE only 108 Liberals running in this election as compared with 475 in 1950.

This is bound to make a tremendous difference in the outcome, as no less than 187 Members of Parliament got in on a minority vote.

For instance, there are 30 Labor constituencies where the Liberal vote in 1950 exceeded the margin by which the Labor MP's won. This time only seven Liberals are running in those seats.

YESTERDAY I stopped off for a few hours in Godmanchester, Huntingdon, to see my old friend, Reverend Peter Disney, who used to be at All Saints Church, Vancouver. He is vicar now at one of the loveliest old churches I have seen in England. Since returning to this land he has acquired a charming wife and a bouncing, bustling three-year-old daughter.

Peter had the great honor to preach in Westminster Abbey a few weeks ago—the Sunday the King had his operation. He likes it here but he tells me he has moments of homesickness for Hastings East, Vancouver, with its "all nations" flavor.

Godmanchester (chartered 1212, chiefly because the wicked King John needed cash) looks down its nose at Huntingdon, its "modern" neighbor. Peter showed me the school in Huntingdon where Oliver Cromwell was educated.

ANOTHER former resident of B.C. is taking a key part in this election. He is E. S. T. Johnston, running as a Conservative in the Blackley division of Manchester. This is now held by a Labor member who won last time by a 42-vote margin.

Mr. Johnston spent seven years in our Cariboo country and has brought back with him a lot of that easy friendliness for which the Cariboo is famous. Again this time it is a three-cornered fight. The vote last time was: Labor, 21,392; Conservative, 21,350; Liberal, 7317.

Canucks to Be Honored

U.N. Is Six Years Old

UNITED NATIONS DAY

October 24

On this date, six years ago, the Charter of the United Nations came into force. On this date U.N. reaffirms the aims of the organization, recalls its achievements and pledges to continue all efforts to realize its purposes: Collective measures against aggression, promotion of peaceful settlement of disputes, international action for economic and social progress, aid to peoples on the road to independence. These are the main avenues along which U.N. advances into its seventh year of existence. Throughout the world, in every field of human endeavor, U.N. and its affiliated agencies continue action towards the achievement of these goals of the Charter.

LETTERBOX

INFLATION, ETC.

Editor, Daily News.

I am pleased to note that the commission on the hospital racket has discovered a few of the skunks in the woodpile. It is the same with all Socialistic rackets. The hogs spoil all the efforts toward progress. In spite of the fact that most all countries have gone nuts on these Socialistic ideas, it seems strange that they have forgotten about what happened to the first attempt along these lines. They will not work.

The people of Esquimalt missed a good opportunity to rid themselves of the gim-me guys. We wonder if Britain will do the same thing. Some folks talk about inflation, and the governments tell us it is our fault—when it lies at the door of the governments themselves, because they haven't the intestinal fortitude to tell the people they are crazy and to use common sense instead of playing for votes. We shall have to pay dearly for these goofy ideas.

It is silly to stand off a depression by shovelling our resources out with a scoop shovel to all countries of the world for which we receive no thanks in order to promote business and keep men employed. The people have to pay for all the things we give to the panhandlers and on top of that we must pay an inflated price for what is left, because of the artificial scarcity at home. It is lovely to see the school kids getting 10 a day and others in proportion, but the result is that our money is now worth 50 cents, which just robs those who saved their money for their old age, makes the government bonds people bought worth half what they cost and it appears to me that we are just about at the stage Russia was when they first started out on their road to hades. The joke is that those, like the unions, who backed up those ideas are now liquidated. We better start worrying about what is wrong in our own country instead of what Russia is going to do next (or what she is doing every day by sabotage and propaganda). We noted that the bakeries were fined for having a combine in the restraint of trade and for fixing prices. Now, what we are unable to figure out is what is the difference between the bakeries and the doctors, dentists, lawyers, merchants, barbers, musicians, bootblacks, newsboys, farmers AND ALL UNIONS OF EVERY DESCRIPTION. These would appear to be for the restraint of trade and for fixing prices, just as much as the bakeries were. Pardon our stupidity, but we are too dumb to figure out the difference, and we certainly would like to have it pointed out to us in order that we may not hold such screwy ideas while everyone else seems to think everything is OK. ANTIQUATED.

