In Korea—THE CRY OF THE TURTLE

They pointed at themselves, and posed. One prisoner, when asked about Joseph Stalin, said, "I have heard of him but do not know him."

By JOCK CARROLL

Because the turtle lives to a ripe old age, the Japanese regard it as a sign of good luck. But the Chinese hate, fear and despise the turtle. It is linked, among other things, with cuckoldry. Frequently you'll see a crude turtle drawn on the walls of public lavatories with the saying, "He who urinates here is a turtle."

Chinese fear of the turtle was so well known to our Psychological Warfare experts in Korea that one of them joked: "Instead of dropping surrender leaflets on the Chinese, we should be dropping plane loads of turtles."

When I was in Korea I applied for permission to visit a prisoner of war camp so I could talk to Chinese Communist soldiers about the new Communist regime in China. Earlier I had interviewed a larger number to find out what they thought about Communism and their new ruler, Mao Tse-tung.

I was informed by Eighth Army Headquarters it was against the Geneva Convention for correspondents to interview war prisoners. However, I could talk to members of the army interrogation teams, who did interview Chinese prisoners. And I could visit a POW camp and photograph any Chinese soldiers who didn't object.

So, on a hot, sweltering day early last summer, I arrived at the POW camp at Taejon, and met a Lieutenant Longway, of an American army interrogation unit. As the son of a missionary, Lieutenant Longway had spent many years in China, had a great deal of respect and affection for the Chinese, and spoke Mandarin, the main dialect.

We spent the first evening in Lieutenant Longway's quarters, a Korean hut, talking about the picture of the new China which was building up in his mind from talking to thousands of prisoners.

The next day the Lieutenant showed me around Taejon prison, which housed several hundred Chinese and North Korean soldiers. Taejon was a funnelling point on the route back to the more permanent camps around Pusan.

When we came to the building which housed the Chinese, we found them out in the yard sunning themselves, prior to lunch. They wore the usual brown quilted uniforms and canvas sneakers. Some recent arrivals were still very dirty from their weeks of fighting in the Korean mountains. They were mostly young, some mere boys.

They knew Lieutenant Longway and crowded around him eagerly when we entered the compound. There was no trouble about taking pictures. When they saw my camera, they stepped in front of me, pointed at themselves, and posed. Some smiled, some posed self-consciously like school children sitting for a portrait.

