Railway Chief Visitor Here

Paying his first visit to the city in the new capacity, to which he was recently appointed, was J. R. McMillan, vice-president in charge of the western region of Canadian National Railways, who arrived yesterday on the Prince Rupert from the south and proceeded by the evening train to headquarters in Winnipeg. He was accompanied by Mrs. McMillan. Also coming north was Bernard Allen, general manager for British Columbia, who returns to Vancouver tonight. Yesterday Mr. McMillan inspected the company's local properties and also visited the Columbia Cellulose plant at Watson Island.

Big Drive Still on

TOKYO (CP)—Allied troops stabbed ahead one to two miles today against spotty resistance in the second day of their 70-mile-wide drive in Korea.

United States Eighth Army's briefing officer said 11,039 Chinese and North Korean Reds were killed or wounded Wednesday on the opening day assault—one of the biggest allied attacks of the war.

Weather is spring-like. Canada's Princess Patricia's, in the thick of battle, yesterday drove Chinese from well dug-in positions near Yongdu in bayonet fighting. Fighting took place on two spurs of Hill 532. The day-long attack was against intensive enemy automatic fire and torrents of hand grenades.

The Pats failed to crack Chinese resistance until just before dusk. They attacked in a snowstorm, right into enemy foxholes. The adjutant, Capt. B. O. Swinton, of Vancouver, told of hearing voices of the Patricia's echoing in the valley with a challenge to Chinese to "Come out and fight."

Company Sergeant Major H. O. Larson of Calgary said "there are bloody bayonets in 'dog' company tonight."

Flares May Be Solved

Flares and rockets early yesterday morning, sighted on Yeo Island by SS Prince Rupert enroute to this city, may have been sent up by a B.C. Packers seiner.

Supervisor of Fisheries office here said today the Irene May, which had lost her propeller March 4, had been towed into Bella Bella last night. The stricken seiner had been found by the Fisheries patrol boat Arrow Post near Grief Island, in the vicinity where the flares were sighted.

B.C. Packers here have no news concerning the Irene May or the incident, and don't believe it was serious. The seiner is working out of Namu, they said.

Yeo and Grief Islands lie between Bella Bella and Ocean Falls, in Spiller Channel.

Air and surface craft were being assigned to a search in the Yeo Island area near the entrance of Dean Channel, 150 miles south of Prince Rupert, following the sighting of flares early yesterday morning by the steamer Prince Rupert, which arrived in port yesterday afternoon, but no further clue as to their import had been received today.

Should anyone be in distress in that isolated area it was feared they might be having a bad time under severe weather conditions including bitter cold.

Five red flares and white rockets were sighted at 2:30 a.m. by R. W. Sparkes, chief officer of the s.s. Prince Rupert and fourth officer, Fred Wilkins, 30 miles north of Ocean Falls.

Capt. E. B. Caldwell, got out of his bunk and noticed "a red flare on the port side."

He searched until 3:30, flashing searchlights and the Aldis lamp, circling between Law and Rupert Islands.

The signals coming from the direction of Yeo Island, were sighted while the boat was abeam of Hay and Law Islands. The Rupert returned up the channel one half mile westward of Law Island searching.

"It was a regular gale—cold wind from the north down Dean Channel and a clear cold night," said the Captain.

"I wouldn't give a nickel for anyone in that country—it's in the wilds of everything," said Capt. Caldwell, believing that that signals came from a boat or plane.

"When I saw the flares, they were about 100 feet in the sky—but it was impossible to judge how far away they were," said Sparkes.

RCMP and Marine Agent and Air rescue were notified by Caldwell at 4 a.m.

N. A. Beketov, Dept. of Transport agent here, notified Ocean Falls police and air rescue of Vancouver.

Local R.C.M.P. office says that they have wired the P.M.L. Prince Rupert game branch boat, commanded by Corporal Martin of the local game branch, that is on patrol in the search area.

Weather at Ocean Falls didn't allow the R.C.M.P. boat in that area to go out in search, the local police say.

Pneumonia Kills 100

VANCOUVER (CP)—Dr. Alex M. Menzies, assistant medical officer, said yesterday nearly 100 persons have died of pneumonia here during the first two months of the year.

Figure up to February 24 was 90 he said, and other untold deaths have occurred since that time. The figure for the two-month period last year was 32.

Most victims have been old people, he said.

Collazo was convicted on two counts of first-degree murder. Each carries a mandatory sentence of execution in the electric chair. Date has not been set. Defence said it will appeal the verdict.

