

INTERNATIONAL COURT ENTERS IRAN DISPUTE

Marine Strike Hearing End

NEW YORK (CP)—The Committee on Industrial Organization's hearing on the Atlantic Coast shipping companies last night at the end of the seventh day of a work stoppage.

The agreement is based on a four-hour work week at sea to be in effect next December.

Two other C.I.O. unions involved in the tie-up that hit the American flag shipping — the American Radio Association and the National Marine Engineers' Beneficial Association — are to meet with the operators tomorrow.

Joseph Curran, president of the 52,000-member Maritime Union, said he believed an agreement would set the pattern for the National Marine Engineers' Association and the American Shipbuilding Association with 1400.

Because the ships cannot sail without radio operators, resumption of activity in ports up and down both coasts affected must await the A.R.A.'s agreement.

Curran said, however, that radio operations would be back to normal within 24 hours.

Great Britain Still Has Dollar Problem, Shawcross Warns

LONDON (CP)—Warning that the United Kingdom's dollar problem is far from solved was sounded yesterday by Sir Hartley Shawcross, President of the Board of Trade.

Before a distinguished audience, including Viscount Alexander, Governor-General of Canada, the speech was read at a luncheon of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce in Great Britain by A. G. Bottomley, Secretary for Overseas Trade.

Shawcross, stricken yesterday by a virus infection, was unable to attend.

"We must face realistically the fact that the outlook for the next twelve months is far from bright," the minister said. "We cannot, therefore, behave as though we had at our disposal unlimited dollars. We must conserve them to enable us to bring in and pay for the sinews of our defence production."

Race Yacht Turns Back

Dr. Wayne Graham, one of the entrants in the Bremerton-Prince Rupert-Juneau international yacht race which passed through Prince Rupert this week, has been heard from.

He advised the Prince Rupert Rowing and Yacht Club by wire today that his boat had been delayed by motor trouble and weather and that he was turning back from Alert Bay.

"Sorry that I was unable to show," he said.

Two other boats, Donnie of Bremerton and Carmelita of Seattle, left here Thursday on the second lap of the race to Juneau and should be there this week-end.

A fourth boat, the Aileen of Nanaimo, is also believed to have turned back.

Oil Still Flowing After Nationalizing

THE HAGUE (CP)—The International Court of Justice, judicial arm of the United Nations, stepped into the critical Anglo-Iranian oil dispute today. It will begin hearings next Saturday. Great Britain had requested that the World Court intervene after its negotiations with Premier Mohammed Mossadegh's Nationalist government broke down this week.

Allies Win Korea Fight

Resumption of Red Offensive Still Expected

TOKYO (CP)—Allies won a savage, see-saw fight with the Reds in central Korea, bumped into a Communist build-up in the west and scored a new victory in mounting air battles today.

The United Nations troops in the centre captured a hill in old Red "Iron Triangle" after twice being driven off in bayonet and hand grenade struggle.

In the west Allied patrols near Parallel 38 north of Seoul contacted two Red regiments, the largest force found there in two weeks. An Allied officer said the regiments appeared to be outposts of a larger Communist force.

Over northwest Korea 42 of 48 jets tangled for the sixth day in a seven-day period. One Red jet was damaged before the enemy fled back to Manchuria.

The triangle fight in central Korea, more than 20 miles north of the 38th parallel, broke out at a time when Allied officers were on the alert for a Communist offensive, expected on the first anniversary of the war on June 25.

Are Trying to Settle Dispute

OTTAWA (CP)—Minister of Labor Gregg told the House of Commons yesterday that "every effort" was being made to resolve the dispute between the Seafarers' International Union and coastal shipping companies in British Columbia. He said that notice of a definite strike deadline—at first set for June 22—was cancelled and "negotiations are continuing."

"All those concerned are aware of the public interest involved and every effort is being made to resolve the dispute," Mr. Gregg said.

He was replying to an inquiry made earlier by Major General G. R. Pearkes, Progressive-Conservative, Nanaimo.

Bride Victim Of Car Crash

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—A 19-year-old girl, injured in a traffic accident four hours after her wedding, died today in hospital here.

Mrs. J. T. Judd was injured last Friday when a car in which she and her husband were driving overturned on a highway near Abbotsford about 30 miles east of here.

The car burst into flames and Mrs. Judd was badly burned before her husband pulled her free.

