

Hike In Canadian Freight Rates Is Allowed By Board

OTTAWA (CP)—Board of Transport Commissioners today awarded the railways an interim freight rate increase of 12 per cent. The higher rates are estimated to add $54,000,000 a year to Canada's annual freight bill.

The railways had asked for $89,000,000, chiefly to meet higher wage costs.

It is the third major increase in rail rates since 1946.

The new award, while authorizing a general increase, prescribes a series of customary exceptions including the west's grain traffic, joint rates between Canada and the United States and export rates to and from Canadian ports which are kept on a parity with those of competing United States ports.

The board also granted the railways permission to increase to $1.50 from 75 cents their minimum charge for small less than carload shipments.

British To Leave Iran

TEHRAN (CP)—British oil men prepared final plans to get out of Iran within the next eighteen days, leaving the Iranians to solve their own problems unless a compromise in the oil nationalization dispute is reached.

The British-owned Anglo-Iranian Oil Co. is to complete evacuation of British personnel from the fields unless negotiations are resumed.

This probably would mean capping of the wells in the Khuzistan oil field and shutting down of the giant refinery.

Five Years For AP Man

Oatis Convicted of "Espionage"

PRAGUE (CP)—Association Press correspondent William Oatis has been sentenced to 10 years in prison after being convicted of spying by a Czech court.

Five Communist judges said half of the 10-year term will be "suspended for good behaviour." He was ordered exiled from Czechoslovakia after serving the sentence.

Three Czech employees of the Associated Press who were tried with Oatis were convicted of espionage and sentenced to from 16 to 20 years.

Booming Edmonton Mammoth Problem For City Council

By GRAHAM TROTTER
Canadian Press Staff Writer

EDMONTON (CP)—Four years as an oil boom town have given Edmonton the worst growing pains in the country. And they appear destined to become worse before they get better.

In those four years, Edmonton's population has jumped from 115,000 to 160,000, double the 1931 total. Now Canada's eighth largest city, its population is increasing 1000 a month as the magic of oil lures job-seekers and the allied cheap natural gas attracts unprecedented industrial development.

The city's growth has developed into a racking civic-government financial head a c-h-e. More houses, paved roads, sidewalks, parking, schools, sewers, gas, water and light utilities and public services are needed urgently.

And the city has reached the bottom of its financial barrel. Alderman William Hawrelak says: "In two years the situation will be critical. The city is at the end of its borrowing capacity."

Edmonton embarked on a five-year program in 1948, planning to spend $40,000,000 on capital extension of city-owned utilities. In the next three years $38,000,000 was spent, instead of the intended $24,000,000. Most of the money was borrowed. It is a good example of how fast the city's limited funds are being gobbled up.

The city-owned telephone system reports the waiting list for telephones has increased from 7956 to 10,180 in the last year despite 5200 installations. Costly conversion of the Edmonton transit system from street cars to trolley coaches and buses, started before the Second World War, is near completion.

The Edmonton public school board, telescoping into about five years construction that normally would be done in 15 or 20, describes its financial plight as "critical." Planning expenditure of $5,000,000 to $6,000,000 in the next three years, it so far has been unable to sell about $2,400,000 in debentures to cover

Thai Revolt Over— Army Takes Over Navy

BANGKOK (CP)—Thailand's Royal Navy was all but liquidated Tuesday for rebelling last week. Most of the ranking officers, including the commander-in-chief, were dismissed and jailed.

Approximately 75 percent of the naval personnel has been dropped from the service at least for six months.

A general has taken over control of what is left of the Navy. Premier Pibulsonggram, kidnapped by plotters last Friday, hit back swiftly.

In suppressing the revolt in three days' fighting, the Army had already struck a serious blow at the Navy.

The flagship of the Thai Navy was captured by the Army and the admiral was held prisoner aboard the ship.

Some stubborn naval units are still holding out in a fort at the mouth of the Chao Phraya River which flows past Bangkok but naval establishments elsewhere are under Army control.

Lorne Main is Beaten

WIMBLEDON (CP)—Canada's Lorne Main and Miss Barbara Knapp of Britain, holders of the Canadian doubles title, were defeated today 6-1, 6-3, by Joseph Asboth and Mrs. Suzie Kormoczy of Hungary in the fourth round of the mixed doubles of the all-England tournament.

