SUEZ CANAL SITUATION IS EXPLOSIVE

Regina Joins In Welcome

REGINA — Westerners continued to whoop it up for the royal visitors in Regina today as they arrived this morning from Winnipeg which had given them a high, wide and handsome welcome yesterday.

From the wheat fields and the truck farms of the flat prairies and from the homes of the cities, people are coming out to throat up a boisterous reception. Yesterday at Winnipeg the welcome ran like wildfire along seventeen crowded miles of city streets. It was very much the same only on a smaller scale here today.

Today a western-style, heart-warming display thawed the knifing chill of a bitter north wind which swept through the thousands who crowded the city streets for Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip.

The Princess, her nose reddened by the below-freezing bite in the air, clutched her mink coat tightly about her as she started on her tour of wheat-growing Saskatchewan with Prince Philip.

A closed car is now being used for the royal couple instead of the open convertible in which they had ridden in the East.

The couple stepped into the frosty day here after their arrival at 10:08 a.m., about eight minutes late.

A crowd of about 15,000 Regina men and farm families shouted a prairie "hello."

"A BIT NIPPY"

"A bit nippy," remarked the Princess as she came off the train.

Light overnight snow had sprinkled district and station lawns still lightly dusted with snow at their arrival.

While the demonstration here lacked in numbers that of Winnipeg's 200,000 yesterday or the wild enthusiasm of that city's ear-shattering and uproarious celebration, the reception here still gave the Princess and Duke a taste of what the west can turn out in the way of hospitality for visiting royal folks.

Crowds smashed through the police lines time and again in Winnipeg. They looped alongside the Royal car, inches away, trampling each other in a tangle of cheering humanity. The parade had to stop time and again while the sweating police cleared new paths.

The royal couple arrived by train accompanied by Rt. Hon. and Mrs. J. G. Gardiner and were met by Lieutenant-Governor W. J. Patterson, Premier T. C. Douglas and Mayor G. N. Menzies.

They visited the City Hall and Parliament buildings before arriving at Hotel Saskatchewan for a Lieutenant-Governor's luncheon. Then they proceeded to the Canadian Legion Memorial Hall, the Exhibition Grounds and the Veterans' Home.

The highlight of the visit to Regina came at the Royal Canadian Mounted Police barracks late this afternoon when a display of horsemanship, including the famous Musical Ride, was put on. The show was staged inside because of the cold weather.

Early this evening there will be a thirty-minute stay at Moose Jaw and later twenty minutes at Swift Current.

Tomorrow, the Princess and Duke arrive in Calgary where another typical western welcome, such as only Calgary can present, awaits them. The chuck wagon and everything else will be turned out in the old Alberta cow town.

Jack McRae to Meet Princess

To attend the reception of Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip in the capital early next week and the special session of the Legislature to follow, J. D. McRae, M.L.A. for Prince Rupert, will be leaving the city by air Saturday for the south. For health reasons, Mrs. McRae does not expect to be going south. Members of the Legislature and their wives will be among special guests who will be presented to Their Royal Highnesses during the reception in Victoria.

Ismailia Bristles As Both Sides Land New Reinforcements

CAIRO (CP)—Ismailia, in the Suez Canal area, was an armed camp bristling with machine-guns and tanks today as both British and Egyptians rushed reinforcements there. At the same time, Britain faced new trouble in the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan.

One leader of the powerful pro-Egyptian Sudanese Ashigga Party called upon the people of the Sudan for a campaign of disobedience to the British authorities there in the effort to drive Britons out of the land over which Egypt has now proclaimed King Farouk the sole monarch.

In the Suez Canal area, the British reported the Lancashire Fusiliers, military and Royal Air Force forces and Egyptian police in control of the city of 50,000 which was rocked by violent rioting yesterday.

British parachute troops, 3500 strong, are taking off from Nicosia, Cyprus, only 300 miles away, to reinforce the British in the canal zone.

Warehouse Disappears

Great Structure on Local Waterfront Almost Entirely Gone Now

Demolition of the former huge United States Army warehouse on the local waterfront has reached the final stages. All remaining now of the once great structure are two concrete elevator shafts which, like the other four, will be blasted down, some concrete floor and a small corner of structure being used as an office by the wreckers.

"Otherwise it is just a case of cleaning up," said Superintendent Pettibone this morning. "We expect to be finished about the end of November." The contract is to level everything off to the bare ground.

About fifteen men are employed today.

A large quantity of broken concrete that once formed a part of the huge warehouse that has been taken down to be used for other purposes has been delivered at Second Avenue and Second Street on property owned by Home Oil Distributors Ltd. This corner was once the site of the David Hays block which was standing as long ago as 1909. Then, there was no street grading or sidewalks, and very few other buildings. In later years, it was burned down.

Handicrafts as Industries Lag

TOBERMORY, Ont. (CP)—Authentic regional souvenirs are being turned out the year round by the 350 residents of this Georgian Bay village to cash in on the summer tourist trade.

Their handicrafts are aimed at the 50,000 persons who annually stop at this picturesque community on the tip of Bruce Peninsula or who pass through here on their way to Manitoulin Island.

Many women are busy making Tobermory's official tartan—adopted from the MacDonald, Lord of the Isles—and men and women turn out hand-made jewelry and leather work.

The villagers have their Tobermory committee to handle the goods through a community store on the harbor. This summer, even though hampered by a late start, the store sold 394 locally-made articles.

The village turned to handicrafts when it says its old standby industries—lumber, fishing and farming—dying out for lack of forests, fish and good land.

Last January, the Ontario Department of Education sent in instructors in handicrafts, and Tobermory got busy.

After the good results of this summer's sales, the village promises to be busier than ever this winter building up stock.

UN Advance Near Kumsong

EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea (CP)—Allied infantrymen drove to within rifle range of Kumsong on the central front today.

Chinese defenders retreated slowly before the advancing U.S. 24th Division and the South Korean Sixth Division.

Allies gained 1500 to 2000 yards in the fifth day of their drive towards the Red's central Korean bastion.

Adequacy of Housing Program Questioned

OTTAWA (CP)—Reconstruction Minister R. H. Winters told the House of Commons Tuesday that the federal government has lived up to its obligations in the housing field. His statement was immediately challenged by the CCF.

Adequacy of Housing Program Questioned

OTTAWA (CP)—Reconstruction Minister R. H. Winters told the House of Commons Tuesday that the federal government has lived up to its obligations in the housing field. His statement was immediately challenged by the CCF.

Mr. Winters said that 344,000 housing units had been completed in Canada in four years from 1947 to 1951 and another 85,000 likely will be completed this year.

Speaking in continued debate on the Speech from the Throne, the minister said the government, "by adjusting its policies to meet conditions," had lived up to its obligations with the result that it has guarded against undue increases in the cost of houses.

Alistair Stewart (CCF—Winnipeg North Centre) said the minister's statement is an "utter travesty of the truth." In 1945 the government had promised housing for everyone at a few dollars per month but people now had to pay $65 to $80 per month for a few rooms. No provision was made for persons with the average income of $45 to $46 per week.

Dye Smear Clue to Lost Plane

WESTOVER AIR FORCE BASE, Massachusetts (CP)—A smear of yellow dye was found on the sea today, 490 miles east of Cape Cod by a search plane seeking Stratofreighter and her crew of 11. Officers said the dye marker was consistent with the dye carried in pneumatic rafts used by planes. Capt. Lewis Randolph, who found the smear of dye, reported he did not see the raft.

WESTOVER AIR BASE, Mass. —A faint SOS in the North Atlantic Tuesday spurred the around-the-clock air and sea search for a lost strato-freighter plane and her crew of eleven.

Some 100 aircraft are hunting 60 miles on each side of the 2,436 mile track the four-engined C-97 Boeing military transport would have taken enroute from Lagos air force base in the Azores to Westover. Weather for the search was good.

The distress call was picked up by a Royal Canadian Air Force Lancaster while flying 115 miles southeast of Nova Scotia may have come from the strato-freighter or its survivors, the Air Force said.

Taft Throws Hat in Ring

WASHINGTON, D.C. —Senator Robert Taft announced Tuesday that he will run for the presidency of the United States. It was his first all-out bid for the Republican presidential nomination.

Taft told a press conference that he feels confident he will be "nominated and elected" as Republican president.

Housing

EARLY action on the long-mooted low rental housing scheme for Prince Rupert is a matter for much gratification. It is certainly not coming too soon and most certainly it will be no more than is necessary to fill the need. Even with its accomplishment, it is to be anticipated that there will still be a housing stringency in Prince Rupert what with the new industrial development of city and district which is constantly bringing new people here and leaving others who want to come.

Meantime, it is to be hoped that something also may be done before long in aiding builders of their own homes here—people who are now almost priced out of the market.

Very wisely the federal government has eased its restrictions on mortgage money under the National Housing Act. It was soon apparent that the suspension of the one-sixth loan available under NHA was too drastic.

Even with the new regulations, automatic provision of badly needed housing should not be taken for granted. The shortage of mortgage money, though easing, is still reported acute by lending institutions. There has been no assurance that house appraisals by Central Mortgage & Housing Corporation will be made more realistic than they have been—on a basis of costs prevailing nearly two years ago. Also, no system has been set up to channel a steady flow of essential materials to builders.

However, the government's action on mortgages should help the immediate housing problem. If other issues are tackled as courageously and promptly, as they arise, there can be no doubt that Canada's shelter position will be immeasurably improved.

Immunization Week

THIS is National Immunization Week in Canada when health authorities throughout the Dominion call to the public attention the dangers of diphtheria, whooping-cough and smallpox and the means for protecting children—and others—against these diseases by immunization which service is made readily accessible to the public from the family doctor or the public health services.

Last year in Canada there were 12,182 cases of whooping-cough and 421 cases of diphtheria, and 354 victims of these two diseases, which health authorities have established are preventable, lost their lives.

