WATT DISMISSAL IS AIRED IN HOUSE

Minister of Finance Defends His Action Upon Local Episode

Shelly Challenged by Pattullo and Manson to Make Statement Outside Legislature Walls

(Special to The Daily News)

VICTORIA, Feb. 8.—Under fire for having dismissed Norman Watt as government agent in Prince Rupert on an unfounded charge of political partisanship, Hon. W. C. Shelly, minister of finance in the Tolmie government, yesterday defended himself by saying that Mr. Watt had appropriated to his own use $150 of coroner's fees properly belonging to the crown. T. D. Pattullo and A. M. Manson heartily dared Mr. Shelly to make such a statement outside the house and demanded that Premier Tolmie grant a committee to clear Mr. Watt's name of the "despicable, monstrous and outrageous" charge made by the minister. Mr. Pattullo said that no demand for the $150 was made on Mr. Watt for months after his dismissal and Capt. I. A. MacKenzie declared the accusation was made at this late date only because of the storm of protest that had come from prominent Conservatives and from war veterans. At Mr. Watt's dismissal, Mr. Pattullo paid a high tribute to Mr. Watt's integrity and exhibited deep feeling in the matter. He predicted Mr. Shelly would be out of the government before the matter was settled, and declared that the unfair charge would dog the minister to the end of his days.

MR. WATT'S STATEMENT

Dubs Theft Charge of Minister of Finance "Despicable Subterfuge"

Regarding Mr. Shelly's charge of theft of coroner's fees, Norman A. Watt, former government agent, said this morning: "I deny absolutely any wrong in connection therewith. I was appointed to the office of coroner in October, 1921. I was given no instructions whatever other than those received from my predecessor in office, Walter Gale, who informed me that I was entitled to all coroner fees paid by the city of Prince Rupert. He at that time told me he had collected such fees. At the time of my dismissal last May I in turn also informed my successor in office, C. L. Monroe, that he was entitled to such fees. The first and only intimation ever received that I was not entitled to these fees was in a letter received from the deputy attorney-general in November last, demanding the immediate return of the fees in question. This I have not done, and I challenge the government to bring suit against me for the recovery of them. Mr. Shelly now states that the theft of these fees formed the basis of the grounds of my dismissal. Mr. Shelly knew nothing whatever of the coroner situation at the time of my dismissal. I can only regard his recent charge as a despicable subterfuge and dare him to repeat the charge outside the legislature. I predict it will be the means of driving him from the political life of this province."

Anaemia Weakness of the Blood

Pallor of the lips, gums and eyelids is proof that the blood is thin and watery. Anaemia is the name given to this condition.

Anemia is most prevalent among girls and young women. The school girl often suffers as the result of an anaemic condition of the blood and the consequent upsetting of the nervous system.

The remarkable success of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food in cases of this kind is perhaps the best proof that it goes directly to the formation of pure, rich blood. And pure, rich blood is the foundation of the health and strength of the whole human body.

F. Patterson, pioneer Porcher Island mining man, who has been on a trip south, returned to the city on the Princess Royal yesterday afternoon from Vancouver and is a guest at the Savoy Hotel.

Capt. William Oliver, who arrived in the city on the Prince John last evening from Sandspit to attend the United Church Presbytery meetings, will sail by the same steamer tonight on his return to the islands.

J. D. Fraser, inspector for the Board of Grain Commissioners, arrived in the city on the Princess Royal yesterday afternoon from Vancouver and after a brief visit here on official duties, left on this morning's train for Winnipeg.

NINSTALMENT XXXIII.

"Old Pongo's a cautious player—he takes no risks. Now, with me it's neck or nothing. And a fine motto through life, don't you agree, Lady Eileen?"

"Hasn't it ever landed you in trouble?" asked Bundle, laughing.

"To be sure it has. Millions of times. But I'm still going strong. Sure, it'll take the hangman's noose to defeat Terence O'Rourke."

Just then Jimmy Thesiger strolled around the corner of the house.

"Bundle by all that's wonderful!" he exclaimed.

"You've missed competing in the autumn meeting," said O'Rourke.

"I'd gone for a stroll," said Jimmy. "Where did these girls drop from?"

"We came on our flat feet," said Bundle. "The Hispano let us down."

And she narrated the circumstances of the breakdown.

Jimmy listened with sympathetic attention.

