Berlin Has Red Battle

BERLIN (AP)—West Berlin police drove back about ten thousand blue-shirted Communist youths in a three-hour series of battles Wednesday night and stopped a militant attempt to invade the western sector for a "peace parade."

Police fought off shouting youths with clubs and doused them with water hoses.
West Berlin civilians supported the police and beat up the young Communists.

Many of the youths were injured.
Preliminary reports said that forty were arrested.

A Communist policeman who appeared to be helping them was also arrested.
Five West German police were injured.

EARNINGS BIG HERE— Survey Stamps Prince Rupert Richer Market

On the basis of money earned in Prince Rupert

Canada Having Largest Crop

OTTAWA — The Dominion Bureau of Statistics predicts that the 1951 wheat crop in Canada will be the largest on record, the estimate being over 581,000,000 bushels—120,000,000 bushels higher than last year and 15,000,000 over the previous record in 1929.

The anticipated big crop will pose a problem of how it has to be moved and stored as elevators are already jammed due to a bottleneck on the Great Lakes owing to shortage of ships.

The Winnipeg Tribune, in its forecast yesterday, said the crop would be the second largest on record.

May Save Cities From Being Bombed

NEW YORK (CP)—Newsweek Magazine said Wednesday that the United States Defence Department has tested artillery which may soon change the entire nature of war. "Atomic artillery is a thing of the near future," the magazine said in its August 20 issue, out on Wednesday.

The article foresaw the day when enemy armies could be destroyed in the field without the necessity of bombing enemy cities to rubble.

"The Defence Department already has made preliminary tests of the use of atomic artillery shells and other atomic weapons on the battlefield," said Newsweek, "and parts of these weapons are already in production."

Alex McRae Passes Away

Pioneer Business Man Dead
This Afternoon at Age 71

Alexander McRae, pioneer city business man and last of the original local firm of McRae Bros. Ltd., passed away this afternoon in the Prince Rupert General Hospital. For years he operated Alex McRae Co. Ltd., job printing business, selling out two years ago.

Born at Mooretown, Ontario, near Sarnia, 71 years ago, he came west as a young man and, before coming to Prince Rupert in 1910, was located at Phoenix in the Boundary country.

He is survived by his widow.
He was an uncle of J. D. Mc-Rae, MLA, Duncan McRae and Mrs. Jack Bulger of this city.

Mr. McRae was prominent in the Masonic Order, having been a past master of Tye Lodge. He was for many years treasurer of the Prince Rupert Rotary Club, born and raised here, the son man, he was also for many years secretary of the Prince Rupert Yacht and Rowing Club.

Stresses Needs Of War Victims

OTTAWA (CP)—Is there a service club looking for a job? A Canadian welfare project—the Canadian Children's Club in Vienna—needs a lot of help right now.
The Unitarian Service Committee, which looked after this organization for more than two years, feels it must have more assistance if the project is to expand.

"If more funds were available for the Canadian Children's Club
we could employ more personnel, buy more food," says Dr. Lotta Hitschmanova, Canadian director of the U.S.C. Dr. Hitschmanova now is touring Europe to get —at first hand—a picture of the welfare work being done with the help of Canadian contributions.

In a letter to U.S.C. headquarters here she says more funds would mean more children — there are now 200 youngsters in the home—would have a place to spend their spare time instead of on the streets.

"I dream of the day when some Canadian service club will make this truly Canadian project their own," writes Dr.
Hitschmanova.

During her tour of Italy Dr.
Hitschmanova found Rome and the whole of Italy filled with tourists "who are having a wonderful time sightseeing, eating and shopping."

"When I see whole autocars full of them pass me I often wonder how many of them try to look beyond that dollar curtain which is so skillfully drawn to hide the real squalid conditions in which a very large part of the Italian people live."

Dr. Hitschmanova says 45 per cent of the population has a living standard below normal.
Prices have risen in the last year
23 per cent—but not incomes.

RENEWALS ACQUAINTANCES
Dr. Hitschmanova tells of meeting Pasquale La Valle, a 17-year-old Italian boy now working hard on his English to improve his chances of going to Canada this fall.

She first met Pasquale two years ago when she visited the "Colonie," a home for orphan boys, all victims of the second world war who now are getting a scientific and practical training in farming and gardening.

Pasquale has already been furnished with passage money by a Toronto couple who heard Dr.
Hitschmanova speak there two years ago about the European projects. The Toronto couple actually met their protegee when they visited Rome last year.

Ratepayers Organize!

PRINCE RUPERT is probably the only city in British Columbia which has no ratepayers' association—at least, it hasn't an active one, and that's just as bad. This situation indicates that either there is no need for any interest in our civic administration or that there just isn't any interest.

An active ratepayers' association keeps elected city council on its toes, for one thing;

Shows that home-owners and businessmen have a live interest in their community;

Is a means for citizens to strive for improvement of the community;

Can be a valuable source of future candidates for civic government;

And it represents a democratic power of majority opinion to which higher bodies must lend an ear.

Without such an association, individuals or small representative organizations must carry the load of responsibility. And often such an individual or organization hasn't got the backing or support from the majority in the community and so loses the power of persuasion.

For instance, there is our housing shortage, about which much ado has been made in the past. To what avail? Perhaps something could be done, should every citizen who pays taxes and realizes this need get up in arms and demand an answer.

We have many more problems before us to which an answer could be obtained by the demand of the clamor of many voices.

Democracy is representation of majority, but how can we have democracy if there is no representation? We wouldn't stand for a one-party government on a higher level, so we should be as jealous of democratic principles and functions in our city.

