Foreign Exchange Control Ends

Restrictions Terminated

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian government Friday abruptly ended twelve years of control over foreign exchange. Canada now has the same freedom of money exchange as enjoyed by only two other countries, the United States and Switzerland.

Finance Minister Douglas Abbott made the announcement in the House of Commons as the exchange markets closed for the day. He said an order-in-council had been passed ending foreign exchange control and that covering legislation will be introduced in Parliament next spring. This action means that all restrictions have been eliminated on movement of money in and out of the country.

For instance, Canadians now can buy—if they have the money—securities on the New York market and accumulate all the United States funds they want.

Prince Rupert Receives Interim Payment of $45,685

VICTORIA (CP)—Finance Minister Herbert Anscomb announced today that interim payments totaling $4,500,000—$500,000 more than last December—will be paid to British Columbia municipalities for their share of the three percent sales tax.

The distribution is an advance of the amount for the full year. The balance will be distributed in the after the close of the fiscal year March 31, 1952.

The minister of finance noted that, because full census figures are not available, old estimated figures of municipal population had been used again.

"This will make no difference in the ultimate distribution, the present payment being only an advance," Mr. Anscomb said.

Amounts to be received by various centres include:

Prince Rupert, $45,685.
Prince George, $30,848.
Dawson Creek, $14,471.
Smithers, $5,704.
Quesnel, $5,604.
Fort St. John, $4,535.
Terrace, $3,365.
Burns Lake, $2,020.
Vanderhoof, $1,972.
Stewart, $1,901.
McBride, $1,483.
Pouce Coupe, $1,402.

Fatalities in Forests

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Workmen's Compensation Board reported Friday that seventy loggers have been killed in British Columbia industrial accidents this year.

Accidents totalled 9,295 in comparison with 62 deaths and 125 accidents in 1950.

Members of the International Brotherhood of America charge that the increase in deaths and accidents has been caused by untrained immigrants working in the woods but Arthur Francis, chief safety inspector for the board, denied this.

"It's not the foreign element, it's not machines," said Francis. "It's just the men's lack of regard for their own welfare. Shipping and falling were the chief causes of accidents."

Britain Eases Controls Upon Foreign Money

LONDON (CP)—Britain eased her iron-handed control over the buying and selling of foreign monies today with the aim of restoring world confidence in her weakened currency.

The Bank of England authorized private individuals to trade British pounds for foreign money—including the dollar—subject only to government limitation of prices.

For twelve years the bank itself has handled all dealings in other currency, always at official exchange rates. The action, which relaxes but does not end exchange control restrictions, was regarded as a small first step by Britain to let the pound find its real value on the money markets of the world.

The official dollar value of the British pound remains at $2.80 and the official price of gold remains pegged at $35 per fine ounce.

An official bank statement announced the foreign exchange market will be reopened in London Monday for dealing both in spot and forward currencies. It has been closed since 1939.

The wide loss of confidence in the value of the pound led to revaluation September 18, 1949—in which Great Britain trimmed the official value of the pound from $4.03 to $2.80. It changed the effect only in the mechanics of exchanging pounds sterling for other currencies.

The government will retain its rigid controls over what Britons may buy abroad and in what quantities. Thus, there will be no increase in British spending in the United States or elsewhere although imports and exports now will be able to take some advantage of fluctuations in exchange rates.

Studies toward Red China. Britain recognizes the Communist regime while the United States holds to its recognition of the Chinese Nationalist government on Formosa.

Churchill sent word about two weeks ago that he did not plan to draw up an agenda for his series of meetings with the president, beginning Jan. 3. The American embassy in London has been directed nevertheless to seek the fullest possible information on what the prime minister has in mind in coming here.

Washington authorities believe that unless some specific information about Churchill's concept of the talks is forthcoming in advance, the results may not be as profitable as they could be. Even at best, it is expected that several disagreements will develop over such issues as the Churchill proposal for a meeting with Generalissimo Stalin of Russia, the organization of western European defences and Anglo-American differences of policy in the Far East.

Present indications are that Truman will bear down heavily on all three of these questions.

The president has said repeatedly that he does not look forward to a meeting with Stalin unless the Soviet premier comes to Washington—something everyone here considers a practical impossibility.

Recent Churchill statements bearing on the defence build-up in western Europe are described by administration leaders here as disappointing. Churchill has said that he does not consider the danger of war with Russia as great now as it was at the time of the Berlin crisis three years ago. American officials are apprehensive that this means he believes there is less urgency than they see in getting on with the task of rearmament; they believe the danger of an aggressive Russian move is greater now than it was three years ago.

The difference between the two countries in the Far East revolves around their basic at-

Second Tory For Socred

VANCOUVER (CP)—Tom Bates, ex-Dunbar, past president of the British Columbia Young Progressive Conservative Association, said on Friday he will quit the Progressive Conservative party. W. A. C. Bennett, Independent member of the Legislature for South Okanagan, and a former Coalitionist, announced last week he was joining the Social Credit party.

Princess Pat Coming North

VICTORIA (CP)—Canadian Pacific Railway's British Columbia Steamship service Princess Patricia is to serve as a Santa Claus special for 1400 construction workers at the big Aluminum Company of Canada development at Kitimat and Kemano.

The steamer left at noon today to make two round trips to the northern development and bring out workers for Christmas and New Year.

The Patricia will return the men by making two more sailings after the New Year.

