PANIC RULES TODAY AT ROYAL ASCOT

Society Women, Caught In Rush, Is Trampled Underfoot

ASCOT, England, June 18.—Panic swept through throngs of fashionable persons at the Royal Ascot race meeting today when a terrific electrical storm broke over the enclosures and a bolt of lightning killed Walter Bolbein, well known north of England bookmaker in Tattersal's betting ring, only a few yards away from the box occupied by the King and Queen, the Prince of Wales, and royal guests.

Society women were caught in the rush for shelter when the deluge descended and were thrown on to the muddy field and trampled underfoot. Their hats knocked off and their parasols lost, some of the women arrived at the stands without their slippers which had been stuck in the mud or torn from their feet.

The meet was postponed for the day. The Royal Hunt race had just been run. J. Dewar's "The Madnab" won. Grand Idol was second and Lionhearted, third. Twenty-two horses ran.

GALVESTON, Texas, June 18.—Much of the interior of this state is under water as a result of the most severe floods that have been known in many years. At Texarkana six persons are reported to have been drowned.

The floods have been caused by heavy downpours of rain during the past few days.

One Liberal, Two Conservatives and Six Independents So Far In News Campaign; Room For More

In the Daily News campaign so far there are nine entrants of which two are Conservatives, one Liberal and six Independents. The Liberal is living out of town so there is not at present one candidate representing the Liberal cause in the city. This seems like letting it go by default and should be remedied.

Owing to the small number of candidates and the fact that most of them are not doing much work, there is still an excellent opportunity for one or two more. No candidates are entered at points along the railway and none at Anxoy or Ocean Falls. Several of the candidates have done scarcely anything yet and none have done much.

Some people are backward about entering because they have felt that others more able than themselves would likely win. That is an exploded fallacy. There is a great opportunity for anyone who will enter now and go into it with energy.

The entrants so far are Miss Connie Thorne, Independent, Miss Nancy Howard, Conservative, Misses Beulah McKinley, Mary Robertson and Julia Thomas, Independents, Miss May Murray, Conservative, Miss Campbell of Stewart, Liberal, and James Bremner, Independent. Two others who entered have withdrawn.

Bennett Defends His Policy of British Preference; Says Government Hurt Industries

VANCOUVER, June 18.—Speaking here last night, Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative leader, charged that, although the world had passed through a period of unprecedented industrial expansion, the Liberal government's policy had not made for a betterment of conditions along this line in Canada. Canada today was in a difficult condition, Mr. Bennett declared, but he said that the people "with courage and fortitude" would save the country.

Mr. Bennett dealt with the criticism by Premier King of his Winnipeg speech with respect to British preference. "The Conservative party wants a greater Empire," the Opposition leader said, "but not by granting preference to states within the Empire not founded on mutual trade agreements."

Vancouver Sewer Department Short; Ireland Refuses Admission

VANCOUVER, June 18.—George D. Ireland, discharged city relief officer, refused to admit to the city council's select committee yesterday that he had diverted funds from the department's trust accounts to his personal use.

At the same time the committee ordered the suspension of A. Hutchins, relief department accountant.

Chief among checks issued by Ireland against the trust accounts were several payable to a local stock brokerage firm with whom he operated a margin account.

Shortage of approximately $1,000 in the account of the city sewers department has been disclosed by the city auditors, Mayor W. H. Malkin announced last night. The amount of the discrepancies revealed is only approximate and the auditors are proceeding with the work.

Prime Minister Brings Up New Matters During Address at Peterboro

Asks Conservative Leader Why He Did Not Bring Up Waterways In House—Says Five Cents No Ground For Quarrel

PETERBOROUGH, Ont., June 18.—New ground was broken by Premier King at his second campaign meeting here last night. The St. Lawrence waterways, employment and the "five-cent speech" all found a place in the pronouncement of the Prime Minister which was listened to by a large audience both inside and outside the Armories. With respect to the St. Lawrence waterways, Mr. King suggested that the time might not be far distant when problems which delayed the construction of the waterway might be cleared away. Mr. Bennett was criticizing the government for inaction on the question, Mr. King said. He was asking why something had not been done. "I might say to Mr. Bennett: why haven't you said something about this in Parliament? You are given to silence on many matters," remarked the Premier.

Referring to Premier Howard Ferguson's statement that he would use all the force on the Ontario government against him (King) on account of the "five-cent speech," the Prime Minister asked the audience to listen to figures which he was about to quote and "then ask yourself if a five-cent piece is ground for a quarrel between the governments." Mr. King then proceeded to enumerate sums which he said the present government, since taking office, had paid to the province of Ontario in subsidies running into millions of dollars.