YOUNG ROYALTY CHOSEN—

Queen Loraine Berg And King Arnold Wick Are Fair Rulers

Representing all Prince Rupert's "younger set"—from ages three to five—will be tiny Miss Loraine Diane Berg, 3, and Arnold David Wick, 4, when they are crowned Junior King and Queen Friday night.

At the Prince Rupert Exhibition last night, 12 judges chose the two from 40 entries. In elimination scores, semi-finals brought out six on the stage, three boys and three girls, two of each being chosen as supporting princes and princesses.

First princess will be Valerie Pihera, three-year-old daughter of Mrs. M. Pihera; second princess is Susan Bonalyn Stewart, three years, daughter of Mrs. D. Stewart.

First prince chosen was Rolly McLeod, 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. McLeod; second prince, John Marshall, 3, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Marshall.

This year's junior queen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Berg, 338 Fifth Avenue East, and the junior king is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Erling Wick, 1255 Beach Place.

Little Miss Berg has brown, curly hair and big brown eyes and wears a big smile for everyone. Last night she was dressed in a short yellow rayon pinafore. She was a favorite with the audience as well as with the judges and received big applause after the judging.

Master Arnold Wick was dressed in a "Scotty" plaid suit and cap to match and acknowledged his victory with no more than a quick smile and slight nod of his head to the cheers of several hundred mothers, fathers and children.

Cost of Living Hits New High

OTTAWA.—The Canadian cost of living index spiraled to a new high in May. The index on June 1 was 184.1, an all-time high. This was an advance of 2.1 points over the May 1 figure.

Jack Guest Eliminated

HENLEY-ON-THAMES (CP)—The Canadian oarsman Jack Guest was beaten by six feet in the first round of the Diamond Sculls event of the Royal Henley Regatta today. He was beaten by Erik Larsen of Denmark.

The 18-year-old Torontonian was hoping to repeat the triumph of his father, Jack Guest, Sr., who in 1930 won the Diamond.

RUPERT WINS AGAIN—

Ketchikan Loses at Home Park by 1 Run

In a seven inning game last night, Prince Rupert All-Stars again bested Ketchikan's top team by one run and this time on the Alaskans' home diamond. Score was 4-3. Prince Rupert had won two games here during the Dominion Day week-end by one run margins.

Larry Warner started and stayed in for the whole game, pitching himself out of one hole after the other. Ketchikan knocked him right and left. Crisis of the game was in the last inning with the home team at bat. With bases loaded and no outs, Warner hurled three put-outs in a row to keep the one run lead for Prince Rupert.

Bill Gunn, Prince Rupert's right fielder in the All-Star lineup, got in two hits, the most for any man on his team. Two runs were scored by Prince Rupert in the first inning.

Today's game is a nine-inning affair. Letourneau pitching. Yesterday's line-up was as follows:

Bring Halibut From Ketchikan

To fill late orders for fresh fish deliveries to the eastern markets, two local fish buying concerns "went on the board" for halibut at Ketchikan at the week-end and bought catches of two United States boats which were brought here Sunday and transferred to Monday evening's train for shipment East.

The Royal Fish Co. paid 20.8c, 17c and 15c (at Ketchikan) for 27,000 pounds from the Havana while Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co. (B.C. Packers) took the 42,000-pound catch of the Sunset for 21c, 17c and 15c.

First Get-Together Is Set For Sunday

TOKYO (CP)—Communist commanders agreed tonight to preliminary cease-fire talks in Korea on Sunday. General Matthew Ridgway, United Nations commander, had proposed such a meeting for tomorrow but his spokesman said today that Sunday would probably be acceptable.

There is no change in the previously agreed date—next Tuesday—to start actual armistice talks at Kaesong, 35 miles north of Seoul near the 38th parallel. Meanwhile an unusual quiet has settled over the 100-mile Korean battlefield.

Three officers from each side—none over the rank of colonel—will meet in the preliminary talk and their job will be only to make arrangements for the actual armistice talk.

Newspaper correspondents will not be permitted at the preliminary talk.

Chisox Half Game Behind

NEW YORK (CP)—Little Billy Pierce pitched Chicago White Sox back to within half a game of the American League lead Tuesday and the New York Giants picked up valuable ground in the National League chase.

Pierce hurled the White Sox to a 4 to 1 three-hit victory over the Cleveland Indians, enabling the White Sox to pick up half a game on the pace-setting New York Yankees who were idle.

