communists.

LETHBRIDGE WINS
PARIS—Canada's Lethbridge
Maple Leafs last night crushed Switzerland 5 to 1 to move one step nearer the world hockey championship. All Canada

WHEAT CONTRACT APPROVED
OTTAWA — House of Commons yesterday ended prolonged debate on the controversial Canadian wheat agreement by voting 112 to 42 against an opposition motion criticizing the government's wheat marketing policies.

COMMUNIST RESISTANCE
TOKYO—Stiff new communist resistance against the United Nations offensive still continues and the Allied advance has been reduced to a important Chungchong were thrown back yesterday.

Strike Ties up Paris Transit

PARIS (CP)—Traffic was snarled hopelessly at some Paris intersections today as the city tried to carry on its business without bus or subway services.
Striking transportation workers, seeking wage increases, paralyzed surface and underground lines.
Observers predicted the strike will last several days—perhaps a week.

Alaska Big In Defence

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The $300,000,000 defence budget was approved yesterday. One-third of it will be spent in Alaska.

Great Britain to Produce Atomic Bomb

Without Aid From States

LONDON (CP)—Great Britain decided today to produce her first atomic bomb. It will be built without direct aid from United States and may be ready in the near future.
It is reported that Britain will ask United States Atomic Commission to make a testing site available for the first bomb, probably in the Nevada desert.
It would be difficult, owing to its small size, to find an atomic testing ground in the British Isles.

Woman is Condemned

QUEBEC (CP)—Mrs. Arthur Pitre was tonight convicted of murder as an accomplice of J.
Albert Guay who was hanged
January 12 for Quebec's air line time-bombing that cost 23 lives in September 1949. Judge Noel Belleau sentenced her to be hanged July 20.
The sentence closed the third murder case arising from the destruction of a Canadian Pacific
Air Lines plane September 9, 1949.
Guay, young Quebec jeweler, whose wife died in the plane explosion at nearby Sault au Cochon, was convicted a year ago as the mastermind in the alarm-clock bomb plot.
Genevieve Ruest, Mrs. Pitre's brother, was last December found guilty of complicity. His scheduled hanging, set for yesterday, has been postponed to September 21 pending appeal.

WEATHER

Synopsis
With the exception of the north coast of British Columbia, skies were clear last night. Temperatures dropped below zero at Prince George, 16 at Kimberley to affect only the north coast and parts of the northern interior.

The intense storm which has battered the southern prairies for the last 36 hours has stalled near Regina. Blizzards in the Medicine Hat and Swift Current area were slowly abating this morning as the storm weakens.

Conversion of Former US Building to Apartments

Actual work on the conversion of the former United States Army administration building on First Avenue to an apartment house may get under way by the end of this month, it is stated by a spokesman on behalf of the local syndicate which recently acquired the building from Frank Kafel of Toronto.
Plans have been drawn for the turning of the big building into a 51-suite apartment.
Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation has become interested from the financial standpoint.

New Generation May Regain Rupert's Target Shoot Laurels

Will Have High Mark to Live Up To,
Thinks Theo Fortune
By LARRY STANWOOD
A new group of young men in the city is taking up target shooting—the Rod and Gun Club has opened a rifle range at the Civic Centre—but not too many years ago Prince Rupert was known from coast to coast as tops in marksmanship.

worker. "You're just a sucker for punishment if you do." But Theo says it isn't because he wants fish so badly that he'll go to so much trouble. In fact, he doesn't think it's any trouble. He enjoys matching his wits with the elements, he says.
"Love the outdoors, that's all.
Just love this country."

Theo hails originally from Nova Scotia and came to the west coast just before the First World War. Wounded while serving overseas with the 7th Battalion, a Vancouver unit, he spent a year in hospital before coming to work at Prince Ru-pert's dry dock. A year later he went on the railroad.

For more than 30 years he's been swinging his "hot torch" but he's "got no idea of quitting for quite a while yet."
"Lots of work left here yet," he chuckled.

At present, Theo's welding big steel uprights on "logging flats"—cars used by Columbia Cellulose Company to freight logs from Terrace to Watson Island. Commenting on rows upon rows of the cars in the yard, he said: "There's a regular epidemic of them."

But after work he'll stroll down to the range, chat with some of "the gang," or, if it's young people's night, give a few lessons. But no longer does he try to outdo other marksmen with his past ability of a steady 98-point average.

