United States Has Cataclysmic Atomic Weapons, Claimed

WASHINGTON, D.C., (CP) — Representative Gore, Democrat, Tennessee, indicated today the United States has perfected "cataclysmic" atomic weapons to spread deadly radioactivity. President Truman to urge their use in Korea.

Gore said the United States should use some of "these immense weapons" to "dehumanize" a belt across Korea, making it unfit for all life and thus a barrier to all military ground operations. He would at first warn the Communists.

Gore has access to information about atomic developments as a member of the appropriations sub-committee of the House of Representatives which handles funds for the Atomic Energy Commission.

Nootka Shells Enemy Village

TOKYO (CP) — The Canadian destroyer Nootka shelled an enemy-occupied village and buildings on the west coast of Korea Sunday and caused heavy damage, a United Nations naval communique announced today.

Republicans Seek Probe

WASHINGTON, D.C., (CP) — Republicans called today for a searching investigation into the administration's Asiatic policies as their reply to President Truman's charge that the Republican Party is trying to confuse the country.

They argued that arrival here Thursday of General MacArthur, whose dismissal by President Truman was so intimately connected with Far Eastern policy, would provide a logical starting point.

Senator Homer Ferguson (Republican-Michigan) said that, after Congress hears from MacArthur, it ought to set up a committee for investigation of Far Eastern policies.

Truman, meanwhile, told a Democratic party dinner here Saturday night that the Republicans were putting out a lot of "political hokum" against bi-partisan foreign policy because they think, if the country is confused enough, they may be able to win the next election.

General MacArthur is due here Thursday and it has been agreed that he shall address a joint session of Congress. He is in Honolulu today and is due in San Francisco tomorrow where a rousing reception is awaiting.

MacArthur In Hawaii

HONOLULU (CP) — General Douglas MacArthur, stripped of his top military commands, arrived early today from Tokyo on his way to the mainland for a hero's welcome and a political battle over American policy in Asia.

The big transport plane glided on to Hickam Field runway at 12:26 a.m. He will leave Tuesday for San Francisco enroute to Washington.

MacArthur arrived when most of Honolulu was asleep but later in the day the general was to rise at the head of a parade through the main streets.

Tragedy Averted

Man Saved but Gillnetter Missing in Hecate Straits
The sharp eyes of a Canadian Pacific Airlines crew helped to avoid what might have been serious trouble in Hecate Straits for the Department of Transport radio operator at Sandspit.

Operator Rupert Gillett left the Seal Cove dock Thursday evening in his private gillnetter, "Danny Boy," returning to his station at Sandspit after a visit to the city.

Developing engine trouble about 12 miles off Lawn Point, the Danny Boy and crew of one were left adrift on the heavy sea late Friday morning.

Soon after the trouble, captain of the C.P.A. Canso, Robert McInnes, on the airlines regular flight between Prince Rupert and Sandspit, spotted the drifting Danny Boy.

McInnes phoned to airlines radio operator A. E. (Al) Schuberger at the Seal Cove base, who in turn notified Digby wireless station.

Soon the Edward J. Coyle, a Vancouver tug, was on its way to the rescue.

Rough weather prevented the tug from taking the Danny Boy in tow so the gillnetter was left anchored near a shoal off Sandspit while Gillett was safely removed by the tug.

Although her skipper reached Sandspit safely, the Department of Transport is still on the lookout for the fishing boat, which hasn't been seen since.

Prince Rupert's Pulp Mill Now Operating— Formal Opening Is Set For Early In June

IMPORTANT STEP IN SUPPLY OF CELLULOSE

The new dissolving pulp mill of Columbia Cellulose Company Limited, Canadian affiliate of Celanese Corporation of America, is now in operation with an indicated annual capacity of approximately 70,000 tons of high alpha cellulose—sufficient raw material to produce in excess of 200,000,000 pounds of acetate yarn and staple fibre. The formal opening will take place early in June.

The first producer of chemical fibres to construct its own pulp plant, Celanese Corporation of America will utilize output of this mill in connection with recently announced plans for expansion of textile, plastics and chemical operations in the United States, Canada and other countries.

Located at Watson Island, nine miles from here, the Columbia Cellulose mill is one of the northernmost industries in the Western Hemisphere.

Output of the mill will result in an estimated 75 percent expansion of the 1950 supply of dissolving pulp for acetate yarn, according to Harold Blanche, president of both Celanese and its Canadian affiliate, on an overall basis, he added, the mill's annual production will be equivalent to 15 percent of all the dissolving wood pulp consumed by the entire United States rayon industry last year.

"Inauguration of production by Columbia Cellulose," Mr. Blanche says, "represents an important forward step in the direction of relieving the international shortage of cellulose, particularly high alpha cellulose, the grade used in the manufacture of acetate fibers and plastics."

"Celanese entry into the pulp business is the culmination of many years of planning and preparation which had as its objective the assurance of an adequate supply of raw materials to permit continuous growth of the Company. After World War II, the company accelerated its research work on wood pulp manufacture, and a short time later developed an improved purification process which has been installed in the Columbia Cellulose mill."

FOREST MANAGEMENT
The company has a Forest Management license from the British Columbia government granting cutting rights on timber sufficient to furnish the mill with a continuing supply of wood. Designed to bring government and industry together in conserving forest areas of the province, the forest management license provides that forest areas will be developed in such a way that utilization will balance natural growth.