There are some things the mayor of Vancouver can do that the mayor of Prince Rupert does not even attempt. The former can slip on ice and break a bone in his arm.

PUTTING HAIR ON CHEST

Canada's wild horses are gradually becoming fewer. This was only to be expected now that less keel is seen in ovens. It is not at all astonishing now that more citizens are trying to kid themselves and others that a good, juicy roast of stallion, with a small side order of oats can go a long way toward strengthening one for the labors of the day.

A Danish film authority touring the west declares Alberta is not sunny, Saskatchewan is not dry and B.C. is no so beautiful because L's seen fog. Put her there, partner. You're dead right. Of course there's no perfection. We're only partly that way. Denmark may not be so hot, and likes as not, maybe we'll say so, but don't mind. It would be said anyway.

Firecrackers are reported to have been used by the forces in the island of Formosa, near China, in the hope of checking, if not stopping, an outbreak of earthquakes. This will explain how they found themselves on an island and required to stay there.

FRETENDING TO

Certain local folk do not dispute non-enjoyment of some music. Why is it some compositions become famous and live on indefinitely, while others are scarce ever heard of, despite repeated efforts to see them crowned with even modest popularity? Is there a melody mystery? There is music that stirs the soul and can move you as nothing else does. On other occasions, lack of life and inspiration is the first thing felt. Of course, none will dispute the view that education is essential in gaining a love and a true understanding. But meanwhile it is a hardship to be expected to listen, and pretend to like. Nevertheless there is a lot of just that.

TIMES UP!

In describing the local jail as "horrible" Alderman Gomez surprises no one. Twenty years ago it would have been no injustice to describe the lockup without saying anything complimentary about it. And today, one can go further, and recommend a new City Hall. No one can say it isn't a pensioner. Anyways it has all the earmarks. And the Fire Hall—or should we say Fire Trap!

Move for 90c Mortgages

VANCOUVER — Alderman Proctor is pressing for a move so that advantage may be taken of the new amendments of the National Housing Act. The one per cent mortgage is available.

Electrical "Hands" make work light

Electricity is the handiest worker! It does everything better, more cleanly, more quickly.

An automatic toaster, for instance, gives you toast just the way each member of the family likes it... and does it while you are busy with something else.

And an automatic iron, thermostatically controlled, makes ironing a pleasure.

The more electrical "hands" you have to do your work, the more hours of leisure for you.

If you have a birthday or anniversary coming, why not tactfully suggest something from this list:

Former Prince Rupert Woman Is Presented to Elizabeth

A former Prince Rupert woman had the honor of being presented to Princess Elizabeth in the royal suite at Vancouver Hotel at the week-end.

She was Mrs. Samuel Massey, whose husband was for years telephone superintendent here. Mrs. Massey is a cousin of Sir John Weir, who is a physician to the royal family. It was a democratic reception. The Princess came quickly forward to meet the women who were presented before they had the chance to curtsy.

Many Nurses Take Course

Prince Rupert nurses—both active and retired—are taking good advantage of the refresher course which is being given in the city this week by Miss Ferne Trout, B.Sc., R.N., for the Graduate Nurses' Association of British Columbia.

Afternoon sessions have been drawing out about twelve nurses to the Prince Rupert General Hospital Nurses' Home with about thirty in the evenings.

On Monday Miss Trout discussed on new drugs, anesthetics and their uses.

On Tuesday she discussed and demonstrated nursing care after various types of head injuries and conditions, eye surgery and on blood transfusion methods.

Today Miss Trout's up-to-date subject is nursing in atomic, bacteriological and chemical warfare.