The Political Corner

Vol. 1 Wednesday, June 18 No. 7

Mr. Brady's Inaccuracies

Mr. Brady at his recent meeting here stated that the Conservatives originated the British Preference. This is not true. Mr. Brady should consult his Canadian History before making such foolish statements. Imperial Preference was first introduced by Sir Wilfrid Laurier in the Fielding Tariff of 1897 and Sir Charles Tupper, then leader of the Tory Party said of it: I SAY THAT A DEEPER WRONG WAS NEVER INFLICTED UPON CANADA."

Mr. Brady said the preference now given by Mackenzie King to Great Britain was of no material advantage to the Old Country; that it was emasculated; and in belittling the policy he merely echoed the statements of his leader, Mr. Bennett.

Now who is the best judge of the importance of this policy to England, the Conservatives in Canada—who for party advantage decry it—or the Conservatives of the Old Country? In order that Mr. Brady may be better informed and so that he may not make the same mistake again before his audiences we commend the following extracts taken from the English newspapers:

The Daily Express—Conservative—May 2, 1930: "The Dunning budget constitutes the greatest advance in Imperial relations we have seen since the war."

The London Times—Conservative—May 6, 1930: "The advantages offered by Canada to British industry are offered without any bargaining or corresponding concessions, and the spirit which prompted them will be appreciated as much as their actual economic effect in helping British trade at a time when help is badly needed."

The Morning Post—Conservative—May 12, 1930: "The Dominion of Canada has taken another step along the line of their traditional policy of giving preference to Imperial trade, and since changes in the tariff cannot fail to benefit the Mother Country our first impulse is to express the gratitude which we are certain the British public feels."

The above is the answer of the English people. The electors will take their choice of these opinions as to the substantial advantages to England of the Mackenzie King preferential tariff policy; The London Times or James C. Brady.

MR. BRADY'S SPEECH

Mr. Brady has undoubtedly improved in his public speaking although he has not yet got rid of the small town method of sneering at those who oppose him. His speech was ahead of anything he has given previously, looked at from a purely political point of view. It was a serious contribution to the present campaign and made a good impression on the audience. While we do not agree with a good deal of what he said, we fully appreciate his point of view and think he made a fairly good case for a poor cause.

If we might be permitted to make a suggestion to Mr. Brady we should like to see an address of that kind punctuated with a little of his native humor. That would eliminate the yawns from the audience, who were somewhat overpowered by his earnestness and at times mystified by his peculiar brand of logic.

HECATE STRAITS LIGHTING

His reference to Hecate Straits lighting was one that will not generally be appreciated by the people of Prince Rupert because so few understand the situation. Mr. Brady got off entirely wrong in regard to it, just as he did at a dinner of the Chamber of Commerce on a previous occasion. The letter from Lloyds he read at the meeting and which he flourished with such a display of eloquence, was the same letter he read at the Chamber of Commerce meeting and which caused members of the board to regret that a man in public life could fall so utterly to appreciate the situation. Briefly the story is this:

The Chamber of Commerce has been asking that Lloyds give insurance rates on ships passing through Hecate Straits to Prince Rupert, something which is at present denied. Lloyd's agent at Vancouver stated that he could not recommend this unless two lights were placed, one on Butterworth Rock and the other on Bonilla Island. The Dominion Government would not instal those lights so Hecate Straits remained unused by deep sea shipping. Vessels from the south all had to pass up the west side of Queen Charlotte Islands and through Dixon Entrance, a much longer route. It was thought that this longer route was the cause of the extra freight charges being levied against this port.

Mr. Brady, then, according to his story at the public meeting Monday, ignored the recommendation of Lloyds' agent and evolved a plan of his own which included the installation of wireless direction finding stations but this did not meet the situation in regard to the use of Hecate Straits. According to the statement of Mr. Brady, while the Chamber of Commerce was asking for one thing, he was persistently advocating another, yet he was writing to the board and telling them how he was placing their views before the authorities.

No one ever suggested that Prince Rupert got a different insurance rate from Vancouver. The difficulty was that they got no insurance rate at all on vessels using Hecate Straits. Yet Mr. Brady waxes eloquent, tilting at imaginary windmills in his public speech, assuming that all this time the Chamber of Commerce had been wrong and he right.

