

REASSURING" NEW MESSAGE ON CEASE FIRE

Allied Forces Still Knifing Forward

Largest Gains Since Seoul Loss Recorded

TOKYO (CP)—Allied troops slashed more than 10 miles beyond Wonju on the central Korean front and recaptured the key mountain town of Unghwol. A patrol, with tanks, blazed through the snow, ten miles north of Wonju, and pushed within 33 miles of the 38th parallel before withdrawing, a field dispatch said.

The farthest northward advance by Allied forces since the city was abandoned. The force engaged a company of Chinese troops and the Reds with heavy casualties. The attack after an artillery bombardment. The capturing force was not in view of the tight censorship regulations.

The United States Seventh Air Force command, the only American force to reach the Manchurian border in the war, has been attacking south of the tungsten river town.

The air, swift United States Thunder jets damaged a Russian-built MIG-15's in the Yalu River. The jets shot down MIG's and damaged three American planes fought without damage.

General Earle E. Partington, 15th Air Force commander, said that 63 enemy jets have been destroyed so far. United States losses were five.

Gen. Ridgeway's headquarters said that patrols, along eastern and central fronts, in an effort to contact the enemy, found the latter reluctant to fight.

Police Find Drug Centre

VANCOUVER (CP)—Police said last night they discovered what may be a large-scale narcotics distribution centre—"two blocks from the police station."

The announcement came minutes after police staged their second raid in 24 hours.

A downtown cafe was first raided. Police seized drugs and addict's paraphernalia. The second raid was carried out in a big house where John Melina, owner, and three sons were arrested and charged with retaining stolen property. Narcotic charges are pending.

Francois Lake Frozen Solid

FRANCOIS LAKE—The ferry crossed on Saturday for the last time before the ice made it impossible to keep it running. Cars were able to cross on Friday and people were able to walk across as soon as the ferry stopped working so that contact has been made with the south country all the time. The lake is frozen solid as there is very little snow with roughly 11 inches of ice now.

Red China Unchanged

There is no trouble in traveling between Hong Kong and Communist-controlled central China, according to Lee Sam (Tom Lee), well known Chinese business man of Prince Rupert, who is back in the city after a year and a half in his native city of Kowloon, about 200 miles inland from Hong Kong.

"All they ask you are a few simple questions," he says.

Mr. Lee indicates that there is much exaggeration regarding the freedom of movement.

He says that life goes on in central China much the same as usual under the Communist regime. Around his native city, rice crops have been good and no more than usual hardship is to be noticed.

Mr. Lee went in before the Communists marched in and spent nine months there under the Red regime.

He came out by the ordinary means of travel to Hong Kong and returned from there last week.

CONSCRIPTION IMPRACTICABLE
NANAIMO (CP)—Major-General George R. Pearkes forecast last night that if Canada is to live up to its commitments it will mean raising an active force of 120,000 men. The PC member of Parliament for Nanaimo said in his speech that, while he believed the volunteer system was unfair and out-dated, it would not be practicable to introduce conscription at the present time.

BEVIN HAS PNEUMONIA

Herring Seining Resumed

Steady Run in Central Sub-District Expected

Herring fishing has started in the central sub-district, south of the Prince Rupert area. Catch of 30 tons in Kildit Sound and Boddy Pass near Hunter Island was reported today by Inspector of Fisheries G. S. Reade.

Although the run in the south shows no comparison in size as yet to the huge northern run, it is expected the fishing will be steady. Quota for the central sub-district is 40,000 tons.

About 15 seiners and 35 packers are operating in the Kildit Sound area.

The northern herring sub-district has been closed by the department after a total catch of 50,000 tons, 20,000 tons above the regular quota which was extended.

Total catch of herring this season is the largest in at least seven years, according to the weekly report from Victoria. To date the herring catch has grossed 140,747 tons, compared to 115 thousand tons in two previous years.

Contrary to a large percentage of public opinion that herring caught on this coast are used for

OTTAWA (CP)—The trade department says that it stopped issuing permits for export of aluminum to Communist countries last August.

Officials acknowledged some aluminum went to Communist points as late as last October, but it said permits for such shipments had been obtained before August.

"The Canso was only half submerged when it settled on the bottom," said a tugboat skipper who assisted in the rescue. "Not one crew member got wet."

3,000 Dead—

Story of Horror From New Guinea

PORT MORESBY, New Guinea (CP)—Hundreds of dead bodies are hanging grotesquely from black, scorched tree branches in the New Guinea jungle at the foot of volcanic Mount Lamington.

A tale of wholesale destruction by fire was told today by the first government official to reach the scene where more than 3,000 persons—including 34 Europeans—are believed to have died in the week-end eruptions of 6,000-foot-high Mt. Lamington.

Trembling with horror, Claude Champion, assistant government secretary, collapsed in tears when he told his story.