Walter Wanger Free on Bail

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal. — Walter Wanger, film producer, was released on bail of $5000 yesterday after being booked on suspicion of assault with intent to commit murder following an episode yesterday when he is alleged to have shot down Jennings, Lang agent of his wife, Joan Bennett, the screen star. He had said that Lang had broken up his home. Lang is not seriously injured.

Second Grain Ship Coming

Yamateru Maru Due December 28 to Take Large Cargo at Elevator

Second vessel of the season to load grain from Prince Rupert elevator will be the Japanese steamer Yamateru Maru which is due here December 28, it was learned at elevator offices this morning.

The Yamateru Maru, larger than the Kiyokawa Maru, the first ship which was here a few weeks ago and took 315,000 bushels, will load 360,000 bushels.

The cargo will go to Japan.

The Yamateru Maru is coming to Prince Rupert from Vancouver and is already lined.

As reported earlier in the week, the local elevator now has enough wheat in its bins to load two vessels and it is still moving in steadily.

Fifty percent of the wheat being moved here is tough and the drier at the elevator is working twelve hours a day.

Two more grain ships will be here in January, the elevator expects.

Ford Strike Comes to End

WINDSOR (CP)—A twelve-day wildcat strike of 9,000 workers at the plants of the Ford Motor Co. of Canada has ended.

Company and unions have accepted a settlement plan providing for arbitration in cases where men were dismissed for inciting work stoppages.

Dismissal was the strike issue.

Britain To Pay Loans

LONDON (CP)—Great Britain announced today she will begin paying off both interest and principal of her multi-billion American and Canadian loans on December 31.