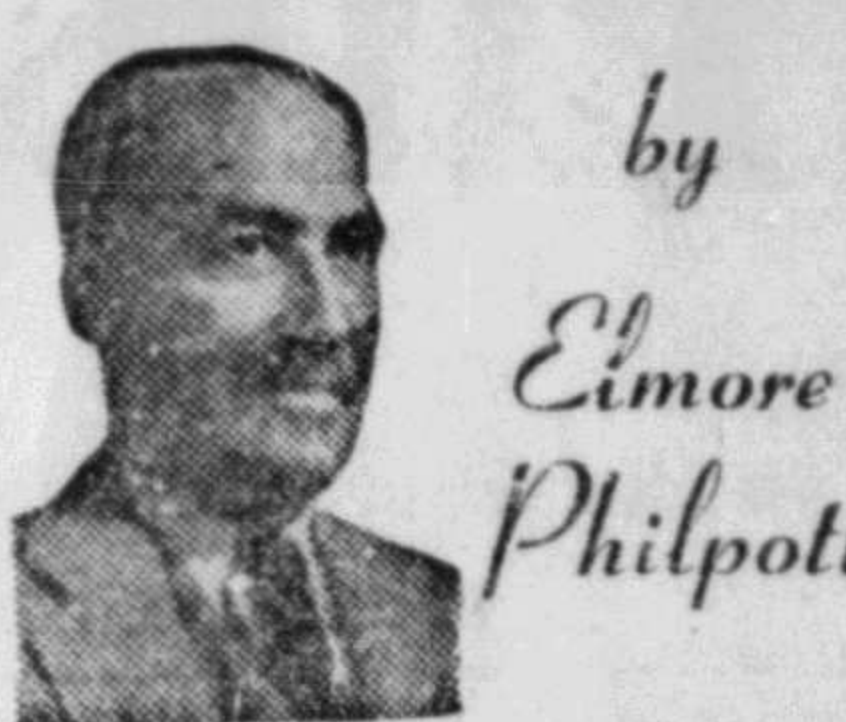

While the prisoners ate their lunch (cooked rice with a bowl of bean sprout soup) we inspected the cells. The walls were covered with Chinese characters, ideograph writing, which had been scratched there by the prisoners. Lieutenant Longway translated them for me.

Some were simple slogans, like "Mao Tse-tung is king of cannibals." Others were poems, like this one: "We have to fight, no food, no clothes and suffer. In daytime never see sun, hide in air raid shelter. At night march a long way with heavy burdens. Nearly every day aeroplanes over our heads. You comrades must realize how many we die. From starvation, how many frozen to death. Now you must determine your mind, (Continued on page 6)

Why Girls Die Young

HERE ARE some figures, prepared by Nathan Keyfitz of the Canadian Bureau of Statistics, which tell a big story. They give the total immigration to and emigration from Canada in the past century 1851 to 1950.

Came to Canada 7,114,000

THE UNREVISED figures for the 1951 census in India are:
Males 183,384,807
Females 173,508,817

The difference of ten million tells its own tragic story. A desperately poor mother, who has maybe five children, and who cannot possibly get enough food for them all, makes sure that SOME survive. She does not deliberately starve the females—but tries desperately hard to get enough food for them too.

On page 259 of "Interview With India," the fascinating book by John Frederick Muehl, we get one glimpse of this tragedy:

"One woman brought a sick baby for me to look at, that was swollen with malnutrition till her flesh was like putty. I pressed my finger into the skin of her ankle and the impression stayed for nearly five minutes. There was nothing much that could be done at this stage, but I gave her some milk powder that had been lying in my pack. Peculiarly enough, the same woman had a son of about two years who seemed perfectly healthy. It was not hard to see that she had been forced to make a conscious choice between her two children. The doctors agreed that this was the case when I asked them about it and they went further than that. 'It is the sensible thing to do,' they agreed. 'Better lose the girl than lose them both.'"

Nehru's government plans population control by limiting births to the point the country can feed. But when I heard him telling vast crowds of this I was by no means sure they understood him, or would have approved if they had.

ITALY, GERMANY and Japan were the three big enemy nations which fought against us in the recent war. But Italy got full peace in 1947—over four years before Japan did. Italy's peace was prepared by prior agreement amongst all nations which had fought on our side. All signed it.

IT IS CERTAINLY a significant thing that when a Britisher and an American fought a match for

Will He Be Prosecuted?

OTTAWA (CP)—There is still no statement as to whether prosecutions may be expected to follow an incident here Saturday when a burly Presbyterian minister from the United States broke up a Communist parade outside the Parliament Buildings. A near riot happened in front of the buildings Saturday when high-ranking officials from twelve countries gathered at the seventh session of the North Atlantic Council.

Angered by the chanting, slogan-shouting antics of the group of about fifty male and female anti-war demonstrators marching in front of the Parliament's Centre Block, a crowd prepared to answer the call of Rev. Horace Davey and push forward to swamp the 90-minute parade.

A Royal Canadian Mounted Police corporal urged them back and said the crowd would "make things difficult for us."

But the big burly Presbyterian minister from Kenmore, New York, weighing about 185 pounds and standing about six feet was determined.

Single-handed and with anger, blistering shots, shoulder-pushing and banner-pulling, he broke up the demonstration. The marchers finally pulled up stakes and marched down the street.