Freighter Hi-Jacked

SEATTLE (CP)—Armed Chinese Reds forced the unloading of a 700-ton consignment of scrap rubber and steel plates from the American freighter Matthew Luckenbach, a crew member told the Post-Intelligencer.

He said the action occurred at Taku Bar, in Red-held North China, after the U.S. had slapped an embargo on exports to Communist China.

Norman Ralph, 32, third mate, told about it on arriving here from Vancouver, where the freighter currently is docked.

Among other things, the commission will consider the operation of government employees in "loyalty and security programs."

History Repeats

A CENTURY AGO, Imperial Russia was rocking the diplomatic boat just as mysteriously as it is today. Europe was still shaken and disturbed by the 1848 revolutions, which had upset nearly all the governments except that of Russia. In France, Napoleon III had been elected President and was about to proclaim himself Emperor. It was at this period that Czar Nicholas I chose to issue hints and make veiled threats of possible action in various directions.

Not long afterward, he sought to become the "protector" of the Christians in Turkey, but his scheme was frustrated by the Crimean War, in which the weight against him was largely borne by Britain and France. The strain of the war almost wrecked the Russian economy, and Nicholas killed himself.

Russian imperialism is not new. The Soviets merely continue the policies of their autocratic predecessors.

Censorship

CORRESPONDENTS in Korea long have indicated the need for a clearly defined code of censorship, observes the Christian Science Monitor. Even the most experienced combat reporter cannot be expected to know in every instance which unit identification and which troop movement, if made public might betray important plans to the enemy.

Furthermore, leaving too much up to the correspondents' discretion and sense of responsibility puts a certain premium on irresponsibility. If one reporter could slip out a story of particular importance, might not publishers and the public back home have wondered if the other correspondents had been asleep?

But it is unlikely that newsmen were prepared for the kind of censorship that came. Going far beyond the demands of military security—the need for which no one disputes—the new regulations, according to the chief of the Monitor's Far Eastern bureau, exceeded anything imposed in the Pacific theatre during the darkest days of World War II. The wording of the new regulations is such that a correspondent could be subject to court-martial if he should get by the censors any interpretation of anything remotely military which deviated from the official version.

Censorship so far-reaching always has but one result: the generating of distrust even when complete confidence may be justified. It defeats its own purpose, for it at once sows suspicion that there is something to hide.

Simmons Wants Elective Body

EDMONTON. — The federal member for Yukon-Mackenzie, J. A. Simmons of Whitehorse, has announced he will renew demands for the formation of an elective territorial government for the Northwest Territories.

"That part of the country is entitled to handle its own affairs," he declared.

"Then there's somebody else?"

As I See It

By ELMORE PHILPOTT AGAIN IN LONDON

LONDON.—Here I am back in London, or as we used to call it when I saw it in World War One, London of the big smoke.

There is much less smoke now than there was then, for of course London has long since been de-smoked.

In the 18 months since I was here before the great city has visibly perked up. Today in the glorious mid-January sunshine London looked as cheerful as I ever remember it.

After the rather jittery atmosphere of North America, with the war-torn fixation stopping over the 49th parallel, it gives you a steady feeling to get back here where everything moves with such unhurried efficiency.

BUT FIRST I must tell the sad tale of the two champion hams with which I left home.

"Fifty pounds overweight," the desk clerk told me in Montreal. Sorry as I felt for the meat-short folks here in Britain, those hams had to stay behind.

Lucky that I had my rich brother with me. I made a deal with him. He paid the $15 to cover the rest of my excess baggage, and he took the two prize hams!

WE ZOOMED out of Montreal with the big North Star really loaded down (even minus my two hams). The rear compartment was reserved for mothers with children and they were packed in, snug and sleepy, like fluffy birds in a cosy nest.

The crossing took just 11 hours till we put down at Shannon airport. It was my first visit to the Republic of Ireland, for when I was there, in 1918, they were already in what Irishmen, with masterly understatement, called "The Trouble."

NO SOONER DOES the plane stop at Shannon than a lovely-looking, green uniformed (but stockingless) auburn haired girl comes aboard. In beautiful English, but spoken with a brogue as soft as a lovely kiss, she informs the passengers that there are no formalities upon transit entry into Ireland. But will we please show our health query papers? This paper (a British form, by the way) is quickly stamped by the health official of County Clare.

I asked the lovely Irish colleen if they always had such nice weather. Quick as a flash she answered:

"It's always better than this. It's still cold from the gale."

I knew then I was back in the land of the blarney. My mind flashed back to 1918 when, as a youngster in the Canadian Field Artillery, I went to Dublin to see for myself what "The Trouble" was all about.

No sooner had I stepped outside the station than a blue-eyed, immense bosomed, raven black haired woman tried to sell me some violets.

She saw that I wore two pips on my shoulders, so immediately promoted me to captain.

"God bless you, Captain, buy my violets. God bless you, Captain, buy my violets." Finally I had to buy the blinking violets to escape the laughing crowd which she increasingly attracted.

