HUNDREDS DEAD, MISSING—
Huge Snowslides Rout Alpines
GENEVA (CP)—Alpine Europe counted 108 persons dead and many still missing today as rescue workers in three countries continued to dig into heaps of debris and great masses of snow left by unprecedented avalanches.

Drew Hits Communism

TORONTO —George Drew, national leader of the Progressive Conservative party, said Saturday Communism should be defined as an offence in the Criminal Code, permitting courts to crack down on activities which threaten the country's basic freedoms.
He told the fifth annual meeting of the Progressive Conservative Federation it was "most improper" for the federal government to deny communists the right to work in government offices and at the same time "refuse to define communism in the law of the land."

Cape St. James Lighthouse Hit

British Columbia's coastline was hammered by two hurricanes on Saturday.
The gusts, which reached up to 140 miles per hour in Queen Charlotte Islands, decreased in intensity as they sped southward to the tip of Vancouver Island.
Although one life was lost, the count today showed that the storm hurled its most potent punches at wilderness targets, diminishing the damage toll.
Winds whipped up 70 to 80 foot waves, driving ships to sheltered coves.
Walter Bremner, aged 50, tug boat mate, was one fatality. He was swept overboard from the tug Island Mariner near Victoria.

Canucks Again Lick Gerry

GARMISCH PARTENKIRCHEN, Germany —Lethbridge Maple Leafs tonight trounced a combined German hockey team 8-3, for their fifth straight victory of the German tour.
Bill Dixon scored four goals and Hee Negrello three, as Canadian entry to world hockey championship walked all over the Germans.

Loggers Seek Wages Boost

VICTORIA (CP)—Coastal B.C. woodworkers announced Sunday they will seek a wage increase of 25 cents an hour when contract discussions open in the spring.
This decision was made at the annual convention of the International Woodworkers of America here.
The policy committee was also authorized to seek immediate interim cost-of-living wage increase. They are reported to be asking a boost of 10 cents an hour.
Other demands include union shop, nine paid statutory holidays a year and a health-welfare plan. Current basic wage rate is about $1.20 an hour.

Allies Hit Back In Korea

TOKYO (CP)—Four powerful allied motorized columns with tanks and artillery ranged deep into Communist-occupied areas today along a 50-mile span of the western Korean front.
They found Chinese Reds—reported building up strength in the area for a new drive—wary and apparently unwilling to fight in force.
On the central front, powerful allied patrols seized Wonju airstrip Monday. They also pushed the Reds off a nearby height. Several hours later, Lt.-Gen. Matthew B. Ridgeway, U.S. Eighth Army commander, landed on the recaptured airstrip. The Reds fled north.
Security blackout then was clamped on all news stories and further developments on the central front came under strict censorship.

Operation Ogopogo Army Jumps On Vernon

VERNON —Parachutists mushroomed over the neighboring ranchland today as 49 Canadian soldiers spilled from three RCAF aircraft in "Operation Ogopogo."
Jumping went off without mishap after clouds had threatened to cancel the operation. Jumpers were members of the 1st Battalion, Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry.

Cease Fire Is Possible

LAKE SUCCESS (CP)—India's Sir Benegal Rau today informed the United Nations that he had received a message from Communist China amplifying Peiping's terms for a cease-fire in Korea.
In it the Chinese Reds express the belief that a limited cease-fire could be agreed to immediately if the proposed seven-country committee is convened to tackle outstanding problems of the Far East.

Rate Increase Is Unnecessary

OTTAWA —Alberta government counsel in the railway rate increase case contended today that heavier rail traffic resulting from defence preparations should obviate the need of a five per cent boost sought by the companies.
George F. Buckingham, CPR general traffic manager, declined to agree with Alberta's counsel, saying: "I wouldn't agree with you at all."

Shoplifting Grows In United Kingdom

LONDON —Britain's shopkeepers report that shoplifting is increasing in all parts of the country. When 1950's losses are totaled, officials expect the figure to exceed £5,000,000 ($15,000,000). "Bulk of shoplifting is done by women," said one store detective. "A woman loitering in a shop is never obvious as most women are less direct than men in their shopping methods."

FLASH Enemy Could Get Through

MELBOURNE, Australia (CP)—About 50 white men and many New Guinea natives have been killed in eruption of the volcano Mount Lamington, 100 miles from Port Moresby, New Guinea, according to reports reaching here today.
SQUAMISH, B.C. (CP)—Two children were burned to death Saturday night when fire destroyed their home at Parkhurst. Dead are Edna, 3, and Carol, 11, children of Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Dalziel. A four-year-old brother was rescued by Ole Kitteri Gham, sawmill worker, who rushed in, finding the boy burning in the debris.

WASHINGTON —Senator James Murray of Montana charges American officials with collaborating in placing orders for $160,000,000 of aluminum with Aluminum Co. of Canada, which orders are encouraging the building of a plant in British Columbia.
WASHINGTON —General Omar Bradley told Congress today that United States air defences, "combined with efforts of Canadians," could avert "complete disaster" to United States.
He added that "if a determined enemy is willing to expend effort, some bombers will get through."
"There is little real danger now of continental United States being invaded and overrun so far as we can see," he said.
General Bradley is chairman of United States joint chiefs of staff.

