DIED AFTER OPERATION

Young Edmonton Woman Succumbs as Result of Towel Being Left in Body

EDMONTON, Feb. 3.—That Mrs. Ruth Olsen, aged 27, died at the General Hospital on January 29 as a result of a towel measuring sixteen by twenty-six inches being left in her body following an operation performed on January 26 in the hospital here was the finding of a coroner's jury which investigated the death. The attending physicians, Dr. H. E. Chatham and Dr. A. M. Crawford, were completely exonerated from any blame.

Evidence was to the effect that death was due to peritonitis, resulting from the towel being left in the body. The towel was one which is known as a side towel and meant for external use only.

Miss M. Rivey, nurse, who assisted during the operation, testified that she was responsible for the check-up before the surgical wound was closed. She said she did not count the side towels as they were never used internally.

SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 3.—Somewhere a chorus girl may be interested in knowing that she is no longer the wife of a rancher whom she saw just one night in Chicago seven years ago.

William A. Ayres related in superior court here that he woke up on the "morning after" a Chicago party to be informed by a girl that she was his bride. Then she left and returned no more.

Four years ago, on another trip to Chicago, he said, he investigated "out of curiosity" and found her story true. He was granted a divorce.

RATING OF CANNERIES

During the discussion in regard to the new fisheries regulation there has been a good deal said about the rating of canneries and the fact that some canneries not operating are given ratings. This really does not affect the question insofar as the fishermen are concerned. It is a matter which has been thrashed out by the canners themselves and on which an agreement has been reached. If rival canners are not now objecting there seems no reason why other citizens not directly concerned should worry themselves.

PROSECUTION OF BROKERS

The sudden outburst against brokers in the south rather tends to bring discredit on the whole profession. There is no doubt irregularities have occurred but there are also many brokers who absolutely will not stand for anything but the fairest and straightest dealings. The profession is just like any other. There are good and bad in it. Possibly at a time like that through which the country recently passed there are temptations to do things which at an ordinary time would be avoided. It was the same in real estate when some of the finest men in the country who afterwards made good in high positions very nearly avoided going to jail.

ROCHER DE BOULE

Some years ago the Rocher de Boule mine at Hazelton was shipping ore through Prince Rupert to the advantage of Hazelton and this port. Now it is said the mine is to be reopened and it is hoped ore will again flow through this port on the way to the smelter. Even should the ore not come this way we hope the mine will be operated.

DEBATE ON ADDRESS

The new plan of cutting short the debate on the address in reply to the speech from the throne is to be commended. Both parties have done their part in connection with this. The opposition is to be commended for not dividing the House on the debate as has been done in the past. Now they can get down to work on the real business of the session instead of spending their time in more or less idle talk.

Full Speed Ahead Soon

Many people do not realize that the Northern Power Company, a subsidiary of the Power Corporation of Canada, is really constructing a large hydro-electric plant to serve the city of Prince Rupert and adjoining territory. The site for the plant is being prepared and the right-of-way for the high-power lines connecting Big Falls on the Ecstall River with the city is being cleared and that during September next it is expected to turn on the power from the first unit.

What does this mean to Prince Rupert? It means that the largest power corporation of Canada has faith in the future of the city and district and already sees a market for its product.

Under the impetus of the new movement, Prince Rupert will grow. Industries will be developed and all will feel the benefit.

Prince Rupert people must prepare for the change. New buildings will be necessary. If there are no vacant houses in the city today, what will be the condition when people begin to come in?

The Daily News is alive to the situation and is laying its plans. Others must do the same if they are to keep pace with the new Prince Rupert.

SCHOLARS ANNOUNCED

Winners of Rhodes Award in Various Provinces

MONTREAL, Feb. 3.—As the result of elections held throughout Canada eight Rhodes scholars have been appointed to go into residence at Oxford University next October. There was no appointment in British Columbia, the selection committee there deciding not to make any award this year, but this will allow a double appointment to be made next year, providing of course two candidates of sufficiently high standing offer themselves.

