He Was A Good Man

HE WAS one of God's good gentlemen. That simple tribute can surely be paid to Walter Field Rushbrook, beloved dean of clergymen in this widespread parish, who, in the fullness of years, went on to his reward this week. If ever a man deserved a place in Heaven it is he.

Broadminded, sympathetic, a man among men who knew the most rugged frontiers and enjoyed the friendship and esteem of the pioneer folk in these isolated parts, Canon Rushbrook was no ordinary clergyman.

He was a holy man but he was a friend and confidante of all kinds and conditions and we can think of no one who could be more widely or sincerely mourned among so many classes after his long life of ministering.

He enjoyed life and it was in being kind, not by preaching or orthodoxy, but by the good deeds he did and the precept and examples which he radiated that he did the effective work that endeared him to all and gave him such inward satisfaction.

Canon Rushbrook, the pioneer of pioneers, is gone but the memory of his good works and of his fine personality will remain in spirit and the beneficial effects of his good influence will survive for many a year.

Prince Rupert and the islands and bays, the camps and the settlements, will long cherish the fond recollection of his ministrations and friendship.

Tomorrow's Advertiser

TOMORROW'S advertiser will not merely advertise because his competitors do, or because it seems "the thing" to do. He will advertise because it will be impossible to keep his capital busy without advertising, says Journal of Commerce.

This being true, he will advertise on a scale commensurate with the importance of the job to be done. He will recognize that whispers are wastes of breath. He will not think in terms of space units or time units, but in terms of assured attention—and he will provide a stake large enough to definitely obtain attention.

Tomorrow's advertising will be done on a scale never before thought of, and why should it not be, when business is already done on a scale straining our imagination?

Tomorrow's advertising will not be a thing apart, that a business can use or not use, as it wishes. It either will use advertising and will have to, in proportion to its needs for public attention, or else it will not use advertising because it is a type of business which has no vital need of public attention, or because the men who direct its affairs have not the courage to sit in a game where doubling and redoubling are the order of the day.

Tomorrow's advertising will be placed in the category of sales staffs by firms offering their wares and services for sale to the public. Advertising has been tested and its value proven in modern business. Without it, the output and sales of many great firms would gradually dwindle to the vanishing point and their names, known throughout the land today, would eventually become vague and meaningless to the consuming public. The heads of great corporations and the most successful men in business entertain no doubts whatever as to the necessity for advertising. It is no longer guesswork with them and there is evidence on all sides that the majority of smaller firms move ahead in proportion to the amount of advertising they use providing their advertising programs are coupled with sound business judgment.

Scripture Passage for Today

"And now abide faith, hope, charity, these three; but the greatest of these is charity."—1 Cor. 13:13.
"Follow after charity, and desire spiritual gifts, but rather that ye may prophesy."—1 Cor. 14:1.

Evangelist Visits City

Evangelist J. A. Fernandez, formerly of Trinidad, British West Indies, and now resident of Edmonton, is visiting Prince Rupert to promote interdenominational revival. The evangelist, who advocates "a return to the fundamentals of the 'Old Time Religion,'" as the only answer to the problems of an impotent and decadent church, will be conducting services nightly, except Monday and Saturday in the Full Gospel Church. He will preach on Sunday. The Kitkatla Native Band will furnish selections during the evening service.

Not Without Humor

CAIRO, Egypt — Here is the best story I have heard going the rounds of the various legations here. Have no idea whether it has the figments of fact in it, or is sheer invention:

Before His Holiness the Pope proclaimed the doctrine of the Assumption to Heaven of Mary, the Mother of Jesus, the Vatican discreetly sounded out the various governments as to the probable reaction.

The Egyptian reply was to this effect:

"It was OK with Egypt, so long as it fully recognizes full Egyptian sovereignty over the Delta and Suez Canal, and the essential unity of the lands of the Nile Valley."

CAIRO HAS NO MUNICIPAL government as we know that term in the West.

It is run by a governor, much as in Joseph's time.

I just can't figure out who pays for all the policemen. Every important business house and, indeed, just about every important private home, especially foreigners' homes, is permanently guarded by regularly assigned police or soldiers.

If the British Ambassador goes to play golf, for instance, he might be followed by his own embassy bodyguard, but also by two or three Egyptian police.

MOST OF THE EUROPEANS who live here chuckle with glee or scorn at what they say are wild, untrue newspaper stories which get into British and North American papers about conditions here.

They claim that 99 percent of the stories about riots and demonstrations are just plain bunk. They assert, in fact, that few such reports are ever sent out from Egypt, but are manufactured in the home offices of the international press services.

Some of them referred me to some of the more lurid reports of the past year or two — how they were either made up out of thin air, or were "mountains made out of molehills."

THE CHARMING WIFE OF one important foreign official in Egypt told me this story:

Soon after arrival, she and her daughter went shopping. They soon got so interested that they more or less lost their way. They were about to go down one street when suddenly a youth rushed up to them and most ardently warned them to turn back.

There was going to be a big political demonstration there, he said. There might be violence, and anything might happen to foreigners, especially ladies.

Let him take them back to their hotel in safety, he urged. With women's intuition, they saw through the faker. They kept right on going. Everything was as quiet as a church.

Of course, the rascal was after a tip.

I DO NOT WANT TO GIVE the false impression that everything is quiescent and passive here. On the contrary, as I have previously hinted, you can feel the dynamism in the very air of 1951 Egypt.

As one very hard-headed Egyptian put it to me: "There is real trouble coming some day or other. This is naturally 'too rich a country to have so many poor people.' The trouble is that one man may own several thousand acres of land which he rents at exorbitant rates. He has only himself, his wife and two children to keep. Yet he has a Rolls-Royce, Buick, Chrysler—seven cars in all."

And this was his punch-line: "And that man don't build no factory."

THIS WEEK THE Egyptian government suppressed the Socialist paper, Misrrel Fatah, which, so far as I can find, is somewhat to the right of the CCF Party in Canada or the Labor Party in Britain. The Press Syndicate Council, representing all Egyptian newspapers, has protested this ban as a blow to democracy and a threat to freedom.

LETTERBOX

ANCIENT No. 2

Editor, Daily News—

I may be a little late but, being an "ancient" myself and also a friend of parents, teen-agers and children (born in Glen-garry, May 9, 1883), I would like to say something about the recent discussion between "ancient" and "teen-agers." [The letters were published in the Daily News several weeks ago.]