Both charges were based on the death of Private Leslie Coffelt of the White House guard, shot to death in furious gunplay. A second gunman was killed in battle.

Power Company Planning More Local Development

Chief Engineer Sees Possibility of Millions of Dollars Expenditure at Falls River

Development of more electrical power and preparation of a budget for Northern B. C. Power Company today are being discussed by heads of the Power Corporation of Canada.

In conference with T. B. Black, manager of NBC Power Co., are J. S. H. Wurtele, chief engineer, and V. J. Nixon, secretary of PCC, from Montreal headquarters.

Upon inspection of the company's diesel plant at Prince Rupert dry dock—two units there now are ready for operation—Mr. Wurtele said that plant is adequate to supplement if required the company's hydro power.

"There is a great deal of hydro power potential in this area," he said, but added that development of it hinged entirely on the revenue obtained from the present system.

The plan, he said, was to use the diesel plant to augment hydro power only until such time as further waterpower was developed. Using diesels was much too expensive, practically, although the initial outlay was considerably lower than hydro power units.

Asked about the new proposed rates of NBC Power Company, he said he had nothing to say, except that by comparison Prince Rupert's electric service was cheaper than probably anywhere in Canada.

"But we cannot compete with larger power companies," said Mr. Wurtele. "They build large plants to develop great quantities of power, therefore their cost per kilowatt is comparatively low. Smaller companies' cost is comparatively similar but power developed is much smaller, so the cost per kilowatt is high."

New development at Falls River, when decided upon, would run into millions of dollars, he said.

Prince Rupert is growing and the power suppliers must keep abreast of advancement, he said. And when Aluminum Company of Canada gets located at Kitimat, it would "make a tremendous difference to this city."

Mr. Wurtele was here a year ago when the company announced taking over the dry dock plant.

Mrs. Don Fitch and her mother, Mrs. A. C. Crompt, sail on the Prince Rupert tonight for a month's holiday in Seattle and Vancouver.

Missing Men Return Home

Lawrence Pollard and Harold Hayward, Port Simpson natives, reported missing yesterday on a trapping trip to Dundas Island, are safe home today.

A Queen Charlotte Airlines plane which was sent out to look for them sighted the trappers returning home across Chatham Sound in their gasboat.

The two men had been storm-bound and "holed up" on their trapline. Their continued absence for three weeks gave rise to alarm.

They are safe and well.

Besides the parents, relatives are Joshua McKay, 203 9th Avenue East, a grandfather, and Mrs. Warburton, an aunt. Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery with arrangements by the B. C. Undertakers.

Third World War is Already on; Canada In Desperate Shape

OTTAWA (CP)—General H. D. G. Crerar said today a third world war already is a "tragic fact" that puts Canada in a "desperate situation" because of lack of trained military manpower.

The former commander of the First Canadian Army called for a system of compulsory military training that would place 60,000 to 70,000 young Canadians a year in uniform for six months and then post them to part-time reserve units for two years. He told the Canadian Club here Canada has no right to "assume we have any spare time whatsoever," and that, even if compulsory training were ordered tomorrow, it would be at least a year before the first trainees would be ready for action.

He said Korea was the opening battle in a long conflict "with a sphere of action probably involving the greater part of the world." Democracies were "dangerously handicapped" and must launch a "massive mobilization of their military strength now."

It would be the infantry who "will once again decide victory." He said Canada must be prepared to handle a "series of domestic threats" and troubles on a scale never before known in political, industrial and economic fields once Moscow signals her Communists to go to work on sabbotage.

He said the Senate would rather see the Senate abolished than have it made an elective body. He pleaded for a maintenance of high standing in the Upper House.

NOVA SCOTIA LEADING
HALIFAX—Nova Scotia is leading the Dominion Curling championships, being so unbeaten. Nova Scotia beat Northern Ontario 9 to 5 yesterday and Manitoba inflicted the first loss on British Columbia 15 to 9.

DETROIT (CP)—For one long minute in the fourth round, old Jersey Joe Walcott held the world's heavyweight title in his grasp last night. But it was not to be as the champion, Ezzard Charles, shook off the effects of a powerhouse right to the jaw and came back to win a unanimous 15-round decision and retain his title.

Boos ran through the Olympia Stadium as 13,850 fans greeted the verdict with one catcall after another.

Fans thought the 37-year-old Jersey Joe had deserved the nod in his fourth and, no doubt, final shot at the prized title.