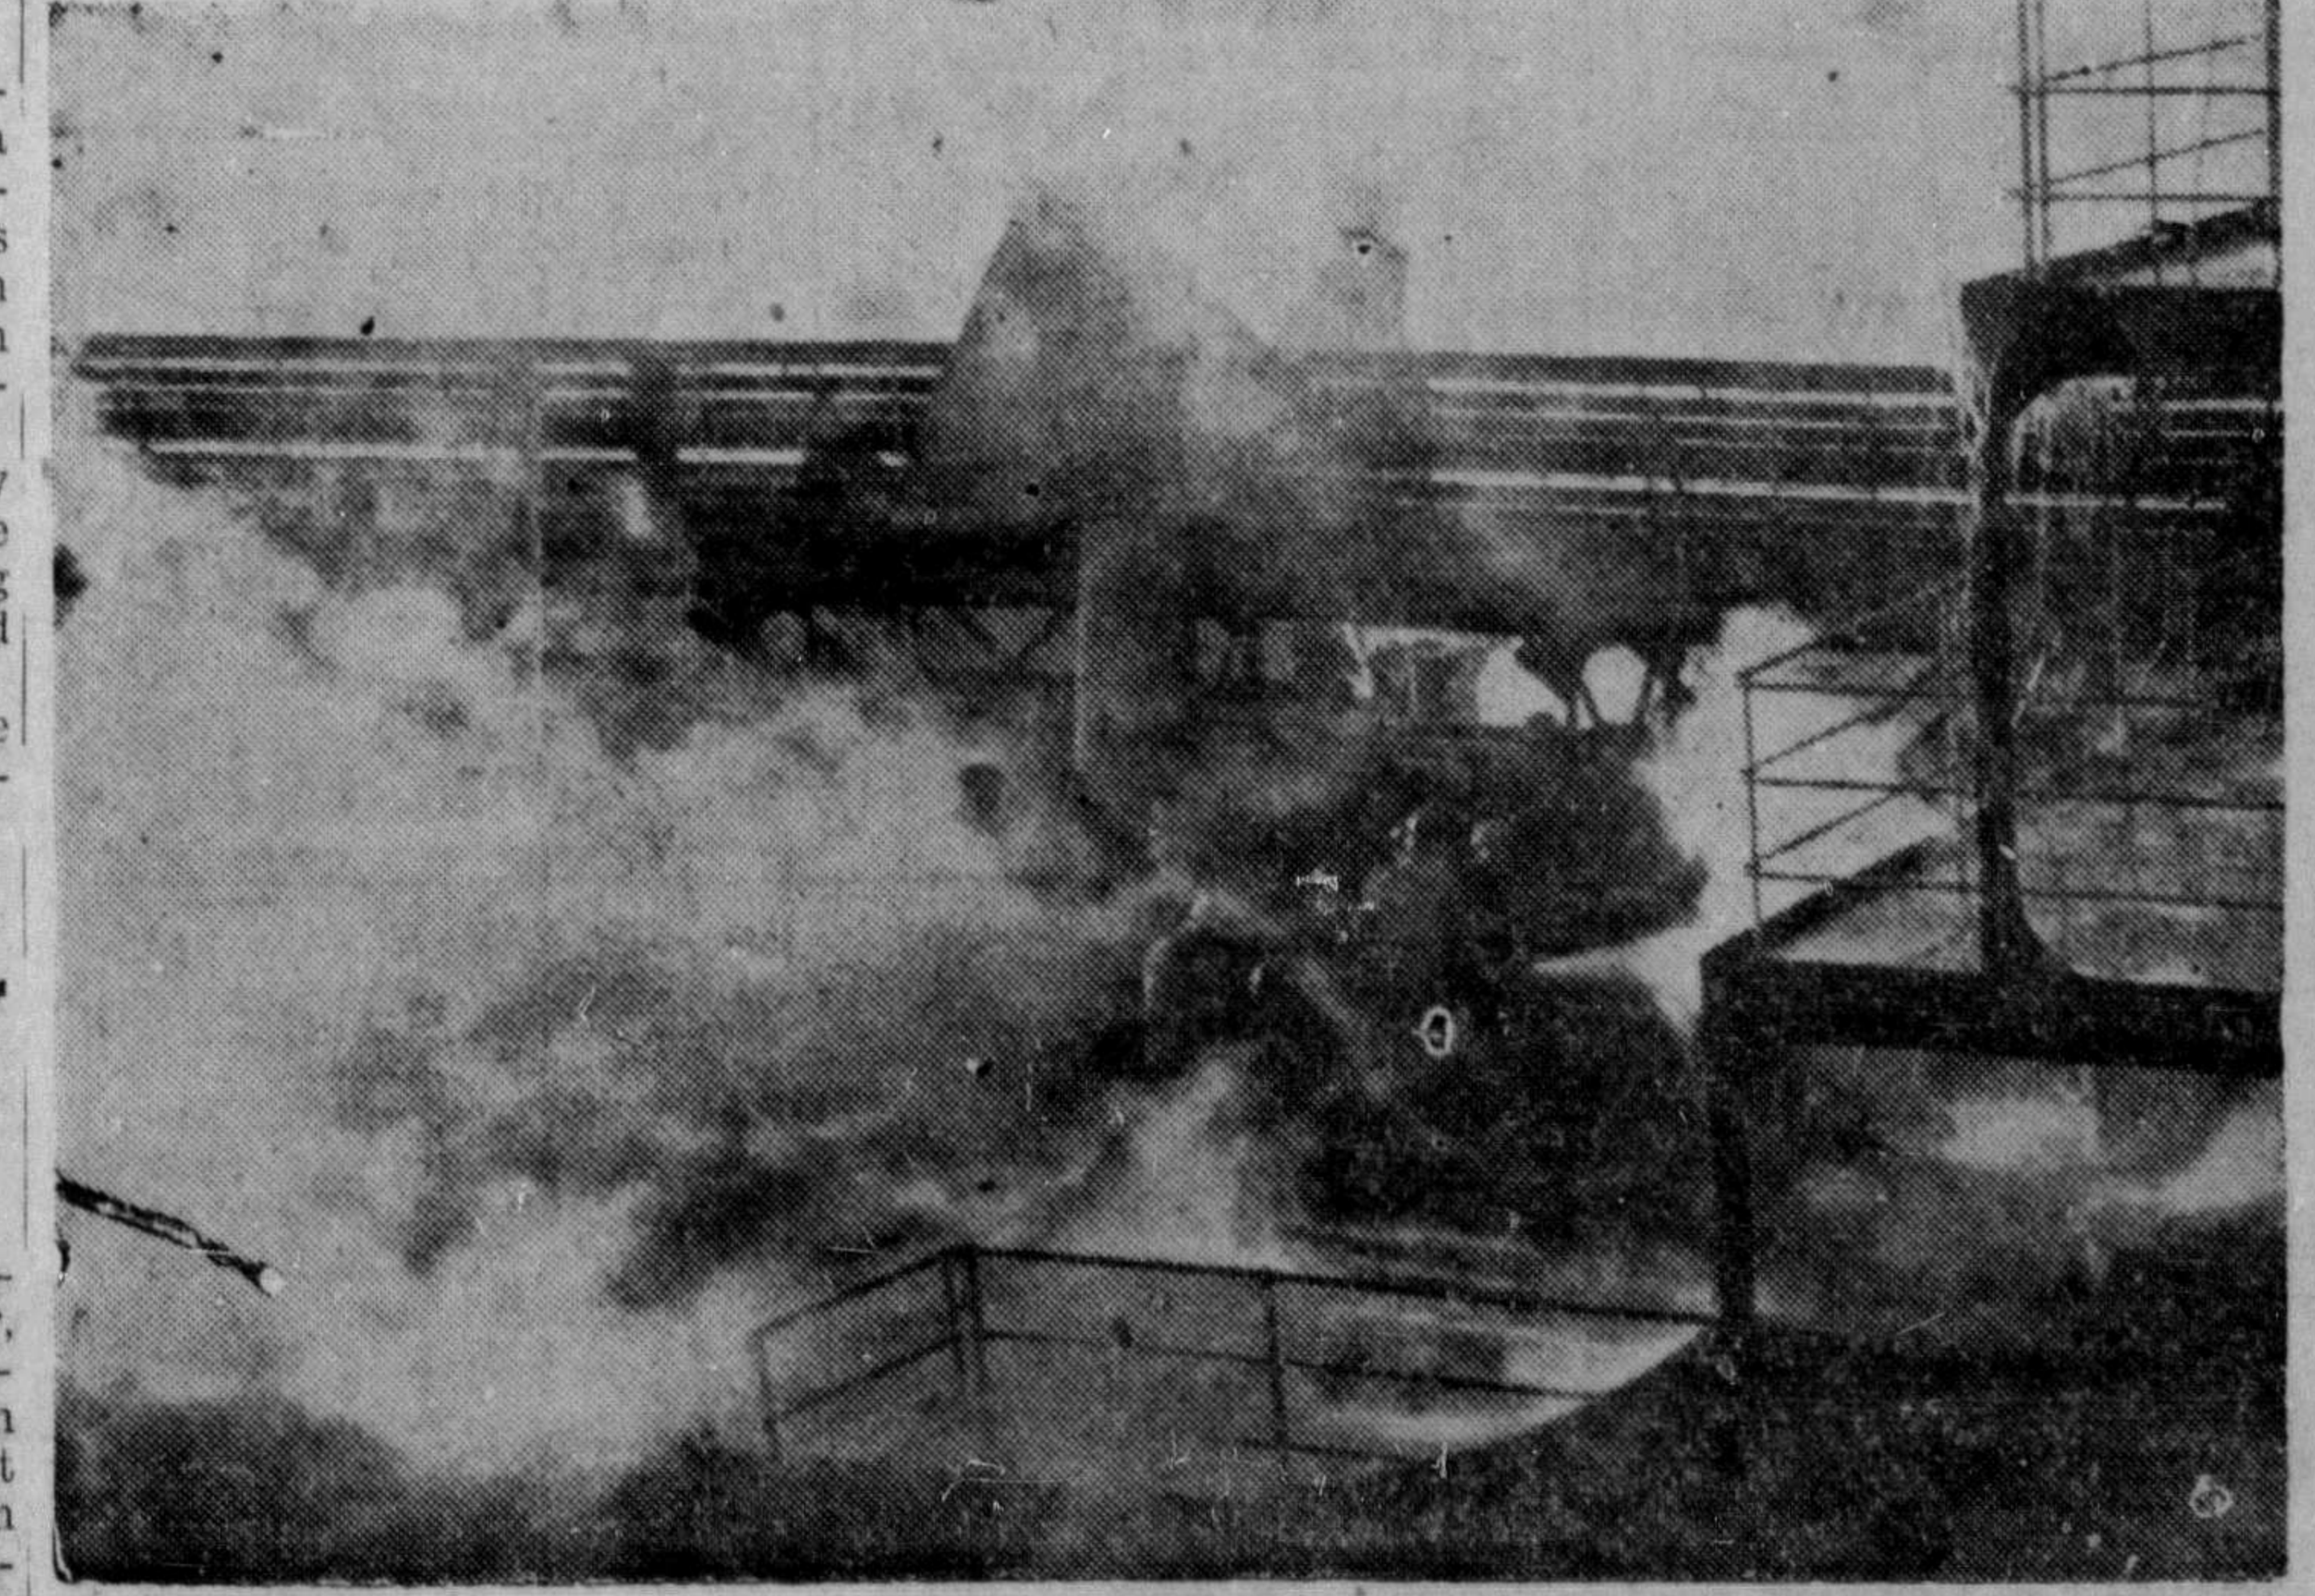

A treasury announcement said the government had decided not to take advantage of its right to postpone payment of interest on both the 1946 loans.

Britain will also repay capital and interest on outstanding lend lease debts to the United States.

The total to be paid United States and Canada is $62,600,000. The Canadian total is $37,710,000.

Home to Phoenix Bill Banbury Goes

TRAIL—William H. Banbury, who lived in Phoenix for many a year after everyone else had gone and who recently died here in hospital, has returned to Phoenix. That is, his body has. Mr. Banbury, at his own request, was returned to rest in a cemetery on a hillside near the old copper mine's glory hole.

TANKER ON FIRE—Firemen fight flames aboard the huge $4,000,000 oil tanker Imperial Leduc Monday following two explosions as the ship lay tied up at the Imperial Oil Company's dock at Sarnia, Ont. Three men were taken to hospital with injuries suffered in the blasts and fire which followed. Workmen were cleaning the Leduc tanks in preparation for its sailing to Toronto with a load of fuel oil. Nations Bluntly Warned by Chief Of United Nations

PARIS (CP)—General Eisenhower bluntly warned rebellious west European nations today that, to have security, they must increase their military spending. The supreme allied commander made a personal appearance before the treasurers of the North Atlantic Treaty organization. A spokesman said he told them:

"Unless we get ahead with a planned build-up of the forces we will never achieve serenity and confidence to which western Europe and the rest of us are entitled."

Some European nations are said to be against the request of the committee for increased military budgets, in some cases running as much as 50 percent.

Belgium, for one, is reported to have indignantly refused the committee's recommendation that she should step up her budget by fifty percent.

