CCF Almost Wiped Out in Ontario Vote

TORONTO.—Premier Leslie M. Frost and his Progressive Conservative government were swept back into office in the Ontario general election yesterday with a landslide victory.

The triumph for the government meant disaster for the CCF.

The Liberals also lost ground. The government, which had 53 seats in the last Legislature, won 79 seats yesterday.

The CCF, which was the official opposition before the election with 21 seats, now has only two.

The Liberals had 11 seats before and now have seven but will be the official opposition in the next house.

The Conservatives received 49 per cent of the popular vote. In the 1949 election they had 41 per cent.

Premier Frost and all the members of his cabinet were re-elected.

E. B. Jolliffe, CCF leader, lost his seat in York South. He may seek a recount.

The Progressive Conservatives won 18 seats from the CCF, 11 of these in the metropolitan area of Toronto where it had been thought the Socialist party might run strong.

Walter Thompson, the Liberal leader, was also defeated, coming third in the riding where he had sought election.

The government had promised "continued good government" with conservation of natural resources.

The Liberals had campaigned for increased social services and lower taxes.

The CCF had advocated a health insurance scheme like that in the province of Saskatchewan.

All women candidates were defeated including the veteran Miss Agnes McPhail.

The new standing of parties in the Legislature is as follows: Progressive Conservatives 79
Liberals 7
CCF 2
Liberal-Labor 1

Gas Found In Second Wildcat

VICTORIA.—More optimistic reports flowed in Thursday from oil researchers in British Columbia's Peace River country.

A report to the Department of Lands said that a second Fort St. John "wild cat" has found gas.

It said the Peace River Allied Fort St. John No. 2, in its fourteenth drill stem test, recovered 130 feet of "slightly sulphurous gassy mud" in an interval between 3,931 and 3,972 feet.

The hole is not far from Fort St. John No. 1 which struck British Columbia's first oil November 1 at about 5,655 feet.

D. T. B. Williams, oil and gas controller, said the finding of gas does not necessarily mean the wild cat will hit oil.

"But," he said, "it's a pretty good indication that there is oil nearby."

Invasion Of Canada By Russia From North Seen

Peace by Christmas

Korean Negotiators Agree on Thorny Buffer Zone Issue

MUNSAN, Korea.—Truce in Korea by Christmas became a possibility today as negotiators reached agreement on the first section of an armistice, the thorny buffer zone issue.

If agreement is approved, as is expected, by full truce delegations, the negotiators will have thirty days in which to solve their tough problems—supervision of armistice, exchange of war prisoners and recommendations to belligerent governments.

The fighting will continue in the war, now seventeen months old, until all these points are settled.

Progress at Fish Parley

TOKYO.—Fisheries Minister Robert W. Mayhew of Canada told the current three-power fisheries conference today that he would have to return home because the Canadian Parliament is in session.

The sub-committee on principles and drafting asked for another day to complete its report and another meeting was scheduled for Saturday.

Other progress was reported in sessions of the conference attended by the United States, Canada and Japan. It seeks to set up agreement on North Pacific fisheries rights.

Mr. Mayhew has been accompanied by the conference by E. T. Applewhite, MP for Skeena.

Impact of Third World War Would Come Here

OTTAWA (CP)—Senator John T. Haig, Progressive Conservative leader, told the Senate Thursday that, if a third world war comes, Russia will invade Canada from the north.

"There is no doubt about that," Haig said.

If this happened Canada would see great forces of United States arms and men based within her borders and she should be prepared to accord United States troops rights and privileges.

Opposition leader was speaking on a government measure to implement agreement about 12 nations of the North Atlantic Treaty for reciprocal treatment of their forces when stationed in territory of one or another of the signatory countries.

The Senate gave the measure second reading and sent it to committee for further study.

Korean Troops Get Gratuity

OTTAWA.—Canadian troops serving in the Far East will get war service gratuities similar to those paid Canadian servicemen in the second world war, the Army announced today.

B of M Warns Of Inflation

MONTREAL.—The Bank of Montreal warned Thursday that defence spending and industrial growth are signs that the pressure of inflation may increase.

The Bank's monthly review also says that the average citizen may find the cost of financing the new no-means-test system of old age pensions more costly than thought at first glance.

Direct spending for rearmament and "the equally important demands of a vigorous and growing program of resource development" will be felt in the economy at the same time.

Ex-Alderman Black Dies

Resident of more than forty years standing and former city alderman, James Black passed away early this morning at the Prince Rupert General Hospital. He had been in the hospital for a week suffering from a severe cold but it was cerebral hemorrhage which brought death suddenly. Mr. Black was the father of Ald. Thomas B. Black, general manager of the Northern B.C. Power Co.

