MAYOR'S MISSION TO VICTORIA CROWNED WITH SUCCESS

Radical Measures for Control of Trading in Attorney General Bill

Government Will Be Given Power to Step Into Any Business if Proposed Measure Goes Through

VICTORIA, Feb. 1.—Hon. R. H. Pooley, attorney-general, placed new legislation for the control of stock brokers before the legislature on Monday afternoon. The bill will be left untouched, Mr. Pooley said, until after the conference of provincial attorney-generals or their representatives at Toronto next Monday, when it might be found necessary to make radical changes. Following the Toronto meeting, which will consider stock broking with all its ramifications, there might be more changes of a serious kind, or it might be necessary to withdraw the proposed bill altogether and substitute a new and more drastic one, the attorney-general said.

The new chief justice-designate was secretary of state in the cabinets of Presidents Harding and Coolidge, and won distinction in the field of post-war international politics. In 1916 he was unsuccessful presidential candidate against the late Woodrow Wilson. Among other public service, he has been special government prosecutor, governor of New York, and justice of the Supreme Court.

Mr. Hughes was born April 11, 1862, at Glen Falls, New York, the son of a Welsh Baptist clergyman, and started his law career in New York City after graduating from college. He still has a flourishing practice in New York.

SEATTLE, Feb. 4.—Major A. D. Jackson, divisional commander of the Salvation Army, has made an appeal for help for the men thrown out of work in the state of Washington through the depression in the lumber trade. Police officers told of the raid they made a week ago on the premises of accused, as a result of which they discovered tins of prepared opium in the hen coop to the rear of the restaurant. Edward Chungkee acted as interpreter in the case, which was adjourned until tomorrow morning.

E. F. Jones is acting as prosecutor, while L. W. Patmore is defence counsel. Accused is at liberty on $4000 bail.

Seattle Was Able Last Night for First Time to Defeat Vancouver on Latter's Ice

VANCOUVER, Feb. 4.—Led by Jack Walker, the Seattle Eskimos eluded a two-year jinx here last night and scored a victory over the Vancouver Lions. It was the first time since the reorganization of the Pacific Coast Hockey League that Seattle was able to defeat the Lions on Vancouver ice. The victory put the Eskimos within striking distance of the league leaders. The score was 2 to 1.

Naval Disarmament Conference Enters Upon Era of Compromise Over Means of Ship Limitation

LONDON, Feb. 4.—The naval disarmament conference has entered upon an era of compromise. The French compromise between the two methods of limiting navies has been modified. The British have prepared another compromise sort of counter-proposal. Roughly speaking, the French and Italians still lean to a globalist view of allotting each nation a maximum tonnage to be divided into classes of vessels according to that nation's desires. The British, Americans and Japanese lean toward the categorical views which strictly define total tonnage in each class and size of ships and guns in that class.

The conference met today in committee of the whole and heads of the respective five delegations held separate meetings elsewhere. The discussion was afterwards described as frank, with reservations to a certain extent being made by all countries.

W. Rebbin, pleading guilty to a charge of drunkenness, was fined $25, with option of thirty days imprisonment, by Magistrate McClymont, in city police court this morning.

Highway Construction Here This Year Promised by Government; Other Concessions Made To City

Park Sites to Be Turned Over; Larger Premises for Public Library; Cabinet Firm in Refusal to Allow Log Export

Reporting on his trip last week to provincial government headquarters in Victoria to take up a number of matters on behalf of the city, Mayor C. H. Orme informed the council last night that he had been assured by Hon. N. S. Lougheed, minister of public works, and other members of the cabinet that it had been settled upon to proceed with construction this year of the Skeena River highway eastward from Prince Rupert and that the amount of work to be done would be limited, only by the amount of money available. Further word, the mayor said, was expected from Mr. Lougheed within the next few days. Meantime, there need be no fear that nothing would be done in 1930, as far as local highway construction was concerned.

The mayor met with gratifying success in practically all matters he took up in Victoria and the announcement he was able to make regarding the road was only one item in his report. He told the council that the government would be pleased, as soon as the property was transferred to it by the Canadian National Railways, to turn over to the city some forty acres of land along Hays Creek just west of McClymont Park which was dedicated for further park development. Land surrounding Lake Oliver on the Kalen Island road, which the Parks Board sought, was also to be given by the government to the city.

The mayor further announced that the government was agreeable to allowing the use of the building on the old court house grounds for the housing of the public library. Placing of this downtown block on the market was to be considered by the government this summer.