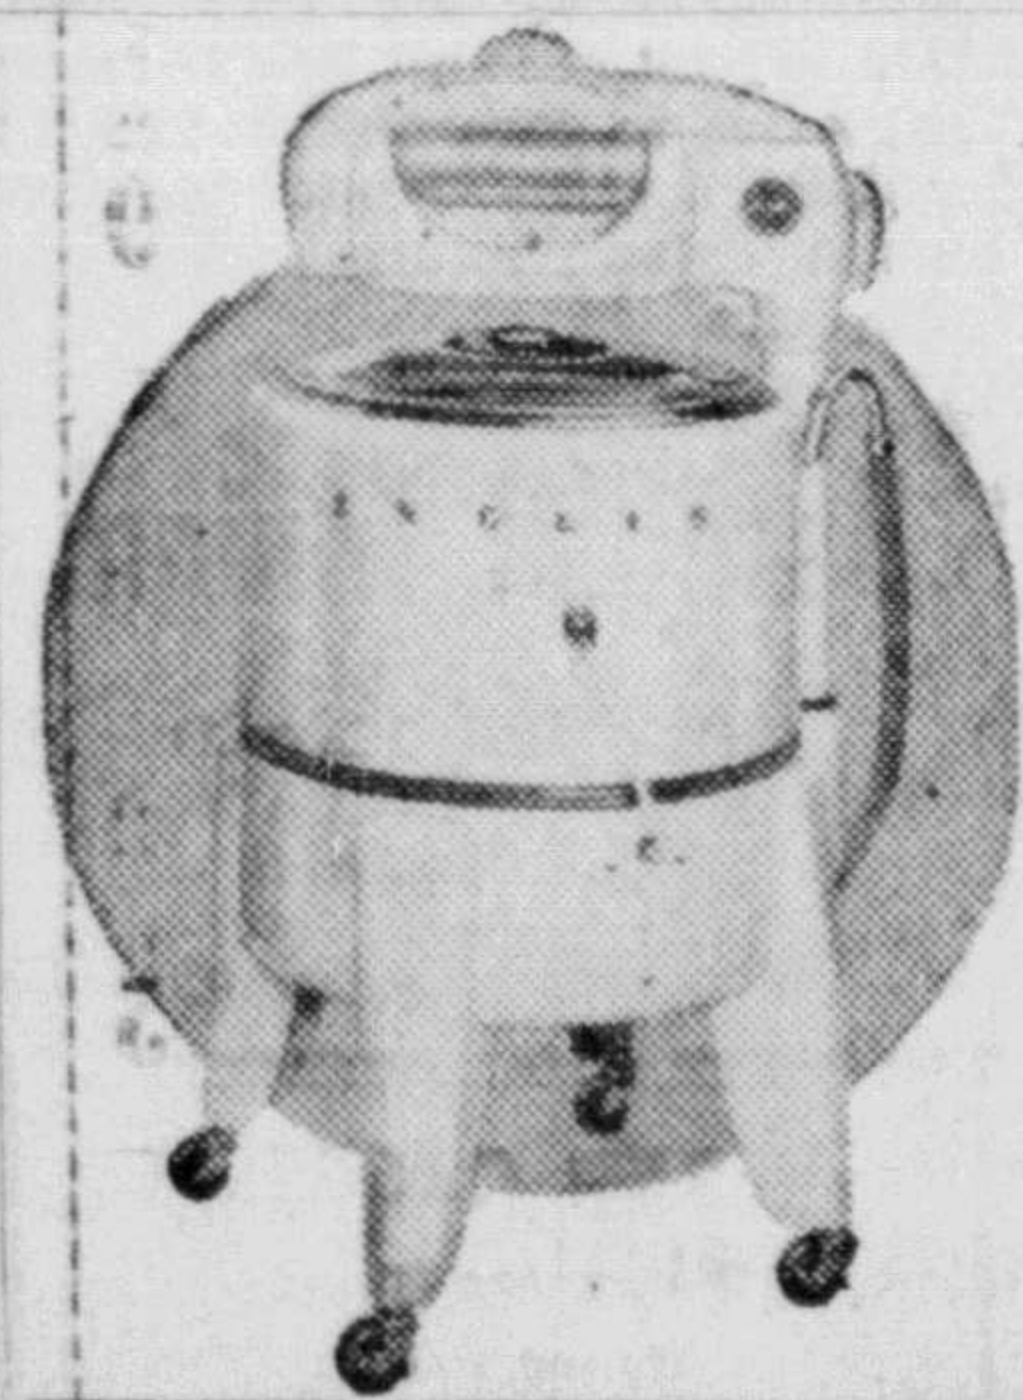

Unnecessary Proposal

THE SOVIET proposal for a five-power peace pact between the United States, the United Kingdom, the Soviet Union, France and China is of course not new. It was first put forward by Vyshinsky last September in the United Nations Assembly. There it met with very little favor and was rejected by a large majority in the political committee.

Indeed, it is a proposal which has little or nothing to commend it. "Peace pact" is a vague phrase, and nothing has been said to explain exactly what it means. But it is very hard to imagine what the five could pledge themselves to in any "peace pact" that they have not already pledged themselves to in the charter of the United Nations. And what good would it do to suggest that the obligations of the charter need reaffirming? If they are valueless, of what value would a reaffirmation be? If they are binding and accepted why bother to repeat them?

President Shvernik in his letter to President Truman suggests that the five powers should "unite their efforts for the purpose of supporting international peace and security." But what else are they supposed to be doing in the Security Council? For what other purpose were they made permanent members of the Council?

The whole proposal seems, in fact, to be completely superfluous. Anything it would conceivably achieve can be and should be done in and through the machinery of UNO. If—for whatever reason—the five cannot co-operate in UNO, why imagine that they could do any more or any better outside?

"Gosh, sis, you must be the girl I made a blind date with!"

ray.. Reflects and Reminisces

Job's Daughters have already been to southern California and Spokane, to return home flushed with deserved victory. But this will be eastward instead of south and several times as long. Yes, this will take the girls clear across the Rockies and the vast plains where the wheat, the oil and 40 below come from. This will reveal the inland seas and of course, fertile and correct Ontario. They will hear the thunder of Niagara. And finally, through hundreds of skyscrapers where strange millions dwell, to Virginia—"the Old Dominion."