Down to 193 pounds, the lightest he has weighed in four years, the Camden, New Jersey, veteran gave the 29-year-old champion the scare of his life. It was Ezzard's seventh title defence and his toughest. The crown almost tottered from his brow in that long 60 seconds.

In the ninth round Charles hit Walcott with a powerful right to the head and a smashing left hook to the jaw. Walcott went down for the count of nine. It was the only knockdown of the fight.

New Offer to Carpenters

VANCOUVER.—An offer to carpenters of a 12-cent increase was made by the Builders' Association here Wednesday. This would bring the scale to $1.80. The carpenters are asking $2.

Also returning home on the Princess Norah yesterday were the Prince Rupert Jets from their tour to Ketchikan and New Metlakatla. They won both games at Ketchikan but lost both at New Metlakatla where the home team has never yet been beaten on its own floor.

JETS HOME TOO
The players were billeted in homes which were thrown open.

McChesney, with 13 points, and Ratchford, with eight, were high scorers in the game at Wrangell.

Bill Morrison was a casualty. He sustained a cut over the eye and was taken to hospital to have three stitches put in.

Hospital Insurance

ANY MOVE to sharply increase hospital insurance rates and, on top of that, make hospitalization-insured patients pay charges in hospital for the first ten days is certainly not going to ride easily with the public even if it should pass the Legislature. If that is the best way that can be found to pull hospital insurance out of the financial hole into which it is steadily sinking deeper, it might be better to call the whole thing a bad job and go out of hospital insurance altogether.

If people are going to have to pay their first ten days' bills, much of the benefit of hospital insurance will be lost since in ordinary surgical and maternity cases, the hospital stay does not exceed ten days anyway. The effect of such a proposition would be merely to make the premium higher again on top of the suggested hike in rates. Indeed, the premiums would be almost confiscatory. No one would willingly pay them and greater numbers of people would seek to evade.

Reasonable increase in any goods or services are usually accepted with understanding and patience. But the proposed increases in hospital insurance premiums, including the idea of making people pay for the first ten days in hospital, is getting beyond the reasonable stage.

When a business loses money, it has two recourses—first, to bolster its revenue; second, find means of cutting costs.

If what we hear is correct, the hospital insurance set-up still has an opportunity of increasing its revenues by seeing that everybody pays hospital insurance.

We also hear that many people all over the province are getting hospital treatment these days who do not really need it while needy cases are unable to get in or are not able to get reasonable service if they do get in owing to over-crowding.

Then, there is always the possibility of hospitals reducing their overhead costs.

There is also the question of whether hospital insurance should not be extended to out-patient care to eliminate such things as the notorious X-ray instance whereby the patient can get the X-ray free if he spends a day unnecessarily in hospital but has to pay for the X-ray if he calls around to get it without being admitted.

Such drastic measures as are being mentioned at Victoria would ride a whole lot better if the public was satisfied that all the possible measures of obviating them had been explored. There should be a thorough investigation along these lines.

As I See It

VISITS INDIA PARLIAMENT

NEW DELHI, India.—The air was nippy enough this morning when I went to the Indian Parliament for my first visit. A lot of other folks had the same idea, too, for today the Prime Minister, Mr. Nehru, was to make an important public speech on international affairs.

The building itself is very imposing, as are all the others inherited from the British Raj. But unlike the British House of Commons, or its counterpart in Ottawa, the Indian Parliament follows the continental pattern. That is, the members sit in circular arrangement with the Prime Minister occupying the front seat on the extreme right of the presiding officer.

THERE ARE about the same number of members as in our parliament, but they have more women—about 12. Most of the MP's wear the white Gandhi caps, although a few Sikhs were resplendent in their colored turbans.

One lone picture decorated the chamber. It is of V. J. Patel, the elder of the late two brothers.

Above the dome-shaped chamber is a lookout sentry box. Microphones are numerous throughout the chamber. The MP's do not have benches, as in Ottawa. But they applaud in the usual MP style by pounding their hands on the backs of the benches in front.

I GOT A SEAT in the front row of the Press Gallery. Just a few yards from me sat the Prime Minister's daughter, Indira. She looked keenly at me, and I wondered "could she possibly remember me among all the other hundreds that were introduced to her at Vancouver?"

Miss Nehru wore a circlet of white flowers in her hair, and had on a pale pink sari under a brown coat. She wore no make-up and her great dark eyes looked grave as she followed the proceedings—resting her head in one hand as her father spoke.

