City Losing Its Water Supply—Where Unknown

Reservoir Dry While Flood Wave Keeps Up

Appeals for Economy in Consumption—Organizing for Emergency

The most severe cold snap of the winter could hold the city in its icy grip, the city of Prince Rupert today was mysteriously losing its water supply and did not know where it was going.

The entire staff of a waterworks patrol patrolled the system for the location of what was a "major break" in the water main.

The mayor appeared to go as sparingly as possible with their water consumption.

Monday afternoon, the reservoir has been dry. It is estimated that two million gallons of water had been used in 24 hours. There is a drop of seven feet in 15 minutes.

Today, lower levels of water were still getting water supply but in some taps had gone dry.

Water frozen in many places in the city. The sudden cold snap, undoubtedly some of the actual cause of the pipes.

The mayor announced that he had already been against possible fire in case of fire, all water should be shut off at short notice.

The available water in the reservoir is being channeled to a parallel water supply.

Water from the reservoir could be found directly around the city. Speculation today is that the water from the reservoir is being used to level lower level.

Water turned their direction. The water is still losing water. The morning after the fire, the downtown fire at 3 p.m. All fire the level have.

Water on this side of the city and chlorination there was still any up to noon.

Edmonton— Murder, Suicide

EDMONTON (CP) — Two persons died yesterday in what police termed murder and suicide. Dead are Samuel Szpuniar-ski, 65, and his wife, Vera, 27. Police said the pair died of gunshot wounds.

It is believed Szpuniar-ski shot his wife in the back and then turned the weapon on himself, inflicting fatal abdominal wounds.

Provincial Coroner Dr. M. M. Cantor said death was instantaneous in both cases. He said no inquest would be held.

Germany is Being Freed

Western Allies Relaxing Controls, Permit Foreign Ministry

BONN, Germany (CP) — Western allies today formally allowed west Germany to set up its first post-war foreign ministry and establish diplomatic relations with "friendly nations."

Permission was granted in a new occupation statute published here today. The statute also relaxes many other allied controls on both internal and external affairs to the federal republic.

For the first time since before the war, Germany will be permitted to set up diplomatic commissions in foreign countries.

She will not have ambassadors in Washington, London or Paris, since occupying powers still consider their high commissioners in Germany as "a channel of negotiation between the federal (German) and allied governments."

Allied ground force commander, Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway said, however, enemy counter offensives did not appear immediately imminent. He added his troops "at the moment" could stop any such push.

Marines were punching north and northeast and recaptured Heungsong. The enemy met them with heavy artillery, mortar and machine gun fire, but continued to fall back slowly.

North Korean Reds, routed yesterday from Taemi on the east-central front, held bitterly to rugged ridges near there and air reconnaissance reported more Reds moving in to bolster the lines.

U.S. and B.C. Fish Eaters

OTTAWA (CP) — Nova Scotians eat more fish than anyone else in Canada, with British Columbians a close second.

This was shown yesterday in a government return tabled in Commons in reply to questions by Thomas Kilkham (Laakings). It showed per capita consumption of all types of fish in Nova Scotia at 16.68 pounds and in British Columbia 13.22 pounds.

Problem of Freedom Sons

VANCOUVER (CP) — Bearded Steffan Sorokin, leader of 2500 Sons of Freedom Doukhobors, said last night the provincial government must decide soon on what it intends to do with the religious sect.

Otherwise, he said, "there's no telling what will happen" in the Kootenays. He said in an interview the Sons of Freedom, blamed for intermittent reigns of terror for the last 50 years, will "gladly co-operate" in any move to solve the problem.

Mr. Sorokin and five aides are in Vancouver to confer with a government-appointed consultative committee on Doukhobors. They will study locations throughout the province for possible new Freedomite settlements on Graham Island of the Queen Charlottes, it was suggested recently.

Mr. Sorokin said his followers have reached a "terrible mental state."

Korea— Resistance Is Growing

TOKYO (CP) — An Allied forward push to take the key defence centre of Hongchong on the central front today met increasing Red resistance. Elements of the United States First Marine division, spearheading the drive, plodded through new snow to within 11 miles of the town.

Gen. MacArthur reported a third Chinese army of about 90,000 men was moving down from northeast Korea to reinforce some 300,000 enemy troops already believed to be concentrated south of the 38th parallel.

Allied ground force commander, Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway said, however, enemy counter offensives did not appear immediately imminent. He added his troops "at the moment" could stop any such push.

Marines were punching north and northeast and recaptured Heungsong. The enemy met them with heavy artillery, mortar and machine gun fire, but continued to fall back slowly.

North Korean Reds, routed yesterday from Taemi on the east-central front, held bitterly to rugged ridges near there and air reconnaissance reported more Reds moving in to bolster the lines.

Power Company Seeks Upward Rate Revision

Increase Would Amount to 80 Cents per Month for Prince Rupert Households

A hike in power rates last night proposed by Northern British Columbia Power Company if accepted will add about 80 cents to the average monthly household electric bill.

