POLICE PLEBISCITE TO BE SUBMITTED TO CIVIC VOTERS

Electors Will Decide Whether Provincial Force Is Retained Or City Force System Resumed

By a vote of three to two, the city council decided last night to submit a referendum to the voters at the municipal election next week to ascertain whether a majority are in favor of retaining the provincial force or reverting to the system of a city force.

The vote was taken by the council on receipt of a statement from the city treasurer showing the cost of administration of the police for the years 1923 to 1928 inclusive.

In view of the fact that costs under the old system and the new were within a few dollars of each other, Ald. Macdonald moved that a referendum be taken at the municipal election.

In seconding Ald. Macdonald's motion, Ald. Rudderham mentioned that there seemed to be some dissatisfaction at present.

Ald. Prudhomme referred to the fact that, under the old city policing system, provincial officers had been sent in to administer the liquor laws, the cost being deducted from the city's share of liquor profits.

PROSPERITY IS SHIPPING REGULARLY

President of Stewart Says Marmot River Properties Are Present Hope of District

That it will not take long for the Prosperity mine to pay back to the Premier Company the cost of the tramway they installed and to place both companies in an improved position is the opinion of Charles Adam, automobile dealer of Stewart, who is in the city on his way to the old country on holiday.

Mr. Adam says that regular shipments are being made over the new tram to tidewater and the ore going out is of a grade to give good profits to the company.

While the stock depression has hit some of the mining promotions in the Portland Canal area rather hard, Mr. Adam says there is development work going on steadily at several of the mines and good results are reported from time to time.

Cannery Gill Nets and Seines To Be Limited Under Rules of Government to Govern Salmon

VANCOUVER, Jan. 7.—The new policy of the provincial government with regard to restricting the number of cannery licenses to those issued in 1928 and 1929 is to continue for five years, according to the announcement made yesterday by Hon. S. L. Howe, commissioner of fisheries, at a meeting with the fishery interests.

No restrictions whatever are put on cold storage plants or on nets and seines.

It is considered here that the new regulation will have a beneficial effect on the whole industry, benefitting fishermen as well as operators.

Policy Endorsed

Full endorsement of the policy of fishery licence restriction announced by Hon. S. L. Howe, provincial fisheries commissioner, on Monday was given by representatives of fishermen and cannery operators at an all day conference.

It has been agreed between the fishermen and the packers that a joint committee of two, one delegate representing the packers and the other the canneries, will be formed to look after the interests of the canneries.

The agreement will be ratified at a meeting of the B. C. Fishermen's Protective Association on January 18.

Cement Sidewalk Proposals Turned Down by Protest

Reports from the city solicitor that property owners representing more than half the value of the property concerned had petitioned against the building of cement sidewalks on the south side of Third Avenue from Lot 37, Block 34, Section 1, to McBride Street, on the north side of Third Avenue from Seventh to Eighth Streets and on the east side of Seventh Street between Second and Third Avenues and that, therefore, such local improvement work could not be proceeded with were filed at last night's meeting of the city council.

The city solicitor also reported that the building of a cement sidewalk on the north side of Second Avenue from Sixth to Seventh Streets had not been protested against and that, therefore, this work could proceed.

Ald. Collart asked what could be done in the matter of replacement of board walks on the streets where cement sidewalk measures had been turned down. Would they have to pay for new board under local improvement.

It was a problem with which next year's council would have to deal, Mayor McMordie replied.

CONDITION OF BUSINESS

While a lull in business has been caused by the collapse in the price of stocks and the holding back of the wheat crop by the Wheat Pool, the general opinion seems to be that the country is in a healthy condition.

Hon. James Malcolm, minister of trade and commerce, in reviewing the situation at the beginning of the year said:

"Canada stands to make even more outstanding progress in commerce and trade in 1930 and the years to come than in 1928. Industries which have been enlarging their factories and production plants during the past year will be in a position to increase their output. Hydro-electric development under way and planned will undoubtedly attract to Canada an increasing number of industries, resulting in increased production for both domestic and foreign consumption. Export consciousness is growing among the Canadian manufacturers and producers, pointing to increased export trade and resulting in an improvement of the country's trade balance.