Use of Prince Rupert Elevator is Advocated

E. T. Applewhaite
Brings Up Matter at Ottawa
—Promised Consideration
OTTAWA (Special to Daily News)—Speaking briefly in the House of Commons debate on the Canadian Wheat Board Act Friday afternoon, E. T. Applewhaite (Lib.-Skeena) stated that he represented a riding with no wheat but with a very good elevator. He gave the storage capacity of the Prince Rupert elevator as one and a quarter million bushels and drying capacity of 48,000 bushels per 24 hours. Mr. Applewhaite referred to Trade and Commerce Minister Howe's remarks as to the need for storage for stocks of tough and damp grain remaining on farms as well as terminal accommodation for such stocks still in country elevators and urged immediate consideration of the use of the government's own elevator at Prince Rupert for such purposes.

Housing is Big Need

ANNOUNCEMENT by the head of Celanese Corporation of America that there is to be further expansion of the big pulp mill project at Watson Island, near Prince Rupert, which is about to commence operations, is received with interest and satisfaction.

While the establishment of this great industry has brought a new era of activity and prosperity to Prince Rupert, it also poses problems and the most serious one is that of housing.

News of further expansion at Watson Island makes the deficiency of housing here, already serious, the more acute.

Even today the company is perplexed with the necessity of finding housing immediately for at least fifty families. And more will be required.

The pulp mill people say that the one big thing Prince Rupert could do would be to find or assist in finding ways and means of augmenting the housing accommodation here.

A challenge seems to be presented to the community.

Somehow or other it is going to have to be met.

The new local project for conversion of the former United States Army administration building to 51 apartments is a definite and very creditable step in that direction. That is the kind of enterprise that is needed. But even that, welcome and helpful as it is, is not sufficient.

Age of Big Development

A LETTER from someone who wished to open a store at Kitimat caused an Aluminum Company executive to smile the other day. There was also a query asking how soon it might be advisable to travel north to look over the situation.

That there was amusement need occasion no surprise. For one thing, a letter like that may have been most unusual, if not rare. There was something so literal about it. To know of an undertaking, even slightly, but on so vast a scale, is to think of it on a basis far indeed from figuring on store building in what is still a wilderness. So it was natural the contrast would not pass unnoticed.

But this is a day of far-reaching plans to be pushed to completion. This is an era that sees accomplishment performed in the minimum of time. And that is what will occur in the north, once the "green light" flashes.

Douks on Islands

IF UNRULY Doukhobors are to be resettled anywhere it will not be on the Queen Charlotte Islands off Canada's west coast, says the Windsor (Ont.) Star. Canadian military authorities are understood to oppose any such plan and their objection is not difficult to understand. It would be an invitation to enemy infiltration or invasion to turn the islands over to that pacifist sect.

TRUE MOTHERLAND
NEW DELHI, India.

The reason I am daily gaining more and more confidence in India's ability to solve her truly titanic problems is because so many strong women are on the job here.

They say that the average Indian, unlike the average Westerner, instinctively thinks of the Divinity as Mother. They tell me that in the southernmost parts of this vast land plain evidences of the ancient system of matriarchy still exist.

The superintendent of a vast chain of demonstration farm villages told me "the men are lazy, the women do all the work except the plowing."

And wherever you turn in or near this capital, where really big things are under way, you find women as the guiding hands and leading spirits in this literal Mother-land.

I HAVE MET SEVERAL remarkable women, all doing really amazing constructive jobs.

One is Miss Mridula Sarabhai, who is the driving force behind the two-nation agreement to restore the abducted women to their proper homes and families—if they themselves freely choose to go.

To understand the magnitude of this job, and also the complications, one has to remember that when the sub-continent was split into two nations, one of the greatest upheavals in all human history took place. Approximately as many people as the total population of Canada were uprooted and forced to flee across the new border, one way or the other.

In the chaos and horrible bloodshed, families were separated. The whole fabric of civilized society broke down. Many women and girls were seized by force and one way or another compelled to live with men not their lawful husbands.

AS SOON AS ORDER was restored, the governments on both sides of the line did what they could do to remedy the situation. But with each passing month and year it became harder and harder to do anything about it.

One woman, however, was determined not to quit—not to let things stay as they were. Although she had been the general secretary of the Congress Party, she dropped out of politics in India in order to make it easier for her to work with the governments of both Pakistan and India.