Prosecutor in Murder Case

VICTORIA—James J. Proudfoot, who was named to succeed retiring city prosecutor, Claude Harrison, will take over prosecution of the murder charge against Daniel Leroy Sanger. It is alleged the latter, retired hospital attendant, murdered Mrs. Gwendolyn Dora Caswell, 24 years of age. The accused is aged 60.

the world's prize-fight championship, both were colored men. As a physical specimen, the man of African ancestry seems to be superior to all others. Certainly the colored one-tenth of the U.S. population wins many times more prizes in U.S. sports than its racial ratio would warrant.

The late Louis Lebourdais once told the B.C. legislature that eugenics was the key to this. In the old slave days, he said, the slave owners saw to it that the finest specimens were mated. Whatever the reason, it seems to be a fact that the black man can run faster than the white man—and can hit harder too.

One of my old world war one chums turned out, years later, to be a frightful stuffed shirt—and developed ideas that out-blipped Col. Blimp. At the time of the Olympic games of 1936 he was very worried for the effect on white man's prestige of the fact black men were running off with most prizes. "There is a very simple remedy," I told him. "What's that?" he asked, eagerly. "Let the white man run faster," I replied.

LETTERBOX

WATER AND POWER

Editor, Daily News:
While there is no attempt on my part to interfere with the affairs of the city council or any policy they may pursue in regards to water and power, I wish to place before the taxpayers and citizens in general, some facts regarding the water situation in relation to the power plant at Woodworth Lake.

As foreman of the city water department and having been fully acquainted with all its problems in association with my late father, and since I was old enough to work, I may assume that I am fully aware of its everyday problems and mistakes of former technical men in the planning of the system.

Alderman Casey's letter of September 5 has been referred to by Alderman Black of the N.B.C. Power Co. "as very grave statements." True; very grave statements on a very grave situation!

This problem of an insufficient supply of domestic water has not just suddenly materialized but has been gradually coming to its present head the last ten years because of added industrial consumers and of added population. Twenty-five years ago the effect of the power house at Woodworth Lake, on the gravity flow to the city by being on the same penstock was every bit as evident and water hammers or surges to the mains in the city as intense, but in those days a million and a half gallons per day was ample whereas today it is not.

At Shawatlans Lake pumping station, situated at sea level across the passage from Kalea Island we have a 24-hour recording pressure gauge which tells of any disturbance or loss in pressure in 18-inch main from power house to the crossing in the salt water passage. This gauge also tells us if the power house is carrying a light or heavy load; when it comes on and when it goes off, with a decrease in pressure at this point of as much as 25 pounds in relation to the load. At the chlorinator, situated at the city limits on the highway,

TRIBUTE TO BRUCE STEVENS

Editor, Daily News:

We were greatly shocked to read in The Daily News of the untimely death of Bruce Stevens at the early age of forty. Bruce was an unfailing friend, help and advisor to many Prince Rupert boys, now grown to be young men.

We feel that we cannot allow the occasion of his passing to go by without paying public tribute to his sterling character, his unfailing friendliness and his constant helpfulness to three little boys of four, five and six years of age when they started their little business career in a strange city, selling and delivering the old "Evening Empire," over ten years ago.

Which Way?

A BILLION dollars for a hydrogen bomb making plant! That is what President Truman asks of Congress. It is a mighty lot of money for purely destructive—if defensive—purposes. What a great amount of benefaction, comfort and service to mankind such a huge sum could bring!

Some time before it is too late it is to be hoped that all the world will come to its senses, that mutual goodwill, understanding and trust will prevail and that such huge sums will not be needed to be spent just because one group of people acts so that another cannot trust it.

It once again provokes the thought of what is going to happen first — is man to spend his skill, talents and resources on the ways of destruction and ultimate annihilation or will he use his great gifts and tremendous powers for the betterment of mankind?

A comforting thought could be that the fear of what men and nations are becoming capable of doing to each other may be the very factor that will deter them from doing it.