A further announcement made by his worship was to the effect that the government had already passed an account to remunerate the city for the building of cement sidewalks around the old court house block. The money would be paid over as soon as the necessary order-in-council could be put through.

In only one matter did the mayor fail to gain his point. That was with regard to the question of log exports from this district. The minister of lands had told him that the present government, as the former had been, was opposed to export of logs.

While in Victoria, Mayor Orme was asked by the management of the Port Simpson Hospital to request assistance toward the rebuilding of the power house there which was recently destroyed by fire. The government had agreed to make a grant of $500.

Ald. Brown thought that the mayor was deserving of congratulation in view of the success of his mission. Ald. Colliart agreed with this and the appreciation of the council was expressed in a formal vote of thanks proposed by Ald. Pullen and seconded by Ald. Linzey.

FRASER MILL MEN WORKING

Moderation of Weather Conditions Permits Resumption of Activity

NEW WESTMINSTER, Feb. 4.—About a thousand men went back to work yesterday when most of the mills along the Fraser River resumed operations following a tie-up caused by winter weather conditions.

According to T. H. Wilkinson, secretary-treasurer of the British Columbia Lumber & Shingle Manufacturers' Association, general conditions in the lumber industry remain somewhat depressed. The decision of the United States senate to retain shingles and lumber on the free list, however, lends some encouragement to the situation.

SUCCESSFUL MISSION

The mission of Mayor Orme to Victoria seems to have been a very successful one. He returns to tell us that the work on the road will be continued this summer, that the library can have the use of the building formerly occupied by the St. Andrew's Society, that the Government will next summer investigate the possibility of placing the Government block on the market, that the necessary land for a city park will be donated to them, that park land at Oliver Lake will be set aside as a public park under the Parks Board, and, finally, that outstanding financial matters have been settled.

The only refusal was to the request to be allowed to export logs from Northern British Columbia.

We are particularly pleased to note a decided change in the attitude of the Government at Victoria towards Prince Rupert. This attitude will be appreciated. The policy of making a district suffer for voting against a government is one to be discouraged. The mission of Mayor Orme is probably the most successful in the history of the city. We compliment him on it and also compliment the Provincial Government on their timely change of attitude.

PRINCE RUPERT THE PLACE

Reports from outside places indicate that there are few cities in Canada where conditions equal those obtaining in Prince Rupert today. During the winter there has been very little unemployment. In fact every man who has been willing to work has had a chance. Some have not accepted and others have wanted to pick and choose their jobs, but this is hardly a time for picking and choosing.

As a matter of fact, Prince Rupert's condition is excellent. If collections are a little slow they are not as slow as at some other places. While we did not show that progress we should have liked when other places were moving forward, we are not feeling the backwash now that there is a slight easing up in the national prosperity.

Full Speed Ahead Soon

Many people do not realize that the Northern Power Company, a subsidiary of the Power Corporation of Canada, is really constructing a large hydro-electric plant to serve the city of Prince Rupert and adjoining territory. The site for the plant is being prepared and the right-of-way for the high-power lines connecting Big Falls on the Ecstall River with the city is being cleared and that during September next it is expected to turn on the power from the first unit.

What does this mean to Prince Rupert? It means that the largest power corporation of Canada has faith in the future of the city and district and already sees a market for its product.

Under the impetus of the new movement, Prince Rupert will grow. Industries will be developed and all will feel the benefit.

Prince Rupert people must prepare for the change. New buildings will be necessary. If there are no vacant houses in the city today, what will be the condition when people begin to come in?

The Daily News is alive to the situation and is laying its plans. Others must do the same if they are to keep pace with the new Prince Rupert.

Smothering Spells Couldn't Walk Far Gasped For Breath

The Letter Box

APPRECIATE DR. MANDY

Editor Daily News:

If you can spare me the space I would like the public and business men of our city to at least know the good publicity that our resident mining engineer, Dr. Mandy, is giving B. C., especially Northern B. C. and particularly Prince Rupert.

I have just finished reading Dr. Mandy's 32-page report of the Taku River mining area in which he discloses the facts about this district. He claims that the Taku area is the largest and most promising discovered since Grassy was located; and in this contention he is backed up by other prominent engineers who have surveyed the district.