Comments on Alaska Trail

—I think these concerts are a necessity as far as cultural development is concerned. But I think we will get an increased attendance of school children because of any use. I think you'll ever educate these people. I think it is one of the teachers and teachers to advise and the children to attend and to cover the program with it. I always take my mother because she takes lessons and of course I should go but I think the teachers could help where many parents are where I think the Alaska Trail is good stuff and should be supported. Lambie—I'm not very old but I've been to many concerts and I sure enjoyed the concert and I'm looking forward to going to more as I grow older.

N.H.A. DESIGN-OF-THE-MONTH

An "NHA best seller," this charming bungalow would be a fashion leader in any residential district. It has been designed to meet today's demand for economy through the judicious use of a limited amount of floor area and provides five full-size standard rooms and bathroom within exterior dimensions of 37 feet by 31 feet nine inches.

The design follows simple lines, deviating only slightly from the dollar-saving rectangular house plan for the living room extension which adds a note of distinction to an exterior which might otherwise appear bare.

A compact, conveniently located kitchen is large enough for a dining nook but if more space is required for serving meals the living room may do double duty as a living-dining room. The large window areas enhance the appearance while the porch arrangement provides a protected front entrance.

One of the prime considerations in planning the room arrangement of a bungalow is the separation of the sleeping quarters from the remainder of the house. This has been accomplished in this plan through location of the basement stairway and bathroom which effectively separates the bedrooms from the living section.

For estimating purposes the area of the house is 1,008 square feet and the cubic contents are 21,150 cubic feet.

Teacher Sponsors — J. Evans, Miss H. Langley.

These officers will constitute the house council which will have control over all student activities within the school. The presidents will be the representatives from each house to the Students' Council which controls all student concerns outside the school and anything to do with money.

A combined meeting of the Students' Council and the House Council was held on Monday when a constitution for the houses which was proposed by L. Matthews, the house director, was passed with one or two alterations.

A proposed program and scoring system for the year has been drawn up and will be presented to the House Council at its next meeting. In the program points will not only be awarded for sports but also for such topics as debating, journalism and scholarship, etc.

Parents of the Grade Twelve students last Thursday toured the new Booth Memorial school. During the last period of the day the parents were conducted by their own sons or daughters through the new building, and were introduced to various teachers. After this they went to the activity room where tea and sandwiches were served.

The visitors all seemed to enjoy seeing the new school. One mother stated that the building had a queer atmosphere that would take a while to become accustomed to.

Most of the day the Grade Twelve girls were preparing sandwiches and cakes with the help of a few of the boys.

The Grade Elevens will hold a similar session sometime this week.

that he (Pawson) had maintained that the parent company had exacted no expediting, handling or other charges on moneys loaned for development of the Falls River hydro plant.

T. A. Johnstone, assistant secretary-treasurer of the power company, had stated in evidence that a 10 per cent handling charge was made during 1929 and 1930 to the total of $170,604.68.

DIFFICULT ACCOUNTING

The mutual accounting system of the company is such that it is obviously very difficult to find out the total tribute that the junior company is paying to the senior company," charged Mr. Brown, who asked the commission to investigate thoroughly the books of the power company dated back to its inception "with particular reference to inter-company finances."

Mr. Pawson's plea to the commission was based on the fact, he said, that the power company's operating income was so low that the parent company, Power Corporation of Canada (of which he is commercial manager), would not advance any more capital for the power company's use.

Nor could the power company, he contended, on past operating history, sell bonds on the open market to refinance itself.

"The history of rates is not good enough. The power company's credit isn't good enough," because, he said, the company was making no profit.

Mr. Brown held the company was making a profit and referred to a rate increase proposal made by the company in 1950 which indicated that, even with the raises requested at that time, the power company budgeted to operate at a loss for five years.

"The raises were not agreed to, the power company operated at old rates, and at the old rates did make a profit during the next two fiscal years, according to its audited statement."

Mr. Black, answering charges that the company had not supplied its promised 5000 horsepower of hydro-electric power, said the city had never required that much. But he calculated that the capacity of the Falls River plant was well in excess of 5000 horsepower.

LETTERS FROM CITY

R. W. Long, city clerk, testified that letters to the power company, dated October 15 and November 20, 1943, from the city came from city files in his custody.

