Both tenders were referred to the public works committee for report at a special council meeting this week. Wood & McClay advised the city they could begin work immediately and thought the contract could be completed within six weeks.

Mr. Stewart said he had based his figures on equipment he could rent which would be available "almost immediately."

Miracle Has Happened

WHEN 40 years ago the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway was constructed with federal subsidies, the section which crossed the waistline of B.C. was built on the highly speculative expectation that "some day" it might pay off, writes Roy Brown of the Vancouver Sun. For more than 40 years this turned out to be a terrific disappointment. The old GTP had to be taken over by the federal government. It has been a burden on the people of Canada.

About 15 years ago and several times since, it was even proposed that the line from Red Pass (in eastern B.C.) to Prince Rupert should be abandoned. A parliamentary committee looked into this question and fortunately decided against that step. It was admitted that trade in and out of Rupert had failed to develop as expected; but there was a question of an implied contract between the government and groups of settlers along the line who would have to be bailed out, if the line was abandoned. So a curtailed service was maintained, even though the government—or the people of Canada—lost heavily every month of the year.

And now look what's happened! In a single season the Prince Rupert division of the CNR has been transformed into a money-maker. A pulp deal and the arrival of the aluminum people on the scene have made the difference—and what a difference it is!

Rail shipments of fresh and frozen fish have always been a mainstay of Rupert and that business continues to grow. Columbia Cellulose Co. needs the railway to haul in its logs from Terrace and haul out the acetate product to Eastern Canadian and U.S. textile manufacturers.

A branch line of railway from Terrace to Kitimat is certain to be built to a new city of many thousands of people. Construction of a newsprint or pulp mill in the same area is inevitable. More business for the CNR! Farm people are flocking into the beautiful agricultural and cattle range areas between Smithers and Vanderhoof. New communities on the Coast will require vast supplies of meat and dairy products.

In short, the entire area is enjoying a mild boom, encouraged and demanded because of the amazing developments in manufacturing products of world-wide use, actual profits which even now seem fantastic in their wide benefits and economic importance.

VICTORIA REPORT

... by J. K. Nesbitt

Will Esquimalt Never Behave?—What About Chronics?

VICTORIA.—Esquimalt! When Premier Johnson and Finance Minister Ansonb hear mere mention of the word they put their heads in their hands and groan. Will Esquimalt, politically speaking, never behave?

Esquimalt has been whooping it up now for more than five years. It all started in 1945 when Conservative E. V. Finland should have received the Coalition nomination. But something went wrong somewhere and nomination went to Liberal Charles Beard, who won.

In 1949 Mr. Finland tried once more for Coalition nomination, but lost out to Mr. Beard. Mr. Finland ran on his own as a straight Conservative, was defeated by Beard.

Now the boys and girls in Esquimalt are at it again, as they prepare for a byelection to fill the legislative seat left vacant last November by Charles Beard's death.

It seems pretty well cut and dried at this point, however, and everything is expected to move smoothly for the Coalition. Mike Finland is going to stay out of the contest.

"I'm not interested," he says, and orthodox Tories who must stick with Coalition until the next general election sent up a great sigh of relief.

Mayor Percy George of Victoria seems the man for the Liberals. The Liberals want him and Mr. George would like to be in the Legislature. He'll run under the Coalition banner and this observer would say he'd win.

He's a popular little man, a good fighter. The only thing Esquimalt may have against him is that he'll be a carpetbagger—a man who doesn't live in the constituency.

Messrs. Johnson and Ansonb are putting off the Esquimalt byelection test just as long as they can. They have until the end of October.

Special legislative committee enquiring into the B.C. hospital insurance set-up has many problems before it—not the least being: what to do about chronics?

Chronics are not covered by hospital insurance. This is working real hardship in many cases. Let's just study the facts. A person pays his hospital insurance premiums in good faith over the years. — puts in some down with a heart attack, or a stroke, and is admitted to a general hospital. After a month or so the Hospital Insurance Service comes along and says the man is a chronic and therefore must pay his own hospital bills. This man, of course, cannot possibly afford a bed in a general hospital, so he must try and find a bed in a convalescent home, and pay his own bills, as long as he has any money.