Match Playing, Smoking, Causes Of Fire Losses

Children playing with matches and fire accounted for more damage to property than careless smoking in 1950 it was revealed in the fire department report released this morning. Children accounted for $2,723 while smokers caused $2,075 worth of damage.
Total fire damage of the year was about $29,000 with thawing pipes leading the list at $6,050 and faulty wiring at $5,830 running a close second. Third on the list was marine losses estimated at $4,800.

Frenchmen Eat And Make Love—Italy Is Rebuilding

Travelling without their luggage for the greater part of their trip reduced the enjoyment for Louis Campagnolo and John Basso of their tour in Europe. Their bags were misplaced in transit near Windsor and failed to reach them in time to take aboard the ship at New York. They finally picked them up in Switzerland on their way home.
They were dressed in sports clothes when their bags went astray and consequently missed out on much of the night life in many places they visited. They were forced to leave the opera house in Paris because they were not properly dressed, in spite of attempts to explain their predicament.
In an interview this morning Mr. Campagnolo said the food and wines in France and Italy were wonderful. They used the time they had there to fatten up, he said.
The French, he said, seemed to live for eating and making love. They did not seem to be paying too much attention to rebuilding.
In Italy, they found many of the bombed-out buildings had been replaced with extremely modern buildings. Those in Turin were classified as the most modern in the world. Milan, the great industrial centre, had many lovely buildings. People seemed to be prosperous and out for the American dollar.
In both France and Italy, they found the women beautiful.
Switzerland they found to be the most expensive country on their trip. It was also the cleanest place they saw.
People in all countries seemed to be afraid of Russia, although in Italy Communism was very prevalent and the hammer and sickle were engraved into their meeting places. "Fascism in Italy is out," Mr. Campagnolo said.
Their trip took them as far south as Naples. Here they found conditions terrible. There were many "bums and crooks" around the streets. This was also true of some of the French sea-

An independent daily newspaper devoted to the upbuilding of Prince Rupert and Northern and Central British Columbia.

We May Lose Out

PRINCE RUPERT is going to have to come to grips effectively and right soon with the housing crisis or it is going to lose potential population.

Big industry, for which we so long hoped, has come here and is about to become established in permanent production.

Possibly, housing is not the only thing in connection with which Prince Rupert is finding difficulty under the new conditions arising from the advent of big industry.

As for housing, if some ways and means are not soon found of meeting the situation in a substantial and effective way, we are liable to find prospective new residents—people who would stay here if they could find homes—going elsewhere.

Take Port Edward, where Columbia Cellulose and Nelson Bros. Fisheries are located and where there is a new townsite available.

There is no point, of course, in suggesting that this person or that person, this concern or that should do something about it.

Newspaper Publishing

VARIED and complicated are the problems of newspaper publishing—co-ordinating the various factors concerned with the business.

The case of the Edmonton Bulletin, suddenly suspending publication, is an illustration.

But these are not the factors in the case of the Edmonton Bulletin. Its business has been increasing and, apparently, it has been profitable.

In short, the Edmonton Bulletin has been too successful, as Publisher Hal Straight says.

Somehow, it is difficult to believe that the historic Bulletin, which has come through many vicissitudes and has had its ups and downs in a checkered career, is really through.

The Bulletin may not have been Edmonton's largest and most flourishing newspaper but, somehow or other, Edmonton will not seem Edmonton without it.

Soviet and India

LATEST news is that Prime Minister Nehru may visit Moscow and Peiping to discuss a new peace plan with Stalin and Mao Tse-tung.

Mr. Nehru, however, is not likely to fall for such a ruse to gain a foothold in India; but a little first-hand experience of Soviet diplomacy might remind him of the value of British rule and the benefits of remaining in the Commonwealth.

As I See It

GOODBYE CANADA

MONTREAL: Our family arrived at the Vancouver airport with enough luggage to last me for a lifetime in India.

But still the wife insisted that I bring along those two hams!

She just could not bear the idea of me bearing down on our friends in England with nothing from Canada but one guy with a hearty appetite.

So, here I am in Montreal, all set to take off for Ireland and London. Come to think of it, I must not omit the touch down point in Newfoundland.

ONCE ON THE PLANE I wasted no time getting to sleep. I guess the strenuous job of getting ready for the big trip had worn me down.

But just about the time when we were due to get to Winnipeg we made an unscheduled landing at Rivers, Manitoba.

They SERVED US a hearty army officers' style breakfast at Rivers: Ham and eggs and really wonderful coffee.

THEY SERVED US a hearty army officers' style breakfast at Rivers: Ham and eggs and really wonderful coffee.

The officers you see around the place (as distinguished from the students) are the cheery looking, typical army type.

