

Eisenhower Demands End of Haggling and Settling to Defence

ROME (CP)—General Dwight D. Eisenhower warned Atlantic Pact countries today to stop haggling over command appointments, forget indifference to national glory and "attempts at the impossible" in settling their sovereignty.

Eisenhower declared that, unless Europe's defence line is built strongly east of the Rhine, there will be peace without fear. This was interpreted as a definite reference to inclusion of German forces in the Atlantic Pact army.

Local Theatre

Read Expires at Capitol Theatre Sunday Night

Fred Read died in the theatre late Sunday night. He had been unwell for several weeks and was in hospital for a short time. The theatre he made his home and death came near his home.

His collapse was noted, and attempts to revive him failed but all that could be done was in vain.

Mr. Waeger and Jack of the ambulance were there, and an inhalator was used, but he failed to revive him.

Before the attack he had been speaking with Mr. Read, a pioneer who came to the city in 1910, four years before the attack.

He was well informed on the local public, and his familiar figure and personality.

He was directly identified with the theatre and the Capitol Theatre.

He was a survivor of the war, and his experience on the battlefield was well known.

Winter Hits Alcan Work

Snow and High Water Stops Transmission Line—Kemano and Kitimat To Curtail

Advent of snow and heavy rains in the rugged mountain country above Kildala Arm has brought an end for the time being to work on the transmission line which will carry power from the big Kemano River powerhouse to the great aluminum smelter which Aluminum Co. of Canada is to build at Kitimat. Crews are now being moved out, some men having been flown into the city by Terrace at the week-end, leaving today for Vancouver. Some phases of the work are already behind schedule owing to weather and other conditions so an early start will be made as soon as possible in the spring and the job speeded up on an intensive scale.

Six inches of snow fell in the Kildala Arm area last Friday. Prior to that a couple of camps had been isolated by flood water conditions after heavy rains.

As winter comes, there will also be curtailment of work at Kemano and Kitimat but this too will be pursued on an even more intensive scale next year, employing thousands of men. Digging of the huge water tunnel between Tahtsa Lake and Kemano powerhouse site will continue during the winter.

A week or so before Christmas, according to word reaching here, Canadian Pacific Railway's British Columbia Coast Steamship Service will run one of its largest coastal liners into Kemano and Kitimat on special voyages to take workers to Vancouver for the holiday season.

Kurt Meyer, Romping at Home, Through With Nationalism

OFFLEGEN, Germany (CP)—Kurt Meyer, German major-general who was sentenced to life imprisonment for war crimes, said today, as he enjoyed his first freedom in seven years, that he went to Canada as a "fanatical German" and came back to Germany "convinced that all nationalism is dead."

The imprisoned former SS leader came to his mother's home in this coal mining village only two days ago under a system which he says allows war prisoners to go home alone on leave from time to time.

A reporter went to Offleben to interview Meyer's wife and was amazed to step into a room where Meyer himself was romping with three of his five children.

Neighbors kept casual watch in nearby homes in case Communists tried to take Meyer behind the Iron Curtain, only 300 yards away.

The man, who is serving a life sentence because he was found responsible for shooting 18 Canadian prisoners of war in Normandy in 1944, said he will return Saturday to Werl military prison where he was transferred recently from Canada.

Ironically, Werl is only a few miles from Soest where Canada's 27th Brigade is going to be posted in 1952.

To a question whether he would become a soldier again if given his freedom, Meyer replied: "I would become a soldier again only as a member of a European army, not as a member of a German army alone. What would be the use of a German army alone? We must train the youth not to think of Germany or France or Belgium alone but of Europe as an entity."

Meyer, slim, dark-haired, blue-eyed and 41 years old, disclosed that the Royal Canadian Air Force plane which flew him home from Canada plowed into a farm field in landing outside the airport near Hanover where the 27th Brigade is now concentrating. He said the tires were knocked off but there were no serious injuries.

Red Satellites In Korea Fight

TOKYO (CP)—There is growing belief on the western Korean front that Russian satellite officers have taken command of Red Chinese artillery. Since November 1 Red artillery has shown an amazing increase in speed and fire accuracy, staff officers reported today, and at least one Allied radio man has heard "pure Russian" artillery orders.

