MILL IS PLANNED

Installation of Alice Arm Mining Property Expected

VICTORIA, Aug. 23.—If the Tidewater Molybdenum property continues to respond to development as it has done to date, I will feel justified in recommending the construction of a mill. This is the statement of Superintendent Angus McLeod to D. S. Tait, secretary of the Dalhousie Mining Co. Ltd., who has just returned from a trip to the mine at Alice Arm.

Mr. Tait stated that Mr. Eardley Wilnot of the mines department at Ottawa accompanied him on his inspection and was exceedingly helpful.

Mr. Tait further said that the property exceeded his expectations and expressed his opinion that it appears to be reasonably certain that it will develop into a real mine. A very favorable feature appeared to be that all quartz invariably carries molybdenite from the smallest stringer to the largest vein. No piece of quartz was seen that did not show a substantial percentage of molybdenite. It is this feature that gives a reasonable certainty at this early stage of development that the property is a mine.

The grade of ore on the property is very high. Careful and conservative sampling on the vein, developed by the new tunnel, shows an average of over $22 per ton.

Officials of the company state that market for the product is assured.

ROUTE OF HIGHWAY

Alaska Road May Pass Up Kitwano Valley After Leaving Present Road

It is understood here that the route of the Alaska Highway, after it leaves the Prince Rupert-Prince George Highway, will be from Kitwano up the Kitwano Valley until it strikes the Cranberry River, a tributary of the Naas River, a few miles above Meziaden Lake. Already the road is completed from Hazelton to Kitwano, about 25 miles and up the Kitwano Valley about 30 miles to Kitwano Lake. From there to the Naas River will be 50 miles over an easy grade.

All the possible routes have now been examined and this is the favorite and doubtless will be the one finally chosen. Colonel Robson and W. K. Gwyer flew over this route a few days ago and it is understood were very favorably impressed with its possibilities.

The Kitwano Valley was formerly known as the valley of the Bad Indians from which white men were excluded.

DUMPING OF COAL

Government to Take Steps to Keep Soviet Russia Convict Product Out of Canada

OTTAWA, Aug. 23.—Steps to curtail the dumping of Soviet Russia coal in Canada it is understood will shortly receive the consideration of the government. The coal, it is alleged, is the product to a considerable extent of convict labor. It has been advertised in Canada for the low rate of $5.50 per ton. Early action as a means of reducing unemployment in the coal areas of Canada is probable.

Municipalities Inspector Not In Favor Untrue Assessments; This City Compares Favorably

In the annual report of Robert Baird, inspector of municipalities, for the year ended December 31, 1929, which has just been issued, he comments that the figures of assessment in the Province of British Columbia, show a reasonable increase, particularly in the matter of improvements, the difference in assessed value of improvements being slightly in excess of twenty millions, due very largely to the buildings erected in the municipal territory of the province during the year. Mr. Baird is of the opinion that, in respect of the assessment of land, there are substantial reductions which must be made in the near future as, in a number of municipalities, the assessments have been carried at high figures for some years and there is hesitation in reducing them on account of the effect which it would have on the tax rate. He does not regard it as a sound policy to place a fictitious value on land in order to keep down the tax rate, as the assessment figures then do not honestly represent the taxpaying power of the municipality and, as soon as the assessments on land rise above the fair selling value, the inequalities are bound to increase. The more valuable parcels of land are as a rule carried as near as possible at a fair selling price, while those parts of the municipality not in actual use are frequently assessed far beyond what they would sell for. The result is further additions to the tax sale property. In his opinion, it would be better if the assessment rolls were properly adjusted, in which event all parcels of land would be capable equally of private ownership, which would thus strengthen the financial position of the municipality.

England Sweeps British Empire Games With String of Nineteen Titles So Far in Competitions

Cleaned Up Boxing and Lawn Bowling Championships Yesterday—Canada Wins Wrestling—Dominion Has Scored 14 Wins So Far For Second Place

HAMILTON, Aug. 23.—England finished her last big sweep of the British Empire Games last night before sending her track men into final action today. The boxing and lawn bowling titles were the latest to fall to the conquering Britons who have outscored the Dominions consistently during the week's carnival of sport. Of the five boxing events last night, England won three finals and Scotland and South Africa won one apiece. Canada won two wrestling finals, the middleweight and heavyweight, thus making a clean sweep of all the Empire grappling events.

