Convict Escapes

PRINCE RUPERT — A 39-year-old convict, escaped from his cell through a 70-foot hole in the wall of the massive state penitentiary here today.

The convict, credited by prison officials with the most fantastic escape I've heard of, was serving his term of a 20-year burglary sentence.

He said it must have taken him two years to dig his way out.

The convict, a light figure, Holmes said, lifted out of a hole about two feet from the floor. Then he came out.

He chipped his way out of the cement. Apparently he was between 5 p.m. and 6 p.m. when a loudspeaker came out of the prison and out radio program for 10 inches of this.

He apparently disposed of the hole with a piece of scrap iron—cutting it down his toilet.

He carried the dirt—trip it in his clothing.

Salvor's New Job

The accompaniment of a black wolf, which was unfortunately close by, which he frankly admits to him, Dan Lippett, long by darkness in the rain, winter wilderness, day to extricate a local man from a snow-bound Kamitsa where it had stuck a week or so ago. The difficulty did not end extricating the car but the was in such condition because the bottom of the summit of the other side of the Rain-Lake summit that it was all Dan was able to do to tow salvaged car home with his.

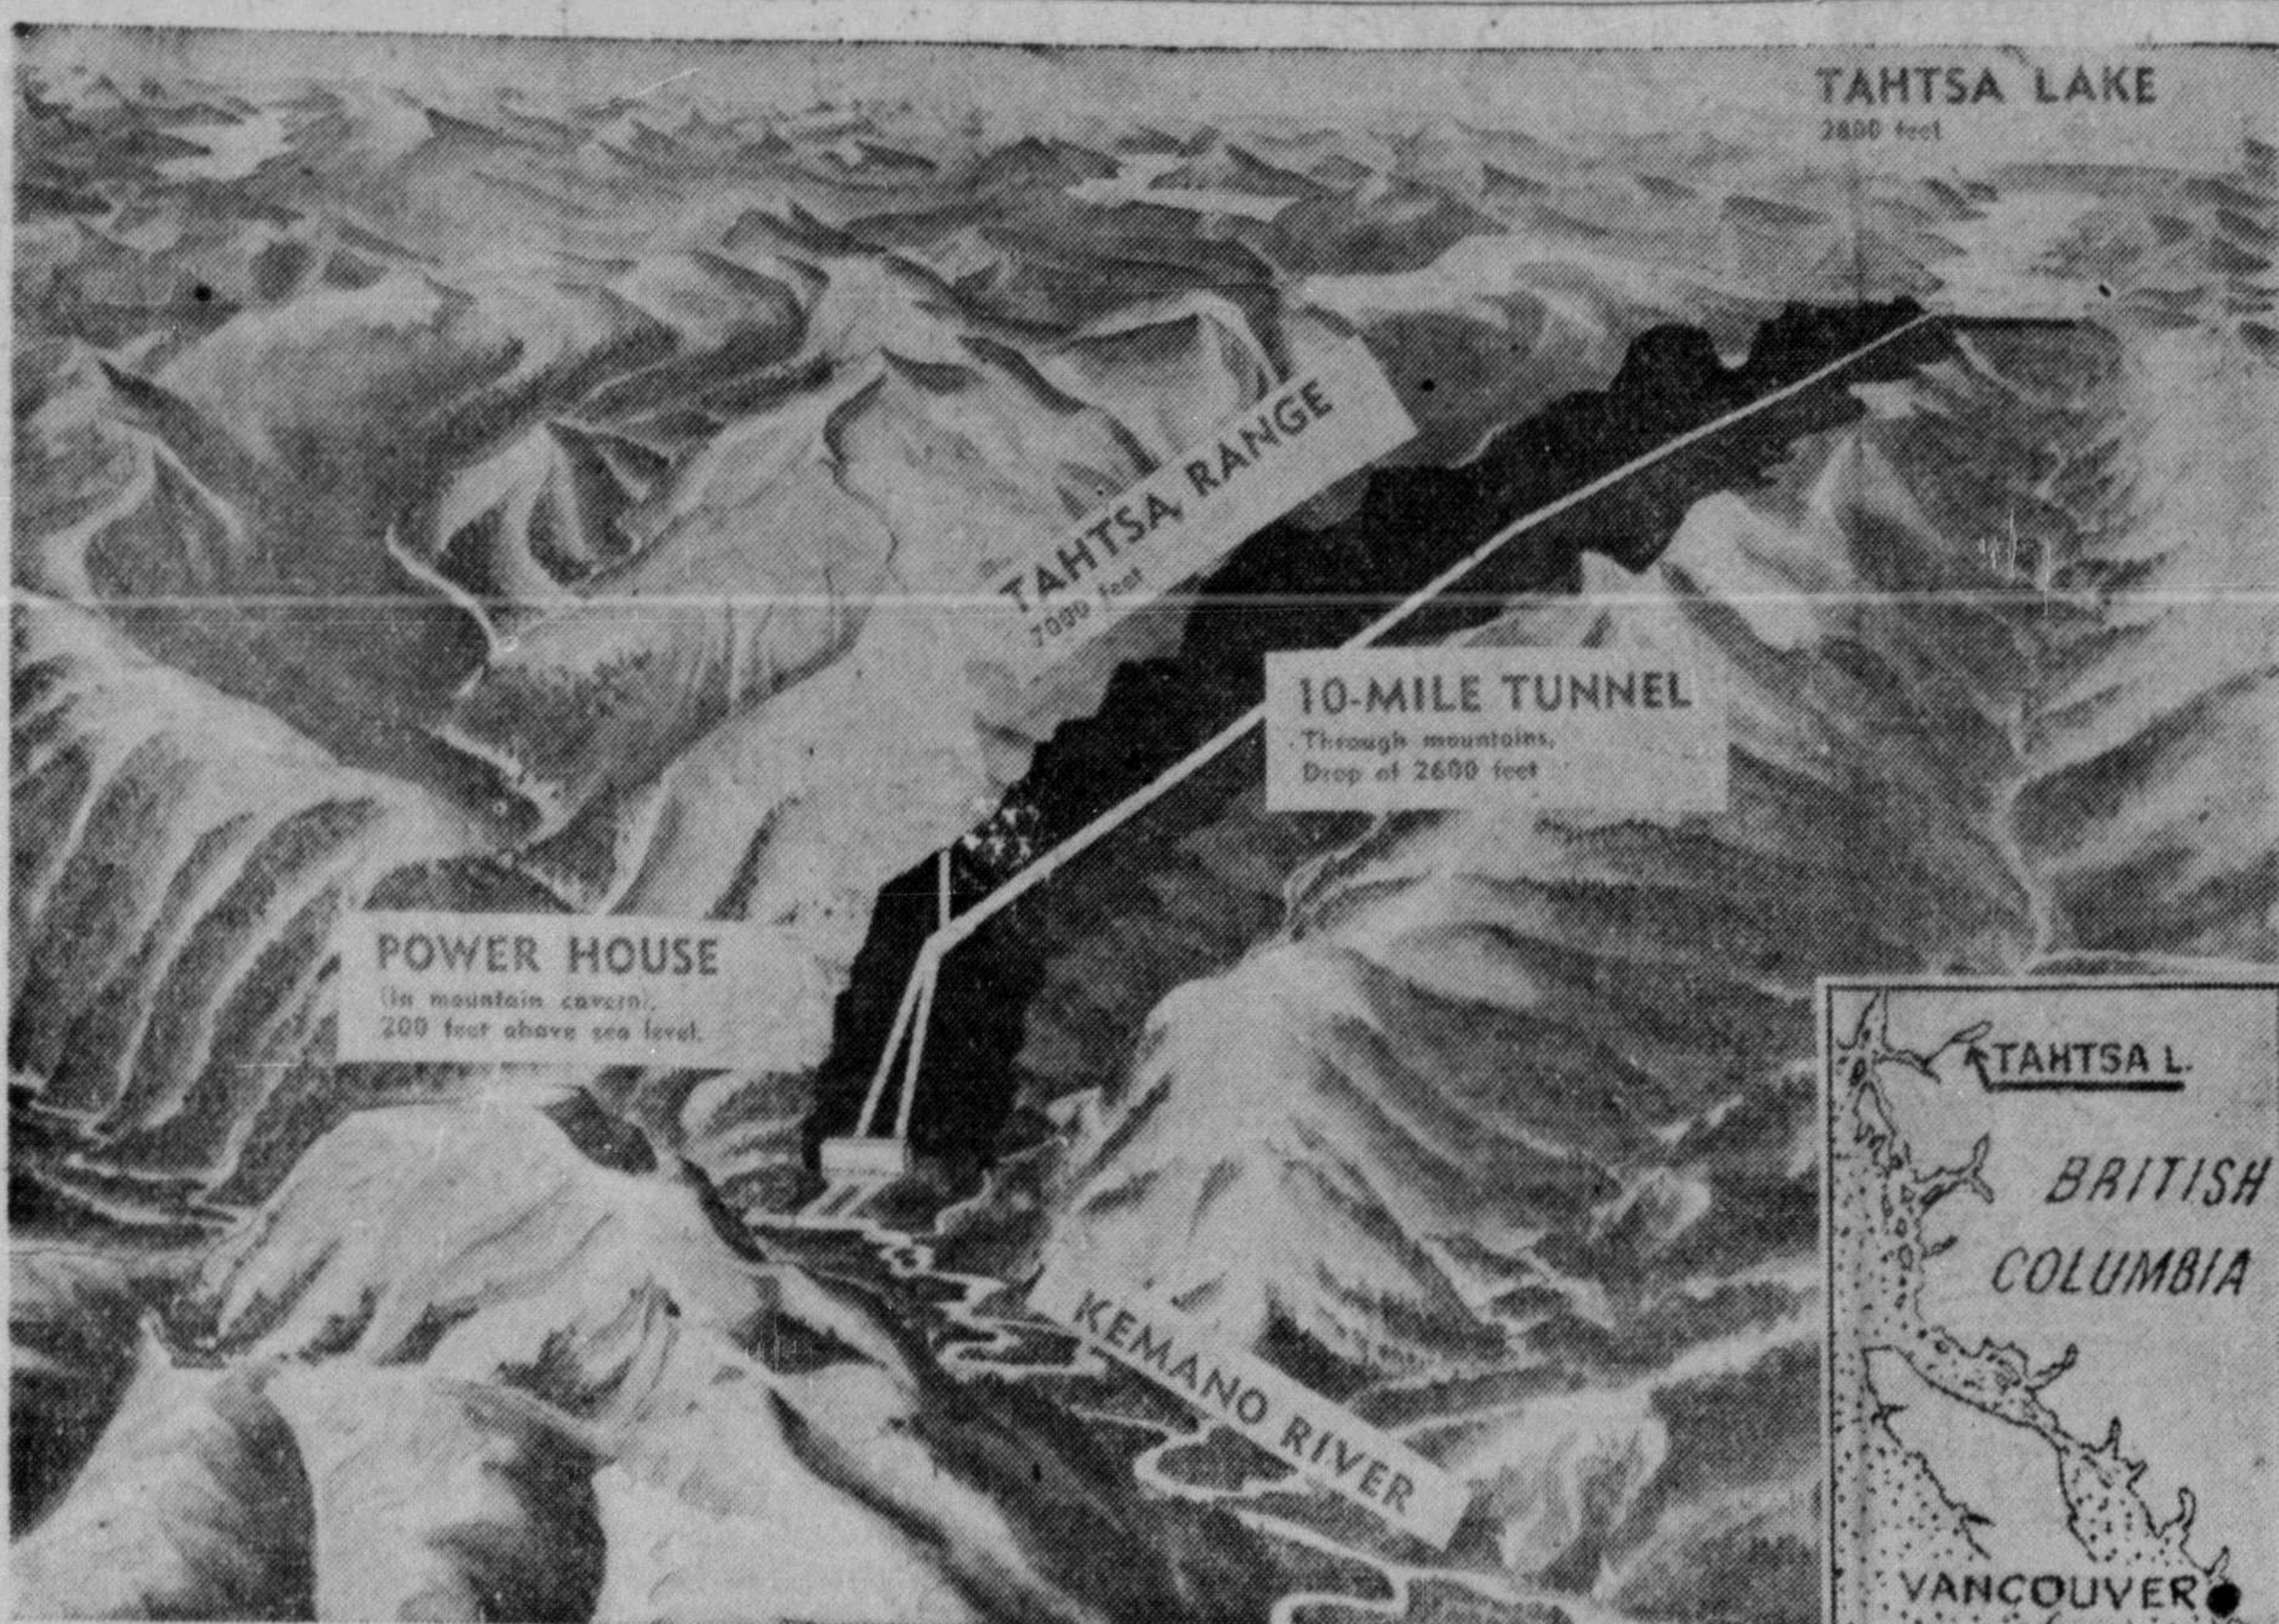

However, the feat was accomplished and Archie Wudel's La was brought safely to the hill, on McBride Street, in the early hours of Sunday.

Over a week ago that it seemed to drive to Ter- and reached a point this of Kamitsa when snow conditions were such that he could proceed further or back. After spending the night, the local man, by a freight train, back to the city, and the car behind.

Lippett's contract was to re- it, alone at the bottom of the hill, with the task of digging it. It seemed like half a until the buried vehicle reached and taken in tow. One of the howling.

He did not think I'd be able to make it," said Lippett as he the tough battle to his way up the hill on the side of Rainbow Lake, a foot of fresh and soft which had fallen over ice on the road's surface. I made it," he glowed.

It was 2:30 p.m. Saturday Lippett left here. It was a.m. Sunday when he got

BATTLE EPIDEMIC— Canadian Regiment Feared Due For Korean Blood Bath

TORONTO (CP)—Jack Macbeth, Associated Press war correspondent, said Saturday that Canadian troops, soon to enter the combat area in Korea, were in for a tough time.

Eight Seek Clerk's Job

There are eight applications for the position of city clerk of Prince Rupert to succeed H. D. Thain who has resigned to take a similar position at Port Alberni. The city council will be in special session tonight to consider the applications and make an appointment. There are local applications as well as some from outside.

The council will also consider tonight an application, from B.C. Packers for permission to establish a fish processing plant at Seal Cove on the local waterfront. This application had been received at the regular meeting of council last week and was deferred in order to obtain further information.

There will be further consideration of the Mitchell & Currie contract for sewer outfall construction tonight and tenders are to be opened for the purchase of a second hand boiler and pump from the Shawatin Lake water pumping station.

Macbeth, on leave after six months in Korea, saw the Second Battalion, Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, during advance training at Muryang.

In an interview, Macbeth said: "There is nothing wrong with these troops. Their appearance is outstanding. They're exceptionally smart and keen as a razor blade. They'll do well when they get into action although I'm afraid they're likely to get a blood bath."

Macbeth said he considers Canada's contribution so far "a national disgrace."

The former sports editor of the North Bay Nugget added: "I don't think the Canadian people are to blame. We'd have had plenty of men over there if Ottawa had given the green light at the start."

Await Victoria Signal— Mighty Alcan Hydro Project is Starting