Air Defences Being Tested

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colorado (CP)—Eight thousand observation posts in the United States, manned by 210,000 volunteer spotters, were involved today in vast tests of aerial defences.

Military planes of United States and Canada participated in a week-end exercise, flying over pre-determined routes to give spotters practice in reporting movements of aircraft. Four Canadian squadrons are taking part.

Missing African Plane Sighted

MONROVIA, Liberia (CP)—Reports reaching here today said that a missing Pan-American World Airways Constellation with 40 persons aboard has been spotted at Totota, about four hours' travel time from Monrovia. The plane had been missing for more than 24 hours.

There is no word as to casualties.

Doctors and ambulances from a Lutheran mission, 13 miles from the scene of the crash, are reported heading for the plane.

SEA BURIAL—Final tribute was paid Canada's greatest naval figure with traditional burial at sea of Admiral Percy Walker Nelles, who built the Royal Canadian Navy into a potent fighting power in the Second World War. A final volley was fired from the deck of HMCS Sault Ste. Marie as Chaplain J. W. Carter scattered the ashes of the 59-year-old sea dog over the waters of Esquimalt harbor. Noted Producer Is Quitting MGM

HOLLYWOOD (CP)—Louis B. Mayer, aged 65, co-founder of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios, announced through a spokesman yesterday that he is quitting. But Mayer said: "I am going to remain in motion picture production, God willing. I am going to be more active than I have been at any time during the last 15 years."

He said further: "It will be at a studio and under conditions where I shall have the right to make the right kind of pictures—decent, wholesome pictures for Americans and for people throughout the world who want and need this type of entertainment."

Mayer's contract as vice-president of Loews Incorporated, parent company of the film studio, expires August 31. The contract pays him $3000 weekly plus a percentage of the profits.

Revolt in Argentina Is Nipped

BUENOS AIRES (CP)—The Army ministry announced last night that five Argentinean officers had been arrested on charges of plotting to revolt against the government of President Juan D. Peron.

The ministry announcement climaxed eight days of scare headlines in pro-government newspapers on reports that a plot was afoot to overthrow the government and assassinate Peron, his wife and other high officials.

It is said that those arrested were Capt. Francisco Figueroa de la Vega and four lieutenants—Atilio Jose Demichelli, Julio Enrique Villa Melo, Engardo Arturo Fehrman and Alberto Attias.

The ministry said five were arrested in connection with an investigation of those participating in "a plan to create confusion and disrupt public order which had been disclosed in the newspapers."

Bewildered People

WE DEMOCRATIC people find ourselves bewildered. We are pricked by strange fears. Every man and woman seems, as never before in the history of the world, to feel an individual personal stake in the political restlessness which is making havoc in our peaceful lives, says the Royal Bank monthly letter.

Development of knowledge and the great number of our inventions complicate living. Conditions have been revolutionized for the better, and yet we are not happy. We may not be able to put into words the difficulties we feel, but we do know that life is for most of us a continuous process of getting used to things we hadn't expected.

In all our experiences, we started out with ideals of what should be, but these have developed into frustration and then bewilderment. We find that compromises and adjustments have to be made, and we become confused as we try to keep the changes within the bounds of our principles and culture.

We have made the word "progress" include a whole system of philosophy and politics. The civilization of our century allows the average man to partake lavishly of an abundance of things. He is surrounded by marvellous machines, healing arts, fatherly governments and comforting privileges of all kinds.