England's representatives were yesterday crowned undisputed lawn bowling champions of the Empire by winning the singles title after having won the doubles and rinks the day previous.

England now holds 19 Empire athletic championships. Canada is in second place with 14. South Africa has five wins with New Zealand and Australia three apiece. Scotland has won two titles.

STATION WINNER

First Game of Finals For Softball Championship of 1930

By far the most interesting softball game of the season was played last evening when the Station team beat the Dry Dock nine to the tune of 6 to 2.

It was the first game of the finals of three games for the Alonzo Haines Trophy, emblematic of C. N. R. softball championship for the year 1930.

There was a good crowd of spectators who were treated to a very fine sample of ball. The players of each team played stellar ball. The outstanding features of the game were the spectacular fielding of Gavan and Hunt of the Dry Dock team.

Enthusiasm waxed hot during several periods of the game and all spectators went home well satisfied with the results.

The second game will be played on Monday and the Dry Dock team is looking forward to evening things up.

Station—Horton, Styles, Downie, Skiffner, Harold, Summers, Tobey, Morrison and McIntosh.

Dry Dock—E. Smith, Wendle, J. Smith, Kelsey, Bury, Gavan, Nelson, Hunt and McFie.

Umpires: Comadina and Scherk. Batteries: Station, Styles and Morrison; Dry Dock, E. Smith and Wendle.

CLEVELAND WON AGAIN

Has Now Stretched Its List of Victories to Seven Straight—Cubs Improve Their Lead

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—Loughheed's two homers, bringing his total for the season up to 37, failed to bring the New York Yankees victory yesterday and Cleveland Indians ran their string of victories to seven straight.

In another American League game, St. Louis Browns scored three runs to tie the score in the ninth and pushed the winning tally over in the tenth to defeat Washington Senators.

In the National League, Chicago Cubs regained a three-game lead over New York and removed the Giants' hopes of gaining first place in the current crucial series. Forty thousand fans swarmed the field. Yesterday's scores:

- National League: Philadelphia 8, St. Louis 10; Brooklyn 1, Cincinnati 4; Boston 3, Pittsburgh 10; New York 4, Chicago 12. American League: Chicago 6, Boston 4; Detroit 7, Philadelphia 1; Cleveland 5, New York 4; St. Louis 4, Washington 3.

SPORT CHAT

The Edmonton Commercial Grads girls basketball champions of the world, have come and gone but the memory of the finest exhibition of the hoop game which has ever been seen in Prince Rupert will remain long in the minds of local sport lovers. The visit of the Grads was a memorable event in local sport circles and those who were instrumental in bringing the Edmonton girls to Prince Rupert are entitled to hearty commendation and the deep gratitude of the athletic interests of the city. We had heard the Grads were good but we had to see them to realize just how good they were. If there could be such a thing as unerring basketball machine, the fair quintette who showed their wares here Wednesday night are about the closest to it we have ever seen. The local girls who stacked up against the world champions are also entitled to some credit. The most of them had not played the hoop game for several months but, despite that, put up a game fight against the girls who for years have been the best feminine basketballers in the world.

Miss Helene Madison, nationally-known Seattle mermaid, shattered all former Pacific Northwest swimming records in the 100-metre back stroke, 200-metre free-style events of the Pacific Northwest swimming and diving championship meet in Portland a few days ago. Miss Madison's time for the 100-metre back stroke was 1:24.4, the old record being 1:31.6. She swam the 200-metre free-style in 2:41.2, compare to the old record of 3:15.2. The new record for the 50-metre free-style was 31 second flat, as against the former record of 34 4-5. In the 100-metre free-style race, Miss Madison was clocked at 1:10.6, also claimed as a new Pacific Northwest record. Miss Madison entered only the four events.

