Accepting Taxes

TAXES ARE a necessary part of our organized life. We have to submit to them whether we enjoy them or not, or whether they determine that we shall enjoy a lot less of other things. But there is a point where placid acceptance of taxation ceases to be a civil virtue and becomes an outright evil.

Of course governments must have money, just as we citizens must have money. But when we citizens are faced with unexpected demands such as suddenly increased prices or taxation—most of us cannot hope for some source from which we may recoup. We can't look for support from anyone but ourselves and the only recourse to most of us is the simple and effective one of tightening the belt.

Our government is faced with such an emergency—the need for a sudden and vast defence expenditure. It is inevitable that some of that added need should be passed on to the public. We are able to meet these new demands because, in process of tightening our belts, we come to learn that there are ways of doing without as well as doing with. That is a lesson that develops character in governments as well as individuals. The government that has to sharpen its wits to make ends meet, to make a dollar do the work of two, to find alternatives and to give a second thought on if and how to spend, is a better government than the one that spends as it goes, secure in the belief that there is plenty more where that came from.

But the belief in an inexhaustible reservoir of supply has other sobering repercussions. Inflation is not a matter of price increases, as we are so ready to suppose, but of dollars that have increased out of relation to the supply of goods on which they may be spent.

So, when you feel like taking credit for accepting taxation with resignation, remember what it is doing to you. The criticism of taxation is a basic safeguard of our democracy. It cannot be forgone without danger resulting.

Inconsistent

TWO MEN have been earning their living at the same kind of work. One of them is sixty years old, the other is seventy.

Life has not been kind to the younger man. Misfortune has followed him and his health is such that he is no longer able to work at his trade. His meagre savings are already half eaten away by the inflation of the dollar.