The zest for more blood broods over the earth. And it's all right so long as the donors are as numerous and as willing as they appear to be around Prince Rupert.

Meanwhile, the situation at Iran, reported more favorable two weeks ago, was not so good a week back. Today it can best be described as a sameness. So, all in all, it's just as well to preserve a discreet silence.

When Premier St. Laurent was in Saskatchewan a few weeks ago, he is reported to have remarked it would be more accurate to describe the outbreak of 1885 as an "uprising" rather than "the Northwest Rebellion." The premier is an amiable and peace loving man. He is also a lawyer and, like many another with legal training, sensitive to the finer points of phraseology. Most of us can see precious little difference between an uprising and a rebellion. What's interesting Saskatchewan today

Singing Mayor Has New Style

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask. (CP)—Mayor J. M. Guelenae sang "If You've got the Money, Honey, I've Got the Time" to Resources Minister Winters at a recent banquet.

The mayor jokingly adopted the new approach in a reference to civic attempts to get certain construction projects approved by the federal government.

Mr. Winters replied it was a "beautiful sentiment," but he was glad the mayor had left the word "if" in the serenade. "It's all a matter of taxes," the federal minister said. "You know how the people like to pay additional taxes."

is oil, pipe lines and the price of wheat.

Now that William Randolph Hearst is dead, a revival of yams concerning his colorful career, but perhaps not all according to Hoyle, can be expected. This one may be told again. Difficulties between the United States and Spain were brewing. Hearst's men had been in Cuba and elsewhere in the West India islands for weeks. One, having his doubts about something, filed an inquiry. The big boss replied: "You send the news. We'll send the war."

Construction of the Nechako dam, which is part of the immense Alcan undertaking, is not without some difference of opinion among trappers, settlers and guides. Many are prepared to negotiate while others are seeking higher terms. That's about what would be expected. One of the officials, boarding the plane to return south, is reported to have received "boos" from some of the assembly. But that gains nothing. And the dam is certain.

As I See It

Heart of Prairies NEAR SASKATOON.—I am staying for a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Jim Wright, the editors of UNION FARMER.

Jim is the author of SLAVA BOHU, the best book so far written about the Doukhobors. As good luck would have it, Peter Bludoff, his translator, was also at the Wright home when I arrived.

They were over near Landis, also living on a small acreage just last time I visited the Wrights outside town. Here they have about 20 acres, well treed, with plenty of birds.

As a reminder of how time flies, young Dane, who was a babe in arms on my former visit, is now a five-year-old fireball. He is as direct and purposeful as a prairie wind with his red head and challenging dark brown eyes.

But he loves stories and will sit like a lamb if you read him something good like Winnie the Pooh (bear story).

YOU NO SOONER get back into the heart of the prairie country than you get hit by the cold blast of reality re farming. The grain farmers are prosperous today, probably as prosperous or more prosperous than they ever were in history. Yet now as always in the past they operate on the raw edge of natural hazards that would give stomach ulcers to the city business man or workman.

How far will the thermometer go down tonight—just to two points above freezing, or a few points below? Nobody knows, for sure. But if it goes a few points too low it means ruination for some.

So all along the line. The city man rightly says the farmer is philosophic—for he has to take nature as is. The religious experts say, rightly, that the farmer is always more conscious of God, of the divine power, than is the city man. Of course he is, because his life and work compel him not only to remain ever aware of man's dependence on nature, but to adjust himself to he can to nature's laws.

NATURE'S LAWS do not always operate with such cruel impersonality as they did at the very end of my visit to Alberta, where lightning struck one of three lads on a raft in a small lake—killing instantly the ten-year-old only son of one fine family. But the farmer, on these prairies, never forgets his place in nature's scheme of things.

NATURE has been very good to the farmers, as a whole, in this greatest of all bread baskets. You can hear dozens of stories about Tom, Dick, Harry, Ivan or any one of a hundred different names—all about the same. How, with a few dollars, sometimes as little as ten, plus an ox and a bag of flour, the homesteader took over a quarter section.

Now, on that same land, live modern, well housed and well heeled farmers who operate on techniques which the original homesteaders never dreamed of. But is it all good? I certainly could not hazard the answer. To farm successfully nowadays, the experts tell me, you have to have over $20,000 worth of farm machinery. With this amount you can do well on a half section in a few areas. But you do a lot better on two full sections, for the simple reason that it takes little if any MORE machinery to farm two sections than it does to farm half a section.

THE ABOVE facts are at the root of the changing picture on the prairies today. Farming today is becoming Big Business. The rapid swiftness is not so apparent because, up till now, it has been all in the family.

That is, the old pioneers made the farm, then retired and turned it over to sons or daughters and sons-in-law. Little cash changed hands. Prices of land rose gradually. Investment in farm machinery was little by little.

But the broad fact is that young folks who went off the farm, and who have to buy land and equipment to get back on—just can't make it today. They haven't got the $50,000 it takes, cash or debt.

Had Eczema For 40 Years

Itching Misery Spread Over Hands, Arms and Legs. Tells How He Found Relief.

"For over 40 years I have suffered from the curse of Eczema. It spread over hands, arms and legs," writes Mr. M. R. of Vancouver, B.C. "I gave up all hope of ever finding a remedy that would give me a little relief. I tried everything. Three months back I was completely unable to do my work. I was in a condition of my skin. After a month, I read an advertisement of your Emerald Oil. I bought a bottle and applied a few drops. I wish you could see my skin. If I did not have the Eczema, I could ever possibly have been a man. It was possible to have skin that act and operate so rapidly. I wish to hear from you. Job's Daughters Away on Memorable Trip Down South

Full of happiness and enthusiasm in anticipation of an experience that comes once in a lifetime and confident too that their drill team will retain the honors it won in international competition in two successive years, Prince Rupert's 60-strong Job's Daughters' delegation entrained last night for Richmond, Virginia, where supreme council sessions of the Masonic girls' organization will be held.

