Too Valuable to Scrap

If we are to get the work of this country done and especially if we are to do the national defence job now necessary, the services of many older and even retired people will be required. We just haven't the manpower in Canada today or in sight to produce as much as we need if we retire everyone at 60 or 65.

VANCOUVER WEDDING—A charming and happy bride was Miss Dorothy Todd, until recently stewardess on the run between Prince Rupert and Sandspit, as she left Canadian Memorial Church on St. Patrick's Day with her bridegroom, Stuart Furk, well known public accountant of Prince Rupert. After their honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Furk are returning to Prince Rupert to make their home in the Stone Building. Mrs. Norma Reynolds, the matron of honor, is also seen in this picture.

Virginia Davis— Program of High Delight

There may have been more ambitious programs in the many high class musical presentations that Civic Centre enterprise has brought for Prince Rupert's pleasure but none have been more sheerly delightful than that of Virginia Davis, captivating young American soprano, last night before a highly enthusiastic audience. Miss Davis is not only a lovely singer, with pure, sweet soprano voice, capable of facile inflexion into the contralto range, but she is a charming actress. It was as much as an actress as a singer that she shone last night in her "Portraits of Song," a title which was intriguingly exemplified by the vivid personality of this beautiful young woman with her expressive eyes, diminutive grace and ready meaning in every flex and movement. Miss Davis showed, too, remarkable versatility, in quite unusual selections of numbers. First was a miscellaneous group of lighter selections, among which was the Austrian "Lullaby to an Orphan Boy" which was considered by many one of the outstanding pieces of the whole program. Her acting ability was combined with dialectic ability in the two character numbers—"Laird of Cockpen" (Scottish) and "Johnny I Hardly Knew Ye" (Irish). To make things easily understandable, Miss Davis told the stories of her songs in almost every case. In her second group, Miss Davis went into more serious vein, turning to the French, in another series of song stories, culminating in Maurice Ravel's arrangement of the impressive "Kiddish," Hebrew Prayer for the Dead. To the more deeply discriminating this was possibly the finest number of the evening from the vocal and dramatic standpoint. UNUSUAL. Something really unusual was a group of nine little song poems actually written by Third Grade school children and put to music by the artist's mother, Hilda Davis, operatic star. Fourth group was featured by two intriguing folk songs and three Louisiana spirituals. The latter might also have been classed as outstanding program items. As a surprise between third and fourth groups, Miss Davis introduced the mountain courtship song, "Louisiana Dove," while her encores at program's end were "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes" and the rollicking "Arkansas Traveler," which one seldom hears except as a violin jig but which Miss Davis recited vocally with characteristic gesticulation. Thus ended the program on a high note of appreciation. Miss Gwendolyn Williams was a perfect piano accompanist, her

Women of Moose Initiate Four

Four new members were initiated at the regular meeting of the Women of the Moose in the Moose Temple with Mrs. Frank Parlett in the chair and there was a good attendance of men members to witness the open initiation ceremony. Delicious refreshments were served by the social committee headed by Mrs. R. B. Skinner. Dancing and community singing rounded out the evening's proceedings.

Pleasing Piano Violin Recital

Thirty-four music students displayed their talents Wednesday night at a recital in the Civic Centre common lounge. A capacity audience heard children from 7 to 15 play, on violin and piano, compositions ranging from the simple "Oranges and Lemons" to the difficult "Sonnata" by Scarlotti. Piano selections were presented by students of Miss M. A. Way with violin numbers by pupils of Mrs. Charles Anderson. Some of the young artists had taken tuition for less than a year while some were major students with five years' training. G. R. S. Blackaby, speaking after the recital, commended the instructors on their work with the children and noted the "creditable work" of the students. Those participating in the program were: Ronnie Roberts, Marina Potvin, James Logan, Norma Haan, Ella Childs, Donald Baldwin, Elizabeth Jones, Lynn Roberts, Christo Furniotis, Marilyn Anderson, Carol Nelson, June Burdick, Bert Tipton, Gail Redpath, Grace Woods, Richard Forward, Roberta Reid, Brian Roberts, Murray Ross, Robert Jensen, Phyllis Childs, Elaine Christenson, Donald McLeod, Sylvia Heland, Margaret Johnson, W. Blackaby, W. Blackaby, H. Blackaby, George Henry, Murray Ross, Dick Kilborn, June Henry, Robert Jensen. Certificates were also presented at the recital which is an annual event.

Moose Women's Publicity Meet

Tweed, consolation. Present were Mrs. P. Dvornek, Mrs. O. Tweed, Mrs. A. Hamilton, Mrs. J. Taylor, Mrs. C. Matson, Mrs. T. Glenn and Mrs. George Rutherford.

The baby died before arrival at the Prince Rupert General Hospital. Burial was in Fairview Cemetery this afternoon, with the funeral service in Grenville Court Chapel by Rev. L. G. Seiber. Next of kin are the foster parents, and Mr. and Mrs. George Auckland, Comox Avenue, the original parents of the child. Mrs. Lincoln is a sister to Mrs. Auckland.

TRAILING the MELON

—with—
art MURRAY

Tonight as a few hundred of us jam-pack our Civic Centre gym for the provincial finals, there will be those, no doubt, with the thought in mind that somebody is "gonna make a pile 'a dough out 'a this deal," etc. And I believe it's not out of my line to put those sombodies straight on all this money that is to be made.