The Giants scored a 9 to 8 13-inning victory over the Philadelphia Phillies to pull within four-and-a-half games of the Brooklyn Dodgers. The Dodgers dropped a 4 to 3 decision to the Boston Braves.

Washington Senators upset the Boston Red Sox 4 to 1. Cincinnati Reds trounced St. Louis Cardinals 10 to 4 and Pittsburgh Pirates defeated Chicago Cubs 2 to 0.

Profound And Dramatic

IN THE second section of today's issue, we report for laymen on current developments in Canada's far-flung chemical industry.

One can pull out all the big and splendid adjectives about the size and significance of this program and what it means for our industrial maturity and for the betterment of all Canadians. Yet words alone will fail to bring into the mind the full scope and meaning of what is now going on.

Take just one example, the new Columbia Cellulose plant near Prince Rupert, last week visited by a Financial Post representative. Here... has just opened a $27 million plant for high alpha pulp production. Here was a major feat of imagination and engineering, and despite our familiarity with big figures the fact remains that $27 millions is still a lot of money for one plant.

And almost before this want was in production, plans were finalized for increasing its output, much of which can be achieved by installing additional machinery within the present walls.

And the same week another associate of the same company was starting work on what will be at least a $52 million project near Edmonton. There, in a chemical partnership with the oil refinery industry, cellulose will be carried a further stage toward its final usefulness to the consumers of textiles and plastics.

Back again to the north Pacific coast, to Kitimat, about 400 miles north of Vancouver. Now it is a fishing village, 47 small buildings visible from the sea. A very few years hence, Kitimat will be a major community of British Columbia.

There work has been begun for a 100,000-ton aluminum plant scheduled for completion by 1954. From there productive capacity is to be advanced to a fabulous 550,000 tons. By harnessing a series of mountain lakes and drilling ten mile tunnels through the mountains, Alcan will get a water-power head seven times Grand Coulee's, giving it power costs of one cent a pound compared with 1 3/4 to 3 1/4 for new power capacity on the U.S. Gulf Coast.

The cost of all this: The first phase, $160 millions; the whole job $550 millions.

The effect of such giant projects on the development of British Columbia, on the populating of interior areas, on the development of ancillary industries and services, for the improvement of the lives of people, will be profound.

And those are only three of the more dramatic examples, all from the far west, of what is taking place today.—Financial Post.

What Is A Customer?

A CUSTOMER is the most important person ever in this office... in person or by mail.

A Customer is not dependent on us... we are dependent on him.

A Customer is not an interruption in our work... he is the purpose of it.

We are not doing him a favor by serving him... he is doing us the favor by giving us the opportunity to do so.

A Customer is not an outsider to our business... he is part of it.

A Customer is not a cold statistic... he is a flesh and blood human being with feelings and emotions like our own, and with biases and prejudices.

A Customer is not someone to argue or match wits with. Nobody ever won an argument with a Customer.

A Customer is a person who brings us his wants. It is our job to handle them profitably to him and to ourselves.

A Virginia man of 98 never had a doctor. He's the kind of a gentleman who could cause an apple shortage.—Great Falls Tribune.

British Columbia beckons to California's vacationists and they are coming by every means of transportation except one and that's the bicycle, says the travel editor of the San Francisco Examiner, Harry Jorgenson. Let 'em all come. Quite a few should be here today. There are reasons for this summer's movement north. Alcan and cellulose are a couple.

Why is it that, although as far back as anybody can remember farmers have always been losing money, yet it is rare that a farmer is seen in a bankruptcy court or in the almshouse?

A Canadian flier, seeking treatment for what he considered a back injury caused when he alighted in Sweden, was told that he was suffering from imagination. For eight years he endured pain, struggling, as well, to exist and keep a family. He is now to have an operation, an X-ray having proved the necessity. Eight years is a long time to depend on imagination.

Canada's Federal Minister of Immigration and Citizenship says immigrants should be encouraged to go west, instead of settling in Ontario and Quebec. It is most important that they locate in British Columbia and in the valleys facing the Pacific and up north. A good idea. Immigration from overseas has been helping settle Ontario and Quebec for the past three centuries.

Vancouver's first day of horse meat sales disposed of between four and five thousand pounds. Prices ranged between 24 and 48 cents a pound. A thousand customers were taken care of. Another carload is due today. Meat has sometimes been called tougher than harness. But it need not follow that this is.