Born seventy-nine years ago last month in Muirhead, Lanarkshire, Scotland, Mr. Black was an engineer at Western Glasgow Infirmary before leaving the Old Country in 1910 direct for Prince Rupert. He was an engineer at the old city steam generating plant at Cow Bay and, when the Shawatlans Lake plant was started, he was the first engineer there. Later he became identified with the mechanical department of the Canadian National Railways here until his retirement fourteen years ago.

After retirement, Mr. Black continued residence at the old family home on Alfred Street until about five years ago, since which time he had resided with his son on Atlin Avenue, Westview. He had been afflicted with failing eyesight for some years.

Mr. Black's wife, Mrs. Margaret Black, died eleven years ago.

In addition to the son here, surviving relatives include three brothers—Archie in Vancouver, William in Dumfermline, Scotland, and David in Manchester, England.

Mr. Black was a member of Tsimpean Lodge A.F. & A.M. and was prominent in union affairs during his active days. He was a Presbyterian.

The funeral takes place Sunday afternoon from First Presbyterian Church.

Union steamer Chilcotin, Capt. James Hunter, which got behind here last week on account of rough weather on her Queen Charlotte Island crossing, was late in leaving Vancouver and is due here at 1:30 tomorrow morning from the south via Kamano. The vessel will leave later in the morning on her regular voyage to Masset.

S. Plane Over Vladivostok

Protest by Moscow—U.S. Announces Loss

WASHINGTON, D.C. (CP)—Russia has protested to the United States that an American plane had crossed the Siberian border by flying over the naval port of Vladivostok.

A spokesman from Moscow said the plane was fired on by Soviet aircraft.

Washington today the United States Navy announced that one of its planes had been shot down with the crew missing.

It was learned today and explained a Moscow press statement of the decoration of Soviet Navy fliers for outstanding performance in the duties.

Circumstances paralleled that given a Soviet flier who down an American Navy bomber plane early last year.

To Investigate Red Complaint

PARIS.—Russia today filed a formal complaint with the United Nations, charging the United States with financing armed groups on her territory aimed at overthrowing Prime Minister Stalin's government.

The Soviet Union last night asked the General Assembly to look into charges that the United States Mutual Security Act was intended to foster subversive acts in Communist countries.

The note to the United Nations followed a similar communication to the United States government Tuesday. The United States Department of States dismissed the protest as "groundless propaganda."

S. Plane Not Down

Report of Diplomatic Staff Reported Safe

Sofia, Bulgaria

GRADE, Yugoslavia.—A passenger, arriving in Vienna from Bucharest Thursday, said that an unarmed United States Air Force transport plane, carrying more than 72 hours of diplomatic cargo, had been down in Communist-ruled territory along the Yugoslav border.

The passenger's report said its crew of four had been injured but were alive and held by Romanian authorities.

The report was not immediately confirmed but it was carried through diplomatic channels for check by anyone but identified.

Spectators of Fire Injured

TORONTO.—Between 50 and 100 persons were injured Thursday when an explosion of plastic materials shattered a window as they watched firemen fight a blaze at Tilly's Dress Shop.

The injured suffered cuts.

Three firemen and five others were taken to hospital.

Pioneer District Fisherman Dies

A pioneer fisherman of Victoria Cove, John Graham, 71, died yesterday in Prince Rupert General Hospital. He was single.

Born in Scotland, Mr. Graham had been in the district 30 years, most of the time fishing. He had no relatives here.

Funeral arrangements, in charge of B.C. Undertakers, will be announced.

Who Will Supply Power?

Following is another of a series of articles designed to help the Daily News readers a better understanding of what is being voted for when they face the city-held plebiscite tomorrow: Are you in favor of asking B.C. Power Commission to supply electric energy to this area? These articles will set out the views of Northern B.C. Power Company Ltd., of Prince Rupert, and facts about the Commission.

Mayor of Prince Rupert and now alderman of the utilities committee, Harry M. Daggett, firmly believed that the B. C. Power Commission would give Prince Rupert "the best power deal yet."

To support his claim, he has investigated other areas where utilities are operated by the public in other parts of the province and "I'm sure we will get a better deal from them."

"There is no doubt in my mind that the power company here has let us down. I think a lot of people feel that way and I believe they should have a chance to express their opinions."

Meanwhile, said Ald. Daggett in an interview with the Daily News, objections that a referendum be held now instead of after the results of the recent Public Utilities Commission inquiry are unfounded.

"The franchise of the company expires in two years. It's only fair to both the Commission and the power company to give them two years' notice if the people want the Commission. And that's what we want to find out with this referendum."