After that, when he's stony broke, the government will give him social assistance—known as relief in the old days.

It doesn't seem quite fair, does it? Most of us are willing enough to pay our insurance premiums, believing hospital insurance a good thing. It makes us feel secure against the terrible, crippling cost of illness. But, when we analyze the whole situation, we find that hospital insurance doesn't cover us against the most financially crippling illness of all—chronic illness.

Chronics will have to be looked after if hospital insurance is to be a success. And chronics will have to be included without any further increase in the premiums. The public won't stand for higher premiums, and the government knows it.

This observer is of the opinion that some of the fat sales tax—$30,000,000 a year, when the government originally only expected $14,000,000—should go into hospital insurance. The sales tax is collected under the Social Security and Municipal Aid Tax Act.

What is adequate hospitalization for everyone, if it isn't social insurance?

NOT ANY BETTER
For months HMCS Ontario, which sailed yesterday, ranged the South Pacific calling at various ports, and showing hundreds of Canadians parts of the globe never seen before. But it is doubtful if they saw a harbor much superior to the one they left today.

SINGLE EXCEPTION

MAKING HEADWAY
A letter from the Canadian government travel bureau, Ottawa, and with a picture of the Peace Tower has been received out west. It was addressed to Mrs. W. M. Doyle, 303 Poplar Crescent, Saskatoon, Sask., U.S.A. We were unaware international negotiations had reached such an advanced stage.

MAY REMEMBER, NEXT TIME
Prince Rupert school students neglected to think of something when hypnotism shows were held here recently. In Kelowna, the practice is going on in schools. Boys and girls, who had been watching professional hypnotists are now trying to put each other under the spell of "their powers" and it's all very confusing and troublesome. It's strictly forbidden, but students decline to give serious heed. There are other matters they find much more interesting.

You hear it said so often that everything is going up. There must be something in it. Indeed, there seems small chance of it being other than the truth. But have you investigated the cost of high living yet?

CONCERNING SIZE
The "Princess Province" is what Alberta is being termed today. The national parks of Banff, Jasper and Waterton are described as "twenty Switzerlands in one" in the latest tour book just released. This has the touch of freshness and originality. This is one time Switzerland is not made to surpass all other mountains in extent, immensity and beauty.

AND 1952 HALF WAY HERE
A funeral in Ohio, this year, costs $513, according to a convention of funeral directors. That is $100 higher than it was ten years ago. And we will wager that in 1941 everyone said $413 was outrageous.

NOT THIS WEST COAST
Every few months, if not more frequently, aviation records a disaster in which none were spared. Late last week forty passengers flying from Capetown to New York vanished when over Liberia on the west coast of Africa. The wreck has been found in the jungle, and the impression is the plane was not high enough to clear a small mountain. Disaster, war, slavery, oppression and other hardships have, in the long past given the west coast a sinister reputation. And if there had to be tragedy again it was nothing new.

HMCS Ontario At Charlottes
Concluding a three-day visit to port, HMCS Ontario left at 11 o'clock yesterday morning for Skidegate where the cruiser will remain for a couple of days before proceeding to base at Esquimalt. Late in July the Ontario will be back here for another visit.

Hospital Must Wait For Help

Prince Rupert General Hospital will have to wait until September before any aid will be considered by city council.

That was reported given by Aid. T. B. Black, finance chairman, at council meeting last night. In view of present market conditions for floating bond issues, request by the hospital association for $50,000 would be deferred.

And if then passed, a plebiscite would be presented to electors at the December municipal elections, Aid. Black suggested.

Miss Lucas returned south on the same steamer today.

C. W. White of McCarter & Nairne, Vancouver firm of architects, arrived in the city on this afternoon's plane and will be here for the next couple of days on business in connection with the completion of the new Nurses' Home of Prince Rupert General Hospital and the new building of the Prince Rupert Daily News.

Army Clears Ancient Debt

When Mayor Stork presided at the opening of the then brand new Citadel of The Salvation Army in December 1910, he heard Major Morris of Divisional Headquarters Staff say that the buildings had cost $13,000 of which only $900 had then been contributed locally and that the balance would have to be met eventually from the local congregation.

William Manson, MLA, turned the key and opened the building which has served Prince Rupert citizens in many and varied ways in those 41 years that have elapsed.