The applicants for the scholarships this year have been rather more numerous than has been usual before, and the men chosen by the various provincial committees, in whose hands the entire and often arduous work of selection rests, appear very promising both on their personal showing and on their university work, it is announced.

This group of scholars will be the first to go up to Oxford under the new ruling that makes it possible for Rhodes scholars in their third year to carry on their work at a university other than Oxford, provided they make application to do so, and also that the proper authorities at Oxford deem it best under the circumstances in view of the work already done.

It is also worth noting that the scholarship is attracting more students of science and mathematics of various kinds to apply—it having been made clear that there is no discrimination made by selection committees as between students of science and of arts on the ground of their academic interests.

In Alberta the scholarship was won by H. W. Morrison, son of Judge Morrison of Alberta. Mr. Morrison has distinguished himself in his studies in English literature, and looks forward to continuing this work at Oxford.

The appointee in Saskatchewan was Orvald Arthur Gratias of Saskatchewan University. He has specialized in science and mathematics, won a National Research scholarship last year, and is now working for M. Sc. Mr. Gratias has also distinguished himself in athletics. He means to continue his work in science at Oxford.

In Manitoba the scholar, J. Robert Beattie, a native of British Columbia, is interested in mathematics, and will probably continue this work at Oxford.

Messrs. C. H. Little and L. M. Gelber will represent Ontario, the first, besides being a valuable member of the 1929 Toronto football team, has achieved real distinction in his study of modern languages, while Mr. Gelber has exhibited in the realm of philosophy and literature unusual capacity.

In Quebec the prize was carried off by Messrs. E. Veilleux and Chas. Bilodeau, both from Laval University, Quebec. Mr. Veilleux is an accomplished linguist and proposes to study law at Oxford. Mr. Bilodeau has displayed his powers to advantage in economics and finance, and looks forward to developing them still further abroad.

In both New Brunswick and Nova Scotia the scholars elected this year are students of science, and both of them curiously enough in the field of chemistry. D. B. Frasert of New Brunswick will probably go into medicine, while Mr. Forrest Murgrove of Nova Scotia has already been doing advanced work in Toronto University.

HON. PETER CHARLES LARKIN PASSED AWAY THIS MORNING AFTER FORTNIGHT'S ILLNESS

Toronto, and president of the Salada Tea Co. of Canada, Ltd. Eleven of the largest cities in North America, also London, England, have huge tea warehouses in connection with Mr. Larkin's widely extended mercantile enterprises. Mr. Larkin was the originator of the idea of delivering tea to the public in sealed lead packets. He was referred to at times as the "Tea King of America."

Was Philanthropist

Hon. Mr. Larkin was among the foremost of Toronto's citizens in beneficent and benevolent work. He was a trustee and the vice-chairman of the Toronto General Hospital Board since 1904. He was prominently identified in the local campaign against the spread of tuberculosis, and in 1909 he was elected president of the Toronto League for the Prevention of Tuberculosis. He was an active member of the Toronto Improvement Society. He was a director of the Ontario Club, of which he was president for a number of years. He was treasurer of the Ontario Liberal Association for a long period, and he was frequently spoken of as a probable senator.

Mr. Larkin was Canada's representative on the royal commission which was appointed to investigate and report upon the conditions and resources of the Empire in matters of industry and trade, as recommended by the Imperial Conference in 1911.

A much-travelled citizen of the Empire, Hon. Mr. Larkin's personal interests were extensive. He was well known as a patron of art and was a connoisseur of art works. He was a lover of literature and had a well developed hobby for architecture. He was a close student of men and their methods, and gave much careful thought to matters of national and imperial concern. He was a warm personal friend of the late Sir Wilfrid Laurier. Mr. Larkin was regarded as one of the best-dressed men in Toronto, and he invariably wore a s'lk hat when he appeared in public. He was said to have been the most heavily insured man in Canada, his life policies being estimated at $900,000. He was accompanied to London on his high commissionership mission by Mrs. Larkin, formerly Miss Jean Ross of Cobourg, Ont., and their daughter, Miss Alice Larkin. The son, Capt. Gerald Larkin, remained in Toronto as manager of the company of which his father was head.

that SORE THROAT

TAKE it straight and let it trickle down the throat; or dilute it in warm water, then gargle and swallow—either way brings speedy relief for sore throat.