I can verify most of "Ancient's" statements about conditions on the farm when we were boys. When I was a boy we cut grain with a cradle attached to a scythe. Then came the single reaper, a great advance, followed by the self-binder, the combine, the tractor, etc. All were happy about the new inventions and work savers. God forbid that we should have to go back to the conditions of our boyhood days!

Parents of today, I think, are to be most heartily congratulated on their success in bringing up their families.

I know teen-agers and children in all parts of this city and real ladies and gentlemen they all are. I have eaten meals in homes where teen-agers did the cooking and, to say the least of it, I've never eaten more tasty meals.

Take, for instance, Kenneth Boychuk (I hope he will forgive me for mentioning his name). He was a boy of five years, two years ago. We were out in my garden and he says to me: "Mr. McNaughton, if any kids go into your garden I will get them out!" Well! I had no fears about the children around here, as they have most wonderful bringing up, but I'll never forget Kenneth for his thought of my welfare. I could see his parents' teaching. Appreciation goes to his parents as he was the only child at that time.

I most sincerely appreciate teen-agers' letter in their own defence. In not one of their letters could I feel that they classed all ancients alike, and it was quite apparent that they respected age. To say the least, I was disappointed when I read "Ancient's" letter and soon destroyed it. But teen-agers' I cut out of the paper for future reading as they all brought out points that even we ancients would do well to keep in mind and use.

"Dynamite's" letter kept my

Saturday Sermon

Following Afar Off

"And Peter Followed Afar Off."—Luke 22:54

(By Rev. E. A. Wright, D.D., First Presbyterian Church)

There are many today like Peter, they follow so far from Him that they do not see Him. They do not hear His voice. They do not realize that He needs them, nor that they need Him.

Why did Peter follow afar off? I think we can best answer that question by asking ourselves the same question—Why do we follow afar off? Why aren't we close to Him, helping Him to bear His sorrows, sharing His sufferings, and giving Him the comfort of our fellowship and presence?

Is it because we are afraid to acknowledge that we are His followers? Is it because we are afraid that we might suffer persecution, ridicule or imprisonment? Methinks that was the reason that Peter followed afar off. He had a love for his Master, but not yet deep or strong enough to make him walk closely with Him although he did not want to desert Him altogether. That, I think, is the reason that many today follow afar off. Afraid of the ridicule, afraid of the sacrifice, and afraid of the cost. Not yet have many learned to sing from the heart.

"Hold thou my hand and closer, closer draw me

"To thy dear self—my hope, my joy, my all:

"Hold thou my hand, lest happily I should wander;

"And, missing thee, my trembling feet should fall."

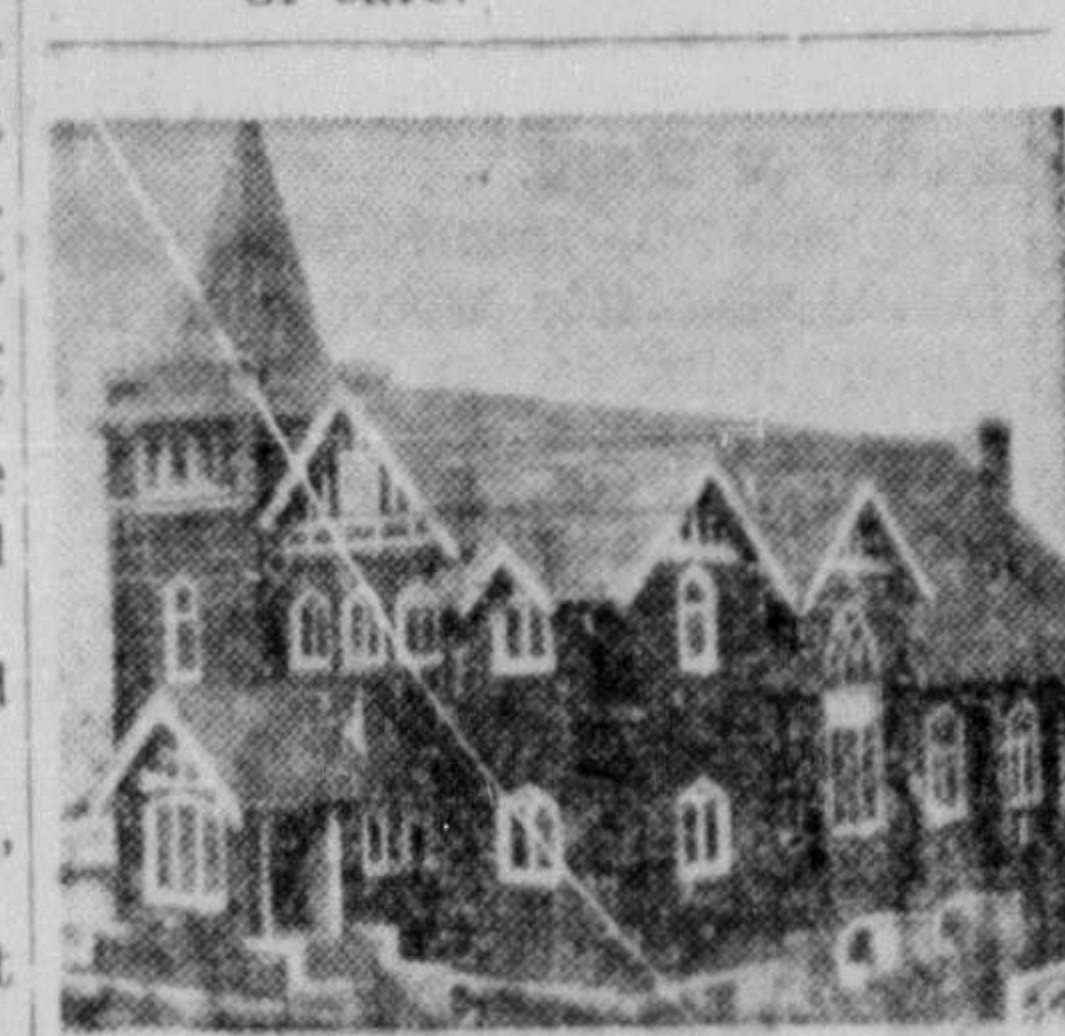

Note—Peter did not follow afar off because he had planned to do so but because he had not planned to do otherwise. When Peter said he would follow his Master to prison or death he meant every word of it. Why then didn't he do it? Simply because resolutions have to be fed constantly if they are to be kept alive and become stronger. This is a lesson we must learn.