Heavy Snow In Montreal

US Willing To Meet Reds

On Disarmament As Proposed By Asian-Arab Nations

PARIS (CP)—The United States agreed today to get together with Russia for private disarmament talks as suggested by a group of Asian-Arab states but expressed doubt as to the usefulness of the move.

Iraq, Pakistan and Syria submitted a resolution to the 60-member United Nations political committee asking the Big Four—Russia, United States, Great Britain and France—to try to reconcile western and Russian disarmament plans.

Ambassador Philip C. Jessup later told the committee that the United States was ready to do this if the committee voted it.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky told reporters he had not yet decided on an answer to the Asian-Arab move aimed at easing east-west tension.

Violent Storm On Lower Coast

VANCOUVER—A brief but sharp thunderstorm about 6 o'clock last evening brought interruption to power and transportation services in the city and through the lower mainland.

The electric storm was accompanied by gale wind up to 50 miles an hour, sweeping over from Vancouver Island.

A Japanese fisherman is missing near Steveston after a 60-mile gale in the morning which preceded the electric storm.

At Victoria a large window was broken in the new library.

Twenty-Thousand Fags In Week-end Robbery

Rumors of a "big deal" in sale of cigarettes led RCMP to the discovery of 20,000 fags over the week-end before they were missed by the owners, Kelly, Douglas & Co. Ltd. Arrested and charged with retaining stolen property is Fred Farrington, 28, of Ocean View Hotel.

Province Cannot Afford To Delay, Premier Asserts

VANCOUVER—Premier Byron Johnson told the British Columbia Chamber of Commerce here that British Columbia cannot afford to delay the construction of the extension of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway northward from Prince George.

The premier did not know where the money was coming from but the project would have to be financed somehow.

Connecting of the lower end of the railway from Squamish to Vancouver was also essential as the barge system being used at present was not adequate.

Floods Bring Disease Threat

ROVIGO, Italy (CP)—Disrupted sewage systems, weakened buildings and lack of drinking water posed new threats Monday in the flooded Po Valley.

Health and police officials have intensified a campaign to save thousands from spreading disease and building collapses. Typhoid fever has broken out.

More than 16,000 persons have been made homeless by floods which started seventeen days ago and the unofficial death toll has climbed past the 150 mark.

Damage is counted in hundreds of millions of dollars.

UN Troops Win Fight

Chinese Communist Woman Commander Slain in Battle

MUNSAN (CP)—United Nations troops won a savage 41-hour fight to restore their western Little Gibraltar positions some 35 miles north of Seoul but the Communists launched a new assault today.

The fighting is, apparently, close co-ordinated with the cease fire talks at Panmunjon where staff officers held a four-hour session Sunday.

During the week-end the Chinese Communist woman commander, clad in a black suit and known as "Black Rose," was killed by machine gun fire of the United Nations as she led a charge. Communist artillery fire prevented her body being reached.

Indian Ore At Premier

Ore shipments from Indian mine to the Premier mill over the newly built tramline should commence by the end of this week, it is announced by Dale L. Pitt, managing director of Silbak-Premier Mines Ltd., who was in the city on the Camosun yesterday bound for the mine after a trip to Vancouver.

The two-mile tramline from Indian to Premier is now entirely completed and running regularly, Mr. Pitt said. Underground installations at the Indian mine have been completed and breaking out of ore has commenced.

With the coming in of Indian, 100 tons of ore daily will be added to the 250 tons already being handled from the Premier and Premier Border workings.

The payroll at Silbak-Premier is now 250 men.

A unique feature of the new Indian tram installation was that it virtually hauled itself in. A temporary cable and tower was installed at the upper end and over this was taken in all of the upper structure materials and equipment.

The upper terminal building measures 30 feet in height by 156 and 26. It includes the ore bins and the heavy timbers, compressors and machines for underground work were all taken in over the tram.

The lower terminal building is of similar size and half way between the terminals along the tram line is an anchor structure measuring 50 by 14 feet with 30 feet height.

FINANCING
Indian had to September 30 provided $96,500 toward the cost of the tram line and other necessary installations. The estimate is that Indian's total contribution to capital cost will be from $125,000 to $150,000. Silbak-Premier has furnished all the tram line equipment and is directing the operation. Net proceeds will be divided 75 per cent to Indian and 25 per cent to Silbak-Premier.