Even the Civic Band turned out to serenade the party and hundreds of parents and friends were on hand at the railway station.

For practically all of the girls the trip is a major undertaking, the longest journey they have ever essayed. They will have travelled 7000 miles by the time they return two weeks from the coming Saturday night. They will have spent five days in the history-steeped city of 200,000 people which is their principal objective. They will have seen Niagara Falls and taken a ride in the Maid of the Mist, toured Washington, the national capital of the United States, spent 36 hours in New York, the world's largest city, and attended the Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto as special guests of the management.

Due to the personal interest of Donald Gordon, president of the Canadian National Railways, the group will be augmented by one of Canada's foremost pipers, Pipe-Major S. McKinnon, who will join them at Toronto and proceed to Virginia.

One of the most satisfied individuals taking part in the farewell was William Cruickshank, district passenger agent, Canadian National Railways. Caught in the enthusiasm of the farewell scene, he admitted: "I wish I was going too"—and all the parents and friends on hand echoed his sentiments.

Alex Mitchell, drill master of Prince Rupert Job's Daughters drill team, carries with him two letters from Acting Mayor Doug Frizzell.

1. A letter wishing Job's Daughters every success in their presentation at the National Exhibition and at the competitions at Richmond.

2. A letter from the Mayor of Prince Rupert to the Mayor of Richmond introducing Mr. Mitchell and an offering of friendship between the two cities.

Fire Alarm At Drydock

Billows of black smoke which towered several hundred feet over the waterfront this morning sent the city fire department rushing to the yards of the dry dock.

Barbara Buys and Whys

MONTREAL, Aug. 16th — If your husband is like a lot of husbands I've heard about—he enjoys a breakfast cereal that's smooth and flavourful... and that means "Cream of Wheat"! And you'll like delicious 5 Minute "CREAM OF WHEAT" because it's so easy to prepare... just five minutes of boiling make it completely digestible. And good! It's so good—and so good for you! For 5 Minute "Cream of Wheat" gives you iron necessary for good red blood and Calcium and Phosphorus—for diets deficient in these elements. No wonder "Cream of Wheat" is a favourite in thousands of happy homes... especially when it's topped with brown sugar!

Are You Getting Your Money's Worth out of every dollar you earn? A hundred cents in every dollar... and all of them have to count. Otherwise, today's high prices will blot out the money you've been hoping to save for important things. After all, you can't afford to surrender to the cost of living! All that you need is a plan. One that's geared to your income and wants... and makes every last cent do its full share of banking. Fortunately there is such a plan. It's Personal Planning, the B.A.N.K. of MONTREAL's timely contribution to helping you and me get the better of our money problems and get more out of life. Why not drop into your nearest branch of the B of M today? Ask for your free copy of "PERSONAL PLANNING". This bright little booklet will open your eyes to how far you can make your money go... when you really plan your spending and your saving.

Can You Prevent new cavities in your children's teeth... in yours... in the next year? One thing is sure, DENTOCILIN can help your family reduce tooth decay far more than ever before possible. For Denticillin is the new tooth powder that combats the power of germs to fight decay. In a 2-year test among hundreds of school children, Denticillin reduced tooth decay 55%—5 times as much as reported even for the excellent University of Illinois ammoniated formula. (And this reduction was achieved without any change in toothbrushing habits!) Give your family the benefits of Denticillin, starting today. It has a delightful taste, really cleans teeth sparkling bright. 75c for 3 months' supply.

You Can't Blame It on the heat when your corns or calluses bother you. Better blame it on the fact that you've neglected to remove them with wonderful Phenylum! That's that new wonder-working ingredient in BLUE-JAY Corn and Callus Plasters. It took 10 years of scientific research by Blue-Jay to develop Phenylum. And now they've perfected it to the point where it works 33% faster and is effective in 95% of the cases tested. I can vouch for its effectiveness, too... having been a long-time sufferer from corns—until I discovered its "magic". Now I rely on Blue-Jay Corn Plasters with Phenylum to keep my feet forever happy!

Of Course Your Youngsters keep you on the run, these vacation days. But you can still take time to give them a special JELL-O dessert treat... for tempting, exciting desserts can be whipped up in minutes with JELL-O JELLY POWDERS—and at less than 2c a serving! Here's a wonderful one for the young 'uns... JUNIOR SAILBOATS 1 package Orange or Lemon Jell-O 1 pint hot water 2 or 3 canned peach halves Dissolve Jell-O in hot water. Turn into sherry glasses. Chill. Cut peaches in boat-shaped pieces. Cut small triangles of coloured paper for sails. Insert a toothpick through sail and into each peach slice, to hold sail erect. When Jell-O is thick enough to hold up peach boats, arrange one in centre of each Jell-O "lake". Chill until firm. Serves 6.

Here's An Idea that I'm sure will be a huge success with your family. Get acquainted with all of the delicious HEINZ SOUPS by having a "Soup of the Month" calendar... then you'll know you aren't missing a thing. Heinz can give you in the way of soup deliciousness! Heinz "Soup of the Month" for August is so popular with the folks that we've built a meal around it—a late Sunday Supper Snack consisting of raw-carrot-and-peanut-butter sandwiches, sweet pickles, watercress, a beverage and—m-m-m-m!—Heinz Chicken Noodle Soup. Real chicken flavour with melt-in-your-mouth noodles (lots of 'em). Next time you're shopping—ask your grocer for the Heinz Soup of the Month—Chicken Noodle Soup... you know it's good because it's Heinz!

The smoke and flames came from a pile of burning old creosote planks and was being watched by the dry dock fire department.