"Hard luck," he vouchsafed. "If it's going to take some time, I'll run you back in my car after lunch."

After Lunch

A gong sounded at that moment and they all went in. Bundle observed Jimmy covertly. She thought she had noticed an unusual note of exultance in his voice. She had the feeling that things had gone well.

After lunch they took a polite leave of Lady Coote, and Jimmy volunteered to run them down to the garage in his car. As soon as they had started the same word burst simultaneously from both girls' lips:

"Well?"

Jimmy chose to be provoking.

"Well?"

"Oh, pretty hearty, thanks. Slight indigestion owing to overindulgence in dry biscuits."

"But what has happened?"

"I tell you. Devotion to the cause made me eat too many dry biscuits. But did our hero flinch? No, he did not."

"Oh, Jimmy," said Loraine reproachfully, and he softened.

"What do you really want to know?"

"Oh, everything. Didn't we do it well? I mean, the way we kept Pongo and Terence O'Rourke in play."

"I congratulate you on the handling of Pongo. O'Rourke was probably a sitter—but Pongo is made of other stuff. There's only one word for that lad—it was in the Sunday Newsbag cross-word puzzle last week. Word of ten letters meaning everywhere at once. Ubiquitous. That describes Pongo down to the ground. You can't go anywhere without running into him—and the worst of it is you never hear him coming."

"You think he's dangerous?"

"Dangerous? Of course he's dangerous. Fancy Pongo being dangerous. He's an ass. But, as I said just now, he's a ubiquitous ass. He doesn't even seem to need sleep like ordinary mortals. In fact, to put it bluntly the fellow's a nuisance."

And, in a somewhat aggrieved manner, Jimmy described the events of the previous evening.