In his report, Dr. Mandy points out several times that Prince Rupert is the closest and most logical distributing centre for the whole of the Taku area. Now, Mr. Editor, as we are geographically so well situated, the merchants here should get together and make sure that we are the source of supply. We also have the opportunity of realizing our cherished dream of this whole country. Should we allow two American companies to step in and take all the wealth which is in this district right past our door down to the Tacoma smelter? Why not have a smelter of our own at Port Edward? We will have the power to run it, and if everyone in the country gets behind this we can start something. But it must be done immediately. The two main companies will be ready to ship in two or three years and we must be ready when they are.

This is the start of a new year. We have new officers on the Board of Trade and a new City Council who are fortunate enough to have these wonderful opportunities knocking at their door. Now let us see if they cannot put some of these into effect.

Yours for a better and bigger city.

W. P. ARMOUR.

WAAC Experiences Described by Mrs. Vic Houston to Club

The Fireside Club of First Baptist Church heard an interesting talk last night by Mrs. Vic Houston, who told in a humorous way of some of her experiences during the Great War with the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps. There was a large attendance of members at the meeting, which was presided over by Miss Cathie Watson. Devotional exercises at the opening were conducted by Jack Bayless. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served.

TRADING SIMPLE

System in Vancouver as Efficient as Anywhere Else in World

VANCOUVER, Feb. 4.—During the past period of intensive trading on the Vancouver Stock Exchange, improvements have been made to the system which makes trading here comparable in efficiency with practices in leading exchanges of the world, according to Charles G. Pennock, president of the Vancouver Stock Exchange.

The Vancouver exchange operates on the "post" system, which permits trading in different stocks simultaneously at the various stations on the "floor." The operation of buying and selling has been simplified.

An investor gives his broker an order to buy stock. This order is conveyed to the broker's representative on the "floor" and offered for sale. Should another broker hold a buying for the same stock, he should "sold" and the transaction is complete. The price paid is the official price quotation for that stock. Records are kept in triplicate and automatically time-stamped to within a tenth-second.

The Vancouver Stock Exchange is merely a machine giving a necessary service to investors. It is operated on a system passed and approved by the provincial government.

ATLANTIC AIRDROME

Portuguese Government Responsible For First International Aerial Base

TERCEIRA ISLAND, Azores Archipelago, Feb. 4.—Far out in the Atlantic Ocean, on the little island of Terceira, which is one of the Azores group, the Portuguese Government is erecting the first international, transoceanic airdrome in the world.

Airmen seeking to span the Atlantic or circumnavigate the entire globe by air will find on this rocky oasis on the Atlantic, a highly modern air base, equipped not only with the most approved form of slipways and hangars, but with spare parts and most skilled aviation mechanics ready to lend assistance in any direction.

Terceira Island is 3250 miles from New York and 2500 miles from Le Bourget, the great French aviation centre. This island on the Atlantic was chosen as a landing spot by Portuguese aviation experts because it is the most sheltered of all the numerous islands constituting the Azores Archipelago and is free from high winds and other atmospheric disturbances, which hinder an airman's path. Unlike most of the other islands in the Atlantic which are of volcanic origin and mountainous, Terceira possesses the unusual virtue of being flat and is covered with a smooth and luxuriant growth of grass.

It will require from eighteen months to two years to complete the new air station. The government has already approved the necessary credits which are not to exceed five million dollars. In taking this step the Portuguese government has acknowledged that modern aviation, even with highly skilled pilots, and the most highly developed machines, is not altogether safe unless a series of floating airdromes such as those urged by Louis Bleriot, the first aviator to fly the English Channel, are established along the route of flight across the ocean.

It is believed by Portuguese aviation authorities that if such a landing point, as the Lisbon government is now establishing in the Azores, existed a few years ago, many of the airmen who lost their lives in attempting to bridge the Atlantic without a stop, might have been saved.

Local Items

Grotto Wins In Billiards

The J. Hillman vs. G. P. Tinker game postponed from last Thursday night's fixture between the Grotto and Canadian Legion is still outstanding but will probably be played tonight, in addition to the regularly scheduled fixture between Elks and Canadian Legion.

The standing to date in the second half of the season is as follows:

	G.	Ttl.	Av.
Elks	5	5947	1189

Tourist Leave Millions in Quebec Province

QUEBEC, Feb. 4.—The city of Quebec made the sum of $7,568,560 from tourist trade during 1929. The total income to the province through tourist traffic is in the neighborhood of $70,270,610. These figures are issued by the Automobile Club of Quebec, and the figures for this city, it is stated, show an increase of 12% over the corresponding amount for 1928.