The Water

WE would not venture to express an opinion on the technical aspects of the difference of opinion that has arisen over the effect that the drawing off of water from the Woodworth Lake system by Northern B. C. Power Co. for its power plant at Shawatlans Lake has on the city's water supply which comes from the same source.

Mr. Black, general manager of the Northern B. C. Power Co., had written on the subject, minimizing the effect of the company's draw.

Carl Gustafson, the water foreman, in a letter today, takes issue with Mr. Black on this question.

Mr. Black and Mr. Gustafson are certainly familiar enough with the subject in hand to know about what they speak.

Apart from all that, Mr. Gustafson offers an interesting suggestion whereby the city's water supply can be augmented against what will certainly be increased demands in the near future. We commend his letter to the attention of our readers, particularly since it involves the discussion of such a very important municipal problem.

GETTING ALONG
It seems hardly possible Robert Service is 77. Well, he is, and still writing, at that. Until not so many years ago there were still reminders of him in Whitehorse, the Yukon camp "way up yonder." It was there a bank gave him a job and an enchanted world showered on him fame and fortune.

Songs of a Sourdough proved richer than any of the Klondyke's richest strikes. It netted the author an independent fortune in record time. Service, of course, was naturally handy with a pencil. But at any other time—had all creation not been thinking of the noria, and figuring how to get there—there might have been a difference.

COULD LOOK WITHIN
Service had the knack of reading the minds of those around him and the gift of putting into such perfectly fitting verse, how they were feeling and wished to say—but couldn't. And right there, he capitalized on a pro-

DEAD LETTER OFFICE AUCTION
CANADA POST OFFICE

Auctions are fun...but lost parcels aren't funny!

A lady you never heard of just bought the lovely tea set you mailed to Aunt Sophie last year. Not much fun for you in that, but nice for the lady who got it for half what you paid for it.

The gift didn't reach Aunt Sophie because the Post Office just couldn't read the address on the package, or the wrapper came off because the package wasn't tied securely. The Post Office couldn't return the gift to you because there was no return address on, or inside the parcel.

Along with 6,000,000 other letters, circulars and packages—toys, wearing apparel, surveying instruments and even a horse collar—the tea set went to the Dead Letter Office, Canada's largest lost and found department. Experts couldn't figure out where the package was to go.

The package was stored for a year, but no one enquired about it. With thousands of others it was catalogued and sold at auction. That's when the lady you never heard of legally bought Aunt Sophie's tea set.

Visit your Post Office for accurate weighing and correct postage and for courteous advice on addressing and wrapping.

how many managers do you know personally?

Look around you! There are quite a few of them. Some manage stores, the corner grocery, the barber shop, the shoe store—some run service businesses, the shoemaker, the doctor, the dentist, the service station operator. You probably know someone who operates a larger business too.

Just think about them for a minute. By-and-large aren't they decent respectable people, wanting the same things out of life that you do. By-and-large don't they treat their employees well and do the best they can with the business they have?

You wouldn't believe a stranger telling you lies about someone you know well. And generally speaking you discount malicious gossip about casual acquaintances, so when you hear managers general criticized the only fair thing to do is to compare them to the ones you know.

If you do, isn't it likely that they are, on the whole, a pretty decent group of people?

Art Show in High School

For the past two days at Booth School there has been an exhibit of paintings by Miss Jeanne Faure who consented to the exhibit at the special request of the school. The pictures were mounted in room 8 of the new building of the school.

The exhibit was conducted by Miss Y. Lepine who was assisted by Miss McGee.

Miss Faure visited the school Tuesday and spoke to the senior art class and to grades seven and eight. The pictures were seen and enjoyed by all the art classes and at noon Tuesday the remainder of the school was permitted to see the pictures.

The exhibit consisted of about twenty-five pictures. These included two or three portraits but were mainly of local scenery.

Miss McGee said that Miss Faure's work was similar to that of the Dutch painters in that she painted mostly nature—the flowers, the trees, the mountains, etc.