Reuters News Agency has said protests against increases are expected also from Holland, Denmark, and possibly, Canada.

Canadian officials decline to comment.

Winter Hits BC-Canada

Lush Fraser Valley Covered With Deep Snow—Blizzards in East

VANCOUVER (CP)—Wintry weather came to British Columbia today, leaving only small sections of the coast in the green belt.

In the Fraser Valley agricultural districts there was from two to three inches of snow. Six inches fell in coastal mountains and interior districts reported fresh snow.

Vancouver had snow flurries during the night but, by morning, they had been replaced by rain.

In far northern British Columbia, Smith River was the coldest spot in Canada—52 below zero.

STORMS IN QUEBEC

Storms also struck in Quebec, Ontario and the Maritimes and in the United States a mid-west blizzard created havoc and caused at least twenty-seven deaths.

Far below zero temperatures were reported on the Canadian prairies, hitting as low as minus 32.

Separate Radio Body Rejected

OTTAWA (CP)—The radio committee in the House of Commons today rejected a request of the Canadian Association of Broadcasters for a separate regulatory body for radio and television. The committee recommended that control be left in the hands of the CBC.

It also recommended that further steps be taken by the CBC to improve coverage in outlying areas not receiving service and to equalize service to different parts of Canada and that, when radio broadcasts deal with controversial subjects, the fullest opportunity be given listeners to hear all sides.

YULE GIFTS FROM NORWAY

OSLO (CP)—This city is sending two large Christmas trees to London and Reykjavik, Iceland, as gifts from the municipality. The Norwegian National Travel Association, meanwhile, will send a 45-foot Christmas tree to Rotterdam.