The immense benefit which the city reaps from the attractions which draw tourists here from all parts of this continent are strikingly emphasized in the statistics compiled by the Automobile Club. Of the total figure of $7,568,560, it is estimated that $4,568,560 has resulted from the visits of motorists. The number of automobiles which entered the province during 1929 is stated to be 541,045. Of these 128,366 were here for one day, 412,535 for two months, and 269 for three months. The Automobile Club has been conservative in its estimates of the amounts spent by automobile visitors, and the secretary, J. Emile Renaud, states that in all probability they are from 10% to 25% below the actual amount spent.

Conservative Test In By-election to Be Held Nottingham

NOTTINGHAM, Eng., Feb. 4.—The Central Division of Nottingham, which elected Sir A. J. Bennett, Conservative, to Parliament in the last election, may prove the first testing point among Conservatives on the Empire free trade policy of Lord Beaverbrook.

Sir A. J. Bennett is expected to retire from Parliament and the local Conservative caucus has already nominated Terence O'Connor Young, K.C., who represented London from 1924 to 1929. He declares himself a supporter of the policy of Empire development, announced by the Conservative leader, Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin, last year.

But another Conservative candidate is threatened in George Terrell, president of the National Union of Manufacturers, former member of Parliament for Chippenham and an avowed advocate of free trade within the Empire.

Sir A. J. Bennett was elected on a minority vote, the figures being Bennett, Conservative, 14,571; Mr. Barton, Labor, 11,573; A. Brampton, Liberal, 8736.

City accounts for the two weeks ending January 31, totalling $23,339.45, were passed for payment by the council last evening.

Prize-Winning Steers Furnish Toothsome Delicacies For S. S. Berengaria Passengers

Prize-winners for prize-winners—that is the way it goes.

In the panel is pictured sturdy, well-looking, heavy-shouldered steers which took first prize in the International Live Stock Exposition at Chicago. From their pen they went directly to the packer and are now aboard, in different form, the S.S. Berengaria, flagship of the Cunard Line, where they will be used in the various menus.

It is not an uncommon affair for the Cunard Line to purchase its meat supply "on the hoof" and to make special arrangements with the packers for its preparation. People at sea demand the best things in life, especially in their cuisine. The larger photograph shows huge sides of beef ready to be cut up into thick, juicy steaks or delicious roasts for the fortunate passengers aboard the S.S. Berengaria. These are the corn-fed steers of the other photograph, the first prize winners at the international exposition, which were purchased by the Cunard Line and dressed especially for the Berengaria by the Armour Company.

Stewart to attend the funeral of his father, the late Edward A. Hud-the end of last week.

At the request of the Omineca Ski Club, and so that additional accommodation may be provided for visitors to that district for the forthcoming ski carnival, Mrs. J. C.
Henkel has decided to reopen the Francois Lake Lodge at Francois
Lake for the occasion.

The city council last night, on request of Ald. James Black, voted $100 to the reading room committee so that subscriptions to certain periodicals which are now expiring might be renewed. Ald. Black, who is chairman of the reading room committee, reported that, in line with a policy of economy, reading room estimates would be cut a little this year.

The city council last night advanced through its first readings a bylaw providing for the temporary borrowing from the Royal Bank of Canada of $125,000 pending the collection of the current year's taxes.
This amount will take care of a $50,000 overdraft the city already has at the bank as well as making funds available for necessary work.

As chairman of the fisheries committee, Ald. Rudderham reported to the city council last night that the committee had gone further into the proposed new provincial salmon fishing regulations but had found nothing which would warrant the council changing its stand of the previous meeting when a resolution had been passed opposing the regulations. For this reason the committee had no formal report to make to the council.

City Hall Janitor J. W. Exley reported to the city council last night that during January a total of 1739 gallons of fuel oil had been consumed by the heating plant of the hall. The average daily consumption was 56 gallons at a cost of $3.08.

Ald. S. D. Macdonald, at last night's council meeting, again put forward the suggestion he made last year that city business might be expedited if meetings were held weekly instead of fortnightly. He suggested that the council at its next meeting, two weeks hence, might consider the advisability of making the change.

On recommendation of the Board of Works, the city council last night accepted tenders from Smith and Mallett of $445.24 and the Prince Rupert Supply Co. of $351.60 for water department supplies for the year. There were five tenders which were referred to the Board of Works by last year's council for tabulation and report. The tenders were the lowest in each case.