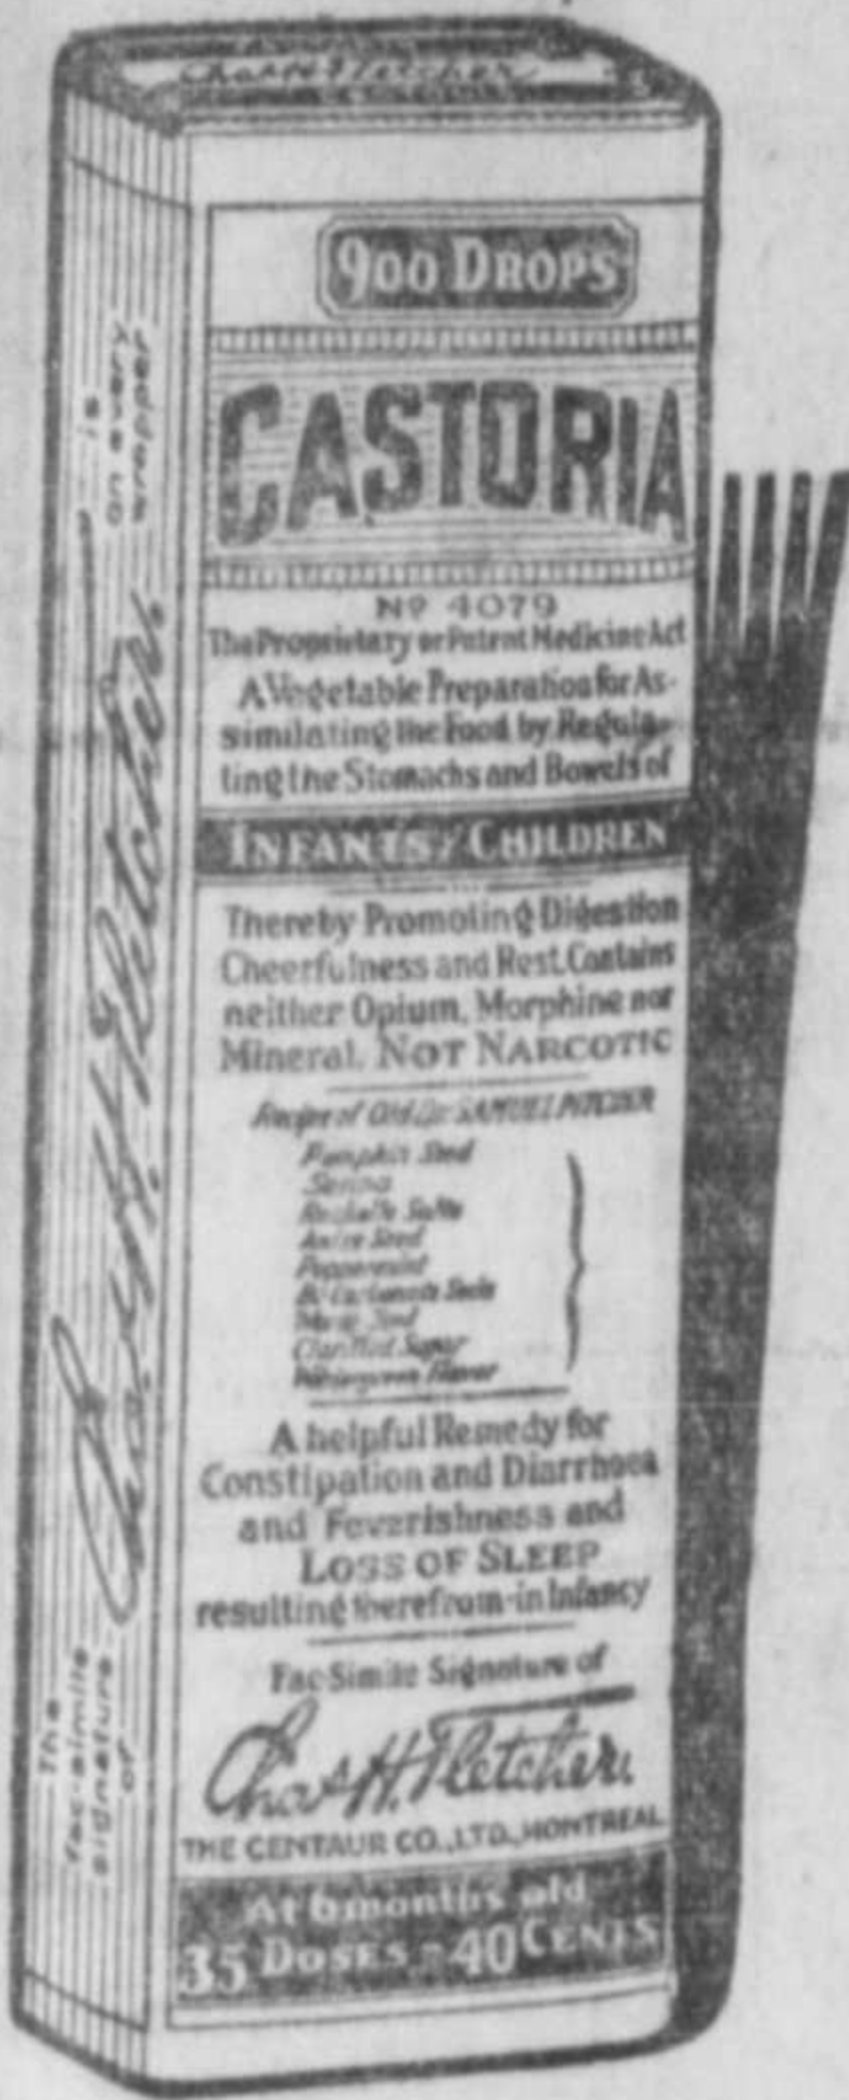

Bundle was not very sympathetic.

"I don't know what you think you're doing anyway, mouching around here."

When Babies CRY

Babies will cry, often for no apparent reason. You may not know what's wrong, but you can always give Castoria. This soon has your little one comforted; if not, you should call a doctor. Don't experiment with medicines intended for the stronger systems of adults! Most of those little upsets are soon soothed away by a little of this pleasant-tasting, gentle-acting children's remedy that children like.

It may be the stomach, or may be the little bowels. Or in the case of older children, a sluggish, constipated condition. Castoria is still the thing to give. It is almost certain to clear up any minor ailment, and could by no possibility do the youngest child the slightest harm. So it's the first thing to think of when a child has a coated tongue; won't play, can't sleep, is fretful or out of sorts. Get the genuine; it always has Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on the package.

"No. 7," said Jimmy crisply. "That's what I'm after. No. 7."

"And you think you'll find him in this house?"

"I thought I might find a clue."

"And you didn't?"

"Not last night—no."

