Organized Labor Withdraws From Industrial Conference

Samuel Compers Disassociates the American Federation from Gathering which has been Considering Relationship Between Labor and Capital.

(Special to The News via G. T. P. Telegraphs.)

WASHINGTON, October 23.—Organized labor, through Samuel Compers, president of the American Federation of Labor, has announced its withdrawal from the National Industrial Conference which has been in session here for several weeks past, pending to arrange a reasonable relationship between capital and labor.

The conference met first on October 6 and has been holding regular sessions since that time. Among the chief questions up for discussion has been that of collective bargaining, the right which has been denied by a section of the conference.

Leaders of the big steel strike, which is still going on, have been looking to this conference as a means of settling the dispute between the steel magnates and the employees. Most of the steel works are in operation, but some of them are badly handicapped by the lack of skilled workers and through the difficulty of securing supplies, men in kindred trades objecting to supplying goods to a trade that is under the union ban.

WAR CHARIOT HERE SOON

Captain C. H. Nicholson, superintendent of the Grand Trunk Steamship Service, when recently arranged for the fitting of the big freighter War Chariot which is to load spruce for the United Kingdom. It will arrive here some time between the first and fifth of November and will dock at the G. C. coal wharf.

The War Chariot is the latest of the new war boats to be turned out at the Coughlans shipyards in Vancouver and is now loading lumber at Vancouver, having completed her trial runs satisfactorily. She is very similar in style to the War Company ship which was here September 10 for the same purpose.

POLICE CRITICIZED

Investigation into the Charge of Kicking a Man Who Was Being Arrested.

Both Commissioner Hill and Commissioner Macdonald cited at the Police Commission meeting last night where the local police were blamed for being a severe and unskillful in making arrests. Commissioner Macdonald heard of where a man had been kicked when he had fallen and Commissioner Hill of where a man had been taken hold of a wagon. The Commissioner said that the police would be shown their stars and also who they were before any physical force would be tolerated. Commissioner Macdonald felt that it were true that an officer had kicked a man when he was down should be dismissed from the force.

Commissioner Macdonald and Commissioner Vickers are to investigate charges and bring in a report.

JIMMIE MITCHELL TAKES ACTIVE PART IN UNIVERSITY LIFE

J. Mitchell, formerly of the Daily News staff, appears to be entering very energetically into the activities of University life at the University of B. C. in Vancouver. Yesterday he took the negative side in a debate "Resolved that the future government of the British Empire shall be a commonwealth as outlined by Curtis." Together with another third year man, he argued this against a returned soldier chaplain student and the winner of last year's oratorical contest at the college.

Mr. Mitchell is secretary of the college football club, as well as playing half centre. Another honor that has been conferred upon him is the presidency of the college Y. M. C. A. As such, he often has to introduce celebrities to the student body. On Friday he is to be chairman at a meeting at which the famous old country revivalist, Gypsy Smith, will speak. It is believed that there will be an attendance of over 800 as he has been receiving a great reception in Vancouver.

MORE RIOTS OVER GERMAN GRAND OPERA IN NEW YORK CITY

(Special via G. T. P. Telegraphs.) NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Rioting broke out here again last night when for the second time this week German grand opera was produced. Mayor Hylan has decided that no production was to be staged until the Peace Treaty had been signed. Returned soldiers and others took part in the demonstration and feeling against local Germans who would go contrary to public feeling is very strong.

ROAD TAX

Those Who do not Pay, Liable to Fine and Imprisonment.

A suggestion was made at the meeting of the Police Commission last evening that an officer be sent around with the road tax collector to aid him in rounding up those who should pay. This suggestion was not adopted by the commission, but it was pointed out that those who refused to pay might be summoned and were liable to a fine of $100 or two months' imprisonment.

Commissioner Macdonald had one fault to find with the present road tax system, that was that the names of those who paid road tax did not go automatically on the voters' list, but that they had to come to the city hall to declare.

LADIES' DAY AT THE LOCAL POLICE COURT

Three Women Convicted of Being Drunk and Disorderly.