Alarm came from a bystander who said a fire was raging in the vicinity of the dry dock and Imperial Oil dock. Firemen were on the scene within minutes.

Blackwood on Bridge

By Easley Blackwood

Mr. Masters had to reach pretty far down in his bag of tricks to bring this one home. Two lines of play blew up in his face, but he still had one left—and it was a beauty.

Mr. Champion opened his singleton trey of clubs, the deuce went on from dummy. Miss Brash played the eight and Mr. Masters won with the king. Now, as you see, Mr. Masters had six winners in diamonds, three in hearts and two in clubs. For his contract he needed to develop a third club trick or a spade trick.

To develop the spade he had to have two entries to dummy: one to lead the king of spades, driving out the ace, and one to get back to cash the queen of spades. There was one entry to the board in hearts. The only chance for a second entry lay in finding the opposing diamonds divided 2-2.

So Mr. Masters laid down the ace and king of diamonds. On the second diamond Mr. Champion showed out, discarding a small spade. One chance gone.

A third round of diamonds was taken and then Mr. Masters tested the club situation. If Mr. Champion had led from the queen of clubs everything was fine. That is, a third round of clubs up toward dummy's jack would set that card for the 12th trick.

But when the ace of clubs was played, Mr. Champion showed out of that suit too. Another chance gone.

After a little thought he played the king of hearts and entered dummy with a small heart to the jack. Then he led dummy's king of spades on which he discarded the ace of hearts.

Mr. Champion won with the ace of spades and had to put dummy back in, since he had nothing left but spades and hearts. Mr. Masters discarded his two losing clubs on the good major suit queens.

Wrangell Man Heading East

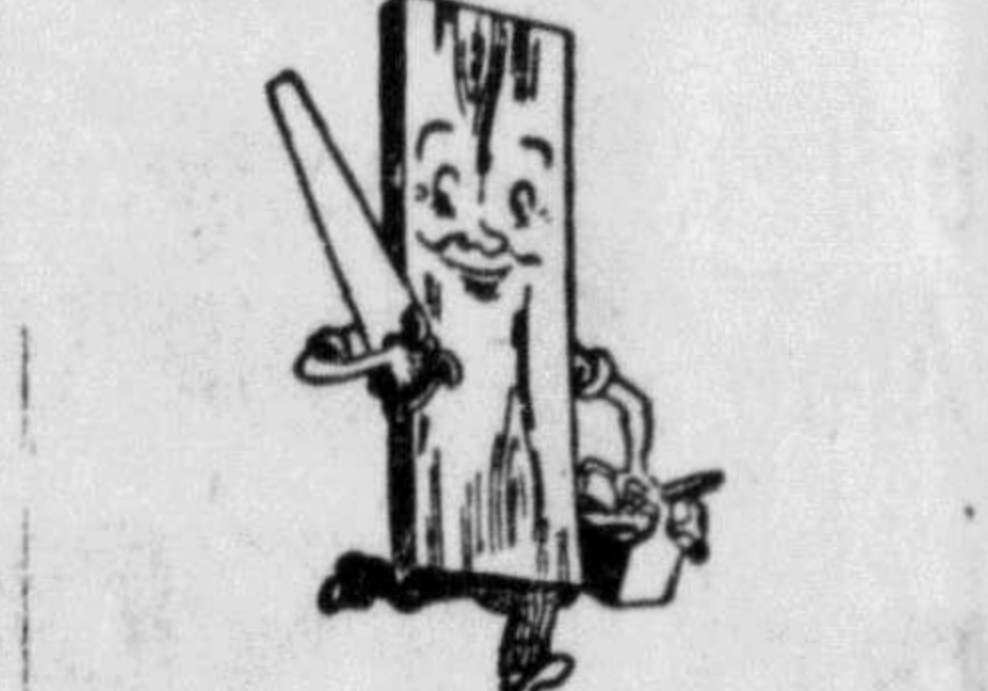

Leo McCormack, CNR passenger agent at Wrangell, Alaska, was in the city yesterday, boarding the train for a holiday trip east. Mr. McCormack first came to Prince Rupert in 1910, then went to Alaska. He married Mrs. McCormack here a few years later.

At Wrangell, the old-time northerner is head of McCormack Dock Co. and is interested in various other businesses. His holiday trip, which he takes every year, will take him to Jasper, then Banff and to the Middle States. He will also visit a brother at Prince George.

Teaching Natives Interesting Job

TORONTO (CP)—Even while she was recovering in a Toronto hospital from effects of overwork, Mrs. Ida Cross planned to study 18 hours a day to become a teacher.

The 44-year-old woman's desire to become a teacher was so great that she crammed four years of high school into 12 months of study, won her matriculation and then went on to normal school.

Then Mrs. Cross, a former sergeant in the Canadian Women's Army Corps, wasn't satisfied with the prospect of teaching in towns where electric lights and modern plumbing are taken for granted. She accepted a position as tutor for 22 Ojibway Indians pupils in a Roman Catholic school at Gull Bay, in northwestern Ontario.

Gull Bay is pretty isolated, 65 miles by boat from McDiarmid and 35 miles by air from Armstrong. There is a Hudson's Bay Company factor, his wife and daughter, Mrs. Cross and an Indian population of 300.

Besides being a teacher, she has become the unofficial village nurse, sanitary advisor and recreational director. She has also become the good friend of the Ojibway Indians.

PLEDGED LIFE

Both Mrs. Cross' two sons are dead. One was killed by a bomb 20 minutes before the cease-fire sounded in Europe. It was partly to compensate for this loss that she undertook her lonesome and rugged life.

Two things contributed much to the acceptance of Mrs. Cross by the Ojibways. One was a Nobody shouts "Kill the umpire" when Ab Mortimer officiates at baseball games in Vancouver. The 62-year-old Negro, once a star player, has won the affection of fans and players alike. He was voted "most popular umpire in the Kingsway Baseball League," Vancouver's senior amateur body. Fans and players alike know him by name and by sight. But more especially they know him by sound with his bull-throated call of balls and strikes. Mortimer works five or six games a week and enjoys every minute. "If I wasn't working 'em, I'd be watching 'em," he says.