The great majority of men and women uniting with the Christian church do so with sincerity and with the hope of counting for something in the service of Christ. But they become negligent of private devotions and of their attendance at the public worship and the ordinances of the church. Thus their spiritual life does not grow, and their love for Christ fades—"They follow afar off."

Again—Peter followed afar off, not because he had planned it that way, but because he had not planned it otherwise. What are your plans for the Christian life you have entered as a disciple? Do you plan to follow Him closely? If so it may mean much sacrifice and ridicule but it will also mean much joy, much peace of mind, much fellowship, and it will result in growth in Grace, for we shall grow like Him as we walk with Him.

"O Master, let me walk with thee,
"In lowly paths of service free,
"Tell me thy secret, help me bear
"The strain of toil, the fret of care."

We extend a cordial invitation to visitors to worship with us.

MONDAY AT 8.00 P.M.

I BELIEVE

In the first three months of 1951 we are conducting an intensive campaign to remind people that Christians believe:

- In God
- In Jesus Christ
- In the Holy Ghost
- In Salvation through the Blood of Jesus Christ
- In the indwelling of the Holy Ghost
- In the Bible
- In Heaven and Hell

Major David Hammond has just arrived from a two week campaign at Prince George, Hazelton, Sik-i-Dah, and Kit-selas; and has seen many excellent decisions made at the Mercy Seat in these places.

Women of Moose Are in Session

Women of the Moose, at a regular meeting Thursday night, initiated one new member, held a mock auction, enjoyed a few tables of court whist and the evening was topped off with the serving of delicious refreshments by the committee in charge. Mrs. Frank Parlette was in the chair.

The ritual committee had charge of the mock auction. Prize-winners in the whist were Mrs. O. Tweed and Mrs. M. Curle.

Musicians' Club Dances Started

The first of a series of monthly dances was held last night in the Oddfellows' Hall. It was sponsored by the Musicians' Club.

Fifty young couples enjoyed the music of the Dukes dance band in the recently redecorated hall.

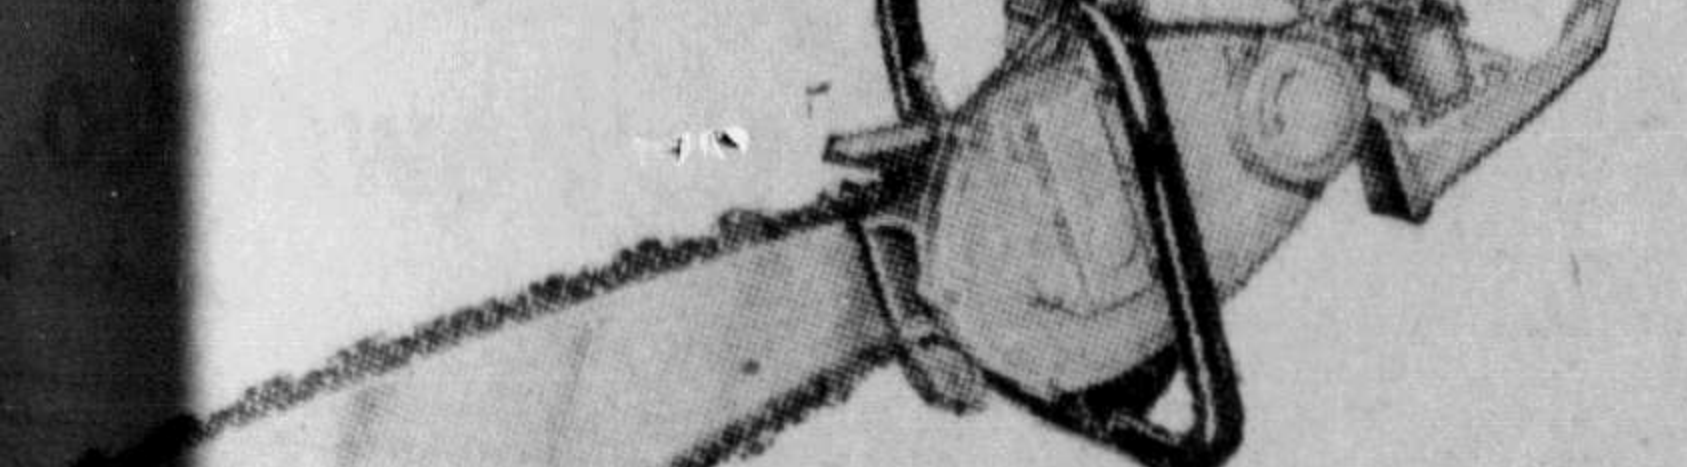

On the entertainment committee were Joseph Gallant, Robert Woods and Donald Morton.

Mrs. Jack Lindsay and sons, Johnny and Joe, are sailing tomorrow night on the Chilcotin for a trip to Vancouver.

Civic Centre— Wednesday Afternoon is "Tots" Day at Civic Centre and 150 Surely Enjoy It

THAT YOUNG MAN—just finishing a forward roll is John Hardy, while Miss Gloria Sather tells Sharleen Parent just how it's done. Ronald Laughton doesn't know whether he should do it, although he's next in line, followed by Paddy Field and Lee Donaldson who head the long waiting list.

Mrs. George Black Now Eighty-Five

Mrs. George Black, O.B.E., well known in Prince Rupert, will observe her 85th birthday anniversary on Monday next, at her home in Whitehorse.

Mrs. Black has had a notable career. Born in Chicago, she climbed the Chilcotin Pass to live for many a year in the Klondyke.

Two weeks before her seventieth year she took her place in the House of Commons, as Member for the Yukon. She once remarked:

"I have lived in a tent, a one room cabin, and in that one room entertained 18 men for Christmas dinner."

When organizing the first Chapter of the IOOE in Dawson she was asked "how long has one to be a Daughter of the American Revolution before becoming a Daughter of the Empire?" She smiled and replied, "only until one marries George Black." The latter is a United Empire Loyalist descendant.