These letters requested that the power company "carry out further development" of hydro-electric energy because the city felt that "prospects justify this demand."

The company had answered that there was "no demand for increase of power" at that time. "Since 1929 has there been any further development of the hydro plant?" asked Commissioner Penfold.

There had not, said Mr. Black.

Mr. Penfold said a complete investigation of company assets would be made. Today the commission, along with the commission staff of three experts, begin their investigation, which includes a visit to the Falls River plant.

Commission staff includes I. W. Jardine, chief engineer, and G. J. Kilmer, investigations auditor.

*Walter W. Bellow, 51, lives at 1618 West 60th Ave., Vancouver, B.C. He is a woodworking machinist at Sigurdson's Millwork. Born in Winnipeg, he moved to Victoria in 1937 and to Vancouver in 1940. He was married in 1927. They have one son, who is a student in his third year at the University of British Columbia. Mr. Bellow's hobbies include gardening, woodworking and playing the piano and the banjo.

*MR. WALTER W. BELLOW...

What do you think of Canada Savings Bonds, Mr. Bellow?
I guess that if they have taught us anything it's how to save. They certainly taught us that.

How is that?
Well, some of my friends cashed their bonds as soon as they were paid for, but I didn't. I realized that it is possible bit by bit to save a substantial amount of money by buying bonds. Once I had a bond, I wanted to keep it.

How do you pay for the Bonds?
Usually by payroll deductions. But one year the company didn't use that plan, and I was so anxious to buy a bond that I arranged with my bank to pay so much on a bond each month.

Do you plan to buy Bonds again this year?
Oh, yes. I'm a great believer in buying these bonds.

Why are you buying them?
Because they are such a safe investment. The interest may not be so large as on some other investments, but you can always be sure of their value and you can cash them any time at the bank for 100 cents on the dollar.

What is your purpose in buying Canada Savings Bonds?
For the future. It's nice to have something you can cash in an emergency. They're a protection for the security of our home. I've always felt a sense of security in knowing that I had money in bonds which I would not be likely to cash.

Have you cashed any of your Bonds?
Yes. I sold one because I had a chance to buy a woodworking machine for my home at a bargain. I had to buy it immediately and had no trouble in getting cash for a bond right away at the bank. It was a wonderful feeling, when I saw the ad for the machine in the paper, to be able to put my hands on the cash I needed for it.

Do other members of your family buy Canada Savings Bonds?

I buy some for my wife. Our son used to buy Victory Bonds when he had his own paper route, but now he is at university and it takes all his money to pay for his tuition.

Rupert Men Bag Moose and Grizzly Bear

PRINCE RUPERT.—A party of seasoned hunters from Rupert spent a two-week successful hunting trip about the Hunter Basin, making Telkwa headquarters. Hubert Gagnon spoke enthusiastically of their stay and all agreed that the great beauty of the Hunter Basin area was the place for a good sleep. All the men of the party said they were well and thoroughly enjoyed the trip.

Hubert Gagnon, speaking for the party, said: "We took it easy and it wasn't too hot. He brought down two grizzlies and a bear. The grizzlies were shot by Magnus and the bear by Gagnon, his dark hair and eyes. I waited eight days for the bear's den for his mate sauntered up and I could have clipped it but I was afraid I would scare off the quarry I had waited for."

Mr. Gagnon was well repaid for his patience. On examining the bear later it was found that the bullet tore through the heart, splitting the huge muscle almost in two, and the most spectacular feature was that the big grizzly which weighed 600 pounds ran about 60 yards before it dropped.

The second grizzly, weighing 450 pounds, put up a fight and was brought down with a series of shots from a .270 Winchester rifle, 130 grain bullets.

J. Guillet, a hardened trapper and hunter, who spent a number of years in the Northwest Territories, was quite pleased with his trophy. He told of other experiences which he had while up in the far north when he killed a grizzly weighing a thousand pounds and a spread of 18 inches between the ears.

Mr. Guillet told about the "caribou," a cross between a caribou and a deer.