Today was ladies' day in the police court. Of the four cases before Magistrate McMorde three of them were charges against women for being drunk. Mabel Harrie, whose case was adjourned yesterday morning, had her witnesses up this morning, but they proved of little help to her. She was fined ten dollars for being drunk and disorderly.

Two Indian women also appeared on the same charge. A young Indian girl, Annie Smith, was fined ten dollars. The charge against Minnie Johnson was adjourned till tomorrow morning as she claimed being only "a little drunk" as the result of one drink. As a result of these two cases, E. J. Butler was charged with supplying under the Indian Act and his case has been adjourned until tomorrow morning.

BINDER TWINE MADE OF FLAX

Ottawa, Oct. 23.—After rigid tests of a new process of making binder twine out of Saskatchewan flax straw grown for linseed purposes, R. J. Hutchinson, the flax specialist at the Central Dominion Experimental Farm at Ottawa, has been able to submit a favorable report which, it is anticipated, will mean the development of an important industry in the Province and a great monetary saving to the farmers of Saskatchewan who use close to 20,000,000 pounds of twine every harvest.

In a report Mr. Hutchinson says that in his opinion "binder twine and coarse cordages can be manufactured from the fibre of the flax grown for linseed purposes only and can be placed upon the market with profit to both the consumer and manufacturer." As a result of earlier experiments conducted by the Saskatchewan government, with fibre that had been extracted from flax grown in Saskatchewan for linseed purposes only and treated by special process, binder twine and commercial cordages were manufactured in large ranges of good quality and appearance and of normal strength. The results were considered so remarkable that they attracted special attention and the Federal Government, acting upon recommendations, undertook to carry processes, and machinery. Mr. Hutchinson's report was the result of these investigations. Full tests of the new binder twine, he says, gave 99 per cent of well-bound sheaves, a better result than when sisal twine was used with the same binding.

FINAL APPEAL TO BRITISH COLUMBIANS

VANCOUVER, Oct. 24.—On Monday next, October 27, the Sixth War Loan will be launched. General Currie states that the Canadian Army never failed to carry its objective. British Columbia's objective is $25,000,000.

Are we civilians going to fall down where the soldiers at the front have succeeded? British Columbia's answer must be "No."

This is a war loan, 1919 is a war year. For four and a half years our Canadian boys stood the test at the front and their job is done. Let us demonstrate to them now that we can do our part as they did theirs.
W. M. WALKIN,
Provincial Chairman.

MAGISTRATE'S SALARY BEFORE COMMISSION

General Discussion Regarding the Appointments and Pay at Meeting Yesterday.

In speaking of the increase of pay to the police magistrate, which was laid over by the council for six months, Commissioner Macdonald at the meeting of the Police Commissioners said that he would have been prepared to move a resolution recommending an increase if the matter had not already been dealt with by the aldermen. Commissioner Hill also felt that the magistrate should have more remuneration, suggesting that he be paid according to his time.

Mayor McClymont explained that the police magistrate's duties here were more or less of a side issue, as they required very little time. Also, when it was suggested that the wage was the same as before the war, he said that it had been generally considered too high then and at one time steps had been taken to reduce it.

The government, it is expected, will take up the matter of appointment, setting of wages and payment of wages of the police magistrates, the mayor said. Some new legislation might be the result of the recommendation of the recent convention of municipalities. It was probably just as well that the matter was laid over for some time.

The Commission found fault with the principle of the government making appointments and setting the salaries while the municipalities had to pay them.

BOLSHEVIKS DRIVEN BACK

Said to Have Lost 93,000 Men Besides many Machine Guns.

(Special via G. T. P. Telegraphs.) LONDON, Oct. 23.—The Bolshevik forces have been driven back in the Manshahatt region, losing 93,000 men, many of whom were taken prisoners, according to a wireless despatch received here from General Denikine.

Many machine guns were captured in the engagements.

United Farmers will Not Form Alliance

Decide to keep free from old Political Parties; Will choose Leader soon but no outstanding figure who is sure to be it.

TORONTO, October 23.—The United Farmers of the Ontario counties decided yesterday that they would not form an alliance with either of the old political parties. They have not yet chosen a leader, but it is expected that, when they do, he will be called upon to form a government. He will have to be chosen from among the members elected to the legislature. There are 43 to choose from, but there does not seem to be any outstanding figure that would make the choice a certainty.