Denny Thain Is Honored

Friends and acquaintances of City Clerk H. D. Thain last night joined city council and City Hall staff in an all-star farewell party. More than 50 men took part in the buffet dinner, the card playing, and the well-wishing.

Mr. Thain has been Prince Rupert's city clerk for seven years. Next Thursday, March 1, he leaves the city and his job to take a similar post in Port Alton.

His farewell gift, a table cigarette-lighter ensemble, was presented by Ald. George Casey who recounted at length the value of Mr. Thain's past services which would assure him only success in his future work.

R. W. Long, assistant treasurer and collector, succeeds Mr. Thain as city clerk.

J. I. Sweet, C.N.R. teletype inspector, is returning to Vancouver on the Chilcotin tomorrow night after a visit here on official business.

Each Wednesday afternoon—from October to May—Prince Rupert's "tiny tots" have their day, for open to children of members in the Civic Centre are games, dances, stories and gymnastics.

More than 150 youngsters, from ages 3-6, are registered for these afternoons but there's still plenty room for more, says charming Miss Gloria Sather, instructress, who simply "loves children."

And from the pile of Valentines Miss Sather received last week, the children's admiration (in turn) is evident.

The tiny tots classes, all part of the Civic Centre recreation program, headed by Don Forward, are held from 2:30 to 3:30 p.m. and are divided into two departments—the 3-4 and the 5-6 age groups.

In the younger group more than 100 children take in such games as "Ring Around the Rosy," "Farmer in the Dell" and "Little Teapot," which are played to accompaniment of piano music. Simple folk dances are also organized in which some display special talent, even at such an early age, said Miss Sather.

STORIES IMPORTANT
Mrs. D. Parent, Mrs. S. J. Anderson and Mrs. Don Forward, all of whom work with these groups, may then tell a story. This is always an important phase of the afternoon. The children sit in a ring around the story-teller, and not a sound from them is heard. Some mouths are open; other stare wide-eyed in anticipation of the important climax of the story. They are all wrapped up in attention, said Mrs. Anderson.

But being children, and true to their nature, many of them look forward to their next birthday which will bring them into the higher age group.

"Often one or the other will come and tell me: 'I'll be five in two weeks,'" said Miss Sather, adding, "For they want to get into the gym class."

About 30 youngsters are in this group. They begin by doing simple forward rolls, then advance to the crabwalk, the fishwalk, and headstands. Adagio numbers such as the back and forward swans are also popular, although they require considerable practise, says their instructress.

From Kamloops, Miss Sather came to the city last June to "Better late than never" is a saying which does not apply to life assurance. Too often late means never. If you delay in applying for the proper amount of assurance protection you may ultimately find you have fallen below the required medical standards. Each day medical examiners are obliged to turn down applications for insurance from people whose need for it is great. Many of these disappointed people could have qualified a year or so earlier but the development of a health impairment makes them now uninsurable.

Statistically speaking, 20% of men are already uninsurable when they reach the age of forty. Keep this figure in mind. Don't be too late applying for your life assurance. Call me today!

Experiences of War Prisoners

Graphic narrative of the harrowing experiences and privations of Allied civilian prisoners of war incarcerated in North Borneo by the Japanese after the invasion in World War II, "Three Came Home," completing a week-end run at the Capitol Theatre here today, may not be classed as entertainment but it is a graphic and poignant document.

The story centres around the experiences of an American wife of a British official and her young son under Japanese capture. Brutal incidents are portrayed and there are also interludes of high drama.

Claudette Colbert plays the leading role with five-year-old Mark Kenning as the child. Patricia Knowles, Florence Desmond and Sessue Hayakawa are also featured, the latter, veteran of the old silent pictures, as a Japanese Army officer.

Tonight's train, due from the East at 10:15, is reported two hours and thirty minutes late.

Here's Why You Need Aspirin When You Have A Cold -To Feel Better, Fast!

At the first sign of a cold—before you do anything else—take two ASPIRIN tablets with a full glass of water. Here's why: When you have a cold, it's almost invariably accompanied by a headache, feverish feeling and muscular aches and pains. And it's very important to your well being that you treat these distressing symptoms with a medication that will relieve them . . . relieve them quickly. By taking ASPIRIN at the first sign of a cold, you'll get this important relief.

No matter how you try to stop or shorten a cold, authorities will tell you that this is sound advice.

FEEL BETTER FAST
And when you take ASPIRIN, you'll discover why millions have followed this advice with remarkable results. For ASPIRIN works fast. It actually goes to work in two seconds. And this is one reason why it brings you amazingly quick relief from these painful cold symptoms.

This two-second speed is something you can see with your own eyes by dropping an ASPIRIN tablet in a glass of water and "clocking" its disintegration.

WHAT TO DO FOR SORE THROAT
When your cold causes a sore throat, gargle with three ASPIRIN tablets dissolved in one-third of a glass of water. This makes a potent medicinal gargle that almost instantly soothes tender throat membranes, relieves pain and irritation.

Besides being effective, ASPIRIN is also gentle. Its single active ingredient is so gentle to the system that it is regularly prescribed, even for small children.

Keep ASPIRIN handy. When you buy, get the 100-tablet bottle which gives you ASPIRIN for less than a penny a tablet.

Because no other pain reliever can match its record of use by millions of people, without ill effect, one thing you can take with complete confidence is

Mr. Champion was the leader and opened with a crisp "one heart." Mr. Muzzy took one look at the South cards and got pretty excited. Wouldn't you have been excited to hold this hand opposite a partner who had opened the bidding? The trouble was that Mr. Muzzy couldn't wait.

"Two spades," he bellowed in his best haphazard form.

"Wouldn't care to make it a four-handed game, would you, Muzzy?" remarked Mr. Abel.

"What do you mean, a four-handed game?"

"I mean that you bid out of turn. It was my turn to bid." There was a world meaning in Mr. Muzzy's smile as he replied, "I don't think you'll want to bid on this hand, my friend."

"Please, Muzzy! We're already penalized on the hand," put in Mr. Champion. "You're making it worse."

"But how can they bid, when

"QUIET" roared Mr. Champion. At this point, Mr. Judge, the demon kibitzer, bustled out to the table, whipping out his little book of laws. He read the applicable ruling and advised that Mr. Muzzy's bid was void and the bidding reverted to Mr. Abel.