Miss Lepine declared the pictures were very interesting and instructive.

Though most of the paintings were not large they were none the less beautiful and were enjoyed immensely by the students.

MOVING IN: electric automatic cooking

MOVING OUT: wasteful, old-fashioned methods

To buy an electric range is to give your wife a new lease on life. It relieves her from so much drudgery... and gives her so much more time to live... and so much more energy to enjoy living!

No dirt, no dust, no ashes... and no worry... Clock-controlled heat keeps itself right... turns itself off... Nothing to fuss about if people don't turn up on the dot for meals...

And... for the rest of the family... meals that taste better... and are better because the nutriment is kept right in the food.

And it's economical—Electric cooking makes good food go further... And the average electrical bills for medium sized families using electric water heater, lights and other appliances run around $2.00 a week.

Board of Works Making Headway

"It looks like we are going to make some real headway," observed Mayor H. F. Glassey this morning following the first meeting of the board of works following the recent civic by-election and realignment at its meeting next Monday concerning the city's paving program and other matters including the Mount Oldfield dam as a proposed city emergency water supply.

The mayor also spoke optimistically of the city now being able to obtain a supply of gravel for its street work.

"I have always had sympathy with and interest in the Salvation Army and its work of love and charity, and this has been because I know that in the first room it is grounded on real Christianity."

5 Pin League Is Organized

Further registration of a few teams for the Men's Five-Pin Bowling League is still being awaited although organization of the league got under way last week-end when S. G. Furk was returned to the chair as president.

Other new officers elected were H. Windt, secretary, and H. Hampton, treasurer.

Regular league play, it was decided, would begin Monday, September 24, and a schedule will be published soon.

It was decided there would be no leeway for late players this year and that, whenever a team fails to make the schedule, or a member fails his team, full fees will be collected anyway, unless advance notification of absence is given.

Season will be shortened this year, it was also decided. Two sections of 11 weeks will be played instead of three sections played last year.

Video to Find Sub

LONDON — Underwater television was used to find the British submarine Affray which went down in the Channel April 16 with her 75-man crew, the admiralty announced tonight.

This is believed to be the first time that underwater television has been used.

The Affray sank because of a defect in her snorkel underwater breathing apparatus. She was found 258 feet down, June 14, after a widespread search by ships and planes.

The Admiralty said portable television equipment, similar to that used for outside broadcasting, was used.

In June, viewer in the captain's cabin of the salvage ship Reclaim saw various parts of the Affray coming into view on the screen.

"The climax was when they read the name Affray on the screen," the Admiralty said.

"Some two hours later divers were able to identify the submarine by normal methods."

"Hypocrisy" in Divorce Law

TORONTO — Extension of grounds for divorce to include desertion for at least three years without cause, cruelty and incurable insanity requiring care and treatment for five years, was advocated by the British Columbia sub-section on the administration of civil justice. The sub-section reported to the civil justice of the Canadian Bar Association.

This extension of divorce grounds would be for those provinces wanting it, the report stressed. While expressing respect for the personal convictions of M.P.'s who oppose extension of the grounds for divorce, the report deplored "the disrespect into which our courts are being placed by the hypocrisy of the present law."

The report continued: "Judges are required to grant divorces upon evidence which is usually unchallenged and which prima facie shows adultery, but which is all too often prepared especially for the purpose of securing a divorce. The moral law, 'thou shalt not commit adultery,' has become, 'for divorce, com-

Should federal legislation be denied, the British Columbia committee advocates permissive legislation to empower the legislatures of the provinces to enact divorce legislation.

STEWART NEWS

Bill Zurowski, while travelling with two companions, Teague and Arthur Cameron, in the hills adjoining the Marmot Dam, slid one hundred feet down a glacier and sustained abrasions and injured his back. He previously sustained a slight displacement of one of the lower vertebrae and it is thought that this accident may have caused a recurrence. He is able to get around so the injury would appear to be slight.