Espionage By Britons?

VIENNA (CP)—Prague radio said Friday night that Czechoslovakian secret police had wounded and then arrested a British embassy officer and a woman stenographer as they allegedly were engaged in espionage activities in a forbidden area outside of Prague.

The broadcast here said that Robert Neil Gardner, second secretary in the British embassy, and Miss Daphne Gregory Main, embassy stenographer were shot by police as they attempted to escape arrest. They were taken to police headquarters, the radio said.

It was added that Czechoslovakia had dispatched a note of protest to the British embassy, demanding immediate recall of the two.

A British Foreign Office spokesman in London said that no official word of the incident had yet been received there.

Next Moves For Korea

WASHINGTON.—President Truman and top military and political advisors are understood to have agreed on the next moves to be made in the Korean truce negotiations, now moving into a decisive period.

Responsible informants said a review of the whole Korean situation and its ramifications for American foreign policy throughout the world was the business of the meeting which Mr. Truman held with defence and state department officials after cutting short his Key West vacation to return to Washington.

It appeared that as a result of the review, new instructions were going out to General Matthew B. Ridgway, United Nations commander in the Far East.

Truce Talks Get Nowhere

Reds Lambasted at Munsan Conference

Munsan (CP)—A United Nations command truce negotiator today accused Communists of trying to win at the conference table what they could not win in battle.

Other United Nations delegates reported "no progress at all" in the negotiations concerning an exchange of prisoners.

Major General Howard Turner lambasted the Reds after rejecting a six-point Korean truce supervision plan calling for limited troop rotation.

Women No Slouches In Calgary Voting

CALGARY (CP)—Women do so vote! That was clear after Calgary's civic election.

Out of nearly 34,000 votes cast, there were only 30 fewer women voters than men.

Normally the number of men voters as compared with women is not tabulated, but Carl B. Cummer, assistant city clerk decided to have the figures broken down.

The result was 16,990 men, 13,960 women. At almost every poll, the figures were about even.

Railway to Rescue

MOTORISTS may sometimes feel a little superior as they flash past the old railway train chugging along the pike in the lower Skeena Valley. They may think it an unwieldy, awkward sort of a single-tracked, old-fashioned contraption.

Maybe that is all very well in the airy, sunny days of summer when the rains are gentle, the water low and everything seems lightly serene.

But when the wintry blasts come, the heavy snows fly, the rains pour and the hills slide, the good old railway train comes into its own again and we respect its comparative reliability and security. The trains may have their failures now and then but they are usually the last to fail and the first to get back into commission.

To get down to cases, it was probably a pretty comforting and reassuring feeling when 13 men, women and children were picked up and carried in the caboose of a work train to Terrace this week after they had been stuck on the road for four or five days when the slides came and they could get neither east nor west as far as the highway was concerned.

The hot cups of coffee which the boys of the train crew would serve them from the sooty old pot on the unpolished caboose stove, the crackers and cheese or what-not they would dig up to go with the husky over-boiled beverage and the ancient round-backed chairs which they shared would feel pretty comfortable and satisfying to these motorists turned refugees as they clattered and jogged homeward on the rugged old work train.

Yes, these are the days when the good old train comes into its own again and when we wonder, for all the fancy automobiles and the best of roads, what we would do about it.

It might not be all we would like, it might have its disadvantages and its shortcomings, but the railway still gets there just the same and reminds us it might be due for a hand once in a while to make up for the blasts we so often give it.

Family Worship

FAMILY WORSHIP might be revived with considerable benefit to ourselves, believes the Moose Jaw Times-Herald. "In times of trial and uncertainty, as the present, in days when material things in people's lives so often outweigh the lasting values of eternity, the benediction of prayer can do much to create or restore a peace of mind. Though it cannot always banish trouble from our lives it can give us strength to meet it. Family worship is the key which unlocks that treasure of the spirit, and reveals the secret of joy and peace."

Christmas Preparations

By Rev. H. Godfrey Bird, St. Peter's Anglican Church, Seal Cove
Text: St. Matthew 3:3, "Prepare ye the way of the Lord."

As the Christmas rush advances and many a weary voice is heard to say that they wish Christmas were over or that they are unprepared, it is time to ask ourselves for what we are preparing.

Are we preparing for a HOLIDAY or a HOLY DAY, for a MATERIAL Feast or a SPIRITUAL Feast, for a Material Celebration or for THE Celebration of THE Feast of CHRIST'S MASS?

Many people feel disturbed and tell us that the SPIRIT has gone out of Christmas. It hasn't. The Spirit has been allowed to be crowded out of us. There is just as much Spirit in Christmas as there ever was if we wish to take advantage of it.

In the turmoil of a civil census in Bethlehem, Christ was crowded into the stable, but nevertheless He was born.

Business was booming in Bethlehem, especially in the hotel business, but nevertheless a few shepherds and later a few wise men shared in the Real Joy.

When we are asked just how far we have come in nineteen and a half centuries, let us reply that, whereas just a few men had the opportunity to worship the Christ Child when he was born, now millions of people have the opportunity. The SPIRIT has not left Christmas because we are otherwise occupied. More and more have the opportunity to celebrate the Feast of the Spirit.

No material feast is a success without a great deal of preparation. We cannot expect a Spiritual Feast to be a success without just as much and more preparation. If we look on Christmas from a purely materialistic point of view we can easily become disturbed. Herod became very disturbed and we know of his preparations.