Other hunters in the Prince Rupert party were Norman Lizotte, Fred Pfeifer and Jim Morrison who got in their share of the shooting also, using an 8mm, 180 grain bullet, in bringing down their quarry.

The party took pictures of the whole trip.

Mr. Gagnon said he saw a plebeian squirrel while in the Hunter Basin. Animals such as these are rare, as they are freaks of nature.

An albino badger was said to have been seen by veteran Bart Shea on one of his trips up the Telkwa.

The party will now spend a few days hunting goats.

Hubert Gagnon, speaking for the party, said: "We took it easy and it wasn't too hot. He brought down two grizzlies and a bear. The grizzlies were shot by Magnus and the bear by Gagnon, his dark hair and eyes. I waited eight days for the bear's den for his mate sauntered up and I could have clipped it but I was afraid I would scare off the quarry I had waited for."

Top Fight Of Season

By JACK HIND

NEW YORK (AP)—Young Rocky Marciano and 37-year-old Joe Louis meet Friday night at Madison Square Garden in the top heavyweight bout of the winter season.

For Marciano, 27-year-old son of a Brockton, Mass. shoemaker, this is the big test. Unbeaten in 37 pro fights, the sky will be the limit if he can beat the Bomber.

Louis must whip the dangerous puncher to keep alive his dreams of winning back his world heavyweight championship. In eight winning starts since he lost to Ezzard Charles, he did not meet a slugger like Marciano.

Deep respect for Louis' old punching power is reflected by the 5-to-3½ odds favoring the former champion. However, the price has been coming down and they may go into the ring at even money.

There are two distinct schools of thought on Marciano. One holds he is the most sensational new face to come along in years. The other says he can't fight a lick, despite his 37 straight wins. The truth is probably somewhere in between.

Most of Marciano's opposition has been of the ordinary variety. He did whip Roland LaStarza on a split decision last year. That was his most important victory before he flattened Rex Layne July 12.

Training at Greenwood Lake, N.Y., Rocky worked for speed. He expects to weigh about 165 pounds after his final workout.

The old Louis combination punches have been missing in his recent starts. Gradually he paraded down his weight until he was low at 203½ for an Aug. 15 Baltimore date with Jimmy Bevins. In that fight his jab was his first and only punch.

For Marciano, the Bomber will weigh about 211. Once again he is expected to bank heavily on that piston jab that can knock out a man. A superior boxer to Marciano with unlimited experience against a man with only 37 pro fights, Louis might slice up Rocky with his rugged jab and stop him on cuts.

Five Teams Entered Senior Hoop League

First League Game November 3

Senior league basketball in Prince Rupert will have five teams this year, the Prince Rupert Basketball Association decided last night, following the final selection game between new and tested senior players.

Elks gave 300 (Columbia Celulose) team a thorough drubbing last night with a score of 72-37, but it was evident that many players of the pulp mill team had not been on a basketball court for some time, according to their inability to check effectively.

A new team this year but made up of several players who featured in the 1950 all-star team, Elks showed the championship material which won the B.C. Senior B title last spring.

Don Scherk was all over the place, popping in baskets for a high of 23 points and was strongly supported by the rest of the team.

Man fiaw in CCC playing was lack of team play, although this saw some improvement to the end of the game. Steve Dumas was easily the mainstay of the pulp mill team, but received little support.

Executive of the association advised the 300 club it would be allowed in the senior league but it would have to take measures to strengthen the team by taking in qualified players who were not now signed up by other teams.

The Booth Memorial High School Rainmakers, which had made a good showing in exhibition bouts with both Gordon & Anderson and Manson's (they played Manson's last night), was also admitted into the league.

Opener of the league games, featuring Elks and G & A, will be played November 3, a week next Saturday. Although this game had tentatively been planned for next Saturday, the association decided a better brand of ball would be fea-

Don Forward Named Veep

Northern British Columbia was recognized in the sports world when the British Columbia Basketball Association, at its annual meeting in Vancouver, elected Don Forward of Prince Rupert as a vice-president. It is the first time such an office has come here.