The effects of the Columbia Cellulose Company Limited development ultimately will be far-reaching for Canada, since it is planned that eventually much of the cellulose produced will undergo further manufacture in the Dominion instead of being exported as cellulose pulp.

In this connection it was recently announced that cellulose from the new Prince Rupert mill will be shipped to a plant which is to be built at Edmonton, Alberta, by Canadian Chemical Company, Ltd., another Canadian affiliate of Celanese Corporation of America. The Edmonton plant will produce cellulose acetate as well as petrochemicals.

Hazelton Tungsten Mine, Red Rose, is Reopening

Red Rose mine near Hazelton, an important producer of tungsten ore during the last war, will be reopened immediately.

Western Uranium Cobalt Mines Ltd., which is developing and constructing a mill on the Rocher de Boule property three miles from the Red Rose, has concluded an agreement with Consolidated Mining & Smelting Co. of Canada undertaking the development of the tungsten property which has considerable ore tonnage blocked out. The Red Rose will be a separate operation with milling capacity of approximately 75 tons daily. It is scheduled for operation late this year.

James Mackee, president, says Western Uranium has leased the Red Rose tungsten property from Consolidated on the basis of 10 percent of the net recovery payable to Smelters in the first year and 15 percent in the second year.

The new plant will be installed on the old Red Rose mill site, and power will be supplied from the hydro development on Juniper Creek being installed by Western Uranium.

The entire production for the first two years has been contracted for and sold at market prices prevailing during the period of the contract which is two years from start of production, subject to a minimum price of $45 per 20-pound unit, and to a ceiling price of $110 per unit.

Tungsten, a very strategic metal, is now in great demand. It has more than doubled in price in the past few months. The last quotation being $66 per unit of WO<sub>3</sub>.

Withdraw Hospital Insurance Hike is Meeting's Demand

At a meeting last night called by the Trades and Labor Council, citizens of Prince Rupert urged the provincial government by resolution to withdraw the increased premiums of British Columbia Hospital Insurance or call an election.

Over 200 men and women attended the meeting in the Canadian Legion Hall.

J. S. Black, president of the Trades and Labor Council, was in the chair.

Mr. Black criticized publicly given labor affairs in the press. (An advance story about the meeting last night was given front page position in the Daily News Saturday.)

Speaking independent of the city council, Mayor G. W. Rutherford said that he believed a graduated charge according to income should be made with the hospital premiums. He said this was done in New Zealand.

President of the Carpenters and Joiners, August S. Wallin said that he hoped the meeting and similar public demonstrations, might work as a pressure on the government to withdraw the added premium cost.

FOR FISHERMEN
Speaking for fishermen and shoreworkers, Thomas Parkin, United Fishermen and Allied Worker's Union northern representative, said that a resolution at the U.F. & A.W.U. convention in Vancouver wanted the premiums moved back to the 1950 level. He urged that penalties should be removed. Mr. Parkin cited the reasonable hospitalization in Saskatchewan and other provinces and the service given in Britain.

It was pointed out that Saskatchewan hospital schemes average six dollars a month for

Allies in Initiative

Further Gains
By U.N. Forces
Against Stiff Resistance

TOKYO (CP) — Allied troops punched out small gains all along the 150-mile North Korean battlefront today. Communist resistance was bitter in some sectors but only spotty in others.

American and Turkish soldiers made the best gains. They maintained United Nations initiative across the peninsula.

Allied infantry and tanks are firmly entrenched in Yanggu, seven miles inside Red Korea on the eastern tip of the huge Hwachon reservoir.

On the west central front United Nations troops advanced against only light resistance. They now have full control of the south bank of Hwachon reservoir.

Associated Press Correspondent Robert Eunson at United States Eighth Army headquarters said the Reds were using smudge pots and building brush fires to smoke up the countryside and hide their ground movements from prying eyes of Allied airmen.

Ernest Bevin

BLUFF, tough and indefatigable, Rt. Hon. Ernest Bevin, until recently Britain's Foreign Secretary, who died suddenly, will go down as one of his country's great statesmen. That is why, in death, he is acknowledged on all sides regardless of political stripe. He gave greatly of his effort and talents and the strain of his post undoubtedly helped to induce his illness and death. His passing is a great loss both to his country and to his Labor party.

Homespun Ernest Bevin came up from orphaned poverty to the Foreign Secretaryship of Great Britain, a post he held during one of the most difficult periods in the Empire's history.

It was he who charted the nation's policy in the cold war with Russia that followed World War II. That policy conformed generally to that of the United States.

While Bevin sought to reach agreement with Soviet Russia, he spoke plainly and bluntly in warning that Britain could not be pushed "too far." He cautioned:

"The people will one day say, 'we are tired of this.' There comes a moment when we say, 'we have had enough.'"

Bevin never concealed his scorn and distrust of Communism. Early in World War II he denounced the Communist Party and its associates for having told British workers in 1940—before Russia entered the conflict—that their nation was fighting an imperialistic war.

"I shall never forgive them for that to the day of my death," he vowed.

In the spring of 1949 Bevin came to the United States to sign the North Atlantic Treaty, by which 12 nations agreed to confront any Russian aggression with a united defense.

"Our peoples do not want war and do not glorify war, but they will not shrink from it if aggression is threatened," he said at that time.

Later he described the Atlantic Pact as a western shield against the biggest army in the world—Russia's. Obviously referring to the Soviet Union, which kept insisting it was interested in peace, Britain's Foreign Secretary declared:

"There has never been a dictator in the history of this world who has not talked peace when he has been preparing for war. Do not be misled."