Actual construction on the mighty Alcan hydro project, possibly the largest single project in all of Canada, is about to get under way in the Nechako Valley district, says the Nechako Chronicle of Vanderhoof.

Ratification by the provincial legislature, when it convenes this week, of the agreement signed by Minister of Lands E. T. Kenney, on behalf of the province, with the Aluminum Company of Canada will start bulldozers, men and material moving south from Vanderhoof to the site of the now famous Nechako Dam which is located only 45 miles south of this flourishing community.

The arrival in Vanderhoof of A. Wright and H. Benson, engineers employed by the Fred Mannix Construction Company, was heralded with rejoicing when it was learned that actual construction of an all-year road to the dam site will be closely followed by the work on this stupendous project.

Two years ago a bulldozer cut its way through the sparsely-populated area between Vanderhoof and the dam site. This bulldozer was used by the crew then engaged in stripping operations along the Nechako River while drilling for footings. Last summer a suitable location for the dam site was found on what is known as the "Big Bend" on the Nechako River, a few miles down stream from Metalcuz Lake.

ROAD FIRST
The engineers who are at present in Vanderhoof have as their first objective the locating of a permanent all-year road to the dam site, over which all materials and supplies required in the construction of the dam will be transported once the go-ahead signal has been given. This ratification is expected shortly after the Legislature convenes.

Mr. Wright and Mr. Benson, when interviewed, made it clear

Sulphur Ship At Pulp Mill

Vancouver-Built Walvis Bay, Former Lake Tahtsa, Making Many Coast Ports

Second deepsea ship within a month to discharge sulphur for the great pulp mill at Watson Island which is about to commence operations, the British-registered, Canadian-owned 10,000-ton freighter Walvis Bay arrived at the nearby plant at 11:30 Sunday morning.

The Walvis Bay is discharging 1000 tons of sulphur at Watson Island. It is part of an original full sulphur cargo with which she started out from Galveston, Texas, a few weeks ago. Before coming to Watson Island she unloaded at Port Alice and Ocean Falls and, after leaving here tomorrow, she will proceed to Powell River and Woodfibre pulp mill and then on to Vancouver for future orders.

The Walvis Bay, built at West Coast Shipyard, Vancouver, during the last war, was formerly the Lake Tahtsa of Western Canadian Steamships. To avoid the heavy overhead of operating under Canadian registry, she was changed to British registry and renamed. Still owned by Western Canada Steamships, she is operated by the Sir R. Roper line under a joint profit-sharing plan. Only remaining Canadian member of the crew is the master, Capt. H. Gentles. All the others are British.

Before the present voyage from Galveston to this coast, the Walvis Bay had been in European waters. Sailing from her home port of West Hartlepool, England, she proceeded to Narvik, on the far north coast of Norway, to load a cargo of ore.

Capt. Stanley Hunter and Capt. D. Backle are here as pilots of the Walvis Bay. Capt. Hunter is no stranger to northern waters. Before joining the pilotage, he commanded such Canadian Pacific ships as the Nootka and Princess Adelaide.

Two Vessels Lost—

Fish Boats Are Missing

VICTORIA (CP)—An RCAF launch is searching bays and inlets along the northwest coast of Vancouver Island today for two small motor vessels, one of which was unreported for a week.

The Navy reports the fishing vessel Tegada is missing a week since she left Winter Harbor on a 25-mile trip to Sea Otter Cove, while the Norah, which sailed in search of the Tegada Saturday, is also unreported.

Prince George Store Fire-Hit
PRINCE GEORGE—Damage estimated at $15,000 was done by fire which swept the rear of the Hudson's Bay store here after midnight last night. The warehouse section of the store was most seriously hit.

Dense smoke in the main store hampered fire fighters in their efforts but none were overcome.