"Of course," adds Ald. Daggett, "in the final stage we will have to have a plebiscite to give the Commission authority to take over supplying power here."

Should the Commission's initial rates be even higher than now charged by the company, "I'd still be in favor of the Commission."

"The past record shows that the Commission works hard to reduce rates."

Mayor H. F. Glassey did not add to Ald. Daggett's remarks but supported all of them, maintaining that "we certainly should have an expression of opinion at this time."

Accidents In Quebec

MONTREAL (CP)—Accidents took a heavy toll in Quebec today.

Six members of the Royal Canadian Air Force were killed when an aircraft crashed about 15 miles from St. Hubert airport. Names of the victims were not immediately released.

At Val Morin four workers were killed and 14 were injured when a truck in which they were riding skidded off the highway.

Near Sherbrooke one man was killed and two injured when a two-engine CPR freight train left the rails. One engine exploded.

Winnie to Sail On Queen Mary

LONDON.—Prime Minister Winston Churchill will make his trip across the Atlantic for a visit to the United States and Canada aboard the liner Queen Mary, leaving England December 29, an official announcement said Thursday night.

Large Agenda For Next Municipal Election Here

When Prince Rupert citizens go to the polls next December 13 in the annual civic election they will vote on one of the largest agendas in this city's history. It includes three referendums and a money bylaw passed at a special meeting of city council last night.

A mayor will have to be elected as well as at least four aldermen. Two-year terms have expired for Ald. T. B. Black, George Casey and Don Fitch. Ald. Mike Krueger's three-month term, voted in during September by-election, expires next month.

Ald. Harold Whalen has signified his intention of running for mayor and Ald. H. M. Daggett says he is considering such a move. This could mean election of two more aldermen.

Mayor H. F. Glassey, elected at the by-election, says he will run again.

Nomination day is December 6.

Three referendums are as follows:

- 1—Asking for a tax levy of one mill each year for five years to be spent solely for improvements to Fairview Cemetery.
- 2—Requesting people's authority for the city to enter negotiations to obtain a new municipal-owned automatic telephone system.
- 3—Asking approval that the B. C. Power Commission supply power for this area. (Northern B. C. Power Company's franchise expires March, 1954.)

The money bylaw will ask the people to approve spending $100,000 for reconstruction of existing water mains and for repairs to the city reservoir.

PARKS AND SCHOOL BOARDS

Three park commissioners will have to be elected, one to replace Ald. George Casey, whose term expires, and two more to be added to the present three-man commission, authorized by a recent bylaw. Commissioners

Korean War For Canada

Means Security For This Country, Returning Church Head Says

VANCOUVER.—People of Canada are not fully aware of what fighting in Korea means to their own future security, Rev. Norman D. Kennedy, moderator of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, said Thursday night.

"It is our own security as much as a case of United Nations ideals," Dr. Kennedy said in commenting on his tour of the war zone.

Dr. Kennedy arrived from Japan aboard a plane which carried 22 Canadian soldiers, the eighth plane to bring Canadian fighting men home for paratroop duty.

Vancouver Fog Holds Flights

Heavy fog which enveloped Vancouver until late this morning again delayed air service to and from Prince Rupert as it did yesterday.

The regular flight from the south, which had not been able to land at Vancouver last night because of the fog, left Abbotsford at 10 o'clock this morning. The connecting flight from here to Sandspit left at 2 p.m. today and should be back about 4 o'clock.

The fog also delayed the departure of a new Landseair amphibian on its inaugural flight from Vancouver and it is expected to reach here shortly after 3 o'clock this afternoon. A fan flight, which was to have been held here this afternoon for a representative local party, is cancelled, and the new plane will be held overnight before returning to Vancouver in the morning.

An Egyptian delegate, Fouad El Pharaony, had attacked France in committee meeting for refusing to give Morocco its independence.

The French delegation walked out after insisting that the committee has the right to discuss political matters.

Threatens All Out War

Vanderberg Hints at Operations Beyond Yalu

WASHINGTON, D.C. (CP)—General Hoyt S. Vandenberg intimated Thursday night that the United States may decide to fight an all-out air war in Korea if the present truce negotiations fail.

"Air power has not been really utilized in Korea," the Air Force chief of staff said during an interview.

"Outcome of the present truce negotiations holds the key to whether we will continue to fight a war of half-way measures in Korea, a war which, at present, halts our air power at the Yalu River and gives the enemy sanctuary in Manchuria."

Acquitted of Manslaughter

VERNON.—Abraham Dreidiger, 22-year-old Aldergrove youth was acquitted of manslaughter Thursday in the traffic death of his fiancée.

Dreidiger's car left the highway July 6 between Penticton and Princeton, resulting in the death of Anne Heppner of Aldergrove.