There are still a few people in the country who do not hold with immunization practices but their number is constantly growing smaller in the face of increasing medical achievements and proofs along this line.

An important thing about immunization is that it not only protects the person who is immunized but the other person as well.

Sleeping Late

IT is not so bad to sit up late at night if you can sleep late in the morning, observes the Vancouver News-Herald. That is what many people arrange to do.

But the birds will not sleep any later. Nor will the sun co-operate by staying longer below the horizon. Traffic cannot be rerouted beyond the range of sound.

There will, too, be people who went to bed very early. Consequently they have neither the need nor the desire to lie in bed very late. When they get up they will draw baths.

No doubt these people, wanting to know what has transpired during the night, will turn on a radio news program.

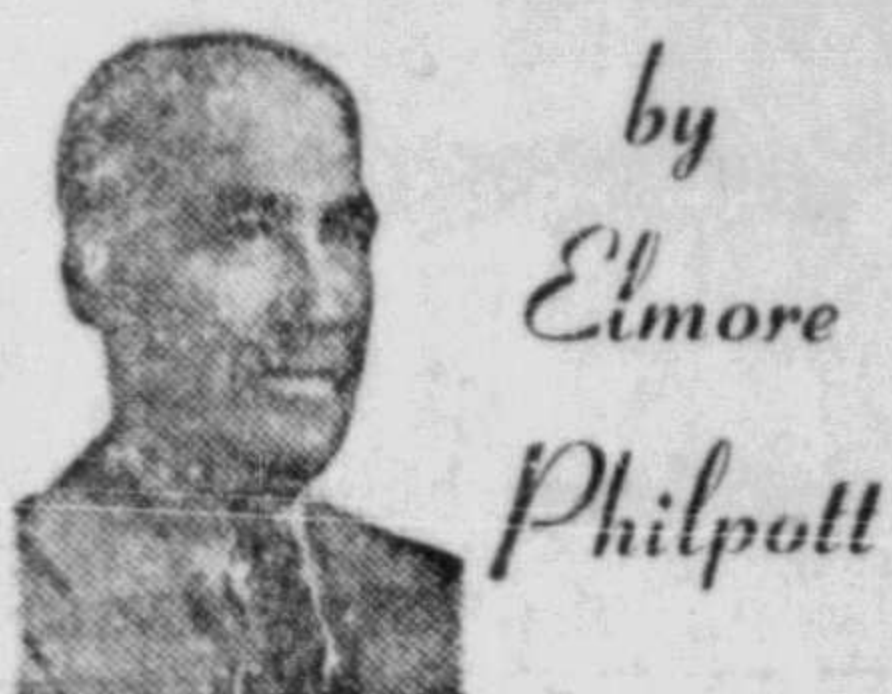

Little dogs next door will bark, little children will play under your window. People will slam doors.

These noises will arouse your curiosity. They will create anxiety about your most cherished possessions. It will do no good to cover your head with a pillow. So you might just as well get up and try to get through the day with the help of aspirin and coffee.

People who propose to sleep late should realize that they can achieve their end only by persuading all of mankind and nature to do so along with them.

As I See It

Best Show in Britain

LONDON. — The best show in Britain, especially at election times, is in Hyde Park of a Sunday afternoon.

Two weeks ago there was a definitely hushed note to the proceedings—with the King on the operating table. Last winter, when I was here before, the speeches by the Tories, for instance, had a studiously jolly air—a sort of "let's go slumming, you chaps."

It is very different now. They had the biggest crowds I ever saw in Hyde Park this afternoon—and the Tory speaker had the biggest crowd of all, but it was mostly hostile.

I HEARD about six religious speakers, usually with small crowds, some telling of the second coming of Christ. I listened a few minutes to two young Spiritualists, with their hair studiously pulled down to make them look unusual.

One was in hot argument with a British housewife about which produces what—mind matter or matter mind. I saw one heckler so badly worst a freakish, bearded young speaker that the latter simply quit and left his speaking place.

I listened to half a dozen Irishmen, all "agin" the (British) government. Also I heard a Fascist, with an audience of five, argue that Britain had Fascism already under Mr. Attlee. I saw a fierce two-man argument between a speaker who said that Britain got no help from America in the recent war and a very dirty, dishevelled, but strongly opinionated man who answered:

"Aw, come off it—where wuz you, anyway—blinded down the bleeding cellar?"

A NEGRO for the Colored Workers' Association told of what happened to him when he landed as a seaman in the southern U.S. in 1921. It was not very nice.

One clever Irishman had the biggest, jolliest crowd of the day by setting himself up off the beaten track and over a low fence—so that he escaped most competition from other speakers and hymn singers. His wisest crack was at the expense of Winston Churchill:

"I know a gentleman," he said, "who gets £5,000 a year for going like this." He mimicked Churchill's famous V sign.

NO LABOR or Liberal speakers were speaking during the hours I was in Hyde Park today. But both the Conservatives and the Communists—side by side—were having a lively time—the Tories the hottest.

Last winter the crowds would give the Tories a respectful hearing, interrupting only enough to show them they thought the line handed out was mostly eyewash.

But now it is very different. The Tories had different type speakers, too—very working-class in appearance. In fact, when I first went up to their crowd, I thought it was the Communist meeting, for the speaker so looked the part. He was trying to convince a vociferously skeptical audience that under the Tories social welfare would be just as well maintained as it had been under Labor.

EVEN IN HYDE PARK the British show some of their most admirable national characteristics. The actual on-the-spot debate is much more intelligent than we ever have it in Canada in public meetings.