I noticed that most of the young officers in training wore service ribbons. That is they were veterans of the Second World War, preparing for a third.

MY SEAT MATE told me that I snored all the way from Rivers to Toronto.

It was a lucky break for me that we were late. Instead of going right through to Montreal it gave me the chance to lay over in Toronto for about six hours and visit my mother and father, both still going strong at age 85.

AFTER A GOOD night's sleep in Montreal I had to visit the ultra modern Aviation Building. There I found the TCA boys chuckling with glee because their plane had beaten the RCAF to the rescue of Prime Minister St. Laurent, stranded in Iceland due to failure of the RCAF engine.

George Drew (ultra imperialist) is a Pratt and Whitney (American) booster.

C. D. Howe (formerly a U.S. citizen) is as British as John Bull when it comes to airplane engines.

Hence the TCA chuckles at the discomfiture of the RCAF when TCA brought home the bacon, pardon me, I mean the prime minister.

Daily Health Hint

For mild exercise there is nothing to beat walking. Walking moderate distances between home and work, or school—or between any two points for that matter—is most stimulating.

THINKS CONFLICT COMING—

Refugee Believes Russia Wants War—West Will Win

TORONTO (CP)—A former Hungarian economist says he feels a long and costly war between the western powers and Russia lies ahead.

Ladislav Joseph Timar, 50, former member of the Hungarian Social Democratic party's economic department, said in an interview on his arrival here:

"It will be a long and costly war. It will commence, not because the western powers want it, but because they don't want it. The feeling that the west does not want war has made Russia eager and hungry. The tension will not relax; it will break."

Budapest-born Timar and his wife, a former newspaperwoman, escaped from Hungary in 1948 after the Russians tightened their grip on that country.

"Hungary is a very sad country today," Timar said. "It exists on a five-year plan in which I was forced to participate, despite the fact I was opposed to it. Actually, it is nothing but a plan of military preparation. I wanted no part of it."

He said the work of laborers has been intensified and their hours are long, rounded out with lectures on Communism.

"The Russians have good weapons. But the people in Hungary have no boots or clothing. Hungary is a rich country that now is turning to ruin. People are not getting proper food. It is all being sent to Russia."

PROFITS TO RUSSIA The Communists have nationalized everything in Hungary but the factories once owned by the Germans. The factories are under Russian ownership now and their profits are sent to Russia.

Timar said he had undergone the hardships of two occupations of Hungary, first by the Germans and then by the Russians.

After the German breakthrough in France in 1940 cut off business links between his homeland and the west, Timar became a translator of English and French books and started to study economic research and planning. In 1942 he took part in an anti-Nazi clandestine intellectual movement as an economic adviser.

"In 1944 after the Germans overran Hungary, my parents were killed by the Nazis. My wife became lost to me and I did not find her again until 1945. I had to hide but during the Budapest siege, I was found. I managed to escape from a German firing squad and went over to the Russians."

After the war, he resumed his job with the Social Democratic party's economic department and remained with it until it ended in 1948 with a Communist coup d'etat. Prior to that, he had become vice-president of the Hungarian state coal mines and production had been almost trebled.

"When the Communists transformed the coal mines from my business model into a Soviet model, I resigned." Then came his flight to freedom.

He also accommodated Fitzsimmons. Jeffries, when the time came for him to retire, undefeated, thought he would stay that way. However, he wasn't through. The Four Securities

