Premier of Canada Attributes Progress of Dominion To Its Extraction From Two Nations

Ideal of British Empire Has Always Been Kept to Fore; Time Now For More Tangible Basis Than Mere Sentiment

LONDON, Oct. 28.—"The Dominion of Canada, with less than ten million inhabitants, is yet the fifth largest trading country in the world and it achieved this position because our people represent a happy combination of two great races," Prime Minister R. B. Bennett of Canada told a gathering of the Canada Club here last night.

GOV'TS MAY LOSE HEAVY

Prairie Provinces Will Have to Pay Ten Million Dollars If Wheat Price Does Not Improve

WINNIPEG, Oct. 28.—Unless the price of wheat improves, losses to western governments in Wheat Pool guarantees may exceed $10,000,000 according to Premier Bracken of Manitoba who returned today from Edmonton where he had attended an inter-provincial conference.

"Confidence above everything else is needed in handling the wheat marketing situation," the Premier said. He asserted that harmful propaganda was being circulated.

Lighting System For New Floats

Government Asks If City Will Supply Energy Should Installation Be Made

A letter from J. P. Ford, district engineer, federal department of public works, Victoria, read at last night's council meeting advised the city that the department was considering the installation of a lighting system on the new fishermen's floats east of the dry dock and enquired if the city would supply the energy. The plan was, the letter announced, to instal 12 100-watt lamps and three 50-watt lamps.

The matter was referred to the utilities committee for report.

- Employment: Maritimes feeling pinch of conditions in large cities.
- Car Loadings: Current figures show 10.8% decline from 1929 level.
- Stock Markets: Plenty of bargains but continual decline saps public confidence.
- Credit: Plenty of money available to meet fall demands.
- Trend: Return to normal conditions not expected till well on in 1931.

NO TARIFF ON WHEAT

Canadian Hopes For Marketing Preference Dashed By Premier's Statement

LONDON, Oct. 28.—Premier Ramsay MacDonald announced in the House of Commons today that the government was not prepared to put a tariff on wheat. "We cannot do it," he said.

Thus the government officially put an end to any hopes that Canada's or other Dominion's wheat products would receive a tariff preference on the British market.

The Premier's announcement definitely restricted the possibilities to some extent of bulk purchasing or quota agreement which would favor Dominions as against foreign wheat growers.

LABOR GOVERNMENT IS NOT GOING TO PEOPLE

LONDON, Oct. 28.—Premier J. Ramsay MacDonald last night disposed of persistent rumors that the Labor party would seek an early general election to clear up the confused Parliamentary situation in England. He told guests at a reception organized by the National Labor Club that the government might be turned out by one or the other parties but its intention was to continue with its work.

ROSE NOT TO BLAME

Coroner's Jury Relieves Him of Responsibility in Connection Chinaman's Death

INQUEST YESTERDAY

Auto Mechanic, Charged With Manslaughter, Took Stand At Hearing

A coroner's jury investigating the circumstances of the death of Seto Dib, Chinaman, who died last Friday morning following injuries sustained the night previous in contact with a car driven by Cecil Rose on Second Avenue, yesterday afternoon returned a verdict that deceased had come to his death from wounds received when he came in contact with a car driven by Rose. No blame, however, attached to Cecil Rose for the fatality, the jury found. The inquest, opened at 2:30 p.m., and it was 6 o'clock before the jury had brought in its verdict. Following the verdict, it is expected that a manslaughter charge pending against Rose will be withdrawn.

L. W. Patmore appeared at the inquest as counsel for the Chinese Society. A. M. Manson K.C. was counsel for Rose.

The first witness was Chow Cum Luey who had been with Seto Dib on the night of the accident. Seto Dib had left him at the Chinese Free Masons and that was the last he had seen of him alive. Witness identified the body he had seen at the morgue.

Mike Munizaba, from 20 feet west of Brand's house on Second Avenue, saw a car approaching traveling west and a Chinaman crossing the street in a crouched position. The Chinaman struck the back of the car. Witness heard the brakes applied and tires drag. The Chinaman was lying on the street when witness came along. Blood was issuing from his ears. Witness could not tell the speed the car was travelling.

Lyle Norman Marr was coming out of the door of 835 Second Avenue when the accident occurred. Before he had the door open, he had heard a bang. Opening the door, he saw the man lying on his back on the street. Rose was running toward the man and he had cried: "Come and help me carry this man off the street." Witness had heard the brakes squeal. Rose's car was about 20 feet west of the body.