The youth, in a statement to police, said he "must have dozed off at the wheel."

Ontario Election

THERE is little surprising about the result of the provincial election in Ontario unless it might be the size of the landslide re-mandate of the Progressive Conservative government.

Premier Frost and his colleagues have been giving good sound government. The province has been prosperous and progressing and the people have had little to complain about.

No major issues were involved. The people expressed their satisfaction with the record and saw no reason to take chances with the promises of Liberals and CCF of more paternal legislation and lower taxes.

The result, from a general view, shows a continuation of trend in Canada from left towards the right. It was a great triumph for the Conservatives and a disaster for the CCF who even lost the official opposition to the Liberals.

Clean-up Needed

WE HEARTILY AGREE with the protest that was made in the House of Commons this week at the profanity which has been occurring in some of the recent plays broadcast on the CBC programs.

We have been struck ourselves with demoralizing emissions which have been coming in some of these broadcasts.

Certainly, we have found it difficult to find anything educational, elevating or even enlightening in a number of these plays.

But, since the CBC chairman himself has admitted some faults along these lines, it is to be anticipated that they will be cleaned up in short order.

LETTERBOX

LIKED EDITORIAL Editor. Daily News: After reading the splendid article in the November 13 edition of The Daily News (Killing Christmas) I was compelled to write and congratulate you on printing such a true picture of the terrible desecration of what was and still should be the most glorious and wonderful day that this old earth has ever seen or ever will see until that even more wonderful day when He, the Babe of Bethlehem, who is now seated in glory at the Father's right hand, comes again into reign on the earth for (This same Jesus, shall so come in like manner as you have seen Him go into Heaven.—Acts I:11.)

Thank God born-again Christians everywhere have no part in but rather loath the disgusting habits of drunkness and all the faith and depravity that goes with it and, as a rule, send Scripture cards to each other but we could no doubt make better use of the money we spend on presents by giving it to true missionary endeavor that the millions who are crying out for the Gospel.

God, the Human Soul, cannot find rest and when that Rest is found there is no need to look for satisfaction in the sinful and foolish, and empty things of the world.

In short all these things befuddle the mind, destroy the body and go a long way to damning the soul, whereas he or she who accepts the Salvation of the Lord Jesus Christ finds life and that more abundantly as Christ promises and simply does not need to seek for satisfaction in sin.

As for merchants making such a wonderful job of commercializing, they too will come under the condemnation of God for the Word says: "Defraud not one another," and let them read also James 5. For example I saw on more than one occasion last Christmas season merchants decorating the Christmas tree in their store on the Lord's Day, and how that could glorify the One who came to fulfil the law I fail to see.

If anyone wants to really glorify the Lord Jesus Christ at

This Christmas time I say in all sincerity Come to Him as a sinner and accept the Salvation that He purchased for you in His agony on the Cross. For He says: "Him that cometh unto me I will in no wise cast out." If all found the only and true joy that Christmas brings, the beer parlors would remain closed and the liquor store would soon have to close. The people and the country would carry on and be a thousand times better off financially as well as every other way. Believe me, I would not want to be in either the manufacture of the power that advocates the sale of the accursed stuff at the judgment bar of God before which all who die in their sins will stand one day, for again the Word says: "They that know to do right and do it not shall be beaten with many stripes."

GOOD OLD ROOT Speaking of beer, or the lack of it, we can recall a boyhood beverage, the delight of many a Christian home. The drink was made on the premises. It was called root beer, had a gentle kick and deserved whatever praise came its way.

SHOULD MISS FEWER In ten years, the population of British Columbia grew from 817,861 to 1,153,059. When most of them dwell, and are born down around the mouth of the Fraser River, and Victoria, they are much easier to count.

You cannot go by looks — the fellow may be two-faced.

JOBLESS Unemployment insurance in Vancouver is not becoming any less, say recent visitors south. People are laid off—some perhaps indefinitely—others are just out of a job, and the reason is nobody's business. Anyway, winter is here, and in a few weeks so will Christmas.