College Memorial Honors Classmate

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—Jack Spalding, 22, was to have graduated from the University of Western Ontario this month. But Jack, in third year of a general arts course, died after a short illness last February.

Professors said he was one of the most popular boys in the university, whose death "ended what would have been a brilliant career."

Now a group of Jack's student friends have placed 50 modern French books in the university library to perpetuate his memory. Sparked by Gordon C. Heymans, the students contributed the money to purchase the works.

EDMONTON BOOM

Edmonton finally disposed of the debentures on the United States open market—but only $10,468,000 worth at an interest rate jacked up to 4.04 per cent from 2.7.

When 1947 dawned Edmonton was just another Canadian city, essentially a commercial and distributing centre for a vast agricultural area and extensive mining development in the north.

Then, in February 1947, oil was discovered at Leduc, 21 miles south. Overnight a whole new era opened up for Alberta and its capital city.

This discovery—after Imperial Oil alone had spent more than $20,000,000 in a 20-year drilling program only to come up with 123 dry holes—led to hundreds of others. Edmonton now is practically encircled by oil fields, some within 3 1/2 miles of its limits.

Value of building permits skyrocketed—from $13,183,000 in 1947 to $40,050,000 in 1949 and $46,579,000 in 1950, both years the second highest in Canada. So far this year they are $3,000,000 ahead of 1950's record pace.

Bank clearings, a good barometer of business value, soared from $699,453,000 in 1947 to $1,205,326,000 in 1950. They were up $16,000,000 in the first five months of 1951.

CONSTRUCTION PROJECTS

Total capital invested in manufacturing plants last year was $112,000,000. Major projects under construction or planned for this year are expected to mean a similar outlay.

Under construction are a 16-storey, $5,000,000 extension to the CNR's Macdonald Hotel, to be Edmonton's highest building; two oil refineries at a cost of more than $20,000,000 for British-American Oil Co. Ltd. and McColl-Fontenac Oil Co. Ltd.; a $5,000,000 modernization of the Imperial Oil Ltd. refinery.

Planned are a $50,000,000 chemical plant by the Celanese Corporation of America and a $750,000 factory by Great West Garment Co. Edmonton is a possible site for a $14,000,000 pulp and paper mill proposed by Montreal financiers and a $17,522,000 nickel refinery which Sherritt-Gordon Mines Ltd. has announced it will build in Alberta.

An average of 3500 to 4000 housing units are being built annually, but all are private projects because the city has admitted it hasn't enough money to go into housing.

Edmonton has never seen anything like it since 1795 when the original Fort Edmonton was established in the lusty fur-trading days. But the city, now covering 41.73 square miles, is accustomed to the limelight.

The North Saskatchewan River made Fort Edmonton one of the top trading posts on the continent when it was the main transportation artery in the northwest before the railways came; thousands of gold-seekers outfitted here during the Klondike gold rush of 1897; bush pilots made Edmonton their base while helping to open up the north; and the Second World War brought the "American invasion," when Edmonton was a key point in construction of the Alaska Highway and the Canol pipeline.

Oil has brought all the present turmoil, but it still is second to meat packing as the city's most important single industry.

THE EXPERTS Say...

FISH EATING ECONOMICAL

Fish eaters are happier than most others these days. Their favorite food often is as much as 25 cents a pound cheaper than beef, and there's also plenty of it.

The fisheries department reports good catches of most kinds of fish so far this year.

And it's easier for Canadians now to buy good fish no matter in what area they live. Fisheries Minister Mayhew recently told the House of Commons that more fish stores are opening across Canada. There was no reason why Canadians everywhere could not buy fish of good quality.

Of course wherever a housewife goes shopping these days it hurts the pocketbook. But she finds fresh fish selling cheaper than meat.

STEAMED SALMON

Boiled or steamed salmon makes an excellent main course. To boil, tie the salmon piece in parchment paper or cheese cloth and boil until the meat falls away from the bone.

Steam by placing fish in kettle over boiling water and leave there until done. Allow one-third to one-half pound of salmon for each person.

French dressing is just the thing to serve with the salmon which by now has been chilled, placed on individual plates and surrounded by lettuce leaves.