Mr. Brady must know, if he knows anything, that Prince Rupert has been discriminated against in the matter of freight rates, but he assumes it is in the matter of insurance rates, which nobody ever suggested. It seems now as if the reason for Prince Rupert failing to secure the lights which would enable Hecate Straits to be open for Lloyds insurance was because Mr. Brady had a pet scheme of his own which he would not relinquish.

Lloyds' agent states that most ships are not equipped with direction finding apparatus and therefore the proposed equipment at Dixon Entrance would be of no use to them.

FRANKIE NEEL'S RECORD GOOD

Local Boy Has Had Several Important Fights; Has Only Lost Two

Frankie Neel of this city, who will meet Jumbo Davies, the "blonde terror" from Victoria, in a 10-round boxing match on June 24 which will be staged in connection with the Seattle-Prince Rupert International cruiser race, has a record of ring contests which shows that he will give the Victoria boy one of the hardest battles of his career.

Out of a total of 14 fights, eight of these were championship matches and resulted as follows: won by knockouts, two; decisions won, six; draws, four, and decisions lost, two.

The knockouts were: Stoker Wilson, Seaman Wright. He won decisions over Wilfrid Shouldice, Victoria; Chuck Tellecki, U. S. Pacific fleet bantam champion; Oril Campbell, Johnny Grist and George Ainsworth all on same night to win B. C. flyweight and bantamweight championships, also Alex Harvey, Ocean Falls. The boys he has drawn with are: Albie Davies, Victoria (three times) and George Wilkinson. Decisions were lost to Pommy Drysdale, Victoria (Drysdale had 15 pounds advantage), and Frankie Martin of Montreal for the flyweight championship of Canada.

The coming fight is a highly important one for both boys, as a win for Neel would put him at the top of his class on the Pacific Coast, a place where his services would be greatly in demand, while a loss for Davies would mean a serious setback.

Frankie Neel is 19 years of age, is five feet, five inches in height and weighs around 120 pounds. He started fighting in 1927.

FIGURES IN SPORT

KNUTE K. ROCKNE Football Coach

Knute Kenneth Rockne's combined success as football player, coach and strategist has seldom, if ever, been equalled in the history of the American college sport. Some men have been stars in one or the other departments of the game but Rockne has been a star in all three of them. His main claim to fame was as the head coach of football at Notre Dame for it was in that capacity that the success of his teams brought him distinction and made the university at South Bend, Indiana, internationally known.

Rockne spent the greater part of his time in various football capacities with Notre Dame. He was born in Norway in 1888 and came to the United States in 1893. After distinguishing himself in college, he became an athletic director and has been identified with athletics ever since.

KNOCKOUT IN FIRST ROUND

Albie Davies of Victoria Finished Joe Rivers at Spokane Abruptly

SPOKANE, June 18.—Albie Davies, 125-pounder from Victoria, knocked out Joe Rivers of Spokane in the first round of their fight here last night.

Davies had been matched with Dixie Labood but Labood refused to go on, claiming that Davies was over weight.

CENTRALS AND ELKS NOW TIED IN FIRST PLACE

Hotelmen Won 5 to 2 Over Antlered Herd In Good Baseball Game

Centrals went back into a first place tie with the Elks as a result of winning last night's senior baseball fixture from the Lodge Men by a score of 5-2. A fair sized crowd of fans was out to see the game and were treated to a good game although there were a few errors by both teams.

Chenoski was on the mound for the winners and although he was in difficulty on several occasions held his opponents scoreless until the last inning when they managed to squeeze their two runs over. Skinner started for the Elks but was wild, issuing two passes in the first inning which, coupled with a single and a sacrifice netted the winners two runs. They collected two more in the third and then Captain Moran went on the mound and held the winners to two hits in the remaining five innings. They got one run off him in the last frame on a hit, a walk and a sacrifice.

Stone, in left field for the Centrals made two nice catches and Arseneau, in the same garden for the losers also made a fine catch.

In the fifth with two men out, Downie dropped an easy fly at second base and then Farquhar dropped a throw from Chenoski and it looked as though the Elks might start something when Alex Mitchell drove one into left field on which Stone made one of his running catches.

Elks and Sons of Canada hook up in the next game tomorrow night and if the Sons can win as they did on Sunday, they will still be in the running for first half honors.

YANKEES WINNERS

Beat Cleveland With Powerful Offensive; Braves Win Two Games

NEW YORK, June 18.—The New York Yankees unleashed a powerful offensive yesterday to defeat Cleveland Indians. Lou Gehrig poled out his eighteenth home run of the season.

In the National League, Boston Braves took a double-header from Cincinnati Reds.