Bevin accused the Communists of "creating a situation of fear in order that the will of the Kremlin could be carried out and the whole of Europe brought into bondage."

The Atlantic Pact was the answer to that situation, he declared. He said the Russians and their satellites had thwarted peace efforts at every turn.

Earlier Bevin had cooperated immediately and wholeheartedly with the program outlined by U.S. Secretary of State George C. Marshall for a co-operative effort for European recovery. He hailed the plan as a "bridge to link the east and west."

As Foreign Secretary, he helped to pattern the changes that Prime Minister Clement Attlee's Labor Government effected in the British Commonwealth in the post-war years — changes that made India, Ceylon, Burma and Palestine independent.

Spare Us This Time

IT IS to be hoped that Ottawa follows the policy which Washington announces of using plain English in the orders it will be writing in relation to the defense mobilization effort.

During the last war, the legalistic gobbledy-gook in which many of the orders and regulations were clothed caused not only frustration and hilarity, but worse still, confusion and misunderstanding. The complex is also a prize way of concealing loopholes and trick clauses.

Business Week cites one gem of obfuscating officialese

"Ultimate consumer means a person or group of persons, generally constituting a domestic household, who purchase eggs generally at the individual stores of retailers or purchase and receive deliveries of eggs at the place of abode of the individual or domestic household from producers or retail route sellers and who use such eggs for their consumption of food."

This was rewritten to read:

"Ultimate consumers are people who buy eggs and eat them."

There are many places in business and industry where plain talk would also be to everybody's advantage.

Some New York real estate operators have just replaced their traditional 8,538 word leases with a new one: 992 words.—Financial Post.

Census Taking Subtle Points

By HAROLD MORRISON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA —How would you like to be paid while going to school—say at 90 cents an hour?

That's going to be the good fortune of the 18,000 Canadians who undertake the job of counting their fellow men in the big decennial census next June.

For four days, before the census campaign is launched June 1, this formidable army will undergo schooling in census "weapons."

And while this training is going on, in school basements, town halls and city auditoriums across the country, the census-takers will get paid—at the rate of 90 cents an hour with those in rural areas getting a little more—to cover travelling expenses to "school."

The training will start May 21 and end May 24. During that time, a corps of 850 census supervisors will drill their students in the subtle art of waging a successful census campaign.

The census-taker will learn all about the history and background of a census, its importance in the growth of a nation and the need for accuracy.

CENSUS EQUIPMENT
He will learn, too, all about the pen that is loaded with black ink that conducts electricity, the little population card that replaces the old-type newspaper-size information document, the questions he will have to ask and the answers he is likely to receive.

But most of all the census-taker, man or woman, will learn something about the art of getting along with people. For without the co-operation of the person who answers the doorbell, all the two years of effort that census officials have put into the census structure will count no more than a puff of wind.

A door slammed in the census-taker's face, a stubborn refusal to supply information, or the still worse insidious supplying of deliberate untruths—these are the things that can wreck a good census.

Fortunately, say officials, Canadians in the past, such as in the 1941 census, have shown tremendous willingness to co-operate. Not a single person was hauled into court although the law says you must supply census information.

Census officials shy away from court action. They'd much rather see perfection of co-operation. They're banking heavily on the census-taker to get it.

Housing For Cellulose?

Company and Housing Officials Have Meeting

Columbia Cellulose Company officials had "no comment" on proposals for housing made last week by T. B. Pickersgill, Central Housing and Mortgage Corporation, and J. E. Brown, provincial government representative.

Housing officials said Friday night at their meeting with city council the company would be approached Friday with a proposal under which they could build homes for their employees.

"I hope the council doesn't feel that housing for Prince Rupert will depend on anything our company may do," said W. C. R. Jones, mill manager.

Then he asked Mr. Pickersgill if the government would assist individuals in building their own homes if groups of employees undertook the actual labor of construction.

Mr. Pickersgill said this could be done only under National Housing Act loans. If these could be obtained locally, provisions were made in such cases for direct loans under the Act.

"We have men who would only be too willing to build their own houses in order to get a place to live," said Mr. Jones.

Interest Rate Boost Housing

OTTAWA —Official quarters are considering the possibility of boosting the interest rate on Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation loans to five per cent from 4½ per cent, it was learned Saturday.

This development follows a general increase by insurance and trust companies of interest on mortgage loans to 5½ per cent from five.

An informant said that, if the government moves to boost the rate, it will have no effect on current Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation loans but it would have the effect of cutting down a number of prospective mortgage seekers.

As I See It

NEW DELHI, India—

There is one name which I have rarely mentioned since coming to India, in this report or otherwise. Yet it may be the most powerful and most alive force in this whole land even now.

I mean, of course, the name of Gandhi. It is very difficult for me even to try to guess, much less assess, how much of the teaching of Gandhi has lived on in the hearts and minds of the people. For what I do not know and cannot find out, was whether they followed Gandhi because of admiration for his tactical skill, or whether they really got the point of what he was trying to demonstrate—that you must resist what you consider to be evil, but you must do so by methods which are not evil, too.

AS A MATTER OF PLAIN fact, Gandhi demonstrated the mighty power of some of the truths which Jesus Christ himself taught in the Sermon on the Mount.

(Suddenly this thought strikes me; In a few days I myself may stand on the very spot where the Master Jesus preached that mighty sermon.)