Mr. and Mrs. B. O. Erickson and Mr. Erickson's partner, Lowell Hicks, left on Monday for their homes in Seattle. During their brief stay in the district they viewed quite a lot of ground in the various prospects, including the Rufus Argenta property on the upper Bear River in which Mr. Erickson owns a controlling interest. If arrangements, for an examination, can be made at this time Mr. Erickson will return shortly to show the engineers over the property.

Monday, September skies were overcast and a gentle drizzle had commenced accompanied by some fog. All signs point to the beginning of fall rains.

Tommy Bailey left for the coast on the Camosun Monday. He is not sure whether he will be back to the district again. Future plans are somewhat vague at present, he says.

Mr. R. Gale of Premier left on the Camosun Monday to join his family at Ocean Falls. He expects to go into the Nelson district in the near future at least to look over the prospects. It is probable, he states, that he may stay there.

Silver Tip is Shipping Ore

STEWART—The tractor road from the Big Missouri to the Silver Tip mine is now complete and the company is making arrangements for the shipment of ore from the property. W. R. Tooth, local manager of the company, states that he hopes to be in a position to ship at least twenty tons of ore before winter closes in.

Diamond drilling results have been good and the future of the property, from the information obtained, seems very satisfactory. A moderate estimate of the ore to be shipped is that it will run better than $150 to the ton.

George Winkler, consulting geologist, left for the south on Monday. Neil McGillivray, president of the company, is still at the mine.

If you want to sell it, advertise it, News classified.

Indian Team Now Working

STEWART—Although not ready for the shipment of ore, the Indian Mine tram to Premier is operating, in so far as transporting supplies and men to the property is concerned. It is anticipated that it will be several weeks before the mine will swing into production.

BOGUMIL SYKORA—Eminent Russian cellist to be heard here.

His Career Is Notable

Cellist Bogumil Sykora is Artist of Note in Many Lands. Bogumil Sykora, eminent Russian cellist, came north "just to see this wonderful country" but, the Civic Centre management, having heard of his fame as an instrumentalist of world-wide renown, has induced him to stay over for a recital which will be put on next Tuesday. It will be a fitting opening of a season which is expected to bring other celebrated artists to the city.

Newspaper reports telling of his concert last week in Ketchikan, the only place in Alaska where he played, waxed superlative in their praises of Mr. Sykora. "Never has there been a finer artist here," said one newspaper in describing the enthusiasm with which he was received there. Mrs. Gruening, the wife of the Governor, who happened to be in Ketchikan from Juneau to extend him an invitation to tour Alaska next year. "I had never yet made up my mind whether or not to accept," Sykora told the Daily News.

The artist's travels, during a distinguished career, have included Europe, Asia, Siberia, North Africa and South America. In Japan he played once at the special request of the Emperor. His last concert tour was in the West Indies, Lesser Antilles, Venezuela and Colombia. While he has appeared in practically all cities of importance in the United States, including Carnegie Hall in New York, but he has so far appeared in only one city in Canada—Winnipeg.

The artist boasts many medals and decorations obtained in many countries and he has also received many honorary titles and diplomas.

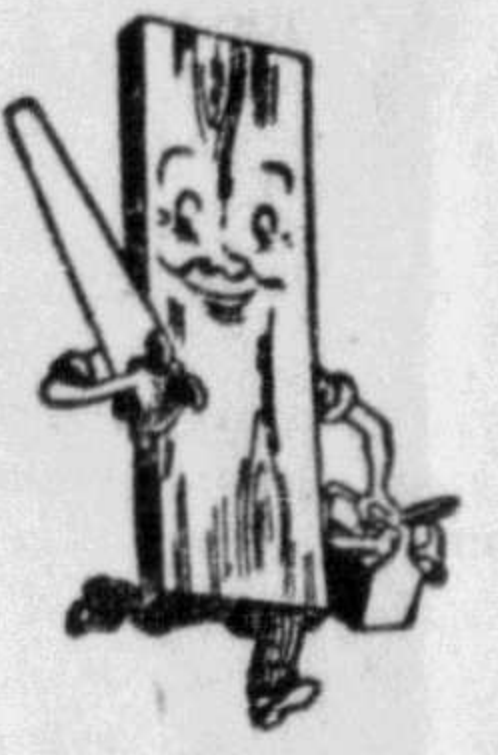

Sykora's talented accompanist is his young wife.