Lefty O'Doul's single in the tenth inning gave the Phillies a decision over Pittsburgh Pirates.

Douglas Fairbanks, popular screen star, who accompanied the Walker Cup team to England, lands in good order at Plymouth after crossing ocean.

SPORT CHAT

Max Schmeling declares that another fight for him this year is "out of the question" because of the lateness of the season and his desire to return to Germany for the rest of the summer. He is now at a mid-town hotel in New York where he was advised by his physician to take several days rest. "I am happy as the first European and German to have won the title and I am proud the American public is so fair," Schmeling declares. "I have received hundreds of telegrams of congratulations from Americans." This German said he was beset by offers from motion picture and theatrical work but had made no definite plans for the immediate future. His manager, Joe Jacobs, he said, also had received numerous fight offers but tabled them all for the time being.

In a game which inaugurated night baseball on the Pacific Coast, Sacramento's Solons continued their drive for the league pennant by winning from Oakland 8 to 0. A crowd estimated at 12,000 saw the game, every play of which was as visible as though played under the brilliance of a California sun. The huge flood lights were turned on at 7:30 p.m., before the last rays of the sun had died away, so there was no break between daylight and the artificial illumination. Soon after the game got under way a huge June moon peeped over the trees to add its light to the scene. Demonstrating that artificial light did not affect the game, the Senators made no errors and the Oaks but two. Lighting for night games has also been installed at Athletic Park in Vancouver.

DISMISSAL OF WATT

What Has It to Do With Federal Election, Asks Victoria Times

(Victoria Times)

What has the dismissal of Norman Watt from his position as provincial government agent at Prince Rupert to do with the Dominion general election?

This question is pertinent just now because Premier Tolmie has announced that the investigation of the case—ordered by the legislature three months ago—will not be commenced until after the electors of this country have gone to the polls on July 28.

It will be difficult for the people of British Columbia to understand why the Prime Minister of this province associates the case of a former provincial official with the battle which Mr. Mackenzie King and Mr. R. B. Bennett will fight out on the hustings between now and July 28.

As already pointed out, the elected representatives of the people of this province ordered the legislature to appoint a commission, under the Department Inquiries Act, to discover the real reason for the dismissal of a trusted public servant who, incidentally, will carry with him to his grave mute evidence of his service to the empire in its hour of dire stress.

It will be remembered that when Mr. Shelly returned from Prince Rupert, after summarily dismissing Mr. Watt, he told a representative of The Vancouver Daily Province that Mr. Watt had been relieved of his duties because he had been "playing politics." But when Mr. Shelly found it necessary to give an explanation of his action to the legislature he said Mr. Watt had been dismissed because he had taken coroner's fees which he, Mr. Shelly, had been informed should have been paid into the provincial exchequer.

Entitled to Moneys

As is well known, of course, these fees hitherto had been considered part of the perquisites of the office of government agent at those points in the province at which the government agent also officiated as coroner. In fact, Mr. Watt had been told by his predecessor that he was entitled to these moneys. Consequently he took them as a matter of course. Indeed, Mr. Watt, after having been dismissed, told his successor that he, too, would be entitled to these fees, according to a well-recognized custom.

Dr. Tolmie's refusal to proceed with this inquiry requires a much more convincing explanation than he has given. Patently the case has nothing to do with federal politics. Mr. Shelly, of course, new to public life, will be excused for suggesting that Mr. Pattullo's insistence that the order of the legislature ought to be obeyed was "despicable tactics." But Dr. Tolmie, with wide political experience, and for some years organizer for the Conservative party of Canada, obviously recognizes the possible effect upon the electorate of this province the result of the inquiry into the Watt case would have. He knows that Mr. Shelly, his minister of finance, first of all said that he dismissed Mr. Watt for "playing politics," and then amended his explanation in the legislature by saying that Mr. Watt had been relieved of his duties because he had taken money which really should have been turned into the treasury.

Under these circumstances, therefore, the Premier unquestionably realizes that the inquiry which the legislature ordered is very much more an inquiry into the conduct of Mr. Shelly than it is an inquiry into any deficiencies of which the government may consider Mr. Watt was guilty.

Three months have slipped by since this inquiry was ordered. Dr. Tolmie and his government have ignored the wishes of the people of this province, as expressed by their elected representatives—and the Premier now seeks to justify delay on grounds that matters of national importance are being discussed on the hustings, and that he has no intention of allowing the two to be mixed.

Dr. Tolmie's case is a weak one. He is being neither fair with a former civil servant, nor fair with the people who elected him to conduct their business.