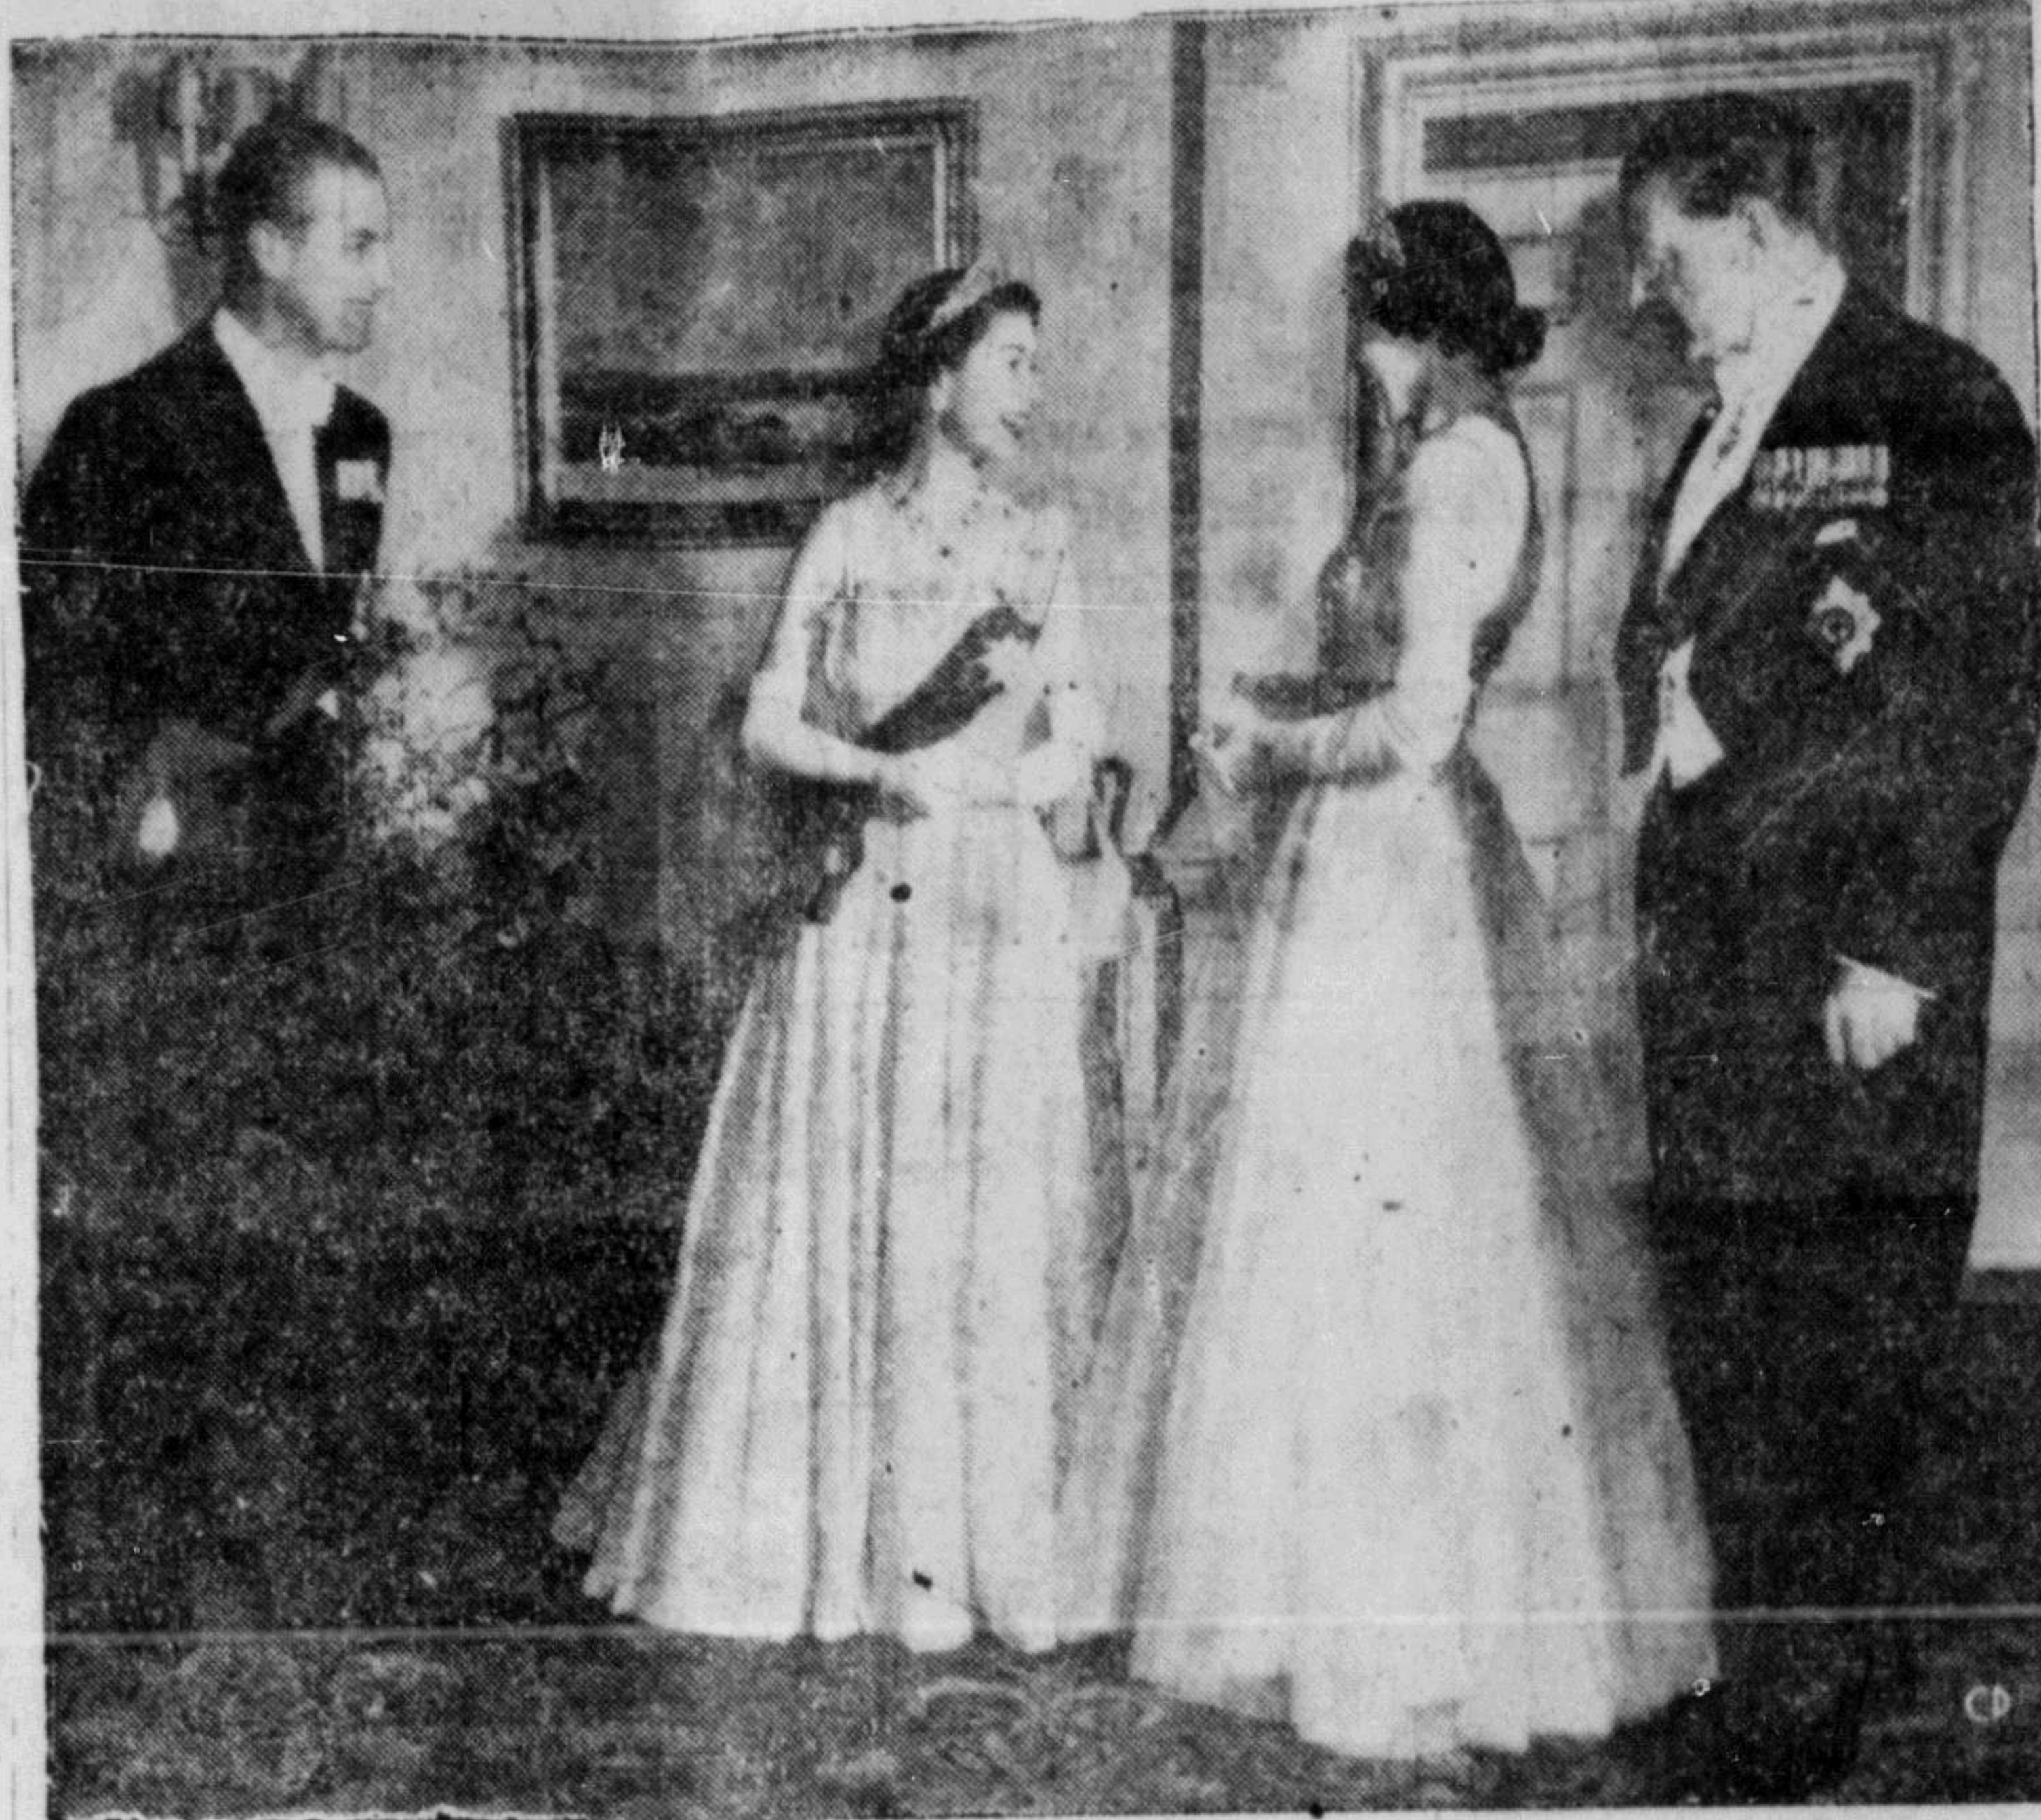

I can remember speaking to stormy meetings myself. Also I can remember when the late R. B. Bennett was Prime Minister when in an hour's speech, hardly a sentence he said failed to get the answering roar of boos.

But here in this poor man's parliament—Hyde Park—it is not just blind opposition—it is not just negative reaction.

The speaker must actually debate his crowd. They are just too well informed for him to get away with anything—and that goes for Conservatives all the way around to Communists.

Also, if the British ever were inhibited and shy, they certainly are not when they go to Hyde Park. If they think the speaker is talking rot, they say so—women as well as men.

Prince Edward Island is only a little more than one-sixth the size of Vancouver Island. P.E.I.'s area is 2,184 square miles and that of Vancouver Island about 12,408 square miles.

Reflects and Reminisces

BELIEVE IT OR NOT

Think what you could buy in Victoria, back in the nineties in the way of a square meal! Two bits would purchase this in the Poodle Dog cafe: consomme, fish, salad, ham, oysters, chicken, rum omelette, stuffed turkey, roast beef, lamb, sprouts, vegetables, plum pudding, hard and brandy sauce, pies, mixed fruit, assorted cake and Canadian cheese.

A totem pole will be presented to Princess Elizabeth in Stanley Park. The simple ceremony will be performed by a native girl. We'll wager the colorful novelty and serene beauty of ancient trees will be found refreshing after all that has already taken place.

They say Winston Churchill may return as MP. Age cannot wither, or custom stale his infinite variety of verbs and adjectives.—Detroit Free Press.

LOOKS LIKE IT

It's too bad to suddenly miss a handy roll like $90. Yet that much was stolen at a dance in Prince Rupert, the other night. Only the previous evening almost an equal amount would have vanished from a rooming house office but for the vigilance of a watch dog. There has always been more or less thieving here but, undoubtedly a gradual change in population is setting in. It's a change that's making pilfering more pronounced.

It won't be the fault of this country if the royal party fail to be reminded of Canada in the months to come. Latest possessions include a suit of buckskin, a totem pole and case of maple sugar.

A MASTER DEAL

Disraeli has been dead for many a year but could he hear Egypt telling Britain to get out of Suez he might have a few pertinent remarks to make. It was in 1872 that Lord Beaconsfield, as British Prime Minister, succeeded in purchasing the Suez Canal controlling interests. Few premiers have ever put over a deal that had such momentous results from the standpoint of national weal.