... and how one great business helps provide them for Canadians

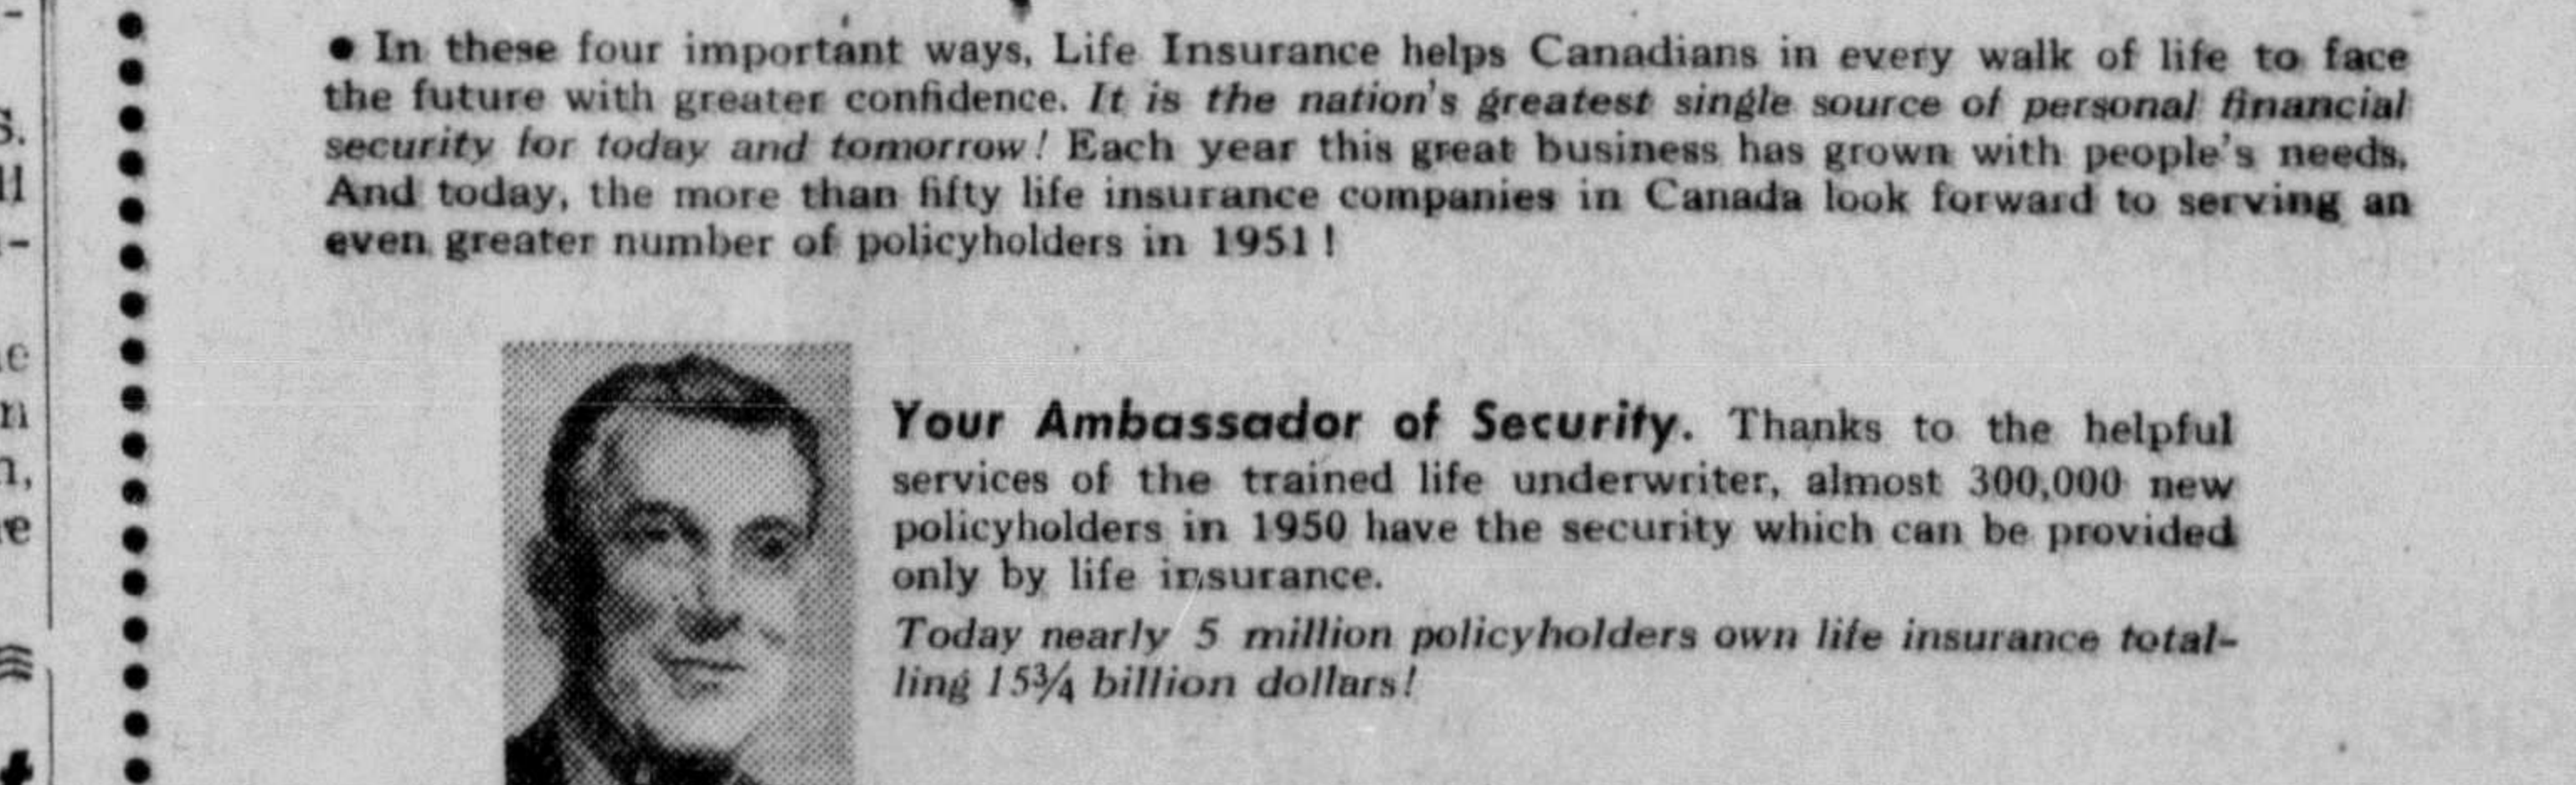

1. Security for Wives and Children. To a good father, the most important kind of security is that which provides enough income for his family in case he dies prematurely.