I WENT TO SEE Mridula Sarabhai the other morning. It was chilly and she stood with her back to a coal fire in the grate.

She is shortish, has black hair turning grey, and wears it bobbed. She wore slacks, but with the knee-length tunic, split at both sides, which makes the so-called "Punjabi pyjama" combination quite attractive.

But for her lovely soft brown eyes, you would take her for a little Indian Napoleon.

WHILE I WAS IN Miss Sarabhai's office she was visited by officials from Pakistan. We later discussed certain difficulties which struck my Western mind:

What happens if the abducted woman prefers to stay with her new "husband" rather than return to the old?

Answer: Once she is able to make such a choice, completely free from domination, she can go or stay, as she chooses.

So with the children, born since the abductions. If the mother wants to take them, the law says she can. If not, the father keeps them. If neither wants them, the Organization takes the children.

Sarabhai laughed when I said: "What happens if, in the meantime, the original husband has married a new wife and prefers her?" These things can be worked out, she said.

I FOLLOWED THROUGH the whole process, from the office of high-powered social workers to the actual camps where "girls" recovered only a few hours were awaiting transport to the larger depots.

I saw and spoke with women (all, by the way, working on charkhas, or little spinning wheels). I saw their babies—one poor little bloke with a nasty growth on his head. I read the figures—that up till the end of last year 6947 abducted women had been rescued (recovered is the official term) from Pakistan to India, and no less than 13,780 had gone home in the other direction.

All this because one woman wouldn't quit, so long as there was a chance of undoing any part of an injury to a single fellow human.

Canadians are buying new cars and trucks at the rate of $900,000,000 worth a year.

Saturday Sermon

PALM SUNDAY
Rev. E. Solland, St. Paul's Lutheran Church)
The Palm Sunday story is written in the Gospel of St. John, chapter 12, verses 12-16. It is a simple account of the triumphant entrance of Jesus into Jerusalem. Yet those who helped to make that occasion a memorable one in the life of Christ did not realize what they were doing.

It says in verse 16: "These things understood not the disciples at first but when Jesus was glorified, then remembered they that these things were written of Him and that they had done these things unto Him." They hailed Him as King, but were not aware that His kingdom was not of this world.

Now the Lord Jesus Christ has an exalted place as the Lord of lords and King of kings. There are times in our lives when we are privileged to honor Him. Yet we too fail to realize just what we do. Only at a later date do we see what the meaning of our conduct is. It is of interest to note that it was the followers of Jesus who shouted: "Hosanna! Blessed is the King of Israel that cometh in the name of the Lord." They did what they should have done though they did not know why.

We who are the followers of Jesus today should have the same desire to honor Him by our conduct. It is true that we may not be aware of just what we do or the results of our deeds but time will reveal just what they mean. There are many today who praise the name of Jesus because someone who was a Christian did them a kind deed. Our voices may praise Him by simply telling someone else just what Jesus has done for us. Our lives speak loudly, so we praise Him by doing the things which may be called practical Christianity. Deeds of love are truly great works that glorify Jesus Christ. In befriending someone or giving practical aid where it is needed, we participate in the wonderful privilege of praise for Christ.

God wants to be praised by His followers. When the procession of people cried praises to God, the leaders of the people rebuked them. Then Jesus said: "I tell you that, if these should hold their peace, the stones would immediately cry out." It is the privilege and the duty of each follower of Jesus to praise Him. Should you as a follower fail in praising Him, He will find a substitute, but you will lose the blessing that should have been yours.

Palm Sunday is a time for again shouting praises to the Lord Jesus Christ. We can do this effectively in our worship service. We can join with others as they sing mighty anthems of praise. When our worship service is finished, we can continue to praise Him by setting our faces to the task which God has set before us. As Christ went resolutely to the cross, we too, can take up our task and fulfill it. Faithfulness is required of stewards. We are stewards of Christ.

Happiest howls a Mother ever heard

BORN in Vancouver, in the taxi speeding their mother to the hospital, these twins were found to be "Rh babies." The doctor sent out an emergency call to the Red Cross Blood Transfusion Service in that city. Soon, both babies had responded to the blood treatment; their complexions assumed a healthy pink; their lusty wails for food made thrilling music to anxious ears. YOU not helped, these babies might not have lived.

Canada's Free Blood Transfusion Service

It is a rapidly expanding service that saves countless lives in emergency every year. It may some day save your own life, or the life of someone you love.