Maude Wicks was on the corner near the blind man's house when she heard a bump and some one say: "Give me a hand to pick this man up." She had seen the car travelling west. It was not going any faster than it should.

Constable William Smith tendered a plan showing the scene of the accident. He had been called after.

King George Opens Parliament For First Time Since Serious Illness He Had Two Years Ago

LONDON, Oct. 28.—The King opened Parliament today for the first time since his serious illness two years ago. A great crowd witnessed the pageantry of the march from Buckingham Palace to Westminster where His Majesty read before the House of Lords and the House of Commons his speech from the throne. Politically speaking, the high point of the speech was the brief statement that "a measure of electoral reform will be submitted to you." It was believed that, with this measure, the government will assure itself of continued Liberal support and thus place the further guarantee upon its remaining in office.

Sidewalk Construction Downtown to Be Started Soon By City

Ald. Rudderham moved at last night's meeting of the city council that, if the work could be financed, the construction of a number of sidewalks for which local improvement bylaws had been put through should proceed as soon as possible to help alleviate unemployment in the city.

The motion was passed after the mayor had explained that the material for some of the work was already here and that there would be no difficulty in the matter of financing.

Earnings of Salmon Fishermen On British Columbia Coast In Present Season Ahead of 1929

VANCOUVER, Oct. 28.—British Columbia's record salmon pack this year netted the fishermen a body $1,110,000 more in earnings than last year, it is revealed in statistics released by the federal department of fisheries.

The total landed value of salmon, which means the earnings of the fishermen except for a small percentage of cost represented in the tenders picking up the catch and taking it to the canneries, amounted this year to $6,772,000. Last year it was $5,694,000.

Frank Dorbrandt Not Heard From Since He Hopped Off Yesterday

Missing Plane Had Fifty Pounds of Food For Three Men When It Left On Flight Seventeen Days Ago Yesterday

(By Government Telegraphs)

ATLIN, Oct. 28.—The Bellanco plane, piloted by Frank Dorbrandt, which left here at 1:10 yesterday afternoon to search for Capt. E. J. A. Burke, missing commercial aviator, has not yet returned. Dorbrandt was to go over the route taken by Capt. Burke toward Liard Post. Weather conditions there are reported to be very stormy and it is possible that Dorbrandt may not return here until late today. Meanwhile, he is out of all communication until he returns here. If Dorbrandt could not reach Liard Post, he intended making a landing on one of the small frozen lakes and continuing the search as soon as weather conditions would permit him to do so. His plane is now equipped with skis.

Last night Burke had been missing for 17 days. It is now learned that the missing plane took 50 pounds of food from here when it left. There were three men on board—Emil Kading, machinist, and Bob Martin, prospector, who had chartered the plane for the trip to Liard Post.

Flying conditions over Northern British Columbia were reported good today.

VANCOUVER, Oct. 28.—Pat Renahan took off from here this afternoon for Atlin to join in the search for Capt. E. J. A. Burke. He will go as far north as possible this afternoon stopping for the night either at Prince Rupert, Ketchikan or Juneau.

The report of Fire Chief D. H. McDonald for the month of September, read at last night's meeting of the city council, announced that there had been eight alarms during the month with a total damage of $16,832 covered by insurance. Practically all the damage was done in a fire at the Big Bay Lumber Co.'s sawmill. Expenses of the department for the month had totalled $1117. The usual inspections had been made of equipment which had been found to be in good order.

EXPORT IS FORBIDDEN

Provincial Government Stand On Logs Is Still Unchanged, City Council Hears

A letter from Hon. F. P. Burden, minister of lands, read at last night's meeting of the city council, reiterated the stand of the provincial government against permitting the export of logs. The letter was in reply to a communication addressed to the minister on October 11.

Mr. Burden, in his letter, advised the city that the policy of the government was, wherever possible, to encourage the manufacture of materials within the province. Since 1905, the regulation against the export of logs had stood and there did not seem to be any good reason to change same now. The timber of the province was not depreciating greatly through over-maturity and the fire hazard was low. The government was opposed to having any sites stripped of timber for manufacture in a foreign country in competition with the product of the province's own mills. Only where there was depreciation of timber, or logs, would their export be considered, the communication made clear.