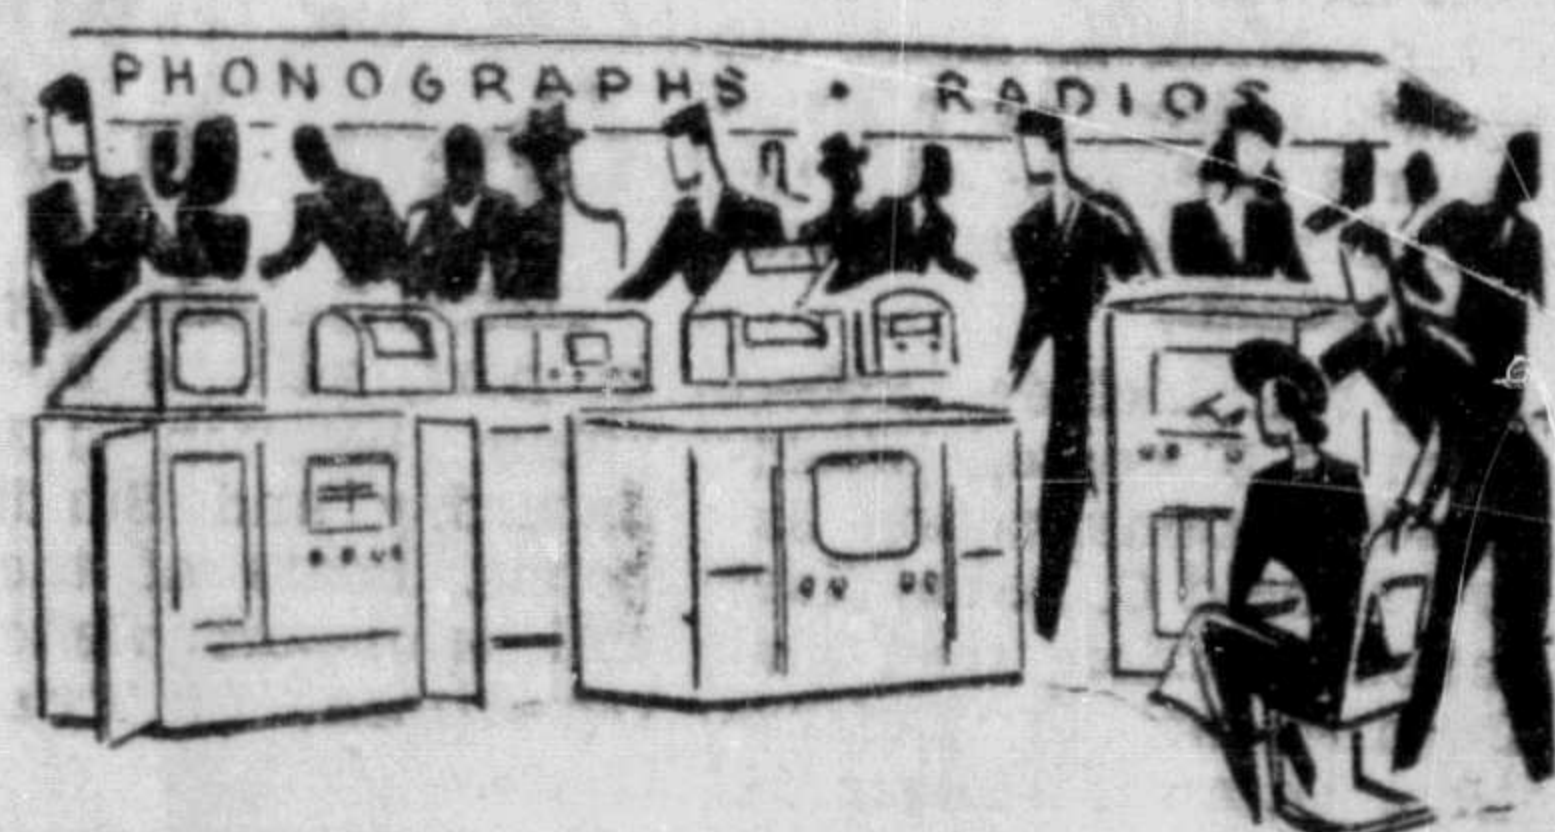

Where is the principle to be found that will appeal to all people? That is likely the most momentous question before us today. Of some things we can be certain, but they are mostly negative: a uniting principle is not to be found in nationalistic movements, political dogma, secular peace programs or economic panaceas. The principle we seek must be ethical and universal, something appealing to the highest moral sense to which people of various cultures have attained. It needs to be strong if it is to overcome the obstacles which social usage and selfish impulses will put in the way of its cultivation.

No signatures on paper and no outward rites can take the place of a true spiritual culture, which is described by Arnold J. Toynbee like this in his Civilization on Trial: "the inward force which alone creates and sustains the outward manifestations of what is called civilization."

Building on such a spiritual base does not mean that man will renounce the activities of life or stunt his natural faculties or scorn science and improvement. On the contrary, as was so eloquently said in the Encyclical Letter of Poper Pius XI in 1929, "He thus ennobles what is merely natural in life and secures for it new strength in the material and temporal order, no less than in the spiritual and eternal."

Reflects and Reminisces

More young Canadians have become more sea conscious in the past 36 years than perhaps in any previous part of the Dominion's history. They have trained to qualify as men of the sea, lived on fighting ships, shared in combat and seen the world. Prior to 1914, few indeed could have said that much.