But the Red Cross must have money to maintain this and other Services

Money is needed for Disaster Services, Veterans' Work, Outpost Hospitals, and the many other ways the Red Cross helps to save lives and alleviate suffering. Give willingly, won't you? Give generously, grateful to have a share in this great humanitarian work.

Thrilling Concert

Eugene Band Heard by Bo-Me-Hi Assembly

As hundreds of city students cheered the visiting Eugene High School Band, here yesterday from Oregon, the Eugene school principal's wife, Mrs. Dean Mickelwait, stood at the back of the Civic Centre stage behind the band and said:

"I wish we had that much applause in our home town."

Like real stage troopers, the young Alaska-bound band under their director Byron L. Miller, stepped off the steamer Princess Norah and headed for Civic Centre to present a snappy program.

The Norah, due here at 12 noon, was 40 minutes late and the sailing time for Ketchikan, where the Eugene band was to play last night, was 1:45. It was a race for time as principals of the Booth-Memorial High Schools, A. M. Hurst and R. H. Davidson, rushed their visitors into waiting cabs to transport them to Civic Centre auditorium.

"I don't like having to hurry through our music from one port to another," said Bandmaster Miller, as the 27 musicians filed onto the stage. Thursday night they played to a sell-out crowd in Ocean Falls.

"They do things right—there's no use talking!" said J. L. McIntosh of the Civic Centre. "We're afraid to spend a dollar," added the caretaker as he saw the Eugene band, dressed in their $6500 uniforms and equipped with full band instruments, even to an oboe. Trimmer in the school colors, the uniforms are white, blue and grey.

Mrs. Mickelwait, who said that her husband, the principal of Eugene High School, was unable to make the trip due to basketball tournaments that were being held in the south, explained that the uniforms were bought by the band parents' organization and the effort of the players.

"They practise one hour a day in school and play for dances and public shows," said the principal's wife. She said that there still aren't enough uniforms for the 90 students enrolled from the junior and senior grades in the high school.

The high school band, which has a 20-year-old history, opened their program here with a rousing march.

A highlight of the concert was the cornet solo by Bob Warren, playing "Le Secret."

"The boy did very well—and the whole band is worth hearing. I hope they come again," said E. C. Trumbell, cornet player in the local Shrine band. He thought the trombones were "very good." Mr. Trumbell also pointed out that this high school band had three important instruments that are missing from the Prince Rupert group—flutes, French horns and an oboe.

For the high school taste the classic march "E Pluribus Unum" was changed to "Swing Genevieve," a jazz number.

Depth of feeling was transmitted to the audience by the vocal solo, "On a Hill," sung by Leroy Hershiser, with piano accompaniment by Ronald Spicer.

To close the concert, in response to Principal Hurst's urging that the boat was ready to sail, the band played a frantic novelty number, "Guest Conductor" and "Poet and Peasant."

Proposals to expand the Comanau Sound area during the hal-which left the audience laughing.

INTERVIEWS

What some of the visitors, band members and audience said:

Mrs. A. T. Ford—"I came along with the band from Eugene—what beautiful scenery."

Mrs. D. Spicer, mother of the pianist, Ronald Spicer—"It's a lovely trip—but a little rough on the ocean!"

Henry Phym, B.M.H.S. teacher—"Wonderful—they must be music conscious in their schools, practising a lot."

Otto Crumroy, Grade 11, violinist—"When I leave school I hope to go into church work or business."

Charlene Welch, violinist—"When I graduate this year, I want to train for nursing."

Ronald Spicer, pianist—"I will go on with my music when I leave school."

Leroy Hershiser, cello—"When I leave school I want to go in for church education or I might have to be a chaplain, now that I'm nearing the enlistment age."

Aloys Brown, bass drum—"This is my first time to the north, I like the mountains."

Jim Colburn, snare (percussion)—"I was here last year. But it was sure rough in the sound!"

Bo-Me-Hi: "More!"

The Eugene school band, which has left to play at Ketchikan, Petersburg, Juneau and Wrangell, is due to return to Prince Rupert late Wednesday afternoon, March 21, for an afternoon tea-dance.

Nearly $5 Million—Co-op Big Business

Propose to Can Tuna on Queen Charlottes

Dollar value of fish production of Prince Rupert Fishermen's Co-operative Association for the year 1950 was considerably higher than in previous years in spite of slight decrease in landings, the Association was informed at its annual meeting which, after three and a half days of conference, concluded yesterday afternoon.