While the Farmers are the dominant party, they have not a working majority without a good many members of the other parties. Even with the labor men they number less than half the members of the legislature. Whether they will be backed by the Liberals does not yet appear, although it is expected that some sort of a working arrangement will be made.

CANADIANS HAVE UNUSUAL CHANCE

In Normal Times Investors From Abroad Would Eagerly Mop Up Victory Bonds.

If it were not that the war has caused a scarcity of capital in countries beyond this continent, Canadian investors would likely not have an opportunity of investing in Victory Bonds at five and a half per cent.

Such a rate in fact, a decidedly lower rate, on such sound security, would ordinarily be very attractive to the moneyed man of Great Britain, for instance. Before the war two and a half billions of dollars according to a reliable estimate, was invested by Great Britain in Canada. The bulk of the sum was placed in such prime issues as Dominion, provincial and municipal bonds.

As world conditions return to a normal footing investors from abroad will turn again to Canada. It is not too much to expect that they will find in Victory Bonds a very attractive spot to place their money, and the value of these bonds should rise accordingly. Quotations on the bonds subscribed for in previous loans shows them selling for more than their cost, and this is an indication of what the future holds for the bonds of the coming loan.

British, American, French, Dutch, Belgian and other investors have always been eager to show their faith in Canada. Canadians can hardly be backward, particularly as the reward for the display of that faith is high.

The Princess Mary will be in from the south at 3:30 this afternoon, sailing again at 4:30 for Skagway and other Alaskan ports.

FRENCH GUNS BOMBARD FORTS

Their Long Range Give Them Advantage Over Other Artillery.

(Special via G. T. P. Telegraphs.)

LONDON, Oct. 23.—Wireless from Helsingfors says that the French warships have been bombarding the coast forts since Monday. They are able to reach beyond the range of the artillery of the other forces owing to the long range of the guns.

TWO CASES DOWN FOR CIVIL ASSIZE

So far there have been only two civil cases entered with the court registrar for the assizes beginning on Tuesday next. The first is a divorce action between Lottie Anderson and Gustaf Bernard Anderson. Patmore & Fulton are solicitors for the petitioner.

The second case regards the ownership and seizure of a boat built by the plaintiff, T. Omori. The defendants are Sheriff John Shirley, M. M. Stephens and T. Morita. W. E. Williams is acting for the plaintiff and W. E. Fisher for the defence.

Athletic Association Formally Launched.

The Prince Rupert Amateur Athletic Association was formally launched on Tuesday evening when officers were elected, a board of directors chosen and the first steps taken to incorporate the club. It was also decided to inaugurate a drive for funds early next week.

Nothing is needed in Prince Rupert so badly as a good Athletic Association. There is hardly a man or woman, boy or girl but would be better for more exercise. To keep fit is difficult in a place where the days are short and there are no conveniences for indoor exercise. It is to fill this need that the Association is being started and the residents of the city will be asked to help make it a success by contributing to the finances and also by taking a personal interest in the work of the new organization.

Liquor Plebiscite In Ontario.

Apparently the people of Ontario have decided that they do not want alcoholic drinks in that province. Whatever sort of government is now formed will have to obey the mandate of the people and implement in legislation what the people have indicated they want.

The movement against alcohol as a beverage is practically world wide. In the countries where prohibition does not obtain there is an agitation going on against it. Even in England and Scotland the movement is gaining strength and it will not be many years before those countries will vote "dry." Some people think this impossible, but it is not. A few years ago it might have been thought impossible in Canada and the United States, but a wave of enthusiasm passed over the country and the bars and whiskey shops went out of existence. The probability is they have gone to stay. In a few years those who have an extreme thirst will be killed off by the use of "squirrel" and those with normal appetites will not be keen to see any return to the former orgies.

Even if there was a return to "wet" conditions, the people would be so disgusted in the first week that they would be glad of the first opportunity to close up once more.

BUYING THE BEST (By Walt Mason.)