LET'S HAVE IT

Suspension of a small weekly in Anchorage makes one think of another distant sheet, and wonder if the Dawson News stays as healthy as ever. Born and brought up in the glamor and glow of a vast gold strike, it printed the tale of the Klondike—right on the ground. The News wrote countless yarns, and best of them all should be the story of its own life.

It seems one can be stony broke, half-dressed and half-starved and pretty blanketed blank blank miserable in the South Sea islands. It may all be true, but hundreds of novelists, short story writers and poets must have had a shrewd notion of what the reading public wanted. They craved leisure, love and luxury, and whatever else might be fancied.

USE YOUR TONGUE

A most important part of public speaking training is to gain enough confidence in oneself to be able to get up anywhere to speak one's mind. So said Cecil Hill, at the Junior Chamber banquet. It's valuable advice, and can't be remembered too often. To be tongue-tied, though gifted, leashed and widely experienced is to go through life under a grave handicap. Ability to handle oneself on his feet gives a far-reaching advantage. Many a man is astonished when discovering he can speak.

Seventy-three Sons of Freedom, for the present dwelling in the penitentiary, are eating again. They had been on a hunger strike for five weeks. By that time, not the slightest persuasion was necessary to cause consumption of cups of richly fortified eggnog. The Sons couldn't but admit the stuff was simply fine for a starter.

Canadians who are perhaps not giving much contemplation to finance minister's remarks a month or more ago, are risk-taking being reminded, as time wears along. It is not so simple, or easy to buy a new car, or change for another. Nor will the encouraging of credit continue indefinitely. Most of us know something about prescriptions which are anything but pleasant to taste but often they give you a healthier feeling later on.

THIS TIME IN SKEENA

Suggestions are heard that Canada's park system, vast and beautiful as it is, might well be further diversified. In a land like this the project is not without advocacy. A new out of doors area is merely a matter of time, or as populations grow. Another national playground, this time somewhere along the Skeena River need hardly be urged.

The flag of the Communist People's Republic of China bears the date Aug. 1, 1927, when the Communist revolt started.

Prairies Need More Rain

WINNIPEG.—Throughout the western crop region, temperatures have been moderate during the past week, with only scattered showers reported from any province, according to the weekly crop report of the department of agriculture of the Canadian National Railways.

Heaviest rains occurred from Radville to Willowbunch in southern Saskatchewan and between Portage la Prairie and Amarant in Manitoba. More rain is required at many points in Manitoba and Saskatchewan to replenish topsoil moisture and to maintain crop prospects at present standards.

No change has occurred in the Okanagan fruit area. Weather has been dry and windy. No damage is reported from any cause.

During the past week some sixty men have been handled through here enroute to Kemano Bay, being transferred by CPA to Central B.C. Airways.

Due to heavy traffic in air passengers, Canadian Pacific Airlines flew an extra early flight from Vancouver, landing here at 11 a.m. Friday. The extra return flight was made in the afternoon, making three in all for the day.

The Gift of Faith

(By Rev. Basil S. Procter, Canon of St. Andrew's Cathedral)

The gift of Faith is not like the gift of some kind of skill or ability. It is not something that some people can have and other people cannot have. It hasn't anything in common with the ability to distinguish colors or pick out a tune. Those who say they wish they had Faith like some other people have Faith have a very false idea of the nature of Faith. Faith, of course, means Faith in God and in Christ. It does not mean anything in connection with race-horses, doctors or politicians.

Faith is one of the cardinal virtues, and nobody has these by nature. We are all born and grow up without them although it is tragic when we do. They are gifts bestowed or given to those who want them. They are not things which you either have or do not have on account of who your parents were. The three cardinal virtues are Faith, Hope and Charity. If you want any of them badly enough they can be yours. The assurance is that those that seek will find, and to those who knock the door will open. So if you haven't any Faith it is because you have considered so far that you can get along without Faith. People who can learn from nobody's experience but their own often chase for years such will o' the wisps as success, money, parties, the great outdoors and so on . . . all good things in their way, but not as substitutes for God.

So I say to you and to myself on the basis of Divine promise that Faith is mine if I really want it. Hope is mine if I really want it. Charity is mine if I really want it. It really is as simple as that. There aren't any ifs or buts. You don't have to be worthy and you can't be worthy.

anyway . . . any more than you can be worthy of sunshine or water or friendship.