The physical short cut was also an advantage that gave power and prestige on a scale never approached before. Before Suez, contact with Eastern seas and hard-won possessions meant navigating the Cape of Good Hope. No nation gained greater and more immediate saving in distance and in time.

Cold Weather Hitting Crop

EDMONTON — Cold weather has practically brought harvesting on the prairies to a halt again. A heavy loss in crop already becoming apparent. Northern Alberta and the Peace River have much of the crop still to bring in. The first fall of snow has come in several parts of the province.

Milk Price Takes Jump

As milk prices went up three cent a quart in Vancouver this week, an increase of three cents a quart in Prince Rupert is announced.
The basic price of fluid milk in Vancouver now is 22c per quart.
Here it will be 29c.
Other Vancouver milk prices are: special, 24c a quart; butter-milk, 19c; skim milk, 18c; sub-standard cream, 49c; table cream, 52c; whipping cream, $1.35.
Table cream at Prince Rupert is $1.10 a quart and whole cream $1.50.
Local dairymen explain differential between here and Vancouver on milk and prices as being due to a sea freight cost plus cartage, higher handling and charges here generally.

Rich Tuna Disappear

Appear to Have Gone Altogether From B.C. Waters

VANCOUVER (CP)—The elusive tuna, worth more than $1,000,000 last year and more than that in 1948, have again disappeared.

The sleek, rich fish appeared in quantities in British Columbia waters a few years ago and have just as suddenly vanished.

Two of the best-equipped research vessels in the Canadian and United States government patrol fleets have returned with empty hooks after extensive cruises, covering a giant square of the Pacific Ocean between Cape Blanco and the Queen Charlotte Islands.

Salmon trawlers who went out to familiar tuna grounds in mid-July found no sign of fish and research vessels were sent out with the same result.

British Columbia producers are importing some three thousand tons of frozen tuna from Japan.

Attendance at Night School Disappointing

Unless more people turn out, Tuesday night school classes, they will not continue.

Preliminary registrations indicated three full classes but at opening night yesterday only ten in each class showed up, said A. A. Hurst, principal of Booth Memorial High School.

Number required in each class is 15. Three classes which got under way are English, typing and bookkeeping.

Music Director Fred Huber was disappointed in the turnout for his band class. Although 10 had previously registered for fundamental band instruction, only two arrived.

"Frankly, I'm disappointed. I thought more people here would take this opportunity which they possibly won't find anywhere else."

Would Speed Salary Deal

Prince Rupert teachers will press for speedier adjustments in salary scales to be in line with living costs.

In the past adjustments have not been made until "months at least" had elapsed following setting of living costs. R. G. Moore, chairman of salary committee, told the Prince Rupert Teachers' Association at its monthly meeting.

"This has resulted in adjustments lagging and over a year's period has created a hardship."

Teachers will investigate the possibility of group insurance. Frank Moore has been in contact with an insurance company representative and further details will be circulated among the teachers.

G. McNeill has been nominated official representative to the proposed Citizenship Council. A representative to the Education Week Committee also will be named.

All teachers have been urged to become members of the Civic Centre Association.

Jailed and Fined After Escapade

Silas Dennis, 18, of Port Simpson, was sentenced in police court yesterday to seven days in jail for driving while intoxicated and fined $100 and $3.50 costs or two months in jail, for taking a car without the owner's consent. The sentences are to run consecutively. Dennis figured in a police chase Monday after taking a car in which he careened wildly through downtown streets.

Mrs. E. Connery arrived on the Prince George today after an absence of 3½ months visiting in Vancouver and Vernon.

Phil Lyons Credit Head

G. P. Lyons is the new president of the Retail Creditors' Association of Prince Rupert, having been elected at last night's annual dinner meeting to succeed R. H. Parker.

Mrs. Pebbles Dickens was elected first vice-president and William Bryant, second vice-president.

W. S. Noble was the choice for treasurer which office has now been separated from that of secretary.

Mrs. Catherine Laurie, manager of the Association's Credit Bureau, is secretary.

Progress made by the Association in its first year of existence was evidenced when the report of President Parker showed an increase from the original membership of 13 to 59 active members, eight associate members and four impending members today.

Committee chairmen reported in the persons of G. P. Lyons, publicity; William Bryant, program and entertainment; and W. F. Stone, membership and education.

The Association decided to take out patron membership in the Civic Centre at a cost of $50.

Mrs. Laurie reported on a move which was being made to form a Credit Women's Breakfast Club here. Membership would be key women personnel of local businesses more especially identified with credit phases.

It was reported that Mrs. Laurie would be interviewed next week on the regular weekly broadcast of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The meeting heard messages from the president of the National Retail Credit Association of St. Louis, the Associated Credit Bureaus of America and the Credit Grantors' Association of Canada.

George Cook was in charge of arrangements for last evening's dinner.

Industry and Church Life

To observe what, if any, change the advent of big industry like Columbia Cellulose has had on the church life of the city, Rev. Wyburn Skidmore, pastor of First Methodist Church at Ketchikan, is a visitor in the city. He arrived on the Sidney Monday night and is returning north on the Prince George tonight. Establishment of a pulp mill, even larger than Prince Rupert's is impending at Ketchikan.

AGED FURNACES HEAT ROBBERS

The owner of an average heating system five or more years old is warned by National Warm Air Heating Association that the odds are 7 to 1 his winter heating bill is at least 10 percent more than necessary.

This is because 7 out of 10 older type systems of heating are in need of repairing and cleaning. Air leaks in and around furnace combustion chamber, soot in the chimney, a furnace, warped burned pipes, corroding smoke pipe all waste heat right in the furnace itself. Therefore using more fuel to keep the proper temperature.

Heating experts report that home owners are "robbing Peter to pay Paul" through use of improper firing methods and negligence in furnace maintenance.

The majority of costly repairs could have been avoided if owners had followed a regular program of having heating systems inspected each year, says the heating association. Minor repairs can add proper service to heating systems and insure health and safety of families.

Stone Carving Eskimo's Gift To Elizabeth

OTTAWA (CP)—A delicate stone carving of an Eskimo mother and child, shaped with crude tools by a Cape Dorset Eskimo, will be presented to Princess Elizabeth just before she leaves Canada for home.

The presentation will be made by Resources Minister Winters when the Princess and Prince Philip visit Halifax November 7 and 8. It will be given to her on behalf of Canada's Eskimo people who populate the northland she has never seen.

The carving is the work of Munamee, an Eskimo from Nuvvuak, a camp in the Cape Dorset region of southwest Baffin Island. It was the finest item in a large collection of Eskimo craft recently brought from the north by representatives of the Canadian Handicrafts Guild.

It is a carving of an Eskimo mother carrying a child in her caribou parka. The mother is sitting tending a Kudlik or soapstone lamp.

Munamee, who delighted members of the guild expedition with his work, has only the crudest of tools. He shapes a blade from scrap metal and gives his carving its final smoothness by buffing it with harder stone. The stone from which the carving is made is extremely delicate and liable to damage.

Princess Elizabeth will be warned of this when the presentation is made.

Studies Radar Mirage Problem

TORONTO (CP)—The National Research Council is scanning Lake Ontario from nearby Scarborough Bluffs in an effort to make lake shipping safer.

In a two-year project expected to cost $100,000 the council is seeking the answer to the problem of radar mirages.

Radar mirages are images received on the radar screens of lake ships of objects which aren't really where the screen says they are. Like ordinary mirages, the images are "reflections" of distant scenes.

To find out what causes the mirages, research workers have their own 2000-pound radar set in a box that shoots up and down a cableway from the level of Lake Ontario to 200 feet above it.

A movie camera takes a picture every 30 seconds on the radar screen, recording what the invisible eye sees over the lake.

At the same time recordings are made of temperatures, humidity and other weather data.

When all the facts are put together, the researchers hope to know what conditions cause radar mirages and what to do about it.

"The theory is that radar waves, being in the very short 10,000 megacycle range, act somewhat like light waves. If the radar beam gets caught between two layers of air over the lake, it will bounce along between them, for as far as 100 miles, and send back a record of the object 100 miles away.

Normally the ocean used by ships extends only 20 miles or less.

When the National Research Council has all its facts, figures and findings completed, they will fill a manual for guidance of ship radar operators and remove the element of chance from radar safety.