Six Die in Club Fires
DENVER—Death-toll reached six today following two million dollar fires that swept through two private clubs here in as many days.

The Helen Grace will take Mr. Welch into isolated settlements along the west coast of Vancouver Island from Winter Harbor at the mouth of Quatsino Sound to the northern tip, and on the east coast from Nanaimo north to Powell River, operates a boat.

UN Forces Advancing

Communist Defences Collapsing On West Centre

TOKYO—General withdrawal of Chinese Communist forces on the west central Korean front continued today under the force of pounding by fleets of Super-Fortresses.

British and American troops advanced seven miles to hills overlooking the Han River at another point.

The United Nations have captured Yongpung, important supply base 27 miles east of Seoul.

Counter-attacking Americans today smashed four miles into the heart of a Korean Red stronghold in east central Korea. Hundreds of Communists were killed. On the central and western fronts badly mauled Chinese withdrew from battle lines.

Lt. Gen. Matthew Ridgway said that his Allied forces had smashed a Communist offensive and won a decisive victory on these fronts but he said that the Chinese Reds have enough massed troops to prevent a successful Allied crossing north of the 38th parallel providing the Reds commit them.

Rail Strike Hits Britain

Five Per Cent Wage Increase Considered Too Small

LONDON (CP)—Fifty million Britons, already shivering through a winter with too little coal and not enough meat, awoke today to a new crisis of a threatened railway strike.

The rail walkout began after midnight in Manchester, where 3500 freight handlers stopped work in protest against a proposed five per cent wage increase they consider too small.

Other rail unions made plans to join them. Only five freight handlers reported for work in the heavily industrialized Manchester area. After the strike decision, another 11,000 members of the National Union of Railwaymen have promised to join the walkout by midnight Tuesday.

With all three major British rail unions seeking a larger increase, spokesmen predict a full scale strike on nationalized roads, unless the government's offer is raised.

Yugoslavia

THERE is increasing concern that Yugoslavia may be the next target for the Cominform in the spreading flood of Russian imperialism. Even now Great Britain and the United States are reported to be considering issuing a joint warning to the Soviet not to make any move against Tito's domain. Such would be considered an act of aggression.

To understand the careful thought now being given to the question of how to shield Yugoslavia from a Cominform blow in the spring it is necessary to remember the profound difference Tito's original break with Moscow made in the strategic pattern of Europe.

Before that break took place it would have been almost blind faith to believe that any part of Europe might survive the threat of Russian domination. But, with the Tito defection, the Cominform tide was stemmed and, indeed, reversed. Since then a practical belief in the potential defensability of Europe has been possible. Planning with the end in view of effecting such defence has been proceeding.

It is the important Yugoslav link in the growing system of western defence which is now believed to be the No. 1 target on the Moscow list. The assumption is that Moscow has been building and arming the Bulgarian, Romanian and Hungarian armies for a satellite attack on Yugoslavia in the spring and summer. The theory is that this could be done without involving the Soviet Union itself.

Meantime Stalin can go on making protestations of peace and saying that Russia is not rearming. It would be typical Soviet strategy if Yugoslavia could be broken by the Moscow puppets.

A 'Week' That Gives

THERE are weeks for everything these days. In fact, there are not enough weeks to go around so they are doubling up on the weeks—for instance, last week was Boy Scout Week and it was also White Cane Week.

Now another week is coming up. But it is different. This is a week that doesn't take. It just gives and it sounds good to us.

February 26-March 3 is "National Smile Week" for 1951. Some are calling it "Joy Scout Week."

Who are the Joy Scouts? A circular that has come to the office tells us they're everybody who can smile, which means everybody everywhere. There are no dues, no meetings, no assessments in the Joy Scouts. There is only one obligation on the membership: Smile!

The National Smile Week Committee, of which famed actor Joe E. Brown is chairman, operates on the sound theory that a smile spreads sunshine wherever it's seen. For one week they ask that everybody concentrate on being a sunshine-spreader—give a smile, send a smile, make someone, somewhere happy during National Smile Week.

"There are plenty of things in the world to be grumpy about if you want to be grumpy," Brown concedes. "But it is much more fun to operate in an atmosphere of happiness. A smile creates a lot of this atmosphere. A thousand smiles . . . a million . . . a billion smiles, all concentrated in a week, will ease many burdens and cheer a lot of hearts, including those of the folks who smile."

So there's the story on the big special week that is unique. It costs nothing. It could do much.

Glacier Gulch Speeds Up

Hudson Bay Mountain Mine Enters New Phase

Development of Glacier Gulch Mining Co. Ltd. mine on Hudson Bay Mountain near Smithers entered a new phase early this month.

Work was started on an incline raise from the 2600-foot level directed to cut a downward extension of the known silver-lead-zinc ore deposits developed to the 3000-foot level.

The incline will open up two more intermediate levels. H. L. Batten, consulting mining engineer, says the vein encountered in recent cross-cutting has persisted for 340 feet to date. Good lead and zinc, with silver values, occur in the vein, he said.

The operation is now completely mechanized and Mr. Batten says the rate of advance should be doubled with substantial improvements in unit costs.

According to 1937 shipments, said L. W. Bodie, president, present metal prices would average the ore at $147.24 per ton. A test shipment from a gold-bismuth deposit in 1933 showed that ore to be worth $119.78 per ton at today's prices, he said.

The property is located on Hudson Bay Mountain, six miles from Smithers and two miles from Lake Kathleen railway station.

GREAT PYRAMID

CAIRO, Egypt.—In an earlier article I wrote of the feeling of anti-climax that you get when you come up to the Great Pyramid.

I would not want anyone to misunderstand that comment. The ancients knew the Great Pyramid and Sphinx as being among the seven wonders of the world. In many ways, the Great Pyramid is the greatest puzzle on earth. For it was obviously built by planners who had knowledge not only in advance of their times, but knowledge and wisdom which is far above that of the best and wisest people of our own day.

THERE HAS BEEN A GREAT deal of bunk written about the Great Pyramid, and cultists and fanatics have tried to twist its messages in stone to all sorts of weird ends.

Sir Flinders Petrie, the famous Egyptologist, told of finding a fellow Englishman with a hammer and chisel chipping off bits of the huge structure. The rock did not fit his preconceived ideas of how history would run—ergo—he would alter the rock, not his crackpot ideas.

YET ANYONE WHO STUDIES the plain facts of the measurements of the Great Pyramid can come to no other conclusion than that its designers had a marvelous knowledge of astronomy, geography, and even history of the world for hundreds of years after the strange structure was built.

For instance, if you take the birth of Jesus Christ as one of the great landmarks in history, and let that represent the beginning of one long gallery, and if you use the British inch to represent years, you certainly do get some remarkable coincidences. Other important dates, like the beginning and end of the First World War, and the stock market crash of October, 1929, with subsequent Great Depression, are clearly indicated.

It does seem that whoever planned this strange structure had the uncanny faculty of being able to make a sort of indestructible blue print of the future history of the human race.

Don't ask me to explain it, but I for one hope the interpreters are right. For, according to the prophecies indicated by the measurements of the passages and rooms in the pyramid, mankind is really due to begin a new age of increasing peace and plenty by August, 1953, and by about 1985 this will be fully, firmly established on the whole earth.

MAHDI ENANI KHATTAB IS my dragoman or guide, on my sight-seeing trips. Unlike many engineers, he does not think there was any mystery about how the builders got the huge chunks of limestone into place on the pyramid.

Mahdi says that 20,000 people worked in relays. They heaped up sand, skidded the big stones up the sandy slopes. Then, layer by layer, the masons built the pyramid. After it was all finished, the sand was taken away again. Slave labor was cheap then—and labor is cheap here now, too.

MAHDI SAYS THAT European doctors don't know anything, either.

Take rheumatism. Mahdi says that I am an old crook as a result of it. He wants me to come back to Egypt some May or June and take the Arab sand cure.

They bury you up to the tummy in this sand, around Luxor, where the sand has never been touched by water. You have an umbrella over your head. After a couple of hours, you are sweating, no fooling. The earth has powers of extracting poison, along with sweat, says Mahdi.