Buckley's Cough and Cold Mixture is different from anything else. Different formula. Looks different—nothing like the ordinary sticky cough syrup. Smells different—a penetrating, aromatic odor that clears the head. Tastes different—an agreeable, warm, strong, stimulating taste.

A different action—super-speedy, invigorating and fortifying.

For sore throat, hoarseness, throat tickle, coughs, cold, bronchitis, Buckley's Cough Mixture brings quick relief. Two sizes: 75c (40 doses)—40c (16 doses). Every druggist sells "Buckley's".

If your cold is already severe and accompanied by fever, headache or neuralgia take LAXPYRIN and speedy relief will follow.

EGG PRICE FLUCTUATES

Should Be Going Down Soon; Butter and Sugar Prices Soft

There is considerable fluctuation in the price of eggs locally just now. In a month or so the spring downward movement in price should commence. The butter market remains about the same, with Prince Rupert merchants selling this commodity on a narrow margin of profit. There has been a slight increase in the price of sugar.

The potato market is steady and it is probable that there will be little changes in price this spring. There is little variety just now in the fruit and vegetable markets. A number of varieties of apples have disappeared. No tomatoes are obtainable locally at present. Mexican tomatoes are being quoted in the south but the prices are prohibitive while the quality is not good enough to stand shipping north.

The February market list includes revisions in the feed and meat sections.

With one game yet to be played between J. Hillman and G. P. Tinker, the Canadian Legion is now leading in this fixture by an aggregate of 946 to 795.

The game of J. Hillman and W. E. Williscroft from last Tuesday night's Grotto-Elks' fixture also remains to be played.

"Like the Flood. You've read of the Flood and how the Ark landed on Mount Ararat, haven't you?"
"No, sir. I haven't seen a newspaper for three days," confessed the waitress.

How well you look!

"I am writing you again to express my sincere gratitude for the continued success I have maintained through my daily dose of Kruschen. Only last week a man met me (who saw me a few months ago when I was crippled with rheumatism). His first remark was how well I looked. I replied, 'Yes, I have only Kruschen Salts to thank.' He said he was feeling 'off colour' and would start the Kruschen salt next day. I always recommend Kruschen Salts."

A heavy gale swept over Prince Rupert this morning, lashing the harbor to white caps and rolling heavy breakers on the other side of the bay. As far as can be learned, there was little serious damage as a result of the blow. The canopy of a tailors' delivery car on Second Avenue was blown off.

Mayor C. H. Orme returned to the city on the Catala yesterday afternoon from a ten-day trip to Victoria, where he took certain matters up with the provincial authorities on behalf of the city council. This awful prospect knocked Bundle out completely. She could only stare helplessly at George.

The butterfly emerging from the chrysalis. A wonderful picture. I have a very interesting work on political economy.

He strode away. Bundle gazed after him with a dazed expression.

"Look here," said Bill, "what the hell was Codders holding your hand for?"

"It wasn't my hand," said Bundle wildly. "It was my budding mind."

"Don't be an ass, Bundle."

"Sorry Bill, but I'm a little worried. Do you remember saying that Jimmy ran a grave risk coming down here?"

"So he does," said Bill. "It's frightfully hard to escape from Codders once he's got interested in you. Jimmy will be caught in the toils before he knows where he is."

"It's not Jimmy who's got caught—it's me," said Bundle wildly.

"I must have done. Bill, I feel horribly entangled."

"Never mind," said Bill consolingly. "George doesn't really believe in women standing for Parliament, so you won't have to stand up on platforms and talk a lot of junk, or kiss dirty babies in Bermondsey."