For the dressing: Place one egg yolk (very dry) in bowl and add dash of salt and pepper; whip with egg-beater while continuing to add salad oil and small amount of vinegar. Watch that vinegar! Too much or it will prevent mixture from whipping into the required fluffy dressing. Scalloped potatoes and tomatoes go well with salmon.

And for dessert strawberries and ice cream are just the thing at this time of the year.

Newsprint Price Undisturbed

WASHINGTON, D.C. (P)—Price Stabilizer Michael Van Disalle said that the Canadian government authorities had again refused to withhold the $10-a-ton increase in newsprint prices due to take effect July 1.

Disalle told reporters that he had talked by long distance telephone with R. M. Fowler, Montreal, president of the Pulp and Paper Division of the Canadian L. fence Production Board.

Disalle quoted Fowler as declining a request by American officials to hold up the scheduled increase, announced by Canadian newsprint mills, pending further talks. He said he had asked Fowler if it was not possible to suspend $5 of the increase until talks are held with American publishers and officials.

Reaches Canada After 34 Years

INDIAN HEAD, Sask. (P)—Journey's end has at last been achieved by Mrs. Katie Heipier, who took 34 years to make the journey from Russia through Germany to the Dominion.

Mrs. Heipier with her husband and five children, fled Russia in 1917 during the revolution. They intended then to make their way to Canada, but got only as far as Hamburg.

In Germany life was unkind to Mrs. Heipier. Her husband died there and her children are still there. With the Germans, she suffered all the havoc of the Second World War. From 1943 on she lived with about 1,000 other homeless families in a huge air-raid shelter.

That shelter, a six-storey steel and concrete structure, had no windows. Its inhabitants were without natural light or fresh air.

Food was also a terrific problem in Hamburg in those days. People lived on a near-starvation diet. Mrs. Heipier dropped from 200 pounds to her present weight of 126.

Now she is living here with her sister, whom she had not seen for 35 years until her recent arrival.

Food budget. Home economists claim a savings of about 50 per cent when it is taken into account that a one-pound can of powdered milk makes the equivalent of four quarts of fresh liquid skim milk.

To mix: Put the required amount of lukewarm water into a deep vessel; sprinkle milk powder on top and then stir briskly with spoon, fork or egg-beater until thoroughly blended.

Customs Work Is Increased

The Customs House staff at Prince Rupert find their duties considerably increased, as a consequence of the work entailed in the developments going on by reason of the aluminum and cellulose activities, as well as the general business and transportation routine.

Regina Depicted In Terazzo Floor

REGINA (P)—When Joy Sundeen was a resident of the Richardson, Sask., district, her friends often received letters in which most of the news was depicted by clever drawings.

Joy now is a 1950 graduate in architecture of the University of Manitoba and hopes to become a licensed architect after completing further examinations.

Working for a Regina firm, her drawings and ideas have paid off. The proprietor of a marble, tile and terazzo company asked for a floor design which would be emblematic of his trade. The job was assigned to Joy.

The work called for a suitable design for the floor of the front office which would include 70 kinds of terazzos, or marble chips.

Miss Sundeen chose the map of Regina for the design. Various blocks are set out in the varied terazzos, including a few buildings, the railway with a miniature train complete with smoke, the airport, Wascana Lake and creek bed, and — a touch of humor.

It will be cut down to the water line for the steel the derelict contains, the material to be moved to Vancouver by scow. The demand for steel for defence industries actuated the salvaging job on the North Sea, which is in a difficult position for such operations.

Half a dozen men are engaged in the work and George Naum came north from Vancouver, Bella Bella on the Camosun at the end of the week in connection with the job.

Last week the North Sea caught fire by accident from an acetylene torch and made quite a spectacular blaze for a time.

New Swiss Discovery for Eczemas, Boils, Psoriasis, Leg Ulcers

F"99"

Authentic photograph of Mr. J. Biller on November 16th, suffering for 20 years from Eczema all over the body, before the F"99" Treatment.

Authentic photograph of Mr. J. Biller on February 11th. The Eczema was completely cleared up after 11 weeks of F"99" Treatment.

EMINENT Scientists have discovered that the lack of unsaturated fatty acids in human nutrition is one of the main causes of skin diseases, such as Eczemas, Boils, Leg Ulcers and Psoriasis. The modern diet, in which these essential substances are often completely lacking, have brought about a deficiency in a great number of individuals.