BAGSHAW IS WINNER

Knocked Out Gill Woods of Vancouver in Fourth Round at Exhibition Hall

Had Easy Win

Good Program of Preliminaries Rounded Out An Interesting Program

With a slashing two-fisted attack to the head, Billy Bagshaw of Prince Rupert knocked out Gill Woods of Vancouver in the fourth round of a scheduled 10-round headline boxing bout at the Exhibition Hall last night. Bagshaw had forced the going and had a good edge over Woods except in the first round when they stalled and hardly hit at all Bagshaw's sharp right and left hand punches to the head felled Woods in the fourth stanza and, after the count, he had to be carried to his corner. The sun burned boy from the south was well beaten. In addition to the main event, there was a good list of spirited preliminaries which afforded plenty of blood and thunder. A large crowd of fight fans was in attendance and appreciated the entertainment.

The first round of the main event was spent practically entirely by the fighters in dancing around the ring. They were feeling each other out. Bagshaw went to go in a couple of times but was slapped by Woods. There were two very light exchanges during the round. Bagshaw opened up in the second round which proved much livelier. It looked like the local boy was out to get his opponent and did not intend to spend much time in doing so. Bagshaw was distinctly on the offensive and delivered heavy clouts to Wood's head. Woods landed a few to Bagshaw's body but they did not seem to bother him much. Again in the third, Bagshaw planted stiff clouts with both hands on Woods' head. The latter evidently began to realize that he had a real fight on his hands. The Vancouver boy retaliated in a measure. Bagshaw forced even a harder pace in the fourth and sent Woods to his knees with his hard blows to the head. Further rights and lefts to the head felled Woods. He tried to rise at the eight count but could not do so, so Bagshaw was declared the winner.

Their Weights: At the commencement of the bout Woods' weight was announced as 135 pounds, Bagshaw's, 137. Woods was the taller and had the longer reach but was slender. Bagshaw was the stouter, stockier and stronger.

The semi-final between George Howe of Prince Rupert and Cyclone Doherty of Yorkton proved interesting. It was a four-round affair. Doherty had a swinging pose all of his own. He left himself temptingly open as he swung his arms but he made Howe miss most of the time or else caught him with short jabs as they fell into clinches. Doherty

It was a slow round. Dutton slugging still in the fourth round found McCrea hard to hurt. McCrea was the better boxer and draw decision was fair enough. Both boys were announced to weigh 152 pounds although Dutton was to be much heavier.

Heavyweights: The duce spot brought on two heaviest fighters on the card. Dan Healy, 165 pounds, and Al Wall, 175. Wall was so anxious to get going that he wanted to start. Healy before the opening bell went back to his corner with sheepish grin. When they started, Wall pushed Healy into the ring with heavy punches to head and face. They worked so hard that both were staggering at close of the second round. Both put over lively punches. The big boys went at it heart and soul in the third and slugged each other to toe. Wall got hit hard on the head and had been down the count of eight when the bell sounded. Healy was declared the winner.

The first event on the card was a three-round amateur exhibition by Howie Keefe and Johnny Leod. This was a spirited little bout and was well received. McCrea weighed 94 pounds and Keefe, a silver shower rewarded their efforts.

Doug Frizzell was referee for first three events. Max Healy acted as timekeeper. It is expected Bagshaw will have a return bout with Henry Deth Anyx here next month.

McCrea crouched low and Dutton was staggered with a body blow. It was evident that Dutton had overplayed himself in the first attack. However, he chased McCrea around the ring and distressed him with head blows. Dutton continued slugging in the third round and gave McCrea a bloody nose. McCrea slapped him in return.

Ernie Skinner was referee and Bill Sherman and Jack Judge judges of the main event and the semi-final.

HEALTH INSURANCE

It is satisfactory to know that the Provincial Government is seriously considering taking action toward putting in force legislation to provide for health insurance in British Columbia, the same to include maternity benefits. Possibly the maternity benefits are more important than other insurance because they provide for the future of the race. At present the tendency is toward eliminating child bearing from the plans of young married people. They simply cannot afford such a luxury. By the time the doctor and the hospital have been paid and the new clothes and other paraphernalia provided, the average family is in financial straits with little hope of extrication. If the state can make things easier under these conditions it will have done a great deal toward bringing about a more normal social condition, one that will solve the population problem in the near future.