Owing to the fact that Ald. S. D.
Macdonald, who is the northern representative on the British Columbia executive of the Trades Congress of Canada, is unable to make the trip to attend the annual conference with the provincial cabinet which will be held on Friday of this week, Ald. W. M. Brown is taking his place and sailed this afternoon on the Catala for Victoria.

The SEVEN DIALS MYSTERY

By Agatha Christie

Copyright by Public Ledger

INSTALMENT XXIX

"Excellent," said Jimmy approvingly. "Nothing could be better. I'd like an eye kept on Bundle anyway. You never know what mad thing she won't be up to next. She's so frightfully unexpected. And the worst of it is, she's so astonishingly successful. I tell you, keeping Bundle out of mischief is a whole-time job."

"Bill ought to look after her," suggested Loraine.

"Bill's pretty busy elsewhere."

"Don't you believe it," said Loraine.

"What? Not the Countess? But the lad's potty about her." Loraine continued to shake her head.

"There's something there I do not quite understand. But it's not the Countess with Bill—it's Bundle. Why, this morning Bill was talking to me when Mr. Lomax came out and sat down by Bundle. He took her hand or something, and Bill was off like a rocket."

"What a curious taste some people have," observed Mr. Thesiger.

"Fancy anyone who was talking to you wanting to do anything else. But you surprise me very much, Loraine. I thought our simple Bill was enmeshed in the toils of the beautiful foreign ad-venturess. Bundle thinks so, I know."

"Bundle may," said Loraine, "but I tell you, Jimmy, it isn't so."

"Then what's the big idea?" "Don't you think it possible that Bill is doing a bit of sleuthing on his own?"

"Bill? He hasn't got the brains."

"I'm not so sure. When a simple, muscular person like Bill does set out to be subtle, no one ever gives him credit for it."

"And in consequence he can put in some good work. Yes, there's something in that. But all the same, I'd never have thought it of Bill. He's doing the Countess' little woolly lamb to perfection. I think you're wrong, you know, Loraine. The Countess is an extraordinarily beautiful woman—not my type, of course," put in Mr. Thesiger hastily—"and old Bill has always had a heart like a hotel."

Loraine shook her head, unconvinced.

"Well," said Jimmy, "have it your own way. We seem to have more or less settled things. You go back with Bundle to Chimneys, and for heaven's sake keep her from poking about in that Seven Dials place again. Heaven knows what will happen if she does."

Loraine nodded.

"And now," said Jimmy, "I think a few words with Lady Coote would be advisable."

With Lady Coote

Lady Coote was sitting on a garden seat doing wool-work. The subject was a disconsolate and somewhat misshapen young woman weeping over an urn.

Lady Coote made room for Jimmy by her side, and he promptly, being a tactful young man, admired her work.

"Do you like it?" said Lady Coote, pleased. "It was begun by my Aunt Selina the week before she died. Cancer of the liver, poor thing."

"How beastly," said Jimmy.

"And how is the arm?"

"Oh! it's feeling quite all right."

Bit of a nuisance and all that, you know."

"You'll have to be careful," said Lady Coote in a warning voice.

"I've known blood-poisoning set in—and in that case you might lose your arm altogether."

"Oh, I say, I hope not."

"I'm only warning you," said Lady Coote.

"Where are you hanging out now?" inquired Mr. Thesiger.

"Town—or where?"

Considering that he knew the answer to his query perfectly well, he put the question with a praiseworthy amount of ingenuousness.

Lady Coote sighed heavily.

"Sir Oswald has taken the Duke of Aton's place. Letherbury. You know it, perhaps?"

"Oh, rather. Topping place, is it not?"

"Oh, I don't know," said Lady Coote. "It's a very large place, and gloomy, you know. Rows of picture galleries with such forbidding looking people. What they call Old Masters are very depressing, I think. You should have seen a little house we had in Yorkshire, Mr. Thesiger. When Sir Oswald was plain Mr. Coote. Such a nice lounge hall and a cheerful drawing room with an angle-nook—a white striped paper with a frieze of wistaria I chose for it. I remember, satin stripe, you know, not moire. Much better taste, I always think. The dining room faced northeast, so we did not get much sun in it, but with a good bright scarlet paper and a set of those comic hunting prints—why, it was as cheerful as Christmas."

In the excitement of these reminiscences, Lady Coote dropped several little balls of wool, which Jimmy dutifully retrieved.

"Thank you, my dear," said Lady Coote. "Now what was I saying? Oh!—about houses—yes, I do like a cheerful house. And choosing things for it gives you an interest."