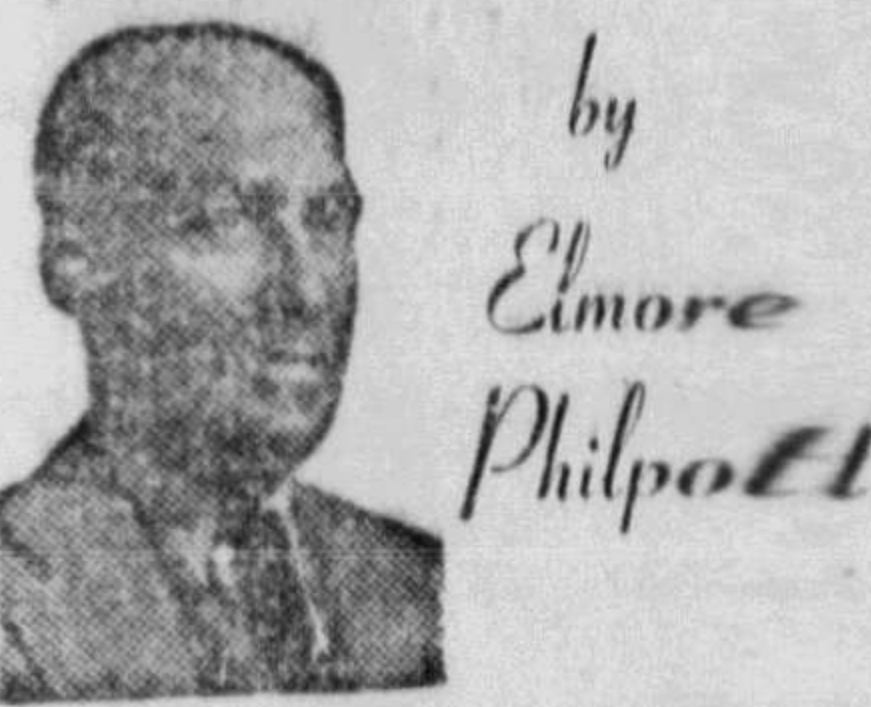

The main fact having become established that oil is there, Fort St. John may just as well remain undisturbed. The first frenzy has passed—and now its approaching zero season and Yuletide. Time for real action after the New Year.

As I See It

Some New Books

HERE ARE some comments on new books I have recently read.

ANGRY RIVER, by Dickson Reynolds of Vancouver, is a lively story for teenagers. It is based on the recent Fraser River flood and is in Mrs. Reynolds' best style. There is a mystery in it—what did Kwong have hidden in his cabin, which no one could enter till the flood came? (Nelson's, $2.50.)

CALL IT TREASON, by George Howe. This is an inexpensive paper covered pocket book. It is the best thriller-diller I have read for many a moon. It is obviously true life stuff and deals with the exploits of the "converted" German war prisoners who consented to spy, in man uniform, behind the man lines, for the U.S. Army.

MR. SMITH is by Louis Bromfield, but far from his best. A post mortem confession by an American business man for whom war was an escape from the "successful" status in which he was imprisoned. (Harper's, $3.)

MOSES, by Sholem Asch, is published by Thomas Allen and sells for $4. It expands on the familiar Bible story of Moses and how he created a nation out of the rabble of slaves whom he led out of Egypt.

This book is not in the super class as the same author's ARINE. But it does clarify some of the stories which are hard to understand as you get them right from the Bible and without any historical background.

For instance, the laws of Moses which now seem to us of such extreme severity had to be severe to strike at the conditions which kept human beings on a moral plane hardly above that of animals. Humans not only had sex relations on a basis of what our law calls incest—

Flying freight elevator

"Open air" elevator service would amaze most folks, but at Alcan's British Columbia project it's just part of the job. At Kemano helicopters are the elevators which lift men to work each day to perches atop 1000 foot cliffs. Men, tents, drill rigs, cigarettes, laundry and all the many items of camp life are delivered in a matter of minutes to ledges which could not be reached in hours, even days, of climbing.

Already 36,000 helicopter miles—mostly vertical—have been flown. That's just one of the answers to a construction problem that will eventually step up Canada's aluminum output by a billion pounds a year. Aluminum Company of Canada, Ltd. (Alcan).

that is, parents with children—but even with animals. Many of the religions of idol worship were connected with organized human debauchery. Hence Moses had to be tough—and the book shows how tough he could be.

Reading this book reminded me of the account of Caesar's findings in Britain. When I was a high school boy we all had to translate that little book beginning: "All Gaul is divided into three parts."

It interests me now to note that the sex habits of the backward people of Britain were just about the same as those in Egypt two thousand years earlier when Moses led out the slaves.

If we could miraculously be transported back to those ancient times we would be revolted to our very souls at the habits and ideas which then existed. The whole history of man is one of increasing consciousness.

Today the customs that prevailed 4000 years ago seem revolting. But a century ago slavery was still upheld, even in one of the most enlightened nations on earth. A century or two from now people will wonder why we backward 1951 humans tolerated war for as long as we did.

THE LATEST volume in the Churchill series on Hitler's war is CLOSING THE RING ($6.50). The most interesting revelation in the book, to me, was that Mr. Churchill—and not Stalin—was the author of the plan to shift the entire Polish nation west, at Germany's expense.