New Battle Cry

IT WAS a reformed German general who stated that "for the defence of Europe a rousing idea would be much more important than 50 divisions." A Swiss newspaper was saying almost the same thing: "The absence of a really great idea, similar to the Christian idea in the Middle Ages, is the real malaise of present-day Europe." And the authoritative Osservatore Romano was repeating the same refrain: "It is not possible to struggle against the ideas of Moscow with bombs and guns . . . but only with equally powerful ideas."

It remained for a citizen of Central Europe, resident in Rome and writing to the New York Times, to point out these things and to voice his striking challenge. The people of the West, he contends, who are whimpering about having no ideal with which to challenge the appeal of the despotic imperialism of Russia, already have the one unbeatable idea and ideal, if they would believe it and use it. "What has Russia," he demands, "to set against the idea and fact of freedom?"

There is the battle-cry. And our weakness is not the lack of an idea vibrant enough to combat the claims of Communism. It is that having the ideal we have ceased to be moved by it. We have grown accustomed to it. We have let other ideas intrude. Perhaps the very idea of freedom, which once so powerfully moved men of our race, has become a little dated. It has ceased to be real to us any more.

Perhaps if we had ever lost our freedom or had seen it gravely menaced we might not accept it so lightly or be ready to forego it for tawdry ends. Men about the world, who have never enjoyed the freedom that has been a commonplace with us, have gladly risked and given their lives for its poor counterpart.

No real weapon? No ideology impelling and vital enough to combat Communism? But there it is—Freedom—which we must value as if indeed we had lost it. There is the faith, the ideal, the inspiration more powerful than armies, more compelling than anything that Communism is able to offer.

Were You Missed in 1951 Enumeration?

The Daily News check on the 1951 census, which is being challenged for its short count of 8,465, is revealing established city residents who were missed by the enumerators.

They are from all parts of the city. People who were missed are being asked to communicate the omission with as little delay as possible so that basis may be established for the contention that there was such a serious short count.

The Flaw in NATO

WHEN Mr. Churchill was leading the opposition in Britain he and the whole Conservative party roared with indignation because the American Admiral Fechteler was appointed to command the allied British-U.S. forces, even in British Atlantic seas.

Last spring, when I was in Britain, a retired British naval commander was fined because he had twice "disturbed the peace" on a public bus. His offence was in too loudly demanding to know from the rest of the passengers how they liked the fact that their navy was now commanded by an American!

Now the top men in NATO, the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, have met in Rome and decided:

1. Another American admiral is to get the contentious Atlantic command, as Admiral Fechteler is now head of the whole U.S. navy.

2. All NATO armies are to be equipped with the American rifle, and hence the British will have to abandon their new 280 weapon, which many impartial experts think is superior in every way to the American .30 model.

THE POINT is that Mr. Churchill, now back as Prime Minister, has no instantaneous, marked effect on the degree of "say" which the U.S.A. has in the decisions of NATO.

The decision to equip all the armies of the North Atlantic Alliance with the American rifle is obviously common-sense, even though the British weapon is better. Britain lacks the productive capacity to make possible a quick switchover, even for our own Commonwealth, let alone the other partners in NATO. The U.S.A. is in a position to deliver the goods—in this case, meaning .30 rifles.

The decision to appoint still another U.S. admiral to command British-American Atlantic forces is, in my opinion, not only a bad blunder, but a deliberate move on the part of the top men in Washington to demonstrate just who is boss.

The late Admiral Sherman went from Spain to Britain and told the British government bluntly that the U.S.A. was going to make a deal with Franco, and that they, the British, could like it or lump it. Now, only a few days ago, a large U.S. military mission returned from Spain with plans all completed for an alliance to which all democratic western Europe has remained most strenuously opposed.

MY POINT is that the U.S. is in the driver's seat in the NATO set-up. Moreover, if they can't get what they want through NATO they go after what they want some other way—for example by the proposed alliance with Franco.

They are able to do all this because almost all their allies in NATO are dependent on financial handouts from the U.S.A. Canada is, so far, the only exception.