Ambitious Sir Oswald

"I suppose Sir Oswald will be buying a place of his own one of these days," suggested Jimmy.

"And then you can have it just as you like."

Lady Coote shook her head sadly.

"Sir Oswald talks of a firm doing it—and you know what that means."

"Oh! But they'd consult you."

"It would be one of those grand places—all for the antique. They'd look down on the things I call comfortable and homey. Not but that Sir Oswald wasn't very comfortable and satisfied in his home always, and I daresay his tastes are just the same underneath. But nothing will suit him now but the best! He's got on wonderfully, and naturally he wants something to show for it, but many's the time I wonder where it will end."

Jimmy looked sympathetic.

"It's like a runaway horse," said Lady Coote. "Got the bit between its teeth, and away it goes. It's the same with Sir Oswald. He's got on, and he's got on, till he can't stop getting on. He's one of the richest men in England now; but does that satisfy him? No; he wants still more. He wants to be—I don't know what he wants to be! I can tell you, it frightens me sometimes!"

"Like the Persian Johnny," said Jimmy, "who went about waiting for fresh worlds to conquer."

Lady Coote nodded acquiescence, without much knowing what Jimmy was talking about.

"What I wonder is—will his stomach stand it?" she went on, tearfully. "To have him an invalid—with his ideas—oh, it won't bear thinking of."

"He looks very hearty," said Jimmy consolingly.

"He's got something on his mind," said Lady Coote. "Worried that's what he is. I know."

"I don't know. Perhaps something at the works. It's a great comfort for him having Mr. Bateman. Such an earnest young man—and so conscientious."

"Marvelously conscientious," agreed Jimmy.

"Oswald thinks a lot of Mr. Bateman's judgment. He says that Mr. Bateman is always right."

"That was one of his worst characteristics years ago," said Jimmy feelingly.

Lady Coote looked slightly puzzled.

"That was an awfully jolly week-end I had with you at Chimneys," said Jimmy. "I mean it would have been awfully jolly if it hadn't been for poor old Gerry kicking the bucket. Jolly nice girls."

"I find girls very perplexing," said Lady Coote. "Not romantic, you know. Why, I embroidered some handkerchiefs for Sir Oswald with my own hand when we were engaged."

"Did you?" said Jimmy. "How marvelous. But I suppose girls haven't got long enough hair to do that nowadays."

A Pretty Idea

"That's true," admitted Lady Coote. "But, oh, it shows in lots of other ways. I remember when I was a girl, one of my—well, my young men—picked up a handful of gravel, and a girl who was with me said at once that he was treasuring it because my feet had trodden on it. Such a pretty idea. I thought. Though it turned out afterward he was taking a course of mineralogy—or do I mean geology?—at a technical school. But I liked the idea—and stealing a girl's handkerchief and treasuring it—all those sort of things."

"Awkward if the girl wanted to blow her nose," said the practical Mr. Thesiger.

Lady Coote laid down her wool-work and looked searchingly but kindly at him.

"Come now," she said, "isn't there some nice girl that you fancy? That you'd like to work and make a little home for?"

Jimmy blushed and mumbled.

"I thought you got on very well with one of those girls at Chimneys that time—Vera Daventry."

"Socks?"

"They do call her that," admitted Lady Coote. "I can't think why. It isn't pretty."

"Oh, she's a topper," said Jimmy. "I'd like to meet her again."

"She's coming down to stay with us next week-end."

"Is she?" said Jimmy, trying to infuse a large amount of wistful longing into the two words.

"Yes. Would—would you like to come?"

"I would," said Jimmy heartily. "Thanks ever so much, Lady Coote."

And reiterating fervent thanks, he left her.

Professional hockey franchises don't always pay and Teddy Oke of Toronto, who backs the Millionaires in the International League, is one who can tell you that. The other day, the "sugar-daddy" of eastern athletics, generously offered to donate all the proceeds of a game between the Millionaires and London Panthers to the "Poppy Fund." Manager Roy Brothers of the visitors included the visiting team's usual ten per cent, but the soldiers failed to benefit. The 200 fans who attended didn't represent enough money to furnish the rink guarantee.

Benny Leonard, owner of the Pittsburgh Pirates in the N.H.L., was knocked out just twice in his career as lightweight champion of the world and Frankie Fleming of Montreal was one of the two who did the trick. Fleming's feat was recalled the other day when someone in New York, charged with burglary, impersonated him. The other boxer to dim the lights for Benny was Joe Shurrue, way back in 1912. Benny claims that's one reason for the jinx in Montreal, but he can't dope out any alibis for the other cities.