And Faith is essentially a living thing since it is our contact with the Source of All Life. Thus as we receive it are we enabled to march forward on the Eternal Road bound for Great Adventure.

BULLETIN No. 3

CIVIL DEFENCE

LEARN—AND LIVE

THE ATTACK

The word "attack" may fill some of us with apprehension. But the word "defence" . . . modern defence . . . is one that when properly understood can dispel fear and instill reassurance.

Many lurid stories of destruction are exaggerated but they have their origin in truth.

Modern defence is understanding what may happen and knowing how to fight back.

Any defence must take into account all the various methods and weapons which might be used against us. An attack with high explosive and incendiaries would produce:

Blast . . . Splinters . . . Shock . . . FIRE.

Fire is certain to be a prime factor in any attack. Every family must become an actual fire fighting unit to control fires in the early stages and to prevent them spreading. You cannot depend on service from regular fire fighting units who will be busy controlling major outbreaks.

A major attack on a thickly populated area may cause casualties and render large numbers homeless.

A knowledge of First Aid is vital.

IT CAN HAPPEN HERE!

Urges People Do Something

Inactive Idealism of No Value, Rector Tells Rotary

People should do their job even if they may get "messed up a little," Rev. Canon Basil Prockter told Rotarians at luncheon Thursday.

Today, there were those who would have nothing to do with politics or public affairs, because "they are idealists and are afraid to mix with people who are not so ideal."

"They are afraid their lives will be messed up in doing disagreeable tasks."

"Somebody has to carry out the administration of public affairs. Rather it should be you who have a Christian belief."

Rev. Prockter compared the world today with the Biblical situation of Nehemiah, whose people, because of enemy threats worked with "one hand on their dagger."

He called for more people to attend the Church, even if "there are those who are afraid to get messed up with hypocritical people."

He called attention to the Biblical parable where one of three men who received a tenant from their master returned it, saying he had kept it clean and unsoiled and had done nothing evil with it. The master had condemned the man.

R. McGlover, Edmonton Rotarian, was a visitor and received a souvenir can of salmon.

Sockeye Boats Averaging 39

Sockeye fishing, which began in the Naas and Skeena river areas at p.m. Sunday with averages of 40 to 50 fish for each of the hundreds of gillnetters, has levelled off to 33 for the Naas and 39 for the Skeena.

However, canneries report that averages of 90 and 100 have been steady in the Edey Pass and Stevens Island areas.

Fisheries department here cannot estimate yet how many gillnetters are out this year, but figures will be available "early next week."

Blackwood on Bridge

By Easley Blackwood

Mr. Abel opened the queen of diamonds and after some thought Mr. Muzzy won with dummy's ace. He seemed very pleased when this play dropped the king from Mrs. Keen's hand although, with the jack, ten and nine of the suit still out, it is hard to see why.

Anyway, at the second trick Mr. Muzzy led dummy's queen of spades. Mrs. Keen played the deuce and Mr. Muzzy dropped the five. The nine of spades was now led and the jack in the closed hand was finessed, winning the trick.

Here Mr. Muzzy shifted to clubs, taking his three top honors and leading a fourth round which Mrs. Keen captured with the jack. She returned a spade and Mr. Muzzy was in again with the ace. The best he could do at this point was to cash his ace of hearts and give up for down one.

Mr. New, the eager kibitzer, and Mr. Masters were watching the game. In great excitement Mr. New motioned Mr. Masters aside. "I'm learning," he said happily. "There was a perfect throw-in on that hand."

"If Mr. Muzzy had cashed his ace of spades before giving Mrs. Keen the lead he would have made his contract. Mrs. Keen would have won two spade tricks all right, but then she would have had nothing left but hearts and Muzzy would have made his winning heart finesse after all."

SIMPLE PLAY
"Not so fast, not so fast, my boy," replied Mr. Masters. "You're right, of course, but Muzzy had a simpler play for his nine tricks. First, he should have ducked the opening lead. Mrs. Keen would have had to win with her singleton king and the threat of the diamond suit would have ended right there."

"But even after winning with the ace of diamonds as he did, Mr. Muzzy missed an easy unblocking play which would have let him make both the spade and heart finesses. When he played his queen from the board he should have dropped the jack from his hand."