A total of $85 million was paid out in death benefits last year by the life insurance companies in Canada. For many widows and children this money brought desperately needed security.

2. Security for Later Years. Every worker must retire from his job some day. And, for most people, life insurance has proved the easiest way of providing income for that day of need.

In 1950, a total of $145 million was paid to living policyholders! This money helped thousands of people to retire comfortably, travel, and make many other dreams come true!

3. Security of a Job. To earn the money which provides all other kinds of security, a man must have a job. Life insurance helps create jobs — by investing policyholders' money in securities which finance the building of new schools, highways, power plants and other public works and vital industries.

Last year, many millions of dollars were invested in mortgages on homes by the life insurance companies in Canada. These investments made it possible for thousands of families to enjoy added security.

In these four important ways, Life Insurance helps Canadians in every walk of life to face the future with greater confidence. It is the nation's greatest single source of personal financial security for today and tomorrow!

Your Ambassador of Security. Thanks to the helpful services of the trained life underwriter, almost 300,000 new policyholders in 1950 have the security which can be provided only by life insurance.

U.N. Group Seeks Cease-Fire in Korea

Three men were called upon last December by the United Nations General Assembly "to determine the basis on which a satisfactory cease-fire in Korea can be arranged." They are (left to right) Mr. Lester B. Pearson, Canadian Secretary of Foreign Affairs; Ambassador Nasrollah Entezam of Iran, President of the Assembly; and Sir Benegal N. Man on Street—
Confused And Dissatisfied

"Confused and dissatisfied" is the way Sid Gonick described the man on the street in the United States. Mr. Gonick is back from Venice and Los Angeles, California.

Mr. Gonick said many were dissatisfied with President Truman's administration and were particularly critical of the way the Korean situation had been handled. The draft status is in a state of flux with new orders being issued every day. There is, apparently, no ground for deferment and all except the upper one-third of students of draft age will probably be called up when they complete their present semester.

The country is definitely going all out on a war economy, he said, with aircraft factories working around the clock.

No feeling of shortages is apparent yet but prices are rising all the time. Prosperity is rising to dizzy heights due to war orders. The sum of $50,000,000 has been included in the civilian defence budget. A proposed air-raid shelter in down-town Los Angeles will be under a complete city block.

But the people as a whole, Mr. Gonick said, seems to be in a muddle. They do not seem to know just where they stand. The one thing certain is that they are dissatisfied.

Timber Wolves Are Near City

Two large black timber wolves were ranging last night to within about two miles of the city limits.

The animals were spotted this side of Oliver Lake between the city and Galloway Rapids bridge about 7 p.m. They were ambling along the highway and came into full view as the lights of Hugo Kraupner's automobile caught them. They merely moved to the side of the road to let the car pass them.

The bushel as a dry measure is based on the old English Winchester bushel of 2,150 cubic inches.

HOUSEKEEPING

CONDENSED SOUPS VERSATILE—INTERESTING COMBINATIONS

CONDENSED SOUPS ARE VERSATILE

Many homemakers today do not have the time nor the cooking facilities to prepare a pot of old-fashioned soup and they usually turn to canned soups. A bowl of canned soup may be served by preparing it as directed on the can or by combining two soups or even by adding a pinch of herbs or spices such as cloves, curry powder, bay seed, bay leaf, thyme or oregano, depending upon the kind of soup and the family's taste.

Some of the soups which seem to combine very well are cream of chicken with cream of celery, cream of mushroom or green pea; cream of mushroom with cream of mushroom; cream of celery with cream of mushroom; chicken soup with cream of tomato or vegetable soup. By the way, cream soups are an excellent way to get non-alcohol drinkers to take milk.

Home economists suggest a few other ways in which canned soups may be used to advantage.

A canned cream soup such as mushroom, tomato, mushroom, or chicken lends itself to many uses as a quick sauce or gravy. For either purpose the soup may be used just as it comes or diluted with liquid, depending upon the thickness desired. When used as a sauce for meat loaves or in casseroles the soup is usually left undiluted but for soups of chicken and vegetables it is diluted to make it the consistency of a medium cream sauce. By adding an ingredient or two to a canned cream soup, for example, grated cheese to mushroom soup, and heating it you will have an appetizing rarebit, or rabbit, as some prefer to call it. Condensed vegetable soup may be added to meat pies and stews in place of vegetables and left-over dishes can often be made do by adding condensed soup.

servings as eye appeal is important when it comes to stimulating the appetite. Elaborate garnishes are not necessary for even a sprig of parsley or a dash of paprika will make a difference to a bowl of soup or a creamed meat or vegetables.

Tells About Wood Fabrics

An interesting address by M. Martin of Columbia Cellulose Company on wood pulp fabrics was heard at last week's dinner meeting of the United Church Men's Club.