"And I do hate politics," she murmured piteously.

"Of course you do. So do all sensible people. It's only people like Codders and Pongo who take them seriously and revel in them. But all the same," said Bill, reverting suddenly to a former point, "you oughtn't to let Codders hold your hand."

"Why on earth not?" said Bundle. "He's known me all my life."

"Well, I don't like it."

"Virtuous William— Oh, I say, look at Superintendent Battle."

"They were just passing in through a side door. A cupboard-like room opened out of the little hallway. In it were kept golf clubs, tennis racquets, bowls and other features of country house life."

"I like your long words."

"All out of cross-word puzzles."

"Going to take up golf, Superintendent Battle?"

"I might do worse, Lady Eileen. They say it's never too late to start. And I've got one good quality that will tell at any game."

"What's that?" asked Bill.

"I don't know when I'm beaten. If everything goes wrong, I turn to and start again!"

And with a determined look on his face, Superintendent Battle came out and joined them, shutting the door behind him.

JIMMY LAYS HIS PLANS Jimmy Theisger was feeling depressed, Avoiding George, whom he suspected of being ready to tackle him on serious subjects, he stole quietly away after lunch.

Proficient as he was in details of the Santa Fe boundary dispute, he had no wish to stand an examination on it this minute.

Presently what he hoped would happen came to pass. Loraine Wade, also unaccompanied, strolled down one of the shady garden paths. In a moment Jimmy was by her side. They walked for some minutes in silence and then Jimmy said tentatively:

"Loraine?"

"Yes?"

"Look here, I'm a bad chap at putting things—but what about it? What's wrong with getting a special license and being married and living together happy ever afterward?"

Loraine displayed no embarrassment at this surprising proposal. Instead she threw back her head and laughed frankly.

"Don't laugh at a chap," said Jimmy reproachfully.

"I can't help it. You were so funny."

"Loraine—you are a little devil."

"I'm not. I'm what's called a thoroughly nice girl."

"Only to those who don't know you—who are taken in by your delusive appearance of meekness and decorum."

"I like your long words."

"All out of cross-word puzzles."

"So educative."

SCOTT'S EMULSION A FOOD OF TONIC TAKE IT ALL WINTER

"Loraine, dear, don't beat about the bush. Will you or won't you?" Loraine's face sobered. It took on its characteristic appearance of determination. Her small mouth hardened and her little chin shot out aggressively.

Jimmy Rejected "I know we haven't done what we set out to do," agreed Jimmy.

"But all the same—well, it's the end of a chapter. The papers are safe at the Air Ministry. Virtue triumphant. And—for the moment—nothing doing."

"So—let's get married?" said Loraine with a slight smile.

"You've said it. Precisely the idea."

"No, Jimmy. Until this thing's rounded up—until we're safe—"

"You think we're in danger?"

"Don't you?"

Jimmy's cherubic pink face clouded over.

"You're right," he said at last. "If that extraordinary rigmarole of Bundle's is true—and I suppose, incredible as it sounds, it must be true—then we're not safe till we're settled with No. 7."

"And the others?"

"No—the others don't count. It's No. 7 with his own ways of working that frightens me. Because I don't know who he is or where to look for him."

Loraine shivered.

"I've been frightened," she said in a low voice. "Ever since Gerry's death."

"You needn't be frightened. There's nothing for you to be frightened about. You leave everything to me. I tell you, Loraine—I'll get No. 7 yet. Once we get him—well, I don't think there will be much trouble with the rest of the gang, whoever they are."

"If you get him—and suppose he gets you?"

"Impossible," said Jimmy cheerfully. "I'm much too clever. Always have a good opinion of yourself—that's my motto."

"When I think of the things that might have happened last night—" Loraine shivered.

"Well, they didn't," said Jimmy.

"We're both here, safe and sound—though I must admit my arm is confoundingly painful."

"Poor boy."