A brief calling for a revision of rates was presented at last night's special city council meeting by MacLeod and Ray, action for the power company. Council will give its decision of approval or otherwise by the month-end after a study by the utilities committee.

"This is the first increase the company has asked since the rates were fixed in 1926," said R. M. MacLeod, speaking for N.B.C. Power Company.

NEW LOW RATE But a new low block has been instituted in the revised rates proposed, which is to encourage greater use of electrical energy, said Mr. MacLeod.

Present rates are seven cents for first 20 kilowatt hours; five cents for next 20 kw. hours and two cents for balance.

Proposed new rates for residential use are on a demand of two kilowatts, eight cents for first 20; two cents for next 60; and once cent for balance used.

If a range is installed a demand of three kw. will be set.

Flat rates will be eliminated with exception of street and float lighting. Hot water heaters will be placed on the meter basis, but if thermostats are used, said Mr. MacLeod, rates will be similar to present rate of $3.60 per 1000 watt unit.

Commercial energy users will be billed according to the number of hours used at eight cents for first 50 kw. hours; two cents for next 50 kw. hours, and one cent for balance used, all dependent on demand kw. rating.

Power consumers, said Mr. MacLeod, hardly would be affected, except that smaller users would probably get off cheaper.

The brief presented showed the total deficit of the company incurred to date as $923,150.66. Claim is made to increased government taxation of $18,390 per year, compared to 1932 taxation of $5240.

"Although yearly gross earnings have been greater in the past ten years, costs of operation, maintenance and taxes combined have risen 360 per cent prior to 1939," the brief read.

CHEAPER HERE Giving a comparison of earnings with that of the B.C. Power Commission, the brief claims an average cost to Prince Rupert residents of 2.71 cents per kilowatt hour as compared to BCPC charges of 3.6 cents; an average cost to city commercial customers of 2.69 cents per kw. hour compared to BCPC's 3.6 cents; and average cost to power customers of 1.23 cents, with a total average cost per kw. of 1.95 cents, compared to 3.0 cents charged by the Power Commission.

On elimination of flat rates, as proposed, the company is prepared to supply thermostatic controls for water heaters at cost, installing them without additional charges. Any normal connection cost of wiring change-over from flat rate to meter would also be borne by the company.

Little difference would appear

Four Officers Sentenced

KELOWNA — Four Kelowna R.C.M.P. officers have been sentenced in connection with a $25 theft of goods from a store. One officer received 15 days in jail and was fined $150. Two were fined $125 each and one was fined $100. The officers are all suspended from the force.

Keeping Road Open All Year

Highway committee of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce is being asked by the Chamber to further study the advisability of the proposal that the Skeena River Highway be kept open as an all year road instead of being closed each winter because of snow conditions.

It was suggested at the meeting of the Chamber last night that the committee contact the Columbia Cellulose Co. as to its views on the matter. (The company has been recently giving its active support to the circulation of a petition at Terrace advocating that the road be kept open throughout the winter between Terrace and Prince Rupert in order to facilitate the movement of logs to the new Watson Island mill.)

View was expressed in the course of discussion at last night's meeting that there was no good reason for the road having been closed during the past winter and that, at least when snow conditions were light as they had been this winter, efforts be made to keep the road clear.

Basketball— Jets Beat Ketchikan

Easy Victory for Prince Rupert in International Basketball

KETCHIKAN, Alaska (Special) — Prince Rupert Jets last night rocketed all over Ketchikan's Rockets in a winning streak of 73-57. Playing in the Kayhi gym, Don Scherk again was in rare form as he potted 26 points for the Jets, who were remarkable to watch as they passed, pivoted and shot.

For Ketchikan, B. Christensen was tops with 16 until he was off the floor with a wrenched knee.

Individual scores: Jets—Flaten 7, Holstad 10, Olson 5, S. Scherk 4, Gill, D. Scherk 26, Marshall 2, Beynon, Spring 19. Total—73.

Rockets—Brewer 4, Lewis 4, Manzoni, Christensen 10, Christopher 13, Olson, Fisher 11, Erickson 8, B. Christopher 1. Total—57.

Petersburg Is Winner

Nip and Tuck Contest All the Way Favors Alaskans

PETERSBURG — Prince Rupert again lost by a 2-point margin when they were nipped by Petersburg High in a close hard-fought game last night. In what seemed more football than basketball owing to loose refereeing, the Petersburgers won 37-35.

Neither team played good ball and again lack of height was the deciding factor.

Rupert's shooting was off throughout the game.

The Canadians converted one of seven free throws. Petersburg made five out of 21.

Kristmanson, McChesney and Swanson, 11; Reid, 10; Keyes, 7. Total 37.

Score at end of first quarter was 8 to 8, at the half, 18-18; third quarter, 24 to 23 for Rupert. Prince Rupert plays at Wrangell tonight.

Fourth Montreal Bank is Robbed

MONTREAL — Montreal yesterday had its fourth bank robbery inside of six weeks. A lone gunman escaped with $2,000 from a branch of the Bank of Montreal.

SPECIAL NOTICE To All Citizens

Due to some unknown cause, the city's water supply is very low and the mayor urgently requests all water consumers to keep their consumption to a bare minimum.