"Now on the lead of the ten of spades, if Mrs. Keen covers, the ace is played and the five spot led back to the nine in dummy for a heart finesse. If Mrs. Keen doesn't cover the ten

"You are coming along, my friend," Mr. Masters continued, "but don't always look for the fancy play. Often a simple play will do just as well, or better."

Shut Out HMCS
Ontario In Fine Game

The best game of the season so far was played last night when HMCS Ontario met Rupert Radio in a game at Gyro Park. The Radios won by a score of 4-0 in a fast, well-played contest. Jerry Ford making his first start of the year on the mound a success with an eight-hit shut-out.

Rupert Radio scored three times in the bottom of the fourth when Monk Sundberg led off with a double. Then successive hits by Enridge, Scherk, Young and Matthews resulted in Sundberg, Enridge and Scherk scoring. The last tally of the game came in the last of the sixth when Don Serk singled into left field, took second on an infield out by Young, third on a passed ball and came in on a nice squeeze play by Larry Matthews.

The outstanding play of the game was in the top of the seventh when Navy third sacker Guthrie hit a triple to right field and attempted to score on a long fly to left by Armstrong but a perfect return from deep left by Watson to Young had him by five feet.

Tomorrow night the Ontario team will play the Columbia Cellulose team at Gyro Park and it is hoped that a better crowd than last night comes out. The sailors will definitely be out to gain a split in their stay here while the Cellulose team is currently the hottest in the city league so a good game is assured.

SELL IRON and STEEL SCRAP Now!

The scrap in your plant, factory or shop will bring high prices... and help industry get the steel it needs

TODAY you are hearing a lot about the importance of scrap—Iron and Steel "Junk" that often lies excluded in some obscure corner. MAYBE in your own plant, your shop, there is a forgotten heap. Rusting tanks or boilers... obscure machinery, lying unused... plates, sheets, gears, rails, discarded months or years ago. If so, write, wire or phone us. Scrap's our business! We buy it! AND we pay good prices!

The various scrap you sell may well find its way to the steel mills—which, today, are hungry for it. Scrap, a truly vital ingredient in the making of steel, is in critically short supply. Millions and millions of tons are needed at once.

You can help—and help yourself as well—by cleaning out the scrap pile and selling it to us for cash. Get your scrap in circulation. Get it on the job!

Acquit Themselves with Credit

On Thursday and Friday evenings music pupils of St. Joseph's Academy held their annual recital in Annunciation Hall which was tastefully decorated for the occasion.

The program included two-piano pieces duets, solos and violin selections.

It was interesting to see many boys interested in music and making progress in it. But it was the tiny tots who "stole the show."

Both evenings were enjoyed by the audience and by the performers who came forward with assurance and with an air of sheer enjoyment.

WATERFRONT - WHIFFS

Although most fish canneries have reported this year's sockeye fishing as well above last year's average, the high count has been very erratic, fishermen claim. And weather has had a lot to do with it.

One fisherman, in from Stevens Island area last night, said the westerly winds which brought this week's good weather to Prince Rupert were against the gillnetters. While the winds prevailed, fishing was next to impossible.

About 6 o'clock every night the winds would die down and from them until 10 o'clock in the morning, fishing was OK. "But that knocks the stuffing" out of our averages, because we're not getting in a whole day's fishing."

Also reports that catches have been as high as 90 and 100 on an average in Stevens Island and Edge Pass area are not a true picture, the fisherman said.

One day, a group of boats will run into a school of sockeye and the average goes "way up"; the next day, "you have to work like hell to get 25 or 30."

But, on the whole, he admitted the sockeye run looked better this year than in the 1950 season, and it would have to be, too, he thought, for gillnetters "to make any money these days, costs being what they are."

For those who are not fishermen, an idea of what it costs a gillnet fisherman to put his boat in the water may be interesting.

One of the major items of equipment is, of course, his net. A sockeye net, which is the lightest and has the smallest mesh of four types of nets gillnetters use, usually has to be replaced each year. A complete net, hung with lead-line and cork, costs roughly $500 today. Fishermen reminiscently recall the days when the same net sold for a little over $100.

Reason that sockeye nets have to be replaced every season is because they are of fine twine construction, necessary for successful sockeye fishing. And often there are snags and dead-ends which will get tangled up in a net and do a lot of damage. If a heavy run of fish strikes the net, the threads weaken. After every week of fishing, fishermen go over their net to make repairs and to clean it from jellyfish and seaweed which, if left on, tend to weaken the net and reduce its efficiency.