"Oh, one must expect to suffer in a good cause. And what with my wounds and my cheerful conversation I've made a complete conquest of Lady Coote."

"Oh, Do you think that important?"

"I've an idea it may come in useful."

"You've got some plan in your mind, Jimmy. What is it?"

"The young hero never tells his plans," said Jimmy firmly. "They mature in the dark."

"You are an idiot, Jimmy."

"I know. I know. That's what every one says. But I can assure you, Loraine, there's a lot of brain-work going on underneath. Now what about your plans? Got any?"

Sport Chat

Unlike the situation in Nova Scotia, the two teams that played off for the championship of New Brunswick last season, are again leading their leagues by substantial margins and bid fair to stage another home and home series in the semi-finals for the Maritime amateur hockey championship. A filip of interest was added to the New Brunswick game last season when the Bathurst papermakers, champions of the Northern Section of the Provincial League, took the Maritime championship from the Nova Scotia titleholders, who had held it for five seasons. Bathurst has started the 1930 season where it ended in 1929 and is undefeated to date in league games, far in front in the Northern League.

In the Southern Section the Moncton Atlantics are still well to the fore although they are in a more spirited fight than the Maritime champions. At the present time the Atlantics boast a fair sized lead but may encounter plenty of trouble from the rinkless Saint John Beavers, who have not, as yet, hit their best stride. Both Bathurst and Moncton have better teams than last season. The papermakers have been bolstered by young Taylor, a husky frontliner from "Up Above" and Joe Matte, a keen judge of hockey, who is teaching the Maritime titleholders the finer points of the game. Matte took the Halifax Wolverines from the Eastern Nova Scotia League cellar last season and put them in the finals for the Maritime title and plans to go further this season with the team that licked his 1929 charges. Moncton has added a few players, among whom is Tommy Radford, for years a star in Halifax. The Monctonians are playing better hockey than last season under Coach Brown, a Maritime veteran.

The fight for the Maritime supremacy promises to be much keener this season, with better hockey being played in New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island. The Abegweits, of Charlottetown and the Crystals of Summerside are developing young players who may regain some of the glory that the Charlottetown Abegweits boasted some seasons ago, when they won two consecutive Maritime crowns. Upper Canadian hockey authorities are looking to the Maritime Provinces to provide a finalist in the Allan Cup series this season. Many Upper Canadian hockey coaches have been imported into the Maritimes and this, added to the fact that the Maritimes provided good competition last season in the Canadian championship series, had led hockey leaders to believe that the Allan Cup may go east of Montreal for the first time since the historic mug was first donated.

A feminine writer on sport, in the London Sketch, deals with "Apprehensions Regarding the Longer Skirt" and sport. "Women's sport in England is in a very advanced and healthy state. We are faced with only one serious problem in 1930; it is what effect is the long skirt going to have on sport? Shall we go back in the day of our trailing draperies to croquet on the lawn and pat-ball of the sixties? Let us hope not! A few years ago women's sport was a luxury. Men had their Saturday games, but business girls put away their hockey sticks with their school books, while as for wives—the idea of a married woman having time or inclination for sport was absurd. Nowadays a glance down the names in a county hockey team or on an athletic program is enough to tell a different tale. During the year a great advance has been made in sport among business houses, and it is the exception rather than the rule to find one without a women's sport club, while Civil Service and Business Houses Hockey Association have county standing."

"A feature of the year is the number of teams, both official and private, that have been sent abroad. The world has been a playground for the English sports girl, and she has played hockey in America, where the All-England Women's Hockey Association had a most successful hockey tour last autumn, playing 15 matches and winning them all; tennis in America and all over the continent;