THERE IS ONE striking difference between the Canadian and Indian parliamentary practices. Here in India each day's session is opened by a solid hour of questioning. The questions are all printed in advance, but the questioner reads his query aloud, when it is answered by the Minister.

Most of the questions today were about India's food shortage. The atmosphere of the House seemed very relaxed and free and easy. At one answer the chamber roared with laughter.

MR. NEHRU began his speech at 12 noon and finished at 12:30. He read his speech from beginning to end—and hence it was not quite as gripping, from the listeners' standpoint, say, as the one he made to large crowds in Canada last year.

For about 15 minutes he dealt with the broad world picture. He praised the work of the Commonwealth Conference, but sharply criticized the U.S.-sponsored denunciation in UN of Communist China as an aggressor. He said this had made it impossible to close the gap, and so get a negotiated peace with China in Korea—which till then had been a real possibility.

With great skill he compared the Korean outcome with the Tibetan outcome. He did not drive home his point—but the plain inference was that had the U.S. used the same conciliatory approach in Korea as India had used after Red China's incursion into Tibet, they, too (that is, the U.S.A.), might have been able to talk it out instead of shoot it out.

MOST OF THE MP's (including the dozen women in saris) sat polite but not too ardently interested during this part of Mr. Nehru's talk. But when he switched to the Kashmir question, they immediately leaned forward. Time after time they roared with applause, for instance, when he said:

"I pointed out that Kashmir was not just a piece of territory to be bartered. It contained millions of human beings and they could not be treated as chattel."

But to me the profoundly important point was that he did not completely reject all three of the peace-making proposals attempted by Prime Minister Menzies of Australia. He ruled out any importation of outside armies (and the MP's roared with applause). He also raised a point which I had not even thought of before, that Russia might well construe arrival of a Commonwealth force in Kashmir as a spearhead of future invasion to her.

But he did not completely reject the third point—that the UN commissioner on the spot might raise a local Kashmir police force responsible for keeping order and assuring a free election.

I CAME AWAY from the chamber greatly encouraged—for it seemed to me that Mr. Nehru had definitely opened the door to a peace settlement in Kashmir, based on the Australian Prime Minister's Point Three.

This has already been accepted by Pakistan. Hence the net effect of Mr. Nehru's speech was to "close part of the gap" remaining between his position and that of Pakistan.

Far from giving his critics ground for saying that he does not apply his own world peace formulae on his own doorstep, the Indian Prime Minister seemed to me to do precisely that.

I heard the diplomats talking as they hurried into their cars. I think most of them would agree with my own size-up:

Mr. Nehru moves in the international field precisely as does a surgeon. He knows exactly what he is doing, and he uses words as tools, with a scientific precision that is a treat to hear and watch.

Women Invade Rod-Gun Club

Enter Heretofore Exclusively Male Precincts

History was made last night by Prince Rupert's Rod and Gun Association. For the first time women have been invited to membership in the club, several attending last night's annual meeting. The increased interest and participating of women in fishing and hunting during recent year has been noteworthy.

About 50 members were present.

After adjournment of the meeting, Staff Sgt. Lan. Potterton showed motion pictures which he had taken on his travels through various parts of the province. Some films were in color. President Norman Christensen asked for a vote of thanks for S/Sgt. Potterton. His films were greatly appreciated. A highlight of the evening was Secretary George Rorvik, with pen in one hand and receipt book in the other, waging an all-out one-man membership drive.

He attacked everyone of whom he had the slightest suspicion they were non-members or unpaid members. Net result was 22 memberships, 17 of them new.

Next general meeting was set for March 21.

Mrs. J. S. Black returned home on yesterday afternoon's plane from Seattle where she attended provincial command sessions of the Canadian Legion Women's Auxiliary of which she is zone representative.

ray.. Reflects and Reminisces

WAITED A WHILE
Education Week sometimes prompts curious remarks. For example, you will find the fellow who likes to say he never thought he knew much of anything until after he left school.

Hash is the triumph of odds says The Star.

NEARING A YEAR
A third Canadian casualty list has been released in Korea. Not all reports are cases of being wounded. General MacArthur repeats that future fighting will not be any the less severe. About three more months will see the Korean struggle a year old. Yes, this is a full blown war.

ANYWAY, UP IT GOES!
Wool is another Canadian commodity climbing in cost so swiftly it's almost out of sight. The reason? Wanted for military reasons of course. And speaking of wool its history in this country runs back for more than three centuries. Winters along the St. Lawrence in the days of Champlain were as cool as they are today but there were no warm clothing stores. But there were mothers making wool and fitting suits. It was a case of have to, and that was where it started.