The most fascinating chapter is on the Tehran conference and how Mr. Churchill was out-

They are from all parts of the city. People who were missed are being asked to communicate the omission with as little delay as possible so that basis may be established for the contention that there was such a serious short count.

Guests were received by Municipal Regent Mrs. Withers.

The tea room was in charge of Mrs. C. G. Ham.

The tea table was covered with a beautiful embroidered linen cloth on which was centered a lovely bouquet of white chrysanthemums and red carnations flanked by white tapers.

Each small tea table was gay with a red paper carnation.

Pouring were the members of longest standing in each chapter—Mrs. J. A. Teng (Queen Mary Chapter), Mrs. B. Wilson (Cambrai Chapter), Mrs. J. Ewart (Duchess of Edinburgh Chapter), and Miss Barbara Teng (HMCS Haida Chapter).

Servitors were Mrs. A. C. Gillis, Mrs. F. Hicks, Mrs. D. Black, Mrs. F. De Blass and Mrs. A. Johnson.

Preparing the tea were Mrs. J. A. McRae, Mrs. M. J. Keays, Mrs. W. J. Lineham, Mrs. M. Stewart and Mrs. S. A. Keilback. Cashier for the afternoon was Mrs. J. Risdale.

A lovely and varied array of gift suggestions was presented for the Christmas shoppers.

MANY STALLS

In charge of the stall featuring aprons and children's wear were Mrs. M. W. Gormely, Mrs. G. P. Lyons and Mrs. G. W. Charlton.

The embroidery and knitted goods were in charge of Mrs. J. Stewart, Mrs. M. Houghton, Mrs. J. R. Carr and Mrs. E. Burton.

Novelties and dolls' clothes were presided over by Mrs. James and Mrs. A. A. Miller, and a "white elephant" stall by Mrs. C. Anderson.

A fish pond was in charge of Mrs. W. E. Halliwell and Mrs. A. Duncan.

A stall at which children could purchase their own refreshments was in charge of Miss Iona Hardy and Miss Shari Beth Ingalls.

Presiding at the home cooking booth were Mrs. H. Breen, Mrs. A. Slater and Mrs. J. Wolstenholme.

In charge of raffles were Mrs. L. Griffiths, Mrs. F. Wilson, Mrs. P. Forman and Miss Vivian Wrathall.

RAFFLE PRIZES

At the close of the afternoon a drawing was held for raffle prizes.

Pulp Lectures Started Here

Lectures on pulp and paper making, sponsored by Columbia Cellulose Co. Ltd., began Tuesday night at Booth Memorial High School, 60 persons attending. R. L. Johnson, in charge of the company's woods department, delivered the lecture on woodland operations.

Twenty of those attending were others than company employees, said Ran Doswell, personnel manager.

Next Tuesday's lecture, again by Mr. Johnson, will cover transportation in woods operations. Lectures are about an hour in length, followed by a question period.

"Interest was spontaneous and there is every indication that this plan will be well received," said Mr. Doswell.

The Daily News will publish a condensation of each of the lectures, first one to appear in tomorrow's edition.

He is visiting his parents here, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Moore, 421 Fourth Avenue West. Cpl. Moore has been in the active U.S. Army for little more than a year.

Canucks Overseas Find Famous Song Becomes New Link

By DOUG HOW
Canadian Press Staff Writer

HANNOVER, Germany (CP)—Lill Marlene is still haunting the hearts of soldiers. She is proving more than a successor to the durable siren of another era, the Mademoiselle from Armentieres.

For this sweetheart of song of the Second World War not only is as bewitching, as tormenting as ever, but she has become a force for reconstruction.

She is a sort of cross between diplomat and nurse of the spirit. She helps heal the wounds and bridge the gaps left by the war, between the Germans who discovered her and the Allies who came later but not less devotedly to her shrine.

She descends nightly, for instance, upon the steamship Canberra which is shuttling across the Atlantic to bring shiploads of Canadian 27th Infantry Brigade soldiers to Europe. Aboard, she receives the joint homage and fealty of former enemies.

Germans in the Canberra's crew and the Canadian soldiers who are her passengers have found that the war, rather than perpetuating their differences, provides a common denominator.

Health Stamps Allow Holiday For Needy Child

By J. J. GRAHAM
Canadian Press Correspondent

AUCKLAND, N.Z. (CP)—For several months in every year most New Zealanders voluntarily pay 50 per cent extra postage in order to give poor children a holiday at a health camp.

With the summer season now starting here, they buy health stamps which are on sale alongside normal stamps, costing half the regular price. The receipts from the health stamps go to maintain a chain of camps for children at beaches and holiday resorts throughout the country.