The reservoir is now empty and the city's engineer's department is endeavouring to ascertain the cause.

McRae recommended

Rupert Chamber of Commerce takes the speech that M.L.A. for Prince Rupert in the Legislature a day ago, will write him a commending him for same. Decided at last night's meeting. All he said reasonable, particularly in regard to roads, and it was good for Prince Rupert.

Congratulations, Fire Department!

PRINCE RUPERT'S fire department deserves a hand for its efficient handling of yesterday morning's fire. If such good work had not been done, under the handicap of the coldest winter weather of the year, a substantial and particularly inflammable section of the congested business district might well have been wiped out. However, the firemen were on the job and gave a good account of themselves indeed. Measured against what might have happened yesterday, they earned their keep for many a day.

It is easy to criticize and often we forget to give credit where credit is due. So these words of approval we believe are timely and appropriate.

Communism Fails

THE ARREST of Vladimir Clementis, his branding as a "double-faced viper," the arrest of other Communist "spies and saboteurs, hirelings of imperialist warmongers," the great purge of the Czechoslovak Communist Party, are all of a familiar pattern. Kostov, Rajk, Gromulka, now Clementis.

They are all signs of a deepening crisis—economic and social—in the "People's Democracies" of Eastern Europe.

In Czechoslovakia, as in the other East European countries, Communism has failed to fulfil the promises in which large sections of workers had been led to believe. The revolutions have brought neither freedom nor plenty. The masses are disillusioned and discontented.

In the economic sphere, Communism has, quite literally, "failed to deliver the goods." Czechoslovakian industry has taken a "step backward," according to President Gottwald. Production has fallen while the cost of production increases. Consumer goods are dear and vanishing.

A Matter Of Form

OTOLARYNGOLOGISTS, experts on ailments of the throat, have developed an odd form of conversing for people who have been unfortunate enough to have had their larynxes removed. The method, it seems, is a highly refined form of burping. Patients are taught to force air into the stomach, then push it through the throat in the form of a belch, while forming the words with their mouths. A highly intelligible form of speech, it is said, may thus be achieved.

Such a mode of speech, at least in Canada, is sure to have certain drawbacks. For while a series of well-modulated burps may be conversationally appropriate when discussing price control at a soda fountain, it is apt to be looked upon as singularly inappropriate and even unparliamentary by Mr. Speaker in the House of Commons.

Burping is, nevertheless, a mode of conversation worthy of cultivation by those civil servants going to Southeast Asia under the Colombo Technical Assistance Plan for under-developed countries. Some people there regard a good loud burp as the most elegant tribute a guest can pay to the hospitality provided by his host. Official Ottawa will, no doubt, be quick to avail itself of the services of a couple of otolaryngologists.

SPEAKING OF DISCHARGING
 All the firing is not taking place in Korea. Some thousands of federal civil servants are being laid off in British Columbia.

COME TO KITIMAT
 There will be 50,000 people at Kitimat in a few years people are being told. Like enough, for this aluminum enterprise plays ball with five hundred millions. Fifty thousand is a fair sized city, but it might be as well to figure on 25,000 for a starter. Estimating the future size of a town has its little uncertainties. We know a Prince Rupert man who made a prophecy in 1910, the year of incorporation.

SOME SAY BEAUTIFUL
 It is not entirely out of place these wintry mornings to remind one of the old saying that no two snowflakes are alike. But then, who has ever tried to find out—assuming he ever thought of such a thing—

It's easy to live with a dull sky and soft air but an effort is needed to endure an icy breeze even with cheerful sunshine. End of the week saw both of the latter. Yes, even oodles of sunlight.

ANOTHER ONE, AS WELL
 "The Almighty was very lavish in giving us one of the greatest natural harbors in the world" says F. J. Pickett (retired) in a Province interview. But not any more natural and lavish than the one a few hundred miles up the coast at Prince Rupert. Incidentally, no one worries over lack of a False Creek.

Marriage is a process for finding out what sort of guy your wife would have preferred—Strickland Gillilan.

TODAY'S DIFFERENT!
 Manitoba will have no floods this spring. Should another ordeal come, the Red River valley would be all but ruined for years; men and women would suffer as never before, and Winnipeg itself would be confronted with new and far reaching problems. But there will be no disaster, for the scope of recovery in the past year has been on an effective scale. In 1950 there was no preparedness. There is today.

DIFFERENT, THIS DAY!
 Not all, but many a coast city has been badly hit by fire before attaining its real growth. Yet this may not be Prince Rupert's experience. Not every pioneer town has known the service and efficiency enjoyed locally and that is Prince Rupert's great good fortune. It must be admitted there are a dozen neighborhoods in which the fire danger is ever present. Only constant vigilance has kept the menace stayed.

Complaint By Air Line

Difficulty which Ellis Air Lines of Ketchikan is having in its efforts to provide scheduled flights between Ketchikan and Prince Rupert came before the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce at last night's meeting. The matter will have the attention of a special committee of the Chamber.