Winston Churchill is said to be still down with an attack of boils which first appeared nearly two weeks ago. We had thought he's already had about everything in the fighting line but somehow, didn't think of this.

THE DUKE HIMSELF
Few ever give the reservoir on the Acropolis a passing thought, unless a water supply emergency develops such as the city has been experiencing in the past few days. The formal opening of the reservoir in September, 1912, was one of several feature events when the Duke of Connaught, Governor General paid his first and only visit. Mayor S. M. Newton assisted and many hundreds of the pioneer population climbed the heights to be both witnesses and listeners. Weather was delightful. The Royal remarks were business-like and to the point and the cheers of the spectatorial couldn't have been louder.

GETTING AT BOTTOM OF IT
Shortly after a woman who lived on Comox Avenue years ago, was murdered, the reservoir was drained. Use of a knife had been made. Careful examination of the house where such a sordid tragedy had been committed failed to show the slightest sign of a weapon. Sherlock Holmes was not on the local payroll but there might have been some one resembling him. He thought of the brimming water on the Acropolis, so the reservoir was promptly emptied but with not a result of the least consequence. There never was an arrest, so far as records go.

THE LETTERBOX

HOSPITAL INSURANCE

Editor, Daily News:
I hope you will allow me a little space in the Daily News. I really think I represent the people of this province in these few observations.

No doubt we should be either caloused or infuriated over some of the news we are getting. We just learned that the cost of living index stood at 175 in January this year. If we can rely on these figures they are indeed substantial enough but, looking at our grocery bills, we have to admit that practically every item has gone up well over 100 percent since 1940. We begin to distrust these figures. In fact there are certain brands of meat that have come up a 1000 percent.

I do not believe that our local grocers are getting all this but I am sure that some wholesale companies are having harvest time out of it.

But what about the Hospital Insurance? We are just now trying to digest the latest news that the premiums are being stepped up from $33 per year to $42. Yes, and we will have to pay just as though there never was any such insurance. Isn't that lovely? Now if in Alberta, and Saskatchewan a premium of $10 for single and $15 for married is adequate why was not the premium we started out with good enough? Or is it a fact, as some people are suggesting today, that the Provincial Government is trying to scuttle this insurance? It could well be so since people are bound to become very disgusted.

A. WALLIN.

DAYLIGHT SAVING

Editor, Daily News:
Having seen reference to daylight saving time in your paper I would appreciate it if you could find room in your paper for a few remarks I would like to make regarding the same and which I find are the thoughts of many I speak to on the subject.

First we cannot use all the daylight we have in the summer and never have enough in the winter so what good it ever did to juggle the clock around I never could see. First it muddles everybody up. Then it is bad for children as they do not want to go to bed in the daylight, as well as changing their meal time an hour which any Doctor will tell us is not good. As for the few who think they would like a longer evening I am greatly amused that they could so easily fool themselves, for they are getting up an hour earlier.

To taste it is to prefer the superb quality and flavour of ## exciting new recipe for Creamed Salmon

So Quick and Easy to Fix

- 1 tablespoon butter
- 1 tablespoon flour
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup Carnation Evaporated Milk
- 1/2 cup water
- 1 flat can (half-pound size) creamed salmon

Melt butter in saucepan over medium heat. Stir in flour and salt; cook 1 minute; remove from heat and add 1/2 cup milk; blend carefully until all lumps are gone. Add remaining milk and return to heat, stirring constantly until thickened. Add creamed salmon and serve immediately over freshly made toast. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

More Comfortable Than California

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Jermyn have returned from a holiday trip to California. Queen Charlotte Airlines pilot, Mr. Jermyn says that he is glad to be back in Prince Rupert where the temperature is comfortable.

"It was too hot down there—a stuffy 70 degrees with sunshine," says Jermyn, referring to Palm Springs where they swam in swimming pools that were "like bathtubs."

"Give me the ocean up here any time," says the pilot.

"And they are crying for men in the airplane factories," said Jermyn, speaking of the very evident war scare in America.

LIQUOR PLEBISCITE

VICTORIA — The Victoria Times says the present session of the Legislature may decide to have a plebiscite on the liquor question.

lier even though they have never caught on nor are they retiring any later. Therefore, I firmly contend that the whole thing has been foolish from the first and the idea has not one leg to stand on.