EDMONTON POLICING

Proposal to Turn From City to Provincial Force Is Being Considered

The idea of abolishing the city police force in Edmonton and turning over the policing of the city to the provincial force is being seriously considered. Evidently, the work of the city force there is not proving altogether satisfactory. Should Edmonton turn to the provincial police, it will be by far the largest city in Canada to have taken such action.

The Edmonton Bulletin discusses the proposal editorially as follows: "No doubt the taxpayers of Edmonton could save money if they abolished the city police force and turned over the business of policing the city to the provincial police. That is, provided the provincial government is willing to undertake the policing of Edmonton for nothing or for a substantially less sum than it costs to maintain the city force."

"It will be time enough to suppose that the government will do so when the government says so. Far the relations between the city and the province do not suggest a willingness on the part of the provincial authority to play the role of a fairy god-mother to Edmonton in this or any other respect."

"If the taxpayers of the city do not or will not pay enough to men to enforce the law and to serve order in the city, they may as well reconcile themselves to the fact that the city will not be policed. For, in those circumstances that must be the fact. There is use assuming that the provincial government—that is to say, farmers around the country and the residents of other cities, towns and villages—will pay the cost of policing Edmonton. The chances altogether are that they won't."

A Valuable Buying Guide

BEFORE you order dinner at a restaurant, you consult the bill-of-fare. Before you take a long trip by motor-car, you pore over road maps. Before you start out on a shopping trip, you should consult the advertisements in this paper. For the same reasons!

The advertising columns are a buying guide to you in the purchase of everything you need—including amusements! A guide that saves your time and conserves your energy; that saves useless steps and guards against false ones; that puts the s-t-r-e-t-c-h in family budgets.

The advertisements in this paper are so interesting, it is difficult to see how anyone could overlook them . . . fail to profit by them. Just check with yourself and be sure that you are reading the advertisements regularly—the big ones and the little ones. It is time well spent . . . always.

For example, read the grocery store "ads" this week.

Avoid time-wasting, money-wasting, detours on the road to Merchandise value. Read the advertising "road maps."

STREET LIGHTING

City Council Asked To Give Early Consideration to Power Corporation Scheme

Ald. S. D. Macdonald, chairman of the utilities committee asked the city council last night to give early consideration to the new ornamental street lighting system which it is proposed to have the Power Corporation of Canada instal and which came before the 1929 council in its dying hours. It was desirable, Ald. Macdonald said, that the council give the matter its attention as soon as possible as it would take several months, at least, to complete the installation.

Ald. Macdonald stated that the new system, which was to be installed by the Power Corporation in the downtown section at no cost to the city, would mean a considerable saving in illumination cost over the present system.

In the course of the discussion, the present festoons on Third Avenue were mentioned and Ald. Collart said he had understood that these had already been ordered taken down. None of the members of the utilities committee or the mayor knew of such an order having been made. Ald. Rudderham was not in favor of taking down the lights until something was done about replacing them.

The question of street lighting will probably come before the council for final action at its next meeting.

District News

BURNS LAKE

The Burns Lake and District Farmers' Institute has resumed activities and, at the annual meeting which was held recently, officers were elected as follows: Chairman, Neil Van de Veen; secretary, R. G. Stearns; executive, R. H. Gerow, M. F. Nourse, M. Duncan, A. M. Ruddy, H. J. Jewell and John Van de Veen; auditors, Phil Brunell and Sidney Godwin.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Mills and family were left destitute as a result of a fire which destroyed their farm home at Sheraton. They had to walk half a mile to the house of their nearest neighbor in their night attire.

There is still promise of a bright future for the Topley mining area. One of the most promising properties is the Golden Eagle upon which the owners—Charles Mattison and David Heenan—are continuing development work with gratifying results. Considerable high-grade ore is said to have been uncovered.

John Barker of Ootsa Lake and Mel Sias of Fraser Lake are meeting with good results in mink farming, each having shipped out skins to the value of $2000 or more during the past winter. Mr. Barker is also going in extensively for registered silver foxes and C. A. Anderson of Babine is also doing well in the mink business, while his tamed marten command much interest.

It is now possible to travel in an automobile the entire length of Burns Lake on the ice, which is about seventeen inches thick, free from cracks and covered with about three inches of snow.