Foreign Trade

"Possibly the most important factor in the industrial prosperity of the Dominion in her increasing trade to foreign markets. While a substantial increase has taken place in the exports of fully and partly manufactured articles in recent years, the advantages of foreign fields have not been sufficiently appreciated by Canadian manufacturers as a whole. Development of an export trade assures the exporting manufacturer a steady and consistent outlet for his products and permits his factories to be operated at capacity the year round, thereby eliminating costly 'slack periods' of the year, permits steady employment and assures steady profits.

"From a Dominion-wide perspective, increased exports mean increased production by Canadian factories. Increased production means factory expansions and increased employment. Increased employment means increased population, increased markets and increased prosperity.

"In the past a large proportion of Canadian manufacturers and producers have, unfortunately, to a large extent failed to recognize the possibilities of exports to foreign markets and have shipped only goods which have netted them the largest profits, neglecting the possibilities of working up an extensive trade connection in the goods for which the greatest demand exists, but which does not net them as high a profit as other export commodities. Lack of conformity in quality and style and lack of continuity of supply are other errors of many Canadian exporters.

Grain Exports

"Reduced exports of grain is mainly responsible for the decreases shown in exports to Great Britain, while the United States, in acting as a shipping agent for Canadian grain, is not as seriously affected by the world grain markets, as far as Canadian exports are concerned. Exports to foreign countries, other than the United States, are also affected by the grain and wheat flour export situation, but favorable increases are shown in other commodities. The increase in exports to the British Empire other than Great Britain, while affected to some extent by Canada's reduced exports of grain and flour, reflects a trend towards more direct shipping to these countries instead of through Great Britain or the United States. Trade with the British Empire has greatly increased, particularly in lumber, rubber goods, vehicles and other manufactured articles."

SUICIDE VERDICT

Coroner's Jury Decides Mrs. Hester Allan Came To Death by Poisoning, Self-Inflicted

That Mrs. Hester Allan came to her death by poisoning self-administered was the verdict of the jury which sat yesterday afternoon before Coroner C. L. Monroe to investigate the demise of the native woman of Port Simpson who took bichloride of mercury on Sunday afternoon at 608 Basil Street.

The chief witness was Charles Vess, with whom deceased lived. He was working outside the house and entered after he had heard coughs and groans. The woman, in a dying condition, informed him that she had taken poison. Soon thereafter she expired. She had dissolved the mercury powder in water and quaffed the deadly solution from an aluminum saucepan.

Other witnesses were Dr. C. H. Hankinson, who was called to the house and later made a post-mortem examination and who testified that death had been due to poisoning; Mrs. E. M. Orr, a neighbor, and C. H. Orme, druggist, who identified the poison as having been bought by deceased at his store.

The jurors: John Bulger, Joe Brown, Robert Arthur, George Dawes, Eddie Smith and Dan Jabor. The hearing occupied two hours' time.

Mayor McMordie Farewells City Council Chair

In a brief valedictory before adjournment of last night's council meeting, the final regular gathering of the city fathers over which he will preside, Mayor McMordie expressed his appreciation for courtesy and consideration that had been extended him by the aldermen during his two terms as chief magistrate. He wished the best of luck to all those members of the board who might continue in the service of the city.

Speaking as a member of the aldermanic board, Ald. Macdonald felt that it was a matter of general regret that the mayor should be retiring. He hoped, however, that his withdrawal would prove but temporary. He felt that Colonel McMordie had given the city good and satisfactory service as its mayor.

Sport Chat

The line-up for the re-opening Billiard League match tonight is as follows:

Grotto—Waugh, Nelson, J. Andrews, Hillman, McLachlan, Elks—Balagno, Eason, Stephens, Mitchell, Willscroft.
All games will be played at Empress social club.