The speaker was introduced by Vice-President A. S. Nickerson, who was in the chair owing to the absence through illness of President Dr. L. M. Greene.

Mr. Martin told of the problems encountered in manufacturing fabrics from pulp and the continuous experimenting that was being done by the industry. He said pulp from annual crops such as cotton had been tried but that the most satisfactory results had been obtained from wood pulp.

Dinner was served by Mrs. A. S. Nickerson, convener of the committee, Mrs. Douglas Payne and Mrs. Owen Green of the W.A. to the church. Members of the auxiliary contributed food.

BASKETBALL—

Hardware's First Win

Gordon and Anderson won their first of the season over Brownwoods by a 54-to-50 score in a senior basketball thriller Saturday night at the Civic Centre. It was anybody's game all the way as the lead changed hands nine times during the game.

Gordon and Anderson started out strong with a 6 to 1 margin but the shoemen came right back to lead 21 to 16 and both teams fought hard to tie it all up at 26-26 at the half time whistle. In the second half Brownwoods piled up a 46 to 36 lead but, after losing Lavigne on a sprained ankle, had it gradually cut down until the hardware men took over at 50 to 49 and held on for the final win.

Referee Slatta and Davidson had a busy time keeping the game in check. Feelings started to run high in the closing minutes and Sunberg was benched in the final minute when he threw a football check into his opponent in a desperate attempt to prevent the ball from going up the floor. There was a bit of a ruckus about it all but Referee Slatta stood his ground and the game went on. The Brownwoods team lost Carlson in the final period on personals and Gordon and Anderson lost Holkestad.

Spring was high scorer for the game with 21 and for the winners Holkestad made 16 and Marshall put on a smart display to get 12. The Gordon and Anderson team played one of their best games of the season as they worked the ball up under the basket with well executed passing plays. Brownwoods fought hard and were equally as good as the winners but they just didn't get the breaks when they were the most needed.

GARDENING....
MIX SAND, SOIL AND PEAT FOR WINTER SEED BOXES

Success in growing seeds in an indoor seed box will depend to a great extent upon the soil used to fill the box. If this was not brought inside before the ground froze in the fall, it should be dug and placed under shelter where it will thaw out gradually. If you try to dry soil quickly, with considerable heat, you will make it very muddy at first, and lumpy thereafter. This will be difficult when what you want is a crumbly soil. Slow thawing will do the work, so do not try to rush things.

Even though you have taken the best top soil from your garden—as you should—it will still need mixing with sand to make it looser, and humus to increase its water holding capacity. Peat moss or leaf mould will supply satisfactory humus, but do not use manure, even when well rotted, in soil to be used to start seeds. Nor should plant food be used, lest too much nitrogen be supplied for the health of the seed sprouts.

A third top soil, a third peat moss or leaf mould, and a third sharp sand, such as masons use in concrete will make a satisfactory mixture. After it is well mixed pass it through a sieve, about 1/4 inch mesh; and keep the coarse particles in a pile, to be used in the bottom of the seed boxes. The finer soil is then filled in to the level of the box;

Manitoba Gets Western Oil

WINNIPEG — A $110,000-a-day "gusher" soon will be pouring oil out of East St. Paul, eight miles north of Winnipeg. Gasoline, fuel oil and kerosene—refined from crude piped in from Alberta—will be produced at a new (Imperial Oil) refinery at a rate exceeding $40,000,000 annually.

This new industry will employ some 175 persons and have a payroll of $600,000. Most help will be hired locally, although technicians and key personnel will be imported. Production will total 350,000 gallons a day.

A 400-acre East St. Paul "tank farm" will contain 42 storage tanks with total capacity of 35,000,000 gallons—10,000,000 gallons more than Greater Winnipeg consumes in an entire year. Early in 1951, crude oil will flow from Alberta, via Gretna, Man., into a group of 2,000,000-gallon storage tanks. The crude oil will be distributed automatically through the various units of the $10,000,000 plant.

The refinery proper has two main units. The first is a distillation plant to turn crude into raw gasoline, kerosene and tractor oil, diesel oil and stove and furnace fuels. The second separates gases produced by distillation and cracking processes. Some are blended with raw gasoline to give quick-starting properties.

LARGE PATROL
The forest fire fighting services of the Ontario government cover an area of 192,000 square miles.

LONG-LASTING
Oak trees are said to have 300 years of growth, 300 years of maturity and 300 years of old age.

Blackwood on Bridge
By Easley Blackwood

The player who bids four no trump is generally the captain of the hand. It is he and he alone who knows how many aces the partnership has, and to him belongs the right to decide whether or not the slam should play for a slam.

Of course, there are exceptions to most statements about bridge. Soon I will show you two important exceptions to this "rule." But today let's consider the importance of the rule itself. East-West vulnerable. South dealer.