Remarkable Swiss Discovery

A Swiss chemist, Dr. W. Schmitz, succeeded after 10 years of research work in extracting from pure vegetable oils an unsaturated fatty acid in a concentration of 99% and therefore named F"99". Thanks to this hitherto unattained purity, F"99" is so readily absorbed into the blood stream, that it has a decisive biological activity in the treatment of skin diseases.

Illustrated Booklet on F"99" containing all the interesting facts concerning this remarkable new Swiss Discovery which will bring new health and happiness to innumerable skin sufferers, can be obtained free of charge from any good drug store or by sending your name and address to Diva Laboratories, Dept. 536, P.O. Box 116, Victoria, B.C.

Natural way to clear up skin troubles
F"99" is not a synthetic drug but a concentrate of natural nutritive substances. It is so harmless that it may be given even to infants without any hesitation. Its remarkable efficiency in the treatment of Eczemas, Boils, Leg Ulcers and Psoriasis has astonished even Skin Specialists of international reputation. As its name suggests, the F"99" Two-Way Treatment acts internally as well as externally. While F"99" Capsules or Liquid give the body the power to suppress the cause and combat successfully skin disease, the F"99" Ointment treats its external, visible symptoms. To many thousands of skin sufferers all over the world, F"99" Two-Way Treatment has already proved its tremendous value and is being used with outstanding results even on cases where all ordinary treatments have failed.

Constable Farewelled

STEWART.—Constable C. P. Crouch and Mrs. Crouch left here Monday night on the Camosun for Prince Rupert where Constable Crouch will be stationed.

A formal presentation was made at a dance in the Moose Hall, the company joining hands and singing "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows." The presentation was made by Village Commissioner W. R. Toth.

Both Constable and Mrs. Crouch, in their replies, expressed regret at leaving the community and hoped they would be able to meet again in the not too distant future.

Rousing Film

The rousing story of one of America's most violent figures, Jean Lafitte, is told in "Last of the Buccaneers," today and Thursday at the Capitol Theatre. "Last of the Buccaneers" stars Paul Henreid as Lafitte, a soldier-sailor of fortune whose fleet swept the seven seas for loot, whose sword carved out a jungle empire for his outlaw bride.

History has recorded much of the rousing excitement which surrounded Lafitte and, according to advance report, so has this new screen adventure drama. Lafitte commanded a cutthroat crew which used the Louisiana bayous as its headquarters. A pirate with a price on his head, he marched against the British to save the city of New Orleans during the War of 1812. This made him a hero and a patriot, accepted in the highest society, but his newly-won respectability was no match for the violence in his nature.

He seized the island of Galveston from its Indian inhabitants and turned his attention to the ships of Spain, looting them of fabulous treasures. When, against his strictest orders, one of Lafitte's lieutenants plundered an American vessel, the man was summarily hanged. But the damage was done; the United States sent a force to destroy the erstwhile hero.

Lafitte's love for one of the society belles of old New Orleans figures prominently in "Last of the Buccaneers," as does the romantic conflict engendered when the tomboy daughter of one of his Galveston crew becomes jealous of Lafitte's attachment for the New Orleans girl.

Appearing in featured support are Jack Oakie, Karin Booth and Mary Anderson.

Big Missouri Is Inspected

STEWART.—Gordon Blaney, representing the Big Missouri interests, has been in town during the past week. He paid a visit to the mine but was very non-committal as to the future.

In the course of a conversation Mr. Blaney mentioned that he had worked with Jack Farrington in Africa. Farrington graduated from the UBC about 1926 and worked at B. C. Silver and Premier. He was one of the geologists who went to Northrhodesia with Professor Joseph Bancroft and is now in Nigeria managing a tin mine in that country.

One of those delightfully human stories which comes only too seldom to the screen these days is the current offering which has been pleasing Capitol Theatre audiences the last two nights and which closes tonight. Throughout the picture, in technicolor, there is visual splendor for the eye and the nature of the story provides spiritual conflict for the mind and poignant romance to touch the heart. Susan Hayward and William Lundigan are co-stars.

Lundigan is the practical pastor of backwoods Georgia in the early nineteen hundreds, bringing an earthly but devout realism to his calling, and facing the consequences of any day, be they joyful or tragic, turbulent or quiet, with courage and resilience. Susan Hayward is the staunch wife who shares the rigors of a life she had not previously known to perfection.