ON THE FLIGHT over from Shannon to London I asked myself about the sources of our future strength in Canada. Old peoples, like the Irish, develop standard breeds of humans, and very fine they are too, even if all the girls are not as lovely as the picked ones on show at Shannon. But consider these names of the crew members on our TCA flight, Montreal to London:

Captain—J. P. Laskoski.
First Officer—L. M. Wallace.
Purser—P. Arnaby.
Stewardess—Miss C. C. Paetsch.

Out of that Slavic, Scottish, English and German mixture, plus of course the French and all other strains from which we have drawn, we will yet breed a people worthy of the best in all the lands of origin. And worthy of Canada too.

Quiz Game at Norway Sons

G. Gustafson won a quiz game following the general business meeting of the Sons of Norway Monday night. Consolation prize was won by Alf. Jensen. For the business session, which enlarged on plans made at the last meeting, President John Fredheim was in the chair. Coffee, sandwiches and doughnuts brought the special evening to an end.

RAY... Reflects and Reminisces

Despite denial, the Edmonton Bulletin, love child of the late Frank Oliver, has been sold to the Edmonton Journal interests which will leave about 180 perfectly good newspaper folks wondering what they are going to do next—unless it's the press. But this is the drift. More big sheets and fewer small ones.

Lionel Barrymore, a man of gifts and one of the most distinguished of the theatre's royal family, is believed near the end. Age has overtaken him. He will go down as one of the screen's most revered characters.

Mounted police were on duty in Prince Rupert many a year ago and they were just the same old mounties, but other cops were here as well. The Mounties had a trim little barracks just across from the head of First Street. They wore all the sternness of the uniform, but dearly loved a bit of fun. One day at the annual exhibition, a wild man, at considerable danger was brought in, to be identified later as Sergeant Bob Warrior of Alberta who was an adept in keeping absurdity and dignity separate. Incidentally, the gallant sergeant stole the show.

Beginning in February, Canada's new one dollar postage stamp, dark blue and featuring the fisheries will appear. It will show a net being drawn in. It might even go a bit further, and disclose steaming hot baked halibut and cheese.

The Federal building clock will resume ticking when whatever repairs needed are performed from over the edge of the roof which is icy enough to skate on. Meantime it is a gay deceiver.

Fairbanks has had five fires, all large and all within a few days of one another. The most recent cost almost half a million dollars. Of course, the weather "Artie" flames will catch. But five major outbreaks won't take no for an answer. The mayor has had his say and he's saying it again. So are others.

THERE IS NO ONE TO SAY NO TO HIM

Let's suppose you are an ordinary, average citizen — a plumber, a storekeeper, a farmer or what-have-you.

Let's suppose, also, you have a 12-year-old son you think is pretty bright. You feel that, with education and application, he could go a long way — could rise right to the top in business, in industry, or in one of the professions.

Well, did you ever stop to think that, here in Canada, our way of life — our economic and political system, if you want to call it that — is wholly geared to giving your boy exactly that chance? It is! And there are examples all around you.

Your boy may have to work hard and fight hard to get the education he requires. That won't hurt him — in fact it will help him. Nearly every successful man or woman has worked hard and fought hard to become successful.

But under our free opportunity system there is no one to say "NO" to him — no one to say "Here is your spot in life, and here you will stay for life." The field is wide open. There is opportunity for every young man who has brains and ability and the desire to make a contribution to the country's development and the general welfare.

It is a pretty good system under which to bring up your children.

FINE NEWSPAPERS

Editor, Daily News—

There was a serious omission in that article concerning the growth of Terrace which appeared in your paper on January 16.

While it can be admitted that there are many dreary weekly newspapers, yet I claim that an outstanding progressive paper like the Omineca Herald should be listed as an asset to the Terrace community just as the Daily News is an undoubted asset to the city of Prince Rupert. The people of Skeena are extremely lucky to have such fine examples of the daily and weekly newspapers.

It is unfortunate that the name Omineca Herald does not properly locate the paper. That is explained by the transfer, by purchase, from New Hazelton in the Omineca to Terrace in the Skeena riding. Retaining the old name may be in deference to the veteran publisher, Mr. Sawie, yet we are hopeful that there will be some change in name.

Employment Increasing

OTTAWA @—Employment in Canada is "considerably better" than a year ago, the labor department has said, but it reported that the number of registered unemployed jumped 33,000 during two weeks.

Unemployed registered at National Employment Service offices January 4 numbered 248,100, some 50,000 fewer than at January 5, 1950. Canada's manpower pool totals more than 5,000,000 persons.

The department, again stressing the immediate need for more skilled workers, said there were several reasons for the improvement in the situation over last year.

Western Canada oil reserves have been placed at a minimum of 1,200,000,000 barrels.