Ald. Pillsbury stated that there was never any intention to strip timber. The idea was merely to take small quantities within limited times.

The letter was ordered filed.

CAN FACTORY HERE

It is announced in Ketchikan that the American Can Company will erect a can factory in Ketchikan.

Prince Rupert has been after that factory on various occasions but so far has failed. Now it seems as if this city is to be beaten out by the Alaskan town.

If the American Can Company refuses to build a factory in Prince Rupert the best thing the citizens can do is to try to induce some other company to locate here.

Prince Rupert is the centre of the most important salmon fisheries in Canada and has a right to the can factory. Possibly a local company might be formed to go into the business.

WHY NOT BUILD CARS?

It is noticed that the Canadian Pacific Railway is about to build flat cars at its yards on Vancouver Island in order to provide for the needs of the E. & N. Railway. That is an excellent move.

If the C. P. R. can do that at Victoria, why could not the C. N. R. build flat cars at the dry dock yards in Prince Rupert? There is plenty of accommodation for them, plenty of lumber can be purchased in the city and the iron work can be done at the shops right there as cheaply and well as anywhere in the country.

Car shops would help build up one of the C. N. R. ports and would relieve the overhead charges at the dry dock plant.

It is true that efforts to secure this have in the past failed but that is no reason why the agitation for it should not be continued. Prince Rupert needs the industry and the railway needs the cars.

C. N. DIRECTORATE

Says the Winnipeg Free Press:

"The Dominion Government in calling for the resignation of the government-appointed directors of the Canadian National Railway, can point to the precedent set by the preceding administration; and they can invoke the same precedent if they appoint to the board their own political friends. The course followed by the King Government in relation to the directorate of the Canadian National was subjected to sharp criticism in these columns, as our readers may recall. We thought it regrettable that a clean sweep was made in 1922 of the old board, which included some men of the highest character and ability; and we objected to the obviously political character of many of the appointments to the board. That no ill results followed was due to the correct policy which the government itself followed in its relations with the railway. The King Government undoubtedly showed a party bias in making these appointments; and if it had followed this up by trying to exercise a control over the policy of the road through these appointees, the results would have been very serious. Fortunately the government kept its hands off, and Sir Henry Thornton and his politically-appointed board got along very well together. Between them they rendered this country services of very great value."

Lamp Standard Removal Causes Protest Making

A letter from M. M. Stephens & Co. Ltd., read at last night's meeting of the city council, protested against a street lighting standard being removed from in front of the McIntyre Block without readjustment of other standards in the block and suggested that, if the city did not rectify the matter, legal recourse might be resorted to. One of the oldest tenants of the block, the letter continued, had protested against the standard being taken out. Negotiations for the sale of the property were also on, it was intimated.

Ald. Macdonald, chairman of the utilities committee, suggested that the matter be allowed to stand for the meantime to see how the new system looked when the lights were turned on. If it was not satisfactory, then the city could order the Power Corporation to instal a standard.

Ald. Rudderham objected to the action of the power company in removing three lights—two from one side of the street and one from the other—on Third Avenue between Seventh and Sixth Streets when the council had ordered that only two be taken out. He also objected to only one light being placed on Sixth Street when all plans had called for two.

Ald. Pillsbury believed that the city should at all times be supplied with plans of the proposed lighting.

It was agreed to let the matter stand and make adjustments of standards later if it were found necessary to do so.

OBJECTS TO SUNDAY WORK

Editor, Daily News:—
Is the "Lord's Day Act" still in existence?

I was greatly surprised today (Sunday) to see men working on the new Government Liquor Store; surely there is not such a rush to get it finished that men doing government work should have to break laws supposed to be enforced by that government, especially at this time when there is so much unemployment. Why not start a few more men on the job and help solve the labor difficulty which is so much in evidence at this time?

MASCOT OF BLUENOSE

Fishermen, writers, racing followers, and others might credit the remarkable recovery of the Canadian schooner Bluenose in the Fishermen's Races off Gloucester, Mass., recently, to adjusted mainsail, ballast removal and general tuning up, but Stewart Walters, 14 year old son of Captain Angus Walters, has a theory of his own on that subject. Stewart sailed down from Lunenburg with his dad and during the trip demonstrated to him and the crew that he despite his tender years, could take his place at the wheel with the best of them. However, when the day of the first race came Captain Angus decided to leave the boy on shore. On that day the Bluenose looked like a doomed ship as far as the series was concerned. The same evening as the captain, his son and a few reporters were sitting in the cabin of the boat discussing the race and talking over the chances of the schooner in the next encounter young Walters turned to his father and said, "You had better take me along Dad. I'll make you win."