A letter from the Air Lines to J. C. Gilker, president of the Chamber, said that for years the concern had engaged in trans-border operations and, in all crossings made, the Canadian government had never questioned the right to embark passengers in Canada for transporting to the United States. Nor had United States authorities denied the same privilege to Canadian operators.

However, said the letter from R. E. Ellis, president of Ellis Air Lines, the Air Transport Board had directed last fall that "we cease and desist forthwith from embarking passengers in Canada unless these passengers originated in the United States or Alaska."

"It seems to me," held Mr. Ellis, "that such a ruling violates a basic international principle of trade."

"I do feel that transportation and trade between our two countries and especially between our two cities of Ketchikan and Prince Rupert should be fostered by everybody. We have not resented the operations of Canadian air lines into Ketchikan and have always afforded them the use of our private facilities."

"OLD FOSSIL" REPLIES

Editor, Daily News—

As one of the old fossils who occupies a seat on your city council and parks board, may I briefly attempt an answer to criticism against the council offered by Messrs. Murdoch and Marock in recent issues of your paper.

Right now I wish to gratefully acknowledge the constructive criticism. Some of the things I will attempt to explain by reason.

Being the only member of the Council to have attained the age of 75, a direct reference has been made to me and my "stale ideas." That, of course, is not for me to judge. The electors do that. Brains also have been mentioned. I think all humans have brains but some use them more than others.

The brain is the dynamo that generates opinions and forms conclusions based on experience, something age has acquired which youth has not. Youth's force is in its enthusiasm, which, if not directed in proper channels, is capable of harm.

Experience is the foundation of knowledge and is a hard teacher. Therefore, all sensible people must be guided by experience for he who is fooled once is twice shy.

Let it be noted, Mr. Editor, that in great part the people who are directing the affairs of the City Council and the School Board, (whom I mentioned previously),

Paul, the first secretary of our High Commission here, is the son of the Toronto Star's music and drama critic, Augustus Bridle, so I was able to tell him "I knew your dad way back in the 1920's when I wrote editorials for the old Toronto Globe."

Later I met Marwick Chipman, Canada's High Commissioner to India. This urbane and erudite diplomat must surely be Canada's most distinguished-looking representative abroad. And you soon find he's just as

The City Council believes essentials come first:

1. Adequate water supply, and fire protection.
2. Adequate educational facilities.
3. Proper sewer systems.
4. Improved streets, roadways, and sidewalks, along with general health precautions.

These essentials comprise most of the city's revenue.

As for showing the beauty of rugged nature and the harbor a fund is being created through a special levy of one mill per year for development and beautifying of Roosevelt Park. The parks board expects to make a start there this year.

As to the scrap iron heap at the corner of First Avenue and Seventh Street—that property has not yet reverted to the city although delinquent in taxes. As soon as the city gains legal ownership of the property, or it is purchased by some private person, steps will be taken to clean the place up properly.

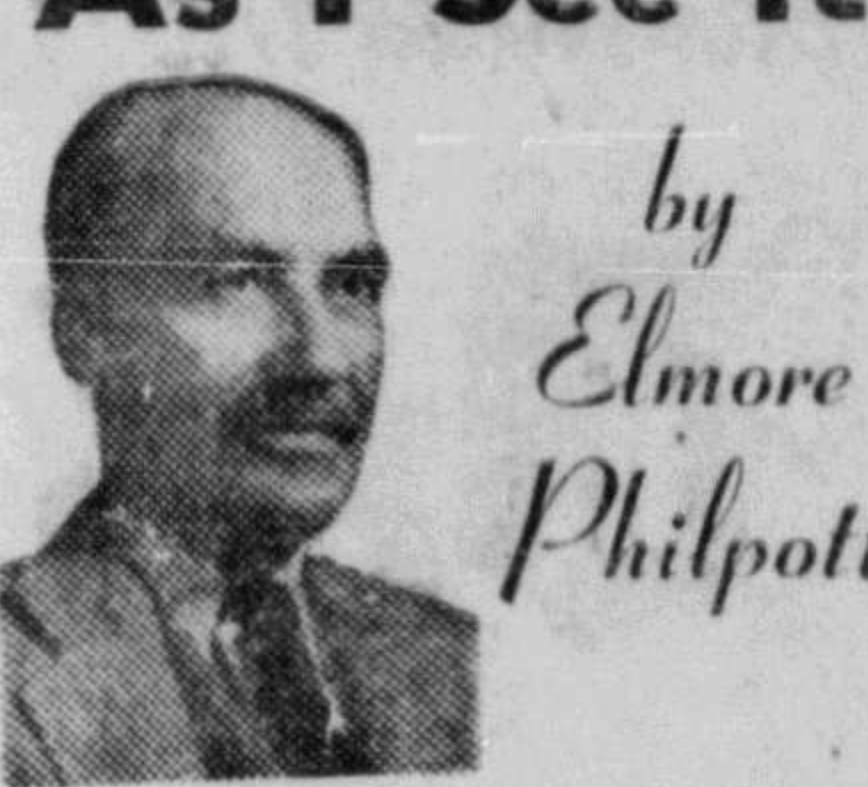

In the meantime, I would like to point out to our critics that the combination of rock bluffs and muskeg make improvements costly and slow. But some day the people who inhabit this city will be among the proudest people in British Columbia.