THE DANGERS of this set-up are obvious. As things now stand we simply do not have responsible government where it matters most—on the international level. The decisions which will most affect our lives are being made for us, not by our own MPs or cabinet ministers, but by officials of the U.S.A.

So far most of the U.S.A. decisions have been not-too-bad in our common interest. But it may not always be so. What if U.S.A. elects Taft or MacArthur?

We must press on for what our Canadian government called for at the recent Ottawa meeting of NATO—the transformation of an alliance in which the U.S.A. really runs the whole show into a democratic federal union in which the policies which lead to war or peace are made by representatives of all the people—and where a Canadian or English vote has precisely the same weight as the American's.

Billion Dollars In Bank Savings

MONTREAL — A customer's provocative question, "What do you do with our two billion dollars?" introduces this year's Bank of Montreal report on the highlights of its annual statement, just published. In answering this pertinent query, the B of M continues the course it has pioneered in Canadian banking over the past seven years, which has been to present the meaning behind the figures of its annual statement in everyday language.

The message begins by pointing out that more than half of the record-breaking total of $2,085,000,000 now on deposit at B of M branches consists of the savings of private citizens. It emphasizes that these two billion dollars, because of the various uses to which they are put, act as a powerful force in helping to provide a better future for every Canadian.

All of the figures dealt with are of general interest. They are accompanied by straight forward explanations, and bright little thumbnail sketches illustrate the main points. In this way, the difficulty of understanding a financial statement is overcome, and the reader can quickly form a clear idea of the part played by the bank in the economical life of the country, and of the part he himself plays by saving.

Loans this year top the 1950 year-end figure of $506 million by over $50 million, despite a "conscientious effort to hold down non-defence lending in co-operation with the government's anti-inflationary policy." Covering business, governmental and personal borrowing, this new record of financial assistance largely reflects the continuing growth of Canada's production.

HISTORIC MEASURE
Edward II in 1324 decreed that three barley corns taken from the centre of the ear, placed end to end, constituted one inch.

Where does this money go?
Well, for instance...

AT THE B of M's 1951 YEAR-END

$646,368,336.93 was on loan to scores of thousands of Canadians in every walk of life . . . to farmers, fishermen, lumbermen, and ranchers . . . to private citizens in all parts of the country . . . to business and industrial enterprises for every kind of production . . . to provincial and municipal governments and school districts. These loans stood at the highest year-end figure in the Bank's history, despite a conscientious effort to hold down non-defence lending in co-operation with the Government's anti-inflationary policy.

$976,950,829.78 was invested in high-grade government bonds and other public securities having a ready market. These were carried at a figure not greater than their market value. In addition, the B of M had $131,223,533.10 in other securities, mainly short-term credits to industry.

$218,011,232.89 was held in cash in the B of M's vaults and on deposit with the Bank of Canada, ready to meet depositors' immediate needs for cash.

IN ALL, THE B of M HAS RESOURCES OF $2,221,630,314.45 TO PAY ALL IT OWES TO DEPOSITORS AND OTHERS AMOUNTING TO . . . 2,133,096,232.49

THE B of M'S RESOURCES, OVER AND ABOVE WHAT IS OWED, AMOUNT, THEREFORE, TO . . . $ 88,534,081.96

This figure of $88,534,081.96 is made up of money subscribed by the shareholders and, to some extent, of earnings which have from time to time been ploughed back into the business to broaden the Bank's services and to give added protection for the depositors.

AND NOW THE MOVIES

Life has been reviewing the American theatre over the past hundred years. It's all very informing, not to mention entertaining. How we must have revelled in the old stage plays as the nineteenth century drew to its close, even if Life does call them godawful! Houses were crowded. Virtue, as a general rule, defeated all forms of villainy. Lillian Russell dressed like an empress and cussed like a trooper. The Black Crook never failed to thrill everybody and East Lynne kept everyone who wore skirts in tears.

WOOL FOR WINTER

Troops who know something about Chinese weather say they expect a bitter winter in Korea. When they were ignorant of the Orient they wore light underclothes and tunics and wondered if there was much frost any time. But today they are better dressed, better fed and better informed. Bring on the winter!

The Prince George population is shy by 200 for that many had been attributed to a certain area which was missed. This was confirmed in a conference between the city clerk and a census enumerator. And how can anyone know that other discrepancies could not be discovered?