Captain Walters thought awhile and then opined that it might be a good idea and when the vessel crossed the line the second time Stewart was aboard encouraging the men and lending a willing hand when there was work to be done. Although that and subsequent races were postponed, the Lunenburg entry clearly demonstrated that she was not the same boat that had so hopelessly trailed the Gertrude L. Thebaud in the opening stanza and if fortune would only favor her with a husky breeze she could show the dubious ones just why she had retained her championship of the fishermen's fleet for more than 10 years. Also it installed Stewart as a full fledged member of the salt banker's crew.

Besides his duties as official mascot, young Walters found several other things to do in connection with the races. Every day crowds of people gathered on the wharf to inspect the Bluenose and get acquainted with the crew. The captain was forced to spend a good deal of his time while ashore at committee meetings and was not able to act as host all of the time. At a time like this Stewart would show the people over the boat, explaining the rigging, tell a little of the history of the craft and, if a particular group struck his fancy, he would go below and return with a handful of apples and pass them around with the proud remark that "they are real Lunenburg apples."

Young Walters surprised all who listened to him by his familiarity with nautical terms and his knowledge of sailing matters. He is a

WAS GREAT SPORTSMAN

Horse racing, breeding and polo activities made Harry Payne Whitney, who died in New York Sunday, known as a premier sportsman of America. Much of the wealth he inherited and produced in mining and real estate interests was devoted to development of turf sports.

Famous horses of his stables won at various times the Kentucky Derby, Pimlico Preakness and virtually every great race in the United States as well as many abroad. In 1924 his thoroughbreds, said to number more than 200, made the largest winnings of any stable in the country, aggregating a half million dollars, with a record of 272 races won, 201 races second and 235 races third. Irish Lad, Regret and Whiskery were among the most famous of his runners.

In the polo field, Mr. Whitney was one of about a dozen men in the game's history to hold the maximum handicap of ten goals. He became interested in the sport after leaving college, was said to have sensed the possibilities of the new kind of polo and to have organized the activities which led to the defeat of English teams in international matches. He was a member of the famous "Big Four" of 1909 which established the reputation of American polo, and was known as "a player par excellence who could invariably be relied upon to pass the ball to the right man at the right moment."

Mr. Whitney interested himself in the breeding of both track and polo horses and, as a result of this activity, was credited with having done much to develop both strength and agility.

Born in New York

Harry Payne Whitney was born in New York, April 29, 1872. He was the son of William C. Whitney, Secretary of the Navy during the first Cleveland administration and a wealthy mining and real estate operator who was determined that his son should succeed to his administrative affairs.

After the younger Whitney's graduation from Yale in 1894 he registered at Columbia University law school and entered the office of Elihu Root. He abandoned law the following year, however, and, after a big game hunting trip to India, became identified with his father's interests in the Guggenheim Exploration Company and the American Smelting and Refining Company. He also served later as president of the New York Transportation Company.

Mr. Whitney's marriage to Gertrude Vanderbilt took place at Newport in 1896. Mrs. Whitney later acquired prominence as a sculptress, patron of the arts, and an active war-relief worker. There were three children, Cornelius Vanderbilt, Flora Payne (Mrs. G. MacCulloch Miller) and Barbara (Mrs. Barklie McKee Henry).

Asks Permission To Build Walk

D. Zarelli Asked to Wait Until Street Byaw Has Been Safely Put Through

A letter from D. Zarelli asking for permission to lay down a concrete sidewalk on Sixth Street alongside the Royal Hotel was read at last night's council meeting. After some discussion the matter was referred to the Board of Works with power to act.

It was suggested by Ald. Rudderham that Mr. Zarelli might defer his work until the bylaw providing for concrete sidewalk on the same side of the street between Third Avenue and Fraser Street had been safely passed. Withdrawal of one property owner from the bylaw who was in favor of it might endanger its passage by the others it was felt.

A Daily News want-ad will bring results.