Personal Planning

Most people leave themselves out in the cold on pay-day. They pay the grocer and the baker... the milkman and the landlord. Everybody and his undig into their pay envelopes but themselves.

Result — they're usually in a financial strait-jacket... and they worry. They worry about bills on hand. They worry about bills to come. They worry about unexpected bills. Money is always on their mind — souring their pleasure in living. And cobwebs gather on their plans for tomorrow.

What's the answer? There's only one...

... Personal Planning ... WHY?

Personal Planning is much more than just drawing up a budget. Budgets are often frustrating dog-collars. They usually tie you down and make life a very monotonous affair.

No, Personal Planning shows you how to live with your income and enjoy it. It's a complete financial program, cut from the pattern of your particular needs and problems.

Personal Planning won't help you make millions. But — given an honest chance — it will cure your 'day-after-pay-day blues.'

You'll learn how to make your budget work for you, instead of you working for it. And you'll also find that Personal Planning helps you realize your plans for tomorrow much sooner than you have dared to hope.

London Swimsuit
Brightly Colored

By MURIEL NARROWAY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON—Color combinations inspired by Canadian scenery have set a new fashion note in British swimsuit wear.

Created by a husband-and-wife team from Montreal's Snowdon district, the suits bring a "something new and different" quality into stores for years content with less spectacular models.

For 37-year-old Henry Klyne and his wife, Ellen, color and imaginative design were first essentials in an attack on the British market.

"We both love color," Mrs. Klyne said in an interview. "We base many of our color combinations on the clear-cut brightness of Canadian backgrounds. We try to achieve the vividness of a Canadian sunrise or sunset."

The color campaign struck a snag in the early stages because the Klynes couldn't find the right kind of screen-printed materials. So they set up their own printing works and developed a new printing technique.

Now each new suit has an individual screen-printed design, with playtime themes, mostly colors.

FESTIVAL SPECIAL
Typical of the Klyne suits is a two-piece number designed for the Festival of Britain. This shows the buildings on the main festival site on the south bank of the Thames and a bridge crossed by two bright red London buses. In the background bursting fireworks shower colored stars across the suit.

Another festival scene has Trafalgar Square in one corner, topped by encircled such places as St. Paul's Cathedral and the Tower Bridge. A strapped, one-piece suit shows a London square filled with traffic and fronted by a helmeted traffic cop.

Happy to have made a success of their London venture, the Klynes still miss Canada, Canadian friendship, and Montreal's French menus. "There's no place like Montreal and we'd love to be back," said Mrs. Klyne.

The Klynes first came to England on holiday, were asked by relatives to stay, and the business resulted. They have two children, Angela and Peter.

"Two thorough little Canadians, although Angela was born in London," said Mrs. Klyne.

Woman Musician Gaining Praise

TORONTO—Patricia Blomfield Holt of Toronto, housewife and mother of two school-age sons, writes music when the household duties slacken off. Now she has attracted attention of music-lovers with her "Suite No. 2 for Violin and Piano." The piece was included in the repertoire of two Toronto violinists, Geza and Nora de Kreez, for their concert tour of western cities. The artists call the piece "a delightful little work; it lies close to our musical heart." At a recent performance in Regina a music critic called it the work of "an obviously gifted composer."

By Anne Ashley

Q. How can I remodel a straw hat?

A. If it is desired to change the shape of a straw hat, pour boiling water over it, and while it is hot and pliable, reshape it with the hands. Take a bowl or vessel that will fit the crown and place the hat on this while working, also leaving it on the bowl to dry in the sun.

Q. How can I tighten the handle of an umbrella?

A. If the umbrella handle becomes loose, fill the hole in the handle with powdered resin, heat the rod, and then press firmly into the hole.

Q. How can I prevent the peeling of onions from affecting the tear ducts of the eyes?

A. By dipping the onions for a moment in boiling water and then beginning at the root and peeling upwards.

Mrs. Saker To Tell New Zealand About This Fine City and Country

Mrs. S. M. Saker of Wellington, New Zealand, who has been a visitor here for the past couple of weeks with her sister, Mrs. F. M. Good, will be a good missionary on behalf of the attractions and advantages of British Columbia, particularly Prince Rupert, when she returns "down under." She will be giving talks to clubs and other organizations when she returns home and she will not neglect to tell of the "lovely people" she met here, the splendid hospitality and the pleasures of living in Canada.

Mrs. Saker even enjoyed the weather here, including the snowstorms. "We never have them in Wellington," she says.

Mrs. Saker is one of those who is pleased that the National government has replaced the Labor administration in New Zealand. In fact, she worked in support of the National government campaign. She expects there will be improvements in living and general conditions in New Zealand as a result of the change.

The visitor was impressed with the abundance and variety of good food here and was particularly delighted with the fish. "We haven't seen canned salmon in New Zealand since before the war," she said. Meat prices, however, she noted were higher here than in New Zealand.