New Social Club Is Formed

The Adult Social Club, something entirely new for Prince Rupert, was formed last week in Annunciation Parish with Mrs. G. Lemire as treasurer.

Planned primarily as a group to form new friendships, a social event is planned for every two weeks, the first being club attendance at a local theatre's showing of "Mr. Belvedere Rings the Bell."

Coffee was served afterwards in the school and it was decided to have a bowling party on December 7. New members are being welcomed, especially those who have recently arrived in the city.

BOY BOMBADIERS

IPSWICH, England (C)—Authorities of this Suffolk town are tackling a new problem, the craze among school boys for throwing electric light bulbs out of railway carriages. On one route no fewer than 200 bulbs disappeared.

James Black Laid at Rest

Old friends gathered yesterday afternoon at First Presbyterian Church when Rev. Dr. E. A. Wright conducted funeral service for the late James Black, pioneer city steam engineer and former alderman, whose death occurred suddenly last week.

Mrs. E. J. Smith presided at the organ for the accompaniment of hymns which were "Lead Kindly Light" and "Abide With Me," both of which were favorites of deceased.

The ushers were W. D. Smith and Stanley Saville.

Following the church service, interment was made in Fairview Cemetery.

Pallbearers, steam engineers and former associates with deceased in his work here over a period of forty years, were S. L.

Peachy, M. B. Lemon, William Cummings, Jack Campbell, T. H. Priest and F. E. Wermig. Mayor H. F. Glassey and aldermen attended in a body out of respect to deceased, who served as an alderman years ago, and in sympathy with his son, Thomas Black, who is a current alderman.

Off Night for Hi-Greens as F & P Take Win

In a slow, uninspired game, Fraser & Payne walked over Hi-Greens 27-17 Saturday night. The team's lead in the intermediate hoop division. The Hi-Greens saw no great threat from high school at any time as they built up an early lead to 12-0 in the first quarter. Shooting only four per cent to the winners' 25 per cent. In the first half, Fraser & Payne combined to stack the winners' lead. Second quarter saw Gerry Ford manage to squeeze through a tight defence to score first basket for the students.

In the third quarter, Wesch picked up six of his points to tie the high scorer with Ford, who had McAfee supplied most of the fight for the losers.

Fourth quarter brought a little life into the students who shot and outplayed F & P in the last 10 minutes, but could not catch up with the head start of the opposition.

Scoring
Fraser & Payne—Wesch 8, E. Parnell 7, R. Christoff 6, D. Peterson 4, J. Smith 2, Parnell 1, Smith.

Hi-Green—Ford 8, McAfee 5, Baker 2, Penneff 1, Rhodes 1, Webster, Clark, Kristmanson, McKay.

Big Week-end Near Upset by Students For Toronto

Maple Leafs Fatten NHL Averages—Black Hawks Stage Surprise

TORONTO @—Toronto Maple Leafs fatten their National Hockey League scoring averages during the week-end by downing the Montreal Canadiens 4 to 2 Saturday night and the Boston Bruins 4 to 1 Sunday night.

The double victory left the Maple Leafs five points behind the league-leading Detroit Red Wings who lost to Chicago Black Hawks 6 to 2 Saturday night and then whipped the Hawks 5 to 2 Sunday.

It was a luckless week-end for the Canadiens as they lost 2 to 1 Sunday night to New York Rangers.

SURPRISING HAWKS

The Chicago Black Hawks were surprising as inspired by the return of Defenceman Jack Stewart, they blasted the Detroit Red Wings 6 to 2 Saturday night. The Chicago triumph, on Detroit ice before 12,404 startled fans, ended a 12-game Detroit jinx over the Black Hawks. It was also the first defeat for the league-leading Red Wings in eleven starts.

Toronto Maple Leafs, with their Saturday night victory over Canadiens, maintained their home ice mastery over Montreal Canadiens.

Near Upset by Students In Fierce Senior Tussle

Elks 54, Rainmakers 49

By ROALD FENESS

Drawing first blood and pulling a near upset in Saturday night's senior hoop show, the student cagers ran a close second as they see-sawed the lead with Elks to lose by only five points. Score was 54-49.