Mr. Abel passed. Now Mr. Muzzy could make any bid he wanted to make, but Mr. Champion was barred from further action.

Mr. Muzzy thought this over. They weren't going to get him again with their silly old laws. He checked once more to make sure he didn't have to bid just two spades and then with the air of a hero surmounting all obstacles he bid four spades.

Mr. Dale led the Queen of diamonds, the king went up in dummy and East won the ace. The defenders collected one more diamond and a spade trick, but that was all. The contract was Muzzy-proof.

The trouble was that Mr. Champion would have had just as easy a time making six hearts.

IT CAN HAPPEN

The timing in most motion pictures is poor. The most interesting scenes invariably reach the screen just as four people enter or leave their seats, passing immediately in front of us.

CHANGE COMING

It's not too much to say that in Prince Rupert thousands of youngsters have grown up without ever having welded a hockey stick, raced on ice or flourished a broom. They had read sport news and watched pictures but that's as far as it went. And this, a few miles from Alaska!

MUCH LONGER

"The life span of the crab is twenty years," - Newspaper filler. Almost any wife knows that. Unquestionably, the average crab lives much longer than twenty years.

CARE WITH NEWS

The Ottawa Journal has been fined $3,000 and two of its reporters $300 each, for having suggested that, in the recent Sullivan manslaughter trial Mrs. Sullivan might take the stand in her own defence. Sharp comment follows this court action. Some of it is exceedingly candid. It is admitted that the Journal's suggestion should not have been made but it is also generally agreed that the penalty was too severe. It will not embarrass a metropolitan paper to find $3,000. It certainly will annoy a couple of reporters to dig up $300 each. The incident, however, again emphasizes the care that should be taken in the handling of news and legal proceedings. One can hardly be too cautious.

KEEP IT AT 75c

Seventy-five cents will continue to be the cost of a hair cut in Ottawa? The Journal, in a philosophic mood, says a fair price is something to be worked

Premier Man Buried Here

Funeral service for Aaron Aaronson, 72, was held Friday afternoon from Grenville Court Chapel.

Officiating at the pioneer hard rock miner's funeral was Canon Basil S. Prockter.

Mr. Aaronson, who was flown here from Premier for medical attention, died in the city hospital February 15.

Palbearers were J. Kasper, John Thompson, G. Pavlova, William Logan, James Currie and Samuel Haugan.

Interment was made in Fairview Cemetery, with funeral arrangements by B. C. Undertakers.

NOT SO MUCH

General lightening on loans will become effective announce Canada's ten chartered banks, this being considered necessary to cope with inflation risks. It may appear inconvenient, but after all what does that amount to?

The climate is mild and the soil exceptionally productive in the Channel Islands off the Northwest French coast.

To Celebrate 100th Birthday

Russell Ford and son, Jerry, left on yesterday's plane for Vancouver where they will attend the birthday celebration and party of Mr. Ford's grandfather, John Caesar. Special occasion will be a dinner given in honor of Mr. Caesar's one hundredth birthday at the Devonshire Hotel on February 27.

Mr. Caesar, Canada's oldest railway man, has been retired from the C.P.R. since 1917. He still enjoys fine health.

SPHERE OF SPORTS

TRAILING the MELON

Play-offs

After much battling and many close games, we are tonight going to the semi-finals of the basketball league which began together Brownwoods and Gordon & Anderson in a three series. A week or so ago it was announced by the president, Angus Macdonald, that all this was an impossibility since the matter had been discussed and voted upon by the teams in the finals and, being a democracy, the majority must rule. Faces began to turn a little crimson, however, during the past week when the president of the association, Jack Gordon, began furtively to search for a record of such a meeting. At press time he was still searching so it appears that he was doing a little "digging" on the side and it was the side of Gordon and not the side of Brownwoods. To be fair, however, it is reported that the association in a special session, did vote on the matter: a week or so ago and it is Gordon and Brownwoods who are the semi, the winner of the final to meet Co-op in the final.

I don't know what got me into this so ardently—chasing the cause of the underdog—I do know that Gordon showed little appreciation for losing to Brownwoods in an exhibition fixture Thursday. This does not, however, mean that we cannot expect intensified action between the two above mentioned teams. If Brownwoods encounter poor luck and Gordon keep their five regulars in left of their regulars on the court they not only take the hardware outfit but easily pick off Co-op. I go predicting again, and these predictions are like many of those of fame—they are made on a basis and it's a matter of keeping fingers crossed until the truth is known.

"ROCKET" NIGHT—Maurice (Rocket) Richard, high-scoring right winger of Montreal Canadiens, was showered with $7,000 worth of gifts on "Rocket Richard Night" at the Forum. More than 15,000 fans turned up to see Richard presented with a new car for which they subscribed. Mrs. Richard holds a bouquet of flowers presented to her by little Andree St. Gelais, daughter of Jean St. Gelais, president of Alouettes-Canadiens-Royals Booster Club, who organized the "night."

Felt "Good" So Stole Money

Malcolm McDonald pleaded guilty before Magistrate W. D. Vance in city police court Thursday to charge of theft of over $110 from Bill's Service Station, McBride Street. Sentence was reserved until today.

Brought here in custody from Ocean Falls on the Prince Rupert Wednesday, McDonald, 22, had been temporarily employed by W. R. Thain, who reported the loss of money on Feb. 15.

"When I took the money I was feeling pretty good—I was intoxicated," accused told the magistrate, saying that he had taken only $95. He then boarded a steamer for the south and was intercepted at Ocean Falls.

Arena Poll Being Taken

High School pupils are "covering" the city this week-end with a poll to determine just how badly the people of the city as a whole feel an ice arena here is needed and how far they are ready to dig down for cash or give of their voluntary labor to put the project over.

With the estimate for the total cost of the full-size arena now cut to $125,000, the poll questionnaire first of all asks the question: "Would you support such a project?"

Then it goes on to get signatures on the line for cash and labor pledges and to obtain an expression of opinion of appropriate dues for skating, curling and hockey participation as spectators and players.

McDonald, who has worked in the province for seven months, came from Ontario.

In reserving sentence, the magistrate warned the accused of the seriousness of the offence. The accused, who chose to be tried by Magistrate Vance, said that he had no lawyer representing him.