Gandhi, apart from being a great saint and teacher, was also one of the most productive political leaders who ever lived. But would his techniques have worked if his "antagonist" had been, say, Joe Stalin or Francisco Franco, and not British statesmen who had also absorbed the teachings of the Sermon on the Mount, often at their mothers' knees as infants?

OVER AND OVER AGAIN I have thought of the meaning of this:

There is no nook or corner of this vast land where the name of Gandhi is not known. In fact, Gandhi's name is the only name that everybody in India does know. Not another name of living or dead, human or non-human, is so well known.

The above is the key to the election coming up this year in India. Congress will win overwhelmingly — because Gandhi that the great unanswered question is here.

THEY ARE TALKING OF building a huge structure, a six-storey building shaped like Gandhi's head. It will be right here in Delhi.

That seems like a bad sign to me. For if admirers will do something so contrary to everything for which Gandhi stood only a few years after his passing, what will they say of him centuries from now?

Maybe they will get as far away from the teachings and actions of the little old saint as we in the West got from the actions and teachings of the Galilean carpenter.

But, again, maybe not. The world has had the Sermon on the Mount for over 1900 years before Gandhi took the principles it proclaimed and harnessed them to social action.

Gandhi took them out of the holy book and put them in action right in the streets, and sometimes, even of unorthodox. Maybe it won't take another 1900 years to do it again.

Gardening....

TRY SPECIAL TECHNIQUE TO SOW FLOWER SEED IN GARDEN

When flower seeds are sown directly in the garden it will pay to take special precautions to identify the place where they were sown, and make sure that when they sprout the tiny seedlings can find their way to the surface and be recognized when they emerge.

All annual flower seeds may be sown directly in the garden; and there are a number which should be, because they are difficult to transplant. These include alyssum, California poppy, godetia, kochia, leptosyne, linaria, lupin, matthiola (evening scented stock), nasturtium, dwarf phlox, poppies, portulaca and salpiglossis.

Much the same technique should be used as in sowing in a seed box, particularly as to shallow planting, and covering the seeds with porous soil. Identification of the seeds, and of their location, are also important, since with slow germinators it is easy to forget exactly where they were sown. Care will be well repaid. Seeds are subject to many hazards which human skill cannot wholly avoid, but the careful operator may count upon a high average of success.

Prepare a smooth seed bed, loosening the soil to a depth of six inches. Work into it 4 pounds of plant food for each 100 square feet. Then outline with a string the area to be covered with each variety. Mix the seed with sand to help scatter it over the space as evenly as possible. Then sift a light covering of porous soil over the seed and firm it lightly.

Now, until the seeds sprout the soil must be kept moist; and this requires daily sprinkling with a fine spray, taking care not to wash the seeds out of the soil.

Final Preliminaries to Enfranchising Metlakatla

Important Officials Coming

Further culminating step towards the full enfranchisement of the neighboring native village of Metlakatla and its transfer from a jurisdiction of the federal to provincial government as a municipal corporation under the Village Act will take place on Thursday of this week.

Irene Schwab Pretty Bride

United in Marriage
To Larry Iveson
Saturday Evening

Nearly 200 friends gathered to wish a young Prince Rupert couple good health and happiness at their marriage reception in the Valhalla Hall Saturday evening.

The reception followed a quiet family wedding in the First United Church, when Irene Kathleen Schwab and Laurence H. (Larry) Iveson were united in marriage by Rev. G. Sieber.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Mrs. L. Schwab, and the late Mr. Martin Schwab, and attended school here.

Member of a pioneer Prince Rupert family, the groom, the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Iveson, was born and raised in northern British Columbia, attending city schools.

Grandparents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Allstone, are living in Vancouver. Mr. Allstone is remembered as the city assessor, being numbered among the earliest pioneers of the city.

The bride moved here from the prairies with her family eight years ago. For her wedding she wore navy blue tailored costume, charming white hat and accessories, with a corsage of white carnations.

Given in marriage by her brother, Michael Schwab, the bride was attended by Miss Anne Marie Dahlgren.

With a pink carnation corsage, Miss Dahlgren was dressed in green, with white hat and accessories.

Attending the groom was Fred Faulkner, Jr., groomsmen, with Robert Handenschild and Richard Hedstrom acting as ushers.

The bride's mother wore a light blue suit with matching accessories and corsage bouquet, while the groom's mother was frocked in a beige dress with accessories.

Fitting words were spoken by A. E. Woods, in his toast to the bride, before the newlyweds cut the three-tier wedding cake. Pale pink candiesticks decorated the bridal table, beside which gifts for the married couple were opened during the evening.

A buffet luncheon, directed by Mrs. William Rothwell, was served by Miss Donaldia Letourneau and Mrs. Hazel Birch.

Music for dancing was played by friends of the groom. Among these were Vic. Pierce, guitar; Don Pierce, mandolin; George Pierce, violin; LeRoy Husband, electric mandolin; and Magnus Knutson, guitar.

Parents of the newlyweds welcomed the guests at the door.

The couple will make their home on Atlin Avenue.

On that day the Metlakatla band will have an extraordinary meeting with W. S. Arnel, commissioner of Indian Affairs for British Columbia; Leonard Brown, senior solicitor for the Department, representing Hon. Walter Harris, the minister of citizenship, and B. C. Bracewell, deputy minister of municipal affairs for British Columbia.