The best things are the cheapest, and shoddy things are punk; that man's a chronic weepist who blows himself for junk. Some bargain he goes hunting, in pens or rubber tires, in celluloid or bunting, in hats or cast-off lyres. He doesn't ask the merit of calico he buys; he doesn't bite or tear it, or hold it to his eyes; if it's as cheap as blitzen, he thinks the deal will pay; and every game he sits in he plays this sort of way. His clothes are always seedy, his shoes are down at heels, he's looking poor and needy, though he earns many wheels. He blows in all his wages for things that do not wear, for birds in cheap tin cages, and wigs that have no hair. The chairs all go to pieces, he purchased at the store, depositing his nieces and aunts upon the floor. His car is always busting when he would take a ride, and accidents disgusting deface his snowy hide. His boat is always leaking when he would row a bit, and coroners are seeking his bones, on which to sit. His dog is always mangy, his cat was built to squall, his cow is lean and rangy, and kicks him through the wall. He always hunts the cheapest when he would shopping wend; cheap prices are the steepest, as we know, in the end. My large and shining dollars in good things I invest; in buying cows or collars, I always want the best.

PRIVATES GET MOST JOBS IN CIVIL SERVICE

COMMUNITY SETTLEMENT IS A GREAT SUCCESS

(Special Correspondence.)

VICTORIA, Oct. 23.—Criticism has been leveled at the Provincial Government from time to time by reason of its alleged indifference to the lot of the returned soldier. Lacking either the desire to be accurate or any inclination to discover the facts, an impression has been created that the Civil Service Act has failed utterly to redress the wrongs of an obsolete system, which had scant regard for merit and was equally indifferent to a Government's obligation where the returned man was concerned.

Detecting an attempt on the part of some who still owe their allegiance to a former regime and attracted by the more recent utterances of the Leader of the Opposition himself—who declared from the public platform a few days ago that, as far as he could see, the only soldier who stood a chance with the present government was the officer—the Hon. J. D. MacLean, Minister of Education and Provincial secretary, has just completed a survey of the appointments made since the Civil Service Act went into force on July 1, 1918, up to the present time.

Shows the Facts

The result of that investigation is now authorized for publication. It reveals the fact that during the sixteen months in which the Act has been in operation no less than 220 former members of the Canadian Expeditionary Force have been reinstated in their former or better positions in the public service of the Province. The report also gives the number of the new appointments filled exclusively by returned soldiers during the sixteen months in question as 146.

Out of this number, however, it is pointed out by Dr. MacLean, only twenty-two have been filled by the "officer class," which is alleged by the Opposition Leader to have had all the show. Even with this small number of positions going to those members of the C.E.F. who possessed commissioned rank, the official statistics disclose that no less than nine of that number entered Canada's army through the private's door. That is to say, 124 members of the Civil Service were either privates or non-commissioned officers at the time of donning and at the time of doffing khaki, and that nine out of the twenty-two officer-members of the public service became elevated to commissioned rank during their career in the army abroad.

In the light of this information—which is accessible to any British Columbian who considers the information the subject of sufficient importance to direct his or her inquiry to the Civil Service Commissioner—it will be seen that to all intents and purposes thirteen of the "officer class" only were appointed to positions and that the remaining 133, referred to as having been appointed within the period under review, were privates or non-commissioned officers.

Community Soldier Settlement.

It is interesting to note, moreover, British Columbia's progress in other phases of repatriation: This Province, for instance, has set the pace for the British Empire in its community soldier settlement undertakings. Although dubbed "economically unsound" by the Federal authorities, the original proposal evolved on board the Empress of Asia on her long trip from Liverpool to British Columbia was not allowed to languish in official pigeon holes. The Provincial Land Settlement Board saw its possibilities and purchased large tracts of land at Courtenay and at Creston—other areas will be acquired later—in order that every practical element with definite economical possibilities could be put to test. It is, of course, pioneering work; but popular consent already has been given a unanimously favorable verdict.