This year's target from the health stamp campaign is $330,000. The stamps are issued by the government and are on sale at all post offices. The design is different each year and the attractive appearance of the stamps has made them popular with philatelists throughout the world.

Some of the early issues in the years after the system was begun 22 years ago now are very valuable. A recent one was the first stamp bearing portraits of Princess Elizabeth with her son. This year's stamps show the yacht "Health" with a smiling boy at the helm against a typical New Zealand coastal scene.

Six of the camps are maintained all the year round, while others operate in the summer months. Children from poor homes and those run down in health are selected for holidays of several weeks at the camps. Some have schools attached, so that the children do not miss lessons during the school year.

The stamps come on sale at the beginning of November and remain available until the year's issue is sold. Many districts show great enthusiasm in filling their quota and some towns often buy up the whole local supply in a few days.

WORTHING, England (CP)—Sidney Jones, 56, has worn a spinal frame for 25 years but keeps active. He works for a building firm, plays chess and is a keen stamp collector.

CANTERBURY, England (CP)—The famous Canterbury Cathedral was the centre-piece of a mock air raid in connection with military exercises. Red searchlights gave the effect of flames.

tor for conversation, for recollections, for swapping of experiences. Of all the bonds across the bitter years, Lill Marlene is the most subtle, the most pervasive.

NOBODY JEALOUS
Germans and Canadians share Lill without jealousy or hesitation and, indeed, take mutual pleasure in her charms. There are a number of veterans of Rommel's Afrika Korps among the more than 100 Germans in the crew. They seem content to have their Lill wooed in song by young Canadians many of whom were 10-year-old schoolboys when Lill was sung at El Alamein.

One of these Germans, a blond former NCO, plays the cello in the ship's four-piece orchestra. No other song runs through the ship as often as this soft, haunting tune about the girl who waits for her soldier underneath the lamplight beside the barracks gate.

The Germans play the music, the soldiers sing and Lill steals aboard, a tender, mystic wraith. As the music of her mystery spreads, men pick it up and hum or sing it in English or German. Some of them just look out across the sea or stare into the ceiling and let the gentle Lill murmur in their blood.

For, with all her new and broadened achievements, Lill remains strongly personal.

POLICEMEN TOO TOUGH

BELGRADE (Reuters)—Belgrade citizens are complaining against the liberal use of nightsticks by local policemen who were recently issued with sticks instead of pistols as part of Marshal Tito's policy of "democratization."

WITLEY, England (CP)—Spectators at a plowing match figured the 13-year-old boy who took second place must have had a good teacher. The boy turned out to be the son of the winner, who had been champion for four years.

Ten Straight For Wings

Chicago Black Hawks went into a tie with the New York Rangers for last place in the National Hockey League by whipping the Montreal Canadiens 5 to 1 Wednesday night.

Detroit Red Wings rang their unbeaten streak to ten straight by squeezing out the New York Rangers 2 to 1 in the circuit's other contest.

Jimmy McFadden scored two goals within less than ten minutes of the first period to give the Hawks a lead they never lost.

Montreal escaped a shut-out at 119:38 in the first period when Elmer Lach, on assists by Maurice Richard and Doug Harvey, scored as Bep Guidolin of the Hawks sat out a penalty.

Best Potatoes For Interior

Numerous varieties of potatoes have been tested at the Dominion Experimental Station, Prince George, since 1945, and three varieties carried throughout these tests have shown superiority for different purposes and conditions in Central British Columbia. Naturally earliness must always be considered at most interior points. Yield, grade and cooking quality are the other main requirements.

Green Mountain has proved best for main crop on clay soil, and normally produces good yields of smooth tubers which cook into a white dry product. Scab is seldom a problem on clay soil and this variety is usually free of this disease. In good storage the potatoes will keep until the new crop is ready for use.

Warba is recommended for early harvest and will produce good yields two or three weeks earlier than Green Mountain. Froment eyes and general rough shape are the main drawbacks to this variety. The tubers are white with pink eyes, although these cause no discoloration in the flesh. This variety cooks into a white dry product and keeps well in storage.

The Nettle Gem variety is recommended for loamy soil such as is found in the valleys of the interior. Under these conditions Nettle Gem will produce good yields of smooth, high quality potatoes and have some resistance to scab where it is prevalent. This variety is not generally recommended for clay soils, as under such conditions the tubers may be poorly shaped or knobby.

Ootsa Lake Is Unhappy

BURNS LAKE—George Addison, one of the Ootsa Lake delegation who went to Victoria recently to seek redress for the flooding of farms of settlers as a result of the Alcan project, said there were about two-thirds of the people who are not satisfied with the compensation that has been offered.