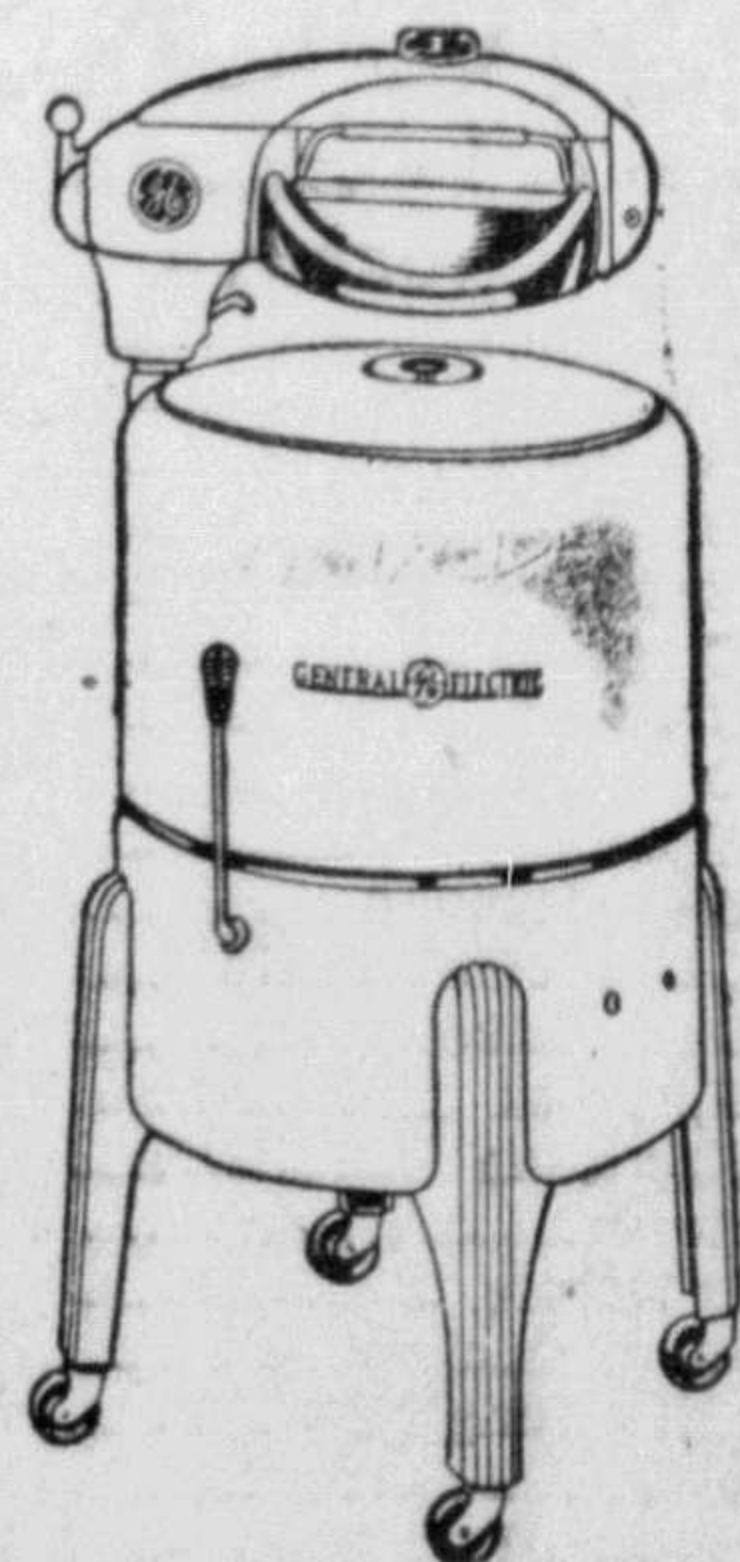

The older man has been more fortunate. He is still in good health, and able to work at his trade, and his savings are considerably larger than those of his friend.

The new Old Age Pension Law proposes to give $40 a month to the older man and another $40 to his wife.

It will give nothing at all to the younger man whose need is greater.

Booming North

SUDBURY.—North Bay and Sudbury have undergone a great growth since first I visited them. The dismal thirties are far behind.

"Natural enough," I hear some readers say, "with all these wars and rumors of wars—and nickle still the kingpin of war metals.

The paper here today points out that Sudbury would be a prime target in the event of a third world war because of the fact that it is the world's greatest nickle producer.

But, if so, any would-be attackers would have no walk-over to get there. Canada is not asleep in this jet flying age.

PEOPLE here have asked me what people in Britain think of the chances of another war. You never hear them talk about it, I replied. But I added that might be because it was too serious to talk about lightly. Britain IS the front line in any new war, and everybody in a responsible position in Britain knows it.

I had the impression on this last trip to Britain that fear of world war had definitely lessened, even as compared with the feeling last spring.

There were military experts who were willing to bet that the Soviet satellites would attack Yugoslavia as soon as the harvest of 1951 was in.

Well, we all know now it did not happen.

WAGES here in Sudbury are among the best in Canada. At the nickle company mine the minimum is over $1.40 per hour and the average around $1.64.

Many fine new homes are going up. One fine feature here is that a systematic attempt is now being made to welcome newcomers to this part of the country and to make them feel, from the very beginning, that they really are wanted in Canada, not just tolerated.

AT MY speeches for the Canadian Clubs I am telling them why I do not think the Labor opposition will try to make it too tough for the new Churchill government.

Main reason—because if they did snarl things up, as they easily could, a new election might be called and Labor be put back in with an even weaker working majority than Mr. Churchill's.

My guess is that Mr. Churchill's government will live out its full term unless there is a war or major economic crisis, in which case there will be a coalition—no matter how reluctant Labor may now be to consider that eventuality.

I THOUGHT that the British election was pretty dead. But

Waiting Room Improvements

Waiting rooms in the Canadian National Railways station here are now in process of being renovated, Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce was advised last night. The report came following complaints made at the meeting of the Chamber in October in regard to the condition of passenger waiting room facilities here generally. The Chamber will continue to press for better waiting room facilities on the local passenger docks, particularly the Canadian National.

now back in Ontario I take THAT back—for Ontario's is even deader—if there is such a word as "deader."

No other bond like it anywhere...

WHY?

BECAUSE IT CAN ALWAYS BE CASHED
AT FULL FACE VALUE PLUS INTEREST.

There is no other security which offers this unique feature. All other bonds which Canadians can buy are subject to market quotations from day to day. The price at which they can be sold is the price someone else is willing to pay. But Canada Savings Bonds can be cashed for 100 cents on the dollar anytime without delay.

In addition, they pay a handsome return (averaging 3.21% per year if the bond is held to maturity).

They are registered in your name, offering you protection in case of loss or destruction.

They are backed by all the wealth and resources of our country. There is no argument—the man who owns a Canada Savings Bond has made the finest investment available today. If you have not made your arrangements yet to take advantage of this opportunity, see your investment dealer or bank without delay. Or, ask about the Payroll Savings Plan where you work.

Most of the British import here has been of the superb dramatic type and little, if any, cheesecake. Although Patricia is a native of London, her father is Spanish. That accounts for her spectacular brunette beauty—a must for those harem epics which are always best in color.