Apropos of clearing work in its relation to this class of settlement—in itself a prime economic factor in the working out of such an ambitious project—it is interesting to observe the official figures just issued for publication by the Hon. E. D. Barrow, Minister of Agriculture, particularly in view of the fact that alarming reports are abroad hinting at abnormal capital charges to be borne without hope of results commensurate. The reverse, in fact, is the case. Director W. S. Latta, of the Provincial Land Settlement Board, is the authority for an official rejoinder to the suggestion referred to. He deals with the following operations at Melville—Courtenay's chosen name for its settlement—and shows that actual clearing has been carried out by the soldiers themselves at a substantially lower figure per acre than estimates given to the Government for similar work by outside contractors.

Colonel Latta states that the actual cost of clearing 147.7 acres—which includes blasting, tonkey work, burning, etc., leaving the land ready for levelling and plowing, has averaged $210.-24 per acre. And it must be remembered that Melville's rainfall is in the neighborhood of sixty inches per annum, that fact alone accounting for heavy timber and rank growth; but also for deep and excellent soil. Rough clearing in respect of 72.8 acres, he pointed out, cost $91.04 per acre.

Cheap Ready-Made Farms

Each farm—referring in this instance to Farms No. 32 to 40—has ten to twenty acres cleared. (Continued on Page 5.)

Little Autumn Bride Entertains Sextette

Six Girl Friends Meet for the First Time Since the End of the War.

The September bride was giving a tea to the five girls who had been her best friends for years. The six of them had been known as "The Sextette" and had been inseparable until the war.

The little captain was just back from the war, and Dot had married him as soon as he was discharged.

Of the six, Mary had suffered most heavily as her husband had been killed in action leaving her and her wee baby alone and with few funds.

Dora had completed her training as a nurse and was doing splendid work in one of the big military hospitals. Alive was a "green sister" and was turning her knowledge of basketry to good account in the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment.

Kathleen, whose lover had gone overseas early in the war, had been the stay-at-home of the crowd.

Anne was a business girl, and came in, her cheeks glowing from her walk in the crisp autumn air.

"Oh, isn't this heavenly," she ejaculated as she sunk into a chair. "Dot, you ought to be so glad you have a home so we can all get together again."

"I am," said the September bride, with glowing face. "Not for that reason entirely though."

"What is doing up town?" asked one of the group. "I feel as if I am out of the world when I don't go up town once in a while."

"Well, the town is getting pretty busy," answered Anne. "You know the Victory Loan starts next week, and the hive is humming already."

"Anne ought to know a lot about it as she works in a broker's office," said Dot as she poured the tea into the pretty fragile cups.

"I am finding out a lot about it every day," replied the business girl. "You'd be surprised at how many reasons there are why this loan should be a smashing success."

"I just know one personally," said the little bride. "It is needed to pay for bringing my boy home to me."

"Demobilization," stated Anne. "Exactly. Everyone wanted their boys back as soon as the armistice was signed, and Canada did her best and got them across in marvellously quick time, considering the number there were. Now the expense of it all has to be met."

"I know that the hospitals have to be kept up for a long time yet," said the nursing sister. "The boys that have been wounded and broken in health need much care yet, and they are looking to Canada to give them back their health if possible."

The doctors and nurses must be paid, and the hospital equipment maintained, and it all takes money. I should think the Victory Loan of 1919 would be needed for that."

"A second good reason," said Anne. "Obligations to soldiers in hospitals."

"For my part I feel that the boys who are getting better need a lot of attention," said the "green sister."

"I find in my work such a lot of them that cannot go back to the old jobs they had on account of a lost leg or arm, and they are worrying about what will happen to them when they get out of hospital."

"True, now you have hit a good reason," Anne remarked. "It is to help these very boys that the loan must go through. Canada is undertaking to train every man that has been crippled or otherwise disabled so he cannot resume his pre-war occupation, so that he can earn his own living. And the department sees to it that he gets a position when his course is completed. We must lend our money to give these boys a chance."

"They lost their limbs for us," said the war widow softly.

"Mary, dear, you are one of the very best reasons why every cent of the loan must be raised," said Anne, giving a loving glance at the black-clad figure. "All the dependents of our glorious dead must be provided for. Think, girls, of all the wives and babies and widows that are finding it hard now to make ends meet. We must think of them, and lend generously."