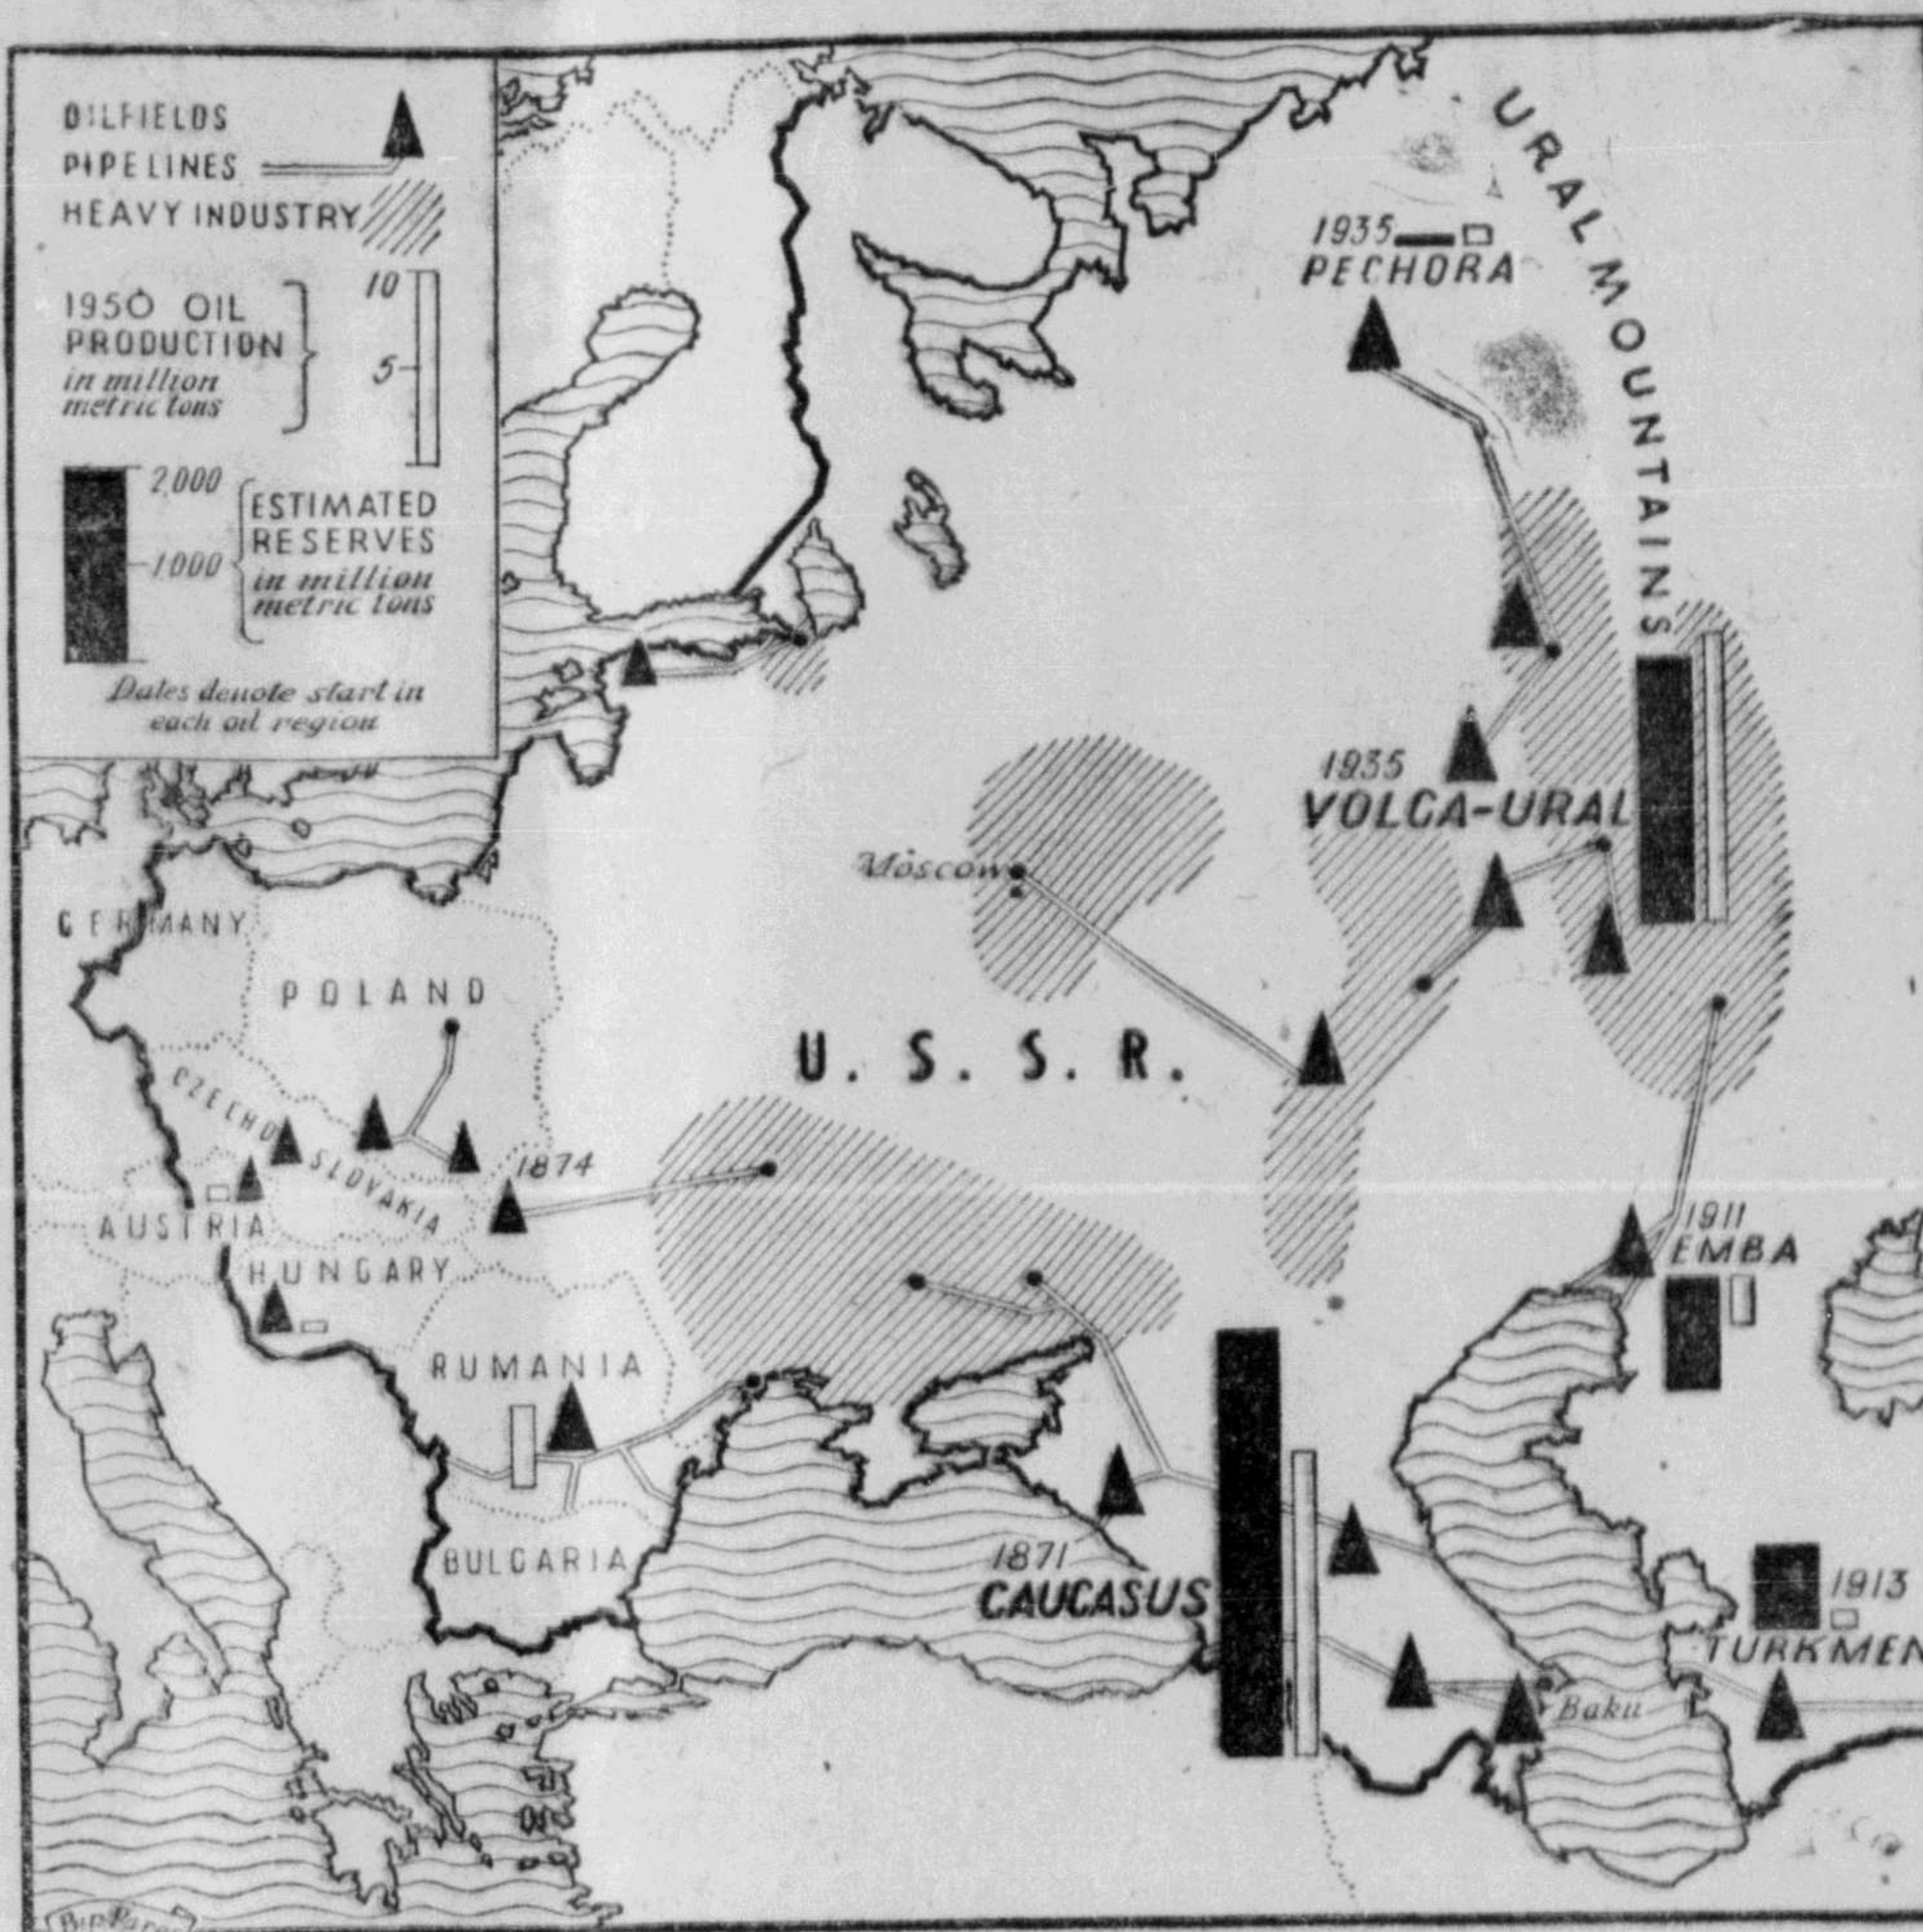

Well, maybe he's got something there.

