Their colonel and their chaplain stayed behind with the wounded.

Clarification of Cease Fire Proposal is Given

Military Commanders Would First Negotiate Armistice

NEW YORK (CP)—Moscow announced today that it has given the United States clarification of the Soviet proposal for a Korean cease-fire. Department of State announced that the Russians had told the United States that moves toward the cease-fire should take the form of military negotiations between North Korean and United Nations field commanders.

Indications are that the Soviet Union wants to deal directly with the United States, by-passing the United Nations. The Department of State announced that Russia has proposed that the United Nations, North Korean and Red Chinese commanders negotiate a Korean armistice. The Soviet Union suggested that the armistice terms be limited "to strictly military questions."

The proposal was made yesterday to Ambassador Alan G. Kirk by the Soviet deputy foreign minister, Andrei Gromyko, in Moscow.

Gromyko, the department said, "indicated that it would be for military representatives of the unified command and of representatives of the North Korean command on one hand and military representatives of the North Korean command on the other to negotiate an armistice envisaged in Malik's statement."

Jakob Malik, Soviet delegate to the United Nations, put forward the original cease fire suggestion in a speech Saturday.

Likely Nominees for White House Silent

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (CP)—Look at the record and you'd think nobody—well, almost nobody—wants to be President for the four years beginning in January, 1953.

Although the Democratic and Republican nominating conventions are only a little more than a year away, coyness among prospective candidates has reached something of record-breaking proportions.

One man, President Truman, says he knows what he's going to do. But he hasn't said what that is. Outside of Mrs. Truman—and maybe Margaret—nobody seems to know whether the President is going to run again or not.

If you ask William M. Boyle Jr., the Democratic national chairman, he puts on his most inscrutable smile. Boyle has been practising it for years and it never worked better.

Boyle doesn't have to worry. His plan of campaign is the same whether Mr. Truman chooses or does not choose to run. He is simply going out to gather up for Mr. Truman all of the convention delegates he can corral.

If the President runs, fine and dandy. If he does not, Mr. Truman asks the delegates to support the man of his choice, simple as that.

Even Jonathan Daniels, Raleigh, N.C., editor and Truman biographer, said after a White House visit yesterday he thinks—but doesn't know—that Mr. Truman is going to run again. He didn't get that from the President, Daniels hastens to say, but he added:

"The more his foreign policy—which he considers vital to resist Russian aggression and preserve democracy—is attacked, the more he will fight back."

This kind of report makes it difficult for other Democrats to do much about running for president. They can't even run for vice-president as long as Alben Barkley gives no indication of stepping out.

COY CANDIDATES
Small wonder, then, that such Democrats as Senators Kefauver of Tennessee, Douglas of Illinois, Lyndon Johnson of Texas, Rept. Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., Justice William O. Douglas, Chief Justice Fred Vinson, Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan, and others are as coy as school girls.

Look Magazine says in its current issue it polled 41 Democratic senators and found only five who named Mr. Truman as their first choice to make next year's race. It said 15 favored Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The Republicans have no such barrier as the Democrats but the nearest they have to an avowed candidate is Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio. Taft

Tooth Decay

...help prevent it

AMMONIATED
LISTERINE
TOOTH PASTE
designed to help prevent decay 3 ways!

Mother! Give your children the benefit of this promising new method of attacking tooth decay.

In preliminary tests conducted with this famous formula at the University of Illinois Foundation, case after case of reduction in the incidence of tooth decay was reported. No wonder it has caused such interest in dental circles!
Now the manufacturers of Lis-terine Antiseptic make this same formula readily available to you and to your family.

Use Listerine Ammoniated
Tooth Paste regularly, as directed, morning and night and right after eating. Lambert Phar-macal Co. (Canada) Ltd., Toronto.

1. Chemical action reduces mouth acidity. Mouth acidity encourages decay.

2. Mechanical action cleans surface as teeth are brushed—helps break up and remove decay-breeding deposits.

3. Chemical action checks acid-forming bacteria—a major cause of decay.

Martians Learn from Man Stan Parker Is Hopeful

(From the diary of the chief scientist to the dictator of Mars)

1945—Now they are finishing another war. It was unnecessary as are all wars. They will sign peace treaties and then that war will be finished. But how, with the disunited conditions on earth can such be possible when...

1956—They have started again.
In the part called Korea there is fighting between the men of democracy and the men of communism. It is inevitable that it will develop into a third Great War...

1955—It is said on earth that the calm comes before the storm.
This is quite true. A settlement was reached in Korea and there was peace for several years. Then the Communists dropped the first atom bomb on the Allies who didn't like it and retaliated.
Then it was an atomic war. Each side dropped atom bombs on the other until shortly men saw that they would demolish themselves and the ceased throwing bombs at each other but continued with the so-called conventional warfare. Scientists worked frantically to produce a new weapon to wipe out the enemy...

1956—Man has done what he set out to do. He has demolished himself. It happened when an Allied scientist who was experimenting with bacteria discovered that a certain germ, when introduced into food, reproduced at an inconceivable rate, thereby poisoning it. By his experiments he devised a method by which to control the organism that was unknown to the enemy. He found that it could be controlled by spraying a certain chemical into the air. It didn't drift with the air currents but hovered at all times over the place in which it was sprayed. The chemical remained vital to the bacteria.
It was agreed that the organisms were to be dropped on the enemy and when the enemy had been exterminated they would kill the germ. And the germ was spread throughout the enemy countries. When the time came to stop the bacteria, pitiful man found that his formula would not stop it and it spread over the earth killing all men, and soon humanity was extinct. How was man to know that, as the organism spread, it would become immune to the prepared chemical as it learned to do with less and then without the vital element in the air.

Man was stupid. May we Martians learn by his mistakes and prosper!

Time for Controls Not Ripe

OTTAWA (CP)—Speaking here
Minister of National Defence Brooke Claxton reaffirmed the opinion of the cabinet that the time is not ripe for general economic controls and he expressed the hope they would never be needed.

Mr. Claxton also intimated that the United States is going to help foot the bill for some defence installations in Canada which would benefit the whole of North America.

Mr. Claxton also referred to Russian atom bombs in appraisal of a military threat to Canada which he admitted would exist.

HEADS FOR COAST

KENTVILLE, N.S. (CP)—Chief marshalling officer on the Atlantic coast for much of the Second World War, Cmdr. F. M.
Barkhouse has left to take up residence in North Hollywood, Cal. Doctors advised the change because of ill health attributed to rigors of war service.

Another Prince Rupert lad whose big hope lies in a box on four wheels is Stan Parker, 291 Summit Avenue. His father's workshop in the basement has been taken over by Stan for the last month while the lines of the soap-box took form.