"I'm a reason, too," said Kathleen. "Harry wants to go on a farm. You girls can laugh if you like, but I would make a dandy farmer's wife. Harry says the Government will lend him enough money to buy and stock a farm. He will have twenty years to pay for it, and the rate of interest is low. He says there are 25,000 returned men who want to go on the land."

"That's a fine reason," said Alice. "Besides helping the returned soldier to help himself, it is aiding production and that is badly needed all the time."

"Now you have touched a reason that I can talk about," said Anne, the business girl. "You see, girls, Canada depends on selling the surplus products of the farm and the factories to allied countries, especially Great Britain. Well, unless Canada has enough money to give credits to these countries they won't buy from us at all. If England went elsewhere for her food stuffs and her manufactured materials, just think what it would mean. Our factories would close down and men would be out of work."

"Oh, Anne, don't! That is too awful to think about," said the September bride. "I still have two cheques that were wedding gifts, and I am going right down Monday and put them into Victory Bonds."

"That's fine," said Anne. "It will be a sure way to save it, and you'll get such a nice lot of interest. I hope I get a Victory Bond for a Christmas present myself."

CHINESE COMPLAIN THROUGH THE CONSUL

A letter was read from the Chinese Consul at Vancouver to the Police Commission at their meeting yesterday afternoon. The Consul had received a complaint from the Quong Sun Chong Co. of this city, that the police had broken into their place one night at 10 o'clock without warrant and had abused one of the inmates. The Chinese population of the town was alleged to be very indignant.

The matter was explained to the satisfaction of the commission. As far as entering without a warrant was concerned this was untrue, and in the matter of the abuse, there had been provocation for it although the Police Commissioners expressed themselves as against using physical force except where unavoidable.

POLICE REPORT

A meeting of the Police Commissioners was held in the mayor's office yesterday afternoon. Commissioners Hill and Macdonald were both present as well as the mayor and city clerk. The meeting lasted for about two hours, a lot of discussion taking place on various matters. The report of the chief of police was heard, there being 21 cases during the month of August, with a total of $582 collected in fines. There were no serious cases, the charges all coming under infractions of the Motor Act, drunk and disorderly and prohibition laws. In September there were 57 cases, 55 of which brought convictions, 1 was dismissed and the other, the Noone case, is pending till the Assizes. With the exception of the Noone case, a drug administering one, there was no serious crime. There was a total of $915 collected in fines during September, which was as big a month as ever. The payroll and accounts were passed for both months.

PRIVATE GET MOST JOBS IN CIVIL SERVICE

Eight to ten acres rough cleared, all well dug, house site cleared, and consists of fifty-two to fifty-seven acres. These farms now can be offered to the allotment holders at prices ranging from $5 to $90 per acre, or in other words, from $3,700 to $4,800 each—less the rebate to British Columbia soldiers of $500 off the purchase price in accordance with the provisions of the Land Settlement and Development Act.

It should be noted also that leveling, ploughing and fencing are being proceeded with and that the cost of the work will be charged up when complete. A four to five-roomed house, costing under $800, is being erected on each farm. Five at least of the allotment holders already have moved in. Furthermore, it is estimated that these houses could not be built under ordinary favorable conditions for less than $1,000 each. Then again, Col. Latta points out, at least sixty-five per cent. of the cost of both houses and farms represents labor done exclusively by returned men, including the allotment holders themselves.

BIRTH

There was born to Mr. and Mrs. Don W. Peck, Vancouver, B. C., on October 17, a son.

A request from Constables Bailey and Adams for increases of salary in view of their eight years' service on the police force was read at the meeting of the Police Commission. After some discussion as to the advisability of inaugurating a promotion system on the force a resolution was passed that the matter be laid over for two weeks, any increase which may be made to be dated from November 1. The mayor is also going to investigate a promotion system.

Strict measures are going to be taken against disorderly houses in the city. There have been complaints lodged with the police lately and any places suspected are going to be closely watched and raided if necessary. The Police Commission is determined to stamp this out in the respectable parts of the city.