REPORTS ON CONVENTION

Mayor C. H. Orme Tells Council of Recent Doings at Kelowna

Mayor C. H. Orme presented a verbal report to the city council last night on the recent conventions in Kelowna of the Good Roads League of British Columbia and Union of British Columbia Municipalities which he had attended as delegate from Prince Rupert. His Worship reviewed some of the more important resolutions which had been passed by the two bodies. With regard to a resolution submitted by the city of Prince Rupert asking for the extension of the time in which householders and licence-holders may register for the municipal voters' list Mayor Orme announced that a recommendation had been passed for submission to the provincial government requesting that the Municipal Act be so amended as to permit municipalities if they desire, to change the dates of registration from October 1-31 to August 1-October 31.

Robert Baird, inspector of municipalities in addressing the Union of B. C. Municipalities, had urged that the assessments of the cities be fixed at lower levels and that the improvement tax be adopted in cities.

Concluding his report, Mayor Orme stated that he was greatly impressed with the town of Kelowna where there seemed to be such a spirit of co-operation among the people. It had been an instructive convention and the mayor did not think the city was losing anything by belonging to the Municipalities Union.

In moving the adoption of the report, Ald. Linzey and Ald. MacDonald congratulated the mayor on the work he had done for the city at the convention and on his having been elected second vice-president of the Good Roads League.

WANT GRAIN SHIPS HERE

City Council Authorizes Mayor to Take Matter Up in Proper Quarter

The tie-up of grain movement through this port and the apparent use of the local government elevator by the Alberta Wheat Pool merely as a storage bin was brought up by Ald. James Black at last night's meeting of the city council and, after most of the aldermen had made critical remarks, it was left to the mayor to take the matter up in the proper quarters.

Ald. Black thought that this port was being discriminated against in favor of Vancouver in the matter of grain shipments. He referred to the value that grain shipments would be in giving employment here. He thought the council should get in touch with the Wheat Pool and the shipping companies.

One of the difficulties, Ald. Collart explained, was that part cargoes were not available here. Prince Rupert, however, should get its share of full grain loadings.

Ald. Pullen believed that the president of the chamber of commerce was in receipt of some correspondence on the matter. He suggested that the city council cooperate with the chamber in the matter. As far as he was personally concerned, he was in favor of asking for the cancellation of the Wheat Pool lease if it failed to use the house except for a storage bin.

After other members of the council, including Ald. Rudderham, Ald. Pillsbury and Ald. Macdonald had expressed their opinions on the matter, it was decided that the matter should be left in the hands of the mayor to take such action as he saw fit.

AROUND PRINCE RUPERT
Granby Co. Cuts Dividend—Looking For Gold In Prince George District—General Meeting of Dolly Varden

The Granby Consolidated Mining, Smelting & Power Co. Ltd. has reduced its dividend payable to shareholders on November 1 from 75c to 50c per share. Dividends in the form of capital distribution amounted to $2 per share for the first two quarters of the present year. The distribution on August 1 was reduced to 75c per share and now a further cut is announced, reflecting the company's diminishing earnings caused by the low price of copper. The company is now producing its copper at a consolidated cost of nine cents a pound from its Anxoy and Allenby properties, after crediting precious metals and miscellaneous income to copper before depreciation write-offs. Costs for the second quarter of the year were 9.95c; for the first quarter, 12.07c, and for the full year of 1929, 10.614c. All copper mining companies of North and South America have been forced to reduce their dividends since the decline in copper prices started this year. Granby's dividend of November 1 will be payable to shareholders of record October 17.

The Edwin C. Holden syndicate of Baltimore, Maryland, has for the past several months been investigating the gold possibilities of the district along the Fraser River above Prince George. Representatives of this syndicate have been examining gold prospects in that district and may become interested in a large way in their development. It is thought there is much gold to be found in the channels of the Fraser in the district and investigations have been carried on with a keystone drill and prospects are said to be good for dredging operations being started before long.

A general meeting of the Dolly Varden Properties Ltd., owning the Dolly Varden mine at Alice Arm and other properties, is called for November 5 in Vancouver to receive a report from the directors and deal with the affairs of the company. The report of the directors is as follows:

"Your directors have, since the incorporation of the company, endeavored to effect a sale of the mining properties, equipment and other assets situate at Alice Arm. The properties have been optioned on several occasions but none of the options have been taken up. The last option granted by the company was to Col. Victor Spencer, who in turn gave an option to Britannia Mining & Smelting Company Limited. The latter option was dropped and the option held by Col. Victor Spencer was likewise dropped.