Total sales of all departments of the Association amounted to $4,750,000 for 1950.

A large falling off in value of vitamin oils made it unprofitable for any extensive fishing of dogfish livers and almost eliminated landings of high potency viscera. Imports of cheap Japanese liver oils were the chief cause of this and while the situation has improved to some extent, there is little hope of the old prosperity returning.

From a financial standpoint, the auditor's statement showed a good operating picture for the year. The financial picture continued to improve and no difficulty is foreseen in meeting the first major commitments in January of 1952 of redeeming Cold Storage Bond issue, and meeting the first payment of the fish revolving fund deductions.

FEDERATION REPORT

Reporting for the Federation, Manager T. H. Sorensen gave an account of market conditions, emphasizing the competition which now has to be met on the Atlantic coast by halibut, fresh the year round, as well as landings by Norwegian, English and Icelandic boats.

Landings in the Maritime provinces have increased from two to eleven million pounds in the last year. This probably effects Prince Rupert more than any other community.

Proposals to expand the Comanau Sound area during the hal-meeting heard a talk from Dr. J. L. Hart, director of biological research for the Pacific. What he said fitted in with the spirit of the meeting, which welcomed the firmer stand taken by the Federal Minister of Fisheries, the Hon. R. W. Mayhew and the Deputy Minister, Stewart Bates, at a meeting of the industry held in Vancouver in December, with reference to the evident increase in illegal fishing.

By resolution, the meeting endorsed the stand of the Federation board in which they pledged support of any program to carry out fish conservation as well as making certain practical suggestions for voluntary patrol by fishermen. The following resolution was also passed:

"Whereas it is proposed by the Provincial Government to permit the use of our water power resources for industrial development, such as indicated by the proposed aluminum project; and Whereas we appreciate the worth-whileness of such development, and Whereas the livelihood of the fisherman of this province depends upon adequate protection of our fisheries resources, Be it therefore resolved that this meeting go on record as urging the fullest and continued co-operation between the Provincial Government and the Federal Department of Fisheries in but season were endorsed by the meeting and a camp will be installed at Gillen Harbor. It was also decided that iced fish in good condition may be taken on in all of the camps.

Experiments are being made with the canning of tuna at Masset. If this experiment is successful, it will be possible to retain this valuable industry in the north. Up to the present tuna has been sent from this district to Vancouver or Oregon for canning.

The meeting received reports from a number of organizations including the Fishermen's Co-operative Association of Vancouver, the B.C. Central Credit Union, the B.C. Co-operative Wholesale Society and the Prince Rupert Fishermen's Credit Union. An outstanding item brought out in the latter report was the fact that as much as $800,000 had been on loan to the Fishermen's Co-operative Federation from the Prince Rupert Fishermen's Credit Union and B.C. Central Credit Union.

Reg Mawer, field worker for the Department of Extension, UBC, also reported for his organization.

seeing that these resources are adequately protected.

Other resolutions urged the Department to continue its work on tagging, the development of tuna fisheries, and the continued war on destructive sea lions.

DIRECTORS ELECTED

New directors elected were Jacob Strand and R. J. Walker.

Re-elected directors were Martin Eriksen and Fritz Mostad. Directors continuing in office are Pete Husoy, Hans Petersen, Jack Prince, Barney Roald, Chris Berg, Hans Petersen, Anton Martinussen and Bernof Pedersen.

Immediately after the annual meeting adjourned, the meeting of the new board elected as President, Martin Eriksen and vice-president, Pete Husoy.

Votes of thanks were passed to directors and staffs of both the Prince Rupert Fishermen's Co-operative and the Fishermen's Co-operative Federation.

The Fishermen's Co-operative Federation commenced annual meetings yesterday in the Civic Centre. They will continue today.

The southern interior play-offs have yet to be determined between winners of the Kootenay district and winners of the Kamloops-Okanagan district.

The present provincial Senior B champions are Pentiction who won over Prince Rupert in the final at Pentiction last spring.

Victoria Slow in Making Payments

Prince Rupert General Hospital is without funds to meet its current accounts and may have to borrow money if Victoria doesn't send remittance soon covering last month's patients.

Secretary Douglas Stevenson told the hospital board last night that $4500 in outstanding accounts were not paid because "there wasn't any money." If necessary he would "try to make an overdraft at the bank."