"Difficult Day?.. Take a Disprin"

Why DISPRIN? Because DISPRIN is soluble and substantially neutral. When taken in water as recommended, it enters the stomach as a true solution and not as undissolved particles. It is therefore less liable to cause stomach discomfort.
DISPRIN is readily absorbed. Because it definitely dissolves (not merely disintegrates) DISPRIN permits speedy absorption and gives quicker relief.
DISPRIN is palatable. Even children will take it readily.

Science Progresses

For 50 years we have used little white tablets—acetylsalicylic acid—for relief of pain. Today this familiar pain-killer is available in a new form without the disadvantages of acidity, insolubility and bitter taste. It is called 'DISPRIN' and is sold at druggists everywhere.
'DISPRIN' is available in Bottles of 26 tablets or Handy Pocket Folders of 8.

City Phones Under Fire

Inadequacy of Service to be Investigated by Chamber of Commerce.
 Serious deficiency of the city telephone service was discussed by the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce last night and a motion proposed by A. P. Crawley that a committee of the Chamber investigate the situation was enthusiastically passed.
 Mr. Crawley recalled that the city had voted money to rehabilitate the telephone system but that had been done appeared to be quite inadequate. Already, applicants for telephones were unable to have them installed and it looked, as the city expanded, that it would be years before some would be able to get them.
 The Chamber seemed agreed on the general inadequacy of the telephone service.

Street Sign Work Well Under Way

Prince Rupert Junior Chamber of Commerce is well on the way to completing the job it undertook this year of equipping the city with street signs at various strategic intersections.
 Geoff Hill, Jaycees president, told the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce that the job was pretty well completed in the business section but some 25 or 30 poles still remained to be lettered and planted. By early next spring it was expected the job would be completed.
 Provision of such signs is one of the requisites to the establishment of a house to house mail delivery service in the city.

Building Holds Up

Month Light but Year Has Reached Total of $304,373

Building permits in Prince Rupert for the month of October this year totalled $9450 as compared with $22,340 in the same month last year. So far this year building value in Prince Rupert has reached an aggregate of $304,373, comparing favorably with $331,297 in the first 10 months of 1950. (The 1950 figure does not include new school construction that year which amounted to nearly $700,000.)

Permits this October were:

A. B. Bussey, 704 Seventh Avenue West, residence, $6000.

Fred Mostad, 840 Sixth Avenue East, repairs, $50.

W. J. Alder, repairs, Third Avenue and Sixth Street, $900.

D. Main, foundation repairs, 1247 Eighth Avenue East, $500.

A. Anderson, repairs, 419 Fifth Avenue East, $150.

Mrs. D. J. Parent, cement foundation, 712 Taylor Street, $200.

Mrs. Anna Johnson, cement pillars, 142 Fifth Avenue East, $600.

P. Antonuk, foundation repairs and chimney, 1450 Piggott Street, $500.

George Murray, reshingling, Fifth Avenue East, $300.

D. F. Baldwin, garage, 1497 Sixth Avenue East, $250.

Fire Loss in Month Light

City fire department responded to eight calls during the month of October. Only in one case was damage done and this was minor when a chesterfield was burned October 24 in the residence of L. Grimble, 247 Fifth Avenue West. Fire damage in the city so far this year is running to about $25,000, the worst blaze of the year having been in the Sports Shop in March when there was loss of $20,000.

Murder Suspect Was Once Here

Albert Fairweather, who is under arrest in an Edmonton hospital charged with murder, has been in Prince Rupert, in which city he was also a hospital patient for a while. This was within the past year or so. He is 27 years old, and worked as a logger.

Prison Reform Badly Needed

EDMONTON—Speaking here on the subject of crime, a prominent criminal lawyer, Albert Miller, declared there is a crying need for prison reform. "In 1949," he stated "the average population of Canada's seven penitentiaries was 3,989. It cost $4,708,659 to keep those men in confinement. What have we to show for it? Nothing but bitter, hardened beings, vowing further warfare against society. When a man leaves jail he must find a job. If he tells the truth to a prospective employer, the job is refused and, if he lies, he is soon found out and is discharged."

Funeral of R. B. Skinner

Reginald Barons (Brick) Skinner, pioneer city fire fighter, for many years with the city fire department and more recently fire chief for Canadian National Railways, was laid at rest in the Soldiers' Plot of Fairview Cemetery Monday afternoon. Interment followed a service in the chapel of B. C. Undertakers which was attended by many old friends and at which Rev. Canon Basil S. Procter, dean of St. Andrew's Anglican Cathedral, officiated.