The lively game was fast, exciting and strenuous on some players. Rainmakers several times proved a threat as they passed extensive leads of the Elks but the high school just couldn't hold the pace.

Quarter-time scoring: Rainmakers 10, Elks 9; Elks 15, Rainmakers 8; Elks 18, Rainmakers 8; Rainmakers 23, Elks 12.

Sid Scherk set the great pace in the last half which surged Elks to a winning lead. Out of high score of 17, Scherk placed 11 points in the third quarter, assisted greatly by Mathews.

"DO-OR-DIE"

In the last quarter, the "do-or-die" attempt by the Rainmakers in their last lunge for leadership proved all but disastrous for the league's top cagers, and if there had been a few more minutes left to play, Elks might have found themselves in a precarious position.

S. Scherk, although he was off for five fouls after five minutes of the last quarter, played the biggest role in squashing the students. His hook shots were deadly and high school's five could do nothing to stop him. Carlson followed Scherk to the showers via the foul route.

Sather, for Rainmakers, played one of his best games and scored high for his team with 15 points. Watson was another standout for the students.

Slatta and Gurvich, calling the fouls, added to the sparkle of the last round. Total fouls for Elks, 27; for Rainmakers, 17.

Hoop-Chat—Incidentally, the senior games are back to four 10-minute periods because Vancouver has seen fit to make a similar change. It is considered likely that Prince Rupert's All-Stars will meet a Vancouver team in the Senior B finals this year.

Tuesday will see Gordon & Anderson tangle with Elks, and Mansons with CCC900. Cellulose cagers have acquired one more good player—Mel Thompson, formerly with G & A. This move is expected to help pulp mill a good deal.

SCORING:

Elks—S. Scherk 17, Mathews 12, D. Scherk 8, Carlson 7, Sunberg 4, Davis 3, M. Holkestad 2. Rainmakers—Sather 15, Watson 14, Cicconi 10, Morrison 3, Simonson 2, Letourneau 1, Tait 1, Clark 1, Nickerson.

Big Leagues' Best Rookies

NEW YORK—Handy Gil McDougald of the world champion New York Yankees and Willie Mays of the New York Giants share rookie-of-the-year honors for 1951 in the Baseball Writers selections.

McDougald barely edged out Orestes (Minnie) Minoso of the Chicago White Sox by a surprising 13-11 vote. Surprising, that is, for Minoso outranked McDougald by a wide margin in the recent most valuable player balloting. Mays was an easy winner.

Thrilling Junior Show Sees Beavers' Victory

Beavers 18, Maple Leafs 17

By ROSS INGRAM

In the most thrilling junior game this year, Beavers won over their rival schoolmates the hard way Saturday night and, as far as the Maple Leafs were concerned, this hoop bill lasted just a minute and a half too long.

losing by just one point in the 17th minute, Maple Leafs blew their chances in a short 90 seconds of the last quarter. Hero of the game was Eugene Mah who scored three times in the fourth. With one minute and a half to go, Beavers were trailing 17-14 when Mah shot a field goal. With seconds to go, and his teammates shooting wildly, he jumped and grabbed a rebound and scored it in to give the Beavers their first lead in the game.

Then as the final whistle blew, Mah fouled Leafs' Parnell. In this tense moment that the game hung in the balance, Parnell shot the free throw, but it rolled around and fell away to give the game to the Beavers.

Morrison for the Leafs was truly the strongest player of the game as he scored 10 of his team's 17 points. For the winners, Mah was high for six, closely followed by Tanaka and Yanomoto with five each.

In the first half, Maple Leafs played and outscored the Beavers 12-7 as Morrison scored eight points. In the third quarter, Leafs again surged ahead increasing their lead, but the fourth quarter told a different story as the Port Edward boys came to life.

Beavers now are tied for first place with Mansons, three wins each.

Scoring:
Beavers—Mah 6, Tanaka 5, Yanomoto 5, Haudenschild 2, Matsuba, Tsuchyn, T. Nakutsu, M. Nakutsu, Morven.

Maple Leafs—Morrison 10, Parnell 4, Stuart 2, Shenton 1, R. Pedersen, McKay, Brown, Strand, Forbes.

Remember when?