Ald. GEORGE B. CASEY.

Lines dated January 24 this year had said that the Board could not see its way clear to grant permission for Ellis to pick up passenger and cargo traffic originating from points in Canada for transportation to Alaska in view of the fact that there are Canadian air carriers available to take care of the traffic.

The Chamber referred the matter to its air transport committee for consideration and report.

As I See It

FIRST GLANCE AT DELHI

DELHI, INDIA—OUR BOAC plane was four hours late getting to Delhi. But that certainly did not annoy me, as one engine was not working perfectly when the Captain "revved up" the big Canadian craft at Karachi. After the four-hour tuning-up, she hummed like a bird.

Harry Jay, bright young (Montreal) staff member of the High Commission here, met me. After a quick once over of New Delhi, he brought me here to the Hotel Cecil in the old city.

It is a lovely place, with swimming pool, fine tennis courts, shady balconies and sunny terraces. Best of all, it's a no-tipping-allowed place. They add on ten percent to the bill.

LATER IN THE DAY I MET Harry's young wife, Dorothy, and also Paul and Helen Bridle, (whom I mentioned previously).

Paul, the first secretary of our High Commission here, is the son of the Toronto Star's music and drama critic, Augustus Bridle, so I was able to tell him "I knew your dad way back in the 1920's when I wrote editorials for the old Toronto Globe."

Later I met Marwick Chipman, Canada's High Commissioner to India. This urbane and erudite diplomat must surely be Canada's most distinguished-looking representative abroad. And you soon find he's just as well-informed as he is distinguished-looking.

NO SOONER HAD I GOT settled in my hotel than Mr. K. B. Tandon, Director of the Information Services of the Indian Department of Affairs, came to see me. In addition to doing my own reporting and radio speaking for Canadians while I am in India, the Indians have asked me to make several speeches and also a talk over the All-India Radio System on "A Canadian looks at India's place in the world of 1951."

Mr. Tandon took me out to dinner at his brother's home. They served a tasty, all-Indian-style dinner. There were chappatis (sort of thin whole wheat pancakes used instead of bread). Also some thin sliced mutton and beautifully-done vegetables, with assorted fruits for dessert.

THE TWO TANDON BOYS, one aged six and one aged four, showed me their books. The elder boy is at school and can read English well. Their text books, by the way, were ultra-modern, brightly-illustrated English language productions telling the story of India. One story was new to me. It was to the effect that the Apostle Saint Thomas had come to India and had founded a whole settlement of first-century Christians.

Mr. Tandon has arranged for me to move to Constitution House, where most of the elected Indian MP's live. Of course, the surroundings will not be so swanky as in the lovely big hotels here. But it should give me a good chance to get to know the men and women who have actually written the first constitution of India.

They are all up for their first general election this next Autumn, so this is the last session of the old parliament.

Tomorrow I go to hear Mr. Nehru make a keynote speech on the world situation.

MY SENSES ARE ALMOST stunned by impressions of the first two days in Delhi. I have been driven many miles through refugee camps and narrow street bazaars much more fascinating in real life than anything I have ever seen in the movies.

The people literally team by scores of thousands, and why more of them are not killed by traffic, I can't imagine.

The dress is of infinite variety and the shades of coloring are superb. Some of the shades I have never seen before. I saw

W. J. Scott and G. C. Mitchell have been appointed delegates of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce to a highway and tourist convention to be held in Vancouver March 28, being followed by a session of the Associated Boards of Trade of British Columbia council to be held the day following.

Reporting for the publicity committee, G. A. Hunter told the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce last night that Public Relations Council had plans in hand for financing and production of a new publicity pamphlet of the city. Committees were working on the matter with a view to having the pamphlet in production at an early date.

Over $300 has been given out to city and district schools by the local order for the year, Mrs. Blackaby said in reviewing the year's work.

With the introduction this year of an annual university scholarship for $100 to be given to a native youth, the local order sets a precedent for the province. The regular municipal annual scholarship of $100 was presented to Robert Jones, Mrs. Withers said in her annual report.

Although asked by the other members of the order to continue her work as regent, Mrs. Blackaby declined.

While finding that conditions at the Canadian National Railway's local salmon dock are by no means satisfactory although steps are now being taken to rectify them, the port and marine committee of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce, reporting to the Chamber at its meeting last night, took the view that the matter was something that did not strictly come within the jurisdiction of the Chamber and, therefore, recommended that no action be taken.

The matter of serious roof leakage at the salmon dock, as a result of which canned salmon in cartons stored there was being damaged, had been brought before the Chamber at last month's meeting and was referred to the port and marine committee for report.

Presenting the committee's report, A. P. Crawley told the Chamber last night that an inspection had been made and it was found that some thirty percent of the roof was leaking, affecting possibly about seventy percent of the floor area and some of the cartoned salmon stored therein. At the time of the inspection it was found that 85,000 cases were stored there and during the past year 240,000 cases had passed through the shed. Damage claims amounting to $1200 had been paid. Tarpaulins had been provided to cover the cartons but they were not entirely meeting the situation as water was running along the floor.