Mrs. J. C. Gilker presided at the organ to accompany the hymns which were "Lead Kindly Light" and "Abide With Me."

At the graveside the "Last Post" was sounded by Bugler William Rance.

Pallbearers were W. Flewin, E. Hudson, Jack Bulger, Larry Halcrow, A. J. Croxford and Howard Hill.

There were many beautiful floral offerings.

Complain About Air Phone Here

In order to avoid confusion and poor reception which is caused by Prince Rupert being on the same radiophone channels as Vancouver, the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce last night approved a proposal that assignment of different frequency channels be sought from the Radio Division, Department of Transport. The matter was referred to the radio committee of the Chamber with a view to obtaining full information on the situation before making representation.

Hugo Kraupner described in some detail the confusion and difficulties which now existed through Prince Rupert and Vancouver being on the same frequencies. As Vancouver answered automatically whenever land stations in this area called Prince Rupert, it was often nearly impossible to establish intelligible conversations.

President J. C. Gilker agreed that it was time something was done. Other members also agreed with the general unsatisfactory condition of radiotelephone communications generally including the service to Vancouver.

Here's charming proof that a living room can be homey without being dowdy... practical as well as pretty! It's done with books, fresh bright colors, close attention to family hobbies. But its big secret is that—from the floor up—it's completely free from work-worry. Look at that Gold Seal Congoleum rug! One wipe of a damp cloth and it's clean as a whistle. Yet its hooked-rug pattern has all the charm and color of a rug straight from Grandmother's house! And you should see how it stands up under household traffic. For that long-lasting wear-layer of heat-toughened paint and baked enamel is equal in thickness to 8 coats of best floor paint applied by hand. But remember—without this familiar Gold Seal it isn't Congoleum... the only enamel surface floor covering sold with the famous money-back guarantee. In fact, to make sure you get Gold Seal Congoleum Rugs... always look for the Gold Seal before you buy!

VICTORIA REPORT
... by J. K. Nesbitt
Too Bad Hospital Insurance in Politics But It's a Good Thing
VICTORIA.—It's too bad politics has crept into B.C.'s hospital insurance. Of course this was bound to happen, once a committee of the Legislature was appointed to inquire into this most necessary social service.

One wonders now why the committee was appointed. Its members have worked hard, giving many hours of their time, and all their energies. But the investigation has merely stirred things up. There's not much doubt that, if it hadn't been for all this stirring up, hospital insurance would be working well now.

During the recent flurry over hospital insurance, you could see politics. This is natural enough for our very system of government is based on politics. To say politics is creeping into hospital insurance is not to say there is anything dishonest.

Opposition Leader Harold Winch made the most of a difference of opinion between members of the board and Health and Welfare Minister Turnbull. Mr. Winch went about demanding resignation of Mr. Turnbull or the board, even threatened to resign himself from the committee.
Committee chairman Syd Smith was reported as boiling mad with Mr. Turnbull as was Mr. Winch. However, politics made it necessary for Mr. Smith to keep his mouth shut. He couldn't very well blast a cabinet minister of the Coalition which he supports and he certainly would not go after a minister of his own party. Both Smith and Turnbull are Liberals and, with an election not too far away, Liberals must stick together.
Don Brown, another member of the board, being a Conservative, could let go at Mr. Turnbull. He did, intimating no cabinet minister is going to insult members of the Legislature.
So, you see, politics has crept into hospital insurance. It must, as long as members of the Legislature, of all political groups, inquire into it.
Hospital insurance has become a subject for much ill-informed gossip. It has become popular to attack hospital insurance.
The plain fact of the matter, however, is this: if you have

Reflects and Reminisces
Thirty-seven years ago, the First Great War broke out. Not many who lived in Prince Rupert then are here now. Of the present population, comparatively few can recall much about what some were pleased to call the start of Armageddon. Nearly every one was young, or of early middle life. Prince Rupert, today has plenty of active citizens who then had not been born.

Recruiting, with its undertone of gaiety, was not delayed. Some already drilling had thoughts of relatives overseas. Canadians, never before outside of Canada, felt the call of adventure. The Irish Fusiliers from Vancouver marched ashore and camped in the building that had been the Hotel Premier. Thereafter, you knew no more heedless strolls, or wanderings along the waterfront. Instead, the sharp command "Halt. Who goes there?" Once during those memorable August weeks, a thrill of fear swept the townsite. A cruiser was sighted! Could it be German? Not at all! The ship was only HMCS Rainbow looking things over 500 miles north. A reporter in a rowboat tried to call.