But Stan is not new to the building game for he has been "building things"—like bob-sleds, wagon boxes and games—for some time. And last year he also constructed a soap-box but he didn't build it "quite like this one."

A disaster befel the 15-year-old racing enthusiast last year—something he hopes doesn't happen when he races for the Mission trip tomorrow night. He ran into a policeman who crossed the race track. The constable was sent sprawling and the car well, "it had it," according to Stan.

He has been working on the wheels for some time, but what he has done is a competitive secret, says Stan. The new car, with a sharp sloping nose, is designed to nearly maximum proportions and the builder feels "it should go 25-miles-an-hour."

ON TO AKRON

"I think I've got as good a chance to win tomorrow as anybody else. But it would take an awful lot to win at Mission," said Stan, who confessed he had often thought "how wonderful" it would be to be able to go to Akron, Ohio, to compete in the finals.

"That would really be something."
Stan is a tall young man for his age and had a little trouble making enough room in the car for his legs.

"But I got that licked, finally.
Today and tomorrow I've really got to work to test her and get the bugs out." And he'll paint it, too, a deep red, he says.

"We didn't really have enough time, only about a month. But anyway, it's just for fun."
Meanwhile, six other racers are feverishly trying to get their cars in shape for the big race tomorrow night, the winner of which will leave Saturday by plane for Vancouver and Mission, to enter the B.C. finals there.

The Derby in Prince Rupert is sponsored by Frizzell's Motor Products Ltd. and the Daily News. The winning soap-box will bear the name "Daily News."

Old Debt of Army Cleared

At a simple but sincere ceremony last night in the Salvation Army Citadel, Senior Captain W.
C. Poulton set fire to a piece of paper which had been hanging over the heads of the congregation for 41 years.

The mortgage was burned.
The Citadel on Fraser Street, where the Salvation Army has taught its doctrine and practised its service of kindness and aid to the needy of Prince Rupert since inception of the city, had cost $13,000.

When Capt. Poulton came to lead the local corps 22 months ago, there was still $9,650 owing on the mortgage. In that time, Capt. Poulton told members of the congregation and friends, $5,400 had been contributed by the people of the church. From Divisional Headquarters in Vancouver, Capt. Poulton had obtained $1,600, and from headquarters in Toronto, had comed $3,250. "The slate has been wiped clean."

A "mock" birthday cake with 41 candles was placed before the altar. With members of the Corps gathered around the cake, Capt. Poulton dropped the statement of the mortgage on the lighted candles after which he led the singing of "Praise God
From Whom All Blessings Flow."

Two letters of congratula-tion were read by Capt. Poulton to the congregation. Mayor G.
W. Rutherford, on behalf of himself and the city council, paid tribute to the Army in his letter for their unceasing work among the needy of Prince Rupert.

F. E. Anfield, Indian superintendent, congratulated the Corps for their work, both material and spiritual.

Capt. Poulton urged his congregation not to let up in their work, even though "paying off the mortgage has been a great accomplishment."

"There is still a greater job to be done here," he charged.
"There are souls to be saved and our first job is to preach the Gospel of Jesus Christ."

Sclerpsis Victim Leads Fund Drive

MONTREAL (CP)—A pretty, dark-haired Montreal woman of 26 laughs, smiles and chatters pleasantly these days despite the fact she is paralyzed from the waist down and confined to a wheelchair.

Founder of the Canadian Sclerosis Society in 1948, Mrs.
Evelyn Opal explains that as long as she is able to work at raising funds for the fight against multiple sclerosis, she will do it, and be happy in the task.

She was attacked at the age of 20 by the malady, a chronic disease of the central nervous system.

Mrs. Opal has had several remissions of the strange disease during these times she been able to walk. One time was during the marriage of a second sister, when she was to walk up the aisle as best maid.

"Rather than congratulate the bride, they were all with happiness around me, said as she happily recalled time.

As far as can be determined there are some 900 cases of multiple sclerosis in Canada, while medical authorities estimate there may be 1,000 more who are "unaware what they have."

Organizing For Music— Drama Fest

A new tentative syllabus which was adopted last night by the Music and Drama Festival Association has a number of new features such as special piano classes in Bach and Beethoven, special piano-accompaniment classes, as well as the former classes in violin, piano, choral and stage work. There will be 86 classes in all.

In the piano classes and in a great many of the choral items, "own choice" pieces are to be eliminated which will save time and also the waiting on stage for the adjudicator's bell. The Festival next spring will have two days of music followed by two days of drama and a final honor performance at the end.

The syllabus committee is under the sponsorship of Sister Mary Lawrence who has carried through the first stages of the work assisted by Henry Pluym and Mrs. Hector Cobb. The syllabus, which should be complete by the end of September, will probably be printed this time.

The meeting was well attended and presided over by Mrs. Earl Becker. Mrs. Harold Whalen was in attendance at the newly appointed secretary.

RCMP Officers Are Transferred

Several Royal Canadian Mounted Police officers in this area are involved in a round-robin of transfers which are made known today.

Constable George Redhead, for four years on the city force here, is being moved to Fort St. John and will leave next Wednesday for the Peace River district post to take charge there.

Constable Leonard Adams is moved from here, going to Terrace. Constable P. C. Crouch moves from Stewart to Prince Rupert and Constable B. T. Blackwood goes from Terrace to Stewart.

Terry and Ronnie Daniels are sailing tonight on the Prince Rupert for Victoria where they will spend the summer with their aunt and uncle, Colonel and Mrs. George Paulin, Oak Bay.

Fine Prizes Are Offered

Several thousand dollars worth of prizes already have arrived for distribution at the Prince Rupert Exhibition which opens this week-end.

Featured among the prizes, which are offered to winners of table games at the gayway, are huge plush figures of Panda bears, monkeys and other animals.

Don Forward, secretary of the exhibition committee, assures that a popular prize is the variety of plastic-ware he has obtained.

There are plastic kitchen sets, glasses and trays, and a host of other useful household gadgets. Cutlery, ornaments, sleeping dolls and children's cowboy outfits are some of the other prizes.

"We believe in giving things away that are of value and are useful," says Mr. Forward, adding with a grin: "That is, when we have to give things away."

But Mr. Forward assured that there would be "lots of winners," and promised that none would be disappointed in prizes they won.

PROGRESS

Something New in Exhibition

Industrial and Natural Resources Show

Focal point of the Prince Rupert Exhibition, to be held at the Civic Centre and surrounding grounds June 29 to July 7, will be the first-time in many years showing in the North of a full-blown industrial and natural resources display.

"This is really going to be something new and different in Prince Rupert," T. Norton Youngs, chairman of the exhibition committee has promised. "All members of the committee are convinced the PRE this year will lay the foundation of 'bigger and better things to come.'"