MAHDI IS 50 YEARS OLD, JET black-haired, and has a friendly, frank face. He's been a guide ever since 1915. I asked him how things of 1951 compared with things of 1915.

"The buildings are more better now, but the poor people were more better off then," he told me thoughtfully. "Now, there's too much politicking."

Many people have written about the appalling contrast here between the condition of the few rich and many poor people. I may have more to say on this later.

Church Honors Parling Guests

Last Friday about eighty members and adherents of the First Baptist Church gathered at a congregational dinner to honor Mr. and Mrs. J. Armstrong who are shortly leaving the city to reside on Vancouver Island.

The guests, including all local members of the Armstrong family, were received by Mrs. F. Antrobus and Mrs. W. D. Smith.

Mrs. Armstrong was presented with a corsage and she and Mr. Armstrong were seated at the head table which was tastefully decorated with pink tapers and flowers.

After singing of the Grace, an excellent dinner was served by the women of the church. A short program followed, consisting of group games, selections by a quartette consisting of J. Anderson, Rev. F. Antrobus, W. D. Smith and John Antrobus; recitations by Mrs. L. Bowman and vocal solo and recitation by W. D. Smith.

The chairman, Rev. Fred Antrobus, then called upon P. H. Linzey, the senior deacon, who spoke of the many years of faithful service Mrs. Armstrong had given to the church, the Women's Missionary Society, the Cradle Roll department of the Sunday School and the Ladies' Aid. In recognition of this faithful and untiring service he then presented to Mrs. Armstrong on behalf of her friends in the church, an engraved silver tray, wishing her and her husband every success and happiness in their new home. Mrs. Armstrong graciously accepted the gift with a few well chosen remarks.

The card accompanying the gift was signed by all present and H. Vanderheide took several group pictures of the gathering. The singing of "Blest Be the Tie That Binds Our Hearts," followed by prayer by the pastor, brought to a close a very enjoyable evening of good fellowship.

Mrs. J. C. Gilker was the convener of a committee consisting of Mesdames F. Antrobus, H. Vanderheide, E. Martin, M. H. Waters and W. A. McBroom. The servitors were the Misses Babs Adams, Betty Blake, Juanita Keith, R.N., A. Wrathall and Mrs. R. K. Olson. Accompanist for the evening was Mrs. W. D. Smith.

SOMETIMES PREMATURE

Why should new churches be built, while plenty, with no one in them, remain standing. The question was recently asked in Toronto when the United Church was seeking construction extension funds. One does not have to travel to Toronto to see examples. They can be found anywhere in Canada. "We are not meeting the situation when we erect churches with a great overhead, and put in a minister at a miserable salary. We should," it was declared, "spend money helping the churches we have." Plain talk, and sensible.

PERHAPS SKIING

Canadians and others, not having travelled, have long thought that Japan, and the Chinese coast had no occasion to view the approach of winter with misgivings. Yet, Canada now realizes that Japan and Korea have a season when the blasts are bitter, victims can freeze, and snow can be from twelve to seventeen inches, as was the case in Tokyo this month.

A VERDICT WELCOMED

There was applause, in an Ottawa court, when Mrs. Sullivan was acquitted on a manslaughter charge. Her husband, Francis, had been an official of the Ontario government. The verdict found, according to testimony, that Sullivan died from the effects of angiotonia hemorrhage of the brain? Witnesses made statements liable, at least, to arouse conjecture. Dr. Dover said deceased had taken "a hell of a beating." On November 15, 16 and 17, five 26-ounce bottles of Scotch had been purchased. There were 64 bruises on the body.

Team work is very important. Even a banana gets skinned when it leaves the bunch.—Ex.

ANYWAY, IT'S MEAT

Cattalo may have a possible bearing on the price of meat in Western Canada but it may be a while before we'll be chewing it. What is "cattalo," we hear you ask? Well, it began thirty years ago with the crossing of buffalo with range cows. Its taken time to show the experiment to be commercially profitable. Yet, it's on the way. In fact, it's going to taste like prime beef. We gain, if somewhat delayed, a general idea of buffalo hunting.

Truth is not only stranger than fiction. It is much more interesting.—Wm. R. Hearst.

Why should the Canadian taxpayer provide gravy for common law wives, asks the Canadian Military Journal. The Canadian Army may well contain rascals whose morals are his own business. But why should he draw money from the government to keep his bed-warmer in nylons is beyond us.

MILD—AT FIRST

Two hundred and ten cases of scarlet fever were reported in Vancouver late last week. The city medical health officer, while admitting the outbreak was widespread, said it was too mild to cause any concern. The appearance of influenza in the United Kingdom early this year, described as mild, was later distinguished by the number of funerals. Flu is felt, today, all over Canada. Many hundreds of cases were classified as mild. And hundreds of others will never be ill again.

Winners were Mrs. Laughlan, bridge; Mrs. A. J. Croxford, whist; Mrs. J. Thompson, cribbage.

On the refreshment committee under Mrs. Murdoch were Mrs. M. Hansen and Mrs. P. Ballinger.

THE LETTERBOX

RESENTS SERMON

Editor, Daily News—The Saturday Sermon you published on February 17 by a man called Clarke of Vancouver is a classic statement of what no Christian Church has ever taught or could ever teach. He presumably draws either a salary or a pension from the United Church of Canada. The day has long passed when this sort of thing can be termed brave or courageous. Be the man United, Presbyterian, Anglican, Baptist, Lutheran, Free Gospel or Full Gospel, he simply cannot say things like that as a Minister of God's Word. It is one thing for a private individual to give utterance to his private, individual opinions, but quite another for those who eat their bread as official spokesmen for any historic part of the Christian Church to plaster both mud and mush over everything their church has ever taught. BASIL S. PROCKTER.

Editor, Daily News:

May I take this opportunity of endorsing the opinion expressed by "Taxpayer" in a recent edition of your paper in regard to the establishment of a reduction plant at Seal Cove.

Yesterday we took a drive to Seal Cove and enjoyed the clean, pure air. How different it would be if a reduction plant were established there! What an unfavorable "first" impression the air passengers would receive on alighting to be greeted by odor similar to that at Fort Edward.

from February 5 to 22. The objective is set at $1200. Cub leaders Chris. Greene, James Gorman, Robert Morris and M. J. Saunders were assisting in the rally which took place on the Federal Building lawn Saturday afternoon.

"We need the public's help to carry on the good work that the young people are doing in our city," said S. G. Purk, in charge of publicity, who spoke of the meaning of the Boy Scout Appeal.

District Commissioner F. E. Anfield, master of ceremonies, opened the rally from the old Overwater building, donated by L. M. Felsenthal of the Wallace Department stores for use as headquarters for the present scout drive.

Scouts, led by Harry Quick, and the Cubs, in front of which Philip Thom, of the senior Six, carried the Pack Totem, were marched out of headquarters directed by Mr. Anfield to begin their program in front of the Federal Building.

While games and skipping by Ross Murray, Glen Ferguson, Robert Irving, Philip Thom and Billy Watmough and other Cub activities were underway, Scouts prepared for battle. With the supervision of M. J. Saunders, and 10-year-old referee Billy Smith, Mr. Anfield announced the Cub boxing match.

First to take to the centre of the sidewalk ring made by the crowd under the careful eye of a Royal Canadian Mounted Police Officer, were Bobby Smith, 8, and Roy Prystay, 9. This snappy bout will be continued in two years, Master of Ceremonies Anfield announced in deciding a draw between the two fighters.