The officials will close and pick up final documents in connection with the enfranchisement of band and the application for incorporation as a village municipality.

Before the end of September, it is expected the village will be under its new status governed by a board of village commissioners of three members instead of the present native council. Mr. Bracewell, among other things, will set up the machinery for the election of the village commissioners.

Since 1889 the village has had its native council and, although it will be the smallest incorporated village in British Columbia under the Municipal Act — the population is only 152 — it was deemed advisable to remain organized instead of reverting to unorganized territory.

SPORT SHOTS

A revolutionary scheme to establish a fixed scale of payment for the sale of professional soccer players has been proposed by Fred Howarth, secretary of the English Football League. The proposal, to be aired at the annual meeting of the governing body next June, is to limit the transfer fee to a maximum of £15,000 ($45,000) and invest the league with sole authority to handle future player deals.

The move to bring sanity back to the transfer system follows unprecedented activity in the player market and growing fears of the harmful effects of mounting fees. Only last month the transfer market touched a new high when Sheffield Wednesday, at the bottom of the First Division, paid nearly £35,000 to Notts Country for Jackie Sewell, a forward who has not yet attained "international" rating. Previous high for the season involved transfer of Trevor Ford, the Welsh international, from Aston Villa to Sunderland at a sale price of nearly £30,000.

It was not until 1905 that the fee for a footballer reached four figures. The first player to reach that distinction was Alf Common, purchased by Middlesbrough from Sunderland for £1,000. Since then the price of player talent has zoomed beyond the reach of all but the wealthier clubs.

Under the latest plan, the management committee of the league will fix transfer fees covering more than 3,000 players already under contract. The scale of fees would start with the 17-year-old group and rise gradually until a man reaches his expected peak from 25 to 28, and then drop. Players who have gained their international "caps" or other representative honors, would be given a premium rating, while the transfer price for those prone to injury would be less.

Immediately a player becomes available for transfer, the league would be advised. Interested clubs would then carry out their negotiations through the league's machinery with no question of a price-bidding competition. This arrangement, Howarth says, will ensure an equal break for all the clubs and a wider choice for the player concerned.

The proposal brought favorable newspaper reaction from all parts of the country. On the agenda of the annual meeting is also a proposal to increase players' salaries from the current rate of £12 a week to a maximum of £14, plus bonuses.

Basketball Is All Over

Neither Tri-Bells Or Maple Leafs Are Able to Come

Neither Toronto Tri-Bells or Vancouver Cloverleafs will be coming to Prince Rupert this year to meet the Senior "B" champions, Prince Rupert Jets.

This word was received by Angus Macphee, president of Prince Rupert Basketball Association.

It had been hoped that one of the teams in finals for the senior "A" championship might be induced to come here for an exhibition game, said Mr. Macphee. The Toronto team said they had to return for school examinations. Cloverleafs said they would "like to come" but could not make it.

And so basketball is over for this season in Prince Rupert.

Report from Parliament

By E. T. APPLEWHITE, M.P.

During the Easter recess and immediately after spent some time with the Secretary of the Air Transport Board on the application of Central British Columbia Airways for their Terrace-Smithers-Burns Lake-Vanderhoof-Prince George license. I would like mention that Mr. Morisset, secretary of the Board, is always most friendly and helpful. Now the board has rendered a favorable decision on the application and the license has been forwarded to their Vancouver office to be issued under the operating certificate obtained. As I understand it, the operating certificate is the airworthiness of the aircraft and personnel. Well, any company headed by Russ Baker is not likely to have much difficulty along those lines. Now, I propose, the next step is winter maintenance of the Terrace air which I am now going after.

Satisfactory Appointment — It seems to be quite general satisfaction over the election of Francis Millard, Sr., of Vancouver, as new president of the Fisheries Council of Canada, and assumes this post with the assurance of the utmost co-operation from the industry as it comes to it equipped with a wide-time experience in Canadian fisheries on the West Coast.

One of the highlights of the recent Sessions of the Council here was the annual dinner, which I attended, at which the head table guests included the following Cabinet Ministers: Hon. Brooke Claxton, National Defence; Hon. Paul Martin, National Health and Welfare; Hon. J. J. McCann, National Revenue; Hon. M. F. DeLoach, V.C., Labour; Hon. R. W. Boyce, Fisheries; Hon. Stuart Gordon, Justice; and Hon. F. G. Bradley, Secretary of State. As one who was there I can say with real feeling that I wish I could all have heard the delightful after-dinner address by David L. Thomson, Dean of the Faculty of Graduate Studies and Research, McGill University, who added to his already enviable reputation as one of Canada's foremost humorists (as well as serious speakers).

Conservation Basis — At an after luncheon Mr. Mayhew made an outstanding address in which, as he said, he reviewed the industry something of view on their mutual interests, that is the interests of the Department of Fisheries and the fishing industry. He said that conservation is the basic and is a big job. He pointed out that North America has a tremendous land area, with less than one-twentieth of the world's population, and that other countries with less land are thus more dependent on, and more conscious of, the products of the sea. On the dangers scheme, W. D. Griffiths of the Marine and Boiler Makers said: "If it can work in England, it can work here."

Declaring that "they can find money for destructive purposes," Mr. Griffiths asked for an inquiry into the B.C.H.I.

"It is time for an accounting," said H. R. Hill. He talked on the free enterprise system that forced the B.C.H.I. subscribers to deal with the government. Mr. Hill said it was like a butter merchant demanding custom at his store, although his prices were higher.