Are we going to prepare the best room that we have, or are we going to let Christ use the stable? Is HE FIRST on our list of preparations, or LAST? Will He be in possession of our hearts or will He be crowded out? "Prepare ye the way of the Lord."

Trail Report

TRAIL: Here more than in any other spot in Canada you get proof of the old saying that "the world do move."

When I first visited this key mining centre, a year or two before the Hitler war, the smoke from the plants hung over the city like a fog of gloom.

Now all that is left of the smoke and the gloom is the name of the hockey team.

The Smoke Eaters cling to their name for exactly the same reason as the power of the British army in World War One clung to the name of "Old Contemptibles."

The gases that used to make the smoke and the gloom are now processed to make farm fertilizer.

TRAIL has what is surely as fine a new high school as there is in the entire world today. Many of the folks around town seem to think it is a bit too grand, too costly. But I figure the builders and planners of the school knew what they were doing.

This city is destined to remain one of the greatest wealth producers in all the world. What is wealth for if it does not mean modern living for the people who produce it?

ONE OTHER remarkable change I see here in the past fourteen years is this:

Back in the thirties this was a company town, and closed as tight as a drum. There were no international unions here. In fact, any would-be trade union organizer got a very rough ride indeed if he then ever tried to come in here. One tried it just before my first visit. But just after he parked his car and went in for supper somebody tossed his brakes and let the car roll over the hill. (That, by the way, was NOT the work or company stooges but of men who did not want the unions in!)

Now, for years past the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Co. has applied a most enlightened labor-relations policy. The workers are free to join any union of their choice.

It is perhaps a significant trend of these times that whereas the men long since won the right to unionize, Rival unions themselves are carrying on fierce jurisdictional wars. I get the distinct impression, here and elsewhere across Canada, that the rank-and-file union members are increasingly weary of these family quarrels.

TRAIL is the only place in the interior of B.C. where I have found no evidence of the growing organization of the Social Credit Party. However, I am informed that Social Credit organizers mostly from Alberta have been busy for many months in the outlying districts of the Kootenays. That is also true of the Okanagan and the Fraser valley.

If B.C. gets an election next year it is going to have the most mixed-up and unpredictable contest in history.

THE GROWTH of the Social Credit sentiment in the interior of B.C. has nothing whatever to do with the theories of Major Douglas. It springs directly from the prosperity in Alberta, resulting from the rich oil strikes. But nothing succeeds like success. The Manning government is admitted by everyone to be a good conservative government—like the Frost government of Ontario, only more so.

WHAT MAKES B.C.'s political picture so unpredictable is the transferable vote idea. In the next election B.C. voters will mark not the familiar X after one candidate's name but first choice and second choice.

The theory (of the old parties) is that the Tories and Grits will always mark their second choices for each other. But with Social Credit and CCF in the field that theory might be knocked cock-eyed.

THE LETTERBOX

AVOIDING TAXATION

Editor,

Daily News:

Our taxation system has reached the point this moment where it has proved to be inadequate and altogether disappointing. Like a canker, it is eating away prosperity. It is futile to enumerate here the evils and hindrances experienced and hardships caused by our tax system.

Evidence of its inefficiency is proven on every side and it is high time a more sane, efficient system were adopted. All public developments and salaries to government servants, highways, bridges, municipal and war, defence, munitions, foreign obligations, schools, hospitals, mines, waterpower, in fact all our requirements can be financed adequately without taxation or its deadly partner—interest.

With the kind permission of Daily News I shall tell you in a later article how we can unload this out-of-date burden and bring justice and unheard of prosperity to our rich, bountiful land.

Yours for justice,
CHARLES W. REEVES

Reflects and Reminisces

The man who wrote "Pack Up Your Troubles in Your Old Kit Bag," George H. Powell, is dead, aged 71 years. Royalties returned him a fortune. He earned it. If morale means anything, it helped win the first Great War. "What's the use of worrying, it never was worth while." Good philosophy, war or no war.

When Prince Rupert's first mayoralty candidate was elected, a great public meeting was held the same evening in what was known in those days as the Empress Theatre, upstairs at the corner of Second Avenue and Sixth Street. (The historic building is now occupied by Miller's Cigar Store and other businesses.) Great was the general jubilation and speech making.

"Prince Rupert" shouted a grinning orator, "will grow rapidly, for haven't we elected a stork?" The name of the first mayor, who took office in the spring of 1910, was Fred Stork.

Note to hard workers—It costs less to eat regularly now than to report regularly to the doctor, later on.

Juneau bartenders are drawing between $15 and $17 a day, as a regular wage. There are more than sixty. All should be able to scrape along if they remain reasonably careful and try to look ahead.

Princess Elizabeth, just now, has more than Christmas to think about. With six months of handshaking ahead of her, she is figuring out what variety of clothing and fashions to select in Australia and New Zealand.

A thousand words a day, live news, go to Canadian troops in Germany and United Kingdom. Nothing is available as to what's going to Canadian soldiers in Korea. Canada knows what they want—cheery letters and news. How about it?

If B.C. gets an election next year it is going to have the most mixed-up and unpredictable contest in history.

How OLD is Santa Claus?

This particular Santa's age varies. The one on our Christmas Seal is only 25, but in some countries he is older, because their Seal Sales are older than ours.

need for travel abroad. No more forms are necessary.

There is no limit on the amount of United States dollars a person can accumulate or take out of the country.

Mr. Abbott said later at a press conference that the decision to lift exchange restrictions on September 30, 1950, when Canada freed the dollar but it was decided to watch developments resulting from that move.