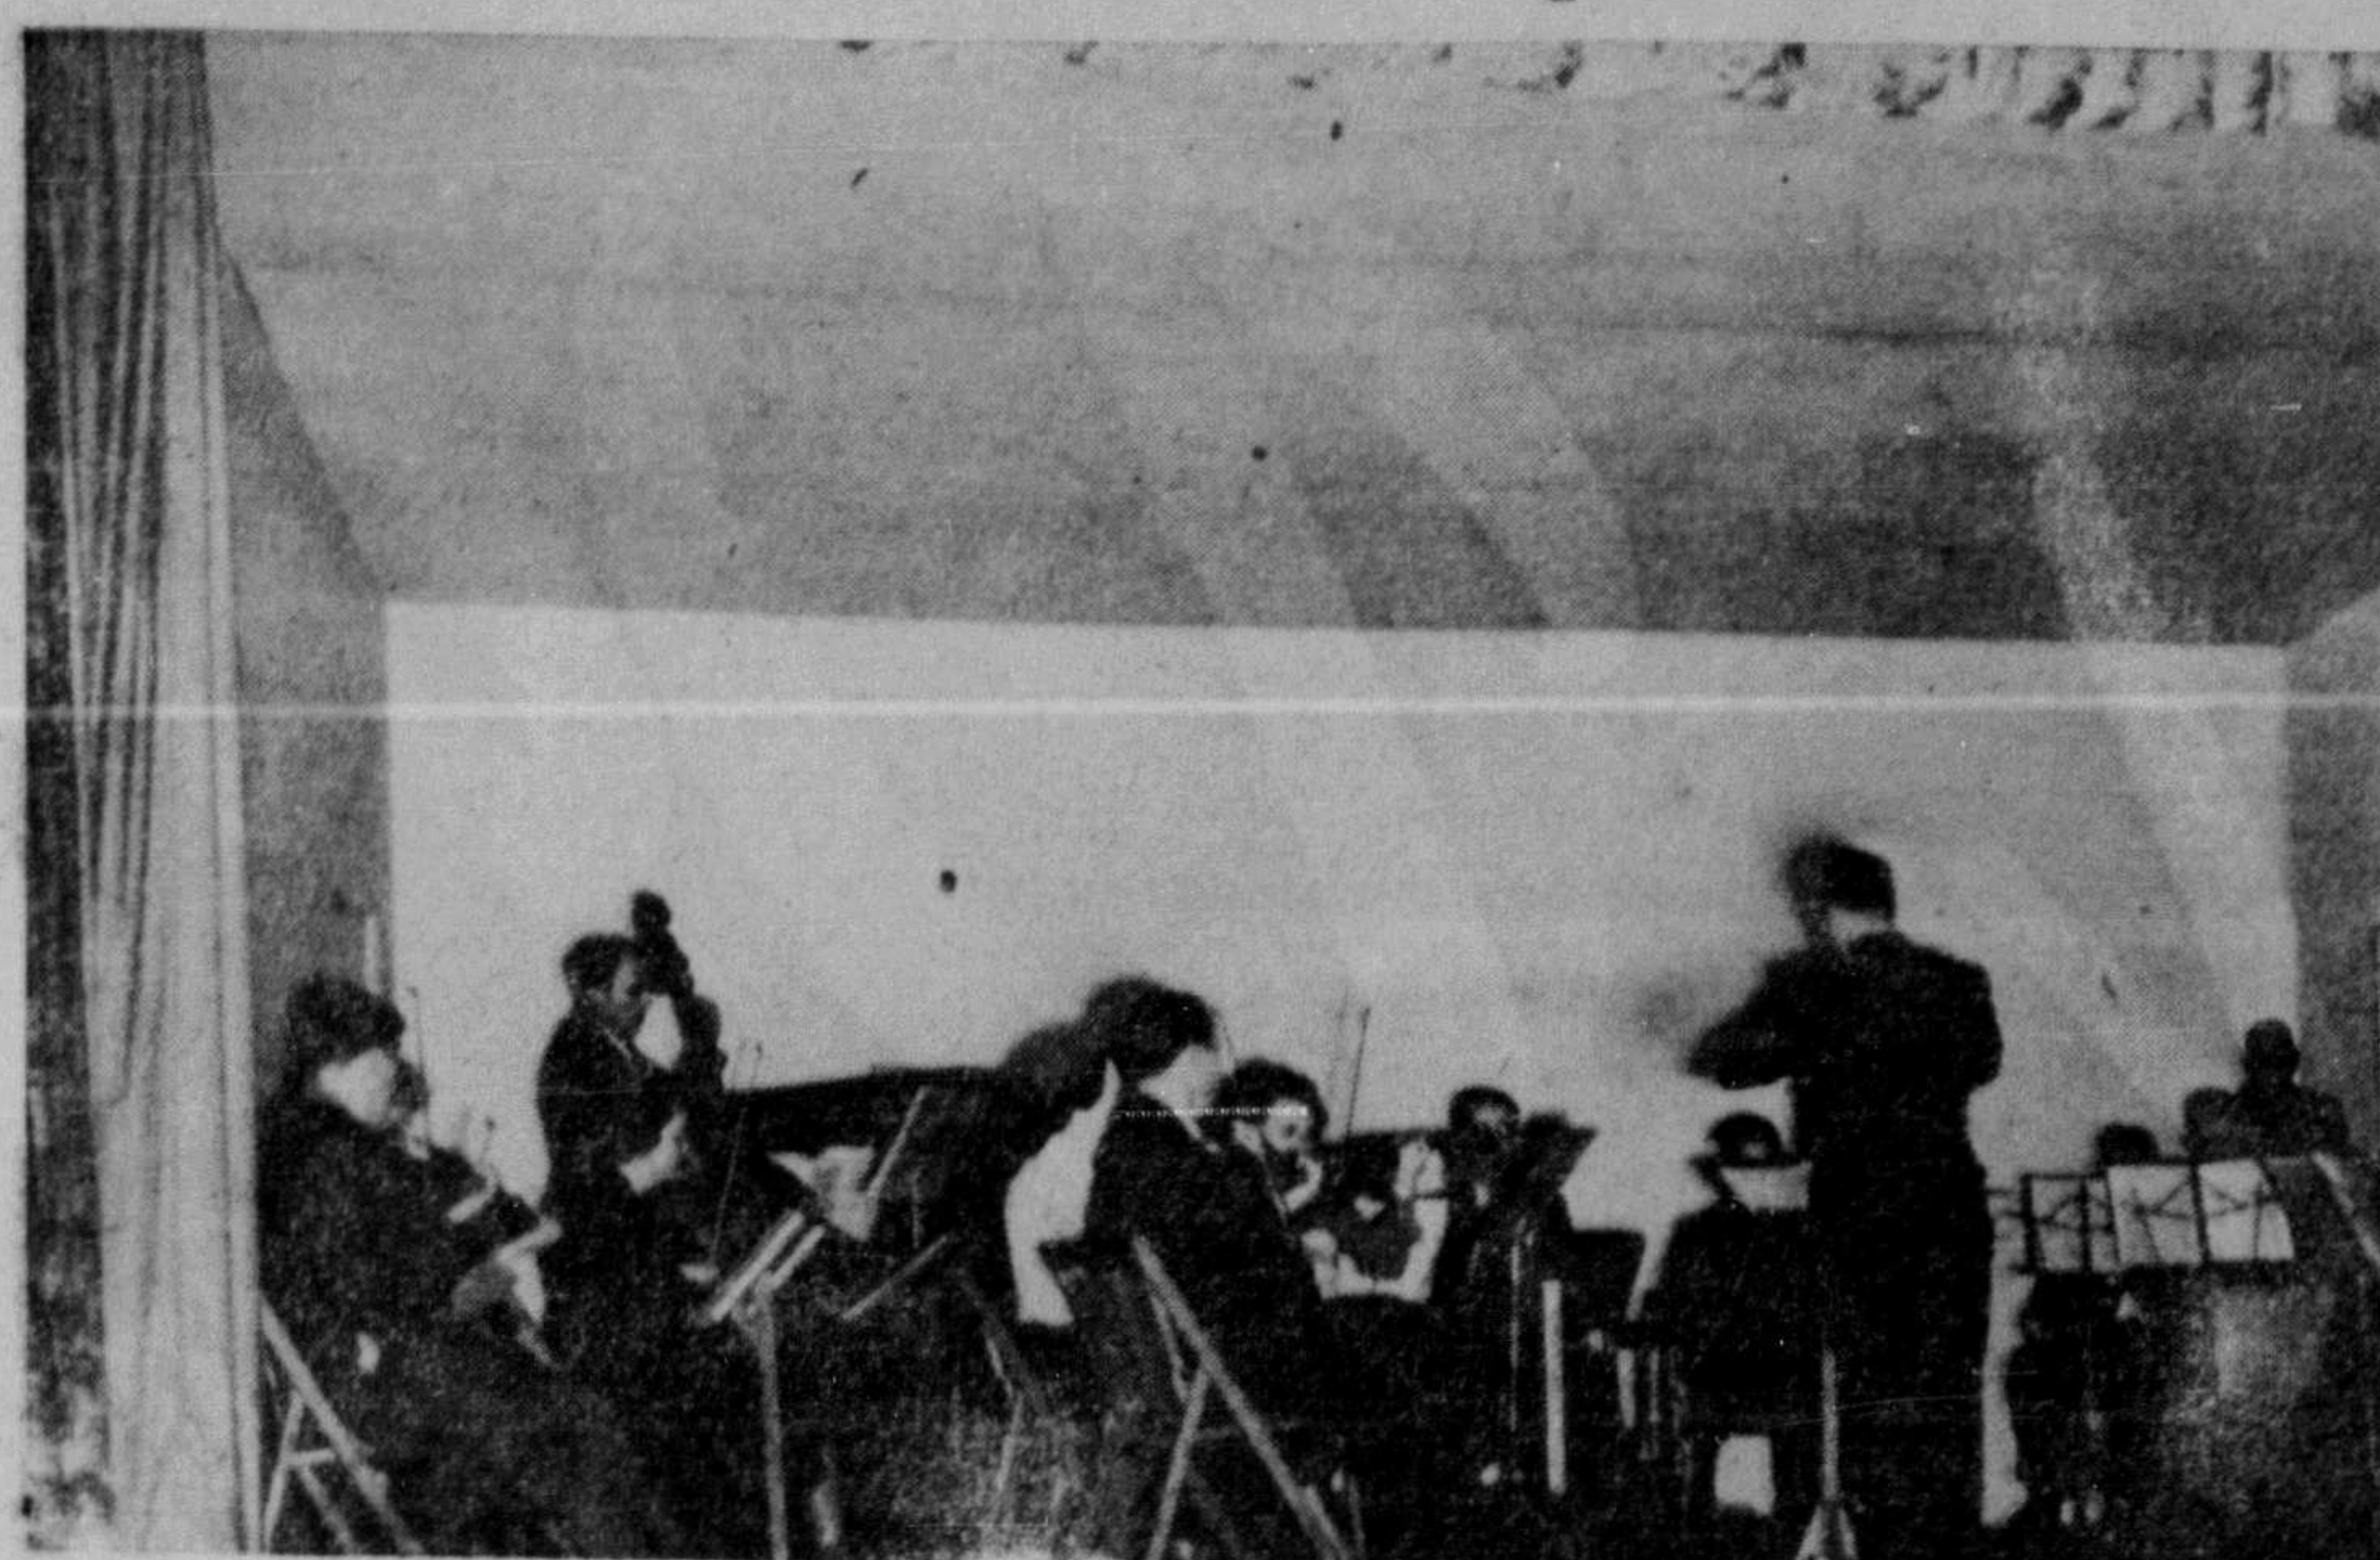

From the red faces and quick stepping of the next match, it looked as if there was going to be a knock-out decision. Trading blows were Billy Saunders, 7, and Robert Armstrong, 8, which again was stopped at a draw to be continued next year.

MOST CARELESS DRIVER
In a later contest to find the most careless driver on Third Avenue overlooked by the RCMP, Ron Eby was the first cub back but he had the wrong licence number. However, Felix Wright and Derrick Allen were able to give the correct licence number (Continued on page 7)

Symphony Orchestra—

Plain Folks Bring Music Luxury Here

Some time in April, this year, Prince Rupert residents will gather to hear a stirring program of symphonic music. It will not be presented by the New York Philharmonic Society, nor will it be conducted by Arturo Toscanini.

Just plain folks, everyday people make up the Prince Rupert Civic Symphony. All winter they have been rehearsing every week to bring the community one evening of cultural luxury.

Conductor Peter Lien feels his group of 26 musicians will be prepared to give a good taste of symphonic music this spring, including such renditions as a selection from the opera "Rigoletto," "Palmiste Militaire" and a selection from "Firefly," also the "Valse Triste," by Jean Sibelius, and others.

Instrumentalists in the group come from all walks of life: electricians, carpenters, office workers, salesmen, housewives. And the youngest member is a junior high school student.

He is Robert Jensen, 12, of 135 Fifth Avenue East. He plays second fiddle and is taking his sixth year violin lessons. Robert has been with the Symphony not quite a year.

"Maybe I'm not very good yet, but I like it very much," he hastened to add though, that he wasn't studying music as a career—"Just as a hobby, because it's fun."

Origination of symphony in Prince Rupert goes back to 1924

when a junior group, led by the late Professor H. Aubrey Pryer made its double-barrelled debut over the air. The group made the first broadcast on Prince Rupert's other waves, over amateur experimental station VESGT, before the advent of commercial broadcasting.

Three of that original orchestra are today members of the Civic Symphony. They are Mrs. Nellie Anderson, Tom Johnstone and Bert Cameron.

From then on classical music went through several stages here with such groups as the Juno Symphony, the Philharmonic Society and the Capitollans, who played Sundays at the theatre led by Dr. H. N. Brocklesby. The dissolved with the start of World War II.

In spring, 1946, under Neville Gerrard, the Presbyterian Church orchestra was started from which developed the present organization. A short time ago Mr. Gerrard left Prince Rupert, and Mr. Lien was appointed as conductor.

"We have a nucleus here of which we are rather proud," said Conductor Lien. "But we can use more members, and the welcome mat is always at the door."

Old Fashioned Boiled Dinners Good for These Winter Days

BOILED DINNERS
It is not known what chef first hit on the plan of cooking meat with vegetables, but whoever it was, he or she is one of the unsung heroes or heroines of Canadian cookery. During the cold and blustery days of winter, many homemakers are trying to tempt jaded winter appetites with flavorful, nutritious food.

What could have more appetite appeal to any family than the old-fashioned boiled dinner? Potatoes, turnips, cabbage, onions, in fact almost any vegetables one can name, combine well with a variety of meats for this favorite Canadian dish.

It's the cuts that count, whether it is in a new spring dress or in the meat chosen for a boiled dinner. Home economists have pointed out time and time again that the less expensive, less tender cuts, often referred to as utility cuts, when properly cooked with moist heat are just as satisfying, just as nourishing as the more tender cuts cooked with dry heat.

The beef cuts which are most economical to buy for a boiled dinner are fresh or corned brisket and rump or plate pot roast. It is not necessary to buy the highest quality beef for this dish but the meat should be quite lean, with a minimum amount of gristle. Lamb shanks braised and combined with vegetables is another variation of the boiled dinner. When buying lamb be sure that the meat is moist but firm and the fat creamy and slightly pink in colour. Pork, fresh, pickled or smoked, may be used to prepare this flavourful repast, the Canadian boiled dinner. The members of the pork family specially suitable are fresh, pickled or smoked hocks, picnic shoulders and cottage rolls. The flesh of fresh pork should be firm, fine-grained and light greyish pink in colour and the fat should be clear and white.