CANNOT BE ALLOWED
After a recommendation for clemency from the court officer, Const. E. D. Anderson of the city RCMP detachment, Magistrate Vance said: "If we let such cases as this off too lightly, the city will be a hot bed for such occurrences."

Const. Anderson told the court that there had been evidence that the accused had been drinking.

"Drinking is no excuse," said the magistrate.

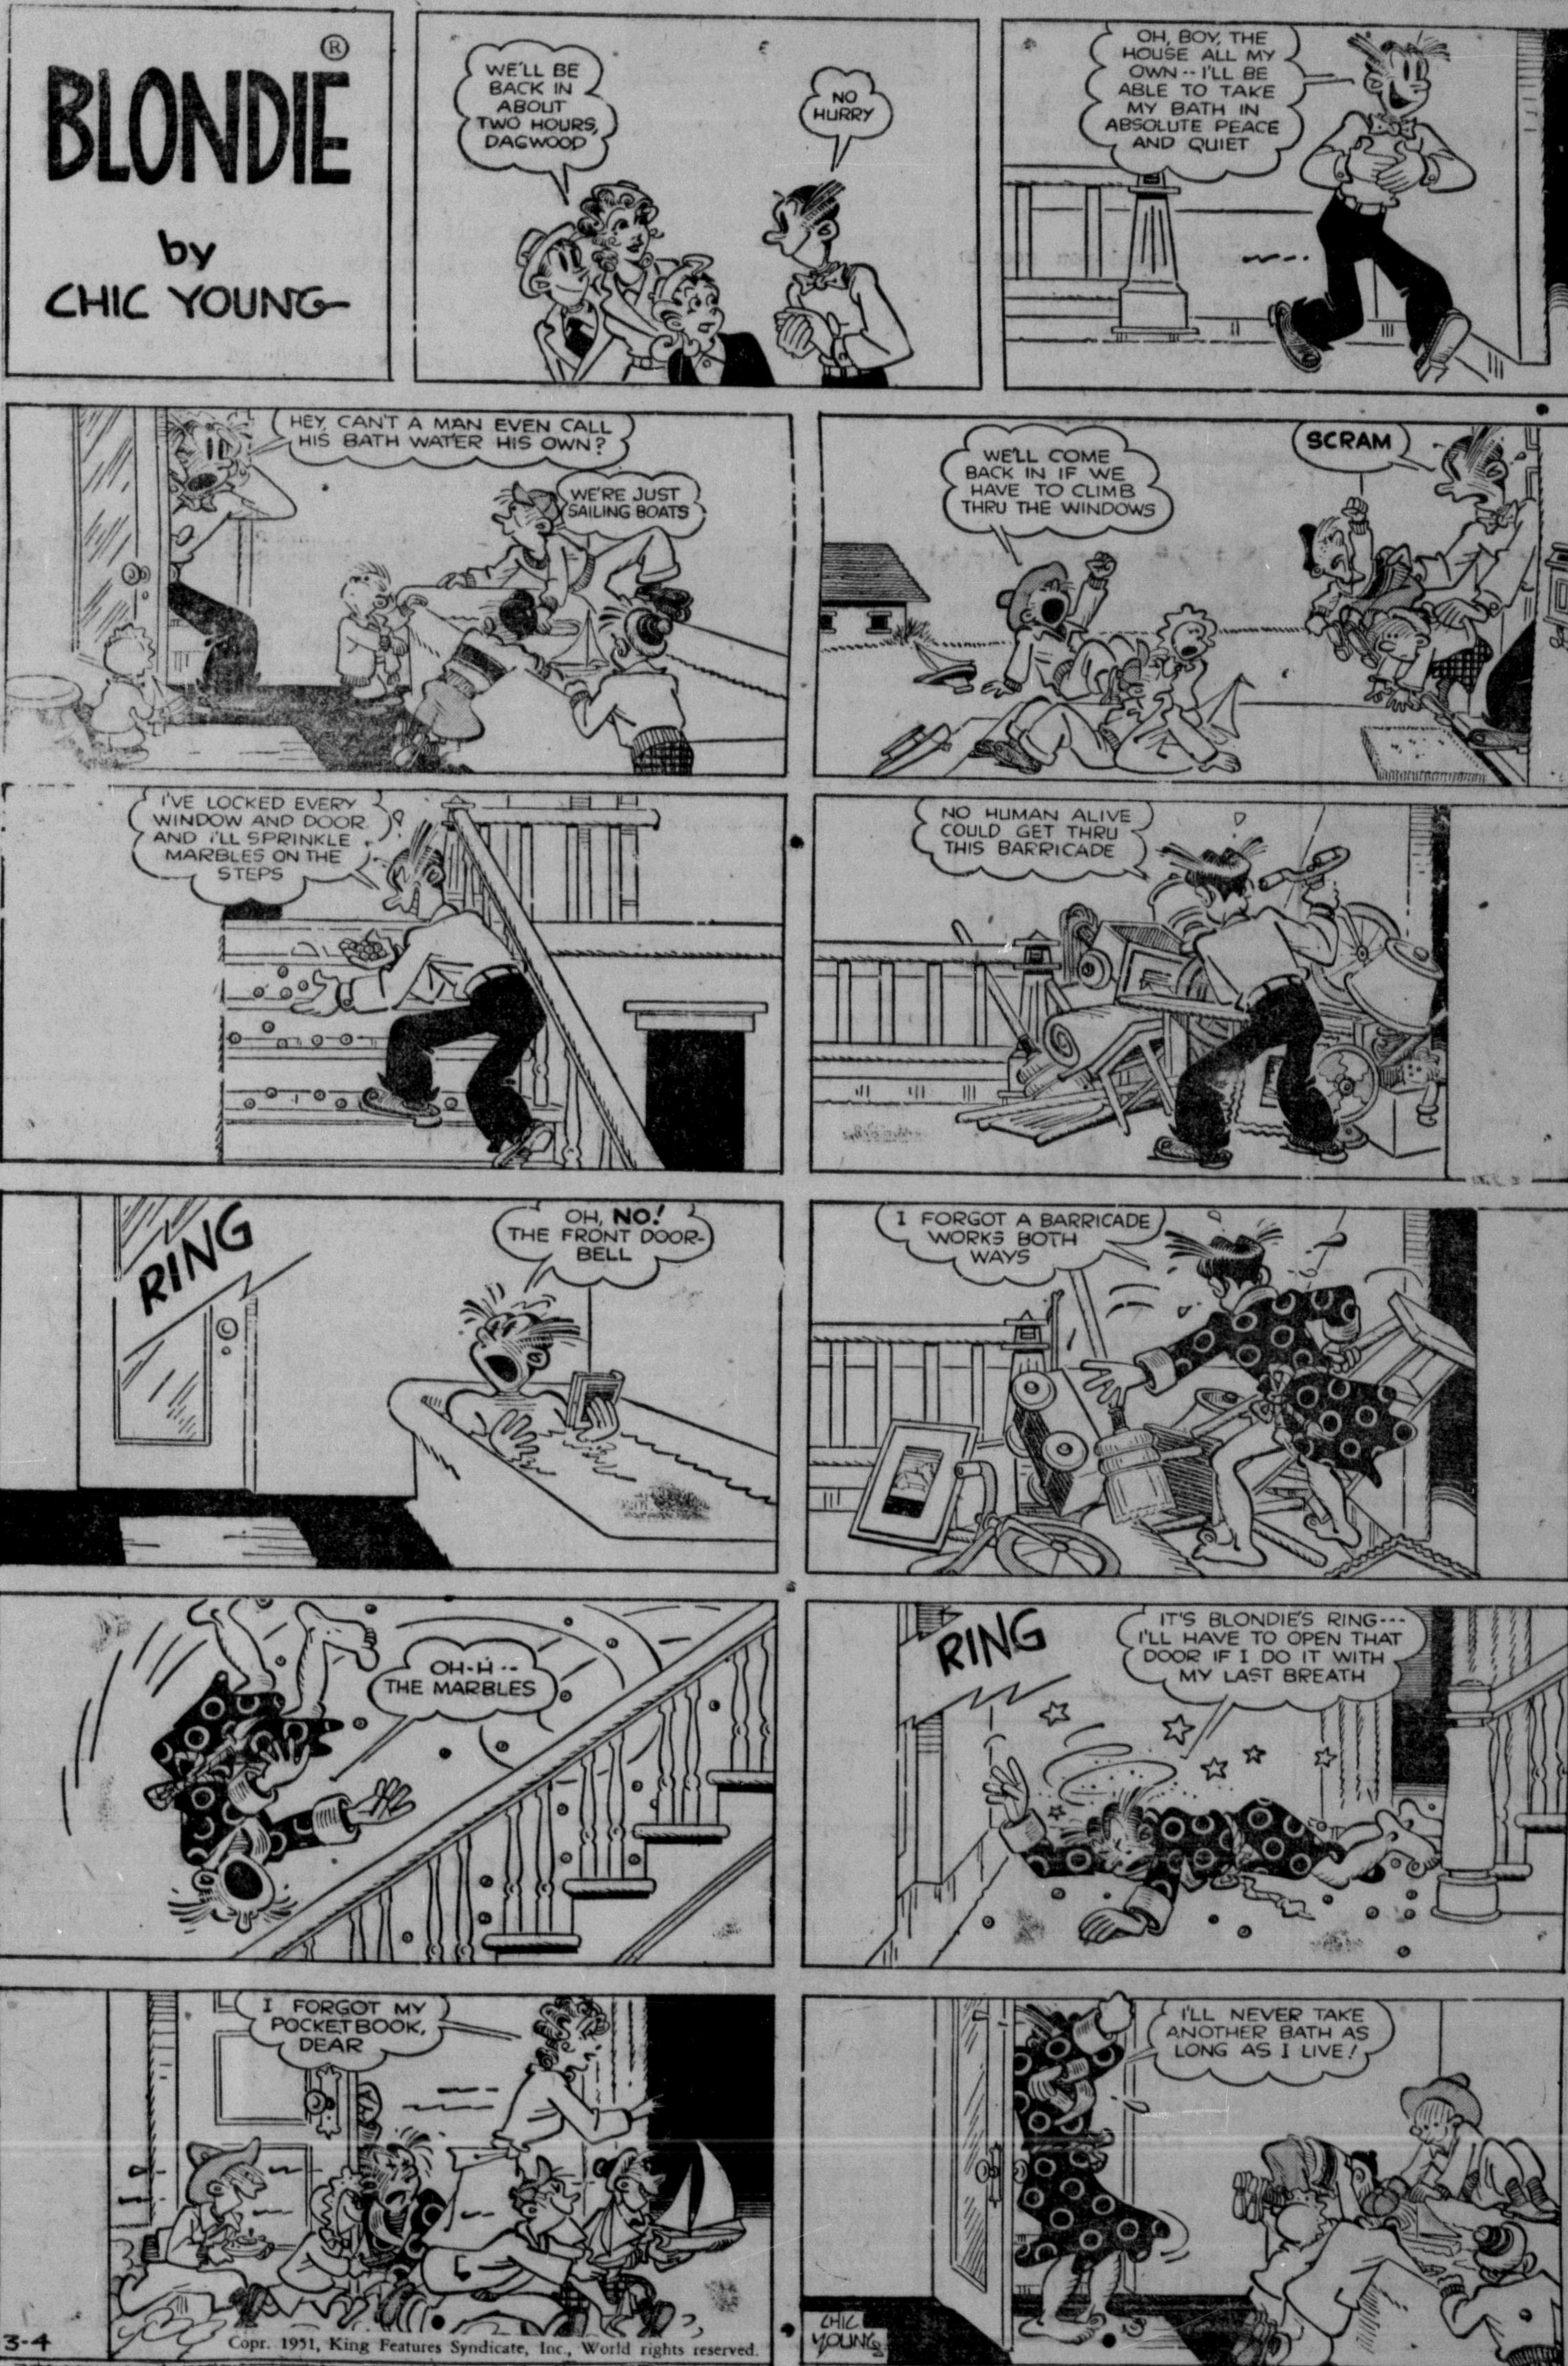

"You might fool the other fellow, but conscience is something you will never get rid of," Magistrate Vance told the accused.

The court advised the accused that the higher life was the only one to lead—making it much easier to live.

McDonald said that he had served with the Canadian Army on operation "Sweetbriar," being discharged for striking an officer. The theft of a radio, during what was believed to be the juvenile years of the accused's life in Ontario, was the only other infraction the court reported on Mr. McDonald's record.