we have, aside from the chlorine and ammonia apparatus, a flow meter which gauges the quantity of water flowing into the city for every hour of the day. This flow meter serves a dual purpose. It gauges the flow in gallons so that the proper quantity of chlorine and ammonia can be safely injected into the stream of water flowing to the city and secondly it records the actual quantity of water in gallons passing through the venturi tube into the distribution system of the city. This apparatus was installed during the last war by highly technical hydraulic army engineers and the work supervised by F. N. Good, civil engineer, then the city engineer.

This flow meter is a very sensitive apparatus and records any loss in quantity passing into the city. The effect of the power house on the system is very noticeable and evident at this location. On days when the power house is not operating, we have a gravity flow (without assistance of the booster pump) of 2,579,200 gallons per day. When the power house operates with a full load the gravity flow (without booster) is 832,000 gallons per day. During the last three months that the power house has been operating daily, the average gravity flow has been from 1,497,600 gallons to 1,955,200 gallons per day. This shows that the power house instead of a "sight effect upon the actual pressure available in the city" has a decided effect upon the actual quantity available to the city and that during the period of from 7 a.m. to 12 midnight that the plant operates, as it has of late, it becomes necessary to use the booster pump to augment the supply for longer hours, the electric power for which the city pays the N.B.C. Power Co. in the neighborhood of four to five thousand dollars a year.

I am fully aware and have been for some years that the 18-inch main is no longer large enough to supply a fast growing community; that our present 18-inch main is no longer an 18-inch main but actually is restricted to the flow of a 16-inch main due to corrosion and "blisters" that have been forming on the inside walls of the main throughout the years since its installation; and that at the present time the city needs and requires every gallon of water possible until such time as a remedy and solution to the problem is forthcoming.

The late Mr. Bonnycastle's (consulting engineer's) solution was to increase the size of the main and lay an independent main in parallel to the existing 45-inch penstock and connect direct to the dam at Woodworth Lake. This would be a costly undertaking.

F. C. Stewart's (consulting engineer's) solution is pumping units at Shawatlans Lake. The initial expenditure would not be great but the yearly expenditures for operation would be considerable if we consider many years of operation.

My solution: While not as costly as Mr. Bonnycastle's, and the capital expenditure more than that of Mr. Stewart's, would be to buy from the N.B.C. Power Co. that portion of the utility embracing the power house, 45-inch penstock and dam (less 20 years' depreciation) and install a new main of 30" to 36" in diameter from the present newly installed 24-inch, relocating, to avoid the underwater crossing at Shawatlans Bay; install the auxiliary pump at the lake shore and connect to the present 45" penstock at the power house. With a few summers of maintenance work the present 45" penstock could be greatly safeguarded from any serious trouble for years to come, by clearing away trees and growth and slides menacing that line; raising the sunken portions, reblocking with permanent concrete supports or heavy timbers.

Although I am in accord with some of the aspects of Mr. Davies' report as to the possibilities of the watershed capacities for water storage, etc., in the Woodworth Lake area, we should also remember winters of very little snow and dry summers of the past when levels from the spillway receded to 12 feet. This summer was an example when it receded nearly eight feet and exceptionally cold winters with the same effects. It is also vital to consider very carefully the fact that Prince Rupert will continue to grow and expansion and growth will also mean many more industries and large consumers of water and that these two lakes, Shawatlans and Woodworth are and will be the only source economically available for that precious commodity called water.