Mrs. Saker is sailing this afternoon by the Princess Norah and will visit in Vancouver and Victoria. Later she will be joined by Mrs. Good and they will make a trip to California before Mrs. Saker returns to New Zealand.

I.O.D.E. Aids Peace Gardens

TORONTO—The Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire has contributed $1,300 to the International Peace Garden project near the Turtle Mountains, astride the international boundary between Manitoba and North Dakota.

The Province of Manitoba gave free title to 1,300 acres and North Dakota gave 900 acres to establish the garden after the project was conceived by the late Henry J. Moore of Toronto as a method of commemorating more than a century of peace between Canada and the United States. Huge crowds attended its dedication in 1932.

Considerable development and landscaping of the area has taken place since then under the International Peace Garden, Inc., whose directors are chosen jointly from Canada and the United States. An attractive lodge has been erected on the U.S. side of the property and plans are being made for erection of an international peace tower.

Canadian Club Books Speakers

The club is expecting some interesting visitors in the next few months. February 21 A. Gordon Hudson, information adviser to the High Commissioner of the United Kingdom, will address the club. March 21 they expect the Hon. T. C. A. Hislop, High Commissioner for New Zealand. April 4 will see Lady Fletcher of London, England, who will speak on Africa. Four art films will be shown at a meeting of the club this Friday evening.

Modern Etiquette

By Roberta Lee

Q. When passing a plate for a second helping, is it correct to leave the knife and fork on the plate?

A. Yes, under no circumstances should used silver be placed on the table cover.

Q. Is it proper for a woman to assist a man, with whom she has been dining, with his coat?

A. Such conduct is forward and unconventional. The waiter or the butler assists the man with his coat, or he puts it on without assistance.

Q. When a woman makes a social call, how long should she stay?

A. About twenty minutes.

Brownwoods Beat Co-ops

Shoemen Now in Striking Distance of League Leadership

Brownwoods came right back into the running for the league leadership by defeating the top-placed Co-op in a lacklustre senior basketball game last night by a 63 to 46 score. The issue was seldom in doubt. Brownwoods outscored 27 to 18 in the first half but just barely held on to their favored position in the last half as Co-op got going to tie the score at 33 all. However from that point on Brownwoods had their shooting eye and ran ahead to get an easy win. For the winners the scoring honors were evenly divided. Carlson, Thompson and Spring all getting 12 apiece, with Olson taking 9, and Sunberg 6.

The brothers Scherk were the scoring aces for Co-op. Don rattling the hoop for 15, and Syd for 14. From a spectator point of view, there were very few there, it was a pretty dull contest. Co-op have dominated the league all winter and fans just about conceded the game before it was played. Brownwoods are within league winning distance now and the next contest between these two teams should be a humdinger.

INTERMEDIATE

Fashion had a ten point lead in their 35 to 25 win over the High Greens. They piled up a 14 to 3 score in the first period but the students came back strong in the second quarter to take it 13 to 7, and to outscore again in the third 6 to 4. In the final period the Greens were only able to score on three free throws as Fashion went on to win by a ten point margin, scoring 4 on field baskets and 5 for 6 foul shots in the final period. Danny Bill had a big night for the winners as he sagged the hoop for 16 points.

JUNIOR

Rupert Hotel came to within a single game of the league-leading High Juniors, as they took Manson's into camp 30 to 13. They outscored the losers in all but the third period. It was a clean game with both teams working hard for a win. Referees Bill Morrison and Dany McAfee called 9 fouls on the winners and 13 on the losers. McKay led the scoring with 13, Smith getting 8, and Barnes 7 for the losers.

Blackwood on Bridge

By Easley Blackwood

When partner's response to your four no trump bid indicates that your side has all the aces, the bid which can help you discover whether or not you have a grand slam is a bid of five no trump.

This bid is forcing. It asks partner how many kings he has. Partner replies at the six range, bidding six clubs if he has no kings, six diamonds if he has one king and so on.

But the five no trump bid does something else too and (according to my correspondence) many players do not know about it. It tells partner that the side has all the aces. With this information the responder is sometimes in a position to go directly to seven over the five no trump bid.

The bidding:

South West North East
1 S Pass 3 C Pass
3 S Pass 4 NT Pass
5 H Pass 5 NT Pass
6 H Pass 7 S All pass

Look at the expert way Mr. Masters handled today's bidding. His first bid of three clubs was of course forcing to game. It also implied either a strong fit in spades, Mr. Masters knew where

When Mr. Champion rebid the spades, Mr. Masters new where the hand was going to be played and set out to check on aces and kings. He bid four no trump and learned that his side had all the aces. His five no trump bid developed the same pleasant information about kings.

Now he can count on five spade tricks, two diamond tricks, two heart tricks and three club tricks, twelve in all. But even Mr. Meek would, I believe, go ahead and bid seven on the hand.

Mr. Masters knows that he and his partner have at least seven clubs between them. He holds six and the response to the five no trump bid told him that Mr. Champion had the king.