War appeared to stimulate the social spirit. Dances, parades, speeches, recitations, band concerts multiplied. All at once, it seemed, a tune called "Tipperary" came to town, to be whistled by everybody. And soon there was another—"Keep the Home Fires Burning." It had a catchy air. And what was it that Lord Kitchener had said? Well, a man like him can't be wrong. He had told Irving Cobb, an American correspondent, the war would last about three years. And there were those in Prince Rupert who were guessing about it being all over by Christmas.

Admiral Craddock's squadron was sunk off Peru by Admiral Von Spee's ships, and that was that. Later on, Von Spee threw a scare into British Columbia ports, but actually it is doubtful if he sailed very far north. Anyway, destruction overtook him and his men, when Admiral Sturdee's more powerful fleet suddenly appeared off Falkland Islands.

Prince Rupert Paying Four Million Dollars for Rats
It is costing Prince Rupert $4,000,000 a year to maintain a rat population of 200,000, Hugo Kraupner told the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce last night. This has been arrived at from a statistical basis that one rat does $20 actual damage to food and in other ways in a year.
Mr. Kraupner, after a convincing anti-rat dissertation, induced the chamber to take up the fight against "the most dangerous and useless pest in the world" by appointing a special committee to work with Dr. Duncan Black, medical health officer, in his campaign to rid the city of rodents.
The campaign would be a three-pointed one:
(1) Poisoning.
(2) Control of domestic garbage by careful handling of garbage cans.
(3) Rat-proofing of homes.
It was also proposed that the city should take more drastic means to destroy rats by poison powder pending more thorough incineration.
Ald. Harold Whalen informed the chamber that the city here was considering an incineration process similar to that of the city of New Westminster.

"Sealed Cargo" Sea Adventure
Adventure, mystery and romance comprise the triple theme of "Sealed Cargo," sea drama for which Dana Andrews, Carla Balenda and Claude Rains have the starring roles at the Capitol Theatre Wednesday and Thursday.
Andrews is seen as master of a Gloucester fishing boat who reluctantly agrees to take Miss Balenda, a Canadian nurse, to her home in a little Newfoundland fishing village. On the way they encounter a disabled square-rigger and tow it into port—only to learn that the seemingly harmless vessel is actually a supply-ship for Nazi submarines. The ensuing drama turns on the daring efforts of the outnumbered fishermen to capture and destroy the ship.
Philip Dorn is in featured support of the stars. Onslow Stevens and Eric Feldary have prominent roles in the screen version of Edmund Gilligan's Saturday Evening Post story.

Seasonal Fish Boat Clearance
W. J. Scott suggested at last night's meeting of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce that west coast fishing vessels might be accorded the same privilege as those on the east coast whereby seasonal instead of individual trip clearances might be granted.
At present fishing vessels on the Pacific Coast have to clear for each trip to the deepsea fisheries. On the Atlantic coast, they have to obtain only one clearance which covers them for the season.
The proposal was referred to the fisheries committee to confer with the industry, the fishermen and the customs on the matter.
The requirements of the International Fisheries Commission were one reason why the individual clearances were required, President J. C. Gilker suggested.

Completion of Northern Road Pressed Again
Letter from Arthur M. Boutillier, an Alberta man, inquiring if Prince Rupert was not interested in the building of a highway from Edmonton through Yellowhead Pass to the Pacific Coast, as being urged by Mayor Parsons of Edmonton, prompted the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce at last night's meeting to have the highway committee renew representations for the completion of the missing link east of Prince George in the northern transprovincial highway.
Mr. Boutillier's letter emphasized the vital importance of the highway westward from Edmonton to the Pacific Coast from the national defence, industrial and tourist standpoints.

Chickens have the nasty habit of pecking each other's eyes when they get into a tiff. And once the flock sees blood they all pile in and make it a free-for-all. One farmer made them cut out the rough stuff by making "spectacles" of aluminum foil. No more trouble!
We never know who will think up what new use for aluminum. But we do know that the demand for this light, strong, non-rusting metal keeps on going up and up and up. That's why Alcan is busy on new dams and power plants and smelters to further step up supply. Aluminum Company of Canada, Ltd. (Alcan).