Sponsored by the Civic Centre, the exhibition will be divided into three departments:

Industrial,
Natural,
Entertainment.

In the industrial display some 50 business houses and manufacturers in and near Prince Rupert—many of which are advertising in these pages—will feature their products and wares to show that Prince Rupert is keeping up with the times.

An auto show will include the newest models of all makes of cars and trucks handled in Prince Rupert.

There will be fashion displays, a fur show, and the latest in electrical appliances. Heavy machinery, marine displays, and showings of Prince Rupert manufactured fish products.

The natural resources display will be centred around a large model supplied by the Aluminum Company of Canada, shipped here directly from the Toronto Trades Fair, and will be operated by Alcan personnel.

A Columbia Cellulose Co. Ltd. display, showing a scale model of their pulp mill at Watson Island, has been received from the Victoria department of lands and forests. This display will be augmented by a forestry feature provided by the local forestry branch.

Another attraction, which is expected to create a lot of interest, will be a showing of native arts and crafts, and will feature some of the finest private collections of Indian lore in the North. Surrounding Indian villages also will contribute to this display.

A fisheries display, a mining display and a showing of industrial and natural resources-films also is scheduled. Alcan films, showing in color the Kitimat project, will arrive this week.

ENTERTAINMENT TOO

Nightly contests during the exhibition will be highlighted by the crowning of the "Fair Queen of the North," one of three contestants who will be selected by a popularity vote.

They are Mae Newton, sponsored by Canadian Legion; Elaine Steffens, Sons or Norway; and Margaret Gagnon, Columbia Cellulose Ball Club.

And there will be a bathing beauty contest to decide who is the most beautiful of Prince Rupert girls and women. A "beautiful gams show" also has been slated, as well as a junior King and Queen contest, winners of all to receive handsome prizes.

Other contests include fishing derbies, Dominion Day sports and loggers' contests.

A gay-way, rides, stage show and nightly dancing will offer the lighter side of entertainment.

The Navy Drill Hall will be used in conjunction with the auditoriums and gymnasium of the Civic Centre building for the displays.

All receipts will go to running and expansion of the Civic Centre, which operates on a yearly deficit of some $5,000.

Box Derby Coming Up

Eight Local Lads To Race Tomorrow Night

Tomorrow is the Big Day for which eight Prince Rupert youngsters have been waiting with growing anticipation. At 7 p.m. the Soap Box Derby begins.

Doug Frizzell, of Frizzell's Motor Products Ltd., co-sponsor of the derby with the Daily News, said today "everything is ready for the big race."

Reason the derby is so important to these eight boys is that the winner will have a free plane trip with his soap box to Mission, B.C., where he will be able to compete in the provincial finals. Winners of that race, to be held Monday, July 2, will go to Akron, Ohio, for the international championship races. A cool $1000 scholarship awaits the winner there.

Entries of the race have been sponsored by a service organization in the city. They are:

Arthur Parent, sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce; Stan Parker, Gyro Club; Brian Roberts, Rotary Club; Richard Bury and Billy Watmough, Kinsmen; Maurice LeVacher, Holy Names Society; and Jack Rudolph, Canadian Legion.

Sponsors have purchased for their boys a set of wheels and axles for the cars which they built themselves.

Mr. Frizzell said the race track, which runs 1000 feet from North Star Bottling Works on Second Avenue to a line in front of the Civic Centre Building, will be marked off tomorrow afternoon when that section of the street will be closed to traffic.

"People are requested to keep off the race track, after it has been closed off," Mr. Frizzell said. During the race some 40 Boy Scouts, under supervision of Cpl. Arthur Wales, RCMP, will guard the track to keep off the crowds.

(Recently, on the opening of the pulp mill, the Boy Scouts proved their valuable assistance when they worked in conjunction with the Chamber of Commerce to direct visiting dignitaries to the tour cars.)

Mr. Frizzell also has announced that Frizzell's Motor Products Ltd. is awarding a huge silver trophy, emblematic of soap box racing championship, to the winner of the derby here, along with another smaller individual trophy presented by Mayor G. W. Rutherford. The larger prize will be perpetual, to be awarded each year.

"This is the first time, since soap box derbies started in B.C., that Prince Rupert has been represented. It will give Prince Rupert a lot of publicity and will be a great honor for the winner," Mr. Frizzell declared.

GREAT HUNTER

William Frederick (Buffalo Bill) Cody, who died in 1917, is recorded as having killed 4,820 bison in one period of 18 months.

Legion in Cup Final

Swamp General Motors and Will Meet Battery

By defeating the General Motors last evening the Canadian Legion IX won the right to meet the Heavy Battery in the final of the Dominion Day Cup. The match will be played on Friday evening of this week as players will be out of the city for the long week-end holiday. Motors fielded only nine players and were swamped by a goal-hungry Legion team to the tune of 9-0.

The first half was well contested. Smith hit the upright with a beautifully taken first time shot but the opening goal came when Vaarholm from Matthews' pass crossed a well placed shot wide of the goal. Dixon saved a fine header from Smith and then in Motors' attack Krause nearly lost the ball. Letourneau was wide and the Motors, with only nine players, pressed for a time. Dixon brought off a sensational save at point-blank range. Matthews got the ball in the net but it was disallowed for off-side. Dixon saved from Smith but Armstrong scored a second goal. Krause saved Price's header. Armstrong shot just wide.

For a time in the second half the Motors held out. Vaarholm hit the upright and Dixon saved twice. Matthews got two goals in succession and Armstrong another following Petersen's well taken free. Then Smith collected three goals and Armstrong finished with the ninth goal of the match, to end the scoring.

Teams:
Canadian Legion — Krause; Wyatt, Eby; Bowman, Petersen.

Mr. Pile Sufferer

What a vast difference there is in the modern way to treat Piles. The necessity of removing the real cause is only plain common sense. The new PYLTONE treatment (a liquid taken by mouth) goes direct to the inside cause. Special gums, plant extracts that help nature rebuild those delicate tissues. PYLTONE Pile Treatment is science's answer. It gets you satisfactory results with a one bottle trial or price refunded at once. At all modern druggists.

H-M25

B. Gomez; Vaarholm, Matthews, Smith, Armstrong, Murray.

General Motors—Dixon; Lieu, John Wilson; Jennings, Olsen, McGee; White, Price, Letourneau.

Referee—Ken Yelland.

Krause had little to do. Eby and Wyatt were rushed at times but were equal to all demands. Petersen played a strong game and was well helped by Bowman and Billy Gomez. The forwards had a good night with Smith and Armstrong getting three goals each. Matthews two and Vaarholm one.