District visitors in town during the past week included Mr. and Mrs. P. J. McGettigan of Savory and Mike Tuhy of Bickle.

A highly successful old-time dance was held by the Omineca Ski Club with a large attendance despite cold weather. Music was furnished by the Ootsa Lake orchestra.

The Australian wedge-tailed eagle is the largest of its kind in the world. It rarely kills lambs, preferring to live on carrion. The wing-spread of the bird reaches up to six feet.

REPORT OF FIRE CHIEF

Many Improvements in 1929 Recommended—Good Showing Last Year

Fire Chief D. H. McDonald, in presenting his report for the year 1929 to the city council last night recommended that, in the interest of increased efficiency, a new and heavier fire truck be purchased for the department and that the present small Reo truck be turned over to the utilities department which was in need of a new truck. To ensure greater protection against fire loss, the chief recommended the laying of new and larger water mains in several parts of the city. The chief's recommendations were referred to the Board of Works and utilities committee for report.

New water mains were recommended by the Fire Chief as follows:

A twelve-inch main on Second Avenue from Third Street to Sixth Street.

A twelve-inch main on McBride Street from Sixth Ave. to Eighth Avenue, on Eighth Avenue from McBride Street to Fulton Street, on Fulton Street from Eighth Avenue to Seventh Avenue, on Seventh Avenue from Fulton Street to Taylor Street, and on Taylor Street from Seventh Avenue to Sixth Avenue.

A ten-inch main on Alfred Street from Hays Cove Avenue to Ninth Avenue.

A ten-inch main on Conrad Street from Hays Cove Avenue to Ninth Avenue.

An eight-inch main on Ninth Avenue from Hays Cove Avenue to Conrad Street.

A ten-inch main on Borden St. and Biggar Place from the end of the existing pipe at McClymont's to the intersection of Second Avenue and Park Avenue and replacing of 100 feet of six-inch on Borden Street with ten-inch.

The chief recommended in future, if possible, the replacement of existing 8-inch steel pipe with 10-inch cast iron pipe.

Report for 1929

In his report for 1929, the chief announced that there had been 55 alarms turned in during the year, causes in each case being given. There had been 8,500 feet of hose laid and 220 gallons of chemical used. Damage from fire during the year had amounted to $3,365 and this had all been covered by insurance, leaving no net loss. Property involved in the year's fire was valued at $360,000. The department had made 320 inspections during the year and had given fifty notices ordering improvements from the standpoint of fire hazard. Regular monthly inspections had been made of all fire alarm boxes, hydrants and other equipment.

The expenditure of the department for the year amounted to $16,528.03 including $13,000 in salaries.

Inclosing his report, the Fire Chief thanked the city council for its co-operation and assistance during 1929 and expressed appreciation for the faithful work of the members of the department.

On recommendation of the Board of Works, the city council decided last night to have the city engineer in future supervise the operation of the oil heating system of the City Hall, as it was believed that economies could be made by so doing. In the past the City Hall janitor has reported direct to the city clerk.

PUT YOUR MODEL T FORD IN SHAPE FOR

THOUSANDS OF MILES OF ADDITIONAL SERVICE

More than four hundred thousand Model T Fords are still in active service and many of them can be put in shape for two, three and five more years of service—and even longer—at very small cost.

The following list gives the approximate labor charges for re-conditioning the Model T Ford:

ENGINE

Tune motor (including replacement of commutator case, brush and vibrator points if necessary) .....$ 1.00
Grind valves and clean carbon ..... 4.50
Overhaul carburetor ..... 1.50
Overhaul motor and transmission, $25 to ..... 30.00

REAR SYSTEM

Reline detachable car transmission bands, ... 1.50
Replace rear axle shaft, drive shaft pinion or drive gear ..... 5.50
Overhaul complete rear axle assembly, $5.75 to 7.00

FRONT SYSTEM

Overhaul front axle .....$4.00 to 5.00

CHASSIS

Overhaul steering gear ..... 3.50
Overhaul radiator ..... 7.50
Overhaul starting motor ..... 3.00
Overhaul generator ..... 3.00

These prices are approximate and are for labor only, because the number of necessary parts needed depends on the condition of the car. The charge for these parts is low, however, because of the established Ford low-price policy.

So that you may get the greatest use from your Model T Ford over the longest period of time, we suggest that you bring car to us and have us estimate on the cost of putting it in good shape. A very small expenditure may be the means of giving you thousands of miles of additional service.