And if the hospital insurance department "doesn't come across with a check" by end of month, "we'll be owing a $9000 payroll," he told the board.

About 90 per cent of patients admitted to the hospital are covered by hospital insurance, he said, and these accounts are submitted daily to Victoria for monthly payment.

Meanwhile, the hospital has been operating at a loss since beginning of this year—with a total deficit of $7500.

"Our $8 a day rate just doesn't cover operating expenses," said Mr. Stevenson.

Hospital WA Enthusiastic

Had Successful Initial Year—Looks Forward To Future

Mrs. Jens Munthe was re-elected president of the Women's Auxiliary of the Prince Rupert General Hospital at the first annual meeting which was held on Thursday night with twenty-nine enthusiastic members present.

The complete list of officers for the ensuing year was named as follows:
President—Mrs. J. Munthe
Vice-President—Mrs. L. M. Greene

Secretary—Mrs. R. G. Moore
Treasurer—Mrs. M. B. Lemon
Executive Committee—Mrs. C. H. Elkins, Mrs. A. M. Hurst, Mrs. J. A. Macdonald.
Representative to Hospital Board—Mrs. J. Munthe
Representative to Co-ordinating Council—Mrs. C. G. Ham.

The library committee, consisting of Mrs. Armine Boas, Mrs. W. S. Kergin, Mrs. R. G. Moore and Mrs. M. B. Lemon, was re-appointed Volunteering to assist this committee by going around the hospital twice a week with books for the patients were

He could not possibly have lost anything by trumping with the seven of spades and then the deuce could have been overtaken by dummy's four spot on the third lead of the suit providing that vital second entry to the board.

Never ruff with the lowest card in your trump suit until you've checked to see that there are plenty of entries to the hand on the table.

Mrs. A. M. Hurst, Mrs. H. A. Breen, Mrs. T. J. Boulter, Mrs. T. N. Youngs, Mrs. G. E. Moore, Mrs. C. G. Ham, Mrs. J. D. Galbraith, Mrs. J. P. Cade, Mrs. L. P. Charbonneau, Mrs. Jens Munthe, Mrs. Lester and Mrs. Robert Davidson.

YEAR'S WORK REVIEWED

The report of the secretary, Mrs. R. G. Moore, reviewed the numerous helpful activities that had been carried out during the year to augment the facilities and resources of the hospital itself and to assist the hospital and nurses' Home. Two principal projects of the year had been formation of a patients' library service and providing furniture and drapes for the living room of the new nurses' home. To raise money for these projects, the Auxiliary had made several special efforts during the year and over $1000 was spent.

The library service had set up with good effect. All floors were now being serviced twice a week. Patients received the service with enthusiasm. A double benefit was the personal contact with the patients.

The Auxiliary members suggested the secretary's report, had good reason to feel proud of their accomplishments in less than a year. The general public had responded well to appeals and more and more women were becoming aware of the work that was being done. It was hoped that the interest and membership would continue to expand.

A vote of thanks was tendered to the retiring officers and executive for the splendid work they had done during the past year in putting the Auxiliary on a solid foundation.

I'm hard of hearing, yet no one is aware of it. I have corrected my hearing loss with the new UNEX 200, the smallest hearing aid available. ## WATERFRONT - - WHIFFS

$750,000 Plant on Local Waterfront To Be Ready by June 1

The new quarter-million-dollar cannery of Canadian Fishing Company Limited at ocean dock is 75 per cent completed and will be ready for operation by June 1.

Harold Thom, assistant manager of Atlin Fisheries—a subsidiary of Canadian Fishing Co.—said today that progress "has been very satisfactory" and that the job "is well up to schedule."

With a capacity of some 5000 cases (96 pounds) daily, this installation is the company's largest plant in Canada, said Mr. Thom. It replaces the old Carlsle operation on the Skeena River which was demolished due to lack of rail facilities.

Management expects to employ about 175 people when in full operation, 100 of which will be women and girls. One cold storage unit, handling 320 tons of ice, is already in operation at the new plant.

To date, nearly all the "big work" has been done. Materials and equipment have been obtainable without undue delay, the acting manager said.

Two huge steam boilers have been installed and are awaiting inspection. The reform line—where tins are re-formed—is completed, as well as fish-holding bins. Six cooking retorts—there will be eight—are in place and transformers for distribution of electricity have been installed.

Office, first aid room and employees' dressing rooms are nearing completion.