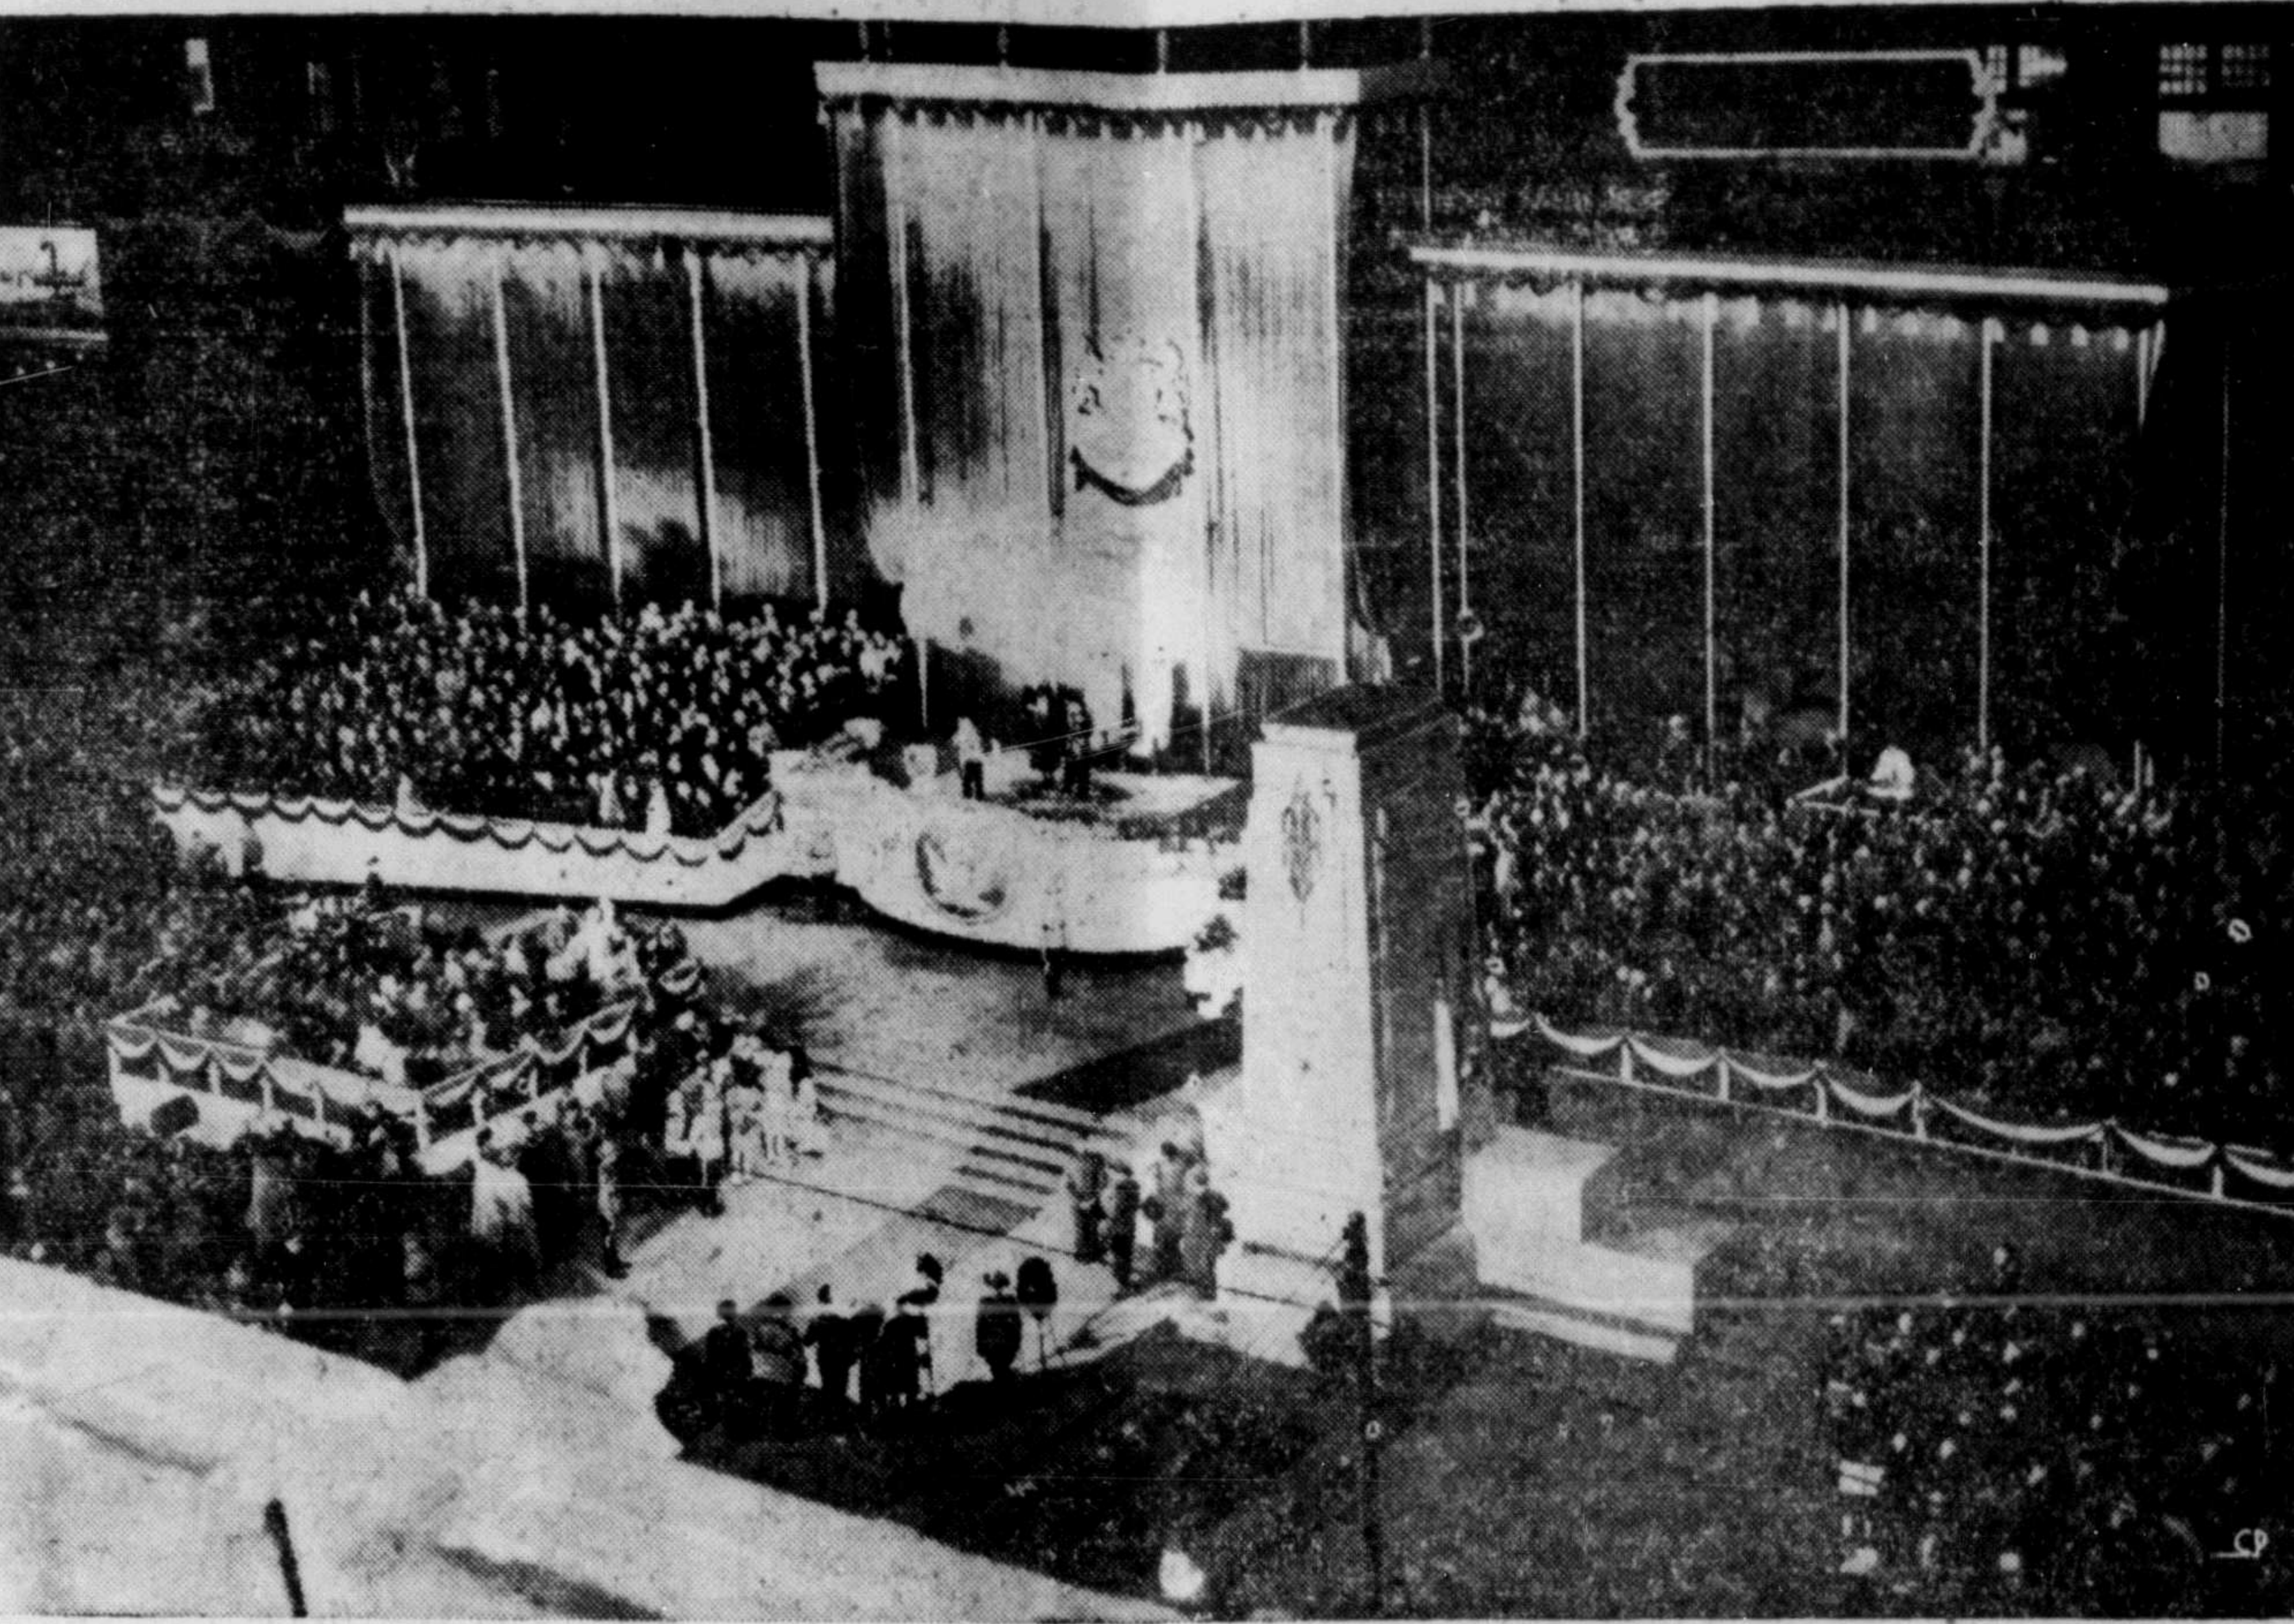

Praises Quebec Farm Methods

LONDON (CP)—Praise for French-Canadian farmers was contained in a letter to The Times from P. C. Loftus, chairman of a Suffolk rural association.