PRINCE RUPERT'S POPULATION

The inspector of municipalities takes a pessimistic view of the population of the various smaller British Columbia cities, including Prince Rupert. He puts the number of people here at very little more than were here nine years ago, which cannot very well be correct. Since that time building has been going on steadily and the houses are practically all occupied. To say that under these conditions the population has increased little more than one hundred can hardly be correct. We expect to see a considerable increase when the census is taken next year.

ASSESSMENT VALUES

The inspector of municipalities urges that it would be better for cities to assess their properties at present market values than to set fictitious values, such as he sees in some of the cities at present.

Values are often difficult to assess. At one time they were said to be very high in Prince Rupert and yet in reality land here was not worth any more than it is today. The public then set a fictitious value on the land and paid and received speculatively much more than it was worth. Today there seems a tendency of the speculating public to be unappreciative of the value of property in many of the cities and the result is that the market has temporarily fallen off. It may be up again tomorrow.

The question then arises whether an assessor is justified in following all the vagaries of the speculative market. To do so would make civic financing difficult and yet to ignore it completely is taken exception to by many. Each side has its advocates. It would hardly do to assess land at its value as an income bearing investment, for in all cities this would immediately disqualify much of the property from the payment of any taxes, whatever. Any other value than that of ability to provide income is speculative. The Provincial Government block in the centre of Prince Rupert does not bring any income worth considering, yet it would be a rash person who would say it was valueless. It has a speculative value and that is sometimes determined by the amount speculators are willing to pay for it. Whatever is paid, the real value remains the same and it is up for the assessor to determine what he considers is the real value, irrespective of the vagaries of the speculator.

We know this is a debatable question and shall gladly publish any communications bearing on it, as long as they conform to the usual correspondence requirements and are not too long.

Inexpensive Desserts And How to Make Them

BY EDWINA NOLAN

Director of Home Service, General Electric Refrigeration Department

DESSERTS can be made attractive and nutritious without costing much and they should be planned as part of the meal because of the energy food they provide in the form of sugar.

Odds and ends of fruit, a little custard and some whipped cream—all of which may be left from other meals—make a delicious and economical dessert. So also do many other combinations which can be concocted from left-overs.

There are the fruit gelatines, whips and sponges which can be made from ingredients you are apt to have on hand—apple sauce, a few prunes left from breakfast or some canned apricots—and the necessary staples such as sugar and gelatine, with the addition of eggs for sponges.

Then there are the frozen desserts, some of which, especially the sherbets, also are inexpensive. The cream mixtures may cost a little more to make, but they are rich and only small portions need be served.

By not wasting food or money through unwise purchases or from food spoilage, the housewife finds it far less expensive to entertain. And what homemaker does not take pleasure in having her friends drop in informally for luncheon, tea or dinner? Facilities for keeping left-overs and for making the many delicious desserts are necessary but the constant, proper temperature assured through electric refrigeration provides a means for serving any number of new, attractive and inexpensive dishes.

Gillatt at Sandspit.

Mining Around Prince George

W. A. Lewthwaite of Vancouver Secures Option on Hixon Creek Claims

PRINCE GEORGE, Aug. 23.—W. A. Lewthwaite of Vancouver has secured an option on 11 mineral claims on Hixon Creek, held by Eric Hann. Mr. Lewthwaite is representing an eastern syndicate, and the engineers are now on the ground laying out a plan of work which, it is expected, will get under way in about a month. If expectations are fulfilled, these claims on Hixon Creek will be, within a few years, the scene of large mining operations.

WELFARE IN ONTARIO

Royal Commission's Report to Premier Has Elaborate Findings

TORONTO, Aug. 23.—The Royal Commission on Public Welfare which was appointed by the Ferguson Government last October to inquire as to the charitable and corrective institutions and agencies in Ontario has made its report to the government. It is a document of 150 pages with several hundred pages of appendices. The remark is naively made that the matters the report deals with touch 56 different statutes of the Ontario Legislature. If the recommendations of the commission should be accepted, the government will be committed to an immediate or early capital expenditure of from twenty million to twenty-five million dollars.

This would be merely on capital account. There would also be an increased annual operating cost of two or three millions in consequence of new construction or of improvement, or enlargement of existing institutions, or increased cost of government agencies.