If storekeepers and business men want to close early one or two days a week to have a longer evening I for one will offer no objections as that is what they are doing anyway.

Glad to see one reference to making it from July to September very good, but why not throw it out and forget it.

A. THOMSON.

Blackwood on Bridge

By Easley Blackwood

Here is a brief summary of the most frequently invoked bridge laws which have been referred to in the past few columns. Of course, all the laws cannot be covered but it may be helpful for you to check over the most common infractions—and then penalties therefore.

REVOKE:

You revoke when you fail to follow suit although able to do so. A revoke is established when the offender or his partner leads or plays to the next trick. Penalty: two tricks, won after the revoke, are transferred to the non-offending side.

EXPOSED CARDS:

If you are playing a hand as declarer no card of yours ever becomes a penalty card. If you want to you can spread your whole hand face-up on the table—although frankly I can see no advantage in it.

But if a defender exposes a card or sees a card of his partner's before she should, that card becomes a penalty card. Such a card must be left face-up and played at the first legal opportunity.

LEAD FROM WRONG HAND BY DECLARER:

If the lead is in the closed hand and the declarer leads from dummy (or vice-versa) he must, if required by a defender, lead from the proper hand and in addition he must lead the same suit which he attempted to lead before.

LEAD OUT OF TURN BY DEFENDER:

If this happens when it was declarer's turn to lead, declarer goes right ahead and leads—and the card led out of turn becomes a penalty card.

If it was the other defender's turn, declarer can forbid the lead of that suit or he can treat the card led out of turn as a penalty card. He is entitled to think it over and choose whichever penalty will serve him best.

INSUFFICIENT BID:

If you make an insufficient bid things aren't quite as rough as they used to be under the old laws. You are required to substitute either a sufficient bid or

Plans for the spring sale in May were discussed at Monday night's regular monthly meeting of the Sonja Ladies auxiliary to a pass. You have three choices as follows. If you substitute the lowest sufficient bid in the same denomination there is no penalty. If you make any other bid, your partner must pass through the remainder of the auction. If you pass, your partner is barred as before and if you end up defending on the hand, the declarer can either forbid or require the lead of whichever suit he chooses.

DUMMY'S RIGHTS:

Dummy should not enter into the actual play of the hand by suggestion or by touching a card or cards or in any other manner. However he has a few important rights. He can question any other player about revoke. He can participate in a discussion about the laws or about the facts of a case.

And he can point out an irregularity or attempt to keep one from occurring. For instance, if his partner, the declarer is obviously about to lead from the wrong hand he can speak up and issue a warning.

This is something to remember—if a penalty is assessed and later found to be incorrect, it still stands. So get it right the first time—or forever hold your peace.

the Sons of Norway. Final decisions will be made for the sale at the next meeting.

In the chair at the meeting held at Mrs. Julia Slatta's was president, Mrs. George Morgan.

Over 20 members were present. Under the hostess, Mrs. Slatta, on the refreshment committee were Mrs. W. Ballinger and Mrs. Jack Ritchie.

LONDON (CP)—Grannie Paris, believed London's oldest resident, celebrated her 106th birthday by dancing the "Lambeth Walk" and smoking a cigarette.

Cold Hits Industries

Terrace Welcomes Chinese Bride

Community Unites to Receive Mrs. Jimmy Wong

TERRACE.—A truly western welcome was given to the Chinese bride and 14 months old son, Benny, of the proprietor of the Silver Tip Cafe, Jimmy Wong, at a large, welcoming party held in the IOOF hall on Friday evening last. The affair, sponsored by the business associates and friends of Jimmy Wong, was attended by almost 200 people.

A long table, with red, looped streamers and vases of tulips and daffodils stood before the platform and to their places at this table the honored guests were conducted by cubs Denis McLeod and Jack Collier.

Emil Haugland, chairman of the proceedings, welcomed the wife and baby son of Jimmy Wong, saying that it was an occasion to which everyone had looked forward for over a year.

Following a musical program, Emil then presented gifts to Mr. and Mrs. Wong, a set of silverware, to Mrs. Wong a linen tablecloth and napkins, and "to the increase in the family," a silver cup.

A bouquet of flowers was presented to Mrs. Wong by Mrs. Haugland. Then all joined in, singing "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow."

Grace was said by Rev. P. H. Mallett and refreshments served.

At the close of the supper, in words of welcome, Alex Gillanders, president of the Board of Trade, spoke of Jimmy's good turns and good qualities and facetiously remarked what an unusual man he was when he could leave Canada, go to China where he picked himself out a wife and come home married, and all in a shorter time than it takes a man to court a girl here, in this country.

