Ranks of Navy, Under New Set-up, Open to Women Here

First Prince Rupert women to be accepted in Canadian naval service of WRCN(R) will likely be able to wear their brand new uniforms before the end of October.

Lieutenants Myrtle I. Allen and Margaret E. Beck, from WRCN organization staff headquarters at Ottawa, said today in Prince Rupert that recruiting for women in Navy Reserve will begin September 17, and 15 recruits are wanted immediately.

Canadian quota is 500. The Canadian Navy is the last of the three services to accept women recruits during peacetime. While the RCAF is accepting women as permanent force members, both Navy and Army, said Lt. Allen, have only received permission to recruit reserves.

"This will mean that we can use 15 women between ages 19 and 25 here in Prince Rupert to attend basic training classes at HMCS Chatham once a week."

Several applicants for divisional officer here have been interviewed, the WRCN officers said, and final selection will be made within a few days.

"And people of Prince Rupert will get a chance to see a good deal of this group of women," promised Lt. Noel Langham, staff officer.

The headquarters officers, who have been visiting HMCS Discovery at Vancouver and at HMCS Chatham yesterday and today, feel that "a completely new and wonderful" design of uniforms for the women in the navy will offer a great attraction.

For instance, the walking-out summer dress is two-tone, with a "skipper" blue skirt and an all-white jacket with all-gilt shingleless buttons. Shoes will be navy blue, "pumps" and "there'll be no more cotton stockings," laughed Lt. Beck. All clothes will be "tailored to fit," she added.

Perhaps the greatest attraction is the pay and rank, which

The crucial moment has come. Tomorrow—if the weather holds out—will see the heaviest baseball battle yet this season at Roosevelt Park. It will decide the champion team of baseball in Prince Rupert.

Abel & Odowes and Gordon & Anderson, who tied the series last Thursday in a seven-inning feature, will have all of nine innings Sunday afternoon—and a few more frames if they need them—in which to show Prince Rupert ball-game-goers who is best.

The trophy which will be awarded by Commissioner Bill Gordon to the champions is the first such trophy in baseball history here. Donated by Bud Barrie, the emblem of supremacy has been named the "Bert Morgan Trophy."

Bert Morgan is a well-known Prince Rupert sportsman who for many years has done much for all-round sport in this city. Just how much will be related in another column next week.

A feature attraction for baseball fans—and one which should provide lively interest and perhaps some day—will be an "Old-Timer" game, a team of 20-years-old players in a three-inning bout with Gordon & Anderson.

This will be a preliminary, beginning at 2 p.m. sharp and will start a former well-known battery, Howard and Douglas Frizell for the old-timers, with Doug behind the plate. Others to make up the team will include Vic and Harry Menzies, Bill Lambie, Benny Windie, Brick Skinner, Eddie Smith, Alex Mitchell, and perhaps Walter Johnson, and George Howe.

Many of those listed were among the all-stars here of a decade or two ago, and although most of them probably haven't thrown or caught a ball for a number of years, the exhibition should be one few would care to miss.

So, it's for the last time this season tomorrow that Umpire-in-Chief Andy Letourneau will be calling, "Batter up!" See all at the ball game.

Labor Day At Terrace

A representative softball team from Prince Rupert took an aggregate score of 16 runs to 13 from Terrace on Labor Day to win the $50 purse offered in competition.

The double-header was split by the teams, Terrace winning the first game, but Prince Rupert led in total runs.

Pitchers for Prince Rupert were Chuck Teachman and Bill Sunberg.

Lineup—Young, c.; Sundberg, Teachman, p.; Danny Bill, 1b.; Ralph Enrich, 2b.; Larry Mathews, 3b.; Gerry Ford, ss.; Tiny Carlson, l.; Carl Watson, cf.; and Freddy Christianson, rf.

Manager was Rusty Ford. The softball double-header was one of the features of the Terrace Labor Day celebration which included children's sports, the serving of barbecue sandwiches during the day and a dance in the evening.

Baseball—
Yanks Take Lead Again

NEW YORK ©—New York Yankees took the lead in the tight American League pennant race by one percentage point Friday night with the help of the lowly St. Louis Browns.

Manager Casey Stengel's Bombers defeated Washington Senators 4 to 2 and were shoved into first place when the St. Louis Browns held the Cleveland Indians to a split in a double-header. Ned Garner pitched the Browns to a 4 to 2 victory in the opener but Bob Feller turned the Browns back 7 to 0 for his twenty-second victory of the season in the nightcap.

By a mathematical quirk, the Indians are a half a game in front of the Yanks in the "games behind column." However, the win-loss percentage determines the positions. The Indians have won three more games than the Yanks but have also dropped two more than New York.