Norwegian immigrants learned to speak English at classes held in its Sunday School room. Aged men burned out at the Pioneer Home were housed until other accommodations could be found. Hungry men in the 30's used to gather for an afternoon meeting and a snack to eat. And with it all the Gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ has been faithfully taught from its platform and souls have been born again.

The vicissitudes of the years, the depression of the fish market, the transient nature of the population which affects Church congregations as it does all other bodies, has prevented the Local Corps from doing much about the mortgage. In 1949 there was still an outstanding amount of $9,650 to be met. Senior Captain and Mrs. W. C. Poulton took this as a part of the general challenge of their command in the North-West and they took the matter to the Lord in prayer and to their people in council. The Lord has blessed and the people have tither, and on Wednesday, June 27 the mortgage will be burned in a simple but sincere ceremony. It is expected that many friends and well wishers will share this happy gathering.

Lutheran Picnic Is Happy Affair

A little tired and quite sun-burned (still) today are members of the St. Paul's Lutheran congregation and Sunday School but they feel it was worthwhile and they enjoyed their all-day picnic Sunday on Tugwell Island.

Parents and their children—about 150 of them—spent the day on the natural picnic grounds of the island swimming, playing softball, other games and races.

Picnic lunches had been taken over on the vessel "C.J.C." which, towing a small barge, transported the party.

Before leaving, at the end of the day, a short devotional service was led by P. Martens, visiting Northern B.C. representative of the British and Foreign Bible Society.

Miss Blanche McIntyre, teacher at Port Simpson, left for Vancouver today on the Camosun. She will spend the summer months in Vancouver and expects to return to Port Simpson when the term resumes in the fall.

Removal of "Oversight" in Municipal Act Asked—Would Pay Mayor $4000

Prince Rupert city council will attempt to correct a "glaring oversight" in the Municipal Act with resolutions to be forwarded to the fall's convention of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities.

Four resolutions were adopted by council at its regular meeting last night, chief of which was an amendment to the section dealing with borrowing power of a municipality.

At present, borrowing power is based on total land and property assessment, valuation of waterworks and utilities, against which is charged existing debt of the city. However, no provision exists where outstanding debts can be offset by sinking funds, explained City Clerk R. W. Long.

Prince Rupert has a loan of $1,740,000, he said, but it also has a sinking fund of $1,300,000. "Actually, our total debt is only some $400,000.

"This particular section of the Act is an oversight, and we are a glaring example of it," Mr. Long said. At a recent convention of municipal officials, Mr. Long had been asked by Deputy Minister of Municipalities B. C. Bracewell to forward a corrective resolution.

Mr. Long said the deputy minister had promised to support such a resolution. Resolution adopted reads:

That the first paragraph of section (a) of section 106 of the Municipal Act be amended to read: "the net outstanding aggregate of such debts, except for works of local improvement and school purposes, shall not exceed 20 per cent of the total..."

If the amendment were adopted, said Mayor G. W. Rudderham, it would greatly increase the borrowing power of Prince Rupert, "which has always been held down by this part of the Act."

Other resolution to be forwarded to the convention asks that a $2,000 increase in remuneration be given mayors and Reeves in all classifications, and a proportionate increase of $500 for aldermen and councillors.

It would raise present salaries for mayors of cities under 20,000 from $2,000 per annum to $4,000; for mayors of cities with population over 20,000 and less than 40,000 from $4,000 to $6,000; and to $8,000 for mayors of cities with population of more than 40,000.

Resolution was also adopted that municipalities associations should appoint one member to the executive, and balance of eight members to be elected from the floor of the convention.

Fourth resolution calls for establishment of a provincial assessment commission to standardize municipal assessments throughout the province, according to recommendations contained in the Cameron and Goldenberg Reports.

HOF-A-LONG CASSIDY'S arrival at Prince Rupert on Union steamship Chilcotin was greeted by hundreds of children and adults, too, and while the steamer docked "Hoppy" leaned over the bridge rail to toss handfuls of aluminum disc souvenirs to his admirers. Hoppy and his wife are travelling under their correct name of Mr. and Mrs. William Boyd, and were in Prince Rupert last night on the Chilcotin.