Wilfrid Cain of Duncan was elected president with an entirely new slate of officers.

Mr. Forward returned to the city by air yesterday.

The local delegate told the convention that Prince Rupert might enter B.C. Senior "A" competition this year. The matter will be dealt with by the B.C. executive if and when the entry is made.

Rainmakers (High School)—Jack Evans.

300 (CCC)—Dan Doswell or Owen Bennett.

Following one round of play by each senior league team, volunteers for an all-star team will be called by Coach Alex Bill for a try-out practice. Association executive will decide then if Prince Rupert will enter Senior "A" or Senior "B" competitions this season.

Defence is your duty, too!

The most important job in Canada today is defence. And defence is not the responsibility of just a few. It is a duty which every young and able man in Canada must accept — if we want to make sure we stay free.

You as a free Canadian citizen must be prepared to meet any challenge to your freedom. The least you can do in these uncertain days is to serve part time as a Citizen-Soldier in the Canadian Army Reserve Force.

You devote one or two evenings a week to training in the arts and skills of the modern soldier. In addition there are the occasional week-end exercises and two weeks of summer camp.

The Reserve Force soldier receives the same uniforms and equipment as used in the Active Force. He is paid Active Force rates of pay for all training periods.

There are Reserve Force units in towns and cities across Canada. There is one in your district. Visit it right away. Find out how you can serve Canada in the Reserve Force.

Defence is every Canadian's duty. It is your duty, too!

Natives Put On Welcome

Victoria Like England for Visit of Elizabeth and Philip

VICTORIA (CP)—At Thunderbird Park here, where totem poles are on display, Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip were greeted Monday afternoon by hundreds of Indians. The natives welcomed the future queen with tribal dances and also with traditional British cheers. Tomtom's throbbed as the natives sang in their own language. They sang the haunting primitive song of welcome among other numbers. Indian women staged tribal dances. They wore white cloaks ornamented with ancient symbols of their people—the thunderbird, the sea serpent, the eagle and the wolf. The men also danced, wearing ancient painted masks. The Princess smiled when two husky warriors, in bear skins, danced the "Wild Man of the Woods" with much shouting and leaping. BRITISH WELCOME It was a typical British welcome for royalty in Victoria Monday. Pomp and ceremony and cheers came in the British Columbia legislative building where an official welcome was extended by Premier Byron Johnson. Later the Princess made a broadcast to the Empire in which she told the people "this journey has indeed been a tremendous experience. We hope we will have a chance to return to the west coast before too long has passed." Streets were packed with crowds as the royal pair toured the city. Ivy-covered buildings along the procession route were decorated with bunting and flags for the Princess and Prince Philip. There was another touch of England. It was like an English fall day—at times slightly overcast.

More Atom Explosions

Both in United States and Russia, White House Says
 WASHINGTON—A tiny United States atomic explosion, perhaps a Baby A-Bomb, burst over Nevada Monday a few hours before the White House announced that a third atomic explosion had occurred in Russia. Both events were wrapped in secrecy. The Nevada nuclear mass more than six years ago was shot off a tower but the flash of this one was visible for only a tenth of a second or so. However, the presidential secretary, Joseph Short, said the new explosion in Russia was apparently a part of a test series. He did not use the word "bomb" nor would he say when the explosion occurred. His refusal, he added, was based on national interest.

Central Interior TRAVELS

... Evangeline Vann's Diary

Community halls smell the same all over the world, nostalgic, recalling giddy days. Overheard before meeting of Topley Community Club, when member looked into dark for late arrivals—"Don't even see a high bush dodger." Listening-in on deliberations, heard—"Is there going to be a masquerade?" "No, we'll just come plain." "We'll not send a poster to—". Gathered had been regrettable hoodlumism at last dance. "Anyone entering with a bottle in their pocket, will be thrown out." For lunch, six-ten loaves and "stuffing". Lunch has all ways been to me, either mid-morning, or mid-day "eat." Admission to such affairs in West Australia used to be "One and sixpence and a plate," meaning plate of food. As left to go asked if wire stretched across hall was to swing on but found was to keep walls together. Neighboring villagers had thought same as I.

haunting him for fortnight. Soothingly admired car. "It had only done two hundred miles before coming up here, and now look at it. Looks ten years old." What! A reflection on the roads up here. Stopped at creek, and owner got out and looked around. In explanation, "Last time I stopped here to get some water, and there was a grouse, and I had no gun for the son of a gun. This time there was no grouse. Expressing thanks for lift, benefactor presented card. 'Twas O. A. Murphy, of the British Columbia Distillery Co. Ltd.