Mr. Abel had a tremendous hand opposite Mrs. Keen's opening spade bid. He immediately thought there must be a slam. He decided to jump raise the spades first, to establish the trump suit. A jump take-out of three diamonds would have been better although the final bid would have been the same.

Now at this point Mrs. Keen made one of the very few bad bids I have seen her make since she took up rubber bridge several months ago. She bid four no trump, a bid Mr. Abel had planned to make himself on the next round.

Mrs. Keen's distribution must have gone to her head. She

LONDON — Sir Denis Daley in a speech at a dinner recalled now in 1912, as a marine corporal, he bought the papers for Winston Churchill, then First Lord of the Admiralty. "They cost me 1s 3/4 (about 20 cents)," he said. Replied Mr. Churchill: "I will accept the burden with compound interest."

ALDERNEY, Channel Islands — Mrs. Jean Jean asked magistrates to blacklist her from the town's taverns as her drinking caused domestic troubles. The plea was granted.

POLIO PRODIGY—Brian McSorley of Ottawa gets his temperature taken by nurse Joan Davis in the Ottawa isolation hospital. Looking chipper, Brian is the first person in Canada to receive bulbar poliomyelitis treatment known as the electrophrenic stimulation. The treatment uses electric impulses to overcome paralysis of the muscles controlling swallowing, and doctors say Brian will come through the treatment to be perfectly normal. (CP PHOTO)

Reverse Policy in New Zealand

By J. C. GRAHAM
Canadian Press Correspondent
AUCKLAND, N.Z. (C) — New Zealand is taking stock after a year under National Party government. Prime Minister Sidney Holland's administration took office a little more than a year after 14 years of Labor rule. Under the late Rt. Hon. Peter Fraser long steps were taken toward state control and the new government has a lot to do before its program of free enterprise is fully realized.

State controls and restrictions have been among the chief Labor measures to go by the board and government supporters claim there is far more freedom today than there ever was under Labor. On the other hand, Labor members maintain that many of these measures were wartime controls which would have been removed with improved conditions.

The new government has abolished all remaining forms of rationing. It has also wiped out many price controls, among the most important being control over most types of land, houses and buildings. Until now real estate prices have been pegged to 1942 values, and properties sold brought in many cases, big under-the-table payments in addition to the officially-approved prices. Houses now are on the market at prices higher than the former official levels, but not so greatly above the black market rates.

Largely as a result of high prices for wool which have boosted overseas funds, the government has abolished import licensing on a wide range of goods from soft currency countries. This has brought into New Zealand many items not seen since Labor imposed import control in 1938. The Dominion now has a surplus in trade with dollar countries, but its undertakings with the sterling area have so far prevented relaxing of controls on goods from dollar sources.

Some tax reductions have been made, but further substantial cuts will be necessary before the heavy tax burden built up during the war is markedly eased.

HOUSING POLICY

In housing the government has rushed ahead vigorously with its policy of "own your own" in contrast to the Labor policy of providing state houses for rental. It has abolished many building restrictions, has made loans available at favorable rates for home builders, and has offered state houses for sale to present tenants at very advantageous terms. At the same time it has raised rentals on new tenancies of state houses.

The most direct reversal of socialist policy has been the government's steps to return state enterprises to private ownership. Workers' compensation insurance, which became a state insurance department monopoly under Labor, has been reopened to competition by private firms. The National Airways Corporation, which controls all internal air services, has been offered for sale to private enterprise.

There has been no move to dispose of the railways, which have always been state-owned. Most road transport remains

Another Adventure For Al Manson—Is Alert As Usual

Shoplifters should be getting wise to the fact that it does not pay at Al Manson's. The alert jeweler had another of a series of similar experiences early Saturday afternoon and acted with characteristic coolness and effect. As a result, a tray of rings was soon back in his store and an arrest had been made.

Adolph Ivarson was standing on the street outside the store when he observed a man pick up a tray and conceal it under his coat. At the same time a boy, Danny Neufeld, inside the store on an errand, also observed the incident. The proprietor was notified.

The man made off with Manson and the boy in pursuit west along Third Avenue, down Fifth Street and into the lane between Second and Third Avenues. The boy saw the man throw the tray under a parked car immediately after which Manson caught up with the man and took him back to the store. There the police were waiting and arrest was made. The tray of rings was recovered. They were not valuable.

It was the third time in a few weeks Mr. Manson has foiled an attempt to take goods from his jewelry store.

Mr. Manson was working in the back of his store when told that a man had run out of the store with a tray of rings. Mr. Manson caught his man to the rear of the Stone Block.

When he was caught the man is reported to have said: "What's the matter with you? You've got your rings back. Let me go." Mr. Manson said he then put a hammer lock on the man's arm and took him back to the store, where he called the police. Two people were in the store at the time of the occurrence and one, Danny Neufeld, recovered the tray of rings, Mr. Manson said.

John McPhie of Toronto, who arrived a few days ago from Vancouver, appeared before Magistrate W. D. Vance in city police court this morning charged with theft and was remanded for eight days. Bail was set at $1000.