Farewell to 'Jimmy' Lee

A farewell dinner party was tendered James L. Lee, retiring manager of Atlin Fisheries here for many years, in the Broadway Cafe last evening. The function was arranged by the new manager, Harold Thom, at the instance of S. M. Rosenberg, president of Canadian Fishing Co., the parent concern. Mr. Rosenberg was unable to be present in person but, from Vancouver, sent an impressive letter of tribute to Mr. Lee.

The happy family of Canadian Fishing Co. employees, with whom Mr. Lee had worked so long and by whom he is so sincerely esteemed and respected, was joined by many friends including various officials associated with the fisheries. C. E. Salter, veteran Skeena River cannery manager of Canfishco, was a genial chairman and master of ceremonies. Over 50 attended.

Numerous speeches in praise of Mr. Lee's fine qualities as a friend and executive were made as widespread expressions of regret were voiced at his forthcoming departure from the city. Best wishes were extended to Mr. and Mrs. Lee for their future in the new home at Ganges, Salt Spring Island, for which they will leave next month to live in retirement.

Several fine gifts were also presented — a nine-cubic-foot deep freeze unit from the Canadian Fishing Co., a set of pipes from the Prince Rupert Wholesale Fish Dealers' Association and the Prince Rupert Fishermen's Co-operative Association; a slate totem pole from Mr. and Mrs. Henry Heilm and a silver rose bowl from Edward Lipsett Ltd. During the afternoon a call had been made to present Mrs. Lee with a beautiful bouquet of roses.

John E. Davey sang vocal solos, accompanied by Charles P. Balagno.

The evening's proceeding concluded with a showing of topical moving pictures—one depicting the halibut fishing trip of a Seattle schooner to Alaska waters and the other a colorful story of the Fraser River sockeye with particular reference to conservation measures and the Hell's Gate project in the Fraser River.

PRESIDENT'S TRIBUTE
 After full justice had been done to a splendid banquet repast, Mr. Salter opened the proceedings with introduction of several old and new officials of the company and called upon Harold Thom to read Mr. Rosenberg's letter. The president of Canfishco referred to Mr. Lee's qualities of sagacity, calm and clear thinking and friendliness. His career had spanned almost the entire history of the company. He held the deep affection of all with whom he had been associated and his fine friendship and loyal, constructive and sound management would long be remembered. Mr. Rosenberg was happy to announce that, while he was retiring, Mr. Lee would continue as a consultant and adviser to the company.

In presenting the certificate for the deep-freeze unit on behalf of the company, Harold Thom acknowledged that, in Mr. Lee's departure, a fine friend and good adviser was leaving.

The set of pipes was presented by Charles E. Starr on behalf of Prince Rupert Wholesale Fish Dealers' Association and Prince Rupert Fishermen's Co-operative Association.

Harry Hanson made the presentation for Edward Lipsett Ltd.

Others joining in the laudatory remarks included B. J. Bacon who noted that, with the departure of Mr. Lee, only three of the real old timers would be left—John Davey, Charlie Starr and himself (Mr. Bacon).

W. D. McAr, local manager of Canadian National Express Co., spoke of the fine business relationships between his company and Mr. Lee and read telegrams from F. V. Clare, superintendent at Edmonton, and R. A. Gordon, general superintendent at Winnipeg.

A. L. Holtby and J. C. Gilker added their voices to the tributes of the evening, the former on behalf of the freight department of Canadian National Railways and the latter for other fish companies.

Telegrams were read from Roger D. Hagar, vice-president of Canadian Fishing Co.; T. K. Milne, chief accountant, and C. A. Berner, divisional superintendent at Prince Rupert.

Small Change at Terrace Scarce

TERRACE—This community is faced with a shortage of small change, especially pennies. Several business places couldn't get any one-cent pieces from their bank Saturday and by Sunday the situation was "much worse."

One restaurant sent an employee scurrying around for kiddie's banks from which to collect pennies and small change for bills.

"My nephew had a piggy-bank and my sister had another," the waitress said. The two "banks" helped relieve the shortage.

Sunday Flights Being Added

Sunday air service between Prince Rupert and Vancouver will go into effect on Canadian Pacific Airlines July 1.