If three leads of clubs do not clear the suit, a fourth club trumped in the South hand should set up a long club for the 13th trick.

There is also the excellent chance that Mr. Champion can trump a heart or a diamond in dummy. Or he may have one of the red queens or a six card spade holding.

Mr. Masters made a quick calculation that the odds in favor of a grand slam were very much better than three to one, the minimum favorable odds on a try for all the tricks. A few seconds later the score sheet justified his judgment.

Winnipeg Protests Power Terminal

WINNIPEG (P)—It cost nearly $200,000 and the work of scores of men to save city mayor's main power terminal during the 1950 spring flood.

Now Winnipeg is spending $300,000 on a steel and concrete rampart to ensure lasting protection of its River Avenue station. The rampart will protect the station to a flood level of 36 feet—almost six feet higher than last spring's peak.

Crews have worked since early

November driving streets into the frozen ground level. Wooden piles will help turn, will carry the weight of the street with 10 feet ground level.

When completed in March, city-financed dyke will form a secondary line of defense for the station. Primary line will be a dyke built by Greater Winnipeg Drying to shield the entire area.

Sir Jamieson Jeejeebhoy, a Canadian merchant who died in the first world war, was the first to open a commercial trade with China.

Cars Held Up by Snow

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Doll entertained at their home on Sunday afternoon in honor of Mr.
Doll's mother, Mrs. Leah Doll, who was celebrating her 87th birthday. A huge birthday cake, featuring 87 candles and making a spectacular display when they were all lighted, was the feature of the refreshments.
Mrs. Doll, whose looks belie her age, was the recipient of the best wishes of her family as well as gifts. Others at the party were close relatives—her daughter and son-in-law and family.
Mr. and Mrs. Anton Hobenshield,

A meeting of the cemetery board has been called for Thursday evening in the Credit Union be cleared up before the departure of James MacKay for a few weeks' stay in Vancouver at the end of this month.

Robert Parker of Prince Rupert was a week-end visitor in Terrace. He drove here but, on account of snow, had to leave his car here and return to the coast by train.

Mrs. W. Osborne spent the week-end in Prince Rupert, going there on Thursday's train and returning on Tuesday morn-ing's train.

Mrs. Collins drove down to Prince Rupert in the middle of last week to meet Darrall Collins who was returning from Vancouver where he has been on Several motorists who took the risk of driving to Prince Rupert last Thursday were unable to return by car due to the snow-

Woman Teacher Enjoyed Spain

KINGSTON.—Margaret E.
Garnham, Havana-born Spanish teacher at Queen's University here, recently toured Spain on only $150.

She told a woman's group here that her train fare was about $40 for the trip that took her through most of the country.

Food is strictly rationed in Spain and black market flour-ishes at prohibitive prices.

She and a woman companion were told that in drought-ridden Spain there is a shortage of electricity in the north and that drinking water is in short supply in the central and southern sections.

Roadbeds of the railway lines are so bad that it is a "near miracle" when a train runs on time, she said.

But she found the country extremely interesting, the food good, the hotels clean and the people friendly and helpful.

United Church Flourishing

First United Church had a very favorable year in 1950, according to reports presented at the annual congregational meeting Tuesday night. The most notable features were the formation of an active men's club, with 30 members, under the presidency of Dr. L. M. Greene, and the expansion of youth activities with new boys' and girls' groups as well as Explorers' and CGIT groups and reorganization of the Fourth Prince Rupert Pack of Cubs. One hundred young folk are enrolled.

The church membership increased by a very gratifying 30 per cent.

The financial position was reported very satisfactory with $6000 raised for general church work, an increase of $2000 over the preceding year.

The church was given a complete renovation with cash outlay of about $1500 and volunteer labor which might have amounted to a similar sum. Responsibility for the church improvements was largely the Men's Club and the Women's Auxiliary.

Gardening....

HANDY HOTBED CAN BE MADE OUTSIDE BASEMENT WINDOW

Most economical hot bed in space, cost and upkeep, is built around a window opening from a heated basement, preferably a south window. In front of the window make a shallow excavation, about a foot deep. The size must be figured carefully, so that a frame set in this excavation can be covered by window or hot bed sash. As in the case of other hot beds, a glass substitute may be used on the sash, if desired.

Build a frame to fit the excavation. The sides must slant sharply from a point above the window, almost to the ground.
Fit the sash on this frame, using hinges at the top so the sash may easily be raised for ventilation. Earth may be banked around the frame to keep out the cold; and the sides should be as tight as possible to keep out the wind.

The frame may have to be caulked, where it joins the foundation to prevent drafts, otherwise it is built like the garden type, using a standard or odd size sash as you choose.

Heat is supplied to this bed by opening the basement window, and allowing the heated basement air to enter the bed. The window is left open at night, and may often be closed during the day, when the sun is shining on the bed. Hot beds of this type have been tried and tested, and although they do not maintain temperatures as high as other kinds the heat will be more even, and the ventilation much better.