English rugby appears to be increasing its hold on the Canadian fans and 1930 already promises to be a banner year for the sport which has a firm grip in the Maritimes and British Columbia and a good and growing following in Quebec and Ontario. R. E. Merry, member of the Ontario English Rugby Union executive, during a recent visit in Montreal, stated that an invitation is expected from Japan to send a Canadian fifteen on a tour of that country; that two squads from England may play exhibitions in Canada and that a British Columbia team may tour the Eastern Provinces in the near future.

These arrangements, all of which are tentative, follow closely on an invitation from Yale University to the Montreal English Rugby Club to play an exhibition game at New Haven next fall. The English teams expected in Canada are Cambridge University, which will probably tour the country playing against various Canadian outfits, and the English squad, picked to play test matches in New Zealand. Should all those games be played in 1930 interest in the game as played under the English code will undoubtedly receive a tremendous boost.

MELANSON PROMOTED

General Traffic Passenger Manager Appointed Assistant C. N. R. Traffic Vice-President

MONTREAL, Jan. 7.—H. H. Melanson has been appointed assistant traffic vice-president of the Canadian National Railways with headquarters at Montreal. Announcement of the appointment was made in a circular issued last night by R. L. Burnap, vice-president in charge of traffic, and approved by Sir Henry W. Thornton. The appointment is effective immediately and the official announcement states that Mr. Melanson will have charge of such duties as may be assigned to him from time to time by the vice-president.

H. H. Melanson brings to his new executive position long railway experience. Descended from Acadians who settled by Port Royale in 1660, he entered the service of the Intercolonial Railway at Moncton, N.B., in 1889, being then described as "assistant to the junior clerk" in the mechanical department. Three years later he joined the passenger department of the Intercolonial Railway and in 1899 was promoted to the position of chief clerk of that department. After becoming general baggage agent, Mr. Melanson was made assistant general passenger agent, and he became general passenger agent in 1913.

In 1917 Mr. Melanson was appointed passenger traffic manager of the Canadian Government Railways and he was made passenger traffic manager of the C.N.R. in 1918. This position he held until his appointment in 1923 as general passenger traffic manager of the C.N.R. system. Mr. Melanson is one of two Canadians to have held the office of president of the American Association of Passenger Traffic Officers, which met last year as Jasper Park Lodge during the course of a tour through Western Canada, the other Canadian to have this honor, being George T. Bell, formerly executive assistant of the traffic vice-president of the C.N.R.

TURN DOWN RESOLUTION

Local City Council Does Not Favor Dominion Unemployment Conference

On a three to two division, the city council declined last night to endorse a resolution emanating from the Vancouver city council asking that the Dominion government call a conference of federal, provincial and municipal authorities to consider the unemployment situation in the Dominion.

The Vancouver resolution stated that a serious unemployment situation had arisen throughout the Dominion and particularly in the West. Something should be done to relieve it. The city of Vancouver had found it impossible to cope with the situation arising there. Mayor McMordie saw no reason why the city of Vancouver should take it upon itself to judge conditions prevailing in the East. He would not say that there was a serious situation of unemployment prevailing in such cities as Montreal or Toronto.

Ald. Macdonald did not see how the calling of a conference was going to solve the situation. It looked to him like an attempt on the part of Vancouver to pass the buck.

Ald. Prudhomme saw the question as a big one which might affect immigration. Every winter there was unemployment and hardship which either newcomers to Canada or Canadians had to suffer. He felt that it was more important to keep the people who were already in Canada than to bring new immigrants in. He was inclined to favor the idea of calling a conference which might at least help to remedy the situation in future years.

If any conference were held, it should be during the summer before the situation arose, Ald. Macdonald felt. The calling of a conference now would not help to feed the men who were out of work.