"But this morning," said Loraine, breaking in suddenly. "Jimmy, you did find something this morning. I can see it by your face."

"Well, I don't know if it is anything. But during the course of my stroll—"

"Which stroll didn't take you far from the house, I imagine."

"Strangely enough, it didn't. Round trip in the interior, we might call it. Well, as I say, I don't know whether there's anything in it or not. But I found this."

With the celerity of a conjuror he produced a small bottle and tossed it over to the girls. It was half full of a white powder.

"What do you think it is?" asked Bundle.

"A white crystalline powder, that's what it is," said Jimmy. "And to any reader of detective fiction those words are both familiar and suggestive. Of course, if it turns out to be a new kind of patent tooth powder, I shall be chagrined and annoyed."

"Where did you find it?" asked Bundle sharply.

Peace Outlet Committee Is Still Working

Map Being Sent To Be Published in Peace River Newspapers

At a meeting of the Peace River outlet committee last evening, it was decided to send an engraving of the map showing the suggested route to Prince Rupert to be used in the Peace River newspapers. This was in reply to a request from C. W. Frederick, proprietor of three Peace River papers.

The letter received from Mr. Frederick stated that he expected to go to Ottawa to take up the matter of the Peace outlet with the government and he hoped the trip would coincide with that of the Prince Rupert delegation. He wanted to know when the delegation would go.

Several other minor matters were brought before the board at the meeting, there being present Alderman Collart, Alderman Macdonald, Ex-Aid, Frank Dibb and Aid, Pullen.

NOW CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

The Board of Trade here went out of existence last night and in its place has come a Chamber of Commerce. This was done by motion of the board and without any discussion. Henceforth there will be no Prince Rupert Board of Trade, but G. P. Tinker will be president of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce.

His Honor J. D. McGregor, lieutenant-governor of Manitoba and Brig.-Gen. Anderson, leaving the provincial parliament buildings after the opening ceremonies on January 21.

Board of Trade Asked To Help In Entertaining

Large Party of United Church People to Be Here in July For Few Hours

At the meeting of the Board of Trade last evening, Rev. Hugh Dobson, accompanied by Dr. Large of Port Simpson, told the board of the proposed excursion of United Church people from the East, who were to visit Prince Rupert July 11. The excursion was for the purpose of acquainting the people of the east with the country. The party would arrive here at 10:30 and leave at 1 p.m., but he suggested that this time might be extended. He also suggested that the board should undertake to entertain them while here by showing them something of the city and surroundings.

President Tinker promised that the board would co-operate in this matter, as soon as it was definitely known who and how many were coming. He was told that about 250 to 300 were expected.

Mrs. Storrie Laid To Rest

Interment in Fairview Cemetery Today Following Service in B. C. Chapel

The chapel of the B. C. Undertakers was crowded this afternoon with friends and sympathizers, when funeral rites were conducted for the late Mrs. Daisy Storrie, wife of Alex. Storrie, who died suddenly this week from the effects of pneumonia. The service was conducted by Canon W. F. Rushbrook of St. Peter's Anglican Church, who spoke words of respect for the deceased and comfort for her family. W. Vaughan Davies presided at the organ and hymns were "Lead Kindly Light" and "Jesus, Lover of My Soul."

After the service, a long concourse followed the cortege to its final resting place in Fairview Cemetery, Canon W. F. Rushbrook again officiating at the graveside. Pallbearers were J. W. Durran, Harry Menzies, L. J. Dell, V. Menzies, J. Anderson and H. B. Stiles.

There were many floral tributes.

Asks Slight Fee From

The Board of Trade at its last night decided to ask the government to bring back the former system of levying a small fee of $1 each annually on all fishing vessels using the port of Prince Rupert. This would mean of increasing the size of the harbor master of the port of J. R. Effort. It was pointed out in Alaska the charges Canadian vessel amount to while at present the port of Rupert is absolutely free to all. The government was asked to guarantee a minimum of $100.00 a month to the harbor master.

NEWS!

AN ALERT newsboy, on a day when news was dull and sales were few, turned to the advertising pages for inspiration.

"Read about the big reduction sale," he shouted. "Fine quality tea sets at $3.50 and $4. Fancy china-ware sacrificed."

His stock of papers was sold out very quickly.