Queen's University, top team in the Intercollegiate Union, gave Toronto Argonauts their first defeat in two years and won the Eastern Canada rugby final 29 years ago at Toronto. A last-minute field goal by Pep Leadley gave Queen's a 12-11 decision.

First Grain Ship in Years Welcomed Here

Kiyokawa Maru Shows Few Signs of Having
Lain for Years on Ocean Floor

Arrival of a deep-sea freighter may be routine business in other west coast ports but at Prince Rupert such an occasion Saturday afternoon was not only a novelty but was considered of enough importance to call out a city delegation for an official welcome.

Mayor and council, along with a few spectators, customs and immigration officials shivered in the biting wind for more than half an hour while the freighter Kiyokawa Maru—first Japanese freighter here in 25 years—came in to dock to load grain from an elevator idle since the Second World War.

Aboard, Mayor H. F. Glassey shook hands with Capt. Kunio Mishima, officially welcomed the captain and his ship and introduced the aldermen.

Representing the Chamber of Commerce, Vice-President T. Norton Youngs informed Capt. Mishima that a presentation would be made to him.

Meanwhile, customs men said everything was in order and expressed surprise at the cleanliness of the ship.

Said one officer:

"I've been on many a freighter and this is one of the cleanest." The captain's quarters and the wardroom were spotless, but no more so than the crew's quarters afterdeck.

SHIP'S HISTORY

The Kiyokawa Maru seems little the worse for the three years she lay in several hundred feet of the Japanese inland sea where she was sent by Allied bombers in 1945.

Capt. Mishima related this incident when he explained his ship had been refloated in 1948 and then extensively refitted. This is her third trip to Canada. Last trip across the Pacific was to Vancouver, in May.

But, said the captain, this was his first trip to Canada since before the Second World War and, of course, his first time to Prince Rupert.

THE TRIP

His ship crossed the Pacific in 10 days, leaving the port of Nagoya and sailing the Great Circle route.

"We had some little stormy weather," he said and affirmed it "had been cold for the last few days."

He said he had received word a Japanese freighter sunk on the same route shortly after his departure from Japan. The unfortunate vessel, he said, was the Kinugasa Maru, owned by Hashimoto Shipping Co.

"We were too far away to help."

(A press dispatch a week ago said a Japanese freighter had radioed an SOS from a position on the Great Circle route.)

The Japanese-built Kiyokawa Maru, one of 13 such vessels of the Kawasaki Kisen Kaisha line, was launched in 1937 and has a displacement of 6875.32 gross tons. She is to load 318,000 bushels of grain here. Dimensions are 479 feet long, 62 feet abeam and 30 feet deep. Her holds were lined before arrival.

Ship's crew is 52, the oldest being the captain, ranging to boyseamen, youngest of whom is A. Tamura, 17. Capt. Mishima has sailed in the merchant fleet for 35 years, 15 years as captain. He speaks five languages.

With loading to begin this morning, shipping officials considered it likely the job would be completed Wednesday.

New Service For Alaska

Yukon Princess Here
Yesterday Inaugurating
Northern Freight Run

Inaugurating the fortnightly freight service which will be operated from Vancouver through Prince Rupert to Alaska during the winter now that the passenger vessels have been withdrawn from the historic run, freighter Yukon Princess, Capt. A. F. Campbell, was in port yesterday northbound. The Yukon Princess, which belongs to the British Columbia Coast Steamship Service of Canadian Pacific Railway, is being operated opposite the Cassiar, Capt. William Gleason, of the Frank Waterhouse line, in this service. The Cassiar will be here two weeks hence northbound.

The Yukon Princess, having called at Kemano and Kitimat on the way from Vancouver, arrived here at 8 o'clock Sunday morning. Having omitted the call at Kildala Arm because of unfavorable weather conditions with the advent of winter, the vessel was running twenty-four hours ahead of published schedule time. After discharging 45 tons of freight at the Canadian National dock here, she sailed at 2 p.m. for Watson Island to put off 19 tons of steel there before heading on to Ketchikan where she was to arrive at 8 o'clock this morning. The Yukon Princess will also make Petersburg, Juneau, Skagway and Wrangell in southeastern Alaska as well as Stewart before returning here at the first of next week. A scheduled call at Alice Arm southbound will be omitted so the vessel will probably be here before next Tuesday which is her regular due date.