Born in New Westminster, Ab played with Hanbury Mills in the old Terminal League, hitting over .350 in every one of the four years in the league. Then he played eight years with Kansas City Monarchs. Then came a stretch with the Canadian Forestry Corps in the Second World War. After that he came to Vancouver and began umpiring. And everybody in minor league baseball is glad that he did.

Vets Win Football

With the first goal scored against Battery goalie, Rusty Ford, by Legion's centre-forward Smith, the Veterans drove on to win their game last night, 4-2.

Outside-left Dave Murray battered in the second score for Legion in the first half and both Smith and Murray scored again in the second half.

Centre-forward Gerry Ford, in a sudden dash in the second half, scored two quick goals for Battery against Goalie Krause.

Pat Forman was referee. Next game, on Saturday, will be a reinforced Legion team playing against visiting Aliyansh.

"Is it true that the wild beasts of the jungle will not harm you if you carry a torch?" "It all depends upon how fast you carry it."

Judge: "Oh, come now, you don't really think he tried to put your eye out." Plaintiff: "Well, no, our honor, I don't, but I do say he tried to push it farther in."

Farmer Battling Two Tough Weeds

Thousands of dollars are being spent to eradicate the menace of two tough types of weed, the toad flax and the leafy spurge.

These hardy perennials are a pretty sight and they decorate many gardens in western Canada. But they are damaging in grain fields.

R. Duck, Prince Albert provincial agriculture representative, said that many farmers in western Manitoba have been driven off farms rendered useless by these weeds.

The toad flax grows four feet down into the soil, sending roots sideways as well as down. The roots send shoots upward to produce new plants above ground.

Both the toad flax and the leafy spurge are heavy seed producers. And the seed is widely spread on the clothing of persons, as well as being distributed by winds and animals.

The Buckland district west of Prince Albert has been seriously affected by the toad flax, Duck said. One farmer's quarter-section was so badly infested that the farmer leased the land to the municipality for five years so that an effort could be made to clean it up.

CHEMICALS INEFFECTIVE

Chemicals such as 2-4-D won't kill the flowers of these weeds. In farm fields, it takes three full years of summerfallowing to bring them under control.

Mr. Duck said efforts now are being made by the Saskatchewan agriculture department to have city and town councils enforce a prohibition on the weeds in flower plots and gardens.

"City people don't seem to realize that it will take them three years of hoeing to get rid of these weeds," he said.

"Farmers in this district are spending thousands of dollars in an effort to kill weeds, yet they are being grown in gardens right in the city."

Agriculture officials are not certain just when the weeds were first brought from Europe to Canada. They were probably brought for ornamental purposes, since the toad flax produces beautiful yellow flowers and is often mistaken for snapdragon.

Census In Skeena Is Near End

The census in Skeena area—largest in square miles in the whole of Canada—is "about 95 per cent complete in returns, H. F. Glassey, census commissioner, announced today.

Only concentrated area which has not been counted is Ocean Falls, he said. And in the central part of the province a few scattered farmers still remain to be contacted.

In an area larger than that taken in by the British Isles, 87 enumerators have combed isolated points hundreds of miles apart to contact every last resident. Roughly, the area reaches from the Alaskan coastal boundary to Cape Caution, in the west; as far east as Endako and Aanaah Lake, and north to Lower Post and Fort Nelson. The Skeena constituency takes in five provincial ridings.

There will be no "unofficial estimates" of population, said Mr. Glassey, for orders from federal government headquarters are strict that all figures must come from them.

Returns from all sections should be in within three weeks, the commissioner said. Alex McRae was district census supervisor but was unable to carry on owing to illness.

RAT ARMY APPROACHES—

War Against 100,000 Invaders Of Prince Rupert Being Planned

Rats are invading the city of Prince Rupert in force and the only way to combat this invasion effectively is by eliminating the source of the rodents, Dr. Duncan Black, city health officer, told a meeting of the unit board of health here yesterday that "literally a hundred thousand rats thrived" at the city garbage dump within a mile of the city.

"And they are coming right into the city in droves." He cited an example where a citizen approached him to show how many rats could be seen in a little while in his back yard.

"We saw quite a few of them and, for every rat you see, there are a hundred you don't see. They are very, very dangerous creatures to have around, as they are ideal carriers of disease."

With Sanitary Inspector Edward Bradley, Dr. Black recently made a visit to the city dump, "where we saw hundreds of rats."

Ald. H. F. Glassey, chairman of the meeting in the absence of Ald. Douglas Frizzell, asked if the garbage at the dump wasn't being burned.

"Indiscriminate burning" was going on, said Mr. Bradley, but without effect. Here and there small piles of garbage would be burned but the bulk of the refuse would be left untouched.

Mr. Bradley said he had asked if any meat was dumped which could be used as bait for poisoning. In the summer time, he was told, a few pounds a day would be refused but in the fall, during hunting season, several hundred pounds a day often were dumped.

"Now, that is real food for rats on which they can thrive," Mr. Bradley said.

The sanitarian said he thought the situation could be brought under control if an adequate method of burning garbage was organized and the rats poisoned.

"But the superintendent of works said the fishermen would be angry because we would poison seagulls as well."

Ald. Glassey said he would bring the matter to a head at next meeting of the city council (Friday) and would see about sanction to poison the rats.

Meanwhile, both Dr. Black and Ald. Glassey cited recent instances where open drain ditches in the city were "ideal breeding places" for rats and constituted danger to little children. Rats would attack little children, Dr. Black said.

Mr. Bradley was appointed by the board as both milk and sewage inspector, with authority to inspect sanitary conditions in either case and make recommendations.