The case is, of course, exceptional. But it points to the fact that advertising is news—and important news. It is the news of daily life, the news that comes closest to you and those about you. It is news of the furniture you sit in, the books you read, the bonds you buy, the automobile you use, the flashlight, talking machine and food product that give you satisfaction. News that concerns you more vitally than anything else you read. News that is essential to you, because whether you purchase a piano or a pin, you want the best your money can buy.

—and you can always be sure you are getting the newest and best when you read the advertisements.

The advertisements contain pocketbook news—and that's important!

Local Drydock Busy With Various Jobs; The Salmon Regulation Dispute; Herring Run On

The local drydock continues to be a very busy place, working on a larger scale than at any time in its history except during the days of ocean-going ship construction in 1919 and 1920. It is very gratifying to local people that such good use is being made of the big yard, although, of course, it could handle ten times the work if it were fortunate to be able to obtain it. The outlook is that operations may continue on comparatively as large a scale even into summer. There are five new construction jobs in progress at this time besides the reconditioning of the steamer Prince William and overhaul of many fishing vessels in preparation for the coming season's activities.

Chief among the construction jobs are the steel tug and barge for use of the Canadian National Railways on Okanagan Lake, fabrication of which is now getting started after considerable delay owing to failure of the steel material to reach here on time. Under the big shipshed, frame work of the tug, including the steel ribs, is now being erected. Soon work on the barge will start. Both craft will be taken knockdown on railway cars to Kelowna, where they will be reassembled, workers of the local yard going south to do the work. It will be well along into summer before this job is complete.

Capt. Pete Thompson's new 54-foot halibut boat is now in process of being planked up. While it is understood that a Gardner diesel engine is to be placed in this vessel, apparently a final decision has not yet been made. It will probably be a couple of months before the boat is ready.

Johnny Eydolfson's new 41-foot trolling boat is rapidly nearing completion. In it is to be installed a 20 h.p. Vivian engine which is expected to be on hand within a week's time. This is going to be one of the finest looking trolling boats in these parts.

Lines have been laid for the new 37-foot fish packer for the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co., the contract for which was recently awarded to the yard. Delivery of material is being awaited before construction can start. The vessel will be a sister ship to the Chief Seagay, which was built for the company last year, and will be equipped with a Fairbanks-Morse full diesel engine.

The big reconditioning job on the steamer Prince William, which has occupied several months' time, is now about completed and the vessel will soon be ready to enter service. She was ostensibly secured by the Canadian National Coast Steamships to ply between Prince Rupert and Skeena and Naas River cannery points in freight and passenger business, for which run she should be well enough suited. The big job on the vessel has included the complete gutting out of the ship, only the engines not being interfered with, and new accommodation for passengers and freight holds has been built throughout. The only housing above and open to the deck is the pilot house forward and a neat combination observation-smokeroom aft. Everything is built in below with portholes flush to the sides. This should fit the vessel well for operating in rough waters. Further advantages are her snappy speed and shallow draft. When complete, and there is not much more to do in the way of actual construction, she should prove to be a well appointed, comfortable and seaworthy little craft. Furnishings have yet to be installed.

No work has yet been done on the two big Canadian National Steam-
Seigneur and Canadian Winner, which have been tied up at the yard since last fall with Capt. N. P. Hocking of the Winner and two mates standing by, steam having been blown down in the vessels. Before they are recommissioned in service in the spring, it is understood that both ships will be given a general overhaul here.

Meantime, the yard is quite busy in the work of overhauling smaller craft. The halibut boats Tramp, Tern, Embla, P. Dorreen, Helge H. and Pair of Jacks are among the fishing vessels undergoing repair in anticipation of the forthcoming opening of the season. The noted boat Kelpie, formerly owned by the late William Schellin and now the property of Tony Coco of Seal Cove, is also undergoing work at the dock to fit her for service as a troller. Tom Dybhavn's boat Palander is another vessel undergoing general overhaul.

The forestry boat Lillian D. was hauled out of the water onto the pontoons on Thursday for cleaning, painting and general repair. She will be on the dock for about a week, it is expected.

Fishermen's Floats

Work having now been instituted by the contractors, John Currie & Son, the new fishermen's floats, being constructed just east of the drydock by the federal department of public works, will soon commence to take definite form. Part of the ramp from the railway grade is now built and the pile driver is on the scene ready to put down the dolphins to which the floats will be moored. Then actual float construction will be able to be proceeded with. All material is on the ground. It is to be hoped that, by the time the floats are ready or not so very long afterwards, the necessary arrangements will have been made to have the connecting road down the east side of Hays Creek constructed.