Ald. Rudderham believed that Vancouver was perfectly correct in asking for a conference. Conditions were bad from one end of the country to the other. It was a situation which sooner or later would have to be met. He criticized the action of the minister of labor in turning down the idea of a conference when conditions were so bad, particularly in the West. The proposal for a conference had his hearty endorsement.

Ald. Brown did not see what good a conference would do. The government was already fully cognizant of the situation.

Ald. Prudhomme moved that the Vancouver resolution for a conference be endorsed, Ald. Rudderham seconding. On the vote being put, Ald. Macdonald, Ald. Brown and Ald. Collart voted against the motion.

BUSY XMAS KINCOLITH

Drunkness Offenders Punished; Compensation for Timber From Granby Co.

KINCOLITH, Jan. 7.—The Christmas season passed off in the usual way here and the end of the old year was a very busy time for the Kincolith people.

The Indian agent, W. E. Collison, arrived during the following week and tried these cases on the last day of the old year: Ralph Clayton, charged with assault, was dismissed with a caution; George Boln, charged with supplying home brew, was dismissed as there was not enough evidence. The following people all pleaded guilty and were fined accordingly for intoxication: Andrew George Nelson, $15 and $2.50 costs; Peter Stewart, $15 and $2.50 costs; Hubert Barton, $10 and $2.50 costs; Frank Bolton, $10 and $2.50 costs; Mrs. Julia Stewart, $10 and $2.50 costs; Sam Stewart, $5 and $2.50 costs.

The long expected compensation from the Granby Consolidated Co. for damage done to timber reserves belonging to Kincolith Indians was paid out by the Indian agent assisted by the Dominion constable and Godwin Stewart. A much larger sum is still to come from the provincial government for the sale of reserves no longer wanted.

Arrangements were also completed for the lease of the reserve at Georgia River to the Georgia River Mining Co.

Roy Summers of the C.N.R. division freight agent's office here will return to the city on the Prince Rupert tomorrow morning after having spent a vacation visiting in Vancouver, Seattle and Portland.

Johnson Shows Pictures Before Church Audience

There was a very good attendance at the First United Church last evening, when T. H. Johnson gave an exhibition of moving pictures taken by himself on his recent visit to Europe. He also showed some very good pictures that he had taken of the Skeena district and many expressions of appreciation were given by those present. The Sunday School orchestra, consisting of Miss Connie Morgan, pianist, Miss Ruth Wilkinson and Victor Thomas, was in attendance and gave selections at intervals throughout the evening. A collection was taken in aid of the general fund of the church.

election was over. Ald. Macdonald said he thought the dissatisfaction was more than street talk. There were many reputable citizens who felt that the old system was the best. Personally, he was quite satisfied with the present body of men, although he might be opposed to the principle of the matter. He saw no advantage in deferring the referendum. It would only cost the city more to hold it at a later date. It would be easy to settle the question now and it would be settled for all time. After further discussion, the motion for a referendum was passed with Ald. Macdonald, Ald. Rudderham and Ald. Brown voting "aye" and Ald. Collart and Ald. Prudhomme "nay."

It was further decided that, not only taxpayers, but all voters on the list would be entitled to vote on the referendum.

City Hall Heating System Subject of Alderman's Query

On the report for the month of December from J. W. Exley, janitor, showing that 3534 gallons of fuel oil had been used in the City Hall heating system at a daily cost of $6.27 being read at last night's council meeting, Ald. Prudhomme expressed his belief that it was costing a good deal more to operate the heating system than it should. In his hotel,

FIRST WOMAN STAKE CLAIM

Mrs. J. P. Peterson, Montreal, Tells of Her Experiences

QUEBEC, Jan. 7.—The honor of being the first woman to stake out a claim in the copper mining district of Chibougamau—and indeed of being the first white woman to have visited parts of the country in that district—belongs to Mrs. J. P. Peterson of Montreal. Tall, slim, her auburn hair smartly bobbed, Mrs. Peterson told the story of her trip to the north to a reporter here recently. Fifteen claims she staked during her week's visit, and with her husband she is going back to Chibougamau again next month to carry on the work she has begun so successfully.