The conclusion had been reached, with cabinet approval to no longer rely on exchange restrictions to maintain Canada's economic well-being but "rather on the general handling of our domestic economic situation," Mr. Abbott said.

The foreign exchange control board, which controlled capital and tourist dollar movements, will still exist but only on paper. Many of its 350 employees will be either shifted to other Bank of Canada jobs or dismissed.

While the government has abolished foreign exchange controls, it will still continue to administer its reserves, now about $1,000,000,000, in United States dollars and gold.

Officials, apparently, do not see any heavy fluctuations of the Canadian dollar on the horizon.

Mr. Abbott observed that there have been progressive reductions in foreign exchange control and yet the dollar has maintained strength, tending to climb toward par with the United States dollar.

Banks, corporations and individuals will be able to hold much United States—or any other currency—as they choose through official reserves. They still be able to maintain a measure of economic stability to prevent wild fluctuations in market value of the Canadian dollar.

Through a special exchange fund, officials will be able, on behalf of the minister of finance, to buy and sell American dollars and buy Canadian dollars on the New York market if there heavy selling pressure forced down the value of the dollar.

Driving Danger After Wet Snow
Heavy, wet snow, reaching depth of an inch or so by day-break, brought danger to Prince Rupert streets this morning. It had fallen on surface of roads which had been made icy after a slight frost followed evening rains.
Motorists, who have been hesitating here-to-fore, had to get out their chains if the slippery hills were to be negotiated. At that, there was plenty of skidding and sloughing.
The snow was added to a complete variety of weather conditions which the city has had during the past week ranging from unusually warm December rains to some clear skies which brought freezing temperatures.
Now the usual speculation is: Will it be a green or a white Christmas?
Magistrate W. D. Vance is returning to the city on the Camosun tomorrow afternoon from Vancouver where he has been attending a magistrates' convention.

Fish Co-op Good Year

Production Gains By Twenty-Four Percent
K. F. Harding, general manager, Prince Rupert Fishermen's Co-operative Association, at the semi-annual meeting of the Association yesterday, reported a very successful year from the standpoint of production which amounted to 12,500,000, an increase of 2,500,000 pounds. The chief gains over 1950 were in coho and halibut.
Mr. Harding reported, too, that the Fishermen's Co-operative Association of Vancouver also had a good year, showing a similar increase. A comparison with private company prices claimed that members had gained $282,000 by marketing their fish co-operatively in 1950.
On the dark side was the total absence of tuna and the continued low price of vitamin oil. Mr. Harding told the meeting that a synthetic vitamin A manufacture had recently cut the price of their product by 30 million units.
FEDERATION REPORT
Reporting for the Fishermen's Co-operative, General Manager T. H. Sorenson said that some varieties of fish were meeting with considerable sales resistance at the present prices, particularly halibut and coho. Owing to the abnormally large canned pack of the latter, there would probably be a carry-over of this product into next year. But he felt that all other products would move.
Mr. Sorenson also reported continued increase in production and sales from the United States Co-operatives which use the Federation's sales facilities. One organization, the Halibut Producers Co-operative, rose from 500,000 pounds to 3,500,000. Commencing Friday morning, the meeting got under way at the Oddfellows Hall with a good attendance. With Martin Erik-sen president in the chair, it will continue through today.

Visiting from Vancouver are General Manager T. H. Soren-sen and A. V. Hill from the Fish-ermen's Co-operative Federation and Bob Donaldson from the University of British Columbia, Department of Extension.

Britain is Determined to Send Team to Olympiad

By ALAN HARVEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP)—Britain needs £30,000 to send a team of 200 athletes to the 1952 Olympic games at Helsinki and sportsman are determined the funds will be raised, one way or another.

Among suggestions advanced in what has become a burning debate are a special sale of stamps, an appeal for sixpences, a private underwriting by promoters, one or two "Olympic Days," and a government grant.

This question of "funds and games" came to the front when Elaine Burton, Labour member of Parliament for Coventry South, wrote a letter to the Times suggesting a sale of special stamps at post offices and where weekly soccer games are played.

She noted that more than 500,000 fans go to soccer matches every Saturday in the first two divisions of the English League. If spectators at all sports were counted, raising £30,000 would present no particular difficulties.

Miss Burton has a special interest in the Olympics, as she said in her letter, because her father was a finalist in the Olympics in 1908. Modestly, she did not say that she herself was world sprint champion in 1920.

Financing of the British team also proved a lively topic at the annual Sportsmen's Association dinner in London.

Francis Gentle, chairman of the Greyhound Racing Association and one of Britain's most influential sport promoters, said the British team should be underwritten, as a commercial enterprise might do. He pledged he would put up £1,000 if 29 other persons would do the same.

Gentle entertained the guests with a racy account of the recent fights between Sugar Ray Robinson and Britain's Randolph Turpin. Turpin later bashfully thanked Gentle in a speech acknowledging his selection by the association as the country No. 1 sportsman of the year.

Jack Crump, team manager of the Amateur Athletic Association and one of the world's experts on track and field said he thought the problem of financing the British Olympic team could be solved by contributions from sporting folk of two shillings or half a crown. He spoke optimistically of Britain's athletic talent and said he will be sorely disappointed if the country comes back from Helsinki empty-handed.

Cycling champion Reg Harris, runner-up to Turpin for the sportsman-of-the-year title, said he thinks the government definitely should do something about paying the team's way to Helsinki.

Other speakers included track star Roger Bannister, one of Britain's brightest Olympic hopes, and cricketer Fred Brown.