There has been a slight slowing up in preparatory work following the decision of the boat owners all along the coast to defer commencing of halibut fishing operations this year until two weeks after the legal opening of the season on February 15. Now that the fishermen themselves have taken the initiative in this matter, the authorities should not hesitate longer in extending the close season under international agreement for the extra two weeks as has already been proposed by them. It is a wise move if for no other reason than the fact that weather the latter part of February is usually very rough, often making fishing nigh impossible and endangering the lives and property of those who venture on the deep at that time. There may also be the reason, as has been suggested, that it may tend to prevent an early season glut of fish on the market, although it is a little difficult to understand just what is meant by that, for it would seem probable that, no matter on what date fishing should start, the boats would pretty well always go out together and return around the same time, throwing the same quantity of fish if not more on the market. From the other standpoint, however, it is certainly an excellent move, should do no harm to any one and might well be made a permanent innovation.

Resurfacing of the road to the drydock by application of dirt and gravel is now being carried out. The rains of the winter have played havoc with the surface of the road and the improvement is welcomed by motorists if by no one else.

Salmon Regulations

Prince Rupert and Northern British Columbia salmon fishermen have not only protested against the proposed regulations of Hon. S. L. Howe, provincial commissioner of fisheries, to govern salmon fishing on the coast, but have offered this week what should prove to be an effective list of proposed fishing measures to take the place of the offending Howe pronouncements. In doing so, the salmon fishermen not only demonstrated their own initiative but also their willingness to undergo considerable sacrifice to the end that conservation of the fish may be effected. Their outstanding proposal is that the legal length of all gill nets and seines should be reduced from 200 to 175 fathoms. Such a measure would, no doubt, cut down the catches greatly and allow a great deal more of the fish to get by to the spawning grounds. There are none who know this better than the fishermen, and because of this, they have been receiving general commendation for the drastic proposal which might be expected to have considerably adverse effect upon them. The fishermen see in the proposal of Mr. Howe to limit cannery licences to those existing now and in the plan of allotting a limited number of fishing licences to each cannery and no more the threat of a monopoly such as they have for years fought against, receiving the fairly consistent support of at least the Dominion authorities in that fight. And it will be over the dead opposition of the fishermen that such regulations would be ever invoked. They have signified their intention of fighting them to a finish.

The substitute regulations proposed by the fishermen may bear repetition here. They are as follows:

First, that the length of gill nets in district No. 2 be reduced from 200 to 175 fathoms; second, that seines be of uniform 175 fathoms length; third, that drag seines be abolished altogether; fourth, that seventy-five per cent of all salmon eggs that were formerly taken from the Skeena to the Fraser River for propagation purposes be again removed but transplanted in creeks of the central interior and Queen Charlotte Islands; fifth, that obstructions, such as concrete blocks, be placed at fishing boundaries in creeks to prevent illegal fishing above the boundaries; sixth, that flagrant breaches of fisheries regulations be in future subject to complete confiscation of boats and gear; seventh, that actual warfare be instituted against hair seals by employing men to shoot and exterminate them; eighth, that similar warfare be declared against sea lions; ninth, that there be single instead of double control of the salmon fisheries, and that that control be in the hands of the federal authorities; and, tenth, that all gillnetting be in future prohibited in that part of the Skeena River known as the "Boneyard."

Herring Running

During the past week the herring run started at Pearl Harbor and seining got under way with very fair results considering it is the Gammon & Watt's Bertha B. and first of the season. Two boats, Capt. Ole Skog's Fredella, are engaging in the seining. The former boat is taking the fish for the Rupert Marine Products Prince Rupert reduction plant, the while the latter is harvesting the fish for the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co.'s bait store. Boats of both companies are packing the fish into Prince Rupert, several loads being brought in during the past week.

Finding of his constant companion, a terrier dog, dead on the beach, has led to the belief that William Lane of Lewis Island, well-known old-timer of this district and trolling fisherman, may have lost his life when his boat swamped. It is just over a month since Lane was last seen and the search of friends has failed to reveal any trace of him. He was getting well along in years and was one of the picturesque figures of this part of the coast.