The new flight will be in addition to the present scheduled service now operating on the coastal route, making it seven-days-a-week service. There will be no change in the arrival and departure times of the two daily flights in each direction.

The extension of the service is credited to the rapid industrial expansion in the Prince Rupert and Terrace areas, CPA officials stated. They believed that the marked increase in the traffic flow, both north and south, will be a permanent one in view of the fact that the industrial expansion in both areas is also permanent.

Although CPA officials feel that the present extension of the schedule to seven days a week will adequately handle the traffic increase, they stated that the schedule is flexible enough to be further expanded should it become necessary.

Terrace Heat Was Too Much

Most Prince Rupert people like their own climate regardless of the many complaints against rain. At least, that was the opinion of a number of local visitors to Terrace Sunday, when they encountered temperatures of 82 above.

"I don't think our blood is used to this kind of heat," some complained, and were anxious to return to the cool sea-breezes of the coast. Many also felt the air too dry for comfort, and the dust from the gravel roads was "terrible."

THE GUEST REPLIES

Replying to the honors which had been paid him, Mr. Lee assured the gathering that there was one thing no one had heard him do before—that was make a speech. It was gratifying, he remarked, to see the progress that had been made by the community of Prince Rupert and the fishing industry in particular culminating in Canadian Fishing Co.'s own new cannery on the local waterfront.

Prince Rupert had heard talk for many years. Now it was getting real action.

Mr. Lee told how he had been in the fishing business for 50 years, starting out at Fraserburgh, Scotland, as a herring curer and barrel maker and eventually becoming the manager of the branch of a herring curing firm. But the boom in Canada had beckoned and in 1911 he arrived in Vancouver. After two years of vicissitudes and humble jobs in that city, he had come north to be employed in the old Pacofi and Aliford Bay plants on the Queen Charlottes, finally landing in Prince Rupert in 1913. In 1915 he had joined Atlin Fisheries as bookkeeper and later manager which position he had held for 33 years. He recounted the progress of the industry from the early days when Atlin had opened up in a "box" under the Manson Way ramp until today when it had such extensive and up-to-date establishment.

Naming employees of long standing with whom he had worked through the years in the service of the company and officials and contemporaries in the fishing business, Mr. Lee referred to the interesting and happy association which had existed. "Let me tell you that my life's work in the fishing business has been an interesting one and leaves many pleasant memories, none of which will be sharper than that of this gathering tonight which has been simply overwhelming."

Closing incident of the evening was the honoring of a final toast proposed by Jack Broatch, personnel manager of Canadian Fishing Co., and the singing of "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow" and a round of cheers.

Old timers in the service of "Atlin" here who joined in the party to "Jim" Lee included Ted Rorvik, 32 years shed foreman; Ted Strand, 26 years; Hans Langholm, 25 years; Pete Angelo, over 20 years; Henry Helin, commodore of the Canfish packing fleet here; A. W. Burnip, chief engineer.

Newer officials were Jack Broatch of the personnel department; John Fraser, manager of the new cannery; Terry Olsen, Porcher Island; Alan Hale, Skidegate; George Rorvik, office manager; Norman Christiansen, assistant office manager, and Sun Yip, laboratorian. Presence of Capt. Johnny Clausen, who has packed fish for the company for many years, was also specially noted.

Those present were: J. L. Lee, C. E. Salter, N. R. Christensen, A. Burnip, G. Rorvik, T. Rorvik, H. Thom, J. Fraser, J. Broatch, T. Strand, P. Angelo, H. Langholm, J. Bacon, W. Bacon, C. Starr, L. Sunners, T. Penoff, D. Souter, C. Gilker, J. Davey, R. Collinson, T. Boulter, W. McAr, L. Holtby, H. Hill, F. Skinner, J. Fletcher, C. W. Nickerson, J. Smith, K. Harding, B. Bellis, H. Hansen, G. Reade, E. Moore, S. Johnson, Ted Bolter, Terry Olsen, Oscar Smith, T. W. Brown, Henry Helin, Jarvis McLeod, John Clausen, A. Hale, C. F. Balagno, Sun Yip, Sgt. L. A. N. Potterton and G. A. Hunter.

Speeding up Street Work

Why is the city public works department so slow in hard-topping roads during the good weather?