Dixon did a great job in the Motors goal and, while beaten nine times, stopped seemingly certain goals. Some bordered on the sensational. Lien and John Wilson also did a great job, tackling with determination and kicking strongly. Olsen did the work of three. "Scottie" McGee, just returned to the city, played hard and cleverly for the Motors. Jennings also did yeoman service. The three forwards were outnumbered. Letourneau was dangerous and White tried hard. Price was the weakest. Lacking team captain Rod Robinson, Ronnie Tait, Pat Wilson and Tommy Boulter, the General Motors were too weak in numbers, not in spirit.

Local Boy Is Married

Quesnel Girl Is Bride
Of Alvin Knutson
At Vancouver Ceremony

Prince Rupert-born Alvin Leonard Knutson, graduate of Both Memorial High School and the University of British Columbia, one-time member of the Canadian Bank of Commerce staff here and now in the service of the British Columbia Packers in Vancouver was a principal in a marriage of wide-spread interest which took place recently in Vancouver.

In a Saturday evening ceremony in Dunbar Heights United Church, Vancouver, the beautiful bride was Marjorie Jean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Thomson of Quesnel. Rev. H. S. Clugston officiated at a double ring ceremony.

Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. K. Knutson of Prince Rupert.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose ivory satin for her regal gown. The fitted bodice was designed with a yoke of nylon net and shirred satin. The back of the gown was fashioned with a section of shirred satin blending down the skirt, in train. From a satin halo mistle a fingertip-length veil and pink roses and Stephanotis mingled in the bridal bouquet.

Miss Ruby McLean, bridesmaid, wore a gown designed similarly to the bride's in mauve tulle. Entone was her braided tulle headpiece. Tiny Lynn Edwards was her aunt's flower girl and was frocked in green tulle with a green tulle headpiece. Both attendants carried summer blossoms.

Jack Barnwell of Port Alberni was best man, while George McAfee and John Mee ushered guests.

Following a reception at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. H. H. Edwards, the newlyweds left on a honeymoon trip to Seattle. For travel, the bride donned a light blue wool gabardine suit with white accessories.

Among out-of-town guests at the rites were: Miss Janet Thomson, from England, aunt of the bride; the bride's parents from Quesnel; groom's mother from Prince Rupert; Miss Alma Knutson, Victoria, sister of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Rogers and their son, of Seattle; Dr. and Mrs. J. Treleven, Victoria.

ALDERNEY, Channel Islands — A cobbler digging in his backyard among other things unearthed a glass dessert service, two regimental silver salvers, two automobile engines, a bacon slicer, foreign coins and a bottle of cherry brandy.

Queen Mary Tea Success

The spacious home of Mrs. Fred Thornton, Fourth Avenue West, was the beautiful setting for a successful tea and sale by Queen Mary Chapter, Imperial Order, Daughters of the Empire. Many ladies called and were received by Mrs. Thornton and Mrs. J. K. Carr, the regent of the chapter.

Mrs. R. B. Skinner was convener of the affair.

The tea room was in charge of Mrs. Jack Hoskins, Mrs. J. Risdale, Mrs. M. J. Keays and Mrs. J. A. McRae.

Presiding at the pouring table, which was covered with a handsome lace cloth centred with lovely roses and early summer flowers, were Mrs. G. R. S. Blackaby, Mrs. G. G. Withers, Mrs. D. H. Stewart and Mrs. Clark McLean.

Servants were Mrs. C. W. Graham, Mrs. A. C. Gillis and Mrs. G. W. Ketcheson.

The cashier was Mrs. W. J. Litcham.

Mrs. G. E. Moore conducted the sale of home cooking with Mrs. H. C. Flood.

Candy was sold by Mrs. G. E. Hill and Mrs. R. P. James while Mrs. H. A. Breen and Mrs. S. A. Kieback conducted the apron table.

Raffles, conducted by Mrs. Russell Scherk and Mrs. Godfrey Charlton, resulted as follows:

Round trip ticket to Vancouver, E. V. Whiting.

Pair of pillowcases, Mrs. J. Hoskins.

Homemade candy, Mrs. S. A. Kieback.

Local Nurse Is Married

On a recent evening a quiet wedding was solemnized in St. Andrew's Anglican Cathedral by Canon Basil Procktor uniting Wilfred (Bill) Priest, son of Mrs. Priest and the late Thomas Priest of Vancouver, and Greta (Sally) Hothersall, daughter of Mrs. Hothersall and the late John Hothersall of Forest, Ontario.

The bride chose for her wedding a chartreuse tulle two-piece dress accentuated by black accessories and wore a corsage of red roses. She was attended by Miss Gerry Petit who wore a brown tulle redingote dress offset with leaf green accessories and a yellow rose corsage. Dr. W. S. Kergin was groomsmen.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. W. S. Kergin where close friends of the bride and groom offered their hearty wishes. D. C. Stevenson proposed the toast to the bride to which the groom responded with a few well chosen words.

A lively crowd saw the happy couple off on the midnight boat for Ketchikan, the bride traveling in a gold and taupe three-piece houndstooth checked suit. On their return Mr. and Mrs. W. Priest will reside at 153 Third Avenue West.

Mrs. Priest is a member of the nursing staff of the Prince Rupert General Hospital. Mr. Priest is agent for the Queen Charlotte Airlines here.

Former Local Girl Is Bride

A very pretty wedding was solemnized in the Gaetz Memorial United Church in Red Deer, Alberta recently when a former Prince Rupert girl, Dorothy Jean, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Faught of Red Deer, became the bride of Harry P. D. Andreassen, only son of Mr. O. E. Andreassen and the late Mrs. Andreassen of Prince Rupert. Rev. Gardner officiated.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, looked lovely in an ice blue ballerina length gown of net and lace over tulle with matching Juliet cap and chapel veil. She carried a bouquet of sweetheart roses. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Lenora Faught, as maid of honor and Miss Marjorie Shrub-sall as bridesmaid. Both wore matching gowns of pink net and lace over tulle, with matching headresses and carried bouquets of pink carnations.

The groom's attendants were William McKenzie and Martin Valentini, both of Edmonton. Robert Hogg, Edward and Arnold Jensen ushered the guests to their places.

After the wedding a reception followed in the Orange Hall where the bride's table was decorated with a beautiful three-tiered wedding cake.

Mrs. Faught, mother of the bride, and Miss Ruby Andreassen, sister of the groom, received the guests, the former wearing a navy blue sheer dress with grey accessories, and corsage of red roses, the latter a navy blue crepe dress with matching accessories, and a corsage of red roses.

After the reception the happy couple left by car on a honeymoon trip to Waterton Lakes and other points, the bride wearing a suit of grey with navy blue accessories.

On return from their honeymoon the couple will continue on to Prince Rupert where they will reside for a short while.