There have been other complaints of shoplifting in the city recently.

under government ownership. Coal deposits not yet opened up have been restored to private hands, although most coal mines are still government concerns. Another state enterprise which has been passed over to a public company is fruit importing, but the government will retain an interest for the present.

Government critics claim that its greatest failure has been its inability to check the rise in prices and "put value back into the pound." Many of the controls it has abolished have resulted in price increases and it has raised rates for many government services in an effort to check losses in state departments.

The government, however, maintains it has so far been unable to do more than check basic causes of inflation and has not yet had time to attack prices. It claims that one of the main causes of inflation was the former government's use of reserve bank credit to finance state enterprises by the use of paper money. The new government has stopped recourse to the Reserve Bank and has instead successfully raised a big internal loan.

Ideas For Taxation

By EDWIN S. JOHNSON

LONDON — Hard-pressed for a new source of revenue to meet the nations' mounting financial commitments, Hugh Gaitskell, Chancellor of the Exchequer, has been offered a list of ideas to consider before the next budget.

The suggestions were offered "for what they are worth," by Leslie Gamage, president of the Institute of Export, before a group of paper-hatted businessmen attending their annual frolic. It was an event where serious speech-making was taboo.

"If you want to get money, tons of money," Mr. Gamage taunted the chancellor, "why not tax bricks—not the bricks builders lay, but those some of our politicians drop with remarkable consistency."

To roars of laughter, he listed these further possibilities: Tax official jargon. Tax the avenues politicians explore and the stones they leave unturned.

Tax armchairs—those in which sit the critics of England's cricket team in Australia and of anything else they know nothing about.

Tax all grouse and unofficial strikes. Tax the vote of thanks to chairmen at annual meetings and any other useless things.

"But please leave us just something over for enterprise and endurance," he pleaded.

In reply, Mr. Gaitskell said, "I would also include for taxation purposes the armchair critics of politicians. You will agree that would be fair."

FIND HAPPINESS HERE—

Canada Land of Milk and Honey For Aging Couple From Germany

Life in the country, even in this weather, proves pleasant and comfortable for Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kraupner. They are living at their son, Hugo's, cottage at Prudhomme Lake.

This time last year, Mr. and Mrs. Kraupner were living in a small basement room in Chemnitz, Germany, in the Russian zone. Food was scarce and unvaried. Potatoes and turnips formed the greater part of their diet. But even in those circumstances, there were birthdays and other occasions that had to be celebrated. The occasional two ounces of milk in the rations did not make whipped cream possible. But the appearance of that luxury was gained by shredding raw potatoes and whipping them up. If they could not have the real thing, they at least made believe they did. Heat in the little room was almost entirely lacking and there was no bed. Their home in Chemnitz had been flattened by an Allied block-buster in February, 1945, as were most buildings in the city.

Last summer the aging couple—Mr. Kraupner celebrated his seventy-third birthday recently—came to Canada to spend their declining years with their son and daughter-in-law. Here they found the granddaughter, Mrs. Mickey Fudger, whom they had not seen since she was a baby girl, and a great-grandson.

Today Mr. and Mrs. Kraupner have just about all the physical comforts they ever dreamed of.

The cottage overlooking beautiful Prudhomme Lake is heated by an oil heater. A coal range for the kitchen prove of little trouble for cooking and heating. Light is provided by a gasoline-driven generator which starts as soon as a switch is turned on. It stops when the last light is turned out. Also run from the generator are an electric toaster and percolator and other gadgets including a modern radio and record player. If they want to get in touch with the city, they have merely to warm up their radio telephone station "Bluebird" and call Prince Rupert telephone exchange.

The living room of the cottage is a museum of Indian relics. The room is finished with clear cedar slabs. Articles of Indian manufacture fill every nook and corner of the room and line the walls, yet fit so well into the room that they seem to belong there naturally. One is constantly surprised as he finds an item he had not known previously was there.

Yes, Mr. and Mrs. Kraupner are happy in their new home. Sometimes, however, they become lonely. Since early in the year, their son has been able to get to the cottage only on the week-ends. Normally he gets out for several nights during the week. When he arrives, his mother's face lights up with joy. Both Mr. and Mrs. Kraupner are happy to live in Canada which they say "is surely a land of milk and honey."

Bachelor's Method Stops Baby Crying

LONDON — Weary parents whose slumbers are broken by Junior's nightly howling might take the advice of a 36-year-old bachelor, Lord Mancroft.

"You hold the child upside down and you give it a short sharp jerk. This creates an aillock and stops it crying at once."

The quicker you want it to stop crying, the harder you jerk. Lord Mancroft, speaking at a banquet, said he would not want it thought he did not like babies. He was fond of little girls—up to the age of seven.

December was the 16th month of the old Roman calendar year which began with March.

TOURISTS AND FISHING

OSLO — The winter's fisheries in Lofoten, northern Norway, are expected to attract hundreds of Finnish and Swedish tourists. Chartered motorboats will take the visitors to the fishing grounds.