Harry King, for the IOOF, extended the Lodge's greetings and to Mrs. Wong he hoped her stay would be long and one of great pleasure. He remarked lightly, on the different modes of travel—Mrs. Wong had left China by plane for the re-union in Canada but, Jimmy left Terrace by snow plough.

James Smith, for the merchants and business men of the town, spoke of Jimmy's good citizenship and was sure the wife he had chosen would follow in his footsteps. He hoped they would find in Terrace, or any other part of the country to which they might go, good neighbors.

CIVILIZATIONS

Will Robinson spoke of the old and new civilizations and said that the new civilization was happy to welcome a very charming lady from the old civilization. Jack Ba man and Rawley Beecher also had words of welcome for the newcomer and her son and congratulations for the husband and father.

Jimmy Wong then thanked them all for all that had been done for them and how happy he was to be here and to have his wife here with him. Emil Haugland publicly thanked all those who had helped in the affair. A Gillanders, chairman of the committee which arranged it, Mrs. Robinson and Mrs. Spencer for the entertainment and refreshments.

The principal guests seated at the main table were Mr. and Mrs. Wong and son, Mr. and Mrs. E. Haugland, Mrs. Grace Mile, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Kurisu, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Smith, Alec Gillanders, Harry King, Will Robinson, Jack Barman.

Those contributing to the program of music were the Silver Quartette, with Miss E. Head, piano, George Grant and M. Van Heck, violins; P. VanStolk, cello; Misses Lorna and Flora Melvin, piano solo and duet. Vocal solos, Mrs. C. R. Newhouse.

Native Basketball—

Last Year's Champ Kitimats Are Ousted By Port Simpson

Kitkatla, Metlakatla and Thunderbirds
Also Advance

Port Simpson, Kitkatla, Metlakatla and the Thunderbirds moved into the championship round of the native basketball tournament as they won their first games in last night's play at the Civic Centre.

The losing teams—Native Brotherhood, Kitimat, Bella Bella and Port Essington—have a chance to win in the consolation round which will commence tonight.

Kitimat 23

Port Simpson 41

The surprise game of the opening night was Port Simpson's decisive victory over Kitimat who were favored to win for the fourth consecutive year. These teams met in the finals last year and Kitimat was definitely the better. This year they were not as good as formerly, their shooting and passing being way off. Port Simpson was a vastly improved aggregation and, if they continue to play like they did last night, they are well on their way to winning the championship trophy. Sankey was the big gun for the winners as he scored 16 on brilliant shooting. Chris Wilson was again top man for Kitimat, getting 14, but he had too big a load to carry as he and guard T. Robinson were the backbone of the team.

Metlakatla 95

Port Essington 28

Port Essingtonians were definitely out of their class when they came up against the more experienced Metlakatla team who ran up a score of 95 points in an easy 95 to 28 victory. Leask scored 35, Ryan 20, and Wilson 19 as the Metlakatlans popped them in at will. For Essington's Spalding scored 13. The loss was no disgrace, however, as it is the first time Essington has competed and they only learn by trying.

Kitkatla 45

Bella Bella 44

The Bella Bella-Kitkatla contest was the thriller of the evening as Kitkatla came from five points down to go one point ahead in the final period with the lead going back and forth during the last hectic minutes. Bella Bella went wild in the final quarter as they overshot the basket and took too many long shots. They were off too in their passing. Peers for Bella Bella scored 22 points while Russ Gamble, with 12, and Innes, with 11, called the time for the winners. The final score was Kitkatla 45 and Bella Bella 44.

Thunderbirds 57

Native Brotherhood 44

Thunderbirds of the local Intermediate League and a pick-up team from the Native Brotherhood, coached by former star Bob Sankey, were chosen to enter the number of teams entered up to the required eight. Thunderbirds won over the Brotherhood by 57-44 but the Brotherhood did surprisingly well considering the fact that the team was hurriedly organized. Dudoward was high man for the winners with 27 points, followed by Tait with 14 and Larry Helin with 12. Cooper for the Brotherhood scored 14.

SHIPS AND WATERFRONT

Due today from Skagway with 500 tons of Yukon ore for Vancouver, the Frank Waterhouse freighter Chilliwack, Capt. Walter Holmberg, will clear customs before going to Watson Island to load an eight-ton bulldozer shovel. Three to four hundred tons of fishmeal loaded at Butedale will also be in the cargo of the southbound freighter.