After purchasing the meat, care should be taken to store it properly. It should be unwrapped as soon as it is brought from the store, because the wrapping paper may draw the juices from the meat. Packaged meat should be removed from its original wrapper. The meat should be then wiped with a damp cloth, placed on a dry plate, covered loosely and put in the refrigerator.

Home economists have described two important pointers regarding meat, of special interest to homemakers, namely, wise buying and correct storing. Now, they discuss careful cooking. The less expensive cuts of meat are often spurned, mainly because the lack of knowledge of how to prepare and use them. The cuts of meat which have been suggested for use in a boiled dinner should be covered with boiling water and cooked slowly at a simmering temperature until tender. For those who enjoy the "browned" flavour and appearance of boiled dinners, the meat may be browned in fat before the water is added. If corned beef is used it should be covered first with cold water, which is drained off as soon as it comes to the boil and is replaced with boiling water. The vegetables are added before the meat is completely cooked, allowing only enough time for them to become tender. In addition to the usual salt and pepper such seasoning, as horseradish or bay leaf may be used for a change. It is most important not to overlook either the meat or the vegetables, as it is desirable to retain their color and their shape.

The pressure saucepan, that comparatively new time-saving device, makes it possible for many homemakers to put on the table, in a matter of minutes, delicious, economical cuts of meat usually requiring hours of cooking. Cooking the less tender cuts of meat in a pressure saucepan requires only a fraction of the usual time. The home economists advise that it is always wise to follow the manufacturer's recommendations for the particular type of cooker one has. Another point they stress is to check cooking time accurately, as a matter of minutes or, in some cases, even half a minute, may make the difference between a perfectly cooked meal and one that is overcooked.

Co-ops Cinch Senior League as Hardware Men Beat Brownwoods

Co-ops cinched the Senior Basketball League Saturday night as Gordon and Anderson's scored an upset victory over Brownwoods 43 to 39.

Gordon and Anderson grabbed an early lead over Brownwoods who were slow in getting their shooting eye. However, Brownwoods managed to find the basket later and take over the lead at half time 20 to 13.

Brownwoods, who had only seven players, two of them up from the Intermediate League, were unable to keep up the pace set by the fast-stepping team in blue and were outplayed in the second half. The hardware men poured through the Brownwood defence time after time to take a ten point lead with 8 minutes to go. Rupert Holkestad sank three perfect hook shots towards the close and set up many good plays.

Gill and Flaten were outstanding as they worked perfectly together offensively and were both very effective on the defence as they netted many rebounds from both baskets. Olson and Spring were the only two who could hit the hoop consistently for Brownwoods as they made 19 and 14 respectively.

It was a fairly clean game to watch with Referees Comadina and Slatta calling 14 fouls on the losers and only 9 on Gordon.

and Anderson, Brownwoods converted only 3 out of 12 foul shots while Gordon and Anderson succeeded in 9 out of 19 attempts.

Gordon and Andersons still have a chance to the Brownwoods for second place providing they win all their remaining league contests and the shoe-men lose all theirs.

In the Intermediate game Fashion took a close win from the much improved High Green team. The first period was slow with the checking close and ended with Fashion leading 7 to 6. The second quarter was good with both teams swishing the hoop more frequently. High School took over the lead and at the half, found themselves on top 19 to 16. The game became a little rougher as the third period got under way and Fashion who are a more experienced team managed to retain the ball until the end, although High Green's Roddy Tait put them ahead 33 to 32 with 2 minutes left. Joe Haugan of Fashion turned the tables at the end as he swished one from centre and gave them the 34 to 33 victory.

Danny Bill played up to his usual form as he and Haugan made 14 and 8 points respectively. High School's scoring was more evenly divided. Fashion had only six players and were without the services of their six-foot centre Jim Hebb.

Referees Slatta and Morrison called 12 fouls on the winners and 11 on the losers. Fashion made 6 out of 15 foul shots while High School made 5 out of 13.

The Junior game saw the league-leading Hi-Juniors take an easy win from the third-place Cook's Jewellers. It was High School's game from start to finish as the jeweller-boys failed to break High School's strong zone defence. In the final period, Coach Jack Evan's boys outscored Cooks 12 to 1.