The following summary gives the chief points of the report:

The commissioners, P. D. Ross, of Ottawa, chairman; D. M. Wright, M.P., of Stratford, and Dr. J. M. McCutcheon, of Toronto, were appointed:

"To investigate and report upon the Public General Hospitals of Ontario, the Private Hospitals, Public and Private Sanatoria, the Ontario Hospitals for the Insane and Mentally Defective, etc., the Penal and Corrective Institutions, the Jails and Industrial Farms, the Houses of Refuge, the agencies for the care of children and any cognate subjects."

Lull in Trolling Operations—Most of Canneries Now Closed—Vaquero Changes Hands

There has been a lull in salmon trolling operations in Prince Rupert district waters during the first three weeks in August and, while coho salmon are still believed to be abundant, they are keeping to low depths during the fine sunny weather and biting very gingerly. Large numbers of fishermen still on the various trolling grounds have been catching just about enough fish to pay for gas and grub. Except for a good run for a few days last week around Rose Spit, the paucity of biting fish has been general throughout the district. The arrival of rain, which is slow in coming, however, might bring about an improvement in the amount of fish caught, it is hoped.

The third week in August has seen all canneries on the Skeena River discontinuing operations for the season although there is still a large run of pink salmon in the river. Claxton and Inverness are the only canneries on the river remaining open to put up fall fish. On the mainland, Butedale and O. Klemtu canneries are remaining open to put up seine fish. Queen Charlotte Islands canneries are still packing pinks and chums and doing very well indeed.

The unusual length of the pink run in Northern British Columbia waters this year has been ascribed to the fact that so many streams have been either very low or dry all together on account of the lack of rain. Indeed, it is felt by some that rain must come soon to swell the creeks if there is to be proper spawning this year.

saw the Prince Rupert Fisheries Experimental Station grow in its brief history from a bench and a couple of test tubes to two modern buildings and the most completely equipped fisheries laboratories on the Pacific Coast. It is not known as yet who Mr. Finn's successor in charge of the Prince Rupert station will be.

D. B. Finn, H. N. Brocklesby, R. H. Bedford, Orville Denstedt and O. Young, members of the permanent staff of the Prince Rupert Fisheries Experimental Station, will leave Prince Rupert on Monday to attend the annual conference of Pacific Coast workers of the Biological Board of Canada at the Departure Bay, Vancouver Island, biological station. At the conference, researches of the past year will be discussed and plans for future work formulated.

Hallbut landings at the port of Prince Rupert for the 1930 season up to and including August 22 totalled 16,634,500 pounds as compared with 19,011,350 pounds at a similar date last year. Canadian landings so far this year amounted to a total of 4,891,600 pounds as against 5,751,850 pounds at the corresponding date in 1929 while this year's American landings, totalling 11,742,900 pounds, compare with 13,259,500 pounds at the same date last year.

During the week just past landings totalled 680,100 pounds of which 210,100 pounds was from Canadian boats and 470,000 pounds from American. Throughout the week prices remain at an unusually low level which was very unsatisfactory to the fishermen. Canadian prices ranged from 7c and 4c to 11c and 6c and American from 8.1c and 4c to 12.4c and 6c.

POLES ARE SENT EAST

Skeena River Timber Situation Improved As Result of Receipt Recently of Small Orders

Arrival of shipping orders recently has brightened the situation in regard to the Skeena River pole industry which has been none too bright recently and, while these orders are not on a large scale as yet, the prospect of an immediate improvement is reflected.

The situation in regard to the industry was disappointing due to the fact that while the Hanson Timber & Lumber Co. held definite orders for the majority of stocks in several assembly yards along the Skeena River, these were subject to shipping instructions. For a few weeks it had been impossible to secure instructions for shipping and, in the meantime, large stocks of poles were accumulating in the company's yards. In the various camps, thousands of pieces were either ready for driving down the river or were gathered in the yards and, under the circumstances, it became imperative to suspend all camp operations although all other work was continued in full and involved a large number of men in the yards and in the process of driving the poles down the river.

Orders arriving more recently called for 20 carloads of poles and these were immediately loaded out for delivery to the eastern markets.