The mixed salmon and halibut will be shipped by rail to eastern states. The Sidney returned to Ketchikan whence she will go south with her two skippers, Capt. Burdette and Capt. Osmond Hendricksen, for an overhaul at Seattle. The vessel will be back on her northern run when the spring fishing season opens.

Education Week

Prince Rupert Citizens Answer a Question
Interviewer—VESTA A. DOUGLAS, Conrad Street School

Can Education Help Combat Delinquency?

Mrs. Hill, Jr.—Child delinquency as we commonly understand it usually stems from lack of care and supervision with a consequent degree of freedom and idle time.

Formal education can and does help to combat delinquency insofar as a large portion of the child's time is accounted for and insofar as we may obtain teachers who are wise and understanding enough to make a personal effort on behalf of the child who is not well adjusted. The influence of such teachers, not only on the child, but on the home through the child, must not be underestimated.

The rebel youngster is helped through the fact of his being one of a social group such as the class at school, through being given responsibilities and training in co-operation and through the emphasis and development of his own outstanding ability or abilities.

The degree of success with which education can combat delinquency depends on the plan behind the educational system and upon the teachers. Education that takes cognizance only of man's material needs will not necessarily succeed. Our hope lies in an educational system in which spiritual and moral soundness are not only the foundation upon which it rests but are in fact its very roots and branches.

W. O. Smith—Education can help to combat delinquency by leading the mind to see the fascination and beauty of literature, the value of arithmetic and algebra, the need for grammar and languages and the broadening effect of all subjects. Great men of all ages have ever been sincerely anxious to help themselves and others by studiously endeavoring to further knowledge and education.

But education to combat delinquency can not be obtained in school alone. It must be supplemented by helpful parents aiding a diligent and enquiring attitude on the part of the pupil. Once this attitude is attained the pupil can learn from the world's great thinkers lessons which will build balanced outlook on life. This outlook can never foster delinquency. Lydia Thom—School discipline automatically instills in a child the habit of conforming with set rules and regulations which are necessary to preserve our society. The chief factor in combatting delinquency is still parental influence.

Jean Cameron—Education should help combat delinquency as it teaches children to discern between right and wrong—but the home and church life also play a large part. W. L. Woods—It is a well established fact that an educated child has a greater chance to succeed than an uneducated one. Education constitutes learning and, while one is busy learning, delinquency is not usually a problem. I believe the greatest cause of delinquency is lack of discipline in the home. Liquor in the home is often stated to be one of the major causes of delinquency. Large liquor sales in Prince Rupert are largely from transient and tourist trade. For every gallon sold approximately $18 is paid to the federal government in the form of excise tax, a portion of which is returned to the city. If these monies were used for the benefit of the children, I feel it would be a great asset and help alleviate local delinquency if such exists.

Russ Cameron—Decidedly. An idle child is often mischievous whereas one occupied is never free to get into mischief.

Roy Collinson—Education does combat delinquency during school sessions but the hours following must be attended to. A skating or roller rink with a limited fee and under able supervision would be advisable.

Mrs. D. A. Johnston—A busy, trained mind is better than an idle one. Therefore, give tangents of education and you will combat delinquency. The first key to combatting delinquency is strict intelligent discipline in the home.

Nephews of Mrs. Glassey in Guard

Fred Baxter and Earl Lund, among a party of Boy Scouts from Prince George who went to Victoria to form a guard of honor for the Lieutenant-Governor at the recent opening of the Legislature, are nephews of Mrs. H. F. Glassey of Prince Rupert.

Baxter is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Baxter, his mother having been the former Violet Taylor who years ago was in the Canadian National superintendent's office here.

Scouting and other boys' activities have been traditional in the families of these two boys. Dixon Taylor, their uncle, went to Victoria Boys' Parliament 25 years ago to represent Cariboo. Formerly of Prince George, Dixon Taylor is now manager of a large sawmill at Crescent City, California.

Life Stories at Gyro Club

Three new Gyro Club members gave autobiographical talks at the club's weekly luncheon yesterday. They were London-born Edward Boulter, manager of the Canadian Bank of Ben Parkin, manager of Kelly-Douglas, who first saw light of day in Cranbrook, and James Field, owner of Armour Salvage Co., who hails from Regina and saw considerable service in the Royal Canadian Navy during the war.

President E. D. Forward was in the chair at yesterday's luncheon. Jack Deenan of Vancouver was a guest.