Ald. Darrow Gomez raised the question at last night's council meeting when the subject of street improvements reached a free-for-all discussion.

"We haven't got the crew to work with," replied Ald. Don Fitch, chairman of board of works, "and we didn't have the gravel."

Ald. Fitch said the city found it hard to get men and "it is still harder to retain them at their present wages." He explained that gravel, contracted for by Wood & McClay Ltd., had not been forthcoming.

Mayor G. W. Rudderham explained that the gravel suppliers had a large commitment to the Provincial government public works for construction of the Port Edward Highway.

Mayor said the suppliers had explained their equipment had broken down and they first had to fill the government contract.

"But the gravel is here now," he said. Ald. Fitch promised hard-surfacing of streets would continue as "best we can" under existing labor shortages.

Meanwhile, a letter from J. N. Forman, former alderman, called for action in road improvement for Section Two, the west end of the city.

"The service is deplorable," Mr. Forman wrote, citing there were no sidewalks or sewers and that "a person takes his life in his hands walking on the roads."

Ald. Harold Whalen said he "most heartily" agreed with and endorsed the letter.

"Refer it to the works committee and I will give it all the backing I can."

Ald. T. B. Black said he "fully agreed" that any work done on roads should include work on Atlin and Graham Avenues to the bridge, as strongly urged in Mr. Forman's letter.

"But," he countered, "other sections of the city are just as badly off. There just isn't enough to go around."

Ald. Harry Dagget suggested that citizens in the west end should ask for sidewalks on local improvement plans. "Other sections of the city have had to do that in the past," he recalled.

"Quebec" on Screen Here

Canadian History Incident—With top cast, Unusual plot

"Quebec," at the Capital Theatre this Wednesday and Thursday, is an account of a turbulent and bloody period in Canadian history. Starring John Barrymore, Jr., Corinne Calvet, Patric Knowles and Barbara Rush, this thriller in color tells the story of a glamorous woman who inspired one of the most amazing revolts of all time—and the violent consequences that followed.

The year of the story is 1837 and there is a plan afoot to overthrow British rule in Canada. Corinne Calvet, as a beautiful French Canadian, has been tricked into marrying the commander of British forces in the Citadel of Quebec. Secretly taking charge of the insurrection, she plots her husband's downfall and the advance of the rebel cause.

Known to the rebels only as La Fleur, her orders are relayed to a former lover, Patric Knowles, who with his son, John Barrymore, Jr., is organizing a vast army of trappers and backwoodsmen to capture the city of Quebec.

Under La Fleur's direction, a violent series of ambushes and pitched battles with the Redcoats ensue, and the struggle reaches a climax in a mammoth attack on the heretofore impregnable fortress of Quebec, an attack which finally resolves the fates of all concerned.

Agreement Reached With Government for $3,500,000 Plant

EDSON, Alta.—A pulp mill, estimated to cost $3,500,000, will be erected at Yates, located five miles east of Edson and 123 miles west of Edmonton.

Agreement has been signed between the provincial government and the owner, Northwestern Pulp & Power Ltd. Hon. N. E. Tanner, minister of lands and forests, signed for the government, and G. H. Allen, secretary, and M. A. Egleston, vice-president, for the company.

Under the agreement the province reserves 2000 square miles of pulpwood timber reserves. Machinery for the plant is reported to have been bought and is being shipped from overseas as quickly as possible. The company must start construction of the plant by May 1, 1952, with a minimum capacity of 200 tons of pulp per day. The plant and equipment must be completed by May 1, 1954.

The agreement also provides that the plant shall be extended to manufacture chemical and semi-chemical pulp or both and paper, with expansion for this purpose to start by May 1, 1959, and to be completed and equipment installed by May 1, 1961.

"Headache?.. take a Disprin"

Why DISPRIN? Because DISPRIN is soluble and substantially neutral. When taken in water as recommended, it enters the stomach as a true solution and not as undissolved particles. It is therefore less liable to cause stomach discomfort.

DISPRIN is readily absorbed. Because it definitely dissolves (not merely disintegrates) DISPRIN permits speedy absorption and gives relief without delay.

DISPRIN is palatable. Even children will take it readily.