SNOESHOE DERBY ON

Twenty-Two Racers Entered in Event Which Opened on Saturday

MONTREAL, Feb. 3—Twenty-two racers are entered in the international marathon snowshoe race from Quebec to Montreal over a distance of about 200 miles which began on Saturday, Feb. 1. The race will be run in laps, similar to C. S. Pyle's bunion derby. Prizes of $2,500 will be given the winners. Among those who are participating in the long grind are Edouard Fabro, Montreal, and Phil Granville, Hamilton, Ont., both former members of the Canadian Olympic track team of years ago. Those two men are well-known in Canada and the United States. Fabro for having won the Boston annual marathon and Granville for his good showing in C. C. Pyle's California to New York foot race. Many parts of Canada and the United States are represented in the long jog. Joe Lewis, from Nova Scotia, represents the Maritimes, while in addition to Granville, Louis Alfano of Kitchener, will try and win the race for Ontario. Quebec has 11 entrants, Eugene Clouette, Montreal, winner of last year's 271 mile Montreal-to-Leicester, Mo., marathon. Joseph Gagné, Valleyfield, Henri Cussen, Montreal, Charles Moore, Quebec, Raoul Forget, Longueil, Quebec, Victor Blackburn, Quebec, Wilfrid Dupro, Montreal, Valero Letourneau, Quebec, Omer Ouellette, Montreal, Didaco Martineau, Quebec and Edouard Fabre, Montreal. New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Michigan and New York also have their representatives in the race. George Ross, Grovton, N.H., Al Beaulac, Manchester, N.H., George Gauvin, Worcester, Mass., Percy O'Rourke, Detroit, Mich., and Olin Wantinom, New York City, are among entrants. One of the contestants, Jean Baptiste Chouinard, a barber of Notre Dame du Nord, Quebec, 35 miles north of Timiskaming, did a little galloping just prior to the race. He snowshoed 435 miles in less than thirteen days from his northern tonsorial parlor to Ottawa. He declared himself to be in fine condition and ready for the race.

There is considerable discussion here as to who will be the officers aboard the new Canadian National coast steamers which will arrive from the Old Country next summer. While there is, apparently, nothing definite about it, the understanding seems to be that Captain D. Donald, Harry Neden and Neil McLean, senior skippers of the present coastal vessels, will go on the new ships and that there will be a general advancement all around for the other officers.

BOOTLEGGERS FARE BADLY

Business Was Not Good in Quebec Province During Past Year

QUEBEC, Feb. 3.—Bootleggers fared badly in the province of Quebec during 1929. They had nearly 50,000 gallons of contraband liquor seized by the Quebec Liquor Commission, two schooners have been confiscated, and a number of the bootleggers themselves are at present languishing under lock and key, or striving to recover from the effects of a heavy fine.

The principal hauls made by the commission in the course of their vigorous campaign against the contrabandists last season were at Tadoussac in July, when 10,000 gallons of contraband liquor were seized; from a schooner in Quebec harbor a month later 5,000 gallons; while perhaps the most startling event of all was the seizure of a distillery operating at the Arena where imitations of well-known brands of whiskies were being made. A similar seizure was made during the summer at Notre Dame du Lac, where a fake bottling plant with up-to-date electric machinery was in operation. At each of these seizures several thousand gallons of liquor were confiscated.

Police patrols directed by the commission watch both banks of the St. Lawrence River, and during the season when the river is open, patrol boats are continually on the river itself. That these patrols are determined to let nothing escape them is shown by the fact that one of them was among the last boats to come up to Quebec before the closing of navigation.

The Quebec Liquor Commission here has what is virtually a museum of the art of bootlegging.

Ask For Greater Care in Issuance Marriage Licenses
MONTREAL, Que., Feb. 3.—Greater discrimination in the matter of issuing marriage licenses was the outstanding suggestion offered for the betterment of conditions for Montreal girls at the annual meeting of the Big Sister Association held here recently. MOTHERS HONORED

Annual Banquet Is Held by Presbyterian C. G. I. T.

The annual mother and daughter banquet of the Canadian Girls in Training of First Presbyterian Church was held last Friday night in the church and proved a most successful and delightful affair. There were fifty mothers and daughters in attendance.