Temporary construction hold-up is installation of an 8000-gallon fuel tank.

There has been no contracting on this job, said Mr. Thom. Canisco has its own construction and installation mechanics. Tony Van Snellenberg is mechanical superintendent for this plant.

"I don't think we'll have any employment problem," said Mr. Thom, adding that already many applications for seasonal work had been received.

C. E. Salter, veteran Skeena cannery manager and now northern production manager for the company, will head the season's operations of the new plant. He arrives in Prince Rupert Monday on an inspection tour.

CO-OPERATIVE ANNUAL
Annual meeting of the Prince Rupert Fishermen's Co-operative Association, reports of which have been carried in the Daily News with a final recapitulation today, was an event of interest during the past week in which many fishermen participated. A large delegation came from Vancouver including T. H. Sorensen, manager of the British Columbia Co-operative Federation; G. T. Greenwell, general manager of the British Columbia Fishermen's Co-operative Association; Don Bentley, A. V. Hill, John Donaldson, Colin McKea, Ronald Cosulich, Eric Helmer, Morgan Berg (Victoria) and Fred Yorke-Banfield, came north for the proceedings and are leaving by the Chilcotin tomorrow night on their return to Vancouver. Reg Mawer of the University of British Columbia extension department was also here. From the Queen Charlotte Islands came C. W. Minaker of the Masset Co-operative Association.

With May 1 still accepted as the opening date although not, as yet, officially promulgated, overhauling is now the order of the day with the halibut fleet and work at the boatbuilding yards and the engine shops is becoming intensive. In addition to the opening of the season, official announcement is also awaited of certain changes in the regulations under the International Fisheries Commission. A few vessels of the regular fleet—but not a great many—are engaged in ground fishing for flounders, soles, etc.

A figure who was well known in waterfront circles all along the coast, including Prince Rupert, has made his last voyage. It is Capt. Art Baker, who for years was skipper of the Galt Bros. commercial boat Caribou, which makes periodical visits to Prince Rupert. Capt. Baker, who was a redoubtable angler and outdoor sportsman and is also remembered as the raconteur of many tall tales of his own prowess and that of others, was 85 years of age. He had been in hospital for a few weeks prior to his demise. Surviving are a wife and son. Before joining the Caribou, Capt. Baker was a tug-boat master. At one time, he also owned boats of his own.

Disembarking from the steamship Chilcotin, Capt. Harry McLean, which arrived in port at 1:45 p.m. yesterday from Vancouver with 160 tons of freight for Prince Rupert, were: Mrs. J. Rintoul, E. A. Williamson, Mrs. E. Arnott, V. Carolel, M. Naccarato, R. McCarl, Mrs. V. Ward, Mrs. M. Millan, Const. Turner,

Picture Gets Fine Reception

"Two Weeks With Love" has been getting a fine reception at the Capitol Theatre Thursday and Friday. It closes tonight.

One of those light and happy pictures which there should be more of these worrysome days, it combines a wholesome family story of adventures at a seaside holiday resort with tunesome music and colorful episodes.

Of course, it is essentially a comedy although it does have its moments of ingenious poignancy.

Jane Powell and Ricardo Montalban have the romantic leads. Louis Calhern and Ann Harding are papa and mama. Phyllis Kirk is the feminine menace. Carleton Carpenter and Debbie Reynolds are a pair of irrepressible teen-agers.

The period is the happy days just before World War I and several of the good old songs of those times are featured.

Mrs. R. H. Garrett and two children, Mr. and Mrs. Al Stanton, Caren Headrich, Miss H. Hanson, W. Nesbitt.

Sailing for Vancouver on the Chilcotin tomorrow night from Prince Rupert will be D. Bentley, A. Hill, T. H. Sorensen, G. Greenwell, C. McKea, J. Donaldson, Eric Helmer, M. Berg, F. York, A. Eytan, R. Cosulich, Miss G. Kaye, Miss S. Freisen, M. S. Duffus, Mrs. W. A. Williamson.

Disembarking from the Princess Norah, Capt. Graham Hughes, which arrived here from the south at 12:45 yesterday, were: R. Hardy, S. Falkenburg, A. McKay, Mrs. Whitmore, L. A. Dye. Some general cargo was unloaded here, with 450 tons aboard for Skagway, Alaska.

Ole Strand, well-known city pioneer, is a patient in the Prince Rupert General Hospital.