The committee also informed the Chamber that the roof of the shed was about to be repaired,

MONTREAL—It was announced yesterday that negotiations have been successfully concluded between negotiating committees representing Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, Order of Railway Conductors and Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and Canadian National Railways governing the services of locomotive firemen, helpers, hostlers, hostlers' helpers, conductors, trainmen, yardmen, switchtenders, yardmasters and assistant yardmasters, Central and Atlantic regions, including all employees in engine, train and yard service, Newfoundland district.

The agreements provide for rule changes and increases in wage rates averaging 14½ per hour.

The revised wage rates are effective from December 1, 1950, and the changes in rules from materials were on hand and half of the job was to be done this year. Suggestion had been made to the railway company that the whole job be done this year but the committee was informed that this would not be in line with railway policy.

C. G. Ham took the view that, the ocean dock being a port facility, it was quite within the jurisdiction of the Chamber to interest itself therein.

W. J. Scott questioned the wisdom of a policy of paying claims on damaged goods rather than at least building stands to keep the goods off the wet floor.

F. J. Skinner agreed that it was a matter in which the Chamber might well interest itself.

April 1, 1951. The contract covering both wages and rules is for a period of one year from April 1.

Science against pain

Science progresses: For 50 years we have used little white tablets—acetylsalicylic acid—for the relief of pain. Today this familiar pain-killer is available in a new form without the disadvantages of insolubility, acidity and bitter taste. It is called DISPRIN.

Why take DISPRIN?

Because DISPRIN is soluble and substantially neutral. When taken in water as recommended, it enters the stomach as a true solution and not as undissolved particles. It is therefore less liable to cause stomach discomfort.

DISPRIN is readily absorbed. Because it definitely dissolves (not merely disintegrates) it permits speedy absorption and gives quicker relief.

DISPRIN is palatable. Even children will take it readily.

DISPRIN is now available at your Druggist. Bottles of 26 tablets or Handy Pocket Folders of 8.

Crunchy DINNER ROLLS

● They're really ritzzy—and no trouble at all to make, with new Fleischmann's Royal Fast Rising Dry Yeast! Gives you fast action—light doughs—and none of the bother of old time perishable yeast! Get a dozen packages—keeps full strength without refrigeration!

CRUSTY DINNER ROLLS

● Measure into a large bowl ½ c. lukewarm water, 1 tsp. granulated sugar; stir until sugar is dissolved. Sprinkle with 1 envelope Fleischmann's Royal Fast Rising Dry Yeast. Let stand 10 mins. THEN stir well.
Add ¾ c. lukewarm water and 1 tsp. salt. Add, all at once, 3½ c. once-sifted bread flour and work in with the hands; work in 3 lbs. soft shortening. Knead on lightly-floured board until smooth and elastic. Place in greased bowl. Cover with a damp cloth and set in warm place, free from draught. Let rise until doubled in bulk. Punch down dough in bowl, fold over, cover and again let rise until doubled in bulk. Turn out on lightly-floured board and divide into 2 equal portions; shape each piece into a long roll about 1½" in diameter. Cover with a damp cloth and let rest 15 mins. Using a floured sharp knife, cut dough into 2" lengths and place, well apart, on ungreased cookie sheets. Sprinkle rolls with cornmeal and let rise, uncovered, for ½ hour. Brush with cold water and let rise another ½ hour. Meanwhile, stand a broad shallow pan of hot water in the oven and preheat oven to hot, 425°. Remove pan of water from oven and bake the rolls in steam-filled oven for ½ hour, brushing them with cold water and sprinkling lightly with cornmeal after the first 15 mins., and again brushing them with cold water 2 minutes before removing baked buns from the oven. Yield—18 rolls.

Education Week
Prince Rupert Citizens Answer a Question
Interviewer—VESTA A. DOUGLAS, Conrad Street School
Do you think Today's Graduate as Competent to take a place in the Community as the Graduate of Twenty Years ago?
E. R. ROWE—Yes, 20 years ago, young people were just beginning to emerge from an overwhelming inferiority complex—that "sneak when spoken to" atmosphere. The first post-war years changed the scene to one of gold-fish eating boys and slapper girls trying to show parents and teachers that they respected neither rule nor order. I was one of them then; freedom was like heady wine and all the while we were really as scared of authority as ever. The Thirties brought "Depression" and fear.
Today's average student works hard, lives clean, knows his own city. It's work and problems. He has a clear thinking view of what adult-world will bring and the part he will take in life. I think the present day graduate is at least 2 years nearer adulthood than his brother of 20 years ago.
W. L. WOODS—No doubt about it. Students today are much more advanced owing to a broader curriculum and the interpretation given to it.
P. ANDERSON—Today our children are in a great age of hustle and bustle with so many new developments in science and medicine, electronics, transportation and an even fuller day of many new and strange subjects. We of the old country have to stop and slow down to catch up to think in order to understand theirs. I am not convinced that modern education does the job it is expected because the student is given too much of his own way and in my opinion more work and homework would help. Today, when students leave school, they all seem to want the easy jobs and few look for the good basic trades which to them take a long time and not much money to learn. But I do believe they are better fitted to enter these various fields with expanded knowledge after all the world has expanded and opportunities are greater.