Prince Rupert, due to its geographical position, is, as usual, called upon to pay through the nose when it comes to visiting competitors and in the annual B. C. finals there is a glaring example of this condition. Every other year we send a team south to some point in B.C. to take part in this competition and receive a pittance when compared with what it costs us to stage the playoffs here. Next season, for instance, it will be a miracle if we can send our reps in quest or in defence of the provincial crown for less than $300 and of that amount around $200 will come from the usual guarantee route.

Tonight, however, we will pay Fentiction $600 for the honor of seeing them in action and will pay the total expenses of a referee from the big city of Vancouver which will run easily over another $100. We will then knock off $100 for gym rental, $100 for advertising and administration, and just about this time who walks in but one Herbert Anscomb when he hears about all this money and he insists upon 5 percent of the gross gate either to help pay for the hospital insurance or to satisfy a craving.

Now, if you have a pencil handy, just figure out what will be left out of the possible $1000 gross and split that up between the local association and the B.C. Amateur Basketball Association—the body that governs tonight's show.

Of course, we could say that we will not pay the $600 when

Joe Davis—He may be called up tonight to stop high-scoring Pentleton ace, Chuck Raitt, in the B.C. Senior "B" basketball finals tonight.

we only receive $200 in return when we travel and what happens? It just means that every other year Prince Rupert will win the B.C. crown by default as no other centre seems to be able to foot the bill to carry their team this far.

The only consolation is that we are in the finals each year even though they are expensive affairs when you look at the books.

Now, I question the necessity of the B.C. body sending a man all the way from Vancouver to keep the country boys in tow here for forty minutes of basketball on two successive nights when we have fully qualified men available locally. The question of "home-towing" the visitors should not be raised in amateur circles such as these when we look at the job our refs did in the recent international series it is doubtful if a visiting referee is going to add much to the show. I say this, mind you, with the thought of the monies involved being too great for the benefit received—Ten percent of the gross to be exact for one referee. However, it has been so ruled and that's that.

So tonight as you fork out that dollar for a reserved seat at the game you may sit back and relax because this is one night you are going to get something below cost and Don Forward will be operating the deal at a loss when the overall picture is taken into consideration.

Ran into Fred Calderone last night, and he was all enthused over the curtain raising junior or juvenile game tonight when Annunciation School and Booth tangle for their league championship. It will be well worth while grabbing an early bus just to get in on this show. The youngsters are really entertaining and besides they'd like to see you there.

I asked Alex Bill, just to be nosy, what he intends to do with this Raitt fellow when he gets here and, according to our leading coach, he's going to "play it straight" unless circumstances force otherwise. Art Olsen will, therefore, be handed the chore of matching the 6' 4" Summerland product point for point to begin with and if he should have an off-night and find himself not equal to the occasion either Syd Scherk or Joe Davis will be called in to put the damper on the proceedings. Bill has also intended to alternate Ted Arney and Tiny Carlson in the series but, according to word from provincial command, it will be the ten men throughout with no switching after the opening whistle tonight.

Gyros locally have undertaken to dine the visitors and more or less take care of the boys while here and the Gyro club of Pentleton has donated a sizeable amount to the travel expenses of their team. Saturday night Job's Daughters will be hostesses at their big jamboree at the Armories when the entire Okanagan group will be invited to meet some of us socially.

A very hearty welcome to all you apple-eaters and to Basil Sands of Vancouver who has taken time off to come all the way up here to meet a fate that is no doubt unknown to him, the fate of a referee that might accidentally and without malice, foul on a Prince Rupert basketball player.

Oldest recorded town in Britain is Colchester, Essex, which in 1949 celebrated the 19th centenary of its founding by the Romans.

STILL RIVALS—Gordie Howe of Detroit and Maurice Richard of Montreal finished one-two in the regular NHL scoring race, but are continuing their battle into the playoffs. Howe was far ahead of the Rocket in assists—45 to 24—but only nosed out the Montrealer by one goal over the season—43-42. Although there is nothing at stake, Richard will be trying to nose out Gordie for total number of goals. They are shown, Howe at left, shaking hands before the last game of the schedule in Montreal. ## TERRACE TOPICS

Terrace Red Cross Drive

TERRACE—An enthusiastic meeting held in the lounge of the Outpost Hospital on Tuesday evening, under the chairmanship of Morris Wightman, the Red Cross Drive got under way with the canvassers being allotted their districts. The quota being set at $1800, it was decided to start the next day and try to have the whole district finished by Friday. Weather conditions have delayed the campaign, but to all appearances the local canvassers are going to finish on schedule.

Red Cross Nurse Is Terrace Bride

TERRACE—George H. Best, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Kidd Best of Terrace, and Margaret Ann McCrae, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Sinclair McCrae of Haney, were united in marriage on Monday by the Rev. A. C. Shindell at a quiet evening ceremony in the manse of the Pentecostal Church.

Witnesses were James Walsh and Miss Shirley Best.

The bride was charming in a suit of rosewood velvet, with small grey hat and grey accessories. Her corsage was of spring flowers.

Miss Best, wore a teal blue suit with grey accessories and corsage.

A wedding supper for the bridal party followed the ceremony.

As soon as weather permits and the highways are open, the newlyweds plan to drive south on a honeymoon. The groom is employed by Carl Pohle and the bride, who came here from New Westminster early last summer, was a nurse aide in the Outpost Hospital here.

Terrace Church Marks Easter

TERRACE—The young people of the Knox United Church contributed largely to the services held there during the Easter week-end. The church was almost filled on Thursday evening with children and parents for the Candle Service. During the evening, film strips of the Old and New Testament were shown and colored slides of the Resurrection.