Much of the credit for High School's win goes to Ron Ciccone who netted 14 points and played a very effective offensive and defensive game. Ciccone was followed by Christenson and McAfee who made six apiece.

Referees R. H. Davidson and Morrison called 10 fouls on High School and 2 on Cooks. The winners made 1 for four while the losers converted only 4 out of 14 attempts.

Ski Heil—

(By Marnie Bulger)

Good skiing was enjoyed for a couple of hours Sunday afternoon by extra-enthusiasts before fast falling snow brought the sport to a blizzardy finish.

A newcomer to local slopes is Gerry Charbonneau, who hails from Montreal, who members hope to see again and, weather permitting, get those pictures.

A group of young teen-agers came over the hill Sunday for a picnic, using the main lodge and its facilities. Apparently they had a good time and left the building neat and tidy. They were not begrudged the firewood which was laboriously chopped and stacked before the ski season. It is hoped they enjoyed soon. BUT—some youngsters found it so easy to start a large pile of unused building material that they burned down several. When discovered the fire. Because of this act of vandalism to the past it shall be at a meeting this week or not any club facilities available to visitors what conditions. Diane Kennedy Tomlinson spent the (Continued on)

Co-ops Cinch Senior League as Hardware Men Beat Brownwoods

Co-ops cinched the Senior Basketball League Saturday night as Gordon and Anderson's scored an upset victory over Brownwoods 43 to 39.

Gordon and Anderson grabbed an early lead over Brownwoods who were slow in getting their shooting eye. However, Brownwoods managed to find the basket later and take over the lead at half time 20 to 13.

Brownwoods, who had only seven players, two of them up from the Intermediate League, were unable to keep up the pace set by the fast-stepping team in blue and were outplayed in the second half. The hardware men poured through the Brownwood defence time after time to take a ten point lead with 8 minutes to go. Rupert Holkestad sank three perfect hook shots towards the close and set up many good plays.

Gill and Flaten were outstanding as they worked perfectly together offensively and were both very effective on the defence as they netted many rebounds from both baskets. Olson and Spring were the only two who could hit the hoop consistently for Brownwoods as they made 19 and 14 respectively.

It was a fairly clean game to watch with Referees Comadina and Slatta calling 14 fouls on the losers and only 9 on Gordon.

THIRD AVENUE AT SEVENTH STREET

Blackwood on Bridge

By Easley Blackwood

"Peace in our time—at the bridge table" will be my guiding motto for the following series of columns on the laws of contract bridge. My mail indicates there is a lively and at times almost violent interest in this subject.

The most frequently recurring inquiries have to do with the penalties for various infractions of the rules such as leads out of turn, bids out of turn, insufficient bids and exposing cards.

Obviously there are many differences of opinion as to the proper penalties to be assessed. They are all covered in the official laws and in this series of articles I will illustrate some of the most common causes of disturbance at the bridge table and clarify the applicable rule for each.

Some of the letters I receive show that quite a few players believe infractions of the rules should be condoned on the grounds that "after all we are just playing for fun." Well, to borrow a couple of phrases from the politicians, I deplore this tendency. I also "view it with alarm." Surely it is no coincidence that those who favor condonement are invariably the offenders themselves.

At a baseball game, have you ever seen a batter swing at a third strike and miss, then turn to the opposing pitcher and say, "Oh, I'm sorry, I didn't mean to strike at that one. It was just a slip of the bat." At this point the pitcher replies, "That's all right, old man, I'll overlook it. Go ahead and take a few more out—as many as you want."

Silly, isn't it, and yet it illustrates my point—and my strong conviction that bridge should be played by the rules. If you concede a lead out of turn you may as well start awarding a bonus of 500 points for making a two-club contract. In other words you may as well change all the rules of the game.

Players who enforce the rules are not being "mean" or unduly technical. In fact good sportsmanship requires that offenders should insist on the enforcement of the proper legal penalty. The reason is that the offender, by committing the infraction, has unwittingly given his side an unfair advantage.

Tomorrow I will show you an odd infraction of the rules committed by my friend Mr. Muzzey who is a master at that sort of thing.

FRONT YARD FLOWERS FIT MOOD OF MODERN HOMES

Homes, like those who live in them, have personalities. Those built in traditional architectural styles are dignified, and formal in appearance. Landscape architects used to tell us that planting in the front yards of these homes should be in harmony with this dignity. If planting could be compared to clothing, then the house should face the public in formal attire.

This sort of thinking put an end to flower beds in front yards. They were altogether too gay for their sedate background. Would you dress for the street as for a garden party, or tennis game? Then grow your flowers in the back yard, where you could wear sports clothes, and romp around.

For front yards the fashion developed of planting evergreens around the high foundations, which then prevailed, and this practice spread through the country, where formerly evergreens had usually been seen only in cemeteries.

A benefit of this fashion was that it made us familiar with the variety and beauty of evergreens which are lovely in form and color, and green the year around, deserving of use in gardens wherever they are located.

But times change, and ideas with them. Traditional architectural styles have given way to functional design: millions of new homes have now been built without a thought of tradition. The attached garage, picture windows, breeze-way, and low spreading ranch house construction, produce a home unlike any traditional style since Babylon.

The principle on which modern architecture is based is that comfort and convenience in living are more important than a dignified, formal appearance to the passerby. The house, you might say, takes off its frock coat and faces the world in a more casual, sometimes wearing a pair of slippers at front yard planting would be in harmony with that sort of atmosphere? Surely, not the same formal, dignified treatment, that became commonplace in the last generation. Not a foundation planting for a house which has no visible foundation; not dignified sedateness, where the home expresses informality and comfort. Yet because fashions are often slow to change, many of these homes have been planted in an outmoded, unsuitable manner, or what is worse, have not been planted at all.

The solution of this problem, which is rapidly being accepted, is the door-yard garden. This restores to the front yard the flower beds and borders, which were there in the Victorian era.

Then, flowers were often used to work out elaborate designs in beds of geometric shapes. Modern doorway gardens are as simple as possible in design, in order to center attention upon the beauty of the flowers. They are grouped in masses of color, so arranged that each mass harmonizes with and sets off the others, and all provide a pleasing decoration for the house.

New Orchestra at Burns Lake Dance

BURNS LAKE—A goodly crowd attended the St. Valentine's Dance at the Community Hall and was greeted by a newly-formed orchestra which won the hearts of all. Composed of Messrs. Homewood, Witt, Pennington, Berg and Simpson, playing piano, accordion, piano, violin, saxophone and the traps, further augmented by a new accordion player—a new employee of Burns Lake Garage—the music left nothing to be desired. The orchestra was promptly engaged to play for the Snowball Dance on the occasion of the coronation of the Carnival Queen, which will be conducted with full ceremony. The Queen will be attended by a full retinue of the other candidates.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Burns Lake Canadian Legion served a delicious luncheon.

ODIHAM, Hants, Eng. — "Reunion" seems to be the order of the day for the Red Indians of the RCAF's 421 Fighter Squadron now in England for a year of operations and training with formations of the RAF. Many of the men of this war-famed Canadian squadron saw service in the United Kingdom during the hard days of the war and now welcome the chance to serve with the Red Indian squadron in this first move of a Canadian squadron overseas since the end of World War II. Now arriving at this southern England RAF station, they are eager to get away on week-ends to visit old friends, families and familiar haunts of these hectic years from 1939 to 1945.

An armament technician with the Red Indians, Col. Robert Angus, of Prince George and Havelock (Ont.) lost no time in getting to Aberdeen, Scotland, where his mother, whom he hasn't seen for three years, is seriously ill. The Commanding Officer of 421 Squadron, S-L R.T.P. Davidson, of Vancouver, B.C., saw to it that Col. Angus had special leave and he was in Aberdeen one day after having landed (13 Jan.) at Odiham.

Cpl. Angus, born in Aberdeen, joined the RAF in 1936 and served as an armament fitter with the RAF until 1947. He had his eye on service with the RCAF when he obtained his release from the RAF in 1947 and was able to enlist with the Royal Canadian Air Force in Aug. 1949, in his trade as an armament technician. He was first stationed at St. Hubert, P.Q. and then with the armament flight at RCAF Station Trenton. He was transferred to 421 Squadron just before Christmas for the move overseas.

CANADIAN WIFE

Bob married a Canadian girl, the former Edith Wright, of Havelock, Ont., on March 4th, 1950, while stationed at Trenton. He is now the proud father of a son, Michael Robert, born at Prince George, where his wife is now staying with a sister. Bob has yet to see his son for, unfortunately, duty called and he was forced to leave Prince George on New Year's Day this year, just two days before his 6 lb. 12 oz. son was born. Needless to say, Bob is looking forward to seeing his wife again, and new son. "I'm trying to get them over here," he said, "but it is a long trip from EC to Odiham."

As for Canada and the RCAF, the rugged Scot enthusiastically observed, "I think Canada is A-1 and I intend to make the RCAF my career."

Bob, it seems, is a keen fisherman and at the mention of such places as Peterborough, Campbellford or Havelock he beams: "The Trent Valley and the Kawartha Lakes, that's for me," he said. "I'd like nothing better than to retire there and spend the rest of my life fishing. That's my idea of paradise!"

Cpl. Angus will be a busy armament technician for the next year, working on the varied armament of the Vampire fighters of 421 Squadron. The jets must be ready at