McDonald, who has been here for the past seven months, working with city taxi stands, washing cars and helping with mechanics, was befriended by Mr. Thain because of being without money, food or shelter.

heart beating with appreciation right through! I wish I were acquainted with "Dynamite" so I could shake hands and thank him. I can honestly say that I have received many helpful hints from teen-agers all through.

If Bill Donaldson, a teen-ager, will pardon me, I would like to working at the Hotel Prince Rupert, I asked him for many instructions of how to do certain work and he was a real pal in instructing me.

Teen-agers and youngsters that come down Sixth Avenue West on their way to school and whom I meet on my way to work may not give it a thought that their "Good morning" and smile cheers me up all day while working and are kept in constant use. Thanks very much! I do wish I knew all their names. I take the privilege of speaking first since I'm an "Ancient."

A thank-you should go to our radio announcer at CPFR at the end of Musical Clock when he so often concludes with the song, "Stay With the Happy People that Always Wear a Smile." The sun shines in my heart when I listen to that song, as it has been my practice all my life. Therefore, I've lived a very happy life.

A hearty thank-you goes to the boy who delivers my Daily News for his courtesy and smile when I'm lucky enough to be home. I can certainly appreciate his parents' good training.

Alf Large Gets His Fish—Local Fisherman Finds $11,000

Spring has come to the Prince Rupert Yacht and Rowing Club. The first serious activity of the year for the piscators was Thursday afternoon when a 26-pound white spring salmon was caught by Dr. A. W. Large and Joe Scott.

Aboard the Shadrach, the amateur fishermen struck their fish near the dry dock while trawling the harbor.

"It's the first salmon I've caught," said Dr. Large as he stepped off his boat at the club. "But it took the guidance of Joe Scott!" And Joe beamed with satisfaction on his disciple.

Dr. Large played the fish for 15 or 20 minutes before bringing it up to be gaffed by Mr. Scott. They used about 100 feet of line and a "Luckie Louie" plug.

Luck should be with the B. C. Producer, Capt. Fred Kohse, which left berth Thursday evening for Hecate Straite. Over $11,000 was found by a crew member, Clarence Severson, while in New Westminster recently.

Mr. Severson was stepping into his car parked near Columbia street when he picked up an envelope lying in the gutter. Opening the envelope, he found a cheque made out to Westminster Hog-Fuel for $11,376.

Taking it to the police, Mr. Severson said: "They were surprised at my honesty. Too bad it wasn't cash!"

Mr. Severson and his brother Ed flew back to Rupert Wednesday to join their boat which has been in dry dock for repairs after striking a rock off Lawyer Island, one black night two weeks ago. Their last load of flatfish brought in for B. C. Packers weighed over 70,000 pounds. Now the 63-foot B. C.

Following the installation of an echo sounder by Wilford Electrical Works, the Smith Sound, Capt. Arthur Brown, will be out for more flatfish within a week's time.

Disembarking here from the Chilcotin were E. A. Williamson, J. Cross, Howard Barton, William McKay and Mrs. J. H. Thompson.

Frank Waterhouse freighter Island King, Capt. A. E. Gough, left at 4 p.m. Thursday for Vancouver with 5000 cases of salmon from Nelson Bros. in her cargo.

She also carries 50 tons of ore from the Torbrit Silver Mines, which will be shipped by rail from Vancouver to Idaho. The Island King will pick up 300 tons of heavy paper from Ocean Falls for Powell River. The vessel is due in Vancouver Monday morning.

Arriving at 2:45 Friday afternoon from Vancouver, Union steamer Chilcotin, Capt. Harry McLean, unloaded 135 tons of freight among which is 12½

Local Pamphlet to Receive Immediate Attention —
Money Needed

With the assistance of a publicity booklet, supply of which has become exhausted, as the major project requiring immediate attention, the Prince Rupert Public Relations Council seriously considered the matter of finances at its annual meeting last night.

To build up the funds of the council, which are almost completely exhausted, a campaign is being instituted at once. Letters will go out to local businesses seeking their voluntary and generous subscriptions. If this method fails, a special finance committee will be formed to follow up and devise ways and means including a personal canvass. However, it is hoped that adequate subscriptions will be obtained, making unnecessary more intensive measures.

tons of beer. The vessel sailed last night for Queen Charlotte Islands and is due back tomorrow evening southbound.

RESEARCH VESSEL HERE

Encountering engine trouble just before reaching Prince Rupert, the Investigator, in the service of the Fisheries Research Board, made her way cautiously to port this week from Nanaimo.

Here for her annual survey of the fishing grounds for the Department of Fisheries, the Investigator will leave Sunday for the inlet's and passages near Banks Island.

Since coming to port, her engine difficulty, caused by salt water troubling the pump, has been repaired. Before returning to Nanaimo March 15, 3000 soles will be tagged as well as investigation into the fish already marked.

Biologist with the Research Board of Canada, J. I. Manzer of Nanaimo is a member of the crew to conduct scientific tests in Hecate Strait. Also among the crew are William Brandon, engineer; D. H. Peerenboom, cook; Ronald Hearn, mate, and Neil Yates, technician.

This week-end, out after the one that got away Thursday while trolling the harbor, will be mechanic Jerry Long of HMCS Chatham. "Something took all my bait," said Stoker Long, who lost his herring while fishing for spring salmon just off Bill Bacon's. He says he's going to keep using that rowboat until a fish is landed.

Apparently there will be few changes in 1951 halibut fishing regulations but it will be different in 1952. The general impression among local halibut operators is that the deep sea fishing season will open May 1.

The Japanese steamship Hikawa Maru is loading a full grain cargo at Vancouver. In pre-war days she was a regular caller at Pacific ports (except Prince Rupert). She was then one of the three NYK ships. During the war, her sister-ships were sunk.

Ald. H. M. Daggett, William Cruickshank and Ald. H. F. Glassey will proceed with the job of modernizing the material for the pamphlet so its production may proceed with a minimum of delay.

Officers of the council for the coming year were elected as follows:

President, Ald. G. D. Frizzell.
Vice-President, Geoffrey Hill.
Secretary - Treasurer, H. F. Glassey.

Chairman of external committee, G. N. Moore.

Chairman of internal committee, Hugh Mackenzie.