In a lively address, John Mulroney said that the B.C.H.I. is absorbing, besides its own losses, the loss of the Compensation Board.

UNHOLY ALLIANCE — "There's an unholy alliance down there," said Mr. Mulroney speaking of the Coalition. "There's been an indirect split between the Conservatives and the Liberals," he added.

Pointing out that, should an inquiry be held, the government would appoint the board of inquiry, Peter Lien, of the Civic Employees' union spoke briefly, "We endorse these petitions," said Mr. Lien.

Other speakers included Eugene Holliston of the Plumbers and Pipe Fitters' Union, J. W. Ewart, president of the Prince Rupert Fire-Fighters Union, and Mr. Hopkins.

John G. Burgess, supervisor of regional representatives for the B.C.H.I. from Victoria, was present at the meeting and answered questions of administration. Mr. Burgess said that one in six persons were admitted to the hospital during the year.

THE RESOLUTION — In moving the following resolution which passed unanimously, both Mr. Brett and Mr. Parkin, who introduced the resolution from the floor, said that they "didn't want the hospital scheme squashed."

"WHEREAS the citizens of British Columbia have signified their agreement to the setting up of an adequate Hospital Insurance Plan and their willingness to pay reasonable premiums thereto. And

"WHEREAS in 1950 the Government saw fit to increase such premiums to meet rising costs of hospitalization. And

"WHEREAS the Government has again, against the wishes of a great majority of the citizens of the province, imposed a further increase in premiums together with certain co-insurance charges, thereby placing an unbearable financial burden on many thousands of our citizens. And

"WHEREAS it is maintained that the practice of paying hospital deficits out of Consolidated Provincial revenues is fair and just.

"THEREFORE be it resolved that we, the citizens of Prince Rupert, in meeting assembled, do most vigorously protest this most recent imposition and urge the Government to withdraw such legislation or, alternatively to place the question before the electorate of British Columbia."

At the close of the meeting, a petition that the public as being adopted to sign was circulated.

PETITION — The petition reads: "That while we recognize the need for an adequate hospital insurance program for the people of British Columbia, the additional premiums and co-insurance proposals, as adopted at this session of the legislature places an impossible financial burden on many thousands of our citizens.

"Therefore we urge the legislature to withdraw the provisions for additional payments, or alternatively, to place the question before the electorate of British Columbia."

CIVIC CENTRE

ARTS AND CRAFTS SHOW

The Art Club is organizing the tea for Sunday afternoon, April 29, the first day of the Arts and Crafts Exhibition in the Civic Centre Auditorium when the Symphony will play but this club has not a large enough membership to handle any more than the picture hanging, the kitchen duties, and the table supply for the tea. Help is needed from other Civic Centre members and it was thought that in particular the leathercraft workers who will have exhibits on display, and those who took the Extension courses might help by serving or donating food. It is suggested that those who made suits or dresses during the sewing courses might wear them while serving. Roly Miles, any Art Club member, Mrs. L. M. Greene, Mrs. J. W. Rogerson or Mrs. J. T. Harvey are receiving names of volunteers.

SCIENCE PIONEER

X-rays were discovered by William Roentgen, German physicist, in 1895 and he received a Nobel Prize in 1901.

LEAFS IN FINALS—A 4-1 win in Toronto Saturday night and a 6-0 victory in Boston Sunday night gave the Toronto Maple Leafs the right to meet Montreal Canadiens in the Stanley Cup final by defeating Boston four games to one. Here Leaf goalie Turk Broda seems ready to stop Boston's Eddie Sandford's shot regardless of where it comes from in Saturday's game in Toronto. Players, left to right, are: Ray Tingren, Fern Flaman, Sandford, Broda, Vic Lynn and Bill Barilko. (CP PHOTO)

Aged Dolores Coming Back

Dolores Costello's Come-back — Some Gossip

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD — Dolores Costello's return to grease paint in a local stage play means that she's ready to resume her career now that she and her doctor husband have called it a day.

Still beautiful, Dolores' last role was with Orson Welles nine years ago in "The Magnificent Amberson." The film career of her son, John Barrymore Jr., meanwhile, may be halted temporarily by Uncle Sam. He'll be 19 in May and the draft winds are blowing.

Elizabeth Taylor is back in print with the sweetness-and-light comment that "Nick Hilton, and I still want to be the best of friends." Just once I'd like to hear a divorced movie queen say — "I hate the guy and I hope I never see him again."

Jack Beutel moves into the big league with Howard H. Hughes' "Half Breed." It is Jack's third picture in his 12-year movie career. This time he plays a savage Indian by the name of Charlie Wolf.

BRAINSTORM

That wild rumor of a fatal automobile accident involving Jerry Lewis stemmed from an unreported stairway fall sustained by him a few days before. The hospital X-ray showed temple bruises but, says Jerry, "no more concussion than usual."

Wanda Hendrix and ex-husband Audie Murphy ran true to Hollywood form and had lunch at the studio. "Just a friend," he said.

MGM will hit a timely subject in "Teen Age." Jane Powell and Debbie Reynolds will share the bobby-sox honors.

Errol Flynn is collecting a reported $2400 a week from Lloyd's of London for the back injury which still is keeping him off the sound stages.

Sylvia Sydney is here to resume her film career. Mack Sennett's annual birthday picnic will have a new centerpiece angle—Mack will pick the Mack Sennett bathing beauty of 1951.