Contributing to a correspondence on farm production, Loftus said countries could learn a lot about how to handle soil erosion by studying the French-Canadian example.

"In the province of Quebec," wrote Loftus, "the land has been cultivated for nearly 500 years by the French-Canadian peasant proprietors, and it maintains its fertility with a high output of crops, and in other parts of Canada, on land which has been farmed for only about 50 years there are already alarming symptoms of erosion such as blowing away of the soil, the loss of the topsoil, the creation of man-made deserts.

"The French-Canadian works in co-operation with nature and with an understanding of and reverence for the living soil. Many American and Canadian farmers have been apt to regard agriculture as a mechanical factory operation to be used to obtain quick and cheap results regardless of the future."

HUGE TORONTO WELCOME—An estimated 70,000 crowded every inch of Toronto's city hall area to give a roaring welcome to Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh when they arrived just after dark. Princess Elizabeth gave a short address of welcome while Mayor McCallum, Mrs. McCallum and the Duke of Edinburgh as shown on the platform. The city hall was decorated with a huge backdrop of bunting with a Royal crest and the whole area was spotlighted. Huge throngs crowded all city streets along the Royal couple's routes to various city functions. (CP from Federal Newsphotos)

Central Interior Travels ... Evangeline Vann's Diary

Wakened at 7:15 a.m. by twice-repeated knock on door, and: "Are you getting up, Otto? It's time to scram." Though rather early, inspected day, and found it sunny and mild.

Conviction that topography of Houston was a snare and delusion was confirmed by following story: Just around Labor Day, a party of friends, knowing the district, set out, early in the evening, to see salmon in Buck Creek, not half a mile from Houston. Darkness having fallen, and ready to return, they got completely bushed, within sight and sound of village. Torn trousers, lost shoe laces, and nylons with back seam holding shreds together, were the order of the day when the almost hysterical party emerged at 12:45 a.m.

Having had to return to hotel twice within few minutes to fetch forgotten articles, genial gentleman in lobby offered to "pack" me upstairs next time. Still find use of this word strange, especially when used of water.

Was invited to partake of Thanksgiving chicken. When gave thanks realized that one could practise this gratefulness, with profit, far more often. Appreciate pumpkin pie. As vegetable in Australia, served with unfailing frequency, not at all favored.

Had informative and pleasant talk with "Seven Days, and Going" local character who likes life interesting and has own idea about labor. Reminded me of similar feeling of Australian aborigines, who periodically go "walkabout." Would ease mental tension, if more widely practised.

"E. Ruiter Hz." was label on front door. It was the original door label brought from Holland eleven years ago, "Hz" meaning son of Herman. Was invited to lunch. "Labor for the farm is too expensive to hire, as there are high wages in the bush," was told by Mr. Ruiter. Mrs. Ruiter asked me to sign the Guest Book. A lone "Pommie" signature, Aussie slang for English, among the pages of Hollander names, among them the Dutch Consul from Montreal. Before leaving the neat and attractive house, was shown presents for fortieth anniversary.

Found Mr. Vriend packing root cellar with fine specimens of Danish Ball Head cabbages, some weighing fifteen pounds. One hundred and twenty feet long, fourteen feet high, and four feet into ground, this shed was built two years ago on a cement base, slabs covering shavings packed two feet thick. "This year I shall have sixty thousand pounds of cabbages. Last year I had over one hundred tons of potatoes, and it could hold two hundred tons. It is free from frost, even at forty below," Mr. Vriend told me.

Overheard in cafe, party of men talking after quitting camp, because of grizzly's nine inches wide footmarks, perilously near camp.

DR. SUNSHINE

Met August Kuitula here prospecting. Commenting on front name, was told, "Dr. Sunshine, they call me." "And what does the Doctor order, says I?" "Sunshine free for all, fresh fruit, exercise and fresh water."

Saw more excerpts of "Telegraph Creek, Canada's Most Isolated Community," excellent color film taken by Jack Andrussko, who is planning to take a similar one of Houston.

Met Mrs. Lyon, making mat of old stockings. Made mental note to keep next ruined pair nylons for same purpose.

The Island of Mauritius in the Indian Ocean has almost 600 persons to the square mile.

London Sees Smart Range Of Woolens

By MURIEL NARRAWAY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP)—Each year as temperatures drop, shop windows beckon with enticing examples of the latest ways to keep warm. From the dark, heavy and often stiff fabrics of a century ago, wool manufacturers have developed a versatile range of textiles that get better all the time.

With woolen materials ranging from diaphanous weaves with the transparency of organza, to the knobby-surfaced, loosely-woven fabrics of grandmother's day, there are stylish clothes for every hour and occasion.

This year's winter coats, for instance, range from travel coats in closely-knit naps and reps lined with wool or fur, to the smooth sleekness of serge and barathe town coats with tiny waists, full skirts and stylized collars trimmed in mink or perle lamb.

One of the most interesting new uses of wool is in long evening capes brushing the ground in train effect. Mostly in long-haired fabrics, the capes are simple in design and in many cases are lined with light-weight wools that give cozy warmth to bare shoulders. Worn over crinoline dresses they recall the days of horse-drawn carriages when fur coats were unknown.

Wool is also chosen for the crinoline itself. Materials range from filmy jersey weighing one ounce a square yard to broadcloth dinner and evening gowns with voluminous skirts, backless tops and intricate bead embroidery. In cocktail dresses, wool lame jersey gives the scintillating glitter of a brocade, with none of its coldness.

Intelligent Pony Saves Girl's Life

GATESHEAD, Durham, England (CP)—Darkie, a little black pony that pulls an ice cream wagon, was always a favorite with the children. They fed him cakes and lumps of sugar and generally spoiled him.

One day Noreen Robson, 7, ran from her home to buy ice cream, fell and rolled almost directly under Darkie's legs.

Darkie's driver shouted, a woman screamed and Noreen lay in terror. The only cool party was the pony, who lowered his head and flicked Noreen out of his path as the wagon passed over the post.

"It was so close the wheel grazed my daughter's hip," said Noreen's father. She only suffered bruises.

Dry Land Curlers Digging For Ice

Prince Rupert citizens stand on the verge of one of the greatest opportunities in their lives and a small group of hardworking, sports-minded people are just a little anxious to see how the tide will turn.

Long hours spent in calculation, discarding one idea after another, and finally embarking on a strict and sincere course of action, a handful of tenacious men have opened the gates to the general public to enjoy one of the greatest sports in the world.

This group of men forms the nucleus of the Prince Rupert Curling Club.

They are: Neely Moore, president; Ted Boulter, vice-president; Harold Thom, secretary; Dr. L. M. Greene, Jack Laurie, William McKenzie, Dr. R. E. Whitmore, Earl Gordon and T. G. Bateman, directors.

The opportunity they are presenting to Prince Rupert is a $60,000 curling rink for less than $16,000.

And many people have rallied to the enthusiasm of the curling rink instigators who formed their club last year without even an idea from where a single sheet of ice would come. But they had a strong resolve.

Today they can see three sheets of ice in their mind's eye; fact is, some of them, like Club President Neely Moore, see it night and day.

A local automotive dealer, Doug Frizzell, was one of the first to be caught in the enthusiastic rally and has made it possible for the curling rink to become more than a dream.

"Pay for it as you can," Mr. Frizzell told the dry-land curlers, and in their hands was placed a building to house three standard sheets of ice and ample club room facilities for $3000 and nothing down.

"An insurance appraiser told us we couldn't replace the building for under $20,000," Neely Moore found out.

But what makes the building even more valuable is its location, without which curling would still be only a dream. Situated only 400 feet from the huge ice-plant of B. C. Packers Ltd., arrangements have been made whereby the fishing company will supply the future rink with refrigeration.

The biggest problem to surmount, then, was locating and purchasing some 5000 feet of pipe necessary to install the refrigeration unit for the rink. The pipe they have located. They still need $2000 of the $6000 to buy it.

Here are some of the facilities which with little alteration can be offered by the future rink building, formerly an RCAF mess hall:

1. A 136 by 40-foot surface, uninterrupted by posts, which with a 14-foot extension will house three sheets of curling ice; one sheet large enough for children's skating, and for figure skating.
2. A large lounge room.
3. Kitchen and snack bar.
4. Showers and washrooms.

Moose Meet At Ketchikan

Report of the activities of a recent Moose convention at Ketchikan was presented by delegate B. J. Bacon to a regular executive meeting of the local lodge in the Moose Temple last night. It was a gathering of both interest and enjoyment with delegates present from all parts of Alaska together with some important supreme lodge visitors.

In celebration of Mooseheart Day, the lodge decided to hold a social gathering of men and women on October 26, a committee consisting of E. Hildebrand, Larry Disher, Joe Blair, Joe Raichford, Malcolm Blair and E. Nest Lugin being appointed to take charge. Mrs. Harold Muncey will supervise the card playing and a women's committee will provide refreshments.