Native Priest Made Bishop

AUCKLAND, N.Z. (CP)—For the second time in the history of the Church of England in New Zealand, a native Maori priest has been appointed a bishop.

He is Rev. Wiremu Netana Panapa, who becomes Bishop of Aotearoa, the Maori name for New Zealand. The bishopric covers Maori church activities in the whole of New Zealand.

Bishop F. A. Bennett, who died last year, was the first Maori to be appointed a bishop in New Zealand. There were some misgivings when the post was created but he held the office with great success. The decision to appoint a successor shows the faith of the church authorities in the abilities of Maoris to hold high offices in the church.

Bishop Panapa, 53, has been a priest since 1923. He served for many years in Maori mission activities and during the Second World War was a chaplain with the armed forces. Since then he has been vicar of parishes with predominantly Maori populations.

Berlin Church Faces Problem In Old Treaty

By TOM REEDY

BERLIN (AP)—An old treaty with Germany has popped up to plague the Catholic Church in Berlin. Prelates now are pondering the problem and the final decision will probably be made by the Vatican itself.

The question is: To whom shall the church in Berlin swear loyalty in temporal things?

This goes back to the Prussian concordat of 1929 and the treaty reached with Hitler in 1933. Under its terms, the Bishop of Berlin was permitted to make his own appointments and was generally sovereign in matters of faith and morals. In exchange, he swore loyalty to the "Reich" or political questions which did not run counter to Catholic principles.

The death of Count Konrad Cardinal Von Preysing, Bishop of Berlin, last December, and the new appointment of Bishop Wilhelm Weskmann as his successor has raised the issue.

In order to fully take on his duties in both East and West Berlin and parts of East Germany, Bishop Weskmann must formally assume responsibility for the properties involved.

Under the old concordat, this requires him to swear a loyalty oath on temporal questions. What the church has not yet figured out is: To whom shall he swear? Communist East Germany or democratic West Germany?

Even though the Reich is a thing of the past and there are two Germanys now, church circles regard the old concordat as a binding document. It represents the sorts of terms the church consistently tries to obtain—sovereignty in faith and morals and respect for government on other questions.

SIGNED BY POPE

Cardinal Pacelli, who signed the concordat 18 years ago when he was Papal Nuncio to Germany, now is Pope Pius XII. No one knows better than he the importance and intent of the German treaty.

On the other hand, His Holiness has resisted on many occasions in recent years any agreement with Communist governments that would hamstring the church.

The Vatican's most recent refusal to bargain was a flat rejection of Marshal Tito's offer to release Archbishop Stepinac if he would leave Yugoslavia. Stepinac is serving 18 years on charges of collaborating with the Nazis. The Vatican maintained that the Archbishop would want to stay with his people and that it had never recognized the justice of his trial and sentence.

The Berlin bishopric is one of the more delicate assignments in Catholicism in these times. Some 200,000 Catholics living under Soviet occupation and Communist government are included in the Berlin diocese.

The cathedral, official seat of the diocese, stands in the Soviet sector of Berlin. Other church properties are maintained in the east zone states of Brandenburg and Mecklenburg.

The late Cardinal lived in West Berlin and his private palace has also now become the home of the new bishop.

Despite the living arrangements, the Catholics have soft-pedaled their West Berlin associations, thereby avoiding the kind of argument the powerful Protestant church experienced with the eastern Communists. The Protestants were sharply assailed from the east for directing church affairs from West Berlin.

LONDON (CP)—In an address to a convention of the Association for Maternity and Child Welfare, Princess Elizabeth noted that at the beginning of the century 154 babies of every 1,000 died during their first year. This year the rate is less than 30 per 1,000.

THE EXPERTS Say...

INDIFFERENT HOUSEKEEPERS—If a woman is an indifferent housekeeper "it is fatal to her influence, a foil to her brilliance, and a blemish in her garments."

So says a battered volume we uncovered in the attic the other day. Only from the advertisements it contains can one guess its age, probably around the turn of the century.

The book contains recipes for good dishes and rules for good manners—written in the flowery style of the early 1900s. Those were the days when friends waited until visiting day to "call." And they probably found their hosts "busy with some elegant trifle of lace or wool-work . . . or touching a sketch . . ." If the afternoon were warm they might sip raspberry vinegar with her in the garden.

If you've wondered whatever became of that "raspberry vinegar" recipe that Grandma used to follow, here it is straight from the pages of this musty cookbook of old.

RASPBERRY VINEGAR

To four quarts of red raspberries put enough vinegar to cover; let stand 24 hours. Squeeze and strain. Add one pound sugar to one pint juice. Boil 20 minutes and bottle. "Now it is ready to use and will keep for years."

As a beverage: Add "one spoonful" to a glass of water.

In those days eggs of course were as expensive as now. The housewife of 50 years ago used as many as six at a time in a pudding or cake. Here is a "rice custard" recipe which would cause the modern home-maker a few qualms:

To one-half cup rice add one quart milk and a little salt. Steam one hour, or until quite soft. Beat the yolks of four eggs with four tablespoons white sugar. Add this just before removing rice from the heat. Mix thoroughly but do not permit to boil again. Add vanilla flavoring.

Beat the whites of the eggs to a stiff froth. Add sugar. Put the pudding mixture into a baking-dish and spread whites over it. Allow to brown slightly in oven.

FOR FISHERMEN
The ladies of those days knew a good deal about cooking fish. When Father came proudly home with a bass or trout, chances are it was baked according to this recipe from the book.

Ingredients: Eight good-sized onions; half that quantity of bread crumbs; pork fat about the size of a hen's egg; plenty of pepper and salt. Mix this thoroughly with tomatoes until quite red. Stuff fish with this compound and pour the rest over it, previously sprinkling it with a little red pepper. The historic cook-book advises us: "Shad, pickerel, trout and black bass are good this year."