"During the lifetime of the company to date the directors have maintained watchmen upon the properties, and have been able to pay current expenses and certain amounts on account of taxes. The moneys so paid were obtained from various sources, some having been borrowed. The position today, however, is that the company has a small sum of money on hand, with no further revenue in sight. The company is indebted as follows, as shown by the balance sheet as at July 31, 1929:

"Col. Victor Spencer .....	$12,300.21
"Bourne & DesBrisay .....	estimated 7,350.87
"Government of the Province of British Columbia for taxes .....	6,279.11
"Workmen's Compensation Board .....	3,762.13

"As intimated above, the company is without funds and has creditors as set out. Your directors, however, are of the opinion that steps should be taken to dispose of the equipment, machinery, rails and other assets at once unless some arrangements can be made to secure finances."

Permission was granted by the city council last night to the Canadian Legion to hold its annual Poppy Day tagging for the relief of disabled veterans and their dependents on November 8, the Saturday nearest Armistice Day.

Rose Not to Blame

the accident occurred. The Chinaman was then on the sidewalk. Rose said he had struck the man but had not seen where he came from. Witness told of a pool of blood which he said was closer to the south side of the street than the north. For a distance of 46 feet beyond the pool of blood there were skid marks of a car. Lighting of this street was none too good. Certain inaccuracies in the original plan came out in cross-examination so a new one was drawn.

Constable Malcolm Martin gave further details of measurements, skid marks, etc. He would not swear whether Rose had said that he struck the man or whether the man ran into the car.

Dr. L. W. Kergin, who was called to attend the deceased, was the next witness. The doctor described in detail the injuries that had been received. He gave as the cause of death cerebral hemorrhage due to a fracture of the base of the skull. Other injuries included four badly broken ribs and a small abrasion behind the right knee. Dr. Kergin gave as his theory that the Chinaman had been struck in the ribs by the car and that the fracture of the skull had occurred through being thrown on his head on the street. There was no abrasion of the head which led to the belief that the man had not been struck there by the car.

An Eye Witness

Harvey Dumas was crossing the corner of Second Avenue and Seventh Street as Rose was coming along. The car was not travelling fast and witness was able to cross in front of it with ease. After the car had passed him, witness heard a noise and saw the car stop. He saw Rose and another man pick the Chinaman up and lay him on the sidewalk. Witness had not seen the Chinaman previous to this and had thought that he must have stepped out from in front of a parked car on the north side of the street.

Fernand Roussel, auto mechanic, told of examining Rose's car. He had made tests of the time it took it to stop after brakes had been applied. The car stopped sooner than the average car of its type did. The tendency of the car to skid to the left indicated that brake power was not so good on the right side. Brakes and lights were in good order.

Constable James E. Johnson, who drove the police car to the scene of the accident, gave brief evidence. He was of the opinion that the Chinaman had slid after being struck.

Cecil Rose was then called to the witness stand to give evidence. Mr. Manson admitted that this was unusual at an inquest but he and his client were desirous of having the matter cleared up now if possible instead of having to wait indefinitely for trial on the manslaughter charge.

Rose stated that he was an auto mechanic, having been apprenticed at the age of 14. He had been using the car as a taxi. Just before the accident he had driven an elderly couple to the Besner Block and had then gone down Third Street to Second Avenue. He was proceeding at a speed of 15 to 17 miles an hour and slowed up as he approached the Post Office corner as he had intended to turn up Seventh Street and proceed to his stand at the Royal Hotel. On nearing the corner, however, he remembered that he had a call to the McDordie Apartments so, instead of rounding the corner, he had proceeded straight along Second Avenue.

The first he saw of the man was as he approached the car from the left side. He was coming diagonally from the direction of Ling the Tailor's towards the King George Hotel. He was in a crouched position and was trotting. The man was only three or four feet from the fender when witness first saw him. He immediately disengaged the clutch and applied the brakes. He

URGE HOTEL WORK HERE

Ald. P. H. Linzey suggested at last night's meeting of the city council that it was time that some representations were again made to the Canadian National Railways with regard to the proposed tourist hotel here. In view of the fact that the railway company was apparently anxious, where possible, to alleviate unemployment, Ald. Linzey thought that the mayor should get in touch with Sir Henry Thornorton and urge upon him the desirability of having the hotel work started here.

It was decided to leave the matter in the hands of the mayor who stated that it was already being taken up with the railway company.