The main things to watch are temperature and drafts. Ventilation is necessary on warm days, and for very short periods on cooler days.

Britons Using Candles Again

LONDON.—Business is booming in Britain's candle factories.

Recent power cuts have seen housewives scurrying to buy emergency supplies and manufacturers are being swamped with orders for replacement stocks. One firm was so rushed for orders, it continued working throughout recent power cuts, by the light of its own product.

The electricity problem this winter has been the severest since 1947 and British women are feeling the pinch in more ways than one.

Inside the home it's just too bad if they depend on electricity for light, heat and cooking. Many also find they have to leave the hairdresser with hair still wet.
The electric driers have been cut -off. Others have left in tears, with their hair in a half-permed tangle.

"It's ruining business," said
Joe Eaton, secretary of the North-West Federation of London Hairdressers. "Appointments are being cancelled wholesale."

Highway Is Good,

Frank Calder, MLA for Atlin, speaking of the gradual development of motor traffic on the Alaska Highway, said it contintial lines. The road itself keeps in good shape and is an improvement of importance to the whole northland.

Divorce Campaign Costs Friendship

LONDON.—Lord Mancroft, bachelor, says that if you want to do a lot of good try to reform the divorce laws here—but it may cost you some friendships.
The 36-year-old peer is going slow in his campaign to reform Britain's divorce laws because he is losing friends and failing to influence people.

"When I bring up the subject of divorce among friends, the room is split into two camps," he told the Authors' Club. "There is a great division and it's all my fault. Now I don't bring it up very often."

Mancroft introduced a bill for divorce reform last year but it made little headway. One of his chief aims was to abolish the law which prevents a divorced man from marrying his wife's sister—a ruling, he said, causing much hardship and immorality.

Telephone Purchases

Purchase of cable for the telephone reconstruction program for 1951 was approved at a cost of $21,000 by the city council Monday night. Recommendation to purchase was part of the report of the utilities committee.

Also approved by the meeting were purchases of new ringers and cords for an approximate expenditure of $3000, calling of tenders for the purchase of a new one-ton panel truck to replace the one now in use, and the re-opening of negotiations with Northwest Telephone Company and the Dominion government telephone and telegraph department in an attempt to obtain a more equitable distribution of long distance toll charges.

In support of the recommendation to purchase the year's supply of wire now, Ald. H. M. Daggett said it would take some time for the order to be filled and that there should be sufficient money in the fund by that time to cover payment on delivery. The wire was required, he said, to carry on with the five-year plan adopted two years ago.

Ald. George Casey said the telephone superintendent had suggested two weeks ago that, by an extension to the present board and the hiring of extra operators, more lines might be made available. He asked if any consideration had been given that aspect.

Telephone Superintendent Jack Edwards, when asked to speak, said the extension would go ahead. The materials were now on hand for making repairs through a switchboard that had been purchased from West Summerland. It was half completed now, he said. Regarding new cords, Mr. Edwards said the ones presently in use had been repaired so many times they were too short and had to be replaced. It was also better to get the cable in now to forestall shortages.

Ald. Casey asked again if the Genoa, Lake Como in Northern Italy and Venice. The fish market in Venice they described as something to see. Everything that came out of the sea reached the dinner table, they said. The people dressed well as a rule, particularly the more wealthy. The men in cities were more conservative than in this country and always wore ties. They were impressed with the naturalness and ease of actions of the people of Europe as compared with people on this continent.

Their fluent knowledge of the Italian language stood them in good stead. The little French they knew also came in handy and they learned a great deal more while in the country.

Although most people in Italy seemed to be pretty well off, they said, there were many who asked them for help in getting to this country. Money in use in Italy was practically all of Italian issue. There was very little of the occupation money still in use. They are also minting coins again, a practice that was discontinued for a long time.

When they returned to Milan, they received notice their luggage was in Switzerland. They retrieved it and boarded a plane at Milan for London. They sailed from Liverpool to Halifax, went by train from Halifax to Windsor and had another visit there. While in Windsor they went through the Ford plant, which they found interesting.

Both agreed they liked seeing Europe but neither would like to live there.

Among changes that struck them on returning to Prince Rupert were progress on the new schools, changes in traffic regulations and the new liquor store.

extension to the switchboard and additional operators would allow extra telephones on the circuit.

MORE EFFICIENCY

Mr. Edwards replied that, with the addition of two or three more operators and the extension, another 20 lines would be made available. Pay phones were scattered all over the boards and with the extension they could be segregated, allowing one operator to look after them. He explained that waiting for customers to find and deposit coins caused a large time loss and that centralizing them on one board would allow the other operators to handle more traffic.

Ald. T. B. Black said he thought the operators had been complaining that the boards were overloaded. He did not understand the extension was to allow more telephones.