The Yukon Princess left Vancouver with 900 tons of freight of which a considerable amount was unloaded at Kemano and Kitimat including two 28-ton caterpillars for Kemano. She still had 520 tons aboard on arriving here. Cargo for Skagway included 32 ninety-foot treated piles which are being put in a stockpile at Skagway for use in renewal of the wharf in the deep water alongside the cliff at that Alaska port.

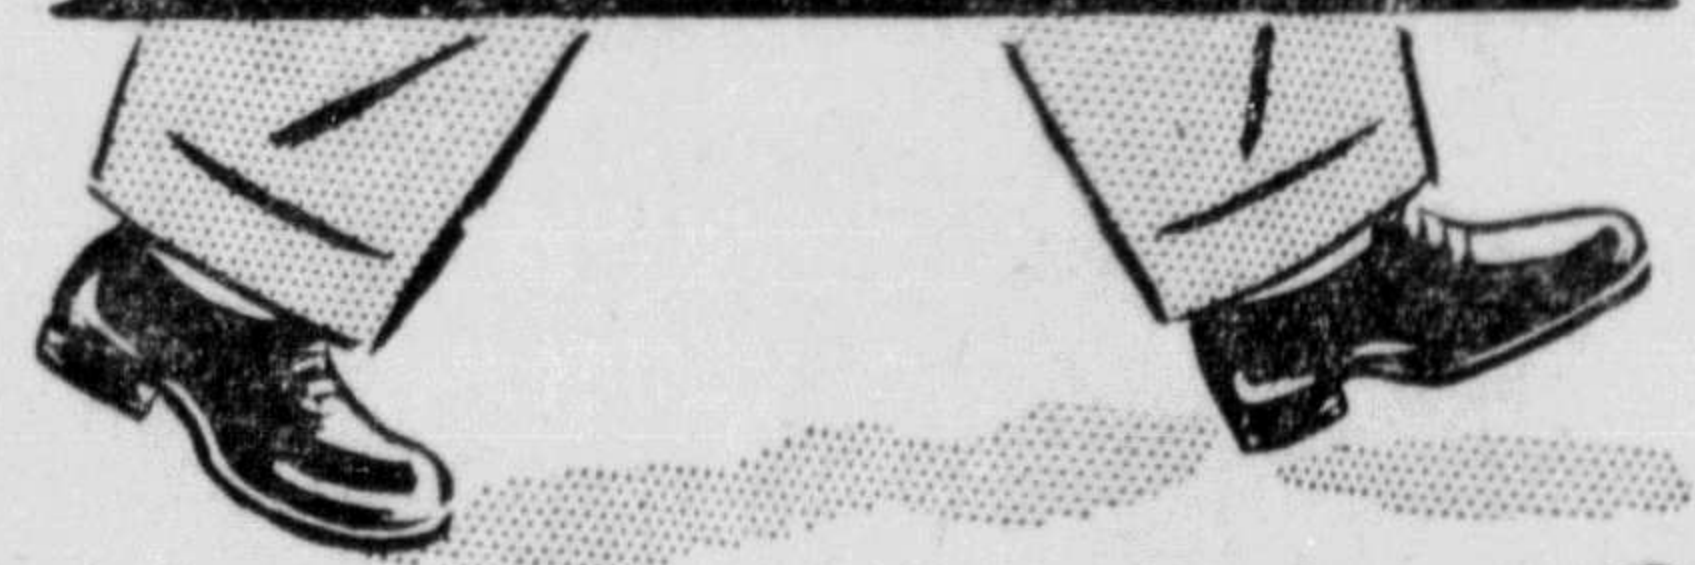

Capt. Campbell reported new snow low on the mountains of Gardner Canal with two inches on the dock at Kemano.

Fire on Boat Proves Fatal To Fisherman

A veteran fisherman of British Columbia, John Sather of Vancouver and known all along the coast, died recently under tragic circumstances because of a fire on his gillnetter, moored at the foot of Gore Avenue, Vancouver. His body was recovered from the boat.

Also found on the gillnetter was $1500 Mr. Sather had saved for a trip to Norway. He had intended to leave in a few days.