Credit Body Hears Chief Of Pulp Mill

Ray Jones Tells Absorbing Story of His Trade and Its Growing Impact on Economy

The growing importance of the wood pulp industry to the economy of Canada was impressively disclosed last evening by W. C. R. Jones, plant manager of the Columbia Cellulose Co., who was guest speaker at the annual meeting of the Retail Credit Grantors' Association of Prince Rupert which took the form of a first anniversary dinner party.

With close to 50 members and delegates present, Vice-President A. S. Nickerson was in the chair. Appreciative of the effect that the new local industry was having upon the business and life of this community, all listened with keen interest to Mr. Jones's discourse.

Opening with a recitation of statistics, the speaker revealed that there were 132 pulp and paper mills in Canada today with 53,000 employees in mills and 275,000 in bush and transport. Eleven million cords of wood a year were used by the industry, representing 19 per cent of all the wood cut in Canada. Sixty-two per cent of the pulp and paper output of the Dominion was exported, bringing $900,000,000 annually into the country, thus surpassing any other industry in the country in export value.

British Columbia, Mr. Jones declared, could continue to increase its production of pulp and paper in view of its abundance of wood and waterpower.

Turning to the problems of manufacture, the mill manager revealed that there was a shortage of skilled artisans in the industry, a situation which pointed up to the necessity for technical and trade schools to turn out such artisans.

THE BEGINNING

Delving into history, Mr. Jones told of the first recorded making of paper in China back in 105 B.C. by the macerating of bamboo, silk and other materials. The secret had eventually found its way through Turkey and North Africa to Western Europe. With the development of the printing press in Germany had come the demand for more paper. Even today, the hand manufacture of fine paper

They'll Man Royal Train

VANCOUVER—With the time near at hand for the British Columbia visit of Their Royal Highnesses, Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip, officials of the Canadian National Railways here have disclosed the names of company employees, five residing in Vancouver and five in Kamloops, who will serve aboard the Royal train as it travels east October 26.

All of these men will be wearing brand new uniforms for the momentous occasion.

The Vancouver men are Conductor R. M. (Red) Gordon and Trainman Robert G. Scarfe, and Trainman Everett Byers. They will work the Royal train from Vancouver to Blue River. Engineer John H. Moscrip and Fireman H. E. Timmins will operate a huge spick and span, 6000-type CNR locomotive from Vancouver to Boston Bar.

Kamloops men assigned by the CNR to handle the Royal train are Engineer Charles H. Sarles and Fireman William J. Ross. They will be in the cab from Boston Bar to Kamloops Junction. From the latter station to Blue River the train will be hauled by a locomotive operated by Engineer Donald A. McKenzie, and Fireman Kenneth A. Ingbrison. Kamloops relief dispatcher Donald M. McDonald will be the telegraph operator on the Royal train as it moves over B.C. lines of the Canadian National.

Alberta crews will be in charge of the train between Blue River and Edmonton.

WHO THEY ARE

Daddy of all the CNR Royal train crews in B.C. in length of service, is Conductor Rod Gordon. He started railroading in 1901, in Winnipeg. A conductor since 1911, "Rod" has operated out of Vancouver since 1943.

Trainman R. G. Scarfe, of Vancouver, who joined the company in 1917 as a passenger trainman in Winnipeg, has lived here since 1945.

Trainman Everett Byers, Vancouver, started with the CNR as passenger trainman at Saskatoon in 1926 and has been operating from Vancouver since June, 1951.

Locomotive Engineer J. H. (Jack) Moscrip, began his railway career as a telegraph messenger with the Canadian Northern in Winnipeg. He started in engine service in 1906, became an engineer in 1912. Operating out of Vancouver since 1926, Mr. Moscrip was local chairman of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Division 907, from 1937 to 1938.

Fireman H. E. Timmins joined the CNR in 1942 at Transcona, in the stokers department and shortly after became a fireman. He moved to Vancouver in 1943.

Engineer C. H. Sarles, of Kamloops, started as a locomotive fireman on the Alberta district in 1912. He was promoted to engineer in 1919 and moved to Kamloops in 1932. He is due to retire on pension in December.

Engineer D. A. McKenzie, Kamloops, entered the service in 1904 as a wiper at Atikokan, Ont. He became fireman at Rainy River, Ont., in 1905 and engineer in 1910. He moved to Kamloops in 1916. He is the senior locomotive engineer on the CNR's western region in length of service.

Fireman W. J. Ross, Kamloops, started as locomotive fireman in Halifax, N.S., in 1944. He transferred to Kamloops in 1946.

Fireman K. A. Ingbrison, Kamloops, hired on with the CNR as locomotive fireman at Kamloops in 1945, after serving in the Army from 1941-44.

Don McDonald, Kamloops, who will be the CNR telegraph operator on the Royal train, entered the company's employ in 1947 as checker. Six months later he became an operator and was promoted to relief dispatcher last March.

SINGLE TRACK

Canada has 42,335 miles of single railroad track, a mileage total only exceeded by Soviet Russia and the United States.

In 1844 in New Brunswick had been conceived the idea of manufacture of paper from wood pulp and today this had grown to a vast industry because it competed in cheapness with cotton and linen sources.

Technical aspects of the industry were described by the speaker and the development of the use of cellulose in the manufacture of the various types of paper from the high grade and durable sheets to the cheaper and less durable newsprint. Indeed, it seemed that paper could be designed and manufactured for almost any use today.

Mr. Jones saw the possibility of complete replacement of cotton by the chemical cellulose from wood pulp.

An interesting revelation of the many uses to which cellulose was being put today—moulded plastics, rayon, films, fibres of all types, rayons, silks—concluded the discourse.

LOCAL INITIATIVE

In opening, Mr. Jones paid tribute to local business men who had used their own initiative and credit in providing housing by the reconversion of the old United States Army administration building into an apartment block. With the illustration of what could be done in that case, Mr. Jones suggested that other objectives might be similarly achieved by collective action on the part of citizens. He suggested that something be done in the way of building up a mortgage fund to assist the new workers in obtaining their own homes and becoming permanent residents of the community.

A vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Jones on motion of G. A. Hunter.

COLORFUL FALL VEGETABLES GO FINE WITH TANGY CHEESE

Cheese is among the most popular of the world. In spite of the eleven leading producing countries, Canada is in the per capita consumption of cheese. For the many Canadians who are unfamiliar with the many types of cheese made in their country, home economists suggest some of the more popular ones.

There are Canadian Cheddar enthusiasts were only one kind of cheese they would choose to be Cheddar. This type most common cooking. Canadian cheese is made from milk which is ground and pasteurized, then poured into packages to solidify. It is softer and milder and is good for Cheddar and macaroni or spaghetti are well-known companions, but cheese and vegetables are not so frequently coupled together. The market stalls today are a panorama of color with red and green peppers, purple grapes, red apples and orange pumpkins. During National Cheese Festival month which, by the way is this month, home economists suggest combining fall vegetables and cheese for economical, yet flavorful dishes.

Mrs. Homemaker can serve brussels sprouts or cauliflower, which has been dipped in cheese batter and deep fried, as a supper dish. The directions are very simple. First of all, the brussels sprouts or pieces of cauliflower should be cooked in boiling, salted water until tender. The batter is made by mixing 1/2 cup of flour, a few grains of salt and pepper and 1/2 teaspoon of baking powder. To this a slightly beaten egg and 1/4 cup of milk are added and combined thoroughly with the flour mixture. One half cup of grated medium Cheddar cheese is then blended into the batter. The vegetable pieces are dipped into this batter and deep fried, in hot fat, until golden brown. The deep frying takes only about 3 minutes so, it is easily seen that this is a quick and simple dish to serve.

Onions or green peppers have a new appeal when they are stuffed with a cheese filling. This filling may be made by combining cheese, corn and egg; cheese, onions and bread crumbs or cheese and hard-cooked eggs. Many restaurants and many home cooks are featuring vegetable plates and vegetable dishes these days and everyone seems to enjoy them thoroughly. Cabbage is green and crisp looking and cauliflower is exceptionally good this year and both are very plentiful. Stuffed cabbage is one dish which the home economists recommend as being particularly good. The whole head of cabbage is cut into quarters within 3 inches of the bottom. It is important not to cut right through as the head must stay intact. The cabbage is then cooked 5 minutes in boiling, salted water, cut side down, then turned over and cooked until tender, cut side up. In cooking, the cut portion tends to open up. The cabbage is then drained and the opening filled with a mixture of 1/2 part of grated cheese, 1/3 part of soft bread crumbs, sauteed chopped onions, chopped parsley and salt and pepper. The stuffing should be dotted with a few small pieces of butter and sprinkled generously with cheese. This interesting-looking and interesting-tasting dish is then baked in a moderately hot oven until the stuffing is thoroughly heated and the cheese is melted, which takes about 10 minutes.

*MR. OWEN E. RIDDLE...

Do you believe in saving, Mr. Riddle?

Oh, yes. Sure I do. You never know what's going to happen. In case of sickness, you have money if you save. You don't have to depend on charity or anything like that.

And what do you think of Canada Savings Bonds?

There is one thing about those savings bonds. While you can get more out of other things in interest, you can always get your par value out of the bonds.

Do you buy Canada Savings Bonds mainly as a protection against emergency?

That's one of the main reasons. This spring work was slack and I had a bad throat, but I had money in the bank and the interest from these bonds. It all helped. I didn't have to go into debt or anything like that. I don't like going into debt.

For what other reasons are you buying the Bonds?

Well, we're not getting any younger. In the building trade there's no pension. Even with the old age pension one doesn't know if one will live to that time. One likes to be independent. In the spring of the year you can pay your taxes in advance. That's what I did with my cash and interest on the bonds and saved four per cent. It's not only sickness. The other day the boiler went on the blink and cost $56.80 to repair. You have to provide for things like that. It's better to be able to pay out of your savings than to have to borrow.

Have you cashed any of your Canada Savings Bonds?

No. Just used the interest.

By what method do you pay for the Bonds?