However, under the Water Act, there is nothing that Alcan can be compelled to do.

Addison said that, as a result of the trip, the cause had been at least brought to the attention of the public. It had also been brought forcibly to the attention of the government that the people who would be inundated are not satisfied.

Cecil Steele, MLA for Omineca, had been very co-operative, Addison said.

The delegation was headed by Cyril Sheford as chairman, and, in addition to Mr. Addison, included Mrs. Sheford, Mrs. P. Felletier and Norman Pratt.

Teachers Turn Cafe Waitresses

VANDERHOOF—With the whole north country humming like a bee hive, travelers are having to take "pot luck" in most of towns and, lacking reservations or friends at nightfall, may have a desolate time.

However, Vanderhoof is doing its best to cope with the situation and is doing fairly well.

Nevertheless, feeding the public is a situation which restaurant operators find almost overwhelming, especially during the week-end when some 400 to 500 Alcan employees storm the town and expect service at all hours.

Vanderhoof teachers have stepped into the breach and are giving assistance in at least one of the town's restaurants.

New Schools For Islands

Separate tenders are being asked for construction of an elementary high school at Masset and a united elementary high school at Skidegate Inlet, Queen Charlotte City. All trades are included in this work. Bids are to close December 31.

Khutzmateen Logger Hurt

A Columbia Cellulose Co. logger was seriously injured early this morning at the company's Khutzmateen logging operations. In Prince Rupert General Hospital in "satisfactory condition" after the lower half of his body was crushed between two heavy machines, is Emil Egli, of Vancouver. He is single.

At the scene of the accident, J. H. McLean, safety inspector of the Workmen's Compensation Board, who flew in on the emergency flight, said Egli was among the men moving a heavy piece of equipment on a flat which held another heavy machine. The injured man got caught between the two machines.

As an unfortunate coincidence, the accident happened on the same day in which Mr. McLean announced that the company's safety record in the woods division was "unparalleled anywhere in B.C."

"I am proud of their record. Their accident frequency rate is only half the average rate for the rest of B.C. industry," said Mr. McLean.

Egli was one of the men recently given a first aid certificate award in the company's drive for more safety in the woods.

Meanwhile, Fred Adames, woods division personnel manager, said today that no fatalities had yet occurred in the company's operations and that even a greater safety drive would begin next year in competitions between camps.

During the last six weeks a first aid instructor for WBC had granted 15 certificates to men working at Columbia Camp (Khutzmateen) and at Terrace.

Vanderhoof Woman Author's Mother

By ANNA IRVING
VANDERHOOF—When congratulating Mrs. Richmond Hobson, sr., of Vanderhoof on the success of her son, Rich., with making with his book "Grass Beyond the Mountains," we reminded her that, when success comes to a man, the world can look to his mother.

Here is a woman of culture and refinement who chooses to be "first lady" in her rambling "Frontier House" rather than live a life of ease in New York with her daughter, Mrs. Hobson, who is a gracious person, speaks the French language fluently. This she acquired while attending private schools in France.

She loves entertaining and the large knotty-pine living room with its cheery fire burning in the grate has been the scene of many rendezvous, which include family and friends and which can be summed up in the familiar words "It is not the multitude of friends, but in their worth and choice." Here lies the secret of her desire to remain in this north country.

With periodic visits to New York to visit her daughter and "young George," her grandson, she finds there is a tangible magnet that draws her westward.

Her two sons live out of Vanderhoof on ranches.

"Frontier House" offers a warm welcome and it is a delightful place to visit where one finds the atmosphere a combination cosmopolitan, cultured and out of the wide open spaces, especially if the boys are around.

George, the younger son, has a flair for writing too and hopes to do some fictional stories. He has many random ideas for plots and when all boiled into a pot something spontaneous could happen.

To be called a writer is a coveted title and when this is held by a member of the family there might be "wasted opportunities" if others do not try their skill, and who knows, George Hobson might also have the "key to success" that his brother found.

Develop New Type Pre-Fab Dwelling

AYR, Ont. ©—Norman Hipel, Ontario Minister of Lands and Forests 10 years ago, has developed a new type of pre-fabricated dwelling which can be erected in a day and costs less than $8,000.

Mr. Hipel had a complete four-room modern cottage built on his farm recently. Everything used in erecting the house was loaded in the morning on trucks at a factory in nearby Preeton. By sundown all that remained to be finished was installation of interior partitions.

Ten men worked on the job. The windows are all sealed and ventilation is supplied through special aluminum vents in the outer walls. Filters are installed to clean the incoming air.

The roof is self-supporting and walls can be erected wherever the owner wishes them. The shape of rooms can be altered at any time the owner wishes to move the partitions.