Final Plans For Eilers

Final arrangements for the visit here December 28 and 29 of the high-flying top-spot Eilers of the Vancouver senior hoop circuit were made at a meeting of the Prince Rupert Basketball Association last night.

As an added feature to the two-night games, it was decided to add a matinee Saturday afternoon for the benefit of the younger fans and the older who may find time to go.

There was further complaint about the slowness in returns of the cards enrolling for basketball insurance. Lack of interest in this benefit was considered discouraging.

NOTICE

OVERWAITEA is definitely opposed to price maintenance on any article. OVERWAITEA operates on a lower than average profit margin and the saving on non-price-fixed lines, is passed on to the consumer in the stores. Consumers who pay cash, and carry their purchases home should buy cheaper than those who have charge accounts and get their parcels delivered. On price maintained lines it is impossible to give the "cash and carry" customer the benefits derived from their own trouble and work. Credit and delivery cost money. Why should those who don't use them pay for them? OVERWAITEA buys in bulk direct from the manufacturer and distributes only to OVERWAITEA stores throughout B.C. If one OVERWAITEA branch sells a price-fixed article for less than the price fixed by the manufacturer, supplies to the OVERWAITEA warehouse and distributing centre in Vancouver are cut off or severely curtailed, and all OVERWAITEA customers suffer because none of the branches will have the item. Similar lines on which the price is not maintained are substituted wherever possible, but in order to satisfy public demand, OVERWAITEA is often forced into stocking and selling certain lines on which the price is fixed.

But OVERWAITEA is strongly against the policy of price maintenance. The price on any article should be based on its cost landed in the store plus a percentage of profit which should vary with the type of service offered by that particular store.

WATERFRONT -- WHIFFS

Prince Rupert Shipping Expands—Whales Still Seen—Ole Skog, Old Timer

Since completion of the Columbia Cellulose Co. plant, and commencement of Aluminum Company plans, shipping to and from Prince Rupert has seen substantial growth. Where last year there was nothing of the kind, 1951 has seen inauguration of a service between Prince Rupert and Kitimat.

This will continue and, doubtless, expand as time lengthens. Ocean going vessels have discharged their cargoes for the huge industry established at Watson Island. Beginning only a few weeks ago, grain is again moving from this port, after Prince Rupert's elevator was silent for many years. Twenty wheat craft may be seen here during the coming winter. A hundred million bushels will flow from the Pacific coast by spring, for from now until summer, the forwarding of grain this way will be classed as big business.

Despite statements to the contrary, whales are frequently seen near Prince Rupert, if Porcher Island can be called that. Now and then, the year round, says a pioneer of Porcher, they are sighted close to the shores, or further out in pursuit of fish. And speaking of whales, it is perhaps timely to mention that British whaling ships this season have adopted a new type of electric harpoon. This embodies electrodes instead of an explosive charge in the harpoon. The advantages of the new harpoon are humanitarian as well as economic. The whale is killed in a minute. It used to take an hour. The present system does little damage to the flesh.

The new commodore of the Royal Vancouver Yacht Club is Clarke Bigson, owner of the 110-foot yacht Norsal. This will be for the coming season.

With a single exception, all the towboats in service on this coast have been built in British Columbia and all have been made of wood. In most cases, the boats from elsewhere hail from Great Britain. Many of these steel tugs were North Sea trawlers which were used in the fishing industry.

Radar equipment is being installed aboard the Canadian government steamers Laurier and Howie. The job is being done by the Sperry Gyroscope Company of Canada. The firm has also been busy with installations of the echo sounders and radio telephone service work on herring seiners.

OLE SKOG PIONEER

Not many of Prince Rupert's fishing skippers have more of the port's waterfront history behind them than Ole Skog, of the seiner "Thelma S." Forty-three years is a lengthy stretch. Having been here since 1908, Ole has seen it all. That far back, while there was fishing, in those days, it had not advanced to the stage of big business. There was no Canadian Fish & Cold Storage plant. Neither was there a dry dock. Ole, whose home is here, spent considerable time at Sooke last season, tending traps for the Todd organization.

For three days since mid-week the motor vessel Forager of Bowl Harbor, at the northern end of Vancouver Island, has been missing and extended efforts have been made to locate her. The owner, N. E. Bratt, was aboard when the boat sailed. H.M.C.S. Heatherington has already searched, and Friday, RCAF Canso of the air-sea rescue squadron was busy but work was handicapped by overcast.

A case involving an American concern and widely known all over the north, has just been announced. This is the sale of the interests of the Whiz-Halferty Canneries, Seattle, to G. P. Halferty & Co. The Whiz organization has interests such as salmon canneries, clam and crab plants in many areas in Alaska and Washington as well as seafood buying stations in Oregon. The B.C. Producer was selling grey cod at the Royal Fish Co. dock yesterday, in considerable quantity, 75,000 pounds being disposed of. This appears to be the slack season where sea food is concerned and there is more of a market for the cod which provision has many friends, consumers any time of the year. The B.C. Producer fished mainly off the Queen Charlotte Islands.

Union steamer Coquitlam, Capt. James Hunter, arrived in port at 8:30 last evening from Vancouver via Kemano Bay and other coast points and sailed at midnight for south Queen Charlotte Island points. The vessel is due back here tomorrow night south-bound.

CANTERBURY, England — Arthur Dorrington, 40, was working on a scaffolding 50 feet high when he slipped and fell. At that moment traffic lights delayed a passing automobile and the man landed on the roof—with severe injuries, but still alive.

Come to the aid of the party with ...