Milk for Contented Babies

Only the best is good enough for that precious baby of yours. So here's something every mother should know. When baby formulas are prescribed, doctors specify Carnation Evaporated Milk more than any other brand of milk.

Yet this time-proven milk for babies costs no more than ordinary milk.

Carnation

EVAPORATED MILK

"from Contented Cows"

ONLY CARNATION IS APPROVED BY DOCTORS EVERYWHERE

NOURISHING, with all the important values of fine, pasteurized whole milk, plus 480 Units of vitamin D per can. So digestible that it agrees even with immature and delicate babies.

CARNATION is extra safe—because it is pasteurized, then it is sterilized and is sealed air-tight in the can. And Carnation is completely uniform—no variation from can to can. Ask your doctor for Carnation for your baby.

Week-end Garbage Is a Serious Problem

Something must be done so city can be collected, the unit board of health stressed at their meeting yesterday afternoon. Ald. H. F. Glassey, chairman of the meeting, said city garbage collectors "won't work Saturday."

"They are in a union and they only work five days a week. We will have to hire someone else to do this work," he said.

Sanitary Inspector Edward Bradley said that "nearly as much" garbage was piled up by city cafes over the week-end as there was during the whole week for the period from Friday night to Sunday night was the busiest time for restaurants.

At present, daily garbage collection in the city begins Monday and ends Friday. Attempts to have the collectors work overtime, or re-arrange their schedule has been futile, Ald. Glassey said.

Medical Brutality Is Denied

LONDON (CP)—A blunt suggestion in the British medical journal "Practitioner" that doctors are using human patients as "guinea pigs" in scientific experiments has provoked widespread indignation among the profession.

The article in the journal's current issue deals with forms of human vivisection and other horror practices in Nazi concentration camps in the last war. Then it declares:

"We should take a lesson from this and give careful thought to the extent to which we are tending to abuse the trust our patients put in us. Without such trust we and our patients are lost. And its loss will never be compensated by that increased knowledge that might arise from human vivisection."

Realistic Film Three Dimension

MONTREAL (CP)—In the not far distant future, tanks may roar right off theatre screens, over the heads of audiences and disappear with a crash through balcony exits.

This far-fetched fantasy already is a reality to W. W. Wells Coates, British industrial designer, who explained in a recent interview here how he worked this and similar tricks for an experimental film at the Festival of Britain.

"We have designed and are operating Telecinema, a three-dimensional operation with three-dimensional pictures and three-dimensional sound," said Mr. Coates. "The images on the screen seem to come right off the surface and descend into the audience. Special sound devices follow the movement of the object."

Mr. Coates said that three-dimensional effects have been tried by movie-makers before but the sound angle is new.

"I feel there is room for television and cinema existing side by side in most countries," Mr. Coates said. "New cinema techniques will call for a new type of movie-making while television will adapt itself to the special needs of the home viewer."

PATIENT'S RIGHTS

The suggestion appears to be that the search for knowledge takes priority over the welfare of the individual patient," the journal adds. "Knowledge can be bought too dearly. Once the sanctity of the patient's right is questioned there is no telling how rapidly the standards of practice will fall."

Doctors explained that the ethics of the profession frowned on public discussion of such matters. But they denied emphatically that experimental vivisection was practiced by them on patients to advance their medical knowledge.

"There is absolutely no truth in the suggestion that human beings are being used as laboratory animals," said a council member of the British Medical Association.

... HOUSEKEEPING ...

NOW IS TIME FOR MAKING PICKLES AND RELISHES

Now is the season for pickles and relishes so Mrs. Housewife should start to prepare her winter store. Home economists have sent us three new recipes for pickles and relishes.

PICKLED ONIONS

2 quarts small white onions
8 cups cold water
1/2 cup salt
4 cups white vinegar
1 cup white sugar
1 stick cinnamon
Cover onions with boiling water, let stand 2 to 3 minutes, drain, cover with cold water and peel. Make a brine of the water and salt. Pour over onions and let stand overnight. Drain, rinse thoroughly with cold water and drain again. Pack into sealers. Heat vinegar, sugar and cinnamon to boiling point, boil 5 minutes and remove cinnamon. Fill sealers with boiling syrup and seal. Yield: 2 quarts.

NOTE—If a more spicy flavor is desired, one chili pepper may be added to the above recipe, removing the pepper with the cinnamon.

In place of the cinnamon and chili pepper, 2 tablespoons of mixed pickling spice may be used. Tie these loosely in a small fine cheesecloth bag, boil with vinegar and sugar and remove before pouring syrup over the onions.

RAW CUCUMBER RELISH

8 cups chopped cucumbers, (6 large)
1 tablespoon salt
1 1/4 cups white vinegar
1/4 cup sugar
2/3 cup sugar
1/2-3/4 teaspoon white pepper.
Peel cucumbers, cut into quarters and remove seeds. Chop finely or put through coarse grinder. Add chopped onion and salt. Mix well, place in colander and allow to drain thoroughly. Bring vinegar, water and sugar to boil and stir until sugar is dissolved. Remove from heat, add pepper and drained vegetables. Blend well, pack into sterilized sealers and seal. Do not use for at least one month. Yield: 40 ounces.

BEEF RELISH

4 cups cooked finely chopped beefs
4 cups finely chopped cabbage
1/2 sweet red pepper
1/2 cup grated horseradish
1 teaspoon salt
1/16 teaspoon pepper

Marines Seen in Battle Classic

Battle classic of the United States Marines in World War II, "Halls of Montezuma" is an interesting feature at the Capital Theatre this Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Produced in technicolor, the spectacle centres on the effect of violent warfare on the individual, his emotions and aspirations. Principal role, that of the platoon lieutenant, is carried out by Richard Widmark. Walter (Jack) Palance, Reginald Gardiner and Marion Marshall are also prominent members of the cast.

Rugged drama is graphically depicted with realistic presentation of the theme which records the undisputed glory of the Marines.