Chamber Backs Up Red Cross
Joining other organizations in ready response, the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce quickly agreed at its meeting last night to get actively behind the annual campaign of the Canadian Red Cross Society.
The Chamber was told of the plan whereby Prince Rupert would endeavor to reach its $5000 objective with one lightning stroke on the night of March 19 when hundreds of canvassers would cover the entire city to pick up subscriptions on porches specially lighted up for the occasion.
Members of the Chamber, not identified with other organizations already committed, will be asked to join the army of canvassers.

Making B.C. 'Totem Land'
Proposal that Prince Rupert fall in line with Vancouver in a province-wide publicity move to have British Columbia specially designated as "Totem Land" was brought before the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce last night by Dr. R. G. Large and, after some discussion, was referred to the public relations council with a view to heading up the movement and forming a "Totem Land" society here.
In addition to publicizing the province from the standpoint of its distinctive totem poles, such a society would interest itself actively in the preservation of native arts and the advancement of the Indians generally.

Doctors Under Fire—Frank Calder Talks of Liquor—Esquimalt By-Election

VICTORIA.—The medical profession is catching it a bit in the neck this session. Usually only Burnaby's Mr. Winch ever says anything against the doctors. But this year several members are hinting that the doctor's aren't co-operating to make hospital insurance a success.

These members—though they don't say so openly—are of the opinion that the doctors fear that, if state hospitalization is a success, the public will demand state medicine.

Young Frank Calder, the shy, personable native member for Atlin, made a plea in the House to change the law so that Indians could go into beer parlors and purchase liquor at liquor stores if they want to, like anyone else. The way it is now, Mr. Calder said, the bootlegger is the No. 1 man among the Indians, who must drink in alley-ways and boats out on the harbor—and drink 'er down quick, so that the law won't catch them. Most people, this observer believes, will agree with Mr. Calder. There's no scientific evidence to prove that Indians get any drunker than white men.

The Provincial Library here is believed to have an edition that no other library in the world has—and that's something.

"It's 'Commentarius ad Pandectas,' in Latin, by Johann Voet, a Dutch expert on Roman law, and published in Brussels in 1723. It's the Brussels publication that sets this edition of two volumes apart and makes bibliophiles green with envy.

For years the edition has been lying around a basement of the Provincial Library, unnumbered and ignored. Finally Provincial Archivist Willard Ireland, with that sixth sense all good librarians have, started examining the two volumes. He looked up the catalogue of the British Museum—no mention of a fourth edition of the "Commentarius ad Pandectas" published in Brussels.

He wrote to the Royal Library in Brussels. No, the Royal Library had never heard of a fourth edition published in Brussels. He wrote to the Library of Congress in Washington, D.C. No, that famous library had never heard of a fourth edition published in Brussels, only a fourth edition published at The Hague.

The B. C. library, said the Library of Congress, apparently has the only Brussels edition in North America. Now Mr. Ireland is writing to the National Central library in Rome, to see if its librarians can help. Mr. Ireland doesn't know how the edition found its way into the Provincial Library. He thinks it may have been there as long as 40 or 50 years.

"We suspect it's a pirated edition," he says. "We don't know exactly what we've got, or how valuable it is, but we certainly have a rarity. It makes us very rich in the library world."

Death of Charles Beard and the vacant Esquimalt seat in the Legislature have finally been recognized. But it was quite a struggle. Andrew Whisker, the member for Cowichan-Newton, did his best to inform Madame Speaker that the Esquimalt seat was vacant, but he didn't go quite far enough. He deplored the vacancy, said he had to do a lot of Esquimalt's work, and he said there were many complaints the by-election was not held before the session. But that wasn't enough. He should have directly informed the Speaker there was a vacancy in the House. Next day Mrs. Tilly Rolston planned to come right out with it—and so force the government to start the election machinery and hold the by-election within six months. But Premier Johnson heard of Mrs. Rolston's plans—and he beat her to it. Before she could speak—the Premier hopped up to say there was a vacancy in the House and that the Esquimalt by-election will be held within six months.

That by-election is going to be interesting. Liberals and Conservatives in Esquimalt are at loggerheads. Each want the Coalition nomination. Premier Johnson and Finance Minister Herb Anscomb, the Tory chief, aren't happy about the situation at all, at all. But, they'll have to face it.

AS I SEE IT

Punjabi pyjamas. Most wear their hair in long, glossy black braids. A poor man walks with his family. One not quite so poor may have a bike, with wife riding behind, carrying a baby. Little pony carts carry whole families—all laughing and merry. The small-sized velvet-skinned cows walk everywhere.

TODAY WAS SOME SPECIAL day at a Hindu temple. I don't know what was going on inside, but outside thousands upon thousands were having fun. People bought balloons, candy on sticks and colored drinks. There were a dozen small ferris wheels, turned by hand, and carrying laughing adults as well as some kids.