The proceedings opened with the singing of "O Canada" and the blessing was asked by Rev. Thomas McConnell, pastor of the church. After full justice had been done to a fine meal, the purposes of the banquet were explained by Mrs. Joseph Greer, leader of the group. These purposes were, Mrs. Greer said, to commemorate the ten years' development and progress of the C.G.I.T. in British Columbia, to renew friendship with graduate girls and former leaders, and to win new friends and supporters for the movement. A recitation by Miss Adelia Thurber, "The Dawn of C. G. I. T." followed.

A complete history of the work since the inception of the Canadian Girls in Training organization was then given by Mrs. Frank Rice, this proving of much interest. The toast to "Our Mothers" was proposed by Miss Muriel Vance, president of the group, and responded to by Mrs. L. M. Fuller. Miss Beulah McKinley, accompanied by Miss Aletta McKinley, sang a vocal solo, and a toast to C.G.I.T. was proposed by Mrs. J.W. McKinley, Miss Margaret Williscroft responding. After a few remarks had been made by Rev. Mr. McConnell, the proceedings came to a close with the observing in the usual manner of the toast to the King.

After the banquet a telegram of greeting was received from Miss Anne Fountain of Vancouver, provincial girls' work secretary for British Columbia.

Cinderella Dance Was Successful

Good-Sized Crowd at Affair Saturday Evening Under Auspices of Moose Lodge

The Cinderella Dance given on Saturday evening by the Moose Lodge was very successful. A good sized crowd was in attendance and had a jolly time dancing to the strains of tunesome music which was furnished by the Premier orchestra.

B. J. Bacon was master of ceremonies and William B. McCallum presided at the door, other members of the committee in charge being Oscar Sather, Ted Rovik, Andy McDonald and George Wohlsehlegal.

The Moose are holding a series of Saturday evening Cinderella dances and they are becoming very popular.

SHIPMENTS OF LUMBER

Being Made Again to Prairies From Sawmills of Prince George District

Lumber is beginning to move out again from yards of the mills along the line of the Canadian National Railways east of Prince George but the price is still low and will probably remain so for some time. The outlook for 1930 is so uncertain that it is probable the output for the coming year will be much lower than that of 1929. However, if there should be a good crop on the prairies, it is possible there may be a revival in the lumber trade during the latter part of the year. Millmen have some comfort, nevertheless, in the assurance that there will be no advance in government royalties during the next five years.

Thomas Rousay Is Laid To Rest

Victim of Last Week's Accident Buried Under Eagles' Lodge Auspices

There was a very large attendance yesterday afternoon at the funeral of the late Thomas H. Rousay, the chapel of the B. C. Undertakers being filled to overflowing for the service. The funeral was under the auspices of the Eagles' Lodge, of which deceased was a member, and Rev. Alfred Wilson, pastor of First United Church, officiated.

In his address, Mr. Wilson spoke words of respect for deceased and sympathy for the surviving members of the family. W. Vaughan Davies presided at the organ and hymns were "Abide With Me" and "Lead Kindly Light."

A long concourse followed the cortege to its last resting place in Fairview cemetery. The Eagles' burial service was used at the graveside with Thomas Clough, worthy president, and L. Brewerton, chaplain, officiating. The "Last Post" was sounded over the grave by Bugler William Rance, deceased having been an ex-service man.

Pallbearers were Lee Dell, Norman McLeod and James Brown, representing the Eagles' Lodge, and W. A. Pilford, Harry Hayes and James Murray, representing the Canadian Longshoremen's Association.

There were quite a number of floral offerings.

Among those sending flowers were Mr. and Mrs. Arney and family, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Allen and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. Gulick, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Phillipson, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Denning, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hardy, Mr. and Mrs. J. Keays, Mr. and Mrs. James Parks, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. McMillan, Mr. and Mrs. G. Barber, Mr. and Mrs. W. Rance, Mr. and Mrs. W. Smith, Mr. Valetine, Mazie Bros., 75 Taxi, Eagles' Lodge, Can. Longshoremen's Association, Prince Rupert Cribbage League.