Stewart Moose Women's Party

STEWART.—Women of the Moose held a very enjoyable party after their regular meeting on Thursday evening. Many guests were present and all had a very pleasant time.
Whist and cribbage were played. Winners at whist were: Ladies' first, Mrs. J. Nichol. Consolation, Mrs. J. Bouzek. Men's first, Corp. J. Gourlay. Consolation, M. Genge.
In the cribbage section Mrs. S. Kirkpatrick won the first prize and Miss M. Morgan, the consolation. Bob Hutchings was the first prize winner among the men with J. Smith taking the consolation.
Mrs. S. Kirkpatrick also won the door prize.
A novel game was played with women and men in competition, the object being for the women to dress as men and the men as women. The men won easily, outdistancing the women by a wide margin. Much hilarity resulted. Senior Regent Mrs. J. McKay and her assistants are to be congratulated.

Mines Close For Winter

STEWART.—Operations at the Silver Tip mine are suspended for the winter. Twenty tons of high grade ore were shipped on Monday to the Trail smelter.
Considerable mine realization has appeared in the main tunnel in what looks like the downward continuation of the high grade ore shoot on the surface.
The correlation of this mineralization with the surface showings will be investigated during the 1952 season.

I used to be at Tye, before the Skeena Highway was completed six or seven years ago, but it rained too much, and here it's too cold, so what?" As left to go noticed amusing Sports Outfitter's ad on wall. "Warning. Fishing. Fox. Very contagious to adult males. Patient has no taste for work of any kind. No known cure. Having had some trouble in getting attention in both these services all along line, agreed heartily with these sentiments.

"This is what my bunch like," said Mrs. Forsyth as she cut me a slice of home-made bread, just out of the oven, and added cranberry jelly just made. "I guess I'll have to go home and get a new supply of buttons from Mother," she added, as she searched for one, for her son's pants.

Building Move Turned Down

Request by a city realtor to move his office building from its present location on Third Avenue to another location on Third Street was refused Monday night by city council.

I. Norton Youngs informed council by letter of his intention to move and applied for permission. Council discovered after having the building bylaw read to them by D. C. Stewart, superintendent of works, that a temporary permit granted to Mr. Youngs to erect the building, had been without qualification in the first place.

Ald. T. B. Black was the only council member speaking in favor of allowing the building to be moved and voted against the motion to refuse the request.

Ald. H. M. Daggett said: "When the building was erected I opposed it at that time because I did not think it met with required standards. I am opposing it now."

According to bylaw, "temporary" permit for a class D wooden one-storey structure can only be issued if the building is used for a place of assemblage, such as religious, carnival or exhibition purposes; as a temporary workshop, or as sleeping quarters for construction gangs.

"It could be an exposition office," quipped Ald. Black.

"We condemned the building in face of universal criticism. If we are going to encourage a better class of buildings, we can't allow this one to remain. The community doesn't approve of it. We can be sorry for Norton, but then we can continue being sorry for everybody that wants to put up a shack," said Ald. George Casey.

Ald. Black held the building would be an improvement over the surrounding other buildings on Third Street. And being of "slow-burning" construction would not cause a fire hazard.

"I wouldn't like to see the man have to demolish his building."

Ald. Darrow Gomez felt that if "we allow that building it would be a precedent for others to erect the same type—and that's what we want to get away from."

Ald. George Hill asked: "Would this council be in favor of erecting a similar building where this one is to be moved?"