Jimmy Martin of Yacht Club Popular Figure—Much New Fishing Equipment

What makes visiting yachts come to Prince Rupert Rowing and Yacht Club?

Some come here of necessity, of course, but for the most, the answer is found in the "remarks" column of the registry ledger. Most of the remarks entered refer to hospitality received at the club.

And who doles out much of this hospitality? That answer is easy, Jimmy Martin! He's been caretaker at the club for 12 years and has seen a lot of yachts come and go—some only tie up for a few minutes, others stay for days.

Twenty-four visiting vessels called on Jimmy this summer, the farthest one sailing all the way from the east coast was registered at Minneapolis. That was the Tantalus.

"I'll be back," says the Tantalus in "remarks" because "the hospitality was great."
Capt. Amos Burg, well-known explorer, touched again this summer at the club floats on his way north with the yacht Endeavor, because "of the former gracious hospitality of Jimmy."

A few of the visitors made such comments as "raining, but we liked it"—"a great spot"—and "sunshine!"

Jimmy came to Prince Rupert the year building of the grain elevator was started. Fact is, he was going to work on the steel gang for he had been a member of the crew which constructed the elevator at Edmonton, and had completed a project at Banff.

But the Scotsman (he hails from Glasgow, coming to Canada after the First World War) turned his hand to another job and decided to remain in Prince Rupert. That was in 1925.

He has just returned from a month's vacation which took him to Edson, Alberta, where he helped celebrate the wedding of his niece.

"Weather permitting," says George Rovik, office manager of Atlin Fisheries, "a staff picnic will be consummated on the shores of Lake Lakelse Sunday. It's quite likely, George is being assured, that once they get past Kwitsa the sun will be shining. At least 15 office members of Atlin plan to take part in swimming, just plain picnicking and "getting away from it all."

Royal Fish Co. Ltd. began their fillet operations last week, employing six workers to a shift.

Some changes have been made this year in location of several old-timers of Canadian fishing Co. Ltd. Ex-Carlisle Goldie Silver is at the Butedale store, and from Butedale to Prince Rupert have come Doug Brown, Bill Hale and Mah Ming. Ken Johnston, Jim Atherton and Harry McGee are here from Carlisle.

Figures released recently by A. J. Whitmor, chief supervisor of fisheries, show that several million dollars have been returned to the fishing industry this year in form of renewed and improved equipment.

Total outlay of $2,283,000 has seen new construction of 235 fishing vessels, 187 of which are of the gillnet type. Total capital put into the new gillnetters—most of which are independently owned and operated by one man—is $1,145,000.

Thirty new trollers—also mostly one-man owned—were put into service at a cost of $322,000, and 13 new seiners and packers, representing an investment of $600,000, have been added to the B.C. west coast fleet.

And two new steam whalers, brought from Africa and South America, have joined the revived B.C. whaling industry.

One of the happy diversions of the Associated Boards of Trade convention program here this week was a two-hour harbor cruise for visiting delegates and others aboard the Forest Branch vessel Salt Mist. The party cruised past the dry dock where the collision-damaged Princess Kathleen was seen undergoing repairs and then out to the entrance of the harbor for a panoramic view of the port and city as well as the marine environs. District Forester Marc Gormely and Skipper Richard Farmer were hosts to the group of about 32 who made the trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Wallace of Prince Rupert visited Mrs. M. sion 2, and Mrs. L. Dilworth.

COLLISION DAMAGE—This gaping hole was torn in the port bow of the C.P.R. steamer Princess Kathleen when she collided with the Prince Rupert, C.N.R. passenger vessel, 34 miles north-west of Prince Rupert last week. Both vessels made port under their own steam. They carried 480 passengers, none of whom were injured. The Princess Kathleen is now being repaired in dry dock here. (CP PHOTO)

PLOWING BACK PROFITS..

"Plowing back," has long been recognized as vital to successful farming... it is just as important to successful business.

The Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company is a good example of this principle. The large corporation we know today started as a small copper smelter. There were many slow years but in each good year some profits were "plowed back" and the company gradually expanded and progressed*. New machines were bought, new mines brought into production, new buildings erected. Research developed new products, and more efficient techniques.

* Today Cominco is the largest producer of lead and zinc in the world and Canada's largest producer of chemical fertilizer. Millions of dollars are still being "plowed back" so Cominco can create new jobs, at good wages and produce better and better products. Such progress is making Canada a great industrial nation with a standard of living second to none.

* $63,000,000 from Company profits is now being spent on new projects. The completion of these projects will mean the addition of 800 permanent jobs.