Miss Canada Gives Account of Her Stewardship

And explains her War Financing to her Citizens

Miss Canada: In humility, because of the sacrifices which have been made for me, but in pride because of the Spirit of Fortitude of your Sons, I come to enlist your most sympathetic support, as expressed by your financial aid, to enable me to meet the many obligations that still remain towards the men who fought. I also wish you to provide me with sufficient National Working Capital to consolidate the position in the world's markets, that you, by your industry, have so honourably won.

Citizens: Perhaps you might like to take this opportunity of telling us how you expended the $610,000,000 we loaned to you last year?

Miss Canada: I would. You will recall that I asked you for funds to carry on the war, and to enable me to advance credits to Great Britain and our Allies, who, by their purchases here, have prospered our farms and factories. Do you want details?

Citizens: Yes. The more facts and figures you give us, the more fully will you answer the natural queries of those to whom you are now appealing for a further loan.

Miss Canada: Very well, then. I suggest you ask me questions. That is the best way to bring out the facts.

Citizens: How much of the Victory Loan 1918 did you use for war expenditures?

Miss Canada: Three-fifths of it—$380,900,000 in fact. Before giving this expenditure in detail I wish to explain that your demobilization expenses as against those of mobilization have been concentrated within a few months. The expense of transporting our Army overseas was spread over more than four years. Consequently the cost of it did not bulk so large in any one year's budget. But to bring home in a few months hundreds of thousands of men spread from England, France and Flanders, Italy, Egypt, Palestine to far-off Siberia, was a gigantic and expensive task. It taxed all my resources.

Citizens: Realizing the conditions you faced, because of the shortage of shipping, and remembering that other parts of the Empire were eager for the speedy return of their men, we think you did very well. Give us now the details of your war expenditures.

Miss Canada: $312,900,000 was spent for the payment of soldiers since the Armistice—the cost of feeding them, part cost of bringing them home, separation allowances to their dependents, the maintenance of hospitals, their medical and nursing staffs, in Britain as well as Canada, the organization and conduct of the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-Establishment (which includes the Vocational Training Schools) and the financing and operation of the Soldier's Land Settlement Act.

In addition to this, I have already authorized and am paying gratuities to soldiers on their discharge.

Citizens: What is the amount of the gratuity?

Miss Canada: I used $59,000,000 of the Victory Loan 1918 for this purpose, and expect to use $61,000,000 of Victory Loan 1919.

Citizens: Did you make any other disbursements under the heading of war expenditures?

Miss Canada: Yes, $9,000,000 was spent at Halifax, to be used in reconstruction after the disaster.

Citizens: We quite appreciate the fact that these were all necessary war expenditures. Perhaps you will tell us now what you did in the way of advancing credits to Great Britain and our Allies?

Miss Canada: With pleasure. I advanced Great Britain $173,500,000 to help purchase your grain; and I loaned her another $30,000,000 to buy other foodstuffs.

Citizens: Did Great Britain buy any fish from us?

Miss Canada: Yes, $9,000,000 worth. I loaned her the money to pay you for it.

Citizens: Were there any other loans to Great Britain?

Miss Canada: Yes, Great Britain bought $2,900,000 worth of ships built here. I loaned her the money to pay for them. Then I loaned her $5,500,000 to meet other obligations in connection with munition purchases.

Citizens: What security have you for all this?

Miss Canada: Great Britain's pledge to repay—backed by the resources that made her Banker, Manufacturer and Bulwark to her Allies during the war.

Citizens: That's good enough. Did you do anything for our Allies?

Miss Canada: I loaned them $8,200,000 to buy your foodstuffs, raw material and manufactured products.

Citizens: That accounts for last year's Loan. Will you tell us now why you need another Loan, and how you purpose using it?

Miss Canada: I need another loan to finish paying the expenses of demobilization, since the proceeds of the 1918 Loan were exhausted, and to meet the obligations I still owe to your Soldier Sons. I also need money for National Working Capital.

Citizens: What are the obligations to soldiers?

Miss Canada: The cost of bringing them home. The payment of all those still undemobilized, including sick and wounded, who are still in hospital, and who of course remain on the Army Payroll until discharged. The upkeep of hospitals, and their medical and nursing staffs.

Citizens: How much will these items entail?

Miss Canada: $200,000,000.

Citizens: Does that include the gratuities?