She went to Chibougamau to meet her husband, who has been working in that district as a mining prospector. Leaving Montreal by train on Monday, December 9, Mrs. Peterson arrived at Amos on the Abitibi line, two days later. From there she flew to Lake Opemiska, at the head of the River Chibougamau, where she joined her husband.

Mr. Peterson, she explained, had been one of the last passengers by aeroplane to Chibougamau before the "freeze-up," which set in at the beginning of last month; and she was one of the first to venture north again after it. "I flew to my husband's camp near Lake Opemiska," she explained, "and we settled down to work the following day."

The work meant long snowshoe tramps on trails which had already been blazed by her husband, and the staking of the different claims whenever a likely spot was struck. "I had never been on snowshoes before," she confessed with a somewhat rueful smile, "and I found it hard work, I can tell you."

Mrs. Peterson was full of admiration for the country, which she said exerted a strange fascination over anyone who knew it. "Of course, it is not an easy life," she added. "We lived in a little log cabin, with snow leaking through the roof. We got up early in the morning, and had breakfast in bright moonlight. Then immediately afterwards we set out on the trail, and worked all day. At night I was so tired I couldn't even smoke. But I loved it, and I'm longing to get back again."

Had Experiences "Did I have any experiences? Well we had a lot of trouble with wolves—or to be more exact, with a wolf. We were camping at the time near a lake which my husband called Lake Laura (after me), and this wolf—my husband was sure it was the same one—kept prowling around the camp at night. We chased it several times, but we never got it."

With regard to the Indians they encountered, she believed they were Objibways. They were very friendly, although not many of them could speak English, and they were perpetually laughing. The squaws—or most of them—had never seen a white woman before, and were naturally interested in Mrs. Peterson to the point of being inquisitive.

"Curiously enough," Mrs. Peterson remarked, "many of the men seemed afraid when they saw the airplane, the women showed no signs of fear." The fact that some of the men bolted when the plane came into sight while the women waited to see what it was seems to show the curiosity it is as prevalent a characteristic among the dusky bellies of the Objibways as anywhere else.

"One old Indian, who had been working with us as a guide," Mrs. Peterson said, "ran for the woods whenever he heard the sound of the aeroplane's engines. He had been very useful and faithful, and before I came away I presented him with a necktie, which delighted him immensely."

A keen desire to go back north again was expressed by both Mr. and Mrs. Peterson. "One might expect that living in a cabin and working amid perpetual snow would become wearisome," the latter said, "but that is not the case. There is so much to do, and so much to see, that one never has time to think of the loneliness."

which was just as large and was kept just as warm, he had used hardly 1000 gallons of fuel in December. He asked that the Board of Works and city engineer look into the City Hall system in order to ascertain if everything was working all right. The suggestion was agreed to by the council, Ald. Brown pointing out that, one reason why the cost was higher was because the Savoy Hotel plant was a hot water system, while that of the City Hall was steam.

Quebec Winter Sports

Vive le Carnaval! Vivent les sports d'hiver! In these few words may be summed up the spirit of Quebec in winter-time. Here for many years have gathered lovers of winter sports and frolics from all parts of the western hemisphere.

The ancient capital of Canada is the American continent's metropolis for ski-ing, ski-joring, ski-jumping, tobogganing, bob-sledding, skating, snow-shoeing, dog-team driving, curling, and hockey, during the winter months, and in addition has a unique attraction to offer the visitor in February when the International Dog Sled Derby annually takes place.

Winter-sports activities radiate from the Chateau Frontenac, Quebec's famous hostelry, where Jack Strathdee will again be winter-sports director. This season he has a new attraction to offer during the Ice Pageant, February 12 and 13, when 24 girl members of the Toronto Skating Club will perform an ice-dance to be known as the "Danse Moderne." This will be a veritable "Ziegfeld production on ice."