Ezio Pinza's end-of-the-picture gift to Janet Leigh—his co-star in "Strictly Dishonorable"—was a silver dresser set engraved:

"To Janet—with strictly honorable intentions."

The Italian release of Stromboli has Ingrid Bergman doing her lines in Italian.

ON THE ROCKS — The Jeff Chandlers have decided to take the divorce way out and a property settlement is being negotiated.

The whispers about those sour notes in the Clark Gable marriage, hushed for many months, have begun again despite denials.

William Spencer Is Laid at Rest

Funeral services for William H. Spencer, 70-year-old city barber, who died here April 15, were held yesterday afternoon at the Grenville Court Chapel.

Rev. H. G. Bird of the St. Peter's (Seal Cove) Anglican church officiated.

Honorary pallbearers were Howard Keith, G. W. Nickerson, John Bulger, John Hoskins, J. B. Scott, Charles Millar and Capt. Mulligan.

A. K. Nelson, John Judge, W. Bussey, William McKay, R. B. Morgan and George Ross were active pallbearers.

A solo, "The Old Rugged Cross," was sung by John Linney. Hymns were "Abide With Me" and "Nearer My God to Thee," with organ accompaniment by Mrs. W. D. Smith.

Burial was in Fairview Cemetery, with the B.C. Undertakers in charge of arrangements.

Protest Postal Workers' Hours

Increase of hours for city letter carriers was discussed at the regular monthly meeting of the Prince Rupert Trades and Labor Council last week. After hearing a report that most employees would now have to work from 48 to 50 hours per week, it was decided to send a protest to the federal government with the request that it revert back to the 44-hour week.

Report of Labor's joint lobby in Victoria which had interviewed all members of the government and solicited their support on behalf of amendments to the Workmen's Compensation Act, the I.C.A. Act and the Hospital Insurance Act was received, giving a record of answers as received from all members interviewed. All three Labor organizations had been in Victoria this session and received no satisfaction to their requests, but it was encouraging, the report stated, to find that a joint presentation was received and listened to with more consideration than on previous occasions.

Report of Unions showed all 200 feet of herself made at her husband's Texas ranch. The scene shows her riding, roping and helping to brand the cattle.

TOWN TREES BURNED

RICHMOND HILL, Ont. (CP)—A grass fire here caused slow death to more than 500 trees in Waterworks Park. Officials said the fire had damaged the trees before it was brought under control. The trees had been planted eight years ago by the Horticultural Society.

BATH, Somerset, England (CP)—A train driver here stopped his engine at an unscheduled spot and ran back along the track. He went to report spotting fire in a mill along the railway line.

A warning was received from the secretary of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada asking all unions to be on their guard against bogus union labels and citing a clothing company which sold their products through a chain and had introduced a union label of its own to serve as a substitute for the label of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America. All delegates were asked to report back to their unions that the Bond Clothing Co. sells non-union clothing.

Blackwood on Bridge

By Easley Blackwood

You can gain a lot of points by using the hold-up play, which is refusing to win a trick that you could win. This play is employed mostly at no trumps, although it has its application to suit play too.

The simplest form of the hold-up play is where you have the ace and one or more small cards in the suit led by opponents. For tactical reasons you decline to play your ace on the first lead.

It is more difficult to see the need for the hold-up where your stopper in the enemy's suit consists of the king three long in your hand and the queen and one small card in dummy. Mr. Masters had that situation in today's hand.

The opening lead was the seven of hearts. Mr. Masters has played a lot of bridge and it took him hardly any time at all to duck the lead in both hands, permitting Mrs. Keen's ten spot to win the first trick.

Would you have made this play—which is necessary to the fulfillment of the contract? Here is Mr. Masters' reasoning. He has only seven tricks in sight without a finesse—two spades, one heart, three diamonds and one club. Therefore he must chance the club finesse in order to accumulate nine tricks or more. But that involves letting his right hand opponent gain the lead, if the finesse loses. A heart return then would probably mean defeat. How convenient it would be if the right-hand opponent, after winning the king of clubs, had none of the danger suit (hearts) to return. Can that be arranged. Well, perhaps. And that's what Mr. Masters had in mind when he ducked the first trick.

Now see what happened. Mrs. Keen, after winning trick one with the 10 of hearts, returned the five of that suit. Mr. Abel won with the ace and led a third heart, which went to Mr. Masters' king.

The club finesse was taken now, without danger. Mrs. Keen won with her king but was out of hearts. She led back a diamond and Mr. Masters won the rest of the tricks, making four odd. If he had won the first trick with either the king of queen, he would have won seven tricks instead of 10.

Mushroom-Smothered Chicken

WHAT could be better than chicken? The answer — why, mushroom smothered chicken. If you want to see folks smack their lips, set a platter of this before them. It's a real company-style dish to serve chicken. Slow cooked chicken in a mushroom sauce, the chicken smothered in a "wonderful" good. And that sauce is right on your fingertips, ready for quick use in the form of condensed cream of mushroom soup. It's a good buy-value, too.

For a traditional chicken dinner, serve mashed potatoes, a vegetable salad, green beans, and a tomato sauce. Choose something to finish on, perhaps a spring vegetable in the form of lemon sherbet with macaroons.

SOUP SCOOPS

TOMATO CHOWDER: For an extra-rich, "tomato-ey" chowder, combine 1 can of condensed tomato soup and 1 can of clam chowder. Then blend in 2 can-measures of liquid, milk or water. Heat as usual. This serves 3 or 4.