Miss Canada: No. I shall need $61,000,000 of the New Loan to finish paying these.

Citizens: Will that include the money to finance the Dept. of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment, including the Vocational Training Schools, and the working out of the Soldiers' Land Settlement Act?

Miss Canada: No. I estimate $57,000,000 for this. I have already approved loans to the amount of $26,000,000 to soldiers already settled on the land under this Act.

Citizens: How many soldiers are taking advantage of it?

Miss Canada: Up to August 15th, 29,495 soldiers had applied for land under the terms of the Act. 22,281 applications had been approved. 9,043 men were already placed on farms, and millions of acres will be under cultivation, that might otherwise be idle.

Citizens: What do you consider the great national advantage of having soldiers become farmers, apart from increased production of food?

Miss Canada: The love of outdoor life and the resourcefulness of our soldier citizens are just the qualities to make them successful farmers, and upholders of the best Canadian tradition.

Citizens: Have you any other war obligations?

Miss Canada: Not that I foresee. I have covered the major ones.

Citizens: You purpose extending further credits to Great Britain and our Allies, do you not?

Miss Canada: Yes, to the extent that your loan will permit me to.

Citizens: Why sell to Great Britain and our Allies if they can't pay cash?

Miss Canada: Their orders are absolutely essential to the continuance of your agriculture and industrial prosperity. The magnitude of their orders, and the amount of employment thus created will depend upon the success of the Victory Loan 1919.

Citizens: Will you explain simply this idea of credit, and why it is so necessary that we should give it?

Miss Canada: Farmers and manufacturers (and that includes the workers on these orders) must be paid cash for their products.

Therefore I must borrow money from you to give credit, temporarily, to Great Britain and our Allies.

If you do not grant this credit, other countries will; and they will get the trade, and have the employment that should be yours, to distribute amongst their workers.

And remember, you absolutely need these orders to maintain employment. If you don't finance them, employment will not be as plentiful, business will feel the depression and conditions everywhere will be adversely affected.

Citizens: Will you use the proceeds of the Loan for any other purpose?

Miss Canada: Yes. I must carry out the National Shipbuilding and Reconstruction programme. I am also committed to advance loans to Provincial Housing Commissions.

Citizens: What are individual—personal advantages to be gained in buying Victory Bonds?

Miss Canada: The fact that Victory Bonds are among the world's premier investments—in security—in good interest yield—and in ready saleability.

Citizens: What do you mean by Security?

Miss Canada: I mean that the whole resources of Canada—all the assets of all the people—plus all the wealth yet to be discovered is behind my pledge to repay you your principal when due and to meet each interest payment.

Citizens: What do you mean by "good interest yield"?

Miss Canada: You receive on your savings deposits 3%. Invest in my Bonds, with the security of all Canada behind you, and you get 5½%.

Citizens: What do you mean by "ready saleability"?

Miss Canada: I mean that if, at any time, you wish to get cash for Victory Bonds—that is, sell them—you can do it at a moment's notice. Or, if you want to borrow money on them, any bank will loan it to you and accept them as security. For all practical purposes Victory Bonds are as good as money, except that if you keep a bill in a box at home, or in a vault, it doesn't earn interest—but Victory Bonds do.

Citizens: Would you advise a person to take money out of a Savings Bank and invest it in Victory Bonds, and if so, why?

Miss Canada: I would—because I pay almost double the interest paid by Savings Banks and my obligation is undoubted.

Citizens: Do you think Victory Bonds will increase in value.

Miss Canada: They ought to. Every person who subscribed to Victory Bonds last year has made money. I have every reason to believe my credit position must steadily advance.

Citizens: You have given a good account of your stewardship, Miss Canada, and realizing the obligations we have to our soldier sons—to our brothers—to our farmers and industrial producers—to our workers everywhere—to You, the Spirit of our beloved country—to those who have so gladly and gallantly died for her—we pledge ourselves to buy your Victory Bonds to the absolute limit of our ability, and thus ensure the realization of our highest and best aspirations for Canada and all Her peoples.

Cut this out and read it carefully. It will answer a great many of the questions you may be thinking of in connection with the