C. J. GUSTAFSON,
Foreman,
City Water Department.

Mrs. Florence Blance of Prince Rupert is leaving soon for the West Indies Islands, visiting first with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lee M. Gordon in Jamaica. Later, Mrs. Blance will proceed to England, her native land.

Outside in the courtyard again, Lieutenant Longway spoke to the prisoners, while I stood by with a notebook. The Chinese crowded around the Lieutenant, so anxious to tell their stories they could hardly wait for him to finish talking.

He asked, "What does Communism mean in China?" One of the older soldiers said quickly, "Rich man become poor. Poor man become more poor." The younger ones were still dazed by the rapid changes in their lives. Simple peasant boys, they had been yanked from their rice paddies, given a few months' training and driven into the fierce fighting in Korea. Their only education consisted of what they had been told by the army political officers. One described a political lecture like this:

"Political officer he call company together. He hold up six fingers in air. He say, 'Only six things to know about Americans! Jen! Chang! Lu! Shao! Sa! Ying!'"

As he spoke the political officer bent down his fingers, one by one. Translated, the words meant, "Rape! Rob! Loot! Burn! Kill! 'Ying' is almost untranslatable. Roughly, it means vicious carousing, including rape and robbery, while drunk.

Understandably enough, when these youngsters were captured and found instead of being tortured, they were given medical treatment; instead of being burned alive, they were fed, they were bewildered.

Before surrendering they had undergone incredible hardship in the ice and snow of the Korean mountains. They marched as much as 150 "li" (about 50 miles) a night. They existed on a handful of kaoliang or "Whang dau" (soya beans) for days. Many of them saw weaker comrades commit suicide with their own grenades rather than continue. In one battalion the medical equipment consisted of three first aid kits. Captured from Americans.

Lieutenant Longway asked one prisoner, "What do you think of Joseph Stalin?"

The prisoner shook his head. "I have heard of him but do not know about him."

The lieutenant asked, "What kind of a man is Mao Tse-tung?"

"This time half a dozen prisoners broke into the conversation. "He is not a man! He is a dog!"

"Not a dog! A turtle!"

"A turtle's egg!"

"Not good enough to be a turtle's egg!"

"His mother was a two-headed turtle!"

More cigarette butts continue to be found in the forests of British Columbia. We'll wager dashed few of the smokers follow logging for a living.

When it takes about a quarter of the front page to illustrate a disappointed heavyweight lying prone and messy after having taken the count, some will study it with breathless interest. He's oblivious to all else. Another will look disgusted and flip the page away. Others, largely indifferent, give a glance and turn to page 2. All a matter of taste, or values of course. And incidentally, in these days of mounting newspaper costs, a fellow must figure on what is called space.

There appears a strong likelihood that there will be car traffic along the Skeena Highway this winter. With a settled country and a $500,000,000 enterprise at one end, and a developing seaport and huge cellulose plant at the other, it would be exceedingly odd not to.

"Show Boat" At Capitol

Here comes the "Show Boat." Heralded as one of the greatest screen entertainments in years, the new technicolor version of the immortal Jerome Kern-Oscar Hammerstein musical play will commence at the Capitol Theatre tomorrow for a three-day run.

Incomparable blend of music, spectacle, color, laughs, tears and romance, "Show Boat" is said to have set a new standard for film musicals. During recent months, a goodly number of Prince Rupert people have seen it in larger cities and all talk enthusiastically about it.

Preparations are being made to handle capacity audiences at the Capitol.

The brilliant cast is headed by Kathryn Grayson, Ava Gardner, Howard Keel and Joe E. Brown and featuring the superb score, of course, are those unforgettable songs—"Ol' Man River," "Make Believe," "Why Do I Love You?" "Bill" and "Can't Help Lovin' Dat Man."

Exhilarating dancing moments are supplied in this new version of "Show Boat" by Marge and Gower Champion in colorful routines done to "I Might Fall Back on You" and "Life Upon the Wicked Stage."