Street Work Is Awarded

An agreement, to be signed by Wood & McClay Ltd. and presented at a special meeting of city council last night, awards the company the contract for the Rushbrook Heights road improvement project.

Tender of the company was $13,700, which includes removal of all planks and construction of solid streets and drainage of Figgott Avenue, Piggott Place, Herman Avenue, Herman Place, Parmenter Avenue and Overlook Street.

A. D. E. Black stressed necessity of including in the agreement a time limit. Council decided the contractors would be given until October 30 to complete the job.

"The tender is a firm bid," said Mayor G. W. Rutherford. "There'll be no extras."

This Western Film Unusual

An unusual western drama comes to the Capitol Theatre this Friday and Saturday in "Saddle Tramp" with Joel McCrea in the title role. The picture is in color.

It is the story of an itinerant cowboy on whom fate bestows the custody of four small children and an orphan girl escaping an uncivilized wrang. When he goes reluctantly to work for a rancher to support his new-found family, he settles a long-standing feud by exposing the ranch foreman as head of a rustling ring.

Wanda Hendrix is the girl in the story whom McCrea marries.

John Russell is the villain of the piece in which are seen four of Hollywood's most popular child actors—Orley Lindgren, Jimmy Hunt, Gordon Gebert and Gregory Moffatt.

KING SIZE—Giant trees in British Columbia play a big part in the province's economic development. This log, nine feet in diameter, is not unusual in the spruce stands of the Queen Charlotte Islands, less than 100 miles from Prince Rupert. (CP PHOTO)

Preferred by millions of Canadians for its superb quality and flavour.

Try This Evaporated Milk

You can't know the wonderful results and grand economy evaporated milk can give, until you try Carnation Evaporated Milk. You'll find Carnation consistently smoother, consistently richer flavored—so uniform and so satisfactory. And it keeps longer. Carnation is milk you can depend on. Try it.

Convenient for Every Milk Use

Carnation is milk made double-rich by evaporation, then homogenized and heat-treated. It is heavy enough to whip. Its vitamin D is increased to 480 Units per pint. Use it undiluted in coffee, on fruits and cereals, in cream recipes. Dilute Carnation with an equal amount of water, to give whole milk for drinking or cooking.

50 YEARS OF EXPERIENCE lie behind the production of Carnation Milk. No wonder Carnation is better evaporated milk.

Blackwood on Bridge

By Easley Blackwood

Bridge bidding has come a long way in the last dozen years. Improvement in one particular branch of bidding, however, seems to have lagged behind. I refer to the handling of misfits.

Mrs. Keen did a fine job with the North cards in today's deal, in spite of her four honor tricks and her two five-card major suits, she was suspicious of the hand from the start. She took it slowly, using no jump bids.

When Mr. Dale bid two clubs on the second round of bidding she became even more cautious and decided finally to try for the nine-trick game at no trump. It took a fine unblocking play by Mr. Dale even to make that contract.

Mr. Abel opened the queen of clubs and immediately Mr. Dale noted the difficulty which crops up in misfit and semi-misfit hands. He had entry trouble. In order to run the diamond suit he first had to get dummy's ace and king out of the way.

Then how would he come back to his hand to cash the other three diamonds? The king of spades was the only hope. But Mr. Dale didn't fancy that spade play at all. Remember he didn't have the advantage you have of seeing Mr. Champion's cards. What if Mr. Abel had the ace of spades?

FINDS EASIER WAY

Mr. Dale found a much easier solution to his problem. He let Mr. Abel's queen of club hold the first trick. He played the five spot from the closed hand, concealing the deuce in the hope that Mr. Abel would read Mr. Champion's four of clubs as an encouraging card.

Mr. Abel continued with the jack of clubs and Mr. Dale went into action. He won with the king of clubs, discarding the king of diamonds from dummy. Then he laid down the ace of clubs and threw away dummy's ace of diamonds. This cleared the way for running five diamond tricks and the ace and king of hearts furnished the eighth and ninth tricks for game.

The discard of the ace, king of diamonds put Mr. New, the

Canada's Future and North

CANADA has the material and geographical requirements of greatness. Have her people the qualities needed for creation of a great nation?

D. M. LeBourdais asks the question in "Canada's Century" (Methuen). He answers:

"The manner in which Canadian statesmen are accepting much more than their share of responsibility in world affairs; the energy and determination with which Canadians, in some places, are going about the development of their natural resources; and the eminence attained in the arts and sciences by a growing number of Canadian men and women may be cited as signs of an emerging greatness which might tend to encourage the hope that in due course it may truly be said that the 20th century was indeed Canada's."

That the 20th century could be Canada's, fulfilling Sir Wilfrid Laurier's prediction, is the theme of "Canada's Century." A fascinating study of the country's industrial history and resources, written by one who knows his subject intimately, it takes the reader on a revealing coast-to-coast tour.

Mr. LeBourdais sees Canada developing her greatest strength in the north, now considered by many to be bleak territory without a future. Indeed, he sees as one result of the airplane age the shift of the world's centre of civilization from the Atlantic to the Arctic—a "strange, even absurd" statement, he says, but one which he amply supports.

The book just touches Canadian civilization as it now exists in the southern, heavily-populated portion of Canada. It is enthusiastic about the far north and its almost unlimited potentialities, encompassing in a grand sweep from Newfoundland to Northern British Columbia developments under way and those possible—even probable—in the next few years.

There are no qualifications in this statement:

"That part of Canada which some day will be the most productive as well as the most densely populated consists of a roughly triangular area, about 800 miles wide at its base and extending northward for 2000 miles to its apex. It comprises most of the prairie provinces and that part of the district of Mackenzie lying between the edge of the Canadian shield and the mountain ranges."

In this immense area, Mr. LeBourdais foresees great industries arising, fed by hydro-electric power, vast coal deposits and extensive oil and gas fields. Development of new railways to open up the territory is urged, particularly an outlet from the Peace River country to the Pacific Coast.

But all of the optimistic predictions for what the writer says could be a "marvellous future" for the "land of destiny" are based upon Canada receiving more people—"many millions of new people." Increased immigration is urged but Mr. LeBourdais warns that future immigrants must not be expected to put up with the "harshness and carelessness" to which many were subjected early in the century.

An interesting sidelight in the book is the forecast that some day will come re-establishment of the prehistoric highway between the North American and Asiatic continents at Bering Strait. This would mean building a highway on which motorists could drive from the tip of South America, up the Americas and across Asia and Europe to Portugal, crossing Bering Strait by tunnel.

Mr. LeBourdais, of French-Canadian descent, but born in the Cariboo country of British Columbia, spent his early years in the west. He has written a biography of the Manitoba-born explorer, Vilhjalmur Stefansson, and in 1924 was himself a member of an Arctic expedition. His home now is in Toronto.