In all about two hundred skaters will take part in this ever attractive and beautiful Pageant.

A record list of entries is promised for the Dog Sled Derby this season. Arthur Beauvais, driver of the Chateau team, announces that he will have a better team than ever. His new huskies were bred at Caughnawaga, the Indian reservation near Montreal. At the Dog Derby, February 20, 21, and 22, the visitor will see such famous mushers as St. Godard, winner of last year's Derby; Seppala, Norwegian hero of many an epic drive; Frank Dupuis, and many another well-known figure in action for three days over a 123 mile course, mushing 41 miles a day.

Three internationally famous ski-ing instructors will be on the staff of the Chateau Frontenac this winter. They are Ivind Nelson, Hans Gunnarsen, and Orice Higgs, of Revelstoke, British Columbia. Burnett Burke formerly of the Montreal Amateur Athletic Association, will be instructor at the Chateau's skating rink.

AIRPLANES ARE HELP

Flying Boats Greatly Facilitate Prospecting North of Stewart

"The flying boat is going to prove of the greatest assistance in opening up mineral areas hitherto regarded as inaccessible," said Mr. J. Wardlaw Stewart, of the Stewart Land Co., with headquarters at Stewart, B.C., in Victoria recently, and who had occasion to use a plane of the Canadian Airways in connection with his season's activities, crossing the Coast Range in Northern British Columbia several times during the past Summer.

Representing the Northern Prospecting Syndicate, Mr. Stewart investigated the territory from the Portland Canal town north toward the Iskut River, securing much valuable data on the district, which will be of great advantage next season when prospecting is planned on a much more extended scale by this exploration syndicate.

"The airplane is the solution of the prospecting problems in our northern districts," continued Mr. Stewart, citing an incident where an engineer and his assistant had been landed on a lake within half an hour after leaving Stewart, from where it took them just seventeen days to make the return trip on foot.

"Once access by airboat is available to any extent prospecting the interior of the northern country will be comparatively easy. That there is a great mineral belt north of Stewart is assured and that there are big metal opportunities is proved by the location of over sixty mineral claims on Treaty Creek, forty miles from Stewart, which were surveyed for Crown grants during the past Summer by the Consolidated Company."

Development

Telling of the development of the district during the past season, Mr. Stewart said that many properties were being consistently developed and a large number of new stakings had been recorded. A considerable area of new territory on American Creek would come into the mining limelight in 1930. A great many claims were located at the headwaters of this creek late in the season, following the prosecution of operations on the American Boy Group, where, it is said, excellent results were obtained.

"The Canadian Eastern Railway had surveyed from the present end of steel at Redcliffe to Surprise Creek, thirty-two miles from Stewart. The new survey reduced grades considerably from the line laid out in 1910, and will mean a shorter tunnel through the Bear River divide than was anticipated at that time.

"The Northern British Columbia Power Company, subsidiary of the Power Company of Canada, is very active in the district. This company has acquired the Dunwell Diesel power plant, which is now supplying power requirements to Stewart and Hyder. It also owns power rights on American Creek, on which considerable work was done last Summer, and has at present two outfits wintering on the Naas River, where they are recording power volume from day to day. Recently the company purchased the principal lot in the townsite for the erection of an office building, and also acquired five and one-half acres in the town for the location of their power plant. On January 9 the citizens of Stewart will vote on whether the town is to be incorporated or not."

RIVERS CHANGE COURSE

The study of aerial photographs by officials of the Surveys Bureau of the Department of the Interior has disclosed many rivers that have changed their course in comparatively recent times, as time is calculated in its relation to geological facts. This information opens up many interesting possibilities for the diversion of one stream into another or for the concentrations of head for power development. This is only one of the ways in which aerial surveying is contributing to the development of the Dominion.