Some fishermen, however, who IN RE ESTATE OF WILLIAM HENRY SPENCER, OTHERWISE KNOWN AS WILLIAM HENRY SPENCER, DECEASED.

AND FURTHER TAKE NOTICE that all persons indebted to the said estate are required to pay their indebtedness to me forthwith.

are very careful with their nets, keep them for a season and a half. That is, they clean it, repair it and bluestone it at the end of the season and then use it for half of next season. Then they buy a new net which they will use for the balance of that season and all of the next, making two nets do for three years.

Of course, a sockeye net is only good for sockeye. Other nets are used for spring, coho, chum and pink. Mostly these nets, which are of heavier construction, last two to three years each. But they cost more, too.

Other major costs are gas and food and the general upkeep of the fishing boat. A paint job is required nearly every year and usually minor repairs to engines and the drums, around which the nets are wound. Fishermen claims costs this year are 20 per cent higher than during the previous year.

The new cold storage facilities of Royal Fish Co. opened this season on the waterfront and so far has handled several thousand tons of halibut and salmon. And nearby the storage house, the liver reduction plant is nearing completion.

Halibut livers have again played an important part in Prince Rupert's fishing economy. One company has bought 100,000 pounds so far, prices to be determined by tests on oil quality.

To a layman, this fish-liver business is a messy affair. Handling the livers is not for one of a weak stomach, for the odor which permeates the atmosphere around where the livers are weighed and bought is strong enough to lay low one of not too robust in stamina. But one fisherman probably had it right when he said: "Never mind the stink, for in the stink is the money." He had been with it since he was 12, he added. He looked about 65 now.

HALIBUT FISHING SUSPENDS
With Area 3 closing for the season Monday midnight, the coming week should see fairly heavy landings of halibut at Prince Rupert although expectation is that many of the large Puget Sound vessels will proceed straight home with their final catches. However, there is a considerable number of the larger local boats now out and a number of Alaskan vessels should market here.

During the present week, since Monday and not including today, a total of 579,000 pounds of halibut was landed at Prince Rupert—53,500 pounds from American and 525,500 pounds from Canadian vessels.

Top price for the week for Canadian fish was 25.9, 17c and 15c on Monday and for American 23.7c, 17c and 15c on Thursday.

Next halibut fishing activity will be between July 26 and August 6 when the new Areas 2B (off the east coast of Moresby Island) and 2C (off the west coast of Dall Island between Cape Adair and Dixon's Entrance) will be opened for mid-season fishing without quota. Expectation is that there will be a large drive at that time. Meantime, some of the halibut vessels will be taking up other summer pursuits.

Frank Waterhouse freighter Island King, Capt. E. Swank, arrived in port today with 144 tons of general cargo for Prince Rupert and 200 tons of coal for Albert & McCaffery Ltd.

The freighter called at Kemano Bay on the northward trip and unloaded general construction supplies. Island King will proceed to Alice Arm and Stewart tomorrow and return Tuesday with ore for Vancouver. If there is a load, the freighter will make a call at Kitimat or Kemano Bay southward, Frank Skinner, agent said.

Union steamer Coquitlam arrived in Prince Rupert at 5:45 p.m. yesterday with 75 touring round-trippers and several passengers for Prince Rupert.

Most of the 300 tourists on the CPR steamship Princess Kathleen which docked in Prince Rupert Friday morning enroute to Skagway, Alaska, and return, took a walk through city streets and browsed through the shops. Friday was first day of "real good weather" that greeted the tourists this summer, steamship officers commented.

Flying Officer W. C. Judd is in command of the amphibian and others on board are Flying Officer Jarvis McLeod (son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McLeod of Prince Rupert), Flying Officer Peter Ferguson, Flying Officer Dan Caldecott and Leading Aircraftsman Robertson and Fisher.

In command of Ontario is Commodore Hugh F. Pullen, CBE, who has been with the ship for the past three years and was on board on her 1949 and 1950 visits. Last year her stay here was cut short when she was suddenly called back to base due, it was thought at the time, to the international situation.

"Practically all the permanent personnel on board the Ontario made the cruise 'down under' with her and are still enthusiastic about the experience, although one officer admitted: 'You don't realize how fortunate you are to live in Canada until you have seen the rest of the world.'"

Some of the officers and men were on HMCS Chatham here during the war and are busy renewing acquaintances in Prince Rupert.