Of the Canadian people, he says: "It seems safe to say that no people have a better chance to build a truly great nation."

Vatican at Normal Now

By PATRICK CROSSE
VATICAN CITY (CP)—Roman Catholicism's central government, concentrated in the one square mile of the Vatican City state, is gradually swinging back to its normal administrative routine after the upheaval of the 1950 Holy Year.

Pope Pius XII, 75 years old, still receives many pilgrims every day. But they are numbered in dozens or, at most, hundreds, each day, instead of in thousands as during the whole of last year.

The pope already has behind him the greatest ceremony of the year, in terms of popularity—the beatification of the "Peasant Pope," Pius X.

Two hundred thousand people joined with the pope in an open-air ceremony of veneration of his newly-blessed predecessor on June 2 in the great square before Saint Peter's basilica.

Apart from the regular ones of the church calendar, the pope will conduct only two other great ceremonies this year, both canonizations.

The end of the constant stream of Holy Year mass audiences, which flowed on into the opening months of the present year, has meant that the pope is no longer obliged to make five or six speeches a week.

It has also enabled him to resume receiving the cardinals of the Curia, the equivalent of cabinet ministers in a lay government, and the bishops who come to Rome on their routine "Ad Limina" visits.

The result has been that the detailed direction of the affairs of the Catholic Church has returned to the hands of the pope.

VIGOROUS LEADER
Despite his age, he appears to be able to devote great vigor to his task. Visitors report he shows the keenest interest in each individual he meets, and in his ceremonial appearances he bears himself and speaks with energy and decision.

In nearly all his principal speeches this year, Pius XII has dwelt on four main themes, which he describes as the four great necessities of the age:

1. Peace.
2. Social Justice.
3. A new feeling of brotherhood among men, essential for the achievement of the first two aims.
4. The "great return" to the spiritual values of the Christian religion, essential to all the first three aims.

In his constant insistence on the necessity of peace, left-wing commentators, not all Communists, have claimed to see condemnation of the Atlantic Pact and European rearmament. But no support has been lent to this view by Vatican commentators, and the pope himself has been even more frequently insistent on the dangers to Christianity of Communism, as well as of all other forms of materialism.

The pope, seeking to root out social injustice, has also constantly warned industrialists, financiers and others who directly or indirectly employ men to work for them, of the practical danger, as well as the grave moral default, of shirking the social responsibility of their power.

He has at the same time warned workers that their struggle to improve their position become evil if it is not directed towards the good of the community as a whole.

Happy Day, School Out

School ended with unusual abruptness Tuesday when the students came at one in the afternoon instead of nine in the morning to receive their report cards. After getting their Auroras most of them left until September when one teacher expressed a desire to see them back.

"Am I glad to get out of this dungeon?" "Well, another year wasted!" and "Good riddance," were some of the remarks overheard from the students.

Everyone seemed glad to get out of school for a while.

Though schools did not close officially until three o'clock this afternoon the students were dismissed Tuesday as Mr. Hurst put it when he was reprimanding one of the boys who wanted to get out of school early to go to work.—(Contributed)

Guarantee of Cease Fire Acceptance

U.S. Would Require Red Withdrawal to Yalu—Acheson

WASHINGTON, D.C. (CP)—Secretary of State Dean Acheson said yesterday the best guarantee for United States acceptance of the Korean cease-fire would be withdrawal of Chinese Communist troops beyond the Yalu River.

The Secretary of State proposed a "phased withdrawal" of all foreign troops in Korea after an armistice in the event of such a settlement.

He declared there would have to be full realization that its violation "would be a very dangerous step and would endanger the peace of the world."

Reflects and Reminiscences

The size of the pension and not what it's called is what really counts. Anyway, it would appear to be that way but not to everybody. Gordon Graydon, MP, says he thinks payments to the aged should be described as "national dividends" instead of "old age pensions." It makes a fellow feel of some slight consequence but, for Heaven's sake, don't cultivate dignity.

MEET THE PRESS

Broadcasts, the past few evenings, have included lists of questions and answers concerning the press of Canada. Seasoned publishers tell each other plenty and many opinions differ sharply. It's all very entertaining as well as informing. Some of the listeners, who couldn't tell a pea from a scoop, may have felt surprised. Anyway, they should have.

It is doubtful if ever there was a time when more people knew less about finding their way around Prince Rupert than now. It's to be expected, for the city is full of strangers and there would be more if dwellings and rooms were available. ## COLD MEATS

3rd in a series to bring you the facts about your Hospital Insurance plan

Why were the Premiums Increased?

1. To pay higher hospital labor costs.
2. To pay the increased cost of drugs and supplies.
3. To pay for the running of new hospital beds.

The money the Hospital Insurance Service gets from premiums, plus that obtained from the government (which amounts to nearly 30% of the total) is used to pay the hospital bills of the people of B.C. When the people's hospital bills are more than the money obtained from premiums and the government, the difference is called the B.C.H.I.S. "deficit". The deficits of the past two years have been caused by the increased cost of running the hospitals.

Hospitals are costing more to run because:

- Labor is costing more.
- Drugs and supplies are costing more.
- Additional money is needed to run new hospital beds.

Since the Hospital Insurance Service started 2½ years ago, the wages of hospital employees have risen in proportion to other forms of employment. The increase in the past two years amounts to a yearly item of $4,300,000 and takes $10 of every premium.

The increased cost of living has hit the price of drugs and supplies. Drugs, medical and surgical supplies have increased by $700,000 a year, and food and other supplies by $800,000 a year. This totals $1,500,000 extra a year.

Every new hospital bed costs between $3,500 and $4,000 a year just to run it. 500 new hospital beds raises the total yearly cost of running the hospitals by about $1,800,000.

These three factors together are responsible for the deficits of the past two years.

In estimating how much the Service would pay to the hospitals this year, the hospitals' budgets were examined very closely and reduced by $750,000 to cut costs without cutting services. After this amount had been deducted, it was still obvious that this year's hospital costs would be $2,811,000 higher than last year's. This is because:

- $1,480,000 more is needed to run new hospital beds.
- $845,000 more is needed to pay increased hospital labor costs.
- $286,000 more is needed to pay increases in drugs and supplies.
- $200,000 more is needed for miscellaneous increases.

Last year, there was a $1,500,000 deficit which was paid by the government. Therefore, this year an increase of $1,500,000 is necessary, plus the extra $2,811,000 needed to meet the increased hospital costs. This makes a total of $4,311,000 needed this year, over and above what was received last year. To meet this, premiums were increased by 75c a month and co-insurance started (co-insurance will be explained next week).

The original premiums could not be stretched to meet these increased costs any more than a 1943 pay cheque would cover today's cost of living.