In the bazaars, people were making and selling just about everything under the sun. Outside the temple I can best describe it as a sea of sound—sound which came in waves of life.

People tell me there is plenty wrong with this country. But if ever I saw life bubbling up and bubbling over, I saw it here.

FURLEY, Surrey, England (CP)—Five hundred girls were sent home from school with a note saying "pupils will report at the normal time on Tuesday but will be sent home if fuel has not arrived." Half an hour later four tons of coke were delivered to the school.

Never concede a contract to the declarer. Even when you are sure he has the rest of the tricks, play them out! You may have forgotten a card or miscounted a suit length. And there's always the possibility that declarer may actually have the balance and not know it.

He may take an unnecessary finesse or make some other kind of error. Even the greatest experts are human although I have at times heard the opposite view expressed.

South dealer. Neither side vulnerable.

In today's hand Mr. Champion opened the king of spades. Mr. Dale permitted this to hold but was forced to win the spade continuation with the ace. He led the six of hearts and put in the jack from dummy. Mr. Muzzy won with the king and returned a spade. Two spade tricks were cashed, declarer discarding two small clubs and playing the last spade and the deuce of clubs from the board.

Mr. Champion then played the ten of clubs which Mr. Dale won with the ace. The suit failed to break, Mr. Champion discarding the four of clubs on the third round. Next came the queen of diamonds from dummy. It was covered by the king and won with the ace in the closed hand. The six of diamonds was led to the jack on the board and at this point Mr. Muzzy threw his remaining cards on the table and conceded the rest.

Mr. Champion let out a terrifying bellow and Mr. Judge, the expert on the laws, was asked for a ruling. First he quoted law 87 which says that a concession of tricks by a defender is not valid unless his partner accedes.

Then he referred to law 70 and stated that since Mr. Muzzy had improperly exposed his hand, Mr. Dale could treat the remaining cards of either defender as penalty cards.

Naturally Mr. Dale chose to treat Mr. Champion's remaining cards as penalty cards. They were the nine and seven of diamonds and the eight of clubs. Mr. Judge had also pointed out that when a defender has two or more penalty cards, declarer can designate which one is to be played.

So at the eleventh trick Mr. Dale led the three of diamonds off the board, went up with his ten and required Mr. Champion to play the nine. The last two tricks were won with the eight of diamonds and dummy's king of clubs.

What's so different about hotels?

Scenery, for one thing. At the Sylvia, overlooking Vancouver's English Bay, you enjoy the glorious panorama of beach—sky—sea—mountains. And Sylvia Service is as outstanding as the scenery—attentive, genial, with a friendly interest that makes you feel at home. If you bring the younger members of the family, baby-sitting service is provided. Accommodation is varied—and reasonable. You can cook your own meals or dine in the sky, where the food is as superb as the view. Though far from the noise of city traffic, you're within easy reach of town—at the Sylvia.

Civil Defence Need Stressed

Prince Rupert Held to be Within the Target Area

Immediate action to form a civil defence organization was urged last night by Ald. H. F. Glassey, chairman of a special committee appointed to make a study of civil defence for Prince Rupert.

The committee, including Ald. Darrow Gomez and D. F. Fitch, did not wish "to present themselves as alarmists" but felt that the city and district came "within the target area" should enemy action arise.

"The essential starting point in civil defence," said Ald. Glassey, "is a realization by the public of the need for civil defence and the knowledge the whole community is ready to do everything to meet any situation arising from enemy action."

First step in organizing the committee thought, was setting up of a civil defence control committee with Mayor G. W. Rudderham as chairman and a secretary appointed from the civic government, such as the city clerk.

Members of the committee should include the heads of departments such as health, engineering, utilities, welfare, hospital, police and fire department. In addition there should be representatives from Red Cross, St. John's Ambulance Corps and other organizations. Press and radio should be represented as well.

Council will decide March 12 on action to be taken.

LONG TRIP
Mail from England to Perth, Western Australia, takes 31 days by boat or six days by air.

Bad Deal for Civic Centre

The Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce is continuing its representations with a view to having the local Civic Centre relieved of payment of provincial amusement tax on affairs staged exclusively for Centre benefit and community betterment. On recommendation of a special committee, the Chamber decided at last night's meeting to ask that a recent order of the surveyor of taxes imposing the tax on the lands be rescinded and that a limited permit be issued.

Imposition of amusement tax on the Civic Centre, the committee held, was wrong in principle in that it was a tax on a charitable institution and that the civic centre was an entirely community affair with no commercial aspect. Discrimination was claimed by reason of the fact that Vancouver's Theatre Under the Stars being exempted from the amusement tax whereas cultural and education entertainment in smaller communities was being taxed.

The Chamber is sending a resolution to the surveyor of taxes, J. D. McRae, MLA for Prince Rupert; Hon. E. T. Kenney, minister of lands and forests, and Hon. Herbert Anscomb, minister of finance, that the Civic Centre be relieved of the amusement tax on exclusively