SPINACH IS GOOD IN SOUP: A little chopped cooked spinach is a tasty addition to any of these condensed soups—cream of mushroom, chicken or celery. Tastes so good, looks pretty and spring-like.

MILK 'N' SOUP: When you serve condensed soup mixed with an equal amount of milk, you're doing your family a double favor. They enjoy some mighty pleasant eating. And there are real nutrition benefits in each bowlful. You can either use fresh or evaporated milk with the soup. When you use evaporated milk, you'll get good results by mixing it with an equal amount of water before adding to soup. Try it with any condensed cream soup, green pea or tomato.

Veteran Mining Man Dead—93

VICTORIA—William B. George, veteran British Columbia mining man who in recent years had devoted his attention mostly to the Portland Canal district, died here yesterday.

He was 93 but, despite his advanced years, he had gone into the field almost every season.

Mr. George located the George Gold Copper property in the Portland Canal district, which he sold to Consolidated Mining and Smelting Co.

Burns Lake is Booming

BURNS LAKE—The village of Burns Lake is humming with activity as contractors and equipment are pouring in to town to begin work from this angle on the $500 million Aluminum Co. of Canada project.

Officials of the Morrison-Knudsen Company of Canada and their sub-contractors, the Mannix Construction Co., unloading heavy machinery and the building of offices, bunk-houses and warehouses is being rushed to accommodate the men and warehouse the material.

A spur is being built on Canadian National Railways property near the booster station. Clearing and grading railway property east of the Francois Lake road preparatory to the building of a large warehouse will begin this week. Loading platforms will be erected on this site.

A camp for workers in transit to the road and tunnel jobs is being erected and, while the camp and warehouse are being completed, work will proceed on the completion of the access road from Burns Lake to Tahtsa Lake. V. A. Roberts, district superintendent for the Morrison-Knudsen firm, has opened his offices in the Tweedsmuir Hotel. From there all phases of the work will be directed.

Prefabricated buildings are being constructed at Burns Lake in readiness to be moved to a road camp near Nadina Post Office.

The road from Nadina to Emerald Glacier will be improved at once and will follow the route of the Emerald Glacier Mines. Within a month five hundred men will be employed and by next year the road contractors and tunnel work will require one thousand men on this section of the gigantic project alone.

As soon as the road to Tahtsa Lake is completed, men, machinery and supplies will move down the big lake on barges. From the west end a tunnel ten miles long and twenty-five feet in diameter will be driven through the summit mountain which rises rapidly from the southerly portal of the tunnel site. A car load of powder per day will be used in blasting and the tunnel, which will be cement lined throughout its entire length.

Sub-contracts will be available to local truckers for the hauling

Sweets Cause Of Bad Teeth

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—Australian children's teeth are in "appalling" condition, according to Dr. Robert Southby, retiring president of the Victoria branch of the British Medical Association.

Writing in the medical Journal of Australia, he said that school medical examinations have revealed only 49 per cent of one group of 20,038 children examined had good teeth.

Of 621 kindergarten children, averaging about four years of age, 79 needed teeth taken out and no fewer than 568 required fillings or dressings. In a group of 8,350 children of pre-school age only 1,222 had good teeth.

Dentists blame refined sugar as one of the causes, according to Dr. Southby's report. Every year Australians eat 131 pounds of sugar per capita, of which half goes into production of candies, cakes, biscuits, jam, condensed milk and other sweetened food.

supplies from Burns Lake.

The Morrison-Knudsen Co., one of the world's largest contracting concerns, has several huge contracts in various parts of the world, including South America and the Far East.

SHIPS AND WATERFRONT

Fresh from an overhaul which included the installation of a fire-sprinkler system, CPR steamer Princess Louise, Capt. Ronald Hicks, docked here from Vancouver at 10:45 this morning enroute to Skagway. The Princess Norah, Capt. Graham Hughes, is relieving the Princess Mary out of Vancouver and will return to the northern run in June. About 13 tons of freight were unloaded here before the Princess Louise continued north at 12 noon. Disembarking here were L. Day, W. P. Clarke, Mrs. E. Cannon, P. Fraser, J. J. Gunn, Mr. Fairclough, Mrs. J. B. Rothe, F. Ibbotson, D. Pratt, J. Campbell, E. K. Lewis, J. R. McIntosh, Mrs. T. McCann and son, R. Dale, Mr. and Mrs. C. Dale, Miss J. Dale, Miss C. Dale. Going north from here were Mr. McLean and R. C. Dudley.

The snag boat Essington, Capt. W. F. Robertson, of the Department of Public Works, leaves tomorrow for her first trip of the season. She has been in the drydock, undergoing her usual overhaul before the summer's work. Accompanying the stern wheelers on the trip up the Skeena, will be J. A. Rutherford surveying engineer of the Dept. of Public Works.

Submarine Epic Here

The undersea war which raged in the Pacific, encounters between submarines and enemy surface craft are portrayed in "Operation Pacific," which begins a three-day local engagement at the Totem Theatre tonight.

Co-starring John Wayne and Patricia Neal, "Operation Pacific" provides the stalwart actor with the kind of action role he does well. For Miss Neal, the film serves as a change of pace from her "bad girl" role in "Breaking Point." She is seen as a Navy nurse in love with a submarine commander whose devotion to submarines nearly cost his love for Pat up on a reel.