The government does not state that the present method of financing the Hospital Insurance plan is permanent, but states that it was absolutely necessary to raise the premiums by 75c a month in order to carry on a plan which is proving to be a benefit to the people, the hospitals, and the municipalities of the province.

Next week, we will give you the facts on "Why was co-insurance started?"

Be sure to read these messages. They deal with your Hospital Insurance plan—a plan which has already paid over $40,000,000 for more than 500,000 hospital cases, and is providing benefits for thousands more each month.

PIE, FAVORITE OF DESSERTS, PARTICULARLY TIMELY NOW

For centuries, pie has been famous in the world of food. Even our nursery rhymes and fairy tales taught us that pastry making was an important part of every woman's life. Remember "Little Jack Horner" and the "Four and Twenty Blackbirds." We can even go back to the time of Chaucer for he mentioned pies in his writings. Pie actually originated in England as a main dish of meats and fowl baked in a deep, flaky, brown crust. Today, besides meat and vegetable pies, we have that Canadian favorite, the dessert pie.

This being the beginning of the fruit season, home economists have sent information about fruit pies, those bright red cherry ones and those luscious berry pies. Everyone would like to be a perfect pastry maker and everyone can be. It does not take good luck nor years of experience. It merely takes four ingredients, flour, shortening, salt and water and care in putting them together. The home economists suggest that the usual combination of these four ingredients for a one crust pie is 1 1/2 cups of shortening to 1 cup plus 2 tablespoons of sifted pastry flour or 1 cup sifted all-purpose flour, 1/2 teaspoon of salt and about 2 tablespoons of cold water. The first thing to do in making pastry is to combine the shortening with the dry ingredients, then moisten with just as little water as possible—that is use only enough water to hold the dough together. If possible allow the dough to chill a short time in the refrigerator before using. Roll the pastry out on a pastry board which has a piece of canvas or waxed paper placed on top. Never roll the dough too much. A hot oven to bake the pastry is, of course, a necessity. If these directions are followed, anyone should have flaky, golden pastry. Most fruit pies are very juicy and need a thickener to keep the juices from running over in the oven. Either flour, corn starch or tapioca may be used as thickeners. For berry pies the usual proportions are 4 tablespoons of flour OR 2 tablespoons of corn starch OR 2 1/2 tablespoons of tapioca for each pie. Often the juices of these pies, even though thickened, tend to bubble over in the oven. If this is the case, a small funnel of paper, a paper straw or a few long sticks of macaroni inserted into the filling will help prevent bubbling.

Pie, when properly baked, should be nicely brown so that nothing extra is needed to make the crust attractive. However, for those who prefer a shiny,

Canada Getting More Tourists

HALIFAX—"Canada will welcome more tourists from the United States this summer than last year," A. A. Gardiner, of Montreal, general passenger traffic manager, Canadian National Railways, told newsmen here today. He arrived here to attend the annual meeting of the Canadian Commercial Travelers' Association.

Travel as it was known today was a development of the people of the western nations, said Mr. Gardiner, and it would be almost impossible in a democracy to restrain it. With the international situation as it was, however, many persons in the United States were confining their travels to points within 24 to 48 hours away from home.

"As a result of this," he said,

"we Canadians will play host to a great many more United States tourists than we did last year. There will be more Americans from the eastern United States into western Canada."

Oldtime Craft In Newspaper

VANCOUVER — In the editorial room of a Vancouver daily newspaper there are no typewriters. Writers use brush and ink and, in silence, sweat out each deadline.

In the back shop, or composing room, no linotypes spill out type in long, leaden columns. There too is silence as all type is set by hand.

But, at noon each day, presses roll and 4,500 copies of the paper "hit the streets" of Vancouver.

The paper is the Chinese Times, one of Canada's four Chinese-language newspapers. All four share the same odd conditions. The Chinese language, with its thousands of characters, is not adaptable to modern devices.

Recently Publisher Chew P. Yee of Victoria's New Republic spoke of the difficulties of publication because Canadian-born Chinese dislike newspaper work involving writing copy with brush and ink.

The Times, published by the Chinese Freemasons in Canada, started over 40 years ago with the campaign to overthrow the Manchu empire. The Times' first issues rallied Vancouver-Chinese in support of Mr. Sun Yat Sen, who made China a republic in 1911.

The revolution which has never ended makes political talk in Chinatown, and the Vancouver and Victoria papers—the other two are in Toronto—differ in policy.

OPPOSE COMMUNISM

The New Republic is strongly nationalistic in support of Chiang Kai Shek. The Vancouver Times is cool towards Chiang but doesn't like the Reds. In fact all Canadian Chinese are anti-communist.

But as to Chiang and MacArthur, there are different ideas in Chinatown no less than in Washington.

The Times keeps its readers up on world news through subscribing to world press wire services, and it maintains a special correspondent at Hong Kong.

Only once in its history has the conservative Times put out an extra. That was on V-J Day, when 15,000 copies were rolled off. The normal circulation is 4,500.

Apart from the masthead, the only English wording is in the advertisements. And these show only the firm name and address in English; the copy is in Chinese.

Although some one invented a Chinese typewriter, it has not been a success—the keyboard is too cumbersome.

The same difficulty, only greater, prevents use of linotypes and each character must be picked out, set up, and then restored in its case after the edition is out.

Since there can be no alphabetical arrangement, classifying the type is a problem. One typesetter obscurely explained it as being similar to fingerprint classification.

Campsite For One Thousand

A campsite for a thousand workers is now being established by the eight contracting firms of Vancouver who will build the first stages of smelter and the townsite for the Aluminum Company at Kitimat.

The work will include the actual smelters for producing aluminum, the townsite, harbor facilities, water works, sewers and any other essential accommodation. Representatives of the contractors are now in Montreal where the agreement with Alcan has been drawn up.

The power end of the work is being done by contractors Morrison-Knudsen Co. of Canada Ltd. The location is at Kemano in a narrow steep valley about forty miles below Kitimat.

Scottish Folk Hospitable

AIRDRIE, Scotland (CP)—Mrs. Norris Harwood of Victoria, B.C., has been living here for nine months with her husband, an exchange teacher at Coatbridge secondary school where her 13-year-old son is a pupil.

Not even the intricacies of housekeeping with ration books have marred the happiness of this Canadian family in Scotland.

When the school term ends, Mr. and Mrs. Harwood plan to make an extensive tour of England before sailing for home in August. During the Easter holidays they spent two weeks on the continent and visited Paris, Nice and towns in Italy.

Mrs. Harwood speaks highly of the hospitality she and her family have been shown in Scotland. "We have been entertained in many different homes and have thoroughly enjoyed ourselves," she said.