The well known local power cruiser Vaquero has again changed hands. The new owner is George J. Dawes, city furniture man, who purchased the boat from Alex MacDonald who has owned her for the last few years. The sale was announced this week. Forty feet long and equipped with a 40 h.p. Sterling gasoline engine, the Vaquero is one of Prince Rupert's speediest, most comfortable and seaworthy pleasure boats. Alex MacDonald purchased the Vaquero from Col. Stuart of Scotland, who used the vessel for a season or two in cruising on the north coast. The owner of the vessel, before Col. Stuart, was A. A. McEwen of the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co. engineering staff. The new owner, Mr. Dawes, expects to use the vessel a good deal for game hunting during the coming fall.

Masset Inlet Run
Starting last Monday, there is reported to have been an extra heavy run of pink salmon in Massett Inlet during the past week. The smallest set was 20,000 fish and the canneries were compelled to stop seine-boats from operating until they had the chance to catch up with the fish already on hand. Speaking for one boat alone, Capt. C. B. Haan of the seiner Beatrice H. is reported to have delivered over 100,000 from Massett Inlet, to date. The Beatrice H. is a Queen Charlotte Island boat and has an island crew.

Many friends, particularly among the fishermen of Capt. V. Valley, owner of the well known Queen Charlotte Island trolling boat Omar K., are still expressing disappointment that he did not run on the Labor ticket at the recent federal election. These friends are hoping for him better luck at the next contest.

John Eyoilfen of Osland is again reported to be the high trolling fisherman on the Queen Charlotte Islands this year as he was last. It is reported that John has learned the salmon language so well that he can talk to the fish and compel them to bite a piece of brass whether they want to or not. Be that as it may, he continues to deliver the goods and is rapidly becoming one of the most notable successful fishermen in these waters.

Leaving Here
D. B. Finn, director of the Prince Rupert Fisheries Experimental Station since its inception in 1926, will leave Prince Rupert on Monday afternoon for Vancouver where he will join the service of the B. C. Packers, having been engaged to organize and direct a scientific department for that important canneries concern. While the change is in the nature of a distinct improvement for Mr. Finn, many friends whom he has made both in a business and social way since his arrival in Prince Rupert will regret that it has become necessary for him to leave Prince Rupert. If Baby has COLIC

A cry in the night may be the first warning that Baby has colic. No cause for alarm if Castoria is handy! This pure vegetable preparation brings quick comfort, and can never do the slightest harm. Always keep a bottle in the house. It is the safe and sensible thing when children are ailing. Whether it's the stomach, or the little bowels; colic or constipation; or diarrhea. When tiny tongues are coated, or the breath is bad. Whenever there's need of gentle regulation. Children love the taste of Castoria, and its mildness makes it suitable for the tiniest infant, and for frequent use. And a more liberal dose of Castoria is always better for growing children than some needlessly strong medicine meant only for adult use. Genuine Castoria always has Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on the wrapper. Prescribed by doctors!

For sports wear ... Gruens designed in inlaid enamel!

So charming, these tiny Gruen wrist watches in gay, modish designs! Thoroughly dependable, too, as only Guild craftsmanship can make them. Delightful as gifts, or for personal wear with summer frocks and sport costumes. Many priced as low as $45, in solid gold cases. Come in!

Crab Tagging Is Going On Local Waters

Fishermen and Others Asked to Co-operate By Sending In Data Regard to Those Taken

A great many people have caught crabs but few know much about their life history. There are all sorts of theories as to when they breed and where and when they should be taken, either commercially or, by people who want them for their own use.

The result of this is that a close season is put on crabs during the months of April, May and June under the probably mistaken notion that those are the months when they breed. This is for all British Columbia except Boundary Bay. Yet there are variations in different parts of the country and among different species.

In order to obtain information which will guide the fisheries department of the federal government in regulating the taking of these fish, about which practically nothing is known today, the Biological station at Departure Bay near Nanaimo has been engaged in tagging crabs in the neighborhood of Prince Rupert and a good deal of valuable data is being obtained. About five hundred have been tagged so far and it is the intention to continue the work until another thousand have been tagged.

Fishermen and others are being asked to bring the tagged crabs to the fisheries experimental station here, which is the headquarters for the work and a reward of 25c each is paid for them. The fisherman can then take the crab away.

If the crab cannot be brought in, the tag should be removed and taken or sent to the station, giving particulars as to the date taken, depth of water and place where