Mr. Edwards answered that the extension would take care of the overload and allow for extra lines also. In response to Ald. Black's question regarding the need to scrap the new ringers if the system were changed, he said the new ringers would not be obsolete and would be suitable for a dial system.

The report was approved after Ald. Black was assured the purchases recommended would be included in the estimates.

Rushbrook Hts. Improvements

The board of works committee recommended to the city council Monday night that the whole question of improvements in Rushbrook Heights be reconsidered. This was deemed advisable because no petition had been received from residents of Piggot Avenue. Other streets in the area had entered petitions asking that work be done. Permission to borrow the necessary money was dependent upon receipt of the petitions.

Ald. George Casey said the committee had not been able to get the support of the Piggot Avenue citizens. In some respects he agreed with their objections. He thought the city should reconsider the matter. He mentioned the $5 annual sewer rental those residents were paying and said it was not paid in other sections of the city. They were now being asked for another $20 a year to get roads, water and sewer. Other sections of the city, he continued, had the city look after the water mains. In any case, he said, without the Piggot Avenue residents, there are not sufficient petitioners to carry through the projects.

Several aldermen said residents of other parts of the city were paying sewer rental and that there were very few parts where such rental was not paid.

Ald. H. M. Daggett said that, in a case like the one under consideration, where certain improvements were required but citizens would not petition for them, the council could proceed on initiative. Then it was up to the taxpayer to petition against it. In the present instance, he continued, if the council felt the work was vitally necessary, the council should proceed on its

Alertness Vital With Big Ship

NEW YORK (P)—Capt. George B. Young of Bergenfield, N.J., has one inflexible rule: when he has a date with a "Queen" he gets to bed early the night before.

As a docking pilot with a big tugboat firm, he has regular dates twice a month with the two biggest queens in the world, the liners Queen Elizabeth and Queen Mary. He is entrusted with bringing the big ships into their berths in the Hudson River and of course must be completely awake when he's on the bridge.

Young, who has had his first class pilot's licence since he was 21 and has been a docking pilot for 15 years, boards the queens near Battery Place at the lower end of Manhattan Island, relieving the harbor pilot who has brought the ship in from Ambrose Light.

"Make sure you say that the ship's master is always in charge," he says. "He doesn't turn that queen over to us until he's confident we know how to handle her."

The world's biggest liners are coaxed into their docks with a whistle. Young's signals from the bridge have to be picked up by a sailor and relayed to tugs on the starboard bow. Stern tugs, far out of reach of the whistle, get their signals from the ship's mighty air horn. Tug pilots repeat the signals following them so there will be no mistakes.

CAREFULLY CALCULATED

Everything is figured in advance—wind, tides, weight of the ship, the number of tugs needed, the pilots who handle the tugs.

"I consider the pilots as much as I do the tugs—they really know their business," says Young. Young's business is varied. One Sunday he docked the 80,000-ton Queen Elizabeth. The next day it was a 4,000-ton banana boat.

All jobs the same to him but he considers his toughest was when he put the big Dutch liner Nieuw Amsterdam into dry dock in Erie Basin in 1946.

"A very tough job," he recalls. "She had clearance of only 50 feet and when she swung in that dropped to 25 feet. There was no room to play. We warped her in, though, and when the gates were dropped the Nieuw Amsterdam's stern stuck out over the gate. That's how tight she was.

Britain Having More Bankrupts

LONDON (P)—Business is picking up, said officials of "Heartbreak House," nickname for a London government office dealing with Britain's bankrupts.

Operated under the supervision of the Board of Trade, the office recorded approximately 2,000 failures in 1950, compared with 207 in 1945.

Analysis of the 1949 total of 1,419 bankrupts, showed some surprises. Notwithstanding food rationing, only four butchers went bankrupt that year, compared with 78 in 1939. Failures of initiative with the plan. But he suggested they go into the water question again and also street costs. After the full report was brought in, it might be possible to eliminate the extra tax for water.

City Clerk H. D. Thain said Deputy Minister of Municipal Affairs B. C. Bracewell had advised against proceeding on initiative. The council had consent everywhere except on Piggot Avenue. It might be possible to proceed elsewhere at the request of the taxpayers and on Piggot on initiative.

Ald. Casey said in the matter of laying mains the people there should be treated as they were elsewhere in the city. It was up to the city to get the water to the property line and then it was the householder's worry about getting it to his house.

The question was referred to the board of works in conjunction with the city engineer.

building concerns, however, tallied 143 despite the urgent demand for new homes and repair of war-damaged property.

Higher running costs and pubs and hotels owned by brewers, shared a similar fate.

It may be a sign of the times, said an official. "Only one rag-tightening purse strings blamed for the bankruptcy of pubs and hotels. This figure, however, is confined to private owned concerns. None of and-bone man filed a petition in 1949 and we haven't had a partner through our hands since 1937."