One of the many things she admires about Scottish women is the way they manage to vary their meals on rationed foods. She finds food and clothing much cheaper in Scotland than in Canada, but thinks that the proportionately higher wages in the Dominion make the cost of living about equal in both countries.

"North Sea" Wreck Burns

A mass of flames lighted the Inland Passage near Bella Bella Tuesday night as a familiar landmark to passing ships, the North Sea wreck, lay burning on Porter Reef.

Captain William Eccles, commander of the CNR steamship Prince Rupert, said the North Sea Tuesday night "was burning in a mass of flames" as he passed the point where the Northland Transportation Co. passenger ship was wrecked in February, 1947.

Since then, the wreck has remained on the reef, between Idle Point and Ivory Island, some 170 miles south of Prince Rupert.

Capt. Eccles didn't know why the wreck was burning. It had been reported in shipping circles that salvage of steel for scrap was to begin.

At the time of the wreck, the Prince Rupert was caught in the same gale. Upon receiving the distress call, the Prince Rupert picked up 185 survivors who had landed at Bella Bella in lifeboats.

Mrs. Harwood is a native of Bristol, England, but was taken as a baby to Canada when her parents emigrated.

Smiles 'n Chuckles

When the owner of a pool hall and liquor store in a Colorado town gave a $50 check to the Methodist Church, the parishioners questioned acceptance of "tainted money." But in the pulpit next Sunday the minister said:

"There have been expressions of concern over whether we should accept a certain check. Here is that check. Verily, it is the devil's money. I can think of nothing that will cause the devil more pain than to apply his money to the work of the Lord. I am placing the check in our fund. Amen."—From "Life's Like That" in The Reader's Digest.

A soldier told Groucho Marx that he was looking for a girl who didn't drink, smoke, swear or have any bad habits.

"What for?" asked Groucho.

A stout, bald gentleman was discussing his tennis technique. "My brain barks out a command to my body: 'Run forward speedily. Start right away. Slam the ball gracefully over the net.'"

"And then what happens?" he was asked.

"And then," the heavy-set fellow replied, "my body says: 'Who, ME?'"

The young couple had had their first quarrel, and all evening neither one of them had said a word. Finally the husband decided to give in. "Please speak to me, dear," he said. "I'll admit that I was wrong and you were right."

"It won't do you any good," replied the bride tearfully. "I've changed my mind."

"Hey, there!" a passing motorist called to a hillbilly who was reclining under a tree. "Your house is on fire!"

"Know it," the hillbilly replied without moving.

"Well, why don't you do something about it?"

"Do it now," the hillbilly replied. "Bin a-prayin' fer rain ever since she started."

Gardening....

WISE WATERING RULES GIVE VIGOROUS GARDEN GROWTH

Gardens cannot grow without water. When dry weather is accompanied by warm temperatures careful watering practice may save lots of trouble, and loss.

First the quantity of water is important. Gardens need at least one inch of water each week; and if this does not fall in rain, it must be applied from a hose. Do not apply it in daily shallow doses, but soak the ground six inches deep at each application.

Next comes the time to water. The best time is early morning, next during the day when the sun is shining and the least favorable time is in the evening. If necessary to water during the evening, do not wet the leaves of the plants, since they will remain damp all night and this will encourage moulds and fungi. Where there is a humid climate, and homes have too much shade, both encourage plant diseases, by keeping leaves damp. Sunshine is the best preventative. Dry leaves the next, and the last resort is a fungicide.

Lawns should be watered in the morning, or while the sun is shining, and never sprinkled with a hand nozzle, because the holder tires before the lawn gets enough. There are many inexpensive sprinklers which operate with little attention and spread water evenly. Let them stay long enough in one place to wet the soil several inches deep.

For vegetable gardens it is especially important not to wet the leaves of lettuce, chard, and other leaf crops. It is better to keep water off all vegetable leaves, except when the sun will dry them quickly. Some method of flowing water directly on the soil without washing out miniature gullies is required. One of the best is a canvas hose which leaks, and serves the purpose of an irrigation ditch. If possible get one the exact length of your garden row, so it can be lifted to another spot when one area has been thoroughly soaked.

For bushy flowers there are special tubes and nozzles which will spread the water near the roots without wetting the leaves. Many prefer to use a piece of wood on which water is allowed to flow directly from the hose, without a nozzle. This is an effective spreader.

While leaves should not be allowed to remain damp long, most plants enjoy a morning shower both, on a day when they will dry quickly. Evergreens need frequent washing, and this discouraged insects, red spider, in particular.

Don't forget the evergreens and shrubs in your watering schedule. Newly planted specimens need regular watering during their first year, when their root systems are limited and must get food and water for the plant within a small area. Young plants which succumb during their first year usually suffer from insufficient water.

Modish Coats, Picture Hats, Tops at Ascot

By MURIEL NARRAWAY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

ASCOT, Berkshire, England (CP) — Blustering winds, grey skies and intermittent sunshine at the Royal Ascot race meeting gave another boost to this year's No. 1 fashion favorite, silk and cotton duster coats.

Smart women in tailored suits and dresses picked three-quarter-length coolie coats in taffeta and Grosgrain while those wearing light summer dresses with full skirts chose wide pyramid coats of the same materials.

A lovely tailored combination was a tight-fitting black dress with high Chinese neckline roped in pearls, and a faultless white grosgrain three-quarter coolie coat with quilted figuring at pockets and sleeves. Worn with big black straw hat and low-cut high-heeled pumps, it had a smart sophisticated simplicity that made the light summer dressed look over-dressed.

A smart Japanese kimono style with gold-traced figuring was worn by film star Sreya Gynt, but most women picked plain coats without patterning that could be combined with many different types of dresses.

Despite a considerable number of wide-skirted chiffon, silk and organza dresses with low necklines, it was definitely a tailored Ascot and the duster coat outweighed furs in popularity.

QUEEN WORE YELLOW

Tailored suits varied from grained moires shot with silver and gold to heavy brocades and lightweight wools. There were many satins and taffetas with varied patterning.

Two of the loveliest colors were worn by the Queen and Princess Elizabeth on the second day of the four-day meeting. The Queen wore a yellow gold with a depth of color that seemed to glow under dark skies. Her coat, hat and dress matched perfectly. Princess Elizabeth chose a deep hyacinth blue as colorful as a carpet of bluebells.

Despite four days of gusty winds, it was an Ascot of big hats. Outstanding model was made of interlaced white crepe paper, so light in weight it merely flapped in the strongest breeze and remained secure.

Picture hats ranged from light transparent organzas and chiffons to thick plaited straws such as the Egyptian style with front brim folded flatly back across the brown, the wide black brim coming to shoulder length.

Many tailored outfits depended completely on the color and perfection of accessories to