I pay cash for them at the bank.

Do you plan to buy Canada Savings Bonds again this year?

Yes, if I'm working. I always have. You see you get almost double the interest on them that you do on your savings in the bank.

*Owen E. Riddle, 56, is a plasterer who lives at 726 3rd ave. W., Calgary, with his sister. He is in business for himself. A native of Eastbourne, Sussex, England, he came to Canada with his parents in 1912 and settled in Calgary. His father was a plastering contractor. After working with his father for two years, he obtained employment with the CPR and served as second cook and chef on dining cars and, for a time, as brakeman. He worked with the CPR at various points from Montreal to Vancouver. He farmed briefly and returned to plastering in 1920 and has since made this his occupation. His hobbies include cement carving, water color painting, and dahlia growing. He won 8 championships last year at the Calgary Horticultural Show with his dahlias, some of which measured 14 1/2 inches across. Moose Official Visits Stewart

STEWART—A special meeting of Women of the Moose and Loyal Order of Moose was held last Wednesday. Heiman Fischer, Supreme Lodge auditor, who dropped in by plane from Ketchikan where he had been attending the annual convention of the Alaskan Moose.

This was Mr. Fischer's first visit to the North and he was enthusiastic about the hospitality of the people.

After the business meeting, supper was served by the women and whist was played. Winners were: ladies', first, Mrs. E. Jacobson; consolation, Mrs. R. Barwise; men's first, Henry Nelson; consolation, Herman Fischer.

Women Best At Cribbage

STEWART—A very successful cribbage party was held on Saturday in the Canadian Legion Club rooms. The ladies of the Legion Auxiliary challenged the men and were promptly taken up. The women won by a score of 12,577 to 12,383.

Ladies' first prize went to Mrs. R. Barwise while Mrs. W. J. Crawford took the consolation prize. Al Robinson was the winner in the men's section and the consolation prize went to Mel Genge. A tasty supper was served at the conclusion of card playing.

Anniversary At Stewart

STEWART—After twenty-five years of happy married life, Mr. and Mrs. John McLeod, quietly celebrated their silver wedding at their home here on Sunday. Their oldest daughter, Isabelle, wife of Dr. Donald Mackay, and their youngest son, Donald, who is employed at the Silbak Premier mine, were the only members of the family present.

The elder son Ian is employed at the Britannia mine on Howe Sound and the younger daughter is in the employ of the Provincial Department of Public Works at Golden, B.C.

Both Mr. and Mrs. McLeod hail from Stonoway, Scotland and practically all of their married life has been spent in Stewart where Mr. McLeod is proprietor of the King Edward Hotel. Many congratulatory messages were received from relatives and friends in Canada and from Scotland.

Kamloops First Chinese Juror

Kamloops takes issue with Prince Rupert for the distinction of being the first Assize Court centre at which a Chinese has served as a juror.

At the Assizes in Prince Rupert last month Earl Mah, local Chinese business man, acted as a juror.

Sheriff J. R. Colley of Kamloops says that Peter Wing was a juror at the Assizes there in the spring of 1950 and William Louie was a juror at the autumn assizes of the same year.

STEWART NEWS

During the week the thermometer dropped to 36 above. The snow keeps creeping down the mountain sides and the cautious householder is busy putting in an abundant supply of wood and coal, and plugging up the chinks in the walls.

Most of the equipment has been transported to the Marmot Lead and Zinc Company's property on the Marmot River and work is proceeding apace under the direction of Engineer J. McBeth.

Dr. J. T. Mandy will be here shortly to make an examination of the Stewart Canal mines property for Vancouver interests.

Ernest Love left for Alice Arm where he will act as returning officer when a strike vote is taken this week.

Food Big Item For French Family

LONDON (CP)—A Frenchman spends more than half his income on food. English families spend less than a third.

The English, on the other hand, spend eight times as much as the French on rent. They spend about twice as much for fuel.

The French lead a more open-air life, go to bed earlier and get up earlier.

These conclusions on Anglo-French differences were reached after surveys among working-class families in the two countries. The results, published by the Institute of Statistics at Oxford, show that 52 per cent of French incomes were devoted to food, compared with only 31.9 of the English.

The surveys were made in 1948. The British Medical Journal, commenting on the "striking discrepancy" in food consumption, said one consolation is possible—it looked as though the "caloric" value of the national diets were roughly similar, "though the French registered a substantially higher intake of animal protein."

"Leathernecks" Gripping Tale

Conflict between two United States Marine officers over the handling of airplane squadrons motivates a gripping story in "Flying Leathernecks" which is the feature picture this Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the Capitol Theatre.

John Payne and Robert Ryan are starred in the thrill-packed offering. Wayne is a major commanding a group of fighter pilots and Ryan is his right hand man.

Exciting and authentic scenes of war in the air from Guadalcanal and Okinawa lend unusual realism to the absorbing plot and background the personal drama of the Wayne-Ryan rivalry.

The picture, in technicolor, has Don Taylor, Janis Carter, Jay C. Flippen and William Harrigan in top supporting roles.

WYCOMBE, England (CP)—Authorities in this Buckinghamshire town tried to solve the housing shortage by asking families to share houses. But the plan was a failure, mainly because too many feuds resulted from sharing the kitchen.

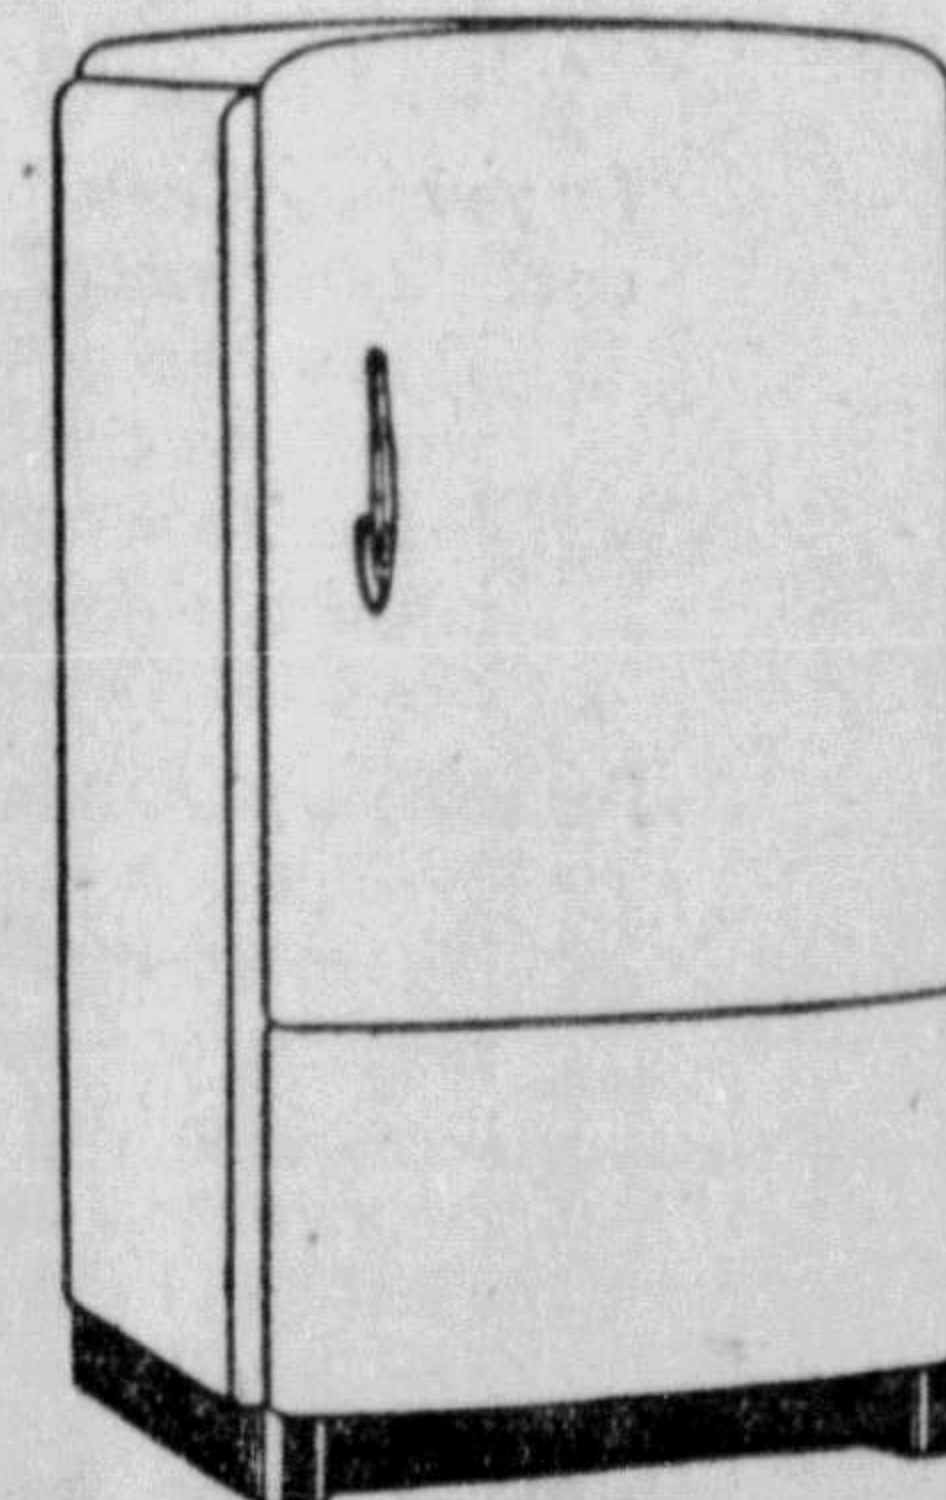

No fewer than 130 persons accused of being witches were executed in England in 1682.
